Secret Tape Shows Sex Victim Urged To Flee

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

Jurors heard a secretly-taped conversation today of a Casselberry man urging the mother of a sexually assaulted girl to take the child out of state so she couldn't testify against him.

"I want you away from Seminole County, away from Orlando," jurors heard a recorded Jeffery Scott Caulder, 28, of 508 Elm Drive, say as his trial on charges of sexually assaulting a 9-year-old girl moved into its second day at the Seminole County Courthouse.

Caulder was heard on the tape played in open court advising the mother to take $400 he could get for her and leave Florida so he could avoid prosecution. He told her to be careful in her planning so that officials would not prevent her from leaving.

"You can't keep working or keep (the girl) in school... keep a low profile, that should be no problem," he said.

During the conversation, taped by Seminole County investigators, jurors also heard

Caulder, then in the county jail, say he was going to seek help when he got out.

"For what the hell I did, I sure am. I'll never do it again in 100,000 years," Caulder said, though he did not say on tape for what he was going to seek help.

"What bothers me about this, is how much time I have got to spend here," he said.

He said that once he was out, he and the girl's mother should try to get back together. If the girl would not accept him again, he said, he would leave them.

Monday during the trial, the 9-year-old victim who could not remember the dates when she was sexually assaulted testified in blushing detail about what happened during the attacks.

Earlier, the girl's mother wept on the witness stand as she told that she, too, had been sexually assaulted as a child.

The trial is before Seminole Circuit Judge Dominick J. Saffi.

Caulder is accused of assaulting the girl Dec. 27, 1983, and Jan. 21. Prosecutors have charged him with sexual battery to a child under 11 years old, attempted sexual battery and lewd and lascivious assault. They maintain he forced the child to perform various sex acts.

Under questioning by Assistant State Attorney Angela Blakely, the girl testified that the sexual episodes occurred several times with the same man and at least once after visiting a toy store.

While on the witness stand, the girl identified pictures of acts in a sex magazine that she was forced to engage in. While the jury of four women and three men sat quietly during the child's testimony, her descriptions of what she said happened occasionally prompted murmurs among people attending the trial.

She testified that the man warned her not to talk about the sex acts.

"He just said don't tell your mother, 'cause we would get in trouble," she said.

She said she did not tell investigators everything when she was first asked because they were men and she did not want

Manning Gets 3-2 Vote Of Confidence

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

Longwood Police Chief Greg Manning, who paid a $50 fine Friday in Volusia County for gambling, was given a vote of confidence by the Longwood City Commission at Monday night's meeting. But the vote was 3-2 with Mayor J. Russell Grant and Commissioner June Lormann voting no.

Manning and Seminole County Sheriff John Polk were fined after being charged with playing blackjack, a second degree misdemeanor, at a Sanford Rotary picnic in June.

Commissioner Harvey Smerilson, in making the motion, said that "due to some of the publicity that appeared in the paper the last few days this council owes it to Greg to give him a vote of confidence."

Grant said that "under the charter Manning works under City Administrator David Chacey and we would be taking it out of his hands." Mrs. Lormann said that the police chief had promised to submit a letter of explanation stating the circumstances to the commission and, although she thought he was an honorable man, the commission should wait until it had been received to take any action. Joining Smerilson in the vote of confidence were Commissioner William Mitchell and Commissioner Ed Myers.

Earlier in the meeting during the public participation period, John Wait of 520 Devonshire Road criticized the attitude of Longwood Police when they attended an accident Friday afternoon in which his daughter, Bethany, was struck by a truck while riding her bicycle. He said the police had a did not take it seriously or investigate it properly. The incident occurred at 3:22

Egypt Briefs Officials On Alleged Libyan Plots

CAIRO, Egypt (UPI) — Egypt has briefed West European and Arab security officials on details of an alleged plot by Libyan leader Moammar Khadafy to assassinate their heads of state, the Al-Akhar newspaper reported today.

Minister of Interior Ahmed Ruahdi was quoted by the newspaper as saying he spoke with the officials from moderate Arab and European nations about information received from a four-man Libyan hit squad arrested in Cairo.

Ruahdi said the team had been hired to kill two exiled Libyan dissidents in Cairo and to steal a U.S.-made F-18 jetfighter from the Egyptian Armed Forces.

President Hosni Mubarak said Sunday the four — two Britons and two Maltese — had implicated Khadafy in the plot to assassinate the Arab and European heads of state.

Khadafy, speaking in Malta Monday did not address the charges. "I am not in the position to answer the man who is called Hosni Mubarak because he clearly showed himself to be an intelligence officer appointed by the CIA in Cairo."

Egyptian security authorities, meanwhile, told Al-Akhar that at least 10 people, including nationals from Britain, Italy and Malta, were hired by Khadafy to carry out the assassination attempts.

Mubarak said that among the targets of the hit squads were British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher, French President Francois Mitterrand and West German Chancellor Helmut Kohl.

He said the leaders of Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, the United Arab Emirates and Pakistan also were targets and claimed Khadafy was involved in the assassination of Indian Prime Minister Indira Gandhi.

On Monday, the alleged leader of the four-man death squad was taken under guard to cash a $80,000 check paid by the Libyan government after it was tricked into believing one of the targets was dead.

The alleged leader, Anthony William Gill, 48, a Briton described by officials as a veteran terrorist, was taken to the Bank of Credit and Commerce in central Cairo after regular business hours.

Gill entered the bank with his escort and cashed the check that officials said was part of the fee he and three accomplices were promised by Libya for killing former Libyan Prime Minister Abdel Hamid El-Bakouh.

The money was immediately confiscated for use as evidence against the four.

Officials said the check was relayed to Gill through an unidentified Rome bank by Libya after the Tripoli government was duped by Egyptian authorities into believing the team had completed its mission.

Egypt said Khadafy's government was fooled by a letter and photographs of El-Bakouh covered with red paint given to the Libyan Embassy in Malta.

Seminole United Against 'Super' Transit Agency

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

If the Greater Orlando Transportation Study Committee came to Sanford Monday looking for support for a mass transit system for Central Florida, it didn't find any.

What it found was Seminole's county government and its cities speaking with a single voice about road problems the state is not answering and its fears of being unrepresented when connected with Orlando.

The committee met with Seminole's five commissioners and representatives of the seven cities at the county's Agricultural Center from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Sanford City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles charged that the committee's real function is to see "how much more money can be taken out of the pockets of the public."

Introduced by Committee Chairman Jack Critchfield as the dean of city managers, but calling himself "a student of government," Knowles said the committee, appointed by the governor, appears to be looking at creating a "super agency" and "that makes me shudder."

He said there are already too many agencies governing transportation in the state and locally and the public's reaction is dissatisfaction "with the way government is progressing."

The people are so dissatisfied with the way government is functioning that the wave of Proposition 13 (the state constitutional amendment passed several years ago in California to limit government's ability to tax) "is not over yet," Knowles said.

A similar amendment failed to make it to the November election ballot in Florida after the state Supreme Court ruled the proposal contained more than one subject, in violation of state constitutional requirements. Thousands of voters had petitioned for the issue to be placed on the ballot for approval or disapproval by the people.

The idea "bigger (government) is better, is wrong," Knowles said, adding local government in Seminole County "can solve its own problems. We don't need an outside agency to tell us how, when and where. Everytime we add more to do better, it costs more."

"We have agencies already here working with us," he said. Perhaps the problem in some agencies is that they are manned with persons with super egos who cannot work with others, he suggested. He said in Seminole County, the county, the cities and the school board communicate and work together through the Council of Local Governments.

Critchfield, after listening to Knowles' presentation, said Knowles deserved the title of dean. But, Critchfield added, the committee's function as outlined by the governor is not to create a super agency, but to examine transportation needs now and in the future in the three county area of Orange, Seminole and Osceola and report their findings in January.

On the question of road problems, County Commission Chairman Sandra Glenn said the major road problems in Seminole County involve state roads — U.S. 17-92 and state Roads 434 and 438.

She added that when county officials try to work with different agencies such as the Metropolitan Planning Organization, Seminole often finds that decisions are not based on real need, but on the number of votes larger counties have.

"Orlando has enough votes to defeat us even when Osceola County joins with us," Mrs. Glenn said.

She repeated a remark made by Orlando official at a recent meeting that Orlando is the heart of Central Florida.

"Orlando may be the heart," she said, "but Seminole is the life-blood."

Commissioner Barbara Christensen said Seminole County has been treated like a step-child and put on the back burner.

Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff told of his experience as a county delegate to MPO when $5 million had to be allocated for computerized traffic signalization in south Orange County before Seminole was given a vitally needed project.

Meanwhile, as the question of whether the governments in Seminole think mass transit, a light rail system, is needed in the three county area and whether it could be successful, Kirchhoff said Floridians are independent-minded and prefer to drive their Closed both Thursday and Friday will be offices in Altamonte Springs, Longwood, Oviedo, Sanford, Winter Springs, Seminole County; Seminole schools, Florida Highway Patrol drivers license offices and other state offices.

Closed Thursday only will be Casselberry, Lake Mary, the Post Offices, the banks, and federal offices.

There will be no refuse collection in the city of Sanford on Thursday or Friday and regular pick-up will resume on Monday and Tuesday.

The city of Altamonte Springs will change its sanitation schedule because of the holiday. Pick-up of refuse on Thursday's route will take place on Wednesday, Nov. 21 instead. On Friday, the normal route will be followed. This will provide the entire city with a collection within one day of the holiday.

After Mexico City Blast

Scorched Bodies Pulled From Ruins

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Police and soldiers grimly pulled scorched bodies today from the smoldering ruins of a shanty neighborhood flattened by a string of natural gas explosions. At least 300 people were killed, 1,500 were injured and 10,000 were left homeless.

Small fires still smoked and flickered amid the splintered, twisted remains of homes and factories in the working-class suburb of San Juan Ixhuatepec, 10 miles north of downtown.

The pre-dawn explosion Monday at the Unigas liquid gas distribution center sent brilliant red and orange flames swirling a mile into the sky, transforming darkness to daylight and sending thousands of terrified residents fleeing from their homes.

The blast leveled houses and factories near the spherical tanks, which normally hold 80,000 barrels of liquefied natural gas.

Fires raged all day and continued late into the night. The government-owned oil monopoly, Petroleos Mexicanos, issued a statement saying, "Some small fires are still blazing in the tanks. However, the danger of a new explosion has been totally eliminated."

Rescue workers said the neighborhood of 350,000 people was evacuated. Hospitals were so crowded, only victims with third-degree burns or worse injuries were admitted. Others were cared for at makeshift emergency clinics.

Survivors frantically searched for lost relatives. "I am still trying to find my husband," Oralia Mendez sobbed. "He went to Unigas early this morning to buy gas and I still have not found him. Oh God, what can I do?"

Some 3,000 city police joined more than 500 Red Cross workers and army troops in rescue efforts.

"There are between 300 and 500 people who were killed in the explosion and fire," Red Cross spokeswoman Rosa Maria Servin Ruiz told UPI.

