

SINO-JAPANESE CLAIMS HEARD BY COUNCIL

Leaders Study It, But Official Decision Is Still Unannounced; U. S. Shows Interest

(By The Associated Press.)
Peace-makers exerted themselves today for the preservation of peace between Japan and China. The council of the League of Nations which sees in the Sino-Japanese situation a challenge to its own powers engaged in private conversations following the opposed case yesterday by Japanese and Chinese representatives.

President Gilbert, United States consul general at Geneva gave no signs as to what steps his government would take in connection with the league council decision. British and American ministers to China arrived in Nanking today from Peking apparently indicating the desire of Washington and London governments for a clearer understanding of China's position.

GENEVA, Oct. 14. —(A.P.)—Facing the greatest test in its history, the League of Nations council listened for four hours yesterday while Chinese and Japanese spokesmen hurled charges and counter-charges about the Manchurian conflict. Then the council solemnly endorsed a declaration of Aristide Briand that the league will act to the extent of its powers to bring peace to the Far East.

Continuing its efforts for conciliation through private conversations, the council will not sit publicly again until its next step to safeguard the peace of nations has been determined.

Dr. Alfred Sze, China's representative, and Mr. Yoshikawa, Japanese and chief spokesman for Japan, exchanged a long, dignified but intense oral bombardment. Neither dislodged the other from his government's frequently reiterated position.

M. Yoshikawa again averred Japan's determination to treat with China directly. Dr. Sze declared China never would negotiate with Japan so long as Japanese troops were on Chinese soil in violation of treaty rights.

The attempt to bring peace to Manchuria is being closely followed by President Gilbert, American consul general, who is keeping in touch with the league secretariat.

The Chinese spokesman, taking the aggressive, accused the Japanese army of new acts of invasion and violence and repeated his nation's request that the council authorize an inquiry on the spot by a neutral commission.

Dr. Sze's strongest point was directed at the aerial attack on Chinchow. Referring to the Japanese claim that airplanes were being sent out only for reconnaissance purposes, he ironically demanded to know why they came armed with incendiary bombs and lethal bombs.

Yoshikawa, speaking with great deliberation, countered with the accusation that the Chinese government had failed to check anti-Japanese movements. He asserted that if the situation has grown more grave it was because of China's own tactics.

Concerning the Chinchow bombardment, Yoshikawa said Japanese planes went to the area in reconnaissance when they heard the Chinese were amassing there to move trouble along the railway. The planes were fired on by Chinese soldiers, he declared, and "found it necessary to drop bombs."

Woman Refuses To Say Why She Shot Herself

CHICAGO, Oct. 14. —(A.P.)—Mrs. William Smith fired a small caliber bullet into her heart and then spent the next three hours cleaning her apartment and fixing her husband's dinner. When he arrived he found something was wrong, when she died at first, later admitting it.

At a hospital it was revealed the bullet tore away part of her heart and she is expected to die. Physicians are unable to explain why she did it. Immediately the cause for the act is explained.

Democrats Hope To Raise Big Sum To Pay Debts, Do Battle For 1932 Presidential Race

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. —(A.P.)—To pay old bills and get the party started on next year's battle for the presidency, Democratic headquarters yesterday announced plans for raising a "victory fund" of $1,500,000.

A committee of more than 500 State and national party leaders has been mobilized. John W. Davis, the 1924 presidential nominee, is its chairman. John H. Foley, of Worcester, Mass., is executive chairman, and James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany, is treasurer.

Joett Shouse, chairman of the party's national executive committee said yesterday that $400,000 was needed to wipe out the 1928 deficit, $600,000 to keep things going until the next convention and $500,000 for a flying start on the actual campaign.

Subscription of the $1,500,000 fund was authorized by the Democratic National Committee at its session here last March. Pending organization of the campaign the national committee has resorted to additional loans from Chairman John J. Raskob in carrying on its work. The party now owes Raskob a total of $425,000.

Mr. Davis in a statement issued through Mr. Shouse yesterday said: "The victory fund is about to be instituted at a time when the political position of the party is almost impregnable. Its prospects

RUTH OWEN MAY LAND IMPORTANT COMMITTEE JOB

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. —(A.P.)—The Democratic got control of the House machinery at the coming session of Congress, and the outlook is better, now than it ever has been, the membership of the two parties being equally divided, the country may witness for the first time the ascension of a woman, Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, as chairman of one of the most important of all Congressional committees—foreign affairs.

When Mrs. Owen came to Congress, a freshman member of that body, she surprised the country by going on this committee, though of course, she started in at the tail end of the list with seven members ahead of her.

Mrs. Owen said that she would prefer to have one committee assignment where constructive work might be done than a half dozen small places such as the destruction of useless executive documents, and others of this kind that sound important to the people but which, in reality, are valueless.

As it was Mrs. Owen's wish to serve on a committee where her father's ideas might be developed, just so it may turn out that she will be selected by the Democratic caucus, meeting just before Congress convenes, to head this committee. Two members who estranged her are not in Congress now. Representative Charles M. Stearns of North Carolina died a few months ago, and R. Walton Moore of Virginia voluntarily left the House.

There is also considerable gossip here that if Mrs. Owen does not go to the head of the foreign affairs committee she may be given the place on the rivers and harbors left vacant by the death of Charles G. Edwards of Georgia, last summer.

Another interesting angle to the Florida situation is the understanding that Congressman Deane is grooming for the rivers and harbors committee place.

The selection of either of these members would be valuable to Florida waterways interests. Representatives Green and Yon are also out for better committee places. It is learned, in the event the Democrats get control of the House machinery in December.

TEUTONS HEAR NEW PROGRAM OF BRUENING

BERLIN, Oct. 14. —(A.P.)—Chancellor Bruening laid down his program of government yesterday at the opening session of the Reichstag in which the Nationalist and National Socialist demonstrators participated and the communists took part by shouting angry interjections.

To guard against acts similar to the window smashing out bursts that marked the opening of the Legislature last fall, police were out in force. The proceedings were successful.

