

FLORIDA WATER TRAFFIC LEAGUE MET LAST NIGHT ELECTED OFFICIAL BOARD

By-Laws Were Adopted and Much Work Done

MOVEMENT GROWS

AND ENTIRE STATE IS BEING INTERESTED IN THE SHIP BY WATER PROGRAM

A small but very enthusiastic crowd attended the Florida Water Traffic League meeting at the Valdez Hotel last night but what they lacked in numbers they made up with the dispatch of important business and the manner in which they went about perfecting the organization.

Many good talks were made by those present from the various points and the reports showed that the organization is gaining strength everywhere and more people are now shipping by water than ever before since the early days when there were no railroads.

There were many good talks made by various representatives and the meeting demonstrated that this movement is not a one-day or one-week or one-year movement but that it will last as long as the state endures and from this movement will come government aid for the rivers and harbors of Florida and Orlando and points in Lake county will some day have their own canal from the St. Johns river and enjoying the regular water rate right to their doors or there will be truck lines established everywhere or the trolley lines will take their place.

J., Oct. 8.—Woman's National Golf Championship tournament was in its final round today with Miss Alexa Stirling, of Atlanta, defending the title she won in 1916 and has held since then. Other survivors of one hundred and sixty-four starters was Miss Marion Hollins, of New York. The pair has met before in the national event, Miss Stirling winning by three holes.

UNCLE SAM GRABS ARBUCKLE ON CHARGE OF HAVING LIQUORS

(By The Associated Press) SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 8.—Roscoe C. ("Fatty") Arbuckle, who came here yesterday from his home in Los Angeles for arraignment on a charge of manslaughter, as a result of the death of Miss Virginia Rappe, was served with a federal warrant charging the illegal possession of intoxicating liquor, as he left the superior court building.

Arbuckle's arrest yesterday grew out of his alleged violation of the Volstead prohibition act on Sept. 5, the date of the hotel party following which the death of Miss Rappe occurred.

He was brought before Thomas E. Hayden, United States commissioner, and released on $500 bond for hearing on October 13, the same date on which he is to enter a plea to the manslaughter charge.

Arbuckle grinned broadly when a newspaper photographer unexpectedly took a flash-light picture in the federal commissioner's office, startling the small group present.

He departed for his home late yesterday.

BASEBALL Today's Game

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The fourth game of the world series was postponed today on account of rain.

POLO GROUNDS, Oct. 8.—It began to rain lightly at 12:30 and was falling heavily at 1 o'clock, making prospects for today's game dubious. Crowds in uncovered stands used old newspapers to shelter themselves. Babe Ruth came to game and sat in the grandstand, his arm was in a sling.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The weather at seven o'clock this morning was cloudy with official forecasts of rain. The weather man held out hope, however, that rain, if it came, might be over in time for the fourth world series game. The Giants are determined today to bombard the Yanks twirling selection and get even footing. They hammered the four Yankee pitchers yesterday for the world series record of twenty hits and won third game by score of thirteen to five. McGraw intimated he would send Phil Douglas, spitballer, to the mound. Phil hurled a great game in the opening contest against Mays but the underhand flinger was craftier. Harry Harper, who makes up Huggins' portside mound staff most likely will oppose Douglas and if Harper is in form for the fourth game may develop into another pitcher's battle. Huggins probably will not call on Shawkey, Quinn or Collins again in the series as the Giants got to them yesterday. If Harper comes through today he believes series will be on ice for the Americans with Mays and Hoyt in the reserve for needed two games. If Harper fails Huggins will have to rely on Mays and Hoyt to do iron man stunt. Babe Ruth may be out of game today on account of abscess on arm.

TAMPA HIGHWAYMEN ON TRIAL

TAMPA, Oct. 8.—The case of Arthur Gill, Dewitt Adams, Andrea Reina, alias Joe Reina, Gio Caclatore and Philip M. Licata, charged with assault with intent to murder in connection with the attempted hold-up of an automobile carrying $20,900 payroll of the Regensburg cigar factory, in West Tampa, several weeks ago, has been set for trial in criminal court here on October 24. Licata is now at liberty under $10,000 cash bond. Reina and Caclatore have been apprehended but informations have been filed against them.