Autopsy Shows Baby Fae Rejected Baboon Heart

LOMA LINDA, Calif. (UPI) — The preliminary autopsy report on Baby Fae shows her immune system rejected the baboon heart that had kept her alive longer than any other human recipient of an animal heart transplant, doctors said.

In its preliminary report issued Monday, doctors at Loma Linda University Medical Center said Baby Fae died of heart failure triggered by her tiny body's rejection of the baboon heart that had been implanted in her chest in an historic operation.

The rejection of the heart was complicated by kidney failure, the hospital said in a prepared statement. The cause of death was cardiac arrhythmia due to rejection of the baboon heart.

The 32-day-old infant lived 21 days with the baboon heart, longer by far than any other recipient of an animal heart transplant. She died last Thursday night.

Police Baffled In Bar Rampage

DALLAS (UPI) — A man who had two beers at a quiet, working-class bar returned moments later and without a word "just started shooting" with a high-powered rifle, killing one man and wounding five other customers, police say.

Charles Morrison, 61, of Argyle, Texas, was arrested at about 10:45 p.m. CST Monday, less than five hours after spraying the Webb Lounge with gunfire, said Denton County Sheriff Kenneth George.

Police were baffled as to a motive. "There were no arguments, fights or disturbances that we know of. He just started shooting," said Police Lt. David Bonicard.

The shootings came four days after Abdelkrim Belachheb, 39, a Moroccan national, was sentenced to six life prison terms for killing six people June 29 at a North Dallas club — the bloodiest mass murder in Dallas history.

3 Still Missing In Helicopter Crash

CAMP LEJEUNE, N.C. (UPI) — Three Marines died, three are missing and 11 were injured in the fiery crash of a huge "Super Stallion" helicopter that was hauling a seven-ton howitzer during an artillery training exercise.

The CH-53, the largest helicopter in the free world, sent a "flash" message Monday that it was on fire, then plunged to the ground near a landing area at Camp Lejeune, a Marine spokesman said.

Rescue workers spent five hours sifting through the wreckage of the $22 million helicopter for three missing Marines before a driving rainstorm delayed the search.

The cause of the fire was not immediately known, but officials said there would be an official investigation.

Westmoreland Testifies He Felt 'Lynched' In Wallace Interview

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gen. William Westmoreland says the network tricked him into talking with CBS correspondent Mike Wallace for a network documentary about the Vietnam War and he felt as if he helped with his own "lynching."

"My first instinct was to walk out," Westmoreland said Monday. "I considered terminating the interview but that may have been taken as an admission of guilt."

Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Southeast Asia during the war, said he was "deceived about the nature of the interview" for the documentary, "The Uncounted Enemy: A Vietnam Deception."

Westmoreland, testifying for a third day in his $120 million libel trial against CBS, said he was asked by CBS producer George Crile to participate in the 1982 documentary because it would be "objective" and "factual" and his appearance would give the program "authenticity."

But, Westmoreland said, "I realized I was not participating in a rational interview. ... It was an inquisition. I was participating in my own lynching. The problem was I didn't know what I was being lynched about."

The program charged that Westmoreland lied about enemy troop strength on the eve of the January 1968 Tet offensive to persuade President Johnson to commit 200,000 fresh U.S. troops to the battlefield.

Westmoreland's testimony was to be interrupted today by an appearance on the witness stand of William Bundy, assistant secretary of state for East Asian and Pacific affairs from March 1964 to May 1969.

Bundy was expected to say he had "grave doubts" about the possibility of an intelligence conspiracy as charged in the documentary.

Westmoreland was to follow Bundy on the witness stand for cross examination by CBS attorney David Boies.

The 70-year-old general is limited, by agreement, to about 4½ hours a day on the stand.

Westmoreland was asked by his attorney Dan Burt if he had received reports of infiltration by 20,000 to 25,000 enemy troops in the last four months of 1967.

"No, I did not," he said.
"Are you sure?" Burt asked.
"I'm positive."

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

100,000 Mariel Cubans To Get Residency Status

MIAMI (UPI) — The government will offer permanent residency to 100,000 Cuban refugees, 90,000 of the in Florida, whose immigration status has been in limbo since they arrived in the United States during the 1980 Mariel boatlift, officials said.

A three-phase program unveiled Monday will be put into effect in December, said Alan Nelson, commissioner of the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service.

In the first step of the program, INS will ask all Cubans who entered the country during the boatlift, from April 15 to Oct. 10, 1980, and who are not yet permanent residents or citizens to register with volunteer agencies in December.

Refugees who register would then be scheduled for the second step — adjustment interviews with INS agents, scheduled to begin in April 1985.

By mid-summer, INS district directors are expected to begin the third phase — deciding which applicants are eligible for permanent resident status, Nelson said.

Applicants still must meet all requirements of U.S. immigration law — a long list of criteria that excludes criminals, drug addicts and the mentally ill, among others, said INS spokesman George Waldroup.

Female Inmates Shuffled Around

STARKE (UPI) — The Florida Department of Corrections requires that matrons oversee female prisoners around the clock and some small counties are forced to bond women out of prison or transfer them elsewhere to meet the rule.

"For counties like us, it's a real problem," Bradford Sheriff Dolph Reddish told his county's board of commissioners recently.

Reddish is searching for another county willing to take custody of the half-dozen or so women jailed each year in Bradford but said he already has been turned down by Alachua and Duval counties. He said meeting the state requirement would require him to hire four or five matrons at a cost of about $100,000 a year.

Systems in which female prisoners are boarded out to jails elsewhere have been arranged in other, nearby counties, however. Madison County's 31-bed jail shifts its female prisoners to the Leon or Hamilton jails, said supervisor Mike Scanlon.

Santa To Arrive Friday

Santa Claus is scheduled to arrive at Sanford Plaza at 11 a.m. Friday aboard a city fire truck which will take him to the Plaza Theatre where he will meet all the good little boys and girls wanting gifts this

Girl's Murder Mixed Satan Worship And Drugs

By Jon Fleming
SANFORD, Maine (UPI) — The bizarre story of a devil worshiper who killed a 12-year-old girl began last year when Scott Waterhouse walked into a bookstore and bought a copy of the "Satan Bible."

It ended last week when a jury convicted Waterhouse, 18, of luring Gycelle Cote into the woods and strangling her "for the heck of it."

Between the time Waterhouse bought the book and his conviction, he experimented with LSD, got heavily involved in devil worship, became obsessed with a 15-year-old girl and allegedly threatened to kill her, and, finally, murdered Cote.

"The Satanism bit ... just changed him," Doug Waterhouse, the killer's brother, said when the trial ended.

It was sometime last year that Waterhouse, then a junior at Sanford High School, bought the "Satan Bible," by Anton S. LaVey of The Church of Satan in San Francisco.

He studied it and started calling Satanism his "religion."

"I just started questioning things. I see certain things and I say, if there's a God, why are these things happening," Waterhouse said in a tape recorded interview with police played at the trial.

Waterhouse explained the principles of Satanism as doing whatever feels good: "Whatever floats your boat, turns your crank."

His beliefs allowed taking drugs. Friends and investigators said Waterhouse smoked marijuana and experimented with LSD.

His "religion" had limits — "Satanism doesn't advocate killing people," Waterhouse said — but he disobeyed that rule.

The thin, quiet drummer in the high school band allegedly wrote letters to a 15-year-old girl who also played in the band.

The letters were disallowed at the trial. Investigators submitted them to the court, however, as part of an affidavit seeking a warrant to search Waterhouse's house and school locker. State police said in the affidavit they examined the handwriting and concluded Waterhouse wrote the letters.

In the first letter, the writer asked the girl to meet him. When she didn't show up, he sent another in which he said: "I will get my rightful due, my dear, and you will be repaid for this."

The final letter was placed in the girl's flute case four days before the Cote killing. "Make the best of your every waking moment from now on because your days are numbered," it read.

It also urged the girl to wear a "purple top" and "purple socks." "If you did, it would look great," he said.

On April 29, Gycelle Cote didn't show up for dinner. Police began searching.

The next morning, they found Cote lying at the edge of the Mousam River, her body half in the water, covered with leaves and sticks. She was killed a few hundred yards from her house.

Cote was wearing a purple blouse. There was no evidence of a sexual assault.

In closing arguments, Assistant Attorney General Michael Westcott theorized Waterhouse lured Cote into the woods.

"He got (Cote) to think they were playing a game and got her

GNP Revision Shows Economy Slowing Sharply

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The economy slowed more sharply than previously estimated in the July-September quarter, and corporate profits declined, the Commerce Department reported today.

Housing starts dipped sharply in October.

Revised figures showed the increase in the gross national product, adjusted for inflation, was only 1.9 percent in the third quarter, compared to an initial rough estimate of 3.6 percent and a subsequent refinement to 2.7 percent.

After-tax corporate profits figured at book value fell 7.3 percent to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $139.3 billion.

The number of new privately owned homes that were started fell 10 percent in October to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 1,515,000 units, lowest since December 1982 when the rate was 1.3 million units.

Building permits, which give an indication of housing construction to come, were at 1,408,000 units, slightly below their September level of 1,440,000.

The economy had grown at a 10.1 percent rate in real terms in the first quarter and 7.1 percent in the second. Virtually no one considered those sustainable rates, and the slowdown that has taken place since then was widely anticipated.

The Commerce Department said the small increase in third quarter growth was due mainly to a slowdown in buying by the American public and a widening of the gap between exports and imports.

Personal consumption declined 0.6 percent during the quarter. Imports grew by $18 billion, while exports grew only $3 billion.

Corporate profits on a book basis before taxes fell 9.1 percent. But calculated as before-tax profits on current production — a method favored among economists — they declined only 3.3 percent. This method makes allowances for the effects of inflation on inventories and on use of capital.

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: A massive Canadian air mass that saved much of the Texas cotton crop from warm-weather bacteria brought record cold to the Northeast today while snow near the Great Lakes gave motorists their first taste of winter this season. A large high-pressure system centered over Canada pulled icy air over most of the nation east of the Rockies. Temperatures fell below zero in Minnesota and readings in the 20s extended as far south as Arkansas. Hartford, Conn., set a record low of 19 degrees and Providence, R.I., tied its mark of 21. A reading of 20 degrees at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., equaled a record established in 1903. Temperatures remained above freezing in most of Texas, where cotton farmers in the 25 counties surrounding Lubbock were celebrating Monday's frost. The cold killed bacteria that had threatened to spoil cotton harvested in the area.

Tax Furor In Washington

Talk of tax increases, or more diplomatically put, revenue enhancement, has begun to dominate the Washington scene. It is, of course, a reflection of the consensus that something must be done about the federal deficit.

During the presidential campaign, Walter Mondale insisted on saying he would have to increase taxes, if elected. His sincerity may have contributed to his crushing defeat at the polls.

Ronald Reagan said he would increase taxes only as a last resort, and on some occasions seemed to say unequivocally that he would not increase taxes. Those who remember his pledge as governor of California to oppose payroll withholding of state income taxes (he said his feet were set in concrete on that one) will remember the sound of concrete cracking.

The budget deficit threatens the most popular accomplishment of Reagan's first term, which was his success in bringing down inflation. Unless the budget is brought under control, there are certain to be continued high interest rates and foreign trade deficits and there may be an end to recovery and a resumption of high inflation.

