McCanna Against Intangible Tax

"The state intangible tax is unfair and discriminatory to most of our thrifty senior citizens living on fixed retirements," Richard E. McCanna, Candidate for Seminole Tax Assessor, stated recently. "If elected I will encourage the state association of county tax assessors to work for the repeal of this law."

Geneva Society Sets Annual Meeting

By Mrs. Joe E. Mathieux
The annual two day meeting of the Geneva Historical and Genealogical Society will be held Saturday and Sunday, May 23, opening with the traditional fish fry on Saturday at Fort Lane Park. The band will play at 11:30 and serving will begin at noon. Those attending are asked to bring salads and desserts. Membership dues will be payable at this time and fees will cover coats of the meal for members with extra charges to be made for their guests.
Saturday night's schedule calls for a sandwich supper at the Community Hall, a program of entertainment, a business meeting and dancing. The sandwiches will be provided and soft drinks will be for sale.
Sunday, following church services, a fried chicken basket dinner will be served at the Community Hall. Because of the large expected attendance and limited facilities this dinner will be for members only.
Further information may be had by calling Mrs. Lester Brown, chairman, in Geneva.

Seminole Memorial Hospital discharged eight mothers and their newborn infants last Saturday. Seven of the babies were boys. She must have been a beautiful baby . . . to attract that many young men.

Sanford Junior High commences its fund raising drive today. Students, teachers and others will sell those well known quarter-pound chocolate almond bars.

The new "Miss Seminole County," Ann Mahan, is the same Ann Mahan who graced that full cover page of the recreation section of Herald's Progress Edition last fall. Remember . . . the gal with the beautiful smile?

Could it be that Seminole County doesn't amount to much in state political circles? There are nine candidates for governor . . . five have visited the county, and only four actually campaigned. Only one of the two candidates for attorney general paid us a visit, as did only one of the two candidates for public utilities commissioner. But then with a population estimate at 74,000 the county only has 18,000 registered voters. The only "political plum" given Seminole County by the state in many, many years is the new pesticide inspection station.

Randall Priest and Henry Jameson will remember Spanish-American War veterans come Memorial Day by placing flags on graves. Only two members of the local United Spanish War Veterans camp remain, Frank Evans and C. C. Priest. That war started 66 years ago last Tuesday, on April 21, 1898, and lasted five weeks.

Wish Bill MacLaughlin would come up with a new Lions Pause . . . we're lackin' for jokes to liven this column.

Big money winner to date in the Schlitz fish derby is Mary Hay, of Loch Arbor. Her fish was valued at $100. All others caught so far carry a cash prize of $25. Only one caught (about 20) were out of Lake Golden although the promoters say the tagged fish were spread in waters throughout the state.

Look for I-4 to be opened between Sanford and Daytona Beach about May 15. This will complete the cross-state freeway between Daytona Beach and St. Petersburg excepting in Orlando and between Tampa and St. Petersburg. The Orlando section is slated for opening sometime in August.

Orlando disc jockey Bill Taylor: "This radio program is coming to you today in living color . . . black and blue. I took my kids roller skating last night."

Sam Dow tells he will complete his obligation to Uncle Sam come October and plans to return to the hectic newspaper field to earn his living. As Lt. (jg) David Dow, Sam (his nickname) is the Wing PIO at SNAS. In other words, he disseminates the news and doing a most commendable job. We sincerely hope his successor can do half as well as Sam because a Navy officer who knows Navy and newspaper work is a rarity. Sam talks both languages.

The final tabulation on 1963 Christmas Seal sales reveal that Seminole County citizens purchased a total $10,343 in seals compared to $9,426 in 1962. This represents an increase of 9.7 per cent, but it only means a total of 16 cents per person in the county. Seems as though we ought to be able to do better in 1964.

Armed Forces Day May 16 has been designated by Mayor A. L. Wilson as "Armed Forces Day" in Sanford in conjunction with the national observance.

Kynes Called To Testify Before House Panel

United Press International Atty. Gen. James Kynes campaigns today in Orlando and Gainesville before traveling to Washington to testify before the House Judiciary Committee on Bible reading and prayer in schools.

His opponent, Earl Faircloth of Miami, charged Kynes Monday with using Gov. Farris Bryant as his "chief fund raiser."

Kynes, in turn, criticized Faircloth for playing up sectionalism in the campaign. "Just because a man lives in Dade County is a sorry reason for electing a man to the high office. My opponent has the audacity to suggest that simply because of geography he is entitled to sit on the Cabinet. This is ridiculous reasoning," Kynes said.

He added, "as for myself, while being a resident of one area of the state I am a citizen of all Florida."

Faircloth accused Kynes of being financed by "special interests" who have benefited most from the taxpayer's generosity with the taxpayers' money. He questioned the Tampa advertising agency, Louis Benito, which is also retained by the state and which Faircloth said has collected more than $300,000 in fees from the Bryant administration.

