

Beef Price War Hits Texas Town

ABILENE, Tex. (UPI)—Abilene supermarkets are modern in every respect these days except the price of beef. The reason is a beef price war that has trimmed the cost of chuck roast to 25 cents a pound and sirloin steak to 49 cents a pound. Customers have gleefully gone on steak diets while supermarket managers and meat market operators are sizzling like backyard barbecues. Cattlemen are bellowing louder than some of their steers.

No one seems to know how or why the price war got started, but most seem to agree that there is no end in sight.

Cattlemen in the area say the war is the fault of over-supply and heavy imports of foreign beef. Store managers, who are bearing the brunt of the price slashing, do not necessarily agree.

Store owners insist they are selling only top quality, government inspected beef and although cattlemen claim imports are the reason for the low prices, imported beef is not among that being sold at reduced rates.

Reds Ask Ouster Of Police Head

LIMA, Peru (UPI)—Communist-led students demanded the resignation of Interior Police Minister Juan Languasco Monday night, charging that "police brutality" was to blame for the soccer-stadium stampede that killed at least 285 persons here Sunday.

The demonstrators also urged support for the 24-hour "general strike" scheduled Wednesday by the Communist-dominated University Students' Federation.

Police used tear gas to disperse about 500 youths taking part in the demonstration, banned under the terms of the national emergency proclaimed Sunday night. There was no report of casualties or arrests.

Barry Nearing Half-Way Mark

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Barry Goldwater appears likely to pick up this week another big block of delegate votes to the Republican National Convention.

The Arizona senator, who already has 810 first-ballot votes according to a United Press International survey, could get 84 more in Florida's primary Tuesday and 13 from Mississippi at a state GOP convention Saturday.

By getting 18 or more delegates, Goldwater would have more than half of the 655 votes needed to win the GOP nomination at the San Francisco convention opening July 13.

Keyserling For DuPont Curb

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Economist Leon H. Keyserling Tuesday endorsed legislation which would require the Alfred I. DuPont Estate to sell its banking interests.

The legislation would place the DuPont banks under the Bank Holding Act which bars banking institutions from engaging in commercial interests outside the banking field. The DuPont Estate presently is exempt from the act.

County To Place Traffic Light At 434, 17-92

Traffic signals to curb a potential danger at Highways 434 and 17-92 will be installed soon by county crews.

Known as Mobley's Corners, the intersection has been the scene of several accidents, some with fatalities, in the past years.

County commissioners this morning authorized installation of the "traffic-actuated" signals after hearing a report from the State Road Department that the intersection has exceeded the traffic count needed for such controls.

Money from the secondary road fund will be used to place the signals.

Last January the commission asked SRD to make a traffic survey in the area and today's reply was the spark needed to get the signals.

Action was also taken to curb another danger spot—deep holes in Lake Harney—also the scene of drownings and near-drownings.

Machinery was set in motion to have adequate signs posted in the danger zones so that unsuspecting persons will be made aware of their existence.

In other action, the commission: —Approved inclusion of a request for $2,500 in the next fiscal budget studies; the request being made by the St. Johns-Indian River Canal District. The money would be used to continue the engineering work on the canal. —Heard a hint of a lawsuit threat from Altamonte Springs where residents complain of inadequate drainage facilities in the Lake Adelaide section had lowered the value of their property. Construction of Highway 436 is blamed for this condition.

—Delayed formal action on a joint city-county project on the Southwest Road pending formal word from the City Commission.

—Asked two commissioners, John Alexander and John Fitzpatrick, to negotiate with M. R. Strickland in the latter's request for an exchange of property he owns with some owned by the county. Acquisitions of rights of way for the Highway 46 widening project will claim some property owned by Strickland and he desires other land so he can continue his business.

—Approved a resolution of cooperation with the town of Casselberry on work on the Winter Park Drive project.

—Set a hearing for June 23 on the zoning of the University Community. Zoning suggestions have been made by the County Zoning and Planning Commission.

Culpepper Protests SRB Cut In State University Road Funds

MAP SHOWS WHERE dedication ceremonies will be held Friday at 3 p.m. on Interstate 4, west of Daytona Beach. Gov. Farris Bryant will cut the ribbon to mark the opening of the superhighway link in Volusia and Seminole counties. Legislators, county officials and representatives from many area communities will be on hand for the ceremony.

Planned Work At New School Sites Cited

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) —Only protests leveled today at the state's proposed $375 million road and bridge construction program for the next 12 months involved work planned at universities, parks and farmers markets.

The hearing on the tentative budget, first aired a month ago, turned into a love feast, with delegations from several counties, including Dade and Duval, praising the road board for the consideration it has given in the past and thanks for future favors.

The budget, which goes into effect July 1 and will carry over into the first six months of the administration of the new governor, will get final approval on June 25, probably without major change.

Actually, the budget includes $477 million in authorized work, but only $375 million can be built under anticipated funds. That is $18 million more than the current year.

J. Broward Culpepper, executive director of the Board of Control, strongly protested inclusion of only $600,000 for paving the roads at state universities in the 12 months, and yelled even louder about a road board decision to eliminate the $1.8 million that had been allocated for this year but not spent as yet.

Culpepper said close to $600,000 in paving and new roads at the universities are ready to be put under contract and he said the situation is critical.

He pointed out that new universities have been authorized for Boca Raton, Orlando and Pensacola and $60 million in new buildings are going to be built under bond programs or are underway, some of which will require road work.

William Miller, state park director, made a similar plea. He had asked for $531,000 and got about $50,000 in the budget for roads at the parks. And Lee Thompson said the $45,000 allocated for farmers markets and road at road guard stations will barely take care of top priority needs.

The board did not give encouragement that anything not included in the tentative budget can be added.

"The state just does not appropriate enough money to build the needed roads," said Max Brewer, Titusville road board member.

U. S. Moves To Block Soviet On Southeast Asia

LONDON (UPI)—American presidential envoy William E. Bundy today decided to cut short talks with the British on the Southeast Asia crisis and fly to an emergency meeting with Secretary of State Dean Rusk in Bangkok, Thailand.

LONDON (UPI)—Assistant Secretary of State William E. Bundy flew from Washington today to seek Britain's help in resisting Soviet-supported demands for a full-dress Geneva conference on Southeast Asia.

Bundy told newsmen at the airport that his trip had been "urgently arranged" because U. S. experts think recent developments have created a real danger of a Communist takeover in the embattled area.

"The position has become more urgent because of the diplomatic situation, and indeed the military situation in Southeast Asia has become more serious," he said.

Bundy scheduled meetings with Foreign Secretary R. A. Butler and other officials. Britain, with U. S. backing, has proposed instead of a full-dress conference that some of the 14 powers which signed the Geneva accords on Laos hold lower-level "consultations" on the Laotian situation.

The Soviet-Union, through both its ambassadors in London and Washington, Wednesday pressed for a full-dress conference, ostensibly to discuss Cambodia, France has called for a similar conference to discuss Laos.

U. S. officials believe that any such major conference probably would be expanded at the behest of one country or another to discussions of virtually all issues in Southeast Asia. This might include French proposals for "neutralization" of South Viet Nam.

If a lower-level "consultation" does take place on the Laotian situation, U. S. officials also hope the scope of such talks would be clearly defined and limited in advance.

