SANFORD FREIGHT RATES SHOULD MAKE THIS CENTER FOR WHOLESALE BUSINESS

Comparison With Other Cities Will Convince Anyone

Secretary Pearman of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce has compiled some most interesting figures lately for the new booklet that will soon be published and among the rates is one that should be read with interest.

Freight rates are a most important item in the manufacture and distribution of commodities.

The table of rates noted below show the substantial advantages Sanford receives in possessing both rail and water facilities.

It is on this presentation that Sanford bases its claim of being the logical distributing center for the central and southern sections of the state.

Florida Oranges to Be in the Tariff Bill Committee Announces

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Congressman W. J. Sears was today informed by the house and ways and means committee that Florida oranges would be in the tariff bill which will be taken up in the extra session of congress. This will probably be early in April and Mr. Sears said that he would have a delegation of representative members of the Florida Citrus Exchange here at that time to take care of the matter.

Mr. Sears has been at work on the matter for some time and had hoped to have an earlier hearing than that just promised him, but because of the general belief that the present Fordney emergency tariff bill may not be enacted at this session it has been decided to postpone the hearing until the extra session is called. Mr. Sears is deeply interested in the matter and will keep behind it he said today.

Dark to Dark Work For Dollar a Day

CHESTERTOWN, Md., Feb. 2.—A new wage scale for farm labor has been adopted at a mass meeting of farmers here. The scale calls for a day's work to be from sun-up to sun-down, with the following compensation:
 The maximum wage for a day month laborer to be $25 a month, with board and keep for laborer's horse, or $30 a month with board and no keep for the horse.
 The maximum wage for a day laborer for regular farm work to be $1 a day and board.
 The maximum wage for a woman's work in a farmhouse kitchen, including washing, to be $15 a month, or $10 a month without washing.

AUTO LICENSE TAGS MUST BE ON ALL CARS OR SHERIFF WILL GET YOU

Motorcycle Officer Depfer is After the Delinquents

You must have a new license for your car or have an application made and the papers to show for it or you will be arrested. That is you may not be arrested but you are subject to arrest and Officer Depfer, who is employed by the county and the city also has strict orders from the sheriff to arrest every one who has not applied for a new license or has one on his car. This is not the law made by Sheriff Hand or Motorcycle Officer Depfer but is a state law and it is the duty of the sheriff to see that this law is carried out and there is no one so well equipped to see all the motorists as is Officer Depfer, who rides a motorcycle and keeps on the trail of the speeding motorist all the time. The license tag should be purchased by the first of January of each year. If the owners of automobiles did not know this they have been informed by the newspapers several times and unless they are brain new owners of automobiles they knew it without being told, but like everything else in this world the subject of a license tag on your automobile is left to the future with the chance that the sheriff would not see you. However, now all this is changed. The law says to the sheriff that he shall at once arrest all who have no license tags and be in a hurry about it. They are not allowed any days of grace in this matter, at all. They must pay and pay now or be arrested and brought before the judge. That is all there is to it. So if you have not ordered your license tag you had better order it now, at once. And the sheriff's office also has white card board tags that say your license has been ordered but has not arrived and this will keep you from being arrested until your license does arrive.

Weather and Crop Conditions for Week Ending February 1

Temperature: The temperature averaged below the seasonal over all divisions, being 4 degrees below in the southeast. The coldest weather occurred generally on the 7th, but no unfavorable results followed the low temperature.

Precipitation: Light rain fell on several days, but it was deficient in all divisions, and more rain is needed throughout the section, except on some very low lands. As yet, no ill effects are reported.

Condition of Crops: Uplands are rather dry throughout the section. The nights were too cool for rapid growth and germination, except that cabbage, celery and lettuce did well. The planting of Irish potatoes and cane continues in the north; the latter is several feet high in some localities of the central and southern divisions. Strawberries improved, and are more abundant; more moisture would be beneficial in some localities. The week was very favorable for oats and rye, which continues in excellent condition. The shipping of citrus fruits was active. Plowing for corn and other staple crops was well advanced during the week. There was much sunshine.

BUY OWN BOTTLES

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Feb. 3.—Lawrence Herold, druggist, asked the police to locate a boy he hired to clean his cellar. The boy sold him 100 bottles shortly after taking the job. They were Herold's own bottles.

PRES. WILSON AUTHORIZED TO INVITE NATIONS WORLD SEND DELEGATES TO MEET

Georgetown University Has Big Fire Today at Nation's Capital

(By The Associated Press)
 WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Fire broke out today in the north building of Georgetown University and had spread considerably before the firemen could get into action. The fire companies responding at the first alarm were unable to cope with the blaze and the second alarm called half a dozen additional engine companies to the scene.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The fire was controlled before the building was seriously damaged. The structure is the oldest at the university, being built in 1795.

YANKEE OFFICER AT TRIAL OF PAIR WHO "MISSED" BERGDOLL

(By The Associated Press)
 BERLIN, Feb. 3.—An Eberbach dispatch says that an officer representing the American army has arrived there to attend the trial of the two Americans arrested while attempting to take into custody Grover C. Bergdoll. The request that they be turned over to the army for courtmartial has been definitely rejected. The trial will proceed before a government court and the charge probably will be usurpation of authority.

SANFORD MEN'S CLUB HOST TO ORLANDO VISITORS AT PARISH HOUSE LAST NIGHT

Had Jolly Good Time With Oyster Supper, Bowling and Singing

The Men's Club of Sanford invited the Men's Club of Orlando to congregate with them last night at the Parish House and together with a large gathering of men folks here had a fine time together. B. F. Whitner, as chairman of the meeting, introduced everybody all round and then called for some rollicking songs that A. H. Stone had prepared for the occasion and in which all present joined until the very rafters of the Parish House took up the refrains. After the sing several of the visitors and some of the home folks were called upon to say a few words about the club and its purposes and the Orlando delegation stated that while they wanted such a club for Orlando they had not as yet made any start on it. They were carried away with the Parish House Club with its fine plant containing two pool tables, the bowling alleys, the reading rooms and meeting places and the basket ball court and shower baths and all the appurtenances. After the talks and more songs the entire assemblage sat down to a fine oyster supper that was followed by ice cream, cake and coffee and then the bunch adjourned to the bowling alley, where the Orlando delegation vowed and declared that nothing would do them now except a bowling alley for their club. Some twenty of those present took up the art of bowling and while no big scores were made it was noted that the Orlando visitors were mighty strong on the bowling even if they were out of practice and when they do get their alleys and come up to play Sanford they will make it hot for the boys here. Until they do get their own alleys, however, they are supposed to come to Sanford any night they can get away and use the Parish House at any time "for they are Jolly Fellows" and all that. Among those from Orlando were Dr. Hat Beardall, T. L. Casey, George E. King, Walter Cary-Elwees, B. W. Kingale and L. L. Cardinal.

The Parish House and the Men's Club are doing the best work here among the boys who few have a place where they can congregate at any time in the day or night. They have all kinds of recreation and fun and exercise and where once each week they have a good lecture or talk and where they can have basket ball

For Conference to Provide for Disarmament

REPORT FAVORABLE BY HOUSE FOREIGN AFFAIRS COMMITTEE TODAY

(By The Associated Press)
 WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—A resolution authorizing President Wilson to invite the nations of the world to send delegates to a conference to provide for disarmament was reported favorably by the House Foreign Affairs committee today.

The proposed conference would be held at Washington at the discretion of the president. This is the first definite action taken by any congressional committee looking to a conference for the general disarmament.

Wanted Tenant With Most Children; Man With Six Wins Out

PIN EBLUFF, Ark., Feb. 2.—The banker who advertised his home for rent, the more children the cheaper rent, stated today that he had leased it to a man with six children. He said the last applicant protested because he had eight children at home and two at school, yet did not get the house because he was too late.

and other amusements forming one of the most complete plants in the state of this kind and one that is attracting the men of all ages in this city and county.

Arthur Searing Peck, the rector of the Holy Cross Parish here has worked unceasingly on this plan for years and now sees his plans and his hopes and his aspirations fulfilled and the Men's Club having been organized will take the burden of the running expenses off the shoulders of the rector and see that his plans are carried out. The club is non-sectarian and the members of any church are just as welcome as the members of Holy Cross church or if the applicant is not a member of any church is just as welcome and it is through this broad spirit that many of the younger men of the city are attracted to the club that is doing, has done and will continue to do this great work among the men of this city. The Men's Club is growing and has the support of the men of the city who are always in the forefront of development and good works of all kinds and will in time be one of the strongest organizations in the city. It is founded upon right principles and broad Christian fellowship and will succeed beyond the fondest dream of its progenitor, Rev. Arthur Searing Peck.

STATE TAX COMMISSIONER RECOMMENDED BY HARDEE AT JACKSONVILLE MEET

Should Have Power to Act in All Tax Matters

EQUALIZE TAXES

SOME COUNTIES PAYING TOO MUCH AND SOME PAYING TOO LITTLE OF STATE BURDEN

JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 26.—Recommending the creation of a tax commissioner with power to act, Gov. Cary A. Hardee, in an address before a gathering of county tax assessors, at the Seminole hotel Tuesday, declared that many counties were not paying their just share of state taxes. He said some system should be devised whereby recalcitrant counties could be forced to raise their assessments to a point on a parity with sister counties, and suggested that a tax commissioner with real power to act would be the proper remedy.

"We must have central authority somewhere with power to enforce its decisions," said the governor. "Experience has shown that we cannot permit each of the 54 counties to pursue their own will as to the basis of assessment, because many of them trying to avoid the payment of their just share of state taxes. The central authority to which I have referred could force the recalcitrant county to come up on a level with its sister counties in assessment values. The adoption of this plan, of course, is a matter for the consideration of the legislature, but it is my purpose to recommend and to co-operate with them in an effort to remedy existing conditions. I believe the legislature should authorize the appointment of a tax commissioner and give him some authority in the matter."

"I am not in favor of the creation of such a tax as we have heretofore tried. It has been suggested and there is some merit in the suggestion, that a tax commission composed of the comptroller, the state treasurer and the chairman of the railroad commission, should give results. If we are to have a commission composed of any number of men, then I believe officials, in my opinion, should compose that board. What we want is results and I seriously question if a tax commission so composed would have sufficient time to give the question that serious consideration which its importance demands. For that reason, I rather favor a tax commissioner whose sole duties shall be that of co-operating with the tax assessors, and boards of county commissioners of the various counties with a view of bringing about uniform assessments. It is needless for me to say that such a commissioner should be one who is familiar with the principles of taxation, who is just and fair and above all not a politician. I do not know whether the legislature will agree with me in my conclusions. I do not know that the question is going message, and I trust some system, to be brought to their attention in my beneficial in this regard, may be evolved from our joint deliberations."

The governor declared that there is much property in the state which is avoiding taxation absolutely. "There are legitimate sources of revenue utilized and perhaps which you cannot which the state has heretofore not at this time place upon your assessment roll," he told the county assessors. "I trust that the next legislature will give very serious consideration to these matters, and in doing so, they will certainly have my co-operation, and I hope they may have yours as well."

The governor declared he believed there should be some method of forcing property owners to file an assessment of their property with the tax assessor, the verity of which the owner would swear to. He suggested it was his opinion there should be a penalty of from 10 to 20 per cent added to the assessment of the assessor on persons failing to make their return.

The chief executive suggested that all counties should make an assessment upon a basis of 50 per cent of the value of the property. He urged uniformity of assessment rates in all counties.

"Our greatest delinquency is in personal assessments," the governor said. "Each of you men know pretty generally who owns personal property in your country, and you have some fair idea of its amount and value. I feel that you are called upon to assess it. It takes work and investigation. It takes moral courage off-times but all of our time belongs to the people who have employed us through election, and all our time, where necessary must be given to our officers, and unless we have the moral courage to make every man bear his just share of the tax burden then we should resign."

The governor hinted that there was a possibility of the tax rolls from some counties being rejected unless the assessment was made upon a fair valuation of the property in the counties when he asked the assessors to adopt a resolution to adhere rigidly to 50 per cent of the value of the property as the assessment basis.

"There may be some assessors not willing to do this," he said. "There may be some boards of county commissioners who will refuse to co-operate in this regard. But I want to say here and now that unless there is conscientious effort on their part to see that property is assessed upon an equitable basis in keeping with other counties of the state, then they need not be surprised if the tax roll from their county is rejected."

BEWARE OF GYPSIES AND FORTUNE TELLERS WHO FRISKED DELAND PEOPLE

BAND OF GYPSIES WENT THROUGH CITY LIKE LOCUSTS.

Several of DeLand's citizens had the unique experience last night of having their fortunes told, stolen—and recovered. Yesterday afternoon a band of gypsies hit DeLand. It is stated that they were traveling in about ten cars with two men, five women and seven children per car. They came from Barberville way and stopped on South Boulevard near Howry avenue. The fun did not start until about five o'clock when two women "visited" Nahm & Nahm Garage.

