

New Note Tells Russia To Show Some Goodwill

LONDON (AP)—The United States, Britain and France in a new note told Soviet Russia today the long-delayed treaty for Austria can be completed only if a little goodwill is shown, informed officials reported.

The note was in reply to one from Soviet Ambassador Jacob Malik yesterday in which Moscow turned down a Western invitation to reopen talks tomorrow on the Austrian treaty.

The Western answer, said to have been delivered to Malik after a conference of British, American and French diplomatic officials here, rejected the Russian argument that only the four-power council of foreign ministers could call a conference on the Austrian pact.

The new note was written on behalf of the Western powers by Geoffrey Harrison, British chairman of the deputy foreign ministers who have held 250 meetings in the past five years in an effort to hammer out an agreement on Austria.

The note said that the Western powers are ready to meet with the Russians on the Austrian treaty, but that the Russians must show some goodwill. It said that the Western powers are ready to meet with the Russians on the Austrian treaty, but that the Russians must show some goodwill.

Five Children Burn To Death In House

PETERSBURG, W. Va. (AP)—Five children, four of them brothers and sisters ranging in age from three to 16, were trapped on the second floor of a burning house in South Petersburg today and burned to death.

The fifth child was the cousin of the other four. There were 17 persons in all in the two-story frame house which burned to the ground. They were members of three families and all related.

The dead were Angier Mongold, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Mongold; and four children of Mr. and Mrs. Foster George, Shirley Lee, 11, Caroline Sue, 8, Larry, 4, and Derry Alvin, 3.

The fire started while Mrs. Mongold was preparing breakfast in a first floor stove.

County Hospital Deferred Until the Summer

defer until the hospital has become a certainty. He added that the property to the east is occupied by dwellings of substantial size and value, and the owners did not desire to see the property decreased in value by a lowering of zoning restrictions.

"Zoning should operate to protect property owners," he asserted. "Since there are a number of things to iron out before the hospital becomes an actuality, the owners of property in the adjacent area want to protect themselves in all contingencies."

Mayor Hutchison then stated that certain preliminary work must be accomplished, one of which was rezoning since the hospital could not be built in a R-1AA zone. "If the hospital never goes through, the rezoning will never be effective," he told the delegation.

Robert Brown, chairman of the City Planning Board, backed up Mr. Chase by asserting that "the hospital can never be constructed in the area unless there is rezoning. R-2 will permit such construction."

Mr. Hutchison then stated that "the people of the area will contest rezoning of any property in the disputed area except for the hospital site. Mr. Brown had stated that several other structures such as doctor's offices and restaurants were generally to be found in the immediate vicinity of a hospital and zoning should permit these."

The City Planning Board chairman declared property owners north of First Street would be in a bad way if that side of the street was to remain in a highly restricted zone since the property would lose in value if only large one-family homes were allowed after the hospital was constructed.

William Kirk entered the discussion to point out he believed that the hospital will increase the value of property in that section rather than lower it, but that owners of land desire protection. He stated owners of homes on Melonville Avenue would not benefit from a lowering of zoning restrictions throughout the area.

Mr. Oiler added he thought the First Street rezoning should go through, but that changes should be held in abeyance until specific parcels came in with specific requests for a change in zoning. He then brought up the idea of a buffer strip between the two zones.

Former White House Employee Clams Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—A one-time White House employee refused today to say whether he had passed secret government documents to an acknowledged former Soviet spy courier. He did say he never engaged in espionage against this country.

The witness was Julius J. Joseph of New York City, an associate economist for the National Resources Planning Board at the White House in 1940 and 1941, and a member of the wartime Office of Strategic Services—the hush-hush OSS—from 1943 through mid-1945.

Joseph refused to say whether he is a Communist. He assailed but did not deny the testimony of Miss Elizabeth Bentley, acknowledged former spy courier, who had named him as a member of a Soviet spy ring.

Joseph was called as an unscheduled witness, in advance of testimony by Nathan Witt, former general counsel and secretary of the National Labor Relations Board in 1944-45, and John Abt, former special assistant to the attorney general in 1937-38.

Taxi Driver Walkout Puts Tampans Afoot

TAMPA (AP)—A walkout of drivers after their union business agent was arrested on a charge of trespassing on company property left two major Tampa taxi firms with only seven cabs operating today.

The case against Clyde Overby, agent for the Independent Taxi Drivers Union, was continued in city court for a week. Overby said he had been conducting union business on company property unchallenged for months, and the charge was brought because a strike had been threatened for June 1.

Both Overby and T. P. Melching, president of Taxicabs of Tampa Inc., said the dispute was over a union demand for reduction of the number of cabs from about 65 to 35.

The union agent said the drivers can't earn a living wage unless the number of cabs is reduced. Melching said 55 are not enough to give needed service.

Melching said about two-thirds of his 180-190 drivers are union members, and most of the non-union drivers are afraid to work.

His company operates Yellow Cabs and Red Top Cabs, the only other major cab company here for white patrons, Diamond Cab Co., is not affected.

5 Pickets Arrested At Struck GE Plants

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Five pickets were arrested at two strike-bound General Electric Company plants today as a reported 2,200 salaried employees went to work through picket lines that were shorter than expected after yesterday's violence.

A few minor attempts to stop cars of workers were reported. Nine members of the striking CIO International Union of Electrical Workers and four sheriff's deputies were reported injured yesterday when GE reopened the plants for a recall of white-collar workers. The injuries occurred, the sheriff's office said, when cars forced their way through picket lines. One picket, a woman, was hospitalized.

By mid-morning today, the company said, 2,200 of the 4,000 white-collar employees had reported for work.

mission will be called for June 15 to open the bids.

