Fuller Motor Co. Takes Over Local Chrysler Agency

Charles T. Fuller, formerly of Rock Hill, S. C., announces that he has taken over the local agency for the Chrysler automobile, from the Orlando agency. The new firm will have no connection with the neighboring distributors. It is pointed out that the new organization will be known as the Charles T. Fuller Motor Company, under the management of Mr. Fuller. Associated with him as salesman will be H. C. Flannery, it is announced. The firm will occupy the garage formerly maintained by the branch office of the Orlando agency at 411 West First Street, according to the information.

Mr. Fuller, for many years connected with the Dodge agency in Rock Hill, S. C., states that he arranged for his present location after an extensive tour of the state, during which he investigated the various localities through which he journeyed with the possible intention of permanently locating.

Mr. Fuller declares that he was impressed with the possibilities of Sanford during his first visit here, and later decided to settle in the city. He has been in the automobile business for 18 years, and has managed the Rock Hill branch for the past five years.

FLORIDA FACTS

The largest flower garden in the world is located on the shores of Lake David just north of the city of Groveland, Florida. There are now under intensive cultivation over 170 acres of flower beds with 500 additional acres in the process of preparation.

These flowers are used in making the essential oils for perfumes. Until recent years most perfumes and especially the essential oils have been imported into the United States. A group of men decided to experiment in Florida and their tests have proved that this state is perfectly adapted to the industry.

Up until this perfume flower garden was established in Florida the United States sent many millions of dollars to foreign countries for perfumes, perfumed soap and other toilet articles. The United States spends annually more money for toilet articles than it does for education. This Florida flower garden is proving the means of keeping many dollars in this country.

According to Professor Beattie of the United States Department of Agriculture, the average cost of maintaining green houses ranges from $20,000 to $50,000 per acre per year. This included fuel, which varies from 250 to 500 tons per acre per year.

The department official points out that in Florida the fuel item is completely eliminated and that no glass is necessary. Overhead is much reduced.

In Florida frost does not endanger the flowers and twelve months growth yearly is obtainable.

The present location of this largest flower garden in the world has an additional attribute for perfume and toilet article preparations. The whole tract is underlaid with a deposit of kaolin. In some places in the tract the kaolin deposits reached 32 feet in depth to the strata.

Kaolin is one of the most essential factors in the manufacture of toilet articles. It is the basis for creams, lotions, powders, sachets, and facial clays.

The kaolin is mined by pumping the raw product from the ground and conducting it through a series of vats from which it finally emerges a chalk white substance of silk smooth finish.

Kaolin is then placed in airtight cases with flowers of citrus petals, and it absorbs the sweetness from them. After this kaolin is put through an alcoholic bath which extracts the kaolin from the main substance.

HOPE, Ind., Sept. 22.—(A) The Indiana Rural Letter Carriers Association has planned to erect a monument to mark the site of the oldest rural free mail delivery in the United States, which was started 29 years ago.

Two experimental routes were started a year before the Hope project, but they since have been abandoned, while the route out of here has been continued without interruption.

Not a record is available in the Hope postoffice that establishes the exact date of starting the route. All postmasters who knew the story are dead and Raleigh Norman, the first carrier, was killed in an automobile accident a year ago.

Studebaker Standard Six Coach, $1405.00 delivered in Sanford, Florida.

Or, under Studebaker's fair and liberal Budget Payment Plan, this coach may be purchased out of monthly income with an initial payment of $472 only.

One-Profit Value Unit-Built Construction

Make Studebakers Bargains in Quality

BECAUSE Studebaker builds for Studebaker cars all bodies, all engines, all axles, clutches, differentials, steering gear, springs, gear sets, gray iron castings and drop forgings—it is possible to give purchasers two advantages:

1. A price advantage: Because Studebaker eliminates extra profits which all other manufacturers (except Ford) must pay to outside parts or body makers. Thus Studebaker is able to use steel of extra toughness, fine northern white ash and hard maple, wool upholstery, plate glass, painstaking workmanship to precision standards, and extra equipment, such as gasoline gauge, clock, stop light, etc.—yet charge no more than competing cars.
2. A construction advantage: Because all parts are not only designed to constitute one harmonious unit, but are Unit-Built in Studebaker plants. Being built as a unit, every Studebaker functions as a unit. This results in years longer life, scores of thousands of miles of excess transportation, greater riding comfort, minimum repair costs and, finally, higher resale value.

The net of it is this: the one-profit Studebaker with its unit-built construction offers you a bargain in quality.

There are others in our general price field who also build quality cars. But for models that are at all comparable their prices are higher.

Others, who once built quality cars, have made material sacrifice in order to secure superficial price advantages. These cars are good value for the man or woman who wants that kind of a car. But if he wants a bargain in quality there is only one answer—Studebaker.

Consider, for instance, the Standard Six Coach, illustrated above. It has wool upholstery; plate glass; fine trim to hide all tacks; heavy, ornamental hardware; clock; gasoline gauge on dash; automatic windshield cleaner; stop light; locks on ignition; steering gear, door and spare tire carrier all operated by a single key.

