Truman Speech

proposed enlisting American capital investments and industrial skills—plus any assistance which might come from other sources.

"Our aim," he said, "should be to help the free peoples of the world, through their own efforts, to produce more food, more clothing, more materials for housing, and more mechanical goods than they can produce themselves. We invite other countries to pool their technological resources in this undertaking."

The "Truman Plan" for world betterment constituted the only new point in the President's four-main sources of foreign policy action. Under the other three the nation would:

- 1. Continue "unflinching support to the United Nations" and search for ways to strengthen it.
2. Continue programs for world economic recovery.
3. Strengthen "freedom-loving nations against the dangers of aggression."

While the President nowhere named Russia outright in his scathing attack on Communism, his words apparently ended any possibility of quick and easy compromise between the Soviet Union and the West.

But "in the time," he said, he believes "those countries which now oppose us will abandon their dilemmas and join with the free nations of the world in a just settlement of international differences."

That he does not consider such a settlement possible now he made clear at the very outset. The United States and other non-Communist nations, he declared, have been balked in their work for "a just and lasting peace" by "a regime with contrary aims and a totally different concept of life."

"That regime adheres to a false philosophy which purports to offer freedom, security and greater prosperity to mankind," he asserted. "Misled by this philosophy, many people have sacrificed their liberty only to learn to their sorrow that deceit and mockery, poverty and tyranny, are their reward."

"That false philosophy is Communism," he said. "It is based on the belief that man is so weak and inadequate that he is unable to govern himself, and therefore requires the rule of strong masters."

"Democracy is based on the conviction that man has the moral and intellectual capacity, as well as the inalienable right, to govern himself with reason and justice.
'Communism subjects the individual to arrest without lawful cause, punishment without trial, and forced labor as the chattel of the state. It decrees what information he shall receive, what art he shall produce, what thoughts he shall think."

"Democracy maintains that government is established for the benefit of the individual, and is charged with the responsibility of protecting the rights of the individual and his freedom in the exercise of his abilities.
'Communism maintains that social wrongs can be corrected only by violence.
'Democracy has proved that failed to point to the man whom she first believed was the murder-

The importance of good sanitation was stressed and he mentioned the new system now being installed at Winter Park at a cost of $300,000. He praised the health card system for employees who handle all types of food in Sanford, and the new ordinance calling for health cards for all soli-dators and peddlers. The value of good police departments with well trained, courteous police, was also stressed.

Mr. McKibbin declared that cities need excellent fire departments.
However, if the investigation points to a gambling motive I do not see how the aspect can be kept out of the over-all picture."

Basketball Bounces Past Another Birthday Without Slight Let-Up

NEW YORK, Jan. 21—(AP)—Basketball bounced past another birthday last night without so much as a timeout being called to blow out the candles.

It's now a big, gawky youngster of 57.

The game was born Jan. 20, 1892. That's when Dr. James A. Naismith, physical director of Y. M. C. A. College in Springfield, Mass., hung up the peach baskets and let the boys take aim.

As pastimes go, the sport should still be an infant tugging at its cradles bars. Instead, phenomenal growth has made it an awesome giant.

"Basketball is the world's most popular sport," between 75,000, 600 and 10,000,000 pay to watch the games annually.

No other competitive sport matches it in the number of players. It is building back to its pre-war peak when 20,000,000 throughout the world participated and the rules were translated in 30 lang-

Racing Executive Says Night Harness Racing Is Coming

JERSEY CITY, Jan. 21—(AP)—Night harness racing, says the "grandpappy" of the Hamcaton is the fastest growing sport in the country and a non-maker for exceeding the fondest dream of the straw-hat promoter.

William H. Cane, who is to the Hamcaton what Col. Matt J. Ryan is to the Kentucky Derby, should know what he's talking about.

But Cane had to be convinced. After operating harness racetracks for 20 years in Central daylight at his good time park at Goshen, N. Y., he took a flyer at racing under the lights of Roosevelt Raceway, harness standpoint, there's no Westbury, N. Y., last fall.

"From a crowd-pleaser, and in comparison," the veteran sportsman and retired builder declared, "Why, I'd just as soon have Roosevelt Raceway out on Long Island as the mint, because it saves you the cost of printing the schedule. Everything that comes in is cash, and everybody gets a good show."

