A woman giving her name only as Mrs. Ricketts said she was not against mixed schools but would not allow her child to be bused "even if I have to stand in front of the bus."

A white teacher, who identified herself as Mrs. B. J. Craine, said she was proud to be a teacher at Seminole High and would like to see the school integrated.

for High; place eighth, ninth, 10th and 11th grades living on west side of Highway 17-92 to Cross High.

Mrs. Craine, a former Seminole Education Association official, gave her plan to the board to be considered.

Several white parents inquired why the so-called "freedom of choice" plan which is now being used would not be acceptable next year and were informed by Ricketts that civil rights officials say that segregation still exists under the plan.

An unidentified man stood and asked, "How much longer are we going to be able to call ourselves free men when children are not free to go to the school of their own choosing?"

Fellow Lawmakers Rap Bassett

Gunter, Fulford Oppose Changes

The late John F. Kennedy named grammarians when he came up with the word "grammar." Now, our old-time fellow news reporter, Dotie Smith, springs a new word. She was writing about trash collections and she said that garbage shall be "contaminated." Wonder if the meanest "garbage" is "crapped?"

Ethel Root Fellowship of First Congregational Christian Church of Sanford will sponsor a baked ham supper from 5 until 7 p.m. Saturday at the church. By popular request, Swedish limp bread will be served with the dinner and take home loaves along with Swedish spice cake, will be available. Funds derived will go to the church's building fund for a new educational building.

With these words, State Sen. Bill Gunter and Rep. William Fulford went on record today in statements issued to The Sanford Herald in opposing a proposal of Rep. E. Pope Bassett to make the Seminole Port Authority an autonomous unit with taxing power.

The two Democratic legislators further made it crystal clear that they are opposed to Republican Bassett's other proposal to combine the Sanford Airport Authority and the county port authority.

The statement reads: "We are opposed to the proposed changes in the Seminole Port Authority offered by Rep. Bassett. Of course, we are all somewhat in the dark since we have not received copies of his bills.

City of Sanford will have to set up a special banking account to handle all financial transactions involved with the Sanford Naval Air Station. Reason for this requirement, according to Benjamin Astor, of Federal Aviation Administration audit department, is that FAA wants to know exactly how much money comes into the base operation and how much goes out after the 1,850-acre site is released to the city March 15.

Astor said, "We consider this a public utility and we need to know the costs of airport operation and as such cannot allow the comingling of airport funds with money belonging to the city."

Altamonte Looks Again For Gift

Biggest news to come out of the work session conference of the Altamonte Springs City Council with developers last night is that the Tracy-Dooley deal may be saved.

Mayor W. Lawrence Swoford reported if Council acts favorably on creation of a bottling sewerage system to serve the area west of the present city limits, developers Alfred Tracy and Charles Dooley may be persuaded to reconsider and join the city in a cooperative effort whereby Altamonte will gain some $400,000 in water and sewerage lines.

Tracy and Dooley had conferred with the city for some time and they would only negotiate with no assurances were forthcoming that the city is going into the sewerage business.

U.S. 'Strings' On Base Told

City of Sanford will have to set up a special banking account to handle all financial transactions involved with the Sanford Naval Air Station. Reason for this requirement, according to Benjamin Astor, of Federal Aviation Administration audit department, is that FAA wants to know exactly how much money comes into the base operation and how much goes out after the 1,850-acre site is released to the city March 15.

Astor said, "We consider this a public utility and we need to know the costs of airport operation and as such cannot allow the comingling of airport funds with money belonging to the city."

Astor further informed that all money derived from the base operation must be devoted by the city to maintenance, operation and improvements to the public airport.

"No base money can be used to fund any city functions and this will be a part of the lease agreement," he continued.

He informed it was mandatory that the air base have a special banking account and this was the reason for the visit here of a team of FAA officials to tour the nearby completed steel building in the first plant to be built on the 47 1/2 acre industrial park and is the length of a football field and 100 feet in width. There is 4,000 square feet of office space. It will house an assembly line operation 175 feet long, is scheduled for completion March 25, to be up on operation April 1.

It will be completely air conditioned by an 80-ton unit and scientifically lighted. It is insulated throughout with vinyl backed fiber glass.

The firm now employs 15 persons but expects to expand its operation and thus create more jobs for the area. (Cont. On Page 3A, Col. 4)

Bethune-Cookman College Chorale Concert Friday

Some 36 young men and women, forming the Bethune-Cookman College Concert Chorale, will be presented at 8 p.m. Friday at the Civic Center by the Seminole County Mutual Concert Association.