The Regensburg payroll car was held up on a street in a sparsely settled section of West Tampa, and in a pistol fight between the bandits and the men in the pay car, Gill was wounded in the leg and two men in the Regensburg machine were slightly injured.

BATTLED WITH TWO MEN ON TOP OF LUMBER CAR AT FORTY MILES AN HOUR

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Frosts probable tonight in Tennessee, East Gulf, Middle Atlantic and South Atlantic states except Florida and along South Atlantic coast, the Weather Bureau announced today.

Tom Martin is Badly Wounded in Fight for Life AND WINS OUT

KNOCKED NEGRO FROM TRAIN AND SHOT WHITE MAN AFTER HE WAS WOUNDED.

Tom Martin, of this city, special agent of the Atlantic Coast Line had a thrilling battle with two hoboes on the top of a lumber car last night going at the rate of forty miles an hour and battled alone and unaided until he had knocked one of them from the train and shot the other after he himself had been badly wounded.

Tom boarded the package train at Palatka last night coming South as there had been numerous robberies reported from the package train lately and he was keeping his eyes open when he spied two men, a negro and a white man on a lumber flat car. Climbing down on them he held his searchlight in his mouth and commanding the negro to hold up his hands while he searched him for weapons. While searching the negro and without any warning the white man opened fire on Martin, firing five shots at him only one taking effect in his left arm shattering the bone and making it useless. The negro taking heart at the wounded condition of Martin tried to hold him when Martin knocked him from the car with the butt end of his revolver and he then turned the gun on the white man firing two shots at him, hitting him in the hand and in the side. The shot in the side evidently hit the spinal column as it is said he is paralyzed from the waist down. The train had by this time gone about ten miles farther down the track and stopped near Seville where the train crew were summoned by Martin and he was sent to Sanford, the wounded tramp being taken north to Palatka. Later reports say that the negro has since been captured and the white man at the present time is not believed to be in danger of dying. He said his home was in Philadelphia but it seems that he is a professional hobo and probably a yegg man or bandit as he was armed and ready for attack and his shooting of Martin showed that he was that kind.

SCHOOL BOYS CUTS THROAT SCHOOLMATE

QUARRELLED OVER TOBACCO AND TRAGEDY RESULTS AT MACCLENNY

(By The Associated Press) Macclenny, Oct. 8.—Lonnio Gainey, 13, is in jail without bail to await the action by the grand jury as the result of killing at Burnett's school house, this county, yesterday of Keonard Dugger, 12, son of a prominent Baker county farmer. One boy, it was said, had tobacco in his pocket during the school hours and the other was said to have informed the school teacher. The boys quarrelled after school was dismissed and witnesses said during the fight which followed Gainey drew a knife and cut Dugger's throat. The boy died within a few minutes. The coroner's jury held Dugger's death resulted from a knife wound inflicted by Gainey.

Fort Meade community is about to put itself on the map. The big idea now is the watermelon industry. One man has come here from Levy county and has rented 150 acres of land right at the edge of the incorporate limits, and will plant it to watermelons, and there are about four other men who will put in large acreages in melons. So if this next watermelon season is a good one Fort Meade will take its place in the communities where watermelons are the subject.

PRISONER TAKES SENTENCE CALMLY AND SHOWS NO EMOTION

(By The Associated Press) JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 8.—Pope was found guilty of murder in the first degree with recommendations of the mercy of the court today. It was announced the judge would pass sentence later. Pope received the verdict with perfect calm. The jury took the case at 12:05 and returned at 2 o'clock after a recess for lunch.

FOURTEEN YEAR OLD BOY HELD FOR KILLING GIRL - CUT HER TO PIECES

(By The Associated Press) MADISON, N. J., Oct. 8.—Francis Kluxen, 14-year-old boy is being held by the police today on a charge of killing Janet Lawrence, 12-year-old girl, whose body with 25 knife wounds was found yesterday in the woods near here. The boy denied all knowledge of the crime. Suspicion first fastened him when he was aiding in the search for Janet, who had been missing all night. He was observed to be trembling violently, the police say and in response to questions, mumbled "Awful, awful."

MERKER GRASS BRINGS BIG PRICE.

