

Government Will Tighten Expansion Plans Of Plants On Defense Orders

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK, May 2—(AP)—The government is tightening the reins on the expanding defense plant expansion program. "It's like driving a team of a hundred horses," says an executive in the National Production Authority. "It's no good if one horse gets ahead of the others. We've got to keep defense production expanding evenly, and still give a fair shake to essential consumer industries, too."

First tightening of the reins takes two forms. The petroleum Administration for defense will consider no more applications for tax concessions to expand basic petroleum refining facilities. And all structural steel is to be allocated among the construction industry during the second half of the year, to fit the expansion needs of the nation's economy as NPA sees them.

"Plant expansion will have to be sequenced to spread out material shortages, such as structural steel," says the NPA official. NPA has been flooded with applications for certifications of necessary under which tax con-

Ruthless German Communist Boss Is Longtime Red

AP Newsfeatures
BERLIN — Germany's No. 1 Communist boss has stopped at nothing to further the Moscow creed. Walter Ulbricht has a sharp tongue, a Lenin beard, and runs the show in East Germany.

He holds the corresponding powerful post in the East German Socialist Unity party that Stalin used to climb to supreme power in Russia—secretary general.

With it the slight, 57-year-old Ulbricht stays in the background, driving his party toward its goal: Communization of Germany.

Ulbricht, who reportedly has Stalin's ear, became a party liner in the earliest days of the Weimar republic. He had been a cabinet maker by trade.

The Nazis ran him out and he went to Moscow, later to Spain, and finally returned to Germany with victorious Russian armies, wearing a Soviet officer's uniform.

When the Reds got the Communist party rolling again in Germany, Ulbricht became known as the "hatchet man." He lurked in the background as only a deputy prime minister.

But nobody in East Germany was fooled.

When his party decided to name a secretary general, there was only one candidate—Walter Ulbricht. Under his relentless drive, East German Communists work ceaselessly and without scruple. The little Leipzig radical with the cold eyes is riding the crest, but he never is ostentatious. He is flanked by bodyguards. He rides in a shiny big sedan. But his private life is not lavish.

Recently he assumed the attitude of a patron saint for the Free German Youth (FDJ), the Communist counterpart of the Hitler Youth of the Nazi era.

Ulbricht, who has closer ties with Russia than any other German, last year made three trips to Moscow.

Everit R. Terhune, vice president of the Chilton Co., New York, publishers of trade magazines, admitted abroad to be a concert violinist before going into the publishing business.

Grandma Fights Back Against Try To Relegate Her To Living Museum

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—"Who said the old-fashioned American grandma had joined the vanished Dodo?"

Who said they ought to find a real oldtime Grandma and Grandpa and put them in a museum for the nostalgic joy of future generations.

Was it I who said the old folks had forsaken the old ways and spent their time now learning the samba and keeping night club operators up past their bedtime? Okay, guilty. I said it. I'm wrong, I retract. I just turns out all I know are grandpas who pursue elderly glamor. Must be I just been circulating in the wrong circles. Got to mend my ways.

Scare as cigar store Indians? Heck. Why, the way the mail has been pouring in the country must be brimful of old-fashioned Grandmas and Grandpas. And the tenor of their letters is this: "What difference does it make whether we are old-fashioned or new-fashioned? Anyone who has lived as long as we have, and done as much, has got a right to run the last lap anyway he wants to."

Granted, Granny! A forsy Grandpa scribbled on a postcard: "Young man, you missed the whole picture. Grandma and I don't have to sit in a chimney corner, and we don't go to night clubs. But we make more money babysitting than we'd get if we

Lewis, Idaho. "And I know that I'm as much loved by my own. Anyway, what grandchild wants Grandma to look like Whistler's mother in this jet age?"

"I still make quilts and sew and mend and wash for my own family. Besides this, old Grandma works in Grandpa's office from 9 A. M. till 5 P. M., and then I go home and prepare dinner."

Grandma White hasn't gone in for peroxide. She is a proud reddish-blond—"The natural hair God gave me."

Grandmother Margaret Ingraham of Beverly, Mass., took time out from spring cleaning to say she enjoyed being old-fashioned and didn't drink or smoke. She has just finished a quilt.

"Although I have no white hairs—or just a few," she wrote, "I wear my hair in straight bangs. I don't resemble Whistler's mother, and 'Grampa' thinks I still look good to him."

Grandmother Ingraham had four sons in the last war, and one is now back in the Navy.

"I feel pretty young for my years," she says, "but although God let me have my boys back last time, I would be a sad sack if I had to go through it again. I pray for peace. But sometimes I think the only peace we have is a little in our hearts, and now and then moments of happiness as we go along."

All right, Grandmas old and new, I've had my spanking.

House Passes $5 Boost In Jobless Pay

Senate Votes Raise For Supreme Court And Circuit Judges; Wildlife Group Hit

TALLAHASSEE, May 4.—(AP)—Florida's top payment to jobless workers would rise $5 a week under a bill passed by the House today.

It would allow a maximum unemployment compensation benefits of $20 a week, instead of the present $15.

The measure now goes to the Senate, where a similar proposal is on the calendar with committee action.

As adopted by the House, the bill would increase only the maximum benefit. The 16-week maximum period for payment of benefits in the present law would be retained.

Neither would there be any change in the present schedule of payments to those not eligible for the maximum, either because they haven't earned enough or worked long enough to qualify for the top benefits.

As approved by committee, the House bill called for maximum payments of $22 a week for a period of 20 weeks, but the House decided to go along with the $20 figure provided in the Senate bill.

The House defeated several attempts to write into the bill a higher schedule of payments over a longer period of time, including a proposal by Rep. Okell of Dade county for 26 weeks. Okell said this was urged by the American Federation of Labor.

The Senate voted 77-8 to raise the salaries to Supreme Court justices to $12,500 and circuit court judges to $8,500.

Justices now get $10,000 and circuit judges $7,500. However, many circuit judges have their pay supplemented by county funds, and would continue to have the extra county pay if the bill becomes a law.

There was no argument on the pay boosts for the Supreme Court justices, but the pay hikes for the judges touched off more than an hour's debate.

The issue came over an amendment which would have had the effect of leaving circuit court judges at their present $7,500 salary. As written the bill would have boosted circuit judges to $10,000.

The amendment was defeated. Then the senators went on to set the circuit judges' salary figure at $8,500.

