FAR FROM THE BATTLEFRONT

It seems a long way from the trundle bed and the pastel colors of a nursery to the horrors of a battleground . . . but not as far as it may appear. Even if war should not come to our shores, it will be only ten or twelve years before these youngsters themselves may be face to face with conflict and battle.

This little boy and girl, however, are being taught the power of prayer. They are discovering at the impressionable age that nothing takes the place of prayer and that no surer protection for the future can be found by any other means.

In days when problems of defense are foremost in the minds of everyone, it is wise to ponder on the limitations of bomb shelters, radar, and weapons. They can protect only the body — when there is still the spirit to keep safe.

Prayer is essential to the well-being of every human person, and now is the time to begin. Go to church and learn with millions of others how prayer can give new meaning and strength to your life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

SEMINOLE III By BEVERLY GRAY

The Junior-Senior Banquet will begin tonight at 7:30 and we certainly do hope all you Juniors and Seniors will make an effort to be there. The Prom will end at 1:00 o'clock. There'll be plenty of things to do if you don't care to dance so don't let that keep you away. We'll expect you there to dress formal that's all right, too. So we'll expect you there tonight!

Let right now there're loads of Jrs. and Srs. waiting ready! Robert Beckwith, Ronald Taylor, and Junior Metts are sipping Junior gals, while Kenneth Gano, Joe McTung, and Wise Hardin are taking Senior gals. There're a few of 'em planning to go state, too! Edwin Tison, Bob Kilpatrick, Sammy Jacobson, Jack Schirard, and Hank McLaughlin have decided that way, but Mildred Miller and George Hardin; Sara Nell Hardin and Rae Ireland; Jimmy Smith and Jean Wilson; Eloise Benton and an alumnus, John Krider; Barbara Flint and a Junior, Billie Jimenez; Stewart Mattheux and Margie Morrison; and Edison and Sarah Kate Meyers.

This really is a big night for all the Seniors and Juniors and we, Juniors, surely do hope they have a grand time!

Sports:
The Junior Feds whipped Leesburg to a 43 to 35 victory Tuesday night! Awfully good to see Frank Stafford still in there making the points for us! He made 13 for us in this game. This is the Junior Feds' seventh straight win, which looks mighty nice on the record! The Fleming-men will play again next Monday evening in town, so try to make it there!

A squab:
The Gansmen totaled another loss Tuesday night playing Leesburg in an out of town game. The score in the end was 37 to 27. High pointer of the evening was Jerry Covington with six and running a close second were Junior Metts and Jimmy Smith with five points. We're hoping the varsity will win next Thursday evening, when they play New Smyrna at Daytona Beach in the East Florida Conference. We expect to beat them though!

The Couple of the Week this time is none other than Walter Routh and Dianne Hart whom we wish lots of luck! By the way,

Diane has just moved here and we're awfully glad to have her here.
That's all for now! See ya at the Prom!

Local Frosh Fall
To Lyman, 51-32

The Junior High School Fed cage machine registered their eighth consecutive victory of the season by defeating Lyman Junior High 33-8 at the Seminole High gym last night. The winner, Sanford, Freshmen quintet dropped its sixth in a row as the Lyman frosh mangled the local courtmen 51-32.

Bob Carter, second Oviedo game hero, spearheaded the Junior Fed's scoring attack by making eight markers. Robert Samuels and Jim Hawkins each racked up six points for the winners.

Former high scorer Jim Taylor was blanked by the weak Lyman team. The game was the Gordiemer's from start to finish. Lyman's Frosh quintet held the visitors points with four. It was the last regularly scheduled contest for the "winningest" cage team in the county. The Junior Feds now have an 8-1 season's record.

Despite the 12 point scoring barrage of guard Johnny Jones, the Sanford Freshmen team could not overcome a 22-17 halftime lead held by the Lyman Frosh. Billy Helms led the Lyman attack with 14 points. Pat Driskill and Vandy Van Dam each contributed 12 markers for the visitors' scoring drive.

Jimmy Hawkins Paces Junior Fed Hoopsters With 53 Total Points

Jimmy Hawkins pushed ahead of last week's Junior High school cage scoring leader, Jimmy Taylor, by 53 to 49 point margin. Taylor was sick for the last game with Winter Park and dropped to second but retained his average points per game leadership with 7.0.