Held in cooperation with the Seminole Junior College during Art Festival Week, the Chorale's program will include classical and religious songs, spirituals and folk songs.

Under the direction of Thomas D. Demps, a former member of the Bethune-Cookman Chorale, Demps sang professionally with the dePaar Choir of New York City, under conductor Leonard dePaar.

Members of the choir represent nearly every major field at the college. Featured soloists are Yvonne Tallon, a music major from Pennsylvania, N.J., contralto; Glenn Leverett from Pensacola, baritone; and Luecy Norris, from Tampa, tenor. Accompanists are Orville Lawton, a sophomore music major from West Palm Beach, and Sonja Wilson, a freshman music major from Sanford.

Bethune-Cookman has an enrollment of 922 students representing 17 states, the District of Columbia and four foreign countries. Dr. Richard V. Moore is president.

Mobile X-ray unit will be located on March 19 at Seminole Plaza 10 a.m.-1 p.m. and 24 p.m.; March 20 at Garrett's department store at same hours, and March 21 at Park & Shop, Sanford Avenue and Fourth Street, 11 a.m.-1 p.m. and 25 p.m.

Children participating in the Americanism essay contest of Elks Lodge have until March 15 to submit their entries.

PTA safety committee and the school safety committee, a shopping center will be built across from the restaurant, and a new apartment complex is planned for Lake Jamaica near the junior high school. Officially, Pine Crest solved its problem when the School Board allowed the school to bus students who live on the west side of 17-92, even though they may be within the two-mile limit.

Unofficially, there is still a problem, particularly after the intersection of R.R. 436 and Lake Howell Road—an intersection which now has flashing yellow caution lights.

So what now? The intersection really dangerous, and if so, why not put a traffic light at the intersection?

President Nixon's Third Press Conference

President Nixon's third press conference... The Nixon who had been making public office for so many years...

The Nixon who had been making public office for so many years... was politically identified as one in which "trust" was not the most appealing characteristic.

Each president has had critical problems... Since those days of the Great Depression and WW II of the 1930 and 1940s, the press conference has evolved into the simplest, least tense event of the 1960s.

President Johnson's unfortunate relations with the Fourth Estate limited the number of press conferences... President Nixon's confidence was very much in the Truman "... the book signs have..." manner.

Send Familiar?

Guessing games. What is the source of the information and the reliability of these under discussion?

The discussion of these "employed liars" (which we have previously referred to as the "gratuitously unemployed") goes on to note that as much emphasis is laid on the strong employment, those who depend on the charity of their family and the government...

This Updating!

For nearly 200 years, the seal of the United States Treasury has borne these words: "Seal of the Treasury of the United States."

If this is an updating, as it obviously was intended to be, it took a long time to get around to it. But then the ways of Government often are wondrously lackadaisical.

Goal: Instant Party Reform

By BRUCE BRUNST NEA Washington Correspondent WASHINGTON (NEA)—More than a few militant Democratic liberals are getting a little bit restless...

At an already reported meeting between some self-styled reformers and leading Democratic regulars... A good many Democratic regulars, thoroughly committed by now to the idea of major party reform...

What made the evening interesting was that just two top state party figures were present and they were of strongly contrasting types... The Watkins side of the exchange noted that it was the preliminary tone of the "being thrown on university president" desks across the country.

Crane's Worry Clinic

Deaf, Speak And Read Lips

By GEORGE W. CRANE Ph. D., M. D. CASE J-3M: Prof. Roy Holcomb is one of America's leading educators of the deaf... Since I was stationed for 3 years at the famous Gallaudet College in Washington, D.C., and 3 more years working with the school's oral school at Northampton, Massachusetts, I have maintained friendship with many deaf folks.

It is significant that the incident in Des Moines happened four years ago when the protest against the Vietnam War in Des Moines was barely a whisper... At Gallaudet College, the deaf college students employ the manual alphabet (finger spelling) in the classroom but revert to the faster sign language in campus conversations.

At the Clarke School, however, finger spelling and signs are taboo... Instead, its teachers stress teaching deaf children to speak and read lips... But in my 5 years of work with the deaf, I never met a really good lipreader who had not earlier possessed hearing until he had already learned how to speak!

H. L. Hunt Says:

Quotes Quality Court Appointments

Without reflection upon the merits of those affected, the action of President Nixon withdrawing five last minute judicial nominations of the outgoing administration needs to be commended... Federal Judiciary. At earlier times, a Federal Judge was selected as a man of high stature by citizens of the Republic.