Proponents of the proposal to give circuit judges $10,000 said (Continued on Page Eight)

House By-Passes Pinellas Demand For Summer Races

TALLAHASSEE, May 4.—(AP)—A bill to permit summer dog racing in Pinellas county stayed on the Florida House calendar today in spite of efforts to knock it off.

Rep. Phillips of Hernando county said its appearance on the calendar was a defeat for "Bill Johnston and all his dog lobby. The dog lobby has been beaten and they don't like it and they're yelling."

William H. Johnston is the owner of four Florida dog tracks. None of them is in Pinellas county. The only Pinellas county track, at St. Petersburg, is independently operated. The closest Johnston track is across the bay at Tampa. Neither it nor the present St. Petersburg track has summer racing.

The attempt to send the Pinellas county to the public amusement committee was made by Rep. Tapp of Monroe county who said he questioned "the rights of the city."

Sunday Beer Ban Is Advocated By Chief Williams

Police Chief Roy Williams addressed the regular meeting of the Sanford Ministerial Association on Thursday of this week.

Chief Williams expressed his desire for complete law enforcement in the city and said, "We need and appreciate the backing of the ministers and all citizens in the matter of better law enforcement."

He expressed the desire that the laws of the county might be made to conform to the laws of the city in respect to the sale of liquor.

The association welcomed Chaplain Broussard of the Naval Air Station, and offered cooperation in his efforts to serve the men there.

Members of the Association were reminded of their unanimous decision to appear before the County Commission at their meeting Tuesday, May 2 and request that the county laws regarding the sale of liquor be revised to conform to those of the city.

Rev. Frank Morgan and Rev. Mr. Standifer of Orlando appeared before the Association and expressed their desire to request the same of the County Commission.

Dr. W. P. Brooks, Rev. Fred Horton, Rev. Frank Morgan, and Rev. E. T. Standifer were named as a committee to draw up plans to enforce the Sanford Ministerial Association into a Seminole County Ministerial Association.

Woodruff's Salary Debated In Senate

TALLAHASSEE, May 4.—(AP)—Foothall Coach Bob Woodruff's $17,500 annual salary at the University of Florida touched off an all-in-fun debate on the Senate floor today.

While debating proposed pay raises for Florida's circuit judges, Senator Cray of Stuart mentioned Woodruff's salary.

He said Woodruff was getting that amount on a seven-year contract, yet Florida couldn't afford to pay its judges but $7,500 a year in State salaries. Many judges have their pay supplemented from county funds.

He called the difference in pay an "absolute absurdity."

However, under questioning, he said "I'm glad we've got a good coach at Florida." He also admitted the college could not have gotten a very good football coach for $7,500.

Senator Shands of Gainesville defended Woodruff's salary, explaining "He doesn't enjoy that handsome retirement plan enjoyed by circuit judges."

Wife Of Former Gambling Czar Is Kidnapped, Ransomed For $30,000

MIAMI, May 4.—(AP)—A $30,000 ransom was paid for the release of a Miami woman kidnaped from her home last Monday, police reported today.

Detective chief H. G. Howard identified the victim as Mrs. Jean Rosenfield, 49, wife of Louis Rosenfield, a former Providence, R. I., resident.

Both Rosenfield and his wife declined to police that she was abducted or that ransom was demanded or paid.

However, Chief Howard reported, "Information came to this office from Mr. Rosenfield that his wife, Jean, had been forcibly taken away."

"During our investigation it was developed that Mrs. Rosenfield was forcibly removed from her residence or vicinity and was being held for ransom. The first ransom price was quoted as $50,000 and later cut to $30,000."

"Payment was made on Miami Beach at approximately 8:30 P. M. May 3 (yesterday) by a relative of the family. It is a known fact that Mrs. Rosenfield had not been home for approximately four days."

"Mr. Rosenfield denies that Mrs. Rosenfield was kidnaped or that any demand was made for ransom, or that any payment was made."

"On May 4 Mrs. Rosenfield was interviewed by detectives and denied being kidnaped, saying it was her own idea to go to Miami for a few days. She said she was talking about."

"Detectives Roy Hancock and Charles Papp interviewed Arthur Tubman at Withers Drug Store on the afternoon of May 2 (Wednesday)."

Two Are Killed In Explosion Of Chemical Plant

PANAMA CITY, May 4.—(AP)—Two persons were killed and one man was missing today after an explosion destroyed the Arizona Chemical Plant here.

Fire swept the plant immediately after the blast and fire fighting forces from the city and nearby Tyndall Field were rushed to the scene.

Police said the dead and missing were members of the plant's night shift. Officers listed the dead as Roland Manuel and William Callaway, missing was William Pellack.

The cause of the explosion was undetermined. The plant, which adjoins the Southern Kraft paper mill, recovers chemicals from the mill's waste products.

A huge brick structure, the plant houses still in its interior, which extend four stories high. One of the recovered products is used as a base for paint in painting.

The old section of the plant was a loss. The blast shook nearby warehouses, tipped over railroad tracks and tipped over (Continued on Page Eight)

Eniwetok Explosion Planned To Test Civilian Atomic Defense Measures

HONOLULU, May 4.—(AP)—The final of the Eniwetok test, designed to get information for planning civilian defense against the atomic bomb, is expected next week.

As indicated by announcements by the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) itself, one chief aim will be to find the kind of factory and civilian shelters needed to withstand atomic blast.

Up through "Operation Sandstone" at Eniwetok in May of 1948, the main purpose of these experiments was to determine the bomb's destructive power and its value as a military weapon.

New "Operation Greenhouse," as it is called, will try to learn designs may afford protection should atomic warheads come to the United States.

The AEC has promised a full report of the current tests to the Civil Defense Administration.

The Commission also told the American Institute for Architects that the impending test will "provide data for the development of design criteria."

The approximate time of the test was established through remarks of two congressional observers, Rep. F. Edward Herbert (D-La.), now on tour to Eniwetok from Honolulu. Herbert has said he expects to return to Washington May 15.

Both Herbert and Magnusson now have signed security pledges not to disclose any information (Continued on Page Eight)

Chinese Lick Wounds After Disastrous Spring Offensive

TOKYO, May 4.—(AP)—General Matthew B. Ridgway returned today from the Korean front confident Chinese armies will "continue to pay the bloody price they have been paying" as long as they stay in Korea.

By U.S. CLEMENTS

TOKYO, May 4.—(AP)—General Matthew B. Ridgway returned today from the Korean front confident Chinese armies will "continue to pay the bloody price they have been paying" as long as they stay in Korea.