A hearing for seven Seminole County youths, charged with breaking and entering South Seminole Junior High School at Casselberry, has been set for 4 p.m. Thursday by Juvenile Judge Vernon Mize.

Judge Mize said that some of the youths are students at the school. Several of them have been placed in detention at the County Jail and the remainder are now being taken into custody by sheriff's deputies.

Judge Mize said that detention, while a few days may do some good, is generally used sparingly. "But," he added, "in view of the previous records of some of the youths involved in this particular case we believe it to be beneficial for them to be placed in detention."

C. Of C. To Meet Clifford McKibbin, chairman of the Seminole County Chamber's promotions committee, has called for a meeting of the group to be held at 10 a.m., Wednesday, at the chamber's conference room. The committee will discuss a highway advertising program.

Trip Delayed The flight of Sanford Chamber of Commerce officials to Tallahassee for conferences with the Florida Development Commission, originally slated for today, has been postponed until mid-May. Jim Talmadge, chamber manager, said the flight had to be cancelled because of the weather.

Judge Wants Youngsters To Stop And Think First

Boys View Body Of Woman Killed By Stolen Auto

BOSTON (UPI)—The closed casket was slowly opened. Five boys, unable to hide their fear, stepped forward, looked inside and viewed the face of death on a woman they did not know and never saw alive.

Then they knelt in silent prayer for five minutes. Mrs. Eleanor C. Mason was struck down and killed by a hit-and-run car Saturday when the accident occurred.

ATTORNEY GENERAL JAMES W. KYNES, seeking election for a full term of office, made a whirlwind tour of Seminole County Monday with former Sanford Mayor Tom McDonald (right). Kynes, recently appointed to the post by Gov. Farris Bryant, said, "The people should elect to this office a person with a conservative approach to government since the attorney general represents the state in the defense of state laws and must preserve the constitutional integrity of Florida." School Access Road Delayed For Year

Road access to English Estates School dominated an otherwise routine meeting of the County Commission meeting today.

Commissioners concluded that major work in the area cannot be done until the next calendar year.

A delegation of the school's Parent-Teacher Organization, headed by John Handall, asked that a 1,500-foot roadway be placed to school property.

The cost of such a project was termed prohibitive due to existing projects for this year. But it was agreed that new board members, when elected, be advised of the situation by holdover board members and push for proper action.

The new school site is located in the southeastern section of the county. Parents of students protest the inadequate access to it.

Commission Chairman James P. Avery Jr. reported he had conferred with school officials and has been advised a sidewalk may be installed from the edge of the school property to the plant.

If commissioners approve, they would build a roadway leading to the school approach. Avery is leaving the board at the end of this term; Commissioners John Fitzpatrick and J. C. Hutchinson, who are seeking re-election, said they felt they could not "bind" future board members to projects of current members.

In other action, the board: —Delayed the May 26 meeting until May 29 due to primary election falling on the former date.

—Urged Fitzpatrick to study the need for rights of way at Lake Monroe School. Needed there are sidewalks, the members heard.

Sanford Chamber of Commerce is arranging the program, which will include an art exhibit by the Sanford-Seminole Art Association.

Total Ranges Up To Inch And Quarter

Seminole County agriculture received a lifesaving boon Monday evening with a drenching rainfall, in the opinion of County Agent Cecil Tucker.

The precipitation varied from three-quarters of an inch to 1 1/4 inches in different parts of the county, Tucker said.

Citrus growers already were irrigating their trees after the long dry spell and, according to Tucker, another good rain is needed within the next week or two watering will have to be started again.

The county agent said the rain also rejuvenated vegetable crops, already beginning to feel the results of accumulated soluble salts.

These soluble salts, produced from drying fertilizer, were dissipated by Monday's rainfall.

Tucker also said that the rainfall had little effect on the water table although it had not dropped too much during the drought. He added that for some unexplained reason the water table has maintained a high level in portions of the county.

This underground irrigation, he said, has done much to water crops but had fallen just short of the surface. Effect of this dry top layer of soil and the soluble salts was beginning to be seen in the vegetable crops.

Officers Elected By Heart Group

By Maryann Miles Dr. Luis Perez, of Sanford, was elected and installed as president of the Sanford-DeLary Heart Association Monday evening.

Other new officers are Mrs. Dorothy Odham, vice president; Merle Warner, secretary, and Howard H. Hodges, treasurer.

Awards for outstanding work for the association were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dodd, Mrs. George Millis, Mrs. W. J. Miller, Mrs. Odham, Dr. Maria Perez, Mrs. Loula Tammy, Mrs. Eugene Taylor, Hugh Booth, Don Taylor, Kenneth Leffler, Hodges, Mrs. Michael Carlo, The Sanford Herald, Jet Lines, Day and Nite Grill, Rose and Wilk's Restaurant, Seminole-Orlando Kennel Club, Jai Albi Fronton, Lyman High School sophomore class, Orlando Sentinel and radio stations WTRR, WWHO, WHYY, WOOD and WJHS.

