

Joseph Buerckel Manages Hitler's Coup In Austria

Leader Is Virtual Dictator In Re- Union Of Nations

Joseph Buerckel's claim to his new job as Hitler's clean-up man in Austria is as simple as this:

On March 11 Germany seized Austria. On April 10 all good Nazis in both countries voted approval of the coup. Total vote 99.08 per cent. Vote in Austria itself 99.75 per cent. Joseph Buerckel managed the campaign in Austria.

When it comes to getting out the vote for his chief, Buerckel far exceeds even America's James A. Farley.

Three years before the returns from Austria came in, he had demonstrated his prowess as a vote getter for Hitler by bringing in a thumping majority in the Saar plebiscite. In the face of strong anti-Nazi, pro-French and pro-League of Nations agitation, he produced a 90.5 per cent majority for the Saar's return to the Reich. Before that the rich Saar district had been under League of Nations rule for 15 years.

Now hefty, determined-looking Buerckel is virtual dictator of Austria as federal commissioner for the reunion of that country with the Reich.

Thus he stands above even Arthur Seyss-Inquart, who edged out Independent Austria's Chancellor Schuschnigg as a prelude to Anschluss and became governor of the German province of Austria under Hitler. As consolation, Seyss-Inquart has Hitler's promise of a post in the Berlin cabinet after Buerckel has completed his job of reunion.

Buerckel, 41, is a product of the Rhenish Palatinate. Born March 20, 1895, at Lingenfeld, he planned to teach as a career, but the World War interfered. He volunteered, served four years at the front, and received an appointment as a teacher in a Rhine village while French troops were in occupation.

An ardent patriot, he early joined the young Nazi movement which aimed to liberate the Fatherland from the foreign yoke. He was soon Hitler's confidential agent in the Palatinate. In 1930 he was elected to the Reichstag.

His great opportunity came when Franz von Papen, then vice-chancellor and Reichs commissioner for the Saar region, was appointed ambassador to Vienna. Buerckel succeeded him in the Saar post. His successful campaign to bring that region back to Germany is history.

His next great opportunity came with the seizure of Austria. Placed in charge of the plebiscite there, Buerckel forbade by decree all political activity, except his own. "My task is not a difficult one," his decree said: "You are asked the plain question: Are you a German, do you belong to Germany and to Adolf Hitler, or not?"

O, Little Shoes

Flourish Safety Service

O little shoes with the scuffed-up toes,
That look so small in his father's hand, Weren't you proud and big and grand When you started this morning for No-One-Knows?

No-One-Knows, with its bellies tall,
Its golden ramparts and shining towers, Knights and fairies and magic powers
To tempt the heart of a traveler small!

Now dusk has come and his feet are still Ere ever his knightly spurs are won,
For his body was broken and crushed and done While yet he trudged to the first green hill.

O little shoes with the blood-stained toes,
O light gods out of a boyish face,
Was this the end of his splendid race?
Was this his City of No-One-Knows?

Negro College To Co-operate In NYA Training Program

The Florida A. and M. College has agreed to cooperate with the National Youth Administration in offering a training course for a group of 25 negro girls in home-making and domestic service and 25 negro boys in agriculture and shop work. It was announced today by R. A. Goodspeed, local NYA administrator.

The work program will consist of sewing which will include the making of articles for the college. Mr. Goodspeed said, adding that a number of the girls may be assigned to other duties, in connection with the college.

He reported that the boys will work on the school farm, in the future, and around as may be required. A physical examination will be required and district supervisors are expected to make arrangements for the before sending the boys and girls to the project, Mr. Goodspeed declared.

While there are specific educational requirements, Mr. Goodspeed asserted, it seems advisable to select boys and girls who have completed the equivalent of the sixth grade.

A definite date for filing applications will be announced later, he said.

Daylight saving time doesn't really save any time. Clocks merely are turned an hour ahead so that the evening remains light longer.

Insufficient Funds Threatens Close Of Orlando Sanatorium

TALLAHASSEE, May 2.—(AP) The State has advanced $4,286 to meet payroll for the Tuberculosis Hospital at Orlando which officials said was threatened with closing for lack of funds.

