

Science Fair To Include Work Of Six Schools

The Seminole County Science Fair scheduled Thursday and Friday in the Bill Fleming Memorial Gym at Seminole High School will include entries from the high school, Sanford Junior High, Lyman High and Junior High and Oviedo High and Junior High Schools.

The fair will be open to the public from 8 p. m. to 8 p. m. Thursday and from 8:30 a. m. to 8 p. m. Friday. At 8 p. m. an awards ceremony will take place and all students with entries are urged to be present.

Awards of merit will be given entries in all classifications as determined by the judges. There will be a first, second and third award in the biological sciences and the physical sciences on both the junior high and senior high levels.

Other awards will be given by local organizations in the county to projects in their field of interest.

What is a Science Fair? Although most people have a pretty good idea, here is a more exact definition.

"A science fair is a collection of exhibits, each of which is designed to show a biological, chemical, engineering, mathematical or physical principle, a laboratory or other procedure, or an industrial development.

"It is a form of activity on the part of the junior high and high school students to show what they can do in sciences. The exhibit may be prepared by an individual or by two persons, but not more than two unless it is a classroom project for display only."

The purpose of a science fair is to offer opportunity for the display of scientific talent and to provide recognition of this talent.

To motivate, encourage and inspire in students and teachers the desire for scientific experimentation and discovery;

To encourage talented youths to enter scientific careers;

To focus attention on science and stimulate the student, the teacher and the community interest.

CHEMISTRY TEACHER, PAUL HICKSON and Jaycee President John Alexander, examine a Science Fair project entry by Allison Blake, entitled, "The Crystal Field Theory." The fair will be held at Seminole High Thursday and Friday.

Methodist Men Attend Class At Thornton Home

Twenty-nine members of the Brotherhood Class of the First Methodist Church met Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Thornton on W. First St. for their regular Sunday School hour.

The host is a member of the class but is unable to attend weekly meetings at the church because of ill health.

The group of men is well known for singing of old Methodist Hymns and Sunday members held a regular song fest led by Dr. H. W. Rucker and Mrs. Burke Steele, class pianist.

Rev. W. E. Timms taught the lesson.

Shell Collectors Invited To Club

The Central Florida Shell Club, organized at the Central Florida Museum March 14, will meet at the museum on the second Tuesday of each month at 7:45 p. m.

All persons of the area who are interested in shell collecting or topics related to oceanography are invited to join the group.

TWO THRILLED BOYS HAPPILY HOLDING SACKS containing 50 silver dollars each, were the proud winners of the second and third prizes at Kingswood opening. Richard Benton, left, a ninth grade student at Seminole High, says he will save his $50 for the present. Steve Stankiewicz, a neighbor of Richard, and a student at All Souls School, plans to use part of his money to finance his summer camp trip with Boy Scout Troop 548.

3,000 Participate In Kingswood Event

An estimated 3,000 people attended the model home opening of Kingswood Builders in Sunland Estates Sunday. Model homes were open for inspection and one was furnished for the viewers by Berry's Warehouse furniture and one by Kingswood Builders themselves.

Five homes, all different styles and floor plans, were displayed for the prospective home owners, who crowded through the homes all afternoon.

Promptly at 5:30 p. m. the builders, Billy Brumley, Art Harris and Byron Leach began drawing the names out of a revolving cage for the awarding of 1,000 silver dollars to children under 18 who attended with their parents.

There were 357 individual awards totalling $1,028 and although many were there to receive their money when their name was drawn, the names of the other winners are published in the Kingswood ad in the Her-

Liz Taylor, Lancaster Lead Oscar Parade

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UPI)—Elizabeth Taylor, beset by tragedy and scandal in recent years, stood with her golden Oscar today at the pinnacle of her career—the best actress of 1960.

The dark-haired beauty won the coveted award for her role of a footloose lady in "Butterfield 8." But her acceptance of the statuette Monday night at the 33rd annual Academy Awards presentation was as dramatic a moment as any she had been called upon to play in the movies.

Leaving a sickbed to attend her triumphant hour, Miss Taylor was accompanied by husband Eddie Fisher and her physician. She is still recovering from a near-fatal attack of pneumonia suffered last month in London.

Muscular Burt Lancaster won the best actor award for his performance as the hell-raising preacher in "Elmer Gantry."

After receiving the award Lancaster said, "Next year I hope to co-star with Liz in 'A Child Is Waiting,' about retarded children. Liz says she wants to do it very much."

Shirley Jones won the best supporting actress award for her portrayal of a prostitute in "Elmer Gantry." She was offered the role by Lancaster after a succession of good-girl roles in musicals.

Bearded Peter Ustinov, the English character actor, ran off with the best supporting performance award. He played a roguish "Spartacus" who ran a school for gladiators.

Best picture voted by the Academy was "The Apartment."

All four winners in the acting categories were first-timers. Billy Wilder accepted three awards—best director, best original screenplay with L. A. L. Diamond and the producers award for best picture, all for "The Apartment."

All the top winners were involved in sexuality and sex. Miss Taylor played a girl of easy virtue with many lovers. Lancaster portrayed a preacher who specialized in seducing women. Miss Jones was an out-and-out prostitute, and Ustinov's role called for him to provide girls for the gladiators.

"The Apartment" was a study in loose morals with co-star Jack Lemmon providing his living quarters as a trysting place for his bosses.

The two-hour, ten-minute Oscar show was nationally telecast with

TAYLOR

Bob Hope as master of ceremonies as a crowd of more than 5,000 persons crowded Santa Monica Civic Auditorium. Another 5,000 movie fans stood outside in the fog-shrouded evening to cheer their favorites.

The dramatic moment was the presentation of a special award to Gary Cooper for his "many contributions to the motion picture industry."

The actor was at home, ill. His friend, Jimmy Stewart, accepted the Oscar on his behalf and was almost overcome with emotion as he said, "Coop, we're very, very proud of you. All of us are tremendously proud."

Miss Taylor appeared tired, showing the strain of her illness. She was pale, and circles rimmed her violet-blue eyes. She spent 15 minutes in the ladies room before she was able to take her seat in the auditorium.

She was helped to the stage by Fisher, who turned to kiss his wife before she limped to the rostrum to accept the Oscar from Yul Brynner.

In her brief acceptance speech she whispered, "I really don't know how to express my gratitude for this, after everything. I guess all I can say is thank you. Thank you with all my heart."

City May Invoke Policy To Close Play Facilities

The City of Sanford may invoke a policy closing down the Civic Center and all recreation facilities in Sanford if any attempt is made to desegregate any recreational facility by Negroes. A check by the Herald today of Negroes who signed a petition Monday asking for desegregation, revealed that they plan to go through with their threat of filing a suit in District Court in Orlando in 10 days unless "full desegregation is ordered by the city."

City Manager W. E. Knowles declined to comment on whether the City Commission will discuss this issue Monday night. He also declined comment on whether the board will order the closing of all facilities. However, the city has a policy that if any mixing is attempted all facilities will be closed. Of the 38 Negroes who signed the petition, which asks the city specifically to integrate all parks, playgrounds and recreation facilities, 14 were pastors, one a doctor and eight non residents of the city.

The Herald contacted nine of the signers this morning and all refused to say who circulated the petition except that "they meant business."

One said "They just slipped it under the door and I signed it."

Foster Home Plan Studied, But Fund Lack Delays It

County Commissioners Tuesday afternoon agreed on the need to establish a foster home program for dependent children in the county but admitted that there was not enough funds in the current budget to get the program off the ground in the immediate future. Cost of the program is expected to be approximately $15,000 and the Commission agreed to consider adopting the state child welfare program, in late summer or during the next fiscal year.

Mrs. Anne Curwright, district director of public welfare from Winter Park, explained the program and said that there is an "immediate need for $15,000 per year for the cost of care of the children. That sum would pay for smaller and foster homes, clothing, school expenses and medical care. This amount would provide care for about 25 youngsters, Miss Curwright said. Miss Curwright said that 21 counties are now participating with the state under a foster home plan. Funds for the care of the children are maintained on a joint state, federal and local basis.

Lakeland Accident Kills Milton Howell

Milton Howell, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Howell Jr., former Lake Mary residents, was killed Wednesday in Lakeland when struck by a car while riding a bicycle near his home. American Pilot Downed, Castro Says

United Press International Premier Fidel Castro's government claimed its forces shot down four rebel planes on a bombing mission over a government militia mobilization area in Matanzas Province today, including one with a "U. S. pilot" aboard.

A communique broadcast over the emergency national radio network identified the American pilot as Leo Francis Burley or Burney, Boston, Mass. The communique said the planes bombed the "civilian population" in the area of the former U. S.-owned Australia sugar mill in Matanzas Province. This area previously has been identified in Castro regime broadcasts as a mobilization area for his militia.

The broadcast claimed the Soviet armed intervention in Cuba. The United States was firmly pledged today to block any Soviet armed intervention in Cuba. President Kennedy warned Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev Tuesday night this country would act immediately to hurl back any "military intervention by outside force."

The president's sternly worded note also cautioned Russia against using the Cuban situation as a pretext "to inflame other areas of the world." Kennedy said this would be "dangerous to world peace."

The American note, handed to Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov at the State Department, was a reply to a message from Khrushchev asking Kennedy "to put an end to the aggression against the republic of Cuba."

The claim of downing the four liberation force aircraft came at mid-morning. During the night Castro turned loose a wave of terror throughout Cuba in an effort to keep the invasion from setting off an internal uprising. Two Americans and seven Cubans were executed by firing squads, and there were mass arrests of Cubans, U. S. citizens and other foreign nationals.

Castro firing squads executed two Americans—Angus McNair of Coral Gables, Fla., and Howard Anderson of Yakima, Wash. In addition, there were mass arrests of Cubans, U. S. citizens and other foreign nationals.

The Cuban Revolutionary Council said today its invading forces have "completed the planned first phase of their military operation in the south of Cuba" and linked up with guerrilla groups in the Escambray Mountains. The Castro regime boasted that the invasion force in south-central Cuba would be totally wiped out in "a matter of hours."

Thousands of Communist rioters stoned the U. S. legation in the Bulgarian capital of Sofia today, smashing windows and smearing walls with ink in protest against the invasion of Cuba.

The outbreak was part of a worldwide wave of anti-American violence fostered by the Communists. It recalled the anti-Belgian campaign organized after the death of Congolese Patrice Lumumba.