Flag Poles To Be Dedicated Memorial Day

All of Seminole County's civic, military and patriotic organizations have been invited to attend and participate in the dedication of new memorial flag poles erected by the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 53 of Sanford at Evergreen, oaklawn and Paola cemeteries.

These organizations have also been invited to place memorial wreaths at the base of the standards during Memorial Day ceremonies to be held at all three cemeteries at 10 a.m. Saturday.

During the exercises, flags will be raised at each of the cemeteries by cadets from the Sanford Naval Academy, Seminole County Judge Vernon Mize will be the principal speaker at Evergreen, Post 53 Commander Frank Holms at Oaklawn, and Principal Floyd C. Richards of the Lake Mary school at Paola.

The flag to be flown at Oaklawn has been presented by Mrs. Emmaline Thurston, a Gold Star mother. Another Gold Star mother, Mrs. Ruth Smith, has donated the flag to be raised at Evergreen. The flag to be flown at Paola has been donated by Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Spivey in honor of Mrs. Bea Newsome, another Gold Star mother.

Nehru Cremated; Crowds Mourn

NEW DELHI (UPI)—Jawaharlal Nehru, a single red rose pinned as usual to his long white coat and a garland of jasmine around his neck, was cremated today on the banks of the sacred Jamuna River.

The cremation followed a vast outpouring of grief and affection for the first and only prime minister of India. Two persons were killed and 12 injured in the crush of thousands battling for a place from which they could view the body before the funeral cortege left the prime minister's residence.

In London western Allied diplomats here said they anticipate that India will move closer to the West with the death of Nehru.

Historically, India was expected to stand by its traditional policy of nonalignment with power blocs.

But the coming months were expected to see a gradual shift toward more cooperation with the Western nations, notably the United States and Britain.

North Orlando Meeting Set

A special meeting of the North Orlando Village Council has been called by Council member Dave Tilson and Mrs. Mona Grinstead for 8 p.m. Friday in the Civic Building.

Purpose of the meeting will be to discuss appointment of a village clerk and the police situation. Tilson requests that all persons interested in the clerk position be present at the meeting.

Lake Monroe Joffings

By Mrs. H. I. Johnson

School Band, with their leader Pote Bukur, came out to the Lake Monroe School and gave a real nice performance for the children. ••• Talking about bands, that wonderful High School Band had their annual banquet last Friday night in the school cafeteria. Lynn Giles and I attended the affair and concert afterwards. Several of the band members out this way received awards. Patay Foy and Becky Tanner received band letters. Jim Warfel received a key, and Terry Rabun will be a 2nd Lt. and Librarian next year. Jim also directed the group in a special number during the concert. Terry's dad, Tolar Rabun, was elected first vice president of the Band Parents Association. I think this has been the most wonderful band year yet and I think the director, Ernest Cowley, should get a standing vote of applause for working with such a wonderful group of young ladies and gentlemen. ••• June bride-elect Darlene Roberts has been the honor guest this past week of two real nice showers. Shirley Leopoles and her mother Pauline Spivey hosted one at Shirley's home on Narcissus Avenue. And Gwen and Clyde Muse's young daughters were also hostesses for Darlene at their home on Orange Boulevard. ••• A Lake Monroe gal who has reached that 12th grade this year and who loves horses dearly (And by the way she has many trophies and awards to prove it) was honor guest at a coke and chatter party last week. Rebecca Giles was given a charm for her bracelet by her hostess Janice Rahn. Janice proved a wonderful hostess by having just about everything imaginable on the serving table. She gave the party at the home of her parents A. P. and Mae Rahn on Narcissus Avenue.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Yesterday I received a telephone call from a girl asking me to her prom. I had not even seen this girl in FOUR years, and to tell you the truth, it is not long enough. I never liked her because she was loud and forward, and besides, she used to stare at me in eighth grade, which gave my friends plenty to kid me about. I told her I couldn't take her to the prom because I had to work that night, which was true. After I hung up my mother asked me who the girl was. I told her in a nice way that it was none of her business, which it wasn't. Do you see anything wrong with that?

DEAR GROUNDED: Yes, there is no "nice" way to tell one's mother that something is none of her business. Even if it isn't.

DEAR ABBY: I myself would not inform a teacher when others are cheating. Any teacher who cares about what goes on in her classroom can catch cheaters with little effort. Cheating in school is dishonest, of course, but it is not to be compared with robbery, assault or murder. When one witnesses harm or violence done to another, he has a moral obligation to report the offender immediately. When one cheats in an examination, he is only cheating himself and damaging his own character and reputation. If he attempts to cash in on his ill-gotten marks, he will only prove to others that his fine record was not earned because he will not back down, Abby; I think you were right.

"FORTY-ONE YEARS ON THE BENCH"

DEAR ABBY: I do not believe that very young children should "tattle" on one another for the slightest little thing. But when a student sees another student cheating during an examination, I think it is his duty to inform the teacher.

Today the classrooms are so crowded, especially in the colleges and universities, we are told that students may get away with cheating, unnoticed. How would YOU like to lie down on an operating table and entrust your life to a surgeon who had cheated his way through medical school? D.N.C. (A Baltimore M.D.)

CONFIDENTIAL TO CINDY: In the early 1700's the English poet Edward Young wrote: "The maid that loves goes out to sea upon a shattered plank, and puts her trust in miracles for safety." Times have not changed.

We The Women:

Among the "Whys About Women" that Wade Nichols recently told the Los Angeles Advertising Club he would like to have the answers to was this one: "Why will women by any magazine that offers a crash diet when they know very well they won't follow it for a minute?" That one's easy, Mr. Nichols.

The women who run out and buy any magazine that offers a new crash diet are looking for a painless way of reducing—and they'll try anything for a day or two. They're just like the people who are always buying books and reading articles on how to quit smoking. They seek some easy way to their goal. The crash dieters don't intend to go on a lifelong calorie-watching journey any more than those looking for a painless way of giving up cigarettes to say "I've had my last cigarette," and stick to it.

So every new scheme for losing pounds without punishment or stopping smoking attracts the same people. Each time they hear of a new plan for instant success, they fall for it. It's just wishful thinking, that's all. But women do get a dividend from trying each new crash diet, even if it's a lasting weight loss.

They've got something to talk about. The first woman to try a brand-new crash diet in her particular group gets to tell the girls all about it. And she knows they'll listen. For women love to talk about dieting—and the crazier the diet the better, conversationally.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

A Schenectady, N.Y., reader asks, "How could we get to six clubs with the North-South cards? Should I have jumped to five clubs over my partner's bid of three clubs?"

The answer to his first question is shown by the bidding in the box. The answer to each other question is, "No."

The first two rounds of bidding are easy. North's rebid to one no-trump shows both his no-trump pattern and the minimum nature of his hand. When South jumps to three clubs as his second bid North's hand suddenly improves.

He still has the 14 high card points he opened with, but he also has a very fine suggests slam possibilities. North should now bid three spades! This bid can't be showing a spade suit. Had North held a four card spade suit, he would have bid one spade over his partner's one heart response. Instead, it shows just what he has — a hand that has improved, due to the three club bid by South.

South simply goes to four clubs. He wants to make sure that North will be able to raise clubs. North does raise to five and now South goes on to six.

The play is not hard. He wins the spade opening, discards his other spade on a high diamond and plays ace and one heart.