On a two-day trip the United Nations supreme commander saw a front dominated by Allied planes and freely roaming U. N. tanks.

Ridgway shared with his front line troops their "complete confidence, complete self-assurance in their ability to handle anything that's thrown at them."

Friday the Reds threw artillery, mortar and high velocity shells from self-propelled guns at tank columns fanning out from Seoul.

For the third straight day a heavy tank force nudged Uposonbu 11 miles north of Seoul. The tanks' guns added to the daily toll of Red casualties. Communists made no attacks.

"So far the only things they've succeeded in destroying are a few tens of thousand more of their own men," Ridgway said.

"And so far as I can see they're going to continue to do that," he continued to pay the bloody price they've been paying."

By U. S. EIGHTH ARMY estimates the price is close to 80,000 Red casualties since their now-bogged-down spring offensive started Apr. 22. The Eighth Army resist its estimate of Thursday's Communist losses to 12,000.

On his third trip to the front since he became supreme commander, Ridgway wondered "how long those Chinese and North Korean fellows are going to continue to put up with the empty Communist promises to throw us out of Korea and destroy the United Nations army."

The Reds were gathering today under the protective cover of rain clouds for another attempt.

"It's a tragic thing," Ridgway said, "that they have to sacrifice so many tens of thousands of people and continue to devastate this country for their own aggressive, selfish ends."

"Whatever the enemy does he will get more than he reckoned for."

General Claims World Communism Is Foe In Heated Debate With Sen. McMahon

WASHINGTON, May 4.—(AP)—General Douglas MacArthur said today he understands Secretary of Defense Marshall has ruled a Korean peace conference should discuss Formosa's fate and admission of the Chinese Reds to the United Nations.

Arthur Williams Is Given 8 Years For Manslaughter

Arthur Williams, Negro, who had pleaded guilty to a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Howard Graham, 18, in a traffic accident at Twenty-fifth Street and French Avenue on Jan. 7, was today sentenced by Circuit Judge M. B. Smith to eight years in Raiford Penitentiary.

Williams was found to have had no previous criminal record. At the time of the accident he was driving an automobile and taking an injured friend to the hospital. The accident resulted in the death later of Mrs. Louise McKinnis, local telephone operator.

Wills Spearman, Negro, drew a sentence of two years at Raiford for breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony.

Ray Register, who pleaded guilty to breaking and entering a cottage near Lake Harney, was given an 18 month sentence at Raiford. Ernest White, Negro, was sentenced to three years for breaking and entering with intent to commit a misdemeanor.

A motion for a new trial in the case of James Lemon, Negro, who had been found guilty of rape, was presented by the latter's attorney, Tom Watson, Orlando. The jury had recommended mercy in this case. Judge Smith withheld his ruling regarding the new trial.

Kidnapping

Tubman said he was contacted by Mr. Rosenfeld who stated that a woman had called him and asked for $30,000 and $100 bills.
"This money was given to a member of the family who made contact and pay off according to our information on the ocean front in the 1600 Block of Collins Ave. Sometime between 8 and 8:30 P. M. last night, May 3."
"This morning (May 4) Rosenfeld and his wife when confronted with this information still both denied any kidnapping or ransom demands or any payoffs."
The Miami Daily News said the victim's husband was also known as "Chick" Rosenfeld and was formerly identified with gambling activities in Rhode Island.
In a copyrighted story, the newspaper said Mrs. Rosenfeld was kidnapped from her Cadillac convertible in front of their apartment home at 12:30 A. M. Monday.
A few minutes later, it added, a male voice on the telephone told Rosenfeld, "Don't worry about your wife. She will be all right, and won't be hurt unless you call the cops."
The woman had returned home after attending a movie. The telephone call came soon after when Rosenfeld arrived from a Miami Beach drug store of which he is part owner. Their apartment is on the Venetian causeway, which links Miami with Miami Beach.
"Later more calls came to the unlisted telephone in the apartment" and to the drug store, the News said.
"Each warned of death to his wife of 26 years if police or the FBI were called."
The demand, it was learned, was for $50,000, but a source close to Rosenfeld said the one-time wealthy racketeer could get up only $30,000, most of it borrowed.
The News continued: "The case first started to break when Rosenfeld received a call to be at International (Miami) Airport at 6:45 P.M. last night and wait to be paged. Presumably he was to be given instructions where and how to transfer the money."
"He waited until 9:30, then left. It could not be learned what developed after that, where or how the money changed hands. The associate however said he had learned that the victim was not harmed, or even treated with any disrespect."
The News said Rosenfeld slammed his apartment door in the faces of reporters who sought to inquire about the ransom payment. It reported Mrs. Rosenfeld was in a hysterical condition.

Red Cross First Aid Classes Are Begun

John O. Andes and Walter J. Krohne, Junior Red Cross instructors in first aid for the Civil Air Corps, completed the training Monday night at the Geneva Community Hall of the first of a series of 10 week courses.
Among those receiving first aid instruction were Mrs. Walter Yarbrough, Mrs. W. G. Kilbee, Mrs. Lewis Bradmeier, Mrs. Calvin Oldham, Mrs. John Leffler, Mrs. Ida Woodruff, Mrs. J. N. Billrey, Miss Imogene Bostick, and Miss Mary Oldham.
Men who took the course were Edward Yarbrough, Thomas Andes and Lee Parmeter. All have been issued certificates by the Sanford Red Cross chapter identifying them as competent to administer first aid.
Herman E. Morris is now forming classes in first aid in Sanford and applicants are advised to contact him by telephone. This is another Red Cross activity.
Federal Bureau of Investigation officers in Miami said they "have no jurisdiction in the case" and would not even comment. They explained they could enter the case only when a kidnap victim was transported from one state to another, or had been released within seven days.
The News said Rosenfeld had a long police record before he came to Miami from Rhode Island nearly two years ago. On June 9, 1950 it said, police at Cranston, R. I., ordered disconnection of four telephone wires leading to Rosenfeld's home at Pawtuxet, R. I., the Cranston gambling squad leader was quoted as saying the removal of the lines "put out of business one of the biggest house books in this area."

STOP BAILING...
because the bucket LEAKS?
TELL that to the next alarmist who criticizes the buying of U. S. Savings Bonds! Sure, the value of our dollar has declined in recent years... causing ALL long range investments to "leak" a little. Savings, insurance benefits, pensions, too! But is this cause to THROW AWAY one of our strongest hopes of regaining stability; to stop our best way of putting aside excess buying power which in itself is most responsible for the leak? On the contrary. Now is the time to BUY MORE BONDS, hang on to the ones you have, and to put away as much as possible in savings accounts. Only by making the most of what we have, by buying only what we need, and by avoiding the temptations of easy credit pitfalls can the inflationary tide be stemmed.
STOP BAILING? America stands high today because Americans yesterday took pride in doing the best they could with the tools on hand!

