

Elder Springs Minister On Vacation

Visiting speakers and lay members will supply the pulpit at Elder Springs Baptist Church in the absence of Rev. B. Hamilton Griffin who is away on a two week vacation camping trip through the state with his family.

Speaking this Sunday morning will be Kenneth W. McIntosh, prominent local attorney and churchman and Sunday evening Ernest Wright, Sanford fireman and an Elder Springs deacon, will conduct the service.

Midweek prayer meetings will be directed by deacons of the church with C. W. Ergle, chairman, in charge of the schedule.

Both morning and evening service on Sunday, July 10, will be conducted by Rev. M. D. Jackson of Geneva. Rev. Jackson has been in the ministry for 41 years and is in his 22nd year as Recording Statistical Secretary for the Florida Baptist Convention.

Rev. Griffin will return to his pulpit July 26.

Business Seen Melting Down Iron Curtain

BOSTON (UPI) — Doing business with the Russians will be "old hat" for American firms within 10 years, a New England industrialist believes.

Thomas W. Chesterton, treasurer of the Chesterton Packing & Seal Co., thinks this will happen because "people on the wrong side of the Iron Curtain are demanding quality products." To meet these demands, the Soviet bloc will require American products, he feels.

Chesterton returned recently from a trip through Russia and the Iron Curtain countries looking for business.

"We can melt down the Iron Curtain and thaw the Cold War by increasing our trade with the Soviet bloc nations," he said. "They need our goods, and we need growing markets."

Pinecrest Assembly Sets Bible School

No two stations are alike in the Moscow subway. These stations are decorated with polished marble, mosaics and statuary, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Two Senators Hit Floor In Tiff Over Collins

GOP Sweep In Fall Seen By Goldwater

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, supremely confident the Republicans will hand him their presidential nomination next week, today predicted a GOP election sweep next November— from court house to the White House.

Although he conceded that "we have a tough job ahead of us," the Arizona senator said the Republicans would heal their convention wounds and unite to win a resounding victory over President Johnson.

Goldwater, odds-on favorite to take the GOP nomination from Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, made the remarks in a statement issued by his headquarters here while he was flying to this convention city.

The senator planned to deliver it at San Francisco International Airport where his backers planned a colorful greeting calculated to outdo the welcome accorded to Scranton there Wednesday.

The statement, exuding confidence, said Goldwater was confident a unified Republican party would leave here late next week to "beat Lyndon Baines Johnson and win the presidency of the United States."

State Chairman To Meet Barry

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Florida GOP Chairman Tom Fairfield Brown plans to meet with Sen. Barry Goldwater today or tomorrow and may announce his support for the Arizona senator.

Florida Republican sources said such an announcement by Brown would probably swing seven or eight more delegates into the Goldwater camp.

Brown declined to speculate on what effect such an announcement would have on the state's unpledged slate. Florida has 34 delegates, the largest group in the south aside from Texas, and only two at-large delegates now are pledged to Goldwater.

North Orlando Reinstates Police Force

A volunteer police department for the Village of North Orlando was reinstated Wednesday on a temporary basis pending future council action on proposals for the creation of a permanent organization.

Proposals, submitted by Henry Ward at council request, have been taken under advisement.

Volunteers sworn in Wednesday were Ward, Bob Stephenson, Harvey Greenay and Donald Wilcox who immediately advised that there will be strict enforcement of all traffic laws within the village and that no "warning tickets will be issued."

Sharon Lucille River, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. River of 2400 Summerlin Ave., has received her associate in science degree from South Georgia College, Douglas, Ga.

Sentimentality Blamed For Burial Racket

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A leading theologian today deplored the "fearful sentimentality in the face of death" which leads some undertakers to prey upon the bereaved.

Canon Howard A. Johnson of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York labeled some funeral directors as "ghoulish grave-diggers, traffickers in death and exploiters of bereavement."

He added that these persons are in the minority and that most morticians perform their tasks honestly.

But he said he doesn't blame the erring undertakers so much as he does American religious institutions which "no longer teach our parishioners the art of dying."

"If Christians and Jews knew even the rudiments of biblical teaching, no funeral director could have a field day, as he now has," Canon Johnson said.

"Most of America seems to be involved in a vast conspiracy to hush up the fact of death.

This hush-hush campaign betrays a deep, neurotic sickness in the American character."

Canon Johnson gave his views in a Senate anti-trust subcommittee, which is looking into the practices of funeral directors for possible anti-trust violations and other conduct which might not be in the public interest.

Altamonte Requests 40-Foot Easement

Altamonte Springs' Town Council Wednesday night said it would approve a request to abandon Station Street provided a 40-foot easement, instead of a 20-foot one could be acquired for access to adjacent properties.

Home Builders Supply of Winter Haven wants to construct a $150,000 warehouse and retail store in Altamonte Springs provided the Council will agree to abandon the street so that the firm could have a railroad siding.

Representatives of the firm said they would ascertain whether the company would be willing to grant the water easement and notify the council.

Mayor Lawrence Swafford announced that the town had received its $39,000 engineering report of a study of projected streets, curbs, gutters and drainage that represents a study of the firm would be available to the Council to explain the survey.

The Council also heard a report that no negligence was involved in a recent accident in which a Police car crashed into a tree. The vehicle has been replaced by a new one.

In other action the Council voted to call for engineering plans for the paving of Second Street, install mercury vapor lights on a section of SR 436 when four-laning is completed, convert a kitchen and a storage closet in Town Hall into an office for the Police Department, and cancel

Executives For Barry, Business Advisers Say

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., could get 58 per cent of business executives' vote against President Johnson if he wins the GOP presidential nomination, according to a poll conducted by a private business advisory organization.

Results of the survey were reported by the Research Institute of American (RIA) Inc., based on a nationwide sample of 6,000 replies from a "representative" cross section of executives.

The poll said Johnson would get 31 per cent of the vote, with 11 per cent giving no reply. RIA said this would be one vote in every three, compared to President John F. Kennedy's showing of one vote in five in the business executive category in 1960.

Scranton Asks GOP Condemn Extremists

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton urged the Republican platform committee today to condemn the John Birch Society as a leading example of "weird" extremist groups in the United States.

Scranton, in a hard-hitting statement aimed directly at Sen. Barry Goldwater's bid for the GOP presidential nomination, declared that he cannot see why the 100-member policy making group would hesitate for one second to denounce the Birch group.

He also asked the committee to endorse the new civil rights law as "another step towards America's promise to the world, implicit in our Constitution, of equal rights and opportunities for all."

Scranton said that if the Republicans get the platform they deserve, it will contain views contrary to Goldwater's beliefs.

Without naming the Arizona senator, Scranton said: "In effect, your task is to decide what is the true conscience of a conservative."

Mass Transit Bill Signed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson today signed into law a multi-million dollar federal program to help cities improve mass transportation systems.

Johnson called it "a milestone measure" and expressed hope it would be the forerunner of many other steps to solve the problems of the nation's rapidly expanding urban areas.