A brief business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Blanton Owen, followed by a period of relaxation in which the members revealed summer plans and enjoyed the fellowship and atmosphere in the spacious Florida room of the gracious hostess.

Mrs. B. C. Dickerson, who sponsored the formation of the Palm Circle in 1917 was a very special guest. Two of the ladies who were present at the first meeting were Mrs. H. H. Duncan and Mrs. Wade Garner, both ladies being very active in the Garden Club.

Mrs. W. W. Ling and Mrs. Harry C. Oakes, who joined the circle in 1948, were present at the meeting. Mrs. Oakes welcomed Mrs. Dickerson and presented her with a gift token from the circle in appreciation for her gratifying assistance.

Mrs. Dickerson will soon be leaving Sanford to make her home in Jacksonville, and it is with deep regret that the members have to lose her.

Templing casseroles, desserts and salads completely filled two tables and the members enjoyed the delightful luncheon, exchanging recipes and compliments.

Finally, summer farewells were bid and Mrs. Lambert's guests departed with memories of a most pleasant day.

Mark Scheutzow Celebrates Fifth Birthday

FRIENDS who helped Mark Paul Scheutzow celebrate his fifth birthday at North Orlando are Lynn Harter, Heidi Spangenberg, Carlene Spangenberg, Pat Carl Del Villaggio, Lee Achord, Steve Harter, Valorie Achord, Billy McVay and Sherry Evers.

Mark Paul Scheutzow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Scheutzow, recently celebrated his fifth birthday at his home, 3 Algiers Road in North Orlando.

The patio party atmosphere was accented with streamers, paper bells, and a paper troll. Each guest received paper hats, balloons, noise makers, a cup cake centered with a candle and candy as party favors.

Games were enjoyed as children's music filled the air via loud speaker.

The three tiered birthday cake was baked by Mark's mother, Penny, and was frosted in white and yellow with touches of green. The five candles and animal crackers created a carousel in replica. Mark received many lovely gifts, including a bond from his parents and also monetary gifts from his aunts and uncles.

High-backed rockers take high-fashion honors on patios and terraces. Their folding tubular aluminum frames support contoured seats made of broad redwood slats, or boxed polyurethane foam pads covered with floral printed vinyl. The maintenance for this leisure furniture is simple. Just wash all surfaces with soap or detergent suds, then rinse with the hose. Hinges and undersides are easier to get at when the rockers are folded.

Homemakers Corner

By Mrs. H. L. Johnson

June is almost here. And that will be the month for brides. Did you know that the wedding cake dates back to the early Roman times? It is believed the snowy tiered cake chosen today originated in England. Many years ago it was the practice to pile hundreds of little spice cakes in a towering pyramid. If the bride and groom kissed over this mound without toppling it, they would be prosperous in their married life. But one cook, weary of handling so many cakes welded them all together with icing, and that is our wedding cake today.

We have a request for a repeat of the ICE CREAM FRUIT PUNCH. If you're entertaining at a bridal shower this month or having a wedding reception at home, chances are you'll choose a cooling fruit punch for the beverage. This one is so easy to make. This recipe will make 50 punch cups servings.

ICE CREAM FRUIT PUNCH
1/2 gal. vanilla ice cream, softened
8 1/2 cups (48 oz.) apricot nectar, chilled
6 1/2 cups (48 oz.) pineapple juice, chilled
1/2 cup (8 oz.) frozen orange juice concentrate, thawed
1 qt. sparkling water, chilled
Using very small ice cream scoop, dip half of ice cream in large saucepan heat remaining ice cream with juices. Pour into punch bowl, add sparkling water. Float small scoops of ice cream over top. Or if you wish instead of fixing the ice cream in scoops just put softened ice cream in punch bowl and add ice (crushed) and other ingredients. It makes a thick liquid. And is just as good.

CUCUMBER AND ALMOND SANDWICHES
for that bridal luncheon
2 small cucumbers
1 cup French dressing
1/2 cup salted almonds
whole wheat or white bread mayonnaise
Peel and remove the seeds from the cucumbers, then chop fine. There should be 1 1/2 cups after chopping. Add well-seasoned dressing and let stand in the refrigerator for at least 1/2 hour. Then drain off the dressing, add finely chopped almonds to the cucumbers. Use as a filling between slices of bread which have been spread with mayonnaise. Makes 12 full-sized sandwiches.

ORIENTAL SANDWICHES
Mix 3 tbsps. of chopped almonds, 3 tbsps. of finely chopped preserved ginger and 1/4 tbsps. of orange juice. Spread on buttered wafers or between thin slices of gingerbread.

BRIDE'S SALAD
1 1/4 cups diced chicken
4 tbsps. chopped pimiento
3 tbsps. chopped sweet pickle
1/2 cup chopped celery
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
Mix as listed until all ingredients are thoroughly blended. Chill and serve in cucumber boats prepared as follows: Wash medium sized cucumbers and cut in half lengthwise. Remove the seeds and soft pulp and marinate in French dressing. Chill. Add

A beautiful salad to serve for wedding parties.
1 large can sliced pineapple
1 large can pears
1 large can white cherries
1/2 lb. almonds
1/2 lb. marshmallows
Drain and cut the fruits. Chop the nuts and cut the marshmallows with a wet scissors. Make the following cooked dressing:
1/2 cup Carnation milk, undiluted yolks of 4 eggs
juice of 1 lemon
1/2 tsp. mustard
Cook this over hot water until it thickens. Cool. Fold it into 2 cups Carnation milk whipped. Combine with the fruit, which has been well drained. Add the nuts and fold in the marshmallows carefully. Put in refrigerator overnight and when serving surround with crisp lettuce.

Still another Bridal Dainty, DECORATED TEA CAKES
Bake a square or sheet of white butter cake as follows:
1/2 cup butter
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup milk diluted with 1/4 cup water
1 1/2 cups cake flour
3 tbsps. baking powder
1/2 tsp. vanilla
1/2 tsp. lemon extract
4 egg whites
Cream butter and sugar. Add half the milk and half the flour and beat vigorously. Now add the remaining milk, flour and beat until smooth and velvety. Fold in the flavorings, baking powder and the well beaten egg whites. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, 20 to 30 minutes or until done. When cool, remove from sheet and cut into fancy shapes, diamonds, squares, circles, hearts or whatever shape desired. Completely cover each piece with icing, white or colored, and with a pastry tube make a design on top of each piece, green stem and leaves, a rose, sweet pea, lily of the valley, etc. Cover with colored coconut if desired.

APRICOT ICE
1 lb. dried apricots
1/2 cup sugar
2 tbsps. lemon juice
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup evaporated milk, undiluted
Wash the apricots, allow to stand for at least 3 hours in just enough water to cover. Add the sugar and cook until tender. Press through a sieve, add lemon juice, salt and milk. Freeze until solid—about 3 hours. When serving scrape up thin layers and soften it slightly by stirring. Fill sherbet glasses and serve at once. Serves 8.

CHICKEN SALAD IN CUCUMBER BOATS
1 1/4 cups diced chicken
4 tbsps. chopped pimiento
3 tbsps. chopped sweet pickle
1/2 cup chopped celery
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
Mix as listed until all ingredients are thoroughly blended. Chill and serve in cucumber boats prepared as follows: Wash medium sized cucumbers and cut in half lengthwise. Remove the seeds and soft pulp and marinate in French dressing. Chill. Add the cucumber seeds and soft pulp to some mayonnaise and serve over the chicken salad or combine it with the salad ingredients. On each side of the boat place narrow strips of pimiento for the oars.

