

Circusland To Abandon Sanford Property Site

More Developed Area Needed--Officials Say

Circusland will close offices in Sanford Aug. 1 and will abandon its 250-acre site on Hwy. 17-92 in favor of a more developed area. Several reasons were listed for the move from the Sanford site, but Circusland officials stressed that the primary one was that pressure from potential leasees of space at the attraction dictated the change.

Maurice Marshall, president of Entertainment Enterprises, said: "We have not been able to hold Sanford's fine location above certain economic advantages. In short, we cannot sell Sanford to enough national firms to satisfy Circusland's lease requirements. Enough are sold, however, contingent upon a relocation."

"There are three ways in which to create a major attraction for any area," Marshall said. "Solicit and sell stock, have the necessary millions in your pocket, or put the project together with conventional loans and available private capital. We have traveled the latter route from the beginning and it is an exacting one."

"We leave Sanford with regret, but must consider the move definite progress toward the early construction of Circusland."

Marshall declined to name the ultimate location of the attraction, but said there would be an announcement within 30 days.

Circusland, which has had the usual troubles encountered by big attractions in organization and financing, had gained considerable notice for the Sanford area within the past year.

The current issue of Amusement Business magazine praised the soundness of its planning, saying "it may be the canniest piece of theme construction to come down the pike in several years."

Many firms interested in concessions and institutional exhibit space on its grounds continued to balk at the location, however, Marshall said, resulting in dictation of a move to another location or joining them altogether.

"Attempting to hang onto the Hwy. 17-92 site cost Circusland a total of $25,000 in option money before the company gave up, Marshall pointed out.

He also revealed that a former employee of Entertainment Enterprises reportedly had been soliciting financing without authorization and said any such inquiries should be checked.

Johnson Takes Over Command Of VAH-3

Cdr. Silas R. Johnson relieved Cdr. Kenneth F. Rowell as commanding officer of Heavy Attack Squadron Three Friday at an impressive change of command ceremony at Sanford Naval Air Station.

The ceremony took place in the VAH-3 hangar with an A&J and A&D on display in the background and the NAS Jacksonville Band playing traditional Navy songs and marches.

Capt. Joseph Tully, commander of Heavy Attack Wing One and Mrs. Tully attended the colorful ceremony. Among the other dignitaries present were Capt. and Mrs. Robert W. Snye, commanding officer of the Sanford Naval Air Station, Capt. and Mrs. J. T. Lowe, commanding officer of the Naval Air Station, Brunswick, Ga., and Mrs. Patti Mehle, wife of Capt. Roger W. Mehle, commanding officer of the aircraft carrier USS Saratoga.

After the inspection of the officers and men of the squadron, Cdr. Rowell made his farewell remarks. He said, "It is with heavy heart that I say goodbye to everyone of you in VAH-3 today. This past year has been the most enjoyable and rewarding year in my 20 years of Naval Service." He commended the squadron on its outstanding marks received on a recent inspection by the Wing Commander, and its tremendous accomplishments, teamwork and co-operative spirit displayed during the past year.

Cdr. Rowell and Cdr. Johnson then read their official orders. And the Change of Command was achieved with that time honored phrase "I relieve you, sir."

In his remarks, Cdr. Johnson said that through his recent experience as commanding officer of VAH-9, he personally witnessed the expertise and training of the squadron "... I am now honored to command." He added that VAH-3 is the "backbone of the Heavy Attack Program." "Our motto, Professionalism is Our Business, is well earned. I commend you for it. I should like to share it with you, and I will be pleased to serve with you."

He then presented Rowell with a plaque from the officers and men of the squadron, in tribute to his services as commanding officer of the squadron.

Yuri To Bypass Visit To U.S.

MOSCOW (UPI)—Astronaut Yuri Gagarin said today he has not received an invitation to visit the United States so he will bypass it on his way to Cuba next week. But he did get a kiss from Giana Lollobrigida.

Gagarin announced the plans for his next foreign tour at a news conference for film festival delegates.

Miss Lollobrigida sat in the front row and asked the Soviet air force major questions along with foreign correspondents.

School Board Sets Budget Meeting

The County School Board is expected to meet in special session Wednesday and give its tentative approval to the 1961-62 budget raising the support and maintenance millage by one mill.