The new law provides $375 million for distribution on a matching basis to municipalities to improve their mass transit systems.

Johnson said the "curse of congestion" in American cities could not be solved overnight, or by one act, but he said transit measure was an important step.

Results of the survey were reported by the Research Institute of American (RIA) Inc., based on a nationwide sample of 6,000 replies from a "representative" cross section of executives.

Friendly Gesture Becomes Serious

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., and Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., wrestled each other to the floor today outside a Senate hearing room.

What began as a playful tugging match turned somewhat more serious as the two grappled to the marble floor of the new Senate office building.

Yarborough was playfully trying to pull Thurmond toward a Senate Commerce Committee hearing room where the committee was preparing to approve the nomination of Leroy Collins as head of the newly created Civil Rights Law Mediation Agency.

Thurmond had boycotted two previous sessions, thus postponing the approval of Collins for lack of a quorum, and resisted Yarborough.

Thurmond was standing outside the room when Yarborough, a committee member like Thurmond, stropped up.

"Come on in, Strom," said Yarborough, and shook Thurmond's hand. At the same time, he playfully pulled Thurmond toward the hearing room.

Thurmond reacted by pulling Yarborough away from the door.

"I'll see an agreement with you Ralph," Thurmond said. "If I can keep you out, you won't go in, and if you can drag me in, I'll stay there."

The two men, with their jackets off, grappled for about 10 minutes. Finally, Commerce Committee Chairman Sen. Warren Magnuson, D-Wash., broke it up.

For most of the time, Thurmond had Yarborough pinned to the floor. The South Carolina senator appeared in better condition than his Texas counterpart. Both are 61.

Several spectators and Senate staff workers viewed the tussle. Word was passed into the committee room and Magnuson came out to break it up.

At first, after Thurmond challenged him to a match to see who could hold the other, Yarborough took the whole thing as a joke and shrugged off the challenge.

But Thurmond became more serious. They then took off their jackets.

Thurmond forced Yarborough to the floor and held him there several minutes. He let Yarborough up and the two scuffled some more, shoulder to shoulder. Thurmond then threw Yarborough to the floor again, the Texas senator's head narrowly missing the hard marble surface.

Yarborough remained pinned to the floor for five minutes, occasionally struggling to try to free himself. Thurmond said repeatedly, "Tell me to release you, Ralph, and I will."

Yarborough refused to answer grinned occasionally. An aide to Thurmond quickly tried to break up the encounter but Thurmond refused respond to the aide's warnings that the affair would be publicized.

Sen. Frank Lausche, D-Ohio, was a late arrival at the session. He seemed amused at the goings on and earnestly told both men that they were risking heat attacks.

"I'll release him if he wants to be released," Thurmond said.

Yarborough said he was waiting for his "second wind."

Magnuson then opened the door and came outside.

"Come on, let's break this up," he said sternly.

"We're just good friends," Thurmond answered. "We have a mutual agreement."

Thurmond then released Yarborough.

Thurmond subsequently went into the hearing room after seeing a quorum was present without him. After the session, Thurmond and Yarborough appeared together in the hall and appeared amiable.

Yarborough, who supports a relatively large paunch, weighs about 190 pounds. Thurmond seemed about 10 or 15 pounds lighter but in considerably trimmer shape and obviously proud of it.

Holland Gives Views On New Rights Law

Editor's Note: Sen. Spessard L. Holland, Florida's senior senator, recently spelled out his thoughts on the Civil Rights Bill enacted into the law on the signature of President Johnson. The portion of his speech concerning the Rights Bill is reprinted here, spelling out the senator's calm analysis of the measure:

"I am sure that most of us have thought many times today about the fact that the so-called Civil Rights Bill which deals with the racial division among Americans which has reached serious proportions has just been signed by President Johnson, thus becoming the first major law in the field of civil rights to be enacted since the Reconstruction days of almost 100 years ago. The mention of this new law is not a pleasant subject.

"Everyone here knows that many of the contents of this law are as distasteful to your speaker as to any citizen who is here for this celebration. I vigorously opposed it on the floor of the Senate for 33 days. I deeply feel that coercive and compulsory legislation in such a field as this is wholly inappropriate to carry out the desired results. For we cannot, by coercion, make people like each other better or work and live together more cordially.

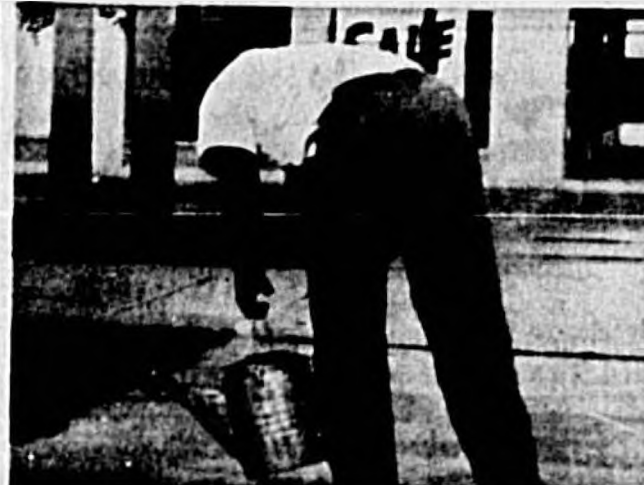

"But the fact is that the civil rights bill has now passed the Congress in the regular way prescribed by our Constitution. It has passed by a large majority of both Houses, has been signed by the President, and has become a part of our law. In spite of our long and vigorous objections, a large majority of the Congress has passed it and it is clear that, at least as of this time, a large majority of the people of our country have approved it.

"Some of this law is good and acceptable. Much of it in my opinion is bad and unconstitutional, unreasonable, unfair to the Southland or difficult, if not impossible, of enforcement. We have the clear right to attempt by persuasion to repeal those portions which we do not approve. We have both the right and the duty to challenge in the Courts those portions which we think are unconstitutional.

"But as law-abiding citizens we have no right to defy it and no choice but to obey this new and highly distasteful law. Several of its more controversial features have already been ruled upon by the Courts such as the question of segregated public schools and the question of segregated use of public property. Other most objectionable features such as the so-called public accommodations title and the FEPC or equal employment practices title will be promptly subjected to vigorous Court challenges.

"I believe that the pendulum of our national philosophy has swung too far to the left — too far to the side of too great haste — too great coercion — too little persuasion, tolerance and understanding. I believe that it will swing back, inevitably, and that the final standard which will determine the basis on which the two races will live together peacefully in our nation must depend upon what both races find to be tolerable.

"In the meantime, I hope we shall not resort to bitterness — much less to violence of any kind — and I hope we shall always recall that when good citizens do not obey the law they help to bring about a breakdown of government. This is a time for patience, restraint, self-control and tolerance. Somehow I feel that even in this difficult hour our Florida people, both white and colored, will respond in a very fine way to this challenge and that we shall have a minimum of difficulties in our good and lovely state."