MOCK CHICKEN LEGS
1/2 lb. ground pork
1 lb. ground veal
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. paprika
1 tbsps. chopped green pepper
1/2 cup grated pineapple, drained
Combine all ingredients and shape like a chicken leg around a wooden skewer. Roll in bread crumbs, then egg, slightly beaten with 1 tbsps. water, and again in bread crumbs. Let stand 30 minutes in the refrigerator. Brown in frying pan in hot fat, add a little water, then reduce temperature, cover closely and let cook slowly 45 minutes. Veal and pork squares may be used placing alternate squares on skewer.

Mary Lemon's CHIP-CHOP PUDDING
Take 4 slices of bread, cut into little squares. Then place 2 cups milk in sauce pan to 2 tbsps. butter. Add the chopped up bread, slightly beaten 3 eggs and add 1/2 cup of sugar. Add 1 tbsps. salt to egg mixture. Mix up and then stir slowly into sauce pan of bread, milk and butter. Add 1 tsp. vanilla and 1/2 cup of chocolate chips and nuts. Pour into casserole and pop into oven at 325 degrees for 45 to 50 minutes. Serve warm.

Don't carve a roast when it first comes from the oven, says Pierra Franey, master chef of Howard Johnson's Restaurant. The meat will slice more easily if it is allowed to rest 10 or 15 minutes.

Seminole Squads Fight To 7-7 Tie In Spring Tilt

About Sports Thinking Out Loud

By Julian Stenstrom
It's now official! The Little League baseball field in Casselberry, leased from the town council by the South Seminole Little League Association, has officially named the layout Cooper Park.

Little League officials and managers of the various clubs in the Little and Senior Leagues, got together recently and honored the league's vice president, O. L. Cooper, because of the work he had done to make the park a reality.

We've also received a letter from William B. Dunn of Casselberry about the Little League park there. "In your article last Friday," says Dunn, "... You paid a fine tribute to all of these men who worked hard to get the park project completed. You also very correctly said it would take someone to give credit to all who did something towards its completion."

"However," Dunn continues, "there is one man who has been overlooked in all newspaper comment, who — with much of his own labor — built the grandstands, the rest rooms, raked clay for the infield and ran the mowers in the outfield before publicity was forthcoming."

"He is Larry Miller of Casselberry, who a year or two ago turned these lots into a fine ball park. Larry not only coached my boys in the Little League but did all of the work I mentioned above. He personally drove every piece of equipment and did 90 percent of all the manual work connected with the early development of the park."

"The others have taken over from there," Dunn goes on to say, "and they, too, have done a magnificent job."

We've learned that Miller is quite a fellow. He loves boats and fishing. But Saturday after Saturday Miller devoted the days to getting this park built for the kids.

We understand that his calls for some assistance from others must have been discouraging to him. Now and then a few fellows would turn out to lend Miller a hand... but not many.

Dunn says that he saw Miller take the old Casselberry golf course locker and caddy house which had become an eyesore to the neighborhood and turn it into what is now the Recreation Center for the youth of the community to enjoy.

Dunn avered, "Miller worked on this project just as hard — doing much of it without any help at all."

Miller, who is head of the Recreation Commission for Casselberry, hears about all the complaints and the criticisms. We seriously doubt if the people who level these criticisms and complaints realize that the man to whom they are addressing their remarks is the man almost single-handedly responsible for the recreational program so many of the youngsters in Casselberry enjoy.

But there's one point upon which all who know Miller agree. He's never received the credit to which he is due. There, Mr. Dunn, we've patting Mr. Miller on the back. He deserves it, too!

Reds Knot Score On Last Second Touchdown Pass

By Julian Stenstrom
Herald Sports Editor
How the Seminoles of Sanford High will fare against seven other Metro Conference football opponents this fall is a question that won't be answered until late November.

But the belief that the locals will be able to hold their own against the stiff Orange County competition was substantiated Wednesday afternoon when 20 days of spring drills were culminated with an intersquad clash that saw the Whites and the Reds battle to a 7 to 7 tie.

And even though it was spring drill, the tilt had the flavor of last fall's machine which came from behind in eight of 10 wins.

Late in the second period, quarterback Frank Whigham led assistant coach Jim McCoy's Whites down to the Red's two-yard line from where the sensational Sanford Junior High back from last fall's edition of the Braves carried it in for the touchdown. Bernie Barbour, another quarterback up from the Seminole JayVee eleven, booted the extra point.

And it looked like a White victory up until a point where less than two minutes were remaining. Al Boniface, a stand-in last season for Ron Hinson at quarterback, uncorked a 30-yard Red aerial aimed at Billy Kuykendall. The pass was deflected by a pair of White defenders — deflected, that is right into Kuykendall's arms. Billy glued himself to the pigskin and easily covered five more yards for the TD.

A conversion attempt failed but the Whites were offside. From the one the Reds tried it again. This one failed, too, but again the Whites were offside. From the half-yard line marker Boniface sneaked across to the K up—the final play of the ball game.

Sort of rings a bell, doesn't it?

Bo Gets Down To Business; Hurls 4-1 Win Over Twins

By George C. Langford
UPI Sports Writer
Bo Bellinsky insists he's strictly business now and the Minnesota Twins and Bill (The Derrick) Rigney believe him.

Rigney, the manager of the Los Angeles Angels who yanks his pitchers at the drop of a hit, was so impressed by Bellinsky's performance Wednesday night against the Twins, that he allowed the errant lefthander to pitch the full nine innings. That might not sound like much of a reward, but from Rigney it is a supreme compliment.

It was only the fourth time this season that an Angels starter has gone the distance — low mark in the majors. Bellinsky allowed seven hits, fanned eight and did not walk a man while stopping the hard-hitting Twins, 4-1, in the first game of a doubleheader. Don Mincher's seventh home run in the 13th inning gave the Twins the nightcap victory, 4-3.

Harmon Killebrew hit his 13th homer in the opener and Bob Allison connected for his 11th in the second game for Minnesota.

In other American League games, Detroit defeated Baltimore, 6-3; New York stopped Cleveland 7-2; Washington beat Boston in 11 innings, 9-8, and a doubleheader between the Chicago White Sox and the Athletics at Kansas City was rained out.

Philadelphia blanked Pittsburgh, 2-0; Cincinnati shutout Los Angeles, 1-0; Milwaukee stopped Houston, 2-0; San Francisco edged St. Louis, 2-1, and Chicago defeated New York, 7-1, in National League action.

Senkarik Fans 17, Hunt Ends Losing Streak

Skipper Senkarik whiffed 17 Oilers Wednesday afternoon as Hunt's Lincoln-Mercury Comets snapped a three-game losing streak and shutdown Standard Oil 5 to 0 in City Recreation loop play.

The Little National League contest was a scoreless affair until the fifth when the Comets scored all their runs. Senkarik gave up only one hit in gaining his seventh pitching victory.

Over in the Little American the Navy bombed the Bankers of Kingswood Builders and Longwood, the number one and two teams in the Men's League, got the second half of the season under way Wednesday night.

