

Food Prices At Fair Are Within Reason

NEW YORK WORLD'S FAIR — It all depends on your taste. Eating is not a luxury at the World's Fair. According to a survey, more than 50 per cent of the Fair food service facilities offer food at prices ranging from 25 cents for a frankfurter to a main course for $1.50. Sixty-six food establishments with a total seating capacity of 13,091 fall into this low-cost category.

In the $1.50 to $3 price range the survey found 22 restaurants seating 5,430. Eleven restaurants with 3,853 seats charge from $3 to $4.50. Another 11 restaurants with 3,146 seats offer meals from $4.50 to $6 while 13 restaurants seating 3,214 are in the over $6 category.

Snack bars located throughout the Fair grounds but without seating facilities were not included in the survey. This would have substantially increased the total of inexpensive eating places.

The present restaurant and dining area capacity at the Fair of 28,734 seats will be augmented by 8,150 within the next two weeks. More than half of these new facilities will be offering inexpensive menus, according to the survey.

Among the low-priced food service facilities now operating, the 25 Brass Rail refreshment centers, with a 2,160 seating capacity, offer 25-cent frankfurters, 35-cent hamburgers and a wide variety of sandwiches under 65-cents. The Chun King Inn, with 600 seats serves a seven variety dinner for 99 cents. A complete steak dinner for $1.19 is obtainable at Tad's Steak House in the Wisconsin Pavilion. The New York State Pavilion provides a full turkey dinner for $1.50. Louisiana has steak and chicken dinners for $1.99. The survey also showed many restaurants serving entrees in the $1.50 range.

Postponement

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the First Pentecostal Church of Longwood has been postponed due to conflicting dates from Monday to Tuesday of next week at 7:30 p.m. at the church. Mrs. M. L. McDaniel, president, will conduct the meeting and Mrs. Robert Adams will serve as hostess.

Unable to attend were Judy Carson and Janice Lommiller.

Burns In First Appointment

MIAMI (UPI) — "Governor" Haydon Burns offered the first appointment of his new administration Wednesday, but said he will withhold the rest until he is elected in November.

Burns disclosed at a news conference that he plans to be moved into the state Capitol long before his inauguration in January, but not in the governor's office.

"That title is getting a little closer to accurate each time I hear it. Of course, we still have November ahead of us," said Burns when some of his supporters addressed him as governor.

The Democratic nominee faces the formality of a general election contest against Republican Charles Holley of St. Petersburg in the fall.

On the matter of appointments, Burns said he does not plan any until after November, and emphasized that "I do not have a single commitment for any appointment."

But he said one man he will definitely ask to join his staff in Tallahassee will be William White, his executive secretary for the 15 years Burns has served as mayor of Jacksonville.

Burns said also that he will accept an offer from Gov. Farris Bryant of office space in the state Capitol to use to organize his administration and help make the transition from Bryant to Burns smooth.

SLAVE GIRL DANCERS, Mola Ayers, left, and Susan Lagen, talented dancers of the Studio School of Dance, will appear in a recital presented by their teacher, Miss Marilyn Sprague, Saturday, May 30, at Pinerest School at 7:30 p.m. There will be no admission charge.

4 Exiles Shot, Castro Reports

HAVANA (UPI) — The Castro regime today announced the firing squad execution of four Cubans described as "central intelligence agency agents."

The official note said the four men had been captured on the north coast of central Las Villas Province while seeking to infiltrate. The date of their capture was not announced. The men were identified as Felipe Vidal Santiago, Ladislao Gonzalez Benitez, Elias Rivera Bello and Alfredo Valdes Linares.

In Miami, exile sources said Felipe Vidal Santiago was a 38-year-old former Cuban navy commander who headed a group here known as the United Front of National Liberation.

But he had dropped out of the news there in recent months.

Prospective jurors were being interviewed this morning in the courthouse prior to the opening of the June term of court. County Judge C. Vernon Mize is presiding. He told the jurors the caseload indicated a weeklong session. Prosecuting the cases will be Atty. Karlisle Housholder.

Congratulations to you and me and five others. You'll recall the Florida Highway Patrol predicted 13 of us wouldn't be around this morning—being victims of highway mishaps. Their prediction failed to materialize. Early this morning United Press International had the total at six.

Probably the hottest spot in the state last Friday was the scene of the Interstate 4 dedication ceremony. The sizzling sun blistered officials and spectators alike as the thermometers soared near the 100-degree mark.

At that dedication even Gov. Farris Bryant was impelled to comment on the "glorious Florida sunshine". "But," he added, "there can be too much of even a good thing." And Old Sol was sure making his presence felt on that unshaded strip of pavement.

But the opening of this "critical" 23 miles of limited access highway right now when so many folks are headed for the beach was worth the sweltering for the 60 minutes or so.

Seminole County was well represented in the gallery as well as on the platform at the ceremony. City officials, legislators, county officers, chamber of commerce officials and directors, and interested highway users indicated their appreciation of the facility by attending the dedication.

Erstwhile Sanfordite, John Kridler Jr., was the State Road Dept. man who had much to do with the smooth-running procedure. He is working out of the Deland SHD office now, our covering photographer, Bill Vincent, tells us.

You'll enjoy a jaunt to Daytona Beach over this road, but be careful of the shoulders because they have not been finished yet. A wheel dropping off the edge of the pavement at the wrong spot could cause trouble. So, take it easy—and have fun!

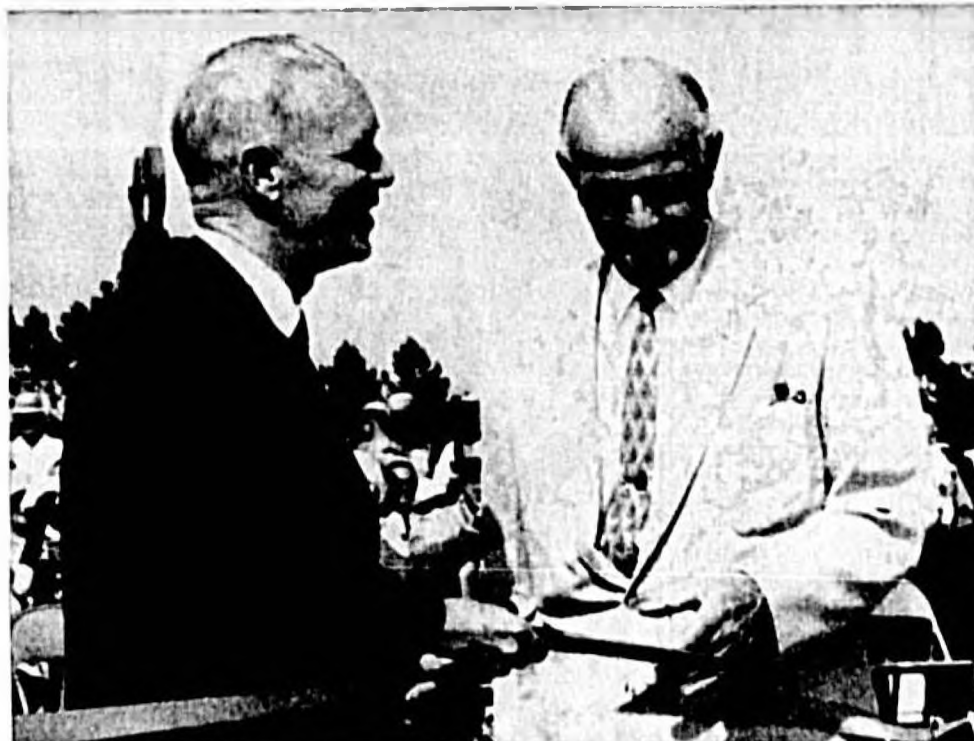

Oh yes, and speaking of the brilliant sun on Friday, you should hear—and see—some of the participants in Seminole High School Senior Day at New Smyrna Beach. Even these young experienced "sunbathers" came home uncomfortably burned. But though the thoroughly enjoyable day sent them home "dead-tired" and "red as beet", no one called them "Dead-beets". Ain't that awful?!

Colleges now are releasing "honors" announcements. It's good to see some of our fine young people in the lists. Recently, from U. of Florida's University College, came the dean's list that included Lawrence Piver Jr., and Destia Horner. Destia was one of the recipients of the Chase & Co. Chun-King scholarships about three years ago, and she has justified the judgment of the awarding scholarship committee by earning topflight grades each trimester.

And initiated into the Junior college scholastic fraternity, Phi Theta Kappa, is Chandler H. (Chip) Sharon Jr., at Orlando Junior College.

That "tin warehouse" at Fifth Street and Laurel Avenue that was almost totally destroyed by fire recently presents a "not so good" picture to the tourists and others who come to the Jaycee Information booth a hundred or so feet away. Do you suppose the owners, since there apparently is no intention of rebuilding it, will demolish the eye-sore?

The June meeting of the North Orlando Civic Association will be held at 8 p. m. today in the Civic Building.

GOV. FARRIS BRYANT is shown as he cut the ribbon to officially open that portion of Interstate 4 between Daytona Beach and Sanford. Shown with the governor is John R. Phillips, chairman of the State Road Board. The ceremony was held last Friday near Daytona Beach.

I-4 Brings Daytona Within Easy Reach

Daytona Beach is slightly more than a half hour away from Sanford, now that the new Interstate 4 has been officially opened.

Gov. Farris Bryant and other state officials were on hand Friday to officially dedicate the 27.3 miles of four-lane highway.

Bryant cut a ribbon to open a 10.4 mile stretch between Daytona Beach and a point east of Deland.

The $3,475,000 stretch of road completes Interstate 4 from U. S. 92 in Daytona Beach to Highway 16 west of Sanford.

Central Florida residents are expected to take advantage of the reduced driving time and make more frequent visits to the Atlantic beaches.

The Friday ceremony now means that 127 miles of Interstate 4 are open between Daytona Beach and Tampa with only 11.4 miles remaining to be built from State Road 431 at Longwood to downtown Orlando. The stretch from Sanford to 431 is paved but not fully complete.

Bryant applauded the efforts of Max Brewer and Ritchie Green of the State Road Department in getting the interstate built. He noted Florida is now sixth in the nation in commitment of interstate funds.

Bryant was introduced by Tom Cobb, Daytona Beach attorney who represents the State Road Board.

Daytona's Mayor Owen Eubank gave the welcoming address and the Rev. Paul Edris, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, gave the invocation.

Guests on the platform were John R. Phillips, chairman of the State Road Board,

Canvass Board Meets Today Or Tuesday

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The State Canvassing Board will meet late today or Tuesday to make official the results of the May 26 primary in which Haydon Burns of Jacksonville won the Democratic nomination for governor.

Unlike the first primary May 5, no races in the runoff were so close that the canvassing board tally could have changed or delayed the results.

Secretary of State Tom Adams, Florida's chief election official, said the difference in the two primaries as far as irregularities and tieing to the letter of the election code was "amazing."

Adams had observers in all 67 counties to watch the voting. And although formal reports are in from only a few, he said from discussions with the deputies there apparently were few law violations.

Just the fact that the deputies were on duty, their presence announced prior to the election, had a salutary effect, Richard Hollahan, who is in charge of Adams' election section, said.

Supreme Court Scraps Florida Bible Reading

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court today abruptly reversed a Florida Supreme Court ruling that permitted Bible reading and recitation of the Lord's Prayer in public schools.

The high court cited its decisions of last term that devotional exercises of this kind are an "establishment of religion" forbidden by the constitution.

Florida law requires Bible reading but does not mention other practices.

