AMUSEMENTS

The joys, adventures and sorrows of a typical American boy constitute the plot of "Penrod and Sam," a First National picture directed by William Beaudine from the famous book by Booth Tarkington, which is playing at the Milano Theatre
today.
Benny Alexander portrays the role of Penrod Schofield, the best-of-the-kids in his neighborhood—and popular with the girls as well. His "girl" is Marjorie Jones, in whose company he spends much of his time—to the intense disgust of his boon companion, Sam, who has no use for members of the opposite sex.
But, although Penrod himself has been the target for Cupid's darts, he takes particular delight in torturing his sister, Margaret, whenever her beau visits her. Penrod is the pansy of her existence then.
"Penrod and Sam" is enacted by a notable cast, including Rockliffe Fellowe, Gladys Brockwell, Joe
Butterworth, Buddy Messinger,
Newton Hall, Gertrude Messinger,
Joe McCray, George Jackson, Mary
Phelan, Gertrude Hughes and William V. Wong.

KNIGHTS OF OLD SMALL STATURE

CLEVELAND, Jan. 23.—Suits of armor worn by knights of old would fit tightly on the average high school lad of today. Few men now are small enough to squeeze into the coats of mail at the Museum of Art here.
Men of the Middle Ages must have averaged about 130 pounds in weight, believes William M. Milliken, curator of decorative arts, who also finds that rounded paunches did not thrive in the age of steel corselets—at least among the fighting men.

ties of office. He might easily have been mistaken for a dour Scotch university professor, which he is in temperament and learning, but would be taxed at 12 1-2 per cent instead of the income tax he would be required to pay upon his private income which would be subject to rising surtaxes.
"One of Reasons"
"That was one of the reasons," Stanford replied, adding that organization of such private corporations was a common thing. Stanford told the committee there was no "secret" about the departure of Sinclair for Europe "notwithstanding the evidence given here yesterday." Senator Walsh wanted to know if the fact was "advertised," and Stanford replied that Sinclair had given an interview to newspaper correspondents at the dock.
"That was when he was getting away?" asked Senator Walsh.
"Not when he was getting away,
when he was leaving," retorted Stanford.
Stanford said he knew 30 days ago that Sinclair intended to go to Europe, and that it had been his purpose to sail immediately after Christmas, but was unable to do so because he had not then been excused by the senate committee.
The witness said there were important business matters in Europe requiring Sinclair's attention. Archie Roosevelt, who announced to the committee yesterday his resignation from the Sinclair interests said he knew of no business trip to Europe by Sinclair.
"Alleged Payment to Foreman"
Regarding the alleged $68,000
payment to the foreman of Fall's
New Mexico ranch, Stanford declared Sinclair never had referred to such a matter in discussion of his affairs with him and added that neither had Wahlberg ever mentioned such a thing to him. He first heard of it yesterday, he said, when he read about it in the newspapers.

TEAPOT DOME

said Senator Walsh, Democrat,

letariat, typified by bowler hats and short jackets. They attended over by the king, at which Mr. Mac-Donald was sworn in as a privy councillor.

Mr. Baldwin spent half an hour or, as was natural, had a much longer audience.

Adjourns Till February 12.
Parliament finished its deliberations by adjournment of both houses until Feb. 12. Almost the only business of parliament was to receive the king's reply to last night's address, in which the king said:
"I thank you for your royal and dutiful address and will at once give it my careful consideration."
Later in the afternoon Mr. Mac-Donald was again summoned from a meeting of the labor party to the palace when he presented to the king the names of his ministers.
His own people gave the new premier a warm welcome when he emerged from the palace.
"Ave you prime minister, Mac," shouted an old man. Mr. MacDonald nodded. "I congratulate you from the bottom of my heart," shouted his supporter.
Another called out: "You've got a good job now," and the labor leader drove away, lifting his hat in the very best statesmanlike manner.
In the house of commons, Mr.
Baldwin, the retiring premier,
merely announced that the government had tendered its resignation to the king and that its resignation had been accepted. The house adjourned until Feb. 12, on the proposal of Mr. Baldwin, in agreement with the new prime minister.

ment administration rather than the suspicious attitude that attached toward any man that has been successful. It is anomalous to see our Sunday School teachers and our public school teachers everywhere urge our children to be hardly, industrious, successful, and to go on the other hand pillory
those who have attained that success by their thrift, industry and planning.
"Let us draft our millionaire," said Mr. Thorpe. "When a man has a million dollars let him at least become a government agent at $1 a year. If a man is to serve us and please us to the extent that we will dig up money for him to make a millionaire, he ought to be paid to work for all of us. Today government officials are afraid to call into counsel on big business men the men who, because of their training and experience, are able to give that counsel."
"For this is an economic age," continued Mr. Thorpe. "Questions today before the government involve business problems that effect the income and the business operation of every citizen in the land.
Twenty years ago a White House calendar was 10 per cent of business questions; today it is 95 per cent.
"An I sit at my desk in Washington I can look out of the window and see the west wing of the White House. It is the business office. Tomorrow, on Tuesday, the general manager of this great corporation of ours, a hundred billion dollar affair of which you and I are stockholders, will call together his vice-president in charge of operations. It will be composed of a vice-president of commerce,
a vice-president of communication, a vice-president known as cabinet officers. Our general manager will ask their advice and counsel so that he can make the proper recommendations to our board of directors congress, which shortly meets farther down the avenue.
"I can imagine our General Manager Coolidge rising at the head of his table and saying, 'Gentlemen, we must get down to business. We have a very real order today. I should like first of all your advice on some questions of finance. What is the best way to get four billions of dollars to run this corporation during the coming year?
There was a time when we could levy on our stockholders by so much a head, but the poll tax has long since passed into innocuous desuetude. Today we must deal with individuals and their ability to pay the necessities of life to every man, woman and child, until we can see the day when poverty, as such, will be wiped out, but has placed in the grasp of millions of people luxuries that were undreamed of 2,000 years ago.
"and as service is the test of professional spirit, then the business man should have inscribed on his coat of arms not that libelous phrase 'Business Is Business,' but the simple words of the professional man 'I serve.'"

HERBERT HOOVER COLD SHOWS NO PARTIALITY TO DIFFERENT BUDS

Secretary of Commerce Declares
This Is Key To Situation Now Confronting Producers.

