Here's a salute to Art Bryant

Arthur T. Bryant, Jr., is at the J.A. Veterans Hospital in Tampa. He is there to receive a pacemaker. The surgery is planned for today.

Bryant, 69, is no stranger to hospitals. He's been in and out of them frequently in recent years. A diabetic, he's lost his sight and his right leg. He has also had a major heart attack.

He has retained his zeal for life, however. We should all be as active as Art Bryant. He's a remarkable man with a large number of interests - most of them noble.

A recovering alcoholic, Bryant has been an alcohol and drug addiction counselor for more than 30 years. He's a member of the Blind Veterans Association, the Seminole County Sheriff's Police Athletic League Board and the Disabled American Veterans.

"Art is concerned about everything and everyone but himself," said his wife, Noreen. Bryant gave his wife a long list of chores to do while he was hospitalized. One of the priorities is the Veteran's Day parade in Sanford. Bryant wants everyone to know the Over the Hill Veterans Band will be marching in the parade. "Tell everyone how good these guys are," he said.

Music is another of Bryant's fancies. He plays the drums. He's also the founder and a member of Post 53 Dixieland Rascals Band and a member of the Central Florida Jazz Society. Frequently, Bryant will go to the senior dances on Wednesday afternoon at the Sanford Civic Center. "We have the best music in the world right here," he said.

A Marine and Airy Air Corps veteran, Bryant was appointed to the First Governor's Council on Alcoholism in New Jersey and was elected the first president of the Alumni Association of the Florida School of Addiction Studies at the University of Tampa. He has not had a drink in 30 years.

The community is richer for having Art Bryant willing to assist those who are unable to help themselves. Even as he awaited heart surgery he was busy. "Art gave me my marching orders," Noreen Bryant said. "I don't know how he does all this."

She is praying that her husband will be coming home from the hospital next week. That would give him time to prepare for the Nov. 11 parade. He will hear the Over the Hill Veterans Band and visit with the other vets from the area. He deserves this and more.

Woman says pastor coerced sex act; he denies charge

By Russ White
HERALD STAFF WRITER

CASSELBERRY - Pastor Mark George said he wondered what the adult entertainment industry would do next to maintain its stronghold in Seminole County. "When would it happen and how ugly would it get?" George asked.

Wednesday it happened, and it was extra ugly.

A 40-year-old Longwood woman filed a suit alleging that George coerced her into having oral sex in his office on Aug. 19, when she came to him for spiritual counseling.

George called the charge "ludicrous - there's no truth to this at all," he said. "The adult entertainment industry is totally out of control. This is their one last attack before next Tuesday's elections."

A pastor at United Methodist

Community Church, George has battled the strip clubs and championed a public decency ordinance on Tuesday's ballot. He is also running for a seat on the Casselberry Commission.

George said that he had "no recollection" of Patricia Ragan Hoehner, who filed the suit, nor recall her ever coming to him for counseling.

"I was at a Vision Orlando conference at the Sheraton Maitland on Aug. 19," he said. "I don't recall being at the church."

Winter Park attorney David Wasserman, who has many accounts with the adult entertainment industry, said he was hesitant initially to take Hoehner as a client but that after hearing her story and having her take a polygraph exam, he believed her.

"This is a very serious matter," Wasserman said. "This woman was victimized by someone she trusted. He didn't twist her arm but she gave in to his desires because she thought she had to. She was in a weakened state and gave in."

Wasserman said that his client was "afraid to go to the police," that she needed to be hospitalized and was suffering from the trauma. "She went to the pastor to discuss emotional problems," he said. "And she was betrayed."

Hoehner's name is in both the Seminole County and Orange County arrest books. She was charged with operating a car with a suspended license and leaving the scene of an accident with vehicle damage a year ago in Seminole. She also failed to appear in court on two occasions.

City Oks plans for water facility

By Bill Kerns
HERALD STAFF WRITER

SANFORD - The Sanford City Commission authorized final design and permit services for a new water reclamation facility on Beardall Avenue and State Road 48 in Sanford.

Final design plans will be complete in March, 1999, the commission was told by David Gierach, vice president of Conklin, Porter & Holmes Engineers Inc., at this week's hearing. The facility will include a five million gallon reclaimed water tank, capable of storing water for dry periods, and a two million gallon rejected water tank.

"This is a watershed in our development," Commissioner Whitey Eckstein said. "This can really help our community."

As the GreeneWay and the airport both expand, Sanford commissioners said they are expecting the city's population to grow. The new facility is expected to meet the needs for reclaimed water, suitable for public access spray irrigation of residential lawns, golf courses, city parks and properties, and other areas.

The facility at first will handle two million gallons each day, Gierach said. It will in time be expanded to handle six million gallons a day.

The fee for designing and permitting of the Sanford South Water Reclamation Facility, off-site reclaimed improvements, and offsite lift station improvements is expected to be $646,245. The fee includes $121,245 in soil surveys and electrical consulting that will be refunded to the city under a state loan, according to

Because the facility will be located near the Orlando Sanford Airport, the rejected water tank will use closed storage facilities, Gierach said. This will reduce the presence of nuisance birds. Storing waste inside rather than outside will prevent these birds from gathering around waste water, he said.

The facility's safety features will include 24-hour remote monitoring and automatic valving. Water flows will be diverted, so the facility can accommodate Sanford's growth, Gierach said.