Panthers Win An Opener

By CLARENCE BELL
Herald Sports Staff
The Croon's High Panthers opened their baseball season with a 4-3 win over Deland's Southwestern High yesterday on the Croon's Diamond.

My first meeting with Coach Sterling was 3 years ago, before the school opened when he first called and asked for our cooperation in starting a bowling class (of all things) for the students at S.J.C. Aid in further checking, the same enthusiasm he has for his first love — BASKETBALL, he demonstrated his guiding hand and influence in golf, in water skiing, and in the new junior college to offer it to its students, then they were going to have it at S.J.C.

Which Brings Us To . . .

I'm confident that Coach Sterling would be the first to recognize the possibility emerging in the eyes of local hoop fan's that you just had and influence in golf, in water skiing, and in the new junior college to offer it to its students, then they were going to have it at S.J.C.

The benefit performance of the Orange Blossom Chorus has been arranged by Ken McIntosh, benefit chairman; John Appleby, camp campaign chairman; Margie Mount, benefit co-ordinator; and Duane Baggerly, assistant to the co-ordinator. Car Hop Arrested As Kidnap Suspect

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A 25-year-old car hop arrested after she applied for a job as a nurse at Central State Hospital in Norman, a worker in the Oklahoma Bureau of Investigation's fingerprint division identified the fingerprints on her job application. FBI agents converged on the restaurant and arrested the girl as she walked from the car hop section to greet a new-found boyfriend, Glenn Fox. Her arrest surprised both her coworkers and the tenants of the apartment building in which she lived. She is now being held in the county jail. Fox, 25, is charged with the abduction of Barbara Jane Mackle from a Decatur, Ga., motel last Dec. 17. Mackle, 20-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Mackle, was found buried and unharmed in a box about 20 miles northeast of Atlanta after an 8-hour underground ordeal. The kidnapers had directed rescuers to the spot after Mackle, a wealthy Florida real estate developer, paid $500,000 ransom. Practically all of the ransom money was recovered. State To Ban Oil Drilling Off-Shore

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — A bill has been filed to ban offshore oil drilling to prevent the possible pollution of Florida's water attractions. Sen. Robert Everfield, D-Dade, said, "Protection of Florida's natural beauty and tourist economy is far more important than any possible benefit to the state if all is discovered off the coastal waters." He said exploration for Florida offshore oil is now underway. U.S. Rep. Paul Rogers, D-West Palm Beach, Monday called on new Congressional committees to consider regulation and inspection of oil pipelines in the Gulf of Mexico. Rogers said "busting and expanding oil pipelines in the gulf might pose a pollution threat to Florida beaches."

Police Seek Pop Singer

MIAMI (AP) — Police sought today to find Jim Morrison, singer with a rock music group called The Doors, and serve him with warrants alleging indecent behavior and intoxication during a concert attended by 12,000 persons. Acting Police Chief Paul Denham said that as a result of Morrison's actions at the show, police had obtained one warrant alleging a felony—"lewd and lascivious behavior in public"—and five others charging indecent exposure, open profanity and public drunkenness. The concert took place Sunday at Dimree Key auditorium. It ended when frenzied members of the audience—most of them teenagers—crowded onto the stage with the four musicians. The Doors, whose present whereabouts the police said they did not know, were scheduled for an appearance next Sunday in Jacksonville, but city authorities there said the group would not be permitted to go on. Promoters of the Miami concert said The Doors collected a fee of $25,000.

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Most Rev. Paul Marcinkus, an American bishop who organized Pope Paul's last few trips abroad, declined to confirm or deny Monday rumors that the pontiff will go to Africa this spring. Bishop Marcinkus, born in Cicero, Ill., spoke to newsmen upon his own return from an African trip which he described as private. "As I looked at the pictures last week showing you helping a lady through high water at the curb, I could not help but think that thoughtful public servants like you convey a feeling of concern for others which sets an example for all," the letter read. It was signed, "Sincerely, Richard Nixon."

On the causeway, the commission advised that it is in a study planning stage, that it may, or may not, ever be constructed, but that it would be a big help in handling traffic to Florida Technological University.

He informed the group that laws will for disposal of junk cars within 30 days after proper notification. He also reported that truck loads of junk and trash along the highways are being picked up and that the sheriff's department is making a concentrated effort through a county-wide

FSU Faculty, Students Protest Riot Police Use

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Faculty and student senators at Florida State University have strongly condemned the use of riot-equipped police on campus in the arrest of 38 students who refused to leave a speech sponsored by Students for a Democratic Society.

