School Board Limits Release Of Student Information

Written parental consent will now be required before information on any Superintendent Bob Hughes' blessing, Scininole County school student will be urged the board to approve a new policy released to the public, the school board restricting the release of student indecided Wednesday night.

The school's administrative assistant, Ralph Ray, was instructed by the board - releasing for publication information on to prepare a policy directing that "information on students not be given to in athletics. That will no longer be peranyone, except those agencies mitted without prior parental consent. designated by law, unless approved by the students' parents."

The action was taken after Ray, with formation.

For years, school personnel have been graduating seniors and students involved

Ivan Bowers, school director of human services, also urged approval of the policy, saying the school staff has been violating state rules and federal law by giving out such information without parental approval.

Bowers sald he has been bringing the problem to the attention of various school boards since a federal law was passed in 1974 requiring a written local policy. He said the simplest way to handle the issue would have been to continue releasing facts including a student's name, address, athletic activity, last successful year completed in school and the clubs to which he or she belonged while advising parents that the information would not be released if they objected.

Member Al Keeth, however, said he preferred a "positive" approach, Rather than releasing information unless parents objected, he said, he likes the approach of refusing to release information unless parents approve. Member Nancy Warren said her major dresses and telephone numbers. Member Roland Williams also questioned the particularly to the press.

Keeth said he doesn't believe newspapers will have any problem getting information. "They always seem to get it somewhere," he said.

All five school board members voted to authorize a new policy draft requiring information is released.

Current state law says that inrelease of information on students, formation must be released to courts of competent jurisdiction, a member of the school superintendent's staff, anyone with a legitimate educational interest, a member of the U.S. comptroller general's office of the department of education, a principal or any person authorized in writing by the parents.

Seminole County residents have definite opinions about be your hospital." which, if any, of three applicants should be allowed to expand hospital facilities in the county.

At a Wednesday night hearing before representatives of the Health Systems Agency-East Central Florida (HSA-ECF), about 90 Seminole residents heard spokesmen from three hospital groups present expansion plans. About 25 citizens then voiced opinions about equally pro and conconcerning the expansion plans of Florida Hospital-Altamonte and plans to construct a hospital in Longwood,

The HSA-ECF is part of a nationwide network of federally mandated health advisory groups serving Seminole, Brevard, Orange and Osceola counties. HSAs determine need for health facilities and make recommendations to the state. The HSA-ECF claims 56 new medical-surgical beds will be needed in Seminole in the next five years.

Florida Hospital is proposing to expand their current Altamente facility by 50 beds including a radiation therapy unit to treat cancer patients. The proposed expansion is expected to cost approximately $15.5 million.

Hospital Management Associates (HMA), Ft. Myers, is proposing a $10 million, 100-bed facility be built on property on Warren Street, Longwood, west of the city fire station. HMA currently operates 13 hospitals in 10 states, employing approximately 1,500 people, according to HMA represen-

Hospital Corporation of America (HCA), is seeking the go-ahead to build a $22.3 million, 150-bed hospital in Longwood, near State Roads 436 and 427 adjacent to W. HCA's proposal was formerly the proposal of Hospital Affiliates International of Atlanta, But the firm was recently acquired by HCA. HCA officials said they would honor all commitments made by Hospital Affillates in proposing the facility, already named Caloosa Medical Center, HCA has a total of 351 hospitals internationally, hospital spokesmen said.

"We are here to issue a challenge to the Health Systems Agency of East Central Florida not to just look at today and tomorrow but to be truly visionary and look ahead," BCA Planning Manager Charles Householder said. "We want to build a 150-bed, free-standing, acute care facility."

However, the HCA is not alone. "We came here to tell you we want to build a hospital in your town," HMA Vice President for Development Jim Mattingly said. "It'll be a hospital you can be proud of, It'll Commission Chairman Bob Sturm told the HSA representatives the county could make no recommendation without answers to several questions including what methodology was used by the HSA to arrive at their 56-bed recommendation.

In a letter to the HSA read by his wife, State Representative Bobby Brantley, R-Longwood, agreed there is a need to "review the methodology so Seminole County gets its fair share of beds in the area."

Roger F. George, of Altamonte Springs presented the HSA representatives with a petition he said was signed by 100 residents in favor of Florida Hospital's expansion plans. He said personally he is against for-profit hospitals. Florida Hospital is a non-profit corporation affiliated with

Wife Charged With Murder

Domestic Squabble Ends In Man's Death

A domestic argument Wednesday ended with the shooting death of a Casselberry man and the arrest of his wife on a murder charge.

Dead is Carmello Finocchiaro, 43, of 385 Hidden Pines Circle, a Casselberry apartment complex. His wife, Caterina, 38, has been charged with murder and today was being held without bond in Seminole County Jail, Sanford, She was scheduled to be arraigned at 1 p.m.

Finocchiaro was shot twice in the back with a 25-caliber automatic pistol in the living room of the couple's apartment, according to Casselberry Police Chief Fred McGowan, There was some early question whether Finocchiaro had also been shot in the head, but Seminole County Medical Examiner Dr. G.V. Garay said the only bullet wounds he found were the fwo in the back. Garay listed the cause of death as massive internal bleeding.

The shooting occurred about 1 p.m., according to McGowan, who said the woman's brother, Jerry Cipolla, telephoned police to report it.

"Mrs. Finocebiaro apparently telephoned her brother who lives nearby to tell him about the shooting, then he, I guess, went to their apartment then called us," McGowan said.

McGowan said Mrs. Finocchiaro and other family members told police the couple had a history of domestic problems and "there apparently may bea history of spouse abuse as well. That's what we're looking into now," he said.

"As near as we can tell, Mr. and Mrs. Finocchiaro were alone in the apartment when the shooting occurred. We're not sure if they have any children, but there may be one or two. And, they apparently moved into the apartment about June, but we don't know where they came from. We think they may have been living with relatives near the apartment complex until they moved in," said McGowan.

what occurred shortly afterwards, told police Mrs. Finocchiaro was holding her couldn't take it anymore."

Mrs. Emocchiaro was taken by ambulance to Florida Hospital-Altamonte reportedly in shock, "but the hospital, for some reason, didn't want to admit her. On her attorney's request, we took her to another clinic, but they also said she didn't need hospitalization," McGowan added. The chief said Mrs. Finocchiaro was held overnight at the Casselberry Jad, examined again, then was transsported to county jail pending her arraignment on the murder charge.

Police said they are not sure what kind of work the victim did, "but he apparently was between jobs.

Finocchiaro's body was found on the living room floor of his apartment near the weapon believed to have been used in the shooting, Chief McGowan said.

The manager of the Hidden Pines One witness, not to the shooting, but to complex said the couple rented their apartment in June, but he added he didn't know if they have children. Judge Refuses To Dismiss Paulucci-Lake Mary Lawsuit denied a motion to dismiss millionaire Jeno Paulucci's lawsuit against the city of Lake Mary for allegedly violating a verbal contract involving 10 acres of land Paulucci sold the city two years ago for use as the site of a new city hall.

McGregor made his ruling following a brief hearing Wednesday, and instructed city attorney Gary Massey to file an answer to the Paulucci claim within 30

· Paulucci filed his suit in late May, asking the court require Lake Mary to either allow him to repurchase the property located on Rhinehart Road, or agree to deed restrictions requiring the tract be used exclusively as a city hall site. Paulucci also suggests if no city hall is built within three years, ownership of the land would revert to him. The city purchased the property from resolution committed itself to using it as the location for a new city ball. Municipal: government offices recently moved from on Country Club Road.

The city council once considered selling the 10 acres to finance renovation of the old chamber building, and is the lease of two acres of the parcel as the site for construction of a new crime laboratory.

In the suit, Paulucci claims be sold the land to the city at below fair market value for the express purpose of its use as the location for a new city half. He said he expected a municipal building to enhance the value of his adjoining 150 acres of land.

