After an investigation by Gov. Reubin Askew. Getford was docked for 80 hours annual leave and Adams was ordered to pay back any state expense money he collected while at the farm. Askew also said Adams would not be his running mate in 1974. State and federal auditors have examined Mrs. Johnson's duties and she has been subpoenaed by the joint legislative investigating committee which is examining Adams' use of state employes, Hayes and Cox reported. While denying she was Adams' maid, Mrs. Johnson said she ran errands to the apartment, sometimes taking Adams clothes to or picking them up from the laundry.

She said she did work parttime as a maid for Adams when he was secretary of state.

State Supreme Court Favors Sanford Man

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) - A ruling by the state tedustrial Relations Commission denying a Sanford man disability benefits for two industrial accidents suffered in 1979 was overturned today by the Florida Supreme Court. The court ordered the commission to award Rogers Brown permanent partial disability and other benefits as a result of accidents suffered while working for Southern Chemicals Inc. of Sanford. The commission last May reversed an order issued seven months earlier by an industrial claims judge which found that Brown suffered 25 per cent less of earning capacity from back injuries suffered while lifting bags of

The judae's decision was overruled because the commission said Brown's employer didn't have proper notice of amended claim dates. But the tigh court rejected this reasoning, pointing out that the employer's attorney provided the correct accident dates at the hearing and told the judge he didn't need a continuance. Brown, 41, a manual laborer, said he couldn't remember

One week delay in the county's state road program has been called, on recommendation of County Engineer William Bush, to find cause for the quadrupling of estimated right-ofway acquisition costs for the connector road and a short branch to Delery Avenue by the boat works for the St. Johns River Bridge (Osteen Bridge). Bush told the board Tuesday state inserted figures in the road program forms sent to the county showed anticipated costs for the right-of-way acquisition to be up from $40,000 to

That would be enough money to buy 53 acres of land at $3,000 per acre or 27 acres at $6,000 per acre, the engineer

Bush also recommended the county let bids for the critically needed" traffic signal at Lake Mary Boulevard and U.S. 17-92. The board voted unanimously to approve the ### Third Lane Coming?

The possibility of adding a third lane to SR 434 at the entrances to the Woodlands, Sleepy Hollow and other subdivisions was ordered studied by the road department as to design, engineering and costs by the Commission.

District Commissioner Dick Williams brought the "heavy traffic" difficulty on the highway to the fore with report that vehicles are backing up at the entranceways creating a hazardous condition.

Road Superintendent J.C. Lavender said it would take 150 feet of pavement at each place and agreed this would make for a safer condition. He pointed out, at the same time, that cars which run off the road onto the shoulder to go around stopped cars preparing to make left turns are violating the law.

Commissioner Greg Drummond said there is no indication SR 427 will be three or four-laned in the near future and a problem is also being particularly at Lyman High School. Lavender said it would not be difficult to add a third lane from Charlotte Street north and this road was also in-

Hydrant Installed

A fire hydrant is being installed at English Estates School thanks to the cooperation of Indian Hills Utility Company which acquiesced to a request from the County

A representative of the utility company reported to the oard his company will have the hydrant installed within 20 days and will absorb the $1,000 to $1,100 hyrant cost. Commission Chairman Sidney L. Vihlen Jr. said the lack it a hydrant at the school was brought to the Commission's dention by Rep. Eugene Mooney. Drummond said there are possibly other schools in the county in both incorporated and unincorporated areas where fire hydrants do not exist and a good program would be to pursue installation on a uniform basis. The director of the county utility office was instructed to run a survey and determine which schools in the uninour oraseu areas do not have hydrants.

A Close Vote

On a close three to two vote, Florida Power Corporation was given the go-shead to proceed with construction at its own risk of a power sub-station on a purcel south and west of Spring Lake School while appeal is in process to a special exception to allow the building on agriculturally zoned lane

Maurice Phillips, power company representative requested the permission to proceed "at risk of our money" He claimed if the sub-station is not constructed and in operation by June 15, a serious power interruption will be seen in South Seminole. The problem is so serious particularly with hot weather in the offing and the resulting use of air-conditioners and increased power needs to "peril life and property," he said.