 That punishment inevitably accompanies or follows sin is stressed in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Eviscerating Punishment" which will be read in all Christian Science churches next Sunday.
 Ezekiel's ringing words, "Repent, and turn yourselves from all your transgressions; so iniquity shall not be your ruin" (Ezek. 18: 30), constitute the Golden Text.
 Bible passages include the following from Ezekiel: "Have I any pleasure at all that the wicked should die? saith the Lord God; and not that he should return from his ways, and live?" (Ezek. 18: 32).
 Among the correlative readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is this reassuring statement: "It is error to suffer for aught but your own sins. Christ or Truth will destroy all other supposed suffering, and real suffering for your own sins will cease in proportion as the sin ceases" (p. 391).

TODAY'S HIGHLIGHTS

Let your deeds speak for you rather than your tongue. Heartful-ness is a sign of weakness. The tongue is a little member, and speaketh great things.—James 5:5.

Britain's Socialist government has decided to stop furnishing false teeth free of charge to the public. Evidently it bit off more than it could chew.

It is a poor day that doesn't bring up some new controversy
these days, and the newspapers
it seems, are right in the middle of all of them.

We suppose there is some point
in holding the MacArthur hearing in secret, but when you have 96 senators present, you might just as well open it up to the public. If you want to keep anything secret,
the last person in the world you want to tell is a senator.

Worth remembering by everyone as repercussions from the Senate Crime Committee's report reverbates throughout next year's political campaigns is that the chairman of this committee is Estes Kefauver, a Southern Democrat from Tennessee.

Secretary Acheson rises to the defense of Bill O'Dwyer, who the Kefauver Crime Committee said appointed criminals to office in New York City, and says he does not see how this has hurt his usefulness as ambassador to Mexico. Secretary Acheson also defended Alger Hiss who now reposes behind "oil bars."

Braley Otham offers to meet Governor Warren on the steps of the Capitol in Tallahassee and debate with him the Governor's connection with gambling in this state. But Warren is not likely to accept any such challenge as that.
He knows there is too much to tell, too much that has not yet been told and that Braley is the boy who will tell it on him.

General MacArthur says the manner of his dismissal by President Truman . . . the unexpected order released in the middle of the night without warning stopping the general of his authority over troops in the field—endangered the security of the nation. And what we would like to know is who influenced the President to issue such an order in the middle of the night.

Congratulations to the Kiwanis Club and the Jaycees for backing up the Ministerial Association in asking for a ban on Sunday beer.
To their side of the argument
we are glad to lend our own small voice. No one has a right to engage in a business on Sunday
which creates a nuisance for so many other people or endangers
the lives of so many motorists out for a pleasant Sunday afternoon drive.

Governor Warren's reply to Senator Kefauver was as inappropriate as it was misleading.
Kefauver's latest attack upon me," says our Governor. "Is false, malicious and cowardly."
Kefauver's cowardly attacks upon me were "made pursuant to a deal he entered into with political enemies of mine in Miami, Florida, whereby he would smear me in return for their promise to try to deliver to him for President the votes of Florida's delegates to the Democratic National Convention
next year."

Spring Moving

On of the most serious problems that beset men each spring housecleaning, particularly that aspect of cleaning the house that involves moving furniture. It is generally recognized that if all the furniture that will be moved in parlors throughout the United States in any spring season were stacked, one piece on top of the other, the last article of furniture would reach the moon. The result of all this labor sometimes seems beneficial, if chiefly to the companies that manufacture liniment to soothe the aching backs of the men who do it.

There are several methods by which the man of the house can avoid moving furniture. He can, in the still of night, grab a fast train out of town. This is a cowardly approach to the problem and is an admission on the part of the man that his wits are not sharp enough to find any other solution. Besides, when he returns from his train trip he may find that the work is still waiting for him.

A man can also feign illness and a doctor's back. He can take to his bed and send for the doctor. In such instance, the doctor must be one who can be depended on to render a verdict that will help the good cause.

Perhaps the safest and easiest method of dealing with the situation is to approach it with a will and finish it. As for the inconvenience of having one's favorite chair in a strange position, the situation is at worst only temporary.
Next week the lady of the house will decide that she wants it moved back where it was.

The Day Of The Mongols

The report that Mongol troops are reinforcing the Chinese in Korea would once have been news of the first order. In the thirteenth century the Mongols, now obscure tribesmen in Eastern Asia, were the terror of the world.

Under Genghis Khan and his successors they built the largest continuous land empire in history, including China, Central Asia, Asia Minor and Russia. Their armies overran
Poland and Hungary, and won a battle in eastern Germany
before the news of the death of their emperor in the Far East impelled them to return. The traces of their brutal rule over Russia, lasting 250 years, can still be seen in the history of the czars and now in the Stalin regime.

Those days of Mongol military greatness are long past.
Soon after their conquests the Mongol embraced the peaceful religion of Buddhism, and have since been quiet herd-men, bullied by both Chinese and Russians. It would be interesting to know if their reported entry into the war indicates a revival of their old military spirit or whether, like other victims of Communism, they have been forced into the army.

Working While Talking

The labor organizations have returned to the federal defense agencies while maintaining that they still have many complaints against the setup and still think many injustices need to be remedied. In doing so, the labor groups return to the idea of trying to keep the wheels moving while looking for settlement of disputes.

Occasionally it may be a good idea to stop everything
while and argument in worked out, but usually the argument might as well be settled without the interruption of progress and accomplishment. In these times, when there is so much to be done and the sense of hurry prevades so much of our national program, it seems to be important to keep things going whenever possible.

When work needs to be done, we should be able to talk over our differences and to go on working while we do it.

Arrival Of Spring Finds American
Girls Better Looking Than Ever

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK. —(AP)—Practice puts by the poor man's philosoph-

Are American girls better looking this spring?
An informal poll at V office watering trough disclosed that everybody thought the girls were more beautiful all right, but for varying reasons.

"They're rounder," said a fellow who likes 'em plump. "Winter feet must have been more painful this year."

"They're more slender," said
a fellow who prefers an thin. "It's probably some new type out-of-right armor they've uncased in.
It doesn't let them overflow so much."

