THE SLEEPER IN THE VALLEY

(From Expression)
Translated by May Fowell Hollington
Here in a fern-clad hollow
A rivule plays, Madly besprinkling the fronds With silver drops Where sunshine pierces between The mountain tops
Here is a little valley of pulsing haze.

A soldier, a boy, parted mouth, head bare,
Lies sunk on the moss and cushes fast asleep;
Straight out beneath the sky His slumber deep; Pale over his head the sunlight shimmers the air.

Smiling a sick child's smile, half frown, half tears, He notes his feet in the azure iris spears.
He is cold! O Nature, cradle him warmly to rest.

His joy in the beauty and perfume of flowers is done, One hand on his heart, he quietly sleeps in the sun; Forever at peace, He has two red kisses in his eyes

The latest orange crop estimates for the entire United States is 78,000,000 boxes for 1939-40 as compared with 78,683,000 last mate is 35,900,000 boxes, includ-

This may be a phoney war of our other bigwigs seem to think, but we'll bet to the members of the crews of those three British submarines the Germans sank the other day, there's nothing phoney about it.

According to the American Institute of Laundering, the American people spent $450,000, 000 last year to keep their shirts clean. And that doesn't count the business of the colored washerwomen. American laundries also spend something like $10,000,000 of advertising telling the people the advantages of commercial laundering.

The Horse In Modern Warfare

While modern warfare is supposed to be largely a contest between machines in which human beings play only an insignificant role and can accomplish nothing at all against the huge tanks, airplanes, and other similar equipment of the enemy, still there must be a few remnants of the old time warriors left. The story of mechanized artillery, mechanized transport systems, twin-motored aircraft, and automatic machine guns does not explain the sawing for France the other day of 1,100 horses from our western plains.

They said that the cavalry was a dead institution. They said that the horse was outmoded and could never fight again against the annihilating instruments of modern warfare. Even 25 years ago there was little use for the horse in the trench warfare which developed on the Western Front. And in the few drives on Flanders Field where he did put in an appearance or on the Russo-German battlefields east of Poland, he was so badly shot to pieces that even the hard-hearted "brass hats" were touched.

But judging from the recent shipments of American horses to France, some service for old hobbin has been found for which motorcycles, trucks, and armored cars are unsuited and under circumstances which will permit his use. Word comes from French headquarters in the Moselle Valley that horses are being used for patrol duty and that they are proving much faster and more effective than men on foot. The horse is able to cover terrain where even the tanks cannot follow and move with sufficient speed to escape annihilation where infantrymen would be caught.

Mounted patrols of six men each, carrying automatic rifles instead of the old-fashioned sabres and wearing khaki uniforms instead of brilliant reds and blues, are penetrating close to the Ziegfried Line. Their mission is to see that the fields and woods in front of the French lines are free from enemy troops and thus to prepare the advance of their own infantry, or in case of contact with the enemy to fall back as quickly as possible, with as few casualties as possible, and report. The losses in connection with this type of patrol work have been less than among the infantry patrols.

According to a French cavalry general, "The cavalry never will be abandoned. Wars always begin and end with breaches in the lines, and horses can fill them better than men."

Excessive Speeds

Probably the primary cause of fatal automobile accidents is speed. Undoubtedly excessive speed is a contributor to all kinds of accidents, but it goes without saying that a collision at 60 miles an hour will do far more damage than one at 25 miles an hour. This fact has been clearly illustrated by the experience of Providence, R. I. where there are now auto accident fatalities of only 6.5 per 100,000 population, the best record in the United States.

"The Providence campaign has many fronts," says the Christian Science Monitor. "One is educational, police working with the schools, so that not a child of school age has been killed in 13 months. Another is the development by press and public officials of a lively civic pride. This has been stimulated by such things as the granting of the National Safety Council Grand Award.