"Improvements will need to be made on parts of Beardall Avenue to provide for plant access," Gierach said, adding that the engineers will need to work with a soil consultant and an electrical consultant before beginning construction of the facility.

The way we were: Sanlando Springs

The Longwood development known as "The Springs" was once a delightful privately owned park open to the public. It was known as Sanlando Springs and all Seminole County old timers have fond memories of fun times spent there.

In "Early Days of Seminole County" by Arthur Franke Jr., published by the Seminole County Historical Commission, we find that Sanlando Springs was formerly known as Hoosier Springs. Also that on a 1925 map the location was called Palm Springs. There were evidently two springs near each other, Palm Springs and Sanlando.

In 1892, there was a Palm Springs station between Longwood and Altamonte Springs on both the Florida Midland Railroad and the Orange Belt Railway. These two railroads crossed at that station. The present Palm Springs Drive, located between Highways 434 and 436, originally extended to Palm Springs.

About ten years ago, when I interviewed Thelma (Mrs. Robert) Williams for an anniversary program at First Baptist Church, she recalled going on Sunday School picnics at both Palm Springs and Sanlando Springs when she was a child. Sometimes they would ride the train out there. Once when they went on the Lassing's truck, Pastor George Hyman's daughter, Virgie, fell off the truck and broke her arm.

The booklet "Literary Florida", published in 1947, that I have referred to before, has a delightful description of a greatly improved Sanlando Springs.

The accompanying picture of Sanlando Springs is from 1925 and is probably what Mrs. Williams and other old timers remember.

According to this article, it was a tropical park of outstanding loveliness nestled in a natural basin where flowed one of Florida's great springs. It had a daily capacity of more than 15 million gallons of purest water, always at a temperature of 74 degrees.

Through this beautiful 100 acre park also ran a branch of the Wekiva River into which the overflow from the springs formed two waterfalls. The flow was utilized to create a miniature lake with a white sand beach which was shaded by tall, overhanging palms. Opposite the beach there was a natural approach to the main spring where a half circle of masonry and steps led to the water's edge. A great slide was kept busy by bathers of all ages.

There was also a fine swimming pool surrounded by lockers; flowing water from the spring was pumped into this pool.

In 1947, there was a new clubhouse on up the hillside overlooking the Springs; it had been erected after the War. It housed a large dining facility where special parties and luncheons were held. Also provided there was a snack bar and large amusement room.

A large section of the hill was devoted to picnic grounds. Here, under beautiful, big spreading oaks, were large tables, each with its own grill and roofed cover. A large number of groups used these facilities each year.

Also described were the various gardens and walks on the grounds. There was the jungle walk to the hidden spring deep in the forest and also a walk through the gardens in back of the Post House. There were lily pools and floral bowers, winding pathways along the river, massive stands of azaleas, camellias, gardenias and other colorful flowers.

Artists came to capture scenes of unusual charm and photographers had no problems in finding beautiful settings to shoot.

The cost in 1947 for a day's enjoyment in this beautiful garden spot and spring was only 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

My memories of Sanlando Springs go back to the 1940s and 1950s. I recall riding out there on a narrow two lane road (later Highway 434) and that you entered the property through the club house where you paid admission.

The park included the magnificent sulfur springs, always 74 degrees, in a lovely setting. The big slide is always remembered - I'm sure most can recall climbing to the top and looking down that long expanse, getting up enough nerve to go down. And when you did, what a marvelous experience! Shooting down and landing in a shallow part of the spring was exciting! Then, you'd hurry back up to do it all over again.

There was also a huge metal elephant in the lake which was a challenge to try to climb upon.

If you got tired of the spring, you could head for the large pool; completely surrounding the pool were the dressing rooms and lockers. In the late 1950s, these were torn down and the pool was then in an attractive open air setting.

There were the beautiful gardens, as described above. You could wander through them, stopping to sit on a bench to rest and just take in the surroundings.

There was even an outdoor dance floor. I recall being there with groups when some of us would dance; there was a juke box nearby.

I remember going on picnics there with all sorts of groups such as private parties, church and school socials. When I was a student at Seminole High in the early 1950s, we would have our school picnic there during the last week of school. Class Day would be held in the morning at the school and then we'd enjoy the picnic in the afternoon. The class mothers would organize it with help from a committee of students. As you can imagine, it was always fun!

Sanlando Springs was privately owned and operated and it was a sad day for those of us who enjoyed the park when it was sold to a developer. As stated above, it is now The Springs subdivision.

Sanlando Springs was a public park, the largest sulfur water springs in Florida.

Wasserman said that he knew Hoehner had problems but that she was telling the truth about the alleged incident at the church office. This was not an attempt by the adult entertainment industry to smear Mark George, he said. "We believe a jury will determine this for itself."

for itself."

United Methodist Pastor Nick Thompson said "Pastor George is not capable of doing what is being said of him. I know his nature and his heart. This is not something he would do. I do not believe it is true."

County Commissioner Grant Maloy called the accusations "the lowest trick of all by the adult entertainment industry. It's difficult to think even they would stoop this low."

George said he believed the "voters of Casselberry are going to see through the lies and deceit."

There was a flurry of activity at United Methodist on Wednesday as church members had a great pumpkin sale. The church marquee carried a message to voters: "Vote Yes For Decency in Casselberry & Seminole." Above the message was Pastor Mark George's name. A sign of the times in this town of Casselberry.