Defense spending is probably going to increase faster than the cost of living. The momentum for greater military preparedness has not diminished. But the American taxpayer may be willing to shoulder more of the burden in higher taxes, instead of adding to the national debt.

Big cuts are possible in the domestic budget, but they are politically unpopular and are unlikely to be pushed by the president or, if proposed by him, accepted by Congress. The momentum for domestic budget cuts has slowed. If they couldn't be accomplished in the first Reagan term, it is unlikely they can be achieved in the second.

Looking then at the revenue side of the balance sheet, attention has focused on the personal income tax, because it is the single most important source of federal revenue. The hope is that it can be simplified, by eliminating deductions and tax shelters, in such a way as to generate more revenue. The political premise of this strategy is that tax simplification is a popular cause, except for those taxpayers who have found cozy corners in the tax code in which to protect their income from taxation.

The problem is the cozy corners. There are too many of them. They shelter too many people and organizations. And the beneficiaries are too well represented by lobbyists in Washington.

Whenever the Congress sets about rewriting tax laws, the corridors are jammed with the defenders of special interests. Somehow they always find a way to frustrate the process of simplification.

The effort to simplify by tax reform is a worthy one. It should be pursued, but without great confidence in success. There is too much self-interest built into the present tax code to be optimistic about revising it.

Eventually, it will become clear that a better approach is to de-emphasize the income tax in the federal revenue structure. A national sales tax, or, better, a value-added tax on the European and Japanese model, would tax consumption, not savings and investment, and would be relatively easy to enforce and hard to avoid. That is the kind of tax simplification we need.

BERRY'S WORLD

DON GRAFF

Not By Oil Alone

SOHAR, Oman (NEA) — The copper mining and refining operation here is modest by world industry standards and would be unexceptional but for one thing. These mines have been worked for 5,000 years.

Not continuously. Ore was first taken from the earth millenniums back and worked into metal in primitive smelters, remains of which still dot the sun-blasted hillsides. Oman was known then as the land of Magan and carried on a thriving trade with developing civilizations in Sumer to the north and the Indian subcontinent's Indus River valley.

The industry died out early in the Christian era. But the ore remained, waiting to be exploited again, with modern technology when Oman began its rapid modernization in the 1970s.

The country's oldest industry has since become one of its newest, an important part of a drive for economic diversification against the day the oil runs out.

Like those of its neighbors, Oman's economy is today oil-based. Oman differs from those same neighbors, however, in several significant respects.

It is not in the same league as a producer. Current output is on the order of 400,000 barrels per day, a fraction of what the next-door Saudis are pumping even under the scaled-down quotas they have imposed on their OPEC partners in an effort to prop up sagging world prices.

While Oman is not itself a member of OPEC, it generally keeps step with pricing policies. It has, however, been less painfully affected by the sag than the big producers for several reasons.

For one thing, it has developed long-term relationships with a limited number of customers — above all Japan, which takes better than 60 percent of Omani crude.

For another, location makes Oman a very desirable supplier.

While technically a Gulf state, Oman is not actually situated on the Gulf (the preferred designation in these parts being Arab, not Persian). It is outside the Strait of Hormuz, its long coastline fronting directly on the Indian Ocean.

Which means less transport time for Omani oil, none of the extra insurance premiums paid on tankers entering the Gulf since the outbreak of the Iraq Iran war, and no danger of the supply being cut off if the Hormuz chokepoint should be closed as a consequence of that war.

The answer to the U.S.'s problem with nations restraining American trade is "a red neck with a lead pencil rather than a diplomat with a derby hat and a briefcase."

At least this is the opinion of Florida's Agriculture Commissioner Doyle Conner. That's what he told Seminole County agricultural leaders in a talk at a breakfast meeting at the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce.

Conner said "Red necks are not as uninformed as some may think," and could perhaps do a better job in negotiating for American trade than the trained diplomat. "We have to stop some people and pull their coatsails," he said.

American interests are being out-negotiated with the United States following the principals of free trade while other nations, notably Japan, set quotas limiting American products which can go into their countries.

He said Americans would be respected more if they sat down like good businessmen and told other countries that "we'll play by the same rules you do."

"We don't have to be a big bully but firmness and objectivity would bring us respect in the world," he said.

Conner said food and fiber is the nation's number one product. "It's important for the United States to have a commodity about which we can say to the world 'We're number 1.'"

He said Japan sells the U.S. $30 billion more annually in products than it buys and the U.S. balance of payments would be worse if there were no grain, citrus and beef to sell them.

"We have tried to be generous, sincerely generous and talk about and believe in free trade, but no one else believes in it but us. We sit across the table from representatives of other nations who try to keep us from selling our products. Someone has to persuade the Congress not to let it continue," Conner said.

"There is nothing wrong with Japanese automobiles, but there is nothing wrong with Florida citrus either," he said.

Despite the uncertainty expressed by the county commissioners about who will be the new chairman of the board, those in the know (county employees) at the county services building say it will be Commissioner Bob Sturm who is elected by his colleagues today.

Sturm is popular among the county staff. He listens carefully to the staff's advice and more often than not follows it to the letter.

FARMING WORLD

Sugar Industry Row

By Sonja Hillgren
UPI Farm Editor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — After years of losing markets to artificial sweeteners and to natural sweetener derived from the corn plant, producers of sugarcane and sugarbeets are fighting to keep a smaller sugar industry healthy.

Americans consume an average of 71.1 pounds of sugar a year, down 12.8 pounds since 1980. The industry has shrunk but leaders believe it has stabilized.

"We've just taken it on the chin so long," said David Carter, president of the United States Beet Sugar Association. "Now they're fighting back tooth and nail to keep what they have left."

Eiler Ravnholt, vice president of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters Association, said, "We're pretty much at the end of that string of fairly sharp declines that have been running at 400,000 tons a year."

This year, for the first time in a decade, the sugar industry ran a national advertising campaign. The ads emphasized sugar is a natural food unlike sweeteners such as saccharin and aspartame, both of which have been surrounded by controversy.

The ads said that sugar has 16 calories per teaspoon, less than believed by many people.

"Use real sugar. If you know what's good for you," the newspaper ads said.

This year's advertising and promotion campaign cost $3 million and a decision on the budget and plans for next year's campaign will be made early next year.

While part of the industry is fighting a battle for consumer acceptance, other industry leaders will soon prepare a strategy to maintain sugar producers' financial positions with renewal of a federal price support program enacted in 1981 over original objections of the Reagan administration.

One lobbyist believes there is a 50-50 chance the administration will include a sugar program in its comprehensive 1985 farm bill proposal. Lobbyists believe they have support in both the House and Senate to continue the sugar program that props up the price of American sugar.

The system deviates from a market orientation preferred by the administration, but there has been no cost to taxpayers. In fact, it is one of only a few farm programs that has not cost taxpayers billions of dollars over the past three years.

The government bolsters the price with short-term loans of 17.75 cents per pound of raw sugar. Sugar is the collateral.

To keep prices above the support level so sugar will be sold in the marketplace rather than turned over to the government to rot in warehouses, the government establishes a higher market price of 21.57 cents. Because world prices are in the doldrums at about a nickel a pound, that market price is maintained by restricting sugar imports. Quotas are assigned to 39 sugar-exporting nations.

When Politics Gets Dirty

DALLAS (NEA) — The quality of this year's campaign for a U.S. Senate seat from Texas perhaps is best illustrated by a reprehensible remark offered during the first face-to-face meeting between the two candidates.

Rep. Phil Gramm, the Republican nominee (and eventual winner) used the forum as a vehicle for a calculated attack against his opponent's homosexual supporters "gathered in the dusky places where you and I don't go."

Gramm relied upon that theme throughout much of the campaign. In radio commercials and speeches, for example, he repeatedly criticized state Sen. Lloyd Doggett, the Democratic contender, for accepting as a campaign contribution money raised by a "gay rights" group at a male strip show.

Gramm, however, is hardly the year's most notable practitioner of scurrilous politics. "Gay-baiting" emerged as a popular campaign tactic not only here in Texas but also in Pennsylvania, North Carolina and other states.

Moreover, veteran observers of politics generally agree that this year's campaigns for House and Senate seats were the dirtiest in the nation's history.

Item: In a Tennessee House race, Republican Joe Simpkins crudely sought to remind voters that a paternity suit had been filed earlier in the year against Democrat Bart Gordon — even though the lawsuit subsequently had been dismissed.

Simpkins' television commercials, for instance, included a legend at the bottom which proclaimed him to be "the only candidate in the 6th district race who is married."

Item: In a South Carolina House race, a newspaper printed a letter to the editor, allegedly from a cousin of Republican candidate Lois Earle, accusing her of having numerous extra-marital sexual liaisons.

Even though the cousin denied writing the letter, reprints were distributed at street corners in the district.

Item: In a Michigan House race, Republicans sought to defeat Rep. Howard Wolpe, a Democrat who is Jewish, by appealing to voters to "send another Christian to Congress."

Another example of thinly disguised anti-Semitism surfaced in a Georgia House race in which Rep. Elliott Levitas, also Jewish and a Democrat, was seeking re-election. His opponent's wife mailed a "Dear Pastor" letter encouraging clergymen to support her husband because "he is one of us."

Anti-Castroites Helping Rebels

WASHINGTON — Anti-Castro Cubans in Miami have invested money, men and munitions in the guerrilla war against the Sandinista government of Nicaragua, but their efforts have embarrassed the Nicaraguan contra, who initially welcomed their help.

Rebel leaders are afraid the Cubans' irresponsible tactics will give the whole anti-Sandinista movement a black eye.

A recent example that gave contra leaders cause for concern was the shooting of a Costa Rican businessman last month by gunmen directed by anti-Castro Cubans. The assault was ordered on the grounds that the merchant was a Sandinista sympathizer.

The attack occurred within Costa Rica, and contra leaders are afraid the incident — and the Cubans' evident willingness to commit similar unsavory acts — will cause the Costa Rican government to crack down on contra operations emanating from Costa Rica. Up to now, the government has turned a blind eye to all but the most provocative actions of the guerrillas. But Costa Rica has no army, and its hospitality to anti-Sandinista guerrillas could invite retaliation by the Managua government.

In this delicate situation, the Cubans and their hirelings constitute a loose cannon that could fire in any direction. A team of six to eight Cuban exiles from Miami has set up a secret training and supply base in the jungles of northwest Costa Rica near the Nicaraguan border, and has recruited deserters from the contra group known as ARDE.

It's not just that the Cubans are independent of control by the contra leadership, as one ARDE supporter explained to my roving reporter, Jon Lee Anderson. "They've recruited the worst elements from ARDE — the cattle thieves and the killers."

In an attempt to put some distance — literally — between themselves and the Cubans, ARDE leaders recently moved several of their camps away from the Cuban area, even though it meant relocating at more vulnerable sites practically on the Nicaraguan border.

In one of these precarious camps within sight of Lake Nicaragua across the border, ARDE's military chief, Fernando "El Negro" Chamorro, said that talks have begun with the Cubans in the hope of drawing them into the ARDE fold under his command.