Altamonte Road Change Request Is Postponed

The County Commission Tuesday afternoon authorized County Engineer Carlton Bilas to tell the State Road Dept. to hold off any changes in the road classification of Maitland Ave. in Altamonte Springs from a rural to village road.

Bilas told the Commission that SRD engineers estimate that the change will involve an additional expenditure of $100,000. At the same time, the board authorized Chairman J. C. Hutchison to set up a meeting with the Altamonte Springs town council "to explain the situation."

Altamonte officials asked that the road be changed to eliminate open ditches on SR 427 (Maitland Ave.) to the city limits. The high cost involves constructing sidewalks, curbs and underground drainage.

Stocks Slide

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks extended Tuesday's price slide at the opening today, concern over developments in Cuba triggering further selling. Foreign developments are expected to dominate proceedings for a time longer although business continues to show signs of steady improvements.

Leadership, Cooperation Called County's Needs

Strong leadership, community cooperation and comprehensive planning are what Seminole County needs, a panel of officials told the Seminole County Board of Realtors at its meeting Tuesday night.

Sanford City Manager W. E. Knowles urged "an immediate end of county district politics" and said strong, constructive leadership is the county's prime need.

Participating with Knowles on the panel were District 3 County Commissioner James P. Avery, Chamber of Commerce Manager John Krider and Zoning Director Robert Brown.

All four agreed that leadership, working together and comprehensive planning were the basic ingredients for making Seminole County among the best in the state.

Knowles said that Seminole County is growing at a rapid rate and cited figures that by 1980 the population is predicted to hit the 90,000 mark in the county and 42,000 in Sanford.

"This requires planning over the entire county and a need for business efficiency and continuity," Knowles said.

Krider called for cooperative efforts by the entire county "even though we differ in our opinions."

He said that once the proposed Sanford-Titusville Canal becomes a reality "we need never worry about our economy." He added that a meeting set for May 4 of the Florida Waterways Committee will help decide the fate of the canal.

Both Avery and Brown stress the merits of the proposed county code legislation now before the legislature.

Brown said with the county code "we can enlarge our scope," while Avery pointed out that "we can put into effect local laws without waiting for the legislature every two years."

"It would mean putting the government back in the hands of the people," Avery said.

The four were barraged with questions ranging from home rule to tax millage. Avery called home rule a "monster" and said that many people are confusing it with the county code.

Here's What Improvement Group Is Talking About

F. E. Roumillat Jr., chairman of the Downtown Improvement Committee, wrote the following editorial for distribution among Seminole County residents receiving the Chamber of Commerce Sem-gram. It gives a graphic picture of what is being done and what is being attempted by the committee.

For sometime there has been growing concern among downtown business firms over the appearance of the main business section of Seminole County's major city... Sanford. There have been vacated buildings, empty storerooms filled with trash, and other conditions that have greatly detracted from the general appearance of Sanford's principal shopping center.

This problem is not peculiar to Sanford... It is experienced by most cities the age of ours. Either stores and buildings are brought up to modern standards, or there is a gradual withdrawal of development and trade to outlying shopping centers. And once shopping patterns are established, they are very difficult to change. The Downtown Improvement Committee, therefore, was organized to evaluate our problem and do something about it as quickly as possible.

Our first meetings revealed that we had taken on quite a project, and yet the picture held wonderful encouragement in our two most outstanding commercial buildings... First Federal Savings & Loan Association, and Florida State Bank. These, we felt, provided the much needed impetus to complete what we believe should become a community endeavor.

We have one of the most beautiful natural settings in Florida. Now all we need is the wholehearted cooperation of local business men and government to prevent a tendency to blight from spreading, and to make the most of what we already have.

Progress made this past year is interesting. In addition to our two new bank buildings, one of the most hopeful signs is the recent purchase of the old Hill Hardware building and the plans now underway by the new owner, Maugel Jacobson, for modernizing the structure. A request for help by our Committee to Atlantic Coast Line President, Mr. Tom Rice, brought his immediate response. The office portion of the old ACL freight depot has already been torn down, and the area facing the street will be beautified.

The Sanford Herald has a fine new facade which greatly enhances the entire block. Sline Machine is freshening up with a paint job. Firestone Stores is preparing the lot at First and French for a brand new home. Sanford Shoe Center's remodeled store on W. First follows the trend to develop that end of the main thoroughfare. George's First Street Tavern has been torn down and is being replaced with a new building. Senkarik Glass & Paint Company's purchase and renovation of the old Buick place has given a new look to the second block of S. Magnolia. The Sanford Atlantic Bank's drive-in eliminates an unsightly alley. Western Auto's new warehouse gives a boost to Commercial Ave. The Florida State Employment office is now quartered in attractive offices at 2nd and French built and financed by local business men. (The former F.S.E. location, nicely remodeled, is now the home of Miller Auto Parts). Hill Lumber and Hardware Company has made changes which help the Third Street area.

Yet there is still much to be done before downtown Sanford wholly reflects the progressive spirit of those who have courageously faced the future and done something about it. Crumbling and antiquated buildings with sagging overhangs and peeling paint still hold us back. We have looked at them so long that we have been lulled into a state of foolish complacency. This receives a serious jolt when some outside individual or firm, looking for a central Florida location, is greatly disturbed by the apparent lack of a coordinated plan to remedy the situation.

How can you help? Look at your own place of business objectively, as if you had never seen it before. If an honest and unbiased appraisal leaves you pleased, then what about the place next door? Do you like it? Does it help your business?

The Downtown Improvement Committee must have the complete cooperation of the City Commission and our fellow businessmen; without this unity the program will fail... just as all other unsupported efforts fail. Won't you help us finish the job? Remember, it is OUR future we are talking about.

No Assurance Given On Health Program Funds

The County Commission refused to give the county health director any "assurances" that he will get additional monies during the next fiscal year even if it means cutting down on the department's efficiency.

Dr. Clyde Brothers appeared before the commission Tuesday afternoon to ask for additional funds now out of the general fund to help pay the utility bill for the new health center.

Brothers had reported earlier that if he could not get the funds it would mean a curtailment of services. Brothers explained that without necessary funds he would have to drop one nurse from the department.

"We are understaffed now and not doing as much as we should in comparison with other health departments over the state," Brothers said.

Clerk Arthur Beckwith Jr. revealed that there was not enough money in the budget to handle the extra expense. "Maybe we can get along now, but I need some assurance that there will be additional money next year," the doctor said.

"We can't give any promises and certainly no assurances," Commissioner James Avery said. In other business during the meeting:

County Engineer Carlton Bilas asked for an engineering assistant and was authorized to make a full study of the matter; District 4 Commissioner Vernon Dunn was authorized to make a study of publishing all tax reductions on the tax roll so residents can realize the full benefits of the recent valuation;

The board members agreed to file a joint application with Orange County on participating in the federal government's watershed program act.

Eichmann 'Shocked' By Orders To Kill Jews

Tape Tells Of Murders

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Adolf Eichmann's voice boomed through the courtroom today, telling how shocked he was when he first got orders to exterminate the Jews.

A tape recording made when he was flown to Israel after being kidnapped in Argentina was played by the prosecution at the trial of the man accused of the mass murder of 6 million Jews.

Eichmann, earphones clamped on his head, sat impassively in his bullet-proof glass cage as his own voice beat on his ears.

At the start of the statement he seemed bent on disavowing the horror against Jews. He depicted himself as a man who could not stand violence or bloodshed.

He said he never could have been a doctor because he was too sensitive to suffering. When the Jewish extermination program was first suggested he said: "The breath went right out of me."

Although the tape recording was played by the prosecution, the defense also was making use of it. The opening words of Eichmann's statement clearly pointed the line his lawyers are taking—that he was a minor official forced by orders from above to commit acts against his conscience.

When the court opened today, Capt. Avner Lees of the Israeli police was on the stand. He testified he interviewed Eichmann after he was brought to Israel and that the prisoner agreed to make a statement.

Lees said Eichmann was warned that his own words might be used against him but wanted to go ahead anyway. Then, one by one, Lees played excerpts of Eichmann's statement on a tape recorder. They were in German and each was translated into Hebrew, the court's official language.

GOVERNOR FARRIS Bryant presents to Clyde Atkins, Miami; president of The Florida Bar, an official proclamation designating May 1 as LAW DAY, USA, in Florida. In his proclamation, the Governor called for renewed faith in the rule of law as the "brightest hope for achieving peace in a troubled and anxious world." Florida lawyers will join other groups in planning Law Day observances as part of a nationwide rededication to the principles of liberty under law.

U.S. To Protest Red Embassy Attack

MOSCOW (UPI) — U. S. Charge d'Affaires Edward Freers said he would probably protest to the Soviet government today against Tuesday's pro-Castro attack on the U. S. Embassy.

Freers is in charge of the embassy while Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson is vacationing in Germany.

Observers here said Tuesday's outbreak was "moderate" in comparison with the rally held outside the embassy in 1946 to protest the landing of U. S. Marines in Lebanon.

"Well, I am glad it's over-thank heaven," said Mrs. William Morrill, an embassy wife from Washington, as the embassy staff began to sweep out broken window glass, bottles and rocks and to tidy up apartments and offices.

This correspondent was in the embassy building at the time of the demonstration and was narrowly missed by a rock flung through a window.

At the height of the six-hour demonstration by thousands of Russians, embassy wives with small children remained sheltered in the embassy away from flying glass.

Two casualties were reported, both Soviet policemen hit by flying rocks.

After approximately 12,000 demonstrators marched by the embassy waving signs, mounted police, internal security troops and foot police directed by plainclothesmen pushed the shouting crowd away from the embassy.

When four street-cleaning trucks moved in to clear away the litter of paper and rocks, the demonstration was officially ended.

Members of the DeBary Duplicate Bridge Club were advised at their weekly session Tuesday that next week's play will be held at the Community Center at 1 p. m. on April 22. The following week, play will return to the Tuesday date.

Winners of this week's play, with nine tables in action were: NE, first, Mrs. Robert Nichols and Miss Ethel Johnson; second, Mr. and Mrs. H. Y. Middleton; third, Mrs. F. A. Austin and Mrs. R. W. Ackerman; fourth, Mrs. Edwin Wichter and Mrs. G. N. Lacey.

EW, first, F. R. Froelich and Mrs. Minnie Heitman; second, Howard Thompson and Ray Thengert; third, Mrs. J. E. Baker and Mrs. Frances Hendley; fourth, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Mehan.

