

Deltona Doings

By FANNETTE EDWARDS
Herald Correspondent

Summer's fading and fall will soon be here and it's that time again, when women's clubs and organizations return from their summer vacations to start a new year of activities.

The Deltona Art Club will hold its first fall meeting on Tuesday at the Arts and Crafts Building of the Deltona Community Center complex at 10 a.m. Plans for the coming 1975-76 year will be presented by President Edward Moore and the other officers and committee chairmen. Officers who will preside with Moore, include: Julia Harr, vice-president; Emily Laux, secretary and Gladys Gramman, treasurer. Members who have been practicing the art of painting during the summer months, will be looking forward to the club's fall show to be held in early October. This show is open to all artists in the surrounding area as well as Deltonans. Exact date will be decided upon at this meeting.

Once again, the officers of the Deltona Blood Bank are making a plea for donors. The next blood bank drawing is scheduled for Sept. 4 from 3 to 7 p.m. in the new Deltona fire house No. 2, located at 1585 Providence Blvd., in Deltona. Mrs. Mary Vining, chairman says that all persons in good health, between the ages of 18 through 65 may donate. Even 17 year olds may, with their parent's permission. Deltona has maintained a blood bank since 1967. Area nurses, members of the Deltona Volunteer Fire Department Auxiliary and the fire department volunteers, will aid the Red Cross mobile unit. In donating one pint, the donor is covered for one full year. One gallon assures the donor and his or her family's coverage for blood, if needed, for life. At $35 to $65 per pint, which is the cost, if needed, this is excellent insurance. And the donor will always know that he is helping someone who needs help. Those in need of transportation to the firehouse should call either Mrs. Vining or Mrs. John Router of Deltona.

Please, Deltonans, don't forget to attend the all-out, old-fashioned Labor Day Festival, Deltona's Bicentennial kickoff on the grounds of the Deltona Community Center complex... an all day and evening event for both children and grown-ups, alike. This is your chance to meet that neighbor you never had a chance to meet, personally because you were too busy with your garden or other duties. Now you can meet with him, chat with him and get to know him better. This is purely an old fashioned "get-together" for Deltonans and at the same time, see what improvements your civic association officers and members have been making. The Community Center complex is now the personal property of you, the citizens of Deltona and it can be yours for life, if you help to keep it in good condition and support it. There will be rides and funny films for the kiddies; games, merchandise and food for all and even a dance band that will play the peppy and old fashioned tunes to which you can dance with your best gal. Admission is only $3 per couple. So come one... come all at 11 a.m. and stay till midnight, if you like.

The High Jewish Holidays will be celebrated next week beginning Sept. 5 and continuing through Sept. 6, at sundown. This day is called Rosh-Hashana... It begins the "ten days of repentance", which culminates with Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, Sept. 15. These ten days are the most sacred to the Jewish people and are observed by orthodox, reform and conservative Jews.

In Deltona, the Jewish congregation will be praying in their newly built Temple Shalom, located at 1785 Elkcam Boulevard. It had been the hope of these people, for the past ten years, to have a temple of their own, for they had been accepting the gracious invitation of the United Church of Christ congregation, to hold their Friday night and holiday services in their church. Now their dream of a temple of worship of their own has been realized and they will, indeed, praise the Lord, God for granting their prayers. Cantor Michael Goodman extends the fervent and sincere good wishes of health, happiness and the blessings of peace on earth, to all the residents of Deltona and her neighboring communities, from the members of his Congregation of Temple Shalom.

Services on Friday evening will be from 7:30 p.m. (Sept. 5) and Sat., Sept. 6 from 9:30 a.m. Kol Nidre, will be sung, Sunday evening Sept. 14 at 6:45 p.m. and prayers following. Yom Kippur services are Monday, Sept. 15 from 9:30 p.m. till sundown with Yizkor services (prayers for the deceased) taking place at 4 p.m.

The American Legion Auxiliary to Deltona Post 255, will hold their next monthly dance on Friday, Sept. 5, at 8:30 p.m. in the Deltona Woman's Club on Normandy Blvd. Norm Right and his swinging orchestra will supply the music. BYOB tickets may be secured from Mrs. Lydia Schmidt or bought at the door. However, if anyone wishes to have a table reserved they must notify Mrs. Schmidt, now. These dances held once a month have become a must for many Deltonans. How about you? The Auxiliary needs the support of each and every member and his friend: President Van Lousenizer is asking for volunteers to help Lydia. Please offer your assistance. She also announces that the Post and Auxiliary will operate the "sno-cone and ice-cream concession at the Deltona Labor Day Festival. This is another place where help is needed.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sellman of 1259 East Lombardy Drive, Deltona will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on Sept. 7. They have just returned from an extended visit to their daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. William Baxter of Glen Arbor, Michigan where they were pleasantly surprised with a surprise anniversary dinner-party given by the Baxters for them. The children invited 50 guests and presented them with a large tiered wedding cake with the numeral "50" in gold on it decorated with cupid and a bride and groom. "It was the most pleasant thing that has ever happened to us," said Mrs. Sellman. Mrs. Sellman is one of the faithful librarians who has been a volunteer worker in the Deltona Public Library all the while it was located in the Little Red School House in Deltona. Now, of course, Deltona is getting a new enlarged and beautiful library, which has just begun to be built at Providence and Dunlap Streets and will be ready for occupancy about December 1.

Sept. 29, the President's Council of Deltona will meet in the Arts and Crafts Building in Deltona Community Center Complex at 10 a.m. All Club presidents are urged to attend and to bring any news items they wish to have published in the monthly newsletter to be sponsored by the Deltona Civic Association.

All Deltonans are urged to attend a final public hearing of the Volusia County Council at the council headquarters in DeLand Sept. 11, 10:30 a.m. when the council will decide on the amount of taxes it will charge this coming year. These services are: street lights, mandatory garbage pickup and additional police protection.

Official Confirms Expected Move

Seaboard Reroutes Bulk Of Freight Service Out Of City

By ED PRICKETT
Herald Staff Writer

Seaboard Coastline Railroad (SCL) has rerouted the bulk of Sanford's freight traffic to the Wildwood station on Florida's west coast, according to railroad officials.

Sanford Trainmaster Milton Smith confirmed today the rerouting will affect "around 60 employees" who will either be transferred or laid off.

A total of four freight trains have been rerouted through the Wildwood station, thus some 40 crew members will get new jobs in the local yard or transfer to a Seaboard operation somewhere in Florida or Georgia.

The Herald reported Aug. 11, that railroad officials were contemplating the switch. Smith said "official" word reached him Thursday and workers who hadn't already been notified of the switch were to be told today.

A total of six north and south-bound trains presently pull in at Sanford for rerouting to destinations across the United States.

"The last trip of freight assignments (for four trains) will arrive in Sanford in two days," Smith said.

The reason for the switch, according to Smith, is "the economy and to expedite the movement of through service to our customers."

"Primarily we've got two parallel lines from Jacksonville to Tampa — one through Sanford and one through Wildwood," he said.

Also located here is a refurbishing shop. Smith said there is bound to be "some reduction in repairs at the Sanford shop."

The two local freights to Ovidio and Umatilla will continue to operate.

Smith said trainmen who wish to remain in Sanford will have the opportunity of replacing yard workers — if seniority permits.

Then, of course, those replaced workers would have the option of moving on or discontinuing service with Seaboard.