Phillips said not only would Florida Hospital North be confronted with a power shortage if the sub-station does not proceed on achedule even though the facility will be given top priority, but operations of water plants in the area, traffic signals and other services might be affected.

Commissioner Williams pointed out the board had been "stampeded" into two actions during the day to protect the public. "But the individual has rights, too," he declared. He insisted the person, who is appealing the decision of the board of adjustment to permit the construction to the Commission. has the right not only to be heard but to have her objections given serious consideration. Meanwhile, Commissioner John Kimbrough asked if it is normal practice for Florida Power "to gamble" in this manner. Commissioner Mike Hattaway also questioned whether the Power Company would commit to restoring the land to its former condition if the board reverses the board of adjustment, following public hearing later this month. Phillips said the company would place it in a safe condition Drummond moved with second from Hattaway to waive the rules and allow the company to proceed at its own risk based on "jeopardy to life, limb and property." Vihlen joined them in approving the action.

New Ambulance Service

A new ambulance service-Physicians and Surgeons Ambulance Service Inc.-with offices to Longwood was given the blessing of the County Commission on a four-to-one vote to operate in Seminole County.

The service was granted a non-exclusive franchise. The company, represented at a public hearing by attorney, John Mahaffey, is to have three ambulances in service with one based in Longwood, one in Forest City and another roving the roads of the county. Mahaffey pointed out the company is asking for neither a subsidy nor exclusive franchise, but prefers the free enterprise system.

Representative of Herndon Ambulance Service, which receives an annual subsidy from the county to operate, warned if a profit could be made from the service a su'sidy would not be needed.

Drummond, however, said competition will give an incentive for higher standards of service and as long as problem intersections such as SR 436 and U.S. 17-92 and SR 436 and I-I are in the county there will be "ripe ground" for additional ambulances.

Vihler voted against the franchise award, saying he was not totally satisfied all details of the service had come before

In another item to do with ambulance service, County Sanitarian Val Robbins was asked to study the service being given by McCall Ambulance Company.

NEW YORK-"Socialism is the philosophy of failure," observed the late Winston Churchill, "it is the credo of ignorance and the creed of

The concrete expression of socialism's failure is found in these two facts: Russia must buy huge quantities of wheat from the capitalist West, and China is now preparing to buy huge quantities of cotton.

Despite these and other failures of many decades, socialism still continues to advance in free semicapitalist countries of the West. In four of the five elections held at the end of 1972 in Western Europe and the British commonwealth. Socialist candidates gained strength.

In fact, the labels "Socialist" and "Communist" no longer hold the horror they once did. In Italy, India, Japan, Chile and France socalled democratic Socialists have formed what appears to be working alliances with Communists for coming to power by the ballot instead of the bullet.

In France last June, the French Communists and far left formed the first "United Front" since 1963 for the expressed purpose of coming to power and ending in France what is left of that nation's free market economic system. The March 4 French election will provide a clue whether, in the next few years, France will go completely Socialist as Chile did.

Like Italy, which has a strong Communist-Socialist element. France appears headed further down the road to Socialist seridom.

French President Georges Pompidou followed in the footsteps of President Richard Nixon and visited Moscow on Jan. 11-12 as a way to remind Socialist and Communist voters in

No Sand Shortage

There's one natural resource we don't have to worry about running out of.

According to the U.S. Geological Survey about 400 billion tons of "commercially significant" sand are deposited in the upper 10 feet of the ocean floor off the northeastern coast of the United States.

The deposits of this unglamorous but necessary material are enough to supply the needs of the United States and the Maritime Provinces of Canada for several thousand years.

France that his ruling Gaullist Party would carry out the foreign policy of the Communists and Socialists and even increase the nationalization of the French economy. An opinion poll taken a month before Pompidou's trip, moreover, showed that voters favored the Socialisi-Communist federation over the Gaullists by a margin of 43 to 38 per cent.

Increasingly many in the West refuse to regard Communists as a danger, while ignoring the sophisticated strategy the Communists have employed in ferming working alliances with the Socialists and how Socialist groups from various nations work together.