Frank L. Miller, a former City Commissioner, and C. H. Levister, U. S. Navy, appeared before the Commission in connection with damage to Mr. Levister's car sustained in a City alley, which is an extension of Magnolia Avenue at Twenty-fifth Street.

Mr. Levister declared high roots in the alleyway had damaged the A-frame of his car to the extent of $130. He asked damages from the City.

Mr. Lemon pointed out that the road is unimproved and people use it at their own risk. Mayor Chase referred the matter to the City Manager and City Attorney Ed Shinholser.

Porter Lansing asked if something couldn't be done about the lack of pressure in the City's water mains in the southeast portion of Sanford. He said that during the current period of dry weather, at certain times of the day pressure is so low that if a fire should break out sufficient water would not be available to contain the blaze.

Mr. Lemon said volume is sufficient in the area, but a three inch water main does not give sufficient pressure. The matter is under study at the present time, he told the Commission.

Mr. Lansing also asked the City for whatever help could be given in moving sufficient sand to create a beach at a Sportsman's Association park on the Wekiva River. The Commission took the matter under advisement.

The resignation of A. B. (Bart) Peterson as a member of the Sanford Industrial Board was accepted, but on the suggestion of Commissioner John Kader action in naming a replacement was deferred until the next meeting.

The request of J. W. Stull of the Stull Farm Supply Co. for a loading zone at 110 West Second Street was granted. The feed store was recently moved to that location from 400 West Thirteenth Street.

City Manager Lemon submitted for study a proposed street light layout for Phillips Terrace on Princeton and Yale Avenues. At the last meeting, the Commission approved two new street lights for Yale Avenue.

A suggestion by Richard Healy that the City print on its water bills the slogan "Save Lives—Obey Traffic Laws" was accepted. The slogan, in line with highway safety, will be printed on the bills as soon as the present supply is exhausted.

Put off until the next meeting was action on filling two vacancies which currently exist on the Sanford Housing Authority Board. The present board had recommended the reappointment of Jack Hall to succeed himself and the appointment of Al Wilson to succeed Bob Harris.

Mr. Lemon said he had received a telephone call from Rep. Williams just before the meeting in which the representative said that the French Avenue widening project had been temporarily stopped because of the death of the

House Votes Funds For 2 Departments

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House passed and sent to the Senate today a bill appropriating $1,900,708,461 for the Labor and Welfare departments after cutting 10 million dollars from President Eisenhower's request for hospital funds.

The money is to finance the two agencies for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The roll call vote was 355 to 2. The bill allots the money this way: $235,184,000 for the Labor Department, $1,715,524,461 for the Health, Education and Welfare Department and $13,274,000 for affiliated minor agencies.

Passage followed last-minute defeat of a Democratic-led move to appropriate 75 million dollars for federal grants to states for community hospital construction.

The House decided to stick to its Appropriations Committee recommendation for a 50 million hospital grant fund instead of the 60 million requested by President Eisenhower.

A roll-call vote, 237 to 36, boosted by six million dollars the funds recommended by the Appropriations Committee for federal payments to school districts whose population is swollen by military and atomic energy activities. The House voted $66,500,000 for this purpose, the amount requested by President Eisenhower. Former President Truman asked for 70 million.

President Is Amazed At Research Center

BELTSVILLE, Md. (AP)—President Eisenhower toured the government's farm research center today and watched in wide-eyed wonder as an electronic gadget methodically separated white-shelled eggs from brown-shelled ones.

"It's amazing," the President declared.

Eisenhower drove from Washington and was met at the center by Secretary of Agriculture Benson and other Agriculture Department officials.

At the start of the 3 1/2 hour visit, Benson introduced the President as a Pennsylvania farmer—a reference to Eisenhower's ownership of a farm near Gettysburg, Pa.

The President also grew up on a farm in Kansas, and it was plain from the start today that he knows a lot about it.

Marking back to his boyhood days in Kansas, the President smiled and said that of all the farm chores, "I hated milking the cows most of all."

Jail-Bound Mayor Is Bent To Retain Post

PALL RIVER, Mass. (AP)—Mayor Edward C. Pelrice of New Bedford was sentenced to four years in the House of Correction today on gambling conspiracy charges and calmly announced "I will never willingly give up the office."

The 58-year-old mayor, a former Massachusetts senator, issued a statement saying: "I'm going to jail today because I will not desert the people who elected me." He is a Democrat but was elected mayor in a non-partisan municipal election.

Defense attorneys indicated they would take the case to the Massachusetts Supreme Court.

Pelrice was convicted yesterday of conspiracy to protect gaming. Last week another jury convicted him of conspiracy to impede prosecutions for gambling.

A plat was submitted by Fred Williams, surveyor, asking for the City's approval of lots which had been marked off in the Rosalia Drive area.

Several old bills dating back to 1948 which had never been collected by the City were turned over to City Attorney Shinholser for his action.

Mr. Shinholser presented the first reading of the amendment to the zoning law in the Dreamworld Section voted upon at the last meeting. A first reading of the order to vacate an alley between Cypress and Pine Avenues was also given.

Stelvin Smith, who recently completed tearing down the grandstand at the old ball park, was given an extension of contract to raise the old stands and dugouts at the field. Mr. Lemon pointed out the stands are in poor condition, cannot be patched up, and constitute a hazard.

The City Attorney was authorized to prepare a resolution for the City to borrow $10,000 for necessary expenses.

Almost without a ripple of excitement the chain store tax which caused such a furor nearly two decades ago is repealed, showing the change in public sentiment which has taken place since the war. The chain store tax levied a fee of $10 on a single store, but where there were two or more stores in a chain, the fee was graduated upward until each store in the largest chains had to pay a fee of $500, and by repeal of this law
 the State has saved $500,000 a year.
 George says he reported, however,
 that a number of the largest retailing organizations are not anxious for repeal of the chain store tax to move into Florida.

