$957,000,000 Requested For WPA Program

President Sticks To Budget Estimate In Requesting Appropriation For Relief

Says No New Taxes Planned

Authority Asked To Spend Sum In 8 Months If Needed

WASHINGTON, Apr. 18.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today asked for $957,000,000 to run the WPA next year and simultaneously abandoned hope of getting from Congress the $460,000,000 in new taxes requested in January.

In a letter to the speaker of the House, Roosevelt held to the original budget figure for the WPA with one major exception—he asked permission to spend the $957,000,000 in eight months if "necessary" to avoid suffering and hardship.

Last year's relief law required the appropriation be spread over the entire 18-month fiscal period. The President at a press conference said he did not believe any additional legislation would be recommended to Congress this session.

Roosevelt said that his budget estimates had been based on hopes of improved employment and business but that those hopes had not been entirely realized and that it was difficult to predict employment volume for the entire fiscal year.

Arthur Purvis, head of the Anglo-French purchasing mission, announced at the capital that the Allies already have purchased "huge quantities" of three of the most important commodities in the world. He did not identify the type of ship nor the number.

Prospects Seen For Successful Salvation Drive

Prospects for a successful conclusion to the annual Salvation Army drive were seen today in the announcement of Capt. R. E. Rose that the Army's workers had collected $2,100 thus far. The goal is $3,000.

To date approximately $2,100 has been donated to the Army. George Rollins, chairman of the campaign last year, said that through the years of the Salvation Army's activities in Sanford, it has performed its services with distinction and credit to itself and the community, and that the work it has done merits a continuation of "our interest, encouragement and ample funds to carry on in the future."

If you have not made your contribution in this drive, declared Mrs. Maxwell Stewart, campaign chairman, "will you bring your donation in to campaign headquarters, located at the corner of Magnolia Avenue and Second Street, or telephone 96, and a worker will be glad to call on you."

Charles Bradshaw, Jr. Has Eye Infection

Charles Edward Bradshaw, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bradshaw, Jr. of Altamaha Springs, Fla., suffering from an eye infection and was taken to a specialist in Atlanta for treatment before he could be seen by his parents, it was learned today.

The decision to take the boy to the family physician in Atlanta was made when the infection grew worse, it was stated. However, his condition is not considered critical.

Mr. Bradshaw will also attend to his business interests while at the Georgia metropolis before returning to his home in Altamaha Springs.

City Officials Discuss Plans For Swimming Pool In Fort Mellon Park

A large swimming pool for Fort Mellon Park will soon become a reality if the plans now being discussed by the City Commission and the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce materialize.

At a recent special meeting, the City Commission authorized City Engineer Fred T. Williams to prepare plans and specifications for the construction of a pool of regulation size, 156 feet by 66 feet in Fort Mellon Park with the idea of utilizing a WPA project for its construction.

WPA Project Planned For Improvements In Lake Front Section

Adjoining the pool on one side would also be a terrace open air court, 50 by 100 feet in size, for those who enjoy dancing while another side of the proposed pool there would be a wading pond for the children. There would also be up to date lath houses and showers for the use of bathers.

Fleets Of Five Nations Converge On Dardanelles

BUCHAREST, Apr. 18.—(AP)—Warships of five powers maneuvered under secret orders within striking distance of the Dardanelles last night as the small neutral nations of southeastern Europe reinforced their defenses and moved to stamp out Nazi influences within their borders.

The Turks hold the Dardanelles straits, focal point of the naval activity spreading through the Aegean and Black seas. The neutrals fear this activity may ferment the spread of the war.

Allied naval units off the Greek coast were reported to have taken "counter measures" after the Italian fleet assembled in the Aegean for what Italy has called "seasonary Spring maneuvers." The nature of the counter measures was not disclosed.

Contents Planned For Boy Scout Camporee

A huge bonfire in the middle of the lot south of the City diamond ball field will mark the opening of the "camporee" for Seminole County Boy Scouts.

The two-day program will be featured by individual and patrol contests as well as practical demonstrations of scoutcraft. In these contests accurate records of the winners will be kept and due recognition given them.

Chapters, Merit district scout commissioner, said.

The events planned include a knot-tying race, fire by friction, wigwag signalling, a fun event, and water boiling contest, and many others.

Plans are being made for a Boy Scout parade in the Sanford business district tomorrow afternoon which will mark the official opening of the two-day "camporee."

2 Nabbed In Still Raid Plead Guilty

Harry Gore of Chulucka was fined $50 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of operating an illicit liquor still before County Judge R. W. Ware yesterday. Cecil Fields, charged with possession of illicit whiskey, was sentenced to serve a 90-day term in the County convict camp when he entered a plea of guilty to the charges.

The two were arrested in a raid by the Sheriff's office on a still near Wagner earlier in the week. The still was located in a swampy area near the Calk W. O. and Fred Hickson who confiscated a 50-gallon copper distilling apparatus and a quantity of "moonshine" and destroyed 14 barrels of mash.

Limpus Speaks At Whitehair Meeting

C. E. Limpus of Orlando will be the next speaker at the Seminole County Whitehair for Governor Club. It was announced at the regular meeting held last night.

The next meeting will be held at 8:00 p.m. on April 19, at 8:00 p.m. at the home of Mrs. J. W. Whitehair. Friends and supporters are invited to attend.

Italy - Nazis Exchange Data On Operations

Two Countries Send Military Missions To Collaborate On Efforts Of Armies

ROME, Apr. 18.—(AP)—Exchange of military missions between Germany and Italy, already ready to join in a military alliance, was authoritatively announced today.

First members of the German mission already have arrived in Rome where they said the visit was "part of a general program underway since 1938, the purpose of which is to maintain constant contact between the armed forces of the two great powers."

Meanwhile, the Italian government, seeking to stem the rising tide of rumors about Italy's war status, denied that the strategic Adriatic port of Bari had been declared a prohibited zone.

Fascists Advised By Englishman To Act As Neutral

LONDON, Apr. 18.—(AP)—Britain's minister of economic warfare, Ronald C. Cross, declared last night he believed Italy wanted to be treated as a neutral, but warned her she must behave as one.

"We have no quarrel with Italy," he said. "We have every wish to be friends. But we are planning, and plan speaking people and we should like to know where she stands with Italy."

Cross also expressed the opinion that Germany might invade Sweden within a month to get supplies of iron ore. Britain, he added, is ready to help Sweden, "but she must be ready to help herself."

British Blast Nazi Airfields

Germans Roll Closer To Swedish Frontier By Hard Fighting

The potential trouble center in the Far East—the Netherlands East Indies—shared attention with the race between Britain and Germany to carve a solid foothold out of Norway's rocky coast.

Britain apparently was concentrating efforts on keeping German aerial transports from using natural seaplane ports among Norway's many fjords and crimping the few Norwegian airfields suited to military uses.

In Berlin authorized sources said the Norwegian King Haakon VII had recognized the Nazi puppet government at Oslo only as an administrative committee.

The situation at Narvik, the northern iron ore port, remained obscure as an official German statement declared German hold the city and its harbor.

Daily Vacations

Do you need a vacation? Of course you probably do but if you are like most of us you will be unable to take it just when you need it most or to get off for as long as you'd like. However, if you use your head every day, you can put into short intervals all the essentials of a protracted holiday.