TAMPA, Fla., Jan. 23.—(Special)—Herbert Hoover, who is being suggested in Polk county citizens circles as a Moses who might be employed to lead the Florida citrus industry out of its marketing troubles, believes that only by the full co-operation of the orange and grapefruit growers of this state can the present situation be remedied.
At a conference of representatives of co-operating marketing organizations in Mr. Hoover's office at Washington last week, the secretary of commerce made the following statement in relation to the present condition confronting the Florida citrus industry, which business manager, C. E. Stewart of the Florida Citrus Exchange Tuesday obtained permission to use: "The whole thing comes back to the fundamental that proper marketing can not be obtained without the growers full co-operation."
In declaring that Florida growers can only solve their marketing problem by first co-operating with each other and getting together in one association, Mr.
Hoover voices the same sentiment that was expressed recently by Roger W. Babson, financial statistician who has also been mentioned as a man who might be employed to remedy the present situation.
Considerable interest is being manifested in the meeting of the board of directors of the Florida
Citrus Exchange, to be held here
Thursday of this week.
It is expected that a large part of the session will be devoted to consideration of the current citrus sales situation, and that further thought will be given to the effort to increase the exchange's membership so it can control and stabilize the industry. To accomplish this end, it is known that the exchange officers are willing to change the organic law of their organization. "Revise its business practice and even change the personnel of its official family, provided sufficient reasons for doing so can be presented and no principles of co-operative marketing are sacrificed.

Time Has Realized
Prophecy Made By
Pioneer Governor

LEWISTON, Idaho, Jan. 23—Sixty years ago the first governor of Idaho reviewed the 60 years that had preceded him in the history of the United States, with particular reference to the Pacific Northwest, and made a prediction of what the succeeding 60 years would bring.

The review and prediction were made by William H. Wallace and delivered to the legislature of the newly created territory of Idaho. The territorial capital was Lewiston, on the site of which, at the confluence of the Snake and Salmon rivers, Captain Meriwether Lewis and Lieutenant William Clark, officers of the United States army, sent west by President Jefferson, had camped in 1804.

The address by Governor Wallace has been cast back over the three score years since white men first had seen the spot on which it was delivered, and told what he believed the west might expect by 1924. With felicitations which might be quoted from any ceremonious address, the territorial executive, with the signature of Abraham Lincoln hardly dry on his certificate of appointment, began his talk.

"I congratulate you," he told the legislators, "upon those indications of rapid and permanent growth with which we are surrounded."

"Sixty years ago little did President Jefferson dream of what this country would be today, and much less did he dream of what it will be 60 years hence."

His listeners were a handful of members of the upper and lower branches. Not all the electees were present. Representatives of parts of the infant territory which now are Montana and Wyoming had been named by the voters, but to reach the legislative inaugural they had to choose between the trip over the backbone of the Continental Divide or a journey from Virginia City and Banack to Salt Lake City, west to San Francisco, north along the coast to the Columbia, and up it and the Snake river to Lewiston.

With this difficulty of travel in mind, the new governor made this prediction: "The child is born who shall see railroads and telegraphs connecting our great centers of trade with the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans; who shall not only see the inexhaustible mineral wealth of the country developed, but shall see the trade of Asia turned from its ancient channels and the road across this continent become the great highway of travel."

"He shall see the states of the Pacific rival those of the Atlantic seaboard in population and wealth; he shall see a city located on the western side of the continent by the Pacific ocean surpassing in trade and magnificence ancient Tyre when she sat as queen and her merchants were princes, and cities in the interior surpassing Palmyra and Persepolis in the days of their glory."

"He shall see the capital of the territory removed to the valley of the Mississippi, not four days journey from either ocean. Then shall the population of the mountain states be counted by the tens of millions and Idaho shall be one of the first of states."

McCormack Picks Most Perfect Song of the Year

Waltz Ballad Written by Trio of Artists
Selected

New York City.—They put it up to John McCormack this year to select the world's most representative poplar song.

There were thousands of contestants for the honor and innumerable new tricks of lyric and tune.

Altogether the jolly Irish tenor was as embarrassed by riches as the man to whom falls the duty of selecting the Folies chorus.

But finally, Mr. McCormack,

Judging on the general beauty of sentiment and melody, awarded the crown to "Wonderful One," a song written by three masters of their arts, Paul Whiteman, orchestra leader; Dorothy Terris, lyricist, and Marshal Neilan, motion picture director.

The decision summed up "Wonderful One's" merits as those of sincerity, simplicity and real musical quality.

"The song of the year holds both the dancer and the singer," declared McCormack, and to show his approval, he recorded "Wonderful One" on the phonograph records.

Miss Soper, representative Grange children, also receives prizes and the trip. Miss Poole was accompanied to Washington by her father, C. L. Poole, as chaperon, while Miss Soper's father, Elbert G. Soper, accompanied her.

The teacher is Miss Teresa M. Lenney, New Rochelle, New York, whose lesson on highway safety was chosen as the best of 60,000 submitted in a national contest, winning a prize of $500. She was presented to the President by Senator Royal S. Copeland, of New York, and Representative Bertrand H. Snell of New York. The pupils are Miss Theodora Poole, Lansing, Michigan, who was presented by John N. Willys, of Michigan, and Miss Mildred Soper, Seneca Castle, New York, presented by Representative John Taber.

HERE IS ADVICE OF INTEREST TO CELERY GROWERS

By P. D. Report.
While the price level of the market drops low, then is the time for all producers and shippers to not only limit the amount of shipments, but raise high the quality standard. Poor produce arriving on a weak market only further demoralizes conditions.

Growers must endeavor and strive harder than ever to hold all stock to high U. S. No. 1 standards. A clean cut certificate helps to stick a sale because the buyer has something to stand on in regard to the car and its contents. Celery well blanched, correctly marked, sized and counted, free from worm damage and decay is worth advertising.

Growers in this territory have had considerable trouble with the decay by watery soft rot, commonly known as "pink stem" and foot rot. Stock which was under board during the cold spell of a week ago, and the rains following and then the warm weather, has had a hard knock. This type of weather was very favorable for the development of this fungus. The weather broke the resting state of the fungus and the rains and warm weather following are developing it very fast. It is showing up in both forms, as foot rot and as pink stem. Stock which is infected with branch rot close to the root system should never be stripped, as the infection is already in the root stalk and will progress during transit. The pink stem where it is only on the top of the plant may be stripped and a good merchantable stalk result, which will not spread. This fungus will develop under refrigeration, considerable development is noticeable in temperatures of 40 degrees F to 45 degrees F. It will develop slowly down as low as 31 degrees F.