Slam the door and the sound says "quality." Swing on the door. Run one wheel up on the curb and note how the doors still open and close. Sit on the firm, heavy fenders. Try the steering gear. See how easily it handles the full-size balloon tires. Test the comfort of the deep rear seat. Its genuine wool upholstery covers two layers of washed, quilted cotton, one layer of genuine curled hair and extra long springs closely held together by small coil springs.

Run the engine—the most powerful in any car of this size and weight, according to the ratings of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce. Come in and see this bargain in quality—the lowered price closed car ever sold by Studebaker.

Spanish-American War Vets Invade St. Petersburg For Annual Encampment Sunday

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The rush of the gold seekers to Florida is overshadowed just now by the army of Spanish-American War veterans who will soon invade the city of St. Petersburg and capture it as their own during the national encampment of the United Spanish War Veterans September 27 to October 1. Practically every state in the union will be represented.

The invading army, at present numbers approximately 15,000, according to the registration books. Applications for camp grounds for others are still coming in officials say.

The encampment grounds on Old Tampa Bay are on the site where the boys of '98 tented while waiting for orders to proceed to Cuba. This is the twenty-seventh annual encampment of the Spanish War veterans and it is the first ever held in Florida.

The veterans this time will encamp under entirely different conditions from what they did in 1898, says a letter sent out by the General Leonard Wood camp of this city. It points out that this time the veterans can bring their wives, have plenty of fine food and stay at the best hotels. It adds "you will not have to face the Spanish bullets but will meet the Spanish ambassador to the United States, who will be the guest of the veterans."

The program of events opens with the arrivals on Sunday. There will be receptions at the railroad station, reunions at the hotels and registrations.

Memorial exercises will be held Sunday evening in Williams Park. J. J. Lawless, of St. Petersburg, will be the chairman. Reverend W. A. Myers, of Jacksonville, will deliver the memorial address.

The business sessions open Monday and continue through Thursday morning. The address of welcome will be delivered by Gov.

John W. Martin followed by greetings from United States Senator, Duncan U. Fletcher, Congressman H. J. Drane, Mayor C. M. Blanc and J. M. McDonald, representing the General Leonard Wood camp. The response will be made by Mrs. Wilhelmina Borgmeyer, of Chicago, president-general of the auxiliary; Mrs. Cora Geddes Taylor, of New York, president of the Spanish-American War Nurses; and Chauncey W. Herrick, commander-in-chief.

Monday noon the luncheon to the department presidents will be held at the yacht club. Later in the afternoon the women of the city will hold a reception at the yacht club for all the visiting ladies. This will be followed by a motor trip around the city. The trip will be conducted by the Knicker Corps under direction of Miss Billie Perrine, manager of the motor club.

Monday evening a grand reception will be held Tuesday Spanish war nurses will be entertained at a luncheon and all afternoon the American Legion will entertain all visitors at a fish fry at the water front park.

Many novel features are planned for the parade that will be held Tuesday evening. Wednesday afternoon visiting delegates will put on a varied program at Williams Park including the presentation of a flag to the city of St. Petersburg by the national auxiliary.

The famous Snax parade followed by the Crwal will pass down Central Avenue Wednesday evening.

Thursday morning the election of officers will conclude the business sessions. This is expected to be a hotly contested race for the office of commander-in-chief. The evening will be devoted to Tampa entertainment. Friday delegates will start for home with a group going to Cuba to visit the battlefields.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Of all the men this country sends, on various missions, into foreign lands, the experts whom our big agricultural implement houses dispatch as field representatives, to tinker with the farm machinery they have sold abroad, average the highest type.

Our mechanic, on foreign service is paid but not on a scale to put up at the leading hotel—where he might just as well be at home—on reaching his destination. He finds quarters in a native boarding house and associates with the people of the country.

He sees something of urban life but most of his time is spent in the "provinces," learning the country's innermost life and language and thoughts—which the average American never does.

A few years of this and that mechanic knows the land of his sojourn as he knows his own—in-side out.

Once every winter or two he gets a couple of months in the United States, to keep up-to-date and in touch with home, but invariably he's shipped away again. A specialist, by this time, in foreign fields, he's too valuable to be spared from them long.

Then maybe he's transferred to another country, which he learns, too, as thoroughly as he did the first one. I've met these mechanics who have lived in most of the Latin American republics, in Germany and Spain, in the Balkan state, in North Africa, in European and Asiatic Russia, who speak half a dozen languages with considerable fluency and who understand world politics and conditions as mightily few so-called authorities do—not from formal study but at first hand.

Of course not every mechanic, any more than every man in any other calling, is made of the raw material to profit by such advantages, but some of them are—men who would fill an ambassador's post with a credit mighty few ambassadors have a right to claim. Ambassadors, however, are not picked that way.

Complete Plans For Banquet To Welcome Hunt By Orlando C.C.

ORLANDO, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Final plans for the Guernsey-Hunt dinner to be given Thursday night have been completed, according to a statement issued by the Orange County Chamber of Commerce. Reservations have been coming in fast and there will be many women present as well as most of the leading men of Orlando and Orange county.

The committee in charge is composed of C. E. Kraft, D. P. Dias, and Karl Lehman. This committee was appointed by the Orlando chamber of commerce to arrange a suitable event to bear testimony to the services rendered the Orlando chamber of commerce by the retiring secretary, S. Kendrick Guernsey and to welcome the incoming executive vice-president, Carl Hunt.