Too many of us dwell in the grip of routine and pre-occupation, according to Dr. William Marston, distinguished psychologist, in the Rotarian Magazine, but with a bit of scheming we can change the scene, the pace, and the habit of our daily lives without breaking appointments, being late, or loafing. Mere cessation of work and aimless relaxation aren't enough, the author says, because vacations must include seeing new faces, getting new points of view, doing different and exciting things—rekindling that something which puts sparkle back in eyes, spring back into sagging arches.

"The lunch hour provides vacation opportunities for a walk, glimpses of new surroundings, an exchange of ideas with truck drivers and college students in 'beaneries' and cafeterias; or a few minutes to catch the drama of the street with a camera," says Mr. Marston. "Even the visits of persons who interrupt your busiest working hours can be vacations if an interesting exchange of views replaces a bored resistance to the other fellow's ideas. A few minutes at a hobby for many folks will sweep aside the accumulated debris of other people's demands which clutter up their minds in the tyranny of fixed schedules," he declares.

"Floundering along in a deep rut with your vision dimmed by other people's dust will never get you anywhere," the author asserts. "What I am talking about is the independence to take time off whenever you cease to function properly; the courage to renew your spirit and not be browbeaten by routine. A daily vacation is your best success insurance because it guarantees the preservation of your own inner drive."

Need For Mosquito Control

With Spring already here and with the inevitable summer rains not far away, it is not amiss to point out the vital need for combatting the mosquito menace, which every year exacts a toll of sickness and discomfort.

In writing about the establishment of a mosquito control district in Palm Beach County, the Palm Beach Post quotes the report of the State Board of Health survey which states that the mosquito is both a pest and a menace to health, and is responsible for the periodical epidemics of dengue fever that causes suffering, lost working time and outlay for doctors' bills and medicines.

"That no Florida community can afford to be apathetic to the matter of mosquito control is still further emphasized by a report just issued by the Rockefeller Foundation on the invasion of the gambiæ mosquitoes in Brazil," declares the Palm Beach paper, and points out that "in 1930 the dreaded malaria-carrying mosquito, Anopheles gambiæ, arrived in Brazil from Africa, and now infests an area of 12,000 square miles, according to the foundation report."

Dr. M. A. Barber, a distinguished malarologist is quoted as saying: "This invasion of gambiæ threatens the Americas with a catastrophe in comparison with which ordinary pestilence, conflagration and even war are but small and temporary calamities. Gambiæ literally enters into the very veins of a country and may remain to plague it for centuries. Even the penetration of yellow fever into the Orient might be a lesser evil, because its vector is domestic and more easily controlled."

The newspaper asserts that "in co-operation with the Brazilian government, the Rockefeller Foundation is carrying on a bitter fight to hold the invader in check and good results were obtained last year. Another widespread campaign has been organized to resume the struggle during the wet season this year but nobody is predicting the outcome."

"Whatever else it may be, the mosquito is no joke. A one-mill tax would be a small price for this country to contribute toward exterminating him as far as may be possible."

"TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

Time was when such a message as "You gotta write my column this week" from the boss, wouldn't have caused the batting of an eye. There's always a much going on. There's always a gal likes to make herself HEARD.

But this time it's with fear and misgiving that I launch into any subject for whatever you say these pre-lection days is WRONG. Suppose anyone who follows Russell Kay's column would say "Politics is a natural" —so go to town on that!

However, I've found out that try as I may, anything I'd say on any subject from "Groundhog Day" to "My First Childhood Recollections" would be interpreted as propaganda for candidates to and so or politician such and such.

THE STREAMS ARE RUNNING AGAIN IN SCANDINAVIA

DISPELLING THE FOG

BY CHARLES MICHELSON

It is rather difficult to get from any of the conspicuous aspirants for the Republican presidential nomination any definite expression of their views on what should they come to power, they would do about our domestic problems.

Nearly all of them dilute their utterances with general approval of the New Deal objectives, so that the offering so far as the New Deal has been slowly extricating us from a little more than a decade of depression of an undefined chaos that is bound to come upon us unless they are given the job of handling our national affairs.

However, Senator Taft comes nearer to stating what is really the Republican attitude than any of his rivals. And that attitude comes pretty close to being a plea for the return of the same old conditions that plunged us into the depths from which the New Deal has been slowly extricating us.

In a recent radio broadcast, the ambitious young man from Ohio complains that the Democratic speakers insist on comparing our present status with what it was when President Roosevelt came to the White House. He prefers a comparison of economic conditions with what they were at the height of the boom period. For example, he says "national income in 1929, that is the income of all the people put together, was only $8 billion dollars, whereas for 1929 or three years prior to 1929 it got up to $20 billion dollars."

And he deduces from that that the New Deal elements crackpot and the rest of it. Hence the restoration of the tiresome charges of extravagance, incompetence and the rest of the generalities, with which the Republican campaign speeches bristle. They call the New Deal elements crackpot and the dreams of starchy-eyed young theorists, but they endorse them as correct in principle, and refuse to particularize which of the enactments of the Democratic period they would repeal—if they got a chance.

Why Not Mr. Hoover Again? They cannot repudiate their own record. They cannot repudiate their own record.

Just a Few Statistics The Senator became eloquent when he was pointing out the dire consequence of the also of the national debt. "No wonder," he says, "you have to pay more for bread, other food, and clothing because of all the taxes that are imposed on these necessities as they come to you from the producer."

It so happens that the Office of Government Reports has recently gotten out some statistics on these very points. They show that, whereas the cost of food to the wage-earner-purchaser was 4.7 percent higher than the average in 1929, in the present year it is 22 points less than the average, and that whereas "Buckley" Cox. Plenty of subjects? Yes. Plenty of dynamite, too! As the boss often says, "I'd rather die a natural death!" And as Clio Trice says, "I'd use Eleanor Roosevelt and the other candidates' names in my column."

WHY LET AN OLD CAR DRIVE YOU CRAZY?

Reserves of blood of different types are held in storage on hospital ships and at various bases. During the World War the only means of assisting a sailor suffering from loss of blood was the administration of a saline solution made of one teaspoon of salt to a pint of water. While this was helpful it was far less effective than the transfusion of blood.

In other respects medical and surgical facilities of the fleet are advanced far beyond those available in previous wars.

The naval medical service includes a long list of specialists. There is a special psychiatric unit to deal with nervous cases. The "shell shock" is no longer employed in the service. More specific and technical terms are used.

Sumptuous the lengths to which the British navy goes to care for its wounded was the attention given to one of the British victims. An orthopedic surgeon was sent from Britain to the Falkland Islands after the Graf Spee battle to treat a difficult fracture.