Armstrong grocery company and Guenther's blacksmith shop. Two women entered the warehouse of the Armstrong Grocery Company on Short street and interviewed the manager, Mr. Walter Lahrman, stating they wished to buy some groceries. Mr. Lahrman was busy at the time and beyond telling them that his firm was strictly wholesale did not pay much attention to his visitors. They then insisted on telling his fortune and he told them emphatically to "get" out. Just as they were going outside of the door Mr. Lahrman happened to feel in his trouser's pocket and immediately missed $40 which he had here in three bills. He called them back into the store, locked the doors and accused them of stealing the money. One of the gypsies told him it was on his person, in fact it was in his vest pocket, and to prove this she pulled it out for him. The sheriff's office was notified and the two women, Mary Mitchell and Annie Puller, were given free lodging in the county jail, being given a preliminary hearing before Judge McCrory this afternoon.

At about the same time that the little affair was going on with Mr. Lahrman two other gypsy women interviewed Mr. Guenther at his blacksmith shop on Short street stating that they wanted a horse shoe. Then they played hands with Mr. Guenther trying to beguile him to have his fortune told and finally started to frisk his handkerchief out of his pocket and then a dollar bill which he allowed them to have if they would beat it. This they did and as they were turning the corner onto the Boulevard Mr. Guenther happened to feel in his pocket, and find that his wad was gone. He did the Marathan and caught up with the two gypsies. They asked him for his handkerchief and on unfolding it brought out $12. Mr. Guenther believes they kept about $3 or $4 on him. These two got away and no identification could be made.

At about the same time these other two events were happening two gypsy women entered Nahm & Nahm Garage and asked Joe Frank to get them a tire. Isaiah Daniels, an employee of the garage was in the office and they tried to get him to help find the tire but he stayed in the office. Joe Frank came back and then they asked him to open up the cash register, in which there was about $150 in cash, in order that they could "good luck" a coin for him. This he did and while manipulations were going on Joe Frank happened to see to see some dollar bills leaving the cash drawer in the hands of one of the women. He made a grab and got the money but the women got away.

Last night some darkies came in from Barberville where they claimed one of them had lost their watch while having his fortune told. The darkies were taken down towards Sanford, where the gypsies were camped for the night, but failed to identify the woman who had their watch.

There is a moral to this story as to all others, beware of fortune tellers and keep your money in the bank.—DeLand News.

Nearly Half Million Crates Strawberries Have Left Plant City

PLANT CITY, Jan. 27.—Plant City has shipped to date 655 cars of citrus fruits, and there will probably be fifty or more cars to go out. Of this number there were 542 solid cars of oranges, the remainder being grapefruit and mixed lots.

Already nearly 400,000 quarts of the "strawberries that made Plant City famous" have gone to the markets of the country, breaking all records for shipments up to this time of the year. Prices have remained good, notwithstanding the heavy movement. Monday a few choice lots brought as high as forty-eight cents per quart at the platform, though the average was around forty-four cents.

Vegetable shipments are light, the high express rates in vogue throwing a decided damper on this branch of business.

WOMAN'S CLUB

"13" CLUB DANCE

(From Thursday's Daily)

The Hotel Valdez was the scene on Wednesday evening of another of the delightful dances which are given each month by the "13" club.

The music by Hartzell's Orchestra, of Lakeland, was wonderfully good and delicious punch was served all through the evening.

About fifty couples shared the pleasures of this delightful occasion.

We trust Felkel of the St. Augustine Record will refrain from poking his pitchfork into the hide of the grand old party elephant while Mr. Harding is present.

Our ambition, as a boy, was to wear long pants, and now, as a man, we wear them longer than almost anyone else.

PERSONAL NOTES

(From Wednesday's Daily)
Mrs. T. S. Dalger and Mrs. J. B. Lawson spent the day in Orlando, Tuesday.

Mrs. Collins of Birmingham, Ala., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Brower.

Mr. Lehman came to Sanford after he had been over the entire state and upon the invitation of John Russel came here and was charmed by the many attractions of Sanford. He and his family will prove welcome additions to the city.

LEADER OF THE GRAY VETERANS DIED YESTERDAY

ANDERSON, S. C., Jan. 25.—Col. Joseph Newton Brown, 998, ranking commanding officer of the Confederate Army in South Carolina, died at his home here yesterday morning at 9:00 o'clock.

Lawyer, banker and capitalist, he was rated as one of the wealthiest men in the state.

At the outbreak of the Civil War he enlisted as a private. Late the organized Co. E, 154th South Carolina Volunteers, which he captained. Later he was commanding lieutenant colonel of the organization, which command he continued until the close of the war. He commanded the regiment in most of the important battles from Chancellorsville until April 2, 1865, when he was captured at the fall of Petersburg and was held as a prisoner of war at Johnson's Island until July, 1865.

As a senior colonel of McGowan's brigade, he commanded the brigade in the battle of the Bloody Angle, Spotsylvania Court House, Va., in May, 1864. He had command of this organization in the battle of Gettysburg July 1, 1863. His men were the first troops to enter Gettysburg. He was severely wounded at Gaines Mill, June 27, 1862, and at Gettysburg July 3, 1863.

He participated in most of the battles with Stonewall Jackson's corps.

FLORIDA STATE LEAGUE GOES INTO CLASS "C" BALL—JACKSONVILLE JOINS—STARTS IN APRIL

Inclusion. In Class C this limit, inclusive of the manager, is fixed at $2800 as a maximum. A salary limit of $2400, inclusive of the salary of a manager, resulted in a deadlock, with St. Petersburg, Lakeland and Tampa seeking to fix the limit at this amount. The fight for a higher salary limit was waged by the owners of the Orlando club, who sought to fix the limit, exclusive of the salary of the manager. Judge H. T. Titus, president of the Daytona club, cast did Dom Mullaney, representing Jacksonville.

After Judge Titus had refused all efforts for a compromise and withdrawn from the meeting, W. R. Cashwell of the St. Petersburg club, won a compromise of $2600 for the salary limit, inclusive of the manager's salary, and the ruling granting clubs the privilege to secure the services of five class ball players, the classification to be 15 games for a pitcher in the higher league and 30 games for the other players.

At the meeting in the afternoon 120 games were decided upon for the season of 1921, the opening date to be set as early in April as will bring the close of the season on Labor Day. Double-headers will be played on all holidays. It was also agreed that each club composing the league should retain all its own gate receipts and pay its own expenses on the road. The holiday games receipts will be pooled and the clubs share proportionally.

Player Limit Fixed at 15 Men
The player limit for 1921 was fixed at 15 men. No interchange of players 30 days before the end of the season or the signing of higher class men any later than 30 days prior to the end of the season was voted. In case of a regular game being postponed and transferred from one town to another, the town so transferred shall participate in 50 per cent of the gate receipts. The general admission charge of 50 cents was agreed upon, by all the clubs of the league. This admission charge to be exclusive of war tax.

The six clubs composing the league for 1921 were represented last night as follows: S. B. Denton, Tampa; E. G. Baxter and V. M. Gerrard, Orlando; C. Henley, Lakeland; W. R. Cashwell, St. Petersburg; H. T. Titus, Daytona; Dom Mullaney, Jacksonville. In addition to the club representatives attending the meeting were Harry Cully, Jr. sporting editor of the Florida Times-Union and Sam Ellis, sporting editor of the Florida Metropolis.

DIRECT MAIL ROUTE TO GENEVA NOW

Postoffice Department Calls for Bids to Carry Mail

HELPS SANFORD

NEW RULING MEANS MAIL WILL BE CARRIED DIRECT BY AUTA BUSES

(From Saturday's Daily)
What is probably one of the greatest innovations for Seminole county for the benefit of the public in many years has happened. This is the decision of the postoffice department to carry the mail from Sanford to Geneva by bus instead of carrying it by train as in the past. This means that Geneva mail will now be received the same day from all this part of the state instead of going via Jacksonville and taking two days to travel twelve miles.

Capt. P. M. Elder has worked long and faithfully on this proposition and his efforts, supplemented by the Geneva and Ovelo and Chuluota and the Sanford people as well as Congressman Sears have borne fruit and this is just another step in making Seminole county what it should be in the next few years.

There was no chance for the Geneva section to receive mail on time under the old plan for the trains carried it all around the state before it could ever reach Geneva. The department has called for sealed proposals to carry this mail from Sanford to Geneva and the bids call for first and second-class mail only, the proposals to be made before February 15th. The new service will go into effect March 1st and the contract will be good until June 30, 1924.

This will be good news to the people of the entire county and this is especially true of the business people in this city and of the Herald Printing Company, as the papers would not be received in Geneva until two days after publication but all papers and letters will now be received in Geneva on the same day as mailed in the Sanford postoffice.

DETECTIVES KILLED BY DETROIT YEGGS

ROB OFFICERS OF TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS AND ESCAPE

(By The Associated Press)
DETROIT, Jan. 31.—Three detectives shot by three bandits who held up Morton Bond Company's office in public square downtown this morning and escaped with $10,000 of Liberty bonds. Two detectives will probably die.

Money, they say, is the root of most evil. But if so, getting it must be a whole tree.

BIGGEST FISH EVER CAUGHT IN SEMINOLE CO. EXHIBITED HERE

(From Friday's Daily)
In the window of the Ball Hardware Company is a big-mouth bass caught by Charles Whitner in the Econlockhatchie creek that is said to be the largest bass ever caught in Seminole county waters—at least it is certainly the largest caught here in many years. Some time ago R. H. Morris of the Southern Utilities Company caught a bass weighing 13 1-2 pounds and won the Ball Hardware Company prize that was offered for the largest bass caught last year. But this fish caught by Mr. Whitner weighed 14 1-2 pounds twenty-four hours after being caught and after it had dried out considerably. He could not be brought in to be weighed until Mr. Whitner came to town when he was put upon the scales and weighed. This fish was caught with the Shakespeare rod and reel and will no doubt win one of the grand prizes offered by the Shakespeare firm, as they are offering many big prizes for the biggest fish caught with their tackle. Mr. Whitner, while not being in time to enter for the Ball Hardware Company prizes for last year, will receive a supplementary prize for this biggest fish that has been exhibited here in some time. These big bass abound in Seminole county waters and they are exciting much comment among the local fishermen and among the many visiting tourists here who are going after some of them right away.

FORM MEN'S CLUB AT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH HERE

(From Friday's Daily)
A very interesting meeting was held last night at the Congregational church, when the men of the church and congregation met to complete the organization of a men's club. The following officers and committees were elected for the first six months: President, Mr. Harry Kent; vice-president, Mr. J. J. Bolly; secretary, Mr. Ed Randall; treasurer, Mr. C. H. Piplar; program committee, C. E. Sandstrom, Mr. John Murch, Mr. Charles Williams; refreshment committee, Mr. L. J. Bell, Mr. Ed Randall, Mr. L. A. R. and; membership committee, Mr. F. Kent, Mr. T. C. Carlson, Mr. C. H. Piplar.

After organization all present went to the dining room of the Manse, where refreshments were enjoyed and enthusiastic speeches were made, full of pep and fun.

This club aims to be useful as well as enjoyable, and if its usefulness becomes as great as its joy was last night, it will surely accomplish a good work. The club will meet every Thursday night. It starts out with a good membership and there is room for others.

Even John D. will have to hand it to Birmingham. While the public was feverishly organizing "Overall Clubs" to cut the cost of clothing the dealers suddenly jumped the price of overalls from $2 to $6 a pair.

LUCKY STRIKE CIGARETTE

GOVERNMENT TO STANDARDIZE FLORIDA CROPS

REPRESENTATIVE WILL VISIT SANFORD AND OTHER POINTS TO GET THE DATA

JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 31.—Robert Bier, of the division for grades and standards, United States bureau of markets, Washington, D. C., was in the city yesterday and called at the office of the state marketing bureau. He expects to spend several weeks in the state, visiting Sanford, Bartow, Wauchula, Bradentown, Gainesville, and points along the East Coast to take up with growers the matter of standardizing celery, lettuce, cucumbers, tomatoes and other truck crops.

Mr. Bier says there are many successful growers who fail to dispose of the products in ways that bring adequate returns for the time and effort expended. This is often due to the fact that large quantities are grown by inexperienced persons who are attracted to the industry by a constant demand for vegetables, but who discover that it is much easier to grow crops than to sell them to advantage. Reasons for failure is seen: Quantity is below standard; amounts often too small to be handled at wholesale, but too large to be consumed at home; crops out of season; growing undesirable varieties; use of low grade seed; lack of grading products, and packing in an unmarketable manner.

The question of quality has always been and will always be of first importance. In the days before the railroad and steamer joined distant sections production for market was a very simple proposition. It was in large part a matter of barter. Now there are great centers of consumption and exchange of products face to face cannot be made. Many sections are in competition and the one shipping the best quality of stuff, of uniform size and appearance, gets the trade.

Marketing now has many ramifications, and broadly comes under the terms of standardization, packing, salesmanship, or marketing transportation, storing and financing. There are several methods of marketing truck crops; selling on consignment; selling f. o. b. at destination; selling by contract drawn up prior to planting or before crop is matured, and shipping independently.

Unless the producer is well established and knows the ropes the latter method is hazardous.

During the last few years co-operative associations have been organized and when properly managed have proved successful. The producers of staples in the Pacific coast states are well organized. Dealers in any city can wire to the East shore of Virginia for a car of Red Star potatoes, and they are never disappointed in the quality and grading. The farmers of the East Coast of Virginia have standardized their potatoes and buyers take them when they see the brand.

PRESIDENT WILSON WILL WRITE BOOK ON PEACE CONFERENCE, VERSAILLES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.— President Wilson is having collected and arranged for ready reference all the papers and documents in his possession relating to the work of the Paris peace conference, with a view to the preparation of a book on the peace negotiations.