Thornton Smith, local president, who invites all residents to attend, says the meeting also will include a refreshment and entertainment period.

Former Labor Boss Wins GOP Bid In New Jersey

NEWARK, N. J. (UPI)—Former Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell swept to the Republican gubernatorial nomination today on a wave of personal popularity that could carry the GOP back into executive power in New Jersey for the first time in eight years.

National Republican leaders were jubilant over Mitchell's 48,000-vote victory over two strong opponents in his first try at an elective office. Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon immediately offered his campaign services and Mitchell indicated that former President Eisenhower also would campaign in his behalf this fall.

Mitchell gave credit to "Eisenhower Republicanism" for his win. He said the vote showed the American people were still willing to buy the "progressive, forward look that characterized the Eisenhower years."

Mitchell, who had little organizational support, beat off a determined bid by State Sen. Walter H. Jones and Wayne Dumont. In the November showdown he faces former Superior Court Judge Richard J. Hughes, who won the Democratic nomination overwhelmingly.

With 4,307 of 4,393 election districts reported, Mitchell had 200,677 votes to 158,504 for Jones and 98,021 for Dumont. Hughes trailed Walden R. Sheets, Essex County supervisor, by a vote of 210,815 to 17,220 with 4,131 districts reported.

At Least U.S. Beating Reds On Styles

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The makers of "Playtex, the living bra," put on a demonstration here that left me with mixed emotions — one part amazement and two parts disappointment.

The two parts represent my reaction when I discovered that the demonstration was not uplifting in the way that one might expect from the Playtex people.

The other part came when I learned that they have taken the know-how gained from the manufacture of foundation garments and applied it to the creation of coveralls for astronauts.

In other words, to cease being coy about it, this was a demonstration of a new space suit that the International Latex Corp. has developed for the Air Force.

According to spokesmen for the firm, the space suit is the most advanced stratosphere costume yet designed in this country and may be more stylish than anything the Russians have conceived.

One big advantage is the ease with which it can be put on and taken off. An astronaut can wiggle into the suit in about the time it takes for an over-curious lady to sheath herself in a Playtex girdle.

Another feature of the space suit is its mobility. It permits the spaceman to move around with as much freedom as . . . well, I won't use that comparison again.

Up to now, most space suits have been custom tailored to fit a specific astronaut. The Playtex people claim their creation will make it possible to transfer space suits to the ready-to-wear department.

They figure that 90 per cent of our future astronauts can be outfitted from a basic stock of just four sizes. The other 10 per cent presumably will have to go to the alteration department.

It was an interesting demonstration but not as entertaining as the conversation I had with a taxi driver who picked me up after it was over.

On Monday night, the driver said, a couple of his passengers turned out to be gay blades, strangers in town, who asked to be taken some place where they might meet some girls.

Constitution Hall, scene of this week's convention of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Dr. A. N. Vyasovsky will speak on "Radio Astronomy" at the p.m. meeting Friday of the Astronomy Club at the Central Florida Museum.

After the talk, a naked-eye observation session, under direction of Ernest Bedell, will be held if the weather permits. The 10 brightest stars at this time will be pointed out and identified.

All club members and museum members are invited to attend sessions free of charge. Edward Sienko, acting chairman of the groups, reports.

Storm Signals

Talk of controlling the weather has been growing increasingly commonplace. In the context of today's many scientific miracles, perhaps only a foolish man would lift a questioning eyebrow.

Whatever the real prospects for this may be, it does seem, however, that President Kennedy has enough to do in this spring of 1961 without grabbing up Sen. Kenneth Keating's suggestion for a stepped-up program of weather control.

Kennedy already has a "must" list of proposals long enough to reach from the White House to Capitol Hill. Most observers feel he will be doing well this year if he can control the stormy political weather that threatens.

Dispersing the clouds above seems like a project that could be deferred at least until this more earthly chore is handled.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Here's a plan that will add zest and enthusiasm to your church, whether it be Catholic, Jewish or Protestant. It benefits the children greatly. It attracts new members more easily. And it helps pay off the church mortgage, too.

CASE H-463: Mabel G., aged 30, is a very active worker in her church.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "we have two problems in our area. First, there are many people within a mile of our church who do not belong to any denomination so how can we attract them?"

"Second, we have built an Educational Hall and have a debt of over $50,000 on it, so can you suggest ways to raise money?"

In most of our large cities, the public kindergartens are overcrowded. Besides, they don't admit children under 5 years.

But there are usually scores of youngsters in every church area who are below 5 and should be in a nursery school.

If you church women would conduct a nursery school in the primary department of your Educational Building, you could raise more money, benefit the children, and attract many new church members.

It is not too great a burden on the women if they will donate one day or even half a day a week to help look after the children.

If you have just 15 active volunteers, then 3 of you women need be on duty at the Nursery School only one day per week.

It is well to have an ex-leader or talented woman as the head, to be in charge every day. You could pay her a modest sum for her duties, while the rest of you volunteers donate your time.

Charge a nominal fee, which may range from 50c to $1.00 per day for each child. You can easily attract 4000 per month via this tuition.

But the money raised is negligible compared to the other benefits to the children of the area. Youngsters need playmates, but many "only" children are leading lonely lives in city apartments because of lack of a nursery school. Nursery school playmates would stimulate them mentally as well as socially.

Besides, it is good for the mothers to be free from the constant companionship of their child. And a lot of working mothers need a good place to leave their child.

We find that children who have the benefit of Nursery Schools, fit into the public schools much more readily.

And they are not so shy or cry babyish at the age of 3 or 4. They also pay better attention when introduced to reading, arithmetic and other classroom subjects of the public school.

"And a little child shall lead them," Jesus uttered.

That is an excellent formula for bringing non-members into your local church.

For when their youngsters attend your nursery school, the parents begin to feel it is "their" church.

Later, when the children recite verses or sing songs or have "open house," the parents usually attend.

For parents are likely to follow their children.

Get the children into your church, as by the weekday nursery school, and you will find it much easier to recruit those same parents as members.

The 15 or 20 volunteer women who serve as rotating teachers will also benefit by having their attention taken of their own "innards" as they approach 40 and thus their own mental hygiene will be better, too.

So open your churches to the Nursery School needs of your neighborhood and everybody concerned will benefit wonderfully.

The trouble with lots of people is the troubles they mean about to their friends.

Celery crunching should be a good TV sound effect for elephants going through the jungle.

Dropping in on people is a friendly gesture that usually gums up the evening plans of the other people.

Lean on your laurels too long and they'll let you down.

ROME—To maintain one's membership, even an honorary one, in the Baseball Writers' Association of America, one is required to select the order of finish in both major leagues no later than two weeks after the season opens.

No one has ever made a 100 per cent correct forecast, not even the Chicago baseball writer of years ago who waited until mid-September to file his prophecy. This is not to be wondered at, for a statistician once figured out that the odds against accurate forecasts are 1 in 1,323,702,400.

Even those odds would have to be lengthened this year because the American League has increased its membership from eight to ten teams with the admittance of the Minnesota Twins and the Los Angeles Angels. The proper odds now are about 1,323,901,030.

The only hope of beating such odds as these is to throw the form book out the window with a fast overhead motion, and rely entirely on hunches, superstitions, personal bias, possible miracles, and possibly a casual study of the tide tables of the Bay of Fundy.

Certainly there is no logical reason for my selection of the Los Angeles Angels to win the American League pennant, but I like the Angels just the same. I like the idea of their playing in Wrigley Field, which seats only 20,500, and is a cozy, intimate park.

Ballplayers are highly emotional creatures and feed off enthusiasm as much as they do chewing tobacco. In Wrigley Field the fans will be close to the players—indeed a fan in any one of certain boxes can cover first or third base in a pinch—and this closeness is bound to give the players a lift.

The Angels team is made up of cast-offs, and this is going to help them. Baseball has no bury like that of a scorned cast-off, as the old saying goes. Or should go, anyway. I like the adventurous spirit of the Angels.

TAMPA—The FBI will bring George (Mickey) Green, 34 here to face charges of helping in the $441,990 burglary of the Rensselaer Armored Car Service vault last December.

The FBI announced Monday night Green was charged while entering a U. S. commissioner set his bond at $10,000. He was accused of aiding and abetting the crime.

Green, of Tampa, met with Jose Lino Alvarez, 42, former Rensselaer armored car driver, prior to the theft for purposes of planning the operation, the FBI charged.

Alvarez and Hubert Vernon Hardin, 42, of Jacksonville, were charged last January with stealing the money.

The FBI said a station wagon which Green bought under an assumed name was found abandoned following the burglary and money bags taken in the vault theft.

The old 5-5 conference had about 150 people around the table by the time all the military, scientific and political advisers got together for a plenary session.

A 5-5-5 commission might draw over 200 experts and be so big it would be really unworkable. Also, the Western powers would be in a decided minority and the chances that the neutrals might combine with the Communies to support GCD would be tremendously increased.

As to how long disarmament negotiations will have to drag on, the present reading is that it will take considerably more time to find out whether the Russians are really sincere about wanting disarmament, or whether they're just propagandizing.

From American allied points of view, this is more than a propaganda battle. There are compelling reasons for positive action. The chances for a nuclear accident are greater than ever before. The need to relieve tension and set up a peaceful society is the incentive for greater brain cudgeling in the State Department's new Disarmament Administration.

This, McCloy maintains, is not "general and complete disarmament," which assumes the existence of a peaceful society. As long as it doesn't exist, an effectively armed police force stronger than the combatants will be required to keep order.

Russia's Khrushchev first proposed general and complete disarmament—"GCD" as it's now known to the trade—when he spoke before the UN General Assembly in New York, September 1959. Communist propaganda has been plugging this theme ever since, because it sounds good.

Khrushchev made his last pass at it in a speech to a farm audience in Siberia on the day that American British-Russian test ban talks were resumed in Geneva. He said then that "We will accept any conditions of control over disarmament if our disarmament proposals are accepted."

This bait has hooked a lot of glib neutrals who think that controls over international disarmament can be set up as easily as signing a piece of paper in a high-dollar palace.

Beating down this glib generalization is one of the principal tasks in removing roadblocks to progress on genuine disarmament under previously agreed-to specific controls.

U. S. Ambassador to the UN Adlai Stevenson and Russian Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko have tentatively agreed that disarmament talks can be resumed before the next General Assembly in September. But there are still a lot of details to be worked out.