Pack carefully, true count, correct sizing, free from decay, and worm damage and green heart. Only well blanched celery should be shipped. Ship the best and guarantee it with a Government Inspection Certificate at shipping point.

South Must Raise Its Own Food He Declares

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 24.—"Few people in the South realize the enormous drain there has been on the South's wealth through the steady food and grain buying during the past 52 years. What's the greater pity of it is the fact that most of this money comes directly out of the farm pocket," said H. C. Hastings, of Atlanta, Chairman of the Farm and Marketing Bureau of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

"For 50 years or more the cities and towns of the Cotton Belt have been furnishing food and grain to the farmer instead of our farmers feeding the cities and towns. While the cities and towns have had the best of this unnatural business, it has really impoverished both country and city."

"As nearly as can be ascertained my own state of Georgia has spent in the last 25 years not less than two and one-half billion dollars for food and grain from the North and West, real hard cash money that ought to be sticking in our farmers' pockets. That money is gone never to return."

"It is no over-statement or exaggeration to say that twenty-five billion dollars of the South's money has gone that way in the last 50 years. It was good, hard worked for farm money. What we have been doing is spending our lives growing cotton, trading it off for bread and meat at no profit to ourselves."

"No use to 'cuss' the powers that be in Washington or the trusts, tariff banks or speculators. They may have had a part but a mighty small part in comparison with the part we ourselves have played." The way to stop that drain on our pockets is to stop buying food, grain and forage and produce those necessary items on home acres.

"The time to start is now. Plans for 1924 are being made. Before a plow is stuck in the ground, food, grain and forage acres should be set aside. These acres should be made first instead of last consideration. When these are fixed, then the farmer can go as far as he likes with cotton, tobacco or other cash crop safely."

"Give the home garden a chance in his food production. It's a wonderful helper in cutting store bills in half for the folks that will give it a square deal instead of the usual 'lick and a promise,' monthly promise. Start the food production procession in 1924, and a money procession will start toward your pocket."

FOR WORKING PEOPLE

The best of workers get out of sorts when the liver fails to act. They feel languid, half-sick, "blue" and discouraged and think they are getting lazy. Neglect of these symptoms might result in a sick spell, therefore the sensible course is to take a dose or two of Herbine. It is just the medicine needed to top up the system and restore the vim and ambition of health. Price 60c. Sold by R. C. Bower.

Make your lemon rinds do double duty. Keep one or two near the sink, and when your hands are stained rub them with the rind. Most stains will come right off.

How To Get The Best Result In The Chick Realm

Blod will tell. A baby chick may be counted on to possess the characteristics of its parents. The eggs the pullet lays will be like the one from which it was hatched, generally speaking. Thus, it pays to raise chickens true to type and breed, not to cross and mix, for eggs from such chickens on the market bring less because of the variations in size, color and shape.

A uniform product always brings a better price than a non-uniform product. Therefore, resolve this year to buy a few settings of purebred eggs, feed the chicks right and gradually sell off the mongrels. The improvement in the quality of the product therefrom will create in the owner a greater interest in his or her poultry work, at the same time insuring added profits.

The same principle applies to eggs for hatching. Eggs for this purpose should be large, because large eggs produce large chicks. However, abnormally large eggs should not be used, for as a rule they are freaks, the result of a disorderly oviduct or other physical disorder in the hen, according to H. B. Landen, extension poultryman of the Florida College of Agriculture.

Seven days is about as long as eggs for hatching can be kept with safety. They should be kept in a cool place that is not too dry, and should be kept free from drafts. Wrapping eggs tends to exclude fresh air and weaken the germs. Washing removes the natural coating or "seal" and results in too rapid evaporation. Rough handling tends to break the air cell or dislodge the embryo germ. The fresher the egg the quicker it will hatch, the stronger will be the chick, and the more rapid will be its growth, and the better its health.

It is interesting to know that hens with red ear lobes lay brown eggs, and that hens with white ear lobes lay white eggs. Belonging to the first class are Wyandottes, Rhode Island Reds and Orpingtons. And to the second class belong Leghorns, Anconas, Blue Andalusians and Minorcas.

EXTRACTS FROM COUNTY AGENTS' REPORTS

Osceola (J. R. Gunn): Considerable acreage has been planted to cucumbers. This land is tilled, and most of the plants are up and growing. The plants will be boarded to protect them in case of frost.

Maitland (R. E. Lawton): Shipped five car of eggs to a Valdosta hatchery; after the eggs are hatched the baby chicks will be sold in this county. Work progressing on exhibit for Tampa fair.

Wakulla (G. C. Hodges): Held six meetings this week in regard to growing and fertilizing bright tobacco. Enough acreage was pledged by the farmers that a demonstrator was employed and he will begin work at once. Fertilizer is being ordered cooperatively.

Santa Rosa (J. G. Hudson): A truck growers' association was organized at Jay on Friday; cucumbers and Irish potatoes are the main crops to be grown by the organization.

Ocala (R. J. Hart): Killing hogs for home use was much in evidence this week.

Walton (J. W. Mathison): Located another large fruit farm this week; it will be planted to peaches, satsumas, grapes, June blueberries, and pears and excellent plum. Several large shipments of satsumas are unloaded here every week. In 1925, we will ship grapes by the carload; in 1926, we will ship blueberries by the carload; and in 1927 satsumas will move in like manner.

Leon (J. A. Mackintosh): Shipped our fourth car of sweet potatoes; the farmers received very satisfactory prices for same. We are also shipping from 40 to 50 crates of beets daily; orders in hand for two carloads of rutabagas and ten carloads of cabbage. The community incubator was started Christmas day, 1,400 eggs going in for the first hatch; 2,000 more were set New Year's day; I hope to set full capacity (3,200) each week from now until May 1.

Break Land in Winter For Your Spring Crop

It pays to break land for spring crops during the winter season. Too many Florida farmers, experience and observation have shown, are inclined to delay breaking and preparing the land until almost time to plant.

The soil should have time to settle enough to permit ready seed germination, that is after breaking. Air spaces are left after breaking and they prevent capillary action and the circulation of moisture through the soil. If seed is sown while the soil is loose and before moisture can circulate many of them will fall to come up. Therefore, the land should be broken several weeks before seed-planting time.