AND THE GREEN grass grows all around. Gardener for the Florida State Bank in Sanford, apparently takes his job seriously, and was observed watering the grass growing in the cracks of the sidewalk. But inquiry revealed that water-cum actually contained weed killer solution. Now the grass is brown.

Program Of Adult Education Opens This Week In Deltona

The summer program of adult education in Deltona, under direction of Zeral Mallard, opened this week with a class in liquid embroidery to be taught by Mrs. Lucille Pennington, instructor from Daytona Beach Junior College, at the Community Center at 2 p. m. each Tuesday.

A class in flower arranging will meet on Wednesday of each week with Mrs. Evelyn West, also an instructor at DBJC, as teacher. Participants will furnish their own containers and floral materials, striving to use as much local foliage as possible.

Mrs. West is a licensed florist with 16 years experience and hold a BS degree in business administration from Stetson University. She has worked with adult education programs since 1960, has appeared on television and helped make a film on flower arranging. This year she was one of six guest designers in the country for the National Telegraph Delivery Convention and in September she will be commentator at the Southeastern Convention in New Orleans.

The third class for the summer is continuation of the Choral Group which will meet on Fridays at 2 p. m. beginning this week with reorganization. Instructor and director is Mrs. Mildred Clark from DeLand Junior High School who worked with the Deltona group for the last semester of the past school year.

The fourth class to begin this summer, and one which is creating much interest, is "Fishing in Florida." Meetings are scheduled at 7 p. m. each Friday in the Community Center, beginning this week, with Louis Nordmann as instructor.

Nordmann holds a BS degree in Forestry from the School of Forestry, University of Florida, and appears locally on radio and television to report on fishing in the area. He was advisor to Northern fishermen for 13 years and presently is in charge of the fishing division for a sporting goods equipment company.

At this time these four classes have received largest response from Deltona residents. Upon successful completion of their organization, others, such as swimming for adults and children and health and welfare for residents of Florida, may follow.

No charges for participation in the program will be made to those already enrolled or those who attended the previous adult program. A $3 fee will be requested from those who wish to enroll for the first time for participation in one or more of the programs to be offered this summer.

Dr. Singletary is married to the former Patricia Hoolahan of South Dakota and they have one son, Clay, eight years old.

5-H Club Tours Marion County Horse Farms

June activity for members of the Seminole County 5-H Riding Club featured an all-day trip to Marion County for a conducted tour of Horse Farms there. Host for the day was Edsel W. Rowan, Marion County Agent.

First visited was the Ocala Stud Farm, Farm No. 1, where the stallions are kept. One of the three special stations shown by handlers was insured for a half-million dollars with stud fee set at $5,000.

The famous Needles had been kept up from pasture by his manager until the group arrived in order that pictures could be taken of him and with him.

Throughout the day the 10 club members and three adults making the tour were impressed with beauty of the farms and sizes of pastures and barns. A wonderful reception for the group at each location was reported and managers took time to discuss care and feeding of the animals and to distribute brochures on operations and management of the farms.

After a picnic lunch came a trip to the Ocala Pavilion to look over horses up for auction that afternoon, with one club girl participating in the bidding, and a visit to a Western store.

Minority Report Hits Conclusions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Republicans, charging "concealment and cover-up of evidence," have given notice they do not intend to let the controversial Robert G. (Bobby) Baker affair die during this year's election campaign.

The Republicans issued their charges in a minority report Wednesday as the Democratic-dominated rules committee wound up its seven-month inquiry into the outside business affairs of the former Senate employe.

Terminating Baker an "opportunist," the committee conceded that his business dealings while he was secretary to Senate Democrats involved "gross improprieties" and conflicted with his official duties.

A majority report insisted, however, that the panel had no legal right to determine whether Baker actually had violated conflict of interest laws. It said there was no way they could punish Baker.

In their report, the Republicans said the investigation was not complete and charged Democrats with using their three-vote margin to "frustrate and beat down every effort on the part of the minority to call witnesses and complete the investigation."

The three Republicans said the committee should have called witnesses who could have testified whether government offices were used to arrange dates with call girls to further private business interests. The majority report said it had found "no evidence other than rumors" of such incidents.

Among other witnesses the Republicans said should have been called was White House aide Walter Jenkins, whose name figured in the inquiry when Don B. Reynolds, a Silver Spring, Md., insurance agent, testified he had once bought advertising on a Texas television station owned by President Johnson's family.

Reynolds said Jenkins urged him to buy the advertising after he sold Johnson two $50,000 life insurance policies. Jenkins has denied any such arrangement in an affidavit.

Baker, a former Senate page boy from Pickens, S. C., who was regarded as a protégé of Johnson when the President was Senate Democratic leader, resigned his secretary's post last Oct. 7 when his outside business interests came to light.

He estimated his net worth on paper as $2 million, but the majority report of the committee trimmed this figure to $447,849.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband positively refuses to tip anyone unless (as he puts it) they have "earned a reward" for doing something special for him. He says waiters are paid to serve customers, doormen are paid to open doors, taxi drivers are paid to drive, and barbers are paid to cut hair, and he's sick of all these people with their hands out. When we leave a restaurant, it looks could kill we'd both be dead. I get terribly embarrassed, but it doesn't seem to bother my husband a bit. How can I get it through his head that "tipping" is an accepted custom, and people who do not tip are considered strange?

DEAR WIFE: Many jobs (bellboys, waiters, doormen, hairdressers, manicurists) are considered attractive only because of the "tips" that go with them. And the salaries paid take "tips" into account. So in many cases, a tip is more than a fringe benefit. It is bread and butter. Granted, no establishment should expect the customer to pay their help, but until the system is changed, why punish the working folks?

DEAR ABBY: I am a middle-aged man in love with a woman a few years my junior. We are both mature people. We both have had a

We The Women:

By Ruth Millet

Car-care courses at YWCAs nationwide are offering to teach women — among other things — how to change a tire. Any woman worth her salt knows exactly how to get a tire changed.

Say she is on the highway when a tire suddenly goes thumpingly flat. What is the first thing she does? Open the trunk and get out the jack and start to work?

Of course not. The first thing she does is open her handbag, take out her mirror and check her hair and lipstick.

Then she climbs out of the car and stands looking at the flat helplessly, until a car with a man at the wheel comes along.

A few clouds may pass by — but soon enough some gallant gentleman (often it will be a truck driver) will pull off the road and say something like, "Looks like you need a little help here."

The woman will beam at him as though he were a knight in armor — and the man will roll up his sleeves and go to work.

When the tire is changed, the woman will tell him how nice he was to stop, and she doesn't know what she would

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

Bridge teacher and writer Fred Karlin of Washington has a new book on play that involves strategy at trick one. He starts with a discussion of the finesse. Fred takes a stand squarely in favor of the finesse, but points out that there are many occasions when a finesse should be refused.

Three no-trump would have been a far better contract than five clubs and even an optimistic contract of six clubs would not have been unreasonable, but we are concerned with the contract at five clubs and particularly at trick one.

The bride-to-be was born in Portsmouth, Va. She attended Lyman High School, Longwood, and Orlando Junior College. She will graduate from Orange Memorial School of Nursing on August 28, 1964.