A Boost For Construction

With the Sanford Industrial drive gathering momentum daily, it is perhaps timely to point out that one of the biggest industries in Sanford since the war has been the construction industry.

Millions of dollars worth of new housing has been built in this city, not to mention the millions invested in DeBary, Lake Mary, Casselberry and other surrounding towns of the county, during the past few years.

Visible signs of how this money has been spent are found in every direction as whole blocks of new houses have sprung up, entire subdivisions have been developed, and thousands of families have found new homes in our town and its surrounding area.

This vast new construction has provided employment for many hundreds of carpenters, painters, masons and other skilled artisans, and indirectly perhaps for hundreds of other workers. Ever since the war the building industries have pumped new money into the economic blood stream of this community.

And so as we begin another summer, which because of crop failures and unfavorable market conditions in our agricultural industry promises to present certain financial problems for some of our people, perhaps we should give some thought to helping to provide employment by stimulating the building trades.

Why not have a paint-up campaign this summer? Why not a fix-up campaign to repair and renovate some of our older houses which have long been neglected? FHA loans are easily obtainable to make necessary repairs to houses or to give them a fresh coat of paint.

And this is the best way in the world to protect your investment.

Big Three Party

It would be foolish to pretend that the United States, Britain and France agree on everything. They are bound to have conflicting interests in some things. But we must not allow these differences to be magnified out of proportion. On essentials they agree. Their aims are basically the same though they disagree on the best means to attain those aims. That is why the conference, scheduled for some time after June 15, between President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Churchill and the head of the government of France, is so important.

The conference can convince Russia and the rest of the world that there is no real lack of harmony in the "Big Three." The leaders of Britain, France and the United States can state their problems and opinions around the conference table. The problems which beset them can be presented and in the interchange of ideas solutions may be found.

The conference must not be regarded as a cure-all for the world's ills. It may lead to no concrete action in the cold war. Perhaps President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Churchill and the head of the French government will emerge from the conference still in disagreement on many points. But at least they will have had a chance to talk matters over, to get a better understanding of each other's point of view.

The Western world looks to the "Big Three" for leadership. Anything which can be done to promote understanding and harmony among these three allies, who stood so staunchly together through World War II, is worth the effort.

Courses For Marriage

A Common Pleas Judge in Ohio would make courses in marriage responsibility mandatory for applicants for marriage licenses. He points out that for most licenses issued by the state, applicants must produce some evidence of preparation. For the marriage license, however, nothing is required in most states except a blood test and proof of mental competence. The judge believes that such courses could be under the supervision of local school boards or under the auspices of the church with which the couple is affiliated.

There are many who may disagree with the idea of imposing further restrictions on applicants for marriage licenses. It may be contended that making applicants attend certain courses would be an infringement on personal liberty.

But the divorce rate today is alarmingly high. Many promising marriages go awry because either the bride or the groom or both are unprepared to accept the responsibilities which marriage brings. The family is the foundation of society and anything which threatens the security of family life is a peril to the state.

Perhaps it would not be necessary to make such courses mandatory. If they were offered to prospective brides and grooms at nominal fees they might attract many who would benefit from them. There may be flaws in the judge's idea. But at least it is a bit of constructive thinking on the problem of how we can help to lower the divorce rate.

More Immigrants

A bill is before the Senate which would permit the entry of 240,000 immigrants within the next two years in addition to the regular quotas. The bill was introduced by Republican Senator Arthur V. Watkins of Utah. A great part of the immigrants would be people who have fled the tyranny of the Iron Curtain and who want to make new lives for themselves in the United States. Others would be nationals of countries friendly to the United States and their admission would help to take the load off some of these overcrowded lands.

The bill has the support of President Eisenhower as well as many Democrats. It contains provisions guarding against possible displacement of American labor by the immigrants. It also gives a measure of preference to persons who are blood relatives of citizens of the United States. All in all the bill sounds like a good one and it is expected to meet with the general approval of Congress.

Georgescu said his answer was 'yes' and the visitor advised him that he would be in touch with him.

Notables Arrive As Crowning Of Elizabeth Nears

By JAMES F. KING
 LONDON (AP)—The biggest contingent of American coronation visitors so far arrived last night on the Queen Elizabeth. They joined a steadily swelling crowd of "Dollar Princes and Dollar Princesses," as Britons generally dubbed them.

There was one real veteran aboard—Mrs. Elizabeth Livingstone of Detroit was presented to King George V in 1936 and to George VI in 1937. She was a firm supporter of Queen Elizabeth II and will have a seat in Westminster Abbey for the June 2 coronation ceremony.

For Peggy Holman, of Minden, La., and Gene Jennings, of Ft. Worth, Tex., the trip is "a sort of a graduation present from our parents." Both are 21. They won't get into the Abbey but they have 20 seats in a department store window along the coronation route.

Among other American arrivals were Joseph E. Davies, former U. S. ambassador to Moscow, and his wife, and Myron C. Taylor, who was personal representative to the Vatican for President Roosevelt and Truman.

Commander Harry Grattidge, skipper of the Queen Elizabeth wasn't awed by his prominent passengers. He smilingly told newsmen:

"I'm not envious. I have a seat in the Abbey myself."

Elizabeth went to the Abbey for another rehearsal of the coronation this morning.

Extra police had to be called out to hold back a cheering crowd that pressed forward at the Abbey doors for a glimpse of the young queen and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh. She wore a slim, dove grey two piece suit and clove-fitting white hat, while the duke was debonair as ever in navy blue lounge suit and bowler hat.

