

Ambulance Service Faces County Audit

By ED PRICKETT
Herald Staff Writer

County government's Office of Management Analysis and Evaluation (OMAE) is recommending an audit of the books of Herndon Ambulance Service of Orlando, holder of the exclusive contract for ambulance services in Seminole County.

OMAE, the county's watchdog agency, asks that the audit be completed before awarding next year's exclusive contract to Herndon or to a new firm seeking the contract, Alda Ambulance Services Inc.

Both firms are scheduled to appear at a 7 p.m. public hearing on Tuesday.

"I think the county would be well-served to go ahead and hire an outside auditor," OMAE's Dave Hotary said this morning. Hotary, the financial analyst who prepared the report, estimated the audit could cost as much as $5,000 to $6,000.

Public Safety Director Gary Kaiser concurred with OMAE's findings and backed the department's call for an outside audit of Herndon books. The audit would try to determine the exact revenue picture for coming years.

County officials need to know what revenue is anticipated before deciding to continue the $20,000-a-year subsidy paid Herndon. Alda claims the service can be provided without the $20,000.

A Herndon spokesman this morning said he welcomes the audit — as long as the county pays for it.

"We're very confident they're not going to find any problem," said Herndon Controller Ray Bersch. If they are going to pay for it, I'd like to go through it — it would be a good experience."

The OMAE report also says some of Herndon's facts are "misleading in that charges are listed at $30 and $35. Yet if you were to phone Herndon, you would be quoted $35 and $40 and be informed that as long as the bill is paid within 10 days, they will reduce the charge by $5."

Bersch agreed. "Yes, our charge is as indicated." He said the majority of calls are paid within the grace period.

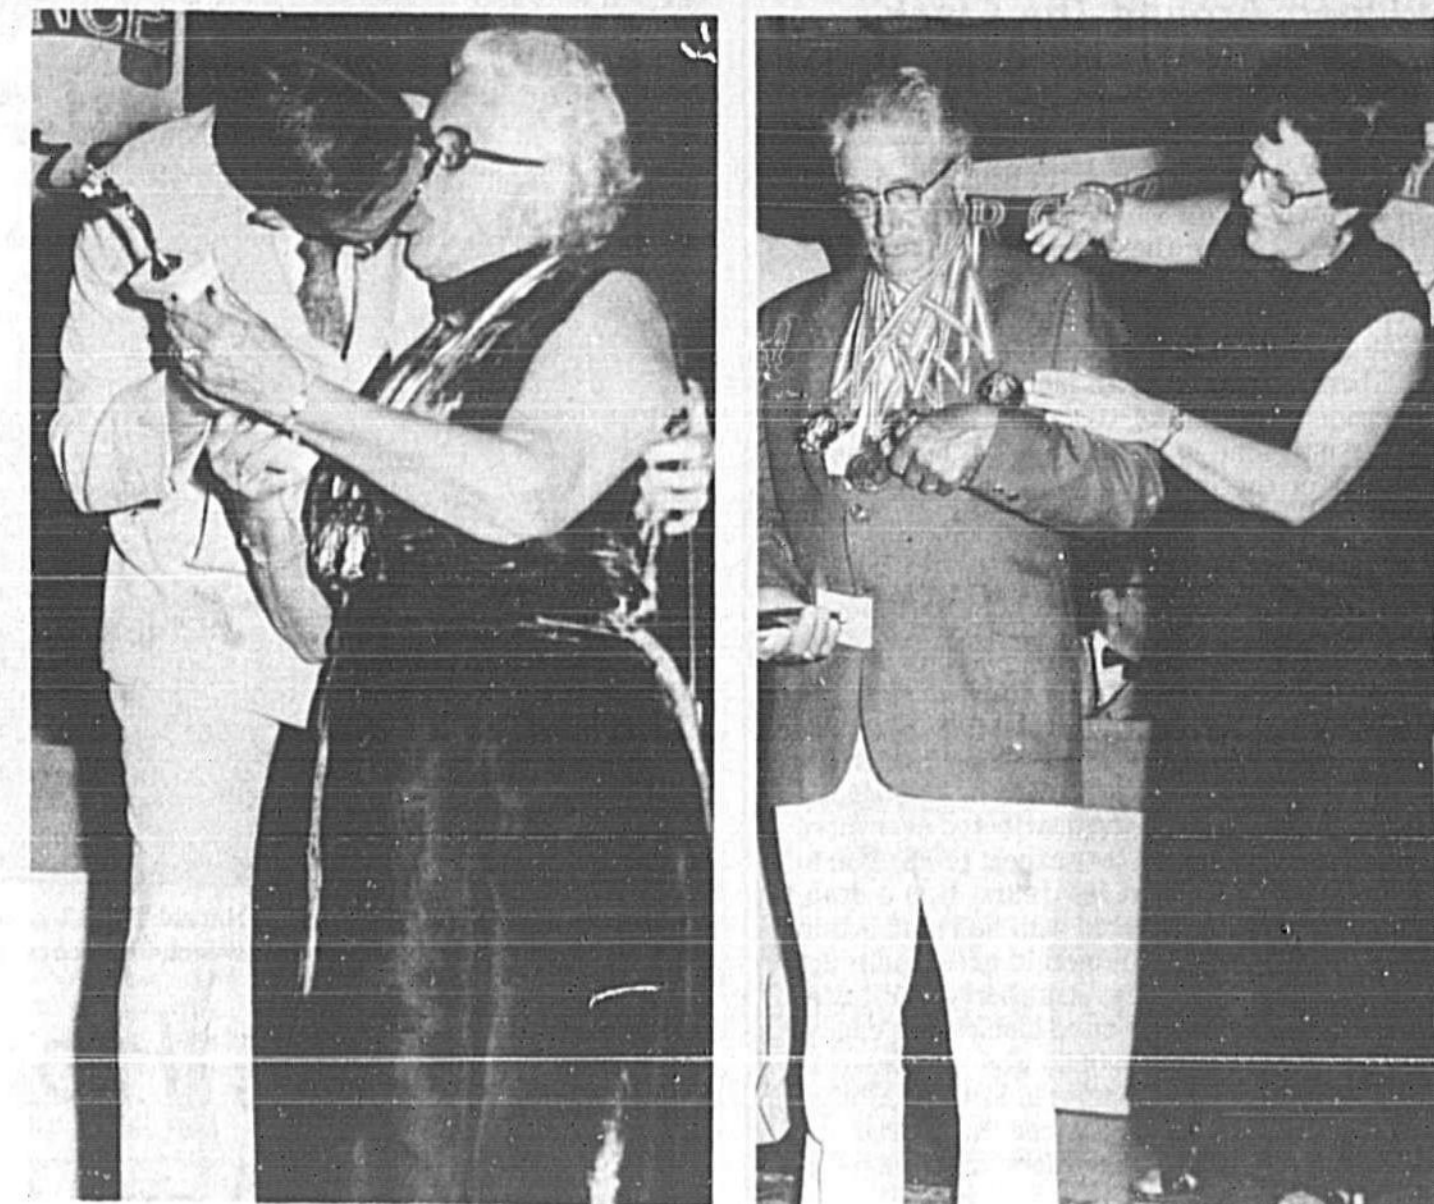

Alda President Bernard Fidele in a Sept. 9 application offered to provide ambulance service without the $20,000-a-year subsidy paid Herndon. But, Kaiser said today. "At this point, it looks like my recommendation will be for Herndon."