The president in making these preparations, it was learned today, has accepted the volunteered services of Ray Stannard Baker, who was attached to the American peace commission. Mr. Baker during the past two weeks has spent several hours each day at the white house putting into shape all available data, on the peace conference in the president's possession.

While it is not believed that the president contemplates beginning the actual work of writing or dictating the proposed book, during the few remaining weeks of his term of office, it is understood that he has in mind the inauguration of real work upon it shortly after his retirement to private life. It is known that Mr. Baker has only undertaken the task of arranging the material and that his duties do not include in any way the literary workmanship.

Friend of the president and understood to have urged upon him for some time past the desirability of recording, from the viewpoint of an official American participant, events of such monumental importance as took place in Paris during the peace negotiations.

They have pointed out that one who played such a major role as he and whose decisions later became the subject of such violent controversy both in the United States and abroad, could not afford to lose the opportunity of setting before the world the motives behind the many disputed decisions, as involve Shantung, Fiume, Danzig, the Anglo-Franco-American alliance, and the Russian question.

Officials close to the president have said recently that whatever the president might write after his retirement from the white house would not be autobiographical in form, as the president's preference has always been toward history as a form of literary expression.

DEPARTMENT DENIES TRYING TO GET BERGDAD

DID NOT HIRE DETECTIVES TO KIDNAP DRAFT DODGER

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Department of justice denied today alleged American detectives charged with attempted kidnaping of Bergdoll in Germany agents bureau investigation. Officials declared no department's agents on duty in foreign countries. Discussing possible extradition Bergdoll, officials said no treaty under which United States could demand his return. Only possible method, they said, would be to request that Germany hand over man who had refused to fight again that country which would be embarrassing for this government and hardly possible of acquiescence by Germany.

SOUTHERN COLLEGE TO MOVE TO CLEARWATER BEACH TEMPORARILY UNTIL BUILDINGS CAN BE BUILT

Have Obtained Big Hotel Building at Clearwater Beach

SUTHERLAND, Feb. 1.—No time is to be lost in making preparations for a resumption of study at Southern College. Despite the blow which was experienced when fire Saturday morning swept away the girls' dormitory and the administration buildings here, entailing loss placed at $250,000, the resumption of classes has been set for February 3.

The college will be temporarily located at Clearwater Beach, where the hotel building has been offered free by the Clearwater Beach Development Company, to the college. The hotel will be used as the girls' dormitory, and is ample for that purpose. Also for the dining hall and the culinary department, the hotel being completely equipped.

Four frame structures will be rushed to completion, two of them to be used as barracks for the young men students, the other two for classrooms. These buildings will be one-story in height and each will cover a ground space of 28x80 feet.

Two other frame buildings also will be constructed, one of them to house the domestic science department of the college, the other the commercial and business department.

The pavilion, a two-story building at Clearwater Beach, also has been secured by the board of trustees for the college, and this will be used as part of the temporary college plant.

SANFORD HEIGHTS ADDITION THE LATEST BIG DEVELOPMENT OPENING UP RESIDENCE SECTION

F. O. Beider Puts on Big Lot Sale Friday and Saturday

Whenever a city begins to put on subdivision sales in the suburban sections of the city it means that the city is growing and the people are beginning to move out into the country and to get cheaper lots and more room. It also means that so many people are locating in that city that more houses are needed and it is a healthy sign all round. It also means in this particular instance that outside capital is becoming interested in Sanford and that the man from another state can see farther into the possibilities of a city than many of the home people and having been in the development business in other places has faith enough in Sanford to put his money into development.

Among the new developments in subdivision in this city is that of F. O. Beider, formerly of Cleveland, O., but now a citizen of Sanford and Mr. Beider had not been in this city long until he realized the wonderful possibilities in and around Sanford in the building line. He first traveled all over the state and after satisfying himself that Sanford was the place to work quietly to work to buy up as much of the suburban property as he could obtain and his first work is at the junction of the Sanford and Orlando roads and Sanford avenue where it branches to go to Lake Jessup. Here he has opened up some fine property and will put on his big lot sale on Friday and Saturday of this week. His lots are within the reach of all ranging from $25 per lot up to $250 with no taxes to pay in 1921 and in case of death the lots are deeded free to the family of the deceased. Two acres of this subdivision have been reserved for park purposes and the as an auditorium and music room. The large garage which is a part of the hotel plant, will be used as an administration building and for classroom purposes.

The probability is that the first decision of the board of trustees, in meeting here and at Clearwater yesterday afternoon and night, to rebuild the college plant on the old site here, will be adhered to. The boys' dormitory, a large and practically fireproof building, was not damaged by the fire, and will serve as a nucleus for the new plant. It is probable, however, that other towns will make flattering offers in an endeavor to secure the college plant, the Methodist denomination's great state school.

Today automobiles brought hundreds of sightseers here to look at the ruins of the two big buildings which went up in flames Saturday.

The students, with the exception of a few, have returned to their homes, and will report at Clearwater in time for the resumption of studies, February 8th.

An open air religious service was held on the campus of Southern College Sunday, close to where Saturday's devastating fire occurred. Dr. W. B. Campbell, president of Wesleyan College, Winchester, Ky., preached an eloquent sermon in which he brought much of sympathy to the college faculty and student body.

Dr. R. H. Alderman, president of the college, and the members of the faculty and the board of trustees will today plunge into the big task of getting the temporary college plant into shape.

easy payments for the lots are 20 per cent cash and the balance to be paid at $5 per month, which puts these building lots within the reach of all. This fine property is just beyond the city limits and Mr. Beider states that he intends to build a nice home for himself on the property at once and already has calls for several lots upon which homes will be built within the next month. He will put up an electric lighting plant in the near future that will give the people in this subdivision their electric lights and many innovations will be established in this new subdivision in the next few months. Mr. Beider is a town builder who has had twenty years of experience in this line of work and that he has chosen Sanford for his future operations means much in the development of this city.

The new subdivision will be known as the Sanford Heights addition to Sanford and as there is much development going on in this section of Sanford along the Sanford and Orlando road there is no doubt about the trend of building going this way in the future and it means more homes and more people and more progress along every line. Read his advertisement in the Daily Herald of Thursday and go in and buy some of these lots. You will never buy any Sanford property as reasonable as this again.

MEXICO IS MAKING CAREFUL STUDY OF LATEST U. S. NOTE

DEMAND OF U. S. FOR REVISION OF PERMITS TO DRILL OIL WELLS ANSWERED SOON

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 1.—Careful study is being given the latest United States government note regarding oil properties in Mexico and the Mexican government will probably answer it during the present week. Washington demanded, according to the Excelsior, a revision of permits to drill oil wells granted by Jacinto B. Trevino, former minister of industry and commerce, whose interests would be seriously affected if the permits were allowed to stand.

It is stated that the opinion prevails among government officials that the United States government will not insist upon its demands and will await the development of President Obregon's petroleum policy. The note therefore has been taken as only an insinuation by the Washington government.

This meeting is of great interest to all musicians, and delegates and members from music clubs and music departments of Women's Clubs throughout the state are planning to attend.

Wilson Fills War Finance Vacancies

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Walter W. Warwick, of Ohio, now comptroller of the treasury, and Evaris A. PEARLS IN LAKE JESSUP

(From Tuesday's Daily)
 Doc Hazelton, who has the popular summer resort on Silver Lake and who is one of the smiling boosters of Seminole county, while fishing on Lake Jessup some time ago using mussels for bait discovered that some fine little pearls could be picked out of the shells and proceeded to get a handful of them. He had Henry McLaughlin, the jeweler, to make up some jewelry for Mrs. Hazelton and also had a gold stick pin with a beautiful pearl setting made up for the editor of the Herald and he presented it this morning. We are not a pearl expert but the stick pin is a beauty and if there are any value in these pearls there should be a good business in collecting them for the trade. Mr. Hazelton evidently heard Dr. Conwell's lecture on "Acres of Diamonds" in our door yard and has proceeded to put it into practice. There is more gold and precious jewels in Seminole county than in states thousands of miles away and some day they will be discovered by such men as Mr. Hazelton. And then he also recognizes the fact that the editor of the Herald needs a stick pin and he has supplied the want. Thanks, Doc, old chap.

RAILROADS WANT TO CUT WAGES OF EMPLOYEES AND REDUCE EXPENSES

Before Any Freight Reductions Can Be Made

PRACTICE ECONOMY

RE-ADJUSTMENT AND CONTROL OF OWN AFFAIRS WOULD LOWER RATES AT ONCE

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—Immediate abrogation of the national agreement between railroads and their employees was proposed to the railway labor board yesterday by W. W. Atterbury, chairman of the labor committee of the Association of Railway Executives and vice-president of the Pennsylvania railroad.

The solvency of the railroads of the country must be assured by a reduction in operating expenses, Mr. Atterbury declared. Unless prompt action affords relief to the railroads he said, many lines of the country may be forced into insolvency.

"The labor board can prevent this catastrophe," Mr. Atterbury said "by declaring that the national agreements, rules and working conditions coming over from the war period are terminated at once; that the question of reasonable and economical rules and working conditions shall be remanded to negotiation by each carrier with its own employees; and that as the basis for such negotiations, the agreements, rules and working conditions in effect on each railroad as of December 31, 1917, shall be re-established."

Touching upon the question of wage reductions in connection with the work of the board Mr. Atterbury said: "If the board will do this the Association of Railway Executives will urge upon every railroad system, a part of decision No. 2, that reduction to basic wages shall be made within the next succeeding 90 days. This will afford an opportunity to gauge the improvements that will be made through more economic operation and better executive direction."

"The high cost of living," he said, "has been reduced and the wages should follow," he said.

"I estimate that the elimination of waste would reduce railway operating expenses at least $300,000,000 per annum. It would be far better to save this sum by restoring conditions of efficiency and economical operation than to reduce wages."

"We believe that as the wages of railroad employees were the last to come down, but we do insist that for an ample wage, an honest day's work shall be given."

"The public has a right to insist that this must be obtained. The public has also the right to expect that the railway executives with the co-operation of the railway employees, as rapidly as possible, reduce the cost of railway operation so as to eventually insure a reduction in rates. Ultimately a re-adjustment of basic wages will be required. In the meantime it is to the interests of all concerned, including labor, that the rules and working conditions shall be made conducive to the highest output of work per man."

"The railroad company, presenting evidence for the abrogation of the national agreements, have far from exhausted their evidence on this subject. But it would be dangerous to continue the consideration of these agreements rule by rule. If the board follows its present procedure, months will elapse before it can render its decision.

FLORIDA EDITORS WANT GREEN FRUIT LAW

Interest in the matter of shipment of green and immature fruit out of Florida is not entirely confined to the producers of fruit in the state. During the last two seasons many of the newspapers of the citrus producing areas have devoted considerable space to comment upon the situation created through the shipment out of the state of fruit which in itself could be but the worst sort of advertisement for Florida's citrus industry. The editors generally have condemned the practice outright, pointing out the evils which grow from it.

Notwithstanding this and agitation among growers, it is a matter of record that the shipment of immature fruit just fall probably exceeded that of any previous season both in volume and in the proportion it bore to the crop as a whole. The consequences of this action have been apparent to all.

The newspapers of South Florida last week showed their interest in the matter when the South Florida Press Association was holding its semi-annual session in Bradenton. Following discussion upon the floor of the assembly, the South Florida Press Association unanimously adopted a resolution calling upon the Florida legislature at its next session, "to enact some adequate law to prevent the shipment in commerce of green and immature citrus fruits from the State."

Proceeds of Conwell's Lecture 'Silver Crown' Given to the Hospital

The directors of the Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital wish to thank Dr. George Hyman and F. F. Dutton for their generous gift to the hospital of the proceeds of Dr. Conwell's great lecture "The Silver Crown."

These gentlemen must be actuated by the very spirit of the lecture and the lecturer who is doing so much for the uplift of mankind, for they not only made it possible for the citizens of this city to hear "The Silver Crown" at a nominal cost, and the "Acres of Diamonds" without cost, but have now remembered our hospital with the gift of the proceeds of "The Silver Crown."

Public spirit of this kind is sure to bring acres of diamonds to our city.

THE MAN WHO KNEW AND WHAT CAME OF IT

We knew a man with an automobile, who said he was a careful driver

AND HE WAS!

He said he would never injure anyone

AND HE DIDN'T!

He said: "If anything happens, it will be the other fellow's fault!"

AND IT WAS!

That didn't prevent the other fellow from demanding money

AND HE DID!

Our man said: "It's not my fault; I'll not pay anything"

AND HE DIDN'T!

The other chap said: "I'LL SUE YOU!"

AND HE DID!

Our friend's lawyer said: "We can beat him in court!"

AND THEY DID!

Whereupon our friend said: "Ha, Ha, I win!"

AND THEN

He paid his lawyer a fee of $100.00, plus expenses, and ran his car the rest of the year at his own risk. FOOLISH—WASN'T HE?

There was a cheaper way out, and we had told him about it, but he thought he knew better.

Let us tell you how little it will cost for COMPLETE PROTECTION, we to furnish the lawyer, investigate all claims, defend all suits, and pay all losses within the limit of our policy.