Karl Lehman will be toastmaster and there will be a program of unique stunts and music.

Mount Dora.—(AP)—Bank is organized, with increases in capital stock and surplus.

State Game Head Says Lakes Bare Of Clams

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Large quantities of fresh water mussels and clams have been taken from the Dead Lakes of Gulf and Calhoun counties, according to State Game Commissioner J. B. Royall, who has just returned from a trip to that section of Florida.

The clams, when first taken, were searched for pearls, to be used in making buttons. One man had six tons in his possession, Mr. Royall reported. Vigorous opposition is being found among the people of Gulf and Calhoun counties to the taking of the fish in such quantities. Mr. Royall said, because it means exhausting of the supply, as well as interferes with fishing.

The shell-cracker, a beam which is equipped with grinders to crack the shells of young clams, feeding upon the tiny bivalves, is found in the lakes, the commissioner said. The fish attain a weight of three to three and a half pounds, he said.

Panama City.—(AP)—Ten millions to be invested in new buildings.

St. Petersburg.—New municipal recreation pier to cost $681,650.

FLORIDA FACTS

(By The Associated Press) Green Kibb (1914) for the few products of agriculture that shipped in only southern quantities from Florida.

The counties in general in which the green corn is grown for shipping are Alachua, Hillsborough, Orange and Osceola and Marion.

Leading varieties are Stowell's Evergreen, Crosby's Early, Adams Early, Long Island Beauty, and Country Gentleman.

The average yield per acre is 30 to 40 crates, though Marion county claims 100 crates per acre.

The early varieties will mature in about 70 days, though the average will be between 80 and 90 days.

The shipping season begins in May and continues through July. Highest prices are obtainable in May and June.

Texas is the greatest competitor that Florida has in the shipment of green corn, though there are numerous others.

This information is supplied by the state bureau of markets under the direction of Commissioner L. M. Rhodes.

Ocala is one of the leading shipping points of the state for watermelons, cucumbers, tomatoes, beans, lettuce, and green corn. It also ships other truck farm products.

The first annual convention of the Fourth District of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World will be held in Orlando during April 12 through 14 in 1926.

The state of Florida has recently been made a complete district in itself. This is because of the numerous clubs in the state and the widespread activity, according to officials.

Already the advance registration indicates that the attendance will be record breaking. There will be those in attendance, who are prominent in advertising circles throughout the country.

The Advertising Club of St. Petersburg has announced that it will shortly send to the Orlando headquarters registration fees of 100 members.

The convention will be general in the afternoons but the mornings will be devoted to group meetings on special classes of advertising. Leaders in the lines will be the speakers.

Plans for the Florida delegation to the World's convention of Advertising Clubs in Philadelphia in June, 1926, will be laid at the Orlando meeting. It is planned to bring the 1927 convention to St. Petersburg.

Resolutions Duly Passed By W.C.T.U. Affidavit Claims

Further controversy over resolutions published in The Sanford Herald in its issue of Sept. 19 as the action of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, developed today when an affidavit signed by Mrs. Francis L. Nixon, Mrs. T. E. Thornley and Mrs. Beatrice Cobb, was submitted declaring the resolutions were passed unanimously at a meeting of that body. The affidavit further declares the resolutions were released for publication as its immediate work the raising of $50,000 which will be expended in the building of a standard basketball court.

The affidavit is as follows: "The meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Friday, Sept. 18, 1925 was called by the vice-president at large, there being 10 members present at said meeting."

A resolution was introduced by Vice President Mrs. Francis L. Nixon. Motion for adoption of same was made by Mrs. T. E. Thornley, recording secretary and seconded by Mrs. Beatrice Cobb. Said resolutions were duly put to the vote and were carried without dissenting vote.

This Month Is Hottest September on Record, Says U.S. Weather Man

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 23.—(AP)—This month has been the hottest September on record in Florida generally, according to A. J. Mitchell, meteorologist of the United States Weather Bureau here.

"Florida is hemmed in on all sides by a high wall of high pressure," Mr. Mitchell said. "Temperature excesses were marked all over the state during past week. Much of Florida is without rain and western and upper portion of northern division is least favored. The crop situation gave concern as during last months dry weather was not only unfavorable but did actual damage to a number of crops. Citrus trees in general are in good condition. The fruit is holding well but there is considerable complaint of splitting. Cooler weather is needed and more rain. Without the latter, the fruit will be smaller than usual, further reducing the output. Widespread rains and lower temperatures are pressing needs at this time."

11 Street Corner Here Highways Meet National Cross-Roads

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 23.—(AP)—down-town street intersection Washington and Meridian streets to be designated "the cross-roads of the nation."

Two important national highways, the National Old Trail road, coming from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and the Dixie Highway, coming at Saulte St. Marie, Mich., and terminating in Miami, Fla., intersect at this Indianapolis corner.

More than 75 percent of the country north, south, east, westbound tourists use these highways, according to E. W. Smart, president of the Hoosier Automobile Association. Mr. Smart instigated the plan to designate "the cross-roads of the nation" in Indianapolis.

General Unitarian Conference To Be Held In Cleveland October 13 to 15

CLEVELAND, Sept. 23.—(AP)—A call by Chief Justice William H. Taft to the Unitarians of the United States and Canada "to give a demonstration of the devotion of the liberal forces of Christianity to their great cause" is sounded in the announcement of the 31st biennial session of the General Unitarian Conference, to be held in this city Oct. 13-15. Chief Justice Taft has been president of the General Conference since 1915.