The rehearsal lasted an hour in the palace where the changing of the robes carrying the coronets of peers and peeresses.

Tremendous crowds almost brought traffic to a standstill around Westminster and Buckingham Palace where the changing of the palace guard gave sightseers a thrill. The Australians, first of the Commonwealth troops who will mount guard until Coronation Day, took over duty from the queen's regular brigade of guards.

Appropriations Bill
 TALLAHASSEE (AP)—A joint committee has dovetailed the Senate's $37-million dollar appropriations bill and the House's $44-million dollar version and will bring its own $42-million dollar compromise.

The conferees achieved a lower figure than either one they started with by the general procedure of taking the low number when the found the two bills in disagreement.

The three senators and three representatives on the committee named to compare the two bills recommended expenditure of $309,355,320 from the general fund for institutions and agencies and $32,198,165 on new construction.

That figure doesn't cover all the state's expected spending from the general fund for the next two years though. Not included in the total is the five million dollars allocated for a medical school at the University of Florida and other thousands appropriated specially in individual bills.

Spending when everything is added up at the end of the session may exceed 350 million, which may be about 70 millions above expenditures for this biennium.

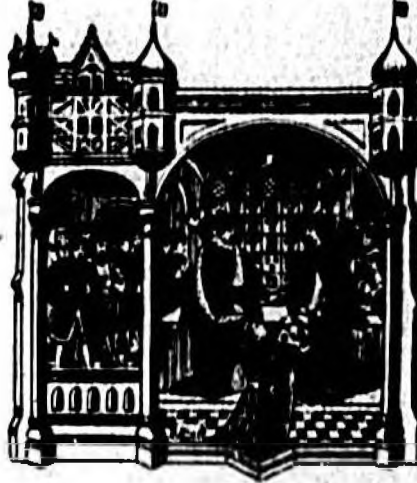

Approval of the bill came at the

A month later his father's plan of uniting the crowns of England and France was realized. Henry VI was proclaimed king of France. He was kept from having a childhood, but he grew up to be a pious, gentle man. England owed great educational institutions to him: Eton and King's College, Cambridge, were two results of his reign. Other results were a unfortunate for him. The French, thanks to a plot hatched by Joan of Arc, expelled the English from all except Calais. Factionalism at home produced the Hundred Years War of the Roses. Henry became deranged and eventually was imprisoned. He was put to death in 1471.

"We heard a most interesting address by our King Lion of Lions International. He has traveled in almost every country in the world visiting Lions Clubs during the past year. It was an unusual fact that he attended all three days of the convention, since he normally attends only one day at the most. He has 14 more convention visits to make before the international convention in July."

Mr. Witte commended Mr. Morrison for his diligent work in checking credentials of registering delegates. The feature of the convention that impressed Mr. Morrison the most was that over 2,000 Lions made the 6:30 a. m. breakfast on the second day of the convention.

Rosenbergs Ask New Stay Of Execution

WASHINGTON (AP)—Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, convicted atom spies, asked today that Chief Justice Vinson grant them a new stay of execution.

The request followed the Supreme Court's action yesterday in refusing for the third time to review the Rosenbergs' case. The husband and wife are in the death house of New York's Sing Sing prison.

Two attorneys for the Rosenbergs filed a petition in the office of the Supreme Court clerk, asking a stay of execution pending the tribunal's final action on a request for reconsideration of yesterday's denial. The stay petition emphasized a charge by the Rosenbergs' attorneys that the indictment of William Perl, an authority on aerodynamics two and a half years ago was timed by the government so as to prejudice the Rosenbergs at their trial.

Cards Sweep Lakeland Series On Twin Win, 8-2, 5-1

Sanford Is 2 Games Out Of 5th; 'Birds Play Daytona Here Tonight

By KENT CHETLAIN
As the first half reaches the last lap, Sanford's Gas House Gang is beginning to cash in at the winners' booth. Last night the Cardinals disposed of the newly born Lakeland Pilots twice in a doubleheader at the Melmore Stadium before 745 paid customers. The double victory gave the locals a clean sweep of their three-game set with Lakeland and moved Sanford within two games of the fifth place Lakeland Red Hots.

The Hots obliged the Surling Cards by dropping a pair to the Florida State League leading Cocoa Indians last night. Sanford took the opener from the Pilots on an 8-2 decision. Laruning Lou Calvetti fired a brilliant two-hitter at the losers to score his second win of the year in four games.

Clarence Ingram, Sanford's "winningest" pitcher, followed up Calvetti's sterling performance by handcrafting Lakeland, 5-1, in the nightcap on six scattered hits. Ingram was so stung that he didn't permit a pass in his nine-inning stint. The smooth-sounding native from Albany, Ga., cut down 11 consecutive Pilots from the third frame to the seventh. It was Ingram's sixth triumph as against four this year. In 73 innings of pitching the

Cocoa Tribe Wins 8th Straight Tilt To Increase Lead

By The Associated Press
Cocoa's Indians, winners of eight games straight, threatened today to turn the Florida State League race into a walk.

Two victories Monday night came at the expense of Deland, the defending champion, 4-2 and 4-1, and bulged the Indians' lead to 2 1/2 games.

Third-place Jacksonville Beach kept the chance tonight and Wednesday night to try to stop the rampage.

Monday, Jacksonville Beach defeated last-place Orlando, 8-5; and Sanford except a doubleheader with Lakeland, 8-2, 5-1.

Virgil Frazier pitched an eight-hitter to win Cocoa's opener and Don Crosson scattered seven hits in the second game. It was Frazier's eighth victory. Manager

Lakeland scored its two runs in the opener when Calvetti passed the first two men to face him—Spiko Miller and Manager Pete Kantor. After Roger Bear rolled to first baseman J. C. Dunn, Hal Smollett, collegiate rookie from Florida Southern College, promptly lined out a slug to left centering both Miller and Kantor.