The tentative budget figure has been set at somewhere around $3,110,000—some $100 shy of last year's budget figure.

The school board met in special session last Thursday and was told by Supt. of Schools R. T. Milnes and administrative Assistant Walter Teague that the only alternative to raising the millage was to slash the building fund program.

Both officials stressed that would be in the county schools this fall.

The present support and maintenance millage is five-thirds-one and a-half cent for debt service.

On Wednesday, the commission either will approve the budget and advertising for a public hearing July 27 or ask officials to rework the budget.

Lightning Causes Lake Mary Fires

Longwood Forest Ranger Lewis Williams reported today that lightning caused two weekend fires in the Lake Mary area involving about 20 acres of heavily wooded land.

Williams said that at about 4 p.m. Friday, the Rangers came out to a woods fire on Country Club Road just north of its intersection with SR 15 across from the George Stubbings Ranch. They found that lightning had struck the large pines within 40 feet of each other setting the initial blaze which resulted in a fire of several hours duration. Later in the evening, neighbors called the Lake Mary Volunteers who assisted in bringing the five-acre fire under control.

On Sunday afternoon, Williams reported, another bolt struck just across the street resulting in the burning of an additional 15-acre plot.

Everything Looks 'A-OK' For Space Trip Tuesday

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—Everything is "A-OK" for America's second man-in-space venture Tuesday morning.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration confirmed that 35-year-old Air Force Capt. Virgil I. Grissom will be the pilot aboard Liberty Bell 7, the Mercury man-in-space capsule.

Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. who will be 40 years old Tuesday, will be backup man for Grissom as he was for Navy Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr. who made America's first space hop May 5 aboard the capsule Freedom 7.

Lt. Col. John A. Powers of NASA told reporters at a news conference that everything, including the weather, appears to be all set for Grissom's trip, scheduled to start around 7 a. m. EST Tuesday.

"All elements," he said, "are A-OK for the MR4 mission."

MR4 stands for Mercury-Redstone No. 4. Shepard's trip was MR3.

Powers, public information officer for the Mercury program, said Grissom was picked for this flight because "he was the man most ready."

Glenn, presumably will get a rocket hop later with one or more of the other five astronauts following suit before the year is over. Purpose of the hops is to provide training and to check out all aspects of the capsule and the recovery system.

The Redstone rocket now poised on pad No. 5 will hurl Grissom about 115 miles up and 300 miles out to sea on a path roughly paralleling Shepard's.

The "flight countdown" began at 7 a. m. today. Grissom, Glenn and their five fellow astronauts and the scientists in charge of the nation's $400 million Project Mercury program returned to the job of getting the man and machine ready.

Late weather forecasts indicated little possibility of a delay from that quarter. The morning forecast said conditions were expected to be within the prescribed limits and added: "but the weather" is not expected to be any great concern in Tuesday's firing.

A journalism professor once said: "Everyone makes mistakes but only newspapers publish them."

In Friday's Herald we published a story about District 3 Commissioner James P. Avery recommending a courthouse annex in South Seminole County. By error, the first few paragraphs of the story were transposed.

The story should have read: "District 3 County Commissioner James P. Avery confirmed reports this morning that he will ask the County Commission to investigate and study the possibility of constructing a courthouse annex in South Seminole County."

"It wouldn't have to be any grand structure — just a rented room would do and it should be in the most populous area of the county which would be South Seminole," Avery added.

A few months back the County Commission agreed to purchase two locks for the Big Tree Contribution box. Later on they eliminated the box altogether. Wonder what they are doing with the locks now?

Did you know that the County Commission is considering the feasibility of purchasing all new radio equipment changing the equipment to high frequency? Estimated cost, approximately $7,000.

State Rep. Mack Cleveland answered any critics today who have charged him with "tackling" on a referendum on combining any tax roll change. Says Mr. Cleveland: "I had nothing to do with it — The constitution requires a vote of the people."

West 'Rebuts' Soviet's Demand Against Berlin

LONDON (UPI)—The United States, Britain and France sent notes to Moscow today firmly rebutting Russia's demands against isolated Berlin.

The Western notes, which were approved by the entire 13-nation NATO Council Saturday, were sent to embassies in Moscow for imminent delivery to the Kremlin.

