Bouncing back to sweeter days

RUSS WHITE

They had great names. Sweetwater. Clifton. Bones. McKinney. Fat Freddie. Scolar. Easy Ed. Macauley. Goose. Tatum.

They played in dingy, old arenas and made very little money. They had no shoe endorsements. They had no unions. They had no contract disputes.

They played basketball and that was enough. Sweetwater Clifton's real name was Nat. He was with the Harlem Globetrotters for years before black men were admitted into the regular pro leagues. Sweetwater joined the New York Knickerbockers in 1950. Played well, too.

When his basketball days were over, Sweetwater drove a taxi in Chicago, backing it until the day that he died.

McKinney and Scolar were teammates with the old Washington Capitols. McKinney was skin and bones. Fat Freddie was always eating ice cream and pushing up two-handed set shots.

The Capitols played their home games at an ice-making facility, not exactly in the heart of the nation's capital.

Easy Ed Macauley made everything look easy.

Reece "Goose" Tatum was the clown prince of the 1950's Globetrotter teams. He made incredible half-court hook shots and had a comic flare that no player ever matched. The Trotters called on guys named Meadowlark and Showboat to replace Tatum. But Goose was irreplaceable.

A lanky, loose-jointed man, Tatum could play extraordinary basketball when he wasn't clowning. The Globetrotters used to play it straight in series against the old Minneapolis Lakers. Goose could play.

Maybe I wasn't old enough to notice but these basketball players I revered never seemed to get into any serious trouble. There was some point shaving by some collegians. Can't recall any of the old pros filming sex movies with 16-year-olds, spitting on spectators and busting up bar patrons.

This is not to say that the good old days and the old players were better than today's. They were good enough, however. Those who saw them play remember them fondly 50 years later. And we miss them.

Alaqua's John Kopack teaches student Senchel Campbell how to hit a golf ball during the career club program at Hamilton Elementary School.

Students tee off from school

By Jeff Berlincke
ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

SANFORD - Any golfer will say it's almost impossible to hit a strong driver out of the rough.

Don't tell that to Freddie Gaines, a fourth grader at Hamilton Elementary School.

He was sending shots well over 100 yards without a tee Friday off the long grass at his school. In a few weeks, thanks to the career club program at Hamilton, he and his classmates will have the chance to play a few holes at Alaqua Country Club, one of the most prestigious courses in Central Florida.

Greg Turner, a teacher at Hamilton has spearheaded the program, which gives children a chance to participate in real-life experiences. Besides golf, the kids can enjoy advanced technology, puppetry, sign language and newspaper activities.

The community has helped a great deal, especially Play It Again Sports in Lake Mary which donated golf clubs at a low price. The clubs were fitted for the fourth- and fifth graders and the kids teed off for the first time last week.

Golf became an idea when Hamilton guidance counselor Betty Cangel brought up the concept of golf at Hamilton. She gave the idea to Turner who contacted Play It Again Sports, and the whole thing came together.

"I wanted to give them something different," Gail Choize, an assistant principal at Hamilton said. "Alaqua was really receptive to helping."

Alaqua has its golf professional helping out so the kids are getting valuable teaching including the awkward grip that can be baffling to beginners.

After four weeks at Hamilton, the kids will spend an afternoon at Alaqua where they will play some holes and learn golf skills and the etiquette that are vital to the game.

Few of the kids at Hamilton had ever swung a golf club before, let alone hit one over 100 yards.

"I played in my backyard once," fifth grader Ricky Ramassar said. "I play some miniature golf and I like watching Tiger Woods."

Freddie said he had a good time learning and that he had never swung a golf club before he started last week.

Police will charge football star in car crash

By Bill Kerna
HERALD STAFF WRITER

OVIEDO - Kentucky prosecutors will charge former Oviedo High School star center Jason Watts with second degree manslaughter and drunken driving in relation to a truck crash that killed a teammate and another friend.

Fulaski County Attorney Fred Nekirk said Tuesday that a blood sample taken from Watts showed the player had a blood alcohol level of 0.15.

In Kentucky, the level at which a driver is presumed intoxicated is 0.10. Watts underwent a second surgical procedure Tuesday at the University of Kentucky Medical Center to clean a laceration on his right forearm.

Surgeon James Lovett will repeat the one-hour procedure today to reassess the wound. A medical center spokesman Vicki Franklin said.

"We are pleased with how the wound has improved," Lovett said. "We hope that (Wednesday) will be the last time we will do the procedure but we'll have to determine that then."

Watts remains in fair condition at the University of Kentucky Hospital.

Nekirk said Watts will be formally charged with two counts of second degree manslaughter and one count of drunk driving at the Fulaski District Court on Dec. 17.

Watts is not being arrested. The manslaughter charges are felonies, meaning Watts' case will likely be waived to a grand jury for possible indictment, Nekirk said.

Arthur Stemmetz, a teammate at Kentucky, and Eastern Kentucky student Christopher Scott Brock, were killed Sunday morning at approximately 7 a.m. when Watts lost control of his 1985 Chevrolet truck on a rural road 60 miles outside Lexington. The three men were thrown from the truck, and were not wearing seat belts.

Oviedo teacher Jack Blanton coached Watts on the football team. Blanton said he is shocked by the charges, because they are out of character for the person he knows Watts to be.

"These charges make it sound like he's a party boy," Blanton said. "He's not. He's just a good old boy from a great family. He's a great person, who is always positive and always smiling. I don't question his character at all. If people knew Jason like I do, they would realize this is a terrible accident. My prayers are with him."

Blanton said Watts was a starter on the varsity football team his final two years, after playing for the freshman and junior varsity squads. He said

Henley makes first demand

SEMINOLE COUNTY - The new chairman had hardly been in his chair for 10 minutes when he told the reorganized Board of Seminole County Commissioners he wanted them to leave "politics outside" when they enter the chambers.

The election is over, and so are the politics, Carlton Henley said Tuesday. "We have a tremendous responsibility to work together for the good of the county. This may not mean 5-0 votes all the time. We will have

No arrests at adult clubs

By Russ White
HERALD STAFF WRITER

SEMINOLE COUNTY - No one was arrested Tuesday for breaking Seminole County's new Public Decency Ordinance.

From the pristine shores of Lake Monte to adult club row in Casselberry and Fern Park, there were no violations.

Sheriff Don Eshinger said that City County Investigative Bureau agents and deputies have begun to uphold an ordinance directed at exotic/nude dancers but which applies to everyone 18 years of age or more.

"There was substantial compliance at each of the adult clubs," Chief Deputy Steve Harnett said. "We discovered some technicalities but were able to resolve them with club managers."

Harnett said many dancers "tried to be unique" in the manner they covered their breasts by wearing flesh-colored cloth decorated to appear like life. "We talked about this and seem to be on the right track. We'll continue to monitor all the clubs," Harnett said.

Three of the adult clubs have filed a suit against the county and the sheriff, charging the ordinance is unconstitutional. In the meantime, they are complying with the law. "Right now, we don't have any other choice," Club Juana owner Mike Pitter said.

The ordinance requires dancers to cover one-third of their buttocks and one-fourth of their breasts. Performers had been allowed to dance totally nude in Seminole County before the ordinance.

A good year for tourism

SPECIAL TO THE HERALD

SEMINOLE COUNTY - The tourism tax revenue figures are in for the Fiscal Year 1997-98 and they show a 21 percent increase over last fiscal year.

Jack Wert, executive director of the Seminole County Convention and Visitors Bureau, reports that collections topped $1.6 million for the year, a 12 percent over the projected revenue and 21 percent over last year.