Only two weeks ago, Seaboard officials in Jacksonville said a "study" to run Sanford freights on the west coast was in the "formative" stage.

However, sources said a "top level" meeting in Jacksonville took place on Aug. 13 though officials confirmed the meeting, no one admitted then the switch was about to take place.

School Board Okays Teachers' Contract, Salary Schedule

By JOE ASKREN
Herald Staff Writer

The master contract for the 1975-76 school year, for more than 1,400 Seminole County teachers, was ratified in a special meeting Thursday afternoon by School Board members in a 4-1 vote, marking the end of five months of collective bargaining.

At the same time, the board unanimously adopted new salary schedules contained both in the contract and in the new $50.2 million budget. A $18 million total salary increase, keyed to a minimum $30 hike in base pay is tied to both the contract and the new budget, the overall adoption of which may be determined at the board's 7:30 p.m. meeting on Sept. 3.

Board members E.C. Harper Jr. and Pat Telson moved and seconded the motion which ratified the 45-page master contract, as recommended by Supt. William P. "Bud" Layer. Board member Allan Keeth, who cast the lone dissenting vote, sat silent, if unmoved from his unsuccessful Wednesday night attempt to reject the ratification and call a closed executive session to discuss the 25 articles of the contract.

Board attorney Douglas Stenstrom said the board would be in violation of Florida's Sunshine Law if the contract was not ratified in open meeting.

After Thursday's meeting, Keeth said he opposed the contract for three reasons. He said he objected to the automatic dues deduction for teachers and that the board "should never give up its managerial rights."

Keeth also said he opposed the contracted use of the board's "courier service" by the Seminole Education Association (SEA) which he said allows SEA to use the school distribution system "to promote their own interests."

"We gave up quite a bit to SEA," Keeth said, "like the cost for reproducing their documents, for example."

Keeth said between a work session and a regular meeting Wednesday night that he personally hates collective bargaining, but will see to it that the best interests of all are carried out.

Board Chairman Robert "Bud" Feather said the teachers are obligated to perform and must be able to communicate through the school system's courier service.

"If it was not provided, they (teachers) would have to pay (Continued On Page 2-A)

COUNTING THE LOOT

Thursday's Seminole High Booster Club Day was termed a huge success by club officials, as over $1,248 in cash was collected by members of the organizations and participating students. Pledged monies should bring the total to well over the $2,000 mark and club leaders say "thanks" to everyone in the Sanford area for participating. ## Herndon Ambulance Service Asks County For Rate Increase

Seminole County's only ambulance service has applied to the county commission for a $5 increase in costs of both emergency and non-emergency runs.

The Herndon Ambulance Service, the firm which has the franchise to provide county service, asked for the increases at the commission's Tuesday meeting.

Herndon asked to up the price of non-emergency runs from $25 to $30 and asked that emergency runs be increased from $30 to $35.

The firm's franchise will be up for renewal in October.

Instead of granting the increases, commissioners instructed Bob Ellis the county commission's administrative assistant, to conduct a study of rate charges in surrounding counties.

Ellis said today he will "try" to have his study complete in time for next Tuesday's commission meeting.

Ellis said Herndon officials submitted a proposal to his office citing a need for higher rates because of increased costs of "wages, fuel, additional employe training and vehicle costs" and their costs of providing ambulance service to residents.

For example, the Herndon study says ambulance service in Daytona Beach is $40 per run for non-emergencies and $45 for emergencies.

In Miami, non-emergency and emergency costs $35.50, but an additional $1.50-a-mile charge is also tacked on.

Commissioner Dick Williams asked Ellis at Tuesday's session for additional "comparative costs," and Ellis said he would get them.

Commissioner Mike Hattaway instructed Ellis to "check into" other counties before the commission reconsiders Herndon's request.

Man Found Beaten To Death With Blunt Instrument

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

ALTA MONTE SPRINGS—Thomas DeMeester, 25, whose body was found in his Spring Lake Hills apartment Thursday, had been tied up and struck severely on the back of the head with a blunt instrument, Altamonte Police Capt. David Gunter said today.

Gunter said DeMeester, manager of the Flagg Brothers Shoe Store in the Altamonte Mall, may have been beaten in one of the two bedrooms in the apartment and his body dragged into the bathroom where it was found by apartment manager David Meadows.

Blood was found on bedspreads in the bedroom.

The body was fully clothed, except for one shoe which was found in the bedroom. Gunter said the blow to DeMeester's head was so severe, it made the concussion look as though he had been shot in the front of the head. The victim's hands were tied behind him, the police captain said.

Altamonte Police Detective James Martindale has been assigned to the case and is being assisted by deputies from the Seminole County Sheriff's Department, according to Gunter.

Meadows entered the apartment after receiving telephone calls inquiring about DeMeester. The calls were made by Flagg Brothers officials when DeMeester did not open the store at the scheduled time Thursday and by DeMeester's parents, who were concerned.

DeMeester usually called his parents in Michigan on Wednesdays, his parents said, because he suffered from a heart condition and high blood pressure. When he didn't call Wednesday night and his parents couldn't reach him, they called Meadows Thursday and asked him to check on their son.

Gunter said DeMeester's white with blue vinyl top 1973 Oldsmobile, carrying a 7W-1700 tag, two sets of keys and possibly a wallet are missing.

DeMeester closed the Altamonte Mall store at 9:30 Wednesday night and the store receipts had been deposited, Gunter said.

The "Smile, You're In Longwood" sign didn't give the driver of this car much to smile about $1,922 and SR 434 and came to rest against the light pillar and telephone pole. (Herald Photo by Gordon Williamson)

River Support Sought

By BOB O'REILLY
Herald Outdoor Editor

"Fishing is the No. 3 business of the State of Florida, following only tourism and farming," said Howard Grisham as he addressed a meeting of Friends of the St. Johns River (FOJS) in the First Federal building in Sanford Thursday night.

"If we allow the river to be killed, we lose one of the biggest attractions the state has to offer," he said.

Grisham, who is president of Astor, Fla., Kiwanis Club, is also chairman of the club's project, "Help stop the killing of the St. Johns River."

He told his childhood days growing up on the river in the Palatka-Jacksonville area and the steady deterioration of the river.

"Back then," he stated, "no one ever thought of carrying a thermos jug — if you wanted a drink, you scooped the water from the river with your hands."

Coming up to the present problems of the river, he noted, "Sanford is situated in one of the most ticklish spots on the entire river. Due to rapid erosion of the land contour, Sanford must have a steady flow of water from the upper part of the river or become a septic tank."

The speaker told of a report prepared by Harold Moody, biologist with the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission in 1971, predicting the present condition of the river.

"Everything in Moody's report has come true," he said. "The nutrients from waste materials dumped into the river and its tributaries cause the hyacinths to grow. They help to keep the river clean. Spraying the hyacinths covers the river bottom with dead and decaying material, covers the spawning beds, and lets water weeds such as hydrilla completely take over."

"The Astor Kiwanis Club is not trying to be a hero in this fight to save the river," Grisham explained, "but welcomes all the help they can get." He stated that he would like to see every man and woman write their congressmen demanding a stop to the killing of the river.

In contacting various departments in Tallahassee and Washington, the speaker said it runs into so much "back-passing" and "beating around the mulberry tree" the Kiwanis Club furnished him with a chain saw to cut down some of the mulberry trees. He carries this chain saw with him on every speaking engagement and says it has been very effective in creating interest in his project.

