

ALLIED REPARATION BOARD HAS REFUSED CONSIDERING GERMANY'S LATEST REQUEST

For Extension of Time on January Payments

ON REPARATIONS

UNTIL GERMAN GOVERNMENT TELLS JUST WHAT SHE CAN PAY AND WHEN

(By The Associated Press) PARIS, Dec. 17.—Allied reparations commission has refused to consider Germany's request for extension of time on her January and February reparation payments until the German government tells just what she can pay on instalments and gives information demanded.

PARIS, Dec. 17.—The entire German reparations problem was virtually placed in the hands of Aristide Briand, the French premier, and David Lloyd George, the British prime minister last night, preparatory to their meeting in London Monday. This action followed the dispatch to Germany by the reparations commission of a conventional note, which reserved action on Germany's announcement of her inability to meet her forthcoming payments until there has been a consultation by the Allies.

Although the note of the commission will not be published until noon today, the Associated Press was informed last night from a most reliable source that it is brief and in no sense could be construed as an ultimatum to the German government.

The reparations commission discussed Germany's note at two sessions yesterday afternoon. It was said to be the feeling of the members that, while a reply should be sent to Germany, the matter was so important it should be the subject of consideration by the Allies before any definite action was taken.

It was learned last night that when M. Briand and Mr. Lloyd George meet they probably will have before them all the facts which the commission has gathered in relation to the actual situation in Germany.

A suggestion has been made that the commission take the money Germany has accrued for reparation payments and allot it to France. The commission believes this amount to be nearly 200,000,000 gold marks.

FRANCE WANTS CAPITAL SHIPS BUILDING

WOULD DISRUPT ALL ARMAMENT PLANS AND PROBLEMS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—British spokesmen hurled a bombshell into the conference circles yesterday with the announcement that France had asserted before the naval committee of fifteen her intention of building, between 1925 and 1935, ten capital ships of 35,000 tons each. The statement stood unchallenged from French quarters through the day.

It appeared that a French proposal was submitted at the first meeting of the committee after Secretary of State Hughes had announced the agreement between Great Britain, Japan and the United States to abandon projected building programs, scrap sixty-eight capital ships aggregating nearly two million tons and set their navies in ten years on a "5-5-3" ratio basis as between themselves. The one action disclosed at today's meeting of the committee of fifteen was the agreement not to talk of what was going on until a conclusion had been reached.

Why They Walked

Undying spirit of Liberty. Supreme sacrifice. America incarnate. The body of the Unknown American Soldier typified all of that—and more. That's the reason Commander-in-Chief Harding and General Pershing humbly walked behind the caisson of a soldier of the ranks.

GALLOWS WAS A CRANE FOR UNLOADING GASOLINE, SAYS MAJOR OF ENGINEERS

Picture of Gallows in Franc May Be Just Another Hoax

(By The Associated Press) MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 17.—William P. Cowles, local engineer who served as major of engineers in the American Expeditionary Forces in a statement last night said he had recognized the picture of the gallows furnished to Senator Watson in support of the latter's charge of wholesale executions as that of a crane he had constructed while in France. We had to have some means of unloading gasoline tanks from cars said Cowles. I constructed this beam by means of which tanks were lifted from cars by rope and deposited on the platform.

PROTESTANTS ARE BEHIND MOVE FOR CONTINUED PEACE

THIRTY DENOMINATIONS ASK U. S. TO AID STARVING NATIONS, ADJUST DEBTS, ETC.

CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—Thirty Protestant church denominations through their representatives at the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, here yesterday promulgated their program for permanent world peace, outlined obligations which they declare America owes the world, and called upon the government to recognize their principles.

Aid to Austria, Russia and Armenia and recognition of an international court for the settlement of the world problems were among the demands made upon the government by the council, which also extended its congratulations to Britain and Ireland.

Fearing the accusation of partisanship several delegates debated the wording of the program's reference to international courts and associations, so both the League of Nations and an association of nations were mentioned.

The council also adopted a separate resolution to send its prayers and good will to the League of Nations. Declaring that the Washington conference on limitations of armaments had "made a good beginning," the council added that "war itself must be outlawed," and added:

"We believe that the time has come for American public opinion to express unmistakably to congress its emphatic support of President Harding in giving satisfactory guarantees that the United States will take its full share of responsibility in international tasks and obligations.

"We believe that under suitable conditions the dictates of justice and the principles of economic law require that the United States should consider and adopt some suitable adjustment of the debts of the nations to the United States in order that they shall be, as far as possible, relieved from their economic difficulties."

One of the merchant princes is quoted as saying that "adversity" made him what he is. Obviously a misprint for "advertising."

The radical doesn't desire sympathy; he desires somebody to hoist him even the world.