Dancers

spokeswoman Deanna Brown said, adding that it was not a sting operation.

No additional charges were filed beyond violation of the adult entertainment ordinance, Brown said. The central booking office for the Seminole County corrections facility said all the dancers and managers have been bonded out of jail.

The dancers and managers were not in compliance with the ordinance, and were arrested by undercover agents, she said.

The dancers arrested were Tedah C. Brown, 20; Nicole R. Brown, 21; Carrie S. Cohen, 21; Amanda L. Irby, 21; Stephanie A. Kiely, 29; Berdine S. Lichtigfelt, 18; Samantha M. The managers arrested were Frank P. Mayers, 33, and Dennis Germaine, 36.

King and Queen will be announced at half-time of the game.

The Homecoming Dance will be held Friday at 9:30 p.m. until 1 a.m. at the Sanford Civic Center. Tickets will sell for $10 at the door, $7 in advance.

This has been a festive Homecoming Week at Seminole. Wednesday was Dress Up Day, with a lunch fashion show and students modeling on stage. Tuesday was Twins Day, with students dressing alike. Monday was Decades Day. Music from the 50s, 60s, 70s, and 80s was played at lunch, and a Super Jam was held at night.

The Homecoming parade's grand marshal Tim Raines recently won his second World Series Championship with the New York Yankees. A 20-year veteran left fielder who has also played for the Chicago White Sox and the Montreal Expos, Raines has over 2,500 hits and 800 stolen bases in his career.

Antenuptial agreements Contracts apt to become more commonplace

In the past, antenuptial agreements, or prenupts as referred to by many, were only used by the wealthy to avoid the dilution of assets under certain circumstances. However, with statistics purporting to show that one out of every 100 families in the U.S. generated an income in excess of $200,000 in 1997, antenuptial agreements are likely to become more commonplace.

An antenuptial agreement is a contract, entered into before marriage by the future spouses, whose purpose is to settle questions of support and distribution of wealth in the event one spouse passes away or the planned marriage ends in separation or divorce. Because an antenuptial agreement usually deals with substantial assets and/or income, as its use becomes more prevalent we are likely to see a rise in the number of challenges to them.

The Courts have established that in order for an antenuptial agreement to be valid the

PEOPLE'S LAW

agreement must make fair or reasonable provision for the spouse waiving a right or rights such as alimony and/or elective share. Naturally, whether something is "fair or reasonable" is subjective and therefore the validity of an antenuptial agreement must be determined on a case by case basis.

The Courts determine whether an antenuptial agreement makes fair or reasonable provision by considering the parties' relative situations. In assessing the parties' situations the Courts compare their respective ages, health, education, and financial status. Based on these factors, if the Court finds that the agreement makes fair or reasonable provision, the agreement's validity will be upheld.

However, if the Court finds that the agreement does not make fair or reasonable provision a presumption arises that either there was concealment or that one spouse lacked knowledge of the other spouse's assets. In order to rebut either one of these presumptions and persuade the Court to uphold the validity of the agreement, a party may show either 1) that a full and frank disclosure as to the value of the property involved and as to the income of the parties of 2) that the parties had a general and approximate knowledge of the character and extent of the property involved sufficient to obtain a value by reasonable means as well as a general knowledge of the income of the parties.

In other words, if an antenuptial agreement making "unfair or unreasonable" provisions for one spouse is to be upheld as valid, the parties must have been informed of the other's assets and income. This disclosure is usually in the best interest of both parties because disclosure ensures the validity of the contract if entered into and protects an unknowing or "part-knowing" party from contracting away certain rights without knowing the full extent of their waiver.

As incomes continue to rise the use of the antenuptial agreement is likely to rise with them and the Courts will more often be faced with the difficult and delicate task of ensuring that antenuptial agreements are fair without infringing on the rights of the parties to contract. In the coming weeks we will discuss other aspects of family law.

Lesbian would like a true straight friend

DEAR ABBY: I am a 42-year-old lesbian. I consider myself a nice, easygoing person who tries her best to follow the Golden Rule. I have an outgoing personality, and have no trouble making friends and keeping them. However, it seems as though each time a female friend finds out I'm gay, she expects me to come on to her.

Abby, all I ever wanted was a friend with whom I didn't have to be on guard — a person who would accept me as a true friend. Just because I'm gay doesn't mean all my friendships have to be sexual. I can enjoy having fun, a good conversation, sharing a movie or shopping with someone who's straight.

I am happily in love with my soul mate of a year and a half, and she has encountered the same thing. Am I doing something wrong that friends view me this way? How can I change my personality to maintain friendships without my kindness being mistaken for anything more?

D IN ST. PETERSBURG, FLA.

DEAR "D": I see no reason for you to change your personality. There is a common misconception in the straight world that because people are gay, they must be attracted to all people of the same gender. Of course, that's no more true than the idea that all straight people are necessarily attracted to every person of the opposite sex.

When it happens again, keep your sense of humor and show the friend this column.

DEAR ABBY: I don't know what to do about my father. He has recently reunited with his second wife, "Florence," after a three-year separation. During their separation, he would telephone me several times a day and visit our home several times a week. He always complained about Florence and the things she did to him when they were together. I am the only one of his six children in whom he confided.