A group of Miami parents had also objected to baccalaureate programs, questioning children about their religious affiliation and that of their parents; and a religious test for teachers.

The court's brief order today dismissed these complaints "for want of properly presented federal questions."

Members of the complaining group are either Jewish, Unitarian or Agnostic.

The case came to the U. S. Supreme Court last term after Florida tribunals had struck down such state practices as use of the school premises after hours for Bible instruction, exhibition of religious films in the schools, and presentation of Christmas, Easter and Chanuka programs.

The U. S. Supreme Court sent the case back for further consideration in light of its decision on Bible reading and the Lord's Prayer. But the Florida Supreme Court approved the practices a second time on the ground that their purpose was to encourage good moral training rather than to promote religion.

Memorial Death Toll Hits Peak

A record number of traffic deaths occurred on the nation's streets and highways during the Memorial Day weekend. But the National Safety Council said today the actual death rate per miles traveled was one of the lowest in years.

A United Press International count showed 421 persons died in traffic during the holiday period from 6 p. m. Thursday until midnight Sunday.

A breakdown showed:
Traffic 421
Drownings 40
Planes 5
Miscellaneous 73

Total 539
California again led all states in the number of traffic accidents, 36. There were 36 in Texas, 23 in New York and 21 in Illinois. Pennsylvania had 19, Michigan 18, Oklahoma 16, Ohio 15, and Alabama and Missouri 14 each.

The traffic death count soared past the previous record of 371 persons killed over a similar Memorial Day holiday period last year. The safety council had estimated that between 410 and 400 persons would die during this year's 78-hour holiday.

Accord First With Soviets Since 1930s

MOSCOW (UPI) — The United States and Russia today signed a consular agreement paving the way for a Soviet consulate in New York, Chicago or San Francisco and an American consulate in Leningrad.

The agreement was the first bilateral pact between the United States and the Soviets since the 1930s. It assures American citizens traveling or resident in the U. S. S. R. of prompt access to U. S. officials if they are arrested or detained. Soviet citizens in the United States have similar rights.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko hailed the agreement as another step in lessening cold war tensions, but U. S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler warned that "we have a long way to go before the remaining barriers to free interchange are brought down."

Gromyko said the agreement is a logical step after the nuclear test ban treaty signed by the United States, Britain and Russia last summer.

He called today's signing proof that "in spite of inevitable difficulties the two governments can reach understanding on numerous points."

"This tendency could be more evident if the two governments started new efforts for settlement of other, more important, problems," he added.

Gromyko and Kohler signed the documents in the Spriidonovka palace, a Foreign Ministry ceremonial building. The treaty, hammered out in negotiations that began Sept. 27, must be ratified by the U. S. Senate and will formally come into being upon exchange of instruments of ratification in Washington.

The agreement provides that U. S. and Soviet officials be informed within three days of the arrest or detention of each other's nationals and may visit and communicate with them within four days.

Soviet authorities in the past have detained Americans for lengthy periods of time. The most recent example was the arrest last November of Yale University Prof. Frederick C. Barghoorn who was held incommunicado in Moscow's Lubyanka prison for 14 days before being released. The Russians charged him with spying.

WINTER PARK (UPI) — The River Foundation of Chicago has given a $5,000 grant to Rollins College for use in faculty salaries and library needs, the college announced today.

CC Unit Studies Junior College Project

Steps for the establishment of a Seminole County junior college are being studied by a committee of the Seminole Chamber of Commerce's Long-Range Planning Committee.

The start was made Friday afternoon following a luncheon meeting at Jim Spencer's Restaurant at which time R. T. Milwee, county superintendent of public instruction, was the principal speaker.

Also heard was E. S. Douglass, director of vocational and adult education in the county.

Milwee traced the history of past efforts to have a junior college located in the area and how Orange County has decided against a joint venture.

He noted Orange officials shied away from the junior college plans so as not to interfere with the new state university slated for the northern section of that county.

Milwee also reported a state survey team is due here next fall for its study of conditions in the county. The team visits the area every five years and comes up with recommendations for school facilities.

"Briefly," Milwee said, "this is what it looks like to us: A new junior high school, a building for seventh through 12th grades in Oviedo, a senior high school in the south end of the county, a senior high school at Crooms, conversion of the Crooms and Oviedo High Schools into junior colleges."

Original plans for a junior high school were discussed in 1961, Milwee said, and it included representatives from Oviedo, Orange and Seminole counties.

He stressed that 50 to 90 per cent of junior college graduates continue with their higher education while only about 33 to 35 per cent of the county's high school graduates continue their education in colleges.

"If we had a junior college here," the educator said, "we would have about 70 per cent of the students going on to senior college."

Douglass outlined the role of his department and noted that the primary purpose is to help the student "get a job." He said virtually all areas of vocational education are being taught in area schools and others are in the planning stage.

Friday's meeting was conducted by County Judge C. Vernon Mize, planning committee co-chairman with Byron Kimball.

Francis Roumillat, past Seminole Chamber president, suggested the group's steering committee begin working on the junior college and this was approved by the committee membership.

Russia, China Move Toward Final Break

MOSCOW (UPI) — Hints by the Russians during the week-end indicated today that the Soviet Union is moving rapidly toward a final break in state and Communist party relations with Communist China.

The Kremlin also virtually conceded that the world Communist camp has been shattered irreparably, and that it must concentrate on consolidating a Moscow-led bloc.

Red China, in its continuing campaign to woo African and Asian support for its policies, said Sunday the Soviet Union would be "out of place" at any meeting of Afro-Asian states. The statement, contained in the official Peking Peoples Daily, referred to Peking's attempt to bar the Russians from participation in the coming top-level conference of African and Asian nations.

Diplomatic sources said the ideological and political struggle between Moscow and Peking for leadership of the Communist movement appeared to have reached the point where a final break is inevitable.

The dispute centers on Peking's rejection of Russia's policy of peaceful coexistence. The Chinese pursue a more militant course.

The Russians hinted over the weekend that they may recall their ambassador from Peking and reduce their embassy staff to the caretaker level.

The government newspaper Izvestia said the Soviet Union had been compelled to take "political counter-measures" against Albania because that tiny nation had been "cold-bloodedly" egged on by Peking in the political struggle with Russia.

By "political counter-measures," the newspaper obviously was referring to the expulsion of Albanian diplomats from the Soviet capital in December, 1961. Izvestia indicated the Kremlin may do the same with the Chinese.

Court Upholds 'Fair Trade'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court ruled 8 to 1 today that federal law allows Ohio's "Fair Trade" statute. The state law permits a manufacturer to fix a statewide price for brand-name goods.

Speaking for the majority, Justice Arthur J. Goldberg said Congress has approved state statutes sanctioning "resale price maintenance schemes such as those involved here."

"Whether it is good policy to permit such laws is a matter for Congress to decide," the opinion said. "Where the statutory language and the legislative history clearly indicate the purpose of Congress, that purpose must be upheld."

Justice John M. Harlan dissented. The decision came in a case appealed by Hudson Distributors, Inc., which sells drugs in Cleveland. Hudson sued Eli Lilly & Co. and the Upjohn Co., two large drug firms, to get a ruling on the statute. The case was filed in the Ohio Court of Common Pleas of Cuyahoga County.

Oaths Voided By High Court

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court today struck down two state-required oaths challenged by 64 employees of the University of Washington at Seattle.

Justice Byron R. White spoke for a seven-man majority. Justices Tom C. Clark and John M. Harlan dissented. White said both oaths are couched in vague language. They offend the Constitution's guarantee of "due process of law," he said.

One oath, required by a 1951 statute, is for teachers only. It speaks of "reverence for law and order and undivided allegiance to the government of the United States."

Ballet Scores Hit In Longwood Show

By Donna Estes

Five fathers, dressed as ballerinas and doing a ballet routine, were the hit of the very entertaining adult variety show staged by the Longwood Elementary PTO following the final business meeting of the season Tuesday evening in the school auditorium.

Performing, to the delight of the audience, were J. R. Grant, Leo Voskan, Harry Scott, Chuck McIntosh and Arthur Rhodes.

The Western Four Plus One, starring School Superintendent Ray Milwee and Principal John Angel, Christy Harp and Louis Kosky, accompanied by Mrs. Milwee at the piano, proved to be a favorite of the crowd again this year.

Members of the group were dressed in Western garb and sang "The Yellow Rose of Texas." Proof of their popularity was evidenced when

Crooms Holds Class Night

By Bob Thomas

The tradition of Senior Class Night is one that tends to bring back memories, because it has a special uniqueness.

Friday night 128 seniors of the class of 1964 at Crooms High School, shared this time-honored bill of fare with parents, friends and well-wishers. Joyce Ann Williams, as mistress of ceremonies, conducted the program. The stage setting was inspiring, decorated with an original mural, candelabra, potted palms, beautiful girls dressed in pastel shades and handsome young men in dark suits.

This gathering included the usual fun and seriousness of a class night, but was highlighted with a candlelight ceremony which has been described as "impressive," "inspiring" and too beautiful for words.

The participants on the program were Joyce Ann Williams, Wade Cummings, Betty Black, Marsha Henderson, Margaret Fields, Ernestine Morse, Dennis Fogle, Joyce Montgomery, Linda Gail Merthie, Errol Cherry, Reginald McGill, Alice Hudson and Minnie Raines. The Senior Chorus members gave a selection, "Time For Parting," which was done beautifully.

Faculty sponsors for this program were S. E. Black, chairman; Mrs. Pearlie Scott and C. L. Boyer.

Lightning Fatal

SOUTHAMPTON, England, (UPI) — Mrs. Joan Marion Evans, was killed Sunday during a thunderstorm when a lightning bolt struck the shipper on her dress.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Melvin Laird, R-Wis., says the Johnson administration "plans to prepare to move into North Viet Nam" in the war against the Communist Viet Cong.

Laird said in a radio interview Sunday that the House defense appropriations subcommittee, of which he is a member, was supporting the administration's plans.

The congressman, who also is head of the Republican platform Committee, said that "the administration's position is to move north, and we are preparing to move north."

"This is a preparation that has been going on for several months and we in the defense appropriations committee in the House of Representatives are supporting the necessary preparations so that our forces will be in a position to have this free choice available to them in the future," he said.

"The administration plans to prepare to move into North Viet Nam, and that's the important part of my statement. We feel that we should be prepared to move into North Viet Nam. I have felt this way for some time, and I am happy to say that the administration takes that same position."

Two leading Republican presidential aspirants, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, have proposed carrying the war to the north. The administration, however, has denied that it has any present plans to do so.

U. S. officials have been convinced that without North Viet Nam the Communists would not have launched their offensive in Laos and that the Reds in Viet Nam would have been easier to control.

They never have specifically rejected the idea of carrying the war to the north and have said that they were prepared to take any measures necessary to preserve the neutrality and independence of Laos.

Paz Wins Third Term In Bolivia

LA PAZ (UPI) — Early returns from Sunday's election indicated today President Victor Paz Estenssoro—who ran virtually unopposed—won a third term by a massive majority despite opposition efforts to keep voters away from the polls.

No violence was reported on election day. Militiamen shot and wounded two anti-Paz demonstrators here Saturday night.

Returns from 500 of the 1,400 polling places in La Paz, traditionally an opposition stronghold, gave Paz 13,495 votes—nearly 80 percent of the total. There were 2,212 void ballots, 914 blanks presumably cast by anti-government voters, and 352 votes for splinter-party candidates.

The President's majority was expected to run higher in most provincial areas than it did in La Paz.

