Yankees Mentioned In Baseball's Newest Scandal Hinted In Gotham

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—(INS)—The New York Evening Journal declares today in an article signed by W. S. Farnsworth, sports editor, that the Yankees are mentioned in a betting scandal involving members of the Yankee baseball club in 1922, were revealed today. The charges were made by detective Kelly, a Bronx man employed by Col. T. L. Huston who at that time was half owner of the New York team. Kelly was employed to discover, if possible, whether the conduct of the players, both off and on the field, was causing a slump that lasted that spring for thirteen consecutive games. The player specifically mentioned by Kelly is Carl Mays, now a hurler on the Cincinnati National League Club.

"After hearing Kelly, I went to Georgia where Col. Huston is spending the winter and told him of the talk with the detective," Huston admitted that Kelly had turned in reports of Mays' betting. The Colonel also admitted that he had called a meeting in New York in June, 1922, and that Judge Landis, then president of the American League; Col. Jacob Ruppert, at that time Huston's partner in the ownership of the club and sole owner; manager Huggins and Edward Barrow, the Yankees' business manager, attended.

"The public was taken in this scandal, were they?" I asked Col. Huston.

"No, we decided that it was best to keep this quiet," he replied. "We knew that the Yankee players had not been walking the straight and narrow path. I suggested that Judge Landis go over to Boston, where our team was playing at the time, and give them a severe lecturing and let it go at that."

YOUTH, 17, WINS CATALINA RACE AND BIG PRIZE

Canadian Boy Only One To Complete Hazardous Race Out Of 153 Contestants

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17.—(INS)—George Young of Toronto, Canada, was taking things easy today—and well he might. For this 17-year old Canadian youth has made swimming history.

He was the only entry to finish the gruelling grind from Avalon, Catalina Island, to the mainland near point Vincente, a distance of 22 miles.

More than 100 swimmers started, overed with grease, legged, determination in their hearts. One by one they dropped out, some exhausted, some stricken by cramps, some just plainly discouraged and some sea sick.

But George Young was not one of these. Twice he was cramped, but as he put it, "I rolled over on my back and kicked 'em out."

A second time he "kicked 'em out" he "kicked 'em out" for good. That he never faltered, kept on his powerful stroke until he was a mile from the shore. There, when he ran into the water for more than 15 hours he was forced to put on added power. He kept it in reserve, saved his legs, saved his help and a few minutes later was on shore. He made the swim in 15 hours, 20 minutes and 32 seconds.

The boy will get the prize of $1,000 and a hearing from the Catalina swim club. He will receive a fair fortune for his feat.

Young, a youthful 17 years, is certainly a man in size and strength. He weighs 166 pounds and is extremely muscular. He was a veritable "dark horse" in these parts, but in Canada his prowess is well known, where he is long-distance champion.

The winner of the race finished in excellent condition. He shows no ill effects; he is not exhausted. But it is doubtful if there is a more exuberant person on the continent.

Although a woman finished, leaving the $15,000 prize unclaimed, it became known here today that Wigley was planning another Catalina swim this time for women only. Details have not yet been worked out, but it is thought it will be held in September, that a purse of $25,000 will be offered to the participants and that such famous swimmers as Gertrude Ederle and Mrs. Milly Corson will be invited to be contestants.

BALL SCANDALS WILL END WITH MEETING SOON

Landis And Johnson To Merge Fight To Finish At Meeting Of American League

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Scandal and backbiting whispirings, for which the off season of 1926-27 will go down in the books as the most notorious in history, will cease abruptly with the holding of Judge Landis' special American League meeting in Chicago on Jan. 18.

The writer learned today that Landis, thoroughly fed up with under-cover efforts to embarrass his regime, will force a cessation of the guerrilla warfare now in progress even if he has to go as far as to drive Ban Johnson out of baseball.

He goes further than that, if the spirit moves him, for his contract gives him the right to resign in the matter of disbanding any official whose acts or utterances are deemed inimical to the good of the game.

He has so deemed the utterances attributed to "a well known official," that neither Cobb nor Speaker ever again will be permitted to play in the American League. That statement, if proved to be correct, will completely nullify the effect and hope to create by failing to go on record as to be guilty or innocence of the two stars. It, in fact, tacitly declares the American League's belief in their guilt.

Landis suspects that Johnson is the author of the statement just as he is usually certain that his arch-rival jockeyed the appearance of Swede Risberg and Chick Gandil at the scandalous hearing. He even believes that Johnson inspired these two worthies to reopen the question of whether or not the Detroit-Chicago fund of 1917 was a bribe or a gift, knowing that this would place Landis in a tough spot.