The Builders beat McRaney 13 to 4 with Danny Underwood supplying the hitting — three of them including a home run — and Bud Moncrief the pitching. McRaney's Dodson had three hits in the Painters' losing cause.

Longwood's mighty Roy Lisk powered two more circuit blasts last night as the South Seminole nine came from behind to nip Chase, 14 to 13. Chase took the lead in the final frame when they pushed over five markers and took a 19 to 11 lead. But Longwood came right back with three in their half of the seventh and wrapped it up. It was their ninth consecutive victory.

SHS Track Dedicated To Memory Of Lawson

The Seminole High School track and field area, which includes a football practice field in the infield, was dedicated Wednesday afternoon to the memory of the late Buddy Lawson, an outstanding SHS senior who was fatally injured in a February auto accident.

Between halves of the annual spring football game, four Seminole seniors participated in the dedication ceremony.

Billy Higgins, co-captain of the 1963 SHS football team, in a brief address dedicated the track to Lawson's memory. Lawson was the other co-captain of the Tribe eleven last fall. Earl Black, another teammate of Lawson's mounted a plaque on a concrete base and Jim Touhy, also an SHS football player, delivered the eulogy.

The ceremony was closed with a prayer of dedication led by Steve Sewell, president of the school's student body.

Among those on hand for the ceremony were Mrs. Marlon Lawson, the deceased star's mother; his brother, nine-year old Stevie Lawson; and Buddy's stepfather, Leon Lawson, himself a former Seminole grid star in the late 1930's.

The Buddy Lawson Memorial Fund committee, headed by Bill Lovelace, was also on hand. The committee provided the plaque and has faced the committee is to light the field for night track meets and other outdoor school functions which are held during night hours.

Tribe Coaches, Fans Pleased With Outcome

Although they hadn't had a chance to put their heads together and discuss the aspects of the 7 to 7 tie played by two Seminole varsity elevens in Wednesday's inter-squad clash at SHS, Tribe coaches, Jim Pigott, Jim McCoy Dick Williams, Ralph Stumpf and John Colbert expressed "satisfaction" at the performances of the more than 50 aspirants for berths on the 1964 SHS varsity team.

But the Seminole mentors weren't the only ones who were pleased. About 400 grid fans were on hand to watch the contest and they expressed more than passing pleasure at the blocking, tackling and other facets of the game the local gridmen displayed.

"The toughest part of the job now," Pigott explained, "is that we have to decide who we will assign to the junior varsity and, worse than that, which of the seniors we will keep and which we will not use at all in our football program."

The staff plans to utilize about 15 seniors, the same number of juniors and about four sophomores. "This way we'll maintain the class level of experience," Pigott remarked.

Getting down to personnel, Pigott did not want to deal with personalities right now. But he did say he was pleased with the material up from the JayVee and junior high teams of last fall. "Some of the boys played excellent football," Pigott calculated. "They made some mistakes, but most of them were the kind we can easily correct."

'Oviedian' Dedicated To Mrs. Harden Webb

The day that the entire Oviedo High School had been looking forward to finally came. This was the day that the annuals had arrived and the presentation was held during assembly last Thursday morning.

Each year the "Oviedian" is dedicated to some outstanding citizen of the community. This year the person to receive the honor was Mrs. Harden Webb, mathematics teacher of the school.

The dedication reads as follows: "In grateful appreciation for the inspiration you have been to all of us, and with gratitude for the services you have rendered to your students and to all students through the Student Council activities, we, the Annual Staff of Oviedo High School, gratefully dedicate to you, Mrs. Webb, the 1964 Oviedian."

Mrs. Webb, the daughter of Methodist missionaries, was born in Seoul, Korea. She taught micro-anatomy at Emory University in Atlanta during the war and afterwards went into nursing education as a teacher of anatomy and physiology. She came to Oviedo in 1939 and has been high school mathematics teacher at O.H.S. since 1961. She is sponsoring the Senior Student Council and the Beta Club. She recently won a scholarship grant from the National Science Foundation for a summer institute in mathematics at Emory University, which incidentally, is her old Alma Mater from where she received her masters degree. The course will last seven weeks.

After the dedication Mrs. Webb presented the seniors with their annuals and for the first time, their names were imprinted on the front cover.

OVIEDO HIGH students stand in applause as first copy of "The Oviedian," school annual, is presented to Mrs. Harden Webb by editor Virginia Stanko. This year's edition was dedicated to Mrs. Webb, school math teacher who also is sponsor for the Student Council and the Beta Club. (Herald Photo)

Bear Lake Club Has Elections

By Maryann Miles
Annual election of officers for the Bear Lake Community Club was conducted at the May meeting of the group held in the Florida Power Employees Club on Bear Lake.

Elected were Richard Ostrander, president; Earl Howell, vice president; Mrs. William Carpenter, secretary and James Anrum, treasurer.

Books will be audited by an appointed committee before officers are installed at the June meeting.

Guests introduced were Mrs. Mary Jane Gettings, new Welcome Wagon Hostess for the area and Harry Cushing, candidate for county commissioner, district 5.

Winner of the "pig in the poke" project was Mrs. Anrum. Boxes of candy were won by Mrs. E. C. Howell and Ostrander. Hostess for the evening was Mrs. Hazel Lomis.

Reports of the achievement were made by Principal Louis Kosky at the final business session of the PTO held Tuesday evening.

Kosky commended the students, advising that a number had placed in the high 90's in the tests with one student achieving a score of 99. He also reported to the membership that there are presently 8,219 books in the school library, many of which were acquired through PTO efforts. He commented that school funds would be sufficient to replace or acquire all additional books in the future.

He presented Mrs. Joan Voskan, outgoing president, with a gift of a charm bracelet and expressed the appreciation of the school and the PTO for her efforts on their behalf during the past year. The PTO executive board agreed to furnish ice cream to all students of the school on the last day of the term.

Mrs. Voskan installed recently elected officers, Mrs. Gladys Pilolan, vice president; Mrs. Mary McIntosh, secretary and Jerry Riley, treasurer. A. L. Watson, president elect, was unable to be present for the meeting.

To the Citizens of Seminole County

It is with humble gratitude that I take this opportunity to thank the people of Seminole County for the trust and confidence they have bestowed upon me. I do not take this trust and confidence lightly, but with a feeling of deep responsibility. The seeking of this office and the campaign itself has been an enriching experience. This campaign has been conducted in the true American tradition. It has been a privilege and honor to have been associated with the other candidates, all of whom are of the highest caliber. I thank them for this association and thank all the citizens of Seminole County for their interest and efforts on behalf of all of the candidates for all of the offices in this election as this effort and interest in what it takes to maintain our privileges in this fine country of ours.

Thank you one and all.

Do Well In Peace

"He who did well in war," Robert Browning once said, "just earns the right to begin doing well in peace."

Americans have done well in war. From the battlefields of Lexington and Saratoga to New Orleans, Manassas, Belleau Wood, Anzio, Coral Sea and Pork Chop Hill, Americans have fought the good fight—and have won well for their country.

For this bravery, this sacrifice for which no number of words can serve as explanation, Americans will try to remember their slain countrymen on Memorial Day. Fresh flags will fly on American graves around the world as tiny memorials to young lives too soon spent. But this honest gesture, heartfelt though it may be, will not still the threat of future war and suffering.