He claims such nebulous phrasing could allow erection of a "vehicle barn, animal rented quarters on Crystal Lake Avenue shelter, water works, sewage disposal to the old chamber of commerce building complex, or many other uses not intended" in the original sales agreement.

"We never promised to hold this property forever," Massey said, "We never promised we wouldn't self any part currently negotiating with the state for - of it. If there was any promise made it was that we would build a city hall or a government complex on the site."

PSC Trims FP & L Rate Hike

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) - The Public Service Commission today trimmed about $110 million from Florida Power and Light Co.'s 1476 million rate hike request and commissioners are likely to make further major cuts.

The PSC, beginning two days of final bearings on the biggest rate increase request in its history, decided that FP&I. won't be able to charge its customers for construction of a nuclear power plant until that unit actually begins operation.

"I think they just saved the ratepayers $110 million," said a jubilant Public

Commission staff recommended a $381 million rate hike, including unmediate recovery of the nuclear plant expenses. If the PSC accepts the rest of its staff's conclusions, then the utility will get no more than about $270 million, which would include a $146 million interim like granted earlier.

The action was the first major decision of dozens that must be made by commissioners today and Friday before the exact amount of any rate hike for the Miami-based utility will be determined.

Pollution Kills Millions Of Fish In St. Johns

By JANE CASSELBERRY Herald Staff Writer

An estimated 3 million fish have died this week along a stretch of the St. Johns River between Lake Monroe and Lake Harney, according to State Game and Freshwater Fish Commission Biologist Harold Moody. "There has been a continuous fish-kill since the end of June," Moody said today, "but occasionally the condition becomes more acute and more fish die. This was the fourth such pulse since June in which larger numbers of fish have died.

"I'm alraid if we have another year of low rainfall, the river will be like Lake

"The only thing that saves a river is if it can flow out. All we can do is hope for a lot of rain to flush it out."

Moody blamed the fish kill on pollutants such as insecticides and agricultural fertilizers flowing into the river. Even more damaging, he said, the immediate cause was a marine algae bloom which died and sank to the bottom depleting oxygen in the water last week during cloudy, rainy days.

The affected area of the river is narrow and deep and, with water level low in other parts of the river, tends to hold Apopka (a former mecca for bass everything that has flowed in as run-off, pollutants and nutrients)," Moody said. added, "and interacts with organisms present."

Moody said Seminole County's Osceola landfill near Geneva could be a contributing factor to the pollution problem. "If it rains, the pollutants would seep on down and run into the river. All kinds of things are put in the landfill and the combinations of the various chemicals can create toxic substances," he said. Pollution from septic tanks can also be a problem, he said.

Conditions which resulted in the latest fish-kill are apparently moving north, said J.T. Turnipseed, president of Friends of the St. Johns, who ac-_ fishermen, the large lake was killed by Moody said. "It just stays there," he companied Moody on a river inspection.

fish he saw floating on the river two days before had practically all decomposed and sunk to the bottom. But, he added, there were still millions of dead fish visible in the Marina Isle area.

The majority of the fish were shad minnows, but catlish, scale fish, flourders, a half dozen bass and sting rays were also seen in the Marina Isle area and down Snake Creek, Turnipseed said.

Del Abernathy of the Osteen Bridge Fish Camp said today that although a few dead fish had apparently drifted downstream, the fish kill had not reached that section of the river.

"We're still catching fish around the it is so low.

Turnipseed said that on Wednesday the Osteen Bridge and Lake Monroe," he said. Abernathy said he had seen dead fish on a six-mile stretch of the river from Marina Isle up to Lake Harney that were mostly shad with some small blue gills, catfish, and some bass.

> Abernathy said that although recent rains had brought the river up a "good foot" the level was still 412 to 5 feet below

> Turnipseed said the affected area of the river is stagnant and polluted. "It is virtually a dead river between Lake Monroe and Lake Harney," he said, adding that there has been virtually no current in the river for two years because

Shootout In Tehran

United Press International Revolutionary Guards killed seven dissidents in an eight-hour battle that ended today.

Tehran Radio monitored in Ankara said three other dissidents were arrested in the incident - the first major outbreak of fighting in Tehran since President Mohammed Ali Rajal and Prime Minister Mohammed Javad Bahonar were killed in a bomb blast Sunday.

The Iranian parliament Wednesday gave the cabinet of new Prime Minister Ayatollah Mohammed Reza Mahdavi-Kani a quick vote of confidence.

Mahdavi-Kani, in a statement issued after he presented the cabinet today, said foreign hands were involved in the assassinations of Rajai and Bahonar. He did not elaborate on his charge. He also denied reports that the killings were part of an internal power struggle between Islamic clergy officials.

Soviets Suffer Drought

MOSCOW (UPI) - Western agriculture experts who recently visited the Soviet Union's spring wheat heartland said today the region has suffered extended drought, reinforcing predictions this year's national harvest will not exceed 185 million tons.

The drought, through the Ukraine and the western portions of the Russian Federation, has already had a serious effect on this year's harvest, which Soviet economic planners targeted for 236 million tons.

Apparently anticipating another poor barvest like the ones from 1979 and 1980, the Soviets have purchased more than 4 million tons of American wheat and corn since President Reagan lifted the U.S. grain embargo in April.

Twin-Engine Plane Stolen From Sanford Airport

It seems strange that someone could steal something as large as an airplane and nobody realize it for over a month, but that's just what happened at the Sanford Airport recently.

According to a police report, thieves stole a 1955 Acro Commander 580 twin-engine aircraft from its mooring outside building 147 of Mid-Florida Aviation Inc. at the airport sometime between July 29 and Wednesday.

Owner Robert Schmitt, 60, of Orlando, reported the $25,000 light green and white plane missing.

"There were two basic ways they could have done it," a police investigator said, "They could have either flown it out or taken it out on a truck. Flying seems the more likely. They would have had to take the time to break the plane down take the wings off — and truck it out," the investigator said. "But a truck rolling down the highway with a plane on it would have attracted a lot of attention."

Safer and easier would "have been for them to jump in late at night when the tower out there is closed, crank it up and take off," the investigator said, "They could have cut the runway lights on themselves. Then it was a simple matter of up, up and

County Rejects Architectural Firm

By DARLENE JENNINGS

Herald Staff Writer Seminole County Commissioners have decided not to award the architectural firm of Lewis and Burke, Winter Park, the contract for renovating the Sanford Library because of problems during contract renegotiations in August.

Now the commissioners must, in compliance with the state law, proceed with negotiations with the second firm considered for the library project, Greenleaf-Telesca, Altamonte Springs.

However, Blackmon added, since the firm voluntarily made the offer, and then balked during execution of the contract, Lewis and Burke's contract was rescinded.

The negotiating team will ask, as it is procedure, if architects from Greenleaf-Telesca will visit the site, but the team will not require the second firm to make every day visits, Blackmon said.

However, Jun Bales, partner of Lewis and Burke said the real

"crux" of the issue was the fee the county is willing to pay the architects for work on the project. The county has offered $7,700 for architectural services.

"The county did not want to pay us a fee which would be commensurate with our services," said Bales "Visiting the site everyday, on a project of this size, would not be prudent, or worth the time and money involved," Bales added. Beyond The Issue In Alton

A growing trend toward massive damage penalties in libel cases could endanger the vigor of B free press upon which democracy is heavily dependent. It may seem self-serving for any newspaper to say that, but a vital public issue is at stake.

If a publication or broadcaster knowingly circulates a false story or prints or broadcasts an item with reckless disregard" for its truth or falsity, the slipshod journalism deserves rebuke. Still, a very large financial punishment, grossly disproportionate to the injury suffered, is a cause for concern.