"We can't permit them to get involved as free-lancers," Chamorro said. "They have to incorporate with us."

But the Cubans in Costa Rica have their own pressures to deal with. As one source explained, they depend on right-wing anti-Castro exile groups in Miami for their funding. Unable to fight Castro directly, these groups have targeted instead the left-wing Sandinistas, who are supported by Castro.

And once this guilt by association is accepted as a strategy, such dubious tactics as the attempted assassination of an allegedly pro-

Sandinista Costa Rican businessman become justifiable.

So far the anti-Castro Cubans have done little actual fighting, beyond an attack early this month on a small Sandinista border garrison. They laid siege to the post with mortar and machine-gun fire for almost a day before withdrawing, according to ARDE sources.

Other Cuban-exile intervention in the Nicaraguan hostilities included the financing of several hundred anti-Sandinista Nicaraguans two years ago when the CIA-backed covert war first began, prior military training in South Florida, and the provision of medical treatment by Cuban doctors to Honduran-based Nicaraguan rebels earlier this year.

The right-wing Cuban groups seem willing and able to provide money and guns to contra groups operating out of both Honduras and Costa Rica. The only thing stopping them appears to be the Nicaraguan rebels' reluctance to taint what they consider their patriotic movement by association with Cuban extremists.

Thief Steals $310 In Cold Cash From Maitland Bar

A thief who entered a Maitland bar through a ceiling vent apparently used a key to unlock a pool table and clean out the change there and then took a bank bag from its hiding place in a cooler.

The burglar got a total of $310 in cash and then dumped the empty bank bag into a pail of water, a Seminole County sheriff's report said.

Alice Milkleson, 44, the owner of Charlie's Lounge, 2000 Howell Branch Road, reported to deputies that the theft occurred between 2 and 6:40 a.m. Monday. The thief left the bar through a backdoor.

SADDLE STOLEN

A Longwood girl told police someone stole her $1,600 English saddle.

Lisa E. Paparelle, 17, of 205 Lazy Acre Lane, reported that when she went to use the saddle Thursday, it was missing from the tack room. The last time she saw the saddle was Oct. 27.

The leather saddle is 16½-inches long, brown and has a brass plate engraved with the girl's name behind the seat.

STAGGERING WITH POT

A man who attracted a deputy's attention because he was staggering across a parking lot looking for a taxi was arrested for possession of more than 20 grams of marijuana Saturday.

According to a sheriff's report, the man was weaving across the K-Mart parking lot in Fern Park, searching for a taxi, when the deputy saw him and investigated. The incident occurred at 3:18 a.m.

When the officer approached the man, he smelled a strong odor of alcohol and saw a clear plastic bag containing what appeared to be marijuana sticking out of the man's jacket pocket.

Arrested and charged with possession of marijuana was Donald Harold Walls, 19, of 3-B Twin Lake Manor, Maitland. He was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond Saturday.

POT IN LOT

A Maitland man seen staggering in the Kmart parking lot in Fern Park was charged with possession of more than 20 grams of marijuana after he was spotted by a sheriff's deputy.

The deputy searched the man who had a bag of pot sticking out of his jacket, a sheriff's report said.

Donald H. Walls, 19, of 3-B Twin Lakes Manor, was arrested at 3:18 a.m. Saturday. He was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

BREAK DOWN TO JAIL

Altamonte Springs police who stopped to assist a motorist in distress noticed drug paraphernalia and partially smoked marijuana cigarettes in the vehicle and that meant jail for the motorist.

The vehicle was parked along state Road 436 at Interstate 4, Altamonte Springs, when the officers spotted the contraband and searched the vehicle. They found more than 20 grams of

RESISTED OFFICERS

A Sanford man who was reportedly creating a disturbance at a Sanford home was arrested and charged with battery to a police officer.

Police report responding to a disturbance call at 2208 S. Park Ave., Sanford, at about 2:50 a.m. Saturday. When the suspect, who smelled of alcohol, was confronted by the officers he reportedly became abusive and hit the two lawmen.

Benito Morales, 28, of Route 3, Box 312, was also charged with disorderly intoxication and was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

ON THE LOOKOUT

Sanford police who were on the lookout for a man who was reportedly armed and threatening to kill himself and others captured the suspect Sunday. He was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond on a concealed weapons charge.

Police reported spotting the man's van, which they had received a teletype report on, at about 8:30 p.m. on South Orlando Drive, Sanford.

The suspect and another man were ordered out of the vehicle and the officers reported finding a .45-caliber automatic handgun and a .25-caliber automatic pistol in the vehicle. The second man was not charged.

Edward Jeffrey Dillendall, 53, of 1200 Lake Lucern Circle, Casselberry, was arrested at 8:35 p.m. Sunday.

BANK BAG THEFT

A bank bag containing $1,695 cash and 10 checks worth a total of $13,118 in addition to an undetermined amount of insurance checks was stolen from a filing cabinet at Cycles of Seminole County, 770 S. U.S. Highway 17-92, Longwood. The bag was reportedly taken from an office at the business Friday or Saturday.

A 1982 El Camino worth $7,500 was stolen from the driveway of Paul E. Wilson, 35, of 3314 Carlis Drive, Apopka, Sunday, according to a sheriff's report.

BURGLARIES AND THEFTS

Half Of Record Jail Population Not Convicted

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Half of the record 223,551 people held in local jails in June 1983 had not been convicted of a crime, the Justice Department says.

A report by the department's Bureau of Justice Statistics said the last complete census of the local jail population showed that the number of inmates jumped 41 percent over the previous census taken five years earlier.

The report said the ratio of jail occupancy to the nation's population rose 29 percent during the same period, from 78 per 100,000 residents in 1978 to 98 per 100,000 in 1983.

The West and Northeast had the fastest growth in jail population. The 41 percent jail population increase between 1978 and 1983 was more than three times larger than any prior change between censuses, the bureau said. Previous surveys were taken in 1970 and 1972.

Occupancy is rising in both jails and prisons, a reflection of tougher sentencing and bail restrictions nationwide. Jails are locally run facilities, primarily for adults, which hold people pending the outcome of their cases or who are committed for short sentences. Lockups that do not hold people after they are formally charged are not included in the jail census.

Of the 221,815 adult inmates, slightly more than half — 113,984 — had not been convicted, but were awaiting trial, on trial or awaiting arraignment. The ratio of convicted to unconvicted inmates was about equal to 1978's, the bureau said.

The inmate death rate dropped 9 percent between 1978 and 1983, the bureau said. In the 12 months preceding June 30, 1983, 554 inmates died while in jail custody. Suicide was the cause of most deaths — 55 percent of the men, 76 percent of the women and 100 percent of the seven juveniles, all boys, who died. The deaths included 29 killed in a jail fire in Biloxi, Miss. in September 1982.

Between 1978 and 1983, the number of jails declined 4 percent, to 3,338 facilities, reflecting the trend toward fewer but larger institutions, the bureau said. But about 28,000 additional beds were added to the nation's local jail capacity.

Seven percent of jail inmates were women, ranging from an insignificant percent in Massachusetts to 11 percent in California.

Except for Massachusetts, every state had more women in jail in 1983 than 1978, with gains of 137 percent in the District of Columbia, 132 percent in Virginia and 110 percent in New Jersey.

The 1,736 juveniles in local jails as of June 30, 1983, made up slightly less than 1 percent of jail populations, about the same proportion as in 1978, the bureau said.

Local jail expenditures totaled slightly more than $2.7 billion in the year ending June 30, 1983, or about $9,400 per inmate, and jails employed 64,560 people.

After 50 Years, The Idea Of Saving Comes Of Age.

Banks introduce insured savings accounts, but the government restricts rates.

Small investors gain access to money market rates, but sacrifice FDIC insurance.

Now, NCNB's Money Market Account offers higher yields, plus FDIC security.

From the time people earned more money than they needed day to day, the question has always been: where to put it?

For years, banks have been a safe, secure place to "keep your money" until you need it. The only problem was, regulations kept the interest rates low.

So, to obtain higher yields, people had to give up bank security and go elsewhere, often to the money market.

Now, with the NCNB Money Market Account, that's all over.

Like other money market accounts, it offers higher yields on balances of $2500 or more. And, like other money market accounts, your money's available any time you need it.

Yet, unlike money market accounts at brokers, it offers you the security of FDIC insurance.

So come see us for a whole new way to invest that puts more muscle in your money.

And you don't have to leave your neighborhood to get it.

Success Runs Through Seminole County

The Long Red Row of Tampa Leto took the spotlight Saturday when it won both the boys and girls titles in the 4A State Cross Country Meet.

Although Leto took the spotlight, Seminole County's representatives were definitely not in the dark. Trinity Prep's girls, led by individual champion Adrienne Polltowicz, took second place in the 1A meet. Lake Howell's girls were fourth and Seminole's 10th in the 4A meet and Lake Mary's boys also took fourth.

The county also had three all-state performers in the 1A girls meet (Trinity's Polltowicz, Katie Sams and Becky Baskin) and one each in the 4A boys (Seminole's Billy Penick) and girls (Lake Howell's Lisa Samockl) meets.

"Seminole county was really represented well Saturday," Seminole coach Ted Tombras said.

The 1984 season strengthened Seminole County's position as one of the top areas in the state for cross country. And, if the old saying that success breeds success holds true, the county will continue to establish itself as a traditional hotbed much like Pinellas County (Largo and Tampa Leto).

Looking back on the season, Seminole County has much to be proud of:

- Seminole High rose out of cross country obscurity and established itself as a successful program and one to reckon with in the future. The Seminoles had a triumphant season as both its boys and girls teams were champions in the first Seminole High Invitational.

Junior Billy Penick was individual champion in the Seminole County, Five Star Conference, district and regional races and finished the season with a 10th place finish at the state meet.

The girls team was runnerup in the county, conference and district meets and qualified for the state meet for the first time ever. The Lady Seminoles, ranked as high as fifth in the state at one time, finished 10th at the state meet to cap off a sensational season.

- Lake Mary's boys, in their first state meet ever, came through with a fourth place finish which is the best ever in the 4A meet by a Seminole County boys' team.

The Rams won the Seminole County championship and the Five Star Conference title for the second straight year. Lake Mary was also runnerup in the district and regional.

Along with having a fine cross country program, Lake Mary High School also ran off two successful meets, the conference and regionals. Lake Mary is hoping to be host of the state meet in two or three years.

- Lake Howell's girls, ranked first in the state most of the season, finished a disappointing fourth in the state meet but the Lady Silver Hawks won every other meet they entered in 1984. Coach Tom Hammontree has built a fantastically successful program in a very short time.

That included the county, conference, district and region titles. Sophomore Lisa Samockl had an exceptional season winning the county and conference individual titles, finishing second in the district and region (to state champion Kim Bovis of Winter Park) and sixth in the state which put her on the All-State First Team.

Lake Howell has lost just three meets in the last two years and, with a number of its runners returning and a fine crop of junior varsity runners moving up, the Hawks will be a force again in 1985.

- Although considered by some media to be an Orlando school, Trinity Prep competes in the Seminole County championships in both cross country and track. The Lady Saints have two of the finest runners in the state in Polltowicz and Sams and both will return next year. The Saints finished third in the state in 1983 and second in 1984 and they hope to go up another notch in 1985.