'LAW DAY, USA' will be observed by attorneys throughout the United States on May 1 to focus attention on the part law has played in America's growth and achievement. Mayor A. L. 3 Candidates Turn Big Guns On Dickinson

United Press International Four of the six Democratic candidates for governor today drummed for votes today among influential members of the Florida Hotel and Motor Hotel Association meeting in Clearwater.

Only Sen. Scott Kelly of Lakeland, who campaigned in Arcadia, and Mayor Robert King High of Miami, who was in Washington appearing before a congressional banking committee, missed the convention of hotel men.

Fred O. Dickinson of West Palm Beach continued to be the main target of his opponents, indicating that a number of the candidates consider Dickinson "the man to beat" in these crucial seven days before the election.

With Dickinson sitting on the platform with them, Rep. Fred Karl of Daytona Beach and Sen. John Mathews Jr., of Jacksonville tore into him tooth and nail.

Karl said Dickinson's refusal to take a stand on completion of Interstate Highway 95 along the East Coast "proves he is more interested in Bryant's bondholders than he is in the needs of the people." He said in reply to a questionnaire sent each candidate by the IR 95 action committee, Dickinson failed to endorse immediate completion of the highway from Miami to Jacksonville.

Mathews continued to poke at Dickinson's gentle strip political advertising and, with Dickinson seated beside him, Mathews read today's strip to the hotel men, commenting "Florida is getting tired of gimmicks, slick tricks and smooth mottos in political campaigns."

Kelly reiterated a pledge to keep politics out of the Florida citrus commission and all phases of the citrus industry.

"I will continue to work closely with the citrus industry and as governor will lend every assistance possible to promote new markets and uses for citrus," he said. Kelly also pledged to work to eliminate unfair competition from foreign imported agricultural products, including beef and citrus.

Mayor Haydon Burns of Jacksonville concentrated on a discussion of educational problems while his fellow candidates picked a variety of topics for talks.

Industrial Park To Be Improved

Plans for initial improvement in the city-owned Lake Monroe Industrial Park were reported Monday evening when the City Commission ratified a real estate transfer.

The City repurchased from Lee Bros. for $7,500 a lot at the southwest corner of French Avenue and Fulton Street and sold it to Lester A. Bateman for $15,000. It was said Bateman plans construction of a warehouse-type building to house a wholesale plumbing supply business.

Commission tabled a request from the Sanford Chamber of Commerce for a $1,940 grant to finance an eight-page industrial insert in a commercial brochure about the city.

In other action the Commission: Approved a second trap license for Robert Young; tabled a request for sewerage service for a proposed trailer park south of the city on Highway 17-92; approved sale of a lot to and adjacent to Nix Bedding on Sanford Avenue; approved a resolution commending M. A. Yelvington, resigned building official.

Tabled renewal of a maintenance contract for the Melonville Avenue water tower; agreed to purchase of tractor or equipment; refused a contract for termite control at the Civic Center and directed the work be accomplished by city employees; approved ordinances rezoning newly annexed property at 27th Street and Sanford Avenue and at Onora Street and Highway 17-92; tabled a request by H. W. Little for a second taxi license, and approved installation of two street lights on Lake Avenue between 18th and 20th Streets.

CORE Leader Gets More Time For 'KKK' Cry

NEW YORK (UPI)—A white leader of the recalcitrant Brooklyn branch of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) flopped flat on the courtroom floor and shouted "Ku Klux Klan" Monday when he was sentenced to a year in prison for parole violation.

That tactic promptly earned Arnold Goldwag, 28, an additional 30 days behind bars. The sentence meted out to Goldwag, the community relations director of Brooklyn CORE, was the stiffest ever imposed by a New York court in connection with a civil rights case.

Orphans' Pal Dies

CHESWELL, Ore. (UPI)—Harry Holt, whose babylike round face in homes in this country for more than 3,000 Korean orphans, died in Korea today of a heart attack.

Longwood Bus Driver Hurt

Mrs. Dorothy Kelly, Longwood school bus driver, was reported in "satisfactory" condition by Winter Park Memorial Hospital attaches this morning following a four-vehicle accident Monday afternoon. She suffered neck and back injuries.

Trooper Dan Oaks said Mrs. Kelly signaled for a stop at Highway 17-92 and O'Brien Road. Automobiles of Donald M. Brown, Longwood, and Julian C. Penna, Jacksonville, collided.

Lewis Tompkins Jr., Orlando, attempted to drive his truck around the two cars and, according to Oaks, crashed into the school bus.

Seventy-five Chief Petty Officers wives welcomed in the summer season Thursday with a showing of cool fashions from Cowans Department store in Sanford.

The wives met at the NAB ballroom for a salad plate lunch hosted by Mrs. Darwin Smith and Mrs. Edward Chocofsky. Magnolia leaves and blossoms decorated the long banquet tables.