The prospect that the Communist-Socialist federation may come to power in France is less real than making a respectable showing and thus, putting political pressure on the Gaullists to move further and further to the left. For Moscow, with which the French Communists are firmly aligned, this process is crucial.

The Russians realize they can never take Western Europe by invading armies so long as the North Atlantic Treaty Organization remains backed by the U.S. nuclear umbrella. Moscow's call for a European security conference later this year is for the expressed purpose of doing by political subversion what it knows it cannot do by armed force. France and West Germany (Willy Brandt is its Socialist head of state) play a crucial role in Russian efforts to neutralize and eventually expel the United States from Europe and break up NATO.

Thus, the growing movement to the left in Europe in 1973 could put the Russians within striking distance of beginning the process of breaking up Western European resistance to Moscow. The rising tide of respectability of the Communists in European politics and their electroral alliance with the Socialists seems the spearhead of this concerted drive to achieve by the ballot what they have not been able to achieve by the bullet.

The rising respectability of the Socialists and Communists, despite their repeated record of failures and barbarous crimes since the first part of the 20th Century, is due more to the weakness of the Western nations than to the strength of Socialists doctrine

While administration officials decline to say what might happen if the enemy should violate the truce and launch an offensive in South Vietnam, it is believed almost certain here that President Nixon would order his air power into the fray. If all goes well and the truce "takes," the United States very likely will withdraw a substantial part of its forces in

As for the 7th Fleet, its mobility makes it relatively easy to come and go as the situation might demand. The carriers have been worked harder during the war in Vietnam than ever before-harder than in World War II, although the danger to the ships was far less. And it is assumed that only one or two will be kept in the area if there's a clear sign that the enemy plans to keep the peace.

Political Notebook On 'Magic' Spirit That Sustains Us

In his new play called "Out Cry," the distinguished playwright Tennessee Williams brings down the final curtain with one of his two characters saying:

'Magic is a habit. Magic is our existence. Since it is a play laden with symbolism, mistily vague reference points, and a host of unanswered questions, a viewer can take from it varied meanings, whether or not that is the author's intent.

Those particular closing lines had a definite significance for me. And as I took them, I think they are universally applicable to life-in a way worth dwelling on in the con-

Most of us understand the blended nature of life-it-mixture of joy and sorrow, beauty and ugliness, strength and weakness, pain and pleasure. We appreciate, too, that the blend for many people is often weighted heavily one way or the other—for a com-parative few toward almost miraculous good fortune, but for all too many in this imperfect society, toward deprivation, ugliness of circumstance, ill health that is draining and sometimes critically painful. For the huge proportion of us who fall between the extremes, the mixture is the great reality. What, then, has 'magic' got to do with it?

To me, it means finding and consciously lighting up the rewarding, constructive, inherently bright elements of living: it means finding ways of making life's dominant mood a ceremony of the spirit, the special spirit which crowns humanity and sets it off from the rest of the anmal world.

Ceremony? It can be small or large, regular or occasional Like a loving regard for the changing wonder of the sky, or a swath of woods in summer green or winter's black tracery. It can be warm attention to the milestones we pass as individuals, families and country. It can be thoughtful celebration of a sear n's high moments, like Christmas. It can mean plunging into the riches of the best thought and the finest printed word, thus throwin oneself into the stream of history and taking on a sense of belonging to humanity in the large. Or tuning ears to nusic-glorious and poignant at its peaks, cheerful and oplifting at its lightest and least.

There is sustaining magic in all these things and more But to gain their supporting worth, we have to work hard to seize and hold them. The magic is not in ceremony reduced to empty ritual. It is not found in the skeptical scornful boredom that in some places masquerades as Sustaining magic has at its roots a holding to some innocence, an easy receptiveness to good things whether old or new, an unending curiosity about and delight in variety and surprise. Someone once said (Vas i Churchill?) that "when the boy in a man dies, the man is

Shoot-Down Laid To Fear Complex

In this country to confer with President Nixon and members of Congress, Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir said. 'If we had an inkling that there were passengers on the lane, nothing like this would have happened," even though its pilot ignored repeated orders to land. Her words echoed those of Israel's chief of staff, Lt

Gen. David Elazar, the man who gave the orders to Israeli jets. Had it been known that it was simply a strayed civilian airliner, he said, "we never would have used fire to force it down On the Arab side, Egyptian authorities took steps to prevent the funeral procession in Cairo for 100 of the vicims from turning into an anti-Israel demonstration. The fact that Egypt's special emissary. Hafez Ismail, did not cancel his scheduled meeting with President Nixon two days after the tragedy but, indeed, spoke hopefully of the chances for peace in the Middle East, is another indication that the Arab world is not irrevocably committed to war as a solution to its dispute with Israel.