Her paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Roland C. Lyons, Longwood, and her maternal grandfather is James L. Nutter of Norfolk, Va.

Her fiancé was born in Charlotte, N. C., graduating from Garringer High School. He attended the University of Charlotte and is employed by the Postal Department.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Bruce Are Feted On 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Bruce of South DeBary, were recently guests of honor at an open house reception at the home of their daughter, Mrs. R. A. Fender, in observance of their golden wedding anniversary.

Mrs. C. Wood and Mrs. Fender greeted the more than 120 guests who called during the open house hours between 3 and 5 p. m.

The reception rooms of the Fender home were adorned with arrangements of assorted yellow flowers throughout.

Centering the buffet table, which was overlaid with a sheer lace cloth, was a three-tiered wedding cake surrounded by trays of salads, meats, relishes, candies and a bowl of refreshing fruit punch.

Prior to retirement, Mr. Bruce was a member of the Ox Fiber Brush Company at Benson Junction. The Bruces, who came to Florida 44 years ago from Georgia, have five children, twelve grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

Modern Nuptials Vary From Primitive Wedding Customs

NEW YORK (UPI) — Long ago, many of the contemporary wedding customs were observed not out of tradition but out of necessity — and self-preservation.

Take the matter of "standing up" for the bride. This now traditional practice had its beginnings at a time when primitive man used to select his wife by capturing her in a raid on an enemy tribe.

Following the swain's return — wife-to-be dragged behind — his friends would "stand up" around him. The purpose: to ward off an attack from mescue parties of the girl's kinfolk or tribe.

Other traditional wedding practices, according to Encyclopaedia Americana, also are based on necessities encountered by ancient peoples when they married.

The original wedding band, for example, was simply a

State HD Annual Council Will Meet At University

The 40th annual State Home Demonstration Council Meeting will be held at Florida State University July 13-15. The theme will be based on the golden anniversary of Florida Agricultural Extension Service.

Miss Anna Mae Sikes, Assistant Director, said that more than 100 delegates will come to the university for this meeting.

The R. F. Coopers Honor Guests On 40th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Cooper of this city were honored recently with a surprise fortieth wedding anniversary dinner given by their son, James H. Cooper of New York City.

The beautiful Sunset Room of the Grove Park Inn was the scene of the dinner, with the central table featuring a red and white carnation floral arrangement, accented by silver candelabra with red tapers.

Among the invited guests were Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Mumford of Raleigh, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Whitaker, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Tison, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bryan and Miss Sara Elmore, all of Mars Hill, N. C., who participated in Mr. and Mrs. Cooper's wedding 40 years ago.

To insure her continued presence, the girl's spouse placed a restraining band about her ankle, above her knee, around her neck — or through her nose, depending on tribal custom.

The "giving away" of the bride in ancient times took place after the prospective bridegroom agreed to pay a particular price to his father-in-law-to-be. This was during a period in history when the acquisition of a bride was an undignifiedly commercial transaction.

The manner and type of payment varied from place to place. And by today's standards, the purchase price for a wife was not very flattering.

A seemingly favorite form of payment, for example, was one cow!

Historically, one can even find a basis in ancient marriage practice for the contemporary trend toward exempting married men from military service.

The ancient Hebrews had such a custom. When a man took a new bride, he was enjoined from going to war for one year because "he should be free at home one year and shall cheer up his wife which he hath taken."

Miss Niki Ashby Is Feted With Miscellaneous Shower

Miss Niki Ashby, lovely bride-elect of Alex McKibbin, was honored guest at a recent miscellaneous bridal shower with Mrs. M. L. Nichols serving as hostess at her Oak Avenue home, assisted by Mrs. John Shepard.

The party rooms were decorated with arrangements of assorted colorful blossoms and two large wedding bells were suspended over the archway. The coffee table featured a floral centerpiece with candles and a miniature bride and groom and bridesmaids.

One table displayed two couples holding a pink rose corsage and two large silver wedding bands joined together.

The bride-elect received the lovely gifts from a white umbrella with attached pink streamers and the hostesses presented her with a beautiful rose corsage to complement the stunning sea foam sheath in which she was attired.

Each guest was favored with miniature umbrellas and blue and white sachet tablets wrapped in frilly white net and tied with satin ribbons to which a silver wedding band was attached.

The hostesses served delicious home made lemon cheese cake, nuts, mints, and soft drinks to Mrs. Bishop Ashby, mother of the bride-elect and to the Meses. Wallace Phillips, Gordon Bradley, Ray Howard Jr., John Kader, Belle Hagan Jennings, Dale Scott, E. F. Housholder, Ralph Ray, Frank Donahoe, Donald James, G. D. Bishop Jr., Robin Brown and Henry Wight.

Also the Meses Pat Wight, Elizabeth B. Williams, Barbara Bradley, Judy Ludwig, Merritt Phillips and Rosemary Southward.

Miss Martha Cleo Teston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delton Wilson Teston of Sanford, and James Albert Lee Cohen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Albert Cohen, also of this city, were united in holy matrimony on June 27, 1964 at 8 p.m. at the Free Methodist Church of Sanford with the Rev. Eugene Sheldon performing the impressive candle-light double ring ceremony.

Two seven-branched candelabra entwined with greenery and burning white candles stood at either side of the altar with pedestal baskets of white mums and glads and potted palms.

Mrs. Tom Richey, organist, provided the traditional nuptial music with Mrs. Fred Bowery, soprano, singing "I'll Be Loving You Always."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in white lace net featuring a fitted bodice with a sweetheart neckline and tapered wrist length sleeves with a bell shape knee length skirt. Her veil of illusion was attached to a jeweled tiara and she carried a cascade of white carnations entwined with a white orchid. She wore an heirloom gold necklace presented to her by her grandmother, the late Mrs. J. T. Fortier Sr.

Mrs. Kermit Wallstedt attended the bride as matron of honor in pink nylon tulle over a sweeping skirt and she carried a bouquet of blue carnations.

Miss Kay Teston of Tallahassee served her cousin as bridal attendant, and was gowned in a pale blue full skirted nylon frock with a bouquet of pink carnations.

Robert Brunley served the groom as best man with Robert O. Cohen, brother of the groom from Indian River City, serving as groomsman, and ushers were Clifford Cohen and Robert Midgett, brother-in-law of the groom from Cocoa.

The bride's mother was attired in blue print nylon jersey with white accessories and her corsage was of white carnations tipped with blue.

The groom's mother chose a powder blue Jacquard weave ensemble with white accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held in the church annex. The table, overlaid with white damask, embossed with silver wedding bells, held a three-tier wedding cake and a crystal bowl of refreshing fruit punch. An arrangement of pink camellias graced the table with pink and white streamers attached.

Assisting at the reception were the Meses. May Smith, Betty Sheldon, Annette Wallstedt, Betty Richey and Ocie Bowery.