Seven major opposition parties ranging in political coloration from center-right to extreme left withdrew their candidates from the election in protest against Paz's re-election campaign.

In Bolivia, as in most of Latin America, it is traditionally illegal for a president to succeed himself. A new constitution approved in 1961 legalized Paz's campaign, but some Bolivians resented the break with tradition.

Faircloth Asks Suit Dismissed

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Earl Faircloth of Miami asked Leon County Circuit Court today to dismiss a suit challenging his election as state attorney general.

Faircloth said he won the office by 500 votes over Atty. Gen. James Kynes and he denied Kynes' allegations of irregularities. He said if there were any, they would not change the outcome of the race.

The largest electronically-operated moving message sign in the U. S. will be installed across the 11th floor of the new Gulf American Land Corporation headquarters building in Miami.

Altamonte Library Board Meets Today

By Julia Barton
The executive board meeting of the Altamonte Springs Library will be held at 8 p.m. today instead of Tuesday evening as originally scheduled. At this time a new date will be established for regular meetings of the board.
New hours at the library, effective June 9, will be 10 a.m. until 1 p.m., Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday of each week.
Registration will be held June 9 for the annual summer reading program scheduled to begin July 7 on the theme "A Trip Through Florida." The trip will be made by train with each car representing a different city in the state. To order to move from town to town a child will be required to read six books and a certificate will be earned by reading 15 books. Participants will be allowed to check two books at a time from the library and by July 1, at least 100 new books will be on the shelves.
The 11 a.m. Saturday Story Hours will begin July 11 running for eight weeks.

Shastri Sure For Nehru Job

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Lal Bahadur Shastri, a champion of compromise, was virtually certain today of succeeding the late Jawaharlal Nehru as India's leader in time of trial.
The formal selection of a new prime minister will take place Tuesday in a vote by the 527 parliamentary deputies of the ruling Congress party. Party leaders decided Sunday to recommend Shastri.
A potential party squabble was averted when the other leading candidate, Moraji Desai, announced he was stepping aside, thus clearing the way for the soft-spoken, scholarly Shastri, who is barely five feet tall.
"I will abide by any decision tendered by the Congress president in respect of who will be the leader of the Congress party president, for Desai said after a three-hour meeting of the party's working committee.
Desai's statement referred to the avowed preference of Kumaraswami Kamraj, Congress party president, for Shastri's candidacy. It showed that the majority of the committee supported Shastri and that Desai's chances were hopeless.
Under India's form of parliamentary government, the ruling party chooses a party leader who automatically is designated as prime minister. The Congress party has an overwhelming majority in parliament.
Shastri, 59, prefers compromise to conflict and is considered one of the few men able to keep the party's factions in line. He has specialized in the field of party politics and has never been off the Indian sub-continent.
While Nehru did not name Shastri openly as his apparent, he hand-picked him as his deputy last January after Nehru suffered a stroke.

Judy Reported 'Feeling Fine'

HONG KONG (UPI) — Judy Garland, who is suffering from pleurisy, today was reported "feeling fine" and due to leave the hospital within a few days.
The singer-actress was visited this morning by her personal physician, Dr. Lee Siegel, who arrived Sunday from Los Angeles, and by Dr. Harry Colfer, who has been attending her since she was stricken suddenly last Thursday.
Miss Garland had a brush with death. She went into a coma and for a few hours last Thursday she was considered in critical condition.
"Miss Garland did not, as far as I know, have a heart attack, and I do not have any knowledge of her having taken sleeping pills," Siegel said. Her illness, he said, could be described as "the aftermath of a coma of an unknown origin."

MALCOLM BRICKLIN

Handyman Goes National With Units In North

The first step will be taken this week by a Florida based chain of drive-in hardware stores expanding into a national operation by the opening of two of their colorful Handyman stores in Reading, Penn.
According to Malcolm Bricklin, president of Handyman America, Inc., with headquarters at Goldenrod, these are the first stores opened outside of Florida since Handyman was founded here two years ago. The new Pennsylvania stores, known as Pennsylvania-Handyman, Inc., are the result of a license given only five months ago to Darwin Clay, Reading, to build a string of stores in the eastern half of Pennsylvania. Clay is head of several other firms in that state and a national lay executive in the YMCA.
Since that time, five other licenses have been granted to other prominent businessmen. The 1055 sq. ft. Handyman stores will be built or are already under construction in Connecticut, a six county area north of New York City, all of Long Island, in and around Baltimore, Maryland, as well as the southeastern Florida coast from Ft. Pierce to the Florida Keys.
Two signers of the Declaration of Independence became U. S. presidents John Adams and Thomas Jefferson.

Lake Mary UPW Association Has Program On Missions

By Frances Wester
Mrs. Richard Keogh was hostess with Mrs. H. M. Gleason, co-hostess, for the May Association Meeting of the U P W of the Community Presbyterian Church of Lake Mary held Tuesday night at the Keogh home.
The devotionals were given by Mrs. Harry E. Sandusky. Mrs. P. D. Anderson was in charge of the very instructive, informative and interesting program.
A film strip, Island Of Mercy, about the Presbyterian Hospital in Taegu, Korea, was shown. A special offering was received for Medical Missions.
Mrs. W. C. Hopkins presided over the business session. The group voted for the Executive Committee to appoint a committee to look into the possibility of buying a new refrigerator for the church kitchen.
Mrs. Arlyn True was asked to be chairman of a committee for house warmings for Mr. and Mrs. Roger Crocker and Mrs. James Daughtrey to be held on June 7 from 3 to 6 p. m.
The women were asked to bring lunch to the manse on Saturday for the men who will be working there. The World Service chairman, Mrs. John Ulmer, reported that the rolled bandages have been completed for the Presbyterian Hospital in India.
Mrs. Keogh, chairman of the Program Committee, announced that the Association will recess for the summer months. The next meeting will be held on the fourth Tuesday of October. The exercises will continue to meet each month at their regular times.

Elder Springs Marks Christian Home Week

Last week was observed by Elder Springs Baptist Church as Christian Home Week on the theme "How Can Our Church Strengthen Our Homes?" with the church council, directed by Mrs. C. W. Eagle, in charge of arrangements.
Highlight of the week came on Monday night with a covered dish supper, served by members of the Married Young Ladies, in the banquet area followed by a film program and conferences on "Family Living" for all age groups.
Subjects discussed included Essentials of a Christian Home, The Changing Family, Relationship Within the Family and The Church Calendar and Family Life.
Directing the conferences were Mrs. Charles L. Park, adult and married young ladies; William L. Thomas, adult and married young men; Rev. Willard Warfield, young people and intermediates; Mrs. C. A. Anderson, juniors and fill Harvey, primaries and beginners. Time was allowed for question and answer periods.
The church set aside Friday night for each family to rededicate their home to God.

Solidarity Grows

The longer West Berlin remains an island of Westernism surrounded by a Communist sea, the more secure its position seems to get—at least in one respect: the morale of its 2.3 million inhabitants.

Social scientists and opinion samplers have been scrutinizing Berliners for years, testing their barometric reactions to changes in the political pressures under which they live.

Back in 1948-49, at the time of the airlift, every third citizen was ready to pack up and leave. It was not so bad in 1961 after the Wall was built; only every fifth person would have left if he could.

Now the latest survey reveals that 75 per cent of all West Berliners want to spend the rest of their lives in the city. The sociologists have found an increasing solidarity among the entire population. Berliners no longer think of their city as an isolated, threatened outpost, but as part of the West.

This feeling is backed by another survey in which 10 million West Germans said they would not mind living in the city.

Although the Berliners have become "crisis resistant" as well as prosperous over the years, they have not lessened in their highly sensitive reaction to every political development that affects them.

While the attention of the world so often focuses on Berlin, the eyes of Berlin are constantly looking outward.

Should U. S., Cuba Talk

Fidel Castro may shoot off his mouth all he wants without particular damage to anyone. The great danger has been that he might shoot off one of his antiaircraft rockets and bring the world right back to the nuclear brink it stood on during the missile crisis of 1962.

That danger has lessened now. If the reports are true that Russia has pulled out its first-class SAM-2 missiles, leaving Castro with less effective ones.

Castro continues to make noises about the violation of Cuban air space by U-2 reconnaissance planes. The United States has replied in strong terms that the flights are essential to our security and will go on.

One U-2 was shot down over Cuba in October 1962. Nothing was done at that time, for Russia had agreed to remove its missiles and allow on-site inspection. (The inspection was vetoed by Castro.)

A similar incident today — and there is no guarantee that there couldn't be one — would place the United States in the ticklish position of deciding whether finally to bomb the bases out of existence once and for all. But such a retaliatory attack would then confront the Soviets with living up to their vows to defend Cuban sovereignty.

Adding a hopeful element to the situation, however, is the fact that Castro is apparently touchier about being overlooked by the big powers than overflown by U-2s. He doesn't like the flights, but he likes less being ignored in diplomatic negotiations.

Reacting to news that U.S. Ambassador Foy Kohler had discussed the U-2 issue with Russian Vice Premier Anastas Mikoyan in Moscow recently, Castro remarked, "Cuba is a sovereign territory and is not a dependency of the Soviet Union. Why don't they (the U.S.) talk to us?"

It's a good question, and one which Washington should seriously examine.

Negotiating with Castro would doubtless raise cries from many that this was the same as recognition and that recognition is tantamount to approval. But too much hangs in the balance to allow pride — on either side — to precipitate an unnecessary crisis — either over U-2s, missiles, Guantanamo, or any other Cuban-U.S. area of friction.

Pride goeth before a fall, and what a fall it could be — for everyone.

Hindus May Move

Notes from the foreign news column:

Officials in London fear that the death of Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru may mean a renewal of the deadly communal warfare between the Hindu majority and Moslem minority.

With Nehru's restraining hand gone, some officials believe Hindu extremist elements are set to move. The Kashmir issue between Moslem Pakistan and India is now far from settlement. This dispute and other tensions between the two countries and religions set off rioting last winter that killed hundreds.

Without the moderating influence of Nehru, however, events to come may make this fighting seem minor. India has about 300 million Hindus and 50 million Moslems in a population of 400 million. In Pakistan, 85 per cent of the 64 million citizens are Moslem and about 5 per cent are Hindu.

Khrushchev's Line:

The Soviet premier's visit to Scandinavia this month is expected to show a softer side of Soviet policy. Instead of preaching revolution and anti-imperialism as he did in Cairo, Khrushchev probably will adapt his statements to the audience and stress peaceful coexistence with the West.

Khrushchev's Bulldog: East German Communist leader Walter Ulbricht will return from Moscow with new support from Khrushchev.

Communist affairs experts in Berlin say, Ulbricht's hard line is not in favor with the more liberal members of the Soviet bloc, but the expert view is that Khrushchev is Ulbricht's ally. The reason is Ulbricht's willingness to cooperate in trade and industrial agreements at a time when Romania, Poland, and other satellites are increasing their business contacts with the West.

France and Spain: French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville's visit to Madrid and talks with Gen. Franco are viewed in Spain as a prestige boost for the Franco regime, once ostracized by the West for its wartime Axis links. The trip is part of President Charles de Gaulle's campaign to win Spain and Portugal to his side. It includes support for Spanish membership in NATO and the Common Market. But market sources expect Holland and Belgium to block any Spanish bid for membership. On the one hand they are friendly to the Franco government, and on the other they want to get back to De Gaulle for vetoing British membership last year.