In opening the meeting, J. T. Turnipseed, president of FOJS, told of the coalition of eight groups dedicated to fighting the adverse conditions in the St. Johns. "All these groups," said Turnipseed, "are working frantically for the same purpose — saving the St. Johns River."

NATION IN BRIEF

Meany Says Ford Destroying Gains In Living Standards

WASHINGTON (AP) — AFL-CIO President George Meany says a generation of gains in America's standard of living is being wiped out by an administration that "places dollar signs ahead of people."

In his annual Labor Day message released today, Meany warned of "a deeper, more serious recession" unless the Ford administration revamps its economic policies and promotes the restoration of full employment and full production.

But organized labor's chief spokesman said the administration seems to have its priorities upside down.

"The administration's answer to the American people is that they will just have to accept a lower standard of living," he said. "All that they have worked for in the better life they have sought for their children — is being taken away from them by deliberate government policies" which have reduced consumer buying power, increased unemployment and priced the majority of families out of decent housing and higher education.

Bailor: Hikes Needed

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the Postal Service looking forward to raising mail rates to 12 cents a letter, Postmaster General Benjamin F. Bailor says the service "cannot continue to operate" if it is kept from raising rates for long periods.

Bailor spoke after the Postal Rate Commission concluded action Thursday on a two-year-old request by the Postal Service to make the present "temporary" 10-cent letter rate permanent. While the commission has been considering the case, mail rates have been frozen despite postal deficits that have reached $8 billion per day.

The commission's recommendation to make the present letter rate permanent was necessary under the law before the Postal Service can increase rates on a temporary basis to 13 cents. Bailor said in advance of the decision that the rate would be increased to 13 cents after the commission action.

Teacher Strikes Expected

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A fresh wave of teacher strikes will mark the opening of school this year in cities and towns across the country.

New York, Los Angeles and Chicago, the nation's three largest cities, all face possible strikes and a nationwide survey by The Associated Press found contract negotiations stalled in hundreds of smaller school districts. Teachers have scheduled strike votes, printed picket signs and are already marching in some communities.

The National Education Association says that 19 teachers strikes are already in progress, most in small communities. Strikes are considered a possibility in 130 other districts, and the total will probably equal the 40 to 50 strikes that greeted the opening of school last year, NEA officials said.

Natural Gas Shortage Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Ford administration, predicting that natural gas shortages could be 30 per cent greater this winter than last, says the nation can squeeze through without major economic damage if there is strong cooperation from Congress and the public.

Federal Energy Administration officials told President Ford and 16 governors who met him on Thursday that natural gas supplies may fall 15 to 18 per cent short of demand this winter on the average, with much worse shortages concentrated in some eastern states.

Meanwhile, White House Press Secretary Ron Nease said Ford still intends to veto a bill extending price controls on domestic oil and gas, a plea by Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield that he sign it.

Giacalone Seeks Car's Return

DETROIT (AP) — A court fight has begun over the custody of a car driven on the day Jimmy Hoffa disappeared. There were reports that trained dogs detected some of the ex-convict's keys in the auto.

The car's owner, Joseph Giacalone, 22, son of reputed Detroit Mafia figure Anthony "Tony Jack" Giacalone, filed a request in U.S. District Court Thursday seeking the return of his car. The auto was seized by the FBI on Aug. 9 and remains in federal custody.

However, a federal prosecutor said investigators have refused to release the car because it may hold a clue to the fate of the 63-year-old Hoffa, who dropped from sight on July 30.

Carter Raps Oil Companies

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — America needs a President willing to stand up to the giant oil companies, presidential hopeful Jimmy Carter says.

President Ford's decision to let oil-price controls expire will prove disastrous to the nation, Carter, seeking the Democratic nomination, said Thursday at a Capitol news conference.

The former Georgia governor called on Ford to develop a "coherent, well-managed, predictable, well-planned energy policy that includes cutting back oil consumption as well as controlling prices."

allowing only "as much water as the law allows" to pass beyond this projected dam.

Even many of the Melbourne area residents are not in favor of the dam, feeling that they will be drinking run-off from the North end of Lake Washington, farmers and cattlemen at the headwaters of the river were promised 15 to 20 per cent more usable land, meaning the loss of that much more of the river's headwaters.

According to Turnipseed, the new proposed dam will raise water level in Lake Washington by four feet,

Coal Miners Continue Wildcat Strikes

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Two-thirds of the nation's coal miners continued today to ignore federal court orders and union leaders' pleas to end their three weeks of wildcat strikes.

As the strike's power increased in states beyond its West Virginia origin, about 80,000 of 125,000 United Mine Workers bituminous coal miners across Appalachia and the Midwest were idled on overnight shifts by roving pickets.

Federal judges in areas recently hit by roving pickets issued injunctions ordering the miners back to work, but those like the many issued in West Virginia were not heeded.

The only miner thus far jailed in the dispute was released Thursday when he promised to try to persuade his fellow workers to return.

Jim Howze, UMW Local 8454 president in Logan County, told U.S. District Court Judge K.K. Hall here, "I'll do all I can to the best of my ability to obey the court order." He had served six days of a 90-day contempt sentence for failure to return to work.

Howze's miners were among the first to walk out starting Aug. 6 when a miner was suspended and his fellow workers set up picket lines to protest the slow-advance procedure to give him a hearing.

Since then, union members in southern West Virginia, eastern Kentucky, western Pennsylvania, eastern Ohio, Minnesota, Indiana, Alabama and southwestern Virginia have joined in the walkout, which has been deplored by UMW leaders on the district and national levels.

Some strikers have expanded the West Virginia protest to other touchy issues related to the 1974 contract, particularly the right to strike over local and safety issues, which the miners do not have.

In West Virginia, 43,000 of the state's 50,000 miners stayed idle. In Ohio, where the dispute centered on safety, 2,300 miners were not working.

In Alabama, 4,000 UMW members continued to ignore a restraining order issued Tuesday under threat of contempt charges.

Illinois union officials said they were trying to persuade 6,500 of the state's 12,000 miners to return, but without success. Indiana coalfields were at a standstill, with 3,000 miners idle.

In Ohio, where the dispute centered on safety, 2,300 miners were not working.

In Alabama, 4,000 UMW members continued to ignore a restraining order issued Tuesday under threat of contempt charges.

Rep. Bob Hattaway, D-Altamonte Springs, has donated a $500 award check to Big Brothers of Greater Orlando. Hattaway, center, is shown with John A. Broughton, left, field manager of Zurich-American Insurance Companies, who presented the business award to Hattaway, and Randy Salmons, director of the Big Brothers.

Former IRS Informant Loses Civil Court Case

MIAMI (AP) — A former paid Internal Revenue Service informant who triggered a Congressional investigation with her disclosures of "sex spying" has lost her $2.1 million invasion of privacy suit against a bank.

A Dade County Circuit Court jury took only 15 minutes Thursday to decide against Elsa Gutierrez, 34, who was suing the Florida National Bank of Coral Gables.

In the civil suit against the bank, Mrs. Gutierrez alleged that the bank had violated her right to privacy by turning over to police papers she had kept in two safety deposit boxes.

Mrs. Gutierrez, cleaned out the boxes in September 1972, tearing up reports she had made as an IRS informant and throwing them in wastebasket boxes at the bank.