LAKE WALES, Oct. 8.—A crop valued $1,000 was produced on one acre of ground here in four months this summer, according to Edwin Spencer, of Lakeland, county attorney for Polk county, and owner of the land. Merker grass was the crop with which Mr. Spencer believes a record was established. Joe Callman, a Rumanian farmer, of Peace Valley, about four miles from here, produced the crop which was purchased by the Valpairiso Development Co. Merker grass is a native of South Africa, where it is known as "Elephant Grass." It grows to a height of from 12 to 15 feet in four months and is regarded as an excellent stock food, the elements it contains being similar to those of alfalfa.

GAME WARDEN RESIGNS.

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 8.—R. P. Zion, game warden of Bay county, has resigned as a result, he declared, of failure of the Board of County Commissioners to fix the salary of the warden, the board being opposed to the creation of such an office. Governor Hardee has accepted the resignation.

TO GUARANTEE BEES

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 7.—The State Bee Keepers' Association will hereafter act as guarantors for its members in the sale of bees, it was announced today. The bee keepers adjourned their annual meeting this afternoon after a two days session.

Florida and they will stoop at nothing short of murder. The A. C. L. has been bothered by these people lately and their package trains and freight cars have been broken open at various points and it was to catch them at the work that made Special Agent Martin take the train last night. His battle with the two men shows that he has the right kind of stuff in him and his friends rejoice today that he was not killed and thrown from the train.

GOVERNOR WILL NOT GRANT PLEA OF DADE COUNTY

SPECIAL SESSION OF THE FLORIDA LEGISLATURE REFUSED

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 7.—Gov. C. A. Hardee will not call a special session of the Florida legislature, he announced yesterday morning, following conferences with Judge Will H. Price, of Miami, who brought the formal plea of the Dade County School Board for the assembling of the solons to authorize Dade county to issue $500,000 in school bonds to carry the schools in that county through the coming term.

Schools in Miami and certain Dade county districts will have to close down unless relief is secured, according to reports here from Miami. The school board, it is understood, agreed to stand all the expense of the extra session, which, it is claimed, would amount to about $15,000.

Undoubtedly weighed by the governor before he made his decision, yet not formally presented for his consideration, are the pleadings of cattlemen throughout the state, who have been urging a special session to relieve them from the burdens that they pushed through the legislature at the recent regular session when they practically knocked out dipping and cattle improvement work by curtailing the appropriation of the live stock sanitary board. This has resulted in a quarantine on Florida cattle and beef by all other states and a threat of one by Cuba, because of the tick.

Suggestions for a special session, coming from other sources, must also have been heard by the governor. These included rumors that the state board of health would ask more money and a special session to give it; that good roads enthusiasts would ask a session to clear up the legality of the gasoline tax law, by re-enacting one that is sure fire; and other matters.

The governor's secretary stated however, that no formal request for a special session had been received by the governor except that from Dade county.

There is considerable gossip about the capitol on the question. Friends here of the various proposals for relief are admittedly disappointed, and there are hints of an open coalition of all the interests seeking a special session, for a solid front to be made in a later plea for an extra session.

HILL COMPANY WILL SEARCH FOR DEEP OIL

TAMPA, Oct. 7.—Florida's first real test for oil will be made in the vicinity of Oldsmar in the next few months.

Drills and rigging are now on their way to Oldsmar for four test wells which will go as deep as necessary to strike oil or to disprove any claim of oil in the section.

Drilling will be begun about October 15. Length of time the tests will require will depend upon favorable conditions encountered by the drills. There is every indication that the $50,000 to $75,000 to be spent in the test will not be spent in vain.

No less personage than R. V. Hill, president of the Hill Oil and Gas Co., formerly of the Hill-Pierce Oil Co., an operator in the Eastern Kansas, the Eldorado, Arkansas, the Oklahoma, Texas, and Mexico oil fields, is back of the tests to be made at Oldsmar. He is expected in Oldsmar about the time the drilling of the wells begins to personally direct the work. He expects, it is said, to strike oil at a depth of from 2,000 to 3,000 feet, but will go 4,000 feet or more if that is necessary to complete the test.

