TALLAHASSEE — (Spl) —
Comptroller Fred O. Dickinson Jr. announced today the release of $3,618,000 in racing monies to Florida's 67 counties

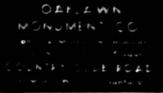

The present bridge, built in 1631 and one of 12 across the Thame in London, is too narrow for today's heavy traffic. A wider bridge will replace it.

Dickinson said this brings the season's total amount distributed to $16,951,000, an increase of $1,149,000 over funds distributed last year.

An equal distribution of $54,000 was sent to each county this month. Since the beginning of the racing season in November, the per-county share has been $17,000 higher than it was for the same per-chan it was for the same

The most exclusive "club" in the telephone industry will add a new member on May 1 when Mrs. Mae B. Sheppard retires from Southern Bell's commercial department in Sanford.

Mrs. Sheppard joins a select group of telephone people who ended their careers with 40 or more years of service. For this service representative, the to-and 17 days.

It began when she started in Palatka as a night operator. During her career, she held a variety of positions in the traffic and commercial departments of Southern Bell. Mae says that changes in the telephone business seemed gradual over a half century, but they are really amazing when you look back at them.

What are her plans for the future? Well, she and her husband, Leslie T. Sheppard, presently employed as ticket agent by the Seaboard Coast Line Railroad in Sanford have no definite plans for the imno definite plans for the im-