Consider, for example, the plight of the Alton (Ill.) Telegraph, a newspaper in danger of being put out of business by a staggering $9.2 million libel judgment for a report that the paper (italics) never published. (end italics) At issue is a businessman's claim that a confidential memorandum sent by two of the paper's reporters to the U.S. Justice Department led to the collapse of his business.

The reporters were checking a tip that a savings and loan association and the businessman, a local contractor, had links to organized crime. When the Justice Department did not respond to the memo from the journalists, and when their own checking failed to confirm the allegation, the story was killed." Eventually, however, the Justice Department sent the memo to another federal agency, which investigated and discovered irregularities in loans to the contractor. The lending institution cut off the con-Iractor's credit — which, he claimed, ruined his business. After a copy of the reporters' memo was given to the contractor, he filed his libel action. Faced with the huge judgment, the paper has been forced to file a petition in bankruptcy to protect its presses and other assets from being sold to satisfy the award, pending appeal.

The case's implications reach beyond the concept of a free press. Also joined are such issues as the potential liability of reporters checking damaging allegations, and of anyone who may share suspicions of wrong-doing with authorities. Could a letter from a citizen to a district attorney or police chief land the citizen in a libel suit? That question should be pondered by anyone who thinks that the press' freedom is only the press' worry.

Apart from that question, however, there can be no doubt that the large award in the Alton case serves to inhibit aggressive investigative reporting. That loss would reach far beyond a river town in Illinois.

Patience Ran Out

In 1978 the Salvation Army suspended its membership in the World Council of Churches (WCC) to protest the council's support of guerrilla organizations in Africa. The council's gifts of $85,000 to guerrillas then fighting in Rhodesia and $125,000 to a guerrilla movement still fighting in South West Africa did not strike the Salvation Army leaders as appropriate.

The Salvation Army's patience ran out. It announced that it is withdrawing altogether from the WCC because the council is being guided by politics rather than the gospel."

We are surprised that more of the 300 churches in the WCC are not marching in the same direction as the Salvation Army. While the council's leadership insists its aid to revolutionary movements is for humanitarian" purposes, the council makes no effort to assure that the money is not used to buy weapons. Philip Potter, the secretary-general of the WCC, concedes that the aid is designed to make political statement."

Word of the Salvation Army's defection came as the 140-member Central Committee of the WCC opened a meeting in the East German city of Dresden. True to form, the session opened with a blast at the U.S. decision to proceed with producing the neutron bomb," echoing Communist Party line on this subject as expressed in a welcoming address by the East German party chief, Erich Honecker.

"My problem is I'm still not used to having a president who takes a tough stand, but then doesn't back down!"

The contract to sell cat carcasses to a West Jersey Biological Supply farm in Orlando for $2,000 of revenue for the county provided plenty of 'litter-gation' for the board.

A fray of feline jokes purred throughout the entire hearing. At one point when it appeared to Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff that Commissioner Sandra Glenn was not paying attention to his remarks, he turned to her and asked, "what's this, a cat nap?"

This was just the beginning for Kirchhoff - he didn't pussy-foot around.

When director of Health and Human Services, Jorge Deju told the board that L.D. Plante, Inc. a rendering company that previously accepted the county's euthanated cats processed cat and animal parts to get fat, bones and grease this really gave Kirchholf a tree to climb.

It seems these processed animal parts are sold to companies that make soap, and other products.

"Ugh," groaned Kirchhoff, "Sandra, just think, you've got that cat stuff all over you," he said to Glenn.

That one really hit the bottom of the kitty litter.

However, Kirchhoff really did have the interests of the county in mind when he voted to accept the contract that would sell the euthanated cats to the supply farm, which sells the carcasses for educational purposes only.

"This way, people's pets won't disappear like in Gainesville at the University of Florida where pets started disappearing for med school students' projects," he said.

Of course, only cat lovers could tolerate this behavior. It is possible Kirchhoff has some ideas of his own to contribute to the popular book, "Ten Uses for a Dead Cat.'

Hold That Line

Richard Nixon is an alumnus without honor among some of the folks at his own alma mater.

The former president is again the focus of a controversy, this time involving the question of whether Duke University should be the site of a library housing his political papers.

In case you've missed the details of this story as it has been developing on the inside pages, Nixon is a graduate of Duke's law school, Class of '37. Which is the rationale for a proposal to establish a Nixon library on

It is not his proposal, however, but the university's - or more precisely, that of its president, Terry Sanford, who happens to be a prominent Democrat for whatever that may or may not have to do with the matter.

Nixon is understood to be receptive, but Sanford has been having difficulty selling the plan to his Duke constituency. Two prominent trustees, including Pulitzer Prize-winning author William Styron, Class of '47, have resigned.

And on campus, opposition to a plan that would put Duke on the historical library map is most vocal in the history department. Some critics are opposed to any association with the only president in history to have resigned the office, while others say they would not object to adding the Nixon papers to the Duke collection but don't like the idea of a special Nixon library, which would be in effect a memorial.

To get a broader consensus, the alumni office has sent off explanatory letters to all Duke students and alumni - some 65,000. With no promise, however, that the majority's sentiments will prevail.

And so it's going. As proposed, a Nixon library would follow what is by now standard practice. The site would be donated to the federal government with actual construction (inanced through private contributions. When completed, the library would be operated by the General

A Nixon library would be the eighth such presidential institution - unless Jimmy Carter, currently being courted by several Georgia schools, beats him to a dedication. The most recent are those of Gerald Ford at Ann Arbor and John Kennedy in Boston.

They range from the relatively modest affairs dedicated to Franklin Roosevelt. Harry Truman and Dwight Eisenhower - the precendent setters, and one wonders what those presidents might now make of what they wrought - to Lyndon Johnson's meglomaniacal pile at the University of Texas. They have taken on the character of contemporary presidential monuments, one for each and every chief executive, some of whom have the additional privilege and pleasure of overseeing plans and con-

There is no question that the material housed in the libraries is of public interest. And the Nixon papers would be of more than most, a point made by proponents at Duke who argue that this record of one of the nation's most eventful periods would draw researchers and historical attention to the university.

But there is question as to whether the proliferation of separate institutions is advisable. Such fragmented treatment of unique archival material is more in the interests of individual egos and community pride than of scholarship and custodial efficiency.

Congress addressed this issue in part in the Presidential Records Act of 1978, which took effect at the conclusion of the Carter presidency and makes the papers of future presidents property of the government.

Employer Troubles

WASHINGTON - President Reagan has received some setbacks recently in his battle to make substantial cuts in the federal bureaucracy by the beginning of the new fiscal year on Oct.

First came the release of government figures showing that full-time civilian employment rose - by 8,205 - in May for the second consecutive month. The Office of Personnel Management has tried to portray these statistics in the best possible light. For example, the Defense Department now is being listed as a separate category on the basis that the cuts were not intended to extend to the Pentagon. Thus, the agency's figures indicate that full-time civilian employment actually went down by 741 in May. This figure was obtained by eliminating the 9,967 new positions at the Defense Department as well as major increases that were said to be "seasonal" at the Interior and Agriculture departments. On the heels of the release of these figures came Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger's announcement of his plans to add at least 75,000 full-time civilian employees to the Pentagon payroll.

Then the U.S. court of appeals issued a ruling that challenged the legality of the hiring freeze that Reagan signed as his first official act as president. This could pave the way for the addition of an many as 20,000 workers to the federal payroll, retroactive to January.

The administration said that the freeze rescinded the job commitments given to thousands of people who had not actually begun work for the federal government by Inauguration Day, Some of those denied jobs and several unions that represent federal workers sued on the grounds that Reagan did not have the power to rescind the commitments.

The U.S. district court sided with the administration. It said that the would-be employees had received not "commitments" but "job offers" that could be rescinded at any time before they began work. The court of appeals reversed that decision on an unanimous vote.

The higher court said that the administration had "played hide-and-seek with job seekers" and had withdrawn commitments "with little or no regard to the consequences of its actions." The case was sent back to the district court with orders to review whether each agency that rescinded a iob offer had the authority to do so under its personnel regulations.