The Nationalist Socialist (Nazi) and the Nationalist who have made common cause for the purpose of bringing about the downfall of the Bruening government, were represented at the Reichstag proceedings only by observers. The main body of their forces remained in libraries and committee rooms while the chancellor, detouring the busses and trucks of the communists, plucked his government to this program.

No let-up in the foreign policy of consolidation.

Definitive settlement of the question of political debts to eliminate the uncertainty which "alone" compounds the international, economic and financial interchange.

Restoration of imports and a back-to-the-farm movement to increase the domestic food supply.

Consolidation of the state organs of enforcement "against all attempts... seeking to threaten the state."

An economic program to be worked out by an economic advisory body.

In his discussion of the foreign policy, which is one of the chief points of attack by the Nazi opposition, the chancellor declared that "direct and open conversations, such as that at Chinchow (with the British leaders), are to pave the way for a solidarity of nations."

The session adjourned after the chancellor's speech. Subsequently it was learned President Von Hindenburg had written to Dr. Bruening, accepting chairmanship of the new economic advisory board.

Improvement can come about only step by step, the chancellor warned. He declared his willingness to allow someone else to head the nation during the period of adjustment.

"If the Reichstag demands it, I will resign immediately," he said.

Whether the Reichstag will call upon him to make good his promise to resign if repudiated is expected to be decided before the end of the week.

ANTI-CATHOLIC VOTE IN SPAIN SUITS PEOPLE

MADRID, Oct. 14. —(A.P.)—The Spanish national assembly, by a vote of 11 to 11, last night approved a bill of the new Republic of Spain rejecting the Catholic religion as the religion of the state.

Spain, after the assembly's vote, is a non-religious, secular people. It has been officially recognized in state affairs. It also carried out the promise of Republican leaders, made before the establishment of King Alfonso XIII, that under a Republic, church and state would be separated completely.

The galleries and corridors of the assembly hall were packed as the debate began over the subject of the separation of church and state. The bill was passed by a vote of 11 to 11.

The original article provided for the expulsion of religious orders from the country and the confiscation of their property. The amendment proposed calls for the governing of religious institutions by special laws which would forbid their engaging in commerce and industry. It also provided that they might be expelled for "just cause."

There is also a provision for the dissolution of orders which have special authorities conflicting with the state. Catholic deputies characterized this amendment as aimed against the Jesuits particularly.

Against yesterday's action the religious separation proposal has a part of the constitution which will have to be ratified as a whole by the assembly when voting on all the sections is completed.

Capone Opens Fight For His Acquittal In Tax Evasion Trial As State Rests Case

CHICAGO, Oct. 14. —(A.P.)—Alphonse Capone today opened his fight for acquittal on charges of evading income taxes with an angry, scolding lecture.

The state's case against the former racketeer is a plea of guilty to federal charges that Capone evaded taxes of $75,000 in 1925 and $100,000 in 1926. He is charged with failing to file returns and with failing to pay taxes.

LEHMANN WILL ASSUME TASKS ON MORROW

Karl Lehmann, who recently accepted the secretaryship of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, will arrive in Sanford tomorrow morning to officially take up his duties.

His first move will be to meet with the present officers of the civic body, arrange for an early meeting of the officers and directors, and then set about organizing his office in the spacious quarters at 1400 E. Main St. in the Chamber of Commerce in the city hall.

His official welcome in Sanford will be extended by a luncheon dinner next Monday night when prominent county officials will be present, and to which the entire population has been invited.

Mr. Lehmann recently closed nine years of service as secretary of the Orange County Chamber of Commerce at Orlando, and is the oldest secretary in Florida in point of service with a Chamber of Commerce. During his years in Orlando he is credited with having been the guiding figure in developing the Orange County trade body from a small, sporadically active organization into the largest county trade body in the nation in point of membership.

This year he is president of the Southern Commercial Secretaries Association and one of the leading chambers of commerce secretaries in the country having been active both in the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and the National Association of Commercial Organization Secretaries.

For the past six weeks, Mr. Lehmann has been engaged in a statewide series of meetings acquainting the growers, business and professional men of Florida with the importance of the citrus industry in the economic structure of Florida, and the necessity for the Florida Citrus Growers' Clearing House Association in bringing about orderly competition in the handling of Florida's major agricultural resources. His services were lauded by Seminole County during that time.

Roosevelt Honored
At Barbecue Given
By Georgia Friends

WARM SPRINGS, Ga., Oct. 14. —(A.P.)—Georgians, including some of the State's outstanding political figures, gave Governor Roosevelt of New York a rousing "welcome" at barbecue yesterday.

But there was no public demonstration of preference for his selection as next year's Democratic presidential standard bearer.

Some 2000 or more from Georgia and other Southern States attended the barbecue in honor of the governor. Mr. Roosevelt had requested that the barbecue be a political and his wishes were followed although on every hand there were evidences of his popularity with Georgians.

Buttons and banners proclaimed Roosevelt for President sentiment and the Atlanta Freeman's hand had a brand new march, "Forward, Franklin D. Roosevelt," the words of which expressed similar sentiment.

Senator W. J. Harris of Georgia told newspapermen after the barbecue that he had just returned from a trip through New England and found there as much enthusiasm for Roosevelt as there is in the South. "There is no question," Mr. Harris said, "of his popularity with the rank and file of the voters. Not only is this true in New England, and in the South, but throughout the country."

"He has reunited the Democratic party like no other man could. The Republicans are more interested in his nomination than they are in the nominee of their own party. It is because they fear him and recognize in him the one man who can carry the presidential election against President Hoover," he said.

Mr. Roosevelt, in a brief speech at the barbecue, said "this is no time for politics. It is just a friendly party of neighbors."

GOVERNOR LONG ASKED TO VACATE OFFICE AT ONCE PERMITTED FIRM

Cyr Demands Resignation
Of Incumbent,
Who Firmly Refuses

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 14. —(A.P.)—Formal demand that he relinquish the governorship peacefully was made on Huey P. Long last night by Paul M. Cyr, the chief lieutenant governor, after he had taken the governor's oath on the claim that Long was a United States senator and not the chief executive of Louisiana.