LEONARD TO HURL AGAINST ISLETS
Dave Leonard (1-1), 10-year-old cardinal rookie right-hander, has been nominated to start for Sanford tonight against the second-place Daytona Beach Islanders at 8:00 p. m. in the Memorial Stadium. The "Birds" will be seeking to run their winning streak to four straight in this evening's clash.

Sanford bounced back to score three runs in its half of the first nine innings by Bill Harris, Tony Harone and two Lakeland errors.

Sanford's twin victory gave the Cardinals a three-game winning streak—all at the expense of Lakeland. It seems strange that Sanford with a record 17 won-lost work at home is mired in sixth place, but a look at the record of the club reveals the reason why.

CARD CAPERS: Right-handed service pitcher who posted 10-8 and 8-10 won-lost marks in the last two years with Goldsboro of the class B Coastal Plains League, is slated to return to Sanford either tonight or tomorrow night. He has been pitching with Johnson City, Tenn.

Sanford's old nemesis Bascom Hannu in the nightcap on eight hits. Bill Harris counted his first homer, a two-run affair, with two out and none on. He also collected a single to drive in four runs for the evening. Harris now has knocked 21 runners across in his brief 17-game career here.

Lakeland picked up its only run—an unearned run at that—in the second to take a 1-0 lead. Sanford bounced back in no small way when Bruen walked and scored on singles by Bill Silverthorne and Harris. Dunn walked and Tommy Leonard forced Silverthorne at the plate. "Battling" Bill Batty drove Harris and Bruen around on a double.

Dunn struck his 18 double of the season off the centerfield fence, 475 feet from home, in the 4th and Leonard singled the way a skipper in.

Battling Bill collected three hits in one trip last night by scoring his fivegame career walk to 13 hits in his 23 trips to the plate. Batty was doubled with a week 24-year-old in a new looking a batter.

St. Louis To Send Cards Player Aid

By KENT CHETLAIN
Sanford's sixth place Cardinals are in store for a major shakeup according to all outward indications. The Sanford club, off to a poor start under the new working accord with the St. Louis Cardinals, has been crying for player help, particularly pitchers.

Signs pointing to the shakeup are as follows:
1. St. Louis is sending a third year limited service right-handed pitcher—Hual Mitchell.

2. Sanford signed a new first baseman—Ricky Bruen—yesterday to replace injured Pric Westbrook who was put on the disabled list.

3. Reports from Lakeland, and not denied by Redbird officials, say the Pilots have almost completed a straight cash deal for righthander Murray Byrd.

4. Righthander Harry Mella and newly acquired Bill Ashcraft, a sore-armed flinger, are reported ready to be returned to the Cardinal chain.

5. Cardinal Business Manager Jim Fields admitted talking player changes with St. Louis Cardinal lower farm system director Walter Shannon last Saturday night and Sanford skipper J. C. Dunn.

6. According to a reliable source, Shannon assured Dunn that the Cardinals were in a position to make Sanford a contender.

7. Other reports indicate that outfield help may also be in the offing, though most player changes will probably be moundmen.

General Manager Jim Fields reiterated his displeasure with the pitching staff. "We are in desperate need of pitching help. Anyone who has watched our club much this year will agree with me," Fields declared.

Asked about the Lakeland rumor concerning the sale of Byrd, Fields declined to comment saying, "I'd rather not discuss any speculative reports." Actually Fields didn't deny the rumor.

Quoted about Mella and Ashcraft, Fields said, "I cannot discuss our plans until things are official, though, one thing is certain. We are going to make some changes. I can't deny that. Our pitching has been below par. We have made the runs to win, but haven't been getting the hurrying to go with the hits."

Despite the signing of rookie first baseman Bruen, it is rumored that Dunn is still seeking a more experienced first baseman and possibly another outfielder.

"We talked with Shannon Saturday night," Dunn said, "and he says he has some players he thinks can give Sanford a winner."

"Beef-Eater" Set Easy Fashioning For Teen-agers

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Fashion Editor
Any teen-ager who knows how to use a sewing machine can make a gay summer "Beef-Eater" hat and bag in a couple of hours, for a few cents.

All you need is 2 1/2 yards of plain cotton fabric and 1 1/2 yards of printed fabric (both sanforized to prevent shrinkage), in the colors of your choice. Nancy Russo, who designed the "Beef-Eater" set, used plain red with a matching red print for the hat and bag.

Assemble your fabric, scissors and some large pieces of newspaper or wrapping paper on a table. Start by measuring off a 17 1/2-inch square on the paper, and marking it in one-inch squares. You will need three of these. Then, using a string tied to a pencil, mark off on your squared paper one 8-inch circle, one 15-inch circle and one 30-inch circle, one 15-inch circle and one 30-inch circle, one 15-inch circle and one 30-inch circle. You also may use a plate, lid or tray for making the circle of any desired size by holding one end of a string in the center of the paper and marking around it with the pencil tied to the other end. The string should be one-half the diameter of the circle.

Then cut out of plain fabric one 8-inch circle, one 15-inch circle and one 30-inch circle and one visor circle. Cut of print fabric out one 30-inch circle and one visor circle. Also cut a one-inch long and two one-inch bias strips 36 inches long. This completes your fabric pieces for both hat and bag.

Now to make the hat, assemble from the plain fabric pieces one 8-inch circle, one visor circle and one 30-inch bias strip. From the print fabric pieces, select one visor circle. Center the 8-inch plain fabric circle on the print fabric visor circle, matching the straight of the goods. Turn under seam allowance and baste in place. Press. Topstitch on the machine for tailored finish.