The decision may mean that these who received unconditional letters of commitment will be entitled to their jobs retroactive to the Lawyers for the would-be employees say that the ruling could mean that as many as 20,000 people will get the jobs that they had been denied. Justice Department lawyers contend, however, that only about 2,000 people had received formal commitments by the date of the president's order. Both sides agree that a case-by-case review will take a long time and that the decision opens the way for more litigation. That includes damage claims from those denied positions - and especially from those who quit their previous jobs and moved to different cities.

There may also be a personnel battle coming up in Congress. The administration quietly added an amendment to the Senate's Department of Housing and Urban Development funding bill that would eliminate overtime pay for the approximately 680,000 federal workers above the GS-9 level (that is, those who earn more than about $20,000 a year).

Federal workers below the top management ranks are currently eligible for overtime pay. Those rated GS-10 and below get time-and-a-half for more than 40 hours a week. Those above GS-10 get their choice of an additional $14.76 or an hour off for each hour of overtime.

The battle over this amendment will be fought in the conference committee reconciling the House and Senate versions of the HUD funding bill. Federal employees' unions are up in arms over the amendment, and their allies in the House will fight to see that it is stripped from the bill.

Social Security Changes

When President Reagan signed the new federal budget bill, he made major changes in Social Security's retirement, survivors and disability insurance programs. The goal, of both Reagan and Congress, was to save money - about $3 billion in 1982, and more each year thereafter until 1986, when the savings will be an estimated $6 billion.

These changes could affect you or your family. Here's a rundown on them and the amount of savings contemplated for each change next year:

Minimum benefit - The $122-a-month Social Security minimum is eliminated for all beneficiaries becoming eligible after October. Those now getting the minimum will have benefits recomputed next March for their April checks. Some current beneficiaries get as much as $170.30 a month because of cost-of-living increases given under 1977 amendments. Those getting the minimum who are 60 through 64 may apply for a special Supplemental Security Income payment and can get an amount equal to the cut in their benefits if they meet all other eligibility standards, excluding age. Those who get the special SSI payment won't get future SSI cost-of-living increases and won't be eligible for state SSI supplements or such benefits as Medicaid. A third of the 3 million persons who now get the minimum qualify for SSI. Estimated 1982 savings: $980 million.

Student benefits - Discontinued completely for post-secondary students after April 1985, Students 18 or older who start postsecondary school before May 1982, and who are entitled to a child's benefit for August 1981 may continue to get benefits, with the amount reduced 25 percent starting in September 1982, and an equal amount in the following two Septembers. No cost-of-living increases will be paid, nor will benefits be paid in the Maythrough-August period for these postsecondary students. Persons entitled to a child's benefit after August 1981 can get them at ages 18-21 while going to post-secondary school, but only through next July. Eighteenyear-olds in grade or high school continue to get benefits, but students 19-21 get them only through next July. Estimated 1982 savings:

$915 million. Lump-sum death payment - This $225 still will be paid to a spouse who was living with the deceased person at time of death. It can also be paid to a separated spouse eligible for survivor benefits, or to children eligible for survivor benefits. Otherwise, no payments:

Estimated 1982 savings: $182 million. End of parental benefits when youngest child reaches 16 - This provision goes into effect in September 1983, for parents on Social Security roll before September 1981. It goes into effect immediately for mothers or fathers who become eligible after August 1981. Child's benefits are unaffected. Estimated 1982 savings: $40 million.

Earnings test age exemption - Earnings; test continues to apply to beneficiaries up to age 72 through 1982 instead of dropping to 70. in 1982. Age limit will drop to 70 in 1983, Those 65-72 lose $1 for every $2 of Social Security benefits for any amount earned over $5,500 this year.) Estimated 1982 savings:

$460 million. Benefits payment on first full month of entitlement - Effective immediately; Estimated 1982 savings: $205 million.

Disability payments cap - Disability. benefits, including those for all family members, will be reduced so that combined federal, state and local payments don't exceed 80 percent of the disabled person's average earnings before disability. SSI and Veteran Administration payments are ex-

JACK ANDERSON

A History Of Fumbling On Corruption

WASHINGTON - Labor Secretary Ray Donovan's recent claim that he lacks the legal authority to seek removal of Roy Williams as Teamsters Union president has a familiar ring. It is disturbingly reminiscent of the Labor Department's action - or, more precisely, inaction - in a similar case six years ago.

That one involved a corrupt union, Laborers International, with links to organized crime. The union's Southeast Florida District Council president, Bernard G. Rubin, was convicted in October, 1975 of embersling $400,000 in union funds. While he was appealing his conviction, he held onto his six union positions.

This troubled the Justice Department, which wanted to monitor the disbursement of union trust funds and sought help from the Labor Department. But Labor declined to go along, citing its "lack of authority."

It wasn't until October, 1977 that Rubin was finally removed from his union posts — after that he had embezzled another $2 million in the two years he had been left in control of the trust funds, with the Labor Department's blessing.

"The only authority that the Department of Labor would have needed was a court order, which was what the Department of Justice was seeking when the Department of Labor withdrew its support," a Justice Department document noted in 1978.

It is axiomatic that federal agencies wind up as captives of the interests and institutions they are supposed to be regulating, and staff members of the Senate Permanent Subcommittee on Investigations have noted this discouraging pattern in the Labor Department. In its report on the department's handling of the Teamsters Central States Pension Fund, the subcommittee investigators cite the "historical institutional incapability of the Department of Labor in dealing with labor racketeering,"

The department's attitude cost Laborers

Union members dearly in 1975. Records examined by my associate Tony Capaccio show that at the time the Labor Department ducked its responsibilities regarding Rubin, he was working closely with underworld leaders to bleed the union through a mobsterrun insurance company.

Rubin's role in the scheme was to throw union insurance business to the Farmers National Life Insurance Co., a small Florida company controlled by the Mob. Such Mafia luminaries as Anthony "Joe Batters" Accardo of Chicago, Santo Trafficante of Florida and Raymond Patriarca of New England took their allotted slices of the kickback pie provided by Laborers Union insurance premiums.

These were paid to Farmers National and another company allegedly purchased for the Mob in June 1976 — the National American Life Insurance Co. of Louisiana.

The mobsters' front man in both insurance companies was Joseph Hauser, a veteran con artist who later turned government witness and helped convict New Orleans mafions Carlos Marcello a few weeks ago.

At one point in 1975, Trafficante met with Rubin and Hauser and complained that Farmers National's role had to be expanded since his share of the kickbacks up to that time had amounted to "peanuts."

When Hauser bought National American Life at the mobsters' behest, incidentally, the paperwork was handled by former Attorney General Richard Kleindienst and his law firm. Kleindienst insists that he thought Hauser was "a reputable businessman." He said he "absolutely, positively" did not realize the purchase was part of an elaborate Mob plot to milk the Laborers Union.

Footnote: The parallel between Rubin in 1975 and Williams in 1981 is not exact, of course. The Teamsters president has merely been indicted, not convicted, on corruption charges. But Ray Donovan's claim that he has no authority to seek Williams' ouster is

Tear Gas Used To Control Haitians

MIAMI (UPI) - Guards used tear gas and night sticks today to control more than 1,000 angry Haitlans who demanded "liberty" and then rushed a barbed wire fence at a detention center west of Miami.

Officials likened the disturbance to a "mob scene" and said about 50 Haitians had escaped.

Authorities said the incident started shortly before breakfast at 9 a.m., when several hundred refugees began chanting "let us have our liberty or we'll tear this place apart."

"The chanting became worse," said Mike Trominski, spokesman for the Immigration and Naturalization Service at the Krome Avenue camp. "There was no way we could calm them down. It was almost a mob scene."