The demand was made on a letter the text of which was disclosed to state public. It long refused to sign, but would file an answer in court.

When Long reached Baton Rouge, while he was being introduced to the city by the mayor, he was met by a group of Long supporters who were shouting "Long for governor" and "Cyr a traitor."

MIAMI SUBURBS ARE LIABLE FOR TAXATION TO PAY BONDED DEBT

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 14. —(A.P.)—The State Supreme Court yesterday ruled that the entire city of Miami, annexed suburbs as well as the original city, should be taxed to pay refunding bonds issued by the municipality.

The court's decision affirmed a lower court order validating four issues of Miami refunding bonds. The validation order was attacked on several grounds among them being claims that the 1931 special legislative act authorizing the bonds violated the State Constitution in that it impaired a contract between the city and its annexed sections granting them immunity from taxation for the debts of the older parts of the city.

It also was alleged the act destroyed uniformity of taxation and violated the constitutional amendment requiring a vote of the people for the issuance of bonds.

The high court overruled these objections, made by taxpayers of Coconut Grove, Buena Vista and Silver Bluff. The opinion, written by Justice Glenn Terrell, said: "The power of the Legislature over municipalities in this state is supreme."

The court also ruled today that a contract between the Hillsborough County Commission and an attorney for the latter services in foreclosing tax certificates, was void because unauthorized by law.

The board's action was attacked in the lower court by J. Tom Watson, Hillsborough legislator, who said the case there. The commission's appeal and the Supreme Court affirmed the lower court.

FARMERS TO DISCUSS CONTROL OF INSECTS

Methods of controlling insects through the use of sprays and dusts will feature the discussion of farm problems to be made at the weekly meeting of members of the Seminole Agricultural Club at the high school tomorrow night starting at 8:00 o'clock.

Alex R. Johnson, vocational teacher at the school, who will lead the round table talk, said that many valuable leaflets relating to the subject have been received and will be read. Results of tests and experiments both in the fields and in laboratories will also be discussed.

A large delegation of farmers from Ocala, Geneva, Longwood and the surrounding towns is expected, with an approximate attendance of 75 farmers forecast.

CARLTON NAMES BENTLEY

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 14. —(A.P.)—Governor Carlton yesterday appointed Frank Bentley, former Tampa wholesale merchant, as successor to Capt. John A. Lovelace, Tampa harbor master who died yesterday.

By PETER SCHAAL

Coach Leonard McLuca's plans for staging a benefit football game here next Friday afternoon between his Seminole High graders and the Ocala team are progressing rapidly. Every indication points to a record crowd, and that a tidy sum will be realized to be turned over to young Stinson Kilar, promising a football star who has been confined to his bed at the Fernald-Laught Memorial hospital for the last five weeks with a broken leg. Football fans here will no doubt respond in large numbers, and a good game is promised for the coach will find in his second and third stringers against the visitors. It is said that some of his second stringers have more fight, spirit, and football knowledge than the first team, and it will be interesting to note whether such a report is true. The game will start at 3:30 o'clock.

That the Ocala team and sports writers realize just how narrowly their victory came about is reflected in newspaper stories from both Ocala papers. No extra words are used in describing the antics of the Ocala players, other than a few words of praise to Scarborough, the red-haired left tackle who is reported as having raised havoc in the Sanford backfield. There are no disparaging remarks about Sanford's being "a ty" or being composed of "mediocre" graders. Kaiser, Preston and Kanner received all the publicity on the line, each hailed as the best Sanford had to offer on defense in the line. Hester, Lykes and Entaminger got credit for being the offensive stars, with the passing combination of Hester and Lykes called "highly poisonous." In other words, the stories read as though the writer was trying to forget the entire incident hurriedly, which is they with us.

However, while we are not one to discredit the work of an football player, it is our opinion that this Scarborough guy person was having a bad day out there instead of playing the "have" with which he is credited. Because he had the reputation of being All-Southern material, we took particular pains to watch his work all afternoon. It's true that he played a better game than any of his mates with the exception of McDowell, but it isn't true that he was in the Sanford backfield, stopping Sanford men at will. Not at all. In fact, we only saw him have his hands on a Sanford man, after he had slipped through the line, twice. One of those times he caught Lykes by the belt after Lykes had hesitated on the get-away and had charged head-on into a pile at center. Scarborough did but little work out in the open, if we remember correctly, although we did see him take Hester out of play once with a fine bit of blocking. The red-haired demon did as he could against a team which was fighting hard, but it wasn't a brilliant performance by any means. Kanner and Entaminger saw to it that Entaminger stopping him once or twice with a hand that could be heard 30 feet away.

We were fortunate in being able to attend Jack McDowell's little party in Orlando Friday night when his fast-stepping

Rollins outfit took the measure of Alabama Teachers College by a 37 to 14 score. Take our word for it, McDowell or somebody has surely put football on a solid footing down at Rollins. For the first time in recent history, Rollins has two football eleven's, and one man left over! That's news! And the student body, composed mainly of boys and girls from up north, whoop and howl and carry on with a spirit and nerve that's amazing. The game wasn't as dull as the score indicates because wee Will Rogers, stocky Ray Miller, blonde Dee Fisher, and the gaunt Indian, Washington, were enacting, clipping and blocking like champions. You might see that little Rogers boy run with a ball! It's a pleasure. He's the boy who looked so good here two years ago when the Seminole High team played the Rollins Rats to a 0-0 score. Remember?

Rollins was to have played Southern in Orlando Friday night, but the game has been cancelled for some unknown reason. Instead, McDowell and his boys will cross punts with Charlie Bachman's Florida "B" team. The real worth of the Rollins outfit will be demonstrated then, and I've an opinion that they are going to keep the Gators stepping. When Rogers gets under way behind the almost perfect and effectively deadly interference of five runners who know how to block, it takes a strong, aggressive team to stop him. See you in Orlando Friday night.