Automotive Supply Co. Picks Sanford for Headquarters

(From Monday's Daily)
Sanford is becoming a great distributing center on account of the excellent transportation facilities, the water rate, the system of divergent railroad lines and the good roads that permit the use of trucks for fifty miles surrounding Sanford.

All this and also the excellent work of the Chamber of Commerce in locating new industries here were responsible for the advent of the Automotive Supply Company that recently located here in the store room in the Pico Hotel building on Commercial street. This company that has headquarters in Augusta, Ga., is known far and wide as one of the largest in the South and Sanford looked so good to the proprietor, A. B. Cheney, that he resolved to give Sanford branch his personal attention and make it in time the real distributing factor for Florida and Georgia and other contiguous southern states. Mr. Cheney has been here for the past month getting everything in shape for the distribution over the state and N. W. Sistrunk arrived in the city today to take the road for the Automotive Supply Co. Mr. Sistrunk has been with this firm for many years and knows the supply business thoroughly and with only the best lines in the supply business and with the central location here this new company will cover the state in a few months and make the Automotive Co., and Sanford famous everywhere.

The Automotive Supply Co., sells everything in the way of auto supplies and sells only to the dealers and with the thousands of automobiles in use the selling of supplies has become a large business. Mr. Cheney is a live wire and expects to help make Sanford the great city that it should be in the wholesale line.

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING AND GIRLS DORMITORIES OF SOUTHERN COLLEGE BURNED

Methodist College at Sutherland Suffers Big Loss

DR. WALKER HERE

FORMER PRESIDENT AND NOW TRUSTEE, LEFT FOR SUTHERLAND THIS A. M.

(By The Associated Press)
SUTHERLAND, Fla., Jan. 29.—The administration building and the Women's Dormitory of Southern College were destroyed by fire early today. The loss is placed at $50,000. Fifty girl students lost all their belongings. The fire apparatus from Clearwater, and Tarpon Springs prevented further damage. The cause of the fire is undetermined.

May Move College
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Jan. 29.—Prominent Methodists here declare the Sutherland fire in all probability means the bringing of the college to St. Petersburg.

Word was received here this morning of the burning of the administration building and one of the girls dormitories at Southern College at Sutherland, Florida. Dr. S. W. Walker, pastor of the Methodist church here and former president of Southern College and one of the trustees of the institution, was called to Sutherland by wire this morning. There are several students from this city now attending the college and it is not known today whether the destruction of the buildings will entail their leaving the school or not.

Former Railroad President at Presbyterian Church

(From Monday's Daily)
M. L. Swinehart, of Kwanku, Korea, one of the most unique men in modern Missionary life, stirred the congregation of the Presbyterian church last night with his story of present day opportunities in Korea. Mr. Swinehart was a business man of large affairs in the middle west when he decided to go to Korea in 1910 as business manager of the Presbyterian Mission work.

He is in America now on a special mission to business men. Among other things he is seeking 50 recruits for the Korean Missions. 15 of these have been secured in the past 30 days. Mr. Swinehart will be the guest of honor at the social meeting of the Brotherhood at the Presbyterian church tonight.

Sunday was a great day at the Presbyterian church. 27 new members were welcomed into the church at the 11 o'clock service and then at the Session meeting after morning and evening services, 8 more joined the church.

RECOMMEND SHIP CANAL SURVEY FOR FLA.

HOUSE COMMITTEE APPROVES PLANS FOR THE BIG DITCH

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Survey under direction of the secretary of war for a canal from Cumberland Sound north of Fernandin on the Atlantic seaboard, to the mouth of the Mississippi river would be authorized under a bill introduced by Representative Clark, Democrat, Florida, and reported favorably today by the house committee on railways and canals. An appropriation of $50,000 would be made for this purpose.

The project contemplates the building of a sea level canal from the Atlantic across Georgia and Florida to St. Georges sound on the Gulf of Mexico, southwest of Tallahassee. From St. Georges sound the existing natural inland waterway would be opened up along the northern edge of the Gulf of Mexico westward past Mobile Bay and through lakes Borgne and Ponchartrain to the Mississippi river at New Orleans.

The proposed canal would be about 265 miles in length, but by use of existing navigable waters, it was estimated that not more than 150 miles would have to be excavated. Such a waterway, it was estimated, would save 4907 miles between New Orleans and New York and 412 miles from New Orleans to Liverpool.

Under the provisions of the bill the secretary of war would be required to report to congress on the cost of such dimensions as to accommodate the largest shipping vessels, and also a lock canal of the same size, and a barge canal of such dimensions as to accommodate the largest barges being used for the carriage of freight on any waters of the United States.

"The many advantages of such a canal are easily apparent," the committee said in its report to the house. "It would be the connecting link in a system of inland waterways extending from Boston harbor to the mouth of the Mississippi river and extending the length of that great waterway and its numerous tributaries. It would enable the farmer of the great food producing states of the middle west to sell his produce down at any point on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts, he might choose, and at an insignificant cost in comparison with present rail charges.

"It would enable the manufacturer in the great industrial districts to get his products to the consumer at greatly reduced transportation rates. It would result in the reduction of rail rates throughout all the vast territory affected. It would enable the southern farmer and fruit grower to get his produce to the great eastern and middle western markets without excessive rail transportation charges, as at present. It would tap the great coal fields of West Virginia, West Pennsylvania and Alabama and distribute this valuable produce more cheaply over a territory approximating two-thirds of the United States."

EUSTIS WILL STAGE BIG EVENT FEBRUARY 22

WILL CELEBRATE DAY WITH FLORIDA PAGEANTS OF ALL KINDS

The committees having in charge the arrangements for Eustis' annual fete day, Feb. 22, have been working quietly, but hard, and are making splendid progress. The celebration this year promises to eclipse in the number and variety of events, in interest, and in the number of visitors from other parts of the state, any similar event ever held in the city.

The treaty, ceding "The Floridians" (East and West) to the United States was formally ratified on Feb. 22, 1821, so that it is eminently fitting that our celebration should be called the "Centenary Celebration of the Purchase of the Florida." So far as we are able to learn Eustis is the only city in Florida which is celebrating the 100th anniversary of this act, which made our wonderful state a part of the most wonderful country in the world. This fact, alone, will bring a great many people to our city, partly out of curiosity, and partly so they may be able to say, in future years, that they were present at the only ceremony celebration of the purchase of the Florida.

The program, as outlined, is crowded with interesting and amusing events, and the program falls to cover all the activities of the day, which will administer to the comfort, pleasure and amusement of our guests.

Things will begin to happen at 9:00 a. m. when the program of the day will begin with a boat parade on Lake Eustis. This is in no sense a decorated boat parade, although the committee would be glad to have all who care to decorate their boats. Every boat owner is urged to be out in his boat and join in the parade. Let's show our visitors that we have some real motor boats and are not afraid to use them.

Immediately following the boat parade the program of water contests will take place. Enough entries have already been received to insure well fought and interesting races. The sail boat race promises to be, perhaps, the most interesting to our people, since it is more of a novelty than the motor boat races to many of them. Besides the races the committee have arranged a number of nautical aquatic contests which are certain to add greatly to the amusement of the crowd. Many of them have never been seen here before. There will be a tilting contest, a fancy diving contest, a canoe obstacle race, bowsprit boxing, a bladder fight and others.

Interesting events are planned for the boy and girls.

In the afternoon (the exact hour to be announced later) will occur an event unique in the annals of Florida. For the first time in the history of the state a complete historical pageant of Florida will be presented to the people. An episode was given in Tampa several years ago and attracted much favorable comment at that time, but the complete pageant will be given here, under the auspices of the Women's Club. It consists of three episodes, "The Landing of the Spaniards," "The Exchange of Flags" and "The Indian Wars," and was written especially for Eustis by Mrs. R. A. Ellis of Tampa. This is the most important event of this kind ever attempted in Eustis and no one can afford to miss it.

After the pageant there will be more interesting and amusing things for you. A slow automobile race is being arranged and the horse fight will take place as usual. A horse shoe pitching tournament is also being arranged. The committee also has several things up its sleeve to spring as surprises all through the day.

In the evening there will be a display of fireworks on Lake Eustis, and here again a surprise awaits you. At the close of the fireworks display a very short pageant, called "The Return of Osceola," written by one of our own citizens, will be staged as a preliminary to the masked street carnival and dance. While those notmasked will not be excluded from this carnival, it is strongly urged that every one, young and old, large and small, come in costume. Begin now and get ready for it.—Eustis Lake Region.

Yes, the fires of hell may be bright, but those of earth are scorching. Wars will continue to rage as long as greed, hate and jealousy exist in the human race.

Labor is not striking for shorter hours these days.

MEETING OF THE STOCKHOLDERS OF PEOPLES BANK

(From Saturday's Daily)
The stockholders of the Peoples Bank met Thursday night and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, H. R. Stevens; vice president, C. M. Hand; vice president, H. P. Smith; cashier, Claude Couch; assistant cashier, L. C. Kolb.

The following directors were elected: H. R. Stevens, C. M. Hand, S. Puleston, H. P. Smith, C. F. Williams, R. R. Deas, George Hyman, B. G. Smith and R. B. Wight.

These directors are made up from those who have been on the directorate of the Peoples Bank since the inception of the bank into the business life of this city and others who have recently been elected to serve as directors but all of them are prominent in business circles in the city and county and all of them are home people who have the interests of their county, their city and their bank at heart and they will guide the destinies of the Peoples Bank during the next twelve months for the best interests of the stockholders and the depositors and all who are in any way connected with this fine financial institution. The recent statement of the Peoples' Bank showed remarkable gains in deposits and also showed this bank to be in the best of shape and the new directors will strive to make a new high record for the bank for the next fiscal year.

GREENVILLE, Jan. 29.—The bread and soup line started here Thursday by the Salvation Army will be discontinued after today according to Commander Price. He said the small number of persons applying for food indicated this service was unnecessary here.

Are you going fishing?

All the tourists are enjoying it?

The lakes and rivers around Sanford offer more sport than any other part of the state.

Have not heard from California but suppose they froze up in this last cold spell. A weather report on California every day would be interesting.

A walk around the suburbs of this city will convince anyone that Sanford will soon be one of the biggest cities in this part of Florida.

The railroads must come down on their freight rates. The people are ruling this country at present or they will rule it if the government does not get busy on these important subjects.

We are moving right along and when those big things come in that we have been contemplating this little old burg will take on the new life that we have been talking about for the past ten years.

It is rumored that the Republicans will change the laws regarding the payment of income taxes. If they do there will be but mighty few Democrats left four years from now. We have all been fed up on income tax, outcome tax and every other kind of fool tax.

That is an excellent idea that some of the large property owners here have of subdividing their property into city lots and selling them off now when the need of lots is so great and it will also have a tendency to move other property that has been stagnant so long on account of the owners holding it too high.

Colonel Bob Davis, editor of the Gainesville Sun says: "The Palatka Daily News speaks of a 'famous speaker' who is to appear in that city to speak on some sort of a drive. We have no 'famous speakers,' says Colonel Davis, engaged in the drive business.—DeLand News.

If suitable lots could be obtained there would be a sale for a hundred or more choice city lots this spring. There is going to be the greatest building boom in this city in the next six months that Sanford has ever experienced providing the price of building materials comes down to suit the pocket books of the people who want to build. The Herald will have some wonderful news to break to the prospective home builders in a few days.

And then again we would like to know who gets that war tax that is plastered on everything you buy these days. It is called war tax no doubt because Sherman said that war was hell and these taxes are all of that and then some. However, we learned in the early school days that when one country won a great war the taxes were put on the loser. In this case the question arises of "who won the war?"

The newspaper men of Florida could do nothing better than to change the libel laws that are now on the statute books. As they stand a newspaper can say nothing of any consequence. If you know that a man committed a crime you are compelled to say that he was "alleged" to have done so. We are tired of this "alleged" business. We want freedom.

timore, recently stated that Florida ranks above any state in the union in the standard of its newspapers. This statement is without doubt true, and the people of Florida really do not appreciate the newspapers that are published—that is, they probably do not stop to think how splendid they are as compared with those in other states. There are towns and little cities in Florida supporting newspapers that will compare favorably with the great metropolitan papers whose clientele is fifty times greater. Whether all of these well-edited, well-printed and expensively published papers are making any money, is another question, but it is doubtless true that most of them are, or they would not continue their high standard from month to month and from year to year.—Lake Land Star.

Sanford is in need of a permanent home for the library and the Thirteen club recently discussed the possibilities of securing a site and having a proper building erected. The Herald is of the opinion that a site would be donated by the city and that a suitable building could be constructed for about $10,000. A committee has been appointed to go into the probable cost and possible location of a library building and will report at a later meeting of the club. The Thirteen club is an organization of enthusiasts who are doing whatever seems probable to benefit Sanford.—Times-Union.

The government recently shipped a car of horses and mules from some place in Virginia to North Carolina and one of the wise guys who shipped them and who probably draws a salary as an officer did not give them any ventilation and thirty-five of them died before any of the intelligent officers found out that animals must have air. That is in line with some of the wonderful things that some of the officers in the U. S. army do at times. Very seldom do these things happen, we are glad to say, and it is difficult to find the blame and there are some of the finest fellows in the world in the U. S. army but the funny things they do with government red tape at times is hard to believe.