"Nope, you're wrong," objected another. "It's just that you can see them more like nature made them. They don't wear those cincus tents like they did a couple of years back."

"I think it's because they're aren't so many of them walking around like ducks," remarked a fourth. "Not so many wearing those flat-footed slippers that make them look they were hiking off to dance in a ballet."

"It's because they are more intelligent—wisdom always makes people look better, even girls," insisted the office optimist.

"You're all crazy," grunted the office cynic. "They look better to you because you're all a year older yourself. The older you get, the prettier they look—damn life anyway."

Well, whatever the reason,
girls, the verdict is unanimous:
you look prettier this year than ever.

Personally, I like stories about children. Here's a couple from the suburbs:

A schoolteacher, taking her third grade pupils over the burdies of grammar, had brought them to the problem of punctuation marks. They found the spots troubles particularly difficult to understand.

They just call them flying complained one little girl. "That's hard to pronounce. Why don't they just call them mlying commas?"

And doesn't that make wonderful commensense?

The father of a ten-year-old girl recently received a telephone call from one of her pre-teen-age male scholastics, asking his daughter's hand in marriage.

The startled father fought that request down firmly.

"Well, then, can I take her to the movies Saturday?" asked the small dem. asked girl at the other end of the line. "We're all going."

The dazed parent decided he had better to consent to this—and did.

"You know," replied his little future son-in-law cautiously,
"everybody pays his own way in."

THE NATION TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, May 4—(AP)—
This was the day when we were supposed to begin to get our thinking straightened out on the Truman-MacArthur dispute.

The General was to start off
the day by being first to testify at the inquiry of the Senate's Armed Services and Foreign Relations committees.

But even before the day began
there was good reason to believe the public may wind up more confused than it was before the inquiry started.

For before the General could appear and swear to tell the whole truth and nothing but the truth there was a brand new dispute.

Should the inquiry be open to the public or be held behind closed doors, with the public and newsmen barred?

The decision to make it a closed-door hearing was taken earlier this week when a majority of the 25 senators on the two committees voted for it that way.

But the majority of the 25
Democrats demanded that they had a majority, they were able to outvote the Republicans who wanted open hearings.

And last night anyone who thought the Truman-MacArthur dispute hereafter might be saved from politics must have been slightly disillusioned.

For last night the Republicans in the full senate (not just on the committee) demanded that today's hearings be opened to the public.

Standing just as solidly together—except for McCarran of Nevada, who voted with the Republicans—the Democrats beat down
the Republican demand.

Although this was strictly a political performance, a legitimate question can be raised by both sides.

1. Should the inquiry be held closed doors?

There's an answer in favor of
that: in the questioning of Mac-Arthur and the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the committee has asked some questions may be asked, answers given, deeply involving this country's security.

If they were blurted out for all
to hear, including the Russians,
the country might suffer real damage. Further, the hearings will not be completely closed.

Except for statements which involve military or security matters,
a full questioning and answer
will be made public promptly.

2. Should the inquiry be open to the public?

There's an answer in favor of
that: The public has been aroused to a great pitch of interest over the dispute and has a right to full information, except what truly involves national security.

If a security question arises
that witness whether it's Mac-Arthur or a member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff—can answer that one later behind closed doors.

But at least a public hearing would be assurance to everyone that what was being withheld or covered up—except security questions.

Those mainly, are the two arguments.

At the time this is being written—early today—it would seem,
from the turn of events, that now
only a miracle can save this dispute from being thoroughly fouled up in politics.

It is easy to see why: The Republicans call charge the Democrats with being afraid to throw the inquiry open; the Democrats can charge the Republicans with recklessness in wanting open hearings.

But any closed-door inquiry becomes a rumor factory, spewing out reports, true and false, that so-and-so really said this or that or that the Truman Democrats were afraid to let this out, or that out.

That kind of business can go

THE WORLD TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Prime Minister Nehru's warning to India's hundreds of deposed princes to cooperate with the new government is the latest in the series of just what has happened to these bejeweled potentates since the establishment of the republic.

Nehru's rebuke came in connection with the affairs of the 44-year-old Gokhwar of Baroda—formerly one of the greatest of the princes. The premier told Parliament that a few of the rulers haven't appreciated the obligations that rest upon them under the new regime, and he cited the Gokhwar as being one of them.

The government is stripping
the Gokhwar of his titles, privileges and $554,000 annual pension as punishment. And that is likely to hurt his highness mightily, for money runs through his fingers
like millet seeds through a funnel. He is appealing his case.

Meantime his prerogatives have been turned over to his son.

Well now, how does it come about that the princes still retain some of the trappings of royalty under the republic? There were about 600 of these rulers under the empire, and many of them not only possessed fabulous wealth but had the power of life and death over their humble subjects. A great number of the thrones were hundreds of years old, and the Maharajahs were proud of their prerogatives.

Obviously these princelings
and their rulers couldn't be abolished willy-nilly without compensation of some sort. So the Indian government decided to incorporate the states into the various Indian provinces and,
where feasible, employ the princes as sub-governors with liberal pensions. This is a logical arrangement, since the guidance of the rulers is needed in some of the states. This scheme may change, of course, in succeeding generations.

In some cases several adjoining states have been merged into
one. An example of this is seen in the great province of the Pan-jab where ten princelings have been made into one, which is called Madhyabharat. The Maharaja of the former state of Patiala is governor. Another prince acts as sub-governor, an arrangement which also is in effect in other similar cases.

The state of Baroda was merged with Bombay in 1949. The major change made against the ruler was the abolition of his title and his prerogatives.

Information involving national security may be "leaked" out of these hearings, thus defeating the alleged reasons for making hearings closed in the first place.

And General MacArthur himself yesterday probably see no
edge the teeth of the Democrats who already have expressed the public's wish of trying to strip
Arthur to make political hay.

The General let it be known,
through an aide, that he would welcome the opportunity to make public appearances wherever possible.

It may be that the General
could make a hundred such appearances and never once make a statement which President Truman's supporters could interpret as being purely political and intended to hurt the Democrats.
But it isn't likely.

And if the Trumanites get sufficiently fed up on the General's statements, there's no doubt they'll open up on him more savagely than they've done so far.
Then the General will be up to his neck in politics, whether he likes it or not.

And there's always the chance
that the General, who has made it known that he wants to operate on a high plane, will wind up as a political football in the increasingly fierce struggle between Democrats and Republicans.