Jim Stoinoff and Dick Maxwell, Sanford's two contributions to major league football, did not get a chance to play in the Yale Georgia game at New Haven Saturday, although they made the long trip. The reason is as yet unknown, but it is believed that Stoinoff's injured knee needed favoring because he may be needed later this season when Robert Gilmore and the rest find the competition bruising to the extreme. Maxwell has also been bothered with injuries and is probably being saved for late in the season. He saw Mack Crenshaw, another Florida boy, start at end, and give a good account of himself too.

Indicative of the stone-wall defense which Georgia placed in the field and offering amazing proof that their front wall is a joy to Harry Mehre's heart is the story of the game told in the statistics. The score chart shows that Yale carried the ball 32 times on rush plays, for a net gain of one yard loss! Imagine! That means that 32 times they tried to go through or around the line, only to score a net gain of a yard loss! That's record-breaking! Georgia in the meantime carried the ball 37 times in rushing, gaining 245 yards, or an average of nearly five yards each trip. The Georgians made 13 first downs as compared to 3 for Yale. What a victory!

Included in that victory was a gorgeous fist fight between "Jack the Ripper" Roberts and Jack Wilbur, six-foot-three Yale tackle. Both players were put out of the game too. It happened just after the second quarter began, and all because Roberts jumped all over little Albie Booth after Austin Downs had brought Booth to the

DRY CLEANERS IN 20-18 WIN OVER CHASE & CO. TEAM

Poor Fielding Results In Victory For Outfit Which Hits Hard

By E. H. CULLUM
Going into the last inning with the score tied, the Dry Cleaners put over 6 runs in their half, and as Chase was able to score only four counters in their half of this inning, the Dry Cleaners won by the score of 20 to 18, last night, in one of the most peculiar games ever staged on the Lake Shore Front.

Bryan pitched for Chase and went into deep trouble from the very start. With the Dry Cleaners hitting him all over the lot, together with very poor fielding on the part of the entire Chase team, the Cleaners put over eight runs in this inning. After allowing the Cleaners an additional three runs in the second inning, the entire Chase team tightened up, and from the third through the fifth inning did not let in another run. The Cleaners put over three in the sixth and six in the last inning to win the game.

Johnny Hodge was on the mound for the Dry Cleaners and for the first three innings pitched sinning all, holding the Chase team to a total of three runs during this time. In the fourth inning he went up in the air for fair. While he allowed only two hits in this inning, one of them being a home run with three on, he walked five, forcing in two runs, and when the inning was over 7 runs had come across, bringing the Chase team up to within one run of tying the score. Chase managed to put over two more in the fifth, to go into the lead for the first time, which they lost in the very next inning by the margin of two runs. However, they came back in their half of this inning and tied up the score, which, as ground Wilbur didn't like the idea of Roberts' taking advantage of the Yale star, and a lively fight ensued.

News stories of the game, written by Northern sportswriters are rather quaint, it seems to me. How about this offering: "It is needless to say that the sizable though scattered delegation from below the Mason and Dixon line derived keen pleasure from the machinations which are represented by the statistics of the game. On some of the numerous more specifically joyous occasions, the relay ball shelled from various points in the towering tiers, where sat nearly 65,000 howling fans, (a record crowd at Yale this early in the season), and when it was all over and the Yale band, stalwartly playing "Dixie," started across the field to pour back slaps and congratulations on the departing heroes of Athens. A small knot of Southern gentlemen, waving pennants and somewhat stimulated by "caw," paraded around the field, but the Bowl goal posts, which have suffered many indignities, in the past, remain erect."

FOOTBALL FLASHES

ATLANTA, Oct. 13.—(A.P.)—Coach Bill Alexander's main problem in practice yesterday was to find a couple of capable punters. Georgia Tech has used the two-team system in its opening games but Alexander has not found a punter for his second backfield combination. Coach Alexander was pleased with the play of his Techsters on the whole against Carnegie Saturday. However, he said the team needed polishing on some of its offensive plays and also on the defensive tactics.

ATHENS, Ga., Oct. 13.—(A.P.)—Victorious over Yale in their first major battle of the year, Georgia's gridiron forces returned here yesterday to receive a rousing welcome from the student body and an 80 piece band and to start practice again this afternoon for the Saturday game with North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

AUBURN, Ala., Oct. 13.—I stated above they lost in the last inning and the game.

Homer Tillis, who has been in a batting slump for some time, came back with a vengeance last night, securing four hits out of five trips to the plate, two doubles and two singles.

Buddy Lake was the heavy hitter for Chase, getting three hits out of four times at bat, two of them homers, the first on coming in the fourth inning with three on, the second in the sixth inning with none on.

Stinecpher contributed the fielding feature of the game by his sensational catch in short right, going back at least fifty feet, with his back to the ball and spearing it out of the air.

Phyl Miles played his usual heavy game in the field making several difficult stops at left short and throwing the runner out at first.

SHAW BUCK LOST TO GATORS FOR ENTIRE SEASON

Palatka Star Breaks Ankle In Tilt With Carolina Saturday

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 13.—Coach Charley Bachman commenced preparations for the Gators' invasion of Syracuse by putting the squad through a thorough offensive drill yesterday. Three varsity eleven's took a long signal practice and followed this up with a stiff scrimmage as they threw their entire attacking forces against the freshman griders.

The Gators will be minus the services of Shaw "Bullet" Buck, the sensational soph field general, when they tangle with the "Big Orange Team" at Syracuse Saturday.

DELAND, Oct. 13.—Although almost every man on the Hatter gridiron squad is suffering some sort of injury, after the game with Birmingham-Southern last Saturday, Coach McQuillan put them through a long scrimmage session against the freshmen here yesterday afternoon.

McQuillan declared yesterday that he was well pleased with the game his boys put up against Birmingham-Southern although they were defeated by three touchdowns. He was of the opinion that had the Hatters had a few breaks the game might have been different.