"The increase is due, in part, to the five new hotels that have opened this year in Lake Mary and Altamonte Springs," said Wert. "Another reason is the increased demand for rooms from the traveling public, especially European travelers." The Lake Mary/Heathrow area is exploding with corporate growth, bringing new meetings and training to the area.

The bureau is projecting a 10 percent increase for next year, anticipating a leveling off of demand. Two new properties will come on line soon, the Candlewood Suites behind the Altamonte Mall and Suburban Lodges in Casselberry on Oxford Road.

POLICE LOG

The following reports were compiled from the Seminole County Sheriff's Office for incidents recorded Nov. 17.

Aggravated battery:

SANFORD, 13th Street, 1400 block, Nov. 14, 5:15 a.m. A 32-year-old man was arrested by Sanford Police for aggravated battery. Police said he was involved in an argument with another man at a bar when he punched the other man in the face. A short time later, he hit the man in the head and back with a baseball bat before leaving the scene. He was identified by witnesses and police called him at home asking him to come to the station and tell his version of the story. He was arrested when he arrived at the police station.

Burglary:

SANFORD, Sanford Avenue, 400 block, Nov. 15, 2:39 a.m. A 51-year-old man was arrested by Sanford Police for burglary to a structure and for assault. Police said he kicked in the door of a former girlfriend's residence and threatened to kill her if she did not give him money.

Domestic violence:

LONGWOOD, Orange Avenue, 200 block, Nov. 15, 12:12 a.m. A 32-year-old man was arrested by Longwood Police for domestic violence. Police said he had a fight with his wife in which he hit her and threw several things around their home. He also broke a fish tank during the fight.

SANFORD, Stonebrook Drive, 3100 block, Nov. 16, 3:05 a.m. A 32-year-old man was arrested by Sanford Police for domestic violence. Police said he had put a pillow over his live-in girlfriend's face and tried to suffocate her during an argument.

Drugs:

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS, Morris Street at Jackson Street, Nov. 15, 3:39 p.m. A 20-year-old man was arrested by Seminole County sheriff's deputies for the possession and sale of cocaine. Deputies said the man sold them three pieces of crack cocaine in exchange for $35 in cash.

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS, Merritt Street at Central, Nov. 15, 6:28 p.m. A 33-year-old man was arrested by Seminole County sheriff's deputies for possession of less than 20 grams of marijuana and for possession of drug paraphernalia. Deputies said the man was a passenger in a car that was stopped for a traffic violation. The driver gave deputies permission to search his vehicle. They found nothing on the driver or in the car, but the passenger had a baggie of marijuana in his pocket as well as a small smoking pipe.

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS, County Road 427 at Hayman Street, Nov. 16, 1:22 a.m. A 30-year-old man was arrested by Seminole County sheriff's deputies for possession of cocaine. Deputies said the driver was stopped for a traffic violation and he gave the deputies permission to search his vehicle. They found a piece of crack cocaine in front of the driver's seat. They also found two rocks of the drug in his mouth.

LONGWOOD, Magnolia Avenue, 100 block, Nov. 16, 2:01 a.m. A 31-year-old man was arrested by Seminole County sheriff's deputies for possession of crack cocaine, for resisting arrest without violence and for tampering with evidence. Deputies said an informant told them the man was selling drugs in the area and that he often held rocks of cocaine in his mouth to hide it from police. They said they found him and conducted a search. When they found nothing, they asked to look in his mouth. There they found cocaine and gum. At first he refused to spit out the items, but he finally agreed and the rocks tested positive for cocaine.

Golf

"I really like it," he said. "Sometimes I watch it on TV and the first time I tried it, I hit the ball over 80 yards."

Most of the kids said they prefer basketball and football and that they were having trouble with the grip, but they were really looking forward to going to Alaqua.

"My great-grandfather played golf but I've only played miniature golf," fifth-grader Jessica Tindel said. "It's really fun."

The kids don't look quite like Tiger Woods yet. In fact, most of them look like they are in a batting cage as elbows bend and legs fly all over the place.

But everyone has to start some time.

Henley

of the county commission. "I don't see that at all. We'll debate each issue on its own merit. We are five reasonable and intelligent men. We'll make mistakes, but we'll stick together."

At 65, Henley has begun a highly visible government job. The principal at Lyman High School for 31 years, Henley filled in as a county commissioner in 1993 and 1994 as a governor's appointee. He failed to win reelection in 1994 but defeated incumbent Win Adams in the District 4 primary this year.

Henley's arrival cost Randy Morris the chairman's spot he had held for three of the past four years. Morris passed the gavel to Henley on Tuesday after a vote of the newly organized board. Commissioner Grant Maloy declined a nomination to be chairman and was appointed vice-chairman.

"During the three years Randy Morris was chairman, many good things happened in the county," Henley said. "We owe him a great debt of gratitude. He and each of the commissioners sincerely desire to make Seminole County a better place. On this we all agree and it is why the people elected us into office. That's the American way."

Morris, though no longer chairman, remains a key force on the commission. Morris said he abhors the pettiness that crept into commission the past two years and seems ready to work with rather than against Carlton Henley.

There are a number of hot issues, beginning with the new public decency ordinance that went into effect the same day Henley was sworn into office. Henley said he believes the ordinance will hold up in court. But if it doesn't, he said the commission was prepared to deal with whatever comes next.

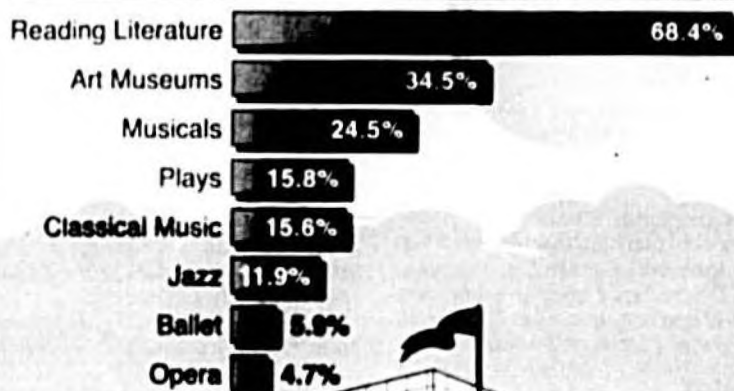

Win Adams watched from the rear of the chambers as Henley was seated on Tuesday. His name was not mentioned by any of the board members during the brief session. His name tag was replaced by Henley's.

Henley is leaving for Tallahassee to join the class of new commissioners from throughout the state for a three-day indoctrination session. He and Peggy Henley, his wife for 41 years, have already moved into their new home in the Rolling Hills area.

On Tuesday at 9 a.m., Henley will chair his first full-agenda meeting of the commission.

Patrons of the arts

Mean attendance rates for arts events

Last year, 46 percent of American adults said they attended an arts event. This survey also found that women were more likely than men to have visited a museum or attended an opera, theatrical, dance or classical music performance.

Clubs

dinance was enacted.

"Obviously, there is great concern that the adult clubs obey the rules," Harriett said.

"The citizens of the county voted for the new ordinance and the Sheriff's Office will uphold the law. For us it was business as usual with the new ordinance in effect. Undercover agents and deputies have and will continue to monitor these clubs."

Cmdr. Ray Bronson, the acting chief of the Sanford Police Department, said that the SPD will support the Sheriff's Office in its efforts to enforce the Public Decency ordinance. "The ordinance applies mainly to adult clubs but we realize the depth of the law," he said.