Bank employees however became suspicious after noting some of the turn up papers referred to narcotics matters and turned the documents over to police who passed them on to other agencies.

The documents were not allowed into evidence after Hain ruled they contained "scandalous and uncorroborated" allegations about Dade County officials.

City Police Sergeant's Daughter Robbery Victim

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

Seminole Sheriff's detectives are continuing an investigation today into a robbery in Goldenrod Thursday in which a police sergeant's daughter and three of her friends were victims.

The investigation has been turned over to Sgt. W.H. Hogan's Crimes Against Persons division and Detective Jerry Capshaw has been assigned to the case.

The victims were: Teresa Ann Tate, 17, daughter of Sgt. Charles Tate, Sanford, and Jack Averill, 22, Citrus and Pine Streets, Goldenrod; Cameron Scott McMullen, 22, 617 Florida St., Orlando; and Michael Earl Baggett, 22, Goldenrod. Miss Tate and her friends walked into the Averill residence Thursday, surprising

Rocky Denies Charges Of Nursing Home Abuse

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller says he was aware as early as 1965 of poor conditions in some New York nursing homes. He refused, however, to call this "patient abuse."

"I regard abuse as someone being physically abused," the former New York governor responded to sharp questioning from Morris Abram, chairman of the Moreland Commission investigating nursing homes.

"There is a question of what the state can afford to do for people who do not want to (care) for their own parents," he said.

Rockefeller aides called his five hours of testimony an unprecedented appearance by an American vice president at a hearing investigating criminal matters.

Rockefeller was testily told before a grand jury in Warsaw, N.Y., investigating the 1974 Attica prison rebellion, and a spokesman said his appearance is voluntary.

Rockefeller was governor of New York at the time of the uprising.

During the televised public hearing on nursing homes, Rockefeller told the commission that to the best of his knowledge he had never met Bernard Bergman, a millionaire nursing home operator now under indictment on charges of bilking the government of $1.2 million in Medicaid funds.

He added, however, that he

Americans To Patrol Sinai Truce Lines

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — since "if Egypt were planning war, it would not invite the Americans."

Nor could Egypt unilaterally force the Americans out as she did the United Nations force before in 1967. Arab-Israeli truce lines in the last 25 years.

The new agreement provides that the Americans will leave only if both Egypt and Israel ask them to go.

Rabin also rejected the argument that stationing U.S. troops in the Sinai would result in another Vietnam for the United States.

"Parallels to Vietnam are incompared with the other leaders of his labor party. "In Vietnam, America sent men to fight on one side against the other. In Sinai, both sides want the Americans."

The information the Americans pick up from their radar screens and other electronic devices would be relayed to both Egypt and Israel to prevent secret buildups for an offensive.

U.N. soldiers known as "the blue berets" because of their headgear have been doing a peace-keeping job along Israel's frontiers since 1948. Their presence did not prevent three Arab-Israeli wars.

Bank President Indicted On Misappropriations Charges

ORLANDO (AP) — A Brevard County bank president has been indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of misappropriating bank funds and agreeing to accept a kickback from loan applicants.

Banker George B. Riley was indicted for alleged crimes committed when he was president of the City National Bank of Cocoa in 1972 and 1973.

The indictment was handed down last Wednesday, but was not disclosed until Thursday.

Riley was charged with writing four cashiers checks totaling $18,606 and not paying for them until weeks later. He also was charged with agreeing to accept 15 per cent of the profits from the proposed sale of 3,000 acres of land in return for procuring a $41,566 loan for four businesses.

Shevin Appeal Upheld

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — An appeal court has upheld Atty. Gen. Robert Shevin's contention that he does not have to pay $32,455 in legal expenses for a Panama City condominium developer who defeated a public nuisance suit brought by Shevin.

In a 2-1 opinion Thursday, the 1st District Court of Appeal overturned an order by Bay County Circuit Judge W.L. Fitzpatrick for Shevin's office to pay Indico Corp. for the cost of lawyers and expert witnesses.

Judge John Havis dissented, saying Shevin used the power of government to cause great expense to Indico and his office should have to pay.

Nine-Year-Old Poisoned

ST. PETERSBURG (AP) — A 9-year-old girl is reported in critical condition today after drinking orange juice laced with cleaning fluid in what investigators say was an attempted murder, police said.

Police said that the child, Patricia Ann Morgan, swallowed the orange juice late Wednesday and was rushed to St. Anthony's Hospital early Thursday by her mother, Georgia Morgan, 31. The girl was later taken to All-Children's Hospital.

Police Capt. Ed Ivey said it was suspected that someone intentionally mixed the poison with the juice, leaving it to be drunk. He said there was no evidence that the Morgan home had been broken by anyone.

He said the poison was probably ammonium hydroxide, often used in cleaning products.

Asked To Probe Jailing

TAMPA (AP) — A spokesman says Gov. Reubin Askew's office will look into the case of a Tampa man still behind bars nearly three months after an appellate court said the law he was convicted of breaking never existed.

Robert Lee Hutchinson was jailed at the Avon Park Correctional Institute on probation revocation in an unrelated matter, but his lawyer said the jailing was prompted by the conviction on the bogus law.

Attorney Jack Gillis says Hutchinson will be granted a hearing Sept. 5 that hopefully will straighten things out.

Life Term Recommended

JACKSONVILLE (AP) — Prosecutors have recommended a life term for Max Bryant Garner, who could have been sentenced to death after being convicted for sexually abusing two young girls.

"I don't want my attorney to try and save me," Garner, 36, said after his Wednesday conviction for sexual battery. But he approved an agreement between defense attorneys and prosecutors Thursday that keeps him out of the electric chair.

"It is the feeling of both the attorneys for the state and defense that sufficient aggravating circumstances do not exist in this case to warrant seeking the death penalty," the agreement said.

Two-Year Jail Term Delayed

MIAMI (AP) — A federal judge has delayed a two-year jail term for alving former City Attorney Alan Rohsteln, convicted of evading income taxes in 1969, 1970 and 1971.

A jury found Rohsteln guilty Thursday after two hours of deliberation. U.S. District Judge W.O. McBratens then sentenced him to three concurrent two-year prison terms and ordered him to pay a $15,000 fine, $5,000 for each count.

But McBratens said he would postpone the beginning of the sentence until Rohsteln receives medical treatment. Rohsteln said he needs a kidney transplant.

Hanging Call Accident

MIAMI (AP) — Investigators say an 11-year-old boy found dead on his bed with a belt around his neck apparently hanged himself accidentally while playing.

A medical examiner said Thursday that sixth-grader Michael Alloca "may have been playing a very dangerous game that killed him. It's an extremely tragic death."

Police said Julia Alloca returned from work Thursday to make Michael's lunch and found her son hanging from one end of a terrycloth bathrobe belt, the other end of which was tied to a curtain rod located. The boy may have been standing in a window sill and fell, officers said.

Reprimand Said Damaging

TAMPA (AP) — A defense attorney reprimanded by the judge hearing the malpractice trial of Orlando promoter Glenn Turner and four others says the incident has damaged his case.

Attorney William Terry, appearing for defendant Robert Wilford, made the comment Thursday immediately after formally apologizing to U.S. District Judge W. Terrell Hodges for his part in triggering the reprimand.