Mrs. Joe Stanekiewicz won the doornize.

Narrator for the fashion show which followed the luncheon was Mrs. Phillip Simpson. Mrs. F. J. Weber furnished music on the piano and the modeling area had been decorated with palms from the Grey Shadows nursery.

Models included the Misses Brenda Chocofsky, Carol Oxford, Susan Simpson and Regina Murray, all children of CPO wives club members.

Other models were Mrs. Harold Sundvall, Mrs. James Hay, Mrs. Joe O'Donnell, Mrs. V. W. Ganderton, Mrs. Chester Oxford, Mrs. Fred Murray and Mrs. A. A. Valler.

Coordinator for the show was Mrs. Charles Williams and each model had a hair styling by the Ace Beauty Salon.

"Summer Silhouettes" will be the theme of the May 30 fashion show presented by the Naval Officers Wives Club at the Orlando Air Force Base for all officers wives and their guests.

The show is being held for the benefit of Navy Relief and takes the place of the May garden party which has been the major fund raising activity for Navy Relief by the NOW board in the past several years.

One wife from each squadron wives club will model the summer clothes from the Mary Esther shop in Sanford. Showing of the fashions will follow cocktails at noon in the Jade Room and lunch at 1 p. m. in the Fin Room of the OAFB officers club.

Mrs. Alan Weeks is general chairman of the event. In charge of publicity are Mrs. Martin Aberdeen, Mrs. Paul Werner, Mrs. John Williams and Mrs. Clifford Nelson.

Mrs. William Malczowski is ticket chairman. Tickets and reservations may be obtained through the wives' respective NOW board representative and retired personnel wives may contact Mrs. Malczowski.

Floral arrangements will be taken care of by Mrs. A. M. Campbell, Mrs. James Olson and Mrs. R. S. Boat, and Mrs. J. O. Mayo is in charge of entertainment.

Mrs. Douglas Horton was honored at a farewell coffee by members of the VAH-1 enlisted wives club at the home of Mrs. Hershel Russell. The Hortons will be leaving the Navy and moving to Texas shortly.

Refreshments of rolls, coffee, coffee and tea were served on napkins decorated with Tiggers. The Tigrettes wives presented Mrs. Horton with a pen and pencil set with her birthstone set in the lip.

Wives present were Mrs. Kenneth Cook, Mrs. Robert Cooper, Mrs. Robert Goraline, Mrs. Richard Hoogerwerf, Mrs. Harvin Koozer, Mrs. Floyd Oakes, Mrs. Terry Perkins, Mrs. Roger Pope, Mrs. Stanley Radziewicz and Mrs. Russell's mother, Mrs. Gladys Bennett.

Top honors at the VAH-7 officers wives bridge Friday went to Mrs. Bob Lavender with second high to Mrs. Bob Donaldson.

The bridge was held at the home of Mrs. Donald Denault who served Danish butter cookies, cake and coffee to the ladies. Mrs. G. J. Asenio and Miss Judy Asenio were guests.

Peacekeeper wives attending were Mrs. Ed Foy, Mrs. Don Ord, Mrs. Richard Wright, Mrs. John Robinson, Mrs. Jerry Chapelaine, and Mrs. Larry Dion.

Mrs. Denis Kiely and Miss Ann Krake, the mother and aunt of L. (Jg) Richard K. Kiely, arrived Saturday to spend a few days with the Kiely family in Ravens Park. They are en route from a vacation in Miami to their home in Boston, Mass., and will also stop in Washington, D. C.

Members of the staff officers wives club and their guests met at the Side Door in Mt. Dora for a luncheon and informal fashion show which is presented every Tuesday by shops there.

The wives ordered their lunches from the menu. Attending the luncheon were Mrs. David Dearolph, Mrs. Leigh Ebbert, Mrs. Donald Ethell, Mrs. Robert Farrell, Mrs. Warren Hoeller, Mrs. John Hoganson, Mrs. Darrell Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Wade Markley, Mrs. James Mayo, Mrs. O. W. McGuire, Mrs. Raymond Milburn, Mrs. John F. Moore, Mrs. Herbert A. Moreland Jr., Mrs. Sam Day and Mrs. Edgar Miller.

Guests of the wives were Mrs. Hugh O'Hara, Mrs. F. G. Plapp, Mrs. Dick Wing, Mrs. Charles Morosini, Mrs. C. Vernon Mize Jr., Mrs. T. E. Markley, Mrs. Paul Werner and Mrs. Wallace Russell.

Other activities of the staff officers wives included a bridge held at the home of Mrs. Ebbert who served pastries and open faced sandwiches with coffee and cake.

Attending the bridge were Mrs. McGuire who took high honors and Mrs. T. W. Markley, the mother-in-law of Mrs. Wade Markley. Staff wives present were Mrs. Farrell, Mrs. Hoganson, Mrs. William Moreland.