However, he is harboring no illusions as to his team's chances of beating Centenary next Saturday. The Gentlemen trimmed Baylor last Saturday by a two touch-down margin, and appear to have their usual strong eleven. The Hatters were using a different offensive formation this afternoon from any that they have flashed this season. It is a system of play which McQuillan has especially devised for the Centenary game. Centenary scouts have seen the Hatters in their game against Mercer and Birmingham-Southern but Station will use an entirely different offense next Saturday.

CLEMSON COLLEGE, S. C., Oct. 13.—(A.P.)—Coach J. S. Neely put the Clemson Tigers through a light workout, mostly signal practice, yesterday. He has only a few days to get set for the

OH YEAH?

By PETER SCHAAL

Purely by accident we forgot to comment on the Carnera-Sharkey heavy-weight title scrap in New York Monday night. Of course you know that Jack Sharkey won the decision after what was called "15 rounds of bruising, slashing fighting". The Gob apparently had the big Italian everything but out, one writer saying that Sharkey should have won in the fourth but had Carnera on his knees. This morning's papers all carry big headlines about how Sharkey's win puts new life into the heavy-weight division and all that baloney. We've been so disgusted with the big time boxing racket for so long until it's become almost a rare day when we stop to read about a fight or the attending publicity. No many fans have been zipped since Tunney wrestled the crown from Dempsey until we figure that to most fans, the game is dead and buried.

The odd part about all these press stories today is that just before they close you read that Johnston, the promoter, plans to rematch Carnera and Sharkey in Madison Square Garden late this winter. Despite the fact that such experts as Damon Runyan and Grantland Rice claim that Carnera will never be a punching fighter, we guess that Primo will win that indoor fight hands down, and that by that time plenty of hally-hoo about his being able to lick Max Schmeling will be under way. You might even read that Dempsey is going to fight Carnera and Schmeling. Foolish as Eddie Cantor swears his wife said of him after she had spent an afternoon talking with Clark Gable the movie man. They ought to throw the whole pack into the Atlantic.

The Gators' chances at Syracuse next Saturday afternoon are a football of opinions being tossed about between sportswriters and others with rather queer results. The majority opinion is that a veteran Syracuse team, combining weight with speed, and a bewildering series of tricky formations, will run the Gators to cover before the first quarter is over. Bachman and his boys left Gainesville today, full of confidence, yet on edge. Three of his most valuable men, Shaw Brock, first string quarterback, Clarence Phil, and Spurgeon Cherry, veteran linemen, have been left behind, as was Mc-Clellan, senior halfback man whose broken leg is mending slowly.

It's going to be a tough struggle, this only inter-sectional game in the East Saturday, and I'm thinking that the 20,000 or so fans who are expected to attend are going to see another afternoon of defensive football such as was played at Gainesville Saturday. I think that Bachman's scouts have noted that the Syracuseans are ineffective against passes, and that Bachman will order his field general to use those bullet-like, long-distanced Notre Dame passes until the sun goes down. It won't take but one or two of those passes completed to give the Gators a victory, so here's my pick, the Gators by one point or one touchdown.

For the first time in years, football games in the South this week-end are attracting the eyes of fans all over the country. Experts claim that the best games to be played in the nation this week will find Vanderbilt engaging Tulane and Alabama fighting it out with Tennessee. There are no other really big games on tap Saturday, unless you want to call that Yale-Chicago, or that traditional Army-Harvard game an outstanding affair. Picking a winner in those two southern games is almost futile, for each team has laid claim, and has been tested as the best in the south this year. Vanderbilt ought to take the measure of Tulane by a close score, but, after their tough game with Ohio State last week, the Commodores are in a tough spot. Alabama and Tennessee, well, that's just as tough as the other. I'll take Alabama and Vanderbilt, along with Florida.

Wonder how Sanford baseball fans are going to respond to President J. T. Hogan's order that the deciding game of the championship series be played here tomorrow afternoon? Baseball interest has sort of abated, with the Coxs, walking away with the pennant, but, I'm thinking that each of the 80 or so regular

TRUCK GROWERS TAKE ANOTHER FROM SOLDIERS

Experience Plays Big Part In 14-8 Win In Fast Diamond Tilt

By E. H. CULLUM.

While Company D diamond ball team showed marked improvement in their playing Tuesday night, they were unable to muster enough offensive strength to win their game, thereby going down to defeat to the Sanford-Osiedo Truck Growers 14 to 8.

Lobbie Knight was in the box for the Truck Growers. This is the first game young Knight has pitched this season and made a good job of it. Although Company D nipped him for nine hits, good for eight runs, he struck out ten and walked only three. Three of the hits came in the first inning, a single, a double, and a home run; this resulted in four runs, Knight having given a free ticket to first to McLelland, the second man to face him. In the second, third and fourth innings Knight did not allow a hit or a score; in fact only one man reached first base. Sexton, who was walked in the second inning. In the fifth inning Company D secured three more hits, and more runs in the sixth, and called it a day, bringing their total up to 8.

McLelland started on the mound for Company D, and the Truck Growers practically duplicated the performance of Company D at the at, putting over four runs on four hits, a home run and the doubles. The Truck Growers added one more in the second. Jesse Cook took up the holding duties in the third inning and retired the side in one, two, three order. In the fourth inning, after Thurston and Piercy had struck out, Wilkins drew a walk, and Moss doubled, scoring Wilkins. Herndon walked and Tillis grounded out to end the inning. In the fifth inning, on a combination of two hits, one of them a home run, and errors, the Truck Growers were able to score five runs and thereby a a up the game. For good measure the Truck Growers added three more runs in the sixth. Although the Truck Growers secured only four hits off of Cook, they scored nine runs while he was in the box, errors in the outfield being directly attributable to the loss of the game by Company D.

Besides pitching a good game, Cook shared honors with Rines for the hitting of Company D, Cook getting two doubles and a single out of four times up and Rines securing a home run and a single out of three trips to the plate.

Rutledge, of the Truck Growers, who until recently worked behind the bat, is now playing second base and is fast developing into one of the best in the league in fans who used to attend games between Sanford and the rest of the league teams, will be present tomorrow when the game begins. Hutto is a great favorite here, while the Indians are said to be the pick of the local fans as champions.

