Brazil Bienal Draws Art From 61 Countries

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) -The Sao Paulo Bienal, the largest periodical competitive exposition in the Americas of the world's modern art opened for a four-month stand here in late September. Over 5,000 works of 1,000 artists from 61 foreign countries and Brazil are arranged in national displays in the huge. three-story Bienal Building in this city's Ibirapuera Park. The bienal is scheduled to close on

An international jury of art critics from Brazil and seven foreign countries have begun their task of selecting the winner of the $10,000 Itamaraty Award for the best individual work in any field. The jury composed of Werner Schmelenbach, West Germany. Alan Bowness, Britain, Ryszard Stanislawski, Poland, Andrey Ritchie, U.S., Ida Rodriguez, Mexico, Ignacio Pirovano, Argentina, Teijiro Kubo, Japan, and Brazil's Geraldo Ferraz, will also choose the winners of the 10 Bienal of Sao Paulo Awards of $2,222 granted in each of the individual fields of the plastic arts. The works of foreign artists are entered by the governments of their countries, and the bienal accepts only works dated after 1963 as competitive entries. The more than 1,000 Brazilian entries show a much stronger influence from "pop" art than the selection displayed at the eighth bienal in 1965. The U.S. exposition, like those of Western European countries. seems to strike a balance between the traditional and the very new. A special retrospective salon of 39 works of the late Edward Hopper contrasts with the list of 21 young artists including Jasper Johns, Andy Warhol and Tom Rosenquist. The "op" and "pop" works of Jean-Pierre Reynaud, 28, and the "primary structures" of Alain Jacquet, also 28, represent the new French style. Two more mature artists, James Cuitet and Baldacini Cesar, complete France's selection. Gianni Colombo's electro-mechanical constructions, spark the Italian entry of 20 artists. Russia, apparently unwilling to face the old vs. new issue, is only exhibiting stage and costume design for the theater. The Sao Paulo Bienal, in the heart of this industrial capital of Latin America's largest nation. is also the occasion for auxiliary international exhibitions, nota-

Americans will have to refresh their memories on the rules of the old, "waiting game."

First rule, be patient. All unpleasant situations eventually come to an end. Second rule, don't get excited and fly off in the wrong direction. It may be a long, lasting mistake. Third rule, order your next car from a dealer you know, one whose reputation is tops.

Now it wouldn't be a bad idea to stop by and see our display models of the exciting new '68 Ford. Maybe we don't have what you want now, but if you place an order for future delivery, you can be assured you will get your car the minute your turn comes up.

Christian Science

For almost two thousand years the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper has been celebrated by Christians everywhere. Though variously interpreted by the churches, though administered with different ritual, it has always remained our unifying bond . . . the Communion of the Church with her Lord.

of me

On World Wide Communion Sunday Christian congregations all over the globe will assemble to celebrate this Communion. Each will follow its own accustomed usage, exercising the right of religious freedom that the free peoples of the world treasure so highly. And as millions receive the Sacrament they will be conscious of the joyous faith that unites them with one another and with Christ. This is a century of crisis in which those who treasure their spiritual heritage must stand together . . . must face with courage the alarming growth and ruthless power of an atheism dedicated to the overthrow of both freed a

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . .

The Church is the greatest factor en earth for the building of charac-ter and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and sup-port the Church. They are: (1) For sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