KU KLUX KLAN APPLIED COAT TAR, FEATHERS

ALLEGED THAT REHRER WAS MAN WHO SOLD LIQUOR TO BOYS

People who were on the streets last night about ten o'clock were attracted by a strange figure going west on First street. Upon closer glance it was found to be a young man named Rehner, who had been tarred and feathered and on whose back the legend in large letters was fastened reading: "I Sold Liquor to Young Boys." It seems that the Ku Klux Klan have been investigating the selling of liquor to the young boys of this city and county and they have determined to stop it since the law cannot touch these people and the boys will not tell who sold it and the officers could not obtain sufficient evidence to convict. However, the Klan has other methods of investigation and they evidently had good reasons to believe that Rehner was selling liquor and hence their kidnapping last night and the coat of tar and feathers. He was first discovered on the Sanford-Orlando road coming to town and the word spread rapidly in the city and before he could get to the city limits he was followed by a crowd of cars and after he had reached the city he went down as far as First street where he followed First to Elm and disappeared in the direction of the lake.

He was evidently following orders to show himself on First street before he went home as a warning to others and he obeyed his instructions otherwise he would have taken the back streets to his home.

There is no information to where the coat of tar and feathers were applied but it was probably out in the country as he was several miles from the city when he was first discovered.

Wolfe Lindenfield Has Confessed, Naming Ringleaders

FIVE PRINCIPALS

IN THE PLOT WHO RECEIVED $30,000 FROM MOSCOW RADICALS

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The arrest of Lindenfield in Warsaw will clear up the entire mystery of the Wall Street explosion it was stated positively today by Burns, Lindenfeld, whose arrest was reported to the Department of Justice by the Associated Press, was declared by Burns as the key to the solution of the mystery and "only man we know in the world that knows all about it." Burns declared Lindenfeld was not implicated in the explosion but was so close to radical elements he knew all about it. Third Internationale, Burns said, was the moving spirit behind the plot. Lindenfeld, according to Burns, went abroad originally on behalf of the Department of Justice to obtain information which would lead to the arrest of those responsible for the explosion. When no report was received from him, Burns said he sent an agent over to find out why Lindenfeld was not sending information as promised, and the arrest followed.

WARSAW, Dec. 17.—Plots and counterplots reading like fiction involved in search by American secret service agents through Europe which resulted yesterday in the arrest here of Wolfe Lindenfeld, alias William Lindo, in connection with the Wall Street explosion last year. Lindenfeld fully confessed, authorities say, naming ring leaders in the plot which he declared aimed at J. P. Morgan, the infernal machine exploding prematurely. According to operatives who trailed Lindenfeld, the suspect had named five principals in the plot, now in Europe who received $30,000 from Moscow Third Internationals through New York Communists.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The reported arrest in Warsaw, Poland, of Wolfe Lindenfeld on suspicion of complicity in the Wall Street bomb plot is right story William J. Burns, director of Bureau of Investigation, Justice Department, said today. Burns said he was unable to discuss details of the case until he received his report from Warsaw.

G. H. CURTISS AWARDED PATENT AS THE FIRST AERONAUTIC INVENTOR

New York, Dec. 16.—In a decision, epoch-making in the history of aerocourt of appeals today held that Glenn H. Curtiss was the first person to invent and operate a flying boat and issued an order awarding him the broad patent for hydroairplanes.

The decision, said by aeronautical experts, to be one of the most significant developments in aviation since the Wright patent were upheld, reversed the lower court's ruling which awarded the patent rights to Albert S. Janin, an inventor of Staten Island. It constituted the last development in legal battle fought in the patent office and courts since 1913, with the two titans.

WORTHINGTON SEEING THINGS

LAKE WALES, Dec. 16.—What Editor Jack Worthington of the Lake Wales Highlander described as the "daddy of all 'gators" was captured by three fishermen last week in Lake Pierce, a few miles north of here. The 'gator, which in a battle with a fellow saurian had lost from ten to twelve inches of his tail, measured thirteen feet six inches in length while the distance from the tip of his nose to his eyes was twenty inches.

The alligator became entangled in a fish net, was drawn to the side of the boat and killed by blows on the head with a bar of iron. Indications were that the big fellow had been cock of the walk in his own domain, the side of his jaw bearing a great scar inflicted in a fight with a challenger who didn't agree with the Boss. His tusks were worn down and persons familiar with 'gators declared it was a very old citizen.

ANOTHER WILL BOBS UP IN RECLUSE CASE

New York, Dec. 16.—Another will and another claimant bobbed up today in the complicated case of Mrs. Margaret Easton, Brooklyn recluse, who died October 27, leaving an estate of $250,000.

The last document, purporting to be the copy of the will signed by Mrs. Easton and her husband in 1919, was forwarded to the Brooklyn surrogate's office by Miss Jessie Alston Owens of Sparr, Fla., claiming to be a cousin.