Christian Returns Home

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — "I'm just glad to be home," former Education Commissioner Floyd Christian said upon returning to Tallahassee from a federal prison in Texas.

Christian returned home Thursday after spending 51 days at the prison for physical and mental examinations to determine if he should be sentenced to a longer term for income tax evasion.

He sounded cheerful in a telephone interview from his home but said he did not want to talk about his prison experience because he is facing final sentencing Sept. 16.

1,250 Students Expected Lake Howell Ready To Open

Other administrative personnel at Lake Howell High include Frank Duncan, assistant principal; Carolyn Botos, director of guidance; and Joan Smith, secretary.

The newest high school in the county will be opening its doors on Tuesday when Lake Howell High welcomes 1,250 students.

Excitement is in the air, after a year of sharing facilities at Oviedo High School on double sessions.

Principal Richard L. Evans said, "We are looking forward to a big year. We have all the enthusiasm in the world, both students and faculty, to see how this setting fits in with the curriculum. With our previous limited facilities, we hope to achieve much this year."

Raymond Gaines, dean of students and athletic director, explained plans for the athletic program. "Our stadium is in the process of being constructed and we hope to use it for our first game on Sept. 13, at 4 p.m., against Euclid. Our first couple of games may be played in the afternoon, as the lighting system may not be completed at that time. The Athletic Booster Club is undertaking this project. It won't be a permanent type facility to begin with, but can be added to later. We really need the stadium, as the athletic department can't make money by going to other fields.

"We have a total athletic program, and try to stress total involvement. We have something for every student, including girls. We especially need girls in the cross country, and would like their full support. We believe athletics are an essential part of education.

With so many bad things in the world, athletics is a positive step for students," Gaines said.

Doctors Puzzled By Infection

MIAMI (AP) — Nobody can figure out what's the matter with Tia Parker or how to cure the painful, creeping infection that has crippled her, covering her 8-year-old body with scars and open sores.

"No stone has been left unturned and if someone had an answer, I'm sure we would know it," Dr. Stanley Smith said Thursday.

Pain and scar formation have caused Tia to pull up her legs at the knees and doctors say she may need surgery to walk again.

Since the age of three, Tia has been in and out of hospitals trying to conquer the disease. Mysteriously, she had a year of comparatively good health. But, in 1973, the disease flared again.

She has been at Variety Children's Hospital in Miami since May 27, sometimes going home to Naples for weekends with her parents, Doretha and Melvin Parker.

But sometimes the Parkers, who have three other children, cannot afford the trip to Miami. Parker, an air-conditioning worker, and his wife, a nurse's aide, have insurance to cover some of the bills. But Variety alone is owed $13,000 and doctors are not billing the family. Some days, Tia is sunny and smiling and loves to have visitors read to her. Other times, she's morose and withdrawn.

Once, when she refused to eat, a nurse called her stubborn. "Sure," replied the doctor, "that probably keeps her from going crazy."

Smith said Tia may lack part of the normal body's ability to kill germs or she may be over-reacting to an infection that is not there.

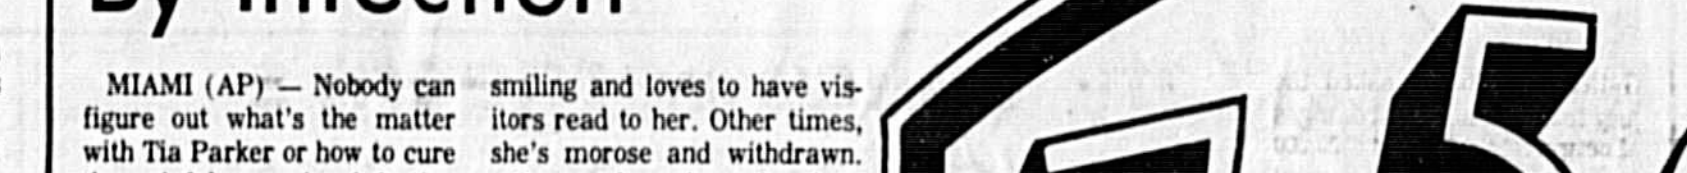

"When she develops the lesions, she tends to keep them for months, sometimes as long as a year, and they get bigger and spread, leaving an area of scar tissue behind as they move," Smith said.

Tia has been to the National Institute of Health in Bethesda, Md., and Smith has sought out specialists to ask if they have ever seen anything like Tia's illness. No diagnosis quite fits her case, he said.

Twice, there was hope that treatments had stopped the festering skin disease. A corticosteroid drug medication worked for months, but the disease soon came back to puzzle doctors.

Dr. Smith said he was "combining literature with some dosage of the pills. But Variety articles describing treatments in side chambers loaded with high-pressure oxygen.

Pope Compares Gypsies To Christ

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP) — Pope Paul VI has told thousands of gypsies that he sees a parallel between their nomadic lives and the travels of Christ.

"See how Jesus resembles you, how close to you he is ...," the pontiff told the gypsies Thursday.

The gypsies greeted the Pope with a concert of violins, guitars and singing at his summer retreat. They came from Rome where they had attended Holy Year festivities.

The gypsies gave the Pope a variety of their ornate artifacts and he distributed handfuls of medals.

Williams Endorses Brother

CHICAGO (AP) — Only one political candidate anywhere has the endorsement of playwright Tennessee Williams: his brother, Dakin.

"There's a certain familial tie," the author of "Streetcar Named Desire" and other plays told a news conference Thursday.

Why is Dakin, a loser in two previous political outings, qualified to be governor of Illinois, the post he now seeks? "I like his attitude toward people, toward life," said Tennessee. "And he's turned excellent care of our mother."

Dakin, 54, is a Collinsville attorney and former law professor at St. Louis University.

Burns To Author Book

BOSTON (AP) — James MacGregor Burns, the Pulitzer Prize-winning biographer of Franklin D. Roosevelt and John F. Kennedy's brother, Edward, the Christian Science Monitor reported today.

The newspaper said Burns had agreed with the New York-based publishing house, W.W. Norton & Co., to write the book.

Quoting the publisher, the newspaper said the work would be released next spring and was not to be based on any "inside information" on the Massachusetts senator's political plans for 1976.

Burns won the Pulitzer in 1971 for his FDR book, "Roosevelt: The Soldier of Freedom." His book, "John F. Kennedy, A Political Profile," appeared in 1960.

Belt-Tightening Affects Everyone

We live in a world of lowered expectations. That applies to all of us, particularly to those expecting to benefit from expenditures of tax money by the federal government.

No program or function of the government can declare itself exempt from the general belt-tightening. That applies with equal force to all segments of the federal budget, including the hefty percentage that goes to the Pentagon.

A recent 48-2 vote in the U. S. Senate to refuse to approve a weapons spending authorization measure was significant as a measure of the national mood.

As the bill came back from a lengthy House-Senate conference committee, it violated the budget guidelines adopted by the Congress for the first time this year. In a word, it was a budget-buster. And so it was rejected.

A number of conservatives serving on the newly formed Senate Budget Committee voted to uphold the guidelines and defeat the bill. Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, budget committee chairman, declared it was a test of the new congressional budget controls. And even Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, admitted after the defeat that there might be some good in it.

Obviously budget control is meaningless unless it is applied across the board, yet items notwithstanding, whether spending for domestic programs or defense is involved.

