ELKS ANNUAL MINSTRELS WERE GREAT

PLAYED TO CROWDED HOUSE AND GAVE GOOD SHOW

The first annual Elks Minstrel occurred at the Lyric Theatre last Wednesday night and that it was a good show is demonstrated by the fact that none of the performers were hurt by bricks or eggs and those who attended had their money's worth. The house was sold early in the afternoon and those who came late were turned away as they possibly could not be accommodated. It was thought the boys would repeat the performance on Thursday but through some misunderstanding the announcement was made that it would not be given again much to the disappointment of those who were unable to obtain seats the first night.

It will not permit a report of the show but it was a good one and all people and all those who went were fully up to standard.

The field street parade of the Elks performers and the general feature of the festivities and the Lyman Twins were the other highlights.

The sowing program was cut short due to the letter.

LIST OF CANDIDATES WHOSE NAMES WILL APPEAR ON PRIMARY BALLOT

The following is not the "Official Ballot" but is substantially the form to be used on June 6th. One set of Candidates for County Commissioner will be on each ticket.

The following are the names of the candidates which will appear on the ballot for the primary of June 6th. This is not the official ballot but if each voter will study it carefully it will prove to be a great aid to them when they go to the polls to vote. Familiarize yourselves with the names on the ticket so you will know who you want to vote for for the various offices. The mark to indicate for whom you desire to vote is an X to be placed in the square following the name, and where more than two candidates are running for an office and only one is to be elected put an X following the name of the candidate you desire to vote for as second choice. This should be done, as it in no way injures the chances of your first choice.

SPECIAL MUSIC

suitied to their exceptional talents. Mr. Revelle is cast with the part of a social idler, whose sole activities consist in his spending money given him by his wealthy wife. It requires a severe shock, through an unusual twist of fate, which brings him to the edge of life, itself and then to poverty, before he finds himself, makes amends and proves himself a man after all.

Miss Snow plays the part of the wife, who believes in her husband and remains at his side through his profligacy and his adversity, and is directly responsible for his reformation. It is a typical "Pretty Peggy" part, and is bound to win this popular star many new admirers.

"Honor's Altar"

That power and luxury do not always spell satisfaction and pleasure is shown in the Ince-Triangle drama, "Honor's Altar." This play, in which Bessie Barriscale, Lewis Stone and Walter Edwards are starred will appear at the Lyric Theatre tonight. Walter Edwards and Bessie Barriscale have the roles of a self made captain of industry and his wife. Edwards plays convincingly the strong character who has wrested a place of power for himself in a world of seekers for success. He gets into gay society, where he is treated with consideration on account of his wealth. He thinks that his wife is not brilliant enough to shine in this environment.

Lewis Stone then appears on the scene in the dining room of a club. Edwards hears Stone make the boast that he is absolutely without a care or a care. It leads to a conference when Edwards offers a check of $1000 if he will win Miss Barriscale's affection, thus relieving the man of his ignominious presence and charms.

Miss Barriscale appears to advantage as the loving, unsuspecting wife, who accepts without question the man without honor as a friend of her husband. Stone takes Miss Barriscale for an automobile ride and manages to break down near a desolate road house. Not knowing the nature of the place Miss Barriscale consents to enter. There is a strong contrast between the confidence of the good woman and the coquettish being of the astute, sly man of the world. Shall he call up the husband and so injure the reputation of the wife?

Stone plays well the fight in the mind of the boasted man of no honor. But the simple tragic show to Miss Barriscale turns the scale to the side of purity and virtue for her home.

Thimble Party

Among the pleasures of last week that was much enjoyed by those participating was the thimble party, which was the thimble party on Friday afternoon, given by Mrs. J. O. Packard, Mrs. Findlay Munson and Mrs. Will Hand at the home of Mrs. Packard. The party had been planned in honor of Mrs. F. P. Strong, whose hurried departure on Friday was too late to recall the invitations. The hours were spent in social intercourse and with needle work.