Kaiser, who has been working for months on the matter stressed that his recommendation will remain "open" until after Fidele has had his say at Tuesday's public hearing.

Herndon officials claim the firm cannot operate without the $20,000.

"We can't do it now," said Fidele.

Rod, Mallet Lift Pair To Olympic Crowns

By BILL CURRIE

The Second Annual Golden Age Olympics is now a part of Sanford's history and there have been two new names added to the list of champions, thanks to a pair of croquet mallets.

Going into Saturday's final event of the week-long competition, Edith Harrison used a croquet mallet to lock up the women's title as she won the event, her third gold medal of the week.

All-Old, Hopkins walked off with seven gold and one bronze medal while Mrs. Harrison, a spry 74-year-old Sanfordite, added one bronze medal to her three golds.

Mrs. Harrison's closest pursuer for the overall crown was Sara Corner of Daytona Beach Shores who had a total of 10 points, all coming in the tennis competition. Anna Herbst was third with six.

Harold Herbst, the defending men's champion, ran into stiff opposition in the track and field events and finished well back in the pack with 7 points.

Johnson, the 69-year-old retired U.S. Army major who worked in biochemical research for Uncle Sam, had a total of five gold medals, three silver and one bronze while Dr. Morgan, a gynecologist, had a total of 10 medals in his grasp, including four gold, four silver and two bronze.

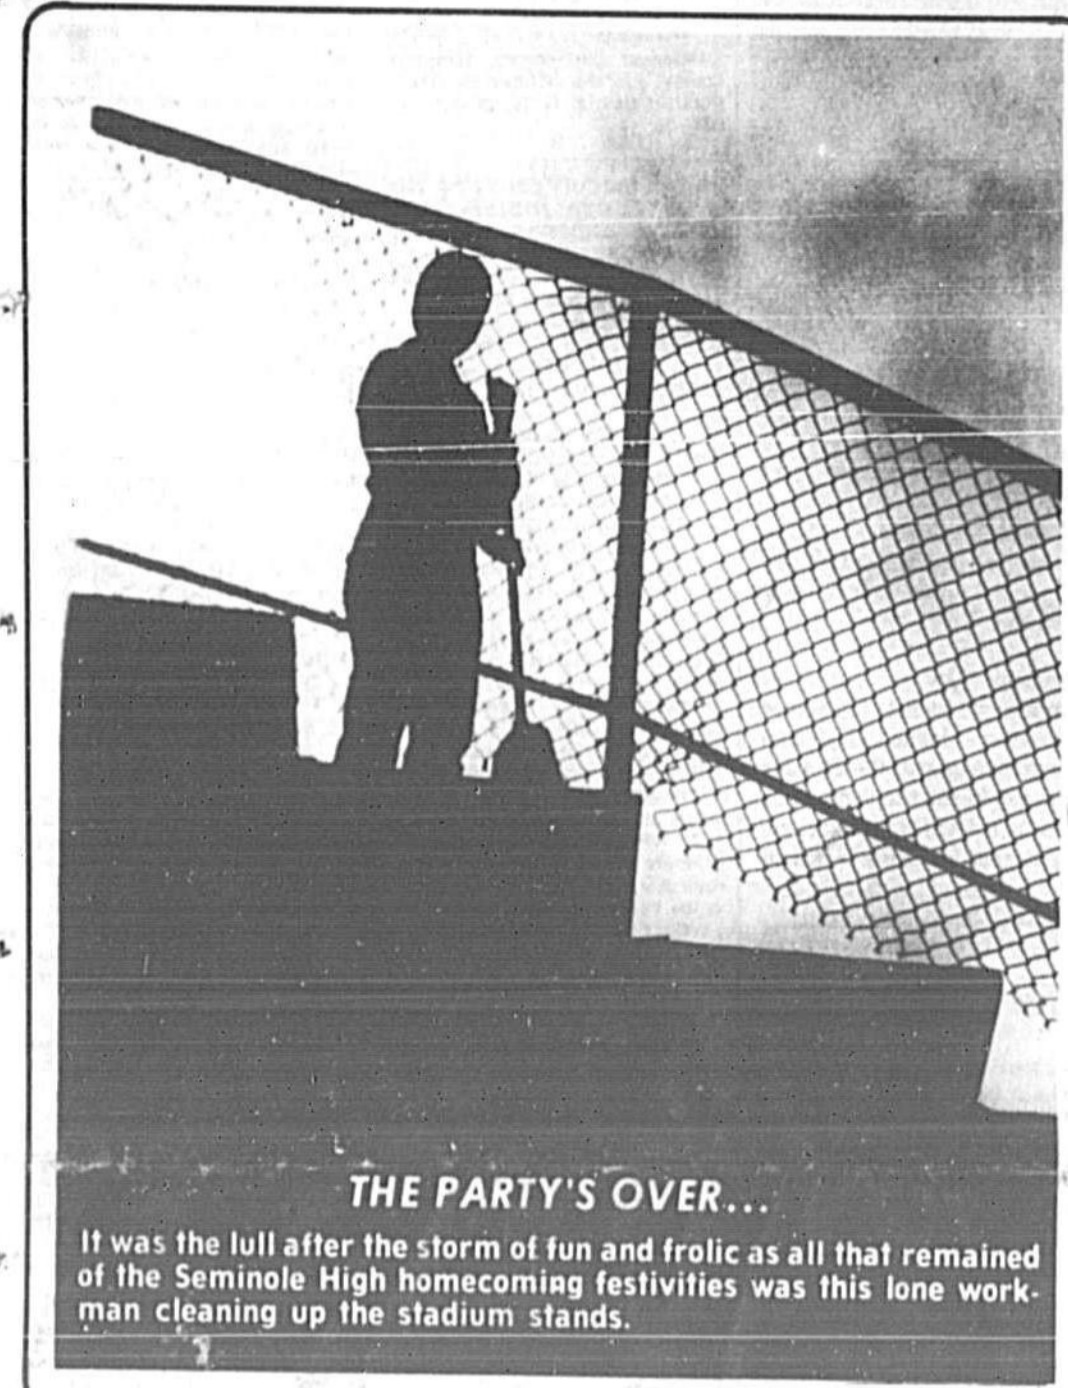

Strangely enough, Hopkins won the first event of the week-long competition but had to wait until the very final event to capture the big trophy.

He started off by taking the eight-ball billiards gold medal then picked up more hardware along the line in rotation billiards, the shot put, football throw, discus, softball throw and angling. His bronze was for a third-place finish in croquet.

Johnson won gold medals in ping-pong (he was de-champ in the table tennis play), men's singles tennis, the 50-yard dash, the 440-yard dash and the 230-yard dash.