For her going away outfit, the bride chose a smart pink linen ensemble with matching accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Cohen are residing at 2408 Holly Avenue, Sanford, following a yacht cruise.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Richard Crain and children from Eau Gallie; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Midgett and daughter, from Cocoa; Mrs. M. A. Clayton of Jacksonville and Miss Kay Teston of Tallahassee.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn. BUFFALO, N.Y. — (NEA) — Bud Wilkinson, campaigning for the U.S. Senate from Oklahoma, took time off to catch his son Jay's farewell to football in the All-America game and was braced on the difference between recruiting players and soliciting votes. "This may be easier," he grinned. "Everyone's a prospect." . . . And he shook hands firmly. . . .

What worries Ara Parseghian most about the upcoming Notre Dame football season is that he'll be playing seven of the 10 games against coaches he has never faced before. . . .

When Baron Adolph Rupp helped coach the U.S. Olympic basketball team in 1948 at London, there was a question what rules they'd use. The Americans wanted to modernize them. . . . "No," yelled the Russians, "We play 30 rules." . . . "And," laughed the Baron, "that played right into our hands because it retained the center jump and goal-tending was legal, and we had seven-foot Bob Kurland." . . . So then, the Baron recounted, the delegates met after the Games to decide on future rules. The Spanish bloc ganged up on the Americans and pushed for a height limit of 6-1 for all players. . . . "Which would have ruined us," said Rupp. "It looked like they had the votes too. But the Russian got up and said, 'Niet. To restrict height would be undemocratic!' And we won by a 28-25 vote."

The veteran Kentucky basketball coach was booked for a Tokyo trip late this summer but may cancel because he's eager to look over his new freshmen crop. . . . He also thinks our Olympic basketball team might be in trouble for the first time. "How could they leave off Willie Murrell? Or Wally Jones?" . . .

Don Elbaum, our favorite Erie fight promoter, brings us up to date: "Things have really been moving for me. Johnny Bizarro, my No. 1 fighter, lost a split in his first television fight and was knocked out of a little match with Carlos Ortiz. Cowboy Billy Smith, my undefeated flyweight, the boy who'll bring back the little man, took 10 of the first 12 rounds from Ronnie DeCost, then folded in the 14th round from exhaustion. Last but not least, Dick Wipperman, my highly touted Jewish heavyweight, has converted." . . .

While Henry Stram, the coach of the Kansas City Chiefs, flirted with the idea of getting Lamar Hunt to put up a bundle of money to entice Will Chamberlain into football (after Hank couldn't throw a pass over the head of the 7-1½ San Francisco center in a Katsuhor's session), owner Ben Kerner of the St. Louis Hawks sent word: "Tell Hunt if he can't get all the money up, I'll help him out." . . .

The national letter of intent, the cure-all for recruiting, is with us again. Dave Nelson of Delaware says it has been in operation for a year, since the commissioners of the major conferences got together and decided to honor each other's letters, with May 31 as the cut-off date.

Buhl Blanks Giants For 10th Win

Pirates Thrash Red Hurling To Grab 9-1 Affair

By Curt Block
UPI Sports Writer

Bob Buhl has picked up two new partners but it looks like the old act.

The 35-year-old righthander along with Warren Spahn and Lew Burdette formed a trio that led the Milwaukee Braves to the top of the National League in the mid '50's.

Although the Cubs are not threatening the National League leaders, Buhl won his 10th game of the year Wednesday blanking the Giants, 2-0, to join teammates Dick Ellsworth and Larry Jackson on a 10-game win plateau that gives the Cubs a distinction no other major league team has achieved.

The threesome, Jackson (11-5), Ellsworth (10-8) and Buhl (10-3), have accounted for 31 of Chicago's 37 victories and could become the first trio of 20-game winners from a single team in the National League since Eppa Rixey, Pete Donahue and Dolph Luque turned the trick for the Cincinnati Reds.

Buhl blanked San Francisco on four hits while Billy Williams, who hit a home run in Tuesday's All-Star game, clouted his 20th of the regular season in addition to a single and a double.

In the nightcap, of a rare week-day doubleheader at Wrigley Field, Willie Mays belted his 24th four-bagger as the Giants snapped a four-game losing streak with a 7-2 triumph in a game called after seven innings because of darkness.

Rookie righthander Ron Herbel picked up his seventh win in 11 decisions while Ernie Broglio, the first of six Chicago hurlers, lost his fourth straight since being obtained from St. Louis. He is 3-9 overall.

In the only other major league game, Pittsburgh stopped Cincinnati 9-1. St. Louis had a scheduled game at Philadelphia rained out. All American League had the day off.

Pittsburgh outfielders Manny Mota, Willie Stargell and Roberto Clemente each drove in three runs to lead a 12-hit Pirate attack. Mota and Stargell homered while Clemente boosted his league-leading average to .350 with three hits.

Bob Vesie and Al McBean allowed just four hits as the Pirates edged past Cincinnati into third place by one percentage point. Vesie was forced to leave the game when he developed a blister on his pitching hand.

Atlanta Fans Want 'Word' On Braves

By David M. Moffit
UPI Sports Writer

ATLANTA (UPI) — The continued unwillingness of either the Milwaukee Braves or officials in Atlanta to confirm or deny repeated reports that the Braves are headed South has created some ill feelings at both ends of the line.

A lot has been said on the subject since the Sporting News printed the story which has been making the rounds here for more than a year.

But one fact still stands unchanged: No one in authority has been willing to say what is really going on.

From Atlanta's standpoint, this is all to the good. After all, if the Braves really planned to stay in Milwaukee, surely team president John McCall would come out saying flatly that. But McCall has been talking like a politician seeking votes from both sides — speaking in generalities and saying nothing.

About the closest McCall has come to a positive statement was when he said the Braves would remain in Milwaukee "as long as the city proves it wants us."

No one has been able to pin him down on what would be considered proof of wanting.

Attendance in Milwaukee is running about a third of the peak years when the Braves were winning pennants. Side money for television and radio rights are reported shrinking accordingly.

In Atlanta, the leadership is just as noncommittal. All that anyone has been able to get out of Arthur Montgomery, chairman of the stadium authority, is his insistence that although he has a major league baseball team lined up — he can't name it until after the current season ends in October.

Meanwhile, Montgomery and his authority are proceeding with great haste on their $18 million stadium which is scheduled to be ready by next April 15 — apparently for the opening of the 1965 baseball season.

But a few questions continue to nag doubters. Those behind the stadium project were pushing just as hard for the facility before the alleged promise of a franchise. The timing of certain announcements was almost too good to be true.

Smith Hurls Legion Nine To 1-0 Win Over Eustis

Sanford's Post 53 American Legion junior baseball club continued its winning ways Wednesday night at Sanford Memorial Stadium when the locals came up with a 1 to 0 decision over Eustis.

Donnie Smith on the mound for Manager Frank Thomas' outfit whiffed 13 Eustis batters over the seven-inning span while issuing no free passes and limited the opposition to two hits.

Meanwhile, that was as many hits as Dick Broome of Eustis permitted the Sanford aggregation.