Both actions came Wednesday in reaction to the way Acting President J. Stanley Marshall obtained a court order forbidding SDS to sponsor a speaker. About 75 police, wearing helmets and brandishing fixed bayonets, moved in to arrest the students Tuesday night.

The faculty senate defeated a motion calling on the Board of Regents to look outside the campus for a permanent president. It would have been a direct slap at Marshall.

Meanwhile, university information director Mike Beaudoin said classes proceeded normally Wednesday. Only a few protesters remained on the lawn in front of the administration building late in the evening.

Earlier about 40 students had rallied on the law and radicals had urged a general class boycott to "shut the place down."

At Gainesville, an organization known as the Southern Students Organizing Committee scheduled a rally this afternoon to show support for those arrested on the Tallahassee campus.

The rally call came as University of Florida President Stephen C. O'Connell denied official recognition to the SDS, contending it "has been found not consistent with the best interests of this institution, its educational mission and its continued operation and progress."

An SSOOC spokesman, Steve Farber of Miami, said: "I think O'Connell made a stupid mistake in calling attention to subversive, latent, oppressive acts."

At Florida State, the faculty senate resolved that the administration had "precipitated an unnecessary and unwarranted crisis" by its action at the SDS meeting Tuesday.

It said: "We, the faculty senate faculty, deplore the university administration's handling of the student meeting (Tuesday) and declare... that our campus was not and would not have been in a condition of crisis and that intrusion of police with rifles and fixed bayonets to prevent a peaceful assembly of students is beyond the pale of academic propriety."

The group also urged that the university drop charges against the arrested students and that the administration get out of the business of recognizing student groups.

One professor said the arrests "have given us a black eye throughout the United States" as an institution where free speech is not permitted.

The student senate blasted "all those responsible for sanctioning the undue show of repressive force" and urged citizens of the state "to recognize the lack of leadership at both the university and state level."

Both resolutions were passed by split votes in separate meetings. Marshall had addressed both groups before they considered the actions.

About 1,500 students watched the acting president speak to the faculty senate. Marshall was interrupted several times by laughs, hisses and applause.

He said he found the use of weapons at the university "repugnant" and doubted whether anyone regretted it more than he did. The choice was not made by him, he said, but by Leon County Sheriff Raymond Hamlin.

Yet he noted that there were "opportunities for provocation" at the arrests and said he respected the restraint shown by police officers.

He said his decision to seek a court injunction had given SDS a good chance to take its arguments to court. He agreed with the right of SDS members to free expression.

He closed his talks to both the student and faculty groups by appealing for restraint and temperance.

"It is the basic distrust (of young people) toward people in a generation beyond them so deep that effective channels of communication cannot be worked out," the acting president asked. "I hope not."

President Abraham Lincoln was shot in Ford's Theater, Washington, D. C.

ROSES

On Sunday morning, she languishes in the bathtub enjoying peaches in champagne.

Take a peeled peach and put it through the blender, she said. Then put it in a glass and fill with chilled champagne. "It's just peachy," she says.

ROSES

Her favorite recipe permits her to combine her two loves and to relax at the same time.

Each window was crested with a candle wreath in silks and greenery and family pewes were identified by white pom poms, salad and white satin streamers. The couple knelt on a white prie d'oeuf.

ROSES

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her trousseau a formal white gown delicately designed of imported Chantilly lace in a hooded Southern-Belle silhouette. The basic bodice was fashioned with a fabric neckline and long tapered sleeves. Her three-tiered skirt terminated in a full chapel train.

ROSES

Her chapel-length, tiered illusion veil was secured by clusters of pearled orange blossoms and she carried a white prayer book, a gift from her father, centered with a white orchid and white cascading rose buds. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

ROSES

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her cousin, Mrs. Webster Hunt. She wore a floor-length, long-sleeved gown, fashioned along the Empire silhouette featuring a pastel blue skirt and silver blue brocade bodice. Her circular nose veil of illusion was attached to a blue velvet bow and she carried a long-stemmed blue-tipped white rose showered with blue and white streamers.

ROSES

Bridesmaids were the Misses Brenda Patterson, Betty Longwell, Vickie Patterson and Mrs. James Johnson. Their gowns were identical in design to the honor attendant's except fashioned with pastel blue velvet bodies and silver blue brocade skirts and they carried identical flowers.