Dr. Morgan swept his four gold medals in the softball throw, the 220-yard dash, the discus and the football throw. He was one of the youngest entries, just barely making it over the 55-year-old age limit.

DEMOLITIONIST JOHN BLOUNT AT HIS ...

Building Coming Down Bit By Bit

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

The building that carried the addresses, 301, 303, 305 and 307 So. Sanford Ave., condemned by the City of Sanford in February 1975 because of its dilapidated and unsafe condition, is being demolished a bit at a time.

John Blount, who demolished adjacent sections, 309 and 311, a year ago, is contracting the job. He and his two-man crew are carefully dismantling the building that housed six stores at one time to salvage as much of the old wood, blocks and old brick as possible. Deadline for completion of the demolition is Jan. 1, 1977, and Blount says he will meet the deadline.

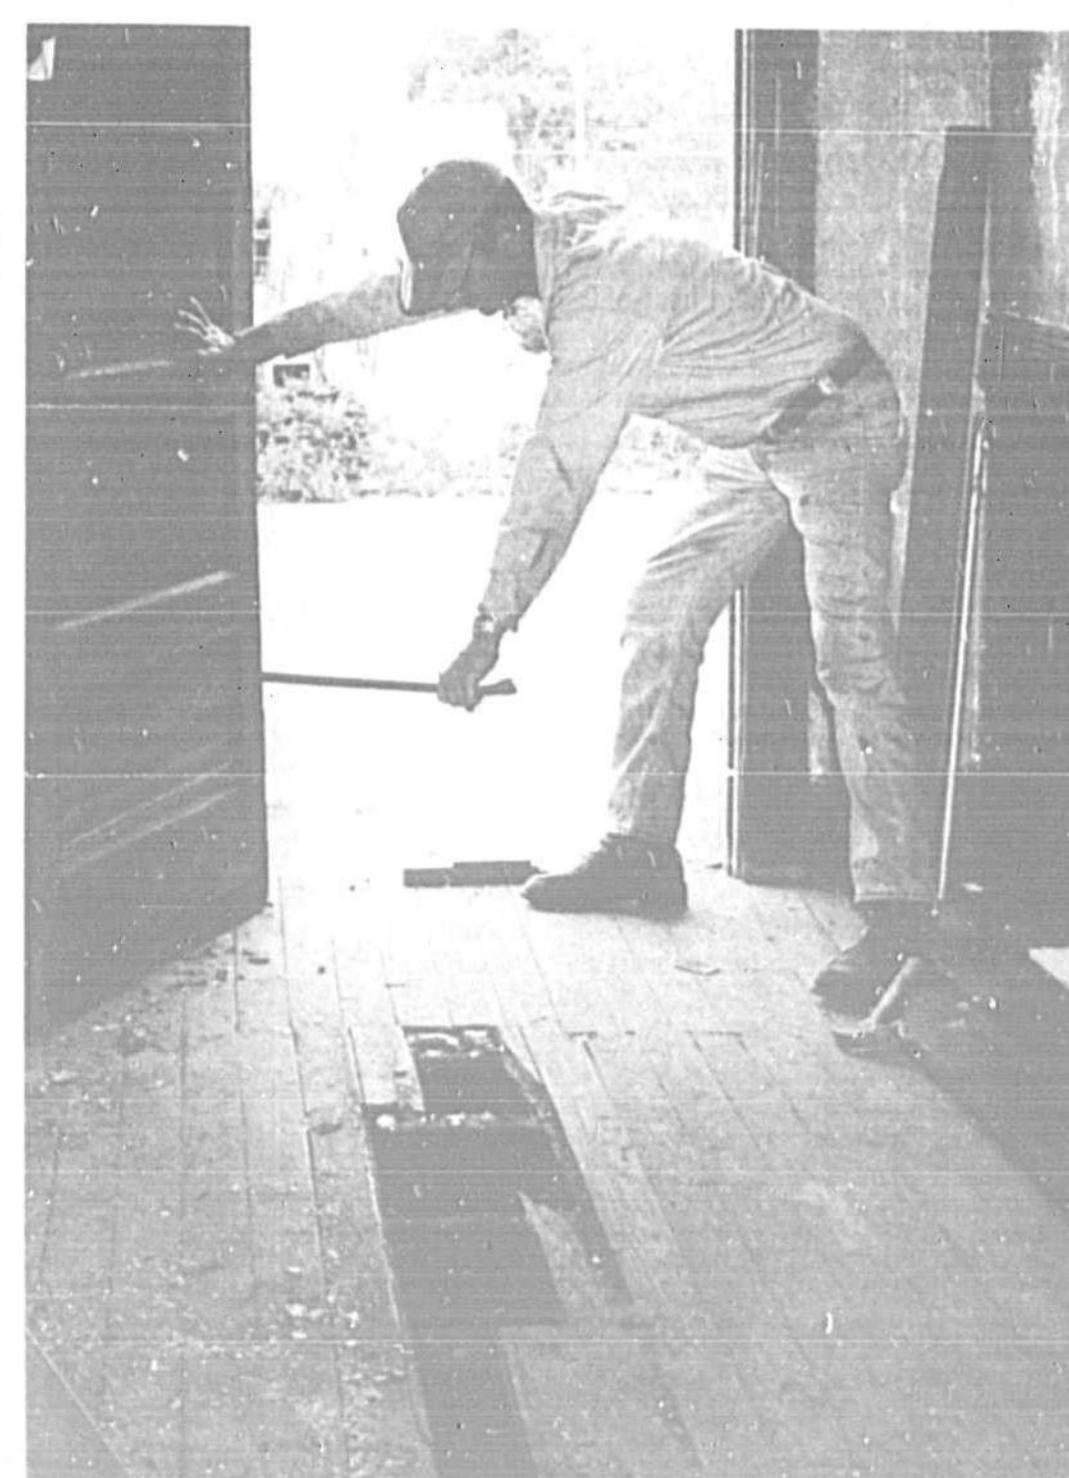

"I took the job pretty cheap so I have to salvage as much as possible to pay the difference," said Blount, who demolishes three or four buildings a year in addition to at least one salvage operation.

Demolition is not Blount's major operation. "I sell fill dirt, haul asphalt and do a little land clearing occasionally," he said. "I took down the other two buildings a year ago. That didn't take too long," he said, adding he brought in a front end loader, knocked the building down and hauled it away.

"Demolition work is dangerous only if you don't watch what you are doing," Blount said, noting the work requires a bit of common sense, knowledge of how things are put together and some skill and understanding of carpentry and masonry.

"Mainly you must be willing to learn. All buildings are different in some respects and the same in others. You must take your time when salvaging one, work a little bit and think a little bit," he said. Blount says he anticipates pulling the front wall into the floor but hasn't yet made up his mind where to pull the other walls into the floor. "I'm thinking of pulling all the walls into the floor because it can be salvaged easier in that way."

"This building has some pretty good old wood, old brick and block," Blount said. Currently, he pointed out, used brick brings a better price than new brick.