"Blitzkrieg" Is Proving Challenge To Allied Power

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON, Associated Press Correspondent
Nazi's thrust of a "Blitzkrieg" in the west "to end the war" voiced by Field Marshal Goering on April 5—has proved to be a frontal challenge to British sea power by far inferior German naval strength backed up by boasted German air might.
The result is a battle still rumbling ashore in Norway, along a thousand miles of Norwegian coast line, far out over the North sea and even in the Baltic.
Its outcome or effect on the course of the Allied-German war, remains uncertain, but one vitally important fact stands out among the conflicting belligerent claims and the rumors reaching the neutral world: nowhere, as yet, there any intimation that Nazi airpower has proved an answer to British seapower.
Germany's vaunted air armada signally failed to shield from British naval attack the Nazi transports and troop and supply ships shuttling to execute and maintain the invasion of Norway. Days and nights of continuous sea and air fighting centering in the close waters of the Skagerrak, virtually on Germany's Baltic threshold have seen British bombers striking in the Baltic itself. British war leadership has solemnly assured parliament that the British navy already has virtually corked the Baltic.
If that is true, and the weight of evidence from Sweden's perilous neutral ring-side seat tends to affirm it, this first phase of the western blitzkrieg has become a Nazi boomersong. Events are obviously challenging British optimism and backing up Winston Churchill's assertion to parliament that the Scandinavian invasion will prove a fatal Hitler blunder. Germany must quickly reopen the sea road to Norway to maintain her army there; or trample Swedish neutrality to enlarge the Scandinavian war zone. Failing that, the battle of Norway must go against her as Franco-British forces move in to aid the Norwegian soldiers. All Germany's air might not save the Nazi forces in Norway if they were otherwise cut off from Germany.

New Outdoor Fly Trap Will Give Relief To Cattle

Nor can Norwegian air bases, in the absence of dependable routes of supply from Germany, be of much value for close-up Nazi attack on Allied North sea shipping.
Every detectable indicator points toward new German action in the west to justify the Scandinavian adventure. Where or how it will come can only be conjectured; but that Berlin must move swiftly to safeguard her now vulnerable Baltic flank is not open to doubt. Swedish dread of what is impending is justified.
Churchill said that the Allies intended to take and use whatever Norwegian coastal territory might be needed to press the war with Denmark. He did not mention Denmark, but there is strategic argument for Allied attempts to establish air or other bases there. Denmark's dubious hour of escape under forced Nazi "protection" from the horrors of war may be short. Her shattered neutrality no longer imposes scruples on the Allies if Denmark affords them strategically an inviting opportunity to carry the war to Germany in the Baltic, as well as many. British bombers probably

Dr. Tissot suggests that the trap be set up several weeks ahead of the fly season so that livestock will become familiar with it before flies become annoying. The cattle should be allowed to pass through the framework for a week before any of the curtains or strips are installed. These are added piece by piece at 2 or 3-day intervals until all are in place.
In trying out experimental traps, there has been no difficulty in familiarizing livestock with the trap in this manner. Even wild range cattle will use it. Furthermore, once the flies become annoying, livestock soon learn to make for the trap.
A complete list of the materials needed in constructing the trap and an illustration of the completed trap may be obtained by writing to the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

DEWEY IN PRIMARY
NEW YORK, Apr. 18. —(AP)—District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey, candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, will enter the Maryland GOP Presidential preferential primary of May 6, it was announced last night.

Even with the present air-and-sea battle unphased and the next major German stroke unpredictable, it is far from certain that Germany has not lost more than she gained by invasion of her Scandinavian neighbors. Yet it was no haphazard affair, planned overnight to counter British mining of Norwegian waters. That is now admitted even in Berlin.
It had definitely plunged Germany into the two-front war she sought to avoid by making a tongue-in-cheek deal with Soviet Russia. It could conceivably bring the war to the way the Goering promised but with Nazi dom crumbling from within instead of victorious. Hitler has taken that risk.

Helps For Housewives

By Mrs. ALEXANDER GEORGE

Dinner Serving 3 Or 4
Dried Beef, De Luxe
Baked Rice
Bread
Currant Jelly
Cooked Fresh Vegetable Salad
Maple Trifle
Whipped Cream
Coffee

Dried Beef, De Luxe
4 tablespoons butter
1-4 pound dried beef, shredded
4-tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
1-8 teaspoon salt
1-8 teaspoon paprika
1-2 teaspoon minced parsley
2 cups boiled rice (brown preferred)
Melt butter, add mushrooms and beef and cook slowly five minutes. Blend in flour and add the milk. Cook until creamy sauce forms. Stir constantly. Add seasonings and serve poured over the rice. Garnish with parsley.

Cooked Fresh Vegetable Salad
1 cup cooked cauliflower
1-2 cup cooked green beans
1-2 cup cooked lima beans
1 tablespoon chopped onions
2 tablespoons chopped pimientos
1-8 teaspoon paprika
1-8 teaspoon salt
1-8 cup French dressing
Mix and chill ingredients and serve in a bowl lined with crisp lettuce greens (chicory, cross, lettuce, endive).

Maple Trifle
2 tablespoons granulated gelatin
1-2 cup cold water
1 cup maple syrup
1 teaspoon vanilla
1-8 teaspoon salt

1-2 cups whipped cream
1-2 cup pecans
2 egg whites, beaten
Angel food cake rounds.
Soak gelatin five minutes in water. Dissolve in syrup heated to boiling. Cool, add vanilla and salt. Fold in cream, nuts and egg whites. Pour into individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold on rounds of angel food cake. Top with whipped cream and serve.

SALTED PECANS
Four about two tablespoonsfuls of oil, butter, or bacon grease over one cupful of pecan halves in small frying pan and heat slowly, stirring until hot. Avoid overcooking kernels because they turn darker after removal from fat. Drain kernels on absorbent paper and sprinkle lightly with salt. Large quantities can be prepared in proportion.

GLACE PECANS
Mix two cups of sugar, one-fourth teaspoon of cream of tartar, one cup of hot water, and one-eighth teaspoon of salt in small saucepan and place over hot fire, stirring until sugar has dissolved. Let the syrup boil until it reaches temperature of 293 degrees Fahrenheit or the "hard crack" stage. Remove from fire and place in pan of hot water. With saucepan containing syrup in pan of hot water, use tweezers or long pin to dip each kernel. Place dipped nuts on waxed paper to dry. Carefully reheat syrup if it becomes too thick. This amount is enough to dip about two cups of unsalted nuts.

SPICED PECANS
Using a fork, mix one cup of pecan kernels with two teaspoonfuls of egg white in a small deep bowl until all kernels are coated.

Then mix separately one-fourth teaspoon of cloves, one-fourth cup of sugar, and one tablespoonful of cinnamon. Combine nuts and spice mixtures by tossing with fork. Spread kernels on baking sheet, shaking off excess sugar, and bake at temperature of 250 degrees for several hours.

Infants' clothing, on the unrestricted list in Germany since war's outbreak, has been placed on the ration-card system. Extra yarn allotments are procurable to encourage knitting baby clothes.

British Sea War Is In Line With 1,000-Year Policy

3 Crucial Battles Have Given English Fleet Supremacy

By Associated Press
Britain's sea war with Germany is right in line with England's thousand-year-old policy—to bank on naval power for conquest and defense.

Since the ninth century, Britain has fought dozens of important sea battles, but none more crucial than these:

1. With the Spanish armada in 1588.

2. With the combined French-Spanish fleet off Trafalgar in 1805.

3. With the Germans in the North Sea in 1916.

In all three, England's survival as a strong nation was at stake. Historians may write that the North Sea battle of April, 1916, added a fourth to the list.