The challenge to the defense establishment is to do a better job without increasing costs. It can be done by dedication, by achieving greater efficiency, by practicing economy and streamlining procedures to eliminate waste and duplication.

Purchasing separate and distinct items of material for each service is an extravagance we can no longer afford when each service puts the material to the same use. Standardization may offend the parochial instincts of supply officers and purchasing agents. But it can save millions that can be better spent to increase military readiness.

Only the self-imposed discipline of fiscal restraint will keep the nation's armed forces in top fighting shape in a period of national retrenchment.

But the exceptions have resulted in what the author of a critical study, cited in U. S. News & World Report, calls "treacherous disclosure of tax returns."

The law provides that no federal agency "shall disclose any record... except pursuant to a written request... or with the prior written consent of the individual to whom the record pertains."

But the exceptions have resulted in what the author of a critical study, cited in U. S. News & World Report, calls "treacherous disclosure of tax returns."

University of California Prof. Maud Enory has testified before a House committee of the blanket authority of some agencies to peer into IRS files for information on federal job-seekers, welfare applicants, suspected subversives as well as tax cheaters.

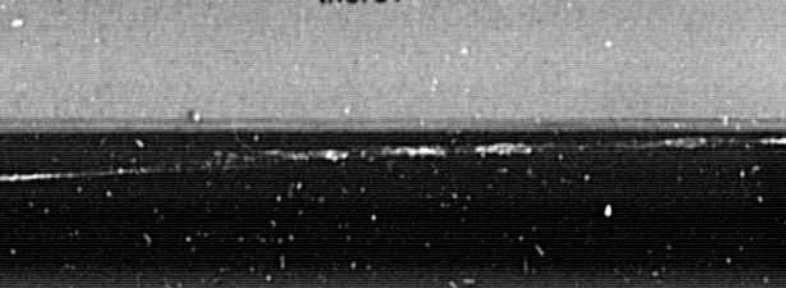

The data revealed on tax return pages uncovers not only the individual's income, but his family relationships, his medical condition, his union membership and his creditors among other highly personal details.

Legislation is being written by the House Ways and Means Committee to require more documented justification for inspection of tax returns.

The measure should be expedited when Congress returns from its recess to bolster the confidence of the American taxpayer in the confidential treatment of the information he is compelled by law to disclose.

Widespread Drug Use A Myth?

Popular notions about the extent of drug use in this country seem to be out of phase with the facts.

For the past eight years, a team of researchers with the University of Michigan's Institute for Social Research has been following a sample group of 1,600 males and recording their drug experiences and attitudes. The study's findings have consistently run counter to popular beliefs, says its director Lloyd Johnston.

"The findings we reported in 1970 did not reinforce our public opinion," he says. "Drug use turned out to be far less prevalent among young people than was commonly believed."

Before graduating from high school in 1969, less than a quarter of this age group had used any illicit drug, and about half of those using drugs had merely experimented once or twice, usually with marijuana.

Now the common belief seems to be that the problem of young people using illicit drugs has declined considerably. The data, however, "indicate that substantial proportions and absolute numbers of young people are involved with drugs to some degree."

For example, in the year prior to June 1974, more than half of all 12-year-old males (based on the study group) smoked some marijuana, over one-fifth made some use of amphetamines without a prescription and the proportions for barbiturates, cocaine and psychedelics were all greater than one-tenth.

The number who had tried these drugs at some time during their lives was even higher: 62 per cent for marijuana, 32 per cent for amphetamines, 19 per cent for barbiturates, 22 per cent for psychedelics and over 6 per cent for heroin.

On the positive side, observes Johnston, much of the illicit drug use involves marijuana, the harmful effects of which have yet to be convincingly proven. About half of those youths using each of the other illicit drugs during 1974 did so only once or twice. Regular drug use rates seem to have peaked some time ago for this particular age group.

The investigators asked their 23-year-old respondents whether they would either use or sell marijuana or use it more often if it were legalized. Only 15 per cent indicated they would, while another 11 per cent were uncertain. The amount of experience the individual had with marijuana seemed to have practically no effect upon his attitude.

Ironically, the older age groups may be most effected by any changes in the marijuana laws, thinks Johnston, since most young people already seem to have made their choice. Almost universally, they have had exposure and access to the drug, while most older people have not.

Another Bore On The Trail

The trouble with Terry Sanford, says George Wallace, is that "he'll bore you silly." Quite right. His basic decency and admirable public life, the one-time North Carolina governor, now candidate for President, has a drowsy disposition.

Forever cloaked in business dress, the knot of his tie tight against his neck, the man drops on about state coordinators, travel arrangements, brokered conventions — the stuff of high politics, to be sure, but it's ever so dull.

And it's ever so common in this benumbed candidate for the White House, Sanford by no means stifles alone. Excepting only Wallace, whose charisma is corrupted by his wit, the Democratic candidates are a lackluster lot.

Fred Harris, for one, has been described as the kind of fellow "who's here today and here tomorrow." As for Henry Jackson, the story is the last time he spoke in Miami the tide went out and wouldn't return for nearly a month.

Not that the aspirants aren't interesting men in their own right. Sanford, for instance, has several campaign pages of credentials, printed, you can be sure, with the proper union bug: World War II paratrooper, state officer, volunteer do-gooder, author of two political books, tried to join Kennedy and now president of Duke University. Impeccable. And so much for impeccability.

Despite it, according to polls, Sanford's name is recognized by fewer than 20 per cent of the American people. His support, to now, comes almost entirely from political animals like himself, the real people resist Terry Sanford's campaign with monotonous regularity.

Defensively, Sanford says he loses no sleep over the popularity issue. The primaries, after all, are seven months off, the election fifteen. No candidate has yet caught fire with the public, he insists, because "it's too early for fireworks."

Even at this most opportune time, when a politically astute nation is grasping for something and someone to believe in, Sanford and his competitors are not rising to the occasion. Each of them condemns the concept of politics as usual, but then proceeds to offer politics as usual.

Other than Fred Harris' "suertilla" campaign, from the window of a pickup truck, the aspirants grind out the old propaganda, put the old bite on the affluent, and in general conduct their impeccable selves as if the public knew no better.

"Mr. Sanford, in your opinion formed on all issues?"

"Yes it is."

"Are you prepared to answer any question?"

"Yes, and I can answer any question in simple terms."

"Then, what would you do about nuclear proliferation?"

"Well" — pause — "that question can't be easily answered."

Positive Trend Missing

NEW YORK (AP) — Over the long Labor Day weekend, perhaps while gazing idly at some distant mountain peak that remind him of a Dow Jones chart, some analyst or another might find a positive trend for the stock market.

You can't find it in the news. True, the government's index of leading indicators continues to rise, but it isn't all good news. Interest rates, for instance, remain high, and that's bad for stocks.

You really can't establish a trend forecast by listening to what comes out of Washington either, because Washington isn't even agreed on what's wrong with the economy or on what steps are needed to bring an improvement.

There are few clues to be found in commentaries of Wall Street analysts, whose views range from a forecast of less than 400 points for the Dow Jones to well over 1,000 points during the next few years.

If you seek the advice of individual investors you will probably find they prefer to put their money into fixed-income savings or government securities. They want to see a trend before they commit themselves.

Seeking a guide, one is forced to look into the history of the market, to study a mountain of statistics in the manner of the ancient seers who thought they could find a pattern, a forecast, in a study of entrails.