Kurt Waldheim: Star Of U.N.

Before the end of the year, the United Nations must choose a secretary-general to serve for the next five years. The distraction of the U. S. elections has not prevented the politicking and subtle campaigning that precedes this decision which lies in the hands of the U. N. Security Council.

The front-runner is Austria's Kurt Waldheim, who has served as secretary-general since 1972. The U. N. could hardly do better.

Waldheim's record in one of the most difficult diplomatic jobs in the world has been a good one, even if the record of the United Nations itself has left a lot to be desired. He has harnessed his considerable energies to his faith in the ability of the U. N. to overcome the internal forces which so often make it a powerless bystander in the face of international tragedies. In the words of a legendary sign in a Gold Rush saloon, "Don't shoot the pianoplayer, he's doing the best he can."

Waldheim emerged five years ago as a compromise candidate between East and West as a successor to Burma's U Thant. Austria enjoys a certain neutrality astride the Iron Curtain. Since then the East-West division in the U. N. has been overshadowed by frequent North-South confrontations between the Western industrial democracies and the developing Third World countries which now form a dominant bloc of their own in the General Assembly.

The hard-working Austrian has proved to be a competent referee in that arena, too. It had been expected that the Third World nations would support one of their own as a candidate for secretary-general, but last summer the Organization of African Unity—a significant group within the Third World bloc—gave its support to the reelection of Waldheim.

That was a blow to the ambitions of Mexico's retiring president, Luis Echeverria, who has put his name in the running. It is no reflection on Echeverria's qualifications to observe that the central problem in the U. N.—the lopsided voting strength of Third World countries in the General Assembly—would be aggravated if the secretary-general were considered a spokesman for Third World interests.

Waldheim has not been able to work miracles as the administrative head of the U. N. He is one of those practitioners of "quiet diplomacy" which can accomplish much more than public rhetoric and fanfare. These days, diplomatic success often is measured only in keeping antagonists talking, even if the talk gets nowhere. If Waldheim is willing to face the frustrations of his job for another five years, more power to him.

Illegal Aliens

High-ranking Mexican officials are cooperating with U. S. prosecutors to stem the flow of illegal aliens across the Mexican border into the United States.

That's welcome news. Smuggling rings play a major role in this illicit immigration. They operate on both sides of the border. They prey upon the illegal immigrants, who have no legal status in this country and cannot seek legal protection without being deported. Often the illegal immigrants are victimized by the smugglers.

The most effective method of stemming the illegal tide of immigration would be to pass the Rodino bill, which has been approved by the House of Representatives in the last two Congresses but has died in the U. S. Senate. The bill would penalize U.S. employers who knowingly hire illegal aliens. It would weaken the economic attraction that supplies the motive power for the illegal immigration.

But, pending the passage of the Rodino bill, the only hope for slowing the silent invasion lies in more effective enforcement of immigration laws, especially against professional people smugglers.

The Clock By BILL CURRIE

Homecoming is a time for merriment and joy at any institution of learning. So why should a few knuckleheads spoil it for so many and give others a black eye and a bad name? Seminole High School held its annual Homecoming last week and for the most part all went well during the entire week.

However, there were instances that make one wonder about the way some people's minds work. Last Thursday night, a big pow-wow was held at Seminole High and the highlight of the night was the huge bonfire that was ablaze on the school grounds. At least it was the highlight for the vast majority of students who whooped and hollered it up for their school in general and their unbeaten football team in particular.

But it wasn't enough for some, who decided to set their kicks by being a bit destructive. I was driving towards the high school on Ridgewood Avenue at approximately 7:30 Thursday night when a car pulled out of the SHS parking lot. Just as it was nearly opposite me, the driver turned on his high beam headlights and the next thing I knew there was a deafening bang against the windshield of my car, which was covered with sticky substance.

I hit the brakes immediately, because it was impossible to see out the windshield, and at the same time hit the windshield wiper-washer button. Fortunately, there was liquid in the washer that permitted me to have at least a slight opening through which to see.

Two. I was lucky that I was a mere few feet from the entrance to my apartment complex. Once I got the auto into my assigned parking place at the complex, I got out and surveyed what had happened.

Well, it seems that some "joker" (prefer to call him a jerk of the first order) had mixed up a combination of milk, eggs and ice and threw it, cup and all, right into the middle of my windshield, with plenty of the mixture getting on the hood, fenders and roof of the car.

Needless to say, I was plenty burned up about the whole thing and it took quite some time to get that ugly mixture off the car.

And, as if this wasn't enough, I was sitting with my wife in our reserved seats at Friday's game between Seminole and Daytona Beach Seabreeze when mid-way through the second quarter I saw a rock come flying through the air. It landed squarely in the middle of the back of a woman sitting in front of me.

The woman gave out a bit of a moan and sat straight up in her seat, tears welling in her eyes.

I picked up the rock and saw that it had a very sharp point on it and was about three inches long and about a like measure in circumference. Another three or four inches and that nugget would have hit the woman right on top of her head. She was in obvious pain for the rest of the night.

Now I ask you, is this someone's idea of having fun? Imagine what might have happened had my windshield washers not been working and my reflex action had swung my car into the oncoming traffic lane resulting in a head-on collision.

Too, think of that poor woman who could easily have suffered severe lacerations to the top of her head and a possible skull fracture or a concussion.

I wonder what those "monsters" who pulled off these two stunts would have done if they had been on the receiving end of same. How would they have liked to take their dad's car home covered with sticky milk and eggs?

Or how would they have felt if that Boulder had hit them in the back or on top of their head?

DON OAKLEY Equipment Embargo A Sieve

Buried in the back pages of most newspapers during the last, hectic days of the presidential election campaign was the announcement by the Ford administration that it had okayed the sale of sophisticated computer system to the Soviet Union and China.

The proposed sale of Control Data Corp.'s "Cyber 172" computers and support systems had been strongly opposed by the Energy Research and Development Administration and the Pentagon on the grounds that they could be used to improve the nuclear capabilities of the Communist superpowers.

Whether or not the decision constitutes a major breach in this country's long-standing embargo against the sale of high-technology or "strategic" products to the Communists (a Control Data spokesman says its computer is really "on the lower end of the technological scale of development"), the embargo apparently has as many holes in it as a sieve.

The illegal flow of embargoed technology to Soviet bloc nations especially is a growing problem, and one that U.S. officials are finding hard to control, reports Electronics magazine.

It requires deviousness but it is relatively easy for front curtain countries to buy embargoed U.S. technology, and price is no object, says the magazine. The Soviet bloc "will use any means possible" to get this equipment, it quotes Charles B. Clements, director of the compliance division of the Commerce Department's Office of Export Administration.

One method is to move restricted components and instruments out of the United States by diplomatic pouch. A more usual procedure, however, is to divert equipment from a legitimate source in Western Europe.

Equipment can be shipped under general application to the Free World nations without application to the Commerce Department, and U.S. companies say they have no way to police overseas customers to be sure they are not reselling it to a third party.

Equipment, says Clements, is shipped from one location to another, is re-created and re-marked at each point, until eventually everyone loses track of it.