On the program for the three days' meeting are Dr. S. Parkes Cadman of Brooklyn, N. Y., president of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America; Rev. John Haynes Holmes of the Community Church, New York City; Dr. Samuel P. Capen, Chancellor of the University of Buffalo; Karl de Schweinitz, social worker of Philadelphia; Prof. W. T. Waugh of McGill University, Montreal; and Rev. Charles Francis Potter of the West Side Unitarian Church of New York City.

Will Effect Merger

At this meeting the General Conference will be merged with the American Unitarian Association, which gave it birth in 1865 and now absorbs it in a reorganization of denominational machinery. Resulting to this merger with the association, which began last May its second century of work, Chief Justice Taft says that it embodies the best features of both organizations. He adds:

"One of the principal features which the association is taking over from the conference is the biennial full session held at points distant from Boston, and devoted to discussion of the spiritual aims of our denominational effort. The biennial conference is increased in importance by the merging of the two bodies. The gathering retains the completely free representative character that has marked its history of more than 60 years, and its self-direction by the right to appoint its own committees of arrangements. Its actions, however, have a greater significance than before, in that they are binding, in everything except appropriation of funds, on the reorganized American Association, of which it now becomes an official part."

Call for Full Support

"I call upon Unitarians of the United States and Canada to make the first biennial conference of the new and wider fellowship of free churches notable in their history, and to give a demonstration of the devotion of the liberal forces of Christianity to their great cause."

The three evening sessions will be devoted to such subjects as the future of Christian liberalism; religion in society and the world of nations. A variety of topics will be discussed under the general subject, "Unitarian Opportunities in the New Century."

All settled ministers and two lay delegates from each Unitarian church in the United States and Canada are entitled to voting privileges at the business session. The Unitarian Ministerial Union, Alliance of Unitarian Women and Unitarian Laymen's League are co-operating.

To Probe Reports Of Fish Dead As Result Low Water

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 23.—(AP)—State Commissioner J. B. Royall, of the game and fish department, has called upon his deputy commissioners to investigate the conditions of streams and lakes in the drought-affected districts of West Florida, where thousands of fish are dying, as a result of the low water levels of lakes and ponds.

Where it is practicable and the cost is not prohibitive, the deputies are instructed to ditch from the shallows to deeper water or the nearby streams, to make a run-way for the fish. Where this is not done, a transfer of the fish in barrels to deeper water is ordered.

The commissioner thinks that unless these fish are saved, there will be a marked decrease in the number of fish to be found in the waters of that section of the state affected.

Cooperation of the people is asked in conserving the fish, especially with reference to taking more than can be eaten. Out-of-state people, the commissioner said, drive down from border states for the fish, and are destroying large quantities of them. The ponds and lakes in that section are lower than ever before, Mr. Royall says.

More people will be in Sanford this winter than ever before.

The Coolidge administration has the world's record for probes and scandals.

News note: Old maid in Chicago captured a burglar—and had to turn him over to the police.—Times-Union. It seems incredible.

Jabez Wolfe, who trained Gertrude Ederle for her channel swim, says the girl did all her training on a ukelele. Gee Whizz! Suppose she had used a saxophone.

Colonel Mitchell recently spent the week-end hunting wolves down in Texas. If he is court martialed as he very likely will be and looses his job, he may have trouble keeping the wolves away from his door.

President Coolidge plans to ask Congress for an appropriation to build another airship of the Shenandoah type. Many a boat was lost and many a seaman drowned before the Leviathan was launched.

According to Budget Director Lord's report the expenses of running the government increased $14,427,366.92. President Coolidge, who has practiced economy by using an ordinary Pullman instead of hiring a special train as has been the custom with most of our presidents, should have ridden in a day coach.

The Tampa Tribune says that medical science has practically eliminated diseases of the first fifty years of life and adds: "There is no reason to doubt that it will be as successful in conquering the ills of old age as it has been in vanquishing the diseases of youth." Hope we can stick around for a while until the ills of old age have been vanquished.

A compromise has been proposed between the brewers and the Anti-Saloon League whereby the Anti-Saloon League will consent to the legalizing of the sale of light wines and beer and the brewers in turn will agree to lend all their support to the elimination of the bootlegger and the stopping of the illegal sale of whiskey and "hard" liquor. Such an arrangement is certainly better than the present system, if system it can be called.

John D. Rockefeller, now eighty-six, wrote a poem the other day in reply to an invitation to attend a meeting of the Early Settlers' Association of Cleveland. The poem helped to explain the secret of his success and longevity. Mr. Rockefeller wrote: "I was early taught to work as well as play; My life has been one long, happy holiday; Full of work and full of play—I dropped the worry on the way—And God was good to me every day."

Do Unto Others

Something new in controversies has recently appeared in Sanford. One group of real estate agents apparently did not believe that the price of their licenses was sufficiently high and would raise it from fifteen dollars to one hundred. They would also place all agents under a five thousand dollar bond. Quite naturally there was another group who were entirely satisfied with things as they were.