The crowd, which Trominski said grew to include virtually all of the 1,060 Haitian detainees, then started walking toward several immigration guards who retreated behind a tall Evening Herald, Sanford, Fl. Thursday, Sept. 3, 1981—5A

Trominski said the guards burled "two or three" rounds of tear gas to disperse the crowd. Some of the refugees then scampered to the rear of the complex and ripped down a fence, escaping in the kneedeep sawgrass at the edge of the

Lake Mary To Review Plan

Plans for a $500,000 manufacturing among Evansdale Road property property from Main Road to State Road plant and for a $5.9 million townhouse owners. complex will be reviewed by the Lake Mary City Council at its 7:30 p.m. meeting today.

Council is to review the final site plans for a proposed new manufacturing plant to be located adjacent to the Horian plant on Lake Emma Road submitted by Herman C. Hodges. Hodges has told the city the plant will do light electronics work and employ about 100.

The council is also to review a preliminary site plan from the Lake Mary Development Co. for a proposed 74unit townhouse complex off Rinehart Road. The complex is named "Feather Edge." Estimated construction cost per unit is $60,000 to $80,000, City Manager Phil Kulbes said.

In other business, Bill Gilmore, a resident on Evansdale Road, will report to the council the number of signatures he has obtained on a petition circulated seeking the rezoning of 112 acres of

Two weeks ago Gilmore asked and council agreed to delay the paving project for the road for 30 days to give him time to persuade his neighbors to forego paving and opt instead to voluntarily maintain their unimproved

For the past year the council has been discussing the paving project. Estimated costs for paving the 3,000-foot stretch of road from Clairmont to Pine Tree Road is $139.645. Owners whose properties face the road are to be assessed for $104,820 of the cost which includes driveway approaches to each property. Residents who must use Evansdale to get to their homes on nearby streets are to be assessed $11,424 and the city is to pay $23,401 for street intersections and culverts.

The council is also to consider a request from developer, Larry Dale, 427 from agriculture to residential for construction of Cardinal Oaks, phase 111. Dale plans to subdivide the property into 47 lots, ranging from one-half acre to six acres in size.

Dale is also asking the council to vacate North Road right-of-way. The road has never been opened. Dale owns the property on both sides and would become the owner of the right-of-way if the city council agrees to abandon it.

Representatives of Sanlando-Storer Cable television will give a status report to the city on its installation of lines to bring cable television to LakeMary's

The firm, according to a contract with the city, is to have the service available by January. The representatives are expected to report to the city tonight that the construction work will be completed in November and service available shortly thereafter, Kulbes said. -

> Volusia County Circuit Court Judge James Foxman sentenced Stano to three consecutive life sentences instead of the death penalty because of Stano's confessions.

"I've agreed not to sentence you to death only because you provided information for families who didn't know where their loved ones were," Foxman said, "You'll never walk the streets of this state as a free man again."

Man Jailed For Threats On Reagan

BALTIMORE (UPI) - A man armed with five guns and possibly under the influence of a powerful hallucinogenic drug, who told Secret Service agents he was en route to "kill President Reagan," was jailed today awaiting psychiatric tests.

Isom Joseph Dean Jr., 24. was arrested Wednesday in Towson, Md. - less than an hour's drive from the White House - after his sister reported he was driving her car without permission.

He was charged with threatening to assassinate the president and held without bond.

Ben Frazier, Dean's attorney, said in a pretrial report his client had taken PCP. powerful hallucinogenic drug, and had been drinking hours before he was arrested.

U.S. Magistrate Paul Rosenberg ordered Dean be sent to a federal detention facility in Springfield Mo., for a 60-day examination, including psychiatric tests.

Dean's sister, Linda Ciorpello of Baltimore, said her brother had undergone psychiatric treatment "four or five years ago" and the attorney said Dean had been treated for conditions resulting from the use of PCP

Police who stopped him on a routine complaint found three scope-equipped rifles, an M-18 semiautomatic rifle, a loaded .22-caliber Smith & Wesson revolver, and a pair of highpowered binoculars in the car.

As Dave Tullis prepares to guide his Big Blue Patriots towards his second season as head coach, he faces virtually the same task of his maiden season. Inheriting a squad that has its share of strengths, weaknesses, new faces and veterans, the Patriots will sport a senior look, but the trademark of past Lake tack. Tullis will carry only 37 players in 1981, so depth is questionable and the necessity to avoid injuries to key players critical. Lake Brantley's strength lies in the running game and at linebacker.

AL ROLLISON ... Patriot's quarterback

"Last year our offensive line averaged 240 pounds. This year its 166. We were able to physically manhandle some teams last season but now we'll have to rely on the agility and heart of smaller players," said Coach Dave Tullis.

Pats' Offensive Line 80 Pounds Lighter

Lake Brantley shows five returning starters from last year's squad that helped post a 5-5 slate. Gone, however, are five mammoth linemen; four of which signed major college scholarships.

The offensive line is amazingly almost 80 pounds lighter per man and less experlenced. Savvy at running back should help however as the Patriots sport a strong, if not lightning quick running Talent at tight end should help the quarterbacking situation which has been hampered by injuries and the loss of Jay Poag through a family move.

Just as it appeared that Lake Brantley would continue its traditional grooming of a top notch prep signal caller in the form of Jay Poag, Tullis found himself without an experienced quarterback due to Poag's family moving out of state.

To compound the problem, backup man Al Rollison has been hampered by injuries and saw virtually no action in the spring or spring jamboree.

Tullis turned to one of his most solid athletes, Fred Baber, an all-conference defensive back, who stepped in during spring practice and delivered a yeoman's performance. A healthy Rollison would alleviate Baber having to go both ways.

"They've both been doing well in fall practice and compliment each other," says Tullis. The Patriots should get adequate, if not spectacular passing from the quickness to turn the corner and the toughness to consistently run inside. His strength and hard nosed style of running should keep him durable over a 10-game schedule.

'Buzz Saw' Besaw Cuts Up Opposition

Senior Kevin "Buzzsaw" Besaw leads a solid stable of veteran seniors in the Patriot backfield. Although not possessed of blazing speed, Besaw has needed.

Besaw is complemented by a veteran group of seniors who have all seen plenty of playing time. Rob Brown is consistent and has good hands.

Linebacker-halfback Otls Cliatt is perhaps the speedlest of the Patriot backs and will see as many handoffs as fellow seniors Mike Brown and Kevin

Help on the offensive line and the short passing game will come in the form of a pair of talented tight ends. Mac Lantrip, who will also see defensive line duty, and Gary Decker both will see a lot of game time. "They can both do the job blocking and they both have very good hands," says Tullis. When the Patriots do go long it will be to senior wide receiver Ronald Salem and junior Mike Scranton, Salem is the younger brother of former Lake Brantley standout Richard Salem, slated to start at wide receiver for Georgia Tech this year as a junior.

Donny Durham and Doug Smith will see the most game time at Flanker with Bert McDaniel providing backup strength at that spot.

Brantley Linebackers Adorn Strong Suit

Probably the most untested area of the 1981 Patriots. Senior Brian Gresham will anchor the line with backup help coming from junior Bill Bragg. Chris Wilson and Brian Hammond will share right guard duties on an offensive line that will average 166-pounds while Tim Blackstoner is slated at left guard with Kyle Davis stepping in from defense if needed.

John Desmond and Mark Risse will be the figures at right tackle while Billy Hartman, the heaviest of Lake Brantley's linemen at 240-pounds, along with Al Hammond will work in interchangeable positions on the line as

A strong performance by Lake Brantley's secondary and linebackers should offset some of the inexperience in the defensive line.

"We've got the linebackers who have a real nose for the ball," says Tullis. "But overall because of our inexperience, we'll have to play better as a whole unit."

216-pound Mac Lantrip heads the list of Patriot defensive end candidates. He'll be joined by Chris Savage. Al Hammond.