At the same time diplomatic sources in London said the U.S., British and French foreign ministers may meet in Paris early next month to coordinate allied policy on Berlin.

Sources said a foreign ministers' conference could be a prelude to a Western summit conference of President Kennedy, Premier Harold Macmillan and President Charles de Gaulle, if it was necessary to serve a more serious warning on the Soviets. But they said no move inward such a top level gathering had yet been made.

The Western step left the door open to future Allied moves in the heightening East-West conflict over the divided city and the German problem.

No new proposals were advanced immediately on how to tackle the issue. The notes do not propose fresh East-West negotiations, nor do they exclude such course of action in the future.

Gambling Raid Staged Here; 11 Are Arrested

Eleven men were taken into custody and arrested in two different gambling raids staged by the Sheriff's Office and State Agents Saturday.

At approximately 8 p.m. Saturday, deputies swooped down on a poolroom on W. 13th St. and arrested eight men charging them with gambling.

The eight, all held under $25 bond are Willie Sorrells, Willie Scott, James Aussy, Eugene Bous, Samuel McGill, Jesse Hatwood, Vanderbilt Nickerson and Douglas Warren.

Earlier in the day, deputies and state agents arrested three men at DeLeon Bridge for gambling. One of the men, Coy Griffin, was charged with operating a gambling place. The others arrested were Alex Hodges and B. W. Collins. Collins and Hodges were charged with gambling and held under $25 bond each while Griffin was held under $100 bond.

The board authorized District 3 Commissioner James P. Avery to write up the directive and Avery said this morning that it will be submitted for adoption Tuesday.

Church Women Meet Tonight

The Church of the Nativity Catholic Women's Club of Lake Mary will hold its regular monthly meeting at the Chamber hall today.

The meeting is scheduled for 8 p. m.

Fr. Hugh Lammiman of the Naval Air Station will be guest speaker.

County To Set Budget Hearings

The County Commission Tuesday is expected to set up a series of budget conferences with county officials to start work on the 1961-62 budget.

Most of the departments already have submitted their budget requests for the coming year with about 75 percent of them asking for personnel increases and more money for operating services.

The commission also is expected to establish a directive taking all blind-bodied men off the county welfare rolls.

The board authorized District 3 Commissioner James P. Avery to write up the directive and Avery said this morning that it will be submitted for adoption Tuesday.

Additional Swim Classes Start In Area

Additional swimming classes for residents of the Casellberry area began at 10 a.m. today with an adult class and a class for intermediates immediately following at 11 a.m.

The instruction is being sponsored by the Casellberry Volunteer Fire Dept. in conjunction with the American Red Cross Water Safety Committee and is taught by qualified Red Cross instructors. To be held each Monday, Wednesday and Friday at the above mentioned times, the classes are at Lyman High School along the lakeside located around the north end and to the rear of the building.

Instructor, John Lady advised that openings still are available in each class and those interested in receiving the instruction may report at the lake.

Any person more than 16 years of age will be accepted for instruction with the adult classes which are for the purpose of improving ability and competence in the water.

To qualify for the intermediate class, a pupil must be able to swim at least 20 yards and to tread water for at least 30 seconds.

Lady advised that a point often missed by those signing up for instruction is that the classes are held solely for the purpose of teaching survival in the water and that the instructors do not teach fancy or swift swimming.

Racial Violence Rocks Chicago; New Trouble Seen

CHICAGO (UPI)—Police held 11 youths for questioning today about reports that a group of white teenagers had planned to break up a mixed "wade-in" demonstration at a South Side public beach.

One of about 300 alleged agitators struck Police Capt. James Hackett in the face Sunday when police cleared a section of Rainbow Beach. The youth, Patrick Kennedy, 20, was carried from the beach unconscious.

After treatment at Jackson Park Hospital, Kennedy denied reports he had been knocked out. He said he was an epileptic and lost consciousness when officers grabbed him by the neck.

There were no reports of fighting between whites and Negroes. Officers said youths from the South and West sides planned to break up the "wade-in" at a signal from a bugle, but police confiscated the bugle before it could be sounded.

Hackett said he cleared the beach as a precautionary measure.

About 300 Negro and white "wade-in" demonstrators arrived at the customarily all-white beach for the second consecutive Sunday.

About 300 policemen directed by Hackett stood by to keep order.

