Sanders, who is one of the hardest throwing pitchers in the league, had a no-hitter going until there were two outs in the sixth inning. Up until this point of the game only three Tampa batters had reached base, two via walks and one on an error in the infield. In the sixth, Sanders got the first two batters on fly balls and then Vito Porta reached first base safely on an error by Dick Green. Then Marc Hoy hit a three two pitch down the first base line and it took a bad hop over first baseman Ken Harrelson's head to go down the right field line for a triple. It was a reison's head to go down the right field line for a triple. It was a highly disputed ball as it hit close to the line in front of the bag but Umpire Allen ruled it as fair so this broke the no hitter. Sanders could well have been out of the inning without any damage if the error had not been committed.

The Greyhounds scored their initial run in the first inning when Pat Siak led off with a single, Bill Dukes and Mike Maloney were re-

Dukes and Mike Maloney were re-tired and then Bolivar Hinojosa sent a booming double to the fence

In the fourth inning, the Grey-hounds pushed across the winning margin. Bob Perez led off with a walk and Dick Green followed with a line single to left. Ozzie Chavarria followed with a single through the hole loading the bases. Then Sanders came to the plate and lined a single to right center driving across Perez and on the relay throw, Green raced across with the second run of the inning. Chavaria moved to third when Sisk hit into a double play and Bill Dukes followed with a single to right scoring Chavarria with the fourth and final run.

Chavarria had a near perfect night at the plate hitting a triple and two singles in four trips. In other FSL games, Ken Dekker of St. Petersburg stole home in the 11th inning to give the Saints a 9 to 5 win over Palatic.

Dear Abby:

DEAR ABBY: I have been teaching Physics for 88 years and not only was your reply to "Dick" a pip, but it would have made Professor Einstein turn over in his

"If a plane crashed in the desert and no living thing heard it, was a sound made?" Dick asked.

To this question, which has baffled philosophers and scientists for genera-tions, you blithely reply, "Yes," without even batting an eyelash.

"Sound"-according to the physiological definition — "requires a receiver."
Without it there is no "sound." Truly yours, "Doc" (Cambridge, Mass.)

DEAR ABBY: I was surprised to read that "Dick" was having trouble with the question of sounds being reproduced by a plane crash in the desert. I asked this same question in my high school science class 20 years ago, and was soundly squelched by my teacher. This was before anybody would believe that matter and energy were convertible.

Good for Dick for raising the question and good for you for backing him up. I wouldn't have believed this old chestnut was still kicking around. S. S. F., San Francisco

DEAR ABBY: The argument about whether or not there was a "sound" made if no one was around to hear it can easily be solved by using the proper word. What Dick wanted to know was NOT whether a SOUND was made ("sound" needs someone to hear it, in order to be termed "sound"). Dick meant was a "NOISE" made? Yes, you were right. A noise WAS made. So call it a "noise" instead of a "sound" and settle it!

PHYSICS TEACHER, Amarillo, Texas DEAR ABBY: May I be the thousandth person to tell you that the question about "sound" has no answer? If Dick couldn't find the answer in his physics book, written by experts who have spent their lives studying sound, vibra-tions and transmission, I don't know why on earth the poor kid thought he could get the answer by writing to you. Why didn't you just say you didn't know? A. L., Washington, D. C.

DEAR ABBY: You were wrong when you supported the student who said that whether anyone was around to hear a sound or not, it still was a sound. I will not attempt to explain this phenonmenon as I harely understand it myself, but I know I am right. O. F. (Yuma)

DEAR ABBY: I thought everybody knew that sound required three things: (1) An object to give off vibrations, or "noises." (2) A medium to transmit these vibrations. (3) A device capable of receiving or "hearing" these vibrations. By definition, then, a plane crashing in the desert with no living thing around to hear it, does NOT cause "sound."