Britain first became a great sea power in the sixteenth century, after the discoveries of Columbus, Vasco de Gama, and the Cabots returned Europe's attention to the possibilities of expansion.

Henry VIII, rich with the spoils of the expropriated church, poured money into expansion of the fleet, developed ships exclusively for fighting, lowered the heavy cannon into the "broadside" position.

Under Elizabeth all this bore fruit. Drake, Frohisher, Raleigh and Hawkins ravished the gold-dripping Spanish Main. In 1587, Drake "singed the King of Spain's beard" by a daring raid on Cadiz.

The following year, the great Spanish Armada set out to crush England. A smaller English fleet met it in the Channel and cut it to pieces. That was the beginning of the end for Spain as a power.

The next great period of British sea glory came when the rising, revolutionary middle class established the Commonwealth in 1649. The regular fleet, loyal to the Royalists, joined the Dutch.

Parliament gave command at sea to Robert Blake. In seven years, Blake defeated the Spanish fleet, the Portuguese, the Dutch, the pirates of Algeria and the Spanish, and made the British fleet a power in the Mediterranean for the first time.

Under Queen Anne the British rose to new triumphs. At Vigo, in 1702, Admiral Rooke destroyed a combined Spanish-French navy, later beat the French at Malaga.

The American Revolutionary war brought reverses to the English. The newly-organized French fleet joined with the Americans and inflicted heavy defeats on the British. In 1782, however, Rodney trounced the French fleet of De Grasse at Guadalupe.

In the War of 1812 the British fleet blockaded America. Napoleon, after he fell from power commented: "In all my plans I have always been thwarted by the British fleet." The

French Revolution and the appearance of Napoleon found England prepared with a group of top-notch commanders —Jervis, Hood, Collingwood and Nelson—Duncan, Cornwallis, Keith, Howe, who did as much as anyone to break Bonaparte's power.

In 1793, Hood occupied Toulon and Howe crushed the French fleet. In 1794, Hood captured Corsica and the British beat the French three times. In 1796, the fleet seized the Cape of Good Hope. In 1797 the British crushed the Spanish off Cape St. Vincent.

In 1798, the British foiled a French invasion of Ireland and the same year the British won command of the Mediterranean by shattering the French in the Battle of the Nile. In 1799, the Dutch fleet surrendered, defeated. In 1800, the British seized Malta. In 1801 the British attacked Copenhagen and smashed the Danish fleet. Then, in 1805, Nelson covered the combined French-Spanish fleet off Trafalgar and beat it so badly that Napoleon was finished, although the war lasted 10 years more.

For a century after the Napoleonic wars, Britain remained supreme at sea. By 1861 the British had evolved the principle of the modern gun turret, and by 1880 were building "classes" of ships in recognition of the concept that a navy's strength depends greatly on the matched quality of the ships composing it.

In 1905, the British began working on a monitor steel ship called the "Dreadnought."

Britain entered the World War as queen of the seas. Nevertheless, one big question worried Allied strategists: Might not the German fleet be strong enough to break their blockade?

The test came May 31, 1916, when the British and the Germans met off Denmark in one of the great naval encounters of history, the Battle of Jutland.

Hostilities began in the afternoon, raged through the whole night. When it was over Britain

Annie and Katie Are Inscribed On New Paris Prints

By ALICE MAXWELL.
PARIS, Apr. 18.—(AP)—Things in print in Paris that ignore the censor are swank patterns on Spring crepes.

Even words get by. A printed crepe has names printed in its stripes. And not French names either, but Annie, Katie, Florence and others, running along in script. This fabric makes a multi-colored frock to go with a navy wool coat.

In animal prints are black penguins standing on snow white ground. In another, white cats sit on navy ground, half of their neck-tied with pink, half in blue. Mice motifs scurper over a black crepe, and white birds soar over a red.

Among whimsical motifs are red cabs in pairs printed on black. Bright green motifs scattered through a black and white print, turn out to be wooden shutters attached to black-and-white windows. Castles in multi-color form a dot pattern.

had lost 3 battle cruisers, 3 cruisers and 8 torpedo boats. Germany had lost 1 battleship, 1 battle cruiser, 1 light cruiser and 5 torpedo boats. In personnel Britain contained losses of 177 men captured and 6,997 killed; Germany lost 2,450 killed, none captured.

Apparently, therefore, Britain was the loser. Actually, the British were left in unchallenged mastery of the North Sea. The German fleet never again challenged the British.

At the beginning of the present war, Britain had a far larger navy than Germany. The Germans counted on their vastly superior air force to even things.

Twins Think Alike Following Twenty Years' Separation

WASHINGTON, Apr. 18.—(AP)—Discovery of a pair of "stereoscopic" girl twins so nearly identical after having been separated for 20 years that only an expert can tell them apart was reported yesterday in the Journal of Heredity, publication of the American Genetic Association.

The girls, identified only as "Lois and Louise," a student at Baylor University, Waco, Tex. Although they were separated eight days after birth, due to the death of their mother and have lived apart, their smiles, their hair, their eyes, their noses, their ears, their teeth and even the pitches of their laughs match precisely.

They're good looking and definitely glamorous, and as good as work alike, that when a period is held vertically in front of their picture and a inch above it a stereoscopic, or third dimension effect of depth, results. Only their pupils and finger prints vary, and these only slightly.

Research Points Way To Florida Bulb Industry

GAINESVILLE, Apr. 18.—The possibility of establishing a new bulb industry in the United States is being studied as a result of the Florida Bulb Investigation now on the way in the Bureau of Plant Industry at Beltsville, Md.

This work has concentrated on the quality of forcing, and by means of an experiment conducted by the Florida Bulb Investigation, it is hoped to determine the best method of forcing in Florida.

Twenty years ago, Florida bulb growers were producing only a few hundred thousand bulbs a year. Today, the industry is valued at $10,000,000.

British Blockade in Pacific Seen As Aiding Allies

WASHINGTON, Apr. 18.—(AP)—A tighter British blockade in the Pacific—to keep American and other supplies from reaching Germany by the long route through Russia—was forecast yesterday by the British ambassador Lord Lothian.

At the same time, the treasury look action to protect the American customs structure from the effect of wartime foreign exchange fluctuations. It ordered that tariff rates on British imports be based upon the value of the pound "officially" fixed by the British government, $4.025, rather than the exchange rate of about $1.50 prevalent in the "free market."

These two events led a list of Washington developments attributable to the war. (Others were: (1) Lothian said neither Canada nor Great Britain would attempt to seize Greenland or Iceland unless there were imminent danger of Germany taking them over.

(2) Secretary Hull, as had President Roosevelt, implied that in his opinion Greenland lies within the western hemisphere and consequently comes within the scope of the Monroe doctrine. (3) The house foreign affairs committee recommended an appropriation of $15,000,000—enacted by Herbert Hoover—for relief work in nations which have been invaded.

(4) Due to unusual demand for aluminum resulting from the war, production abroad and the preparation program at home, the Aluminum company of America contracted for $2,443,750 worth of additional power from government hydro-electric plants on the Columbia river to be used within five years at its plant in Vancouver, Wash.

(5) The commerce department announced that the stimulus of war had pushed American foreign trade to $244,000,000 in March, or 25 percent above March, 1939.

