U.S. Refuses To Enter Negotiations Until December War Debt Annuity Is Received

PARIS, Dec. 22.—With Premier Joseph Paul-Boncour's new government again facing a parliamentary crisis over financial difficulties, France was informed yesterday that the United States will not consider entering into debt negotiations of any nature until the December war debt annuity is paid.

This information was introduced by government officials in a meeting of the American embassy in Paris. The United States government is insisting that the December war debt annuity be paid before any negotiations of any nature will be entered into.

The Senate's finance committee voted 9 to 9 to cut the amount to $1,000,000,000. The House's finance committee voted 24 to 16 to cut the amount to $500,000,000.

Diorama To Display Celery In New York

The fact that Seminole County produces 20 percent of the celery grown in the United States will be called to the attention of New Yorkers and visitors to that city during the month of February by means of a window display in the Pennsylvania Railroad Terminal Station.

The display will include a diorama of a celery field, designed by Byron Stephens, and a large quantity of fresh celery that will be secured through the cooperation of several celery marketing agencies.

Deprived Of Legacy Man Kills Two, Self

CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Deprived of an anticipated five thousand dollar legacy by the discovery of a new will of the late Charles Stubbaker, Jr., Peter Peterson, Stubbaker chauffeur for 27 years, shot his wife and daughter, Pauline, 20, to death and then killed himself today. The bequest to Peterson was written in an earlier will but later the will admitted to probate yesterday, omitted any legacy for him.

TAX REFUNDS ON VARIED INCOMES GRANTED BY U.S.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Because even the government admits it makes mistakes thousands of individuals and business organizations throughout the country got $80,583,564 from the Federal treasury last year.

That amount, Secretary Mills told Congress yesterday, represented refunds made in the 1932 fiscal year to taxpayers who through some error had paid too much tax money in that year or in years previous.

As usual, scores of the well-to-do were known in the list among those in whom more than $500 went. The total of $80,583,564 was higher than the 1931 fiscal year's $69,476,350. The increase was due to considerable measure, to a Supreme Court decision in May, 1931, holding that the Federal Government could not tax the incomes of incompetent Oklahoma Indians from oil land rights.

RAILWAYS ARE SAID RUNNING HUGE DEFICITS

Interstate Commerce Commission Is Told Carriers Go In Red 200 Billions A Year

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Railroad spokesmen, seeking continuance of existing increased freight rates, told the Interstate Commerce Commission yesterday that the country's railroads are running "into the red" to the tune of $200,000,000 a year.

Dr. Julius Farnes, head of the railroad-operated bureau of railway economies said only about 30 class 1 railroads were making more than bare expenses. Deficits, he said, have been reported for the first nine months of the year by 122 lines operating 187,921 miles of track.

Buckland told the commission the freight rate surcharges, expected a year ago to produce $129,000,000, had been the source of $52,205,225 during the first nine months of the year. He urged that the railroads be permitted to discontinue the pooling arrangement and that each carrier be permitted to retain its own collection.

Receipts testified that operating revenues for this year probably would be near three and a quarter billion dollars less than in 1931. He said that during the year 40 cents out of every dollar collected by the railroads went to pay taxes of various kinds.

Carlton Gives Statement Citing Accomplishments During His Administration

TECHNOCRACY IS SEEN NO REMEDY FOR MAJOR ILLS

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 22.—Governor Carlton, in a statement here yesterday, recounted the accomplishments of his administration, its efforts toward balancing the state's budget, cutting operating costs and providing adequate revenue for the schools and for the retirement of bond debt in the political subdivisions, announcing that every major objective had been reached by careful planning, rigid economy and painstaking efficiency.

His comments were unanimous that technocracy is not a major remedy, and that machines are not the principal, nor even a cause of unemployment. There was one warning, however, that misinterpretation of what machines have done might lead to "wrong conclusions."

All but one of the comments made during formal presentation of papers, and when discussion was called for at noon recess of the symposium, there was none.

COAST LINE INCOME

WILMINGTON, N. C., Dec. 22.—(AP)—The Atlantic Coast Line railroad's net railway operating income for November amounted to $76,504 as compared with a deficit of $118,094 in October. In November, 1931, the net operating income was $234,815.