Tim Blackstone and Brian Hammond. Another two-way performer, fullback Rob Brown will see action at defensive end along with Steve Peacock and Rick Ryan. Tullis feels his line is a little small but can compensate with quickness.

No doubt Lake Brantley's strongest suit. Veterans Kyle Davis, Bob Kalich and Otis Cliatt work well as a unit and can find the ball carrier. That trio will have to perform well early in the season to offset some of the inexperience on the line and they look capable of the task.

Experienced Baber Heads Up Secondary

Veteran Richard Upton will team with sophomore Greg Sanders in addition to Doug Smith and Brian Gresham to contain the outside running game and the

Fred Baber returns to his familiar safety spot as an all-conference performer and Tullis will rely on his experience and leadership to anchor the defensive unit. Rick Ryan and Scott Bonnacello provide backup for Baber should be be needed to head the offensive unit as quarterback.

Scott Cobrin and Kevin Besaw will share kickoff duties for Lake Brantley home against Colonial. while Tullis will have the luxury of two strong legs for punting in the form of Baber and Kyle Davis.

Hawks Play Keep Away, Pin Darters

Herald Sports Writer

Lake Howell's Silver Hawks played keep away ball control en route to a 6-0 third quarter decision over Chip Gierke's Apopka Blue Darters. Wednesday night at the Lake Brantley Fall Football Jamboree.

First year coach Mike Bisceglia's crew chewed up 24 plays from scrimmage compared to just six for Apopka. On its second possession of the quarter, Lake Howell fashioned a 13play clock-eating drive, capped by senior Scott Grant's five-yard scoring run off right tackle.

Billy Mosblech and sophomore Jay Robey teamed with Grant to keep the drive alive while quarterback Scott Fricke hit on two of four pass attempts during the march. Robey, a promising soph carried just three times against Apopka, but hurt the Blue Darters with a total of 50-yards, 37 of them coming on a blast off the left side of the line thanks to solid blocking by Jim Royals and Dave Ornstein.

The all-purpose Grant missed the PAT kick when he shanked it to the left side.

The fourth period saw county rivals Lake Howell and Lake Brantley squaring off. The Patriots came away with a 6-0 win thanks to some aggressive defense and crisp specialty teams play.

Fali Jamboree

Dave Tullis' Patriots were in the midst of an early nine-play drive before Rick Magaro scooped up a fumble following an Al Rollison completion to tight end Mac Lantrip.

Rollison, a back up last season and late bloomer due to spring injuries. showed promise in the nightcap period by completing four of six passes good for 54 yards.

Shortly after Magaro's fumble recovery, the Silver Hawks returned the favor by letting the pigskin slip away. Bob Kalich recovered a Silver Hawk fumble and the Patriots marched to Lake Howell's nine-yard line before being stopped.

Lake Howell couldn't escape poor field position and was forced to punt. Scott Grant's punt was knocked away, however, by linebacker Kyle Davis and bobbled around several times before Patriot defensive back Rob Brown picked it up and rumbled into the end zone to secure Lake Brantley's 6-0 win. Otis Cliatt's PAT attempt was low and off to the left.

Both Patriot coach Tullis and Lake Howell skipper Bisceglia seemed pleased with the jamboree workout.

"I thought we did well," said Bisceglia. "I wasn't real happy with the kicking game, we missed a PAT and had a punt blocked, but our regular holder (Magaro) was out most of the night with back spasms."

The Silver Hawks open up against Bishop Moore next Friday night.

"We really don't know too much about them," assessed Bisceglia. "They have a new coach, so all we have to go on is game films."

Lake Prantley opens against annual season lidlifting rival Colonial, no strangers to the Patriot coaching staff.

"They'll be tough, just like they always are," commented Tullis. "They have a lot of people back and they have a good crop up from a successful junior varsity program."

"But we saw some good things tonight," he added. "The offensive line played better than expected and our backs ran well. I'm happy with what we did and overall I'd say we're about even with everyone else."

Perkins Hopes Personnel Aids Giants

COACH RAY PERKINS: "I feel better about our team, despite its 4-12 record, because we're starting with the best personnel in my three years here. For the first time, there is true competition at all positions. But I see teams like St. Louis getting better, too, so it won't be easy."

OFFENSE

PASSING Hurt last three games, Phil Simms got chance to observe and learn from sidelines. Giants' future is committed to the big blond with the strong arm. Main deficiency in his receiving corps is a speed burner to keep secondaries on edge. It might be rookie Mel Hoover. More likely will stay with Earnest Gray and Mike Friede. Dave Young breaks in at TE. FAIR.

RUNNING Lack of swiftness also handicaps this phase of offense. Absence of breakaway back is glaring, though Doug Kotar's return from injury restores some consistency. He'll divide time with leading gainer Billy Taylor, Leon Perry, surprise free agent, looms as starting fullback. POOR

BLOCKING Perkins is satisfied with his guard tandem of J.T. Turner and Itoy Simmons, young and improving. Gordon King is finally showing why he was No. 1 choice. All they really need to make this a strong area is another tackle since Brad Benson would really fit better at guard or center, GOOD DEFENSE

LINE After experimenting last two years, Giants are going with three-man front from the start. Unfortunately, they lack an imposing nose tackle to really make it work. Untested Myron Lapka and George Small are best they have at moment. More stable at end with Gary Jeter and George Martin.

LINEBACKING Best part of whole Giants' scheme, with perennial Pro-Bowl Brad Van Pelt a class performer on left side and Lawrence Taylor, strong candidate for rookie of year, already entrenched on right. Harry Carson and Brian Kelley are pair of savvy veterans in middle. There seems to be no limit to young Taylor's abilities, Good depth, too. VERY GOOD SECONDARY One position is up for post. Corners are now in good hands with return of Terry Jackson from shoulder injury and Mark Haynes proving late in '80 campaign why he was first draft choice. Tony Blount offers hope at that empty safety position FAIR to GOOD SPECIAL TEAMS KICKING Dave Jennings won NFL punting title, so that speaks for his quality, and Joe Danelo converted 13 of his last 15 field goal attempts, so the Giants' kicking game is in good shape. VERY GOOD RETURNS Alvin Garrett, backfield spare, was adequate on punt returns.

grabs. That's strong safety, since

Beasley Reece has been moved to free but kickoff units lacked fast man to bring ball out from goal line. It might be ex-CFLer Leon Bright, FAIR to

PROSPECTUS

With draft finally beginning to yield such as Lawrence Taylor for defense and Dave Young for offense, Giants should start moving up and at least get out of cellar, Ray Perkins, as a young head coach, would also do well to loosen

Hart Pivotal Figure For Cardinals

COACH JIM HANIFAN: "Forget our 5-11 record last year. We have the personnel to win and contend in the NFC East if we can get a little lucky, avoid the injuries that were so costly last year and develop an attitude that breeds success."