Hawkins is second in the averages with 8.6. Third ranking scorer Robert Samuels has a total of 36 tallies and a 4.5 percentage. Bob Carter, hero of the Oviedo overtime win, stands fourth with 25 markers and a 4.4 average.

Center Hawkins holds the top spot in baskets with 25 while Taylor and Carter are tied for the free throw lead with five each.

The "winningest" cage quintet in Seminole county has a seven game winning streak running with a great 7-1 season's record for a .875 percentage.

The Junior Feds, led by coach Howard Gordie, will try to extend this streak against Lyman.

Plant Diseases Spurred By Damp Night, Warm Days, Group Says

ORLANDO (U. S. P.) — Cool damp nights and rather warm days have spurred the development of plant diseases in South Florida, the group says today.

Growers need a rather long period of favorable weather to bring these diseases under control and get their crops back into a satisfactory state of growth, the agency said in its report for the first half of February.

Names of the diseases were not given. Temperatures were mostly beneficial for hardy crops in North and Central Florida, the report said.

Growing conditions were listed as generally favorable in California. In Texas, however, lack of rainfall was reported critical in all sections and the supply of irrigation water in some places very low.

South Carolina weather also was reported unfavorable for best progress of truck crops. Florida's Feb. 2 tropical storm caused considerable damage to vegetable crops in Pompano, Dade County and Immokalee sections, the report said. Frost in north and central sections of the state did comparatively little damage, but some unprotected crops such as tomatoes, cucumbers and watermelons were reported killed.

The report by crops for Florida: Lima beans — Pompano Delay crop in fair conditions, supplies declined. Winter snap beans — Pompano-Dade crop fair condition, volume down materially and to continue rest of month.

Spring snap beans — Everglades Central Florida planting under way. Reduced acreage in prospect. Cabbage — Condition fair to good, recent weather favorable.

Spring celery — Setting complete.

It's The Truth! Washington Did Not Sleep Here!

GEORGE, the surveyor and builder, would have loved Wynwood for the superb arrangement and landscaping of the spacious plots within the development, and the honest craftsmanship with which its homes have been constructed.

WASHINGTON, the executive, would have delighted in the royal charm and beauty of Wynwood's lovely location. He would have been filled with wonder at the completely equipped with electric range, refrigerator, water heater, and at the heater, venetian blinds, ceramic tile bath. Landlords Urged To Register Property

With only two weeks to go before the deadline, hundreds of landlords in the Sanford Area have failed to register their rental accommodations, J. M. Bryant, Acting Area Rent Director, reported today.

Landlords who fail to meet this Mar. 9 deadline for registration will be in violation of federal law, Mr. Bryant said.

Ministers of the rent office staff will assist any landlord in filling out the forms, Mr. Bryant said, or landlords who wish to fill them out themselves, may pick up the forms at the Rent Office at 222 Meach Building. Forms will be mailed out if they write for them at the above address, or call phone number 218.

Federal Rent Stabilization was established for virtually all rental housing accommodations in Seminole County on Jan. 24, 1942. New construction, conversions, rooms in private homes, hotels, motels, courts, rooming houses, apartments and houses are covered by the new program, Mr. Bryant stated. Legal penalties for most of such accommodations were leveled back to the May 1, 1941 levels.

Taft himself was far from silent Thursday night. Appearing on New York television (DuMont) program with Tex McCrary, an Eisenhower backer, the Ohio senator engaged in a hot, arm-waving dispute that touched off an audience reaction which almost stopped the show.

McCrary, columnist and radio-TV commentator, said Taft hadn't told the truth when he said in his book "A Foreign Policy for Americans" that President Truman did not confer with Congress on the Korean War until weeks after it started.

McCrary said Mr. Truman talked with nine Democratic and five Republican congressmen at home after the outbreak of hostilities.

Taft snapped that his own statement was right because "14 senators are not the Senate of the United States."

The audience broke into boos and cheers.

Taft added that McCrary had called him a liar, and demanded that he withdraw the statement.

The audience became so noisy at this point a request had to be made for quiet.