One new concession the Russians want is an enlarged disarmament commission. The last one had representatives from five Western and five Communist nations. The Russians have been proposing to add delegates from five neutral nations.

As to how long disarmament negotiations will have to drag on, the present reading is that it will take considerably more time to find out whether the Russians are really sincere about wanting disarmament, or whether they're just propagandizing.

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—John J. McCloy, head of the new U. S. Disarmament Administration, uses an analogy from the old frontier days to argue that "general and complete disarmament" as proposed by Soviet Russia is a complete fraud.

In the days when cattlemen and sheepmen carried guns, nothing delighted them more than to come to town on Saturday night and shoot up the place—or each other.

The real objectors were the bartenders who didn't like to have their bottles and expensive mirrors busted by stray bullets. The preventive was disarmament.

Persuading the cattlemen and sheepmen to park their guns outside was effective, however, only when there were armed sheriffs around to enforce the law and lock up anyone who didn't want to keep the peace.

This, McCloy maintains, is not "general and complete disarmament," which assumes the existence of a peaceful society. As long as it doesn't exist, an effectively armed police force stronger than the combatants will be required to keep order.

Political Notebook

It has been expanded to about 80—double the former planning staff size. For its elaborate job of research, the Disarmament Administration is relying heavily on panels of political and exact scientists, engineers and military experts.

For instance, one of the fields on which increased attention is being focused is the possibility of settling disputes by other means than the force of arms. If a substitute for war could be found through amendment of the United Nations Charter or establishment of a more effective World Court, the need for military power could be diminished and the prospects for disarmament improved.

Your Pocketbook

As I write this, the prices of many stocks traded on the nation's stock exchanges are at all-time highs. The number of shares being bought and sold each day regularly come close to all-time highs.

At the same time, some 5½ million of us are jobless. Many of the unemployed have not worked for two years. Many are uncertain as to when and at what level the settlement will come.

Many retailers will tell you their customers are in a cautious frame of mind. This makes them cautious when it comes to filling their shelves. Among manufacturers of both durable and nondurable goods, only a select number are in an expansionist mood.

What do these contrary economic facts mean to you? Are the boom on Wall St. and the poverty in some areas of the economy signals for positive action by you? Some people use these facts to draw parallels between our economy and that of the 1929 era. But today we are a bigger, wiser, richer nation.

We have built-in stabilizers—Social Security, unemployment compensation, pension fund money—the likes of which were unknown 30 years ago. While during this period our population has increased, some 200 million dollars we have to spend—per capita spendable income—is up 322 per cent.

There is just much, much more of everything—people, jobs, people who want jobs and people with money to spend. Added to this we have whole nations with populations larger than ours looking to us for aid.

There are almost six times as many shares of stock for sale, just on the New York Stock Exchange, as there were in 1929 and many, many more shares on the over-the-counter markets where stock trading today is most feverish.

There are six times as many shareowners today as there were in 1929 and today institutions—banks, insurance companies, pension and mutual funds—have become more important stock owners.

ers accounting for about one fourth of all New York Stock Exchange trading.

Does this booming market mean that you should jump on the bandwagon if you have never owned stocks before? "No," scream the Wall Streeters to whom I posed this question. They advise that you study the market and watch for it to settle. (They offer no timetable as to when and at what level the settlement will come.)

Does this booming market mean that jobs will soon be plentiful? "No," scream the authorities on this score. They say that jobs for the unskilled will never be plentiful, that there is tremendous need for retraining to meet the requirements of our changed industrial tempo.

If ever there was a time for caution it is now. Three months hence the story may change.

Commission Asks Visitor Funds

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Development Commission Chairman Wendell Jarrard said Monday his agency needs $30,000 a year to entertain industrial prospects. Jarrard said he would ask the Legislature to include an expense account for that figure in his $7,929,128 budget request. The budget figure is $363,000 higher than that recommended by Gov. Farris Bryant and the Budget Commission.

COME SEE VALIANT

The money you save can be your own!

At first glance, Valiant hardly looks like the kind of car that you could save money on. Classic styling, 101 horsepower, roomy trunk, and lots of other features you normally associate with expensive cars. You get them at no extra cost in Valiant. So you save money. Then, there's the fact that 1961 Valiant prices start $100 lower than last year's models. So you save money! So come see Valiant—soon!

Sanford school bus drivers and their families, along with school board officials were guests Saturday at a fish fry at the home of Herbert Muse of the Welviva River.

Fleet Reserve To Sponsor Ship

At a recent meeting, the Fleet Reserve Association, Branch No. 14 of Sanford, voted to sponsor a Sea Scout ship.

The Sea Exploring, oldest branch of the exploring program of the Boy Scouts of America, is centered on the idea of young men planning and operating their own program to the full extent of their ability.

The young men, in a sea exploring ship, operate through crews and committees. In the planning of programs, each Sea Scout is considered and has a voice in the planning of the units programing and activities. An informal meeting will be held open to the public on April 23, at 7:30 p. m. in the Fleet Reserve Building, 218 Espanola Blvd., to discuss the objectives and future of the ship and to recruit prospective young men.

The age requirements for this exploring program are, between the ages of 14 (if in the ninth grade), 15 regardless of grade and 18 years of age. Young men in the above age group and their parents interested in a program of this nature are extended a cordial invitation to attend. Principal guests will be; Mayor J. H. Baker, Mr. H. R. Sundvall, president of the Fleet Reserve Assn., Capt. R. W. Snye, commanding officer, NAS Sanford, Mr. Jim Hay, district commissioner of the Boy Scouts of America, Tom Albert, field executive, of the B.S.A., and L. C. Riley, skipper (adult adviser) of the newly forming ship.

Fires Heavy In Seminole

Jerry Laws, county forest ranger, states that there have been 125 wood fires in Seminole County since the first of January, which burned over 1,322 acres of timberland.

Most of the fires were due to careless burning of trash and brush during periods of high winds. Saturday the rangers fought a 100 acre fire off Hwy 44, near Geneva.

Textile Quotas Urged By Vinson

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Carl Vinson (D-Ga.), warned President Kennedy today that if he doesn't impose quotas on textile imports he could endanger the regional trade act.

Vinson pointed out that the act expires next year and the bill to extend it must be approved by Congress.

"Unless quotas are imposed this will provide the necessary protection to the textile industry," Vinson said. "I think I can safely predict that at least some of the members who voted to extend the act in 1949 will have second thoughts."

Picnic Planned As Farewell

The Chuluota Retired Folks Club has planned a farewell picnic for members who return to their homes in the north for the summer.

For this occasion, all who attend should bring, in addition to a covered dish, their own bread and butter and hot or cold drink. The food committee of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Richardson, Mrs. Elizabeth Duty and Mrs. Ruth Steppa will arrange only for the handling of pot-luck dishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Richardson and Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Boswell, picnic committee members, have announced that all planning to take part should meet at the Chuluota Community House before 3 p.m. Thursday. The trip to picnic grounds in Orange County will be made in a minimum of cars.

Mr. and Mrs. Jillian Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Matheson and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Fletcher and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dossey and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Barbour Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Ed Barbour Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Corson and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Tindel and sons, Mr. and Mrs. M. Mrs. H. M. Gleason Is Circle Hostess

Mrs. H. M. Gleason was hostess for Circle 1 of the U. P. W. of the Community Presbyterian Church of Lake Mary at a meeting held at her home, April 11.

Mrs. Richard E. Keogh read the devotional. After a short business meeting, Mrs. James M. Thompson conducted the study group on chapter three of the book "In Him Was Life." Refreshments of ice cream, Hawaiian punch and cookies were served following the program by Mrs. Gleason and Mrs. Keogh.

Members present were Virginia Anderson, Oia Cochran, Blanche Crest, Mildred Donaldson, Lena Gleason, Ruth Goble, Etta Jane Keogh, Phyllis Ruggenstein, May Shipman, Rosalie Stahler, Isabelle Thompson, Laurette Williams, Mabel Brown and Ruby Linden, president of the association.

Two guests, Mrs. Wilkinson and Mrs. Undergraph, also attended. The next meeting will be held May 8 at the home of Mrs. Ruth Goble in Lake Mary.

Sugar Potential High In State

GAINESVILLE (UPI)—Florida has the potential to boost its sugar production substantially if "such action is in the national interest," University of Florida economist L. A. Reuss said Tuesday.

"Because suitable land is available and rates of return to many producers are favorable," he said, "growers and processors want to expand."

"Cane was grown on more than 5,000 acres in Florida last year, said Reuss, with more than $20 million worth of sugar produced and processed in the state.

The widest street in the world is one in Buenos Aires, Argentina, known as the Avenida 9 de Julio, it is 180 yards wide.

College Aid Bill Clears Hurdle

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy's $2.4 billion college aid bill was over its first big hurdle today. But his $2.5 billion plan to help grade and high schools approached the same obstacle with far dimmer prospects of success.

A House education subcommittee approved the college bill late Tuesday. It carried the basic proposals advanced by the President to build teaching facilities and help talented but needy college students pay for their education.

Kennedy's aid plan for public elementary and secondary schools was taken up at closed-door session today by another subcommittee. Its supporters have conceded they might have to give ground to get a bill before the House.

The college bill, approved 4-3 by the subcommittee, would: —Authorize a five-year, $1.5 billion grant and loan program for college classrooms, laboratories and libraries. This would include $100 million for federal grants each year. Colleges would have to put up two dollars for each federal dollar they get. The other $120 million a year would go for long-term, low interest construction loans. Church-operated as well as public colleges could get the funds, but only for buildings not designed for religious teaching or worship.

Teenager Gets Life Jail Term

FRANKLIN, La. (UPI)—Eighteen-year-old Katherine Hampton, companion of a Kentucky man awaiting execution for murder in Ralford State Prison, was sentenced to life in prison Tuesday for the second time in as many days.

Judge Rene Himsel sentenced her for the murder of Mrs. Hermine Fielder, a bar operator. She was sentenced Monday at Hahnville, La., for the murder of Benjamin Yount, an oil company purchasing agent from Metairie, La.

Miss Hampton of Sandy Hook, Ky., pleaded guilty to both slayings after Emmett Spencer, also of Sandy Hook, named her as his constant companion during the time he killed Yount and Mrs. Fielder. Spencer is currently awaiting execution for the slaying of John T. Keen, a Key West pilot.