That event will be hardly a day old when still another sport event is to be offered local sports followers. The next one is the benefit football game to be played between Coach Leonard McLucas' Seminole High eleven and the Osceola High school outfit. Coach McLucas has been giving his players plenty of work since Monday, preparing them for the contest, and the tougher ones which follow, and he has finally succeeded in correcting the mistakes of the Osceola and DeLand games. Whether they will stay corrected is of course a question, because you know how those kids act when they get the old ball down to the enemy's goal line. The Sanford-Osiedo game will get under way at 3:30 o'clock, and it promises to be a fast and furious one.

The Herald's Pick-The-Winner contestants are learning better each week that the earlier they make their lists in, the better chance they have of winning the prizes offered. This morning, 12 hours after the lists had appeared in the Herald, 18 had been turned in. Here's how the 18 pick them: 16 pick Cornell, 2 pick Princeton; 11 pick Georgia Tech, 7 Auburn; 11 pick Florida, 7 Syracuse; 17 pick Kentucky, 1 Maryland; 17 pick Georgia, 1 North Carolina; 14 pick Alabama, 4 Tennessee; 12 pick Vanderbilt, 6 Tulane; 15 pick Army, 3 Harvard; 16 pick Purdue, 2 Wisconsin; 11 pick Texas, 7 Oklahoma; 13 pick West Virginia, 5 W & L; 11 pick Ohio State, 7 pick Michigan; 11 pick Chattanooga, 7 Sewanee; 9 pick V. M. I., 9 Virginia, and 18 pick Texas Aggies, 8 Texas Christian, each of the 80 or so regular

ISLANDERS WILL MEET INDIANS IN FINAL TILT HERE

League Championship At Stake With Nine From South Favored

The supremacy of the central Florida baseball league, which recently completed its first successful season, will be decided here tomorrow afternoon when Mike Boesch' Daytona Islanders will meet Eddie Holton's Cocoa Indians. The championship of the league, its silver loving cups, and much satisfaction as to the actual merits of each team are at stake, the winner to be crowned the First Championship Baseball Team the league has ever had. The game will start at 3:30 o'clock.

Just when it appeared that both sides were to disband without ever setting the argument, President J. T. Hogan, Orange City, stepped in and laid down the law to both clubs, declaring that the dignity of the league demanded that they obey his order and play the game. Daytona didn't want to play on the Cocoa diamond, Cocoa didn't want to play on the Daytona diamond, and neither were excited over the prospect of playing in a central ground.

Sanford was chosen as the scene of the contest because its field and park are better than any in the league with the exception of Daytona and Winter Park. President Hogan intimated that half the population of Cocoa and all the population of DeLand and Daytona will be on hand to see the game. Just what he expects to do with the handful of Sanford fans who might want to see the game, he did not say.

A Sanford man, Roly Laing, will do the umpiring in the crucial game. Olin Hutto, the most valuable pitcher in the league, will probably face Murslock, the Georgia hurler, and providing everything else is even, a great game is in prospect. Cocoa firmly believes it has the best team in the state, and will tomorrow afternoon exhibit a brand of baseball which is unbeatable.

In Prospect, Prince, Holt, Culbreth and Wall, the Indians boast a hitting staff that is a trifle stronger than Daytona's. McLucas, Mobley, Pellicer, Spake, and Hutto, while the Indian pitching staff of Atkinson Murslock and Jolner, is said to be far more effective than Daytona's Hutto, Lane, and Pellicer.

Each team has won three games, all with the exception of the second game, resulting in close scores after jam-up games of ball. The last game played ended in an 8-8 tie after 11 innings, both Hutto and Murslock knocked from the hill for the first time in years.

Return Of Parnell Wakes Enthusiasm Of Gator Athletes

By FRANK S. WRIGHT

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 14.—Return of Ed Parnell to the lineup heightened football enthusiasm at the University of Florida Monday as Coach Charlie Bachman sent his "Fighting Gators" into first preparations for Saturday's inter-sectional game with Syracuse.

The spectacular Florida left end sat restlessly on the sidelines nursing a leg injury and a boil infection as his mates battled with unquenchable courage Saturday in holding the powerful University of North Carolina team to a scoreless tie, but today Trainer R. G. Manchester pronounced Parnell in readiness to take on light practice, and barring unforeseen developments, Syracuse fans will have a chance to see one of Dixie's most colorful ends.

As the Gators swung into routine of checking up mistakes from the North Carolina game, perfecting their defense for Syracuse, and doing polish to their offensive thrusts, fandom locally was singing the praises of Florida line-men who arose as super-men of might in thwarting three dramatic goal-line thrusts of the Tarheels.

Fourteen line-men saw the whites of Tarheel eyes in those three desperate goal-line struggles during the second half, and the magnificent stand of those men merit particular mention. Joe Hill, Spurgeon Cherry and Ed Williams were on the flanks; "Satch" Phil, Joe Jenkins, Clyde McLellan, "Sparky" Simpson and Leo Bilinski were the tackles; Hob Anderson, Don Forsyth, J. D. Williamson and Drayton Bernhard were the guards, and "Big Razz" Ferrazzi and "Doc" Spiers were at center.

Ferrazzi played almost the entire game, and performed in a dazzling way. With "Bullet" Buck definitely out for at least three weeks, Coach Bachman started intensive searching Monday for someone to guide the Gators at quarterback. He has Culler, Litherland and Beck to choose from, but tossed Homer Seay, senior halfback, and Bob Treadgold, sophomore fullback, into the breach, and from the five the Florida mentor hopes to find the right man.

Guy Topf, tackle, and Leo Gregory, halfback, were promoted Monday from the "B" team to the varsity squad.

Auburn Tilt Looms As One Of Year's Hardest

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 14.—When the Florida Gators return next Monday from their inter-sectional combat with Syracuse, all thoughts will be directed to the clash with the Auburn Tigers at Jacksonville Oct. 24.