It was fear that brought needless death to 104 people aboard that plane-fear that it might be on a hostile mission that drove Israeli jets to intercept it and to fire on it, and fear by the pilot, when he realized where he was, that drove him to attempt to cross back into Egypt It is this climate of fear governing emotions and decisions in the Middle East that must be ended before Arabs and Israelis can ever sit down together to try to resolve their generation-long impasse.

I agree, if one has committed a crime, and has been a former mental patient, this fact should not be withheld. But until all the facts are in, such a statement serves only to equate former mental patients with crime, which I think is

I am not, nor have I ever been a criminal. But I am . . A FORMER MENTAL PATIENT

DEAR FORMER: I agree with you and appreciate your writing. This is a plea to all reporters and news commentators to refrain from mentioning that a suspect is "believed to have been a mental patient." There are many, many recovered mental patients who are already handling more than their share of prejudice.

DEAR ABBY: Years ago I met and casually dated [twi e] a highly intelligent and interesting young man. We seemed to hit it off very well. Then one day he phoned [I'm sure to ask me for another date] and my father answered the phone. I was in the next room and heard him say: "Sile isn't home, and I don't know when she'll be back." Then he hung up abruptly. He knew I was home, Abby. When I asked my father who had called, he told me, and added: "I told him you weren't home because he is not for you!" I had no way of calling him back because he was only risiting in the city at the time.

There was no logical basis for my father's attitude. I am in my thirties and still single. I learned that this man is unmarried and is now living in this city. I would like to meet him again, but don't know how to go about it. Any suggestions, please?

DEAR FAN: Find a mutual triend and try to arrange a get-together with other people. If the attraction is still there, you'll both know it. If not nothing ventured, nothing gained.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 22-year-old junior in college. About four months ago I left home [against my parents' wishes] and moved into an apartment. You would think a 22-year-old girl would be mature enough to take care of herself, but I led a very sheltered life.

Anyway. I met a young man while shopping downtown, and he suggested coming over to my apartment to talk and I agreed, thinking he was an "okay" person. Well, it turned out he wasn't, and now I am nearly two months pregnant. My mind is all in a turmoil. I think I want an abortion. I spoke to my pastor about it, and he said I should be practical and make a decision I can live with. There is no way I can have this baby, Abby. I know there are hospitals that perform abortions, but I don't know which ones they are or how to contact them. Would my parents have to know? How expensive would it be? Please ALL ALONE

DEAR ALONE: Get in touch with your Planned Parenthood office. They will not only provide you with the answers to your questions, but they'll offer you counseling and guidance.

S. Vietnam Ends Snag, Frees POWs

By GEORGE ESPER Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. government apparently intervened today to help settle a dispute over the exchange of Vietnamese prisoners. The dispute threatened to delay the release of the 286 Americans still held in Communist camps and threatened the U.S.-Vietnamese peacekeeping commission with collapse.

The Saigon government agreed, after an eightday impasse, to release 6,300 military prisoners—or about one-third of the 19,734 it still holds-in the second POW exchange. It released 7,000 in the first exchange but lowered the number to 3,000 for the second phase, contending the Communists had not accounted for thousands of missing South Vietnamese troops. The Communist delegations threatened to boycott the U.S. Vietnamese Joint Military Commission until Saigon agreed to free more men. They called on the United States, as a signer of the cease-fire agreement, to intervene.