(6) Sweden, which lies perilously close to the war zone, shipped $12,280,000 worth of gold to the United States last week, a continuation of a movement which has been on for several months.

Lord Lothian called upon state department officials and then stopped to talk with newspapermen. The latter showed him a

GERMANS PLANNED IT THAT WAY

First Publication Of Army Instructions Proves Nazis Long Set To Invade Poland -- Despite Their Charges U. S. Encouraged War

By THOMAS M. JOHNSON
NEA Service Military Writer

Revealing light upon Nazi charges that documents from Poland and show Ambassadors Bullitt and Kennedy egged on Poland, Britain and France to war against Germany is cast by another document from Poland, not handed out as propaganda, but obtained at some effort from a reliable source.

There is external evidence of the genuineness of its revelation that probably before Ambassador Bullitt allegedly told Poland America would join the war, certainly long before the war began, the Nazis were undermining Poland and preparing its invasion with consummate secrecy and complete success.

This is the first publication of the document. It was taken by the Poles from a German aviator—dead, which discounts forgery. It is an official instruction to the invading German troops, showing the invasion was preceded by the greatest secret service operation in history.

Before a shot was fired, the German had honeycombed Poland with spies, bombmen, saboteurs, incendiaries and snipers. And not only freelancers, but also organized force, with uniforms, arm bands, and a password whereby the incoming Germans could recognize them.

These men were armed with German regulation pistols and hand grenades taken from Czechoslovakia. The most desperate were picked up and dropped by German planes, floating to earth clutching parachutes and dynamite, with which to blow up bridges and roads behind the Polish army while their comrades presented the Polish troops from doing the same before the Germans. All were to wage guerilla warfare—"little war"—especially against the Polish army's lines of communication.

RECORD-BREAKING SPY ACTIVITY
And what they sabotaged when war came, they had long before been spying upon and reporting to Germany, their work helps to account for the instantaneous bombing by German planes of Poland's air fields and railroad centers.

The Nazis knew where to go; their spies had told them. These spies were largely Germans living within Poland, about 750,000 of them. The Poles claim they treated these Germans better than the Nazis treated Poles within their borders, but they admit now it didn't work and the majority were loyal to Germany.

To the majority of 750,000 and some Ukrainians and others in Poland's 35,000,000 who were dissatisfied, and that gives an army greater than the "40,000 spies" Prussian Stieber smuggled into France ere Bismarck falsified the Ems telegram and started an earlier war. Stieber has held the record for mass spy-war. Now, enter party-faced Heinrich Himmler, chief of the Gestapo.

What an intriguer! Agents in Poland had to be recruited—a most delicate matter—enthusiast, paid, organized, coached. Pistols, hand grenades and dynamite had to be smuggled in and distributed. And all secretly. At such patient detail Germans excel; but even Germans need time.

This stealthy invasion of Poland must have begun years ago, when Poland and Germany were "friends" and German "tourists" and "tourists" thronged over the border and ransacked Poland's military areas literally "with gun and camera." It was on a scale far greater than normal European peacetime espionage. It was leading to one thing—war; but only when "alles lat in Stellung"—"it's all set."

POLES KNEW OF ESPIONAGE

Long before the German Foreign Office published its White Book, the German secret service had written in a black book the names of myriad spies and saboteurs who were ready to pull down Poland's house upon itself. And part of the tragedy of that house's fall is that the Polish counter-espionage service was not utterly defeated. It had an inkling of the stealthy precautions but was bogged by its government.

"I don't want war," they said, "Britain and France are on our necks not to provoke Hitler."

Long before even Ambassadors Bullitt and Kennedy said the

ANNOUNCEMENT
The information of the Troops attacking Poland
In Poland there are living, in various regions, side by side with full blooded Poles, German minorities and other racial groups who do not speak German, but who sympathize with the Germans. The Germans and other national groups wish to free themselves from the Polish yoke, and will support the battle of the German army.

Still further forces of the German minority and other racial groups will support the struggle of the German army. They wear the following marks of identification:
1. Swastika arm bands;
2. As weapons, No. 14 pistols and hand grenades of Czech pattern.

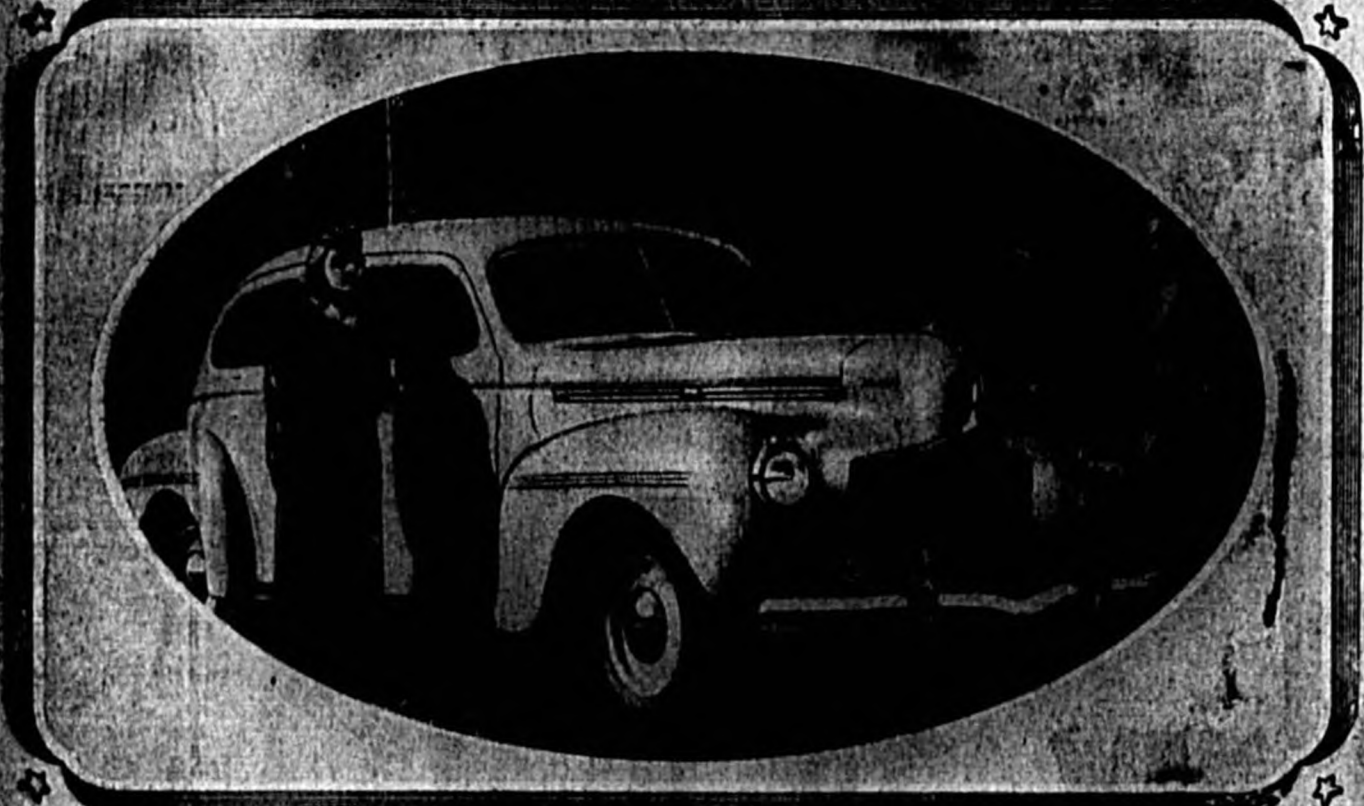

It will depend upon the conduct of each individual soldier, whether the population of German race joyfully greets the return of all German territory to Greater Germany.