- Lake Brantley's girls were the surprise of the region meet as they put on an impressive surge to qualify for the state meet. The Lady Patriots have qualified in the 4A state meet every year of the school's existence except 1977.

Not every team from Seminole County made it to the state meet, but each team had its share of highlights and I'd like to dedicate this column to every athlete, coach and parent who helped make the 1984 cross country season a success.

Spokesman Won't Deny Gator 'Deal'

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — The Southeastern Conference executive committee scheduled a closed session today to determine whether Florida can retain its SEC title and whether it will be allowed to play in the Sugar Bowl.

SEC spokesman Steve Townsend said Monday that the questions would be treated as separate issues, but would not confirm reports that an agreement had been reached allowing the Gators to keep the league title but forsake the bowl.

Florida won the championship when it completed its SEC schedule undefeated, but the school faces three years probation for violation of NCAA rules and the conference could strip it of its title as well.

Those deciding Florida's fate at the meeting are SEC chairman, Dr. James McComas, president, Mississippi State University; Dr. Joab Thomas, president, University of Alabama; Dr. Wilford Bailey, faculty representative, Auburn University; Warner Alford, athletic director, University of Mississippi; Dr. William Powell, faculty representative, University of Georgia, and Sue Peamster, women's athletic director, University of Kentucky.

Also on the panel is Marshall Criser, president of the University of Florida, but voting in his place was Dr. Ed Bolling, president of the University of Tennessee.

A decision keeping Florida out of the Sugar Bowl would open the door for runner-up Auburn, if it can beat SEC rival Alabama in the season finale. An Auburn loss would put LSU in the Sugar Bowl.

Both the Orlando Sentinel and Birmingham News reported that an agreement had been discussed during a conference telephone call Sunday between members of the executive committee.

The Sentinel said an arrangement allowing Florida to remain in the SEC championship while another team represented the league in the Jan. 1 New Orleans bowl game would keep the Gators from suing the SEC.

The News said the SEC was reserving the right to further punish Florida once final NCAA action is made in the case, but that won't be until after the bowl games.

Florida was found guilty of 59 NCAA rules violations in September, ranging from spying on other teams' practices to providing illegal inducements to high school football prospects.

Florida appealed the NCAA action on grounds that the punishment, including three-year probation and the loss of 20 scholarships, is too severe. The punishment has been postponed until the NCAA council hears the appeal in January.

The NCAA charges led to the firing of Coach Charley Pell, who was replaced by offensive coordinator Glen Hall. Pell coached his first Florida team in 1979, having formerly been head coach at Clemson and Jacksonville State (Ala.).

Hall, a former Oklahoma assistant, was made the full-time head coach after the Gators beat Kentucky 25-17 last Saturday, giving Florida its first SEC football title in the 52-year history of the league.

Bates' 'Rafter Act' Earns Test Tonight

Sumter Brings 2 Leapers To Battle As Raiders Go For 5th Straight Win

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

For those of you who have marveled at the "Rafter Act" of Greg "Skywalker" Bates during the first four Seminole Community College basketball games, tonight's leap off against Sumter Community College should be something to behold. Tip-off is 7:30 and there is no charge for admission.

Sumter, which hails from Leesburg, has not one but two leapers who SCC coach Bill Payne said make Bates look like he's wearing cement boots. "Gerald Bedford jumps forever," said Payne about Sumter's 6-5 freshman forward from Tallahassee, Leon High. "Greg Bates will have to do his best skywalking to stay up with him."

Along with Bedford, Sumter has another springy player in 6-6 sophomore Wilfred Louigene from Miami Jackson High. "Those two guys get all of the rebounds," said Payne. "Sumter doesn't have a lot of depth but the kids they play are of good size."

After winning four straight, Payne is worried about a let-down. "We can't take these guys for lightly," said Payne. "They're probably the best coached team we'll play."

First-year coach George Bianchi, who coached at Armstrong State College in Georgia, employs a pressing defense and a control offense. "He does a great job with limited players," said Payne. "They will really get after us."

Sumter, which lost to Florida Junior, 97-79, Monday night, has a 2-3 record. Bedford, who had over 30 points against Central Florida, is joined by Louigene and 6-5 Eddie Williams on the front line. Jeff Lamp, a 5-10 guard from Tampa Catholic, plays the point while Rosa Matchett, a 6-3 sophomore, is the other guard.

The Raiders, fresh from a two-game weekend sweep which gave them the Raider Tournament title, moved into Payne's Power Rankings for the first time this year at the 10th position. Daytona Beach (No. 6) and Hillsborough (No. 7) were also first time entries.

Miami Dade North, which hasn't played yet, still holds the No. 1 spot. Pensacola (4-0), Florida College (3-1), Indian River (3-1) and Lake City (3-1) fill out the positions from No. 2 to No. 5, respectively.

SCC, 4-0, has beaten two of the top five teams but Payne said that is of no significance. "We beat them at home, so we'll see what happened when we play at their place," said the third-year coach. "We've played all of our games at home and it's definitely helped."

The Raiders have knocked off the Alumni (100-83), Florida College (93-85), Brevard (108-85) and Indian River (79-69). They are averaging 94.5 points per game while giving up just 75.5, according to statistics released by assistant coach Dean Smith Monday.

As would be expected, SCC has a decided edge in almost every category. The Raiders have a 168-127 rebounding edge, an 88-56 assist lead, and a 62-48 recovery difference. They have committed nine less turnovers (111-102) and 14 less fouls (79-93). The one category where they are lacking is blocked shots, 19-12. Nine of those came via 7-1 Kenny Roper of Indian River Saturday night.

Individually, sophomore Linny Grace is leading the way with 20 points per game. Grace has hit 30 of 54 floor shot for 55.6 percent and 20 of 26 free throws. Greg "Skywalker" Bates is next with 14.5 points per outing and Brent Baird is third with 10.5 ppg.

Bates, a 6-4 forward, has 38 rebounds for almost 10 a game. Slim Johnson, a 6-7 center, is next with 27 boards for almost seven per game. Point guard Mike Tolbert leads in assists with 24 or six a game while Grace is just behind with 23.

JUCO BITS — Coach Ileana Gallagher's Lady Raiders open their season at home tonight against Edison. Tip-off is 5 p.m. Pam Lee and Juana Coletti are the returning starters for SCC. They will be joined by ex-Lyman standouts Vikki McMurrer and Kim Lemon along with ex-Lake Howell star Tammy Johnson.

Sanford's Willie Mitchell and Fred Miller get back into action for Daytona Beach tonight when the Scots travel to Pompano Beach for a game with Broward Community College. Mitchell is starting at forward while Miller is playing third guard.

Tonight's halftime attraction at the SCC Health Center will be the Oviedo High School dance corps.

SCC's Mike Tolbert, right, applies the pressure to Terrence Gadsen.

Ali: There's Nothing Wrong With Me, At Least Mentally

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two months after being hospitalized and found to be suffering from Parkinson's disease, former heavyweight champion Muhammad Ali insists he has the disease under control and there is absolutely nothing wrong with his mental faculties.

To prove that his mind was clear and still full of ideas, Ali held an hour and 20 minute session with newsmen Monday and expounded on everything from sorry state of the heavyweight division to politics and, of course, religion.

In the city to accept the Rocky Marciano Award Monday night from the Downtown Athletic Club as part of its ninth annual "Salute to Boxing Greats," Ali started his press conference slowly, speaking barely above a whisper and needing help from his confidants to answer even the simplest of questions.

But once the session got rolling Ali's mind sharpened and he answered questions in a lucid, rapid fire manner, embellishing his answers at times with a magic trick or sound effects. Many of the answers, especially those related to his Islamic religion, everyone had heard before but he did not grope for them as many had feared he might.

He even tried one of his old put-ons, claiming that "certain leaders" were going to put up $20 million for him to fight Gerrie Coetzee in the Soviet Union, and that he was seriously contemplating the offer. Then he quickly added that he was joking, figuring that someone might take him seriously and create erroneous front page headlines.

Having just returned from Nigeria two days ago where he said "even 2-year-old children would cry out my name," the self-proclaimed "champion of all people" said he would be off to Saudi Arabia Wednesday and would visit many other countries in the coming months to spread the word of his religion.

"I'm going to King Faud and tell him about my program," said Ali. "I want to sit down with all the Moslem leaders and ask them to give me money and a super jet so I can go around the world and spread the Islamic religion and work for Allah. I figure it will take about $10 million to promulgate my idea. I want them to use me to reach the people. No one is more known in the world than I am."

Winston's Interception Return Blows Out Candles On Steelers

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Saints quarterback Richard Todd completed 18 of his 31 passes for 223 yards and celebrated his 31st birthday with a 27-24 victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers, breaking a New Orleans hex in Monday night games.

Todd tossed touchdown passes of 28 yards to Larry Hardy and 21 yards to Junior Miller as the Saints, 6-6, rallied for 14 points in the final period to capture the win.

But it was linebacker Dennis Winston who delivered the death blow to his former team by picking off a Mark Malone pass and rambling 47 yards down the sideline for a touchdown midway through the fourth quarter.

"I was elated because it was such a good feeling to look over there at my ex-head coach (Chuck Noll)," Winston said. "I think he really felt bad as far as his team losing, but I think deep down inside he knew we played as good as our team did."

The Saints gained their first Monday night victory in seven appearances and stayed in contention for an NFC wild-card playoff spot. Pittsburgh, 6-6, remained first in the AFC Central, two games ahead of Cincinnati.

New Orleans defensive end Bruce Clark recovered two fumbles and picked off another pass by Malone, who completed 10 of his 19 passes for 158 yards before being knocked out of the game with a concussion.

Gators, 'Noles Kickoff Changed

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The time of the Florida-Florida State football game was changed Monday so it can be televised nationally, said FSU officials.

The game, originally scheduled for 7 p.m. EST on Dec. 1, has been switched to 3:50 p.m. at Doak Campbell Stadium in Tallahassee. Eighth-ranked Florida, 8-1-1 and possibly the Southeastern Conference Champions, and 18th-ranked FSU 7-2-1 both have open dates this weekend.

"When you reach this point in the season the networks are looking closely at the teams with records that merit national exposure," FSU Athletic Director C.W. "Hootie" Ingram said. "This is a tribute to the kind of seasons both teams have had."

Florida won the conference championship by completing its league schedule undefeated.

Citrus: Georgia, Florida State

ORLANDO (UPI) — The Georgia Bulldogs apparently will meet the Florida State Seminoles in the Florida Citrus Bowl next month, officials said Monday.

Although official bowl bids cannot be accepted before 6 p.m. EST Saturday, Georgia Coach Vince Dooley told Citrus Bowl officials on Sunday that his players have voted to play in the Dec. 22 game.

Bowl officials also said they received positive indications that Florida State will accept an invitation and face Georgia in the game.

Georgia is 7-3 following consecutive losses to Florida and Auburn. The Bulldogs face Georgia Tech in their season finale Dec. 1.

Florida State is 7-2-1 and will host Florida on Dec. 1 to end the regular season.