Officers wives and their children of VAH-1 met Thursday at Lake Golden for a pot-luck picnic lunch. Cokes were supplied by Mrs. Jesse Taft.

Cigarette Makers Curb Ad Pitch To Youth

NEW YORK (UPI) — The nation's leading cigarette manufacturers have joined hands in a move to discourage youngsters from smoking. The Tobacco Institute, which represents the manufacturers, announced Monday a new code designed to curb advertising stressing athletic prowess, social distinction and sex appeal.

The tobacco industry has been under fire since a report by U. S. Surgeon General Luther L. Terry more than four months ago linking smoking to cancer and other diseases.

However, attorneys for the Institute told a public hearing of the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) last March 16 that such a code had been in the works for some time. The code, still subject to clearance by the Department of Justice under anti-trust laws, affects advertising on radio and television and in newspapers and magazines.

Under the code, all cigarette advertising first would have to be approved by an independent administrator, who would enforce the code and fine violators up to $100,000 for infractions. The administrator has not yet been named.

The code bans advertising in the form of testimonials by well-known athletes or former athletes and forbids advertising in college newspapers and magazines or in comic books or comic supplements to newspapers.

"Cigarette advertising shall not represent that cigarette smoking is essential to social prominence, distinction, success or sexual attraction," the code states.

The code also prohibits the distribution of cigarette samples to persons under the age of 21 and bans "promotional efforts" on schools or college campuses or in fraternity or sorority houses.

Cigarette advertising under the code is prohibited on programs or in publications aimed at youth, and persons depicted in advertising as smokers must be at least 23 years old and must appear to be that old.

The announcement was made in behalf of the American Tobacco Co., Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corp., Larus & Brother Co. Inc., Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co., P. Lorillard Co., Philip Morris Inc., R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., Stephano Brothers Inc. and the United States Tobacco Co.

Charles Evans Hughes wrote the inscription "Equal Justice Under Law" which appears on the U. S. Supreme Court Building.

Allamonte Sets Spring Roundup

By Julia Barton Those wishing further information should call the school office at 638-1172.

Spring roundup for children who will be entering Altamonte Elementary School as first graders next fall will be held Friday, May 8, from 9 until 11 a.m. School areas will remain the same.

Eligible first graders are those who will be six years old on or before Jan. 1, 1965, and parents will be asked to show birth certificates when registration is made at the roundup. Parents also will be asked to pick up physical examination blanks and other forms to be completed and returned to the school before the fall term opens.

Since exact amounts for school supply fees have not been determined as yet these will not be payable until school opens.

It will not be necessary to bring the children to the roundup as no classroom visitation is planned.

Enterprise PTC Elects Officers

By Helen Snodgrass Officers for the Enterprise Parent-Teacher Council were elected at the April meeting of the group held in the school cafeteria.

Serving will be Mrs. Anna Belle Troff, president; Mrs. Kay Horton, vice president; Mrs. Grace McDonald, secretary and Mrs. Marian Bradlock, treasurer.

Plans were discussed for the Gay 90's Festival to be held at the school on Saturday, May 23. Details will be announced at a later date.

An appeal was made for copies of National Geographic, dated prior to 1951, for the school library and those having such copies, who could donate them, were asked to call the school office.

Announcement was made that fifth grade students of Arnold Paneratz would present the next assembly program, "America on Review," based on religion.

Program for the evening was presented by the various teachers who showed slides depicting a typical day in school with narration by Paneratz.

Roomcount was won by the fourth grade. Refreshments were served during the social hour which followed the meeting and program.

Children's Home Elects Chase, Pavelchak

Randall Chase of Sanford and Joe Pavelchak of Fern Park have been named to the board of directors of the Children's Home Society of Florida. They were elected to organization's directorate at the annual meeting of the society last week in Jacksonville.

Chase was re-elected to another term on the board and directorate for the first time. During 1963, Walter R. Sherman, the society's executive director, reported that 1,708 children had received direct help and care during 1963. Of this number 675 were placed with adoptive parents. The organization has 45 social workers and 70 administrative personnel covering Florida.

Music Festival An Elementary School Musical Festival will be held at Forest Lake Academy at 7:30 p. m. Saturday. There will be no admission charge and the public is invited.

DeBary Church Sets Study

By Mrs. Adam Muller The second in the series, "Study of Today," will be held at the DeBary Community Methodist Church at 7 p. m. Friday.

Rev. Tracy Jones will be in charge of the program and Rev. John Hires of Grace Methodist Church in Sanford will lead the study.

All interested persons are invited to attend.

DeBary Glee Club Meets

By Mrs. Adam Muller The DeBary Glee Club held the closing meeting of the current season last Wednesday at the Community Center with a program of American songs.

Instrumental solos were presented by Mrs. E. Potter on the French horn and by Mrs. Maggie Murr on the trombone with Laura Brown as piano accompanist. At the close of the program the men serenaded the ladies with love songs.