Abby, now that Dad and Florence are back together, he expects me to forget everything he told me about her and pretend that nothing unpleasant ever happened. He wants us to have a close relationship with her, and he is angry that I don't call or visit them in their home. I have explained that I don't call them because I don't want to speak with his wife.

Abby, I was honest with my dad from the start, but he lied to me for months. He had been seeing Florence for quite some time before they moved back in together.

At the last family get-together, Dad was nice to everyone except my husband and me. He was downright rude to us, and I'm at the point where I don't even want to see him again. My husband feels the same way. Must I force myself to have a relationship with my dad just because he's my father?

DESPERATE
IN ONTARIO, CANADA

DEAR DESPERATE: Estrangement often occurs when a third party knows too much about that which a person would rather forget. Although you were a shoulder to cry on and a willing ear into which he could pour his troubles, you now symbolize an unhappy chapter in your father's life.

Don't write him off quite yet. It's very likely that your dad will be back before long with more tales of woe about Florence. Next time, don't let him isolate you by being his only confidant.

Abby shares more of her favorite, easy-to-prepare recipes. To order, send a business-size, self-addressed envelope, plus check or money order for $3.95 ($4.50 in Canada) to: Dear Abby, Letter Booklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, Ill. 61054-0447. (Postage is included.)

Dugan is best-qualified

Three candidates would like to fill the open Group 6 seat on the bench of the 18th Judicial Circuit, which serves Brevard and Seminole counties. For a number of reasons, David Dugan is best.

Mr. Dugan knew when he was 10 that he wanted to become a lawyer. At law school his specific goal was to become a trial lawyer, which is why he specialized in criminal defense during his three-year Army service.

A lawyer for 20 years, he has handled the gamut - complex civil litigation, as well as criminal, probate and family law - while living most of that time in Melbourne. Yet there has always been time for family and community.

Mr. Dugan's community service has been stellar: Boy Scouts, chamber of commerce, Rotary, church, youth sports. Through such service those who aspire to the bench come to know the many parts of their communities and those they would judge.

Two other candidates seek the same seat. Though the judge sits in Brevard County, all voters in the two counties, regardless of party affiliation, make the choice.

Jeff Thompson has been a lawyer for 15 years, all of that time in Brevard County. He served three years as an assistant prosecutor, then entered private practice that includes the full range of legal work. He, too, has found time to serve his community in a number of volunteer efforts.

Michael Bross has practiced law for 12 years in a wide assortment of areas, though much of it has been in criminal defense.

Unfortunately, Mr. Bross was charged early this year by the Florida Bar's grievance committee with mismanagement of client trust accounts, for which the state Supreme Court has ordered his practice closed for 10 days and placed him on probation for a year. That is not conduct worthy of a judge.

Neither of the later candidates has the length or breadth of legal experience to match that of Mr. Dugan. Nor can they match his community involvement.

In short, Mr. Dugan is best-qualified. Thus, he is the Sentinel's choice for judge, Group 6, 18th Judicial Circuit.

Student to speak to young achievers

OVIEDO - Oviedo High School Senior, Jen McCullough, is one of six area students selected to speak at Junior Achievement's Mid-Florida Business Hall of Fame event to be held on Nov. 5 at the Marriott Orlando World Center located at 8701 World Center Drive in Orlando. This special event recognizes the achievements of prominent business people who have made extraordinary leadership contributions to our community.

Jen was first introduced to JA's programs in her fifth grade class. She participated in the "Our Nation" program that introduces students to the world of business. As a sophomore, she was selected to participate in JA's Youth Leadership Program. The program offers team building exercises, monthly interaction with business people from the community and job shadowing.

"I've had a great experience with JA's Youth Leadership Program. I learned firsthand how a business is run from every aspect," said Jen. "Through this program I was able to get a behind-the-scenes look at television sports broadcasting. Not only was it exciting, but I also learned what it takes to put together a broadcast and all the people needed in order for it to happen."

Jen admits to feeling only slightly nervous about speaking in front of an audience of approximately 1,000 people. "I feel comfortable in front of a group of people," she says. "Even if this is the largest audience I've ever addressed, I think I'll do fine."

Junior Achievement is a non-profit organization that works with local students and businesses to educate and inspire young people to value free enterprise, understand business and economics, and prepare them for the work environment.

Don't judge an activity before you experience it for yourself

WINTER SPRINGS - I thought I knew the meaning of the word pain last week.

After covering hundreds of basketball, football, volleyball and baseball games, I knew it was time to see my first cross country meet in person.

What could be more boring, I thought, I'll have to stand in the sun for a couple of hours and see absolutely no action.

Sometimes I can be stupid and dumb at the same time.

In fact, I liked it so much last week, I looked forward to heading to Central Winds Park yesterday to cover the Seminole Athletic Conference championships.

To the uneducated or, in other words, me before last week, cross country is a race where a zillion people take off at the same time looking like ants after a giant crumb, run into the woods and aren't heard from again for almost a half-hour before coming back out of the woods like a scene from Field of Dreams.

In couldn't be more unlike that.

Heck, cross country is a blast as long as I don't have to try to run that far.

There isn't another sport in the county where individuals get so much attention whether they are the winners or losers. The real glory of cross country, I learned, isn't in winning. The winners cross the line with a small bead of sweat and a smile, take a few deep breaths, and hug their coaches, all smiles and cheery.

If you want to see the real meaning of sport, wait around after the first 10 or some come through the finish line.