Fish stories are being told in all parts of Florida just now, and even if they are discredited in some places, the facts are easily proved in many instances. The Sanford Herald a few days ago told of the display in the windows of a local store of "the biggest big-mouth bass ever caught in Seminole county waters. It was caught by Charles Whitner in Econlockhatchie creek, and weighed in at fourteen and a half pounds. The big bass was caught with light tackle and was weighed after having been out of the water for some time." This is the state to catch fish, and this is the time when the fishermen are enjoying themselves. The waters of Florida furnish almost any variety of fish and the men and women who enjoy this sport get them. It isn't known whether or not Mr. Whitner will win a prize for his catch—but no doubt he is well enough pleased with the trophy and will be hard to reach. The largest bass that had been officially weighed and entered for a prize in that section weighed something over thirteen pounds, but Mr. Whitner's fish topped it by a full pound.—Times-Union.

THESE RECORDS MUST BE SAVED

Each Southern State has prepared, or is preparing, a record of the enlistment and service of every soldier who served in the Confederate army, through its adjutant-general's office. The necessary data for this is already at hand in the archives of the state from which he entered the army. This record will enable the descendants of the 600,000 soldiers of the Confederate army to know of this enlistment and service of their ancestors.

No Southern State is preparing a similar record for its sailors and marines of the Confederate navy, as the only data on file for this work was destroyed when Richmond fell at the surrender. There is no record of their enlistment and service at any state capitol. Take Georgia, as an example. The Times-Union has been shown a letter from J. Van Holt Nash, adjutant-general of that state, replying to an inquiry from Admiral Wright on this subject, which reads as follows:

"Replying to your letter of August 20th, regret to advise that after a thorough search of the records on file in this department we are unable to find any records of the Confederate navy."

And yet we know that scores and scores of sailors and marines from Georgia enlisted and served in the Confederate navy. And, unless something is done and done quickly, the names of most of the 6000 sailors and marines of the Confederate navy will pass into oblivion, and their descendants will look in vain for information of the enlistment and service of their ancestors.

One of the chief objects to be accomplished by Admiral Wright and his shipmates in the establishment of the home for the Confederate naval veterans is to rescue the names of those old fellows from oblivion, and to place them alongside the names of their brethren of the army. With the data their living shipmates have, now scattered all over the civilized world, when they are located in their haven of rest, it will be gathered, classified, and written out, and thus will be saved to posterity some mention of what the sailors and marines did during the war between the states.—Times-Union.

While the price of lumber is problematical and no man knows whereof he speaks it is about as low now as it will go.

BUSINESS MEN OPTIMISTIC

In the face of contigued slumps in prices as industrial and trade inflation progresses, it is noticeable that there is an encouraging note of optimism by leading manufacturers and business men. The period the country is now passing through was discounted in advance by men familiar with the operations of economics.

Merchants generally were reluctant to "take a loss" and at once enter upon the lower price levels for merchandising, and it is not surprising that this should have been the case. Most merchants had stocked up heavily with high priced goods, and unseasonable weather last fall. But business men now realize that they were guilty of an error of judgment in proceeding on the assumption that high level prices would hold up through the present winter. Bitterness against the federal reserve board which followed its action in "tightening up" on money has given way to a realization that this was the only effective way of stopping inflation of prices and of reducing them to the level on which a resumption of industrial and trade activities could be based.

There is yet much to be done in the work of readjustment, but a beginning has been made, and there is reason to believe that recovery is now getting under way. Predictions that workers would refuse to accept new conditions are now seen to have been unfounded.

Nothing is to be gained by enlarging on the condition of unemployment, but all should join in the spread of optimism, for a great deal will depend on the state of mind in which the nation approaches solution of the industrial problem. The principle of psychology functioned in bringing present conditions about; it should operate to help in overcoming them.—Tampa Tribune.

WANT REFORESTATION

The eaters of Florida oranges and grapefruit may not think of reforestation in any way affecting their breakfast tables, but the Florida citrus fruit growers have a different point of view, according to forestry officials of the United States Department of Agriculture who have found the leaders of the industry anxious about future supplies of box material. The Florida grapefruit and orange crop now requires on the average more than 12,000,000 boxes yearly to get it to market. It has a money value of something like $80,000,000, and the industry is still expanding rapidly. By 1930, if production continues to increase in similar ratio to that in recent years, the output will require 40,000,000 boxes annually. Each box requires about 5 1/2 board feet of lumber.

Local southern pine forests are the source of the raw material for these boxes, but the supply is drawn upon also for wooden containers for the products of Florida truck farms. Truck farm products of the state now call for 13,000,000 boxes annually, and this demand also is growing.

Forest depletion under methods which do not provide for regrowth has reached a point which makes the question where containers are to come from a matter of very practical concern to the citrus industry in Florida.

Conferences have been held with leading officials of the Forest Service, to discuss this question. Application of the principles of forestry with a view to the production of sustained supplies of box material is regarded as the only way to meet the problem. The government has a National Forest in Florida of over 300,000 acres on which the practicability of forest management for a sustained yield has been fully demonstrated, according to the Forest Service, but the lumber needs of the state will require a very much larger acreage than this. Under the nation-wide forestry program which the Forest Service and the forest and wood-using industries of the country generally are advocating, it is proposed to bring about conservative handling of private forest lands as well as public. The citrus fruit growers are reported to be joining in advocacy of this program.

WAGES MUST COME DOWN.

This decline in the purchasing power of the farmer throws the industrial situation out of balance and causes a general disorganization. Since every line of production can sell less to the farmer, the purchasing power of all will be affected and they will buy less of each other.

There is only one remedy. If the prices of all the things that the farmers want to buy will come down, to correspond with the prices of what they have to sell, they can go on buying as before, subject only to the necessity of taking care of outstanding debts.—Florida Grower.

The hickory buds are swelling; the mock bird's song is swelling; and all is joy and love beneath our skies.

INSTITUTIONS OF EDUCATION DESERVE FLORIDA SUPPORT

Of all appeals that should reach the heart of the public quickest and with greatest force, the cause of education holds first place. The preparation of our youth for higher, better citizenship is the most vital factor in the life of any state.

During the past five years, our colleges had higher institutions of learning have been taxed to the utmost to meet the ever increasing demands made upon them. With the rising cost of all items that go into college work has come the wonderful increase in the numbers of students seeking a higher education. The absolute necessity for sufficient endowments to meet the needs of students and faculty alike has been impressed upon every college in the country.

Beginning this week and extending through until February 22, Rollins College at Winter Park will complete its efforts to obtain a half million dollars on an endowment fund that will eventually reach a round million. A noble patron of education, and one of the most helpful of Florida winter residents, Charles H. Morse, has offered a hundred thousand dollars of this amount contingent upon the balance being raised by Washington's birthday.

Rollins is a Florida institution, serving all portions of the state. It has a record of public service of which any college might be proud, and its graduates hold many positions of trust in which they are contributing in no small measure towards the upbuilding of the commonwealth.

The appeal which the college is now making should therefore reach the ears and the hearts of every citizen of Florida who is genuinely interested in lifting the level of citizenship to a higher level; and we have no doubt but that the people of Jacksonville, Tampa and the other cities of the state will see to it that the campaign is a success.—Jacksonville Metropolitan.

THE EXPRESS "MONOPOLY"

The action of the interstate commerce commission in approving the merger of the four big express companies would have brought a violent protest a few years ago. When the government took over the express business as a war measure, just as it took over the railroads, it revealed by public pronouncement what had long been known to many—that there was no actual competition among the large express companies.

There was a time, too, when the interstate commerce commission was very zealous about maintenance of competitive systems in transportation, but even the benefits of competition that does not compete have been found to be decidedly illusory. Inauguration of the parcels post system a few years ago provided competition for the express companies that soon brought about a marked reduction in transportation rates by express.

But the parcels post system, large as it has grown in recent years, has not put the express companies out of business, as some fearful souls had predicted it would, but shipping has increased to such proportions that there seems to be plenty of business for all.

There is no immediate ground for fear that the merger of the express companies will bring about a monopoly in the express business. That will hardly be possible as long as the government engages in the parcels post feature of the mail business. This is a tolerably big country, and the people are a bit wiser in some respects than they were twenty years ago.—Tampa Tribune.

A king can do no wrong these days—nor much of anything else.

GOOD, BUT NOT ENOUGH.

The South Florida Press Association, last week at its meeting in Bradenton, commended the passage of a law by which the minutes of county commissioners, school boards and city councils shall be published as paid legal notices, for the benefit of the general public.

The action taken by the association is timely and commendable; but it does not go far enough. If we can judge by an illustration of its need, urged by a south Florida county, and included in its editorial on the subject by the Lake Wales Highlander, more is needed. The Highlander says:

"One publisher from a south Florida county told how a $4,500 tractor, bought by his county and which did not seem to be doing much road work, was found at work in the big orange grove of a county officer. Furthermore, a bill for repairs of $1,500 more was found charged to the county. True, the claim was made that the officer was leasing the tractor for $500 a year, but no record of it could be found on the minutes until long after the incident, it is stated. Would not publicity in connection with this case have been salutary?"

In view of the statement, "no record of it could be found on the minutes until long after the incident," The Tribune moves to amend the resolution passed by the association so that it shall include a compulsion for the immediate and accurate entering of the minutes of these bodies; and further, that no meeting be held at which the minutes shall not be carefully made at the time.

Publicity of the records of public bodies is absolutely essential to public safety and public economy; but publicity will do no good unless it be given at the time a proposed deal or act is attempted or announced to be made.—Tampa Tribune.

"NO CHILDREN ARE WANTED."

In checking over the listing cards at the tourist information bureau it is seen there are no less than 16 cards which state that "no children are wanted" in the homes of those who have rooms for rent. This is one of the worst crimes against humanity, advertise house keeping rooms and on top of that state "no children wanted."

The citizens of Tampa would do well to take this question in hand and where the persons who have rooms for rent and advertise in such a manner they should be placed on the retired list. These persons, who don't want children, are scattered all over the city and even in Seminole Heights. The Times has a list of those who want to rent their rooms but who care not for the future rulers of the land.

In many places throughout the country these people are placed on a sort of black list and all other places are rented first in preference to theirs. It is believed this would, if tried out in this city, eliminate some of this practice. We had flattered ourselves that our city was free from that species of ghoul who has no place in their hearts or homes for the little ones of the earth, but it seems we were mistaken. It would show at least, a decent regard for the opinion of the world, if these people who think more of their furnishings than they do of human beings, would refrain from advertising their rooms for rent.—Tampa Times.

Did the good ministers who made a list of movie stars "fit to be seen" ever consider the value of the advertising they were giving the others?

Refusing a million dollars is one way to gain publicity, but it is not likely to become popular.

Sunday Meditations

By the Meditator

In judging others we often forget that we ourselves have limitations. Take a public official, for instance. We elect him to office without first subjecting to the acid test, other than as the opposing party may apply it. After he is elected he develops certain traits of character of which we were unformed.

They do not just exactly accord with our own ideas, and we proceed to "hand it to him"—from a distance. By the time we are through with him, his own mother would have difficulty in recognizing him. He has no horns in evidence, but we often give him credit for possessing them. In reality, however, he may be a really decent fellow, a fairly capable official, and he may be performing the duties of his office in an acceptable manner—possibly even better than we could do.

Truly, the beam in our own eye is a great distorter of vision, from which many unjust criticisms arise.

The Lord has provided that Sunday shall be a day of rest and worship. We make it one of rest, though many of us overlook the worship. But we might vary the routine a little with advantage to ourselves and the approval of the Lord.

We might spend a Sunday afternoon in walking over the town. We might note the condition of the homes and property of other people, and then each strive to have our own property just a little cleaner, and more sanitary, and more attractive than that of others.

Of course we couldn't each one have the best, but the improvement would be so wonderful and so far reaching it would make of this town a small paradise on earth.

Just as a diversion, if for no other reason, take a Sunday afternoon off and use your legs—also your eyes.

Good men are plentiful in this old world. They will always be plentiful as long as the world remains as it is.

But even a good man sometimes sheds his coat of righteousness in his own home. It is there that impatience sometimes finds its outlet—unconsciously, no doubt, but none the less true.

And the wife hears the burden—pays the penalty of the sins of others who have produced this lapse in the good man.

Even a good man would do well to think twice before he lets off steam in his own home.

And the rest of us, ditto.

If you pass a man on the street and he favors you with a growl or a scowl, you wonder if his stomach pains him, or whether it is simply the nature of the brute.

No, the Lord did not slip a cog, but some one else did. His nature was warped in the making. The sunshine of happiness was probably foreign to him in his childhood days. Instead of kind words he may have received harshness or neglect, for such natures, while possibly hereditary to an extent, are often the direct result of early environment.

A smile is better than a scowl, and if you keep this fact in mind you will be doing your own child an inestimable service, one which will do much toward shaping his career in after life.

Many of the boy clubs of Suwannee county have been reorganized. The prospects for club work this year are better than ever, and we are looking forward to a successful year in all lines of work. Many farmers are interested in farm demonstrations. Farm farmers have joined the better farming club. This club will plant certain crops as directed and keep cost records of all farm operations.

The president will have a splendid opportunity for "watchful waiting" when he comes to the mediation between Turkey and Armenia.

Taking "some other fellow's girl" to the beach is all right provided the other fellow doesn't catch you.