The scrappy Tigers from the "Lovely Village" gave notice of their strength by holding Wisconsin to a 7-7 score last Saturday. A year ago Florida and Auburn struggled three quarters with little or no superiority shown on either side, but a last period spurt by the Gators brought a single touchdown victory.

Florida lost heavily from last year, and Auburn has many veterans back. The game this fall is expected to be one of the greatest grid duels in the South that Saturday.

Impetus has been given to the sale of tickets as a result of the Gators big 34 to 0 victory over N. C. State, and their magnificent stand against North Carolina Saturday, and Athletic Director Edgar Charles Jones said today that the sales force was kept constantly busy meeting the requests for Auburn-Florida tickets.

The contest marks the initial appearance of the season of Charlie Bachman's 1931 "Fighting Gators" in Jacksonville. On their last appearance in the Gateway City, against Tennessee in the final game of last season, they were defeated by a close margin.

Gator Fans Say Team Will Defeat Georgia

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 14.—Will Florida defeat Georgia when the two teams meet here Oct. 31 in Florida's gala Homecoming game? A mighty chorus instantly booms out a negative answer, and indicates the Gators will be lucky to hold the Bulldogs to a four touchdown victory, however, a fan with a calculating mind hastens to figure that Florida will win because last fall the stadium was opened with a defeat; last Saturday in their second game the Gators played to a tie, so when they meet Georgia Oct. 31, to reserve the continuity, the team will win.

Governor Long Asked To Vacate Office At Once

Later state militiamen, mobilized on a public square, were disbanded but were told to be ready for instant duty. Long said he did not order the troops out but that probably some friend had on the belief that the state government needed protection.

The troop movement started when it was reported that Cyr was headed for Baton Rouge to take over the governor's office. Later it was learned that Cyr had returned from Shreveport to his home at Jeanerette in south Louisiana, and that he would confine himself to the courts.

Cyr left New Orleans, said that he threw Cyr out of office and Senator Alvin King became lieutenant governor. Except for the fact that the state of Louisiana is rid of Paul Cyr, the situation would not be serious enough to be funny."

Cyr said: "I want Huey Long to get out of office as soon as possible and go in any straightjacket they want and put an end to this demerol."

Bitter political and personal has existed between Long and Cyr since the spring of 1929. Long escaped trial by the state after the House had voted impeachment charges which were suspended after a group of voters arose in their seats and urged the proceedings were unconstitutional and they would acquit the governor.

Cyr was aligned with the Long Democrats in the impeachment proceedings and Long never forgave him. Each has hurled charges after charges at the other and Long did not leave the state for fear of what Cyr might do if he took the governor's chair during his absence.

When Governor Long was elected to the United States Senate with the announced intention of serving out his term of governor, ending next May, before going to the Senate, Cyr and United States Senator Broussard set up charges that he would have to resign one day.

Long claimed he was not a member of the United States Senate until he had taken the oath in the Senate. Cyr and Broussard argued that when he certified his election with the Senate last March he became a senator and he was holding the governorship illegally. On the statement of Long, Senator King, president pro tempore of the Senate, said he would take oath as lieutenant governor last night or today.

Capone Opens Fight For His Acquittal In Tax Evasion Case

to whatever arguments Albern and Fink have to offer on the subject.

All the evidence in the record met objections from the defense on the grounds it does not show income of the defendant. Expenditures of thousands of dollars in fine motor cars, expensive apartments and a palatial Florida home have nothing to do with the case, they insist.