Chairman W. T. Edwards, of the State Tuberculosis Board, said the hospital's reserve funds could not continue without State help. The Budget Commission agreed to meet the payroll, but emphasized that no more money would be voted until expenses at the State County supported institution were reduced materially.

"You're going to have to cut this away down," said Governor Tom, "if you're going to keep on paying it. We're not going to obligate ourselves to anything like this."

"It would be bad to have to let the government take it over," Edwards said if expenses were not met the hospital would go to the Federal government which holds $270,000 of revenue bonds securing a loan from PWA.

Comptroller J. M. Lee said in effect the State was using money to meet payments on the loan, although the State itself is prevented by the Constitution from borrowing money.

Governor Cone said this was "indirect borrowing" to get around the constitutional ban.

"They won't do it again with my consent," he said, adding that he referred to all State activities, including the Board of Control which has built many structures at the colleges and State institutions with PWA loans and grants.

Lee reported in the Budget Commission that the State had a General Fund Treasury balance of $50,000 after meeting April pay-

Hitler Visits Mussolini In City Of Rome

Thousands Cheer German Dictator As His Train Speeds Thru Italian Countryside

Talks With Duce For One Hour

Greatest Welcome Is Planned In History Of Italian Nation

ROME, May 3.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler moved in triumph across Tuscany late today toward Rome where Fascism prepared for him the greatest welcome in Italy's history.

As the German Fuehrer's special train sped southward, cheering crowds and waving flags greeted him at every station. By mid-afternoon crowds had gathered at the little seaside station outside Rome where Premier Mussolini was to meet his fellow dictator and confer with him for an hour aboard the train.

Mussolini was expected to precede Hitler into Rome and formally greet him at the station in the city.

In Rome police intensified an already strict surveillance as a precaution against any attempt on Hitler's life.

While the Italian press devoted nearly all its space to Hitler's visit, L'Osservatore Romano, the Vatican organ did not mention it.

While all Italy greeted the German leader, the rest of Europe waited anxiously to see what would come of the visit of the two dictators.

Officially Hitler's visit among the ruins of Imperial Rome, dressed up in his honor, is heralded as a demonstration that Fascism and national socialism are united in effort and that attempts to belaud this unity are destined to fail.

It follows Hitler's annexation of Germany, the Anglo-Italian agreement of Apr. 16 for settling Mediterranean, African and Spanish issues between Britain and Italy, France's move for a similar accord with Mussolini and the strengthening of the Anglo-French Entente.

Many reports circulated as to what Mussolini and Hitler would discuss but authoritative information was lacking. Some circles said a military alliance would be developed but others said they doubted that Fascist-Nazi collaboration would go that far.

The authoritative commentator, Virginia Gayda, declared the Fuehrer's coming had a three-fold significance: "First, it will affect the course of the Fascist-Nazi rejuvenating revolution. Second, it will affect the combined protection of Italian and Germany interests. Third, it will affect the development of world foreign policy to which Italy and Germany now are such inspiring, collaborating parties."

Abrams Is Found Guilty Of Murder By Coroner's Jury

A coroner's jury sitting in the case of Jesse Abrams yesterday found that John Albina, negro, came to his death "by gunshot wounds at the hands of Jesse Abrams." Abrams is also a negro.

Albina had left his home several months ago but decided to return. As he entered his house, Abrams, who was inside, seized a shotgun and fired at Albina, wounding him severely in the shoulder.

A time was rushed to the hospital where it was found necessary to amputate his arm. He died early Sunday. Abrams escaped and has not yet been apprehended.

Jurors were as follows: A. M. Lee, foreman, E. E. Brady, H. W. Craig, W. O. Woodruff, Fred Smith and C. J. Smith. Justice of the Peace J. C. Roberts presided over the proceedings.

HITLER AT MAY DAY FESTIVAL

Adolf Hitler is shown in this radiophoto as he stood in front of a gigantic May pole in Berlin on May Day and told his fellow countrymen that nations, which scoffed at Nazism, are now coming around to the Nazi viewpoint in the field of relations between capital and labor. The big May pole came from a forest in Austria which recently was added to the "Greater German Empire."