In fact, Sanford pushed over the only run of the contest — which proved to be the margin of victory — in the third frame. After two were out a Eustis error and a pair of back-to-back passed balls by Eustis' catcher, Wyslaski, permitted the one marker.

Thomas is quite concerned about the hitting slump into which the club is now submerged. "Our youngsters are trying too hard because they're anxious to break out of it," says Thomas. "We're going to have to do something quick. We've still got a chance at the title and next week will tell the tale."

Thomas said that Sanford will return to action Friday night when the locals travel to Casselberry. Saturday

Post 53 will go to New Smyrna Beach. Next week Sanford will play Post 242 of Orlando at Colonial Field in Orlando at 4:30 Wednesday afternoon. The Thursday contest with DeLand has been erased from the schedule. Sanford will close its regular season at home against Orlando's Post 19 — current loop leaders — and, according to Thomas, "This could be the one that'll tell the story."

CORE Demands Ol' Diz Quit Praising Mississippi Folk

TV Sponsor May Be Threatened With Boycott

PASCAGOULA, Miss (UPI)—Sports announcer Dixie Dean expressed "complete surprise" Wednesday night at a report his sponsor has ordered him to stop praising Mississippi on nationally televised baseball games.

"This is all news to me. I don't know a thing about it," said Dean.

The St. Louis Brewing Company which sponsors Dean's baseball telecasts declined to comment.

Sports Editor Herb Phillips of the Mississippi Register reported Wednesday that the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) had threatened a national boycott against the St. Louis Brewing Company if Dean didn't quit talking about the "good folks" in Mississippi.

Phillips' story quoted a brewing company employee as saying the CORE directive demanded that "you either refrain Mr. Dean from the discussions of anything favorable to do with Mississippi or Mississippians or you have him chastise his home state and its racial bigots and politicians who have legalized murder and urged rebellion against our laws and Constitution."

Phillips wrote he was told by the brewing company spokesman that the firm had decided to comply with the CORE demand.

Dean said he first heard of the matter when UPI contacted him at his home in Wiggins, Miss., Wednesday night. He said he had been on the golf course most of the afternoon.

"I try to say something nice about everybody and every place, especially Little League teams, whether they're from Arkansas, California or Mississippi," Dean said.

Dean often tells co-announcer Pee Wee Reese on the baseball games of the week on Saturdays and Sundays that "I'm a Mississippian tried 'n true, podnah." Frequently he reads telegrams from "the good folks down there in good ole Mississippi."

A former major league baseball great, Dean owns a charcoal manufacturing firm in Wiggins.

Americans In British Open Are Led By Lema

By Henry W. Thornberry
UPI Sports Writer
ST. ANDREW'S, Scotland (UPI)—The eight-man American contingent to the 1964 British Open golf championship "breeced" through a lead in Highland golfing techniques during the tournament's first round.

Winds from 20 to 40 miles-per-hour, with gusts up to 60 m.p.h., laced the course Wednesday as the field of 120 professional and amateur golfers struggled to keep scores from skyrocketing.

Champagne Tony Lema led the Americans with a one-over-par 73, which was two strokes off the first-round pace set by Ireland's Christy O'Connor and French Canadian star Jean Garaiside, each of whom turned in a one-under-par 71. Barry Weetman of England and Bruce Devlin of Australia managed to muddle through with even par 72s on the famed St. Andrew's links.

Lema, who posted a 37-36-73 round, shares his berth at Favored Jack Nicklaus turned a 39-36-76 score and said he was "lucky" to have that, in view of the weather conditions.

Bill Johnston 38-39-77, Johnny Bulla 40-38-78, Doug Sanders 39-39-78, and amateur Deane Benan 40-42-82 brought up the rear of the Yankee contingent.

The field of 120 faces a drastic cut to the low 45 players after today's round and the weatherman has offered little hope of respite from the poor golfing conditions to comfort those with astronomical first round scores.

The 45 who survive the cut today will play the concluding 36 holes on Friday. The weatherman has not as yet made any prediction concerning the expected conditions for Friday, but the hopes and fears of 45 tired golfers rest with him today.

Kingswood Beats Robb's 12 To 3; McRaney Wins

The Kingswood Builders continued their winning ways by beating Robb's Construction nine 12 to 3 Wednesday night for their 15th consecutive victory and their 24th in 25 games played thus far this season in the City Recreation Department's Men's Six-Pitch Softball League.

Leroy Estridge kept his mound record intact—a perfect mark of 12 victories against no setbacks—by limiting the Constructionmen to only five hits. Hutch Cook and Don Carter sparked the Builders' attack, each getting four for four at the plate.

Kingswood could clinch the second half championship—they also won the first half title—with one more victory or one loss by McRaney's Painters or the Longwood nine.

McRaney stayed on the heels of the Builders by outscoring the USO'ers 14 to 6 in another loop till last night. Steady Frank Williams won his 10th game of the season in the mound for McRaney and this mark is the top

Full Treatment For Viet

It becomes clearer day by day that the message being sent out by the United States on South Viet Nam and Southeast Asia is getting through.

It is getting through not only to the Chinese Reds but to the entire world as well.

When Henry Cabot Lodge resigned as U. S. ambassador to Saigon, America replaced him with not just one topnotch man, but two.

One—Gen. Maxwell Taylor—is one of the most highly regarded military and public figures in recent years. The other—U. Alexis Johnson—is rated as an ace diplomat and an outstanding genius in political skills.

To further emphasize the concern with which the United States regards the situation in Viet Nam and Southeast Asia, the two most important members of the cabinet—the secretary of state and the secretary of defense—offered to leave their posts and go to Viet Nam as ambassador if the President of the United States felt it would help.

All this adds up to the simple fact that the United States regards Viet Nam and Southeast Asia as its No. 1 current problem and is intent on giving it the full treatment, whatever may be required.

Taylor is known as a tough man when he has to be—and at the same time as a skilled, resourceful strategist off as well as on the battlefield.

Johnson is rated as the ace trouble shooter and behind-the-scenes operator in the State Department. He is especially well-informed on affairs in Asia and is known to foster a tough policy toward Red China.

These recent moves by the administration and the way they are being received around the world, including China and Russia, offer definite encouragement to Americans that this country is not about to fluff the Viet Nam problem.

Name Veep Now

In the matter of security for the President of the United States, one fact is increasingly clear.

There is no way to give him complete protection. No way at all. Especially with a gregarious, outgoing man like President Johnson.

This being the case, it is beyond comprehension why emergency steps aren't taken at once to name a vice president.

This is not to suggest that harm is going to befall President Johnson. It is to point out realistically that harm COULD come to him.

One crackpot—just one—among the millions of people to whom the President is being exposed on his frequent public appearances could be enough. And all the security precautions in the world might not stop that one fanatic.

One enemy of the country, one zealot with more zeal than brains. One gun, one bullet, one knife. That's all it would take.

And no vice president to step in and soften the shock and dislocation as Vice President Johnson did when President Kennedy was assassinated.