A U.S. spokesman said the Saigon government had assured the American, North Vietnamese and Viet Cong delegations that the repairintion of its military POWs would be completed by March 28 as stipulated in the cease-fire ac The Communists, who acknowledge holding less than 4, 000 Vietnamese military prisoners, said they would release more than 1,000 in the second phase, having turned over 1,000 earlier. The second exchange is expected to begin

The U.S. spokesman declined to spell out what part the United States played in ending the impasse. But he called attention to statements by Maj. Gen. Gilbert H. Woodward, the senior U.S. representative, at a meeting of the joint commission Monday.

Woodward said the United States takes the position that the agreement on the exchange of prisoners must be strictly followed, the repatriation of military prisoners should be completed by March 28 and they should be released in four groups of about the same num-

Smart Cook Couples Beef Buying Skill with Kitchen Know-How

Today's kitchen executive is interested in value received for food dollar spert while providing good eating for her family with ease and efficiency She's a smart shopper who considers price per serving as well as price per pound and evaluates her purchases with an eye to flavor appeal, nutritive contribution and convenience as well as cost. Coupling this marketing knowledge with preparation know-how, she achieves the most in satisfaction for the least expenditure of time and money

Meat holds no mystery for today's director of kitchen activities. She can differentiate between the rib eye and the eye of round and knows when to braise, broil, roast or stew a cut of beef. A busy woman, she also knows the value of shortcuts, such as premeasured and mixed seasonings in a packet that can be combined with her beef purchases to produce flavor perfection.

For full value in the market, a wise buyer looks to the less-demanded cuts of beef - cuts from the chuck, round, shank and short plate. The wholesale chuck is pot-roast territory, site of arm and blade pot-roasts, the English (Boston) cut and inside chuck roll. Pot-roasts also come from 'le round in form of rump and heel of round. The chuck and round, in addition the shank and short plate, also provide steaks for braising, boneless cubes for stew

Important in the value picture, too, is the contribution of beef to good nutrition as well as good eating. Although costing less per pound than those from the rib and loin, these cuts provide the same high quality protein, the important B-vitamins (niacin, riboflavin, thiamin, B, and B12) and minerals, including iron.

It is with these less-tender cuts that cooking know-how really counts. Long and leisurely braising is the answer to both tenderness and flavor development here. Braising also offers opportunity to supplement that good beef with a variety of other compatible flavors by astute choice of seasonings' and braising liquid.

A time-saving trick often practiced by the accomplished cook is the use of soup mixes to prepare pot-roasts and other braised beef entrees. An envelope of onion soup mix, with its bits of toasted onions mixed with other seasonings, transforms water into a savory braising liquid. Likewise an envilope of beef flavor mushroom mix adds flavor punch to a pot-roast, chuck or round steak or a beef loaf. The recipes for Penny-Wise Beef Pot-Roast and Braised Italian Beef Kabobs are especially tasty examples of making buying and cooking knowledge pay off handsomely at the dinner table.

Boneless beef cuts are a better bargain than the casual shopper may realize, for when bone and waste are removed, servings per pound are dramat ically increased. The inside chuck pot-roast (chuck eye roll), along with the more familiar boneless rump and sirloin tip, couple cooking and carving ease.

Penny-Wise Beef Pot-Roast makes an easy and uncomplicated trip from refrigerator to oven to table to win acclaim. Requiring no dredging or browning before braising in the oven, this recipe endows a pot-roast with superb flavor simply by spreading it with a blend of beef flavor mushroom mix and a jar of junior apricots plus the addition of sliced onions.

Braised Italian Beef Kabobs are another budget-minded beef special that bombards the taste buds with flavor. In this recipe cubes of beef are threaded on short skewers with pieces of carrots and dredged in a mix of onion soup and flour before braising in an Italian-style sauce. The tasty cubes are served on noodles or spaghetti, accompanied with a savory sauce that requires no separate preparation. A zesty two-bean salad makes a great

If you are entertaining and want to serve some really rich and delicious cookies we promise that you won't be disappointed if you try the following

We found the recipe in two cookbooks, one published in aid of a library in Pound Ridge. Conn., and the other a volume put out by a spice company Both cookbooks stated that the cookies were Czechoslovakian in origin.

In making these cookies we went by the Connecticut recipe hat excluded spices from the lough. Just the rich buttery flafor comes through, an excellent oil for the strawberry jam used as the "filling."