In some cases, if the soil is not too wet, it is well to subsoil. If the subsoil plow follows immediately behind the soil plow, little subsoil is brought to the surface. What is the value of subsoiling? The farmer often hears asked "A" in the language of the county agent or the specialist of the state's college of agriculture, he says, "Subsoiling breaks up and loosens the earth to a greater depth than it is ordinarily broken, the plants thus making possible a number of advantages. The roots of the plants can grow deeper and thus secure a better foothold and come in contact with more plant food. Hardpans are broken, which permits the drainage of excess water from the surface and on the other hand, permits water to rise from below by capillarity in dry seasons."

One danger of breaking land ahead of time may be mentioned: As the plant food of turned-under vegetable matter decays and is dissolved, it begins to leach away, moving downward with the soil moisture. However, this disadvantage is not sufficient to offset the advantages to be gained.

Plants grown in Florida have proven superior to those shipped into the state. The sooner plants can be set after coming from nursery, the better. Plants shipped long distances often start to sprout and sweat, and receive a set-back which retards growth and delays profit.

A STUDY IN ART OF BEE RAISING

The honeybee figures prominently in history and agriculture. Study of it is intensely interesting; working with it is strangely thrilling. It has been said that the closer man gets to bees, the nearer to Nature is he.

But, true as this is, few are the people who know enough about bees and their habits and work to even write a post card. The following brief statement by J. C. Goodwin, apary, inspector of the State Plant Board of Florida, gives an insight into how bees live and multiply:

"A hive of bees consists, normally, of one queen which is the mother of the colony, thousands of undeveloped females or workers and several hundred drones. The workers under normal conditions do not lay eggs. Their duties consist in gathering nectar, building comb, taking care of the young and other work necessary for the welfare of the colony. With the bee the community is everything and the individual nothing. "Swarming is but the expression of bees in their attempt to increase and keep up the race. The original queen with a large number of the workers depart. They leave behind them in the old hive the honey stores, except such as they carry with them to start the new home, some workers, drones, brood and several queen cells. Some strains swarm more than others, and the beekeeper should not tolerate excessive swarming because they do not gather the surplus that they should. One strong colony will gather more surplus honey during a season than two weak ones."

There is less than 2,000 acres at present planted in the state, however, hundreds of acres will be set this year.

IT DRIVES OUT WORMS

The surest sign of worms in children is paleness, lack of interest in play, fretfulness, variable appetite, picking at the nose and sudden starting in sleep. When these symptoms appear it is time to give White's Cream Vermifuge. A few doses drives out the worms and puts the little one on the road to health again. White's Cream Vermifuge has a record of fifty years of successful use. Price 35c. Sold by R. C. Bower.

WHEAT SPLENDID GRAIN FOOD FOR POULTRY, IS SAID

Director, School of Agriculture, International Correspondence Schools, Scranton, Pa.

Whenever possible, wheat should be one of the several grains used in making up a ration for fowls. Although it is one of the best whole grains for hens, it does not form a perfect ration when fed alone and therefore should be fed in connection with other grains.

A grain of wheat is made of an outer shell, inner lining and a food center. Its structure, in a general way, resembles that of an egg. The shell of the wheat kernel is composed largely of crude fiber. The central portion contains some protein but consists mainly of starch.

The protein or gluten of the wheat is the most valuable part of it and possibly no other grain will fill the place of wheat as a food for the production of lean meat and eggs.

Wheat is rich in body protein and is a better food for making blood, flesh and feathers than for fattening purposes.

For this reason it is a better food for egg producing hens than for those intended for market poultry.

Second grades of wheat can be purchased at a lower price than higher grades. If they are sound and have good feeding qualities, these second grades of wheat can be used to advantage. If they are shriveled or blighted, they have little feeding value. Burned, wet, musty, or otherwise damaged grains are not fit for feeding poultry.

The accompanying table shows the digestibility of the various food principles found in wheat of good quality. Although about 20 per cent of its dry matter is indigestible, on account of its palatability wheat is the best whole grain food for poultry.

Parts of Wheat	Per Cent Digestible
Organic matter	81.80
Protein	77.12
Fat	39.67
Crude fiber	None
Carbohydrates	86.60

Wheat screenings, wheat bran, wheat middlings, shorts, and some of the cheaper grades of flour are by-products of wheat which can be used to advantage for feeding poultry.

The wise farmer studies not only soil and seed but the food habits of the consumer.

LARGE PROFITS MAY BE SECURED RAISING GRAPES

It is estimated that it will require over 50,000 acres, planted in grapes in Florida to supply the markets of the north during the months before other sections of the country begin shipping. This is figured on the basis of 20 pounds per vine, 550 vines per acre.

Only after we have planted 50,000 acres, need we bother ourselves about competition with other states.

Vineyards all over the state show yields of from one to three or four tons of delicious bunch grapes per acre from bearing vines and very few have sold their crops for less than 20 cents per pound.

Five hundred dollars per acre upwards has been returned as reward for those who took care of their vineyards sensibly.

It is absolutely essential, if success is to attend viticulture, that all plants set be true to name and that they be properly grown—not

Citrus Groves Examined by State

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA

Jan. 24.—A large class of natural students have gathered at Island Grove for a wintering which they will examine citrus groves there and on other parts of the state prior to departure, through the groves and way in which the fruit are kept and the methods the operators in successful aging their trees.

The students will be applying what they have learned about insects and diseases, and own information and practical look for any possible injury due to the recent cold and to note the presence of diseased fruit or trees and injurious insect pests. Fred Lord, instructor of the department in charge of the expedition, expected the class to derive material benefits from the trip.

Why Just A Thrift Week?

Thrift week has come and gone and without a doubt much good has been accomplished by the suggestions and thoughts that have been made during those seven days.

A year ago during Thrift Week President S. W. Straus of the American Society for Thrift made some of the following observations which are as good now as they were at that time:

"Those who practice thrift will never fail entirely; they may not attain the heights, but they never will reach the depths.

"No one, at the beginning of life, ever expects to fail. The lamp of hope burns brightly in youth. But hope alone can not bring success.

"Thrift is a character tonic. It develops the will and strengthens the moral fibre. Through it one is able to forego those habits of life that are harmful.

"Thrift equips us for the temptations as well as for the vicissitudes of life.

"No man can practice thrift without being a better citizen as well as a more independent one.

"It is these aspects of thrift which should appeal strongly to parents and to those who are engaged in educational duties.

"Learn the value of thrift. No better safeguard against failure can be provided than such an equipment."

Grow, Don't Swell!