A separate group of 1,000 "presidential scholarships" worth $1,000 each would be awarded to top students, exclusive of need. Colleges would get $350 a year for each federal scholar they enroll. Total cost of the program would be $600 million.

GOP Starts Do-It-Yourself Drive For Funds

DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Five weeks ago, the women's division of the Republican National Committee decided it was time to start raising money for the 1962 congressional campaign.

So, it began sending dollar bills to party workers throughout the country.

At first glance, there would appear to be madness in this method. I mean, no politician in his right mind would try to finance a campaign by contributing to his contributors.

I hasten to add, however, that the GOP ladies have not taken leave of their senses. They are merely conducting an experiment in "do-it-yourself" fund-raising.

Each woman who receives a dollar from the committee is supposed to "pyramid" it into a larger sum and then send the entire amount back to the GOP treasury.

The committee leaves it to the individual to determine how to build the pyramid. And this has given rise to some of the most unorthodox fund-raising methods in the history of politics.

Let us consider first the manner in which Mrs. Fern E. Lee of Towner, N. D., came to the aid of her party with a $6 pyramid.

"During a church dinner," she told the committee, "I snatched a leaf from a gorgeous plant, took it home, put it in water to root it, later potted the plant and soon there were six small violet plants.

"Bought five small flower pots with the pyramid $1 planted the violets in each, invited five girls for bridge and lunch and had no trouble selling those plants for $1 each. Returned a potted violet to the church to ease my conscience."

There is no doubt that Mrs. Lee's fund-raising technique was a bit out of the ordinary. As to whether it indicates that the angels will be on the side of the Republicans in the next election, I am not prepared to say.

A more energetic, if less ingenious, fund-raising method was employed by Mrs. C. Y. Semple of Baxter Springs, Kan. Here is how she built a $114.50 pyramid:

"Made and sold felt sunflowers, bread and sold chocolate cakes, bread and rolls, apple pies, 2 birthday cakes, gave two crew cuts, shortened three skirts, cooked pot of beans, mended three sweaters, one pair trousers, mended afghan, made and sold one pair of pajamas, gave one shampoo and set, one pedicure, one manicure and 10 electric impulse facials."

Another pyramid that I admired was built by Mrs. Francis E. Holbrook of Cuyahoga, Ohio, as follows: "My son brought home a cocoon of a praying mantis which hatched. I sold baby mantises for 25 cents each and gave him a nickel. Sold 18 and could have sold more but my stock ate each other up."

MISS JO ANNE ADAMS, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. John Adams of the First Methodist Church of Sanford, who is a junior this year at Stetson University, has been honored by the WCC of the Trinity Methodist Church of DeLand.

Jo Anne received an honorary youth membership into the Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service, for the service that she has rendered through her work with the Wesley Fellowship, a student organization on the campus of the university.

Jo Anne is the immediate past president of the group and as such has devoted her Saturday nights to the youth recreation program at the Methodist Orphanage at Enterprise and her Sundays to teaching Sunday School there. There are 10 young people in the active group in DeLand and the Methodist Church there has honored Jo Anne for her leadership of the group.

The honor was bestowed at a dinner held at Stetson University recently and Mrs. Adams was an invited guest. The occasion was a delightful surprise for Jo Anne who accepted it humbly.

THE YOUNGEST PRESIDENT of the Alachua General Hospital Auxiliary at Gainesville is a former Sanfordite, Mrs. Allen Y. DeLaney, nee Marguerite Duncan, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Duncan of 1120 Palmetto Ave.

Wife of a surgeon and mother of four, Mrs. DeLaney grew up in Sanford and graduated from local schools. She still has many friends and acquaintances in and around town.

Prior to her new job as auxiliary president, she held the offices of first and second vice president and also program chairman in her seven years in the auxiliary.

She is the mother of Allen 13, Phillip, 11, Bruce nine and Mary Elizabeth, seven. Her favorite hobbies are gardening, swimming, boating and riding.

She is also a past president of the Junior Women's Club and an active member of the Medical Auxiliary.

FOR WOMEN ONLY: A veteran politician told the Democratic Women's Club at their last meeting that politics is going to get hot and heavy in the next elections, because of the rapid rise of Republican power in Florida.

There will be an end to candidates or incumbents running unopposed and those who are interested in gaining office are going to have to get on their toes and fight a running battle, and their supporters are going to have to "truly round the fist."

If you want to get in on the ground floor of some interesting activities, gain a first hand knowledge of what's going on when all the hats get in the ring, turn off that television set and let Dad babysit and make it a point to attend the meeting of the Democratic Women's Club at the Courthouse at 7:30 p.m. today.

And here is a bit of confidential information to utilize your mental faculties—there will be some interesting, attractive and well-qualified women running in the coming election!

MARGUERITE

Progressive Supper Surprises Suzanne Partin On Birthday

By MARIAN R. JONES Sweet Sixteen is a date long remembered to every girl. It will be for Suzanne Partin, who recently was surprise honoree for her sixteenth birthday when her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Partin, and aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Niblack, assisted by Mrs. John Courter and Mrs. W. H. DeShazo, entertained with a progressive supper for her in honor of this special event in her home.

Greatly surprised was Suzanne when her friends gathered with her on the Courter patio for the first course of the evening, the appetizer. The next stop was Sweetwater Park for the main course of the evening.

The lovely Niblack home was the third stop for the group. Here they enjoyed games interspersed with nick-nacks.

The DeShazo home was the final stop, with tea cream and cake being served here, after which they enjoyed dancing.

Those enjoying the party with Suzanne were Misses Linda Harris, Anne Slavik, Diane Aulin, Naomi Tuby, Dorothy and Eleanor Duda, Nancy Mason and the guest of honor.

Personals

Friends of Mrs. H. M. Pearce will be sorry to learn that she continues to be ill at her home on East Second Street.

Mrs. Albert Jessup, of Columbus, Ga., is visiting her daughter and her husband, Dr. and Mrs. O. L. Parks, at their home 1608 Seminole Blvd.

Mrs. A. F. Kelley left today for her home in Richmond, Ga., after a visit with her mother, Mrs. Fred T. Williams, Oak Ave., and other relatives in the area.

Capt. H. D. Ring, of Arlington, Va., arrived last week for a short visit with his brother, Dr. H. K. Ring and family. The Ring family including parents of the two men, Dr. and Mrs. E. F. Ring, who have been visiting in Sanford, accompanied Capt. Ring to Mayport, Sunday. They all enjoyed a tour of his flight ship, the Destroyer USS Sellers.

Lodge Auxiliary Holds Meeting At Trued Home

Mrs. L. N. Trued was hostess to members of the WEKIAW Auxiliary to Lodge 878, at her home, 101 Forrest Drive in Loch Arbor. Mrs. Trued and her co-hostess, Mrs. Fred Dudley showed the guests through the attractive new home before inviting them to the spacious patio.

They were served delicious old fashioned ice cream and cake, in "ice cream supper" style. The tables were decorated with arrangements of spring flowers and held bowls of minis and nuts.

Twenty games were played and prizes awarded to winners of each game. Mrs. H. W. Goodspeed and Mrs. J. N. Gillon, won the prizes for finding a lucky coin in each of the two cakes, used as refreshments.

Mrs. Curtis Campbell, who was celebrating her birthday the day of the meeting, received a surprise gift from the hostesses and honored with the traditional birthday courtesy and "happy birthday" song.

Mrs. Mae Dorsey and Mrs. J. W. Hazel, of Winter Garden, were welcomed as guests. Others attending were Mmes. Beatrice Anderson, Thelma Brewer, Edna Brinson, Evelyn Gunter.

Maude Humphrey, Geneva Owens, Vera Ray, Alberta Rowland, Eula Thornton, Orrie Lou Walker, Mayme Warren, Ethel Williams and Joyce Nicholson.

Garden Circles

HIIBISCUS CIRCLE

The Hibiscus Circle of the Garden Club met at the lovely home of Mrs. R. E. Dallas, on Oregon Ave.

Members arrived at 2 p.m. and were served delicious home made lemon pie, coffee and nuts.

Mrs. J. M. Fahy, president, opened the meeting with the Lord's Prayer and the roll call.

Mrs. Gordon Brison gave a short talk on horticulture and stressed the fact that it was always better to leave a few leaves on cuttings before planting.

The main event of the afternoon was a private flower show with each member contributing. Mrs. J. E. Terwilliger Jr., judged the entries, awarded ribbons and pointed out the mistakes made in various arrangements.

Mrs. Dallas was assisted as hostess by Mrs. Dick McLaughlin, Mrs. Joe Meisch and Mrs. Fred Zerrner. Twenty-three members and two guests enjoyed the afternoon.

HEMERCALLIS CIRCLE

Mrs. J. J. Cates and Mrs. Bea Newsome were co-hostesses for the April meeting of the Hemercallis Garden Circle at the home of Mrs. Cates, on Cornell Drive. Ernest Lundberg, assistant County agent, presented a most informative program on plant propagation. A film was shown in conjunction with his talk.

Among the interesting things he told the group was how to graft citrus trees, hibiscus and other plants, especially the method of grafting several varieties of hibiscus on one bush.

Plans were discussed for next year's programs and it was decided to stress flower arrangements.

The home was decorated with arrangements of spring flowers and refreshments of cake, coffee, nuts, and minis were served by the hostess.

Others attending were Mmes. G. O. Nordgren, C. E. Hunter, Orville Touchton, Richard Miller, Carl Moss, Michael Coole, Richard Elam, Ralph Jarvis, R. L. McKnight, Robert Zittrower, Ben Wiggins and Carl Lind.

Good way to embarrass a person: Compliment a hostess on her party when someone who wasn't there is listening.

"Roaring Twenties" Evening Planned By Naval Officers, Wives And Guests

Officers and wives of Sanford NAS and their guests will be turning the clock back forty years on May 6 when they use the "Roaring Twenties" as the theme for a gala evening.

Flapper dresses, skimmer hats and raccoon coats will be in evidence. Bathing gin, old cars and other vestiges of the twenties will help the revelers recall a bygone era.

Cocktails will be served at 6:30 followed by a sirloin steak dinner. The floor show, "Flashes of the Twenties," will feature soft shoe

Local Club Members Attend Annual Club Convention

Mrs. Eric Vihlen, president of the Sanford Garden Club; Mrs. Volie A. Williams, Jr., director of district seven; Mrs. James Trullit, president of Rose Circle; and Miss Glenna Magill, Rose Circle vice president, all of Sanford, were among the 800 registered at the 35th annual convention of the Florida Federation of Garden Clubs, in St. Petersburg last week. Headquarters were at the Boreno Hotel.