You see real pain. Tears. Gasps for a semblance of breath.

You see kids racing the final 200 yards hoping to finish 20th instead of 21st, not like it matters, but the entire crowd and their already-finished teammates still stand at the finish line screaming them on.

It's also the loneliest sport.

At Central Winds, the runners basically do three laps around the course. The top racers are usually bunched together until it comes time for a final kick.

But that also gives them time to separate from the rest of the pack, the ones who just desperately want to participate. There are few things you'll see more dramatic than the lonely runner, hundreds of yards from the finish line, still sweating and pumping long after the winners started accepting congratulatory hugs from people who didn't mind getting sweat all over them.

They are the real heroes. The ones who finish, as well as the folks who stand around and wait for them to finish.

If you think cross country isn't a serious sport, think again. Check out the girls after the first few cross the line. Runners screaming, crying, holding their sides, then crying again after their finishing kick wasn't enough for 15th place.

Same with the guys. Some of the best races occur minutes after the winners finish when two runners, neck and neck, come running out of the woods trying not to finish anywhere closer to last.

The victory arms fly just as high into the area and the loser is just as upset as the guy who finished second.

In basketball and football, you can always blame your teammates. In cross country, there's only yourself and a day at Central Winds Park made me believe that cross country provides some of the best there is in high school sport.

By the way, the next big meet is districts next Nov. 7 at DeLand. Even if you're still fired about Friday's football, if you want to see some real athletic heroes, make it a plan to attend.

Last Second Shot: Credit a great line to Kenny Mayne of ESPN's SportsCenter.

The issue of marijuana testing was part of Wednesday's NBA negotiations schedule which went nowhere and Mayne, one of the funniest and driest in the business said, "Drugs were put on the table during today's bargaining negotiations. That explains a lot." I think he was being funny.

Volleyball decision day

Seminole falls short in 5A-5

By Jeff Berlinicke
ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

ORLANDO - Seminole High School girls volleyball coach Beth Corso realized her season was over, but she still thought it shouldn't have been over quite yet.

The 'Noles traveled to Oak Ridge last night for the second round of the Class 5A-District 5 semifinals. With a shot at a regional playoff berth in the line, Seminole came out flat and fell 15-10, 15-6 as the season came to an end.

Seniors Amanda Cook, Melissa Witte and Emily Wontenay played their final game as Seminoles but Corso still returns a young team next year, featuring Kim Nelson, Michelle Cardell, Courtney Newman and freshman Tara Wiggins among the group.

"I have a nice team to look forward to next year," Corso said. "This year we had a young team and I thought it should have gone farther."

Seminole has had a bad habit recently of getting off to slow starts and firing back with a flourish to pull out some comeback wins.

Last night, the 'Noles dug a hole too deep.

Oak Ridge ran off the first five. Please see Class 5A, Page 2B

LAKE MARY - Rivalries are what make sports fun.

That being true, Thursday night's Class 6A-District 3 semifinals ought to be like spending the night at Busch Gardens.

With an impressive 15-2, 15-6 win over Lyman last night in the Quarterfinals at Lake Mary High School, Lake Brantley's girls' volleyball team earned a third consecutive semifinal match with cross-county rival Oviedo.

Tonight's contest will be a 'rubber match' of sorts, as two years ago, the Patriots knocked Oviedo out of the district tournament and then last year the Lions returned the favor.

The winner of the 6 p.m. match will earn a spot in next week's regionals and face either Lake Mary or DeLand, who meet at 4:30 p.m. today, in the championship game at 7:30 p.m. tonight.

"Oviedo is definitely a big rival of ours," said Lake Brantley coach Stan Cutler. "We have a tendency to take the rivalry personally and the girls cannot let that happen. Some teams play better in those Please see Class 6A, Page 2B

New Covenant bombs way into Church lead

SANFORD - New Covenant Church took a trip downtown last Friday night.

The undefeated leaders of the City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department Adult Fall Church Basketball League tossed in an amazing 12 three-pointers in the second half, and 14 for the game, in blowing out Sanford Church of the Nazarene Team No. 1, 89-47, in the Dan Pelham Gymnasium at Sanford Middle School.

Sanford First Baptist Church stayed right on New Covenant's tail, scoring 63 second half points, 24 by Denny Clayton, to overcome a 24-23 halftime deficit and triumph, 63-48, over Sanford Church of the Nazarene Team No. 2.

In the other game last Friday, new entry Calvary Apostolic got 25 points from Derrick Cooper to hold off C.H.O.P., 66-65, despite a 35-point effort from Derrick Shaw.

In games from October 16th, New Covenant got a 2-0 forfeit from Calvary Apostolic; Sanford First Baptist Church used a huge second half to beat Sanford Church of the Nazarene Team No. 1, 64-33; and C.H.O.P. trimmed Sanford First Church of the Nazarene Team No. 2, 45-41.

New Covenant Church is now 4-0, with Sanford First Baptist Church just behind at 3-1. Trailing the leaders are C.H.O.P. (2-2), Calvary Apostolic (1-2) and Sanford Church of the Nazarene Team No. 1 and Sanford First Church of the Nazarene Team No. 2 (both 1-3).