"But it is the firm conviction of police that success in Providence lies in the strict, impartial enforcement of a 25-mile-an-hour speed limit. This is a conclusion some may find difficult to accept; but actual police records over a number of years, detailing the factor of speed in specific accidents, was so conclusive that when the Superintendent of Police asked permission to enforce the 25-mile limit, no great objections were heard.

"By-products of this slowing down are interesting.
After driving a few blocks in Providence traffic one begins to feel a certain measured rhythm in the movement of cars. Tension is relaxed and replaced with calm assurance. There is time for courtesy. These are doubtless contributing causes to the fact that safety-conscious people throughout the country are considering the example of Providence."

Clearwater To Build
Million Dollar Pier

CLEARWATER, Jan. 18 — A double-barreled plan to further the dream of a magnificent pier and recreation center at Clearwater Beach and at the same time gain nationwide publicity for Florida and the Clearwater area, has been formulated by the Clearwater Beach Progressive Association.

Within the next few weeks an artist's conception of the huge milli-dollar pier, together with a detailed description of the proposed project, will be released to everybody throughout the nation in suitable form for use in feature sections.

According to plans, the pier will extend about a quarter-mile into the Gulf of Mexico, with three decks for automobile traffic and boating. A great tower will house a lighthouse, but other interesting features will be in a semi-circle, enclosing a sheltered bay.

ANYBODY KNOW ANYTHING ABOUT THIS?

Highway Patrol Is Seen As Building
Goodwill In State

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 18.— The lessons which members of Florida's Highway Patrol learned during their schooling period are already building good will for the state with out-of-state motorists.

Last week Major H. N. Kirkman, captain in command of the patrol, received a letter from John J. Rea of Chicago, commending the patrol for assistance received from a member of the patrol. Mr. Rea's letter dated Jan. 5, said:

"Yesterday near Lake Wales, I had the misfortune to have a flat tire and as usual the jack would not function properly.
"It was on the road from Ft.
Pierce and is sparsely settled in the locality I was in at the time.

"One of your new spic and span cars came along and your senior officer number 35 (Patrolman H. C. Martin) came along and asked if he could be of assistance. He was driving a Ford car. I asked him if he knew how to operate a Ford jack. After considerable debate we came to the conclusion mine would not operate properly. He went to the patrol car and required his and helped me change the tire and then followed me to Lake Wales as my spare was rather low.

"The point I want to drive home is appreciation, as the man was off duty returning to his home, refused to let me buy his lunch and the fact he instated it was part of the State Patrol's duty to assist tourists in trouble.

"Such service demands praise of the highest sort and to the Florida Highway Patrol Officer 35 and to yourself as Superintendent, I want to express my deepest appreciation."

Second Major Quake

ANKARA, Turkey, Jan. 18 — (TP)—Turkey's second major earthquake in three weeks was reported today to have killed 50 persons and injured 160 in the Nigde district, some 200 miles southeast of here.

The district, which escaped the earthquake Dec. 28 which killed at least 30,000 persons in northeastern Anatolia, suffered a series of heavy shocks last night accompanied by terrifying underground rumblings.

The Camp Fire Girls have a membership of 250,000.

Jubilant Over
Louisiana Vote

Louisiana would take the stamp this week in preparation for the second primary Feb. 20.
With 836 of 1708 precincts reported, Long had 129,483 votes, Jones 77,775; State Senator James A. Noye of Monroe, 69,302 into the four-year gubernatorial term which begins in May.

While returns from outstate still dribbled in, a federal grand jury began a probe of alleged counted heavily on the fact that widespread irregularities in this total included virtually complete returns from New Orleans.
"Say anything you like but don't forget to say we were robbed," said a spokesman for Morrison.
Maintenance of these ratios would leave the balance of power in the hands of those who voted yesterday for Noye, Morrison and state superintendent of education either apparently de-fected or facing a runoff.

Co-operation Is Urged For Local Census Takers

Continued from page three, available only to sworn census employees and are not available to any other agency or person.