INDEPENDENT RAILWAY UNION GAINS HEARING WITH BOARD ALTHOUGH NOT RECOGNIZED

Seven Independent Organizations Admitted to the Meeting AND PUT IT OVER

RAILWAY LABOR BOARD REFUSED TO MAKE IT A CLOSED SHOP

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—The railroads of the country asked the Railway Labor Board to abrogate the national agreements so that an ultimate reduction in rates without an immediate reduction in wages would be brought about, Thomas DeWitt Cuyler, chairman of the Association of Railway Executives, said tonight in a telegram to President Wilson, replying to one sent the chief executive last night by representatives of seven labor unions.

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—Seven independent employees' organizations, despite the opposition of the railroad brotherhoods affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, were today admitted as independents to the hearing on rules and working conditions before the Railway Labor Board. The independents will have full opportunity to present testimony covering their contentions for the board's consideration in rendering a decision on the case.

The board's decision has hailed as a distinctive victory for the independent by their officers. The opposition to allowing the seven organizations to participate in the hearing was voiced in the employees' opening statement several weeks ago by B. M. Jewell, president of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor. Mr. Jewell contended that the brotherhoods represented the employees as a whole and asked for the board the right to negotiate in the name of all employees.

Officers of the independent organizations characterized the brotherhoods' contentions as an attempt to be the "rear of the employees." They declared 150,000 men were represented in the organizations and denied the right of the brotherhoods to speak for these men.

The board's resolution states that since the seven organizations "are materially and directly interested in the matter, and their interests necessarily affected by any decision the board may make it is ordered that all such organizations not heretofore formally made participants shall be allowed to intervene in filing a written application stating their positions."

The entire day's testimony before the board today was given over to objections of the railroads to the national agreements between clerks and station employees and the roads. Rules requiring overtime pay for work performed by employees on Sundays and holidays came in for objection by E. T. Whiter, chairman of the American Railway Executives' Labor Committee. "The railroads are required to serve the public 365 days in the year," Mr. Whiter said. "Some employees must be on duty to insure the safety of the traveling public. We submit that such overtime rates ought not be imposed for unavoidable work which the management can not lessen."

Fordney Tariff Bill Will Not Come Up in Senate This Time

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Hope that the Fordney emergency tariff bill would come to a vote in the senate this session was practically abandoned today when the measure came up for what is generally believed the final day of debate; with appropriation measures crowding for passage, leaders are understood definitely to have decided to put aside the former relief measure and take up money bills when the senate convenes Monday.

NO CLUES TO BANDITS IN TAMPA

BOLD, BAD ROBBERS WHO TOOK MONEY FROM EXPRESS COMPANY DISAPPEAR

TAMPA, Feb. 1.—At midnight last night, fifty-four hours after the hold-up of Cashier E. F. Smith at the American Railway Express Company's office at the union station terminals by two men who, with a third man, got away with $19,700, making their escape in an automobile, no arrests have been made, and apparently none of the officers who have been working diligently on the case since Friday afternoon had a real clue to the identity of the three smooth articles who pulled off the biggest job in Tampa's crime history.

That is, none of the officers apparently have a real clue unless it is Sheriff W. C. Spencer. The sheriff left the city suddenly Saturday afternoon, stating that he was "on a hot trail" and would not return until he had landed the trio of stockup men.

The sheriff hadn't returned at midnight last night, and if any of his office force had heard from him they had nothing to say about it. The sheriff's destination or the nature of the clue he is running down has not been disclosed to newspaper men.

Police officers stated yesterday that they had no new clues in the case. Immediately after the holdup the officers wired throughout the state, notifying officers to be on the lookout for the bandits, but as yet the robbers have successfully evaded the police dragnet.

The holdup is one of the biggest and boldest ever recorded in the crime history of the state. The business-like manner in which the bandits went about their work, and then their successful getaway has been the subject of much discussion in the city since the holdup. Apparently it was not the work of novices.

Many theories have been advanced as to how the robbers are evading arrest. One, which is most generally accepted, it seems, is that the men after entering their car after the stockup immediately drove it to some point in the city and changed their car for another, and then drove to some other town in this section, or Middle Florida. Supporters of this theory claim this could have been easily done, since but a hazy description of the men were given; and the same is true of the car. Further, they argue, the number of automobile tourists traveling through the state at this time was taken into reckoning by the bandits, and that they could evade suspicion by posing to be tourists.

They could have gone to any town, add supporters of the theory, where they could secure quarters and comfortably settle down, indefinitely, or until such a time as when the search would become lax, and then make their way out of the state. The money secured would be easily disposed of in small quantities without exciting suspicion, since denominations were $1, $5, $10 and $20 bills.

Another theory advanced is that the bandits had never left the city. Supporters of this theory claim the robbers had prepared their ground for the stockup so thoroughly that they knew but hazy descriptions could be given of them; hence, have little fear of remaining in the city.

Still a third theory is that the bandits immediately left the city after the holdup and have successfully evaded the police dragnet not have, by this time, gotten out of the state. Some hold that the bandits abandoned their car after the theft and took a train to other points, while others maintain they could successfully get out of the state by automobile, despite the close watch that is being kept for them.

GOLF IS NECESSARY ADJUNCT TO ANY CITY IN FLORIDA IF THEY EXPECT TO HAVE TOURISTS

Visit of President-elect Harding Proves Truth of This Assertion

Sanford has not lost the idea of a country club and golf links and this project is still in the minds of those people who believe that it is an essential to the material growth of Sanford as a tourist city. In a conference yesterday on the subject one of those present remarked that tourists never stopped long in a town or city in Florida where there were no golf links and they cited the instance of President-elect Harding stopping at every little cross roads town on the east coast where there were golf links and every little town on the east coast has golf links and this is also something for the people here to think about. The Times-Union yesterday had an editorial on this subject that hit the nail on the head. It reads as follows: "Some of the larger cities and many of the smaller places have scouted the idea that golf was of any benefit but a practical demonstration has been given during the last week of the value of golf, especially to the smaller cities.

The president of the United States, or at least who will shortly sit in the chair of the chief executive of this great nation, honored a number of small cities on the east coast with a visit because they had golf links. He is a golf enthusiast and he wanted the exercise and at the same time wanted to see what was actually going on in Florida, so he stopped at St. Augustine and Ormond and Vero and Fort Pierce and of course at Daytona and Palm Beach and Miami but there never would have been the slightest chance of Vero and Fort Pierce entertaining the head of the nation had they not had splendid golf courses.

"We have frequently commented on the growing popularity of golf, especially in Florida, which is the winter paradise of the people of these United States, who have the leisure to enjoy the game that combines exercise, skill, ingenuity and perseverance and acts as a stimulant to the human system. The cities that have adopted golf as one of the features of their entertainment have progressed wonderfully and those that have persisted in ignoring it are making less headway in the tourist business, which is a profitable business in Florida.

"Miami now has three or four golf courses and is planning more of them and we all know that Miami is leading in tourist trade. Palm Beach is following suit with two or three courses and many of the other prominent resort cities and towns are coming along with one or two courses. We might just as well recognize the game of golf as one of our leading pastimes and exercises and prepare to adopt it into our amusement family and if we do not we will be left in the rear and be classed as a back number. For a long time it was considered a fad, but it is now recognized as a real red-blooded sport for real men and women and it is bound to grow in importance and popularity."

GERMANY WILL NOT COMPLY WITH TERMS OF REPARATION REICHSTAG SAYS MADNESS

It is General Opinion That Government Can't Agree

CABINET SESSION UNTIL LATE LAST NIGHT MULLING OVER IMPORTANT QUESTION

(By The Associated Press)
BERLIN, Feb. 1.—Germany regards reparation terms fantastic and impossible of execution and it is the general opinion the government can not agree to them. The cabinet was in executive session until late last night. "Madness," is the term the reichstag is using in discussing the conditions.

BERLIN, Feb. 1.—Immediately after a session of the reichstag yesterday it was reported the German government intends to refuse to pay the $5,000,000,000 indemnity demanded by the Allies unless their proposals are materially altered.

The reichstag suddenly adjourned after a short session, "because of the seriousness of the situation."
When the reichstag convened, Foreign Minister von Simons announced that a long note had arrived from Paris which said that a unanimous agreement had been reached by the Allies on the reparation question.

Von Simons asked the reichstag to put the question of paying the indemnity ahead in the order of business, so it may be disposed of at once.

The reichstag then adjourned until today. Causes of the various parties were immediately called to decide what positions shall be taken.

(By The Associated Press)
HAMBURG, Feb. 1.—It is not probable that Foreign Minister Simons will reply to reparation demands by resigning from German government, says Berlin dispatch.

BERLIN, Feb. 1.—German Foreign Minister Simons will tell the reichstag today, newspapers say, that Germany can not subscribe to Allied reparation demands on ground of it being impossible to fulfill.

PERSHING SAYS GO AHEAD WITH PROGRAM

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Warning against pacifism and unpreparedness was given house naval committee today by General Pershing, who appeared to discuss world disarmament. While expressing approval of the proposed world disarmament conference he said United States should go ahead with present navy and army programs until definite agreement is reached by at least five great world powers.

PIPE ORGAN CLUB

(From Tuesday's Daily)
The Pipe Organ Club was delightfully entertained Monday afternoon by Mrs. W. C. Bray at her suburban home on West First street. Sixteen members and guests enjoyed the work and play of the afternoon. A rummage sale will be held on Sanford avenue next Saturday afternoon. The club is in position now to fill orders for plain sewing.

There will be no regular meetings of the club during the next two weeks on account of the series of special services that are to be at the First Baptist church.

Delicious fresh strawberries with whipped cream and cakes were served at the conclusion of the afternoon.

Millionaire's Son in Big Damage Suit for Breach of Promise

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Existence of a $500,000 suit, in which Kingdom Gould, son of George Jay Gould, is charged with breach of promise to marry Mrs. Richard Blum of Arkville, N. Y., is disclosed in the supreme court. Gould denied employing detectives to help Mrs. Blum obtain a divorce. Gould has since married.

MEXICO WANTS M'ADOO TO TAKE RAILROADS OVER

WOULD GIVE HIM ENTIRE CONTROL TO REHABILITATE STATE LINES.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Mexico is negotiating with William G. McAdoo to rehabilitate and take charge of her state railroads, it was learned authoritatively here today.

McAdoo is now in Mexico as a guest of President Obregon and may stay there indefinitely. He is accompanied by his wife and Juliet Shouse, of Kansas, a former assistant secretary of the treasury and now one of the officials of the Mexican & Orient Railway, projected between Kansas City, Mo., and Guaymas in Sonora.

The invitation to McAdoo is based upon here as a movement by Obregon to gain recognition of this government. Obregon, it is said, realizes he must stabilize Mexico financially and industrially to get such recognition.

With this end in view negotiations were begun with McAdoo who knows both railroads and finances had whose employment would react favorably in this country and in foreign capitals. McAdoo took the suggestion under consideration and it is understood an arrangement calling his employment for several years at a salary of $50,000 a year or greater probably may be worked out.

Here is the situation that will confront McAdoo:

The Mexican government, from the time the railroads were taken over by the nation under President Huerta, has paid no interest to the American bondholders who controlled the lines until the Mexican government obtained a controlling interest. The American government, it is understood, will insist that steps toward the adjustment of the railway debt be taken before official relations are resumed between Washington and Mexico City.

In addition the Mexican rail lines are in a state of the utmost depreciation, due to ten years of revolution, and an immense amount of locomotives, rolling stock and other equipment must be purchased before rehabilitation is possible.

Reconstruction cannot start, according to the opinion here, unless Mexico obtains a loan from foreign sources, obviously the United States. And Mexico cannot secure this loan, officials here declare, until a program is effected for fulfilling the rights of the American bondholders.

Says "Norfolk Idea" Not Abandoned; Will Reorganize Company

NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 1.—W. J. Fielder, president of the Crescent Iron Works, a corporation which has been operated by capital supplied by the International Association of Machinists since the strike last July, when all other plants in the city of a similar nature declared in favor of the open shop, said today that the "Norfolk idea" was by no means dead. Mr. Fielder confirmed the statement issued Sunday night in Washington by E. C. Davison, secretary of the machinists' union, that plans to reorganize the Crescent works, which was thrown into bankruptcy Saturday, were under way and that a new company, to be known as the American Engineering Corporation, was to take the place of the old company and operate according to the "Norfolk idea."

Mr. Fielder stated that the Crescent Iron Works had retained counsel, but that it had not as yet been decided what course to pursue with reference to the bankruptcy proceedings. He could not say whether the company would contest in the courts the adjudication of the company's affairs by bankruptcy. He stated that Mr. Davison, in Washington, was now preparing a statement concerning the unions' attitude toward both the Crescent Iron Works and the proposed American Engineering Corporation.

EVERY WEEK

The Every Week Bridge Club met with Mrs. Margaret Barnes Friday afternoon.

Bridge was played at two tables by members of the club and three substitutes, Mrs. Dumas, Mrs. Leggit and Mrs. Loucks. The prize for high score, a hot plate rest, was won by Mrs. Dumas.

Delicious refreshments were served at the conclusion of the game.

BOOKLOVER'S CLUB

The Booklover's Club was most delightfully entertained Friday afternoon as the guests of Miss Hawkins at her home on Celery avenue.

An abundance of sweet peas beautifully decorated the living room.

The afternoon was spent in sewing and at a late hour two courses of most delicious refreshments were served.