The long, hard fight for freedom continues. While the small but bitter struggles in Viet Nam and Laos pale when placed against the great, bloody wars of history when thousands of Americans died, the simple fact remains that American lives are being lost in war.

Nearly 250 men have been killed in the jungles of Viet Nam and Laos since 1961. These few lives are no less important than the many given in larger wars.

The road to peace is long and hard; there are many bends and forks and bridges to cross. It will be ever thus, but if we are to demonstrate to the dead that their sacrifices are not without meaning, we must travel on that road to peace, always ready to surmount its obstacles. We must "begin doing well in peace."

Memorial Day is the occasion for such a resolution. But if we do so resolve, we should remember that the real memorials to the dead and the real justification for peace and understanding in the world are not in crumbling stones and tottering statues and fine words.

They are in the ideals of truth, freedom, brotherhood—ideas which have sustained us in the past and which must grow to nobler and bolder proportions if they are to sustain us in the future.

Seed Of Lawlessness

One of the most trenchant public utterances to be made in a long time has come from the man who next will become president of the American Bar Association.

He is Lewis F. Powell Jr. and every American might well listen carefully to what he said in a recent luncheon address.

"One of the root causes of lawlessness in this country," he declared, "is excessive tolerance by the public in accepting substandard, marginal, immoral and unlawful conduct. This tolerance has reached the point of moral sickness."

Among the things he believes are excessively tolerated, Mr. Powell listed juvenile drinking, flagrant violation of traffic laws, flouting of obscenity and pornography laws, illegal gambling, cheating on claims against insurance companies, cir-convention of divorce laws, condoning of violence, and disregard of laws in general.

Those among us who are completely innocent of any of the tolerances mentioned by Mr. Powell can, of course, forget what he has said.

The rest of us can thank him for saying it—and make sure we remember and heed it.

Byrd On Johnson

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Among his other duties and contributions to the American west, Senator Harry Byrd of Virginia is chairman of a committee which has a cumbersome name, gets little publicity, but which strikes periodic hammer blows for common sense.

The Joint Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Expenditures has always been a thorn in the flesh of the spenders, for it lists the payroll of the Federal Government and usually has reason to point out its ever-rising costs.

Spendthrift presidents and politicians since 1941 have grumbled about the Committee, and no President to my knowledge has praised its good work. Therefore, it was a new item on May 6th when President Johnson at his lawn-party press conference remarked that he had written to Senator Byrd in the latter's capacity as chairman of this committee. I had assumed, from the President's jovial manner and from his long friendship with the Senator, that it was a letter of congratulation and commendation for the Committee's long service to the cause of frugality in government.

Senator Byrd, at this writing, has not released the President's letter, nor answered it, but I have been surprised to learn that the President did not address him "Dear Harry" or "Dear Senator," but very formally "Dear Mr. Chairman." The gist of the letter is not to compliment the President for recent and pending cutbacks in Federal employment.

It remains to be seen whether Senator Byrd will take the hint, and whether he will find that the President has really made substantial gains in "reduction of non-essential Federal expenditures."

For example, LBJ's figures show that the Government hired 16,993 fewer persons in March 1964 than it did in March 1963. But the great bulk of this personnel cut-back—14,548 persons—can be laid to the petering out of the $850 million Accelerated Public Works program which was a temporary make-job project under the Kennedy Administration. If we subtract these temporary workers from President Johnson's figures, we find that he has reduced Federal employment only by 845 persons, which isn't very much.

Moreover, a heavy majority in the Federal payroll reduction falls in the Department of Defense which has been laudably slicing away at its civilian bureaucracy. In March 1963 the Defense Department had 1,056,084 non-uniformed workers. In March 1964 this figure was down to 1,037,290. The reduction within that twelve month period was 18,794 persons.

Yes, but was there a similar cutback in non-military departments and agencies of the Federal Government? Also, there was not. In March 1963 Mr. Kennedy had 1,429,054 workers in Federalism, not counting those at the defense Department. In March 1964, Mr. Johnson had 1,432,755. I.B.J. therefore, topped JFK by 3,701 workers in this category.

Nothing here suggests that we ought to be ungrateful to the President for making a start at cutting the bureaucracy. He has certainly done that. He has promised to do more. He has publicly harangued his heads of departments and agencies to chop out the deadwood. But the task is mammoth, and words aren't deeds.

The greatest accolade for any White House economist would be a word of praise from Senator Byrd. I am told by the Senator's office that he is working on a detailed reply to the message in which Mr. President invited the Committee's praise, and that it may beat my column into print.

But whether it does or not, I am recommending Senator Byrd's letter, slight unseen, as the truest possible report on LBJ's claim to the title of Mr. Frugality.

Fact

The Conestoga Wagon, or prairie schooner, was responsible for causing American traffic to move on the right hand side of the road. Early colonists had perpetuated the English custom of keeping to the left, and carriages and wagons were driven from the right side. However, the Conestoga wagon had to be guided from the left side, and drivers, to get a clear view of the road ahead, began to keep their vehicles to the right.

Nothing here suggests that we ought to be ungrateful to the President for making a start at cutting the bureaucracy. He has certainly done that. He has promised to do more. He has publicly harangued his heads of departments and agencies to chop out the deadwood. But the task is mammoth, and words aren't deeds.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Some U. S. strategic planners are watching for a blow-up in East Germany.

Their agents report increasing signs of discontent. In Czechoslovakia, Poland, Romania and Hungary, the Communist rulers have been forced to relax their controls a little.

There is more independence in their business and industry, more approaches to the West for closer commercial and diplomatic relations. There has been more freedom to associate with Western peoples in these countries.

Even more important, U. S. diplomats report there has been more freedom of personal speech and action (compared to the past, that is. Freedom, of course, is still slight when compared with the freedoms in Western democracies).

These U. S. analysts see a general weakening of the ability of the Communist governments of the Eastern European countries to handle their people. The American experts expect this weakening to continue. They therefore expect the Soviet Union to keep a huge military force in Eastern Europe, even if Khrushchev cuts back Russia's army overall.

U. S. officials see the possibility that several of the Eastern European countries — Romania, Hungary and Czechoslovakia — may be reaching for a more independent status within the Communist bloc.

The U. S. planners are determined to egg this shift along, through trade, aid and propaganda. These officials are certain they cannot swing these countries away from communism short of war. But they believe the more they can help to weaken the "monolithic unity" of the Soviet bloc, the better for the United States and the West.

The same pressures for more freedom exist in East Germany. But the East German Red rulers have rigidly held the line.

Says one U. S. official: "Things are happening under the surface in East Germany. The situation is made even more tense because the East Germans know what's happening in the rest of Eastern Europe. They see no reason why they can't get these same relaxations. Something could blow there any time."

"And if it does blow, it would certainly put pressures on the Russians, the West Germans and ourselves. We think the Russian troops would put down any uprising hard and ruthlessly. We're not certain the West Germans would stand still for that."

"This would put us through a lot of soul-searching here on what to do."

U. S. planners haven't made up their minds yet what the United States should do if and when the East Germans do rise up in strikes, street demonstrations or revolts.

To act might lead to war, they say. To not act might lose the United States the faith of peoples in Eastern Europe and around the world who want freedom from Red repression.