Malaysia Word: One word keeps Malaysia and Indonesia from getting together in a summit conference to solve their undeclared guerrilla war. Indonesia is agreeable to an "initial withdrawal" of its guerrillas from Malaysian territory before the talks begin. Malaysia wants the "initial" dropped from the public announcement so that a total and unqualified pullback will be indicated.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — This is a spring report on the mood of the Negro community in Philadelphia, one of the big northern laboratories of racial change.

Basically, it is quiet but watchful. There is disappointment at the slow progress of the civil rights bill through the Senate. Yet delay and compromise on the measure seem less likely to produce new demonstrations in Philadelphia than in many other cities.

Some Negro leaders say they detect considerable apathy in the city toward the controversial bill. A good many Negroes there do not see it as central to their hopes.

The focus in Philadelphia is, of course, on education and jobs, not on public accommodations.

The highly responsible Negro leadership feels it is, at last, on a good working basis with white leaders in assuaging these problems.

Building on this foundation is the big concern. For example, some Philadelphia Negroes want to stage a march June 5 on the City's Board of Education. The established leaders are against it. They do not believe the time is ripe for such a move, nor that a strong rallying issue exists.

This does not mean they are satisfied with progress toward ending de facto segregation in Philadelphia's schools. They want far more to be accomplished. But they believe there has been motion, and that the board is bent on the right direction.

Eagerly awaited is a new school superintendent who takes over this summer.

Interestingly, in Philadelphia, the word integration no longer stands alone for the goal to be attained. In Negro utterances it is now nearly always coupled with "quality education."

Integration of the schools is not sought for its own sake but as a path to better schooling for undertrained Negro children now crammed into overcrowded, run-down inadequate buildings.

Another illustration of the determinedly responsible mood in Philadelphia is the attitude toward the city's well-publicized, unique job retraining program.

That program in the 1963-64 season has been largely a flop, with less than 400 persons said to have been trained for specific jobs waiting at the end of the rainbow. Yet hope is felt for better results next year.

The current effort developed many bugs. Surveys of job prospects proved superficial and wide of the mark. Negroes who managed to pass certain application tests still found themselves barred from courses because of lack of literacy training, personality problems and other factors.

Both whites and Negroes involved nevertheless decline to give up. All agencies—local, state, federal and Chamber of Commerce—are planning improved programs for the coming training year.

Typical of the working spirit is Keaton Arnett, a Chamber official who has led the way in the training effort. His formal retirement comes soon, but he will stay on to devote himself wholly to the job program.

Encouragement is taken from the greater success attending another retraining program led by a Negro minister, Dr. Leon Sullivan. With a $200,000 grant from the Ford Foundation, this is now moving ahead impressively to train several hundred Negroes, Puerto Ricans and whites in a variety of fields.

All sides seem today to look on Philadelphia as an action city in racial matters. And the action is not in the streets.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — For reasons best known to themselves, U. S. presidents have never seen fit to have an entertainment secretary on fulltime duty at the White House.

That function usually is handled by unofficial theatrical advisers who come down from New York for occasional consultations on show business matters.

One of the late President John F. Kennedy's theatrical advisers was Richard Adler, a composer who wrote the music for such Broadway hits as "Damn Yankees" and "Pajama Game."

Adler also is serving President Johnson in that capacity, and I am able to report that the transition from one administration to another has gone smoothly thus far.

This is rather remarkable when you consider that presidents are likely to have sharply divergent opinions as to what constitutes entertainment. I recall that when former President Dwight D. Eisenhower left office, such White House favorites as Guy Lombardo and Lawrence Welk were banished.

Which proves that those who live by the saxophone must expect to die by the saxophone.

Adler, who staged two big political productions for Kennedy, is in the capital now getting ready for a "Salute to LBJ" extravaganza that will be held May 26 to raise funds for the Democratic National Committee.

I asked him in what respects putting on a show for

The Lighter Side

Johnson differed from his work under the previous administration.

The role of a presidential theatrical adviser being a confidential one, Adler declined to be drawn into comparisons. I gather, however, that some of the problems are the same.

One of the major problems is creating a theatrical atmosphere in the National Guard armory, where productions of this sort customarily take place.

The armory is fine for such things as bull fights and chariot races. In a pinch, I suppose it could even be used by the National Guard. But as a theater, it compares unfavorably with the Indiana polis Speedway.

Adler has strung up 10,000 balloons in an effort to improve the acoustics. I think it might work, too — particularly if all of them pop at the same time.

Anyway, it should be a gala evening, featuring such stars as Mahalia Jackson, Joan Baez, Mimi Fariy, the Christy Minstrels, Gregory Peck, Gina Lollobrigida and Allan Sherman.

For an encore, maybe Miss Lollobrigida will lift Mr. Sherman by the ears.

Mrs. John Bruce Dodd, of Spokane, Wash., originated the observance of Father's Day in 1910.

Worry Clinic

Ernie Walker has 8,000 boys in his great "free enterprise" college, for that's what a newspaper offers its carriers. Parents, urge your sons to operate a newspaper route for that is the BEST training our youth obtain in the "free enterprise" system. Such boys don't become delinquents or communists, either!

CASE 5-470: Ernie Walker is the energetic Circulation Manager of the Cleveland Press.

He had previously been stationed in Knoxville, Tennessee, where he invited me to address the annual Women's Institute conducted by the News Sentinel, so we have been friends for 20 years.

But recently I was in Cleveland for a TV appearance, so I had lunch at the Press as Ernie's guest.

"Dr. Crane," he said, "we have 8,000 carrier boys who deliver our newspapers daily.

"And recently we compiled a 'Who's Who' of our former carriers who had received our Scholarship Awards.

"Wouldn't you like to see that 'Who's Who'?"

And I was fascinated by the list of Newspaper "Who's Who," Ernie's former newspaper boys occupying high posts especially in science and our Military Service.

We wondered if the diligence to duty which newspaper carriers develop, may thus predispose them to a scientific outlook on life.

Ernie Walker and the other Circulation Managers actually give our youth the only comprehensive drill in our "free enterprise" system.

Ernie is thus conducting a large university with 8,000 alert boys who see our economy from the 3-fold angle, namely, production, distribution, and credit.

Under "distribution" fall advertising, selling and merchandising.

Also, most Americans never get this bird's-eye view, for they are simply engaged in factory production or else have salaried jobs in advertising, or else serve in credit departments as bookkeepers, accountants, etc.

So we should offer a double salute to Circulation Men, for they are the mainstay of our "free enterprise" system.

There are now 1,000,000 boys in Canada and the U. S. A. who operate newspaper routes.

Alas, this superb training is missed by the other 35,000,000 children of their age, which partly explains the juvenile outlook of most voters regarding taxes, government inefficiency, etc.

Remember, newspaperboys mature faster in their economic and social outlook, so they are rarely to be found among delinquents.

Girls, they make admirable husband-material, too! And excellent men to whom college scholarships should be awarded.

Parents, urge your son to carry a newspaper route. It gives him the BEST economic training in sound Americanism!

Thus, they learn to subtract costs from their gross sales to find their "net" earnings for the week.

Alas, this superb training is missed by the other 35,000,000 children of their age, which partly explains the juvenile outlook of most voters regarding taxes, government inefficiency, etc.

Remember, newspaperboys mature faster in their economic and social outlook, so they are rarely to be found among delinquents.

Girls, they make admirable husband-material, too! And excellent men to whom college scholarships should be awarded.

Parents, urge your son to carry a newspaper route. It gives him the BEST economic training in sound Americanism!

Thus, they learn to subtract costs from their gross sales to find their "net" earnings for the week.

Ernie Walker has 8,000 boys in his great "free enterprise" college, for that's what a newspaper offers its carriers. Parents, urge your sons to operate a newspaper route for that is the BEST training our youth obtain in the "free enterprise" system. Such boys don't become delinquents or communists, either!

CASE 5-470: Ernie Walker is the energetic Circulation Manager of the Cleveland Press.

He had previously been stationed in Knoxville, Tennessee, where he invited me to address the annual Women's Institute conducted by the News Sentinel, so we have been friends for 20 years.

But recently I was in Cleveland for a TV appearance, so I had lunch at the Press as Ernie's guest.

"Dr. Crane," he said, "we have 8,000 carrier boys who deliver our newspapers daily.

"And recently we compiled a 'Who's Who' of our former carriers who had received our Scholarship Awards.

"Wouldn't you like to see that 'Who's Who'?"

And I was fascinated by the list of Newspaper "Who's Who," Ernie's former newspaper boys occupying high posts especially in science and our Military Service.

We wondered if the diligence to duty which newspaper carriers develop, may thus predispose them to a scientific outlook on life.

Ernie Walker and the other Circulation Managers actually give our youth the only comprehensive drill in our "free enterprise" system.

Ernie is thus conducting a large university with 8,000 alert boys who see our economy from the 3-fold angle, namely, production, distribution, and credit.

Under "distribution" fall advertising, selling and merchandising.

Also, most Americans never get this bird's-eye view, for they are simply engaged in factory production or else have salaried jobs in advertising, or else serve in credit departments as bookkeepers, accountants, etc.

So we should offer a double salute to Circulation Men, for they are the mainstay of our "free enterprise" system.

There are now 1,000,000 boys in Canada and the U. S. A. who operate newspaper routes.

Sanford Girl Now Serving With Peace Corps In Rural Chile

EDITOR'S NOTE— Miss Sara Jacobson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Jacobson of 220 Scott Avenue, is now serving in a rural area of Chile for the Peace Corps. A story of her experiences was published in a recent issue of the Martin News, an Orlando Industrial publication. It is reprinted here through courtesy of that publication.

The farmers build fires in the middle of the hard packed earth floors of their huts. There are no fireplaces. The results show in the scarred faces of the children. The huts are dirty and smoky; the ceilings black with soot.

Martin's Orlando employees find it difficult to imagine such living conditions. Words apart? Perhaps. But there is a very important link between the two. That link is Miss Sara Jacobson, 22, a secretary in Pershing Administration until a few months ago. She lived with her parents at their home on Scott Avenue in Sanford.

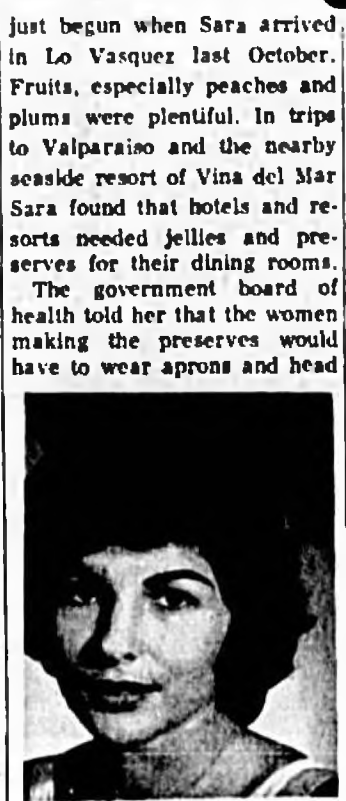

In the fall of 1963, Sara joined the Peace Corps, and is now serving in a rural area in Chile called Lo Vasquez, near the seaport of Valparaiso.

Her job: help the people get out of those huts. Sara's biggest problem has been to convince the agricultural workers (campesinos) that they can help themselves. The campesino usually works on a large plantation. In return for 365 days of work a year he receives about $140, his "house," and a small piece of land (perhaps a quarter of an acre) to grow some vegetables for his family. Families average seven children.

Sara couldn't talk to these people of "hope," for they had never had an opportunity to think in these terms. "Progress" was incomprehensible to them. Sara had to demonstrate what progress means—and she did it by showing campesino wives how to package food and make as much money in four days as their families received in a month.