That, at least, was the general impression around the hearing, particularly since some of Johnson's spokesmen were very active in behalf of Risberg and Gandil at the time.

Now, however, it will be Johnson's turn on the griddle. Landis has called his special meeting with just one idea in mind, to find out whether the American League held out on him when it turned over the Cobb-Speaker case to him for a decision or whether Johnson merely popped off. Either way, Johnson is due to be absorbed. If it was a pop-off, so to speak, then Landis will be in a position to demand Johnson's seap on the grounds that he endangered not only the league's reputation but that of baseball as well. If it was a hold-out, then Johnson, having had the early investigation in direct charge, will be held culpable again.

It would not be surprising, on the whole, if Landis threatened to retire from office, just as he did several years ago when Johnson openly attacked him. Baseball felt it would afford to let the judge get away at that time. Can it afford it any more at this time? When you have answered that one, you will know just what a trying afternoon of it Ban Johnson will put in next Monday.

Tampa Hearing On Race Track Issue Scheduled Today

TAMPA, Fla., (INS) Jan. 17.—Hearing was scheduled to be held in circuit court today on the application of county solicitor Chancy for an injunction to stop horse and dog racing here.

The injunction, if granted, would halt the 37-day meeting of the Tampa Jockey Club which opened Saturday and the Hillsboro Kennel Club.

Chancy contended that the operation of the race tracks under the prevailing system constituted violation of the Florida anti-gambling laws.

The State Supreme court at Tallahassee has before it the question of the legality of pari-mutuel betting by licensees of certificates or "profit-sharing" coupons, the issue having been raised when the pompano horse club appealed for a writ of supercedens to set aside an injunction obtained in Howard county closing the pompano race track.

George Washington liked fish we heard. His best market was said to be the Whitefish and P. T. Barnum—Pilot Journal.

TURKEY DAY GAMES PASSING

The day of the Thanksgiving football spectacle is passing and before long it will be but a memory. In the opinion of Dr. Forest C. Allen, director of athletics at the University of Kansas:

A generation ago, he says, the turkey day games were the climax of the season. Now very few universities play on that date, and their number is rapidly diminishing.

"We have questioned players and students, not only at Kansas but at other universities, and none of them want this game. Dr. Allen asserts: "Ten weeks of the drudgery of football training is a bout enough, the players feel, and the students never would stay" to a turkey day game if they were not fearful of being called pikers for going home. They want to sit down at dad's table on that day. I think it is wrong that athletes should be made to capitalize the holiday.

CHEER LEADING 'UNLADY-LIKE'

The gyrations of the cheer leader are "unlady-like," in the opinion of the Women's Self-Government Association of Indiana University, which would discontinue co-ed battle-cries.

If the Women's Athletic Association of the university agrees with the self-government body, next year's Hoosier football cheering section will respond only to the male exhorter. Indiana has extended equality in cheer leading to its co-eds for several years. There were two last season.

COAL MINER TO GRID STAR

Bent over a black hole in the ground—whacking away with his pick, an Oklahoma coal miner five years ago was thinking—thinking that some day he would be a great athlete and have an education.

The miner was P. A. "Polly" Wallace, captain of the University of Oklahoma 1926 foot-ball team and his dream are coming true. He will receive his degree in geology at the end of the spring term and already flattering of his awaits him.

After doing his freshman work in 1915-16 at Chickamauga, Wallace went to Coakley, Okla., and started work in the mines, for financial reasons. For five years he dug coal and acted as tire boss and pit boss. He then went into business, taught school and did a little coaching.

Polly returned to the university in the fall of 1924 and each year since then he has been the mainstay of the Sooner football line, playing center.

Baptist Evangelist Greeted Sunday By 2 Packed Houses

the sentence that the father should suffer in the suffering of the child. The father sows and then reaps from his sowing, and his grey hairs go down in sorrow to the grave. The chickens come home to roost. And that is just what the law of the child is that the child shall suffer for the iniquity of the father. That is where the rub comes, and the shoe pinches painfully between the upper and the lower. It is just that a babe unborn should suffer for the sins of the parent who begot him, sinning drunkenly, justly before the little one along the way. That is a connection with the most unjust. Standing alone it would be a terrible comment on the justice of the Heavenly Father. But it does not stand alone. It must be taken in connection with the third law, the law of the end. In connection with this law it is not only fair and just, but is wonderfully beautiful.

The law of the end is this, "In that day no man shall die, but the son shall suffer for the sins of his father, and the father shall suffer for the sins of the child, but in that day, the seal that signeth it, shall die.