Watts worked spent extra time in practices to improve.

"He really matured his last two years," Blanton said. "He was a great athlete, and the kind of kid you were always glad to be around. He would get mad at himself and say 'hey, coach, let's run that drill again.' But, he wouldn't get mad at anyone else. I was lucky to coach him."

Winter Springs principal Wayne Epps was the principal at Oviedo while Watts was in high school. Epps said Watts is a gentleman who was raised by a good family.

"He's an excellent young man," Epps said. "He was a model student. He was popular with the students, the Homecoming King his senior year. With students and teachers, he was a real gentleman. He and his family have my full support."

This is the second accident Watts has been involved in at Kentucky. In July 1997, a rifle being passed from Watts to teammate Omar Smith accidentally discharged.

Watts faced a felony assault charge, and the outcome of the charge was not available Wednesday. Prosecutors at the time said the shooting of Smith was unintentional, but reckless.

Staff and wire reports contributed to this report.

Support Sanford for a brighter future

Hey Sanford. You missed a really good show. The Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce put on the city's first annual Heritage Festival last weekend and organizer Ron Rose put together an excellent event. There was music by nationally known recording artists (Lonestar, Loverboy and Chubby Checker), excellent local performers, great food and plenty of exhibits. The weather was great for each of the three days. Where was everyone?

It's easy to dismiss the low turnout since it was the first such event ever held in Sanford. But there was plenty of advance notice and news coverage publicizing the festival.

Friday, Lonestar, one of country music's hottest acts performed before dozens of empty seats (the show was great).

Chubby Checker and Loverboy packed the stage Saturday and Sunday, but booths which lined the streets all weekend went un-noticed and afternoon crowds both days were sparse.

Sanford, like it or not, has a reputation as a decaying town, one that is overlooked as the Central Florida boom has moved towards Orlando.

But there are many reasons why Sanford isn't ready to die without a fight.

The waterfront is soon expected to prosper and the historic district is looking better each week. A proposed hotel/conference center recently earned the approval of voters in a referendum passed earlier this month.

Old-timers remember the early 1960s when Walt Disney was considering putting his new "Florida Project" on the Sanford waterfront before he turned Kissimmee swamp-land into the world's largest tourist destination.

Sanford used to thrive. It used to be the celery capital of the world, had minor league baseball and was Florida's gateway to the south.

Obviously it will never be that way again, but there are enough concerned people and organizations trying to make Sanford a thriving, important part of Central Florida once again.

So, anyone interested in showing pride in Sanford and changing its image in Seminole County has to start supporting local events like the one the chamber put on last weekend.

Events like tonight's wrestling matches at the Sanford Civic Center to support the Sanford Police Explorers youth group (Also, check out Officer "Mad Dog" Mike Taylor in the squared circle).

Events like the annual Seminole High School fair this weekend which was poorly attended last year.

Schools like Sanford Middle School are always looking for business partners. Prestigious Alaquá Country Club is working with Hamilton Elementary School already and more organizations need to get involved.

The point is, Sanford, how many Florida cities can boast of over a century of tradition sitting along a beautiful waterfront?

People are working hard to make Sanford proud. An event like the Heritage Festival needed your support.

Support the town. People are trying hard to make this town into what it can be and what it once was.

And support the Sanford chamber and Ron Rose. They did a great job.

The cost of global warming treaties

By Joseph Perkins

I have just finished reading a fascinating collection of essays, "Dancing Naked in the Mind Field" (Pantheon Books, 1998) by Nobel Prize-winning scientist Kary Mullis. Among the La Jolla-based author's more provocative conclusions is that the whole global warming scare is hype and that the scientific evidence is far from convincing that human consumption of fossil fuels is overheating the planet.

But Mullis goes one step further. He says that the scientists who've climbed aboard the global warming bandwagon have done so because they have visions of grants and fellowships dancing in their wee little egg heads.

Mullis' writings, and his subsequent interview, come to mind as delegates representing more than 150 nations are gathered in Buenos Aires, Argentina, to thrash out details of the global warming treaty they negotiated 11 months ago in Kyoto, Japan.

The so-called Kyoto Protocol would require the United States to cut its greenhouse gas emissions to 7 percent below 1990 levels by 2012, which would amount to a real reduction of 30 percent when taking into account growth in the nation's economy and population.

Meanwhile, more than 130 nations that enthusiastically agreed to the global warming treaty would be held to no emissions reductions whatsoever, including such "developing" countries as China, India, Brazil, Mexico and Indonesia, which are expected to experience the greatest growth in greenhouse gas emissions over the next two decades.

This is borne out in a report by David Ridenour for the National Center for Public Policy Research. He estimates that Indonesia's emissions grew by 40 percent between 1990 and 1995, India's, by 28 percent over the same span. China's, 27 percent and Brazil's, 20 percent. All of which leads Ridenour to conclude that over the next 20 years, "developing nations will be responsible for as much as 60 percent of all greenhouse emissions."

Yet these developing nations adamantly refuse to be bound by any emissions reductions, even as they endorse painful emissions cuts for the United States over the next 15 years, which, if put in place, would have a staggering effect on the U.S. economy.

Indeed, when I returned from last December's global warming summit in Kyoto, I asked Harvard economist Robert Stavins to estimate the cost of U.S. compliance with the treaty. He said that the government would have to dramatically increase the cost of energy to drive down demand by as much as 40 percent.

Disabled need more media coverage

By Tony Tizzio

Like most minority groups in the U.S., the disabled have gotten very little focus in the media over the years. That has unfortunately hurt our progression in society. For the sake of simplicity I will try to limit references to television and movies.

Though the disabled are getting more attention in certain areas, there is still much work to be done in the media area. Case in point. There is a new movie out called Simon Birch and although I have not yet seen it, I have seen the multitude of ads and commercials touting the film.

In these spots, the public sees that the story is about a developmentally disabled youngster and the adventures he goes through while growing up. The interesting part is that the young man in the movie is played by an actual disabled youth. That has not always been the case.

In the past, Hollywood surely would have found a way to have that part played by a non-disabled actor or would not have made the movie at all. This to me is progress. What we are talking about is opportunity, or to be more precise, giving more opportunities to the disabled.

I especially hope that this movie makes a lot of money so when corporate America sees that money can be made from disability related subjects, there will be more of them. Let's face it, today's Hollywood is part of corporate America.

At an earlier time, it was unheard of to see a TV show or movie about a disabled person, then came Helen Keller and Ironside. Ironside is interesting to note for two reasons: 1) the only problem is that the lead actor, Raymond Burr, was not really disabled and, 2) Ironside, however, was a heroic figure.

Several TV shows such as Wise-Guy which had Jim Byrnes who had lost both legs (he was also in the Highlander series) and Life Goes On with Chris Burke had Down's Syndrome, featured disabled actors. They were supporting actors, but at least they were disabled.

These shows ended some time ago, and except for sporadic appearances on TV you hardly see those actors anymore. The only disabled actor I can remember seeing recently is Marlee Matlin, the hearing impaired and Oscar winning star of the 1986 film, Children of a Lesser God. Other than Matlin you almost never see a disabled person in a leading role.

Although we have only concentrated on TV and movies today, it should be noted that these are mostly national shows. On the local level, in 1981 I created and produced a local talk show for local access TV. It was called Special People and ran until 1987. Until that time nobody had ever seen a talk show about the disabled.

Ten years later came Special People, a column that ran in the Seminole Herald.