Through Sara, the farmers' wives joined the world of private initiative and free enterprise. Instead of preparing food solely for home use on a subsistence basis, they now invest their time and energy in packaging it for the market.

The Chilean summer had

just begun when Sara arrived in Lo Vasquez last October. Fruits, especially peaches and plums were plentiful. In trips to Valparaiso and the nearby seaside resort of Vina del Mar Sara found that hotels and resorts needed jellies and preserves for their dining rooms.

The government board of health told her that the women making the preserves would have to wear aprons and head cans, when properly sterilized. Sara has also started a tourist industry which employs teenagers. They make horses of rope with sewn leather saddles which are sold as curios in resort areas.

In a recent letter to her parents, Sara said "I have never been so challenged, or so satisfied in finding solutions to challenges."

Some 50 Peace Corps Volunteers are working in various phases of rural community development in Chile. In cooperation with the Chilean

The resulting sense of resignation and cynicism was Sara's biggest problem. Full acceptance of her idea came with the profits from the sale of the preserves. The campesino wives have continued and improved their tiny "factory" throughout the fruit season, and are looking for new profit-making projects for the coming winter.

Where will the profits go? Sara hopes to use them as the foundation for a credit cooperative, which, when strengthened by funds from local banks, will be able to give self improvement loans to workers. It would be the first time that the campesinos could obtain loans at reasonable interest rates.

Institute of Rural Education, these young Americans are dispersed among the Institute's 20 schools, which are spread over a 2,500-mile area.

Some volunteers teach health, carpentry, home economics and mechanics in the schools; others, like Sara work among the campesinos in the farm areas near the schools.

The Volunteers represent a wide variety of occupations and skills. But they all have the common ability—a resourceful, diplomatic and patient flexibility to face a daily routine of the unexpected. Basically, they must fire up the community to do whatever it needs the most.

Sara has risen to this challenge. Peace Corps Chilean Desk Officer Gordon Cloney reports — that she is "enthusiastic, imaginative and resourceful and is doing an excellent job."

In a high caliber business like the Peace Corps, that's a lot of praise.

Osteen Asked To Use Zip Code

Osteen postmaster Mrs. Lois Brooke today called on residents of the community for higher participation in the Zip Code program.

"Zip Code is just as vital to modern postal progress in the small towns as it is in the big cities," Mrs. Brooke said, going on to define the program as "an economy measure designed to keep pace with the nation's rising mail volume without an unmanageable increase in the department's work room personnel."

Speaking recently before the Osteen PTA, Mrs. Brooke explained that the program is "the only economical answer to what Postmaster General Jon A. Gronoski describes as a 'mail explosion' of the 1960's and 70's."

"Economy is the watchword of the Johnson administration and the President has directed us to provide the best possible service at the least possible cost. Now and in the future, Zip Code will help us to meet President Johnson's objectives," she advised.

Explaining how the program works for the benefit of both large and small communities, Mrs. Brooke said that "Zip Code is built around the concept of sectional centers where mail is processed in bulk and then shipped directly to the sectional center nearest its destination, skipping a number of time consuming handlings along the way."

"The technique, with mechanization in large offices, speeds the sorting mail process. The department is developing an optical scanner which will automatically speed both incoming and outgoing mail for the people of Osteen."

"No man is an island, entire of itself, so Osteen is not a self sufficient community. Please cooperate by using your Zip Code number," she urged.

About Sports Thinking Out Loud

By Julian Steinmetz
All Sports banquet flashbacks:

This increasingly popular ceremony is creating problems. Maybe it's because this is the space age, but space is running out in the cafeteria. Lucille Feller and the able staff of luncheon ladies from the various schools served a fine meal to 350 Seminole loyalists. And this just about "loaded" the place. Next year??

Dr. O. L. Barkis, retiring Booster Club president, created quite a buzz when he presented one of the trophies. He looked long at the figure atop the pedestal and commented, "I'm trying to find out whether this is a boy or a girl." This from a former obstetrician caused quite a ripple in the audience!

Orlando coaches Paul Miller and Art Scott were on hand for the affair. Came in late. Game why... Their football practice had gone on, and on, and on as both the mentors and the players really "put out" for that up-coming team next year.

Dr. John Morgan in presenting the Whitley McLucas award paid a splendid tribute both to the man in whose name it is given and to the recipient.

Ottis Mooney, featured speaker for the occasion, delighted the listeners as he "ribbed" Principal Andy Bracken and Coach Jim Pigott. About the latter, whose high standards scholastically are well known, he said that he had gone to school with him and when Ottis transferred to another school, he ever graduated! Charlie Tate, head football coach at Miami University and Ottis' boss, had played football with Bracken, the speaker said. Asked what kind of a football player the Seminole principal was, Tate said he was "sort of a neckline fullback." "Yeah, but what kinda player is that?" asked Mooney. "Well, he was plunging down the middle, but never showing much," was Tate's reply.

Jim Pigott helped his rating considerably when he recognized the parents of the athletes, asking them to stand and take a bow for all they had endured during the season of the sports in which their offspring had taken part.

The new slate of Booster Club officers takes over to get ready for what promises to be a big year. Pres. Roger Harris will have plans that he hopes will make the 1964-65 year better even than the one just closing—and it was REAL good... Of course, we have hopes that included in the projects will be a press box—somewhere with a field of vision (at least) of the football field, and sufficiently out of the weather to permit some concentration on the game by the fellows trying to give you the word picture of the events. Selfish? Well, maybe. But you'll get better coverage if it becomes a reality.

There was a fine tribute to the cheerleaders and the outstanding work they had done. And to Mary Joyce Beteman, the sponsor, to whom the girls gave credit for many of their ideas and projects. The athletes are still talking about the fine and stimulating ideas that kept the spirit at high level throughout the year.

Today's the final day for entries in the 18th National Pee Wee Golf Championships. This deadline applies only to the main Pee Wee event. Qualifying rounds at Rolling Hills Country Club, Altamonte Springs, June 15, will accept entries on their events.

Over 10 Hours Required For Giants-Mets Twin Bill

NY Loses Both As SF Returns To Top Of NL

By Joe Gergen
UPI Sports Writer
The New York Mets, their traditions of futility deeply enriched, have stood the test of time—and filled with flying colors.

Despite their youthful appearance, the Mets, only in their third year of existence, have backed into the record book with the poise of veterans and turned baseball upside down. Sunday, the New Yorkers participated in the longest game in major league annals from the point of time elapsed—and lost.

A crowd of 37,037 at Shea Stadium — the largest in the majors this year — was on hand for the opener of the Mets-San Francisco Giants doubleheader at 1:05 p.m. EDT. Less than a quarter of that total remained to see the final out at 11:24, which proves that history isn't a very attractive subject.

After losing the opener, 5-3, the Mets scored three runs in the seventh inning of the nightcap on Joe Christopher's home run to tie the score at 6-6. And that's the way it remained until the 23rd inning when Del Crandall's ground-rule double drove in the winning run in the 8-6 victory.

The 23-inning struggle fell three short of tying the major league record of 26 set by the Dodgers and Braves in 1920, but the total playing time of seven hours and 23 minutes broke the seven-hours endurance mark set by the New York Yankees and the Detroit Tigers in 1962. It also was the longest game in major league history played to a decision since the Dodgers-Braves struggle ended in a 1-1 tie.

But length wasn't the only oddity of the game. New York shortstop Roy McMillan started a triple play in the 14th inning and Manager Alvin Dark of the Giants was ejected but not before protesting the ejection. In addition, 46 strikeouts were recorded in the doubleheader to surpass the old major league standard of 44 established by the Indians and Red Sox last year.

In other National League games, Billy Williams homered in the 10th inning to give the Cubs a 4-3 win over the Braves; the Phillies overpowered the Colts, 4-1; the Dodgers defeated the Pirates, 6-4; and the Cardinals won the second game of a doubleheader with the Reds, 2-1, after losing the opener, 6-0.

The English speed demon was clocked at 380 m.p.h. for his first run on Lake Eyre's salt flats and turned in a disappointing 364 m.p.h. clocking on his second run.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — A. J. Foyt was hailed today as "the greatest race driver who ever lived" for winning his second 500-mile chase. But the Speedway paid a high price for his latest spectacle and was the center of a stormy controversy for the third consecutive year.

Ball And Chain Bowling League Gets Under Way

The Wednesday Ball and Chain Mr. and Mrs. League got under way a week ago. High honors went to Marlon Rankin with a sensational 227/616 series for the men and Betsy Reno with a 219/529 for the women.

Others high games and series were Gene Rogers 205/556, Leo Dooley 191/559, and Bill Fox 490. The women did well too with Linda Post's 171/440, Mary Meek's 169/440, and Rose Phillips 168.

In this week's session, Ron Meier was high with a 617 series, Gene Rogers' 612 and Everett Terry's 611. Leo Dooley had his second over-200 game with a 201.

Betsy Reno lead the ladies with a 181/504 series. Close behind was Verna Bolton from the same team with a 500 even series. Others girls with high games were Gene Rogers' 192, Ene Stine's 190, Rose Phillips' 187 and Linda Post's 181.

Turkeys fell for Rose Phillips, Betsy Reno (twice) and Bill Fox. Carol Kerr spared the difficult 4-10 and the baby split 3-10 was converted by Verna Bolton and Jim Sweek.

GAINESVILLE — South squad for the annual North-South FHSAA all-star basketball game August 1 in Gainesville was announced Saturday by Carey McDonald, executive secretary of the Florida Athletic Coaches Assn.

The South, coached this year by Vince Schaefer of Miami Senior, has size speed and several all-star basketball players who will attempt to keep Rebel forces ahead in this series.

Schaefer's Miami Senior team, which went to the semifinals of the Class AA state tournament, contributes two boys in Coach Schaefer's son, Chuck, and Terry Atkins.

Other members of the South team represents eight high schools in the southern area of the state.

South Squad:
Terry Lanier (Tampa Plant), Mike Rollyson (Plant City), Don Sebastian (Frostproof), Bob Simont (Cocoa), David Miller (Delray Seacrest), Jim McKirchy (Miami Columbus), Jeff Gatta (Miami Norland), Bob Dowling (Miami Beach Senior), Chuck Schaefer (Miami Senior), Terry Atkins (Miami Senior).

North lineup will be announced next Sunday, according to McDonald.

Bed Posts Take Over 1st Place

After three weeks of bowling in the Wilson-Maler Women's Scrabble League at Jet Lanes the Bed Posts have taken over the top rung with a 10 and two record.

The Loungers and the Rockers are in the second spot with identical eight and four records and holding down the fourth spot are the Sectionals with a log of seven wins and five losses.

Pat Spley grabbed individual honors with her 189 game and Charlotte Bassett was the series "star" as she bombed the pins with a 514.

Doris Schaufel chimed in with 162/461 to pace the Bed Posts in their split with the Loungers. Barbara Rohrer shot 167/438 in the Rockers' three game romp over the Sectionals while Carolyn Salice, 154/426, and Pat Spley, 189/499, tried hard for the Sectionals. Rose Patrick blasted 174/460 to help the Easy Chairs gain a split with the Settlers.

Elsie Kostival was the ace for the Settlers with 177/466. Betsy Reno with 177/469 and Shirley Martin with 168/457 steered the Commodores to a two and two split with the Recliners as Dot Johnson hit a 179/440 series.

Navy Wins Eleventh Straight LL Affair

The Navy nine of the City Recreation Department's Little American League managed only two hits Friday afternoon but that was all they needed to grab their 11th straight win, a 6 to 2 victory over George's.

