The Selection Of Houston

The selection of Houston, Texas, by the Democrats for the site of their convention in the early summer is a source of gratification to the South which entertains the party for the first time. We Floridans and doubtless other states in the southeast would rather have seen Miami get the convention, but since the Magic City was not fortunate enough, we are more than pleased that another southern city has gained that honor.

The choice of the Texas city has its significance. It indicates the party's realization that the South must be ma No more useful trip could have dence know what it is. "We that live to please must please to live"

... so spoke Samue! Johnson when he opened a London theatre some century and a half ago. Today it is even truer of the people who advertise to you.

Whether merchants or manufacturers—whether they advertise hats or harness; powder puff or ploughs—the permanent success of every advertiser who uses these pages rest squarely upon his ability to please you.

The goods he advertises must be right. They must meet your approval in open comparison. They must please you in utility, design, quality, value and service. If they don't, you won't buy. And if you won't buy, the advertiser can't live.

That's why advertised merchandise must be good merchandise—and that's why there is protection, true economy and real satisfaction in reading the advertisements and being guided by them.

Advertising guides you to products that please. Read it regularly.