PASSING There's no doubt that Jim Hart, at 36, remains the pivotal figure of the offense. Sure, they drafted hotshot Neil Lomax as QB of future, but he's far from ready. Hart throws to adequate collection of wide receivers: little Mel Gray, little Pat Tilley, backed by tall Dave Stelf. Doug Marsh showed

Hashes in his debut at right end. FAIR

RUNNING They don't come much better than Ottis Anderson. And that includes Campbell, Payton and the rest. He has been tremendous for two years and figures to carry on. At fullback, Theotis Brown will get full shot at beating tough-running Wayne Morris. Stump Mitchell is rookie of note. VERY GOOD

BLOCKING Not the force of past Cardinal offensive lines. They gave up many more sacks than they used to, though tackle Dan Dierdorf made AllPro Football

Pro comeback from knee surgery. Now they hope Keith Wortman and Terry Stieve, who missed all of last year, will do the same. Among younger element, Cardinal coaches are high on Barney Cotton as possible regular, FAIR DEFENSE

LINE Rush Brown, surprise of '80, will move from nose tackle, where Mike Dawson returns (from knee injury), to end, displacing Ron Yankowski. Bob Pollard remains steady on strong side, moves to tackle when Cards go into 4-3, Curtis Greer was disappointing in his first year. FAIR

LINEBACKING Mark Arneson quit as outside linebacker simply because he was tired of losing. That automatically opens up job for E.J. Junior, first pick in draft, though he's slated for inside post, supplanting Tim-Kearney or Eric Williams, That's assuming Charlie Baker shows enough to succeed Arneson. Hanifan is looking for young guys to play. FAIR to POOR SECONDARY Fact that Roger Wehrli, starting 13th year, is still expected to play right corner is symptom of Cardinals' desperation. Of course, they like looks of rookie Jeff Griffin, third-round pick. Ken Greene comes back to reclaim free safety job, and he's unquestioned talent. Roy Green at safety has talent, lacks results. POOR

SPECIAL TEAMS

KICKING Cards got lucky with couple of free agents picked up last fall. Larry Swider did fine job punting, and Neil O'Donoghue had fine percentage of field goal conversions. GOOD

RETURNS Roy Green was good enough threat carrying back punts, while offensive spares Mark Bell and Willard Harrell get adequate mileage on kickoff returns. Harrell doubles on punts. GOOD

PROSPECTUS

Hanifan suffered though rocky initial year as head coach, but he's right in his assessment of Cardinal potential. They've just got to learn to win the close ones and QB Hart should be good for one more season.

DAVE TULLIS likes Brantley's defense

Lake Brantley Coach Dave Tullia was impressed with his defense in Wednesday's second quarter 0-0 standoff between the Patriots and Brooksville-Hernando.

A poor snap from center forced Brantley's backs to their own 10 yard line with eight minutes to play. Quarterback Eddie Looper scrambled for one yard in two carries before his third-down pass was broken up by the Big Blue's Rick Ryan in the endzone.

On fourth down, Lake Brantley was nailed with a pass interference penalty which moved Hernando to the five yard line. On the next play, however, Hernando was penalized for holding and moved to the 20 yard line.

Hernando moved back into scoring range on pass plays to Chuck Cowart and Jerome Brown to the 12 yard line, but Brantley swarmed quarterback Owens on fourth down to break up the scoring threat.

In the opening quarter action, Brooksville's Owens tossed a 30 yard TD pass to Brent Young for the score. Cowart pushed the middle for the extra point to make the final, 8-0.

Hernando, led by defensive end Mike Hamilton, made things tough for Apopka quarterback Brian Pitts all

"I just took a shot and fortunately, made it," said Miller.

After Philadelphia took a 2-1 lead in the top of the ninth on an RBI ingle by Pete Rose, Atlanta's Glenn Hubbard led off the bottom with a triple and scored on Miller's single ff loser Warren Brusstar, 0-1.

Miller stole second and after Luis Gomez walked, Miller stole third, from where he scored on Royster's ball down the right field line. Gene Garber, 4-3, was the winner.

Altamonte is inaccessible due to traffic congestion on State Road 436.

Speaking against for-profit hospitals, Lake Mary councilman Dick Fess said "The profits will go out of the community." Capital to build the facility will be brought in from outside and profits will go out."

"Duplication of services is costly. If an administrator can admit 75 people per day but only admits 50, everybody's paying for those empty beds.

"Anyplace in Longwood is a 4 to 5 minute drive to existing hospital facilities," he added.

But Longwood City Commissioner Steven Uskert said, "I'd like to follow that guy who's going to make it in five minutes from Longwood to any hospital." Uskert cited traffic problems and subsequent inaccessibility to the Florida Hospital-Altamonte as major reasons for the need of another facility.

"If a man is going to invest $22 million in our community, I say let him come in," Longwood Mayor John Hepp said in defense of for-profit hospitals.

Hepp spoke out in favor of the free enterprise system and criticized the HSA and the government for attempting to control business.

Hepp urged residents to protest hospital regulation by the government, saying, "Are we going to be like Britain and have the government control our health care?"

Hepp said he supports HCA's 150-bed hospital plan for

While some citizens argued the pros and cons of a hospital in Longwood versus expansion of Florida Hospital-Altamonte, some asked why both can't be approved.

"I have no objections to having a hospital in Longwood provided you could grant the certification without prejudice to Florida Hospital-Altamonte for expansion," Joseph Petric. Altamonte Springs, said.

"I don't know why we have to take sides," Longwood Commissioner Uskert said, "I support an area hospital in Longwood and the expansion of Florida Hospital-Altamonte."

State Representative Robert Hattaway, D-Altamonte Springs, said he plans to "go back to Tallahassee next week and look into getting both a hospital in Longwood and expanded facilities at Florida Hospital-Altamonte." He also asked that the HSA-ECF investigate what the costs of these plans will be to the taxpayers and patients.

According to Carlos Ruiz, a physician in Seminole County, "People are demanding highly specialized care. The smaller community hospital will have problems trying to provide these Altamonte physician Paul Garrett said that new doctors will not come in to work a community hospital in Longwood because of the lack of sophisticated facilities.

"What will happen," Garrett said, "is that present doctors will expand their already expanded services to these areas." Seminole County residents also raised questions concerning the accuracy of the three plans and each plans provisions for indigent patient care.

"One presentation (HCA) said that only 40 percent of the patients will by paying resulting in profit and that 48 percent of that will go to Uncle Sam," Gerald R. Cox, Altamonte Springs, said. "If that's true, I could almost check in and check out for free." Representatives from each hospital group said that no one will be denied care at their facilities because of inability to "Isn't it amazing that we can do all of this planning and still arrive at so many different answers, but we did didn't we," Jim Ryan, IICA development and planning consultant, said. The HSA-ECF will review the tapes of the public hearing and make their recommendations to the Seminole County Council will, in turn, make a recommendation to the HSA Project Review Committee. The committee will then meet Sept. 17 and make its recommendations to the regional HSA board which will vote on a recommendation to be made to the state. The state Office of Community Medical Facilities will make the

County Animal Control May Now Give Refunds

Seminole County Commissioners Tuesday authorized the county's Animal Control Division to give refunds and credits to its customers if an adopted animal should become sick or die

Prior to Tuesday's county commission meeting, persons qualifying for a refund or a credit had to come before the board for their problems to be resolved, which according to Dr. Jorge Delu, director of the department of Health and Human Services (HHS) was unnecessarily time consuming for the public. "Sometimes the person would move before the problem was solved," Deju said Tuesday, Now, a person who adopts an animal that becomes sick or dies can fill out a form at the Animal Control Shelter, return the sick animal or provide proof of death, and within five days, he will receive a refund, according to the adopted proposal.

Money may also change hands under the plan, without going to the commission, if a person wants to exchange an animal. Since prices vary for cats or dogs, males and females, then a credit may be necessary.

Refunds will be paid in cash to customers out of money received at the shelter from other customers. After five days

Deju says this new process will be better because the public would get service faster without having to pay for two adoptions and then having to wait for the first set of adoption fees to be returned.

Sheila Ware, G.A. Dixon Repeat Vows

Sheila Veronica Ware became the bride of George Anthony Dixon on Aug. 8, at the New Salem Primitive Baptist Church, Sanford. The Rev. O.W. Williams, officated at the double-ring, candlelight ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Ware, 1201 West 7th St., Sanford. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Dixon, 160 Bethune Circle, Sanford.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Lewis Ware, the bride chose for her yows a formal gown of white Qiana. The slim English net sleeves, appliqued with Chantilly lace motifs, were finished with a row of tiny covered buttons. The A-line dress cascaded into a sweeping chapel train. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion, edged with Chantilly lace and embellished with appliques, fell gracefully from a bandeau headpiece of lace and silk flowers. She carried a cascading bouquet of cleasania bridal bouquet orchids, baby blue and white roses, baby's breath, Ming fern and glacier ivy.