Sanford Giants Lose Twin Bill To Red Hot Packers 8 To 2 And 14 To 5

LEESBURG, May 4.—(Special)—The Leesburg Packers, shaking off the dust of the second division, went into a third place tie with Daytona Beach last night by defeating the Sanford giants in both games.

George Gaines gave up only three hits to the weak hitting Sanford club in the first game as the Packers were never in danger. Two of these came on home runs by Tim Dolan and Joe Parise.

In the second game Slim Deatherage got his lumps in a hurry as Leesburg lattered him for eight runs in less than two innings. The Giants never recovered from the shock although taking up five runs in a series of weak rallies.

The Giants get a chance for revenge on the up and coming Leesburg crew tonight in a game which starts at 8 P. M. at the Municipal Ball Park.

Rollins, FSC and Macon Drops First Tampa Will Meet In Rowing Classic

LAKELAND, May 4.—(Special)—Rowing crews from Florida Southern College, the University of Tampa, and Rollins College will meet their eight oared shells in Florida water for the first time this year when they meet in the third annual State Championship regatta at Tampa Saturday afternoon.

The three contenders for the state rowing crown will be set out on the mile-long Hillsborough river course where the Florida crew season traditionally gets underway in February. This year the host crew, under Coach Art Trubiano, will be heavy favorites to wrest the coveted championship from the incumbent Rollins team.

In races this year the Spartan crew has scored decisive wins over both Florida Southern and Rollins for an unbeaten record in state intercollegiate competition. Southern's Maccasius with a win over Rollins in a three college race with Boston University last March 24 at Winter Park holds the second favored spot. However, Dr. O. T. Bradley's Tara, with an enviable reputation as tough, late season opponents are not ruled out for an upset victory.

The Florida Southern College Moca, under Coach Roy Couch, have pulled their 12 foot sweeps to victory in four races this year. Winning over the Savannah-Columbia game was rained out.

Augusta's third victory in three games wasn't decided until the third inning when Rabbit Rider tripled to score Joe Fortin from first base. Monte Lopez started for Augusta and Buzz Bell for Columbia, but neither lasted long. Bill Ne replaced Bell, Myron Bourdette went in for Lopez, and the two relievers pitched scoreless ball until Rider hit his triple.

The Montgomery-Jacksonville game also produced a big ninth inning—a four-run splurge for Montgomery. Finch Bence threw Davis singled home the tying run. Then Mack McWhorter scored the winner when Jacksonville catcher Joe Stringfellow dropped a throw to the plate.

Panama City Wins Again In Infant Baseball League

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
The game of baseball—had weather—finally caught up with Florida League last night.

For the first time in the short history of the league, rain interrupted the program. Panama City defeated Tallahassee 6-5 in the only game played. Dothan at Headland and Ozark at Enterprise were rained out.

Panama City has played 11 games and won only three. But all the victories have come this week and each was by a one-run margin. Panama City got off to a four-run lead in the first inning and added just enough runs in the eighth to defeat their fellow Floridians. Each team got 11 hits while Tallahassee made twice as many errors as Panama City—four to two.

Both Panama City runs in the eighth were unearned. In the big first inning Panama City lunched for hits. Tallahassee pulled even in the fifth inning when catcher Tommy Venn homered with a man on base to tie the score at 4-4. Tallahassee playing manager Coach Quimby homered in the sixth to temporarily put Tallahassee ahead 5-4. The homer was Quimby's third of the season.

Bruce Foster was the winning pitcher for the second time this season. His record is two-two. Last night's lone game didn't affect the standings as Headland and Ozark remained tied for first but Panama City's win lifted it to within half a game of fifth place Dothan.

The Macon Peaches are potent against low raters but matched with their near equals—the Charleston Rebels—they don't look so powerful.

Charleston defeated Macon, winner of the 1949 and 1950 South Atlantic League pennants, last night and turned in a fair profit for the job. The victory made it two in a row for the Rebels over Macon and lifted Charleston to within a half game of first place in the Sally.

Macon, which so far hadn't lost two consecutive games this season holds that shaky lead. Charleston also proved that Macon can be whipped in Macon. Both victories were scored on Macon's Williams Field. No other Sally team has whipped Macon at home this season. Every victory in the three-game series was by a one-run margin—Macon won the first 8-7 and Charleston the next two 4-3 and 3-2. The loss of the series also was a first for Macon.

Earl M. Brown, who served connection at Auburn in a spectacular row after the 1950 football season was signed as an assistant coach by the Detroit Lions today.

The pro club of the National Football League said that Brown's signing completes its rebuilt coaching staff for the 1951 season.

Brown, Michigan-born former star end at Notre Dame, left Auburn in a climax to a routine which even involved his triple state government.

At one time the Governor's mansion was the scene of an effort to straighten out matters. Brown became head coach at Auburn in 1948. His fortunes were thin, however. His supporters blamed this on lack of material. Previously Brown had coached at Harvard, Brown, Dartmouth and Castleton.

Coach Buddy Parker of the Lions said Brown would bring to the Lions' staff "the qualifications I believe we will need to assist in the development of a winning team."

Rising Costs And Emergency Cause 23 Colleges To Give Up Football

By WILL GRIMSLEY
NEW YORK, May 4.—(AP)—College football's modern scion—high finance and draft-riddled talent—are cutting so sharply that many of the nation's institutions can't take it.

Since the end of the last season 23 colleges have dropped intercollegiate football and two others are on the brink of making the jump. If these two—Glasboro (N. J.) Teachers and St. Martin's of Washington—take the leap, the casualty list for the past two years will number 27. Portland (Ore.) and Rollins called it quits after 1949.

The reasons generally were the same. It costs too much to try to maintain a profitable football team. Uncle Sam is grabbing up too much of the available manpower.

Most of the walkouts have been in the ranks of the smaller and junior colleges, but not all. Duquesne pulled out after winning two games, losing six and tying one of a nine-game schedule. The official reason was "the national emergency and declining revenues."

St. Mary's which played a man sized schedule over an ambitious period of 47 years, quit with this statement: "The financial loss entailed in maintaining a major athletic program and the growing difficulty of sustaining academic standards in the face of inflated competition, particularly in football, prompts the move."

Georgetown, one of the nation's oldest football colleges, roped the sport with reference to "uncertainty of the times" and "financial resources," which it said could be spent in a better way for most of the student body.

Southern Idaho and northern Idaho were ordered closed by the Idaho board of education. There is agitation to support the schools by other means but no football is planned.