Now place right sides of the print and plain visor circles together and baste 1/2 inch from edge. Leave a 4-inch opening back, opposite visor, to facilitate turning inside out. After turning, baste around edge, aligning the 4-inch gap for turning in raw edges and basting as around rest of circle.

Now machine stitch around circle as close to the edge as possible, continuing the stitching in a perfect circle when you come to the visor bluge. Late stitch around edge of visor. Press.

Then make a second circle by stitching 1/4 inch inside the outer row of stitching, again following a perfect circle. This makes a casing for the drawstring that will pull the hat into your head-size.

To make the drawstring, fold edges of the 30-inch bias strip together and seam 1/4 inch from raw edge (right down the center). Using a bodkin or small safety pin, turn strip inside out, tuck in ends and slipstitch.

Now, at left front of visor, make two eyelets between the casing double-stitching. Insert bias cording and pull through casing. Pull up to head size and tie the cording in a perky bow.

To make the bag, assemble your remaining plain fabric pieces—a 30 inch circle, a 15-inch circle and two 30-inch bias strips, with the 30-inch print circle. Center the 15-inch plain circle straight of the fabric. Turn on the 30-inch print circle, match under seam allowance and baste in place. Press. Machine stitch around edge.

Then place right sides of 30-inch plain circle and print circle together and seam around edge except for 4-inch opening. Turn inside out. Baste around edge, including the 4-inch gap. Press. Now machine stitch all the way around edge of circle.

To make casing for drawstrings, stitch a second circle 1/4 inch inside edge, and a third circle 1/2 inch inside this. At two opposite points in this

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Mower, formerly of Pittsburgh, Pa., purchased the spacious two-bedroom ranch-type home shown above from W. W. Dawson Jr. last November. Located in Casselberry, the house is constructed of concrete block and has a dining room, living room, a press-paneled den, and rumpus room. Additional features include a two-car garage, screened-in porch, gas equipped kitchen, gas heat, fireplace, cement tile roof, laundry room, oak floors, and wall-to-wall carpeting. Mr. Dawson, president of the Dawson Construction Co., completely remodeled the residence and after using it as his own home for a short while, sold it to Mr. Mower, who is a retired electric appliance company owner.

Old Houses Said To Be Out Of Date

Home design and construction have improved so much that "our 20-year-old houses are almost as dated as our 10-year-old automobiles," according to Herbert V. Kaepfel, chairman of the editorial board of Practical Builder and Building Supply News magazines.

Speaking at a meeting of the Asphalt Roofing Industry Bureau, an association of leading manufacturers, Kaepfel said that the "obsolescence factor" in home design "has induced an enormous amount of remodeling and modernization, but it has also stimulated and will continue to stimulate a large volume of new home construction on the part of people who want what they can get in a modern house."

He pointed out that more than $2,000,000,000 was spent for home improvements in 1952 and that a greater expenditure is estimated for 1953. In 1927, expenditure was about $500,000,000, he said.

Obsolescence might keep the rate of new home construction at 1,000,000-plus units a year after the accumulated home shortage has been filled, he told the asphalt roofing manufacturers.

Modern furnishings in a driftwood finish emphasize this double-duty room—living by day, bedroom at night. Toss-pilrows transform the cane headboard bed into a daytime sofa. Low cabinets provide seating and storage. Coffee tables are portable to give added convenience. (Charles R. Sligh Co.)

To make drawstring cords, proceed as in making hat drawstring, using the two 30-inch bias strips. Insert two drawstring cords, with end extending from opposite eyelets, to make drawstring for bag.

LONDON (AP)—An open letter to my ex-GI Joe from the London he used to know:

Dear Joe,

I came over here to see the queen and her crown and I've been here three whole days, and not one little kid has said, "Got any gum, Chum?" I tell you, it gives you a lonesome feeling.

The old town sure has changed from wartime days when a guy in an American uniform with a carton of cigarettes under his arm could walk the streets and feel like a king.

Remember how beat-up and battered London looked then? Well, now she looks like some old family aunt who has come into a little money, got her face lifted, put on a new paint job, bought herself some glad rags—and started looking for a boy friend. It's fun to see the old girl smiling and having a good time, after all the years of tears.

The British are going about this coronation the same way they fight a war or make tea—methodically and thoroughly. They will do the job right, even if the queen becomes eligible for an old age pension before she finally gets her crown.

You know how fast we throw up some wooden stands in America for some local festival, such as running the maypole out of town. Well, the coronation stands look like they had been built for ages. They are held up by miles of metal piping, and the English have taken a much easier building team than the French did with the Eiffel Tower.

I checked the wooden seats, too, Joe, and they are so smooth that if any visitor gets a splinter in his you-know-where, well—it'll be such a scandal some poor carpenter will probably be drummed out of the empire.

Now the British have taken the coronation festival in stride. A few diabolists have even been heard to growl in their beer, "It's all ruddy nonsense."

But now they are getting into the spirit of the thing. It's been a real vitamin shot for the British people, and they are quite excited. Of course, Joe, they know they aren't like us. We are proud of our country out loud, and they are proud of their empire in silence. You really need a slow motion camera to catch a bud opening or an Englishman showing an emotion of any kind.

I guess it's hard to say which has really stirred them up more—the coronation or the strain of three days of perfect weather. They are looking up the history books to see if they ever had three straight days of sunshine before, and the uneasiness probably will

Some Foods Clean Pans

An easy way to clean a discolored aluminum saucepan is to cook an acid food such as applesauce, cranberries, rhubarb or tomatoes in it. This method brightens the aluminum without affecting the food.