ROSES

Refreshments of cake punch, nuts, and mints were served. Those attending included Mrs. Edward Lovell, mother of the bride; Mrs. Mary Mobley, mother of the groom-elect; Mrs. Elizabeth Falco, his grandmother; and Mrs. Sharon Witte, sister of the bride-elect. Seminole Raiders Carry An Unofficial Official

By YVONNE BERTON
In every great team, there is a woman. Behind Joe Sterling, head coach of the state basketball champion Seminole Junior College Raiders and Florida's Junior College Coach of the Year, is his wife, Jean. Not only behind him, but also keeping statistics on all the players and the plays. Into a life crisscrossed with the care of a husband and three children, a full-time teaching job and active church work, Jean manages to put in at least five hours a week studying all the basketball games, keeping the statistics and charting the game afterwards. And she enjoys all of it though. "The likes me to keep the statistics," Jean says. "I'm familiar with the judgment plays and I know the way he wants them kept." Besides, they both feel with the same person keeping the statistics every year, it's easier to compare the boys' records and plays. "Even when I'm watching another game, we've not even involved in, in the back of my mind I'm charting it," she laughs. "I give me something to do-a tension release that keeps me from biting my nails." The charting has even become a husband-and-wife ritual. "We have a book going on at our house," Jean smiles. "After the game, if we won we go home and have oyster stew and figure the chart. If we don't win, we figure the chart without the oyster stew!" "We don't have oyster stew any other time-we've been having oyster stew for years now. I don't even know how or when it started." Jean's interest in basketball, though, started long ago. She's a native of Eighty-Eight, Ky., a graduate of Western Kentucky State College. She became basketball coach at Apopka Memorial High for her present position. "I'm from Kentucky," she laughs, "and anybody who's familiar with that area knows that that's basketball country. I was prepared to be a basketball coach's wife-I was brought up on basketball!" Though Joe is from Covington, Ky., the two didn't meet until both were doing work on their master's degrees at Peabody College. Joe became basketball coach at Apopka Memorial High (Continued on P-1B Col. 6)

New School Desegregation Plan OK'd Over Objections

By BILL SCOTT
By a four-to-one vote, with Pat Bassett, a new board member, casting the only dissenting vote, the Seminole County District School Board last night adopted a desegregation plan which it plans to submit to the reactions of the community in the 1969-70 school year but approved some changes to effect more voluntary systems. Major changes would be the discontinuance of existing school to another facility.

Board allowed freedom of choice to attend other school but would stop transferring students to facilities if it involved the bypassing of a closer school. The school board tentatively adopted a desegregation plan which it plans to submit to the reactions of the community in the 1969-70 school year but approved some changes to effect more voluntary systems. Major changes would be the discontinuance of existing school to another facility.

meets in a 4:30 p.m. Monday session to review the actions taken last night. Apparently, the attorney intends to call the Civil Rights office Tuesday to receive the reactions of the government to the plan before it is submitted in written form by the March 15 deadline given the board to review the proposals made in a three-hour session last night. Douglas Stenstrom, board attorney, requested the plan be given to him after the board meets in a 4:30 p.m. Monday session to review the actions taken last night.

Angel and Tom Richey, administrative aide. Angel felt the board's proposal would not be approved and this would put the school system in a "bind" because plans for next year's operations would have to be sidetracked to allow more confrontation, possibly in the courts, between the board and Civil Rights office. "This will require a lot of time and I refuse to get this school system in the condition it has been in the past," the superintendent informed the board.

Angel related that administrative plans for next year would be delayed and work would pile up if the board became involved in a long drawn-out hassle. The superintendent said, "This plan will come back from Atlanta with a red X across it, then we'll have to get down to the nuts and bolts of putting another plan together."

Richey also felt the plan would not be approved because it did not include geographical zoning of students into certain schools in specified areas. The plan as tentatively approved is listed:

Transportation - All dual bussing of students will be discontinued; students expressing a choice outside of normal attendance zones will provide own transportation.

2. Faculty - Racial composition at Crooms High, Hopper and Jackson Heights elementary schools will be 75 per cent white, 25 per cent Negro; substantial white faculty at Rosewood, Midway and Goldsboro with all new positions to be filled by white teachers; additional faculty desegregation at other schools during the 1969-70 school year; assignment of personnel without regard to race to all levels based on reasonable criteria.