It seemed to be quite a different matter to decide, and considerable discussion brought the realtors nowhere. Finally a committee of four, two representing each faction, was appointed to meet with Mayor Lake in an endeavor to arrive at some conclusion. Yesterday morning the committee met and effected a compromise which has made everybody happy.

One half of the demands of the conservatives, that is, that all agents be placed under bonds, was granted; one half of the demands of the Jacobins, namely, that the old license fee be retained, was also granted. So each side got half of what it wanted and no one can kick on that.

The members of the committee, Mr. Connelly, Mr. Knight, Mr. Thrasher and Mr. Haggard, together with Mr. Lake, are to be congratulated on the fairness of their decision and the foresight with which they handled a delicate situation.

Had the committee decided upon the rather enormous fee of one hundred dollars, crooked real estate agents, if such be possible, would have paid it with pleasure, others who might possibly be honest, would have gone to other places where realtors mix with the "common herd" and their license fees are in a class with druggists, physicians, bankers and other ordinary laymen.

Many young and ambitious local men who have visions of attaining great wealth by selling Florida soil, might have found it difficult to raise the necessary one hundred dollars for a license; might even have found it necessary to return to the less lucrative, but less highly restricted, profession of tilling Florida soil.

Their right to helping in the sale of their home town lands cannot be denied and their right in the profits from such sale is unquestionable. Their right is even perhaps as great as some of the older and most reliable firms who would have little difficulty in paying a hundred dollar license fee, and who were the advocates of such fee.

The Herald again wishes to congratulate the members of the committee which enacted the compromise. Theirs was a work well done.

Who's Afraid?

Permission to enter this country was recently refused by the State Department to Shapurji Saklatvala, who, notwithstanding the quantity of consonants in his name, is a commoner in the British Parliament. Mr. Saklatvala was very anxious to visit this country in order to attend a meeting of the Interparliamentary Union.

But Secretary Kellogg happens to know that Mr. Saklatvala is a Communist and that he somewhat earlier in the summer delivered an oration on the subject of India which threatened to topple the British Empire and change the reign of King George into a Bolsheviki regime. Our timid Secretary evidently fears that the "stormy petrel" of British Communism, if admitted into this country, might put some bad ideas into the minds of some of our working boys.

The New York World, however, takes a little different viewpoint. It seems to think that Mr. Saklatvala is more of a harmless wind-jammer than a firebrand. It says: "From all accounts he talks rapidly and furiously through his hat. He is a Communist. He is such a tremendous Communist that if he were in Russia he would probably be denouncing the Left Wing Bolsheviks as tools of the Trust or something to that effect. In short, he is a perfectly negligible wind-bag and about as dangerous to the social order as the bullfighter in 'Carmen'."

As for ourselves we do not believe that our fellow countrymen, even our Americanized Americans, are so excitable or so easily lead into difficulties that Mr. Kellogg need fear the power of any "blow-hard" nor need he worry that our Ship of State might be so fragile as not to withstand the effects of such a wind storm.

Let Mr. Saklatvala in. Let him steam and blow. Let him denounce British monarchism, let him upbraid American plutocracy, let him curse American immigration policy. Who cares? At least we can walk down the street and buy a lemonade.

IT SHOULD BE part of your religion never to hurt any man's feelings.—Howard.

ALL MEN are poets at heart.—Emerson.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

By IRVIN S. COBB

It was Charley Hoyt, the greatest of American satirical dramatists, who on receiving a wire from a rather pompous and self-sufficient comedian saying "I desire to play the leading role in your new comedy," turned the message over and wrote on it the following reply to be sent by telegraph, collect: "You stand practically alone in your desire."

Hoyt's wit operated like that— instantaneously and with emphasis. One night shortly before his death he was leaning against the bar of a chop house when an actor who was notoriously stingy came, accompanied by two friends. The close-fisted one and Hoyt were not on the best of terms, but the former was feeling a bit below himself and, moved by a sudden and almost unprecedented burst of generosity, he turned to the playwright and said patronizingly: "Charley, will you join us? I'm buying this drink."

"I certainly will," said Hoyt; "Always glad to assist in the celebration of any truly historic event."

HELPING GOVERN THE CITY

MIAMI TRIBUNE

There are always two classes of people in any town. There are those whose point of view is almost entirely selfish rather than civic, people whose main argument is that they pay their taxes and meet their obligations and therefore the city owes them this and that. These people are constantly on the alert to catch up the governing powers in delinquencies which of course, it is always possible to do in any city; they belong to the class who are always claiming their rights. One rarely meets this type of citizen without hearing from them of some mistake or weakness in administration of affairs. Everything is wrong in the business of city management.

This class of citizens are the most inveterate grumblers over taxes and often do the least of any to bring the city to a point where its weak places in government may be repaired.

There is another class of citizens who also expect the city to live up to its obligations to its population but who are willing to help govern, people who are responsible for government rather than standing back and criticizing. These are the people who help to build public sentiment behind the officials and make their work eas-

As Brisbane Sees It

Prosperity? Electric Power Age. President's Wallaby. Bedford, of the S. O. BY ARTHUR BRISBANE (Copyright 1925)

THE STATE of Washington plans a gigantic water power development. Banks in Seattle reflect general prosperity in the Northwest. Those Seattle banks will need bigger vaults and capitalization increased a billion, when the power begins to work.