Some of the demonstrators sat at the water's edge sunbathing and talking. Others went on swimming.

A crowd of about 10,000 persons had gathered when Hackett ordered part of the beach cleared. A few minutes later, conditions returned to normal. The "wade-in" group was not ordered to leave.

Police said many in the crowd appeared to be curiosity seekers. A short distance away the beach was like any other. People swam and sunbathed, parents played with their children and young couples strolled hand-in-hand.

Although Rainbow Beach customarily was an all-white beach, most other Chicago beaches are fully integrated.

Police and integration leaders Saturday joined in rejecting a proposal by Rep. John Bell Williams of Mississippi that the federal government intervene in Chicago to protect "white victims" of racial disorders.

Chicago police said they could handle any situation which might develop.

Southeast Hit By Economic Slump

ATLANTA (UPI)—Parts of the Southeast are going through a sharp summer economic slump, apparently helped along by a fairly severe unemployment situation, statistics showed today.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta, which uses department store sales and banking activity as two of its main economic measuring rods, reported the region's business dealings.

Graham Ends Biggest Crusade

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—Evangelist Billy Graham met with the board of directors of the Billy Graham Evangelistic Association today after his biggest one-week crusade in the United States.

The upper Midwest crusade drew more than 200,000 persons to eight services at the Minnesota State Fair grandstand. Crusade officials said 6,632 persons came forward to make "decisions for Christ."

More than 75,000 persons filled the grandstand and overflowed onto the race track and infield to hear Graham at his final session Sunday. Veteran Fairgrounds Supt. James Libby said it was the biggest crowd he ever had seen.

Some fanned themselves with Bibles in the hot sun.

The evangelist said God would intervene in history just before man was about to destroy himself.

"The Communists have a plan," he said. "They announce their plan to create a super-kingdom without God. But God says he will have His kingdom and only He will be the head of it."

Miss Suzanne Phillion, Dr. R. H. Babcock Married In Ceremony At St. Petersburg

Morning Circle To Choose Name Next Month

A NEW EXPERIENCE for your reporter was the Court of Honor conducted by the adult leaders of Boy Scout Troop 501, Thursday, in impressive ceremonies around a dancing campfire on the shores of Silver Lake.

The occasion of my visit to this event was due to my youngest son having earned his Second Class Scout rank at the recent camp he attended, a proud achievement, to be proudly worn by the youngest Higginbotham and by the other members of the troop who earned other awards.

Scouts Billy Miller and Dick Bruce both attained the highest honors by earning the right to wear the Life Scout badge, and their awards were pinned on their shirts by their mothers, Mrs. Tom Miller and Mrs. Cammie Bruce.

The ceremonies of the Court of Honor were very impressive, opening with the advancement of the colors, led by a blazing torch, which then lighted the bonfire, before which the Court, presided over by Lt. Cdr. Joe Andrews and Scoutmaster Bill Miller, was conducted and closing with a roaring cheer from the Scouts in honor of their beloved leader, Mr. Miller, who soon will be leaving (more about that later).

An extra added attraction was the thrilling sight of a missile blasting through the evening sky, reflecting the setting sun and pouring out a gold and pink tinged vapor trail visible for several minutes in the first stage of its firing. At least one parent in the group gathered on the lake shore had never before seen the out-of-this-world sight of a missile flight.

TRIBUTE TO A BRAVE LADY: The tragic death of Lt. Cdr. Phil Harward a few months ago in the crash of an A2D with the other members of his crew was a heart-shaking blow to his family and his many friends.

Now the Navy circle within the community has suffered a further loss with the departure of his widow, Bernice, daughters Chrissy and Patsy and sons Mike and Phil, Jr., who left recently to make their home nearer their family in the west.

In twenty years of Navy life, we have been saddened many times by the sudden death which comes to those who daily risk their lives in the keeping of the vigil of America's defense.

But Bernice Harward's courage and strength in the hours and days following the devastating loss that she suffered will always serve as an inspiration to those who know her. Though she wept, she never whimpered and through the terrible, unrelenting loneliness that followed she never gave way to bitterness or self-pity.

Her husband's spirit seemed to be with her always and she gauged each new decision by the measure, "This is what Phil would want me to do."