The beauty of it is in the exaltation of the free-agency of the individual, in the recognition of the individual personality. The child is in the bog of hereditament, in the mire of environment, but it is given in him to lift himself out. This chance is given in the new birth. "Ye must be born again." In the new birth through the Christ, the son of John Smith, cursed with parental sin and crushed between the upper and the lower millstone of inevitable environment, becomes no more the son of John Smith, but the son of God in this new birth he no longer inherits from his earthly father but from his Heavenly Father. Not drunkenness but sobriety, not lust but purity, not the palm which itches for ill-gotten gains but a spirit of honesty, not selfishness but selflessness.

"That which is born of the flesh is flesh, that which is born of the Spirit is spirit. That which is born of John Smith inherits from John Smith, because it is of John Smith. That which is born of the Spirit of God inherits from God for it is of God. Ye must be born again, thus annulling the law of heredity and cancelling the law of environment, and making a free object the law of the father and of the child which entail inheritance through the flesh."

SCOPES' TRIAL IS REVEALED AS BIG LEGAL HOAX

the plea of Darrow to the jury for a conviction.

"We are more interested," Darrow had said to the jury, "in overthrowing the law and we can't do that unless we get to a higher court, we must have the defendant found guilty. I don't see how you can bring in a verdict of not guilty."

The Tennessee Supreme Court may have had an inkling of this story too, it appeared today, as its decision was the only one by which it could uphold the evolution law and yet get rid of the Scopes case. Counsel for Scopes had guarded every other avenue in a technical reversal of Scopes' conviction by permitting the elimination of their bill of exceptions, containing all the alleged trial errors.

"After all," as Scopes explained it that July afternoon, "the cause at stake is one of religious liberty and educational freedom. It doesn't matter how we get this issue into court just so we have some conveyance to carry it before the American people."

Now, the Tennessee court had demanded that "conveyance" so the issue is back once more in the rolling, verdant hills of Tennessee.

Bandits Are Reported Fleeing With $35,000

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., Jan. 17.—(INS)—Police here today were in receipt of meager advice they said came from Hollywood of two bandits apedding north in a high powered automobile with more than $35,000 believed to have been obtained in some small town between here and Miami.

A telephone call to the Hollywood News brought the information that there was no record there of any robbery or shooting but that it might have happened in some sparsely populated place further north.

CHAPLIN IS SUED BY GOVERNMENT FOR INCOME TAX

Film 'Comedian' Defendant In Suit For $750,000 Over Period Of 6 Years; Suit Is Filled In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 17.—(INS)—The federal government today filed six income tax suits, aggregating more than $750,000 against Charles Chaplin, film comedian.

The suits were filed with Robert S. Zimmerman, clerk of the federal district court here, by Galen H. White, collector of internal revenue for Los Angeles. The suits take in the following years: 1913-1914, 1915-1916, 1917-1918, 1919-1920, 1921-1922, 1923-1924, 1925-1926, 1927-1928.

Notices of the filing of the suits were served upon Chaplin's attorneys and request was made for information concerning the comedian's last residence and place of business.

As soon as the suits were filed, notices were served at Chaplin's studio, his Beverly Hills residence, and on the two receivers appointed by the county superior courts to administer his estate pending disposition of Mrs. Grey Chaplin's divorce action.

No service on Chaplin personally was necessary. White announced, in view of the receiver's compulsion by the court. No more to attach any of the comedian's property or obtain possession of any of his holdings will be made by the federal authorities in connection with the suit, it was also declared.

In case the government wins its case against Chaplin, payment of the assertedly delinquent taxes will take precedence over all the actor's personal and business debts, according to the law governing income tax litigation, it was stated.

Chariot Race in Ben Hur Picture Claimed To Be One Of Best

Metra-Goldwyn-Mayer, in arrangement with A. L. Erlanger, Charles Dillingham and F. Ziegfeld Jr., offers the world's mightiest attraction at the Milano next Monday and Tuesday nights and Tuesday matinee in the celebrated picture version of "Ben-Hur" to which all New York has crowded for many months and which again is being shown in Philadelphia in as many theaters as the city can accommodate.

This wonderful picture, which cost $4,000,000, three years' time, and the labors of 150,000 persons in Italy and California, culminated in the construction of the grandest, Circus Maximus and race course of Antioch and in the filming thereon of the thrilling chariot race. Instead of eight horses and the old-time mechanical illusion of the stage show, the new and greater "Ben-Hur" shows 12 teams of four horses each racing the seven laps of a great arena with all the hairbreadth escapes and spills incident to the race.

The details of Col. Ben-Hur's famous "Tall" have been reviewed only that, the powerful melodrama of the four seasons, Ben-Hur, Messala, and the other characters, as played by Ramon Novarro, Fredi Washington, and the other stars, is a thing of beauty. Large touring orchestras will be given the opening.