Rabbits were first introduced to Australia in 1837 and again in 1858 after which they spread as a pest and it is estimated there are some 300 million in the country now.

Dr. A. W. Epps, And Family Move Into Mayfair Home

"Florida Room" Has Many New Features

$100,000 Worth Of New Houses Built By Ozier

By RENT CHETLAIN
Located in a semi-tropical setting of palm-trees 300 feet from Lake Monroe in the Mayfair residential section, is the ultra modern $35,000 ranch-style home recently completed and occupied last week by Dr. A. W. Epps, Jr., his wife Mary and two children, Marilyn and Wayne.

The one-story masonry and cement block domicile is coated with a soothing Adam green color while the eaves and the three-car port garage are painted a whitish grey. The oblong "L-shaped" home is the latest aluminum jalousies and screens throughout.

A Hollywoodish touch is added with the adobe brick-patio and planter garden appendage which dog legs off to the right. The small planter garden that greets the visitor is complete with an underground sprinkling system as is the entire four-foot lawn.

This attractive house, constructed and designed by the Garpapa, Kausch and Lorback Co. of Winter Park, includes a horse-shoe-shaped livingroom, dining and kitchen, termed a "Florida Room," four bedrooms, two baths—all in the main section which is 90 feet long by 35 feet wide running north and south.

Extending in a north westerly direction off the kitchen is the spacious three-car port garage. At the end of the garage is a utility room containing a laundry, fish cleaning sink and abundant space for storage. The utility room, garage and main portion of the home are connected under the same roof.

The visitor is struck immediately with the Mahogany paneled door. Stepping into the "Florida Room" one notices immediately the ceiling high, sliding glass doors, exposing a screened porch with a small planter garden (also equipped with underground sprinklers) on the far side of the room.

The "Florida Room" is a three-sided affair serving as a focal point for the entire house. Opening in the middle of the right hand wall is the entrance to the long hall subdividing the four bedrooms—two on each side—and two baths. Wooden jalousies extend 3 feet down from the ceiling of the hall which open into all the bedrooms, furnishing the utmost in free circulation of air during the hot summer months.

The flooring in the entire house is of the cool, solid one-and-one-quarter inch terrazo. The walls are of plaster and are tinted either in the pastel shades of green, cocoa brown or arbor rose (pink).

The first bedroom on the left down the hall is painted an Adam green with a white-grey ceiling. In each room there is an inlaid ceiling light and heater vent. Down the hall one passes the inconspicuously enclosed heating plant with giant blowers to keep the house at an even temperature.

An auxiliary hot water tank is also housed in the wall with the furnace. A thermostat controls the temperature in the winter time.

The next entrance on the left side of the hall is to a bathroom, including a tub and shower combination. The sink is housed on the top of a cabinet, extending to the floor. The side of the bathroom five feet up is of the solid marble-like black glass.

The last room down the hall on the right is a beautiful arbor rose large bedroom with a closet that is eight feet long and extends to the next bedroom across the hall. Inside both these end bedrooms is a low flat counter with drawers and space for clothes to use as a table and desk. The built-in counters and drawers will eliminate the necessity for similar furniture and will serve as a play table. Both rooms are painted in the cheery arbor rose with white ceilings.

On the west side is the master bedroom, also in arbor rose. Besides being a little larger than the other two bedrooms, it has a gigantic closet measuring 10 feet deep and seven feet wide. Adjoining the bedroom is a large bathroom with an individual shower stall, tub, and the same type

Following a switch this year from construction of defense houses to building for individuals, officials of Ozier-Weller Homes Inc. reported today over $100,000 worth of new residences had been contracted for thus far in 1953.

Within the last month, the company has constructed homes for Herbert Edwards on Twentieth Street, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Michael at Twentieth Street and Adams Avenue, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bailey at Twenty Fourth Street and Sumnerlin Avenue, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hodges on Twentieth Street, and a large home at Loch Arbor for Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hawkins Campbell.

In addition, Ozier-Weller is constructing a much larger office at Mellonville Avenue and Rosalia Drive which will feature a flat roof, air-conditioning, and many other modern features.

In looking back over their past two years activities in Sanford, Ozier-Weller Homes Inc. points with pride to the nearly 200 homes built by them during their time in Florida. A portion of these homes were built as "project houses" and the remainder were custom built to suit the needs and tastes of the individual family.

The company's architectural services include numerous consultations with the family to ascertain their tastes before preliminary plans are drawn. The following information is compiled: size of family, ages, amount and type of entertaining anticipated, hobbies, recreational tastes, and finances.

If the family owns property on which the house is to be built, the location of trees, lake, if any, and prevailing breezes are all taken into consideration.

Many homes in the higher price brackets have been built in such attractive sections of the City as Mayfair, Fort Mellon, Highland Park, and the Woodruff Addition.

Many families are finding pleasant living in the new Bel Air section, where houses were erected in neat rows. All are of concrete block construction and are painted in design with five roof styles, all insulated. Walls are furred, and there are a number of exterior finishes with either brick or slump block exterior trim.

Ozier-Weller Homes Inc. is the baby of the Ozier-Weller enterprises in Illinois which last year constructed 700 homes. Sanford has benefited greatly through the company's activities. Not only has northern money and experience been brought into this area, but a great deal of property which previously had brought no income to the City in its unimproved state is now on the paying list.

Local merchants and dealers have also profited since all labor was supplied locally, as were most of the building materials.