FLOOD WATERS MENACE LANDS IN WIDE AREA

Rivers Of 5 Southern States Slash Angri-ly At Their Banks Or Overflow Them

Six Southern states were harassed yesterday by flood waters that overflowed lowlands, invaded lowlying sections of a number of towns, and kept on rising with more rain in sight for headwaters tonight and tomorrow.

Comparatively small damage was reported from all states north of South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, and Tennessee although some residents were forced out of homes in each and from several points the rivers are reported at their highest levels in years.

Flood warnings also were issued, however, for the Santa in South Carolina, the Tombigbee in Alabama, several rivers in Mississippi and the French Broad and the Upper Tennessee in Tennessee.

ROOSEVELT TO GET AUTHORITY TO REORGANIZE

Party Leadership Tentatively Agrees To Permit Him Broad Authority In Work

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Democratic leadership in the House tentatively agreed upon a proposal to give President-elect Roosevelt broad authority to reorganize the government to effect economies as the major step toward balancing the federal budget.

The proposal will be offered by Chairman Byrnes of the appropriations committee probably as an amendment to the general deficiency bill late in the present session if it is not put on another supply bill by the Senate. Roosevelt will begin a study of the governmental structure when he gets to Warm Springs, Georgia next month.

A new search or additional sources of revenue to balance the budget was initiated yesterday by Democratic House leaders although the possibility of enacting a general tax bill at this session sharply diminished.

SHARKEY CALLS MAXIE 'QUITTER' WINNING ON FOUL

Boston Gob Says German Hasn't Courage Of Ring Leader

BOSTON, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Jack Sharkey, world heavyweight champion, banned Max Schmeling yesterday as a future opponent...

The champion said he had dismissed the Schmeling situation with Jimmy Johnston, matchmaker of Madison Square Garden, New York, and that it had been decided to rule the German out as a contender because of his refusal to a June bout with Sharkey.

Sharkey had this to say: "Schmeling proved he was a quitter when he went down from a fair punch and yelled foul in our first bout in New York in 1930. Only a quitter would care to win a title on a foul."

"Public opinion forced Schmeling to quit," he said. "When I was in the ring he knew I could hit him. I also knew I could beat him, as he is a quitter under fire."

"When I won Schmeling cried 'foul.' So I told him I would hit him the first shot at my championship. I know I had Schmeling's number, like I knew I had the number of Jimmy Murphy some years ago."

"I am under contract with Maxie. I also know I could beat Maxie, as he is a quitter under fire. I am under contract with the New York garden to defend my title on or before June 30, 1932. Under the terms of my contract the garden must name my opponent 90 days before the match. I shall meet the man named by the garden."

Sharkey, in fine trim at 206 pounds, will sail for Bermuda with Mrs. Sharkey and a party of friends on Jan. 3 for a vacation of several weeks.

'31 Philanthropies Are 1-Fifth Less Than During 1930

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Donations by American philanthropic foundations in 1931 were one fifth less than in 1930, it was disclosed yesterday in the second annual study of foundation activities by the Twentieth Century Fund, but despite this curtailment...

More than $54,000,000 was disbursed by the 102 foundations reporting to the fund. The reporting foundations have capital funds of more than $770,000,000.

"One of the most striking facts about foundation grants in 1931," said Evans Clark, director, in commenting on the report, "is the relatively insignificant amount of money given to the field of economics."

"It might be expected, at a time when the capitalist world is facing the most dangerous economic crisis in all history, that organized philanthropy would make a special effort to help explore or eradicate the causes of these social difficulties as philanthropy already has attacked and helped to mitigate the cause of hook-worm disease and yellow fever. Yet the returns show that only 18 out of the 102 foundations made any grants at all in the field of economics and those which did gave only $224,000 out of total grants of $54,000,000—less than 3 percent of the total disbursements."

"The lack of interest in economic problems is heightened by contrast with other odd and unusual fields of foundation interest. These range all the way from cave dwellers' art and the causes of pessimism in the middle ages to the maintenance of ventilation, heating stations and the interstitial complications of modern life."