The triumph gave the Sailors a comfortable six-game lead over Florida State's Bankers with only eight games remaining to be played.

AFL Exhibition Slate Announced

NEW YORK (UPI) — The American Football League will open its pre-season schedule Saturday Aug. 8 when the Buffalo Bills and the New York Jets clash at Tampa, Fla., and the San Diego Chargers host the Denver Broncos.

The exhibition season will run through Sept. 6 and will include 20 games in 15 cities and 12 states. All league cities except New York will stage at least one contest and other games will be played in Tampa, Little Rock, Ark., Atlanta, Las Vegas, Fort Worth, Tex., Wilkes Barre, Pa., Lowell, Mass. and New Brunswick, N.J.

The Elks scored in every inning and won easily over the Kiwanis Friday night, 21 to 4. Mark Caolo pelted the ball for three hits, including a triple. Meanwhile, Gary Maple and Don Nicholas, also with triples, added to the onslaught with two hits apiece.

No games were played over the weekend in the Men's circuit.

White Sox Grab Double Header; KC Downs Yanks

By CURT BLOCK
UPI Sports Writer
One of the mysteries of the American League pennant race has been how Al Lopez manages to keep his Chicago White Sox atop the league standings.

Despite the absence of a consistent 300 hitter and the fact that their winningest pitcher has yet to go the distance, the White Sox climbed into first place Sunday with a double victory over Detroit, 5-3 and 8-3.

The merry month of May had Lopez ecstatic as his men jumped on rivals for 19 victories while being set down only seven times.

Chicago gained sole possession of the top spot by a half game in sweeping the four-game Tiger series during the weekend while the Orioles took a three game set from the Angels.

In other AL action, Baltimore nipped Los Angeles, 3-1; Kansas City downed New York, 4-2; Boston edged Minnesota, 4-3; and Cleveland took two from Washington, 9-6 and 8-3.

Sunshine Loop Has Two Champs

Season for the Sunshine Kids Bowling League at Medallion Lanes wound up in a tie of the Terminates and the Ladybugs, each team winning 81 games. A Roll-off was played last Thursday, still resulting in a tie, and league officials voted to award trophies to both teams.

Lady Bartos, with a 188, came out on top in the play-off to clinch the tie. Peggy Houser, league secretary, made the 7-10 split and Alice Hoefft knocked over the 4-5-7. Trophies will be awarded at the annual luncheon meeting which will be held in Maitland.

Club Honors Husbands

The lakeside home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Schiefen was the scene of a delightful party the evening of May 21 when the Paradise Point Hobby Club entertained their husbands with a steak cook-out.

Although the club was organized three years ago, the gals have been too busy dabbling in oils and pastels to give much thought to honoring their husbands. The affair was such a success that the men voted for a similar outing again in July.

Those attending the affair were Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Parrott, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maplesden, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Hahn, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Collier and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Schiefen. Those unable to attend were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith and Mrs. Mattie Holley, Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Cooper and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Glick.

Patio-Pool Party Honors Graduates

Soft music and dim lights created a festive atmosphere at the Carl Schilke home on Coleman Circle as members of the '64 graduation class of Seminole High School assembled for a patio pool party.

Honored guests were seniors of the Senior High Fellowship of the First Presbyterian Church. Sharing the honors were Ceni Wheatland, Jimmy Touhy, Sandy Slayton, Jerry Cullum, Jeff Barlow, Gay Hunt, Steve Sewell and Ann Aiken.

The spacious patio was decorated in the class colors of red and white with streamers gracefully draped throughout the area surrounded by masses of floating balloons.

The buffet table was centered with a floral arrangement of red and white carnations in a milk glass container with miniature paper graduates on each side. The dinner, which was served buffet style, featured turkey and ham as the entree, complemented with a variety of assorted delicacies.

Written on the fluffy white cake in red lettering was the name of each honored guest and also a miniature diploma was featured. From Proverbs 16:16, "How much better is it to get wisdom than gold and to get understanding rather than to be chosen than silver" was also printed on the unique cake.

Each girl honoree was presented with a granny cap from the hostesses, and the boys received tie clips.

Mrs. (Shirley) Schilke was capably assisted by Mrs. Gene Hunt, who served as co-hostess.

Among the guests who enjoyed a memorable evening of dining, swimming and dancing were Vicki Boyd, Chris Thomas, Len Reinhardt, Billy Higgins, Susi Deal, Jay Payne and Marilyn Hunt. Also Earl Black, Delaine Johnson, Eddie Kosky, Myra Meeks, Kenny Tyre, Brenda Brown, Dale Alexander and Mr. and Mrs. David Bach.

Miss Coleman Given Cook-Out Party

Miss Gail Coleman member of the '64 graduating class of Seminole High School, was guest of honor at a recent cook-out hosted by Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Weatherington Jr. and Miss Darlene Coleman.

The lovely home and spacious patio was gaily decorated with red and white streamers with floating balloons and red and white graduation caps with red tassels were used in the clever decor.

The menu consisted of hamburgers, baked beans, potato salad and all the trimmings, served with a beautifully decorated red and white cake.

Guests enjoying the leisure outing were JoAnn Sparks, Becky Giles, Jennifer Thompson, Harold Unger, Steve Sewell, Jim Touhy, Sharon Jackson, Bill Young, Peggy Grier, Frank Noel, Ann Mahan, Tommy Hinson and Mike Williams.

Also Ceni Wheatland, Billy Higgins, Mike Korgan, Janet Johnson, Lloyd Freeman, Sheri Thrasher, Danny Dunn, Joe Gazil, Ken Poff and Barbara Watson.

Miss Coleman is one of the outstanding members of the graduating class and anticipates engaging in a nursing career.

A Field Trip Interesting To The Oviedo Garden Club

By Evelyn Lundy
Members of the Oviedo Garden Club took a field trip to Weeki-Wachee Springs, Tuesday, leaving Oviedo at 9 a.m.

Arriving at the beautiful grounds, they were met by the manager of the Orchid Gardens, Mrs. Jennie T. Goode.

She gave a most interesting and informative talk on orchids and their care, stating that most beginners like to start with a cattleya, which is one of the most exotic plants in the world. To most everyone, orchids have a special enchantment, and are considered the greatest treasure of all flowers.

To grow orchids successfully, you must understand their basic nature; then you can give them the conditions, food and water they need. Most orchids are air plants, and cannot tolerate too much moisture. Mrs. Goode showed specimens from various parts of the world, including several wild specimens from the Everglades.

She told of the vast variety of orchids; the smallest orchid blossom in the world is as small as the head of a pin and the plant is only one-fourth inch tall. In contrast the largest known orchid blossom is 13 inches wide, and some of the plants stand 100 feet high. She stated that in using good common sense it is easy to grow orchids as a rule, and that they are tough, strong plants, and are not bothered much by diseases and pests.

After the lecture, the members were shown through the orchid houses and saw some of the most beautiful specimens of various kinds of orchids in the world. Following a delicious lunch in the Weeki-Wachee Restaurant, everyone went to see the world famous spectacular show of the underwater mermaids. Before the show a brief lecture was given about the construction of the building and how the girls were selected and how carefully and thoroughly they were trained. The spectators viewing the show were seated in an auditorium which is 16 feet below the surface of the water.

The hostesses of the garden club served cookies and tea in the restaurant. Mrs. John Ridenour and Mrs. W. R. Meek Sr. were hostesses, however, Mrs. Meek was unable to attend.

On the way home the members stopped at the summer camp of the J. R. Battles near Homosassa, where a short business meeting was held and plans for the coming year were discussed.

Members making the trip in addition to Mrs. Ridenour were: Mrs. Roger Miller, Mrs. Thomas Moon, Mrs. T. B. Clontz, Mrs. C. T. Niblack, Mrs. Lynn Mosier, Mrs. T. H. Ryan, Mrs. G. S. Moon, Mrs. Ray Beasley, Mrs. Aubrey Myers, Miss Ruth Davidson, Mrs. J. R. Battle and Mrs. John Lundy.

HAM WHAT AM

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for six years and have never suspected my wife of anything. While searching for a match I looked in her coat pocket and came across a letter (addressed to her mother's house). I became curious and read the following:

"It was so good to hear your voice again, Darling. I am glad you still feel the same about me. As long as you don't love your husband, how long will it take you to get a divorce?"

I have not told her I read the letter. I was so hurt I just froze. The letter was signed with an initial which meant nothing to me. Where do I go from here? P. S. Yes, we have children.

DEAR SICK: Go to your wife and tell her you read the letter. The next move is hers.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are nearing 60. My father, who is 80, lives with us. We let him know that our home is his home, and when we entertain he is made to feel as welcome as any guest. Here is my problem, and please don't think I am terrible. My husband and I never have any time alone. If we go to the kitchen for coffee, Papa parks himself right there. Sometimes my husband and I want to discuss something in private, but it has to wait because of Papa. How does a daughter go about telling her own father that she would like a few minutes alone with her husband once in a while? Papa is of sound mind, and in good health for his age. He has been with us 16 years, although he has other children he could have lived with. This is the first time I have considered mentioning something to him about this. Should I?

ALL CHOKED UP

DEAR CHOKED: Yes. A little privacy is better than none. Your papa may be unaware of his intrusion. First, see that he has a comfortable and attractive retreat of his own. Then break your "problem" to him gently and with good humor. If he is of "sound mind" he won't resent it. If he does, your problem is bigger than you know. And you could face years of unnecessary unpleasantness and tension.

DEAR ABBY: This is for BUSY MOTHER, whose children answer the phone, "Who is this?" My son is a lawyer and he has four children ranging from five to eleven years of age. He once overheard his daughter answer the telephone, "Nobody is home, Goodbye." My son was furious. He lined them all up and taught them to say, "This is the Joseph residence. Linda is speaking." Why can't other parents do this?

GRANDMOTHER M.

DEAR GRANDMOTHER: They can. And they probably would if they ever caught their youngsters answering the telephone the way your grandchild did.

DEAR ABBY: You seem to have a lot of complaints about the way children answer the telephone, but I wish you would say something about the way their PARENTS should conduct themselves on the telephone. I am a 16-year-old girl and boys call me quite a lot. When my father calls me to the phone, he yells at the top of his voice, "MISS AMERICA! . . . TELEPHONE!" I hope you print this. Maybe he'll realize how childish it is and stop clowning.

NOT Miss America

Highlights

TV Time Previews

7:30-9:30 p. m. NBC. Monday night at the Movies. "Singin' in the Rain" (color). (re-run) This accurate and hilarious satire on moviemaking in the twenties stars Gene Kelly, Donald O'Connor, Debbie Reynolds and Jean Hagen. The musical comedy is set in Hollywood during the transition from silent to talkies, with Kelly playing a song-and-dance man who becomes a silent movie hero. When talkies arrive, his movie partner, Jean Hagen, finds her voice unsuitable and Debbie Reynolds is hired to do the talking for her. The job is to keep Debbie in the background.

8:30-9 p. m. CBS. The Lucy Show. (re-run) Continued from last week, Lucy is finally relieved to find that the woman she thought looked like Ethel is really Ethel. Result: The Lucy Show is a smash success with Ethel as the headliner trumpeting a medley of her Broadway successes. But everybody gets into the act with Lucy getting laughs with her juggling and even

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

On a recent plane trip, I amused myself by watching a bridge game in the lounge. The bridge wasn't too good, but there was nothing better to do and I did manage to gather material for an article or two.

Here is one contract that was tossed back and forth like a hot potato.