MAINE WILL harness 700,000 horse-power in the Bay of Fundy. The plan approved by voters and scientific experts, calls for one hundred millions. Power enough will be produced to supply the whole of New England and ten times one hundred millions would not equal the value of such powers.

IN WATERPOWER and the electric force generally lies not the hope, but the certainty of prosperity beyond imagination.

What steam did for industry, human comfort, wealth and worldwide production, after the Napoleonic wars had exhausted Europe, waterpower and electricity will do now, follow the infinitely greater war, just ended.

ELMER SCHLESINGER, partner of Louis S. Levy, and one of the ablest young lawyers in New York says, "The debts of the world, after the battle of Waterloo, in proportion to the wealth of the world, were much bigger than all the debts of the last war combined."

"For an ounce of pessimism concerning the world's future now, there was a ton of pessimism then. "Wise men and financiers declared that the world was bankrupt, could not possibly carry and settle such a load of debt."

"Then came steam, with its prosperity undreamed of, and the world's debts became a joke. "What steam did after Waterloo and Napoleon, electricity and water power will do after the late great war and the former Kaiser Wilhelm."

THAT IS truth, "Men or energy should realize it and get ready for real prosperity, such as the world has never seen, never dared to hope for."

Add unlimited power plus unlimited water and nitrogen from the atmosphere, a world with its wealth inexhaustible, directed by intelligence and science, and you can easily imagine the Rockefeller of today, a person "moderately well off" in the next generation.

LAST SATURDAY this little message was sent: "Believe staff officer until further notice." That order from Maj. Ernest Hinde, referring to Mitchell, dared tell about our incompetent service, relieves Mitchell from active duty in the United States Army.

Probably General Hinds, or whoever told him to send the message, imagines that "relieve staff officer until further notice" is the end of the affair. But it isn't. That policy carried too far might "relieve" a considerable number of officials in the Republican party from their jobs at the approaching election.

THE PRESIDENT has received turned over to the Zoological Garden in Washington, a Wallaby, from Mr. Newman, of Tasmania. That Wallaby, small sized kangaroo, cannot, unfortunately, talk English.

If it could talk, it would say, "read about the fuss kicked up in France over the Dreyfus case and learn that it is easier to start a fire than to put it out."

ALFRED P. BEDFORD, head of the New Jersey Standard Oil Company, manager of many men and many millions of dollars—died suddenly yesterday—the usual story of American business, too high pressure, too little rest, death through heart disease.

Men forget that driving power in the back brain, often exceeds resisting power in the heart.

MANY LESSONS are in Mr. Bedford's rapid rise from what we call "no body" to what we call "somebody" with a capital "S". Young men and women working in drygoods stores should be interested in this.

Mr. Bedford began in the drygoods firm of E. S. Jaffray, measuring ribbons. He worked seriously, paid attention, and had intelligence enough to realize that a man's work, whatever it may be, is a gymnasium in which his brain acquires efficiency.

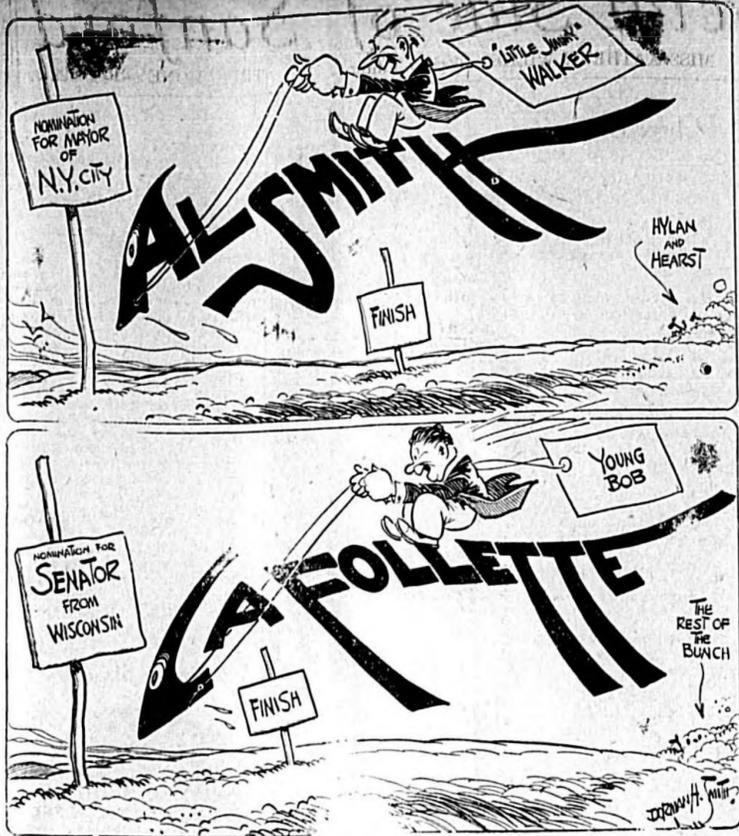

He came in contact with human beings of all kinds, studied the people before him, learned to deal with them, and went ahead.

There is no better training for a successful career than experience in a big store. Tell your son and daughter that.

At one time the salary paid to Mr. Bedford was criticised by individuals that know of values. He got $150,000 a year, earned several millions, that he did not get, and killed himself earning what he got.