Don Covey Traps Mice, 4-1

Angelo's Mice played one of their better games of the season in the Longwood Women's Softball League, but still came out on the short end of a 4-1 score to league-leading Don Covey.

The Mice trailed the league-leading Don Covey, 2-1, in the sixth inning and had the bases loaded with no outs. The power of the Mice batting order was coming up — the third, fourth and fifth hitters — but they failed to produce a run. Two outs and at home and a fly ball left the Mice trapped. Covey scored two more runs in the bottom of the sixth to wrap it up.

Losing pitcher Connie Walburger outthrew her rival — veteran Ruth Tempesta, allowing just five hits to seven for the Mice. However, two walks, an error, a sacrifice fly and hits by Linda and Marcie Lewis accounted for the four Covey runs.

The lone Angelo run came on hits by Terri Mann and Terri Coe in the fourth. Mann led the attack with a pair of safeties. Other Angelo hitters were Renee Kelley, Connie Walburger, Theresa Walburger, Tina Bennington and Coe.

Pacers Win Without Superstar

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Indiana Pacers don't have a superstar, but Coach George Irvine is confident they can win without one.

The Chicago Bulls found out why Monday night when seven Pacers scored in double figures to defeat the Bulls, 137-120. Rookie Vern Fleming put in a season-high 26 points to lead Indiana while Jerry Sichting tied his season-high of 22.

"I thought all of our people played well," Irvine said. "Our offense is a live-man motion game and we don't go to any one man. We just look for the open man and you saw how that worked tonight."

Gooden By Plenty For Top Rookie

NEW YORK (UPI) — Dwight Gooden speaks softly and carries big leverage. Gooden appeared Monday at a Shea Stadium news conference saluting him as the 1984 National League Rookie of the Year. His answers were amiable and polite, if not profound. He proposed only one ground rule.

"Dwight has requested that the questions be limited to the award itself and not concern the negotiations," began Mets vice president Al Harazin. "We are continuing to talk to his agent, Jim Neader. We are talking to him next week. We know it won't be easy. But we will reach agreement."

What the Mets were admitting was that Gooden, with all he accomplished last season, sits in a wonderful bargaining position. He made the $40,000 rookie salary last year. Now the Mets will pay dearly for producing their second straight Rookie of the Year. Darryl Strawberry won it in 1983.

Gooden averaged better than a strikeout an inning, posted a 17-9 record with a 2.60 ERA and a major-league rookie record of 276 strikeouts in 218 innings. He became the youngest player ever to win the award.

Gooden received 23 of 24 first-place votes from members of the Baseball Writers Association of America — two from each NL city. He easily beat Juan Samuel of Philadelphia, who received the other first-place vote.

"In spring training I didn't even know whether I was going to make the ballclub or wind up in Triple A," Gooden said. "Some of the veteran players told me I was going to make it, others told me I would be called up at the All-Star break."

"It's an honor to be here and accept this award. I've just been taking it easy and I'm excited about winning."

Gooden finished with 118 points to Samuel's 56.

Others receiving votes were: Orel Hershiser of Los Angeles (15 points), Dan Gladden of San Francisco (9), Ron Darling of New York (3), Carmelo Martinez of San Diego (3), Jeff Stone of Philadelphia (1) and Terry Pendleton of St. Louis (1).

Each writer was asked to vote for three players and points were distributed on a 5-3-1 basis.

Gooden is the fourth Met to win NL Rookie of the Year. He joins outfielder Strawberry and pitchers Jon Matlack (1972) and Tom Seaver (1967).

Few first-year pitchers — especially one as young — have been as impressive as Gooden. Only 19 years old during the season, he showed remarkable control to accompany a fastball well over 90 mph and a whip-cracking curve.

"Gooden is 19 going on 30," said Pittsburgh manager Chuck Tanner. "Nothing bothers him."

"Slang for a curveball is 'Uncle Charlie,'" said the radio commentator Joe Garigiola. "Gooden's should be named 'Sir Charles.'"

Only one year out of Class A competition, Gooden made the Mets' starting rotation with a strong performance in spring training and continued to get better.

BYU Receives Reward, Gets 1st No. 1 Ranking

Football

NEW YORK (UPI) — Unlike the fallen college football powers that have preceded it, Brigham Young University has avoided a major upset this year and its reward is its first-ever No. 1 ranking.

The Cougars Monday received 30 of a possible 40 first-place votes and 581 total points to vault two places in the ratings. Oklahoma State had two first-place votes and 509 points to finish second and Oklahoma received two top selections to finish next with 495 points.

In addition to the top three teams, Texas (3), Florida (2) and Washington (1) collected first-place votes.

BYU, the nation's only undefeated major college team at 11-0, became the sixth team this year to reach the top spot but many feel the Rocky Mountain school doesn't deserve the honor. Critics point out that while the traditional powers are fighting it out in the Big 10, Big Eight or Pacific-10, BYU is fattening itself up on Western Athletic Conference competition.

BYU coach LaVell Edwards doesn't buy that. He thinks the Cougars have gotten "somewhat of a bum rap" for their so-called soft schedule.

"The WAC has improved a great deal, and look at the upsets," he said. "Everybody is beating everybody this year."

The Cougars are No. 1 because they have won the games they were supposed to. The other top-ranked teams this year can't say that.

"You look at a Syracuse beating Nebraska, a Kansas beating Oklahoma, a Houston beating Texas and you have to feel no one has an automatic claim to No. 1 this year," Edwards said. "The talent has evened out throughout the country and we're the only unbeaten team left."

Should BYU, which is headed for the Holiday Bowl, win the national championship, it would mark the first time in 18 years the nation's No. 1 team has not played in a major bowl. Notre Dame won the title in 1966 and at that time did not elect to play in bowls. The national championship was then awarded before bowl games.

BYU ran its winning streak to 22 games — the nation's longest — with Saturday's 24-17 victory over Utah. The Cougars became No. 1 after last week's top two teams, Nebraska and South Carolina, were upset.

The Cornhuskers lost to Oklahoma 17-7 to fall to eighth while the Gamecocks were shocked 38-21 by Navy and landed in the ninth slot.

Hawthorne Has Enough Air To Hold Off Kinley

Auto Racing

NEW SMYRNA BEACH — Severely impaired by a quickly deflating tire, young Casey Hawthorne still managed to hold off state champ "Wild Bill" Kinley by less than half a hood to win the street stock main event Saturday night at the New Smyrna Speedway.

Following Sanford's Hawthorne and Osteen's Kinley were Sanford's Joey Warmack and third, early leader Linda Brooks and second heat winner Ted Mitchem.

Getting ready for the Seventh Annual "Florida Cracker 200" Late Model Championship, David Rogers easily won the 50-lap late model feature.

Driving the Wayne Densch Budweiser Firebird, Rogers, who started in sixth spot, was in front after only one lap and quickly put some distance between him and the rest of the field.

Bruce Lawrence gamely fought his way up to finish in the runner-up position ahead of Greg Froemming, Steve Burgess and Tim Noonan. Rounding out the top ten were Chuckie Lee, newcomer Billy Bechtelheimer, LeRoy Porter, who had an off night because of a flat tire plus transmission problems, and John Massey.

Holding off a strong challenge from rookie Marc Silis, Rick Lokey scored another thundercar feature win. Third to fifth were Glenn Nations, John King and Granny Tatroe.

Advance Region Tickets On Sale At Lake Mary

Lake Mary athletic director Bill Moore announced that tickets for the Lake Mary-Winter Park region football championship will be on sale at the high school until noon Wednesday. Tickets are $3.

The Rams, who finished the regular season with a 28-10 win over Oviedo Friday, concluded the season with a 9-1 record in coach Harry Nelson's second season.

Lake Mary, champion of the Five Star Conference, takes on powerful Winter Park at 8 p.m. Friday at Showalter Field. The Wildcats, coached by Larry Gergley, swept to nine straight wins after losing their opener to Lakeland.

Winter Park, the Metro Conference champion, is defending region kingpin. The Wildcats whipped Apopka in an exciting matchup last year in Apopka.

IN BRIEF

Nicaraguans Continue To Prepare For U.S. Invasion

United Press International
 Marxist-led Nicaragua could provoke an armed conflict with the United States by taking action "that threatens the security in this hemisphere," a State Department official says.
 But Deputy Secretary of State Kenneth Dam said Monday the American public would not support an armed U.S. intervention in Nicaragua at this time.
 At Mexico's Pacific Coast resort of Manzanillo, closed-door talks between U.S. and Nicaraguan envoys aimed at easing tension between the two countries headed into their second day today.
 In Nicaragua, invasion fever continued although somewhat abated from the days immediately following the U.S. elections when reports of Soviet MIG-21s being delivered to Managua were leaked to the media.
 The Soviet T-55 and T-54 tanks positioned throughout Managua last week "have been moved to other strategic zones in Managua," said a soldier armed with an AK-47 machine gun at the helm of a tank.
 Soldiers and health officials went door-to-door through Managua Monday giving civilians crash courses in military and first-aid techniques in case of a U.S. invasion.

British Miners Returning To Work

LONDON (UPI) — A record number of miners defied Britain's bitter 8-month-old coal strike and thousands more were expected to return to work by the end of the week to qualify for a Christmas bonus.
 Despite isolated clashes between police and pickets, the state-run National Coal Board said 2,282 men reported to work Monday.
 "This is a very big return to work, and if it wasn't for the mob violence and intimidation I think the majority of miners would be back at work," Energy Secretary Peter Walker said Monday of the record return of workers.

Social Security Voluntary?

Administration Distances Itself From Report

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House says it is not considering making Social Security voluntary, but a Democratic spokesman says the proposal made in an outside report distributed to Cabinet members is the "hard core Reagan line."
 The Social Security recommendation was one of 1,300 included in a massive report, to be published next month, by the conservative Heritage Foundation. It was distributed at a Cabinet meeting last week.
 In general, the foundation, which has strong ties to the administration, recommends that the government go on a spending diet and farm out many of its current duties to private business or the states.
 But White House spokesman

Marlin Fitzwater, in California with President Reagan, said Monday the report "has no official standing," although it is "useful" in budget deliberations. He said he did not know whether Reagan had read it.
 Of the report's Social Security recommendation, Fitzwater said, "It has been on the record a thousand times. ... We have no plans to change Social Security — period."
 But Chris Matthews, a spokesman for House Speaker Thomas O'Neill, D-Mass., said the idea of making Social Security voluntary has "been the hard core Reagan line since 1964," when he nominated Barry Goldwater for president at the Republican National Convention.
 "Every expert on the subject has said making the system voluntary would destroy it," Matthews said. "The reason is that many of the people who need it most would not be participating because of their own economic circumstances."
 The report's Social Security section, by former White House aide Peter Ferrara, recommends workers be allowed gradually to set up their own retirement accounts, getting a dollar-for-dollar income tax credit.

 Because workers would continue to pay payroll taxes, current benefits would not be affected, the report said. But as more workers opted out of the program, "Social Security expenditures would be reduced dramatically, allowing room for sharp reductions in payroll taxes."
 While the administration works on reform legislation, which must be approved by Congress, the report urges a few immediate changes — raising allowable Individual Retirement Account contributions, letting non-working spouses set up IRAs and letting workers buy IRAs for life, disability and old-age health coverage.