"Of the $54,000,000 given by foundations, the report shows that more than $17,000,000 went to the support of medicine and public health and $13,500,000 to general education."

"The report also shows that 48 percent greater amount of money was given to the support of the arts and sciences than in 1930."

"Materials being made for the support of the arts and sciences are being used for the support of the arts and sciences."

'Pug' Allen Sets Links Record At DeLand With A 66

Horne "Pug" Allen, professional at the College Arms Golf course in DeLand who appeared in an exhibition match here last week with Virginia Van Wie, yesterday shattered all existing records at his home course in a sensational round of golf in which he turned in a 66 on the par 78 layout.

Mr. Allen was playing in a foursome that included Jack Toomer, former state amateur champion, Jim Spencer, and G. W. Spencer, of Sanford. Mr. Toomer had a card of 70, three under par; Jim Spencer had a 74 and G. W. Spencer had a 77.

In setting a new course record at DeLand, Mr. Allen carded nine birdies and was over par on only two holes. His birdie two on the 18th hole missed being a hole-in-one by three inches, the ball striking the green and rolling several feet to miss the cup by the narrowest of margins.

Mr. Allen's record-breaking card:

'BOWLING NOTES'

The No-Hill Bottlers bowling team opened the second half of the Sanford Merchants Bowling League by winning two out of three games from the Forrest Gatchel team on the local alleys last night.

High scores were the order of the evening with Harold Herbst of the winning team totaling high individual score of 208 and Paul Pezold of the Gatchel team rolling a 203. Mr. Pezold also had high three game score of 587 while Mr. Herbst totaled 537 points.

With all teams entered in league play revamped for second half play, closer matches are expected each game. Tonight the Dossey Lunch Room team and the Smith's Barbers team clash in their first game of the second half.

Assault Charges Are Filed Against Mother And Son

MIAMI, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Mrs. Freida J. Riley and her son, Bernard, 20, were arrested yesterday on charges of breaking and entering and of assault with intent to kill Mrs. Adelaide D. Stork, wealthy resident of the fashionable Brickell Avenue district here.

Mrs. Stork filed the charges from the hospital where she is being treated for serious injuries and said she was attacked by the mother and son in her apartment Thursday night.

Police said they learned Bart A. Riley, lawyer, husband and father of the two arrested, was attacked and injured by them at the time of the attack on Mrs. Stork.

Mrs. Riley was fined $50 and costs in municipal court on charges of assault and battery just before her arrest on the assault charge. She posted appeal bond in the first case which grew out of charges preferred by Mrs. Mildred Johnson, secretary to Riley. Mrs. Johnson charged Mrs. Riley came to the attorney's office Saturday and threatened her.

Police said they were told that Riley, attorney for Mrs. Stork in a divorce action against Capt. Warner Stork, wealthy resident of Palm Island, Miami Beach, went to her apartment. They said they were told by Mrs. Stork that Mrs. Riley, her son and a man identified as Jimmy Duffy kicked open the front door of the apartment at 10 P. M., seized Mrs. Stork and beat her with a pistol and a telephone which "Duffy" tore from the wall. When Riley attempted to intervene, the police said, his son struck him.

Mrs. Stork told police the alleged invaders left her unconscious after breaking furniture and furnishings in the apartment.

Police said further that Bernard took Riley, also unconscious, to an automobile but that Riley later awoke, locked himself in a room of his home, whence he telephoned for help.

Hospital authorities said Mrs. Stork suffered a multiple skull fracture and fracture of her wrist and a finger, as well as numerous bruises.

Redfern Believed To Be Living Well If With Indians

RIO DE JANEIRO, Dec. 23.—(AP)—If Paul Redfern, American aviator who disappeared five years ago while attempting a non stop flight from the United States to Rio de Janeiro, is living with the Parantins, a group of docile Indians, he undoubtedly is living well, according to Maj. Thomas Reis, veteran explorer attached to the frontier service who is intimately acquainted with the Parantins.

Reports have come out of the jungle that Redfern still is alive. They have not been confirmed. It is Major Reis' belief that if the aviator is with the Parantins he is remaining there voluntarily and is enjoying life.