STRAWBERRY JAM SQUARES

1 cup butter 1 cup sugar 2 egg yolks

2 cups unsifted flour, stir to perate before measuring 1 cup finely chopped walnuts 3/4 cup strawberry jam

In a medium mixing bowl cream butter and sugar; beat in egg yolks. Gradually stir in flour, then walnuts. Form mixture into a ball and cut in half. Wrap one half of dough in plastic wrap and place in freezer to chill. Pat remaining half of dough into an ungreased square cake pan (9 by 9 by 1 3/4 inches). Spread jam over mixture. Remove remaining half of dough from freezer and roll be tween two pieces of wax paper to form a 9-inch square. Remove top piece of wax paper and invert over jam in pan. Peel off paper and with fingers gently press edges of dough

Bake in a preheated 325-degree oven until lightly browned - 55 to 60 minutes. Place pan on a wire cake rack to cool. Loosen edges with a small spatula and cut into 1 1/2-inch

Ni e: These cooki is keep extremely well when stored in a tightly covered tin box.

Political Spy Linked To Nixon Staff

Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) - FBI documents indicate that President Nixon's appointments secretary and personal lawyer hired Donald H Segretti, who has been identified in news stories as a political spy against the Democratic party. The records were turned over to the Senate Judiciary Committee Wednesday by acting FBI Director L. Patrick Gray III. The committee is hearing testimony on Nixon's nomination of Gray to be permanent director. Gray returns to the witness stand today. Gray's statement about Herbert W. Kalmbach. Nixon's lawyer and fund-raiser, and Dwight Chapin, the presidential appointments secretary, said in part: "Mr. Kalmbach said that in either August or

September 1971 he was contacted by Mr. Dwight

Segretti was about to get out of the military service and that he may be of service to the Re-

At Chapin's request, Gray said, Kalmbach "did contact Segretti and agreed that Segretti would be paid $16,000 per year plus expenses, and he paid Segretti somewhere between $30,000 and $40,000 between Sept. 1, 1971, and March 15, 1972." Segretti's pay came from campaign contributions, Kalmbach said.

Gray said Kalmbach, a lawyer with offices in Newport Beach, Calif., told FBI agents that "he merely acted as a disbursing agent for Segretti's salary and expenses, and he has no idea how Segretti received his instructions or whom he reported to .... He said he had no knowledge of what Segretti was doing to justify these expenses or to earn his salary.

The acting director told senators also that are FBI check of telephone records showed that, between August 1971 and June 1972, Segretti was in telephone contact with the White House, Chapin's home and the home and office of E. Howard Hunt Jr., then a White House consultant.

Hunt was one of seven persons who pleaded guilty or were convicted of federal charges of breaking into and wiretapping Democratic national headquarters in the Watergate in

The Washington Post and other newspapers have written that Segretti and several other agents conducted a spying and sabotage campaign against Democratic presidential candidates last year

Meanwhile, Sen. John V. Tunney said Wednesday he's concerned about White House in fluence over Gray and the FBI, especially in the agency's investigation of the Watergate bugging.

"I'm trying to ascertain the degree of independence you had from White House counselors," Tunney, a California Democrat, said Wednesday after spending much of the afternoon probing the relationship between Gray and White House counsel John W. Dean III in the Watergate affair

"I made it very clear from the beginning." Gray replied. "I told them I don't care how high this (investigation) reaches.

"I have turned down requests from the White House," he continued. "And, when I can't do it, I'm going to leave. I came to this town with a good reputation and integrity, and I'm going to take it with me, so help me God.

Microwave Ovens Get 'Bum' Ratings

MOUNT VERNON, N.Y. (AP) - Consumers Union says the public should not buy microwave ovens because potential radiation leakage under "reasonable" has accelerated well into the 60 conditions of use" can far exceed federal safety standardo.

"The potential radiation of these evens gives us sufficient reason to doubt the safety of these products, and the consumer should be cautious and stay away," a spokesman for the independent, nonprofit testing organization said Wednesday.

The head of the Association of Home Appliance Manufacturers said that "no known injury" had been caused by any microwave oven and that all American-made microwave ovens were well within federal radiation limits.