Sanford Pounds Out 8-1 Win Over Deland Red Hats

Joe Pinder Pitches 6-Hit Ball As Seminoles Collect 11 Safeties

Locals Travel To St. Augustine Tonight; Johnny McGee Slated To Pitch; Salts Here Tomorrow

For the fourth straight game it was the Sanford Seminoles on top as the local side defeated the Deland Red Hats last night 8-1 in a lopsided contest. Joe Pinder, the steady hurler of the Sanford club, yielded only six hits.

In their home ballpark, the Red Hats could do little against the wanted power, speed, and precision of Whitley Campbell, pitcher, of the Seminoles. Campbell pitched out 11 hits off Carl D'Zuro, local hurler for Deland.

Though the Seminoles club travels to St. Augustine for the first of a two-game series with the Braves tomorrow night, the two teams play here. Johnny McGee, former army pitcher in Honolulu, probably will get the nod from Campbell tonight.

Campbell pitched out two hits in four lines up. Red Roberts cracked out a triple and a single in four times while Tater Martin tripled and Al Kimball had one for two.

The Seminoles looked like the great team of 1939 in the second inning when they got off to a flying start to score two runs, taking advantage of a single, a walk, and an error. Again the third inning the Seminoles tallied once when Campbell took back after being hit by Zek D'Zuro and came in on an error and Red Roberts' double.

In the fourth Bill Brown, Sanford third baseman, leaped into the field to pick up the third line up for a double. Al Kimball walked and Pinder singled. On Tater Hyder's long fly to center field, Brown leaped to home.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Pachard evidently deserve an accolade for the swell treat they gave the ball players last night following the Deland-Sanford game. The players and their wives, and officials of the club were guests of the Pachards at their home last night for a strawberry shortcake feast. And what a feast! You've seen the lima bean shortcake served after dinner and it tasted so good, you almost begged for more? Well, last night the boys were actually suffering from eating so much. Even John Bryan had to stop about half way through his second helping. And Tater Hyder could do no better than begin his second helping.

Blind Bogey To Be Held At Golf Links

A blind bogey golf tournament will be staged Saturday and Sunday at the Municipal Golf course, Ralph Stewart, assistant pro, announced today.

These engaging will play 18 holes of golf on either day, Stewart said.

Blind bogey matches have not been known here and many golfers are unfamiliar with the way it is conducted, Stewart said, pointing out that a player's handicap is subtracted from his low score.

First prize is a pair of Fred's and will be donated by Fred's club. There will be a second and third prize also, Stewart said, there would be a small entry fee.

Tips For Trousseau Is Given By Kerr

Clothes For This Year's Bride Are On Practical Side

By ADELAIDE KERR
NEW YORK, Apr. 15.—(AP)— Brides for the 1943 June bride's trousseau put stress on practicality.

Here are ten tips for assembling budget wardrobes with elegance and chic:

- 1—Begin with what you have and build around it. List the things in your present wardrobe which will be suitable for your trousseau and keep them in mind when you buy.
- 2—Choose one basic color scheme—navy blue, brown or black—and stick to it. See that the colors of your dresses blend with that of your coat and that your hats suit them.
- 3—Choose clothes that will help you for the places to which you are going. Don't fail to provide for the unexpected luncheon, tea party or informal dinner with your new husband's relatives. (Much of your future happiness may depend on this, and one or two frocks will provide for them all if you choose with care.) On the other hand, pass by that frothy little party frock of moonlight blue tulle if you will have no place to wear it.

- 4—Make the clothes for your honeymoon fit the places where you will live after it. Consider a good casual wool suit and smart topcoat if you are going to live in the country; a dark silk suit, printed frock and dark coat (all in the color scheme) if your home is to be in town.
- 5—Consider your future husband's taste. If he hates purple, don't buy it. If he likes to go sailing, have something in which you are ready to go sailing. But don't consult him too much about your clothes. Complete confusion will be the result. Sit down and think over what you already know about his fashion tastes and be guided by it.
- 6—In choosing your honeymoon travel costume, beware of that pale dress-and-jacket ensemble with the fox collar dyed to match. After the rice is all thrown, you won't look right in it anywhere else except at the your carefully compounded prescriptions. Let us be your druggist.

fast, dinner or supper at

Roosevelt Seeks Continuance Of 1937 Sugar Law

WASHINGTON, Apr. 15.—(AP)— Hopes for an expanded domestic sugar industry faded yesterday when President Roosevelt proposed a continuation of the 1937 quota law.

He wrote Chairman Jones, Democrat, Texas, of the House agriculture committee, that "it seems clear that no sugar legislation is necessarily required at this session of Congress, although it might be advisable to extend the life of the sugar act of 1937 for an additional period through a joint resolution of the Congress."

The continuing resolution had been predicted by many as a probable final chapter in the year's bitter sugar dispute.

Roosevelt's letter was read to an overflow audience at the agriculture committee's third day of a hearing on new sugar legislation.

For three days, the 1937 act and various new sugar plans have been under attack by spokesmen for the producing areas.

The President said it was understandable that each producing area desired to enlarge its share of the market, but added "it would be most difficult to justify an abandonment of the existing distribution of quotas in favor of a new and arbitrary basis of allotments."

The congressional sugar bloc had sought to boost domestic quotas by trimming the portions prices beyond the level required to for Cuba.

Reviewing the operations of the 1937 act, Roosevelt said he found "great improvement" in conditions since the quota system was inaugurated six years ago.

He pointed out, to substantiate the absence of any necessity for new legislation at this session, that the quota system would offer price protection this year, that benefit payments on the 1940 crop were assured, that refiners had ample protection and that the tax would remain in effect until July 1, 1941.

He said the "requirements of the general welfare" indicated that at least three fundamental aspects of the proposed legislation should be given special consideration:

- 1—First, several of the bills would

British And German Land Forces Come To Grips In Norway

News Agency Reports Nazi Legions Are Repulsed In Encounter At Namsos

Dutch Decree Martial Law

Berlin Claims Bombing Successes In Forays On Allies

British-German land forces were reported finally to have come to grips in Norway, opening up a phase of the combat which probably will decide Scandinavia's fate, perhaps with it the outcome of the European war.

A Norwegian government official on a mission to London estimated 2,000 German troops were being flown daily to Norway; other sources estimated 60,000 German soldiers are now there. There were no estimates of the British forces.

With the war swirling around the Netherlands, the entire nation was put under martial law as Prime Minister de Geer told his countrymen The Netherlands would resist with arms any attempt of outside powers to extend protective help to it.

"We, ourselves, are perfectly able, as well as determined, to protect our neutrality," he said. Germany burned the diplomatic building here to the ground.