The cloak of authority too often causes people merely to swell, not grow, and it is this swelling process that Dr. Murray Bartlett, president of Hobart College, referred to when he issued eight points of intellectual and moral qualifications for executives, which are as follows:

- 1. Observation: the ability to take notice of passing events.
2. Concentration: to focus one's mind on the point at issue and eliminate nonessentials.
3. Independent thinking: the ability to arrive at conclusions as result of your own observation of conditions.
4. The expression of thought in clear and logical language.
5. Self control, or the ability to prevent one's personal prejudices from warping his judgment in making decisions on important matters.
6. Honesty, which means truthfulness in business affairs and fair dealing with those with whom we come in contact.
7. Sympathy, the ability to understand the feelings, expressions or proposals of those with whom one comes in contact.
8. Service, doing something for the community or humanity that makes the world a better place in which to live.

Leadership in civic, social and industrial affairs is the crying need of today. Men who can rise above the hum-drum affairs and who possess a vision. Dr. Bartlett's eight points preach a mighty fine lesson to the business man of today.

FAVORABLE RECENT ACTION taken by the voters of Sanford in approving a bond issue of more than nine hundred thousand dollars for municipal improvements and extensions is something worthy of special note because of the demonstration it affords of the fact that Sanford has set her face toward a great destiny and is "on the way."

MY FAVORITE STORIES

By IRVIN S. COBB

Little Willie had been misbehaving and his mother caught him in the act. She turned him face downward across her knee and applied the back side of a family hairbrush where it was calculated to do the most good.

"If he certainly did," answered his mother. "And did grandpa's pa spank him when he was bad?" "Yes."

"And did his papa spank him?" "I'm sure of it." "The child considered for a moment: "Well," he said at length, "what I want to know now is, who started this darn thing anyway?"

As Brisbane Sees It

Dangerous Tea Pot Dome. She's Back in the Mill. New Style Killing. The Hen's Ancestor. Copyright, 1923

A FEW days ago everything looked wonderfully smooth for the administration. Hiram Johnson might be able to stir up something, but "wise men" said it didn't seem probable.

McAdoo might make a strong Democratic run but it probably wouldn't make much difference. Now comes the Teapot Dome scandal, with the oil reserves of the navy sold to a private concern, and a very unpleasant discussion as to what happened to a certain lump sum of $100,000.

UNLESS THAT is thoroughly cleaned up immediately and by the Republicans themselves, not waiting for Democrats to do it, it may make a big difference in the elections of 1924. However, it is not likely that Mr. Coolidge will wait for Democrats to do his house cleaning.

YESTERDAY'S TESTIMONY concerning the Teapot Dome, especially young Mr. Roosevelt's account of his resignation from the oil company will interest you and the voters. You will probably hear from President Coolidge and the Attorney General within forty-eight hours.

This is not the sort of scandal that can be allowed to simmer too long.

MYRA COLE, seventeen years old, went to the mill at 5:30 o'clock in the morning in the little Massachusetts village of Hill's Grove, and got away at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. She thought she would try New York.

She went without eating for several days, fell in a faint on the street, and has been sent back to Hill's Grove.

She will start in again at the mill, again at 5:30 in the morning, and get out at 5 in the afternoon. But things used to be worse.

MORE THAN eighty years ago, the late Albert Brisbane, who wrote for the front page of Horace Greeley's New York Tribune, asked the good men of New England who advocated abolition of slavery, "Since you're so much interested in the poor black slaves, why don't you free your own white women that you drive into cotton mills before daylight and keep there until dark?"

ALBERT BRISBANE, by the way, used to pay Horace Greeley cash for the right to write his opinions on The Tribune's first page. His unworthy son has a better financial arrangement.

THIS TELEGRAM is received from Reno, Nev.: "Two Chinese will be executed by lethal gas, Carson City, Nev., February 8! Fearful that horrors may attend this untried experimental means of execution, as an admirer and reader of your articles largely read daily in this community would appreciate anything you could editorially say. Rev. L. Linn, superintendent Presbyterian Church, of Nevada."

THE SOCIETY for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals kills superfluous cats and dogs in a lethal chamber. The animals don't know what is going to happen; then death is merciful. What can you say about civilized human beings forcing two Chinamen into an air-tight lethal chamber, turning on deadly gas and killing them?

WILL THE men be tied down or strapped in chairs in the lethal cell? Will they be killed two at a time or separately? Will they be left to die in their heads in despair against the walls of the death trap?

Will a Chinese interpreter explain to them what is going to happen? Will a clergyman mumble prayers through the walls of the cell? It's an interesting experiment in our "civilization."

ENGLAND DISCUSSES seriously abolishing the gold standard. The United States having half of all the gold available for money, it wouldn't be bad from the English viewpoint, to select another standard. But for the present, the thing can't be done.

Men demand something in the way of money that can't be created artificially. Silver might do, but we have that also. Abolish the gold standard and you won't abolish gold's value.

ENGLAND'S GREAT railroad strike is the most important news from Europe. Stranded railroad trains are scattered all over the country. Hundreds of thousands of engine drivers say they propose to let the railroad owners go without profits for a year. And curiously enough a Labor Prime Minister and a Labor Cabinet will probably be in charge of England and the strike next week. The pound drops in value.

BRITAIN WILL soon launch two gigantic new battle ships with all the latest improvements, 680 feet long and 108 feet wide. Over here we are junking battleships half finished to oblige England. She is unable to compete with us financially in battleship construction, but admirably able to befuddle us diplomatically. She did that at the Washington Conference and now tells our baby boy diplomats, that we may not even increase the elevation of our guns. That would make them shoot farther.

Jacksonville Journal: By naming Dr. Murphree Colonel Bryan has given the state a bit of advertising which could not have been gained in any other way and papers throughout the world carried stories about Dr. Murphree and the state from which he comes. Even Arthur Brisbane, considered to be the greatest editorial writer in the world, whose column "Today" is read by 20,000,000 persons every day, paused for a moment's reflection of the qualities of the man named by the Commoner.

St. Petersburg Independent: William Jennings Bryan is a remarkable man and a good man, but he is certainly on a cold hunt in proposing Dr. Murphree as the Democratic candidate for president of the United States. Mr. Bryan would only make a joke of Florida.

Daytona Journal: William Jennings Bryan, always a powerful factor in Democratic national conventions, nominates a most estimable man for the presidency. Were he as well known and appreciated throughout the nation as he is here in Florida his chances of heading the party this year would be infinitely greater.