My views come from living many years as a disabled person, and reading. Some research for today's column was done on Encarta Multimedia Encyclopedia. Reader's wishing to share their views on the disabled can write me in care of this newspaper.

Tony Tizzio is an advocate for the disabled and serves on numerous committees. He lives in Casselberry.

We invite readers to submit their thoughts in writing on county issues regarding people, places and things to the My Two Cents Guest Column. To give more residents a chance to express their views, we ask that individual guest writers submit no more than one column a month and try to write no more than 700 words. Writers should include their address and telephone number with all correspondence. Please mail to the Seminole Herald, Editor, 300 N. French Ave., Sanford, FL 32771 or fax to (407) 323-9408, or email to sheditor@aol.com.

Simple words have positive impact

Recently I read a short article that I need to share. In fact, the incident referred to in the article happened in a public education classroom several decades ago. It reads as follows:

"When I was in high school, I was very shy.

One day we were required to memorize a poem and recite it while standing next to our desks.

As usual, I had a panic attack. When my turn came, I stood by my desk, read my poem, and sat down.

At that moment, Jim Murphy, whose desk was in front of mine, turned to me and said 'You did good!'

Now, Jim wasn't interested in me romantically. He was just kind enough to make that comment—not something you'd find in a whole lot of freshman boys.

I never forgot that incident, and even though it happened over 30 years ago, I longed for the opportunity to thank Jim.

That opportunity arrived when I saw him and his wife at a class reunion.

I took them aside and thanked Jim for his kindness toward a shy, trembling girl.

He didn't remember the incident, and had no idea what a tremendous impact his words had made on my life.

Three simple words—"You did good!"

What a difference each of us could make if we all would remember to be as kind to others as Jim was to me."

Judi R. Class of 1961.

Although it may not be grammatically correct, those three little words certainly delivered a strong and important message. Our youngsters need positive reinforcement whenever reasonably appropriate. Let's all be sensitive to their needs and take opportunities to make a positive impact on their lives whenever we can.

Volunteers earn kudos for work

By Bill Kerns
HERALD STAFF WRITER

SANFORD - Local volunteers and agencies received honors Monday night in the Seminole County Juvenile Justice Council One-Year Later Celebration at the Juvenile Assessment Center in Sanford.

"It's wonderful to see so many people and agencies working together as partners," Kip Beacham, manager of the Juvenile Assessment Center said. "The work being done is innovative, and very cooperative. The best is yet to come."

Rose Davis of Sanford was nominated by The Grove Counseling Center for volunteering to residents of the community with a focus on youth services a minimum of 60 hours per week.

Davis is the 1995 founder of the Brethren Reaching Out Program, a faith outreach initiative providing services to at risk youth.

Lorenzo Polk of Sanford was nominated by the Tobacco-Free Partnership for serving as a role model and mentor for several boys. Since August of 1996, Polk has volunteered an average of two hours per week to participating in community service project.

Altemese Bentley of Sanford was nominated by The Harbor agency for tutoring students. Since September, Bentley has volunteered an average of one hour per week to serve as a mentor.

Paula Ritchey of Lake Mary was nominated by Boys Town for developing and organizing the "Safe Place" program with the Fire Departments in Seminole County. Since January of 1997, Ritchey has volunteered an average of four hours per week with Boys Town.

Robert Shelley of Oviedo was nominated by the Juvenile Assessment Center for attending volunteer meetings, and doing more work than is required. Since July of 1996, Shelly has volunteered an average of 25 hours per week to talk with parents and their children.

Alex Tetcher of Longwood was nominated by the Seminole County Teen Center for performing as a Teen Court attorney, juror, and court clerk. Since March, 1997 Tetcher has volunteered an average of three hours per week to train new Teen Court members and serve as Captain of the Anti-Tobacco Coalition.

Sanford resident Altemese Bentley was recognized for her volunteer work with the Juvenile Justice Council at a ceremony Monday. Steve Harriett, chief deputy with the Seminole County Sheriff's Office was one of the guest speakers.

Look out for the Tribe next year

SANFORD - For most teams a 7-3 record in football would be cause for celebration. At Seminole High School it is cause for turning in the football uniforms.

A season that began with dreams of Gainesville and The Swamp, ended with a crushing loss on its own home field. Mainland turned a close game into a romp in just 24 minutes as Seminole saw its championship dreams running away as fast as the Mainland backfield.

What went wrong?

Was it complacency?

Maybe this year's very talented team tried to live off of the many accomplishments of last year's squad. That certainly would be easy to do.

Despite an unexpected and early dismissal from postseason play, new coach Jim Worthington and a group of seniors who would be wanted on any team in the state took a 3-7 program that hadn't had a winning record in four years to 8-3.

Add this year's 7-3 performance to that and Worthington has a 15-6 record over just two short years. It would be easy to think you're really good when you have a really good coach.

However, without the hunger, it's hard to get the wins in close games.

Was it a lack of leadership?

Last year's team was filled with players that refused to let anything get them down.

Defensive standout T.J. Martin, now playing ball and attending class in Jacksonville, was a leader of the truest form. During pre-season practice an injured Martin cheered his teammates on during wind sprints.

Back with his team for the regular season, Martin played like a mad man on the field and was louder and more inspiring than any cheerleader in his endless pursuit of encouragement. He was just one of many.

This year, the sidelines were quiet. Maybe it was because the Tribe was shocked when they fell behind to teams like Spruce Creek, Lake Brantley and Mainland. Or maybe there was something missing...something only a T.J. Martin could bring to the team.

Was it inexperience?

Seminole lost a lot with the 1998 graduating class. Including many key team members and weapons. Gone were players like 1,000-yard rusher Joe Knight, secondary strong man Arniek Footman and wide receiver Eric Smith.

Seminole gained a lot this year, however, with underclassmen like Clarence Latimer, Joe Watson, Mike Bradley, Willie Bennett and a much improved front man in senior quarterback Garrett Goldsmith.

So, what was the problem?

That is a very frustrating question considering the fact that Seminole had more talent, better coaching and every opportunity that the three teams who served them losses had.

It was a good team this year with maybe even higher expectations than last year's team had placed on them.

They had already proven they could win and Worthington had taken his position as one of the premier coaches in at least the county. There were some problems on the team, but each time they faced an obstacle, they overcame it.

That's where the frustration comes in. This was a better team than 7-3.

The loss to Spruce Creek was surprising. Pinpointing the reason for the loss would be impossible as it kind of happened slowly. Spruce Creek is a good team and maybe that's one loss that can be accepted.

Lake Brantley can't be accepted as easily, however. Although the Patriots have gone undefeated this season and are a well coached, talented squad, they are a team that runs a triple option offense that Seminole's defense should have been able to handle.

The Seminoles played their hearts out and simply fell short in a game that probably could have gone either way with one or two plays turning out differently.

Mainland was the toughest of the three. At the half, the Seminoles were tied with a team some thought might beat up on them a little. They played smart, tough and with heart.

Something happened in the second half, however, and while Seminole was stopped dead in its tracks, Mainland was having its way. That heart-breaking loss was the end of the season for the Tribe, who managed to pull together once more and beat cross-town rival Lake Mary for no other reason than pride.

It's easy to sit here and speculate about a team that had so much promise but fell short of the expectations they set for themselves and tried to live up to from everyone else.

The bottom line is...these kids played hard, gave everything they had and they'll be back for more next year. With another year of experience under their belts, these sophomores and juniors will be experienced seniors and juniors who know how disappointment feels. They will be hungry for wins and another shot at the playoffs.