Germany prepared to celebrate Hitler's 51st birthday tomorrow with a nationwide observance. At Berlin the British efforts to bring about a split between Hitler and the German people is "most stupid phase" of British war politics, Propaganda Minister Goebbels said in a Hitler birthday broadcast today.

Allied sea and air forces have contacted Norwegian troops fighting invading German forces in the vital Tromsland region of central Norway, the Norwegian command said in a broadcast today.

Norwegian headquarters stated the Soviet, British and French efforts now were working at the headquarters.

British troops were said to have landed 100 miles south of Narvik, according to reports reaching London. British landing parties reportedly took the village of Sandnessund on an unopposed landing.

Anglo-French diplomats are carrying that message back to the Balkan states from contacts in London and Paris. Unofficially the war-fear hitlers to the Balkans have been convinced by the Italian press taunting the Allies over Germany's invasion of Norway, coupled with current Italian naval and military successes.

The Chamberlain-Cross mission was designed to settle the situation there rather than to attempt to make any settlement.

Italy's present position will be maintained in any settlement in the Balkans, Chamberlain said.

England Has No Fears Of Italy's Pro-Nazi Stand

London Believes It Duce Will Look After Own Interest

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON Associated Press Staff Writer
Pro-German rumblings are being heard from Italy, but London appears to have reached the conclusion that Mussolini is fishing in troubled waters in his own interest, not Hitler's.

That may or may not be a sound deduction as to the purpose of the inspired Italian press campaign picturing the Allies as having sustained a stinging defeat in Norway. A number of reasons can be cited, however, to back it up and to lead point to the warning to Italy voiced by Ronald Cross, the British minister of economic warfare.

"We (the British) are a plain speaking and plain dealing people and we should like to know where we stand with Italy," Cross said. "We have no quarrel with Italy."

But he added, ominously, that neutrality is a neutrality does, and that if Italy desired to be treated by the Allies as a neutral, she must behave as a neutral.

That is that. But it is not clear just what it means as to the nature of Italian-Allied diplomatic bickering to maintain the status quo in the Mediterranean and the Balkans. Prime Minister Chamberlain promptly backed up his economic field marshal by assuring parliament that the Balkan neutrals need have no fear of Allied aggression.

Italy's present position will be maintained in any settlement in the Balkans, Chamberlain said.

Raid On Home Of Former Premier Discloses Plan To Overthrow Government

BELGRADE, Apr. 19.—(AP)—Discovery of a cable from the government of Premier Cvetkovic was reported today following an announcement that former Premier Stoyadinovic would be interested in the mountain fastness under a heavy guard.

Declaring that he sought no personal gain or office, Mr. Chapman said "I believe I am well qualified to represent the class of persons who are in a majority in the two counties of this district."

Delegates Are Named To High Diocesan Posts

Delegates of the Holy Cross Episcopal Church to the annual convention of the Diocese of South Florida just held at Port Pierce were elected to important offices in the diocese, the rector, the Rev. Martin J. Bram, said today.

Holy Cross Church was well represented by a full delegation which included B. F. Whittier, J. St. Clair White and C. J. Rumph. The delegates to the women's auxiliary were Mrs. J. L. Kerley, Mrs. E. J. O'Connell and Mrs. A. Noble. Mrs. J. St. Clair White and Mrs. M. J. Bram attended as alternates.

Officers For Year Named By Jaycees

Henry Wittig, Jr. was named president of the Sanford Junior Chamber of Commerce for the ensuing year at the regular meeting of the group in the Mayfair Hotel.

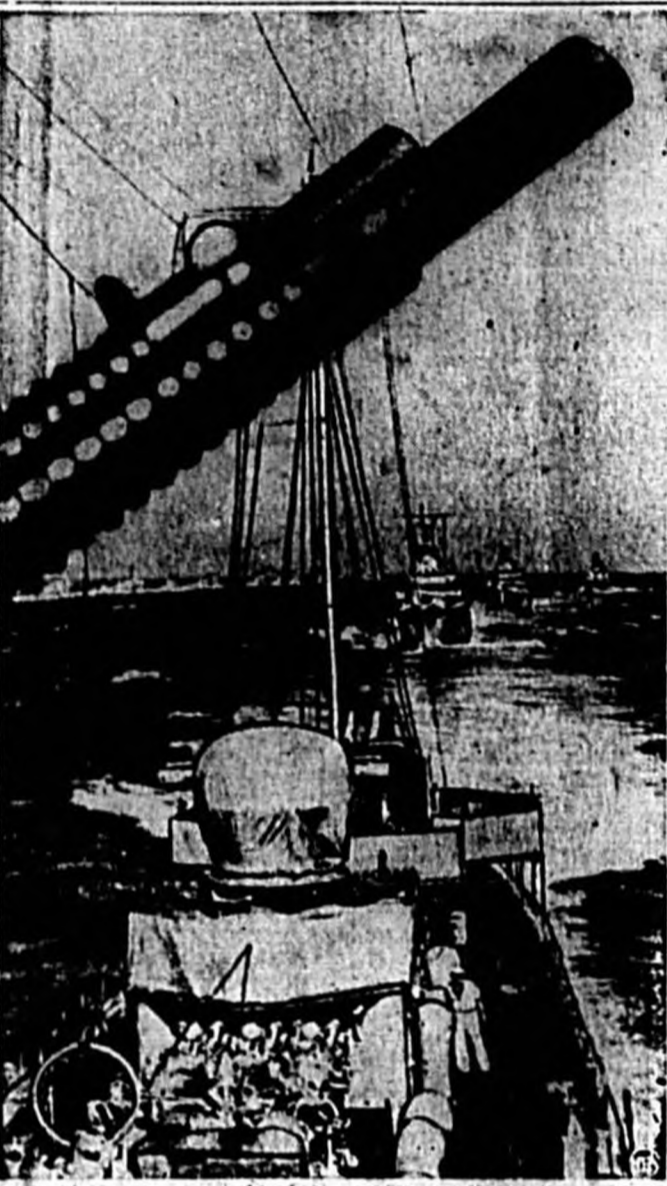

The complete slate of officers named by the nominating committee was approved by the members of the organization in a vote by the members. Other officers included Richard Deas, first vice president; Joe O'Connor, second vice president; Edward J. Nelson, secretary; and Frank Bauer, treasurer.

Young Demos Report 27 New Memberships

A total of 27 new members were reported by four membership committees at the regular meeting of the Young Democrats in the City Hall last night.

At the meeting, over which President Harold Powers presided, it was decided to hold an informal club at the Sanford County Club on Wednesday night, May 1.

IS IL DUCE WARMING UP?

Sudden orders—unexplained—sent the Italian navy on Spring maneuvers earlier than usual. Squadrons of Italian ships like those above sped to strategic Mediterranean points. A fleet was reported concentrated at the Dodecanese Islands, off Turkey, near Suez. . . all adding up to the ominous question: "Is Il Duce about to enter the war at last?"

W. M. Scott Is Elevated By Produce Firm

Sanfordite Made Vice President Of American Fruit Growers

W. M. Scott, of Sanford, regional director of the southeastern operations for the American Fruit Growers, Inc., was elected vice president of the company at a meeting of the Board of Directors in Pittsburgh, Pa., earlier in the week, according to information received here today.