While some U.S. manufacturers believe the technological know-how to the Communists should be maintained, others complain of being frustrated as they watch their traditional Japanese and West European competitors do a thriving business with the Communists.

Last year Congress established the Harry S. Truman Scholarship Foundation, both as a memorial to the late president and as a means of encouraging outstanding young people to seek careers in government.

The foundation is now accepting applications for the first 53 scholarships. One Truman Scholar will be selected from each state, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and considered as a single entity, Guam, the Virgin Islands, American Samoa and the Pacific Islands Trust Territory.

Peacekeeping Army Completes Occupation

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Syrian troops and tanks of the Arab League peacekeeping army rolled into Beirut today to complete the occupation of the Lebanese capital and try to end the 19 months of Christian-Muslim civil war. Spokesmen for the warring Lebanese and Palestinian factions said the invasion was a 99 per cent success by midmorning, with the Syrians in control of the city's radio and government offices, and the no man's land dividing the city. But sporadic firing continued between radical Palestinians and right-wing Christian militiamen in the rubble-strewn commercial district in the heart of the city. Syrian forces were also moving into other areas of western Lebanon.

Power Compromise Possible

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — Black leaders who insisted on a one-year limit for the transition to black-majority rule in Rhodesia appeared to be in a mood for compromise as they met with British and white Rhodesian negotiators for the first plenary session of the talks today since Nov. 5. Ivor Richard, the British chairman of the conference, proposed that March 1, 1978, be the deadline for the transfer of power but with the proviso that this could be advanced as much as three months — to Dec. 1, 1977 — if the necessary constitutional and legal procedures could be completed earlier. Guerrilla leader Robert Mugabe and Joshua Nkomo, the two allies of the "Patriotic Front," demanded that Dec. 1, 1977, be the target date but said this deadline could be extended to as late as March 1, 1978, if additional time was necessary to complete the arrangements.

RAY CROMLEY Tough Part For Carter Coming

WASHINGTON (NEA) — For President-elect Jimmy Carter the worst is yet to come. He is now going to have to pay his political debts — to George Meany and the AFL-CIO, the National Education Association and its politically conscious teachers, big city and rural blacks, Hispano-Americans, the overseas, and a list of other special interest groups.

Mr. Carter says he comes to office with no obligations. Mr. Carter received heavy campaign assistance and voting support from all groups mentioned above. Some gave hefty indirect financial assistance, though in compliance with the election laws, these funds were spent without direction or control from the Carter organization.

The vote studies to date suggest, indeed, that the work of these groups did put Carter over. But whether they did or not, the leaders and members are firmly convinced that had it not been for their efforts, the election would have gone to President Ford. And what men believe determines their actions and their demands, as we all know well.

It is now clear, therefore, that the organized teachers, the auto workers, the machinists, the blacks, the Hispano-Americans, the Ito-American, the aging will now present their itemized bills. If Mr. Carter, as president, does not pay off in special-interest legislation and in offices, he may face a backlash of major proportions among his ardent election supporters.

This will not be easy, President Franklin Roosevelt came into office with the same heavy debts. It took all his considerable ingenuity and a most imaginative series of gestures, maneuvers and public relations stunts, year after year, to cement his grip on this variety of special interests.

Mr. Carter's problem is complicated, as it is for all presidents, by the fact that — in order to govern — he must also satisfy the interest of those who voted against him, and those cohorts who his interests vitally different from his though they were on his side in the election.

Carter must satisfy businessmen, large and small, members of the middle class, and the small investor as well as the big, that he is economically sound and not a wild man, or these citizens will in caution hold back on investing, buying and employing — causing the economy gradually to drift into a new recession or worse. But most things Carter must do as president to reassure this business-middle class group will anger the more militant of his supporters.

Then there's the bureaucracy, which can, in the end, make or break him by backing, or smothering, whatever executive orders he issues. Because Carter campaigned so heavily, and with such vehemence against the Washington establishment, and because of the example he set in Georgia as governor, there are many in the civil service here who most certainly will look with mistrust on every reorganization step he takes. The militant organizations of government employees will be making strong demands and pushing him to soften his positions.

Goodbye To Hebert Cost $27,000

WASHINGTON — The Pentagon delivered its biggest bicentennial salute this year not to one of our dead military heroes, but to Rep. F. Edward Hebert, the crutchy old Democrat from Louisiana, who is still very much alive.

The crutchy Congressman is finally stepping down after a 36-year career dedicated primarily to championing causes dear to the hearts of the brass hats.

Hebert was a member of the House Armed Services Committee from its inception in 1947, and served as the committee's chairman from 1971 to 1974 when a group of feisty freshmen deposed him in favor of someone less inclined to carry water for the Pentagon.

Hebert had indeed been a one-man bucket brigade for the military. From the center of a two-tiered curved desk, with two small American flags flanking him, he ruled the committee with the stern hand of a drill sergeant. At times, he appeared to be playing Charley McCarthy to the Pentagon's Edgar Bergen. Perched upon the Defense Department's knee, he opened his mouth and the military spoke.

The brass hats deeply appreciate such faithful service, so they decided to bid farewell to the old soldier in style. As an occasion for the ceremony, they chose homecoming weekend at Tulane

JOHN CUNNING Money Figures Correct?

NEW YORK (AP) — Each week and month the Federal Reserve Board estimates changes in the nation's money supply, which includes all private checking accounts at commercial banks and currency in the hands of the public.

Each week and each month the financial community and the news media eagerly await the figures, which are interpreted as an indicator of the economy's health, future monetary policy, and the investment climate.

It isn't uncommon for the stock market to react sharply, although often briefly, nor is it uncommon for interest rates to fluctuate, also because of the figures being viewed as economic indicators.

But, as with so many official numbers, few people stop to ask if the Fed's figures are correct. Michael Levy, an authority, says they're not. "They are concoctions," he said. "They are incomplete and inaccurate."

Levy, director of economic policy research at The Conference Board, a nonpartisan research organization, insists the weekly announcements should be abolished and the monthly figures de-emphasized.

The seasonally adjusted weekly figures, said

Levy, are "largely guesswork." Even the monthly figures, he added, are not solid and reliable.

"These data might have internal uses, but when they are announced publicly they are treated as much more solid, much more meaningful than they are," he said in an interview.

In an article published in the board's magazine, Across the Board, Levy accused the Fed of committing still another error in using its own figures to attempt fine tuning of monetary policy.

Over and over again, he claims, the Fed seeks to stimulate or slow the very short-term growth in the money supply, only to be forced a few weeks later to move in the opposite direction — to correct the impact it created.

The most pointed recent example of the "Pines' effect" of this policy occurred in late February and early March of this year when, writes Levy, "A quick tightening was completely reversed, all within a span of about two weeks." Carrying the imprimatur of The Conference Board, Levy's article and comments are bound to attract widespread notice.

Suspect Nailed In Robbery

Sheriff's deputies chased an auto and arrested a suspect early today, less than an hour after an all-night convenience store was robbed west of Longwood.