If they keep improving and listening to the advice of their coach, these kids have a great season waiting for them in just nine short months.

Winter Springs girls thump Oviedo in conference opener

By Jeff Berlische
ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

WINTER SPRINGS - Homecoming happened at Winter Springs High School two weeks ago, but the real celebration happened last night.

The Bears held their home opener and knocked off neighborhood rival Oviedo High School, 55-37, in the first Seminole Athletic Conference game for both teams.

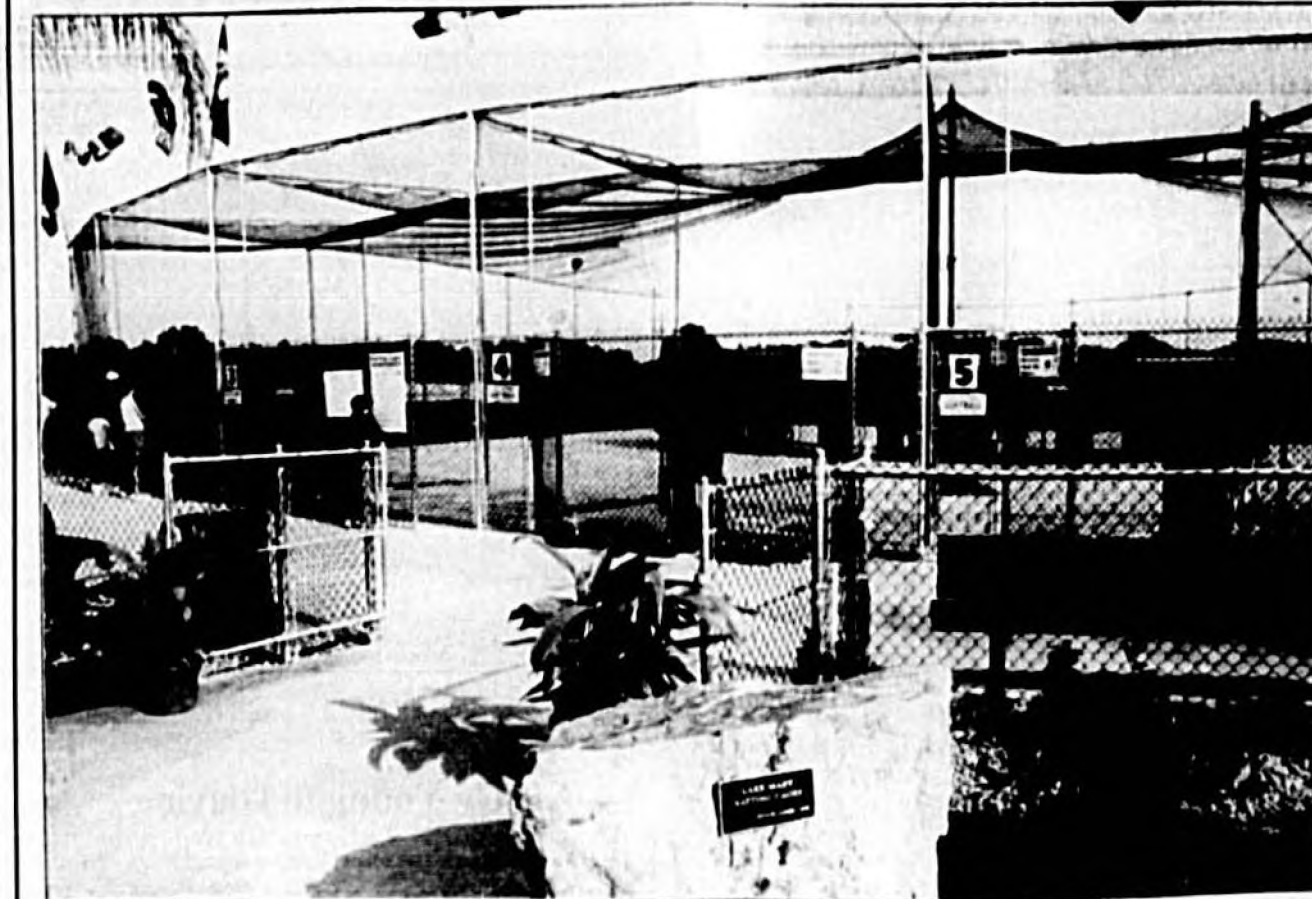

Winter Springs features super star point guard Mary Lou Johnston, a transfer from Oviedo, and several others who made the switch prior to last year when Winter Springs opened its doors for the first time.

The Bears are expected to make major improvements from last year's inaugural season with the addition of Johnston, rebounder Danal Hicks from Lake Brantley and freshman Jen

BATTING CAGES OPENED IN LAKE MARY

The beautiful new facility (middle photo) has 10 cages with pitching machines for baseball, fast pitch softball and slow pitch softball of varying speeds and bats and batting helmets are provided.

Cages operator Cecil Thompson (left) hands out free T-shirts or baseball cards to all of the children who attended the opening.

The facility also features a small shop with gloves, hats, batting gloves, etc. for sale.

The cages, located near the concession stand and restrooms at the Lake Mary Sports Complex between SR 46-A and Country Club Road across from the Mayfair Country Club, is open from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. seven days a week.

Playoff in women's softball

By Dean Smith
HERALD SPORTS EDITOR

SANFORD - Eleven weeks and still no champion.

Tuesday night at Pinehurst Park all three games in the City of Sanford Women's Fall Slow Pitch Softball League saw the winning team score 14 runs on 17 hits.

And when the lights were extinguished for the evening, Flyers Wings & Grill and Suniland Corporation were still deadlocked for the top spot.

Suniland Corporation took a 7-2 lead after four innings and still led 14-5 after scoring five runs in the bottom of the sixth inning.

But Curt's Alleycats, which entered the game tied with Flyers Wings & Grill and Suniland Corporation for the league lead, was not ready to quit and almost pulled off a miracle comeback.

Eight of the first nine batters in the top of the seventh inning reached base and seven runners scored for Curt's Alleycats, cutting the lead to 14-12 with a runner on third base and only one out.

But Suniland Corporation held on as the next batter popped up to first and the final batter grounded out, third to first, to end the game.

With a tie for the title in sight, Flyers Wings & Grill got off to a slow start in the second game, holding just a 1-0 lead after two innings.

The co-leaders then got their offense rolling, scoring six runs in the third inning and five runs in the fifth inning to close out a 14-1 triumph over Vaughan Incorporated.

In the nightcap, the Sharks scored in five of six innings, including six runs in the top of the second inning, and wrapped up a fourth place finish with a 14-2 victory over Orlando Dodge.

Last night's contests were make-ups for games rained out on October 20th.

Flyers Wings & Grill and Suniland Corporation end the regular season with 8-2 records, while Curt's Alleycats wound up third with a 7-3 mark.

Completing the standings were the Sharks (4-6), Vaughan Incorporated (3-7) and Orlando Dodge (0-10).

The league will hold a winner-take-all game next Tuesday night at Pinehurst Park at 7 p.m.

Contributing for Suniland Corporation were Belinda Anderson (one double, three singles, two runs scored, five RBI), Teresa Finck (two doubles, one single, three runs scored, two RBI) and Carol Cranick (one double, two singles, three runs scored, two RBI).

Also contributing were Donna Klein (one triple, one single, one run scored, three RBI), Barb Martin (two singles, one run scored), Ann Lanza (one single, two runs scored, one RBI), Dino Wilson (one single, two runs scored), Micki Lewis (one single) and Kim Myers (one RBI).