"I knew a Dutch professor who entered the region," stayed 10 years, married twice and had five children," the major said.

According to the reports Redfern is in the Maly River region not far from Rio-Madeira. This is only a few days from civilization.

He is reported to be in good health and a finger, as well as numerous bruises.

Women Spend Less On Clothes Than Usually Credited

RICHMOND, Va.—The belief that women earning their own incomes spend the greater part of it on clothing is refuted in a study of the earnings and expenditures of a representative group of 71 employed in business and industry in Richmond. According to this study, those earning the lowest incomes in the group spend slightly less than 28 percent of their earnings for this purpose, while those making the most spend only 29.1 percent for clothes.

Instead of spending the majority of their earnings on clothing, the women paid out more for ordinary living costs, including room, board, fuel and light than they did for any other item. It took somewhat more than 42 percent of their wages and salaries to pay for this. But those earning the least had to pay more than half, or 53.1 percent, for the cost of very existence. Those in the highest income bracket paid 38.3 percent.

However, when it came to buying such articles of clothing as coats, the workers were found to have given more rein to the love of fine things than the foregoing figures might indicate. They found themselves able to pay an average of $48.76 for their winter wraps, some of them going as high as $100 to $150.

Beauty treatments cost an average of $9.24 a year. Motion pictures took $10.77, exclusive of expenditures by escorts on this item. Sixty-six of the group were church supporters, contributing an average of $20.07 a year to the churches. Two more, or 68, reported expenditures for education, including such items as tuition, books and periodicals. The outlay of the lowest income group for this was $6.24, and of the highest, $24.25.

Health expenses took an average of $28.24. Thirty-five of the number carried life insurance, and paid an average of $29.06 for it. Only 35 of the group lived on less than their earnings, their earnings, their average surplus

Moore's Refusal Of Extradition Is Handed Criticism

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—(AP)—The refusal of Governor Moore of New Jersey, to extradite Robert Elliott Burns, chain gang fugitive, who was arrested in the Home yesterday by Representative Parker, Democrat, Georgia, in a "judicial insult" and "unprovoked and unwarranted affront" to the state of Georgia.

His position that Georgia had been "slandered" was joined in by Representative Tarver, Democrat, Georgia, who said Moore's conclusions on the issue "were false."

Between these two speeches, Representative Stewart, Democrat, New Jersey, defended Governor Moore as "one of the most patriotic and generous of men in his treatment of those he believes are the underdogs or who have not had a square deal."

One statement by Parker was denied by Moore immediately. Parker said: "The governor of New Jersey has been quoted as saying: 'Robert Elliott Burns will have a haven of refuge in the state of New Jersey as long as it remains a law abiding citizen.'"

At Trenton, the governor said: "The statement which Parker being $49.10 a year. In the year ending at the time of the study, the clerical workers had lost an average of 10.3 days through unemployment, and the factory workers an average of 29 days."

A Hindrance To Sales

The ingenuity of industrial and commercial enterprises in stimulating sales by constant improvements and change in style and fashions has been carried to such lengths that there is beginning to arise a belief that the purpose is being defeated.

No one likes to be out of style, therefore those who decree the fashions in dress deduce that a constant change in modes will act as an increased incentive to purchasers.

Mechanical conveyances and appliances are also being changed and improved at such a rate that it takes a person's entire time shopping to keep abreast of the times.

We have often heard prospective automobile purchasers declare they are going to wait until the new models appear and then after seeing them decide that it would be better in view of the extensive advancements to put off their buying at present.

Our Neighboring County

Seminole County citizens who take pride in the agricultural potentialities of their county will be interested in a Times-Union editorial setting forth the extent and diversification of Lake county's farming interests.

Lake county, with soil and climatic conditions being highly favorable, is exceedingly prominent in the growing of citrus fruits, the census recently taken revealing that in that county there are over 800,000 orange trees.

Lake county, however, does not confine its soil production to citrus fruits, watermelons and a few other crops.

"Lake county, however, does not confine its soil production to citrus fruits, watermelons and a few other crops. Staple crops constitute an important feature in the agricultural processes of that county, corn, peanuts and oats being prominent.