This Friday night, Calvary Apostolic takes on Sanford First Church of the Nazarene Team No. 1 at 8:30 p.m.; Sanford First Church of the Nazarene Team No. 2 challenges New Covenant Church at 7:30 p.m.; and C.H.O.P. battles Sanford First Baptist Church at 8:30 p.m.

WINTER SPRINGS - The rivalry has been brewing since their freshman year.

Nick Stuart of Lake Mary and Nate Adams of Lyman have been battling for county supremacy for several years and have traded titles back and forth.

Yesterday, at Central Winds Park in the Seminole Athletic Conference championship, the two battled it out yet again for one of the final times as seniors.

With 200 yards to go, Stuart and Adams were neck and neck with Adams holding a slight lead.

good defensive work by Tina Melikian put the Patriots over the top. Lyman was unable to salvage another point and Lake Brantley took the first game 15-2.

Lyman came back with a little more life in the second and was up 6-0 early in the game. Kacy McDaniel was the motivator for the Greyhounds, cheering on her teammates and playing aggressively at the net.

Unfortunately for Lyman, it just wasn't enough as the Greyhounds never scored another point.

After racing to nine points and then stalling for seven possessions, Lady Patriot Leslie Whitaker scored four straight service points to take Lake Brantley over the top with a 15-6 win.

Despite its early dismissal, Lyman reflected positively on the season.

year coach, the team had to learn a whole new way of doing things.

"These girls learned how to play varsity volleyball and now all they have to do is strengthen their skills. They learned a lot this year and we're off to a good start with the program."

After the Lake Brantley-Lyman game, No. 3 seed Deland and No. 6 Lake Howell took the court for the second quarterfinal game.

Although the Silver Hawks have had a rough year, no one expected that they would fall so easily to the dominant Bulldogs.

In game one, DeLand was up 4-0 on their first service opportunity.

Ashy Peraza served for one Silver Hawks point before Deland regained possession. Lake Howell didn't score again until late in the game, when Jackie Samelson served for the second Silver Hawk point.

It was too little too late and DeLand held Lake Howell to take the first game 15-2.

The second game was much of the same. With a 4-0 lead, Lady Bulldog Amanda Thompson's serving was the key to nine unanswered points which took Deland to 13-0 on one possession.

Lake Howell did muster two points of its own before succumbing to Deland 15-2.

As mentioned earlier in the story, the semifinals will be played at 4:30 p.m. and 6 p.m. and the finals at 7:30 p.m. tonight. The winners of the semifinals will both earn spots in the regionals next week, with the district champion getting to play at home.

points of the match, but Seminole charged back. Wiggins and Cardell came off the bench and rallied the team to a 6-5 lead, but Oak Ridge's Laquanda Cotten continued to slam the ball down the Seminole throats.

The pendulum swung to the Patriots who took a 10-6 lead, but the 'Noles tied it at 10 with four straight points off Witte's serve. After a side-out, Oak Ridge served out the match.

In the final game, Seminole scored the first four points and led 5-1 behind Cook's powerful net play and Wontenay's serve. Nelson did a strong job of setting and Seminole had momentum, but the 'Noles, despite Corso's substations, got sloppy and Oak Ridge outscored Seminole 14-1 the rest of the way.

To make things worse, Cotten went to the bench with the Patriots trailing 5-1 and Seminole didn't take advantage, being outscored 5-1 until she re-entered.

It was a frustrating year in which Seminole, although improved over last season, never got on a roll and had, according to Corso, too many mental lapses.

"We came out to play our game tonight, we just didn't attack well," Corso said.

Seminole ended with a .500 record.

Tonight, Deltona faces Oak Ridge for the district title with the winner gaining home court advantage in the first-round of regionals and the losers facing a road trip.

Stephanie Cornell (No. 520, center) runs with the pack at the start of Wednesday's girls race. But the Lake Brantley senior quickly pulled away to win by more than two seconds as she repeated as Seminole Athletic Conference champion and led the Patriots to the SAC Team Championship at Central Winds Park.

kick to take the title by just over a second over Adams.

It wasn't a total loss for Adams as the Lyman boys easily captured the team title.

"I've been racing him since my freshman year," Adams said. "It's always close when we race. I give Nate a ton of credit, especially since he got 100 yards ahead at one time."

The two will meet again next Saturday at the district meet in DeLand.

The top seven finishing boys earned All-SAC honors. Besides Adams and Stuart, other first-teamers included Aaron Borges (Lyman), Dan Austin (Lake Howell), Doug Brown (Lyman), Ben Alper (Lyman) and Robert Fore (Lyman).

In the team competition, Lyman, the No. 2 ranked team in the state, outpaced Lake Howell with Winter Springs finishing third.

For the girls, Lake Brantley's Stephanie Cornell, who won last week's Just For Feet Seminole Invitational, continued her winning ways with an almost two-second win over Amy Giles of Winter Springs with a strong finish after trailing early.

Cornell also won the SAC meet last season.

"I knew she would be hard to beat," Cornell said. "There was a lot of pressure to repeat from last year but I felt pretty good the whole time. I had everything left in me at the end."

She gave credit to teammate Belinda Bargmann who finished third.

"As I turned a corner in the race, I know I'm not supposed to but I looked over my shoulder and saw her gaining," Cornell said. "But I did and it got me going."

After Cornell, Giles and Bargmann, Claudia Bettel (Lake Mary), Jennifer Etcheberger (Lake Brantley), Jasmine Dornford (Lake Mary) and Megan McMillan (Lake Brantley) rounded out the top seven finishers that earned All-SAC honors.