The typical ranch-style home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Ginson shown above is located at 421 South Avenue in the Mayfair section. The well shaded residence has a large Florida room in the rear which opens into a flowered patio. Palm trees and shrubbery not only provide shade but add to the overall attractiveness. One of the features of the Ginson home is the distinctive compartmentalized bathroom. The Ginson kitchen, attractively wallpapered and painted, is one of the main features of the South Avenue home. An adjacent breakfast nook is a popular spot for after school snacks and coffee hours. A piano, phonograph, and radio in the corner bedroom are certain sources of several hours of entertainment for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ginson. The little knickknacks and mementos that youngsters love so well add to the hominess of the typical girl's bedroom.

The modern trend is to coordinate both interior and exterior colors. Homeowners react so favorably to well chosen color plans that stress is placed on color harmony by the makers of paint, flooring and home furnishings.

Personal likes or dislikes alone are not a safe basis for choosing a color plan because colors are functional and perform a specific job in creating a livable atmosphere. However, the choice and principles of color are so flexible that considerable latitude is possible in satisfying both personal preference and practical requirements.

Departure from traditional white exteriors has given homes greater individuality. Builders use varied color plans to eliminate "look-alike" appearance of houses in their development. Brilliant color on entrance doors creates interest and says "welcome." Architectural lines are changed by color illusions such as "lowering" a foot-

All the latest innovations for easing the daily chores of a modern housewife are found in the kitchen. Besides the built-in counter of the kitchen are an automatic clothes washer, automatic dish washer, stove, oven, sink with a disposal unit, and a nice hot refrigerator and a 30 foot Deep Freeze which will be installed later.

Phillips Plans Construction Of 19 New Houses

With immediate plans for a group of 19 new homes in the Woodruff Subdivision, located east of Mellonville Avenue and between Twenty Fifth Street, Phillips Properties is continuing to expand this development which was started during 1952.

At the present time, William Phillips, Jr., who has charge of the company's building operations in the area, has plans for development of a new section with an announcement of the details to be given at a later date.

Last week, three of the four remaining homes in Woodruff Subdivision will have one of their rooms all weathered.

For the past 15 years Phillips Properties have been the leading builders of homes in the Woodruff Subdivision, located east of Mellonville Avenue and between Twenty Fifth Street and Twenty Sixth Street, in Sanford, considerable new building has been carried on in the area, including DeLand, Lake Wales, Fort McCoy, Kissimmee, Fort Cloud, Ocala, Leesburg, DeLand, and Winter Garden. About 250 of these homes are in Sanford.

In 1949 the company started its development in this City. Phillips Properties have completed only 12 in the area known as Phillips Manor. Even before the section was completed, all of the remaining lots and the entire area were sold to the development of the Woodruff Park and Woodruff Subdivision.

While engaged in work on the new homes being announced, Phillips Properties are maintaining its long standing development of Highland Park, East Street and Palm Street. The latter two sections are a set to the community and not only a sound area.

At the Highland Park, Mr. Phillips has built a home on Orange Avenue in the Park. The home was very good as it was being built in 1949 that the National Housing Authority inspect the buildings as they progress. Minimum market value was available to the purchaser, making it possible to buy a home with a minimum down payment.

There are no mahogany forests. Typically the trees are scattered through the jungle here and there. An average of two trees to the acre is considered a very good stand. The mahogany tree grows to an immense size, sometimes reaching 150 feet in height and 10 to 12 feet in diameter.

New Construction At $300,000 For Year

Building permits for new homes in Sanford reached nearly 1400 last week with two large May things helping to swell the 1953 total.

C. E. Burns, an Ohio resident, has already broken ground for a six unit motel in the Dreamworld section of the Orlando Highway which will cost approximately $12,000.

Dwight E. Otter has contracted to construct a four bedroom dwelling in the Mayfair section for J. W. Dwyer to cost $10,000.

Up to the end of last week, Building Department permits had been issued with a total valuation of $300,000.

From all indications, the May total will surpass that of any other month of 1953 since with another week to go permits had been issued for new construction and modifications of other structures in the amount of $31,000.

During the month of January 42 permits were issued for a total valuation of $91,432. During February Mr. Callon approved 30 permits for $29,499 and in March, 34 for $45,375. Last month there were 46 permits issued by the building inspector with a $10,492 valuation.

It is interesting to note the increase from year to year over the last 10 years in the valuation of permits. In 1942, the amount was $10,115; in succeeding years the rate was:

1944	$21,512
1945	$19,009
1946	$40,111
1947	$50,147
1948	$130,341
1949	$2,001,341
1950	$1,595,821

Highland Park, followed where 15 homes were constructed. One of the homes in this subdivision was constructed as a model home and opened to the public.

All Phillips Homes are completely equipped with steel range, refrigerator, hot water heater, space heater, Venetian blinds, and attractive landscaping. A construction is promoted only in FHA approved subdivisions. Representatives of the Federal Housing Authority inspect the buildings as they progress. Minimum market value was available to the purchaser, making it possible to buy a home with a minimum down payment.

Rooms are primarily to be used and used. Build your room around your center of interest, a fireplace, picture window or a large piece of furniture such as a sofa. Have plenty of end tables and place chairs in conversational groupings. Don't place large pieces of furniture across corners of an angle.

Bold Use Of Color Inside And Out Is New Paint Trend

The most effective and least expensive way to individualize a home is with color. Color is used to unify or divide room areas, conceal ugly shapes, accent points of interest and enlarge the apparent size of small rooms. It affects family moods by making a room gay or restful, warm or cool.

The modern trend is to coordinate both interior and exterior colors. Homeowners react so favorably to well chosen color plans that stress is placed on color harmony by the makers of paint, flooring and home furnishings.

Personal likes or dislikes alone are not a safe basis for choosing a color plan because colors are functional and perform a specific job in creating a livable atmosphere. However, the choice and principles of color are so flexible that considerable latitude is possible in satisfying both personal preference and practical requirements.