South started proceedings by winning the first trick in dummy so he could start leading trumps. The trump lead put East in with the ace. With-out even a moment's hesitation, East returned partner's diamond lead. South was in his hand with the king and drew West's last trump. Then he led a heart toward dummy and West could either win the trick or play low. If he won the trick, South would be able to discard a losing club on the king of hearts; if he ducked, South would have avoided the loss of a heart trick. Either way South was going to make his contract.

East had been given a chance to beat the contract at trick two. When he took his ace of trumps, he should have seen that there was no future at all in the diamond return he made. West had opened the queen so that South was marked with the king. It was up to East to lead the six of clubs right into dummy's ace-king combination.

How was the contract teased around? South went wrong at trick one. He should have won the first diamond in his own hand and led a heart to beat the opponents had a chance to get in a club lead.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

Women live longer than men nowadays because "a woman never retires," says Dr. Janet Travell, White House physician. "A woman keeps on doing the things she has been accustomed to doing all of her life." Does that give you women whose husbands are getting close to retirement age an idea? Like maybe sharing the work load you can never retire from with your man when he finally relinquishes his life's work?

If it's work that keeps a woman living longer than her husband, why should a woman hog it all? Why shouldn't she divide up the responsibilities and the duties of running a home with her husband? Of course, she can't just make him man's little helper. That wouldn't add any years onto his life.

But she could get him to sit down with her and figure out an equitable and workable division of labor, so that each is responsible for certain things.

If the husband elects to take over the cooking and marketing, fine. Then his wife could do the housework. They could even switch jobs every so often, just to break the monotony.

Such a scheme would keep a husband from waking up every morning wondering what in the world to do with an empty day.

And it would certainly make the wife's life more pleasant having someone to share the work with, instead of an idle man around the house making extra work.

Who knows, if a wife really let her husband put his mind to it, he might organize the household as efficiently as he ran an office or a business or held down a demanding job.

Horoscope Forecast

MONDAY, JUNE 1, 1964

GENERAL TENDENCIES:

One of those days and evenings when you want to be very dramatic in whatever you do, but when acting with real formality and a sense of the promises you have made is strongly urged. Be sure not to criticize anyone and curb that urge to spend on any kind of a will-o-the-wisp.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Don't make any heavy commitments or indulge in extravagances until you feel you are in a position to do so. Others are not aware of your true circumstances. Be wise.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Be sure to handle higher-ups with kid gloves or you will regret it later. Instead of being resentful, are you certain you are following rules? Be conscientious and all goes well.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Although you want to get into something exciting to relieve pressures, it is wiser to carry through with routine work. Reserve time for new friend later. Don't neglect one who is confined to bed.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Plan your time so that you can devote part of it to interesting business associates with modern ideas. Good friends also need attention. Be more efficient in office, shop, etc.

LEO (July 22 to August 21) Associates' demands may irritate you, but if most reasonable ones, all is well. Don't lose your temper. Courtesy pays, otherwise you can lose out in various ways.

VIRGO (August 22 to September 22) Instead of venturing into new outlets, make present operations more modern, profitable. Take the time to correspond with those out of town. Be sure you do this before you retire.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Keeping all promises made is vital before you ask anyone for amusement's sake. Show courtesy to others. This will pay off well in the days not too far distant.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Have you been paying too much attention to strangers and neglecting your own family lately? Rectify this situation now. Budget your time as you do your money and all is fine.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Scheduling your time carefully will permit you to accomplish much both at home and in the world of business. Let others assist you. Don't try to do it all alone.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20) Some time spent in getting your surroundings improved is wise before you take off on a pleasure jaunt. Plan to spend only a certain amount of money. Practice economy now.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19) A generous spirit with kin will bring the results you desire, make the future more successful. Don't burden them with problems. Smile and you will be loved more.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20) You spend too much time alone and you could make a fortune by simply getting out into the business or creative world. Get important work done first. Then off to new outlets, places, people.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, you will soon find that you have a very capable progeny who can solve problems with true ease, but it will become necessary for sports to be indulged in early to work off excessive mental energy. Blank the education toward government employment and/or the field of science, and recognition, if not fame, can come very early in this interesting chart.

TUESDAY, JUNE 2, 1964

GENERAL TENDENCIES:

Although the early part of the day seems fraught with ups and downs, and annoyances, you find that all day and evening others respond to a smile or pleasant attitude on your part. Thus you can get others to rise above their sensitivity and go along with any artistic, brilliant plan you have.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) If you converse quietly at home and forget that feeling of animosity, the results will be good. Buy thoughtful gifts that please, but be practical in your choice.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Going off on a little shopping spree will give you the feeling of well-being you need at this time. Inquire about that relative you love, or vice versa. Don't be neglectful in this.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) A gallon of paint and a little wrist motion can certainly tone up your surroundings now. Make a good impression on big boss. Remember old adage that economy is wealth.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You are at your dynamic best now and can make fine impression on newcomer who has excellent ideas for your growth. Find better outlets for talents. You have outgrown old methods.

LEO (July 22 to August 21) Show gratitude today if one who likes you makes a generous, thoughtful gesture. See that you are kind toward those in trouble, also. A day and evening full of benevolence and good will.

VIRGO (August 22 to September 22) One who truly likes you but is reticent about showing affection gives brilliant ideas so you gain secret desires. Make new, worthwhile friends. Don't neglect the old and trusted, however.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Doing some civic work of note can bring high esteem at this time. Make sure first that it is for the greatest common good. Then give it all you have. It is determined.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) You have only to do some vital research to garner the information that leads to early advancement. This is a good day for such. Contact those out of the city early.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) When making payments today, be cheerful about it as well as showing gratitude for advice given you. Evening is happy with loved ones. Much affection can be yours.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20) That charming individual will go along with your ideas, but be sure you are willing to assume own side of responsibilities. Evening can be very amusing. Pick the right companions.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19) First put aside or office in perfect condition, and then be a willing co-worker with right partner. Being truly helpful makes others like you better. Advance.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20) Perfect that hobby during spare time and bring your fine talents to the attention of bigwigs. Get together with some group in P.M. This can be most educational, inspiring.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, he or she will be one of those individuals who require staunch friends in whom trust can be placed implicitly, otherwise there could be a feeling of inadequacy in this nature. This is the chart of an artist or salesperson or any other profession that deals directly with the public in general for many hours during the day or night.

Barry And Rocky In Last-Ditch Primary Pitch

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Sen. Barry Goldwater and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller kept fighting for votes today in the final hours of a California presidential primary campaign with managers of both candidates predicting victory.

The two Republican presidential candidates are matched in Tuesday's critical primary contest — the last and most important presidential primary of 1964. The winner gets 86 national convention votes.

Rockefeller was flying back overnight from New York, where his son, Nelson Jr., was born Saturday, for a 1,500-mile hedge-hopping trip up and down the state by chartered plane. His schedule called for 12 airport stops beginning this morning at San Diego, up as far north as Chico and back through San Francisco to Los Angeles.

If both Rockefeller and Goldwater keep their schedules, they will be holding separate rallies tonight, less than an hour apart, at Los Angeles.

Goldwater planned to fly this afternoon from Washington for his airport appearance at Los Angeles. He also will appear on a state television hookup tonight.

Victory forecasts came Sunday from Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, chairman of the Rockefeller campaign in California, and former Sen. William F. Knowland, the Goldwater chairman.

Knowland said his belief that Goldwater would win by 500,000 votes was buttressed by big turnouts for the conservative Arizona senator at campaign rallies Saturday.

No Mansion For Groundkeeper

READING, England (UPI) — The Berkshire County Council's planning department decided against building a cottage for the $28-a-week grounds-keeper of its new $6,800 recreation area and recommended that a house adjoining the property be bought instead.

Members of the planning department were red-faced when they were informed the house was a 30-room mansion valued at $98,000.

Parking Signs Are Mystery

LONDON (UPI) — Two large signs outside a Westminster telephone exchange read: "Do not park between these signs."

Mystified motorists cannot understand why three parking meters are situated in between the signs.

First Of 'Sunflavor' Mellons On Market

Carolyn King, of Bartow, Doyle Conner recently in national watermelon queen launching the first shipment of watermelons bearing the missioner of Agriculture new Florida SunFLAVOR seal.

WITH AN ASSIST from pretty Carolyn King, national watermelon queen, the first shipment of watermelons bearing Florida's SunFLAVOR seal have gone to market. The seal designates Florida's top agricultural products. Carolyn is sponsored by the Watermelon Growers and Distributors Association, a national trade group.

Little Mermaid Gets Back Head

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (UPI) — The little mermaid of Copenhagen, her new head in place, was put back on her pedestal overlooking the harbor today after a five-week absence.

Vandals had decapitated her April 25. A truck delivered the life-size bronze statue of the fairy-tale creature from a foundry, where a new head was affixed, to the harbor side. A crane gently lifted her back to the rock she has occupied for 51 years.

She gazed out again with that sad smile world tourists and Danes know so well and on the city that loves her like a daughter.

The seal, chosen in a contest which drew more than 10,000 entries, is used to designate only Florida's top agricultural products. Watermelons are the third commodity to qualify for use of the seal. Previously, potatoes and corn came under the SunFLAVOR designation.

While Carolyn reigns as the national watermelon queen, she is, appropriately enough, from Florida — the nation's principal producer of watermelons. Each year, Florida ships some $10 million worth of watermelons to markets throughout the country.

Carolyn, a student at the University of Florida in Gainesville, is sponsored by the Watermelon Growers and Distributors Association, which is headed by W. R. (Bill) Ward Jr., of Lakeland. The association, a national trade group, is observing its 50th anniversary this year.

Corpse Just A Dummy

CLACTON, England, (UPI) — Two police cars were dispatched to a hotel here Sunday night when a telephone caller reported: "Some men have just carried a corpse in through the back door."

The "corpse" turned out to be a tailor's dummy which was being used by a film company.

The lek is the monetary unit of Albania.

Graduation.
It's that time again!

Watch for special sections of The Herald this week dealing with grads from Seminole, Lyman and Oviedo high schools. We're also carrying stories and photos of activities at All Souls School, Sanford Naval Academy and Crooms High.

And, as you've already noticed in this column, a host of young men and women from Sanford are being graduated from schools and colleges around the country.

Winston Piercy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Piercy and grandson of a proud grandfather, G. E. Piercy, received his BS degree in Business and History Monday from Murray State College at Murray, Ky. He's a member of Alpha Gamma Rho Fraternity.

Young Piercy graduated from Seminole High in 1960. His parents and Miss Susan Piercy attended the graduation.

Herman Rozinsky of Caselberry was among some 1,000 graduates to receive degrees Saturday at Louisiana State University's annual commencement exercises.

Among the 263 students in Stetson University's 81st graduation class which was graduated Monday was Ned Norville Julian Jr. of Sanford. Young Julian got his BA in history and now plans graduate study in Stetson's famed College of Law. During his years at Stetson Julian was a member of Lambda Chi, the Pershing Rifles, Westminster Fellowship, Stetson's inter-mural program, student government association, student president's cabinet, chairman of the Stetson student traffic committee and coordinator of Stetson's traffic department.

A weeklong County Court session evaporated Monday when defendants scheduled for trial pleaded guilty. Judge C. Vernon Mize dismissed the jury. Earlier he had predicted the court would be in session much of the week.

Local Jaycees will get an insight on latest processing machines when Robert Martin, consulting engineer for IBM, will speak at the Thursday noon luncheon in the Civic Center. Program chairman is Wayne Albert.

And next Monday, the local Rotary Club will honor its baseball team members at the Civic Center luncheon. The players will be in uniform for the occasion and President Bill Hemphill asks for a record turnout of members.