John Henry Kreimer, 22, of San Francisco, was arrested by detectives and deputies who surrounded an auto on I-4 at SR-436 just before 4 a.m.

Deputy Frank Ambrose reported a man acting as if he had a gun in his jacket pocket took an undisclosed amount of cash from the register at the Eleven Store, SR-434 and I-4, about 3:15 a.m. after ordering the clerk not to move and to open the register.

Deputies said the bandit fled the store on foot, losing both his shoes.

Ambrose said while investigating at the robbery scene he noticed a black and yellow auto leave from behind a nearby service station and speed away on the wrong side of SR-434 and then toward Altamonte Springs on I-4.

Other deputies gave chase and surrounded the auto on I-4 at SR-436 and arrested Kreimer. Investigators said the impounded auto is registered to a Daytona Beach woman.

Kreimer was being held today in county jail in lieu of $8,000 bond on a robbery charge.

Sanford police today were investigating weekend burglaries at a French Avenue drive-in restaurant and three businesses on W. 13th Street.

Officers reported $1,181 was missing from a safe at the Burger King, 2506 French Ave. after the business was entered by a window.

Police reported $150 was taken from a cigarette machine and a pool table at Gibson's, on W. 13th Street, after the front door was forced open.

Businesses at 1013 W. 13th St. and 1015 W. 13th St. also were burglarized, police said, and undetermined amounts of money taken from vending machines.

Larceny Suspect
Altamonte Springs police jailed Martha Anderson, 25, of Pine Street, Osteen, in lieu of $5,000 bond on a grand larceny charge.

Officer M.J. Adkins reported the suspect was detained by security personnel at Burdine's department store, Altamonte Mall, in connection with the alleged theft of $184 in clothing items.

Check Charge
In other weekend arrests, sheriff's deputies arrested Dwight Lee Moody, 43, of 720 Central Ave., south Seminole, on a circuit court warrant charging obtaining property by worthless check. Bond for Moody was set at $5,000.

Sanford police arrested David Scott, 25, of 700 E. Seventh St., Sanford, on a circuit court warrant charging aggravated battery, according to county jail records. Bond was set at $5,000.

Barry Allen Huckabee, 35, of Greensboro, N.C., was arrested by deputies on a 1975 circuit court warrant charging obtaining property by worthless check. Bond was set at $5,000 for Huckabee on the local charge and detainees placed on him for Brevard, Polk and Pinellas counties police in Eden and Hickory, N.C., according to Seminole County Jail records.

Probation Violation
Jay Milton Crosby, 21, of 2097 Lake Howell Rd., south Seminole, was being held without bond today in county jail following his arrest on a probation violation charge in connection with a 1974 circuit court case.

Harold Spangler, of 1171 Ridge Rd., Longwood, reported to sheriff's deputies that 250 pounds of welding rods, two wrenches and a power saw, total value $728, were taken from a garage at his residence.

Jerry Berman, of 131 Hamlin Tree Lane, Spring Valley, reported to deputies that he lost a $1,000 gold identification bracelet over the weekend in the Forest City-SR-436 or Spring Oaks areas.

SCC Opens Cage Year

Seminole Community College embarks upon another basketball season Tuesday night with a home opener against Manatee, and the Raiders appear ready to answer the bell after a sparkling exhibition victory over the star-studded SCC alumni team.

The Raiders took 97-91 measure of the alumni, no easy task considering the lineup of former SCC stars like Bennie Shaw, Simon Harper, Greg Robinson, Bill Corso, James Gilchrist and Robert Thomas.

"The alumni kept getting stronger and stronger, and it gets harder and harder for us to win this game," said SCC coach Joe Sterling this morning. He noted that Bennie Shaw led the alumni with 22 points, followed by 14 by Harper, 13 by Robinson and 10 by Corso.

Freshman Bob Zippo paced SCC scorers with 22 while Willie Williams popped in 18. Ken Atkins 16 and Victor Wilkerson 15. Atkins had nine rebounds and seven assists for a good night's work.

"It was nip-and-tuck until we opened a 12-point lead halfway through the second half," said Sterling, whose attention this week is turned to the three games at hand.

After Tuesday's 7:30 game, the Raiders will follow with a Thursday night home game against Polk and another home taster Saturday night against Florida College of Tampa. Saturday's game will begin at 8, being preceded by a prep jamboree starting at 6:15 featuring Lyman, Seminole, Apopka and Spruce Creek.

Seminole, 237 last year, will have a starting lineup Tuesday of 11 Sammy Williams at center, 8-3 Robert Lewis at forward, 6-9 Ken Atkins and 6-2 Willie Williams at guards, and 10-2 Victor Wilkerson or 6-4 Bob Zippo at point. Sammy Williams, Atkins and Wilkerson are sophomores.

Tuskawilla, S. Seminole Hold Collision Course

Old man upset struck again in the Pop Warner League Saturday as Tuskawilla and South Seminole junior midget teams continued their collision course in quest of a Disney Bowl berth on Nov. 28.

Tuskawilla defeated Lakeview, 19-0, and South Seminole came up with a staggering upset of Lake County power South Lake, 14-0.

In other action Saturday, Milwee Pees traveled to Fort Pierce and came away a 13-0 victor.

Of the three teams which played Atlanta squads, only the junior midget picture boils down to the winner of the Tuskawilla-South Seminole playing game going to the Nov. 28 Disney Bowl, with the loser playing in the Pee Wee ranks.

South Seminole junior midgets were paced by touchdown efforts of two yards by Ken Brown and Charlie Miller.

Don Secord punted six times for a 35 per cent average, his longest a 55-yarder. Oscar Ybarra came up with two pass interceptions while there were five fumble recoveries — by Doug Jordan, Scott Duffy, Teddy Boag, Miller and Dave Kopack.

Tuskawilla got superb defensive efforts from Jody Brown and Richard Millman. Brown blocked a punt to set up his team's first touchdown, a 19-yard pass play from Scott Frick to Bobby Van Teyer taking it to the one, where Frick sneaked it over.

South Seminole Cobras of the junior bantam league came up with victory. The Cobras handed the Atlanta Big Red Devils a 25-10 loss, their first of the season. Teague junior midgets lost to the Little Red Devils, 55-0, and the South Seminole midgets were stunned by the Atlanta Little Blue Devils, 45-0.

Seminole Holds 4th Poll Spot

The rich didn't get richer in the weekly high school football poll, but the leaders certainly remained intact.

Which is a reason Seminole remained No. 4 on the list of Class AAAA powers in Florida. Seminole thumped Daytona Beach Seabreeze impressively enough, 35-7. However the one-two-three team — Tallahassee Godby, Miami Central City and Tampa Plant — also gained impressive victories.

Seminole closes out its season hopefully a 10-0 campaign — Friday night in Forest City against Lake Brantley.

The following weekend, Seminole will meet Winter Park in the opening round of the state playoffs.

Steelers Still Throwing Blanks

By The Associated Press The defending National Football League champion Pittsburgh Steelers are the owners of some pretty impressive statistics.