Any night harness track will, Cane said, adding that there is no telling when the expansion of the sport will stop.

Roosevelt shattered all initial and attendance records for the night sport in 1948. With a 145 night season, 1,983,764 fans were seated, 58,191,899 at the raceway.

Last night a standing-room-only crowd of 9,500 saw the Oklahoma Aggers topple the St. Louis Red from the country's unbroken ranks by the narrow score of 29 to 27 in a one-period overtime game.

The Aggers, ranked No. 5 in the Associated Press first nation-wide basketball poll, have lost only eight games out of 130 played in the 14 weeks that record adds up to a 1-1 record out of every 11 played.

AAM trailed 11 to 12 at the halftime.

The lead changed three times before the overtime period began with the score at 25-24.

The game overshadowed several other thrillers on last night's national program. Pennsylvania sent two extra periods to upset Dartmouth, 76 to 73, at Hanover, N. H. Niagara upset Cornell, 49 to 46, before a turnout of 14,066 at Buffalo, N. Y.

Herb Lyon's field goal in the last minute and one-half of the second overtime won for Penn. Jim Oran's double-decker with only 21 seconds left accounted for Niagara's triumph.

St. Anselm's of New Hampshire also was tumbled from the unbeaten ranks in an overtime game, losing to New Hampshire 60 to 57.

In other games Toledo topped Baldwin Wallace, 57-55; Bradley overcame Wayne of Michigan 66-53; Louisiana State took Alabama, 51-41 and North Carolina whipped William & Mary, 69-61.

Peace Machinery Between 2 Grid Loops Bogs Down

CHICAGO, Jan. 21—(AP)—Peace machinery between the National Football League and the All-America Conference appeared to have bogged down today without producing results.

Even plans for AAC operations in 1949 apparently have been stymied.

"We still have hopes for peace," and "the AAC will operate in 1949." These have been the only statements issued. Neither announcement, however, had shown signs of becoming fact last night when the AAC ended another fruitless parley.

Meanwhile, the NFL has gone along under the heading of "business as usual." Commissioner Bert Ball was granted a new 10-year contract at $50,000 annually, not a significant raise. He had three years to go on a pact given in 1947.

Owners voted to reduce club players' limits from 35 to 32 next season. This was a minor economy tactic which would save each club about $20,000 in salaries or $200,000 to the league.

At the same time the guaranteed take for visiting teams was boosted from a minimum of $15,000 to $20,000, which was 70 percent of the confidence tossed by the NFL at the AAC.

Vanderbilt Reluctantly Releases Sanders, Who Will Move To UCLA

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 21—(AP)—Henry R. (Red) Sanders, reluctantly released by Vanderbilt University, prepared today to take over the football reins at UCLA—one of the nation's stormiest grid centers.

Sanders, head coach at Vanderbilt since 1940, was named to the UCLA post last night and then sweated it out while Vandy officials reportedly made him a lucrative counter-offer, and finally released him from the remaining four years of his contract.

It was reliably reported that Sanders moves west on a three-year contract calling for no less than $15,000 a year.

Sanders, 34-year-old coach of the longest coaching jobs in the nation. Up and coming UCLA went to the Rose Bowl in 1942 under Babe Horral, who fired him in 1945, went to the Rose Bowl again Jan. 1, 1947, under Bert La Brucherie, who resigned under pressure last month.

The coast conference, stepping out to recover glimmering prestige, is a tough league to break into and keep up with. La Brucherie, after winning 10 straight in his second season, won three and lost seven last year.

Sanders brings with him a reputation as one of the southeast's top coaches and a record of eight triumphs, two losses and a tie in 1948. He was selected for the post over a crack field which athletics director William Johns said included 41 applicants.

The new Bruin head man, who also gives up his post as Vanderbilt athletic director, will arrive via air from Nashville next week to map out spring practice plans. It was reported that three members of his Commodore coaching staff—Tommy Prothro, Jim Meyers and Mike Baltisroth—will come with Sanders to the UCLA staff. La Brucherie's assistants also left in the general housecleaning.

Sanders played quarterback under the late Dan McGugin at Vanderbilt in the 1920s and his coach once tagged him as "one of the brainiest players I've ever known."

His subsequent record as Vandy head coach brought him "coach of the year" honors in the South-Atlantic Conference in both 1947 and 1948.