Remember when the city authorities were so concerned because the Palms Hotel demolition was moving at a snail's pace? And the buildings on the city purchased lots at Park Avenue and W. First Street were tumbling in "a cloud of dust"? Well the Palms is "long gone." And the "city parking lot" at our main intersection is "a mess that is a mess!" Let's get on with the clean-up job, boys.

North Orlando Meeting Today

The June meeting of the North Orlando Village Council will be held in the Civic Building at 7:30 p.m. today, one-half hour earlier than regularly scheduled.

On the agenda is public hearing for Mayor Irene Van Eepoel and Councilman Arthur Ferrin on charges of "misappropriation of public funds" made at the May council meeting through petition which also called for their removal from office.

Tot Drowns

MIAMI (UPI) — A two-year-old tot, Curtis Dwyer, drowned in a rockpit Monday after his 10-year-old brother made a vain effort to save him and became stuck in water-side slush.

City Opens Water System Bids

12 Locations To Be Set Up Sabin Sunday

Plans are being pushed to completion for this Sunday clinics to administer Sabin oral vaccine to county residents.

The "feeding stations" will be set up in 12 locations throughout the county and each will be open from noon to 5 p.m.

The program is being arranged by Sanford-Seminole Jaycees in cooperation with the Seminole County Health Department.

This is the second project in a two-part series aimed at wiping out polio. The Sabin vaccine is taken in a cube of sugar or in distilled water for those preferring it that way.

Teenager Held In Sex Slaying Of Secretary

WATERLOO, Iowa (UPI) — Police held the bespectacled son of a savings association president on an open murder charge today in the bloody sex-slaying of a pretty teenage secretary.

The nearly naked body of Diane Kay Gable, 19, was found strangled and stabbed in the living room of her parents' home Monday. Authorities said there were teeth marks on her nose and upper lip and she had been sexually molested.

John Thomas Kyle, a 16-year-old high school student and son of the president of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association, was arrested a few hours after Diane's body was discovered.

Blackhawk County deputy medical examiner Dr. Eugene Smith said Diane, 10, the daughter of a prominent real estate operator, had been stabbed four times, twice in the left side of her chest and twice in the head. In addition to the teeth marks, there were bruises on her neck.

Diane had stayed home during the Memorial Day weekend while her parents went on a fishing trip at Harper's Ferry, Iowa. She stayed behind to catch up on work at her father's office, where she was employed as a secretary.

Child Guidance Clinic Planned

Establishment of a child guidance clinic in this county will be discussed next Tuesday at Jim Spencer's Restaurant meeting of the Seminole County Juvenile Council, Inc.

Speaking at the noon meeting will be Dr. Edward L. Fleming, chief psychologist consultant of the Florida State Bureau of Mental Health.

The meeting has been called by William O. Tanner Jr., Juvenile Council president.

New Flagpole Stands In Sylvan Cemetery

A new flag and flagpole now stands in the Sylvan Cemetery in Paola having been placed there in ceremonies conducted Saturday during Memorial Day activities of American Legion Post 53.

Presiding at the 10 a. m. service was Mr. W. J. Kline, president of Auxiliary Unit 53. Mrs. Joel Field, post chaplain, offered the prayer and Floyd C. Richards, Lake Mary School principal, was the main speaker.

"On behalf of the American Legion Post 53 of Sanford," Richards said, "we are here today to dedicate this flag and flagpole in the memory of all deceased veterans of all wars and who are buried here. As the great emancipator said, 'We here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom.'"

"It does not seem that it is enough to just resolve—we must act on its resolution."

The flag, given by Mrs. Esther Spivey to Mrs. Bea Newcome, a Gold Star Mother, was raised by Legionnaire Tom Best and J. C. Caldwell. While the flag was being raised Norman Leach, trumpet soloist with the Seminole High School Band played Evieville.

Mrs. Newcome then placed a wreath of Poppies at the pole as Norman played Taps on the trumpet.

However, it turned out that Justice Richard Ervin, one of the judges who concurred in the majority opinion, was disqualified to sit in the case because he had been the attorney of record for Kelly while Ervin was state attorney general.

Upon this fact being called to its attention, the court granted a rehearing because it requires the affirmative votes of four justices for any Supreme Court decision.

Ervin was replaced at today's rehearing by former Justice H. L. Selring of St. Petersburg, now dean of the Stetson Law College. Chief Justice E. Harris Drew, who disqualified himself because he presided at the Kelly impeachment trial before the state senate which resulted in Kelly's acquittal, was replaced by retired Justice Paul Burns of Miami University Law School.

Rotators
The Rotary Club derived its name from the custom of its charter members of meeting in rotation at their offices or places of business, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Thurmond Sees Filibuster End

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Southern senator conceded today that the Senate leadership seems to have rounded up enough votes to halt the Dixie filibuster against the civil rights bill.

With one week left before the crucial vote on cloture, Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., told the Senate: "It would seem that those voting in the affirmative on cloture would be sufficient to end debate."

Thurmond was the first Southern senator to publicly express doubt about Dixie prospects for continuing the talkathon against the anti-discrimination measure.

While Thurmond spoke on the floor against the leadership jury trial compromise, Democratic leaders discussed the cloture vote with President Johnson.

Shastri Named Unanimously

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Lal Bahadur Shastri, a virtual unknown outside India, today was elected unanimously by the ruling Congress party to succeed Jawaharlal Nehru as prime minister of this pivotal Asian power.

The diminutive, soft-spoken Shastri immediately warned that India faces a "great crisis" and he called for unity among the country's 482 million people in working toward a socialist society.

Figures On 4 Categories Of Project Given

Bids were opened Monday afternoon for this city's $800,000 water improvement program and City Manager Warren E. Knowles reported the apparent low offers were at or near the estimates.

The city recently authorized the issuance of bonds for the work and Monday's formal opening was one of the major steps in getting the job done.

Knowles told the 29 bidding firms that the bids will be analyzed, presented to the City Commission and formal action is expected to be taken on them at the June 8 meeting.

The project was divided into four categories—water supply wells, prestressed concrete tanks, cast iron pipe and water treatment plants.

Assisting in the bid opening were the city's new engineer, Albert Shaw, who began his duties here this week, and B. C. (Cal) Conklin, resident engineer for the consulting firm of Clark, Dietz, Painter & Associates.

The apparent low bidder for the water supply wells was Meredith Corporation of Orlando with $23,473.

Other bidders included Layne Atlantic Company, Orlando; Central Florida Well Drillers, Orlando; Mechanical & Chemical Company, Brandon; and Locke Well & Pump Company, Orlando.

The lone bidder for the prestressed concrete tanks was Cron Corporation, Gainesville, with $161,290.

Apparent low bidder for the cast iron pipe was E. N. Murray Construction Company, Buena Vista, Ga., with $238,695.06.

Other bidders included Noll Construction Company, Charlotte, N.C.; Patterson & Wilder Construction Company, Birmingham, Ala.; Cambron Construction, Orlando; R. C. Riley Construction Company, Pompano Beach; Bumbly & Stimpson Construction Company, Orlando; Boyce Company, Clearwater; Mackle Brothers, Deland; Hubbard Construction Company, Orlando.

Apparent low bidder for the water treatment plants was Mackle Brothers with $237,777. Lee Construction Company of Sanford was next lowest with a base bid of $258,000.

Other bidding firms included Hubbard Construction Company, Rainer Hull & Company, Winter Park; Wakeman Construction Company, Palm Beach.

Three Building Entries Probed

Three entries of buildings in the city are being probed by police this morning. The burglaries, or attempts, were made during the night.

Thieves were thwarted during the night when they attempted to enter the Hill Lumber Company office at 213 W. Third St. A glass in a door was broken but no entry was made.

Gasoline was taken from a nearby truck and keys to it were tossed on the ground, police report.

The Home Builders Supply Company on West Seminole Blvd. was entered during the night and the burglars made off with several power tools, a calculator and electric shaver.

The entry was discovered this morning by Wayne Burrows as he opened the establishment at 7:30.

The band room at Crooms High School was entered by breaking a glass and check was being made to see if anything is missing.

ACRES OF DEAD FISH cover Lake Jessup and the odor is described as "immense," Harold L. Moody, biologist for the state Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, said the presence of green poisonous algae is the cause of the giant fish kill. He said rain is sorely needed to correct the situation and a change in the temperature would also possibly help. He predicts the experience will last about a week and that fishing may even be better because of the kill. (Herald Photos)

Gov. Bryant On Ruling: 'Choice To Deny God'

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Farris Bryant said the U.S. Supreme Court ruling Monday that struck down Florida's law requiring public school Bible reading gives "citizens only 177 choices to deny God."

In Washington, Sen. George A. Smathers said the Supreme Court may soon be prohibiting the government from recognizing Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Most state officials felt it was just a matter of time until the law was ordered erased by the high court. The action Monday will have no practical effect until the schools open next fall.

And when schools reopen in September local school boards may use a new untried state law that gives the board the option to offer in the schools "a secular program of education including but not limited to an objective study of the Bible and of religion." The law was passed by the 1963 Legislature.

Bryant said in a statement following the decision Monday: "I can not escape the conclusion that this nation must either place its faith in God or deny him and that the choice the Supreme Court makes in this ruling is to deny him."

California Vote May Decide GOP Future

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — California Republicans vote today in a primary expected to decide whether the GOP veers toward conservatism or hunts for a presidential candidate in the middle of the road.

The choice is between Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, hero of Republican conservatism, and the more liberal Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, who was given an edge by poll-takers.

They are the only candidates in a presidential primary contest for 80 national convention delegates. Write-in votes may not be cast.

Mild, fair weather was forecast for most of the state. About two million Republicans were expected to vote, along with 2.6 million Democrats, who have primary squabbles of their own. The polls are open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. PDT, (10 a. m. to 10 p. m. EDT) in most counties and to 8 p. m. (11 p. m. EDT) in five counties.

Both Rockefeller and Goldwater returned to California Monday for last minute efforts clinching a campaign marked by bitterness and name-calling. It has threatened to cause a deep rift inside the GOP and has caused a heavy drain on the energy and money of both campaign organizations.

When Goldwater arrived at the Los Angeles airport Monday night he was greeted by noisy cheers from his supporters. Some of them stayed on to give Bronx cheers to Rockefeller, who was finishing a tour of the state and trying to talk to his own backers. Police kept on the alert to prevent trouble, and Rockefeller joked about his chance to talk to Goldwater fans, who were booing him.

COMSAT Stock Goes On Sale

NEW YORK (UPI) — Wall Street got the blast-off signal from the Securities & Exchange Commission today and the world's first stock offering in a space venture went into orbit.

The Communications Satellite Corp. COMSAT received final approval of its 5 million common share offering in Washington and the stock opened on the over-the-counter market at the official underwritten price of $20 a share at 10:08 a.m. EDT. Within a short time it shot up to $27, fell back to $22 a share then moved up again to $24 bid $20 offered.

Demand for the stock, mostly from small investors, has raised a problem of allocating shares. The company has imposed a limit of 50 shares per customer, but most brokers felt that few investors would get even that many.

Trial Of Catholic Officer Begins

SAIGON, Viet Nam (UPI) — The politically explosive trial of a Roman Catholic officer accused of ordering troops to fire on Buddhist demonstrators opened today amid mounting religious tension.

Maj. Dang Si went on trial charged with responsibility for the deaths of nine demonstrators in the city of Hue on May 8, 1963, which triggered the ouster movement against the late President Ngo Dinh Diem.