The members present were: Mrs. Hagan, Mrs. Fred Williams, Mrs. Morse, Mrs. Symes, Mrs. Holly, Mrs. Pace, Mrs. Ward, Mrs. McLaulin, Mrs. Arrington, Mrs. Bennett and Miss Hawkins.

The guests were Mrs. Hawkins, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Aylett Fitts and Miss Wilkey.

T. N. T. AND SPENDTHRIFT

Mrs. Archie Betts was hostess Friday afternoon of both the T. N. T. and Spendthrift clubs at her home on Palmetto avenue.

The rooms were tastefully decorated in roses and ferns.

Sewing and bridge were the diversions of the afternoon. Bridge was played at four tables, quite a number sewed and there was several tea guests.

The prizes were most attractive, for high score, the Spendthrift, Mrs. John Smith won a bottle of Mary Garden perfume. Mrs. A. R. Key won the guest prize, two celery dips with the salt spoons. Miss Martha Fox won the cut prize, a Medela handkerchief.

A dainty salad course was served late in the afternoon.

(From Monday's Daily)

BRIDGE LUNCHEON

One of the most attractive parties given in Sanford for some time was the bridge luncheon given by Mrs. George DeCottles Saturday at her home on Magnolia ave.

The rooms were tastefully decorated with an abundance of red roses and ferns, the color being suggestive of the Valentine season.

The dining room was most attractive, carrying out the Valentine suggestion, the table was beautifully decorated with a great silver bowl of red roses, silver candlesticks with shaded lights and place cards of valentines.

A most sumptuous and delicious six course luncheon was served.

At the conclusion of the bridge game Mrs. Herndon for high score was presented with a gold salt and pepper, while for low score Mrs. Pulleston was given a silver salt and pepper.

Those present were: Mrs. R. A. Newman, Miss Lee, Mrs. S. Palestine, Mrs. G. D. Bishop, Mrs. B. W. Herndon, Mrs. Forest Lake, Mrs. A. R. Key and Mrs. D. L. Thrasher.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON

Mrs. Roy Syms entertained Saturday with another of the series of attractive bridge luncheons that she has been giving at her beautiful home in Winter Park.

The guests motored from Sanford in the morning and enjoyed a most elaborate and delicious luncheon. The table was most attractive being centered by a great bowl of red and white roses while nosegays of pansies and hand painted place cards marked the places.

After luncheon the guests were given a ride on the beautiful Lake Minneola in the Symes speed boat.

After the return to the house bridge was played, Mrs. Walsma winning a satchet for high score and Mrs. Holly a lingerie box for low score.

The guests were then taken for a ride through many of the beautiful estates of Winter Park.

Those having the pleasure of enjoying this more than delightful day were: Mrs. R. J. Holly, Mrs. C. E. Henry, Mrs. Dean Turner, Mrs. H. B. Lewis, Miss Hawkins, Mrs. Fred Walsma, Mrs. Aylette Fitts and Miss Wilkey.

(From Tuesday's Daily)

EVENING BRIDGE CLUB

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Newman delightfully entertained the Evening Bridge Club, Friday evening.

There were three tables of the regular members with Mrs. D. L. Thrasher the only substitute. The prizes for high score were won by Judge and Mrs. Householder, the ladies' prize a card table cover and the gentleman's prize a pearl handled knife.

Dainty refreshments were served after the game.

MONDAY AFTERNOON BRIDGE CLUB

The Monday Afternoon Bridge Club met with Mrs. Claude Howard this week.

The dainty decorations of sweet peas were beautiful.

The prize for high score, Mary Garden satchet, was won by Mrs. B. A. Howard.

A delicious salad course was served after the game.

The substitutes were Mrs. B. A. Howard, Mrs. Mary Bowler and Mrs. Aylett Fitts.

PRESBYTERIAN BROTHERHOOD SOCIAL

The social meeting of the Presbyterian Brotherhood last night was attended by a large and representative crowd of men. The honor guest was M. L. Swinehart, of Kwanku, Korea.

Mr. Swinehart has made a profound impression on the Presbyterian men on his visit here. He spoke last night during the evening, emphasizing Religion and the Modern Man. He illustrated the call for service, from men, among other things saying that each Korean church officer gave about one-third of all his time to church work.

He told some wonderful incidents of the prayer life of the Koreans as illustrative of prayer in the life of the modern man. But the thing in his talk which stirred the men most was his closing remarks on Sacrifice and the Modern Man. The men especially were prepared for this, because it was known to the crowd that Capt. Swinehart had first practiced this before he talked it, giving up a large business career to enter Missionary service. Mr. Swinehart complimented the Presbyterian church on the impression it was making on strangers in Sanford, telling of the conversation he had with a guest at the hotel, in which the stranger asserted that the congregation of the local church was one of the largest and most cordial he had attended in his tour of many states, that their friendliness had taken all feeling of strangeness out of him.

Short talks were made by several other men during the evening.

Capt. Swinehart leaves today for Durham, N. C. He came to Florida especially for this Brotherhood meeting.

SOCIAL DEPARTMENT BRIDGE LUNCHEON

Today is positively the last day that reservations for places can be made for the social department bridge luncheon which will be given at the Woman's Club Tuesday, February 8th. Members of the department must notify Miss Kathryn Wilkey or phone Mrs. A. P. Connelly of their intention to be present, and also the name or names of their guests. No invitations will be issued after today. Each member is entitled to two guests, one of whom must be a paid guest, and a member of another department of the club. These rules will be enforced this year and preparations and plans made for the number only who have notified Miss Wilkey, Mrs. Connelly or Mrs. H. B. Lewis.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 2.—A court of inquiry into the death of a sailor from an American submarine who was recently shot and bayoneted to death by an Italian sentry has found that the sentry acted without justification.

Wider Information on Fruit Markets

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—To extend the service from the "pony" system to one of large proportions, Senator Fletcher, of Florida, was offered an amendment to the agricultural appropriation bill increasing the item for disseminating market reports of fruits and vegetables from $390,000 to $1,100,000. This amendment if agreed to by the committee on agriculture and adopted in conference, will mean that shippers of fruits of all kind in Florida, Georgia and lower California will have, effective July 1, 1921, a large and comprehensive system of market reporting respecting fruits and vegetables, while recently, because of reduced appropriations, only the "pony" or small plan has been in operation.

While Florida, with her large fruit and vegetable shipments would probably be more affected than some of the other states in the South, it would also touch watermelons and peaches from Georgia and vegetables from the fertile section in lower South Carolina. This amendment will be of incalculable value if agreed upon and voted into the bill.

In these days of prices and higher prices we have a certain amount of sympathy for those hardy gentlemen who for years have been boasting of the size of their appetites.

JAIL FOR BOOZE SELLERS INSTEAD OF USUAL FINE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Prohibition leaders in congress are hoping to tighten up the Volstead law.

They are planning new legislation to provide a flat jail sentence for the first offense of selling liquor, without giving the courts the optional right of imposing a fine. Other changes being discussed among the prohibition leaders relate to the search and seizure clause, so as to reach the home brew and to make more sweeping the present law under which a person buying liquor may be punished equally with the person selling it.

Confiscation of every drop of liquor held by citizens, regardless as to when or how it was acquired, is also being urged. This would legalize seizure of all stocks held in private cellar, or safety deposit vaults. Objection to that, however, has been made by some dry leaders on the ground that little such liquor finds its way into channels of bootleg trade and that it won't be long before all such liquor will be used up.

Unless a pending bill, which would permit federal commissioners to try minor liquor cases, is passed, a proposed amendment to the law would take care of this. Federal court dockets are now badly congested with Volstead violations and government officials have reported a change of procedure necessary.

The big fight for amendment will start with the opening of the new session in April, according to dry leaders. They say they have enough votes in the house now put through any added restrictions they might desire, but that there is not enough time left.

Meanwhile, Chairman Volstead of the house judiciary committee, on whose shoulders will fall the bulk of revising and tightening up, is awaiting work from prohibition enforcement officers as to suggestions for making the law bullet proof. He wants the advice of the men charged with responsibility of breaking up the outlaw traffic.

Need for a Big Navy Greater Now Than Ever, Says Daniels

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Feb. 1.—There will be no scrapping of the navy, at least in the near future, Secretary of the Navy Daniels told the regiment of midshipmen in an address tonight before the Young Men's Christian Association at the naval academy.

Secretary Daniels urged the young future officers not to be alarmed at tales that battleships soon would be supplanted by air fighting craft.

"There is greater need now than ever before for a big navy and a string navy, both on, over and under the sea," Mr. Daniels said. "The navy is to the nation what the Gulf Stream is to the ocean. True, they are separate and distinct bodies, but each is a part of the great whole."

The visit of Secretary Daniels today marked his last to the academy, for in a little more than four weeks he will retire with the Wilson cabinet and he grew reminiscent of the eight years he has served as head of the navy.

"FLOWER SHOP" WAS GREAT,
WITNESSED BY A LARGE CROWD,
WILL BE GIVEN AGAIN TONIGHT

Home Talent Gave a Wonderful Play at H.
S. Last Night.

(From Tuesday's Daily)

Too much can not be said in praise of the splendid success of the Flower Shop, which was presented at the High School Auditorium last night before a large and delighted audience, whose frequent applause and hearty bursts of laughter, testified to their appreciation of the rather novel performance; and once again Sanford local talent has scored and won new laurels but—Sanford talent is wonderfully clever and presents splendid ability, musically and dramatically with every re-occurring event where such ability is demonstrated.

Each musical number was a joy and delight, the costumes brilliant and attractive and in the staging and floral effects could be seen the work of a real artist in the fascinating combinations of flowers and colors, lights and shadows.

Each character was so admirably portrayed, it would be impossible to select any one character as the best.

Mrs. A. M. Phillips as Flora, the goddess of flowers, was wonderfully fine throughout in voice and acting and possessing the charm of a beautiful and gracious presence.

Mrs. Earl Burdick, the exquisite little American Beauty sweetheart of Tom, only a mortal, was especially good and charming in every pose and act.

Miss Mildred Holly, perhaps the youngest of the vocalists and dancers, possessed in her attractive young person all the traditions which cluster about the dreamy lotus flower; the grace and delicate imaginative poses of the Egyptian dance. Her number received unstinted applause.

Miss Fern Ward, ever a Sanford favorite, sang with delightful sentiment and with sympathetic appreciation of her song.

Miss Mary Thrasher shared honors with Miss Ward and was also a clever interpreter.

Miss Agnes Dumas, as "Miss Smithers, the old maid," was a roaring comedy all by herself and was conceded to be one of the best portrayals of the whole show, with Miss Helen Hand, as Lestitia, "the negro maid," and Robert Herndon, as Horatio, also a vivid black, running neck and neck for comedy honors, with Miss Dumas.

In their drills and marches, the "Daisy Wreaths" were lovely flower children performing their parts with accuracy and charming abandonment while not one whit less behind them, the "Jonquin Wreaths" were the embodiment of sweetness and grace.

The children in the "Rose Pantomime" formed an enchantingly pretty tableau, their dainty youth and childish grace gaining a new beauty in the artistic poses, the attractive scene enhanced by the sweet song of Flora, "Awakening Her Subjects."

Mr. Lloyd as the "Moon" sang a very delightful solo that was much appreciated and Mrs. Coleman, as the spirit of the basket rising from its flower-bedded depths, was lovely.

The choruses win a big meed of praise for themselves, for each group had its own charm, and the arrangement of the play was most happy. The "Dusky Damsel" chorus was a scream. The "Cottage Scene," featured by little folks, was darling, and received just the loudest plaudits in appreciation. These were indeed clever little kiddies, well placed.

The theme of the play is at once a pretty and humorous conception and its action revolves about the destruction of a rose by Tom, the mortal, reprimanded by Flora, the goddess of flowers, Tom is accused of "murdering the heart of a rose" and is commanded by her to "gaze into the crystal."

The play in its entirety is what Tom sees in a twenty-four hours' trance of "gazing into the crystal ball."

Bright, snappy, with a charm of its own, the Flower Shop is an artistic and clever production.

Mr. Jack Ward produces the play, which will be repeated again tonight for which seats are going rapidly.

BURGLARS BROKE IN MOORE'S STORE AND ARE CAUGHT

(From Tuesday's Daily)

Gus Eaton and Sam Johnson, two gentlemen of color, who disdained to work and took up the more genteel living of filching any and all kinds of things that came their way were caught red handed yesterday by Sheriff Hand and his deputies and Officer Vickery of the city force after they had broken into the store of Mrs. Moore on Celery avenue. They had stolen a rifle and two shotguns and about $100 worth of dry goods and notions and groceries and were caught with the goods in a few hours after the burglary was committed. The officers are to be commended upon rounding up these thieves in such short order and this kind of work will sicken the petty thieving and other breaking of the law in this section of Florida. These negroes were strangers here and are said to have come here with a traveling show several weeks ago and shunning real work of all kinds had to steal for a living. They will not have to steal for a living for some time to come as the county will feed them.

Dutch Farmers
Coming to Inspect
Polk County Farms

A party of one hundred and fifty good old Dutch farmers are coming to Lakeland in about ten days. These men are coming in a special car from their homes in Lancaster county, Pa., and they are going to look over Polk county with a view to settling here.