RAILROADS WILL DELIBERATE UPON IMPORTANT QUESTION

CHICAGO, Oct. 7.—Decision whether a strike will be called by the six railroad unions whose membership recently voted upon the question of accepting or rejecting a twelve and one-half per cent wage reduction, will be made at a meeting here Monday, it was announced yesterday.

General chairmen of all the interested unions of all the roads have been called to Chicago for this meeting, more than 600 men being requested to attend. The men are the general chairmen of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, Order of Railway Conductors, the Switchmen's Union of North America and the Federated Shop Crafts.

Announcement that the call for this general meeting had been issued was made by L. E. Shepard, president of the Order of Railway Conductors following his arrival here. Heads of all the brotherhoods have been in the city at some time during the week with the exception of W. C. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Enginemen and Firemen, who wired he would reach here today.

Unemployment Conference Tuesday.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The national conference on unemployment will reassemble next Tuesday instead of Monday, as previously announced, Sec. Hoover said yesterday. Committees will meet on Monday, he added, and it is hoped that several of them will have completed their recommendations on permanent measures for combating unemployment and reviving business and commerce.

Let's see; what was it they wrote paragraphs about when skirts were long?

It might help some if a lot of rich fathers would hold a conference with their sons concerning unemployment.

LIMIT ON HUNTING LICENSE ADVOCATED TO CONSERVE BIG GAME.

During the hunting season this fall more than 5,000,000 persons, estimates the Biological Survey of the United States Department of Agriculture, will go out with a gun into the woods and fields of America. Their going emphasizes the growing need of more adequate and uniform laws to conserve and protect the country's dwindling game supply.

"It has been the practice in many states," the department says, "to issue hunting licenses for the open season to all applicants, with too little regard for the available game supply of any particular area. The hunters may far outnumber the animals hunted within a given section, and under such conditions the extinction of big game especially is inevitable.

"The department of agriculture advocates a limited license plan for big game, based on annual estimates of game conditions in each district. This means that the number of big game licenses issued for a given area in one season would depend upon the number of game animals which it has been determined in advance can be spared. Proper administration of this sort should conserve game in the greatest numbers consistent with the reasonable demands for local grazing and other interests and obviate the necessity for establishing perennial closed seasons, except on areas being restocked."

MAN ON DELINQUENT LIST SEEKS DAMAGES.

KEY WEST, Oct. 5.—G. Bowne Patterson has filed a suit against the city of Key West and Arthur H. Sheppard as tax collector in the sum of $10,000 for damages as a result of the publication of Mr. Patterson's name as a delinquent taxpayer. Papers in the case were served on Mayor Otto and Collector Sheppard.

Mr. Patterson stated that the publication in question pertained to property no longer owned by him and that he had been unable to secure redress for the improper publishing of his name as a delinquent taxpayer to the tax collector. Mayor Otto stated that he had not had time to look into the case and consequently was unable to make a statement on behalf of the city at present.

Collector Sheppard said he had advertised the property in question, as the records of his office showed that the taxes had not been paid and he advertised the name of the owner as it appeared on the tax books.

YANKEES MAKE REP FOR SPEED AND HEAD WORK.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—The Yankees entered the second game with a brand new reputation to sustain—grasped lightning with brains.

Until they finished their spectacular win over the Giants in the opener, Huggins men had been classified as a ponderous, slow moving, turgid thinking outfit with but two virtues, ability to "crash the old apple" and Carl Mays.

The McGrawites played them for just that sort of a steam roller, and the team roller turned into a racing car without missing a stroke. The Yankees probably never played a headier or speedier offensive game in their lives. And their defense was flawless.

Gone was the slashing, tearing attack that had carried them to the American League championship. Gone was the system of forcing runners around the lines by sheer power of base hits. The hit-and-run was replaced by the safe and sane sacrifice, the extra base wallop by the well placed single and how those Yanks ran bases.

The Gants were at the great disadvantage of not knowing what to expect. They had their plans all laid yesterday or most certain conditions, and those conditions didn't exist. It was as though they had gone to elaborate preparation to hunt elephants and had run into a nest of rattlesnakes.