Stassen, addressing the New York Republican Club in New York City, ripped into government corruption, asked Congress to look into the source of Attorney General McGrath's "accumulated wealth," and said he felt Taft had the "poorest chance" of all Republicans to win the nomination.

Asked about Stassen's reference to uncorrupted rumors that McGrath had become a millionaire while in public office, the attorney general said he "has no desire and there is no necessity to comment beyond thinking Candidate Stassen for the compliment."

Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, the lone Democrat to announce for the presidential nomination to date, criticized the "antique mentality" of the Republican Party in general and "McCarthyism" in particular in an address at Warren, Ohio.

And former Rep. William C. Cole, campaigning for Missouri's GOP nomination for Congress, proposed a new investigation.

If elected, he promised a GOP women's meeting at St. Joseph Thursday, he wouldn't stop at just checking on grain and such shortages. He would demand an investigation to see if any of the gold stored at Fort Knox "has fallen out of the bottom of the vault."

HOLLYWOOD

Lana Turner's haggard of the sprained ankle of a janitor. All patients are the same to Dr. Helen Jones.

Jones is the studio physician at MGM and she is perhaps the only person on the lot who doesn't know the star system.

"Each patient gets the same kind of care from me," she remarked. "When I took the job, I didn't expect to last six weeks. I liked to go to the movies sometimes, but show business and its stars meant nothing to me. I saw no reason why I should treat any patient differently, just because he was a movie star."

Dr. Jones has surprised herself by lasting 15 years at the studio, but she claimed she didn't know if the job will last. She recalled her first "name" patient on the lot. He was a well known comedian who had scratched his shoulder in a bathing scene. "He was admiring himself in the hospital mirror," she remembered. "I had to remind him that I was the one to do the examining, not him. I have since had to have that mirror painted over, because of the actor's pain."

I inquired if actors had any occupational diseases, such as hangovers and ulcers. She explained, "Ulcers happen to people who repress their emotions, and actors are emotional people. Their entire training has been to give vent to our feelings. It is entirely the opposite with doctors. Our whole training is to hide our emotions. Often we may be disturbed about a patient or even frightened. We cannot let the patient know about our feelings. For that reason, the rate of ulcers and heart conditions is high among doctors."

The studio hospital is primarily designed to care for industrial accidents, but any illness which occurs on the lot is cared for.

This may include nervousness on the part of the actors, to whom mild sedatives would be administered. Star accidents are not too serious, since sedatives are used for the dangerous stuff. But mishaps do happen. Latest of these was a broken toe incurred this week by Esther Williams. "Nothing serious," Dr. Jones reported.

Dr. Jones recently performed dual function, adding to her regular duties the technical advising on "The Girl in White." In the picture, June Allyson plays the role of Dr. Emily Dunn, a harpinger, New York's first woman ambulance surgeon. The story tells of the difficulties she had in getting into the medical profession.

"It still isn't easy for a woman to become a doctor," Dr. Jones added. "A lot of medical schools do not want to admit women because they might have to drop out if they marry and become pregnant. That is reasonable, since the schools have more applicants than they can handle."

"Another fear is that women doctors would be romantically inclined toward their male colleagues or else would be antagonistic. But I think any girl who has been raised with brothers learns how to work with men."

"Then there are the beliefs that women would be too sympathetic with patients and would try to get out of doing the heavy work during internship. It's true there are many women who would. But there are also many women who would not."

Hint to Housewives
By CLEO M. ARNETT

Hardly anything around the home is more popular than the cookie jar. In the cookie jar the youngsters, darting away from play for a couple of minutes, find a flavormade snack to allay his hunger until supper-time. A favorite of artists who specialize in home scenes is the small boy standing on tip-toes to reach into the cookie jar high on the shelf. Small boys are not the only ones who like cookies, however, as many a home-maker well knows.

Because of the popularity of the cookie jar and cookies, most home-makers bake frequently to keep a supply on hand. While they usually have two or three recipes of their own, they also are on the lookout for new ones. So, here's a recipe for your cookie file and a warning that a baking won't last long, once the family has gotten a taste.

The ingredients: 1/2 cup of fat, 1 cup cane syrup, 2 beaten eggs, 2 cups sifted flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, and 1 cup of roasted, finely chopped peanuts.