Her daughter Jane, "Chrissy," as she was known to her high school friends, took courage from her mother's example and, both of them, quietly and steadfastly kept their eyes fixed on the future, while slowly and painfully picking up the broken pieces of their shattered lives.

Friends, too, could not believe in these long journeys down into the valley of the shadows, and there were many Navy wives, whose strength and support was all the stronger for having walked through this same dark valley, and there were many others whose aid and support were given in the realistic knowledge that:

Rowells Honored With Dinner Party At Pruden Home
Cdr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rowell were guests of honor, recently, at a farewell dinner party at the home of Lt. and Mrs. Nell Pruden on Elm Ave.

The buffet table was centered with a beautiful arrangement of yellow and white mums. Lasagna, tossed salad, garlic butter bread, ice box pie with whipped cream and coffee were served to those present.

Rev. Charles Langlands officiated at the candlelight ceremony. A program of wedding music, including the two wedding marches, was presented by the church organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white camellia silk mist. The re-embroidered bodice of Alencon lace featured cap sleeves and the waistline was spanned by an obi sash, accented with a cascade of self fabric flowers, at the back of the full skirt which extended into a chapel train.

Her veil of silk illusion was held by a circlet of matching lace and she carried a bouquet of orchids and stephanotis. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Miss Patricia Phillion, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Other attendants were Miss Nancy Coppedge of Atlanta, Ga.; Miss Edith Dulles, Rio de Janeiro; Miss Caroline Schwartz, Wilmington, Del., and Mrs. I. Halsey Brain, Kankakee, Ill., sister of the groom.

The bridesmaid and attendants wore identical dresses of wedge-wood blue organza over taffeta with overskirts of unpressed pleats. The fitted bodices featured scoop necklines and elbow length sleeves, and they wore matching flower headpieces with circular illusion veils.

The maid of honor carried a bouquet of white roses and the other attendants carried bouquets of white carnations.

I. Halsey Brain was best man and serving as ushers were John Brumley of Sanford, Byron Crowley and Dr. Lewis Yarborough, both of Winston-Salem, N. C., and Dr. Shans McKeitham of St. Petersburg.

The bride's mother wore a beige lace dress with matching accessories and a pale green orchid corsage. The groom's mother wore a pink lace dress with white accessories and white orchid corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Lakewood Country Club. Mrs. Shans McKeitham kept the bride's book.

For traveling Mrs. Babcock chose a blue linen suit with white accessories. After a wedding trip to Jamaica the couple are residing at 1401 Fifth St. South, St. Petersburg where Dr. Babcock is practicing neurological surgery.

The morning circle of the Grace Methodist Church met at the home of Mrs. Roy Wall for the monthly session.

Mrs. Richard Silvers, chairman, opened the meeting with prayer and presided at the business session.

The birthday apron project got off to a good start with three members sewing on patches for June and July birthdays.

The main topic of interest for the day was selecting a name for the circle. Members felt it should have special meaning and it was decided that each one, after careful thought, would bring a suggestion next month and a vote be taken to choose a name.

The devotion, with children as the theme, was given by Mrs. Russell Kitzer. It was followed by the lesson study on Biblical women. The inspiring story of Hannibal's dedication of her son, Samuel, to God was told by Mrs. J. H. Roseman.

Refreshments of sandwiches and coffee were served by the hostess to those present.

Pinecrest Circle Holds Monthly Program Meeting

Mrs. B. M. Fitzgerald was hostess to the monthly meeting of the Shirley Smith Circle of the Pinecrest Baptist Church.

Mrs. Don Gravemier presented the devotion. Following the business session, a program entitled "Teach Me To Pray" was given. Taking part were Mrs. Harley Sykes, Mrs. Paul Martin, Mrs. Vester Smith and Mrs. C. L. Fitzpatrick.

Others present were Mrs. Lillian Revels, Mrs. Cliff Ables, Mrs. W. L. Gramkow Jr., Lucille Abrams and Mrs. R. J. Boynton.

Annual Picnic Held By Oviedo Class
By MARIAN R. JONES
Members of the Kingdom Seekers' Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church of Oviedo met at the church Tuesday morning at 8:30 in order with good food. Their destination was the Daytona Beach home of Mrs. Drady E. Mathers, president of the class for the annual picnic.