Those present were Mrs. John Mersch, Mrs. Leslie West, Mrs. J. H. Cowan, Mrs. C. R. Walker, Mrs. J. H. Ferguson, Mrs. Ordway, Mrs. S. Anderson, Mrs. Gibson, Mrs. Eshwetter, Mrs. I. J. Seord, Mrs. Jewett, Mrs. Macay, Mrs. Osborn, Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Pennington, Mrs. Wight, Misses Albine Frank and Clarence Hand.

Happy Surprise Party

Mrs. J. E. Pace was the delighted recipient of a happy surprise party on Wednesday, in honor of her sixteenth birthday, at least she pleaded guilty to that number of years, no more, no less and in the guessing game, the subject being Mrs. Pace's age, which those present said was impossible and impudent, and other suggestions than sweet sixteen summers. That is the secret of her charm, her youth that the years cannot take from her. In the particular little group of close friends who delighted to honor the gracious lady she is the central figure. Under the skillful manipulation of Mrs. A. E. Hill, to whom the success of the happy event is largely due, and her willing coadjutor, Mr. Pace, the honoree was inveigled from home in the early morning, when her friends took possession of the house. Upon her return there was the jolly bunch of laughing conspirators to meet her upon the porch and then the tablet. It was a banquet board that had been spread with the daintiest and most delectable viands and sweetmeats that would tempt the appetite of an anchorite. A beautiful birthday cake with its sixteen pink candles graced the table, while in the center stood a vase of tall spikes of the pink gladioli. Merriment and laughter filled the air with gladness and the attractive home, nestling in its great park on the banks of the lake became the scene of jollity and mirth. There was not a matron there over twenty. Games and music and dancing whiled the happy hours away on the swift wings of pleasure and the parting hour came all too soon in the afternoon. Among the most enjoyable of the day's pleasures was the cotillion, danced with the spirit and fervor of true and true sixteen. Each happy conspirator brought something tempting for that picnic banquet and each considered herself especially favored to be one of the hostesses at that board, for there were only two guests, the master and mistress of the house. A number of beautiful presents also testified to the popularity of Mrs. Pace. Enjoying the delightful occasion were Mrs. A. E. Hill, Mrs. T. S. Davis, Mrs. S. M. Easterby, Mrs. J. D. Roberts, Mrs. D. A. Caldwell, Mrs. R. Pattin, Mrs. C. C. Woodruff, Mrs. W. W. Lang, Mrs. J. J. Purdon, Miss Jessie Wheeler, members of the congenial Frisilla Club. Other friends were Mrs. Robert Webb, Mrs. C. E. Henry, Mrs. Henry McLaulin.

Jolly Surprise Party

A surprise party was given Miss Jessie Poll Friday evening by a few of her friends at her home on West Third street. The evening was very gay and spent in music and games. Cook kept the pans of the evening. Mrs. Poll served delicious refreshments consisting of coffee, cream, cake and lemonade. At a late hour the guests departed having spent an enjoyable evening. Those present were Misses Gossie Tally, Mabel and Esther Woodburn, Jessie Poll and Willie Singletary. Messrs. Ray Maxwell, Eugene Singletary, Wm. Griffin, Frank Poll and Mr. McTague.

Chicken Pillar

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Cecilia Club will be held tomorrow Saturday afternoon at Mrs. Matheson's studio at 3 o'clock. Parents and friends of the young members are cordially invited to attend.

Chicken Pillar

The circle of which Mrs. A. D. Parrish is chairman will give a chicken pillar at the restaurant room of the Wadsworth house tomorrow evening and evening. The pillar will be supplemented with sandwiches and salads, hot coffee, tea and ice cream and cake. Patronize these ladies and enjoy a delicious supper.

Personal Mention

Mr. S. Wright of Tampa, Fla. was the guest of his brother, Mr. Henry Wright for several days last week.

Mr. D. G. Wagner and daughter, Miss Ada Wagner motored over from Kissimmee on Monday, visiting friends in the city. Mr. Wagner returned home on Wednesday. Miss Ada will visit Miss Marion Phillips until Sunday.

A congenital party motoring to Jacksonville on Tuesday were Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Gonzales, Miss Frances Gonzales and Mrs. W. W. Abernathy. They will visit Palatka, Daytona Beach, Green Cove Springs and other places before returning home.