It might result in less will to fight the Reds in South

Viet Nam, Africa and in Latin America. The planners are still stinging from the reproaches that resulted from U. S. failure to act positively during the Hungarian and East German uprisings several years ago.

The plain and simple fact is that the United States is no more prepared to handle an East German or any other East European uprising today than it was the last time.

But policy men are working on the problem.

Letters

To The Editor

Editor, Herald:

In reference to your editorial of May 18, in which your headlines read "Voters Reject Opportunity," I should like to remind you that this water control bill was not publicized enough prior to the election. There should have been copies of this bill furnished to people all over the county at least several weeks before voting time.

Your newspaper should have printed items of factual information about this act every few days long in advance of May 5, so that people could have read and discussed the issue. Instead, you were content to expect the four obscure legal notices and one distorted news item to convince the public of the urgency for the passage of this act. If you think the bill is so good, why didn't you faithfully expose its contents?

In my opinion, the authors of this bill should have permitted only freeholders to vote on it, as they are the ones who would have to pay the tax. This weakness is reason enough for rejection.

Yours truly,
Elton Bennett

Editor's Note: Your statement that the bill was not publicized enough is a matter of opinion. Providing copies of the bill is not the responsibility of this newspaper. Our summation by Commissioner Avery, we felt, was the clearest and most concise explanation of the act's provisions. Also, how can a legal notice be obscure?

Apparently the bill's contents were exposed sufficiently because 2,186 people knew enough about it to vote for it while 2,529 voted against it. It lost by only 324 votes. This leads us to believe its contents were "exposed."

County commissioners objected to the provision in the Orange County bill which permitted no vote by the people. This is why the vote was open to all voters, freeholders or not. Also, Commissioner Avery said this is the way the Legislature said it would have to be done.

Some Change In Race Policy Seen Under Burns

By AL KUETTNER
United Press International
The outcome of the Florida gubernatorial primary is an example of still another major political engagement that must be assessed in its relationship to the civil rights revolution. Tuesday's runoff Democratic primary matched two big city mayors, Robert King High of Miami in the south and Haydon Burns of Jacksonville in the north. On a number of points, the two candidates were not far apart in their views about what should happen in the state. But on one critical issue they differed in opposite camps. High said he would uphold the Civil Rights Bill if and when it became law. Burns publicly opposed it. They differed on other phases of the race issue, too, but their feelings on the Civil Rights Bill formed the real battle line that gave voters a clear choice on the issue, even though High called it a phony issue, since neither he nor Burns could do anything about it. Burns, while he rejects the label, got the name of the candidate of the segregationists. High also rejecting his label, was called the candidate of the ultra liberals and of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Both call themselves racial moderates and Burns once protested strongly when he was referred to in a news report as a hard-core segregationist. So the people of Florida went to the polls to decide which man they wanted for governor. Burns was favored heavily, getting more than 70 per cent of the total vote and winning all but three counties. Does this mean that Florida—which has ranged from neutral to moderate officially during the administration of Gov. Farris Bryant—could be expected to swing to a conservative or reactionary stand on the race issue? In general, the answer probably would be definitely not, although some change in policy might be expected under a man like Burns. This was Burns' second race for governor. In 1960 he also came out strong on the pro-segregation side. But last November when he entered the race again, he insisted that segregation — integration should not be an issue of the campaign. In the first primary, Burns was front runner in a six-man race which eliminated among others Scott Kelly, a state senator who proclaimed himself the "symbol of opposition to the Civil Rights Bill." As mayor of Jacksonville, Burns was faced this year with a violent racial upheaval among local Negroes.

Shots Fired Into King's Cottage

Thirteen of us won't be around Monday. That's the grim prediction of the Florida Highway Patrol over this long Memorial Day weekend. And there's an easy way to prove them wrong: Drive like your life depended upon it.

Sanford has a special part in the World's Fair in New York. It's in the form of a beautiful, soft-spoken young lady named Miss Linda Williams. She's a receptionist at the Triborough Bridge and Tunnel Authority's exhibit at the fair.

Linda has attracted the attention (for the trim Miss, that's an easy thing to do) of Long Island newspapers, the Star-Journal and the Daily Press.

"Linda comes from Florida," the papers say, "but she's learning about New York fast. And most of it she finds delightful." The papers quoted Linda as saying "But I still can't get used to all this rushing around. Down home, things move at a much slower pace. Nobody is ever in much of a hurry."

The papers note though that Linda soon got in a hurry when she obtained the receptionist job. "They just didn't have time to tell me everything about the bridges and tunnels connecting the different parts of the city. So, I just studied the maps here and asked a lot of questions. Now I can answer most all the kinds of questions about the TBTA and what it's doing for the city," the papers quoted Linda as saying.

Rain-making ideas of everyone in this area just aren't working. We've heard people report that even washing their cars (normally a sure rain-maker) hasn't worked. And the water meters keep right on spinning.

Maybe the Seminole Chamber of Commerce could prevail on the operators of the time temperature device at First and Park to link with the temperature part. Trudging along First Street yesterday afternoon, perspiring pedestrians glanced at the temperature. It was 83. Maybe if it had said 83 it wouldn't have appeared so warm.

Sanford and Daytona Beach are a lot closer together now. This afternoon Gov. Farris Bryant was to cut a ribbon to officially open joint the two communities by way of the sparkling new Interstate 4. Officials of the two communities joined state leaders in the momentous ceremony. We can now say to Daytona — "Hi neighbor!"

Seminole County's Court-house had a busy Thursday. The County Commission meeting in the aym drew the normal amount of visitors. At the same time, and for all day for that matter, the lobby was loaded with persons attending the tax sale on delinquent property. And in the afternoon County Judge C. Vernon Mize conducted his court with scores of persons summoned to appear before him.

The judge, recognizing the fact most of the persons were making a first visit to court, carefully explained the procedure each would follow when called before the bench. The tension eased immediately after he had completed his briefing. Prosecuting Attorney Karylise Housholder read the complaint against each, the judge asked for a plea, it was made and the person then knew what was expected of him. Most of them were fined after their guilty pleas, but some, with more serious offenses, landed in jail.

The energetic Sanford-Seminole Jaycees have another public spirited project going for them. They're selling three-by-five foot American Flags complete with poles and display brackets. The project chairman, Wayne Albert, says they cost only $3.50 and can be ordered by calling 322-5481. A Jaycee will make prompt delivery to the home.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (UPI)—Police slapped a ban on racial demonstrations early today following a fist slinging, club wielding, knife slashing, dog biting melee between whites, Negroes and police at the old slave market. Two men were hospitalized.

MERIT AWARD was presented to a Florida Highway Patrol Auxiliary member Thursday night at the local American Legion Home. The certificate cited the meritorious work done by Norman C. SHRINE members from the Sanford area received a certificate of thanks for their contribution of $500 for a Crippled Children's Home in South Carolina. The award was made Thursday night. Above from left, Roy G. Williams, Shrine president; John Krider, Seminole Chamber executive; Al Skinner, Harold Kastner and Roy W. Herron. A "corn broil" was held prior to the meeting and John A. Fuller, at right, shows it's his favorite dish. (Herald Photos)

Bracken Elected Head Of U. Of F. Alumni Here

Seminole High School Principal Andrew Bracken, was named president of the local University of Florida alumni unit which was organized Thursday night. The group named Vernon Mize as vice president and Paul Miler, Oviedo High's athletic director, as secretary-treasurer. A Florida assistant football coach, Gene Ellensson, spoke to the group on scholarship and recruiting at the university and presented color films of last fall's Gator grid victory over Alabama. A spokesman this morning reported that 38 alumni attended with 26 Sanford guests and four out of town guests.