Wednesday's exhibition was an exemplification of the old adage that "pride goeth before a fall." The Giants had boasted that the great Babe Ruth would not be purposely passed. It was Phil Douglas' anxiety to live up to this boast that gave the Yanks their first and winning run. If there was any "break" in the game it came when "Shuffin'" Phil grooved one for the bambino in the very first inning.

Elmer Miller had singled and been sacrificed neatly to second by Roger Peckinpaugh. Mindful of his duty of pitching to Ruth, Douglas got the ball over not wisely but too well. A blind man could have patted it, and Babe assuredly is not blind. Whom! The leather streaked to center on a line, Miller raced home, and away went the ball game.

THE FAITH HEALER WILL BE ATTRACTION AT THE STAR AGAIN TONIGHT

Several extraordinary features in connection with "The Faith Healer" which was shown at the Star last night will hold the boards again tonight make it one of the most notable examples of the screen art produced by George Melford this season.

The theme is one of the most compelling ever received by a dramatist, and it discusses the problem of whether a man with a great work, or mission in life should sacrifice the joys and pleasures of life, even love itself, and devote all his energies to his mission.

The story presents in clear, truthful form the great truth of healing by faith. A beautiful romance is developed in the story. The picture is one of great emotional and dramatic intensity.

Milton Sills plays the title role of the Faith Healer, Ann Forrest, plays Rhode Williams and other celebrities in the cast are Fontaine LaRue, Frederick Vroom, Loyola O'Connor, May Grace, John Curry, Adolph Menjou, Edward Vroom, Robert Brower and Winifred Greenwood.

GIVES UP HIS ROYAL RIGHTS

Zulu Noble, Now Bootblack in California, Discards Ancient Privilege to Become Citizen.

"It is my intention to renounce forever all allegiance and fidelity to any foreign prince, potentate, state or sovereignty, and particularly to King Bogo of Zululand, South Africa."

If you should ever happen to meet, as you go to and fro in the earth and walk up and down in it, a very dark gentleman, tall, short, fat, lean—any kind of a very dark gentleman—with large round holes in the upper part of his ears, try to remember what it is that a plain, ordinary American citizen is expected to do when he unexpectedly meets up with one of the royal family of Zululand.

For those holes in the upper part of the ears—the upper part, mind you—are one of the royal prerogatives in King Bogo's realm. The dark-skinned chieftains of the plain plug variety are allowed to bore holes only in the lower portions of their ears.

But there is one member of the royal family of Zululand who will take no more pride in having large round holes in his hearing apparatus. His name is Musa, or "Umisa" Bryann, and his declaration, which stands at the head of this item, was made the other day before Naturalization Clerk J. J. Kingston of Oakland, Cal.

Musa Bryann says he is a son of Fumly Bryann, once a king of the Zulul, and a nephew of King Bogo, the present ruler. He left Zululand, South Africa, in 1894, when he was fifteen years old, and came to Oakland, where he became a prize fighter, and is now working as a bootblack.

King Bogo of Zululand has lost a subject, and Uncle Sam has gained one, slightly damaged, it's true, but one who aims to shine.

THE THREE GREATEST THINGS IN THE WORLD.

Where do your footsteps turn, When your daily task is done? HOME.

Where do you go when you want to end your troubles, Where does the fountain of love forever bubble? HOME.

Who shares all your joys and troubles? Whose face is always in a smile? Who makes the home worth while? MOTHER.

Whose name do you carry always in your heart no matter where you go? MOTHER.

Who sang to you sweet lullabies in childhood days of yore? MOTHER.

And when you've traveled the country over, And you've seen all there is to be seen, What brings you back to your home and mother? LOVE.

What is it that causes you to never forget your mother? What is it that you'd swap the whole world for? What is it that holds the old home together? LOVE.

There's lots of things that you can have, and lots of things that you can do. But what are the three things that mean everything to you? What are the three things that make life worth living? Your Home, Your Mother and Love. —William Starr.

"A VOICE FROM HEAVEN."

There are people who believe that it is possible for us to call up the dead and talk to them. There are others who believe that the dead can communicate with us. There are others who feel in some way that there are guardian angels who look after us.

Whatever may be your belief, come Sunday night and hear Dr. George Hyman tell you of "A Voice From Heaven." There will be comfort and helpfulness in the message.