Arriving at the Mathers' home some took to the water for an enjoyable swim while others just chatted.

At lunch time the food was spread on the large table in the kitchen and served buffet style. Chicken and yellow rice, salads, vegetables, sandwiches, etc., were enjoyed before Mrs. Mathers' daughter, Marilyn, presented the cake lighted with birthday candles inscribed, "Happy Birthday, Mae." Everyone had to sing Happy Birthday to the honoree, Mae King. Ice cream was also served with the cake.

Following the merriment, a business session of the class was held in the living room of the home.

All left for home, except the Mathers family, about 4:30 p. m. Those making the trip from Oviedo were Mrs. Frank C. Morgan, teacher of the class; Mrs. Mae E. King, Mrs. Lawson A. Hardy, Mrs. Ralph King, Mrs. George C. Means, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Carlidge, Mrs. Inez Kasell and Robert A. Dewberry. Mrs. Morgan drove one car and Dewberry the other to make the trip.

Mrs. Mathers and daughter, Marilyn, were already at Daytona. Mrs. Alex Leijnhart, who has been at her summer home at Daytona, joined the group for the picnic.

Tigers Regain 1st; Redlegs Lead Slashed In NL

Colavito, Cash Spark Detroit Drive To Top

United Press International
It's easy to say hold that tiger but what do you do when there's a pair of 'em like Rocky Colavito and Norm Cash on the loose?

Nobody could hold either Sunday, much less both, and that in a nutshell is the reason why the Detroit Tigers are back on top in the American League today.

Between them, Colavito and Cash ripped Kansas City's pitching for 18 total bases and 12 runs scored in during a doubleheader. Detroit swept the two games, 11-4 and 8-2, thus taking over first place by one percentage point from the New York Yankees, who beat the Baltimore Orioles, 3-1.

Colavito drove in five runs in the nightcap with his third and fifth homers, while Cash, who contributed a three-run double in the opener, belted his 25th home run with one on in the nightcap. Double Dick McAuliffe also homered in the second game to help Phil Ragan to his sixth victory.

Southpaw Don Mossi limited the A's to five hits in the opener and contributed a home run to his own credit. Al Kaline hit his 11th home run off loser Jim Archer.

In other AL games, the Cleveland Indians took the opener from the Minnesota Twins, 7-5, but dropped the nightcap, 15-3; the Los Angeles Angels beat the Washington Senators, 11-2, then lost the second game, 4-3, in 10 innings, and Boston split with Chicago, the White Sox winning the opener, 4-3, and the Red Sox taking the 12-inning nightcap, 5-3.

Chickent's lead in the National League was sliced to five games when the Chicago Cubs defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 10-7, in the Pittsburgh Pirates, 12-11. The San Francisco Giants downed the Philadelphia Phillies, 7-4, and the Milwaukee Braves trounced the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-1.

Money made money in both of the weekend's runs against the Orioles with his third homer and a double leading double that broke up a lead by Red Daley. Daley started a double and survived a ninth inning threat to gain his eighth victory. Louie Sava Barber yielded only five hits.

Two home runs by Chuck Esseglin and one by Johnny Romano paved the Indians to their opening game victory over the Twins. Gary Bell (6-0) was the winner. Lennie Green collected five hits for Minnesota in the nightcap. Don Leo registered his first victory by allowing only one run after taking over for starter Bert Cole in the third inning.

Steve Bille and Ken Hunt each hit three-run homers in the Angels' first game victory over the Senators. Jim Donohue was the winner and Ed Hobaugh the loser. In the nightcap, however, the Senators scored the winning run in the 10th on a throwing error by catcher Dal Meo. Ryno Duren (3-20) was the victim of the miscue. Reliever Dave Slater was the winning pitcher and is now 3-4.

Mauro's two-run single with two out in the ninth inning brought the White Sox their first game victory, which was credited to reliever Frank Eschemann (6-7). Carroll Hardy singled home the winning run for the Red Sox in the 12th inning of the nightcap, bringing Gene Hillman his third victory. Gary Selzer and Floyd Robinson hit homers.

George Altman's 10th home run in the sixth inning snapped a 3-3 tie between the Cubs and Reds, and the winners added an insurance run off Jim Brown in the seventh. Bob Anderson blanked Cincinnati over the last 2 2/3 innings to preserve Dick Ellsworth's 20th win. Double Ken Hunt captured his 18th victory compared with nine victories.