At the same meeting, J. S. Crutfield and W. H. Bagges, resigned their positions of chairman of the board of directors and president, respectively, and J. B. Kerr, formerly vice president and general manager, was elected president and general manager of the company and chairman of its executive committee.

Mr. Scott has made an outstanding record in the produce business and has made many friends both among the growers and in the shipping fraternity since he has been in Sanford.

Mr. Scott was born on a farm near Sugar Grove, Va., a region of fine farming lands. He remained on his father's farm, gaining the experience which was to serve him well in later life, until he left there for college.

Mr. Scott was graduated from the Virginia Polytechnic Institute with BS and MS degrees, majoring in horticulture.

Mrs. Sharon Asks For More Volunteers To Carry Out Program

With the receipt of the required materials, the production program of the local Chapter of the American Red Cross is now underway. Mrs. Sharon G. Sharon, Jr., said today.

Any person desiring to assist in this production program was invited to contact Mrs. Sharon. She particularly invited those interested in the county communities to take part since she said that all of the volunteer workers to date have come from the Sanford section.

The supplies, she pointed out, are being purchased with funds raised by the local chapter, and the materials will be sent to the national headquarters for distribution to the points in war-torn Europe where the needs are greatest.

Whitehair Speaks In Hillsborough Tonight

TAMPA, Apr. 19.—(Special)—Francis P. Whitehair of DeLand brought his campaign for governor into Hillsborough county today and was taken on a county-wide "goodwill" tour by local persons interested in his campaign.

Rally is scheduled for 8:00 o'clock tonight in the court house square. The candidate yesterday circled the overglades and Lake Okechobee areas, speaking at Moore Haven, Clewiston, Okechobee and Pahokee, in addition to several stops at other communities to shake hands with supporters and admirers.

Whitehair plans to remain in Hillsborough tomorrow, delivering his regular Saturday night radio address over a state-wide hook-up from Tampa, and closing the day's activities with an address in Plant City at 8:00 P. M.

Way Cleared In House For Wagner Act Amendments

Contract Let For Addition To Court House

Committee Candidates To Be Placed On Ballot, Board Directs

A contract for the construction of an addition to the Seminole County Court House vault was awarded yesterday by the Board of County Commissioners in a special meeting to W. W. Van Ness, whose bid of $5,692.49 on the project was low.

The contract was awarded on a motion by F. A. Dyson, seconded by J. E. Partin, and will be constructed on the northeast side of the building, joining the present vault. The second floor of the addition will be used partially for the records of the clerk's office while the present room used for these records will be turned over to the tax collector whose office is also in need of expansion.

The old records of the County will be placed in the lower floor of the addition. In awarding the contract for this work, the commissioners pointed out that expansion of facilities was necessary in order to properly safeguard the records of the County, but said that heretofore no funds had been available for this work. The excess funds, turned in from the clerk's office, will be used to defray the cost of the addition.

The commissioners directed the clerk to place the names of all candidates for Democratic Committee, County, State and Congressional on the ballot's agenda. It is assumed that these candidates for non-remunerative offices will not appear more than is specified by law. However this ruling was changed by the present attorney general.

The board approved the purchase of 21 cubic yards of stone for the completion of the WPA project on the Tusawilla Road and also purchased an electric refrigerator for the County Home costing $107.00.

The notary public bond of J. A. Logan was also approved.

City News Briefs

There will be a meeting of the Seminole County Real Estate Board in the City Hall this afternoon at 2:00 o'clock.

City officials said today that the pipe for the new water main has all been laid by WPA workers and will be connected in a few days.

Edwin G. Fraser of Macclenny, candidate for state comptroller, will address the voters of Sanford in the downtown section on Saturday morning at 10:00 o'clock.

The badminton tournament between the Sanford team and the Orlando team scheduled for tonight has been postponed until Tuesday night. The Sanford team will invade Orlando at that time, according to Clyde Parker.

The Sons of the Legion Rifle Team will practice at the range in the rear of the Legion Hut Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Instructor George Cook said today. The group has been divided into two teams and they will compete against each other.

Capt. Constantine L. DeWolki will continue his series of discussions on developments abroad at the Episcopal Parish House tonight at 7:30 o'clock. He has received first hand information on conditions in Poland which he will give to those attending. The public is invited to attend.

J. P. Marchant, Polk county legislator and attorney for the city of Lakeland, will speak in behalf of the candidacy of Spearhead L. Holland for governor in the "Holland for Governor" headquarters on East First Street across from the Post Office, on Friday night at 8:00 o'clock. The public is invited to attend.

Rules Group Okeys Procedure Permitting All Proposals To Be Considered

Hull Will Not Be Candidate

Senate Group Orders Probe Of Excessive Campaign Expenses

WASHINGTON, Apr. 19.—(AP)—The House Rules Committee unexpectedly cleared the way for the House to take up soon the legislation to amend the Wagner Act.

The procedure which the committee approved would permit the House to consider both a set of four amendments approved by the House Labor Committee and the more sweeping changes put forward by the Senate Committee—Independent House group headed by Rep. Smith (D-Mo.) which recently investigated the Labor Board.

The Senate campaign investigating committee ordered an investigation of complaints that "excessive sums of money" are being spent in behalf of some aspirants for the presidency. Senator Gillette (D-Iowa), committee chairman, said the complaints were from "apparently reliable sources."

He declined to name the candidates, the party involved, but said that thus far the charges affected only one party. Elsewhere on the political horizon, Secretary of State Cordell Hull announced his candidacy for the Senate.

He linked himself to Roosevelt's economic and international views. Signs of a fight appeared in Congress yesterday after President Roosevelt had requested permission to spend a $975,000, 000 WPA appropriation for the next fiscal year in eight months if he found it necessary to do so.

While Democratic supporters of the Administration generally applauded the suggestion, Representative Fish, Republican, New York, said he would not support it.

Holland Is Guest Of Port Mayaca Friends

PORT MAYACA, Apr. 19.—(Special)—Spearhead L. Holland, candidate for governor, was the luncheon guest here today of Port Mayaca and Pahokee supporters. He arrived in the south Okechobee section this morning after spending yesterday at the Florida Keys.

Holland stated that one of the most pleasant experiences of his campaign was the greeting he had in Key West from five non-commissioned officers with whom he served at Fort Monroe prior to his going to France where he was transferred to the air service.

Holland spoke in Pahokee this morning and is scheduled to speak in Moore Haven and Clewiston this afternoon and in West Palm Beach tonight. Saturday night he will speak in Vero Beach.

Sheriff's Office Gets Another $111

Dan Driggers, charged with operating a still, was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and costs or serve four months in the County Jail when he pleaded guilty before County Judge R. W. Ware this morning.

W. A. Livings, charged with the same offense, was released under a bond of $75 when he declined to enter a plea of guilty to the charges.

The two were arrested in the second raid on a moonshine still by the Sheriff's Office in an ivory city. This still was found by law officers in the vicinity of White Wharf south of Lake Jessup. Deputy Jack Hickson and Carl Williams confiscated 50 gallons still and broke up 12 barrels which were used for mash. Driggers and Livings were arrested at the still.

LOCAL WEATHER

Mostly cloudy and slightly cooler tonight preceded by showers in the south and east portions Saturday partly cloudy.