With it was mailed a credential, describing Miss Owens as a "veritable lady bountiful" and signed by Frank Harris Editor of the Ocala banner, of Ocala (Fla.), who asserted that Miss Owens had been a frequent contributor to his paper, "both in poetry and prose on religious and moral themes." Upon Mrs. Eaton's death there has been mailed anonymously to the surrogate in 1921 leaving the estate to a daughter "Miss Florence Johnson, of Ohio."

Today's will, leaving the estate to Jessie Alston Owens "our loved cousin" was attested by Thomas Perry and Charles Thomas, and purported to have been sworn before U. C. Dupree, a notary public, who explained the absence of a seal on the document by the notation: "Unfortunately my stamping outfit was lost out of the carriage yesterday but this is all right."

A copy of the affidavit, bearing the name of J. I. Simmons, notary public was attached. The affidavit stated that justice of the peace Dupree and two witnesses were dead.

BOARD EXPLAINS CAPITOL STATUS

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 16.—Rumblings of a capitol removal fight from down Ocala way have gotten a rise from quarters on the hill so to speak.

The board of commissioners of Public Institutions, with an ear to the ground may be, or most likely to prepare for such a legal move as now has been threatened by an Ocala legal firm, met in executive session July 29, 1921, and passed a resolution to the effect that the board had determined that funds did exist in the state treasury to carry out extensions and improvements on the capitol building as provided in recent legislation. The Ocala attorneys have announced they would seek to obtain an injunction against proceeding with the improvement because the money did not exist in the treasury in accordance with the legislative enactment.

It was explained to an inquiring reporter yesterday that the commissioners of state institutions acting as a board for a determination as to shrd capitol commission applied to the board for a determination as to whether funds necessary for the work existed, and after consulting with the state treasurer and comptroller, the board adopted a resolution saying in part: "It was then and there decided and declared by the said board of commissioners of state institutions that the funds for such enlargement, alteration and repair of the said capitol building at Tallahassee, Fla. . . . will be available when the same becomes due and payable and constitute a charge against the state of Florida."

OUR WEEKLY BUSINESS REVIEW

By Henry Clews & Co.

New York, Dec. 15, 1921.

Events during the past week, both nationally and internationally speaking, have been of first class importance, not only from their political, but from their general economic point of view.

The report of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, taken in conjunction with the more guarded language used by President Harding, seems to make it clear that in the comparatively early future further revision of the tax laws will be demanded.

eral government to tax municipal and local securities will ever be sanctioned. Secretary Mellon's demands for economical and careful management also point to a better state of things in national finance, while the budget message which President Harding has submitted to congress indicates that decided progress has already been made toward a reduction of outlay, and gives promise of still stronger conditions.

The president's announcement that he intends to bring forward a vigorous plan for the encouragement of the merchant marine has undoubtedly had its effect upon such stocks as International Mercantile Marine and other shipping issues. Postponement of the railroad funding bill, which has evidently become necessary, has been regrettable from the standpoint of the roads and the holders of their securities, but this does not mean that its adoption is impossible.

The rumors of a probable merger of independent steel concerns have had their effect during the past week in rather stimulating the interest in these stocks, although the effect of the rumors has been smaller than would ordinarily be the case, due to the fact that they have so often been repeated from time to time.

as has occurred seems to be due to the desire of traders in some stocks to take profits. More interest is being taken by the general public, who evince a willingness to purchase stocks, especially in the dividend class, whenever they sell off a little. Good reason for this disposition is found in the comparative ease of the money market and the optimistic utterances regarding future business by various authorities, the latest being Governor Harding of the Federal Reserve Board, who points out that business conditions are not only very much better than they were a year ago, but there is good reason for believing that we are in for greater prosperity than we have ever had before.

THE WEATHER

For Florida: Generally cloudy Saturday and Sunday; probably rain Sunday and in extreme northeast portion Saturday; not much change in temperature.

SANFORD'S TEMPERATURE

The weather remains warm and while it is cool at nights it is not too cool for a coat of feathers and the moonlight nights seem to be fine for taking the country air. The weather man has not promised us cold weather for Christmas as yet but we are hoping he will do so. The temperature yesterday was 78 and this is going some for holiday time even in Florida. Keep up the good work, boys. You know what we mean.

 DEAN SPRAGUE IS HEAD OF ROLLINS

At the chapel exercises of Rollins College yesterday morning the secretary of the college announced the resignation of Dr. George M. Ward as president of the college and the appointment of Dean R. J. Sprague as acting president. Dr. Ward's resignation was necessary on the advice of his physician to avoid the attention to details of the active administration of the daily affairs of the college and in no wise will affect his continued interest in the college.