There is no plausible, logical or acceptable reason why a way to correct this situation can't or shouldn't be found IMMEDIATELY.

The country's welfare simply can't be served unless such a step is taken now—and to heck with the technicalities and inertia that are delaying it.

The whole nation is praying for the President's safety and health. Regardless of politics, personal preferences or party loyalty, America needs its President—and never more than now.

But along with our prayers, let's have action on a vice president. And let's have it NOW.

To postpone such action amounts to deliberate and dangerous disservice to our country.

Thought For Today

Blessed is every one who fears the Lord, who walks in his ways!—Psalms 128:1.

Life is the gift of God but it is capital that must be spent or it dissipates. — Charles Templeton.

Bruce Bissat -- Ray Cromley

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — With tongue in cheek, the Democratic National Committee featured this item, titled simply "Kids" Letters to Republicans," in a recent publication:

"DEAR SEN. Goldwater: Every night I pray you win and become president of the United States.

"My dad swears that on your inauguration he's going to move us to Canada. Gosh, that will be neat! I love skiing and sledding. Every night I pray you win."

"Dear Gov. Rockefeller: I live in a community where you seldom have been. We are studying about political parties in current events class at school. I wish you would visit us here in Albany so that the people could get to know you."

ONE OF THE CURRENT "hot spots" in the cold war psychological battle between the U.S. Information Agency (USIA) and its Soviet counterpart is Afghanistan, a country which shares a 1,800-mile frontier with Russia.

USIA officials in Afghanistan scored a neat victory when they caught the following classified advertisement in the Kabul Times:

"For Sale: Ford Falcon Sedan, black, 1961 model; excellent condition, 13,000 km. $1,800 U. S. dollars, customs unpaid."

Where could a prospective buyer inspect the Ford? The ad continued: "Contact the Soviet Embassy, phone 205-41."

EDWARD MOSS, the aide to Sen. Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy who was killed in the recent Massachusetts plane crash which seriously injured the senator, once complained that the 1962 campaign was a bit too hectic for him.

Wiping his brow after a particularly frantic stop on the trail, Moss voiced a wishful desire to be back at his regular job with the telephone company.

Here another Kennedy helper, Jack Crimmins, burst out with:

"Aw, come on, Ed, what would you be doing at the office on a weekday afternoon? I'll tell you. You'd be down at the water cooler tearing somebody's heart out."

IN THE MIDST of the recent controversy between Pentagon reporters and Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense for public affairs, over news management in the Southeast Asia conflict, this notice was found on a bulletin board near Sylvester's office:

WASHINGTON — June 30, 1964 — In response to queries from several media, the Defense Department now has been authorized to confirm (not for attribution to specific persons) that shots have been exchanged near Gettysburg, Pa.

"Details of what types of weapons were involved and estimates of sizes of the opposing forces must remain classified to avoid permitting the enemy to evaluate our intelligence procedures.

"Similarly, we cannot disclose the precise dates or dates on which the exchange or exchanges to which we refer took place. We can say that in general it took place during the 1963-64 period.

"Government forces were in the area on a peaceful mission at the request of local officials when the incident or incidents occurred.

"No requests of accreditation by correspondents or artists to visit the area will be approved until it is certain that the action has ended."

FAREWELL TO ARMS?

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Eileen is more like Amnon, the son of King David. For Amnon also is described in the Bible as being so much in love with the beautiful Princess Tamar that he was sick with his desire for her and took to his bed.

But notice the tragic aftermath. For Amnon's so-called love was merely sexual infatuation. Use the tests below to pick your mate.

CASE T-418: Eileen G., aged 18, is the coed who wanted her boy friend to drop out of college and slope with her.

She imagined she was a victim of "true love" when actually she showed none of the unselfishness that characterizes true love.

Instead, Eileen was enamored physically of Bill and thus was sexually excited.

For butterflies in one's stomach, plus a tingling exhilarated feeling accompany BOTH sexual infatuation as well as true love.

Teenagers, by all means use your head instead of your heart in order to tell the difference!

For the Bible offers a classical case. King David had an impetuous son named Amnon, who was ardently in love with the beautiful Princess Tamar, or so the Bible says.

In fact, Amnon took to his bed, for he fell sick with his longing for Tamar.

Quotes

There is one way to a solution. It is the U. N. Security Council and the U. N. mediator.

—Greek Prime Minister George Papandreu cold-shoulders President Johnson's efforts to bring Greeks and Turks together on Cyprus issue.

We don't like it and I'm sure father wouldn't, either. We all oppose it strongly.

—Rep. James Roosevelt (D. Calif.) referring to his family's attitude on the proposed Franklin D. Roosevelt memorial in Washington, Pa.

We can help matters along by recognizing that a punk is a punk, white or black, and by putting him in his proper place.

—Ray Wilkins, executive secretary of the NAACP, on teen-age Negro hoodlums.

That's how the phrase "love sick" originated.

He had a very clever adviser who told him how he could possess his heart's desire.

So Amnon had the news passed on to the King that he was ill. And when King David called on him, Amnon asked David to send Tamar to knead the dough and bake some cakes in his own sight and then feed them to him with her own dainty fingers.

King David thus ordered Tamar to do so.

After Tamar mixed the dough, kneaded it and even baked the cakes, Amnon still refused to eat them.

Then Amnon ordered all the servants out of his house and urged Tamar to bring the cakes into his bedroom to feed him.

But when she did, Amnon caught hold of her and tried to persuade Tamar to have an "affair." She resolutely refused.

Then Amnon tried to overpower her. She begged and pleaded with him, saying if he really loved her and wanted her as a wife, all he had to do was ask the King and his wish would be granted.

But Amnon was stronger and finally sexually assaulted her.

Immediately, however, his so-called love for Tamar turned into violent hatred.

So he ordered her to leave. She refused, saying she couldn't publicize her shame.

So Amnon called back his servants and actually ordered them not only to put her out of the house, but he demanded they even bolt the door after her.

Teenagers, note well! For in Chapter 13 of II Samuel, Verse 1, the Bible says: "And Amnon the son of David loved her."

But by the time you reach Verse 15, the Bible now reports: "Then Amnon hated her with exceeding great hatred; for the hatred wherewith he hated her was greater than the love wherewith he had loved her."

Never become deceived by the false veneer of physical appeal and sexual infatuation, for such unions can turn to hate in a matter of minutes, as history has proved for thousands of years.

True love is the sort that survives quarrels and poverty, death of children and all other obstacles, for true love is unselfish.

In it, you are more concerned with what is best for your sweetheart instead of yourself so send for my "Tests for Sweethearts," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Lyle C. Wilson Says:

Ike's Brother Analyzed

The credentials of Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower as a Republican king maker or policy maker are supported by blood line only and not by background or political experience.

Milton S., of course, is the younger brother of Dwight D. The former President regards his younger brother as a brain, smartest of the Eisenhower family. The younger Eisenhower will be 65 years old next September. He is a pleasant, affable gentleman in the Eisenhower tradition.