New York Herald: Mr. Bryan's recent pronouncements on evolution have not stirred the people as much as if they had come from some old fashioned clergyman. His declaration a few days ago that President Murphree of the University of Florida was his candidate for president of the United States did not make a ripple in the political pool; no politician in the north had ever heard of Dr. Murphree.

Plant City Courier: Dr. Murphree, Mr. Bryan's latest candidate for president, says that he does not agree with all of Mr. Bryan's political ideas nor his views on evolution. Evidently the state's biggest educator would rather remain a first class college president than take chances as a hopeless dark horse Democratic presidential candidate.

IN NEW HANDS

Mr. Bryan's Nominee, Pro and Con

Grand Junction Sentinel: Mr. Bryan's helpfulness on the innumerable addition to the forward-moving activities of the race in his last choice for a president seems to have increased his penchant for teachers.

His present choice, according to the dispatches, is Albert Alexander Murphree, and his name is in "Who's Who in America." He is fifty-three years old, born in Alabama; he is a graduate of Peabody College, Rollins College and the University of Alabama. He began his career teaching in the rural schools; was then county superintendent; then superintendent of city schools in Alabama and Texas; was president of the Florida College for Women; now president of the Florida University, and editor of an educational publication. According to the book he is a Mason, Baptist and Democrat.

Palatka News: Although William Jennings Bryan issues some splendid commendations in his pre-convention nomination of A. A. Murphree, of the Gainesville university, a Democratic nominee for the presidency, and appears to agree with the college president upon all points, the college president evidently had not fully lined himself up with Colonel Bryan.

President Murphree upholds, to a certain extent, the theory of evolution, which is severely scored by the great Democratic leader, and, while not denying the monkey theory, merely says it has "not been proven." Mr. Murphree adds: "I think that Mr. Bryan is a great citizen and his moral integrity is unimpeachable, but I have never agreed with all his political views nor with his argument on evolution. I believe in the use of organic evolution, not as a fact, but as a theory, for it is an hypothesis accepted by scientists as offering the most plausible explanation of life processes. I agree with Mr. Bryan, however, that evolution ought not be taught young people in a way that would upset their faith in God and the Bible."

St. Petersburg Independent: William Jennings Bryan is a remarkable man and a good man, but he is certainly on a cold hunt in proposing Dr. Murphree as the Democratic candidate for president of the United States. Mr. Bryan would only make a joke of Florida.

Ocala Banner: When Mr. Bryan said he proposed to name Dr. Florida for the presidential nomination the Miami Herald and other virus-tinctured sheets with one acclaim said he was after naming himself, but when he named the best man in Florida they were unkind and ungenerous enough to accuse him of sinister motives. But that is the price of greatness. We know of no public man that rose to distinction that did not have his calumniators.

Jacksonville Journal: By naming Dr. Murphree Colonel Bryan has given the state a bit of advertising which could not have been gained in any other way and papers throughout the world carried stories about Dr. Murphree and the state from which he comes. Even Arthur Brisbane, considered to be the greatest editorial writer in the world, whose column "Today" is read by 20,000,000 persons every day, paused for a moment's reflection of the qualities of the man named by the Commoner.

St. Petersburg Independent: William Jennings Bryan is a remarkable man and a good man, but he is certainly on a cold hunt in proposing Dr. Murphree as the Democratic candidate for president of the United States. Mr. Bryan would only make a joke of Florida.

Daytona Journal: William Jennings Bryan, always a powerful factor in Democratic national conventions, nominates a most estimable man for the presidency. Were he as well known and appreciated throughout the nation as he is here in Florida his chances of heading the party this year would be infinitely greater.

New York Herald: Mr. Bryan's recent pronouncements on evolution have not stirred the people as much as if they had come from some old fashioned clergyman. His declaration a few days ago that President Murphree of the University of Florida was his candidate for president of the United States did not make a ripple in the political pool; no politician in the north had ever heard of Dr. Murphree.

Plant City Courier: Dr. Murphree, Mr. Bryan's latest candidate for president, says that he does not agree with all of Mr. Bryan's political ideas nor his views on evolution. Evidently the state's biggest educator would rather remain a first class college president than take chances as a hopeless dark horse Democratic presidential candidate.

Tampa Tribune: Mr. Bryan has given our distinguished Florida educator considerable advertising; but is it good advertising?

Plant City Courier: Dr. Murphree, Mr. Bryan's latest candidate for president, says that he does not agree with all of Mr. Bryan's political ideas nor his views on evolution. Evidently the state's biggest educator would rather remain a first class college president than take chances as a hopeless dark horse Democratic presidential candidate.

Jacksonville Times-Union: Newspapers explaining that Dr. Murphree is a splendid man and easily good enough for president of the United States are evidently afraid of offending some Bryanites who may think that it is complimentary to propose for the highest position in the country a man who is unknown in forty-seven of the states.

At this season of the year it is well for men to pause in their progress and gaze back down the road, thus judging how far they have come before turning to the path ahead and planning the future miles.

HAPPINESS.
Is never for one's self, is always just a share of the joy that some one else has been harvesting from care. Is never for one's self, is always for some friend; is never stained with self, for the charm of it would end; so can see it and can know that it means and is a glow of the laughter of the heart when a little child goes by, and its very bubbles start, and it sparkles in her eye, and her cheeks are red with beauty of the thought of what it brings, and in hers and all men's spirit something warbles, something sings, something stirs the feet to prancing, and the very salt of youth around the soul is dancing sweet and simple as the truth.

LOVELY PARTY HONORING MRS. DICKSON.

Mrs. Harry Dickson of Orlando was the charming honoree Wednesday afternoon, when Mrs. Ralph Wight entertained at bridge at her lovely home in Rose Court. Yellow and white were the colors for this pretty party, bignonia vines and other cut flowers in the various shades of yellow were lavishly used, in the room where the card tables were arranged.

The afternoon passed all too quickly in the spirited game of bridge and when scores were counted, the prize for top score, a silver tea ball, was awarded Mrs. R. A. Newman. Mrs. F. E. Roumillat, holding second high score, was given a pair of gold candle shades. The consolation prize fell to the lot of Mrs. George Davis Hart. Mrs. Dickson, honoree, was presented a string of amber beads as memento of the occasion.

Refreshments of brick ice cream, in white and yellow, individual cakes iced in yellow, and coffee were served at the conclusion of the card game. On each plate were miniature baskets filled with salted almonds.

Assisting the hostess in entertaining and serving were Mrs. Hart Peterson, Mrs. Edward Higgins, Mrs. Joe Hutchinson, Mrs. H. L. Perkins, and Mrs. Hal Wight.