Doing the damage for Curt's Alleycats were Deena Flannin (two triples, two singles, two runs scored, three RBI), Barbie Bartels (three singles, one run scored, three RBI), Becky Simpson (three singles, one run scored), Jodi Johnson (one triple, one single)

Lake Mary girls open with romp

From Staff Reports

CASSELBERRY — The Lake Mary girls' basketball team had to open defense of its 1998 Class 6A State Championship on the road Tuesday night, but it did not matter.

The Lady Rams (1-0) made quick work of homestanding Lake Howell, racing to an 18-2 first period lead and cruising to a 58-17 Seminole Athletic Conference triumph.

Freshman Bryn Mosler made her first varsity appearance a good one as she led all scorers with 14 points. Senior power forward Mary Leah Sutton chipped in with 12 points for the winners.

The Lake Mary junior varsity team, which has not lost in two years, kept the streak alive, coasting past the Silver Hawks, 52-25.

The Rams will stay on the road, traveling to Longwood for an SAC matchup on Thursday against Lyman. The tripleheader begins at 4:15 p.m. with the freshmen hitting the hardwood. That contest will be followed by the junior varsity at 5:45 p.m. and the varsity at 7:30 p.m.

Lake Mary will make its first home appearance on Friday, hosting a usually tough Eustis club. The JV's kick off the action at 6 p.m. with the varsity set to tip off at 7:30 p.m.

TRIBE GIRLS ROMP

SANFORD — The Seminole High School Girls' Basketball team started its season on an impressive winning note Tuesday night at Bill Fleming Memorial Gymnasium.

The Lady 'Noles stomped Deltona 49-21. The victory not only gave Seminole a win in its first game of the season it also gave the Tribe its first Class 5A-District 4 triumph.

At halftime, the incredibly young Seminole squad had already built up an overwhelming lead of 27-1.

The comfortable lead allowed Seminole head coach Sylvester Wynn to get back-ups into the game to gain experience against a district opponent.

"We played really good defense, and that won the game," said Seminole head coach Sylvester Wynn.

Offensively, Martina Kendrick led the Lady 'Noles with 12 points. Natasha Fisher scored 10, and Laqueena Grayson added nine.

"We have a young team, but the girls are working real hard," said Wynn.

Earlier, Deltona's freshman team edged Seminole 22-20, and Deltona's junior varsity team won 25-22.

Seminole will face off against another district foe tonight in Daytona Beach against Maitland. The JV will play at 5:15 p.m., followed by the varsity contest at 7 p.m.

The Tribe will then play their third game in as many nights, returning to Bill Fleming Gymnasium to host Lake Brantley in their Seminole Athletic Conference opener on Thursday. The tripleheader will begin with the freshman game at 4:30 p.m., followed by the junior varsity at 6 p.m., and the varsity at 7:30 p.m.

GREYHOUNDS RUN PAST PATRIOTS

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Lyman took a 10-4 lead after one quarter and built the advantage to 25-8 at halftime and held off Lake Brantley, 49-31, in Seminole Athletic Conference girls' basketball action Tuesday night in Altamonte Springs.

Smith poured in 17 points to lead the Greyhounds (1-0), while Cruz added 13 points.

Lyman has major contest on Thursday night, hosting defending-state champion Lake Mary in an SAC game on Thursday. The tripleheader begins with the freshman game at 4:30 p.m., followed by the junior varsity at 6 p.m. and the varsity at 7:30 p.m.

On Friday, the Greyhounds will travel to Deltona to take on Pine Ridge. The junior varsity takes the floor at 6 p.m. with the varsity game at 7:30 p.m.

The Patriots (0-1) will also be in SAC action on Thursday, traveling to Sanford to take on Seminole. The tripleheader tips off with the freshman game at 4:30 p.m., the junior varsity at 6 p.m. and the varsity hitting the hardwood at 7:30 p.m.

Mary Lou Johnston (No. 12, left) came back to haunt her old teammates as the former star guard at Oviedo scored a game-high 17 points in her first home game to lead Winter Springs past Kelly Brock (No. 22, right) and the Lions, 55-37, Tuesday in Seminole Athletic Conference basketball action.

Bears

Frost to go with Kris and Bev Dedelow, and they advanced their record to 2-0 after Tuesday night's victory.

It wasn't quite as pretty as coach Betsy Hughes, an Oviedo alumna, would have liked, but she said she'd take it.

"It was a win, but it wasn't a happy win," Hughes said. "They played better but they really need to step it up."

The game also featured the first conference loss for new Oviedo coach Brian Wilson.

Wilson is taking over for retired Tom Bieri and is coaching many of the same players he had as junior varsity coach last season.

His Lions lost their opener, 51-49, Monday night to Bishop Moore, but Wilson said the beginning of the season is just going to be a learning experience.

"It's going to take time," Wilson said. "We're young and we need to learn, but this is like my JV team last year. We lost a lot of people."

The loss of Johnston was noticeable in the Oviedo offense, but the Bears didn't blend too well either as the game was sloppy throughout.

Winter Springs took its first lead, 8-0, on a Johnston jumper, and continued to pull away, leading 29-21 at the half.

Shannon Cotton kept the Lions in the game with eight first half points.

The game stayed sloppy early in the second half until the Winter Springs offense started to click. Bev Dedelow scored six points early to put Winter Springs up by 12, and the game was never close again as the Bears' defense shut down Cotton and the Oviedo offense.

Johnston led the way with 17 points despite a turnover-filled night, and Missy Guadagnino added nine points.

For Oviedo, Lynette Smiley led the way with 11 points, while Cotton ended up with 10.

Winter Springs will be at University High School on Friday for a tripleheader. The freshmen get the action started at 4:30 p.m., with the junior varsity beginning at 6 p.m. and the varsity tipping off at 7:30 p.m.

Vantare claims Industrial softball title

By Dean Smith
HERALD SPORTS EDITOR

SANFORD — Vantare overcame an early deficit with two big innings and defeated Briar Corporation, 13-8, to clinch the championship of the City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department Fall Industrial Slow Pitch Softball League at Pinehurst Park Friday night.

Briar Corporation built a 6-2 lead in the top of the second inning on the strength of a two-run home run by Don Baldwin in the first inning and a two-run, two out single by Ruben Garcia in the second inning.

Vantare got a run back in the bottom of the second inning and Briar Corporation added a single run in the top of the third

Briar Corporation	241 000 1	8 10

Briar Corporation	011 110	4 11

inning before Vantare took the lead for good by plating five runs in the bottom of the third inning.

The big blow in the inning was a two-run single by K. Saver.

Vantare later put the game out of reach as C. Sclafani's two-run, two out double in the bottom of the fifth inning capped a four-run outburst.

Briar Corporation came back in the nightcap, however, to end what slim hopes Invacare had, scoring single runs in each of the second, third, fourth and fifth innings to post a 4-2 victory.

The games were make-ups from contests rained out on September 18th.

Vantare is now 7-3, while Invacare is 5-6 and Briar Corporation is 4-7.

The league will wrap up the season this Friday at Pinehurst Park, making up games that were rained out on October 25th.

Vantare has the doubleheader, hosting Invacare at 7 p.m. and Briar Corporation at 8 p.m.

Powering Vantare against Briar Corporation were H.J. Cardoza (one triple, one double, one run scored, two RBI), James Coffman (one triple, one single, two runs scored, one run scored, two RBI).

IN BRIEF

SHS baseball fund raiser

SANFORD — The Seminole High School baseball team will be holding a fund raising clinic on December 21st and 22nd.