His political background, however, is slight and superficial. There is little in it to recommend him to Republicans, least of all to Republicans who are in any degree conservative.

For two years in the mid-1920s, Milton Eisenhower was American vice consul at Edinburgh, Scotland. From 1926-28 he was assistant secretary of agriculture. Those were Coolidge administration years. In 1928 Milton Eisenhower became information director of the Agriculture Department.

Herbert Hoover succeeded Calvin Coolidge as president in 1928 and Milton Eisenhower stayed on, as did many Coolidge appointees. Nothing unusual about that. In 1933 Herbert Hoover was succeeded by Franklin D. Roosevelt and Milton Eisenhower again stayed on, an unusual situation at a time when the spoils system was being applied in behalf of jobs for deserving Democrats.

The Democrats had not had a crack at federal patronage since 1920 and they were hungry. MSE survived that Democratic job hunt and continued to direct the New Deal's agriculture information program for the first nine Roosevelt years.

This spanned the service of Henry A. Wallace as secretary of agriculture, one of the most controversial periods in the history of American farm politics. Critics of FDR's claimed that only in that department did the New Deal bear its richest, ripest fruit.

For example, Wallace's plan to deal with the pork problem by plowing under little pigs.

Came World War II and MSE became director, war relocation authority, a relatively obscure post. In 1942-43, Milton was associate director of the Office of War Information, also relatively obscure.

But the Eisenhower name was becoming known world wide as brother Dwight soared from star to star in rising rank as an overseas Allied commander in-chief. Then Kansas State University recognized Milton Eisenhower's talents in 1943 by making him its president. MSE served until 1950 when Pennsylvania State University snapped him up.

In 1956, the year of Dwight D.'s re-election to the presidency, venerable and distinguished John Hopkins University chose Milton S. as its president. It is Dr. Eisenhower, now, possessor of honorary degrees from 26 universities and colleges.

Dr. Milton's background is proud and honorable. But it somehow seems scarcely to warrant the position he seems to occupy in the Republican party or in the current stop-Goldwater maneuvers.

GENERAL TENDENCIES:

Today is one of those times when almost everyone is in a low frame of mind and it's best to get a good rest and relaxation. There are days when it is necessary to build up our physical well-being and to realize a greater degree of health, poise, and repose — this is one of them.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) As soon as you have finished your important duties, it would be wise to sit in the sun for a while and relax. Restore your energies. If you smile sweetly, others are almost obsequious.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You may not feel quite up to par and it would be well if you did only essential duties instead of forcing the rest. A good rest at home is best tonight. Delight family.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) While you have reports and other important matters to handle, you must be composed; handle them without elation. Ignore associate who wants to put full load on you. Do your share only.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) While monetary problems may be bothering you, it is best to set them aside for a day or so, when you will be thinking more clearly. Relax, don't spend more money. Cooperation and help arrive.

LEO (July 22 to August 21) Any discouraging attitude can be offset by quiet thinking, rest. You can later take positive steps toward your aims and get good results. Do you need health treatments?

VIRGO (August 22 to September 22) You desire to help others, but are not feeling quite up to it. Await the morning and you get better results. Quietly get more system and order about you — clean up, repair, etc.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Avoid those intimates who want to load you down with their work because they are tired. Smile if you are criticized. Remember that you also work hard and need rest.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Although you may not approve of situations about you in outside world, you could get in trouble by being unkind. Are you thinking as clearly as usual? Be staunch.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Keeping steadily at work is well, even though distant places and people beckon. This is only a mirage. Make new plans for the future that are more satisfying.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20) Take care you do not become emotionally disturbed with mate simply because you feel bored or tired. Be cheerful and you fare better. Rest awhile and all is well.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19) By keeping your promises to others in a cheerful, honorable fashion, you gain stature, prestige now. If you bog down, you lose valuable associations. Use tact.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20) A feeling of self-pity does no good, so be sure to get busy putting everything around you in good order. Take time for small chores that are also important. Be cheerful.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, he or she will be one of those fascinating young people who will ask many questions and look for causes behind effects, which is the mark of intellect. However, be sure to give enough discipline and spiritual training to ward off imperiousness. Then much success is possible in life, since the charm here is considerable, too.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Cub Scout Leaders Meet For Training

By Jane Casselberry
Sessions 1 and 2 of Cub Scout basic training for Cubmasters, Denmothers and Committeemen were conducted Monday night at the Casselberry Community Methodist Church by instructors Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Whitmore of Winter Park.

The instructors made effective use of slides and flange-graph visual aids to illustrate their talks. The course was attended by representatives of Cub Pack 540 of Casselberry and Pack 240 of Altamonte Springs. New Cubmasters for the two packs are Dave Waters of Casselberry and Robert Terrece of Altamonte Springs. The local Cub Scouts are planning to participate in the district Cub-O-Res to be held Aug. 22 at Mend Gardens in Winter Park. Themes for the occasion will be on the Olympics and handicraft items made by the Cubs also will be on display.

Plea to County Commissioners: Could you possibly consider the purchase of a fogging machine while you're pondering the next fiscal budget? Those blind mosquitoes are, putting it mildly, pesky.

Mayor A. L. Wilson, called repeatedly to city business meetings, grinned the following suggestion the other day: "While we're at it, let's consider some more money for the mayor's office now that it's become a fulltime job."

We can relax a little more now; the Beates have paid their Miami hotel bill.

Some say it'll be Barry in San Francisco next week. Some say it'll be Bill. After due consideration, the Clock Winders have come up with the following decision: Time will tell.

The need of a Humane Society in Seminole County has been pointed up again by a Paola woman. She called the Herald, reported two young puppies had been abandoned near her home and asked what she could do about it.

However, sometimes local veterinarians have waiting lists of people wanting puppies and these could be checked. Also, if we may be so bold, a Herald classified usually brings good results.

If these fail, then it's up to the recipient to either dispose of the unwanted animals or make pets of them. Until such time, that is, someone organizes a Humane Society.

Someone once said: If parents weren't asleep at the switch when their kids were young there'd be a lot less juvenile delinquency.

The Herald staff is starting to work in earnest on this year's Progress Edition. It could be the greatest edition we've ever published - if Sanford doesn't start going backwards!

Those who want to "keep Sanford for the Sanfordites" may get their wish. If the powers that be continue to refuse to "think big," the oldimers will have it back. Just like it used to be - 60 years ago!

The rest of the world is "moving on." There's no place to go but forward. You don't go backwards. You progress - or die! Then everyone else just strides right over the top of you.

Unofficial count on the Lions Club "take" at the Fun Fair is close to $1,000. That'll buy a lot of glasses for needy children and pay for a lot of eye tests. Now Lions are saying, "Just wait until next year."

This will shock you. There were over 11 thousand known illegitimate babies born in Florida last year - 11,000! And not all of them are known. Authorities do not ask to see a marriage license. They take the mother's word for it. What a vast untold burden of heartache and suffering is indicated by these startling figures.

Ron Risner and David Lanier of Sanford, attending Boys State at Tallahassee have been elected to serve in the house of representatives.