"A comparatively new line of soil production that is becoming prominent in Lake county is indicated by the growing of ferns and bulbs on a large scale.

"More recently attention has been given to the growing of tung trees from the nuts of which tung oil is extracted, and now is coming into commercial use on an extensive scale, in competition with the same oil produced in China for centuries past.

THE RED CONUNDRUM

It is no news that the Soviet Union has not completed the five-year plan ahead of schedule. It is interesting to learn that the Kremlin is not even ready to pretend that the great job has been satisfactorily done by announcing the inauguration of a new five-year schedule next month.

At this moment there is no doubt that the industrial trend is not forward but backward. This is for the simple reason that the state has been unable to finance the new construction which might have offset the slump in the West.

Technocracy Seen No Remedy For Major Ills

The study is called Technocracy, and some of its critics referred to it by the older engineering term of technology.

Dr. Rautenstrauch who had spoken before his presentation to the "blind men who want to see an elephant a year" they came back they had different descriptions.

Then he began his speech with "I don't say anything about prices." This was taken as a reference in comments to some of the recently published interpretations of the technocracy studies that "prices" cannot be continued as fair standards of values in distributing property.

His talk was an explication of the principles of technocracy. These were that in the past 500 will come the air race, including two squadrons of the Condor bombardment group, with 27 planes from Langley Field, Va.; two squadrons of the eight pursuit group with 39 planes from the same field; a marine corps unit of pursuit planes from Quantico, Va.; and a naval unit from Pensacola.

In addition, 50 individual planes from different branches are coming here for experimental or tactical flights during the air races. Officials predicted presence of a large number of civilian planes.

The results of this change, he thinks, will be profound.

Man with labor less and less hours, but they produce more and more in the shorter time. Therefore industrial planning of the future must be, he said, quite different from any existing in the past.

What the specific differences in planning may be did not define, but stated four principles for guidance. First and most important, he said, is purpose of the business enterprise; second its program; third its personnel; and fourth the "property" or material means available to the group for its sustenance and growth.

He said there are indications in engineering charts made by technocracy—a task far from completed—that "the rate of growth understanding of the nature and magnitude of the forces which condition the social status, are not competent and are unworthy of consideration by scientific men."

Burns' Novel Basis Of Film At Milan

"I Am a Fugitive from a Chain Gang," a Warner Brothers picture starring Paul Muni, which opens at the Milan picture house today, is a realistic picture of a well-bred man's experience as a convict on a chain gang, with all the attendant thrills of two escapes in which the prisoner is pursued by armed possees and bloodhounds.

Not only is it said to carry more thrilling and sensational episodes than most screen dramas, but it presents a triple romance of strange and glamorous loves. The picture is based on the novel by Robert E. Burns which caused so much comment recently, because of the incredible revelations of chain gang prison life.

Driven to desperation by the tortures of the whipping post and other cruelties, the fugitive, portrayed by Muni, makes his escape and crosses to another state after almost unbelievable hardships. He made good under a new name only to be betrayed by a woman. He is returned to the chain gang only to escape again in one of the most exciting man hunts the screen has recorded in years.

There is no more touching figure imaginable, than this fugitive yearning for love and home, struggling from place to place, not daring to show his face, a man without a country, Paul Muni, the famous "Scarface" of the screen, and noted for his fine interpretation of character on the stage, is said to give his best performance as this fugitive.

Glenda Fyfe, who made such a hit in "Ella Regina," plays the role of the woman who betrays Burns, while Helen Vinson, in his real love, Preston Foster, Edward J. McNamara, Edith Terry, Allen Jenkins and David Langley head a supporting cast which is one of the largest ever seen on the screen. There are 37 speaking roles, 65 "bit" parts and more than 3,000 extras.

The screen play was adapted by Sheridan Gibney and Brown Holmes and directed by Harry Lasker.

Orchestra from Orlando. Favorit and clappers will be distributed during intermissions. A large number of persons from here and nearby towns is expected to be in attendance.