A LARGE part of his earnings went in income tax. No allowance was made for the fact that he was burning up his body, cutting down his "Capital" located in his brain. If he had been an idler, owning coal mines, worked and managed by others, he would have been allowed so much every year for "depletion" because the value of his mine was diminishing, as the coal was taken out.

PROVING THERE'S SOMETHING IN A NAME AFTER ALL

GRADE CROSSINGS MUST GO

ASHEVILLE CITIZEN

The railroad grade crossing must be done away with in North Carolina. This action is counselled to the railroad by the voice of self-interest. It is commended by the inevitable result of a progress which has substituted high-powered automobiles and fighting fast highways for horse-drawn vehicles and country roads and semi-trails. It has been proved that the grade crossing is a death trap. Because that is so, the railroads have had to pay out immense sums of money in death damages, in expenditure which takes all substance out of the argument made by the railroads that abolition of grade crossings is too costly to be contemplated. The same reasoning was put forward by the roads of the country when it was first proposed that they install the block signal system. Not only did most of the roads soon adopt that device, but there was one occasion when a road in North Carolina was penalized by the courts for having failed to put it on.

There is no denying that, in any such situation, the safety of the public is the paramount consideration, and when the railroad is a menace to life and limb, it is the solemn duty of the state to afford the needed protection. There are three grade crossings in this community which stand as daily threats to the lives of the people who are now compelled to travel over them. There are many of the same character throughout the State. It is not proposed that the railroads at once bridge or tunnel every road over which they own pass. But it is advanced as an unwarrantable claim that the companies should abolish every grade crossing which is obviously dangerous, that is to say practically every one on a State highway or a surfaced road. Instances of their having been compelled to take such action in approaches to cities are many, and with the country highways so crowded now with automobile traffic, then need there for protection is as great as in the city districts. In some cases, a flagman or guard gates might be substituted for bridges or tunnels. It is astonishing that the railroads do not adopt such improvements instead of continuing to pay death damages in enormous sums.

FLORIDA FRAUDS

MACON TELEGRAPH

It is too much to expect that such economic upheavals as the Florida boom can be attended by no corrupt and false practices. It is not, therefore, surprising that charges are being made that the poorer people of the New York and Chicago tenement sections, chiefly the people who are not at all acquainted with American business, and hardly with the language, are being defrauded of what little savings they have by land sharks, chiefly from those cities. The most recent charge is that a former police captain of Chicago, Polish in descent and name, had taken advantage of his fellow Poles back home by holding out the lure of much and sudden riches on little or no capital.

Florida has taken almost every precaution a State can take against fraudulent land dealings, but she cannot put up a barrier against the minds and intentions of people. The craving for gold is great, so great that people sink their money into oil wells that are never drilled, into mines that are never opened, sink money into any sort of get-rich-quick scheme, without knowing anything of the merits of the proposition. They are much like the medicine faker audiences, which listen intently to the oratorical effusions of the faker, but is never quite convinced until he says, "You don't have to believe me; you don't have to believe anybody, just look at the label." The feeling abroad now is that because everybody is making it, Most of the money that is lost in Florida will be lost by the man of little means—the man who hasn't the money to go down and inquire for himself the possibilities; the man who wants to make an illegitimate profit and will grab the first opportunity for gain that comes along.

A BAD HABIT

ASHEVILLE CITIZEN

Quit it, stop it, cut it out and utterly eliminate it, this evil habit of kill-joy talk in which we of this city and section indulge. Habit, when it has become a positive vice hereabouts—it contaminates all talk.

Deny it, of course, folks will. They will assert that they look on the bright side of things; they will contend that they do not assay an ounce of Gloomy Gus stuff to the ton; they will claim that instead of talking blue they talk optimistically and expansively as become inhabitants of a section which is expanding in present prosperity and opulent with bright hope.

They will indignantly deny that when they start on a picnic and see a little cloud in the sky they throw a fearful note into their voices and tell the poor little children that a big storm is brewing and probably the picnic will turn out a dismal failure. They will disclaim that when the circus performance is halfway through and just commencing to its best that they then cheerfully remark, "Well, the show will soon be over and things will be pretty dull."

They do not make any such remark at the circus, but on the contrary they sit in the tent enjoying what is before them and never giving a thought to the finish. So why in the name of Western Carolina do Western Carolinians and particularly, we thing Ashevilleites, turn the gloom on this section every year at this season. It is a beautiful season which begins the first of September, Nature's choicest offering, days of mild and bright sunshine, nights cool and calm and cloudless, the harvests ripening in the fields and the mountain changing to brilliant dress. Time for enjoyment, isn't it, and for cheery talk? But what do we get—and give? Why something like this: "Yes, this is fine weather but it will not last. Yes, winter is not far off. Are you going to Florida pretty soon? I must see about the furnace. Do you reckon it will be a hard winter? Once it snowed here in October." "Winter" is rung in on every talk and generally with a gloomy flavor.

Didn't we say right about gloom talk? Here 'tis now when the days are fine and all outdoors beckons and the best of the golden days of brilliant autumn are weeks away—now when the bright season is just begun—we forebode winter. Winter is not bad but this is not winter's time. It's the time of the Golden Day. Make the most of them in enjoyment—the circus is only half over—forget the finish. Bad business too, practically hinting to tourists to skip before frost catches them.