Holt And Peele Named Bishops By Methodists

Decision Of Judicial Council On Union Of Church Awaited

BIRMINGHAM, May 3.—(AP)—Dr. Ivan Lee Holt, St. Louis, and Dr. William Walter Peele, Greensboro, N. C., were elected bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, on the first ballot of the quadrennial conference. The conference will name five other new members of the Episcopal body.

The election of the new bishops was announced while the church awaited a ruling on the legality of the conference approved merger with the two other branches of American Methodism.

While the nine-member judicial council, the supreme court of the church, weighed the union with the Methodist Episcopal church and the Methodist Protestant church, the opponents of unification claimed wider support for "secession" if the plan was approved.

A disjunction on paper merely split the Episcopal division of Methodism into huge branches in 1914. Earlier the Protestant Methodists withdrew from the main body of the denomination, favoring a change in the form of church government.

Justification centered on the judicial council's attitude toward the claim of Bishop Denney that the union was illegal because it would change the Methodist articles of religion.

Denney contended approval of "sech" would confer upon the conference the status of religious assembly and that it would not be a conference.

Observers insisted the council may determine, in the face of this argument, opposition in the settlement of the majority of the conference.

Achievement Day For County 4-H Clubs Is May 14

May 14 was announced today as the annual achievement day for Seminole County 4-H Club girls by Mrs. Gladys Kendall, Home Demonstration Agent for Seminole County.

Mrs. Kendall said that annual achievement days for 4-H Club girls in 27 Florida counties began Apr. 22 and will continue through May 21.

The 4-H Club program is fundamental both in its importance and in its soundness, she said. Members of the clubs are taught how to take care of themselves and they are taught the rules of health, how to raise vegetables, care for flocks of poultry, how to conserve food supplies during the growing seasons to be used in off seasons.

They are also, she continued, instructed in the art of home-making and beautification and they are taught how to be good citizens, useful to the communities in which they live, and to the State and nation.

Another feature of the program is that it encourages ambition and self-improvement, she said. These qualities are developed through the friendly rivalry that is engendered in the competitive efforts through which outstanding records of achievement bring rich rewards to the winners, such as the privilege of attending the annual 4-H Girls' short course at the State College for Women.

the plough;
The black'ning trains o' crabs
to their repose;
The toil-worn cotter frae his labor goes—This night his weekly moil it at an end,— Collects his spades, his mattocks, and his hoes, Hoping the morn in ease and rest
to spend,
And weary, o'er the moor, his course does homeward bend.
At length his lonely cot appears in view, Beneath the shelter of an aged tree;
The expectant wee things, toddlin' steech through
To meet their dad, w' flichterin'
noise and glee.
His wee bit ingle, blinkin' bonnily,
His clean hearthstone, his thrif-tle wife's smile,
The happy infant prattling on his knee,
Does a' his weary carking cares
beguile,
And makes him quite forget his labor and his toil.

Not So Bad, After All

After Henry Ford had visited President Roosevelt the other day and eaten a good luncheon in the White House, he told reporters that he thought the President was trying to do the best that he can. "You never heard me say anything against the President," Mr. Ford said, "I'm trying to do the best he can, like the rest of us."
"Trying to do the best he can," is not exactly extravagant praise, but is a relief from the constant harping of chronic opponents of the President who have accused him of everything from being downright malevolent to something bordering on a mental case. It admits that while Mr. Roosevelt is after all only human, he is the President of the United States and as such is deserving of respect and consideration.

The fact that Mr. Roosevelt made the first gesture of friendliness toward Mr. Ford and invited him to the White House shows his willingness to cooperate with big industrialists if they will give him a chance. It is a public recognition, perhaps, that Mr. Roosevelt recognizes that Mr. Ford, too, is doing the best he can.
And to our way of thinking the example set by both of these men is exactly what this country needs more than anything else in the world. It needs to realize that while there are crooks among business men, as well as among politicians, by in large most of them on both sides of the fence are doing the best they can.
There are, of course, in the ranks of business, men like Richard Whitney, Samuel Insull, and Charles Mitchell, who violate the laws of the land and rightfully belong where Mr. Whitney went, to a cell block alongside of other crooks who forge checks, steal automobiles and engage in banditry and blackmail.
There are such men in business just as there are Albert Falls, and Harry Dougherty's in high public office, and just as there are scores of lesser politicians who have no more respect for the laws of their state and nation than the Al Capone's and the "Big Jim" Colisimos, and just as there are crooks among farmers, plumbers, newspapermen and labor unions. But it doesn't follow that they are all like that.