A letter to this effect has been received by Secretary Holworthy, of the Chamber of Commerce. The party will be in charge of a competent guide, and no real estate men are expected to intrude upon the party.—Lakeland Telegram.

RE-APPORTIONMENT OF STATE OR STATE DIVISION,
SAYS PINELLAS COUNTY

And All of South Florida
Will Join in the Movement

CLEARWATER, Feb. 2.—The legislature of 1921 shall provide a re-apportionment of representation that will be just and equitable, or the trade bodies incorporated in the Pinellas county board of trade will seek redress in the courts to compel such observance of the constitutional requirements and the rules of equity; or failing to secure redress in the courts will work to have the state divided, with Southern Florida a new state.

Such is the gist of a resolution adopted at the meeting of the Pinellas County Board of Trade at Oldsmar yesterday. The resolution follows: "Whereas, the constitution of the state of Florida adopted in 1885, requires that at every ten-year period a redistricting of the state shall be made in order that the people of the state may have a just and equitable representation in the state legislature. "And whereas, the legislature, although often requested and petitioned to do so, has neglected and refused to pass any reapportionment bill.

"And whereas, there has been a phenomenal increase in the population in the southern part of the state, as compared with the northern part of the state, since the last and only apportionment bill was passed, so that the representation of the southern part of the state under the present apportionment law is altogether disproportionate to the population of that section and is unfair; inadequate and unjust to all its people.

"Therefore, resolved, that, in the opinion of this body, representing the several boards of trade of Pinellas county, it is the plain constitutional duty of the legislature of this state at its next session to pass such an apportionment bill as will recognize the rights of the several portions of the state as contemplated by the constitution and we do now and here demand that the state legislature make such a reapportionment of the senatorial and representative districts as will give to each section its proper representation, and to this end we solemnly declare that if which constitutional right be longer disregarded we will apply to the courts for redress, and if such redress be refused for any reason we will proceed to procure a division of the state as our last and only alternative.

ALLEN HELD FOR THE GRAND JURY

DELAND, Feb. 2.—George W. Allen, a sign painter of Daytona and Minneapolis, was today held without bail on charge of complicity in the murder of Grady Hames at Daytona Beach the night of December 26th. County Judge J. Lee McCrory presided at the hearing.

Allen introduced a number of witnesses in an attempt to establish an alibi, but the committing magistrate held him for action of the grand jury which will convene in April.

Lena Hames, sister of the dead man, was the only witness introduced for the state. She testified that Allen was in the party which, after shooting her brother, forcibly abducted her father from their home and took him into the woods and gave him a severe beating.

It was when Grady Hames went to the assistance of his father, after the mob of six or eight men had entered the Hames apartments, that he was shot down, dying a few hours later.

Death Intervenes

RALEIGH, N. C., Feb. 2.—Sarah Wyckoff, seventy-six years old, reached the end of a life sentence in the state prison Monday when she died after forty-two years' imprisonment, having declined a pardon at the hands of five governors and having lived to learn that a death bed confession had completely exonerated her of the charge of murdering her husband.

Forty-two years ago Sarah Wyckoff entered the state prison to serve a life sentence, as the convicted accomplice in the murder of Wesley Wyckoff in Alexander county, in the mountains of North Carolina. The convicted principal, a negro, was hanged. Three years ago from the mountains came word that a death-bed confession had absolved the woman of connection with the tragedy. For the fifth time, she refused a pardon, explaining that she was being treated well, that time had shattered all her relations with her family in the mountains, and that she preferred to spend her last days in prison.

EMERGENCY TARIFF BILL ABOUT DEAD

RESEMBLES WOODEN SHIP THAT IS ADRIFT IN SEA OF BARNACLES

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The Fordney emergency tariff bill has begun to resemble a wooden ship adrift in a barnacle infested sea. With every day seeing encumbrances added to it by opponents and friends, latter today began to see visions of it sinking. The latest acquisitions to the bill appeared today in proposals to place import duties on sunflower seed and nails. It faced a debate in the senate today.

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The Emergency Tariff Bill is in a perilous position today. The vote on the senate's cloture rule was set for one o'clock with its defeat conceded by friend and foe alike, a margin of eight or ten votes less than necessary two-thirds majority for adoption rule is predicted. The advocates promised a fight for the bill's passage even with the rejection of the cloture while others announced the cloture vote would be the signal for a movement to set aside the tariff measure in favor of appropriation bills.

ZACHARY-TYLER COMPANY AMONG SANFORD'S INDUSTRIES, MAKING VEGETABLE CRATES

Have a Most Complete
Veneer Plant and One to Be Proud of

(From Saturday's Daily)
Among the many industries of this city and one that has proven to be of the best is the Zachary-Tyler Veneer Company, manufacturers of the celebrated open-head celery crate. The Zachary-Tyler Company deserve the credit for being the first to recognize the fact that crates could be manufactured here in Sanford. Up to that time it was thought absurd for anyone to attempt making crates here and the only way that they could be obtained was through distributors. All of the money that should have remained here for the expenses of making veneer and crate materials of all kinds went elsewhere. The Zachary-Tyler Company changed all of this a few years ago when, contrary to the expectations of those who imagined that crates should and could only be manufactured some places in the midst of the piney woods, the new Sanford mill went ahead, purchased the best of machinery and equipment and went in for the manufacture of the crates that have since made Sanford famous. All of the money that formerly went elsewhere is now kept at home and the Zachary-Tyler Company finds that the expense of hauling lumber to the mills here is such a small item that it is hardly considered. The company has plenty of lumber to last them for years and they are operating one of the best mills in this part of the state and assisting in making Sanford a manufacturing center. By making crates here they also assisted in keeping prices stable and the growers here can have crates any time, winter or summer.

The Zachary-Tyler Company make the open-head crate that is the strongest crate made and makes up the handsomest package. It is impossible for the heads to pull out and the crate is absolutely guaranteed. The prices are no higher than the ordinary crates and the home company ask that the trade inspect their products first and they will be customers forever after.

LINEN SHOWER FOR HOSPITAL IN FEBRUARY

(From Monday's Daily)
The annual linen shower for Fernand-Laughton Memorial Hospital will be held on February 14th at the home of Mrs. A. E. Hill, who is in charge of the shower. From now until that date the lodges and churches and organizations of all kinds should take up this matter and have the linen all ready for the showing that will be held at the home of Mrs. Hill before presenting the linen to the hospital. The fraternal organizations gave bed spreads last year and this donation will be very acceptable this year. Other organizations can give along the same lines as heretofore but any information on the subject will be given by Mrs. Hill at any time. The hospital has filled a long-felt want in Sanford and those who have been inmates of the hospital during the year can testify to the good treatment and the beautiful building, superbly equipped while they were there. The people have not been approached for any funds for the hospital lately although donations are always acceptable and as the linen in a hospital soon wears out the linen shower this year should be made a big event and everyone who can do so should donate something to this most worthy cause. From now until February 14th the donations will be accepted and should be turned over to Mrs. Hill.

Governor Hardee Reinstates Chancey

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 29.—Governor Cary Hardee yesterday reinstated R. E. L. Chancey as solicitor of the criminal court of records of Hillsborough county, finding that his suspension several months ago by Sidney J. Catts, then governor, was "unwarranted in fact." It will be remembered that Catts at the time after removing Chancey installed in office E. P. Martin, his particular friend, who has since held the office but who now, as the result of the action of Governor Hardee, must yield up the office to the man Governor Hardee is convinced is the rightful holder of it. Mr. Chancey will hold office until the four-year term to which he was elected expires, next June.

Ford and Winter Haven Girl Arrested, Charged "Not Legally Married"

ATLANTA, Jan. 29.—Captain Chas. D. Ford, former finance officer at Camp Gordon, and Mrs. Claire Snell Ford, daughter of a Winter Haven, Fla., banker, whom Ford married in Tampa recently after having wedded overseas, were indicted by the Fulton county grand jury yesterday, charged with a misdemeanor.

The charge against them was that of living together as man and wife though not legally married. Mrs. Catherine Ford, an English woman, who was one of the witnesses against the couple, claims that Captain Ford was married to her in Europe after meeting her in France. Captain Ford was recently arrested on complaint of the English woman who asserts that she lost her wedding certificate when her baggage went astray on her way over to join Ford.

Ford claims he was never married to the English woman and he and the Florida girl assert they were legally married.

CARDUI HELPED REGAIN STRENGTH

Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nervous and Depressed—Read Her Own Story of Recovery.

Paint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stegall of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak, I couldn't walk across the floor; just had to lay and my little ones do the work. I was almost dead. I tried every thing I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any relief. I couldn't eat, and sleep poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her.

"I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since. I sure can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully in the treatment of many womanly ailments.

If you suffer as these women did, take Cardui. It may help you, too. Ask all druggists.

EXPRESS COMPANY CASHIER IN TAMPA HELD UP AND ROBBED IN BROAD DAYLIGHT

Bandits Pull Off Daring
Robbery in Heart of Tampa

TAMPA, Jan. 29.—Entering the main building of the American Railway Express Company at the Union Station at about 4:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon, two men held up Cashier E. F. Smith in most approved "stickup" style and got away with $19,700 in money and two other packages, one of which contained cigars, the other legal papers.

After the robbers had gathered up the packages of money and the other two packages they slipped quietly into the hall and to the west entrance and out into an automobile which was in waiting there, and in which was seated a third member of the gang, and the trio sped away. They had not been apprehended at a late hour last night, and owing to the fact that Smith was able to give but a very poor description of the holdup men, the authorities are none too sanguine of success in their efforts at a capture.

The stickup was made easier than would ordinarily be the case, in that Cashier Smith was just leaving his cage to go to consult with Manager W. J. Eve as the two men entered the hall. Smith says one of the men had a wad of money in his hand and he told the cashier that he desired to get a money order. Smith turned, unlocked his door and was about to enter his cage, when, he says, he felt the muzzle of a revolver at the back of his head and one of the men whispered, menacingly:

"If you make any noise I'll blow your brains out."

Smith was hustled into the cage. There he was told to hold his hands out, and as he did so one of the pair slipped a pair of handcuffs over his wrists and locked them. He was ordered to lie down and keep quiet.

"There are more of us in the party and we've got the whole d— place held up," one of them told him.

Smith was compelled to lie down on the floor behind a counter, and the pair of robbers went to work quickly, at the open safe. They snatched up a number of packages, among them a package containing $14,000 in currency, consigned from the Bank of Clearwater to the Exchange National Bank here; another contained $1,400 from the Citizens-American Bank & Trust Company of this city to the Lake Alfred State Bank; and a package containing $4,300 of mutilated currency, consigned by the Exchange National Bank of Tampa to the Federal Reserve Bank branch at Jacksonville.

After the had grappled up the loot the pair turned to Smith and he was again cautioned to keep quiet. They withdrew quietly and he heard them tiptoe down the hall. A few minutes later M. J. Johnstone, another employee of the express company, had occasion to go to the cashier's office and not seeing Smith called to him and Smith, still in a recumbent position, replied, and told him what had happened. Johnstone helped him to his feet and called in Manager W. J. Eve, and Smith told his story. The police were called.

Tampa Auto Bandits Are Still at Large; Overlooked Diamonds and $1,500 in Cash

TAMPA, Jan. 31.—City and county officers were running down all clues today to the identity or whereabouts of two men who bound and robbed Cashier E. F. Smith of the American Railway Express Company of $19,700 at the union station office late yesterday afternoon.

Rumors were current on the street, this morning that the pair, who escaped in an automobile, had been arrested at Lakeland, but county officers there denied the report.

It developed this morning that the robbers overlooked $1,500 in currency and a package of diamonds which fell to the floor as one of them was looting the safe.

The express company offered a reward of $1,000 for their arrest.

COUNTIES TO BE ORGANIZED

A big organization drive is to be made in Florida from February 1 to 4. These should be memorable days for the farmers of this state. In reality, the farmer is coming into his own. The greatest medium for the elimination of unscrupulous middlemen in the history of agriculture of this country, the farm bureau, will get a firmer hold in this state during the days mentioned.

The secretary of the national organization of the farm bureau, J. W. Coverdale, is coming to assist in this work. He will be met in Pensacola by extension workers of this state, and on the first of February Escambia county will be organized. They will move eastward and help organize Madison county February 2. The Alachua county organization, already perfected, will meet on February 3, at which time Mr. Coverdale will speak. Volusia and Orange counties will organize on February 4.

The number of counties to become officially affiliated with the state and national farm bureau organization is gradually increasing. Last September representatives of five counties met in Gainesville and perfected a state bureau. Since that time four counties, not including the ones mentioned above, have entered the state organization.

The farm bureau is functioning; it has come to stay.

DO NOT WAIT TOO LONG

Materials in all building lines are now at a lower mark than they have been for years, and are at a lower level than they will be in a few weeks hence, if all indications point true.

Conditions in the lumber market are such that every indication points to an early rise in the price of building materials. The simple law of supply and demand, if there were no other influences, is such as to indicate that the present low prices cannot long prevail.

For the past 60 days prices have maintained the unprecedented low level and still remain at that point, but it's not a safe proposition to expect them to remain at this point long.

At the present low prices an opportunity is offered the prospective builder for a tremendous saving in building materials. BUT IN ORDER TO GET THE FULL BENEFIT OF THEM IT WILL BE NECESSARY TO START NOW. SO DON'T DELAY.