Refreshments were served and a social hour followed with Mrs. Charles Creasey and her committee in charge. The fall season will open Oct. 14 with a meeting at the Community Center.

VOTE FOR SPESSARD L. HOLLAND
PROTECT FLORIDA'S POWERFUL POSITION OF SENIORITY

Senator Holland has served as your United States Senator since 1946. The influence and the power of an individual Senator are determined by the seniority he has attained. During the years, he has attained seniority ranked twelfth among 67 Democratic members of the Senate. This seniority places him on three committees vital to the prosperity of Florida:

- Member of the powerful Senate Appropriations Committee.
- Member of the Agricultural and Forestry Committee.
- Member of the Aeronautics and Space Committee.

Each of these committees has vast importance to the growth of Florida in areas such as harbors, flood control, highways, space facilities, cattle, citrus, agriculture, paper, forests, and defense bases. Florida needs his powerful influence on these committees... his committee assignments are a valuable asset to every Florida Citizen.

Your vote in the coming Democratic primary will keep him in this strong position to serve Florida in a way that will benefit us all as well as the best interests of our great country. Vote for and return our Senior Senator, Spessard L. Holland, to the United States Senate, Tuesday, May 5th.

Price Of Wisdom?

Rep. Everett G. Burkhalter has had his fill of Washington. He's retiring after one term in Congress.

The California Democrat, who is 67 himself, says he is disgusted with the "antiquated" seniority system and complains that "a lot of these old men are living in their dotage . . . (They) have got everything so tied down you can't do anything."

Rep. Burkhalter, who was in public office in California for 20 years before going to Congress, advocates limiting House membership to 16 years (eight terms) and putting an age limit of 70 on candidates.

Like other solutions to the seniority system that have been proposed in the past, Rep. Burkhalter's would probably work more harm than good. Placing an age limit on congressmen might end the stranglehold of old men on committee chairmanships, but it might also deprive the nation of much-needed wisdom and experience.

There are many examples in American history of old men serving their nation long and well. John Quincy Adams, for instance, after his term as president, served in the House of Representatives for 17 years until his death at 81. In the Senate, Theodore F. Green of Rhode Island was a respected member in his 90s.

The list is long and we should not prevent it from growing longer with an arbitrary rule. Some old men in Congress should be retired, perhaps. Some should never have been elected in the first place.

That, however, should be up to the American voters. They cannot be guarded against all of their follies by a piece of legislation.

Thought For Today

Therefore let us be grateful for receiving a kingdom that cannot be shaken, and thus let us offer to God acceptable worship, with reverence and awe.—Hebrews 12:28.

It is only when men begin to worship that they begin to grow.—Calvin Coolidge.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — It is true, as Gen. Douglas MacArthur said, that the British government did tell the Indian government to tell the Chinese Communist government that Gen. MacArthur and the U.S.-United Nations forces in Korea would not be allowed to bomb or enter Manchuria in the drive north of the 38th parallel after the brilliant Inchon landings.

The British did this at the request of the U. S. Department of State.

This roundabout message was sent shortly before the Red Chinese entered the war as MacArthur's forces swiftly advanced northward. It was intended, say U. S. diplomats, to keep the Red Chinese out of the action. It didn't.

It was known in Washington that the Red Chinese were arguing whether or not to enter the Korean conflict. Some of the top Reds said they had to come to the aid of a neighboring Communist country; they claimed there was no way out of it.

Others argued that there was a strong danger of getting into a war with the United States. They said this might mean they would have to evacuate the coastal cities and some strategic areas of Manchuria.

The Chinese Reds weren't certain how much aid they would get from the Russians. Some argued they needed more time to build their strength after their takeover of mainland China.

With this in mind, there were lengthy Defense-State conferences. At the end, there was agreement that whatever possible should be done to keep the Red Chinese out. Sending the message to Mao Tse-Tung was only the first step.

The Pentagon ordered MacArthur to halt his American and non-Korean UN troops well short of the Korean-Manchurian border. He was told that only South Korean troops should be allowed to advance up to the border area.

The U. S. defense chiefs also ordered MacArthur to make assurances to the Red Chinese they would not be cut off from the electric power they were getting from the major North Korean power plant in the Yalu area.

MacArthur opposed these two orders. They were not carried out.

Once the Red Chinese entered the war, preparations were made at the Pentagon for all eventualities. These included preparations for the possible evacuation of U.S.-UN forces from Korea.

This turn of events about ended efforts to secure any agreement with the Red Chinese up to the time of the truce talks.

The British did make an attempt to talk to Red Chinese representative Wu when he appeared before the United Nations. They wanted to explore what could be done to get the Chinese Communists to agree to peace. Wu accepted a luncheon engagement. But he wouldn't talk.

As a result, the British, whose ambassador in Peking was being ignored by the Red Chinese, were about fed up. One British source says: "By this time we were disillusioned with the Chinese Communists. There weren't any areas for discussion."