To Tell The Truth

In an address before the American Newspaper Publishers Association, upon the occasion of the retirement of Frank B. Noyes as president of the Association Press, Paul Bellamy, editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, delivered an address on "A Free Press and a Free People" which should be of interest to everyone who agrees that a free press is necessary to a free people. Mr. Bellamy's credo is as follows:
"We believe that the profession of journalism is a noble and necessary calling.
"We believe that as chroniclers of the day's events we have to set forth what happens without prejudice or coloration.
"We believe that we are trustees of a great social responsibility, in that free government cannot endure without a free press.
"We realize that a venal press has no moral justification and will not live.
"We hold that a newspaper possesses two equally important functions: first, to tell what is going on, and second, to editorialize about it.
"We believe that to mix the two functions by editorializing in the news columns is wrong.
"We know that the guarantee of a free press, so gloriously contended for by our English ancestors in the time of John Milton and written into the Constitution of the United States, was a right which the whole body of the people deemed precious.
"And we know also that if the custodians of that right abuse it, the same authority which bestowed it upon us may take it away. We have to justify it by our works.
We may not depend too much on everlasting grace.
"There is a gift we can give you today which will gladden your heart more than any other, and I think I know this membership well enough to say that we will give it.
We can and we do rededicate ourselves to the cause of truth in the news."

SANFORD TWENTY YEARS AGO

Miss Esie Whittle was hostess at a farewell party on Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Edith Stewart who leaves next week for Philadelphia. Miss Stewart is being pleasantly entertained by her friends prior to her departure.
The color scheme of the party was white and red, and every detail of the affair was carried out in these colors. Easter lilies and sweet peas were the predominate flowers, and the graceful sprays were artistically arranged.
Other garden flowers were also used throughout the pleasant rooms and hall.
Interesting games and contests were enjoyed, at the close of which Mrs. Volie Williams was the lucky one, winning a lovely bou-quet of sweet peas with sprays and the hokey falling to Miss Louise Lambert.
Following the awarding of the prize refreshments were served.
The ice course was in white and red with delicious cake. Mrs. Arthur Johnson assisted in serving.
White and red sweet peas were given as favors to each guest.
There were about twenty, but many friends of the honoree presented and these were placed in the ice cream parlors. The re-

Union Is Major Factor In China's Jap Resistance

Stream Of War Materials From Soviets Also Aids Chinese

By MORGAN M. BEATTY
WASHINGTON, May 3.—
When it became pretty clear that the Japanese army was having difficulty in North China, I went to some of the few men in the United States who know the Far East like a book.
"Whatever the meaning of all this Chinese resistance," I asked,
"reporting a tolerant smile and a long-winded, high-sounding discussion of military strategy and economics.
"Why," said he, "it is simply pouring water out of a boat.
Anybody who has carefully studied the war in the Far East expected the Japanese to get tripped up pretty soon. They tripped over their sword as it were, a little earlier than necessary." As simple as that, eh? And it is here, he said, are the reasons why the Japanese lost the battle of Taiichwang and further—the reasons why they can't take North China like the Japanese belle took New Jersey.

Nationalist China's leader, Chiang Kai-shek, definitely has ended his 10-year feud with the Communist war lords who rule the provinces of North Central China—the very provinces where the hot fighting is now going on.

That means Nationalist and Communist China are at last united in a common front against a common enemy. It took a Japanese invasion to get Chiang and his old enemies together, but they are together. The evidence is overwhelming.

First, Chiang executed able,
but double-dealing, General Han Fu-shan, the governor of Shan-dong province, who had failed to resist the Japanese.

Then, Chiang ordered his other generals to snap into hit-and-run guerrilla war fare against the Japs, the principal idea behind that being harassment of the loggers, and cutting of their communication lines.