Eugenia Gainers, friend of the bride, attended her as maid of honor. She wore a baby blue tiered gown fashioned of Chantilly lace and she carried a bouquet of miniature baby blue and white carnations, baby's breath and ivy.

Attending as bridesmaids were Nacy Ware, sister of the bride, Yolanda Dixon, sister of the groom, and Jackie Bookman, friend of the bride. Their gowns and flowers were similar to the maid of honor,

Charles Gibson, friend of the groom, served as best-man. Groomsmen were Lorenzo Dixon and Willie Jones, brothers of the groom, and Isaac Williams, cousin of the bridegroom, all of Sanford, Ushers were Sylvester Franklin, Jr., John Baldwin

Down's Syndrome Child Is Sunshine Of Parents Lives

DEAR ABBY: This letter has taken me two and a half years to write. It is in response to someone who asked you if she should acknowledge the birth of a friend's baby who had been diagnosed as having Down's Syndrome (mongolism). Thank you, Abby, for saying, "Yes, the mother of such a child needs all the support and cheering up she can get." I read that column the day I came home from the hospital with little Jimmy, my newborn Down's Syndrome baby. But there is so much more that most people need to know, and as one who has had that experience, may 1 say it:

Please keep in mind that what happened to Jimmy was tragic, but the child himself is not a tragedy, and neither is his birth. He is as much loving member of our family as our other children, so do send a card, a note or a little gift to acknowledge his birth.

Here are a few suggestions that will help you feel more comfortable when talking to parents of a Down's baby:

Guarantee a

Perfect Fit

Please don't ask if "in-

90 Sizes and Widths to

Down's Syndrome is a our little treasure, Our other chromosome defect and is children (the eldest is 9) have rarely hereditary. Fur- learned understanding and thermore, a Down's child is compassion because of their retarded, which is vastly little brother. We told them different from insane.

Don't hesitate to ask how he is getting along. Some people avoid mentioning the child (as though he had died) because they think the situation is too horrible even to discuss.

When the child seems to be progressing, please don't say he seems "normal" and maybe won't be retarded after all! New parents need to face up to the facts regarding their special child before they themselves can accept him as he is. By denying his limitations, you encourage false hopes and convey the message that you don't really accept or love him.

About a third of all Down's children are born with heart defects. Our Jimmy required open-heart surgery. He survived the operation and is much improved. We thank God for that, so please don't say it might have been a "blessing" had he died. And don't express surprise that they "would bother" to operate on such a child.

Please believe the parents when they say that their special child is a very worthwhile little person, and they are actually glad to have him. While Down's Syndrome is nothing to wish for, it can be accepted, and is not nearly as catastrophic as it seems the first few weeks.

In the beginning, the parents need to talk about their feelings. Don't argue. Listen. Let them weep, and weep with them. And when they can finally smile about their baby, you smile, too.

Don't refer to the child as "that poor little thing," It hurts me to see people look upon my child with pity and know that they wish he had never been born. He's not repulsive in the least, and I can honestly say that much the truth immediately, and they have loved him from the day they first saw him.

I cannot imagine life without Jimmy. He is the sunshine of our lives.

People don't mean to be insensitive or cruel - they just don't know how to handle the birth of an exceptional child.

I know this is much too long for your column, Abby, but please print as much of it as possible. You will be doing a tremendous service to many. JIMMY'S MOTHER

IN BRIEF

Yellow Brick Road May Lead To Oz, Kansas

Buddy Piper dreams of building a yellow brick road to a sparkling community of Oz where visitors could stay at the Emerald City Inn. Since somewhere over the rainbow is difficult to reach by commercial transportation, this Oz would be located in Dorothy's home state of Kansas. Piper, 57, the self-proclaimed "Wizard of Oz, Kansas," plans to lay a lone yellow brick Friday on the road to where he dreams of building Oz, which is 20 miles southeast of Dodge City. What Piper has in mind is a resort where children dressed in paper Munchkin costumes could watch a performance of "The Wizard of Oz," where elderly artisans would work in a retirement community, and where the favorite dessert would be "Oz cream,"

Sutherland Sunk

Actor Donald Sutherland was in good condition Wednesday at Los Medanos Hospital where he was treated for a broken arm suffered in a boating accident on Suisun Bay.

A nurse at the hospital said it was not known when he would be released.

Sutherland, whose movies included "M-A-S-H," "The Dirty Dozen," "Klute" and "The Day of the Locust," was injured Monday when struck by a toppling mast as he tried to free his boat from mud.

A Coast Guard vessel and another craft had attached lines to the mast of Sutherland's boat, the Black Duck. when the mast fell.

Don't Drink The Apricot Juice

Two Irish tourists who apparently drank drugged apricot juice with some friendly Morrocans on a crowded train, ended up in a hospital with thick heads and empty pockets.

Larry Loughran, 24, of Cookstown, County Tyrone, and Sean O'Danachair, 25, of Drumcondra, Dublin, told police Monday they passed out after accepting apricot juice from three men they described as Moroccans aboard the Genoa-bound train from

The men were robbed of their wallets, passports, train passes, and cameras, they said.

Late Monday, O'Danachair said he felt "fine" but added, Loughran was "still a bit sick."

Zorro Stuck With Lawsuit

A script writer has filed a $5 million suit against 20th Century-Fox Film Co., claiming the studio and actor George Hamilton did not pay him for his acript about a homosexual comic hero.

In his Superior Court suit filed Monday, Marvin Braverman accused the film studio and Hamilton of plagiarism and breach of contract because his 1977 script eventually was turned into the film "Zorro, The Gay Blade."

The studio and Hamilton were not available for comment.

Fritz Ducks

Former Vice President Walter Mondale, sounding for all the world like a candidate for president in 1964, says it's too soon to talk yet about his campaign platform. Mondale, D-Minn., who lost his bid for reelection as VP in 1980, told Parade magazine, "Defeat, if you use it, can be very valuable. I'm trying to think and read freshly." He said he does not intend to run for his old Senate seat in 1982 because "If I ran for the Senate I would have to promise the people of Minnesota I would not run for president."

schooling. You see it in behavior. They have no respect for one another." The sour assessment of television and the "vidlots" who feed at its trough does not, however, include the kind of television supplied by coaxial cable.

Robards, proclaimed by many critics as one of the finest actors on the planet, said he never could have done Eugene O'Neill's "Hughie" on commercial network television because there is no room for the one-act masterplece among the common prime-time herd of sitcoms and auto chases

He could and did to it for Showtime which soon will be airing it for cable audiences nationwide.

Robards plays Erie Smith, a tin-horn gambler with a hangover, a terminal case of loneliness and an aching grief for his old friend "Hughie" - the recently deceased night clerk of a seedy Broadway hotel in 1928.

The new clerk, Hughes, is unresponsive to done more television than most. His credits. Smith's empty bragging in a bid to draw him out until his own loneliness begins to surface. He occupies the space behind his desk as If it were a cage while Smith trembles before another cage - the elevator that will take him to his shabby room.

the control of a second section of the second

And cages, said Robards, who first played the role on Broadway in 1964, is what it's all about.

"If they both go in their cages, they die. There is no life. But Erie eventually gets this guy out and they begin a new life. He becomes the idea of Hughie again ... and they feed each other and make life bearable.

"It's a beautiful piece of writing ... it's an upper, that play, because they gain their dream again."

But so long as ABC, CBS and NBC march in the Nielsen lockstep, Robards said audiences will gain no dream of great drama from their television sets - a contention he can back with three examples personally pressed on the schedule in deflance of ratings by former NBC President Fred Silverman.

"We did 'Moon for the Misbegotten' and it got no ratings," he said. "We did 'FDR's Last Year' ... Beautifully written and directed and played. No ratings. Then we did 'Behind Closed Doors,' and the political part of that was fabulous ... And none of them did great,"