The theme "Bestitudes of Beauty" was evident in the exquisite flower arrangements and decorative notes throughout the hotel and the Peir Auditorium where all business meetings were held.

The three convention days were filled with forums and symposiums covering all garden club objectives. There were breakfasts, luncheons, and banquets featuring dynamic guest speakers.

Business meetings included reports of officers, district directors and state chairmen. By-law and charter changes were adopted and resolutions were adopted supporting efforts to conserve our natural resources, parks and shorelands.

Mrs. Trullit received the award for the outstanding report of the preceding annual convention at Palm Beach.

Federation officers for the ensuing biennium were elected and installed during the convention. The installation service included district directors previously elected.

Girl Scout Diary

BROWNIE TROOP 64 Members of Brownie Troop 64 met recently in the home of Mrs. B. W. Bartholemew where Mrs. Gordon Sweeney demonstrated for the girls the correct way to set a table.

This is one of the tenderfoot requirements that some of the girls needed for their forthcoming try-up. After Mrs. Sweeney had shown the girls the correct procedures of serving the food and taking away the plates she let the girls test their abilities.

Brownies in this troop are Mary Louise Andrus, Sandy Bartholemew, Kathy DeBruyne, Jean Carter, Susie Dangleman, Joanne Fletcher, Patsy Fletcher, Kay Ferguson, Pam Hunt, Larunell Johnson, Debbie McLain, Martha Milner, Mary Ellen Milner.

Henri Anna Osborne, Susan Roland, Debbie Taylor, Patsy Thompson, Jeannette Wolf, Anita Wolf, and Dianna Bridges. The leaders are Mrs. H. H. Osborne and Mrs. Richard Andrus.

Oviedo Club Hears Program On Buttons

MARIAN R. JONES The Oviedo Women's Club met Friday at Fellowship Hall of the First Methodist Church.

The meeting was opened with the group singing the first and last verses of America accompanied by Mrs. T. L. Lingo at the piano.

Mrs. Jack Dodd gave the devotion, after which Mrs. Ray Beasley, chairman, assisted by Mrs. John Ridenour, Mrs. E. M. Olliff, Mrs. G. S. Moon, Mrs. Paul Slavik, Mrs. Harvey Joe Slayton, Mrs. Jack Goodwin, served a delicious luncheon to the members and visitors assembled for the occasion.

Rev. George Carlton introduced the guest speaker, Martin Eckard, Martinsburg Postmaster and friend of the Luttrells, who is visiting here. He spoke on the history of buttons and showed his own collection, which proved to be a very interesting topic.

Mrs. R. W. Estes, club president, told members to go by the club site and see what is being done. Mrs. B. G. Smith announced that the well and pump were down.

Faulk has already commenced work on the newest addition to Oviedo.

Mrs. George Kelsey spoke of the success of the basketball game between the Oviedo club members and the Slavia Guild to make money for the building fund. She also announced the sale of vanilla extract for the same purpose.

Mrs. Charles Niblack resigned as club social chairman.

New Arrivals

Mr. and Mrs. Charles, Ray, DeBary, announce the birth of a 5 lb. 8 oz. daughter, April 8, at the Fish Memorial Hospital, in DeLand.

They have chosen the name, Tammy Lynn, for the new arrival and she was welcomed home by a three year old sister, Joanie Marie.

Mrs. Ray is the former Marie Goodwin, daughter of Mrs. W. A. Goodwin, of Enterprise. Paternal grandmother is Mrs. Bertie Ray, of Parrish, Ala.

Auxiliary Members Makes Plans For Hospital Week

The Seminole Memorial Hospital Auxiliary met at the Sea Shell Restaurant, Friday, for a luncheon meeting.

It was announced that the auxiliary now has 148 members. Hospital week will be observed from May 7 through 13 and a bond will be given to the mother of the first baby born in the hospital during that week.

Members were reminded to make their reservations for the seventh annual meeting of the East Central District of The Florida Association.

It will be held May 23 at 9 a.m. at the Langford Hotel, in Winter Park. The next board meeting of the local group will meet in the Hospital dining room, on May 16.

Lutheran Women Complete Plans For Special Supper

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Your answer to the wife of the man who "liked to look" amazed me. And you call yourself an advice expert! What do you mean, "Just because a man is on a diet doesn't mean he can't look at the menu?"

My husband's hobby was "looking at menus." (He would order occasionally, too.) I finally had to call in a lawyer to get him back on his regular diet. Anyone who says "looking is harmless" doesn't know the half of it. OUGHT TO KNOW

DEAR OUGHT: A man can look at a woman in TWO ways. One is with "lust"—which is wrong. The other is with "admiration." When God created beauty in nature he endowed man with the intelligence to appreciate it. A beautiful woman (unlike the prairie flower) was not "born to blush unseemly and waste her fragrance on the desert air."

DEAR ABBY: My problem is that my husband can waltz but not jitterbug, and I just love to jitterbug. Last Saturday night when we were out, my girl friend asked me to jitter with her. My husband said NO, I couldn't. I was so mad I felt like getting up and dancing with her anyway, but I didn't.

When we got home I asked my husband why he didn't let me dance with her and he said it was not ladylike for a girl to dance with another girl in public. I say he is wrong, and he says he is right. We have this problem every time we go out. Please put your answer in the paper before next Saturday night because it will save another argument. LOVES TO JITTER

DEAR LOVES: Your husband is right. Girls dance with other girls only when there are no men to dance with. Either teach him to jitter or slow down to a waltz.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I received a 50th wedding anniversary invitation for a six o'clock dinner and dance. I was so pleased with the invitation until I read in the lower left-hand corner of the card: $6.00 a couple. We will not attend the party, of course. Is this something new? Or have people always made up parties and asked the guests to pay?

DEAR SHOCKED: Frequently people will get together and make up a "Dutch Treat" or "No Host" party. But they are planned with the understanding that each guest pays his own way. They do not send invitations to others and ask them to participate.

Laugh Out Loud With 'Well' Comic

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — If you are sick of "sick" comedians as we are you will be happy to hear today that they haven't driven Myron Cohen back to selling silk. Myron Cohen is a "well" comedian—a teller of parlor stories. How he goes on in today's neurotic world is a tribute to both his style and to the mass U. S. public which howls at his clean humor in indication that "sick" is a minority disease.

No one writes Cohen's jokes. He buys no special material. He's like the minstrel singer of old, wandering from one end of the country to the other and picking up his material as he goes.

"A new joke," he laughs, "is just a story you've never heard before."

As a "well" comedian, Cohen is a nearly bald, 58-year-old former New York silk salesman and he's bigger than ever these days in night clubs, on television and as the author of his second book, "More Laughing Out Loud."

His first "Laughing Out Loud" brought back memories of an old American habit—laughing out loud. Today's "sick" comedians shudder at the very idea. As the attempt to solve the ill of a "sick" world, they'd rather hear "sick" snickers.

Not Myron, who is a blues chaser and not a witch hunter. He seeks room-filling laughter and he's still getting it after 18 years. That's when he quit his job of 25 years as a silk salesman and became a professional story teller. He was one of those salesmen who the "Have you heard the one about..." line.

When his jokes outlasted his wares he knew it was time to get out of silk and into the spotlight. That's where he's been ever since. As an antidote for "sick" comedians, taxes, another bull market on Wall St. (?), missile confusion, and the restless natives in Africa, here are some of Myron Cohen's stories:

The women trying to impress a neighbor, "We're going to Europe next month," she cooed. "SO," was her neighbor's reply, "I was BORN there..."

The jaded rich fellow who ran out of hobbies and in desperation took up skin diving. He bought all the necessary equipment and went to Bermuda, where he donned oxygen mask, goggles, and swim fins before taking spear gun in hand and disappearing into 50 feet of water. Exploring the area, he came upon an old friend dressed in a sport coat, Panama hat, white duck trousers, tennis shoes and carrying a cane.

"Sam," he screamed, "WHAT are you doing HERE?" "Drowning—what else?" replied Sam...

The waitress who became completely fed up with a patron's unreasonable demands and told him, "If I were your wife I'd give you poison." "If you were my wife," the fellow replied, "I'd take it..."

The fellow at the Las Vegas dice table who rolled out three dice instead of the usual two. Housemen screamed, "Don't get excited," the fellow said, "I'll make it. My point's 13..."

The disheveled man who stumbled into a psychiatrist's office, tore open a cigarette and stuffed his nose with tobacco.

"I can see that you need me," the psychiatrist said. "How can I help you, sir?" "Got a light?" the man asked. Laughing out loud...

It's been a long, long time. No one can convince Myron Cohen it's "model T" humor.

We The Women: By Ruth Millet

How many of these types do you see at your woman's club? The Clothes Horse, who makes other women feel like trumps.

The Memory, who slows down proceedings by pointing out what the club did about a matter in 1937—or was it 1938?

The Prodder, who is always trying to get the meeting back to the business at hand.

The Rambler, who takes 10 minutes to make a minor point.

The Bored President, she's determined to run the show whether her title is past or present.

The Giggler, who sits in the back and whispers and giggles throughout the meeting.

The Sicker, who always wants a vote taken.

The Dissenter, who can always be counted on to come forth with an objection.

The Grumbler, who votes with the crowd, but says how she really feels privately to one member after another after the votes are cast.

The Outdoor, when it is her turn to entertain, she always has things a little fancier—making it tough on the next hostess.

The Handshaker, who wears the same bright, meaningless smile for everyone.

The Busy Bee, who always brings her knitting along.

The Crusader, who always has a cause she's working for.

The Absent-minded, who always has to have everything explained twice.

The Practical, who is always suggesting simple ways of doing things and getting nowhere because no woman's organization is interested in doing anything the easy way.

Seminoles Grab Track Meet

The Sanford Seminoles, heading for one of their best track seasons in history, grabbed a host of first places and finished in the money in 15 events to take a five way track meet in DeLand Tuesday.

Sanford took first place rolling up a total of 90 points. Florida Military School was second with 87, followed by Mainland, 61½, Lyman, 14½ and Father Lopez, seven.

Tony Sulpizio was the big gun for the locals and he grabbed first in the discus and shot put.