WORLD COURT IS NEEDED TO AVERT WAR, SAYS DRAIN

NASHVILLE, Sept. 23.—(AP)—"The Legion believes that war can be avoided, but it knows full well that there can be no peace without justice. It knows further that there can be no justice without an organized and properly functioning means of enforcing justice. Such involves the creation of some competent form of world court."

This was the manner in which national commander James A. Drain of the American Legion, expressed the attitude of the legion on the world court idea in his address prepared for delivery today before the annual convention of the Tennessee department of the legion at Nashville.

The commander declared that at the same time the legion looks to the future of the world and in view of the present international situation, it favors preparedness in keeping with its responsibility in the world and with world conditions.

"Much has been done in the brief life of the American Legion to make good the supreme purpose which brought it into being," Dr. Drain said.

"To make good to America and the world, so far as lies within its power, the tragic losses which were inflicted by the world war has been the one controlling purpose of the Legion. From the first caucuses in Paris in March, 1919, where the legion was conceived to the present day we have dedicated ourselves, unflinchingly to the ideal of service which we learned in the days of the war.

"In the days of '17 and '18 we learned to the full the horrors of modern warfare. No veteran of that terrific conflict can soon forget them. It is no wonder then that nowhere is there to be found a more resolute and determined advocate of peace among nations than is the veteran of the great war.

"The American Legion knows what disaster would be wrecked upon the world if another such universal conflict should sweep upon it. The legion has resolved that to the utmost of its power there shall be no more such conflicts, if it is humanly possible to avoid them."

Urging enactment of the universal draft bill, favored by the legion, the commander asserted that this is a measure both for peace and preparedness. "The universal draft," he said, "will give the government authority to call to its aid in time of war man power to fight, man power to work, factory power to produce, and money power to finance, all on equal terms. To put the burden of war equally upon all is to lessen by so much, the legion feels, the likelihood of war. At the same time, in case there should be a war, the nation would find itself so much better prepared to wage it."

Taking up the accomplishments of the past year, the commander said:

"Many important changes in line with the recommendation made by the legion, have been inaugurated during the past year in the method and procedure of the United States Veterans bureau. Probably the most important of these was the decentralization of the bureau, taking its services out into the field in direct contact with the veteran.

"A guardianship service was set up to look after the affairs and protect the interest of incompetent veterans, the victims of shell shock and other bureau beneficiaries under guardianship. This service is co-operating closely with the leg-

Murder Mystery

W. C. Parris, of New Holland, Ga., has startled police officials by saying that five years ago he saw two women killed and their bodies discarded along the Chattahoochee river near Atlanta. He says the murders were committed by two men and two women and that he withheld the story on account of threats against his life. Mrs. Ruth Johnson (above), of Jefferson, Ga., partly corroborates Parris' story. He is shown helping police and state convicts dig for the bodies.

Minus "Four Horsemen," Notre Dame Faces Prospect Of Losses In 1925

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Gridiron fans interested in this season's prospects at Notre Dame can have it from the coach that the school of "Four Horsemen" fame will probably lose at least two games, and in losing only two will consider it a successful season.

With the house that was built upon "Rock" crumbled, that distinguished figure in the football world—Knut Rockne—is intent upon building a "bigger and better" team, a habit the man seems to have. But the new team probably will not be completed this year, and it is this that the fans are studying.

For willingness, the little army that Coach Rockne commands at Notre Dame is unbeatable. Many of the candidates for the 1925 team have had the benefit of Rockne's lectures and practices. Others have been on the Freshmen squad, the reserve team that Rockne seasons with small conflicts, or the inter-hall teams that are given varsity supervision.

From this large camp of recruits Rockne hopes to select a picked eleven.

PIRATES ROMP ON PHILLIES TO WIN EIGHTH STRAIGHT

Clout 4 Pitchers For Total of 19 Hits; Cuyler Gets Two Homers and Two Singles In Four Trips to Plate

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The Pirates continued their climb pennantward yesterday by defeating Philadelphia handsily, 14 to 4. It was their eighth straight victory. Hazen Cuyler, Pirate outfielder, continued his sensational hitting streak and cracked out four safe blows in four times at the plate, two of them home runs. The fifth was a big inning for the locals when they hammered in seven tallies.

The Freshmen squad produced few outstanding men. Smith and Polak, guards, and Doorn, tackle, being the three upon whom Rockne dwelt longer than usual. These men, however, will aid in strengthening the new line and will have plenty of chance to prove themselves.

Rockne's reserve team, a group of the varsity squad who played small colleges during the regular season, will report this fall with the valuable field experience of last season behind them.

TAKE A TIP
 There is an old fable about the grasshopper who sang and played all summer, while the ants laid in supplies for winter. When the cold weather came the grasshopper had nothing and had to go begging from the ants.
 Lots of us are just like that grasshopper, instead of welcoming the opportunity while she is knocking at our door we give her no tumble.
 Our advice is to follow the wise old ant by investing now some of your idle dollars in 160 acres at $50 per acre in Lake county, 1/2 mile on Wekiwa River, 1/2 mile on railroad. Binder $500. $3,000 cash, balance arranged suitably.

List your lots, houses and acreage with us for better results and quick action.