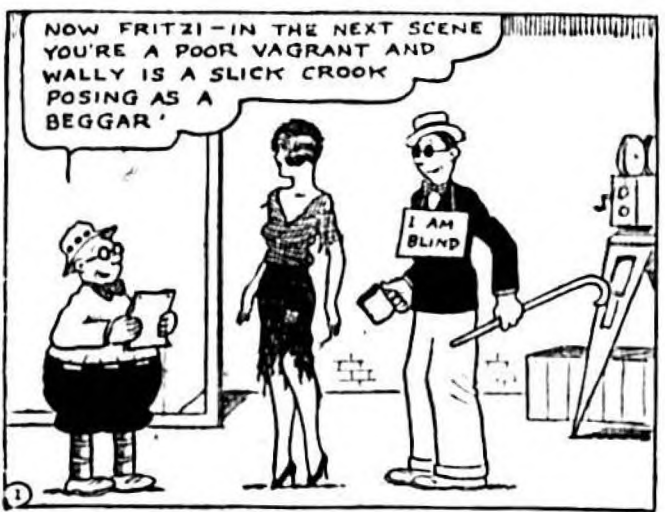

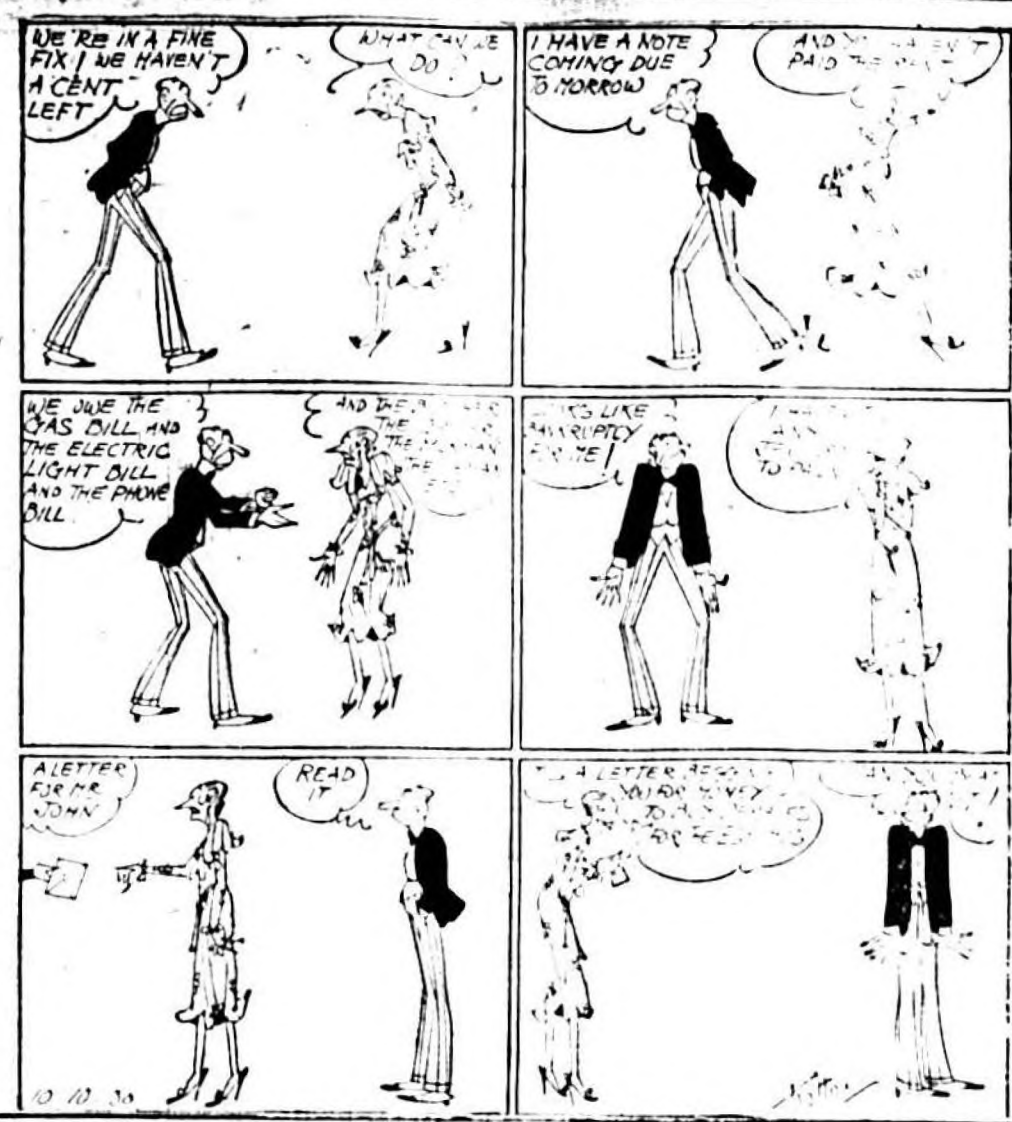

If found guilty, Capone might serve a sentence which would keep him behind the walls of Alcatraz penitentiary until a few years is added to his present term of 33. The defense has insisted, however, it would appeal any verdict of conviction. The defense attorneys pleaded Long and vigorously at the close of the day's session for a "couple of days to sound out our case." Judge Albern replied, "consider the day and the crowded condition of the courts."

"I may decide to bring several witnesses here from New York and other places of considerable distance," said Attorney Fink. "These witnesses would be able to prove losses which this defendant incurred in the only business (presumably gambling) to which the government has referred during the trial. I would have a time to bring them here unless we are given a few days time."

Attorney Fink then proposed that each side be allowed 10 hours for closing arguments. The government objected and Judge Wilburn said he saw no reason for taking up four court days with the arguments. He decided four hours would be "ample time" for each side.

"I plan to ask for a directed verdict," Fink then said, "but I hope your honor would wish to hear no such argument." "I would consider such a motion," the judge replied.

But the "motion" motion overruled when the motion actually was made. "Objection of the defense to virtually every line of evidence introduced by the government could be met by the attorneys in demanding a new trial for the gangster," local authorities said. A final hearing argument was made by Attorney Albern today to rebut everything in the record.

Walthall Says Auto Sale Has Been Active

W. E. Walthall, local representative of the Marshall Motors, Inc., this morning announced that the used car sale which his concern has been holding at Sanford Avenue and First Street for the past 10 days has met with the approval of the public, for a gratifying number of sales have been made.

Natural good and trucks of various makes and types are still available, he said, as he announced that the sale would end Saturday night. "We have several real bargains in used cars and trucks still on hand," he said, "and candidly believe that these values cannot be equaled in this section of the state."

Federal meat inspectors have examined annually from 42 to 70 million-pound animals and their carcasses during the past 25 years. October 7 marks the 25th anniversary of this service to the American people.

State Leases Connors Highway For 4 Months

WEST PALM BEACH, Oct. 14. (A.P.)—The state highway department meeting here today voted to lease for four and a half months this winter the Connors Highway toll road joining central Florida with the Palm Beaches.

The lease is to begin Oct. 15 it is announced but it will operate at once, to lift tolls which were placed back on the road several days ago after it had been toll free over a year. The lease will largely benefit upper Everglades farmers during their winter cropping season. The lease gives the road department the option to purchase the highway for $625,000 with payments extended over a two year period. It is on a basis of five percent for the four and a half month term. On that amount the cost will be $11,718.

DADE COUNTY TRUCK GROWERS SHUTTING TO DIVERSIFIED CROPS

HOMESTEAD, Fla., Oct. 14. (A.P.)—Vegetable growers are beginning to practice diversification, County Agent C. H. S. Hoffman recently explained.

Up until two years ago truck crops were about the only truck crop grown. Over 1,000 acres in the county were planted to the crop in 1927-28, and about 12,000 in 1928-29. In 1929-30 the acreage dropped to 6,000 and last season it was about 5,000.

At the same time, other vegetable crops were being planted. During the season 1929-30 about 1,500 acres of such crops as potato, cabbage, squash and beans were planted. During the past season this acreage was increased to about 1,000.

The introduction of manure as a soil fertilizer to the vegetable soils, which made it possible to grow the other crops, together with the low price for tomatoes, has made it possible for the shift. Manure was introduced into the area by experiments by the Florida Experiment Station and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The other explained that during the 1928-29 season, 21 acres of truck crops were shipped to Miami, against six the previous season. Forty four cars of potatoes and 31 of cabbage were shipped during the past season.

During the 1928-29 season 11,000 bushels of mixed vegetables were shipped into Miami, against 90 during the 1927-28 season, and 40,000 the previous season.