Canterbury of Indiana is so hard up financially its buildings have been offered for sale to Indiana State. It won't field a team. The East is suffering the most. Nine schools there have pulled out of football.

In the South, four schools have called it quits as far as football is concerned—High Point (N. C.), Atlantic Christian (N. C.), Milligan (Tenn.) and Tusculum (Tenn.).

Governor's Aid Asked To Get 2 Men To Appear

Warren Requested To Produce Backers For Investigation Of Campaign Deals

TALLAHASSEE, May 7—(AP)—The Senate today passed a bill which would require Governor Warren to appear before the Legislature and signed by Governor Warren last Friday afternoon, Senator L. F. Doyle announced today.

TALLAHASSEE, May 7—(AP)—Governor Warren told a committee of Florida legislators today he will do his best to persuade William H. Johnston and Louis Wolfson to appear before the House committee to investigate reported political corruption in the state.

TALLAHASSEE, May 7—(AP)—The Florida House today named a three man committee to urge Governor Warren to use every means in his power to persuade William H. Johnston and Louis Wolfson to appear before the Haley committee.

The committee, composed of three former House speakers, went immediately to give the resolution personally to Governor Warren. The former speakers are Reps. Simpson of Jefferson, Murray of Polk and Beasley of Walton counties.

After a conference of 15 minutes or so with the Governor, the committee members reported Warren told them he "would be very happy to meet the request of the House."

Rep. Simpson said Warren said he "felt they owed it to the state and to him to come down and testify." The Governor pointed out, however, that he had no means of compelling the two to appear.

He said, though, he would try to do so as an individual as a Governor-elect.

Simpson said Warren told the Governor that in "the minds of many people the fact that they had not come was an admission of guilt."

In Washington, Wolfson told a reporter it would be hard for him to appear within the next 10 days because of appointments elsewhere.

He said he isn't trying to avoid appearing before the committee and will get in touch with it today to "see what the status is."

Earlier, the investigating committee of the Florida House issued a public invitation in Wolfson and Johnston to appear before it.

Meanwhile opposition developed in the Senate against having former Governor Millard Caldwell address a joint session of the Legislature May 14.

Caldwell is now head of the (Continued On Page Three)

Rental Survey Of Housing Promised

The Sanford Rent Advisory Board met Thursday afternoon with Sam N. Evans, liaison officer of the Atlanta Regional Office of the housing expedition, and requested that a rental survey of housing be made in Sanford in the near future. W. R. Williams, chairman of the local board, announced this morning.

Members of the board include Hill Kirk, Frank R. Lecher, A. C. Moore and Les R. Ashdown.

"No rent control is in prospect for Sanford unless the survey shows that landlords are charging excessive rents for houses and apartments," said Mr. Williams. "It is just up to the people to be reasonable in rents," he declared. "If they raise prices there may be rent control."

Party Is Given At Service Center To Welcome Air Station Personnel

Sanford and Seminole County through its Chamber of Commerce welcomed personnel of the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station with a gala party and entertainment at the Servicemen's Center in the Chamber of Commerce Saturday night at which more than 300 persons were present.

The program was sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club, in co-operation with representatives of the Naval Affairs Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, and Manager Ed Whitney.

Mr. Whitney was the first to greet the Navy men, pointed out that a "joke organ" had been provided for the evening and that ping pong tables and other recreational equipment will be installed soon.

In behalf of the City, Mayor Fred Dyson welcomed the Navy men, and stated that the City would be glad to co-operate in every way in contributing to their well being.

Capt. John L. Chittenden, commander of the air station, responded to the greeting. He stressed the friendly spirit that Sanford had formerly extended to the Navy here, pointed out that when he had received his orders about a month ago to proceed here, he was asked by other naval officers and men, "How lucky can one man get?"

With the other officers and men present, Capt. Chittenden joined in the fun, which included an impromptu grand march by the men staged by Mrs. Edward Lane, who played on the piano, and sang "Here Comes the Navy," the Misses Dorothy and Margaret Von Herbulis were "drafted into duty" to carry the flag, and the party got off to a merry start.

Mrs. Lane, who formerly spent much time entertaining naval personnel here, also sang a welcoming song with original words, and led in group singing.

Other officers present with Capt. Chittenden were Lieut. Comdr. F. Winter Trappin, commanding officer of EASRON 821; Comdr. G. Russell Pearson, station executive officer, Lieut. Comdr. Edward Harmyer, executive officer, EASRON 821, and Lieut. John Granston of EAS- (Continued On Page Three)

Western Powers Crusade Against Apathy Is Asked By Defense Chief

WASHINGTON, May 7—(AP)—Civil Defense Administrator Millard Caldwell today urged a "nationwide crusade against apathy."

"We must make it clear that there is a defense against the atomic bomb—not perfect, but a good one," Caldwell said in a speech prepared for the opening session of a two-day Civil Defense conference.

Caldwell declared that too many people in this country fall into one of two groups—those who are apathetic about the A-bomb and its effects or those who are best "by fear and helplessness."

"Our problem is to get those people to understand that an atomic attack does not spell doom to understand that by taking certain simple precautions most people can continue to live and to work," he said. "We must persuade them to stop defying the first law of nature—that of survival."

Caldwell declared that well organized civil defense can reduce casualties from a bombing attack at least by half "and keep the cities and production lines in operation."

The conference was expected to attract more than 1,500 leaders of some 250 national organizations with a total membership of 50,000,000. Caldwell said it was called "to mobilize the organizational leadership of the nation to sponsor a program of public education for national survival."

President Truman is scheduled to address the delegates at a dinner tonight in the Butler Hotel. Secretary of Defense Marshall has been asked to speak at a luncheon today.

In addition to leaders of civic, fraternal, religious, professional, labor, veterans and women's groups, Caldwell said, several state governors and federal officials will participate in the (Continued On Page Three)

Patrols Probe At Retreating Chinese Reds

Communists Attempt To Supply Depleted Front Line Troops; Night Jet Appears

By OLEN CLEMENTS
TOKYO, May 7—(AP)—South Korean infantrymen pushed the ends of the battle line northward today. Other U. N. forces took up the slack in the west while armored patrols probed for withdrawing Reds.

South Koreans pressed across the 38th Parallel toward Red-held line in the east. Other republican troops moved the western anchor of the Korea fighting line further northwest of Seoul.

A tank-infantry column tumbled through Chunchon on the east-central front Monday, and a mile beyond, without meeting opposition.

Other armored groups fared out all along the center. They found no Reds.