Mrs. J. D. Davison will have as her guest for several days Miss Bernice Clark of Palatka.

Rev. F. P. Strong left on Wednesday for his new home in Brooksville. He will be joined later by Mrs. Strong and the children.

Mrs. Harry Nelson Dickson spent Wednesday in Sanford, the guest of the home folks.

Miss Margaret Wight is expected home from Chicago the early part of next week. Miss Wight has just completed a successful course in Primary and Kindergarten school work and the play ground work at the Peoria Loyola College, having graduated on Wednesday with high honors.

Miss Margaret Strong is the guest of Miss Vera Terheun this week.

GREAT BATTLE LAST WEEK WAS IN DOUBT

WAS NOT GREAT VICTORY GERMAN DESPATCHES MADE OUT

London, June 6.—The great sea battle fought last week was not altogether a victory for the Germans, fleet as later reports will demonstrate.

The British admiralty tonight issued a statement saying there was the strongest grounds for the belief that the British navy in the battle with the Germans off Jutland last week had accounted for a total of eighteen German men-of-war and that there was nothing to add to or subtract from the original announcement of the British losses. The statement gave the German losses as two battleships, two dreadnaught battle cruisers, nine torpedo boat destroyers and a submarine. The pessimism which prevailed as a result of the admiralty's original statement of losses, which now is considered to have been needlessly careful and conservative in underestimating the extent of the German losses as compared to those of Great Britain, has been greatly lessened by the later statement.

A despatch from Copenhagen says rumors are current in Hamburg that the British warships that were attributed to the Germans沉没ed in the warship Wiesbaden and the battle cruiser Lutzow were sunk in the battle. A wireless despatch received here Saturday night said that the British had suffered a heavy loss in the Wiesbaden and Lutzow.

Maintaining its practice of referring to the admiralty and submarine losses as the names of the lost ships.

The official list of the British many authors shows that hardly a quarter of the losses are due to the admiralty.

An additional report says that of the 100 ships lost, only 100 of them were saved from the Queen Mary, Invincible, Fortune, Valiant and Shark. None was saved from the Indefatigable. In these, Prince, Tipperary, Turbulent, Norfolk or Nestor.

The list gives the names of 100 ships sunk, killed aboard the Wiesbaden, Wiesbaden, Lutzow, Lutzow, and the other ships engaged in the battle. 115 men were killed and 100 were wounded.

Admiral Lord Beresford, in an interview, while contending strongly for the view that there was no fault in the British strategy and that Vice Admiral Beatty won a brilliant success though it was dearly bought, declared that the only mistake made was by the admiralty in allowing the Germans to get first in the field with the news of the battle or as he puts it, with "impudent fabrications." Otherwise said Lord Beresford, no fault can be found with the admiralty.

Woodland Park Notes. Nearly two hundred people visited Woodland Park Sunday. At least a well loaded car came from Sorrento, among those were Mr. Battle and family, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cooper, Mr. Walter L. Cooper and son from Coronado and Mr. J. D. Kennedy and family. Capt. Roy Lewis brought a good number on the launch "Nettie," some of the singers being Miss Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Tillis, Hugh Tillis, Hotz, Vaughn, Griffin, Campbell, by bands, Senn and Wardman. The "Dolly Bawn II" (Capt. Sineadley) brought a good party. Among visitors were Mr. Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. C. P. H. and Mr. and Mrs. G. P. H. and Mr. and Mrs. G. F. and family. Mr. and Mrs. W. T. McGinn, pastor of the Key West Congregational church, will fill the pulpit morning and evening Sunday, June 11th at the Congregational church.

Mr. McGinn is a very pleasing speaker and all members and friends are invited to hear him.

Lively singing, dancing, laughter and the other amusements were much in use. Several impulsive boys burned their hands slightly on the pipes leading from the hot spring and had to acknowledge the existence of the hot spring.

Next Thursday the Knights of Columbus will have a big day at Woodland Park. It will be a basket picnic and open to everybody. There will be a band of musicians and dancing, besides the usual program.