So the war moved on until the Red Chinese began to lose. Then they asked for truce talks.

Letters

To The Editor

Editor, Herald:

Well, I have finally found out why the county commission had to wait until after May 5 before they could do anything about the plans put forward by the long range recreational committee. Seems there is a bill passed in the last Legislature that has to be OK'd by the voters of the county. This bill is 45 pages long, so I suppose this is why it has never been published where the average voter would see it.

As I understand from what I've heard (I have not yet seen a copy of the bill), it gives the county commission the power to tax up to two mills, this having to be approved by the freeholders.

There will also be an advisory committee to advise on projects to spend the up to $8 millions this two-mill tax levy will raise, if applied all at one time to the county's assessed valuation.

Let's hope we aren't buying a pig in a poke on May 5. B. B. (Jim) Crowe

(Ed note: The Sanford Herald published a summary of this act on April 22. Space could not be allocated for the 45-page measure. The summary was prepared by James P. Avery Jr., chairman of the County Commission and probably more versed in Seminole County water problems than any other single individual. Also, Registrar Cami Bruce says the referendum is open to all registered voters in the county and is not limited to the freeholders.)

"They're Lovely but Can They Get You Off the Ground?"

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Prof. X is typical of far too many college teachers. In fact, college profs, despite their more advanced degrees, are usually quite inferior to high school teachers as regards classroom methods and oratory. They are often poor speakers, lacking in a flair for dramatic values, and even too lazy to grade their students' papers!

CASE 8-450: Prof. X was one of my professors in psychology when I was a student at Northwestern University. Our class met in the original frame building called Old College.

There were 98 chairs and the professor used a seating chart to take the roll. Thus, if your chair was occupied, you were credited with being present.

So it was customary for many sleepy upper classmen in the fraternities to compel freshmen pledges to attend this senior class for them.

And that wasn't too bad, even for the freshmen pledges, since they could sit and study their Spanish or French during the boring lectures.

And "boring" is an understatement! The professor never looked at the students, for he focused on the lecture point of the back wall and ceiling. The lectures were deadly, dry and monotonous.

He never called on students to recite, so that was why freshmen could easily occupy the seats of their fraternity brothers who wanted to stay home and sleep.

Even the students who were in class couldn't stand the lectures, so they would often sneak out.

For the window to the fire escape was open and only about three feet above the floor level.

The male students would slide down out of their seats and then crawl toward the window. We students seated in the classroom could thus see a dozen men on hands and knees at one time, just waiting.

For as soon as the professor would turn his back as he started to write on the blackboard, then these men would go over the window sill and out upon the fire escape. They looked like rats as they crawled along the floor and then leaptfrogged over the window sill.

Indeed, since I had a statistical mind, I once counted 32 seats at the end of a class period which had been vacated in this way.

Of the 98 seats, all occupied at the start of that class, 32 were now empty!

And the prof never even noticed the difference!

It wasn't virtuousness that kept me in the class, either, for I would gladly have fled, too.

But I was working my way through college so I knew it was smart to attend every class, just to be sure I saw where the profs would put their major emphasis.

It is often smarter to study your prof than to peruse the textbook!

For then you can guess quite accurately as to the final exam questions he will fire back at the students.

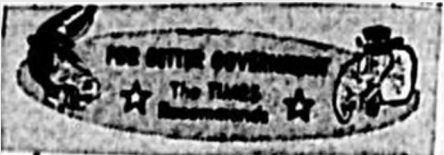

Other profs, who were equally inferior speakers, would then load the class with huge collateral reading assignments, figuring that if the students moaned and groaned about their excessive homework, then that would make it seem that the courses were very profound and "heavy."

College faculties are in need of a drastic housecleaning, too college teachers, despite more advanced degrees, are much inferior to high school teachers in the classroom.

U. S. Senator For Florida

Salary $22,500; Term Six Years. Democratic primary: incumbent, Sponsard L. Holland, 72, Bartow vs. J. Brailey Odham, 44, Orlando. Republican nominee: no opposition to Claude R. Kirk, Jr., 38, Jacksonville.

Florida during the next six years must not settle for second-class education, jobs, roads, recreation, agricultural and industrial development — or second-class citizens because of age, faith or color. Florida needs all the strength of all its citizens in the years ahead and free citizens have the greatest strength.

Former President Eisenhower says federal defense expenditures can be cut by one-fifth or $10 billion. This would reduce jobs in Florida percentage-wise more than most states. In addition, a million new jobs must emerge from new services and new industries to keep our growing population gainfully employed.

RESEARCH AND a willingness to embrace new techniques in education — training and retraining — are keys to the dynamic Florida that must compete in an expanding economy to meet the rising needs of all the people in Florida, America and the rest of the world.

To accelerate all this, we respectfully urge Florida Democrats to cast their votes for Brailey Odham for U.S. Senator in the May 5 primary.