Communists sniped on tank expeditions in the west Monday. A U. S. Eighth Army communique said Reds reportedly fired rockets at tanks east of Uijongbu.

American jets left their rockets behind for a mass bomb attack on Red troop, supply and transport centers north of the Communist capital of Pyongyang. Thirty-five Shooting Stars made bomb raids in three waves on railway yards in the Suncheon area.

The Pyongyang radio claimed six U. N. planes were shot down and five airmen captured. The Allied command does not comment on Red propaganda claims. The Red broadcast also listed three asserted wartime U. N. losses: 65,000 troops captured, 326,000 casualties, 1,900 planes destroyed or damaged.

Red ground forces made their strongest bid northwest of Seoul. South Korean troops made a limited advance against North Koreans who had been told there (Continued On Page Two)

Three Are Injured In Five Accidents Involving Autos

Five accidents, one involving injury to a horse, occurred during the week end in the vicinity of Sanford, State Highway Patrolman R. D. Harrison reported this morning.

The injured were Hosen Foster, D. H. Clements and W. T. Dunn, local painters who were treated at Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital for minor cuts and bruises after the 1950 Chevrolet that Foster was driving left the old Orlando road at the turn near the Baker Dairy farm last night at 8:00 o'clock, jumped the ditch and landed upside down. The case is still being investigated.

Four occupants of a 1950 Ford Sedan, driven Friday night at 7:45 o'clock by Samuel Leonard Whately, narrowly escaped injury when the car hit the rear bumper of the automobile of Raymond Fryer as he was about to make a left turn to the Sanford Farmers Auction on the Orlando Highway, said Mr. Harrison.

The Ford went out of control, turned completely over and landed on its wheels. Passengers in the car were Barbara Cassabe, Leonard Jones and Paullette Casson. No charges were made.

A collision in which two automobiles were damaged occurred at 1:00 A. M. Saturday in front of the San Orto Club on the Orlando Highway. A 1941 Pontiac coupe driven by Richard Rose of Daytona Beach had $200 damage, and another automobile driven by N. W. Coghurn had $200 damage. Coghurn was charged with violation of the right of way.

Luther Swakeord, Oviedo Negro, was charged with drunken driving after his 1941 Plymouth coach sidwiped a truck on Highway 46 between Bearall and Sipes Avenue, and a short time later hit a car belonging to Frank Jackson, Negro, on Sipes Avenue.

Knocking it end for end, this occurred at 8:00 P. M. Friday night.

Sunday afternoon at 5:00 o'clock, Thomas Paul Pender, going south on the Orlando Highway on a motorcycle, pulled up in front of Annetta's place, but was unable to stop, hit and damaged a house trailer, a stove and a washing machine with total damage put at $250. He was charged with reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident.

Commercial Rent Controls Blocked By Senate Group

Committee Chairman Opposes Rollback In Price Of Beef

WASHINGTON, May 7—(AP)—The Senate Banking Committee today threw overboard, for the present at least, President Truman's proposal to impose rent controls on stores, office space and other commercial property.

As the Senate Banking Committee began 20 days of hearings on Mr. Truman's request for a two-year extension and revision of the Defense Production Act, Chairman Maybank announced the committee's finding, reached at a closed session.

There will be no testimony on commercial rents because there has not been sufficient study of the question, Maybank said. Written briefs will be received, however, and the question will be left to the end of the hearing "if it is taken up at all."

Maybank also declared his personal opposition to the beef price rollback announced by the Office of Price Stabilization, and declared he was against "tampering in any way" with the parity provisions which govern ceilings on food.

"The effect of the beef order will be to force upon the consumer this defeating the primary purpose of the Defense Production (Continued On Page Ten)

General MacArthur States His Case On Far Eastern Situation

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON, May 7—(AP)—In three dramatic days of testimony last week General Douglas MacArthur sketched to the world and for history's judgment his old soldier's creed.

The Administration's present Far East program, he told investigating senators, invites Communist aggressions which could plunge the world into global war. At best, he charged, it promises only "unavoidable continuation of slaughter" in Korea.

The deposed general argued stoutly his own plan for a broader prosecution of the fighting there—the strategy whose open advocacy led to his dismissal and today carries a threat of new world conflict.

Here, in his own words, are excerpts from the creed the five-star general outlined:

"I believe that the way to stop any predatory or surprise attack by the Soviet Union or any other potential enemy is to bring this war in Korea to a successful end, to impress upon the potential enemy that the price he pays for aggression is too high to be overpowered him."

"The initiatory action of your potential enemy is already underway. If you do not meet it in Korea, (Continued On Page Two)

Far East Commander Was Dismissed For Basic Differences With American Aims

WASHINGTON, May 7—(AP)—Secretary of Defense Marshall said today General Douglas MacArthur's Korean war ideas are too big a gamble—involving a risk of "all out war" with Russia, a split in the free world, and "losing our allies."

But he indicated the United States is prepared to launch air and naval attacks on Red China if the Communists strike at American forces outside Korea. The Secretary of Defense also said he and President Truman approved last December a procedure for "hot pursuit" of enemy planes into Manchuria, but the other 13 United Nations with forces in Korea vetoed it.

WASHINGTON, May 7—(AP)—Secretary of Defense Marshall contended to Senators today that General Douglas MacArthur's Korean war proposals would risk "an all-out war with the Soviet Union."

Replying to MacArthur's attacks on the Administration's Far Eastern policies, Marshall also said:

1. The Truman Administration's unwavering policy is to deny Nationalist-held Formosa to the Chinese Communists and to oppose seating of the Reds in the United Nations.

2. A Jan 12 memorandum of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, which MacArthur contended supported his proposals for fighting the Korean war by direct action against Communist China, was drafted for use if American troops had to withdraw from Korea.

3. The memorandum was discarded when it became apparent that American troops had turned the tide of battle.

4. The memorandum contained 16 courses of recommended action, only four of which were quoted by MacArthur in his testimony last week to senators inquiring into his dismissal as Far Eastern commander and policy dispute involved in it.

5. MacArthur was fired because of "basic differences of judgment" not only with the President, but the Chiefs of Staff and Marshall himself.

Testifying at a closed session with his "combed" testimony made public today, Marshall said MacArthur's plan would risk an all-out world conflict "even at the expense of losing our Allies and wrecking the coalition of free peoples throughout the world."

MacArthur has proposed intensification of the economic squeeze against Red China, blockade of its coasts, air operations over Manchuria and use of Chinese troops.