Sulpizio, who has finished in the money in every track meet this year, threw the shot put 51-3½.

Chip Walker took a first place for Sanford in the mile run while John Mann was first in the 180 low hurdles.

Alex McKibbin tied with a Mainland thincled for first place in the high jump.

Oviedo, Lyman Win; Seminoles Lose To Parkers

Oviedo and Lyman rolled to baseball wins Tuesday while Sanford blew a two run lead to Winter Park to lose, 4-4.

Oviedo picked up its third win of the campaign by downing Melbourne JV, 4-3. The Lions opened up with a two run first inning and paced by the hitting of Jerry Ulrey who tripled home the deciding run in the fifth frame, went on to win the contest.

Kenneth Sparks hurled for the Lions and scattered four hits.

At Lyman the locals picked up their 11th win of the campaign as they topped New Smyrna 9-1 behind a 10 hit assault and the pitching of Charles Prescott.

Prescott gave up only one hit in the game.

At Winter Park, the Seminoles continue to falter in the late innings and Bobby Johnson got banged for eight hits to decide the game. Despite a four run sixth inning, Sanford failed to come up with other scoring threats and suffered their sixth loss of the season.

Brown Retains Lightweight Crown

LONDON (UPI)—Joe Brown, the world lightweight champion, today nursed a sore right hand and added respect for England's Dave Charney.

The 35-year-old titleholder from Houston, Tex., narrowly retained his crown by outpointing Charney in their return 15-round Tuesday night before a capacity crowd of 18,000 which booed Brown for several minutes when the decision was announced.

Brown stopped Charney in five rounds in their first title brawl in Houston in 1959 and was a 7-4 favorite for their rematch. But this time, Joltin' Joe found Charney a much stronger opponent. He hurt his right hand with a solid poke that opened a cut on the Englishman's nose in the fifth round and then had to weather an all-out rally by Charney in the final three rounds.

Charney, who weighed a half-pound more than Brown at 134½, put up a courageous fight although he was bothered "quite a bit" by blood flowing from his damaged nose. As the battle neared its finish, Dave tried gamely for a knockout and did stagger the champion twice in the 13th and 14th rounds.

Entering the final round, the bout was even on the UPI scorecard. Charney again went all-out in the 15th, but at the finish referee Tommy Little walked to the Yankee's corner and raised his hand in token of victory.

Arthur Hoggis, Charney's manager, was extremely bitter over the decision.

Snider Breaks Right Elbow

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Manager Walt Alton turned to his bench today to replace veteran Duke Snider in the Los Angeles Dodgers' lineup until the famed slugger recovers from a broken right elbow.

The Dodgers' manager termed Snider's loss for at least a month a serious blow to the team picked in a United Press International poll as the club most likely to win the National League pennant.

A temporary blow came in the announcement second baseman Charlie Neal would be sidelined three or four days with a bad left knee.

Snider was hit on the elbow with a pitched ball thrown by St. Louis hurler Bob Gibson Monday night. Although he suffered the injury in the fifth inning, Snider continued in the game for two more innings before he reported his elbow was starting to stiffen.

It was not until Tuesday morning when Dr. Robert Kerlan X-rayed the elbow that the fracture was discovered.

The orthopedic specialist said the earliest Snider could start throwing or swinging a bat would be three weeks and it might be several more weeks before he could start playing again.

Snider, seventh on the all-time home run list with 370 circuit blows, has been counted on by Alton to provide the Dodgers with the power that his youngsters have not yet been able to supply.

Conerly Inks Giant Pact

NEW YORK (UPI)—Charlie Conerly, the oldest player in the National Football League, isn't ready yet to surrender his quarterback post with the New York Giants.

The 39-year-old gentleman farmer from Mississippi signed his 14th contract with the Giants Tuesday at a salary estimated at $25,000.

Smathers Named Titan VP

NEW YORK (UPI)—John Roosevelt, son of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, and Sen. George Smathers of Florida, have joined the New York football Titans as vice-presidents.

Their appointments were announced Tuesday by Harry Wismer, president of the American Football League team.

Roosevelt, the youngest son of the late president, joins the Titans as a stockholder and member of the board of directors, while Smathers will run the club for Wismer's son in the event of Wismer's death or incapacity before the boy's 30th birthday. Wismer's son is 30.

Navy, Chase Win Little Loop Tilts

Navy defeated Florida State Bank in Little Loop League play by the score of 18-3 and in another game, Chase rolled over Standard Oil, 26-13.

Recreation officials today reminded residents that anyone interested in joining a church softball loop of mens league to attend a meeting at 7:45 p.m. Thursday at the Civic Center.

Sign Draft Choice

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI)—The Cincinnati Royals of the National Basketball Association have signed Bob Wiesenhahn, the University of Cincinnati's top scorer last season. Wiesenhahn, a 6-4 forward, was the Royals' third draft choice.

Florida State Loop Season Set To Open Tonight

BRADENTON (UPI)—The Florida State League opens its 144-game season tonight with a double-header and two single games.

At St. Petersburg, the St. Pete Saints play the Sarasota Sun Sox and the Tampa Tarpons in the doubleheader. Orlando will be at Leesburg and Daytona Beach at Palatka in the other two games.

Play opens this season with the Class D league having a new president, a new team, virtually all new players, two new directors and three new managers.

Sarasota replaced Lakeland in the league. Since Lakeland was the pennant winner last year, there is no defending champion.

Little League Auxiliary Holds First Meeting

The Sunland Women's Auxiliary of the Seminole Little League held their first meeting at the home of Mrs. Edward Gold in Sunland, Monday.

Election of officers for the organization was held with Mrs. Gold elected president, Mrs. John Parker, secretary and Mrs. J. M. LaFollette, treasurer.

The new club has tentatively planned to hold a bake sale the first week in May, and parents of league players who wish to contribute may call Mrs. Sue Henson, chairman, for further information.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. R. McCullough at 10 a. m. on May 2nd.

Enter Tourney

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—Phyllis (Tish) Pruss of Pompano Beach, Fla., and Jean Ashley of Chantuis, Kan., have entered the 22nd Women's Titleholders golf tournament. The 72-hole tourney gets underway April 27 at the Augusta Country Club.

Turpentine is distilled from the pitch that comes from certain species of pine.

Alston Discovers 'Bums' Loaded With Muscle

United Press International Manager Walt Alston is discovering that his Los Angeles Dodgers have plenty of muscle to go with their hustle.

Lack of long ball strength was the weakness that Alston feared would be the Dodgers' No. 1 problem this season but the evidence of the first week of the National League campaign is that Los Angeles has surprising punch to go with its speed and pitching. In eight games they've hit a total of 11 homers and they've been distributed liberally throughout the lineup.

The Dodgers won a battle of homers Tuesday night when they downed the St. Louis Cardinals, 5-4, and enabled the Cincinnati Reds to take over first place via their 9-1 shattering of the San Francisco Giants. The Pittsburgh Pirates beat the Chicago Cubs, 5-3, and the Minnesota Twins topped the Boston Red Sox, 3-2, for their fifth win in six games in the only other major league action.

Frank Howard smashed a two-run homer and Johnny Roseboro and Wally Moon also homered to account for four of the Dodgers' five runs. The blows offset somewhat shaky Los Angeles pitching in addition to two homers by St. Louis' Ken Boyer.

Roger Craig received credit for the Dodgers' fourth victory in eight games although he was followed by the mound by rookies Jim Golden and Ron Ferranowski. Ferranowski took over in the eighth inning and protected the one-run margin through the last two frames.

The Reds went into first place behind a six-hit pitching performance by Bob Purkey, who raised his lifetime advantage over the Giants to 13-4. Purkey, winning his second game of the young season, struck out four and walked only three. His bid for a shutout was ruined in the seventh inning when Willie Mays hit his second homer of the year.

The Reds routed Billy Loos with six hits and six runs in two innings and went on to collect 10 hits including a three-run homer by Gordon Coleman. Wally Post had three hits and Eddie Kasko Coleman and Gene Fresse two each in Cincinnati's attack.

Vinagar Bend Mizell, aided by Elroy Face's two innings of shut-out relief, picked up his first win of the season for the Pirates. Dick Stuart tripled home a 2-2 tie-breaking run in the fifth inning and slugged home the run that snapped a 3-3 tie in the seventh to lead the world champions.

13-hit attack. Stuart, Dick Groat, Roberto Clemente and Bill Virdy each had two hits for the Pirates and Ron Santo had two for the Cubs.

Left-handers Jim Keat and Bill Pleis pitched a three-batter and Jim Lemon hit his first homer of the campaign for the Twins who now lead the American League. Keat had a one-batter until the eighth when he faltered and Pleis went in to hold 4-2 Red Sox hitters over the last 1-2 innings. Lenny Green went 4-for-4 for the Twins.

Girl Scout Fair Slated For Saturday

The public is invited to attend the annual Girl Scout Fair, being held in the Civic Center Auditorium, Saturday from 12:30 p. m. to 3:30 p. m. There will be no admission charged.

Mrs. Robert Stutzman, chairman of the Fair, stated that one of the highlights will be the display of some old Girl Scout uniforms that were the style around the turn of the century in the late 1800's and early 1900's. These have been authentically copied and will be worn by girls of the Senior Troop.

Another feature out of the past, will be the introduction of some of the women who had a hand in forming the first troop in Sanford and some of the members of that troop.

The program also, will be Mrs. Anita Buk of Denmark, who is arriving in this country and is a girl scout leader in her native land. She will be an honored guest at the Fair.

The program will begin at 1 p. m. and displays will be in view all over the auditorium, from each girl scout troop in Seminole County, showing the work of the girls, their projects and what they are learning.

DeBary Gardeners To Elect Officers

Members of the DeBary Garden Club have planned a tea and installation of officers for their May meeting to be held in the Community Center.

Taking office will be Mrs. H. P. Newton, president; Mrs. James Richards, first vice president; Mrs. W. Hibbard, second vice president; Mrs. Charles Braun, third vice president; Clarissa McPride, fourth vice president; Mrs. Frank Eakin, corresponding secretary and Mrs. John Byrn, treasurer.

WEATHER: Fair through Friday. High today, 80-85. Low tonight, 50-55.