...Transit

 own cars rather than be involved in car-pooling or bus transportation and mass transit would suffer the same fate.
 "Light rail is tremendously expensive to build and it is a system bolted to the ground. The geography of this area operates against a viable light rail system," he said. For a light rail system to work, Kirchoff said a large population has to be confined within a small area.

 "He said where mass transit works is where the area is confined, like New York, an island, or other large cities with the ocean on one side and mountains on the other.
 "We aren't confined by either an ocean or mountains," he said.
 "These matters should be looked at very carefully before spending big dollars."
 The county's acting public works director, Larry Sellers, answered questions on whether Seminole's Expressway Authority should be combined with Orange County's.

 Sellers said it might be possible "if Seminole County could be assured it would be equitably represented and would not have to pay increased gasoline taxes or fees to benefit Orange County."
 And Kirchoff said, "Seminole County is not where the problem is. It is Orange County." He added that Seminole is not interested in giving away its power of eminent domain.
 "And our taxpayers want to make sure their money is being spent in our county," he said.
 Altamonte Springs City Commissioner Lee Constantine, pointed to a comprehensive traffic study done in his city. He said Altamonte's number one problem is state Road 436. "436 is always in the middle of everything that happens in Altamonte Springs," he said.

 Lake Mary City Manager Kathy Rice said Lake Mary is already dependent to a large extent on Seminole County which has control if its major road — Lake Mary Boulevard.
 "We have no representation now, what will happen to us with a super agency?" she asked.

...Trial

 to talk to men about what happened.
 During the child's testimony, Caulder, slim with thinning wavy hair, a blond mustache and wire-rimmed glasses, sat calmly playing with an elastic band. He occasionally flipped through legal papers and whispered with his attorneys.
 Gerald Rutberg, Caulder's attorney, asked Salfi to declare a mistrial because of the mother, during prosecution questioning, said Caulder physically abused her. Salfi denied the motion stating it was the defense who originally brought up the issue and that the defense had the right to pursue it.

 Salfi said he did not think that the testimony about the mother's physical abuse would "inflame" the jury.
 The report of sexual abuse of the child surfaced when the mother and Caulder ended a relationship, according to testimony. The mother said she was shocked when it was alleged Caulder had abused the girl.
 "We had decided to split up. I never thought he would do anything like that."
 The woman cried when she told the jury that she had been sexually abused by her father as a child. She said he died before he was sent to prison.

 If convicted, Caulder faces life in prison.

 p.m. when the 11-year-old was riding with her father on a city bike path beside Range Line Road near the state Road 434. She was hit by a truck coming out of a filling station.
 Wait also said a van backed into him while he was jogging Sunday and the police "laughed it off."
 "There seems to be a lackadaisical non-caring attitude with the four officers that I've talked to in the last 24 hours."

Girl Should Bid Bully Boyfriend 'Goodbye'

DEAR ABBY: There's this guy I've been going with for nearly three years. Well, the problem is that he hits me. He started last year. He has done it only four or five times, but each time it was worse than the time before. Every time he hit me it was because he thought I was flirting. (I wasn't.)

Last time, he accused me of coming on to a friend of his. First he called me a lot of dirty names, then he punched my face so hard it left me with a black eye and black-and-blue bruises over half my face. It was very noticeable, so I told my folks that the car I was riding in stopped suddenly and my face hit the windshield.

Abby, he's 19 and I'm 17, and already I feel like an old married lady who lets her husband push her around.

I haven't spoken to him since this happened. He keeps begging me to give him one more chance. I think I've given him enough chances. Should I keep avoiding him or what?

Dear Abby

Our invitation reads as follows:

SCORECARD	SHE
HE	10 years
7 years with showgirl	with engineer
7 years with tennis player	with ole fatso
13 years with blonde	23 years

So, 27 years plus 23 years totals 50, doesn't it? You are invited to our 50th Fool's Gold Anniversary celebration!

Abby, over 100 guests helped us celebrate this happy excuse for a party. Two of the "ex's" were invited, but only one could make it.

MAY AND MARSHALL R., VICTORIA, B.C., CANADA

DEAR BLACK AND BLUE: Avoid him forever. Guys who punch their girlfriends and get away with it become wife beaters. Say goodbye to this bully and make it stick.

DEAR ABBY: A reader signed "Pushing for the Gold" said his wife refused to celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary because they had not been married to each other for 50 years. (He had three different wives in 46 years, but she had been married to him for only four years.)

That woman doesn't know what she's missing!

My husband of 13 years came up with this idea six years ago, and it's been copied by many of our friends.

Use Soy Products To Supply Needed Calcium

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am concerned about my 6-year-old granddaughter. She has an allergy to any milk product and has been allergic to milk all her life. I feel that she should be taking extra calcium each day, other than the One-A-Day vitamin her mother is giving her.

DEAR READER — If you mean One-A-Day brand vitamins, she is not getting enough calcium. The standard product contains NO calcium. One-A-Day Maximum Formula contains 129.6 mg. of calcium, and your granddaughter needs at least 800 mg. of calcium a day.

areas of the skin. It may be a manifestation of an allergy, or it can be a contact dermatitis or a disease that has not progressed to a point that permits a definitive diagnosis.

You may want to see an allergist as well. I can't recommend that you try self-medication, since the condition will be hard enough to manage without adding that confusion.

We talk a lot about the calcium needs of middle-aged women to prevent bone loss (osteoporosis), but calcium is equally important in the developing and growing years. It is important to provide adequate nutrition to promote skeletal growth. A good large skeleton helps to prevent osteoporosis later in life.

Your granddaughter has the years of important bone growth ahead of her. The calcium is also important for her teeth and the bone development around the roots of her teeth in the jawbone. Diets with inadequate calcium can lead to bad bones or inadequate bone around the teeth, leading to periodontal disease (pyorrhea).

A milk allergy is different from lactose intolerance. The allergy is usually to the milk protein. Lactose intolerance is caused by the absence of an enzyme, resulting in a decreased ability to digest milk sugar (lactose). Your granddaughter may be able to use one of the soybean milk substitutes that does not include any milk products or milk components. Look in the infant section of your grocery store for some soybean milk substitutes you can use.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Three doctors have told me I have eczema and there is no known cure, only treatment to control it.

DEAR READER — "Eczema" is often used to describe a skin condition of unknown cause. It usually means inflammatory

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

The latest offering to cross my desk for review is by the fine British writer Victor Mollo. "Winning Bridge" (Beaufort Books) teaches expert bridge with a lighthearted approach that should appeal to The first section of the book deals with various problems that confront declarer at trick one.

South won the ace of spades, played a heart to the ace and another to the queen. When East showed out, South played a diamond to the king which held. Next he played the club queen. West won the ace of clubs, cashed the ace of diamonds, and played a low spade to his partner's jack. It required no great brilliance for East now to give West a diamond ruff.

Der played too hastily on the opening lead. If he allows the king to win the trick, the defenders will be unable to maintain their communications to set the contract. Playing low at trick one is sound technique. It often costs nothing, and it may, as, sever the transportation between East and West.

Mind you, it may not always be right to duck the first trick. What is always wrong is to play to the first trick without planning ahead for the remainder of the deal.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY NOVEMBER 21, 1984

The year ahead could be quite unusual because you will reap greater rewards from seeds sown in the past than you might from your newer ventures. Don't write off past efforts.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) The secret to success in your endeavors today is to focus on their positive aspects and possibilities. Don't give negative thoughts a chance to dilute your hopes. Major changes are in store for Scorpios in the coming year. Send for your predictions today. Mail $1 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) It looks like you might reap some dividends today from a situation controlled by others. Don't make waves if all is going smoothly.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

A hope has a good possibility of becoming a reality today if you go after your dream in a pragmatic fashion. Be a realistic visionary.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Try to be neither obvious nor devious about your intentions today. If you're too transparent, it will tip your hand. If you're devious, you'll lose your respect.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Do not play a lone hand today, especially if you're involved in something beneficial. Share any good that befalls you with as many friends as possible.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Changes are in the offing today where an important matter is concerned. They can be used to your advantage, so be prepared to move with the tide.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) In partnership situations today, talk everything over in detail before either party renders a judgment or takes a specific action. Two heads are better than one.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) If things have not been to your liking at work, take positive measures today to improve conditions. Your destiny is in your hands.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Someone who normally opposes your views can be swung around to your way of thinking today. Use your powers of persuasion to make this person an ally.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Be industrious today because you will derive pride from your accomplishments. A good time to complete projects around the home you've thus far left unfinished.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Today you could be rather lucky in involvements that contain slight elements of chance. Be bold, but do not take outlandish risks.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You are presently in a cycle where you can add to resources and increase earnings. Opportunities are around you, but you must be alert to perceive them.

Full Decorating Service
At Philips Decorating Den

Philips Decorating Den provides complete decorating service for interiors including, walls, floors, upholstery, custom bedspreads and window treatments. The window treatments available include woven woods, verticals and mini-blinds, custom draperies, cornices and valances. They also carry curtain rods.

The experienced decorators at Philips Decorating Den attend shows and seminars to keep up with the latest trends, colors and styles and are glad to share their decorating expertise with you without charge. They will even be happy to hold decorator clinics for any interested clubs or groups.

They will be glad to bring a selection of samples to your home by appointment — evenings and weekends as well as days — and give you a free estimate. In this way they can coordinate the colors in the lights and surroundings where the fabrics will be used. They serve customers in Seminole, Volusia and Orange counties and even decorate condos at the beach.

The decorators will not try to impose their tastes upon you. They work with the customers and their particular lifestyle within the confines of their budget to create beautiful surroundings in which they can enjoy living and entertaining.

They offer professionally installed wallpaper and have a large library of wallpaper sample books from which to choose. For do-it-yourselfers wishing to do their own decorating, fabrics and wallpaper can be purchased by the yard. You'll find quality names such as Waverly, Schumacher, and Bloomcraft.

Give Philips Decorating Den a call at 322-3315 or 322-7642 and they will have one of the decorators contact you. Decorating Den is the only national decorating franchise and is able to offer better prices because of the quantity buying by the organization, which also provides a guarantee nationally.

In business in Sanford since 1951, Wally and Jane Philips have a complete dry cleaning service for personal clothing as well as carpets and draperies in your home. If your draperies need cleaning, they will come in and take them down, clean them and rehang them again.

They specialize in cleaning wedding gowns and can seal them up for storage.

They have a cold storage vault for furs and off season garments. With the winter season on the way, now is the time to have your furs cleaned and glazed. They also do alterations and remodeling on furs and clean restore leathers and suedes.

Workmanship and service are completely guaranteed.

Philips Decorating Den is open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday. Jane invites you to come in and browse. "If we don't have what you want, we'll find it," she added.

Personalized Service
At Blair Insurance Agency

Steve Blair, office manager of the Blair Insurance Agency, says his agency's business philosophy goes out on every letter — "Personalized service is our business."

"My clients are like a family to me," Blair says. That personal touch, combined with the agency's 30 years of experience, is what makes the Blair Agency a solid insurance agency its customers can depend on.