They haven't allowed a touchdown in five games. —After allowing 110 points in the first five games of the season, they have allowed only nine points in the past five.

They had outscored their opponents 129-9 in the past five games.

They hadn't given up a point in 15 quarters, including three consecutive shutouts, until Miami's Caro Yepremian kicked a field goal in the third quarter of Sunday's 14-3 Steeler victory.

But the Steelers also must face some pretty depressing realities.

Playing perhaps the best football in the NFL, now, they still could miss the playoffs and a chance for a third-straight Super Bowl, trailing Cincinnati by two games in the American Conference Central Division with a 6-4 record.

And, for the second time this season, quarterback Terry Bradshaw is injured.

In the first quarter against Miami, Bradshaw sprained his right wrist. Although X rays were negative, Bradshaw said he didn't know how long he would be out.

"I'm coming off a real serious injury, and then something silly like this happens," said Bradshaw, who sustained a serious concussion in the fifth game of the season, an 18-16 loss to Cleveland.

In other NFL games Sunday, New England upset Baltimore 21-14, St. Louis beat Los Angeles 30-28, the New York Giants upset Washington 12-9, Atlanta beat San Francisco 21-8, Oakland defeated Kansas City 21-10, Cleveland downed Philadelphia 24-3, Cincinnati edged Houston 37-27, Chicago defeated Green Bay 34-0, Buffalo is at Dallas tonight.

Patriots 21, Colts 14 Quarterback Steve Grogan ran for two touchdowns, and New England, 7-3, moved to within a game of Baltimore in the AFC East title chase.

Bathone-Cookman scored a 25-18 victory over Morris Brown and Southern University stopped Florida A&M 24-6.

Florida State rallied to win in the final two minutes. Fullback Jeff Leggett scored on a seven-yard run and end Kurt Unglaub caught a two-point conversion pass from tailback Larry Key.

Cardinals 20, Rams 28 Jim Bakken's field goal with four seconds left provided the winning margin for St. Louis, 8-

Bucks Take NBA Licking

By The Associated Press How are you holding up, Larry Costello? "I think I've been through enough hard times the past several months that I think I can stand it," says Milwaukee Bucks coach. "I'm not going to give up."

Weaver men might have thrown in the towel by now. In the short span of a little over a season, the Bucks have gone from good to bad and now have the dubious distinction of the worst record in the National Basketball Association.

The Bucks didn't enhance their status, either, with a 104-83 loss to the Detroit Pistons Sunday night.

Costello kept the locker room closed for nearly a half-hour and later emerged with his eyes moist and red-rimmed and his voice on the verge of breaking.

"I like to think they're playing hard," Costello said after the game. "But if they are, they've got to be playing harder because the league is so darn tough and we're not winning."

In other NBA action, Cleveland nipped Los Angeles 97-95 and Seattle turned back Dallas 123-118.

Defensive specialist Chris Ford, hospitalized with a severe virus earlier Sunday, poured in 20 points to spark Detroit past the Bucks. Kevin Porter added 18 points and Bob Lanier 16 for the Pistons, who had their second successive game and handed the Bucks their sixth defeat in the last seven starts.

Cavaliers 97, Lakers 95 A layup by guard Fouts Walker with three seconds remaining gave Cleveland its victory over Los Angeles. Walker, who had not attempted a field goal throughout the game, took for half near midcourt with 14 seconds left and drove up the lane to break a 95-95 tie.

Sonics 121, Pacers 118 Waltz scored 25 points and Bruce Stiles added 21 to lead Seattle over Indiana. The victory was Seattle's 23rd consecutive regular season triumph at the Seattle Coliseum, in a string dating back to Feb. 8.

McNab 17-For-17 As Bruins Soar goal and set up two others, and goalie Dunc Wilson stopped a penalty shot, helping the Penguins lead the Rangers to team record seventh straight home loss.

The penalty shot was taken by New York's Bill Goldsworthy, who was hooked from behind by Ron Stachowice while breaking in alone.

"Merit Delivers More Taste Than Higher Tar Cigarettes."

—American Institute of Consumer Opinion

Extensive taste testing shows Merit delivers flavor of cigarettes having 60% more tar.

The bottom line was conclusive: In a series of taste tests conducted for MERIT by the American Institute of Consumer Opinion,* smokers from across the country judged MERIT to have more flavor than five leading low tar cigarette brands.

What's really startling — and of major importance to all smokers — is that MERIT has less tar than these five brands.

9 mg. "tar," 0.7 mg. nicotine av. per cigarette by FTC Method.

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

MERIT and MERIT MENTHOL

Less tar. Yet more taste. That's the report on a remarkable new taste process called 'Enriched Flavor.' A way to pack extra flavor into tobacco without the usual corresponding increase in tar. You've been smoking "low tar, good taste" claims long enough. Now smoke the cigarette. MERIT.

Unprecedented smoking pleasure at only 9 mg. tar.

Guile Wins Hubby Back - 'Libbers' Disapprove

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: For the woman who lost her husband to a younger woman, here's one man's story:

I loved my wife dearly, but after six children and 35 years of marriage, our relationship became so platonic I felt sure I was losing my manhood. I blamed it on her devotion to our home and children rather than on my age.

Depressed, I left home under the pretense of seeking work in a distant state, but I had other things in mind. I found a willing young girl who looked up to me and I restored my lagging sense of manhood. I felt as though I had found the fountain of youth, so I filed for a divorce solely on the grounds of sexual incompatibility.

Dear Abby

As soon as my wife got word of this, she did what every woman who really loves her husband should do. She caught a bus and traveled 1,500 miles to win back her man. She didn't whine or hire any lawyers, or even scold me for what I had done; she came courting me like a sweetheart, and she laid a loving on me like she hadn't done in years! Of course I knew that some of her passion was faked, but we men are gullible, and I loved her all the more for it.

You guessed it. She brought me back home, bound hand, foot and heart with nothing but chains of love.

HOME AGAIN: Another classic example of a woman casting herself in the role of a sex object to get what she wants. It may be fine for some women, but the Women's Libbers would have her scalp for such a degrading ploy.

DEAR ABBY: My husband sleeps in his underwear. All winter he wears the long woolen kind, and he sleeps in the same underwear he's worn all day. The problem is getting him to change it.

Abby, he has four suits of clean underwear in his drawer, but he refuses to put on a clean pair without a fight. I have a terrible time getting it away from him to put it in the wash.

Don't tell me to grab it while he's in the bathtub. It's a battle to get him to take a bath, too. He thinks deodorants are for sissies, and the smell is awful. Please help me.

BERTHAIN BISMARCK

DEAR BERTHAIN: Nag him, threaten him, beg him and bribe him if necessary. If nothing works, look at it this way: You'll never have to worry about another woman stealing him. And he's easy to find in the dark.

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of a very nice, but shy 17-year-old son. He has never had a date in his life, and I'm sure it's because he's afraid he'll get turned down.

He is an honor student, but doesn't do very well in sports.

which could be the reason he isn't very popular with the "in" crowd at school. He is slightly overweight, but there are fatter boys who date so that can't be the reason.