Finally, Chiang won a new title which can be translated to mean
"dictator," but is more accurate as "leader." It is "Tang Tai," an honor conferred upon him by his Nationalist Kuomintang party.

The alliance of the Chinese Nationalists and Communists caused out of Soviet Russia a continuing stream of war materials for the Chinese armies, via the caravan routes from Mongolia to Siam, in the heart of North Central China.

Until Chiang gave evidence that he was fighting the Japanese to a finish, evidence which has been lacking heretofore—Russian assistance was withheld from the Chinese Nationalists, but when evidence of sincerity was produced Russia apparently decided to go ahead with a long-term plan to harass a natural enemy, Japan. The easiest way to harass Japan, for the time being, is to send war supplies to the Chinese. Direct Russian interference with the Japanese might invite a big-scale war, and Russia is admittedly not ready for such a confrontation just after wholesale execution of army generals.

The backs of the Chinese soldiers are to their own people, and their morale is bolstered with every step they take in retreat.

As the area of operation spreads beyond the seaboard bases established and controlled by the Japanese, the Chinese receive more and more food comfort and cheer from their people.
Also, as the front widens in the interior, the guerrilla soldier in the Chinese line is in his own element. Likewise, the training of new recruits proceeds rapidly under fire.

Japanese morale drops as the sentry pushes further into hostile territory.

The Japanese soldier's biggest bane is that he is as good as a five Chinese soldiers. When the Japanese mechanical equipment is working well and the lines wheel the cockpit through well developed territory, the boat is no long out, but as the Japs spread out and the countrywide grows wider, the Japanese soldier discovers in his own army that he is not so good as five Chinese soldiers. It is impossible, prices a great spy. Her craft tactics and her passion for display made de-

Even Belle Boyd, the darling of the Confederacy, who daringly carried important military information through the Union lines, would have been up against a discreet professional in the World war, where the espionage service was being organized on a scale that was making espionage a military science.

Violators Are Tried In City Court Session

Sixteen Persons Are Arraigned Before Judge F. L. Miller

Only three white persons were tried in Municipal Court session before Judge Frank L. Miller yesterday afternoon. They were Pat Ryan, Edward Jackson and Charles English. Ryan, charged with forgery, was transferred to the county. The case of Edward Jackson, charged with forgery, was also transferred to the County Court. Charles English, charged with being drunk and disorderly, was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 or spend 30 days in jail.

The following persons were tried:
James Singleton, charged with being an inmate of a disorderly house, was dismissed. Johnnie Johnson, charged on two counts with being drunk and disorderly conduct, was found guilty on both charges. On the first count he was sentenced to pay $5 or spend 10 days in jail. On the second count he was sentenced to pay $15 or spend 30 days in jail.

Henry Covington, held on a charge of disorderly conduct, was dismissed. The case of Mattie Wood, charged with disorderly conduct, was continued. The case of Mattie Mitchell, charged with disorderly conduct, was also continued.

Walter Isaac, charged with disorderly conduct, was sentenced to pay $5 or spend 10 days in jail.
Will Robinson, charged with disorderly conduct, was sentenced to pay $5 or spend 10 days in

Frank Hayes, charged with dis-

Charlie Boynton, alias Charlie Morris, charged with drunkenness, estreated a bond of $10.

Louise Phillips, charged with number would be closer to facts, The pay for free lance espionage work is higher during war, its value, the danger and the obstacles being greater. Death is the customary penalty for the captured wartime spy.

Since the World war only two persons have been tried and convicted under the U. S. espionage act of 1917. The first was Harry Thomas Thompson of Baltimore, former petty officer in the navy, who was convicted in 1933 and sentenced to 15 years in prison for selling information to an officer in the Japanese navy.

The second was former Lieut.
Commander John S. Farnsworth, who last year began a 4 to 12 year term for conspiracy with two Japanese naval aides to communicate U. S. naval secrets.

Popular estimates that 10,000 spies are on the job in Europe today are melodramatic exaggerations. The arms race among sibberian nations has greatly increased espionage activity but nine out of every 10 so-called spies are amateurs whose reports are of scant value if not downright un-dependable.