The afternoon was indeed a charming courtesy and was enjoyed by the guests. There were ten tables of players.

pell, Mrs. A. D. Zachary, Mrs. O. R. Estridge, Mrs. J. E. Courter and Mrs. Virginia Elder, at the home of Mrs. Rivers on Magnolia Avenue. The class was well represented, filling the lovely home to capacity.

Sweet peas in the various tints, combined with ferns were used lavishly in decorating the various rooms.

Several contests and games furnished much amusement, and brought to life some artistic talent not heretofore suspected.

At a late hour the hostesses served salad, saltines, hot chocolate and cake.

The evening was one of exceptional pleasure to the Daughters of Wesley.

CARY A. HARDEE HAS INTERFERED WITH RING BOUTS

MIAMI, Jan. 24—Governor Cary Hardee yesterday notified the Westerns of Foreign Wars that the proposed bout between Tommy Gibbons, contender for the heavy-weight title of the world, and Chuck Wiggins of Indianapolis, set for Thursday, January 31, would not be permitted. Orders stopping the bout were issued by telegraph to Sheriff Lewis A. Allen, who immediately notified the promoters. Orders were also sent to sheriffs of other cities to the effect that bouts bringing nationally known fighters to Florida would not be tolerated, although small local affairs were not displeasing and would be allowed to be continued.

Stopped in Jacksonville. JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 24—In compliance with orders issued to sheriffs of all counties in Florida by Governor Cary A. Hardee, the boxing card scheduled for February 1, with Young Stribling of Macon, Ga., meeting Soldier Buck has been cancelled. The bout came under the clause of "nationally known fighters" and Sheriff W. H. Dowling of Duval county announced today the match will not be tolerated.

Governor Speaks. TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 24—It is understood here that Governor Hardee has taken notice of the numerous boxing matches that have been scheduled for different points throughout the state recently, and has taken the stand that no prize fights will be allowed in Florida.

The governor was absent from his office and his stand on the matter could not be definitely confirmed. According to authoritative sources, however, it is understood that he intends to take a strong stand in the matter and will not permit professionalism to creep into the boxing game in this state. Bellef is expressed that the matter was brought to a head by the proposed Tommy Gibbons-Chuck Wiggins bout that has been scheduled for Miami on January 31. Whether or not he has ordered that it be stopped could not be learned today.

ST. LUCIE FAIR. VERO, Jan. 24—Indications pointed to this year's St. Lucie fair which opened Tuesday to continue through the 26th, being the best ever held here. A good assortment of exhibits were in place and ready for inspection when the doors were opened.

Georgia Sportsmen Plan Big Tourney

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 24—Trap shooting, ball casting and fly casting will be principal events at Atlanta's first annual sportsmen's show, according to plans which have been launched here by the Georgia Fish and Game Protective Association. The tournament is to be held this year.

In addition to the competitive features an exhibition of trophies of the field and stream will be held. Such a tournament, it was stated here, is held annually in New York and in Chicago and attracts hundreds of hunters and men interested in all outdoor sports, many of whom are from the South.

The primary object behind the tournament plan is to call attention to the work already being done by the fish and game association. Since its organization a year ago, 350 members have been enrolled and under its influence more hunters applied for state licenses than ever before in the history of the state. Members in outlying communities report that "game hogs" have become almost as scarce as wild turkeys—this, too, in a season when the visible and discoverable supply of quail and ducks is greater than in many years past.

The work being done by the Georgia organization, it was stated here at the headquarters at 60 North Broad Street, is in line with that accomplished in the North and East. Pennsylvania especially has strict game laws and well enforced.

Tex Rickard Offers $200,000 to Firpo For Bout With Wills

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 24—Luis Firpo, the Argentine heavyweight, received a cablegram from Tex Rickard yesterday offering $200,000 for a fight between him and Harry Wills in July and proposing another fight between Firpo and Jack Dempsey in September. Firpo said he would not decide until the arrival of Hugh Gartland, his New York representative, who is on his way here and who notified Firpo that he had an offer of $250,000 for a fight with Wills from Newark promoters.

Just when things looked bright for a happy winter Arizona started the marthon dance again.

Dancing masters have nine new fall steps, which they claim are nine steps forward in dancing.

MGR. MCGRAW HAS PICKED THREE OF BEST IN MINORS

NEW YORK, Jan. 24—John McGraw has selected three of the ripest plums in the minor league orchard to bolster up his pitching staff for the 1924 National League campaign. The signing of Harry Baldwin of Newark; Wayland Dean of Louisville and Joe Bradshaw of Toledo, all leading minor league twirlers, is a fulfillment of John McGraw's promise to overhaul the gears in his pitching department following its disastrous collapse in the 1923 world's series.

Spurred on by Cincinnati's activities in bolstering up its twirling staff, McGraw has combed his sources of supply, supplanting age with youth wherever possible and sacrificing present ability for future promise.

The release of "Long John" Scott from Giant pitching circles was one of McGraw's other steps in rejuvenating his staff. There is a strong possibility that two or three of the other Giant veterans may find themselves on the waiver list before the spring training trip is over.

It appears certain now that Arthur Nehf, Hugh McQuillan and Jack Bentley will survive the spring pruning and possibly "Rosy" Ryan and Johnny Watson, but the latter two will have to produce, McGraw asserts.

Dean Balks. NEW YORK, Jan. 24—Wayland Dean, star pitcher of the Louisville club of the American Association, recently purchased by the New York Giants, is the first Giant holdout. His unsigned contract for 1924 was received yesterday by the National League champions. Dean announced Saturday at Huntington, W. Va., that financial terms offered him are not satisfactory.

Watson Also. NEW YORK, Jan. 24—John Watson, veteran Giant pitcher, returned his signed contract to the New York National League yesterday.

One of the reasons for the sordid in so many lives is that they have never smelled the warm fragrance of dirt fresh from the turn of the plough. The nearer we get to Earth—our original mother—the nearer we get to God, who is the Father of all.—George Matthew Adams.

Leaves are falling from the trees, time to pull an ancient wheeze; time to quit the bevedeze.

Law Tendler, Left Hander, Passes To A Shady Obscurity

NEW YORK, Jan. 24—Now Law Tendler passes into the shadows of obscurity.

Falling as a lightweight, the Philadelphia newboy turned to the welterweights, hoping to battle his way through the comparative modicority of the field and ultimately climb to title heights. An unknown, Nate Goldman, product of the Marines, knocked him twisting in a recent fight.