After spending the Christmas holidays here with her mother, Mrs. Emma Godbee, Mrs. Robert Haines has returned to her home in Palatka. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Mae Godbee.

How he plans to have the financial affairs of the government surveyed with a view of determining what changes will be followed.

The Mississippi Democrat said he had not discussed the question of additional revenue with Mr. Roosevelt and did not think his committee had enough time to secure complete revision of the tax laws at this session.

Meanwhile, Garner declined to say whether he had accepted a re-organizational invitation to meet with Roosevelt in Albany within the next two weeks to discuss the fiscal affairs of the government. It is understood, though, that the Democratic leaders are anxious to obtain a more definite impression of Mr. Roosevelt's ideas on how to raise additional revenue.

Collier said the McKewen plan to levy a privilege or license tax or other tax on chain stores and other interstate business, estimated to return $900,000,000 annually, would be submitted to the conference.

Representative Treadway, of Massachusetts, a Republican member of the Ways and Means Committee, and Representative Britten, (R. Ill.), in statements, attacked the Democrats' stand on taxes.

Britten said "The first great disappointment of the American people over election of a Democratic president occurred yesterday morning when it was broadcast throughout the nation that President-elect Roosevelt was opposed to the enactment of a manufacturers' sales tax."

On the other hand, Representative Rankin, (D. Miss.), a candidate for speaker, said in a statement:

"In placing the stamp of his disapproval on a general federal sales tax, President-elect Roosevelt certainly pulled some of our leaders out of a 'blind alley.'"

"If Congress had passed this bill, at this season, it would have been the greatest betrayal of the American people ever committed by a Democratic Congress. Governor Roosevelt has saved the day."

Senator Dill, (D. Wash.), interpreted Governor Roosevelt's expression as an indication that economies rather than new taxes are to be the dominant medium of balancing the budget.

Ruth Judd Tells "True Story" Of Killings To Jury

PHOENIX, Dec. 29.—(AP)—Given a chance to tell the "true story" of the killing of her two former women friends and sending their bodies in a trunk to Los Angeles, Winnie Ruth Judd, condemned murderess, today awaited whatever action may be taken by a county grand jury.

For four hours she was before the jury and her voice at times, apparently hysterical, could be heard in the corridors outside the jury room. There was no official statement as to what she told jurors.

Her attorney said if the grand jury indicts another person he will place the woman's case before the grand jury with a plea for commutation of sentence. She is scheduled to hang Feb. 17 for the murder of Mrs. Agnes Lavelle. She is also charged with the murder of Miss Hedvig Samuelson.

Hope Held Out For 7 Entombed Miners ATTENDS ROLLINS

MOWEQUA, Ill., Dec. 29.—(AP)—Glenn Shafer, owner of the mine where 54 men were entombed by an explosion Saturday, gave the seven miners still missing a "good chance to get out alive" today. He ordered all speed in reaching the men believing if they had time to get back far enough they might be safe. The last of survivors for the first 40 victims was held today. The bodies of seven others were recovered yesterday.

Corleys Entertain With Bridge Party

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Corley entertained informally at their home on Cameron Avenue last night with a dinner and bridge party given in honor of Misses Frances Sue Hunter, and Miss Elise Hunter, of Charlotte, N. C., who are visiting relatives here.

Dinner was served in courses early in the evening after which bridge games were enjoyed until a late hour. High score prize for the ladies was awarded to Miss Frances Hunter while Miss Elise Hunter was given cut prize. O. H. Flynn received high score prize for the men.

Adorning the rooms where the guests were entertained was a profusion of brightly-colored gladioli and shrubs. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Parks Hunter, Miss Elise Hunter, Miss Frances Sue Hunter, O. H. Flynn, and Mr. and Mrs. Corley.

"Leap Year Date" To Be Staged Friday

The younger set of the city will enjoy a new entertainment to be given tomorrow night beginning at 8:30 o'clock by the members of the Celery Fed. It is being called a "leap year date" and includes a gathering at the home of Miss Carolyn Cogburn, 217 West Seventh Street, at 8:30 o'clock, a theater party, and a "silly break" dance at the Elks Club. The girls of the city may invite an escort or attend the three affairs, without one.