John Kousser of the Dodgers hit his 12th homer during a two-run rally that tied the score in the sixth and also tripled home the winning run against the Pirates in the 10th. Pittsburgh and the Astros — two by Bill Mazouza, and one each by Don Bush, Dick Stuart and Roberto Clement — tied the contest's score by 7-5 from the sixth inning.

Yanks Down Reds In Dual Track Meet

MOSCOW (UPI) — Frank Budd, Ralph Boston and Wilma Rudolph emerged as the individual heroes for the United States in its two-day dual track meet victory over Russia, but Coach Jim Elliott today insisted two Yanks who finished second made the big difference.

Elliott, genuinely proud of his team's showing despite the fact that nine Yanks refused to take time from their work to make the trip here, singled out steeplechaser George Young and distance runner Max Truex, both of whom finished second in their events, for praise.

"I thought it was a good showing by a bunch of good boys," said Elliott. "I also thought George Young taking second place in the steeplechase at a time when it really looked like we were going to need it, stood the show."

However, Max Truex getting a second place in the 5,000 meters was another outstanding performance," Elliott continued. "I think the Soviets fielded a strong squad and there's no question they are getting stronger in such events as the 400 and 800 meters and in the sprints and hurdles, too."

Budd, who won the 100-meter dash in 10.3 and sparked the U.S. men's 400-meter relay team to a world record of 30.1 seconds on Saturday, bounced back to win the 200-meter run in 20.8 Sunday and get the Yanks rolling toward a 124-111 victory over the Russian men's team.

Boston, the world record holder in the broad jump, extended his mark even further Sunday when he leaped 27 feet, 2 inches to add more points to the growing U.S. total.

Miss Rudolph, the Olympic triple gold medal winner, equalled her own world record of 11.3 seconds in winning the women's 100-meter dash and then brought the 400-meter relay team from behind to win that event, too, Saturday. However, the American girls bowed to the Russian women, 48-38.

Although the men's and women's meets are scored separately, Soviet newspapers were expected to combine the scores and claim victory for Russia. Under that system, used on two previous occasions when the Soviet men bowed to the Yanks but Soviet women athletes won, Russia outscored America, 179-163.

Altogether, six world records were set in the two-day meet, three of them coming on the final day.

Valery Brumel, the high jumping champion, took John Thomas' measure for a fifth straight time with a world record-breaking leap of 7 feet, 4 inches, and Tatyana Schelkanova set a women's broad jump record with a leap of 21 feet, 3 1/2 inches.

The American men won 7 of 11 events on Saturday and 6 of 11 on Sunday, while the U. S. girls took 3 of 5 Saturday events and then were shut out in Sunday's 5 events, in 4 of which the Russians made a 2-3 sweep.

Brumel, the 19-year-old Moscow schoolboy who beat Thomas, a student at Boston University, three straight times in New York's Madison Square Garden last winter, won the high jump when he cleared 2.94 meters (7-4) on this third try. Thomas failed on all three after both he and Valery had eliminated Bob Avants of the Southern California Striders and Olympic gold medal winner Robert Shavlatkoff at 7-3/4.

Dixon Farmer's failure to bring his own shoes from the hotel cost the U. S. points in the 400-meter hurdles. He borrowed a pair of shoes and finished a disappointing third to Cliff Cushman of the United States and George Cheyvalov. Cushman won in 3:1.2 seconds.

Jim Beatty and Jim Groat, filling in for the ailing Deyol Burleson, the American mile champ, finished 1:3 in the 1,800 meters (3:52.8 and 3:45.5). Jay Silvester took the discus throw with a heave of 190 feet, 4 1/2 inches, and the 400-meter relay team of Adolph Plummer, Charles Frazier, Karl Young and Ulla Williams sprinted to a 3:08.5 victory.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine offered to paint and paper my house. He looked over my place and agreed to do the whole thing for $350. The colors he put on were not the ones I picked, and he got the doors on backwards. He kept losing screws and bolts, and I was all the time running to the hardware store to replace the stuff he lost. He got varnish on my good bedspread, and tried to take it out with turpentine, thereby ruining it completely. I paid him in full for the job before he started, and it isn't done yet. Should I let him finish the job or stop him now or what? I hate to hurt his feelings.