"I'm through," Tendler panted as he tore the soggy, gore-clogged gloves from his hands.

Tendler was a southpaw, the best southpaw fighter of this generation. In the parlance of the ring he had everything—punch, stamina, science and courage. Yet he could not win a championship.

Why is it that a left-handed fighter is impossible as a champion? Nobody has ever been able to explain this phenomenon satisfactorily. In the early days of civilization the ancient Greeks, first to fight with fists, stood with the right hand forward and the left hand close to the body. This is the style of the southpaw fighter.

Who was the first to change the style, and why is it not part of the existing literature of the sport. All we know in that there has never been a great left-handed fighter, while all the champions of note have been right handed.—Fitzsimmons, Corbett, Jeffries, Ryan, Gans, Lavigne, Attell, Leonard, Britton, Dempsey.

This New Treatment Never Fails to End Piles

Many sufferers from Piles or Hemorrhoids have become despondent because they have been led to believe that their case was hopeless and that there was nothing in the world to help them.

To these people we say, "Go to your druggist and get an original box of MOAVA SUPPOSITORIES." One of these inserted into the rectum according to directions will be found to give immediate relief. They reach the source of the trouble and by their soothing, healing, antiseptic action first allay the pain and soreness and then by direct contact with the ulcers and piles cause them to heal up and disappear forever.

It's simply wonderful how speedily they act. Blessed relief often comes in two days. Even in cases that have steadily resisted all known treatments, marvelous results have been obtained.

All druggists dispense MOAVA SUPPOSITORIES in the original box or can get it for you on short notice. All druggists.

CHILDREN'S FATAL DISEASES

Sold by Union Pharmacy.

Farming is the noblest profession.

NEARLY 20,000 TOURISTS

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 24—The chamber of commerce reports 19,418 tourists registered here so far this season, exceeding last year's registration at this time by 4,000. The largest registration ever made here was on Monday, Jan. 14, when the number totaled 565. New York continues to gain in its lead over other states, having 3,157 registered, with Ohio second with 2,639 and Pennsylvania third with 1,994. Massachusetts comes fourth and Michigan fifth. These states have 1,868 and 1,715, respectively.

TO PURCHASE PROPERTY.

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 24—Proposals are being made by the Tallahassee Golf club to purchase the property on which the links it has been using for several years are located, and erect an up-to-date club house, equipped with modern conveniences such as shower bath, and things necessary for entertainments. The present nine-hole course is to be improved, and an additional holes constructed at a later time. The course is situated about one mile to the southeast of the city and is noted for its natural beauty.

GIANT DREDGE BEING TOWED TO HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD-BY-THE-SEA, FLA., Jan. 23—Somewhere in the waters of the Atlantic ocean or the continuous seas, there is being towed to Miami and Hollywood, being pulled by a giant tug, a dredge that is the largest of its kind in the world. The dredge was made by the Elliott Machine Company of Baltimore.

Frank C. Dickey, chief engineer of the Hollywood Land and Water Company, has returned from Baltimore, where he went to complete arrangements for the start of the dredge to Hollywood. It is estimated that from the time it leaves Baltimore, it will take about 10 days to reach Hollywood, and perhaps more, if the weather during the journey is at all unfavorable.

The dredge will be a great addition to the engineering equipment of Hollywood and its work will be of emphatic value in hastening the development of the famous lakes section of Hollywood.

Two shallow dredges have been excavating for the artificial lakes. They have been doing big work, but the large dredge will speed up the job of making the two artificial lakes, which will be the largest in Florida and which will add much to the beauty of Hollywood.

These two parallel lagoons, containing a total of 175 acres, extend west from the Florida East Coast canal for a distance of almost a mile. At the western extremities are two expansive turning basins of ten acres each, where yachts and houseboats can dock in the very heart of the city. At the eastern headwaters—where the lakes begin—is a rectangular sheet of water in either lake more than a quarter of a mile across. The connecting waterway between the two basins has a uniform width of 470 feet or about the length of the average city block.

KENTUCKIANS IN THIS STATE ARE URGED TO ATTEND HOME COMING

LOUISVILLE, KY., Jan. 23—Florida's 8,000 former Kentuckians are being urged to return to their old homes in Kentucky next June and participate in an old-fashioned Home Coming celebration such as was held 18 years ago when more than 40,000 of the state's sons and daughters came back for a fortnight's visit. The Kentucky Home Coming Association, of this city, is at present engaged in assembling the names and addresses of these Kentuckians for the invitation lists. Many Kentuckians are now residents of Tampa, Jacksonville, Miami and Pensacola.

Kentucky is planning to break its own record for hospitality when the thousands of visitors swarm through her gates next summer. Voluntary subscriptions amounting to $100,000 will be used in making preparations for the event. And, in order to make each of the seven days of the celebration in Louisville longer remembered, an organization of 5,000 volunteer workers already has taken up the task of arranging the minutest detail of the elaborate program.

UNIVERSITY PLACES RESTRICTIONS UPON FUTURE APPLICANTS

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Jan. 24—Only graduates of accredited high schools in Florida will hereafter be admitted to the state's two institutions of higher learning without standing an examination. Both University of Florida and Florida State College for Women authorities are notifying high school principals and county superintendents of education throughout the state that all students not armed with certificates from standard high schools of the Senior A or Senior B class will be required to take entrance examinations.

In making this known, Dr. A. A. Murphree, for the University of Florida, writes:

"It is the purpose of the University of Florida to cooperate with all educational agencies of this state for the development and standardization of free schools from the lowest grade to the college and the university. To this end, it has become necessary to advise all concerned that only grad-

Tallahassee Girls Inconvenienced by Lack of Auditorium

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Jan. 23—While construction work on the auditorium is going on, the Florida State College is inconvenienced by the lack of a suitable meeting place for large gatherings. Nevertheless, the Y. W. C. A. is thinking of a plan which will turn the building of the new auditorium to the credit of the college. The question has arisen, "Do students really prefer a service for a large group, or would they be more interested if smaller groups were made the basis of the service?"

The plan now contemplated is that of holding two separate and distinct services at the same time, using different speakers, music and subjects. All topics are not of equal value or of equal interest to all, and by offering more than one topic each Sunday the Y. W. C. A. might make its services more beneficial and far-reaching. It has been suggested.

Students are giving the matter serious thought, and a decision will be reached at an early date.