The clinic will be the Hitting & Pitching Camp, featuring Tuttle Thomas and J.D. Artiga from the University of Miami.

The camp is set for the first 100 entrants, giving a ratio of instructors to campers of 1-10.

Cost will be $80 and the camp will run from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. daily.

For more information, call Mike Powers at 320 5054.

Hackers back still on top

WINTER SPRINGS — The PBS Hackers from Oviedo got back on the winning track and remained in first place by beating Iron Horse, 13-2, in City of Winter Springs Women's Fall Slow Pitch Softball League action at Central Winds Park Monday night.

The Hackers (7-2) hold a one game lead with one game left, GDDC next Monday at 6:30 p.m.

A victory gives PBS the title, while a loss would mean a playoff with Select.

Leading the offense for the Hackers were Phyllis Baynes (three singles, four RBI), Theresa Walburger (one triple, two singles, three runs scored), Jaudon Marlette (one double, two singles, three runs scored), Anna Hollis (two singles, three runs scored, two RBI), Debbie Pegel (two singles, two RBI), Rose Ann Fry (one double, two runs scored, two RBI) and Stacy Burwell (one single, two runs scored, three RBI).

Ocean Spray Road Race

ORLANDO — The Oena Spray Feed America Five Miler will take place Thanksgiving Day, November 26th at 8:30 a.m.

This five mile road race will start and finish in downtown Orlando's historic Church Street Market, passing by Lake Eola and Lake Davis on the race route.

All proceeds benefit the SENIORS TRUST Meals on Wheels program.

Awards will be given to the top 10 male and female finishers.

In addition to the five-miler, there will also be a 2-Mile Turkey Trot at 7:45 a.m. and a Kids 1K Fun Run at 8:35 a.m.

Entry fee is $20 per person or $10 with a bag containing canned and/or boxed non-perishable groceries.

All groceries received will be donated to local food pantries.

For entry information, please call Ocean Spray at (407) 898-1313.

Missing basketball?

ORLANDO — You can't see the NBA, but for a can of food you can see future NBA stars in action in the Tip-Off Classic at Winter Park High School.

The tournament starts at 7 p.m. on December 2nd and runs through December 5th.

For over 20 years, the Rotary Club of Orange County East has sponsored and run this prestigious tournament where college and pro scouts congregate. This tournament has raised over $250,000 which has been donated to local charities and the participating schools. High schools which have earned an invitation to participate this year are: Daytona Beach Mainland, Dr. Phillips, Jones, Lake Howell, Oak Ridge, Osecola, Sanford Seminole, and Winter Park.

For the past three years, admission into the tournament has been a can of food. The Rotary Club uses the food and $500 to create holiday food baskets that are distributed to needy families the week before Christmas. The remainder of the food is donated to area church kitchens.

"Not only is it very rewarding to provide Christmas dinner to a family that would not have the meal otherwise, but it also allows the fans to watch the tournament for a minimal cost," said Bob Harvey, Tip-Off Classic chairman.

The Rotary Club of Orange County East was founded 30 years ago as the first breakfast club in Rotary International. It is one of 43 clubs in District 6980 in Central Florida. The men and women of Orange County East Rotary work in unison for a better club and to exemplify Rotary's motto of "Service Above Self."

NL Cy Young to Glavine

NEW YORK — Atlanta Braves lefthander Tom Glavine won his second Cy Young Award on Tuesday, edging San Diego Padres reliever Trevor Hoffman in one of the closest votes ever.

Hoffman collected more first place votes than Glavine, 15-13, but Hoffman was not named at all on six ballots, giving Glavine a 98-88 edge.

Hoffman's teammate, Kevin Brown, was third, followed by the Atlanta duo of John Smoltz and Greg Maddox.

SCW Pro-Wrestling

SANFORD — The Sanford Police Explorers will be sponsoring SCW (Southern Championship Wrestling) Pro-Wrestling on Wednesday, November 18, 1998, at the Sanford Civic Center located at the corner of Sanford Ave. and Seminole Blvd. on the lake front.

Come see Sanford's own "Mr. Money" Jeff Deen and "Mad Dog" Mike Taylor and his new manager, "Ms. Red Hot Pepper", along with "The Phenom" Bryan Austin, The Syrian Slasher, "Up Town" Frankie Capone, "The Mercenary", "Lord of Discipline", The Florida Hurricane, and many others.

Doors will open at 6:30 p.m. with the action beginning at 7:30 p.m. The cost is $8.00 for all seats. Proceeds will go to the Sanford Police Explorers to help purchase a van for their program.

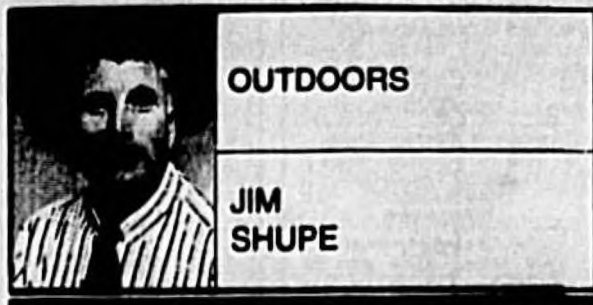

For more information or tickets, please contact Ofc. Mike Taylor at (407) 323-3030. Tickets are also available at Billy Boy's located at the Corner of 1st St. and Sanford Ave. in Sanford, (407) 321-0833.

A dozen tackle tips to make you a better angler

1. Learn how to correctly tie knots. At a minimum learn the improved, clinch and palomar knots to hold terminal tackle (hooks, swivels, snaps) to your line and the surgeon's knot to the line to line or line to leader. Another useful knot for saltwater anglers is the Bimini Twist.
2. Monofilament line stretches up to 20 percent. This is an advantage because it reduces the sudden stress a big fish puts on a line when pulling against the drag. Its disadvantage is that this gives fish a chance to head towards cover before you can turn its head toward the boat. If you want to reduce the line stretch problem, consider switching to one of the high-tech braided fishing lines. They have virtually no stretch so all the shock of the fish is transferred to the rod and drag on the reel. A cheap reel won't survive.
3. Re-spool your reels with new line on a regular basis. How often this needs to be done depends on how often you fish. Charter captains replace lines every few days if they are catching a lot of fish. Recreational anglers who fish once a month or so may only have to put new line on once or twice a year. Monofilament line gets stretched out after catching fish. You cannot see when this happens nor tell how bad the problem is until your catches break the line. Fishing line is inexpensive so change your line sooner rather than later.
4. Frequently examine the working end of your line for cuts, nicks, and abrasions. Some anglers do this after every fish they catch. If the leader or end of the line looks or feels rough, replace it. Monofilament line's strength is greatly diminished when cut or abraded. Re-rigging whenever you notice the damaged line might take a few extra minutes but you will lose far fewer fish this way.

OUTDOORS

5. Don't leave monofilament line exposed to the sun. The ultraviolet rays destroy it. The problem is serious if the line looks or feels chalky. Line in this condition should be replaced.
6. Don't discard pieces of fishing line in the water. For that matter, never throw any trash in the water. Fishing line is especially bad. It does not break down over time and it can become fouled in birds and fish and lead to their death (see the section on pelicans in the Safe and Responsible Angling chapter). Fishing line can be recycled at many bait and tackle stores.
7. Saltwater angling requires using a leader. Monofilament line in the 20-to-60-pound test range is the most commonly used material. Some anglers prefer to use steel cable when fishing for sharks and larger open water fish.
8. As a general rule use a swivel to connect the leader to the line if you're using a sinker in the terminal rig. If no sinker is used, or if using small split shot on your line, tie the leader and line directly together using a strong knot such as a surgeons knot.