It breaks my heart to see him alone all the time. A girls' club is having a dance, and the girls ask the boys. One of my best friends has a daughter in this club. Should I put a bug in my friend's ear and ask her to ask her daughter to ask my son? He wouldn't have to know I arranged it.

MOM DEAR MOM: Don't put any bugs in anybody's ear. Your son may be a late bloomer. And another one of his problems could be a well-meaning mother who's inclined to run interference for him. Let him develop socially at his own pace.

Dig In For Winter-With Vegetables

By MARYLENE TIPTON Herald Correspondent

While the rest of the country is shoveling snow, Sanford natives dig out their own shovels to dig a productive winter vegetable garden.

According to Reggie Brown in the Seminole County Agricultural Agent's office, "Some pests and problems are slightly less now than at other times. And any cool season vegetables can be planted, even this late in the year."

Brown lists the recommended vegetables as beets, broccoli, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, celery, collards, kohlrabi, lettuce, mustard, onions, parsley, English peas, spinach and radishes. He remarks, "Somewhere around the county there will be a few people who have tomatoes or an eggplant or pepper, but the risk is very great between now and February. This is the greatest time for lettuce and greens." Foods planted now will land on the table in anything from three weeks (radishes) to cabbage (80-90). They will require no different fertilizer from foods planted at any other season, according to Brown. "Any good 6-6-6 fertilizer will do fine, regardless of brand," he says.

The agent's office has also taken into consideration the growing interest in "natural" and "organic" pest-control. "There is one product available commercially," says Brown. "That is useful for most of the worm problems in winter-time vegetables."

For people who want to plant a garden but feel they need to harvest some knowledge first, Brown advises, "We have a gentleman here, John Matthes, who is in the office 5 days a week from 8:30 to 5 p.m. and can answer questions for any one who wants to come in. We also have detailed information in bulletins for people who want to come by and pick them up free of charge."

An additional service, Brown points out, is provided through John Matthes, who is available to all groups of 20 or 25 who wish to sponsor, free of charge, a seminar on gardening.

"Hey, buddy. Mind if I read over your shoulder?" — Casselberry sculptor David Benson and statuette.

Sidewalk Artists Show Handiwork

High Pressure Needs Medicine

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am concerned about the medicine that my husband has been taking for seven years for high blood pressure. His blood pressure is normal now, 140 over 80, but the doctor says he still should keep taking Enduron, one tablet each morning.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Enduron is another medicine to help people eliminate salt and water. It is used commonly to help control mild high blood pressure. It will not hurt your husband.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Recently I read that taking insulin could cause blindness. I am a diabetic and take insulin. Now I'm really scared that the insulin will cause me to go blind. Should I stop my insulin and follow some diet to control my diabetes? Would you send me a diet I could use instead of taking insulin?

HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL For Tuesday, November 16, 1976

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Be sensible about your health habits today. Don't eat or drink anything that you know doesn't agree with you. TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Your whims will have to be held in check today. Don't cater to your weaknesses. GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You're likely to seek out people today who will tell you what you want to hear, rather than the truth. Choose those who'll level with you. CANCER (June 21-July 22) Don't flatter anyone today who isn't truly deserving, or you'll drop you a few notches in the eyes of observers. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Put your bladders on if shopping today, especially for things you can't afford. Your sales resistance is very low.

YOUR BIRTHDAY Nov. 16, 1976 Do not give up the bird in hand this coming year to chase hopeful "maybes." Your best opportunities lie along familiar lines and finishing what you start. (Are you a Scorpio? Bernice Osol has written a special Astro-Graph Letter for you. For your copy send 50 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, P.O. WIN AT BRIDGE

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY needs four spade tricks. At some stage of the play he goes to dummy with the ace of hearts to take the spade finesse. Oswald: "If it loses to the king the contract is doomed to defeat, but there is his majesty perched in the East hand and the finesse will work." Jim: "Nevertheless he must be careful to start the spades by leading the nine from dummy. If he makes a mistake and leads the jack East can beat him by refusing to cover. He must play the six spot from his hand. Then, when the nine is led next, East holds back again. South must win in his own hand and can't lead through the king for the third time."

ASK THE GOODIES A Florida reader says that she averaged just 8.3 high-card points a hand after keeping count for 50 hands. She wants to know if she is unlucky. The answer is that if her count was accurate she really was in a streak of very bad luck, but somehow or other we doubt if her count was accurate. Outlaw County Impact Fees, Panel Urges After Study

A seven-month study of Seminole County's impact fee controversy has produced a report which asks county commissioners to adopt legislation outlawing impact fees for this county. Commissioner Harry Kwiatkowski said today. Kwiatkowski said the report, which he will submit to commissioners next Tuesday, has some "good ideas" and could change the impact fee situation in all of Florida, in addition to Seminole. COUNTY COMMISSION: The Changing Of The Guard

Commission Names Williams Chairman

By ED PRICKETT Herald Staff Writer

At precisely 9:42 this morning, seven county commission secretaries filed into courthouse chambers to welcome two new county commissioners and say goodbye to two bosses they've served for more than four years. They set a tone of merriment to the meeting in which Republican Commissioner Dick Williams was unanimously elected commission chairman and political newcomer Bob French his Democratic co-chairman. "I wish them the best during the next four years," outgoing Commission Chairman Mike Hattaway remarked as he turned the gavel over to his Democratic counterpart Harry Kwiatkowski. "I would recognize a motion to adjourn," quipped Kwiatkowski, the former co-chairman and now a member of the bottom half of a three-to-two vote. "Welcome to the harassment and the hassle of county government," Kwiatkowski told French and Republican newcomer Bill Kirchoff. "Oh, a surprise," Kwiatkowski quipped when Republican John Kimbrough nominated Williams for the chairmanship. Kwiatkowski then turned the gavel over to Williams. A resolution was adopted thanking Hattaway and Commissioner Sid Vihlen Jr., for their services on the board. "I'm stepping up as a citizen," Vihlen told the new commissioners. "You're working for me now." Hattaway said he felt "very fortunate" to have served as a commissioner and as commission chairman. "I'm 25 (years old) going on 60," the former chairman said. As Hattaway and Vihlen stepped down, Commission secretaries stood up with cardboard placards spelling out, "We'll miss you." French, wearing a dark-blue suit and lugging a briefcase, took his seat. And Kirchoff, in a light brown suit, did the same. County commission secretaries stood up again.

State Leaders Re-Elected

Jimmy Carter is not the only son of Georgia who is making political history these days. Florida Senate President Lew Brantley, the son of a Georgia farmer, and House Speaker Don Tucker have won re-election to those posts. It's the first time that's happened in 50 years. Story, Page 5-A.

As we did in the state and county-wide elections, The Herald starting Wednesday will offer you a look into the candidates for local municipal office in Seminole County. Herald political writer Donna Estes and correspondent Marylin Tipton are talking with each of the candidates — away from the campaign trail and rhetoric in their home and avocational environments — to find out "What Are They Really Like?"