The census is to present a picture of the business as a whole.

The business census started on Jan. 2, and covers retail and wholesale trade, service businesses such as barber and beauty shops, hotels, tourist camps, theaters and other places of amusement, sundries and the construction business.

In addition, information will be gathered on that part of the business which has to do with consumer installment paper arising out of the sale of merchandise. It also covers the primary distribution of manufactured goods to wholesalers, retailers, industrial users, which is the initial stage of distribution. This provides data for tracing the sales of commodities through wholesale and retail channels to the consumer.

The census will cover business operations during the calendar years of 1939 except for those firms which close their books on Jan. 31. In such cases the reports will be taken on a fiscal year basis.

Information will be gathered on volume of business, number of employees, total payroll and other matters limited to particular fields of business such as breakdown of sales by commodities in the case of retailers and wholesalers, or room occupancy in the case of hotels.

Data on how much business is done on credit will be collected, with a breakdown to show operating capital, total payroll and other matters. Information covering stocks on hand at the beginning and end of the year will be secured as well as data on accounts receivable, total of orders and unpaid January member who was in the business will be classified separately to show the extent of self-employment.

The information collected in the business census will be presented by kinds of business, by state, county and city or town. In more than 2,500 population centers, size classifications will be used on the basis of 1930 census which the Census Bureau will take in April of that year.

Field work of the business census will require the services of 10,000 enumerators, working under approximately 100 area supervisors in census branch offices set up temporarily in strategic cities throughout the country.

Household Hints

Provide milk for the family. One quart whole milk for every child under 13 and one pint for persons over 13 years of age, if possible. When milk costs more than 13 cents a quart, provide it for each child under seven or eight years of age and allow no more than a pint for the rest of the family.

Provide as much of your vegetable, fruit, eggs, milk, butter, cheese, lard, meat, and other staples as possible. Can the surplus. When prices are low, it is economical to buy fruits, vegetables, poultry, and other products to can for later use.

Buy and use food that are in season and buy a week's supply of staple groceries at a time if possible. Package goods are more expensive than some in bulk and small packages cost more in proportion than large ones.

Use eggs abundantly when cheap. Brown eggs are just as good as white ones and are sometimes cheaper.

Buy butter by the pound. Butter costs from 3 to 4 cents more a pound when bought a quarter of a pound at a time.

Plant a garden, with a variety of vegetables. Plant at successive intervals.

Buy flour and do home baking. Bake when the oven is going for another meal.

Serve oatmeal, grits, or whole wheat rather than the more expensive cereals.

Use cheaper cuts of meat, such as flank, rump, chuck, heart, liver and neck. A small amount of meat will give flavor to a large dish of cereal, vegetables and eggs, as in soups, stews, casserole dishes, and omelets.

Serve fish and other sea-food frequently, if you live on the coast.

Use cheese in preparing casserole dishes, sandwiches, and salads. It serves as a cheap meat substitute.

Left-overs can be made into very attractive and palatable dishes.

Use day-old bread, which is sometimes cheaper than fresh bread, for toast and sandwiches. Cook food at home rather than buy at the delicatessen store, which is more expensive. Avoid waste by careful preparation and cooking.

First Voters To Be Inducted Into Citizen's Duties

ORLANDO, Jan. 18 — Florida's "first voters" will be inducted into the obligations of citizenship in an impressive ceremony staged as a part of American Democracy Day celebration to be held by the Florida Congress of Democracy on Feb. 22.

The plan adopted calls for meetings in all schools of the state in the morning, meetings of all service clubs at noon, meetings of women's groups in the afternoon, and mass meetings at night during which all "first voters" — those who will cast their first vote this year — will be inducted into the obligations of citizenship in an impressive ceremony.

A statewide radio hook-up has been arranged for and reports from various communities stating the number of "first voters" inducted will be broadcast.