9. When fishing with lures that don't come with a split ring, use a loop knot. This will allow full action of the lure. Split rings function like loops so you can use an improved clinch knot or other tight knot.

10. Saltwater corrodes metal. Always rinse off your rods and reels with freshwater after a day of saltwater fishing. Follow the manufacturer's directions for doing this and keep your reels properly lubricated. Rinsing lures in freshwater and letting them dry before storing them in your tackle box will help delay the rusting of hooks.

11. Use a hook sharpener. Most anglers don't do this and they lose fish as a result.

12. Buying quality tackle pays off. Yes, you can go to the mass merchandisers and purchase a rod and reel combination for under $30. But, don't count on catching a saltwater fish of any size. The drags on these low-end reels are very weak and the guides of the rods tend to rust quickly. Your best bet is to buy quality products. You can always get professional help from the independent tackle shops. They can help you select a combo that fits your budget and will work for the type of fish you want to catch.

SHUPE'S SCOOP

cover and deep water. Once a big bass has been taken from such a spot, another will eventually move in.

FISHING FORECAST

Snook action is still fair at Sebastian Inlet with fish to 20 pounds. Large live shrimp or small baitfish work best. One-ounce jigs or Rapala type lures are top artificials. Also expect flounder, redfish, small snapper and a few bluefish. The outgoing tide seems to be best, as bait is swept out of the inlet to waiting game fish.

Expect good bass action in the river, especially from Puzzle Lake south to Lake Winder. This section of the river holds good numbers of bass over the 8-pound mark. Large shiners are hard to beat this time of year for lunker bass. Fish slough mouths in Puzzle Lake and the points of weedlines in Lake Poinsett.

Captain Jack at Port Canaveral reports fair offshore action when seas permit. Dolphin, wahoo and king mackerel have been reliable offshore. Inside the Port, count on flounder and sheepshead. Trout and redfish are on the flats of the Banana and Indian Rivers.

Ponce Inlet has good fishing for sheepshead, drum, redfish, flounder, small bluefish and jack crevalle. Live or dead shrimp is the top bait. Finger mullet work well for flounder and redfish. Trout and redfish are rated as good in Mosquito Lagoon.

Ads reveal national obsessions

DEAR DR. GOTT: Based on the advertising I see, I assume that the most common ailments affecting the American public are acid indigestion and constipation. Am I correct?

DEAR HEADER: Yep. To these two problems, you might add hemorrhoids, bad breath and smelly arm pits. You can assume that these are national concerns, because advertisers consistently plug their antidotes during the evening news. And, of course, dinner time is just the right moment to hit people with a barrage of such attractive and edifying commercials. Perhaps if manufacturers stopped the endlessly repetitive emphasis on these bodily woes, fewer people would suffer from them — the woes, as well as the commercials.

To give you related information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Constipation and Diarrhea." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2017, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Because of asthma, I take theophylline. One morning, a half hour after taking my pill, I got dizzy, fell off my bike and hit a parked car. Now I take half a pill and have no more unsteadiness. My doctor brushed me off.

DEAR READER: Theophylline is an old-fashioned remedy for asthma. It has many side effects and can be dangerous. Theophylline reacts badly with several medications. The major side effects include vomiting, headache, insomnia, seizures, cardiac irregularities, tremors and disorientation.

Given your brief episode of dizziness, I'd be hard pressed to blame the drug. Nonetheless, I do not agree with your physician. The event shouldn't be dismissed out of hand. If I were you, I'd badger the doctor to change your medicine to another safer and equally effective product, of which there are many.

DEAR DR. GOTT: All the diet books I have read urge people to limit their consumption of eggs because of high cholesterol. Is there any way around this?

DEAR READER: Many Americans consume too much cholesterol, in the form of animal fat and dairy products. This dietary cholesterol may raise the level of serum cholesterol, leading to increased risk of heart disease and stroke. It's probably prudent for most people to reduce high cholesterol foods, such as eggs, butter, cheese, whole milk, luncheon meats and red meat. Therefore, I agree with your level to be normal (200 milligrams per deciliter or less) and believes that dietary fat restriction is not necessary.

Remember, however, that cholesterol-free egg substitutes are available in most grocery stores.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Help for the toughest

By Phillip Alder

The toughest part of bridge is defense — no doubt about it. If you are willing to work while improving (there's no free luncheon here), buy Martin Hoffman's book, "Bridge, Defence in Depth," which has been republished by Batsford. You are faced with 65 problems on right hand pages. After deciding what you would do, flip over to see if Hoffman agrees with you. The author claims that the first 31 are simpler than the last 34, but most are tricky. And you must be ready for British bidding (for example, four card majors and weak no trumps) with no explanatory notes. Here is one of the easy(?) deals. You are East, looking only at your hand and North's, the dummy's. Against four spades, your partner leads the diamond nine, queen, ace, six. What do you do at trick two? Yes, North is light for raising to two spades, but it is tactically bad to pass. It looks natural to switch to the club queen. But this is only all right if West reverts to diamonds at trick three. More likely, he will play back a club. Then, declarer ruffs, ducks a heart, gets into dummy with a heart ruff, and picks up the trumps. You need to organize a diamond ruff for partner while keeping declarer out of the dummy; otherwise, he can pull trumps. The winning return is the diamond 10. (If you lead the two, declarer will run it around to the dummy.) Now you must get one trick in each suit, the spade being either the king or a diamond ruff, depending on declarer's line. The book is $20.95 postpaid from Haron Barclay (800) 274-2221.

HOROSCOPE

Your Birthday

Wednesday, Nov. 18, 1998

Fulfilling a specific goal you personally inaugurate could be in the offing for you in the year ahead. It will not only grant you many benefits in the future, but it will also give you a great sense of gratification. SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Things could begin shifting today in ways that will give you greater control over projects that have been governed by outside factors thus far. Your destiny can now be in your own hands. Trying to patch up a broken romance? The Astro-Graph Matchmaker can help you understand what to do to make the relationship work. Mail $2.75 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1758, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Some interesting developments could be stirring for you behind the scenes today. It might hold some advantage for you where your status or position is concerned. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Happy changes are in the offing today regarding the fulfillment of your hopes which have fallen short thus far. You should now be more than able to make up for lost time. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) What you envision can be positively achieved a bit more easily than usual today. First establish specific objectives for yourself. Shoot for the stars! PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Mutually profitable uses can be found today for some special knowledge you've acquired through personal experiences. They will have great value to others, as well as yourself. ARIES (March 21-April 19) Should someone with a good track record business wise offer you some kind of inside information today, don't discount it. In fact, further investigation is warranted. TAURUS (April 20-May 20) The chances for getting an equitable deal where everyone could benefit in fair proportions are excellent today. So negotiate your terms now! GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You should be able to clarify your objectives today and do your work more effectively as things come clearly into focus at this time. You'll begin seeing probabilities in a better light. CANCER (June 21-July 22) A social involvement you're hoping to get under way could become a monumental success today. Consider ways to reorganize things along a more productive line. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Old projects should be brought to successful conclusions today. This will enable you to start a new endeavor you've been hankering to launch. Simply apply yourself. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Do something about a new idea you've been toying with for some time today. The charts favor its success, so don't procrastinate and shove it for a later date. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) As of today, the conditions will generally begin to look more encouraging for you where your material interests are concerned. Keep the faith.