A study of market statistics never fails to be effective in supporting your views. You can find almost anything there if you look long enough and if your imagination is attuned to the task. Sure enough, the trend is found.

"Watch what happens to stock prices during the short four-day week following Labor Day," advises Yale Hirsch, who has burrowed long and deeply into the supply of statistical information.

"Should the market decline that week," says Hirsch, who publishes "The Stock Trader's Almanac," postpone your purchases for 30 days. But, "if there's a net gain that week, buy at once, knowing the market will probably be higher 30 days later." This strategy, he maintains, "would have put you on the right side ... in 13 of the last 14 years."

The almanac also comes up with the makings of another forecast.

"During the first 60 years of this century," it states, "the stock market in the final quarter of the year often took its cue from the market's behavior in September and followed a similar course two-thirds of the time."

"As a result, September market activity was naturally regarded as a useful barometer and became part of Wall Street folklore."

Commission Bows To Lawmakers

CALENDAR

PANAMA CITY (AP) — Influential lawmakers have persuaded the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission to use a species of weed-eating fish in a vegetation-control experiment.

The commission agreed Thursday to allow release of the weed-eating fish in Deer Point Lake here, easing away from its previous ardent opposition to the experiment.

Natural Resources Department officials contended that the fish could not spawn in Florida waters because the waters are not cold enough for the natives of Asia and did not flow fast enough.

The commission sought more experiments to prove the fish would not reproduce in Florida. Meanwhile, Frye denied a report in the Tampa Tribune that he was about to be fired by the commission because of his stand on the fish.

Commission Director Earle Barron, D-Panama City, told the panel in a packed hotel conference room that seven years of study of the fish was enough. "It seems we know our problems and the solutions," he said.

House Judiciary Chairman William J. Rish, D-Port St. Joe, said a year or two delay in putting the fish in the lake "could kill any chances of fighting the Deer Point weed problem."

Rep. Earl Hutto, D-Panama City, county officials, 6,000 letters presented by the Bay County Chamber of Commerce and a 3,000-signature petition all urged the commission to allow use of the fish at the lake.

Kissinger Hopes To Wrap Up Israeli-Egyptian Accord

JERUSALEM (AP) — With the new Israeli-Egyptian agreement expected to be ready for initialing Sunday or Monday, aides say Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger will delay his speech to the United Nations next week so he can wrap up the agreement before leaving.

When he began his mission nine days ago, Kissinger said he intended to address the special U.N. General Assembly session on Sept. 1 and 2, and, if necessary, return to the Middle East to complete the pact.

But aides said that now that an agreement is in sight and no setbacks are anticipated, Kissinger has decided to delay his U.N. speech until next Wednesday, Sept. 3.

U.S. To Aid Evacuation

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials say American assistance to evacuate Portuguese whites from strife-torn Angola will be furnished "expeditiously and urgently" and that the evacuation could cost as much as $40 million.

Rival African groups in Angola have been fighting among themselves for control of the oil-rich Portuguese colony which is scheduled to become independent Nov. 11, and Portuguese forces there have been unable to guarantee the safety of the white population.

The State Department said Thursday that Portuguese President Francisco de Costa Gomes wrote President Ford on Wednesday and asked for American aid in the evacuation. Pentagon sources estimate it would cost at least $40 million to airlift the remaining 150,000 white settlers from Angola to Portugal.

Bahamian: U.S. Failed

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — The chief Bahamian delegate to the abandoned talks on lobster fishing rights says the U.S. delegation failed to make "any offer of an acceptable basis."

External Affairs Minister Paul Adderley said Thursday that American delegates had contended the Bahamas should assist fishermen in South Florida left jobless by a Bahamian ban on foreign fishermen on the Bahamas continental shelf.

Adderley, giving the first official Bahamian statement since the talks ended Wednesday, said his government considers finding new areas of employment for Bahamians a more appropriate concern.

Insurance Men To Provide Proof Of Fraud

Director Pays $264 To State

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Insurance industry officials hurled accusations of fraud and collusion by a small group of doctors and lawyers, and the Bar challenged the officials to prove the charges so the lawyers could be disciplined.

The meeting with Deputy Insurance Commissioner Thomas R. Brown was called after insurance industry officials hurled accusations of fraud and collusion by a small group of doctors and lawyers, and the Bar challenged the officials to prove the charges so the lawyers could be disciplined.

These people who do this are to us what roach wings are to a peanut butter manufacturer. We don't want them in there," said Richard McFarlin, Bar assistant executive director.

"But I want to know how many times lawyer X used doctor Y 50 times," he told Prentiss Mitchell, associate director of the Florida Association of Life and Casualty Insurers.

Insurance companies in the past have just pointed Bar investigators to stacks of claim files and in prosecuting them, single out specific cases where fraud might be found, he said. Mitchell, who had called the meeting, agreed to work with McFarlin and Dr. George Palmer, executive director of the medical examiners, to select the best examples of fraud and aid in prosecuting them.

"It's time now we not fight each other in the press, but sit down and single out those individuals in South Florida who are causing 90 per cent of the problem down there," Mitchell said.

McFarlin said the problem exists, but it is minimal. He said it has been maximized by the auto insurance companies to justify their recent price increases.

Part of what was left over in that account was used to pay for a Christmas party for the Division of Aging employees, an employee picnic and coffee for the division's advisory council on the aging, he said.

"There has been no official decision or request from the auditor general's office. But since the law is a little vague in this area, Mrs. Jacks felt it was better to clear up the item," Newman said.

He said Ellison's staff had raised question about whether the funds were state money, but no official request for repayment had been made.

Director of Aging has paid the state $264 to clear up any questions about the use of trust-fund money for an employee Christmas party and picnic, a spokesman says.

Margaret Jacks, division director, repaid the money to the Reality Orientation Trust Fund after questions were raised by Auditor General Ernest Ellison's staff, said Rex Newman, spokesman for the Health and Rehabilitative Services Department.

The Division of Aging is a part of HHS.

Newman said Thursday that the trust fund consisted of what was left over from registration fees paid for a Reality Orientation Conference held in Tampa in May.

The $23 registration fees were paid primarily by private citizens, not state employees, he said.

play if East held singleton queen or queen-small; the 10 play right if West held either of those holdings. It was far more likely if hearts broke 4-1 for East to be long so we replied, "The ten spot is the percentage play."

He said, "I figured that out also. It wasn't much better than the king play. Then I thought about my regular bad luck and decided to go against the percentage. I played dummy's king, led low, finessed and made my contract."

The unlucky expert had us cornered again. This time he was all smiles. He chortled, "I think I've finally broken my jinx."

He showed us the North and South cards and said, "You are in four hearts after a two club overcall by West. He leads the king and ace of clubs. East refuses to be continues with the jack. Which one of dummy's trumps do you ruff with?"

We looked the hand over carefully. It was a close choice. The king would be the winning

Two Brothers Arrested Some City Officials Said Ring Customers

By RICK PANTRIDGE
Herald Staff Writer

An alleged $1-million a year statewide theft ring may involve "some officials at the city government level," according to Seminole County Sheriff's Lt. Raymond Parker. Parker declined to identify the city involved, but did say that the "well-known names" were among those who had purchased merchandise stolen by members of the alleged conspiracy.