Cream fat and syrup, and add beaten eggs. Sift dry ingredients together, add the peanuts, and then combine with first mixture. Stir until well blended. Drop batter by teaspoonfuls onto greased baking sheet, and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) for about 20 minutes. You'll have about 60 small but delicious cookies.

And here's a lunch plate that tastes good and is also packed with nutrients:

On crisp lettuce leaves place a slice of pineapple; cover pineapple with half a cup of cottage cheese that has been seasoned with salt and pepper and moistened with a little whipping cream. Arrange grapefruit sections, tomato sections and a strip of broiled bacon around pineapple. Place small cubes of American cheese also on the plate. Serve with French dressing.

In the interests of diet-conscious working girls, a company cafeteria has started posting calorie counts as well as prices on all foods served. The stuffed roast beef, for instance, is marked 275 calories and 40 cents, while the baked fish lists a thrifty 110 calories. The experiment, started at the Eagle Clothes plant in Brooklyn, N. Y., has met with enthusiastic approval from the employees, say company officials.

ARNAL SWORN IN
ATLANTA (U. S. P.) — Ellis Arnall was sworn in Thursday as the nation's price boss.

The 44-year-old former Georgia governor promised a "brass knucks fight on inflation as head of the Office of Price Stabilization. President Truman appointed him to succeed Michael V. Disalle who resigned to run for the United States Senate in Ohio.

kissing all the girls in the office on my birthday.

I don't know where I got the idea, but it's a wonderful excuse for a fine pastime.

My boss has never cared for the practice, however, particularly since the year he came out and caught me closing in on a window secretary who had run five times around the water cooler trying to get away.

This week I was 41, and there were no thrilling chases around the water cooler. The girls were good sports enough to realize I am not up to that sort of thing anymore.

They came up to my desk one after the other, said "happy birthday," and gamely submitted to their annual punishment. One of the rewards of being 41, I noticed, was that four out of five pecked me on the cheek.

Sample dialogue:
First girl—"Oh, go on and kiss him. It's no worse than if he was your own grandfather."

Second girl—"Well, I'm new around here. If I got to kiss old fossils to hold this job I'm underpaid."

I looked out the window, and it was snowing—just as it was the day of my birth. When I remarked on this to a friend, he said:

"That isn't snow coming down, son—it's your second childhood. Brr-r! What an unhealthy thought."

How does it really feel to be 41? When I was 21, full of the timeless snobbery of the young, I was certain that people over 40 didn't really have any feelings left at all. They were merely sad characters, plodding wistfully through the fog of lost dreams.

The day I was 40 I still felt pretty much the same way. Life hadn't looked so depressing since I lost my first true love in kindergarten.

Gradually, however, and somewhat to my surprise, I found that being 40 wasn't altogether a crime against nature. And I learned there were even some compensations for the disaster.

At 41 you wake up in the morning with no worse a taste in your mouth than at 17. You just have to back a little harder to clear your throat.

At 41 you find yourself leading a slightly better life. It would be nice to credit this to the slow growth of character, but the truth is probably that you just have weaned of the old treasuries.

At 41 you begin to enjoy this new sense of virtue, because you realize that being virtuous is much more relaxing than being sinful. Succumbing to temptation after 40 isn't play—it's hard work, and hard work is for the young.

At 41 you feel normal. You don't envy young people. You feel sorry for them, knowing all the problems they must meet before they achieve the balanced wisdom of middle age.

But at 41, of course, you don't feel middle-aged. You begin to think of middle-aged people as those over 55. You? Why, you're just coming into your prime.

At 41 you still feel young of heart but you do have to learn to face the fact of what you see in the mirror. Every once in a while as you shave you get a weird sense of mystery. "Is that my face?" you think. "Why it looks like my dad's face did when I was a boy." And you wonder whether you are shaving yourself or your father.

At 41 your senses are more alive than at 30. You feel the small pleasures of life more clearly—the awakening from sleep, the sound of a bird, the intoxication of a sunset, the storm and sunshine of a child's face.

At 41 you see the world in softer focus. And you still have a big ambition left—you want to be 42.

Yes, at 41, you say, "It must be repulsive to be 21. I wouldn't be that young again for a million dollars."

And at 41 you might as well keep right on telling yourself that. There isn't anything you can do about it.