DEAR MADE: Your friend is obviously an amateur. If you want a good job, stop him now and hire a professional to do it over. Anyone who puts doors on backwards must not know whether he is coming or going. This was a very expensive lesson.

DEAR ABBY: There is a boy in our neighborhood who is 16, but acts like 10. He has a crush on me. He let the grass grow in their back yard and, when he mowed the lawn, he cut my initials in the lawn. All the kids in the neighborhood have seen it, and they think it is a riot. It is very embarrassing for me. How can I get him to quit advertising his feelings?

DEAR TEASED: Hand your friend a pair of shears, and ask him to please cut it out.

DEAR ABBY: We have a summer place on the lake. Believe me, we are not anti-social. We love company, but we would like to invite them ourselves. Every weekend we are swamped with "drop in" guests who bring their families (and even their friends, who are strangers to us) and stay all day. Some folks bring weiners or potato salad, thinking the refreshments make them welcome. It never occurs to them that we may have invited other guests for that day. Or there are days when we don't want any company at all. Is there some way we can put a stop to uninvited company without losing their friendship?

DEAR LAKE LOVERS: What is so precious about the "friendship" of those who would impose upon you in the manner you describe? Gather as much nerve as it takes to tell them PLEASE to telephone before coming. If you lose their friendship, you haven't lost much.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MRS. L.: The "deal" you describe is risky and foolish. When adopting a baby, deal only with a reliable adoption agency. It is important to know who the baby's father is.

TV Key Previews

Monday's top television shows as previewed and selected by TV Key's staff of experts who attend rehearsals, watch screenings, and analyze scripts in New York and Hollywood.

Spike Jones Show. (Season's Premiere). A breezy outing as Spike returns without benefit of midgets or band. Spike jokes about picking out summer camps for kids and plays straight man to sad-faced Jose Jimenez. In between the banter, wife Helen Grayco and Alan Jones' son Jack attend to the singing. 9 p. m. CBS.

Glenn Miller Time. — If you're in the mood for mild, light, musical summertime fare, Ray McKinley's Band, Patty Clark's solos, and numbers like "Bunk House Boogie," "Chattanooga," "Choo Choo," "My Blue Heaven," and "Make Someone Happy," plus a bit of nostalgic chatter about Glenn Miller in his time, might just fill the bill for you. 10 p. m. CBS.

Peter Gunn. — "Take Five for Murder." (Repeat) about average for the series. Pete gets involved with a rock 'n' roll star whose manager claims the kid is being blackmailed. There's the usual investigation and eventual victory for Pete, but the big time here is the explanation of how the rock 'n' roller does his singing. This last may be more than fiction. 10:30 p. m. ABC.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millet

Sometimes it seems to me that the more parents explain and reason with their children, the less their children understand.

Yesterday I heard the mother of a 5-year-old try to explain to him why he couldn't have a candy bar and when she got through he was still whining for it.

The mother was patient and reasonable. She explained how eating a candy bar would spoil his lunch and how good his nice lunch would be if he didn't ruin it.

She put in a "darling" here and there to make sure her little boy knew that she loved him—even though she couldn't let him have the candy bar. Such persuasion you never heard. And it got her exactly nowhere. Junior was still whining for candy and refusing to listen to reason when the two left the store.

Back in the days when parents told small children "No" and let it go at that, life was simpler for parents—and children, too.

Then Junior didn't have to listen to so much yakky-yak about why he couldn't do or have what his heart desired. He didn't have to try to understand all the reasons for the things he couldn't do.

He didn't even have to wear himself out wheedling, begging and trying to get his way. He only had to consider one word, a word he had been taught to understand, the word "No."

But mothers today so hate to say "No" that even though they have to say it frequently, as mothers always have, they make a big deal out of it.

They explain, they apologize, they offer substitutes, they reason and sometimes they even plead. When all they really have to say is that one little word, "No"—a word that any child can be easily taught to understand and even to accept.

Big boys can learn, too. See Ruth Millet's booklet, "Happier Wives (Hints for husbands)." Just send 25 cents to Ruth Millet Reader Service, c/o The Sanford Herald, P. O. Box 480, Dept. A, Radio City Station, New York 19, N. Y.