VOL. 53 United Press Leased Wire Established 1908 THURSDAY, APRIL 20, 1961 SANFORD, FLORIDA NO. 174

St. Johns Hearing Set

The Appropriations Committee of the Legislature will schedule a public hearing in Tallahassee in the near future on appropriating $2 million for a water control project for the upper St. Johns' River basin.

Harold Scott, a member of Reynolds, Smith and Hill engineering firm, appealed today for members of the County Commission and residents of the area to plan to appear at these hearings to voice their approval of the project.

Scott said he was "optimistic" that the legislature would pass the appropriation and set the wheels in motion for the Central and South Florida Flood Control District to authorize additional funds for the project to begin.

Scott said that if all goes well, actual construction of dams and reservoirs could start by 1962.

The U. S. engineers are studying tentative plans on the project submitted by the district last year.

The plan calls for a series of dams and four large reservoirs stretching between SR 46 in Seminole and Volusia Counties and extending to SR 60 in Indian River County.

The plan is expected to eliminate flooding and maintain a good supply of fresh water to the area.

Scott today said that "it is imperative that we obtain funds during this legislative session or we must wait two years for another session which could result in construction being as much as five years away."

President Asks Curbs On Tax Allowances

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy asked Congress today to curb "expense account living," raise taxes on dividends and take other steps toward sweeping tax reform next year.

Kennedy also said he had directed the Internal Revenue Service and the Justice Department to make "a maximum effort" to crack down on tax evasion by taxpayers—the method used by the late Al Capone in jail.

Board Members Answer Bennett

Three Casselberry officials today answered a letter from Alderman Hope Bennett which called for an explanation of why they withdrew their names from a resolution seeking legislative approval of a new charter for the town.

The following letter from Mayor Joseph I. Laird, Lytle E. Swopes, chairman of the Board of Aldermen, and Benjamin R. Evans, member of the board, was sent to Mrs. Bennett in reply to her inquiry which appears on the front page of the Seminole County Area Section of today's Herald.

"Dear Mrs. Bennett: "In answer to your letter of April 19, although our actions were taken individually and without each other's knowledge, we believe we have acted in the best interests of the town of Casselberry and that passage of time will prove this to be so.

"The matter of adoption of a charter is not so urgent that it should be forced over serious objections. A good start has been made.

"We believe that the matter should be explored still further in an effort to overcome these objections."

Signers Of Mix Petition Named

The City Commission today made public a petition of 38 Negroes who asked that the city desegregate all public recreation facilities in Sanford.

Listed as Signers of the petition were: Rev. H. B. Whitehurst, Rev. J. W. Marshall, Rev. Dennis H. Jamison, Rev. Peter Cobb, Rev. P. H. Frison, Rev. N. A. Watson, Rev. T. H. Thomas, Rev. W. G. Mitchell, Rev. Arch Finkley, Rev. J. L. Brooks, Rev. H. F. Richardson, Rev. J. C. Miller, P. H. Mitchell, Elijah, Rev. J. H. Carleton, Rev. A. W. Smith, Rev. W. H. Bagley, Rev. B. Herrings, Thomas Wilson, Robert Plumber, Erma Brown, Nellie Mae Myricks, Margaret Fields, Willie Perry, Geri Williams, D. C. McCoy Jr., J. C. Kingling, Dr. George H. Starks, Olivetti V. Wright, Ella Roberts, Willie Prater, Hattie M. Robinson, Nedra M. Boykin, Carroll W. Stupler Jr., Wesley Wright Jr., Willie Wright, Sebra Lanier.

Bulletin

Garnett White this afternoon was elected president of the Jaycees. Dr. Tom Largen was elected first vice president and Stuart Nielson, third vice president. News Briefs

Airliner Seized

HAMILTON, Bermuda (UPI)—A Cuban airliner with 25 persons aboard was seized by military authorities today when it made an "unauthorized" landing at the U. S. Kindley Air Force Base. American Air Force authorities said the plane would be held pending appropriate clearance. The 11 passengers and 14 crewmen aboard the Britannia jet were escorted to the civilian terminal.

Missile Depot Set

JACKSONVILLE (UPI)—A bid of $180,245 from Parker Construction Co. of Jacksonville, was the lowest of 10 received Wednesday for construction of a missile assembly depot and an aircraft weapons calibration building at Ineson Airport. The service facilities are designed to support the Florida Air National Guard's F102 jet interceptors based at Ineson.

Private Trade Gains

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The International Cotton Advisory Committee said today the cotton business in the United States is gradually reverting to private trade. Analysis of ICAC, an inter-governmental organization of 35 cotton producing and consuming countries, estimates that U. S. government cotton holdings by July 31 may be down to about one million bales or less while private holdings may be as high as 6.5 million bales.

Plumage Coming Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Congressional Democrats were getting ready today to harvest 70 or more of the choicest patronage plums that grow in the garden of a victorious political party. By a 330-76 vote, the House approved a bill Wednesday that would give President Kennedy authority to appoint 70 new federal judges to lifetime jobs. The Senate last month approved a bill carrying 73 new judgeships. The administration endorsed addition of only 69, but probably would accept more.

Reporters Held

BERN, Switzerland (UPI)—The Swiss Foreign Office today reported the arrest in Havana of a second United Press International correspondent, Martin Houseman. It said it had asked the Castro government for details. The arrest of UPI correspondent Henry Raymond was reported Wednesday. Raymond was arrested a few hours after the invasion began on Monday and Houseman was arrested Wednesday. AP correspondent Robert Berrelex also was reported under arrest.

Castro Starts New Terror

United Press International

Fidel Castro proclaimed triumphantly today the destruction of a Cuban invasion force and capture of its equipment including American-made Sherman tanks.

He followed this with a new wave of executions to tighten his grip on the country.

Havana radio announced that seven persons including an American—the third in two days—were executed by firing squads at dawn in Havana today. It named the American as Diaz Bencom and said he led a plot to kill Castro. His home was not given. A communique read over Havana radio early today said Castro's regular army and militia overran the invaders' last position at Giron Beach on the Bay of Pigs at 5.30 p. m. Wednesday. Castro admitted his men suffered "tragic losses."

Exile groups in the United States insisted the move to oust Castro was far from over. They said there would be new landings and new supplies sent to the guerrilla forces in the mountains where Castro himself battled against Fulgencio Batista.

Despite Castro's iron grip which prevented mass uprisings against his government, gunfire sounded today in Havana. A Havana radio broadcast said a 13-year-old girl was killed and an 18-year-old girl gravely wounded by gunfire from a speeding car near intelligence service headquarters in the Miramar suburb.

Revolutionary leaders in exile conceded Wednesday night their forces had suffered "tragic losses" but that many had joined up with guerrilla forces in the Escambray Mountains.

They said the battle to topple Castro from power would go on. Exile groups in Puerto Rico, Miami, Mexico City and New York seethed with reports of new or imminent rebel landings.

One report broadcast by a clandestine rebel radio calling itself "Cuba Libre" but known to be operating outside Cuba said a landing had been made on the Cuban north coast near Moron, in Camaguey Province.

At Marietta, Ga. Secretary of State Dean Rusk declared flatly today the rebel uprising in Cuba was not a major invasion.

Rusk repeated denials that the United States government had helped the revolutionary forces but said they were receiving a great deal of help both from within this country and outside.

Reapportionment Plan Okay Expected

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A reapportionment package, giving Florida seven new senators and nine new House members and ending at last a six-year battle, headed for the Senate today and almost certain acceptance.

Once cleared by the Senate, the plan must go before the voters for approval as an amendment to the state Constitution.

The House passed its part of the reapportionment package Wednesday by a 81-12 vote after about two hours of debate that saw defeat of attempts to raise the House's present membership of 95 to anywhere from 105 to 112.

The measure which was approved gives the House 104 members, one less than the 105 recommended by Gov. Farris Bryant as a solution to the problem of increasing representation for fast-growing counties.

The Senate part of the package already has been approved. It raises membership of the upper chamber from 38 to 45. The House approved this Wednesday and sent its 104-member plan to the Senate for approval.

A bill backed by Gov. Farris Bryant to cut Florida's intangible tax on stocks and bonds was due for a vote in the House today.

Bryant asked the intangible tax be cut from $2 to $1.50 per $1,000 in 1961, and then to $1 in 1962. A squabble was expected when amendments came up on the floor to cut the tax in half immediately instead of over the two-year period.

Aside from passage of the reapportionment measure, the major action in both houses Wednesday was in committees.

The House Executive Communication Committee, which has been studying bills vetoed after the close of the 1959 legislative session by former Gov. LeRoy Collins, recommended that Collins' veto be sustained on a measure to appropriate a half-million dollars to advertise the Southern way of life.

Rep. Bill Reedy of Lake County sponsor of the bill, said however, he felt the bill would "easily" win the two-thirds vote necessary to override the veto if it reaches the floor of the House.

Gov. Farris Bryant, strengthening his stand against new taxes, said today Florida not only can get by without raising taxes on this Legislature but also in the 1963 session.

He said flatly he would veto a new tax bill such as an across-the-board sales tax if the Legislature should ignore his wishes and send one to his desk.

Boards Set Meet On Maitland Ave.

The County Commission will meet with the Altamonte Springs Town Council Monday night to explain why the board decided to ask the State Road Department to hold any changes in the road classification of Maitland Ave. from a rural to a village road.

The meeting is scheduled to begin at 8 p. m. at the Altamonte City Hall.

County Engineer Carlton Bliss informed the board that the road classification change would cost approximately $100,000.

Casselberry developer Hibbard Caselberry today offered the County School Board a 15 acre tract to build a Junior or senior high school and agreed to throw in an extra bonus — a 23 acre site for an athletic field if the board would build the school and name it after Caselberry.

The board members agreed to consider the proposal and said they would look over the site sometime this week.

Casselberry said that he would sell the 15 acre tract, located between Queen's Mirror Circle and Winter Park Drive in Caselberry, for $1,000 an acre or trade it for the present site location of a new junior high school located on the edge of Caselberry.

"I just want the school named after me," Caselberry said.

Casselberry also said that he could supply water and sewage lines to the school.

The developer said that this tract of land would be the best place in the entire county for a school.

Final Plans Made For Florida State Bank Celebration

Final plans were being made today for the formal grand opening celebration Saturday by the Florida State Bank in its new building.

A special section of The Herald Friday will be devoted to features of the modern structure and contractors and others participating in the construction.

Bank officials will be host to the public Saturday for guided tours of the building and appliance prizes worth $2,500 will be given away.