Ruby Suicide Try Reported

DALLAS (UPI)—Jack Ruby smashed his jail cell light bulb with a spittoon Thursday because he wanted to stick his finger in the bare socket and electrocute himself, his brother Sam said.

Bear's Visit Here Is Short-Lived

"Hey, there's a bear on the loose out here." And if you think that didn't upset the pre-dawn calm at Police Headquarters this morning you're wrong. The caller told police the bear was loose, was located in a wooded area west of the police station, and then said "Goodbye." Probably headed for safer climes. The episode started with the call at 5 a. m. Lt. Earl Bourquard responded and verified the fact. Mrs. W. M. Hood, head of the Municipal Zoo, was summoned to the scene. She counted noses of the bear population at the zoo and assured police it wasn't one of them that had gotten out. Police then called the game warden, Robert Johnson, and it was decided an effort would be made to net the bear. The bear had other ideas. Patrolman Herman Harriett got his hunting dog and in a short while the scent was found and the bear located. The game warden took aim, fired, and the excitement stopped. The police report said the carcass was given to the zoo "for feeding purposes." How the bear got there isn't known. Police muse that "maybe it's mating season."

Oh, For A Drop Or Two Here!

By United Press International Plenic-stopping rainstorms swept the Carolinas and Virginia today and frost warnings were posted across the upper Midwest and through New England lowlands. Days of drenching rain finally ended over the Southern Plains but the cloudburst left streams running to the brim in the Missouri Ozarks. Wilmington, N. C., was soaked with nearly an inch of rain in six hours during the night. The little town of Sullivan, Mo., picked up 5.69 inches of rain Thursday. A tornado ripped through Lumberton, N. C., Thursday afternoon and damaged buildings. No injuries were reported. Just to the north a violent thunderstorm swept through Sanford, N. C., with 60-mile-an-hour winds and half-inch hail. The Carolina storm system was triggered by the confrontation of hot and cold air systems. As an example of the temperature contrast, the mercury soared to 100 degrees at Florence, S. C., Thursday while just to the northwest in Tennessee temperatures hovered in the 50s and 60s.

Port Committee Sets Interviews

The Seminole Chamber of Commerce's Port Authority Committee will meet Thursday to interview representatives of prospective engineering firms to make a feasibility study for the authority. The announcement was made today by Francis Roumillat Jr., committee chairman. The meeting will be held at noon in the Chamber's new conference room. "The purpose," Roumillat said, "is to discuss this situation with engineering firm representatives for future selection of a company to make the feasibility study the port authority will need to enable the group to approach the Legislature." Legislative action will be required, he explained, to create the authority. "When this body is legally established," he said, "it will proceed with the actual planning and construction of the port."

Flag Day WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson has proclaimed June 14 as "Flag Day."

Blast Climaxes St. Augustine Race Strife

ST. AUGUSTINE (UPI)—Bullets riddled an unoccupied beachfront cottage rented by Martin Luther King early today and a shotgun blast shattered two windows of another Negro leaders automobile. The shootings came on the heels of a nighttime clash among Negro demonstrators, a group of whites and police which sent two men to a hospital. Following the fist slinging, club wielding, knife slashing and dog biting melee at the Old Slave Market in the center of this historic city, authorities ordered a ban on racial demonstrations. King, who had arrived here Monday night to organize racial demonstrations, left yesterday with a promise to return. A newsmen confirmed reports of other Negro leaders that 19 rifle bullet holes and some shotgun pellets had punctured the beach cottage King had rented from all four sides.

St. Johns Sheriff L. O. Davis said the incident had not been reported to him. Harry G. Boyte, a white assistant of King, said he and Negro leader C. T. Vivian had stayed in the house the night before but stayed elsewhere last night and left the light on "as a decoy." Boyte also said a window in his car was shattered by a shotgun blast early today. Boyte said the shot was fired from a car which followed him and pulled up behind him when he stopped in front of a motel.

School Board Refuses To Change Time Of Meetings

By identical votes of 3 to 1 the Seminole County School Board Thursday afternoon approved a list of teachers recommended for summer employment but denied a request by a delegation of mothers that the board hold its monthly meeting during evening hours. The group, meeting in a special session at the school board offices, examined a host of letters requesting that meetings be held at night and listened to the plea of the delegation present before turning down the request. Board members John Evans, Mason Wharton and James Birkenmeyer agreed that meetings conducted in the afternoons made for more efficient handling of the board's business. However, Dr. A. W. Epps Jr. disagreed. He pointed out that more interested parents could attend evening meetings which would result in more understanding by the board's constituents of the group's actions. He explained that the Board of Trustees now meets during evening hours. Epps said that he felt the board would get more work accomplished. He explained that in order for him to earn a living he had to personally care for his practice. "It's not like some people who can leave their business or profession and their income continues," he said. A petition, containing the names of about 75 persons plus numerous letters, objected to the reports that several teachers were not being retained in the summer employment program. Much interest surrounded the fact that James Pigott, Seminole High School's head football coach and a driver training instructor, was not retained to teach drivers this summer. Several letters intimated that the failure to retain Pigott might have "political" implications and requested the board to take appropriate action. Pigott ran against Supt. R. T. Milwee in the first primary. Principal Andrew Bracken of Seminole High School told the board that Pigott had been asked to attend a conference in Cocoa which dealt with a new type of driving training program, commonly known as range driving. Bracken said that Pigott declined to attend and that it was necessary for him not to recommend Pigott for the driver program. Bracken also said he needed a civics teacher for the 1964-65 school year and had assigned this position to Pigott. Stewart Gatchel, personnel supervisor for the school system, explained that personnel used in the summer enrichment program are suggested by various principals, reviewed by the board of trustees and its recommendations are submitted to the school board for final approval. During the meeting the board heard the trustees' report and adopted it by a split vote. In other action the board approved numerous bids for various categories of school equipment and supplies for the 1964-65 budget year plus bids for milk and hardware.

Crossing Death Spurs Action By Longwood

By Donna Estes Longwood officials met with City Attorney Webber Haines Thursday night to discuss and decide action to be taken to remedy hazardous conditions at the Church Street railroad crossing where Ted Waltz, prominent citizen of the community, was killed Tuesday. A spokesman of the Police Department showed photographs of the crossing which prove that the ACL's unused station house between Church and Lake completely blocks the motorists' view of approaching trains traveling from south to north. A prepared statement from Mayor A. R. Lormann recommended that the building be torn down and signal lights erected, not only at Church Street but also at the Georgia Avenue crossing three blocks north. It also was pointed out that track elevations at these two crossings are higher than road levels and that this should be corrected. Lormann's statement urged that an ordinance be passed with all possible haste setting speed limits through the city for trains at 35-40 miles per hour. In conclusion Haines was authorized to contact ACL officials and demand that action on the mayor's stated recommendations be taken immediately. If cooperation is not forthcoming further steps will be taken by the city. Blanket endorsement of any action taken by council has been given by the Longwood Area Chamber of Commerce.