Gardens Bloom In Fragrant Loveliness

Sanford's flowering gardens and blossoming trees are now lending an atmosphere of fragrance and loveliness throughout the city and garden club notes report many of these beauty spots which are now attracting wide attention.

The mimosa tree in the garden of W. J. Hill is in full bloom now, and the entire top is covered with the faintest of pink flowers. Also, in the garden of Mrs. W. E. Watson, there are several mimosa trees in bloom.

The parkinsonia tree on the corner of Palmetto Avenue and Ninth Street at the home of the Dr. E. H. Rowland is a mass of golden bloom against its background of fine feathery foliage.

In the lovely garden of Mrs. Henry Wight fall blue peonies and trees extend their gorgeous crowns of flowering beauty to the sky. There is also a blue peony in the home of Mrs. Frances Hickson, at Twelfth Street and Myrtle Avenue.

And please take more than a passing glance at Mr. Wight's lawn, which is truly a "thing of beauty" and should be a joy to Sanford residents.

Mrs. Harry Heaton has managed to produce a florid foundation of pink, blue, yellow, and purple, despite the lack of rain this Spring. And the parkinsonia in the home of Mrs. H. J. Coleman is enhanced by generous planting of pink pinks around the palms.

Mrs. Jack Ellsworth's garden and also Mrs. William Tunnell's abound in beautiful flowers of very delicate fragrance, and the high-bouncing cereus will send forth the most ethereal blossoms during the month of May.

Observe and appreciate the beauty spots and gardens in our city and seek to improve your own property. All these flowering trees, palms, and plants will grow from seed.

Camera, Magnesium Aid Meteorologist

NEW YORK, May 2.—(AP)—Magnesium and a camera are being used by Prof. A. F. Spilhaus of New York University to discover what the weather is like high above the earth at night.

Experimenting in one branch of meteorology—wind velocity and direction—Prof. Spilhaus uses a small balloon with a length of fuse containing magnesium flash powder which explodes at five-second intervals.

He uses a camera to obtain an automatic record of the balloon's course and has recorded flashes from his balloons as high as 13,000 feet.

Let soup, meat or chicken stock cool before trying to remove the fat. Once the stock is cool the fat may be lifted off easily, stored in the refrigerator.

Independent Club Cannot Play In Conference Loop

Regular School Teams Would Be Ineligible For Tournament

The independent high school baseball club which was organized by several baseball-minded youths will not be able to play in North-eastern Conference competition this season due to rules and regulations of the conference.

Robert Howell, manager and spokesman for the independent club, said that replies to the many letters sent to clubs in the surrounding cities had all stated that they would not be able to play in Sanford team because if they did it would rule them ineligible to participate in the coming Northeast Conference baseball tournament which this season is creating more interest than in many previous seasons.

The club is to play Jack Purdon's outfit, another city team, on the Ninth Street Park this afternoon and they are slated to meet a Geneva club at the same park Sunday afternoon. The game is scheduled to start at 3:00 o'clock.

Howell stated that the line-up would include Roy Dunn in left field, Buck Ferguson on second base, Howell behind the plate, Pete Tills on shortstop, Leslie Howard on third base, Billy Colbert or Ashby Jones in right field, Sam Wits on first base, Douglas Stenstrom in center field and Red Williams on the mound.

IN THE FIELD OF SPORTS

A youth who has cinched a regular berth with the Lookouts although hampered with an ailing leg, is Ray Clark, centerfielder. Clark is a youngster of 22 years of age and this season he is making his professional baseball debut. Clark came here from his home in Athens, Tenn., after he was signed by Manager Lacy several weeks ago. He suffered a leg injury in the second practice session but he continued to hustle since he had three tough men against him.

Manager Lacy decided to manage from the bench and he transferred Win Brown to first making room for Clark in centerfield. Clark has hit very well since returning to the Lookout line-up and plays a fine record for fielding without errors.

Clark began his baseball career in high school and later was signed with the Hardwick Mills outfit in Athens where he played two seasons. They won the Fenner-

GET THE "RIDE" SENSATION OF THE YEAR IN THE BIG PLYMOUTH "Roadking"

Today's leading lowest-priced cars cost about the same...but one stands out!