3. Students - An opportunity for all students to pursue vocational courses offered in the county will be provided.

4. Statement on implementation - New construction to provide for the elimination of overcrowded conditions and any vestiges of the dual school system of continued racial identification; with completion of Lakeview Junior High second phase in 1970, the grade structures at Lakeview Junior High and Sanford Junior High will be changed.

3 Board Members Contradict Chairman

By DONNA ESTES
Opposition came from Republican members today in the person of State Rep. Leonard Wood and State Sen. Kenneth Plante both of Altamonte Springs (all three are Republicans), to give the Seminole County Port Authority the power to levy taxes. Plante said, "I would rather not give them taxing power. I am aware a precedent has been set, but I would rather an elective board such as the County Commission retain the right to tax."

He said he had not discussed this matter in depth with Bassett and I do not know what information he has. I'm looking forward to the meeting tomorrow morning with the Sanford officials.

Concerning the proposal to give the Seminole Port Authority the power to levy taxes, Plante said, "I would rather not give them taxing power. I am aware a precedent has been set, but I would rather an elective board such as the County Commission retain the right to tax."

Meanwhile, three other members of the Seminole-Orange legislative delegation indicated they have not made up their minds on the proposed legislation.

Rep. William Gibson, who has not seen the bills which he proposed the changes remarked, "As I remember, the bills have not been drawn up and until such time as I see them I would not care to comment."

Rep. William Gorman, whose wife is hospitalized at this time, stated, "Very frankly, with my wife ill, I have not had the opportunity to consider the matter. I reserve judgment until I have had a chance to study the proposed legislation."

What can you do if your son has a "drug problem"? What do you do if you merely suspect that a son or daughter is mixed up with "mind expanding drugs" or is tempted by them? One positive step is to read the forthcoming series by the prize-winning science writer, Alton Blakeslee.

It's called "Safeguarding Your Teen-Ager Against Drugs," and it will appear daily in the County Commission applicant's newspaper, the Seminole County Port Authority, rather than the Governor of the state and I will oppose at all times and to combine the authority under the Seminole Port Authority if, in fact, the acquisition of this property has been negotiated for and is contingent upon it being supervised by the City of Sanford.

"It is my present impression that it would not be feasible and wise to place the airport authority under the Seminole Port Authority if, in fact, the acquisition of this property has been negotiated for and is contingent upon it being supervised by the City of Sanford."

Illness Costly To Schools

The Seminole County school system lost $4,000 Thursday! Reason for the situation came about, according to Walter Teague, school finance officer, when 1,987 pupils and 43 teachers were absent from classrooms.

Teague said the apparent reason for the high number of absences was measles, flu and whooping cough. The county's loss of funds will result from average daily attendance funds which come from the Minimum Foundation money given by the State.

The finance officer was concerned over the situation, which could hurt the county schools if it continues.

Lake Mary 'Explosion' Pictured

By DORIS GORMLY
The population explosion will see the Lake Mary area grow to 100,000 by 1990, possibly by 1980, Arthur White Jr., assistant director of the Seminole-Orange Joint Planning Board, advised the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce Thursday evening.

Continuing with his prediction, White said: "The Sanford area will be as large as Orlando. We must be ready for this drastic change with plans. You cannot allow developers to come in and build haphazardly. Bad planning can affect your pocketbooks taxwise."

"Without careful thought of location of schools, fire and police protection, sewerage disposal and waterworks, the outcome could be disastrous."

White stated that Lake Mary could grow at a more sane pace.

"You are in a unique position," he said, "in that you are far enough away from Disney World not to be overwhelmed by the influx of the boom."

White brought along drawings and maps showing the proposed plans for this area. There are plans for three parks. One will run from Lake Jessup across 15-22 to Big Tree Park. There are plans for a recreational area. As much of the natural beauty as possible will be preserved. Plans are underway for a state park which will take in Rock Springs and Wakiva Springs.

"This is a beautiful area," he said, "because there are five springs and three rivers. This property also has much natural beauty."

"The third park in the future is proposed for the Lake Monroe area lakefront. There are (Continued on Page 1B, Col. 3)

Short Loss Of Power Saturday

Because of a change from 69,000 to 115,000 volts power furnished by Florida Power and Light, electric service will be interrupted for 20-30 second intervals in various sections of Sanford Saturday.

Beginning at approximately 8 a.m., the western portion of city will receive a 20-30 second power loss; later in the afternoon central, southern and eastern areas of city also will experience a 20-30 second interruption.

These interruptions are necessary to allow switching.