JOSEPH LONG MARVIN D. LONG

Two brothers were arrested Friday, bringing to 13 the total number of persons charged in the three-month long investigation. Marvin Donald Long, 43, and Joseph Long, 50, both of Old Mims Road in Geneva, were booked into Seminole County Jail about 2 p.m. Friday and released on $5,000 bail each. Both face a single count of buying, receiving and concealing stolen property.

"We will be interviewing between 10 and 20 more possible suspects," Parker said. "I foresee another 10 or 12 arrests in Seminole County and possibly some in Orange County." Parker also appealed for cooperation from anyone who thinks he or she may have inadvertently bought stolen merchandise. "If people will call me to say that they think they may have some stolen articles, we'll go look at the merchandise and if we can identify it, get it back to the rightful owners and we won't prosecute the buyer," Parker said. With seizures of stereo equipment, an outdoor motor and television set Friday, the value of property allegedly stolen by members of the theft ring reached $30,000, Parker said. Parker also said that he hoped wiretap information could lead to more recoveries. He revealed Friday that two telephone taps had been in operation for a month, at the order of Circuit Court Judge J. William Woodson. Parker wouldn't reveal the location of the taps, except to say "one was a residence and the other was a business." In a series of raids Aug. 15 and 16, six persons were arrested in Altamonte Springs, Maitland and Orlando and charged with buying, receiving and concealing stolen property. One of the raids was at the Rendezvous bar and package store, next door to the Altamonte Springs police and fire departments. Parker said the original break in the case was made by Sheriff's Lt. Ralph Salerno and that four men worked 125 hours a week for six weeks on the case. Some 1,600 phone calls were monitored, he added. The wiretap device used, Parker said, automatically records the times of calls and the number dialed. Parker said the theft ring employed four people to steal the merchandise. The four then sold it "for a fraction of the retail value" to customers who then resold it, he said.

Higher Charges In Effect

Besserer: Rates An 'Error'

By ED PRICKETT
Herald Staff Writer

A study of hospital rates which included erroneous figures for Seminole Memorial Hospital resulted from a "typographical error," according to Bob Besserer, the Sanford hospital's chief administrator. The study, which was prepared by Besserer and okayed by the Board of Trustees at an Aug. 12 meeting, listed semi-private and private rooms $5 lower than actual rates charged at the facility. Asked how the error occurred, Besserer replied, "I wish I knew. It was a typographical error. As far as I know nobody checked it out." At Besserer's request, the board approved an increase in rates from $55 to $63 for private rooms and a $50 to $58 increase for semi-private. Actually, private rooms went from $60 to $68 daily, semi-private went from $55 to $63. Besserer said he will "mention" the error to board members at the next regular meeting. He said the issue does not require further board action because "it's across-the-board hikes were approved, regardless of the rates mentioned in Besserer's study."

He pointed out that the minutes reflect the board's approval of the $5 increase — not the rate schedule he personally handled each trustee. Board Chairman John Evans agreed with Besserer the error resulted from a "typing error." Evans also agreed that no further board action is needed to correct the erroneous study which Besserer originally said put Seminole Memorial in the "bottom three-fourths" of rates charged at hospitals listed in his study. Actually, in the semi-private category Seminole Memorial's rates — with the board-approved increases — are higher than nine of the 12 hospitals included in the study. The new rates are scheduled to go into effect within 60 days of the date they were okayed. Evans was more concerned with what he calls the rising costs of government than with Besserer's erroneous study. "As far as I'm concerned it takes that room rate adjustment to take care of operating a hospital under the government's new rules and regulations," Evans said. "The specific schedule really wasn't pertinent," he added. Evans said the board "recognized" the fact that additional dollars were needed and that Besserer's erroneous schedule is "actually irrelevant." The Herald reported on Aug. 21, that the study was erroneous. At that time Besserer was unavailable for comment. He was on vacation and hospital officials asked that Besserer and only Besserer speak specifically on the issue.

City Looks Ahead

Hunter Views Planning Needs

By JANE CASSELLBERRY
Herald Staff Writer

WINTER SPRINGS — Planning and zoning commission for the City Council, Irwin Hunter thinks this is the most important time in the history of the city in the area of planning. "Our Planning Commission is deeply involved in making a comprehensive land plan for the city and I will be hiring a planner to aid them shortly," Hunter said. "Our Planning and Zoning Board is reviewing our Planned Unit Development (PUD) and subdivision ordinances. The very shape and future of our city is being determined now and will be finalized within a few years," he added. Hunter, who moved to the community in 1967 when it was still known as the Village of North Orlando, joined the volunteer fire department in 1970. Working up through the ranks he became fire chief, later resigning to run for Council. Having won election, he was appointed to take his seat on council a month early in December, 1974, as there was an unexpected vacancy. Hunter again won the 1974 municipal election, this time for a two-year term. Hunter said he was responsible for hiring the first paid fireman for the city. Since being elected to council he has served as police-fire commissioner, fire commissioner, vice mayor and alternate representative to the CALNO council of local governments. At present, in addition to his planning and zoning post, he is assistant fire commissioner. "The past few years represented a turning point for the city. Either it could continue muddling along or shoulder its responsibility to its citizens and move to handle its problems," he said. "I'm proud to say the council chose to shoulder its responsibilities."

CETA Provides 213 Jobs

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

The federal government's Comprehensive Education Training Act (CETA) program is pumping $1,258,882 into Seminole County's economy by providing jobs for 213 unemployed or underemployed persons. The Seminole County Commission applied as prime sponsor for all the governmental bodies in the county and has kept the lion's share of the jobs and money for positions and departments it directly controls. Approved by the county to date are 98 positions at $32,600 for county departments; 40 positions at $23,856 for the seven Seminole cities; 21 positions at $15,531 for the School Board and Seminole Community College; 44 at $28,923 for other governmental agencies and 12 at $7,072 for various charitable and civic organizations. The federal criteria for local employment under the CETA program is that a person be a Seminole County resident and unemployed or underemployed for a minimum of 30 days, according to Lois Martin, local Manpower coordinator. Those agencies awarded positions and base salaries may supplement salaries, if they choose. An applicant for a CETA position cannot be considered until he completes a CETA intake application at the county Manpower office. The latest allocations for positions and salaries, made by county commissioners, include city planners for Oviedo, Casselberry, Altamonte Springs, Longwood and Lake Mary at $10,000 each. The cities were notified that while they may interview persons seeking the positions, analysis and evaluation must not be put on the payroll until notified by the Manpower office that contracts have been signed with the federal government in Atlanta. Most CETA positions now

Analysis by the county are: Sanford, nine positions, including five for a special project, $44,560; Winter Springs, six, $42,640; Longwood, seven, $42,470; Oviedo, six, $33,560; Casselberry, five, $30,316; Altamonte Springs, four, $24,880 and Lake Mary, three, $21,360. Approved for the Seminole County District School Board are two positions at $15,531 and for Seminole Community College, 15 positions at $19,000. Approved for other governmental agencies are: State Employment Service, two, $12,000; Division of Family Services, three, $16,347; Farmers Home Administration, four, $26,446; property appraiser, one, $6,500; Seminole County Mental Health facility, nine, $38,752; Florida Army National Guard, one, $4,372. Also Parole and Probation, four, $26,446; property appraiser, one, $6,500; Sanford Housing Authority, seven for a project, $45,692; Seminole County Sheriff's Department, seven, $49,508 and Division of Youth Services, eight, $47,184.