Blair has 18 different companies he deals with, he said, enabling him to shop around for the best deals, tailored to the needs of his customers.

Serving Sanford for 27 years, the Blair Agency, located at 2510A Oak Ave., Sanford, sells personal injury protection insurance, but recommends liability.

Blair said PIP, as it is commonly called, is cheaper insurance but is "self-centered protection which provides nothing for your fellow man."

Liability, which he said provides better coverage for all concerned in an accident situation, is made more affordable at the Blair Agency.

Steve Blair, president of Blair Insurance Agency

Blair said he also specializes in helping drivers who have trouble getting insurance due to too many tickets or accidents.

"Let me have all the bad drivers in Sanford," he says. "I will help you out."

But drivers with tough records aren't the only ones who will benefit from Blair's service. Drivers with stainless histories will like the service and savings they get at the agency, Blair said.

They will like dealing with the Blair Agency staff, which is trained and educated to give their clients the best service. And because the agency isn't a high volume agency, Blair said it treats each customer in a special way.

"If I service my accounts honestly and properly, I don't have to worry about money. Being honest is my profit in the community. You're not going to find anybody more honest from 9 to 5 than right here," he says.

Call Blair at 323-7710 or 323-3866 and compare.

The Rev. David Bohannon stands on the future site of First Assembly of God, Sanford.

First Assembly Offers Ministries For All Ages

The Rev. David Bohannon and the rapidly growing congregation of First Assembly of God, now located at 304 W. 27th St., Sanford, are building for the future on a site on West State Road 46.
 They are looking forward to expanding the church's multi-faceted ministry on the new 12 1/2-acre site. The new facilities will house one of the most dynamic and life-changing churches in the Sanford area, where the theme is "We Believe in Miracles." The Rev. Ken Fleming is the administrator in charge of the building expansion program.
 First Assembly was started in May 1935 and has experienced growth all along. This new site will be the fourth location for the church. Through the years many missionaries, pastors, and other churches have been launched through the visionary people of First Assembly.

The last two works (both now thriving) are the New Covenant Fellowship in Winter Springs and the Freedom Assembly in Sanford.
 First Assembly now has vibrant life-giving ministries for all ages, such as: The Light House for teenagers; Life Line for young adults of college and career age; the Royal Rangers for boys 4-12 years; Missionettes for girls, 4-12 years; an Adult Bible Study on the Book of Revelation. All of these meet each Wednesday at 7 p.m. There are also Home Fellowship groups that meet throughout the week and a Singles Alive group that meets each Friday night at 7:30 p.m. in the church's Fellowship Hall. Pastor Alden Reed is the youth minister.
 First Assembly also offers a Spanish language service each Sunday morning with Sunday School at 9:30 a.m. and worship service at 10:30 a.m. and is actively involved in the prison ministry.

The church offers Christ-centered education through New Life Christian School (kindergarten through 12th grade) with an enrollment now at 110 students. Incorporated within the academics are God, the Bible, morality, and a strong family emphasis. Pastor Dave Evans is the principal.
 In addition to all of this, the anointed Word of God is proclaimed each Sunday at 8 a.m., 10:30 a.m. with Sunday School for ALL ages at 9:30 a.m. The evening worship begins at 7 p.m. A nursery is provided for each and every service.
 Applications have already been submitted to the Federal Communications Commission for both low-power (20-mile range) radio and television licenses for future use so that the "Glory of the Lord" will cover the Sanford area, said Pastor Bohannon.
 He said he expects construction on the new facilities to begin in late December and to be completed by September, 1985.
 "Don't wait until then to join us, come and experience life and your own miracle NOW," he said.

Need A Handyman? Call C8 Complete Home Maintenance

Do you have odd jobs around your home or business, but have been putting off doing them because you don't have the time, inclination or know-how? Perhaps you are a woman alone or a man who would prefer playing golf or fishing to mowing the lawn or making repairs.

Sometimes when you only have a small job, it's hard to find an old-fashioned "handyman" to give you a hand.

If you need a handyman for clean up, minor repairs or lawn work, C8 Complete Home Maintenance Service could be the answer to your prayers.

"No job is too small for us," said Bob Cullum, owner of C8 Complete Home Maintenance Service. "Three of my sons, Danny D., David B. and Billy T., work with me part time and between the four of us we can do most anything."

The business has a county and city license and is insured. All their work is guaranteed.

A U.S. Navy veteran, Bob was raised in Sanford and graduated from high school here in 1946. His dad, M.L. Cullum worked for Chase and Co. Bob first went into the maintenance business in California after getting out of the Navy. Before returning to Sanford, he was in golf course maintenance in Avon Park.

They do minor repairs such as replacing doors, windows or even washers in your leaky faucets or fix a stopped up sink.

They clean houses inside and out and even wash windows. They will vacuum or clean walls and floors and do minor paint touch-up jobs.

They will do all types of yard work including, mowing, weeding, edging, planting, fertilizing, or cleaning out awales.

"We'll do anything you want done," said Bob. Call 321-5850.

Japan Moves To Open Market To Imports

TOKYO (UPI) — Faced with a new flareup of trade friction with the United States, the government of Prime Minister Yasuhiro Nakasone moved Tuesday to work out new measures intended to open up Japan's market to foreign imports, officials said.

Government officials said Nakasone ordered his foreign trade administrator, Keijiro Murata, to work out promptly a new market-opening package aimed both at Japan's major trading partners and developing nations.

"The Ministry of International Trade and Industry should take the initiative to study the further opening of Japanese markets even if it may force sacrifice on Japan," Nakasone was quoted as telling Murata.

The government earlier said it plans to implement a new package aimed primarily at placating developing countries, particularly Southeast Asian nations, by lowering import tariffs on their major export goods.

The officials said Nakasone decided to include measures for the United States and other industrialized nations in anticipation of the possible rekindling of trade friction with America.

Japanese Ambassador to Washington Yoshio Okawara warned the Reagan administration will step up its demand for an opening of Japanese markets when he returned to Tokyo last week.

Nakasone wants to outline the new package to President Reagan when the two meet in the United States early next year. The two leaders have agreed to meet on the U.S. Pacific coast early in January, according to diplomatic sources.

Japanese officials were worried about the recurrence of trade friction with Washington in view of Japan's growing trade surplus this year.

They said Japan's trade surplus in fiscal 1984, ending next March, is expected to hit a record of more than $30 billion.

Trade ministry sources said the market-opening package will concentrate on computer and communications equipment and lower import tariffs on aluminum products.

Asian Women In Electronics Exposed To Risk

GENEVA (UPI) — Young women workers in Southeast Asia's booming electronics industry are underpaid and exposed to health risks, the International Labor Organization said Monday.

It reported that 9 out of 10 employees in the semi-conductor industry are women between 18 and 23 years old who are chosen because they have the "small and nimble fingers" needed for assembling tiny chips.

But they receive less pay for similar work than men and their eyesight is suffering, the U.N. labor agency said in a study.

"After several years, eyesight deteriorates to the extent that the workers cannot continue," it said.

A South Korean survey of microscope work found that 47 percent of workers were nearsighted and 19 percent suffered from astigmatism, although they had perfect vision when hired a few years earlier.

"Female microchip workers are also exposed to suspected carcinogens while some of the chemicals used may impair their reproductive systems," the study said.

Often, it said, the young women either are unaware of the risks or disregard them. Many refuse to wear protective masks because it slows them down.

The ILO said genuinely independent and worker-controlled trade unions rarely exist in the region. The young women should "become aware of the strength which lies in unionization," it said.

N.Y. Phone Company Asks 16.3 % Hike

NEW YORK (UPI) — New York Telephone Monday asked for $775 million in rate increases to take effect in late 1985, hiking most phone bills by 16.3 percent.

In June, the Public Service Commission granted the utility a $339 million hike, which included boosting the cost of a pay telephone call from 10 cents to 25 cents.

The proposal includes a charge for late payment, increases in hooking up phone lines to homes, ending discounts on calls made by the clergy and hikes in calls made with help of an operator.

The company blamed the need for an increase on competition from other phone manufacturers and long-distance companies stimulated by the breakup of the Bell system last January.

The average home phone bill would rise from $25.52 to $29.67 if the Public Service Commission gives a nod to the request, which would take effect October 1985.

The breakup part of the Federal Communications Commission effort to deregulate the phone industry.

"To compete, rates for competitive can no longer carry subsidies," said William Ferguson, the company's president. "Underpriced services must be increased to more closely cover costs."

Ferguson said that previous rate hikes were inadequate and the company needs "a higher rate of return."

FAA Delays PBA Recertification

NAPLES (UPI) — Provincetown-Boston Airline, grounded a week ago for safety violations, will not get its planes back in the air Tuesday as previously announced, officials said Monday.

The nation's largest commuter carrier was grounded by the Federal Aviation Administration Nov. 10 for serious safety violations that included improper pilot licensing.

PBA Chairman Edwin J. Putzell said Monday the Thanksgiving holiday would delay recertification of the 34-year-old airline until at least Friday. But he added, "we fully intend to be in the air by the end of the holiday period."

An FAA spokesman said PBA officials still have to submit a revised operations manual and a revised maintenance manual.

"There's hasn't been enough completed that was scheduled to be completed," FAA spokesman Jack Barker said. "It doesn't appear they'll have their certificate today."

The airline had hoped to get its small planes flying to several cities Tuesday morning. It has not announced yet when it will be able to get its larger planes, which fall under different, more complex FAA regulations, recertified.

"We've been working literally around the clock to rewrite our manuals and retrain our pilots in accordance with the FAA's requirements," Putzell said in a statement.

Putzell, 70, became interim chairman of the airline last week after former chairman John Van Arsdale, 39, had his pilot's license lifted by the FAA and resigned as chairman.

Kids Recant Stories Of Sex Murders

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UPI) — Two boys who told investigators of murders committed by a child sex ring recanted their stories because they grew tired of repeating a "small lie" that "got bigger and bigger," reports said.

An investigation prompted by the stories collapsed when the children said they had lied about witnessing the murders, according to television and newspaper reports. The boys, ages 11 and 12, began telling authorities in July of children murdered by pornographers in Jordan, Minn., the Minneapolis Star and Tribune said in a copy-right story today. The tales included one of a child who was cut up by adults, went into convulsions and bled to death over a bathtub.

Earlier this month, the boys admitted they had lied as authorities prepared to search the Minnesota River near Jordan for two bodies that allegedly were dumped there in the summer of 1983. The search was never conducted.

One source said the boys caved in from "battle fatigue" after trying to remember what they had said and what had really happened, the newspaper reported.

Another source told the newspaper the boys, confronted by pressure from authorities for more details, decided the investigators did not believe them. The Minnesota Bureau of Criminal Apprehension announced Nov. 14 it was dropping the murder investigation.

Scott County prosecutor Kathleen Morris dropped abuse charges Oct. 15 against 21 Jordan-area residents charged in two alleged child sex abuse rings. She said she had taken the action to protect a then-secret murder investigation.

Two other people charged in the case had been acquitted. The alleged ringleader pleaded guilty to 10 counts of having sex with children.