Lake Brantley, ranked second in the Class 6A state poll, won the team competition, followed by Oviedo and Winter Springs.

Free Duck Hunting Workshop scheduled for November 14

Special to the Herald

ROSELAND - The Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission (GFC) is presenting a free workshop for anyone interested in learning how and where to hunt ducks in Florida.

The family-oriented event is designed for beginning through advanced duck hunters and those unfamiliar with duck hunting in Florida.

It is scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 14, from 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m., at the Roseland Community Center in Roseland. "Roseland is located" in the northeast corner of Indian River County just south of the Brevard County line.

"The Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission has offered this workshop for the past three years and it's been so successful that it's becoming an annual event," said Ron Bielefeld, GFC waterfowl biologist and workshop coordinator.

The one day workshop will be packed with just about all the information needed to get started duck hunting in Florida.

By the time it's over, participants will be familiar with what to wear, what equipment is needed, how to set up the hunting area, how to identify ducks, proper hunting ethics, where to go, how to get there, and more.

In addition, there will be a live retriever demonstration, as well as instruction on post-hunting activities such as how to legally transport birds, how to clean them, and even a few recipes on how to prepare them for the supper table.

"Duck hunting is a great way to get out and enjoy all the outdoors has to offer. I encourage people to take advantage of this workshop to get the most out of their hunting experience," said Bielefeld.

The workshop will again be taught by hunters and GFC biologists Ron Bielefeld and Rick Brust.

Bielefeld has a masters degree in wildlife biology from Louisiana State University and a bachelors degree from the University of Wisconsin. His masters thesis was a study of canvasback ducks on the Mississippi Delta.

Brust has a bachelors degree in wildlife biology from the University of Wisconsin where he also took postgraduate classes in biology and wildlife management. His masters thesis dealt with hooded mergansers in Central Wisconsin and he has worked as a GFC waterfowl biologist for eight years.

Bielefeld and Brust are both headquartered at the Thomas M. Goodwin Waterfowl Management Area in south Brevard County.

The workshop has been scheduled to give prospective hunters plenty of time to get ready for the 60 day waterfowl hunting season which begins Nov. 21 and runs through Jan. 19.

It is also an excellent opportunity to prepare children for the special Youth Waterfowl Day on Jan. 23.

Please call the T.M. Goodwin Waterfowl Management Area at 407-726-2862 if you would like to attend the workshop or need more information.

Space is limited and reservations are requested. If you call after hours please leave a voice mail message, or you can E-mail Bielefeld at bielef@fc.state.fl.us.

From U.S. 1 in Roseland, turn west onto Roseland Road and go about one mile to 129th Place. Turn right and go to the end of the road and turn left. The community center is on the immediate right. Participants should bring a lunch; cold drinks will be provided.

Darius Hall (with football) runs through a hole created by Justin Scott (No. 65) during the Orange Team's 20-0 victory over the Black Team during a Junior Midget intersquad scrimmage last Saturday at Thomas E. Whigham Stadium.

The Junior Midgets, who clinched the Atlantic Conference Championship, decided to play the intersquad game after receiving a 2-0 forfeit victory when the Lake Youth Gators did not field a team.

S.Y.F.A. Noles trounce Gators

Special to the Herald

SANFORD - The Sanford Youth Football Association Seminoles went on a gator hunt last Saturday as they faced the Lake Youth Gators in Pop Warner Football League action at Thomas E. Whigham Stadium.

The Junior Pee Wees played the first game of the day and walked away with a 6-0 win.

Defense was the strong point for both teams and the only lapse of the game allowed the Noles to score the only points.

The Mitey-Mites played as hard as possible in the second game, but still came up short, suffering Sanford's only loss of the day by the heartbreaking score of 15-14. Despite the setback, watch for big things out of this young team next year.

The Pee Wees were up next and they went on the prowl, hungry for victory after last week's disappointing loss.

Chris Smith, Morrel Byrd and Jason Tate all had a big day as the Pee Wees got off to a quick start and never looked back as they gave coach Dirk Kendrick a 42-12 victory for a birthday present.

The Junior Midgets had a mixed blessing kind of day as the Gators could not field a team and handed the Noles a 2-0 forfeit victory.

The bright side was that the Junior Midgets clinched the Atlantic Conference Championship and a spot in the playoffs with the win, even though that was not the way they wanted to win the title.

The team still got a good workout, however, as they played an Orange and Black intersquad game with the Orange prevailing 20-0.

The Midgets then took to the Whigham Stadium turf for the last time as many of the players will move up to one of the high school team's next year.

Marvin Knight, O.B. Talley, Lynden Merthle and David Foster all played well as the Noles went out in style with a 27-0 laughter over the Gators.

This Saturday, Sanford will hit the road, playing the New Smyrna Beach Barracuda's at Airport Field starting at 9 a.m.

Tips on writing a good advertisement:

We want to make sure you are pleased with the results from your Seminole Herald classified ad. To make sure your ad works, we suggest you keep in mind the following:

- Include as many features of the item you are selling as you can think of. Remember, the more you tell, the faster you sell.
- Include a price. By listing a price, you will eliminate unwanted calls from people who aren't serious about buying your merchandise.
- When you list your phone number, list the time of day that is best to reach you. You don't want people calling you when you are at work or sleeping.