Florida is the first state to organize a state congress on democracy. Officers of the Florida congress are: Colin English, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, president; Harold Colby, of the State Chamber of Commerce, vice president; James T. Wilson, president Florida Education Association, secretary; R. P. Terry, treasurer; Richard E. Evans, executive vice-president.

Chesna Of Sanford Meets Heavy Welch In Orlando Bout Monday

Tony Chesna, Sanford boxer, will meet Ralph Welch of Orlando in the opening four rounder Monday night at the American Legion, featuring the two heavyweights in Orlando at 8:15 o'clock, according to word received here today from Promoter Ernie Stephens.

Chesna, weighing 195 pounds, although he hasn't fought recently, bids fair to give Welch a scrappy fight. Welch weighs 190 pounds, and is also an amateur but reputedly full of ring spirit. There will be six rounds of top flight bouts in all.

The two heavies will open the fight program, first to be promoted by Stephens. Legion Lightweights include Larry Westgate and Elmer Ray.

Ray, who ranks among the South's finest negro fighters, is scheduled to fight against Lumpkin, stepping out for the first time in big-time competition, have been working out nightly at the Pioneer Athletic Club, on West Pine Street, in preparation for their headline engagement.

The two eight-round fights that will precede the main event have already been announced.

A six-rounder, to be wedged in between the opener and the two eight-round semi-final bouts, will be announced later.

Dick Hernandez of Tampa and Kid Williams of Savannah, Ga., welterweights, hook up in the main semi-final feature in an eight-round affair.

Woodrow Chancey of Palatka is scheduled to meet Tony Chesna in the first semi-final bout.

Both Hernandez and Chancey are well known to local boxing fans and they were paired off in the main event of the Paychick-Clegg card in the best fight of the program.

Fed Basketball Team Meets Eustis Tonight At Seminole Gym At 8:30

Sanford's Celery Fed basketball squad engage the Eustis quintet here tonight at 8:00 o'clock at the Seminole High School gymnasium. Sanford will attempt to rack up their second victory of the season. They won their opener from Tavares, then lost to Winter Park and DeLand.

The opening lineup tonight probably will find Billy George and Bobby Newman at guards, Jim Blaser at center, Arthur Dunn and Danny Altman, or Dub Epps at forwards.

The Fed's lack height and experience but before the season is over, they give promise of being a formidable outfit, able to cope with the best in the northeast conference.

A "B" squad game may be held prior to the feature tilt.

Glenford Red Goes To Post Favored In Feature Event

ORLANDO, Jan. 12—Glenford Red, Ed Willard's two-year-old fawn-brindle, who wrote her name among the list of better greyhounds at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club with a record-equaling performance Tuesday night, goes to the post again tonight in the feature race at the Longwood oval.

Running the 5-16th's mile distance in 82 seconds flat, Willard's dog equalled her four year old record, established by Ann Hope and matched the time hung up by Lester Cole's Lucky Dot this season. Glenford Red outdistanced Lucky Dot Tuesday night.

It marked the fourth time this season that records for the feature and 5-16th's mile distances have either almost been broken or equalled.

Glenford Red is entered in tonight's feature 5-16th's, the ninth race, against Big Question, the dog who placed second in the Willard greyhound in Tuesday night's thriller, and Balmly Bender, another of the field who ran the feature heat Tuesday.

Meeting Secretary Pat Meets, in an effort to thoroughly extend Glenford Red's possibilities as a track champion in tonight's race, has added the names of W. C. Groves' Sand Baby, Lester Cole's Lady at Arms, the Blackwell Kennel's Emil Rex, Gerald Pasley's Smoky Ranger and Merry Ida to the feature race entrants.

With a fast track and even breaks, track railbirds are pretty evenly divided as to whether Glenford Red will step out as a record breaker or be beaten by one of the several top-flight entries in this feature 5-16th's hook-up.

Bronchitis, acute or chronic, is an inflammatory condition of the mucous membranes lining the bronchial tubes.