That car is the big, beautiful Plymouth "Roadking"...with a remarkable new ride that's the year's sensation of the lowest-price field...

It has more room, more riding comfort...engineering's last word in safety features. It has amazing power and record economy...BOTH!

And it's easy to own...your present car will probably represent a large proportion of Plymouth's low delivered price...balance in surprising-ly low monthly installments.

PLYMOUTH "Roadking" 5-PASSENGER SEDAN $685

—"Detroit delivered price," including front and rear bumpers and bumper guards, spare wheel, tire and tube, foot control for headlight beam with indicator on instrument panel, ash-tray front and rear, sun visor, safety glass and big trunk space (19.3 cubic feet). Plymouth "Roadking" models start at $645. "De Luxe" models slightly higher. Plymouth prices INCLUDE ALL FEDERAL TAXES. State, local taxes not included. Convenient time payments.

TUNE IN MAJOR BOWEN'S AMATEUR HOUR, C.B.S. NETWORK, THURS., 9-10 P.M., E.S.T.

Airplane-Type Shock-Absorbers
Plymouth's double-action, airplane-type shock-absorbers swallow road shocks for better because they control both the up and down movement of all four springs!

Rubber-Cored Body Mountings
To prevent road "drumming" and vibration from reaching passengers, Plymouth engineers have developed "live" rubber body mountings to do away with metal-to-metal contact between body and frame.

These new body mountings—together with Plymouth's new scientific sound-proofing—block out road noises and vibration...give a smooth, "hushed" ride.

Biggest of the 3
It's important to know that the Plymouth "Roadking" is really the biggest of the three leading low-priced cars...it is nearly 7 inches longer than one; and more than 10 inches longer than the other.

Financing Power Engine Mountings
This advancement keeps engine vibration from being "telegraphed" to passengers.

One of the first things people say about the Plymouth ride is—"You can't feel the motor!" And Plymouth is famous for the economy of its 52-h.p., "L-head" engine, with full-length water jackets and 4-ring pistons. Owners report 18 to 24 miles on gas...lowest oil consumption!

Try Plymouth's New Ride
To know today's lowest-priced car values you must drive the big new Plymouth. Telephone your nearby Plymouth Dealer for a demonstration today. There's no obligation. Plymouth Division of Chrysler Corporation, Detroit, Michigan.

Mark Wilcox Carries Seminole County As Sharon, Barnett Lose

Congressman Is Given Near Majority Here Though Losing Heavily In State Vote

Carter Receives Huge Majority

Buford, Thomas, And Chapman Win Count For Supreme Court

Mark Wilcox turned the tables on Claude Pepper in Seminole County and won almost as sweeping a victory here as the junior senator had throughout the rest of the state. Carrying 12 out of 16 precincts in this county, and receiving more votes than Pepper in both the city precincts and the county precincts, Wilcox received almost as many votes as all of his opponents put together.

Following 1937 votes out of a total of 1612 cast in the entire county. The Herald's unofficial returns indicated Wilcox received 109 votes more than his nearest opponent, Senator Pepper, who got 1477 votes. Sholtz received 227 votes; Moore, 23; and Archibald, 4.

Wilcox' total vote in the 11 county precincts was 792, while Pepper received 513 in the same territory. Sholtz had 268 outside of Sanford, Moore, 23, and Archibald, 4 in the city precincts, the vote was: Wilcox, 1145; Pepper, 941; Sholtz, 259; Moore, 19; and Archibald, 4.

County precincts which went for Pepper were Paola with 21 for Pepper and 28 for Wilcox; Ocala with 38 for Pepper and 25 for Wilcox; Geneva with 79 for Pepper and 67 for Wilcox; and Oklawaha with 31 for Pepper and 11 for Wilcox.

Ocala and Forest City appeared to be Sholtz strongholds as they were the only precincts in which he was not low man in each of these he ran second losing the former to Pepper and the latter to Wilcox.

In the other state races, Rivers Buford won a two to one victory over Senator Gillis, receiving 2193 votes to 1068 for his opponent, Judge Thomas of Fort (Continued on page six)