Don't fret about occasional floater

PETER GOTT, M.D.

Try this: When you brush, use a gentle and limited stroke, especially when cleaning your molars. Do not touch the back of your throat or the base of your tongue. This should solve the problem. If it doesn't, see your dentist.

© 1998 NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

If you would like to write to Dr. Gott send your letter to: P.O. Box 1017, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I belong to a group of elderly golfers, and we read your column every morning. Your recent article on the "floating stool" has caused us some concern. Some of us, who changed our diets in recent years, believe that the phenomenon is related to diet. Others are convinced that malabsorption of fat is the cause. Many of us have floating stools and wonder if we should make an appointment for a checkup. We would rather play golf.

DEAR READER: I don't blame you. As it turns out, both the views you've expressed are correct. As I stated in my original column, most instances of floating stool are the normal consequences of lighter-than-water substances in the waste material. For example, air is often incorporated into the fecal matter. Similarly, a high concentration of fiber can also cause the stool to float.

On the other hand, greasy feces (that float) frequently reflect malabsorption of dietary fat. This can lead to nutritional deficiencies and almost always is associated with other symptoms, such as gas, bloating, malaise and weight loss. Moreover, fat malabsorption doesn't come and go; it causes consistent changes in the stool.

Everybody's stools float on occasion. If, however, this pattern is chronic and occurs with the symptoms I mentioned, a medical checkup is appropriate. If, however, you and your golf buddies don't fit this profile, grab your clubs instead.

To give you related information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Constipation and Diarrhea." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 1017, Murray Hill Station, New York, N.Y. 10156. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Brushing my teeth makes me gag, even vomit. I've tried changing toothpastes and bought an electric toothbrush, to no avail. Is this a common problem?

DEAR READER: No, it's quite uncommon. I doubt that the brand of toothpaste or type of brush are to blame. It's more likely that you have an over-active gag reflex.

Most people are surprised to learn that the back of the tongue contains a rich supply of nerves that induce gagging. (This, incidentally, is why I NEVER ask patients to stick out their tongues when I insert a tongue blade to examine their throats — the best approach is simply to open wide and leave the tongue in as normal a position as possible.)

When you brush your teeth, you may be stimulating the back of your tongue inadvertently, with predictable results.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Tiptoe through the tulips

By Phillip Alder

Some deals almost play themselves. You try to draw trumps and cash winners. Bad breaks, you're down; favorable positions, you cruise home. More often, though, you must be careful with the sequence of plays. We say that the timing is vital.

What is your initial plan in this six-spade contract? West leads the club queen.

North responded with a "normal" two-no-trump, promising a balanced 13-15 points. In the tournament world, though, almost every pair uses this response to show game-forcing values with at least four-card support for partner's major: the Jacoby Forcing Raise.

The slam looks easy. You win trick one in hand, cash the spade ace, and play a spade to dummy's king. Bad news — you've a trump loser. And there is a potential problem in the heart department. Will the misers split 3-3? Maybe, but unlikely. And if not, the fourth heart will have to be ruffed in the dummy. How would you play from here?

If you cash the heart king before playing a heart to dummy's ace, you go down. East ruffs and returns his last trump, leaving you with a heart loser in your hand. The secret is to start with dummy's heart ace, then to lead a low heart toward hand. As it cannot help East to ruff, he discards a club. Go over to the diamond king and repeat the process, leading the last heart through East. If he ruffs, you play low. If he discards, you win, then trump your last heart in the dummy. East may overruff, but it will be with his trump trick. Your small-slam bonus is secure.

HOROSCOPE

Your Birthday

Thursday, Oct. 29, 1998

Take advantage of all opportunities you get in the coming year to further your innermost desires. When you do so, you'll attract successful people who'll inspire you in a positive manner.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Spending too much time wondering whether you'll succeed at this or that will hamper your ability to achieve today. Substantial goals are only possible when you assert yourself. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2.75 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1758, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) There is a real risk today that you could reveal your intentions to a person who might exploit this information. Keep your own counsel and share nothing, even with close pals. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Large gatherings could prove to have significant value today in networking and establishing contacts. However, make certain you don't introduce any topics of a financial nature.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Important objectives can be achieved today if you don't allow yourself to get bogged down by aggressive know-it-alls. Do your thing, your own way!

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Take the necessary time to examine all the hidden nuances when gathering facts for achieving a personal interest. In this case, it's better to be slow than sorry.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Information of a confidential nature may pass your way today in terms of making or saving you money. However, if you don't trust it enough to check it out, nothing will come of it.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Spell out in detailed writing any agreement you make today, even if it involves a friend. Verbal assumptions could be misunderstood and lead to regrets later.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You might think that if you make the effort to tackle a needed repair job yourself, you won't have to put out the bucks. Just be sure you possess the knowledge to do the job.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Being either too wishy-washy or too harsh when handling subordinates today will produce undesirable results. Remember to be firm, but fair.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Use practicality and good old fashion common sense in determining what is the best course of action concerning a domestic matter today. Don't allow emotions to overrule sound logic.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) If you feel you're coming out on the short end of the stick concerning an arrangement you made with a pal today, speak up and explain yourself. Your friend will adjust the situation.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Due to someone's generosity, things should work out as you desire in your material affairs today. However, don't expect these same considerations regarding social matters. ©1998 by NEA, Inc.