Odham is only 44 but he is seasoned with abundant business and political experience. Born in Georgia, his family moved to Florida when he was a child. Odham has served in the Florida Legislature, has made two strong races for governor, and as chairman of the Milk Commission under LeRoy Collins became known as a friend of the consumer in resisting rigid retail price fixing.

Voter Appeal

As a businessman he has built millions of dollars worth of houses, industrial buildings and nursing homes. He has a grasp of the problems of the elderly. He wants to increase their ability to hold jobs, just as he wants younger people to have more employment opportunities. We like his direct, business-like thinking that more people on closure, and failure during 18 years in the Senate to do anything about conflict-of-interest in that body. By making full disclosure — as a number of congressmen have done — Holland could set a high example for his colleagues. We are confident such a move would not embarrass him. He chose a career of public service, not the road to wealth. We know him as a gentleman of high personal integrity. But on the question of disclosure, his haughty attitude is not responsive to the mood of the people today.

Three Senate Terms

Because we have profound respect for him and his devotion and contributions to Florida, The St. Petersburg Times has supported Holland in his races for governor, and three terms in the Senate during the past quarter of a century. Regrettably, we have watched his mind close to the ever-new problems in this topsy-turvy but exciting world. He has become querulous and often bitter and angry at this sea of change, which he and a few of his Southern colleagues try in vain to sweep back.

THIS IS NOT a pretty picture for Florida's foremost national representative to maintain. He takes it as a personal affront that $12,000 of unregistered contributions to his "pre-campaign" have been regarded as a violation of the spirit, if not the letter, of Florida's famous "Who Gave It Who Got It" law.

His strategems and bugaboos on the civil rights bill — passed by the House of Representatives 290 to 130 — reveal that he is out of tune with today's world. He would turn back the clock to the discredited doctrine of "separate but equal" schools which failed to prepare the Negro for adequate opportunity to join the workforce of his country. Holland refuses to recognize that millions of Negroes in the South — many in Florida — fear for their physical safety and their jobs — if they try to register and vote.

Holland is a kind man, but he seems to lack the compassion to understand that refusal of service at a filling station or a store can hurt a human being even more than a physical attack on his person. He raises the specter of miscegenation in his arguments before the Senate, and even says the Negro likes his ghettos and slums and inferior schools.

MOST OF THE YOUNGER members of Congress from the South sense the winds of inevitable change. On Easter Sunday 25,000 Birmingham citizens, about equally divided between Negroes and whites, turned out together to hear evangelist Billy Graham. Many Southern House members didn't trouble to vote against amendments to strengthen the civil rights bill. They note the changing stance of such men as Governor Faubus of Arkansas, and the militancy of church groups that regard segregation as a moral crisis that must be met.

A Younger Southerner

Brailey Odham is a young Southerner who upholds President Johnson's stand that 100 years has been long enough to debate the question of whether all citizens should have equal opportunities.

If elected to the United States Senate his voice will be a new and refreshing one from the South.

A current swells to get the civil rights bill passed. It will not solve all today's problems, but it will open the way for all men of all faiths and color in all areas to solve them.

MEANWHILE, THE PEOPLE want to address themselves to some of their other pressing needs. Florida and the other 49 states cannot afford to hold up their legislative transactions because of parliamentary deadlock, or the question of who stops at the wayside inn.

Therefore we urge Florida Democrats to nominate Brailey Odham for the U.S. Senate on May 5.

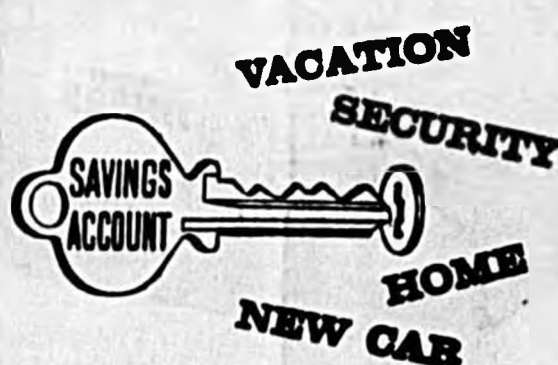

BRAILEY ODHAM

payrolls will mean fewer people on relief rolls. This is the kind of preventive health and economic medicine that appeals to the common sense of most voters.

HOLLAND'S CHALLENGER is for a highly competitive two-party system. He thinks the country should always have a vice president, instead of sweeping the delicate question of succession under the rug. After long and adequate debate he thinks the U.S. Senate should be able to pass bills by a simple majority. Instead, under the Senate's own Rule 22, a small minority can bring the whole legislative branch of our government to a halt by parliamentary tricks and relay teams of speakers. Legislation becomes a matter of physical stamina rather than persuasion and reason.

Odham knows that the integrity of Congress is under question by the people, because of the Bobby Baker case and numerous examples of lawyer-congressmen pushing or opposing bills and decisions affecting their firms' clients. He would have legislators publish their personal accounts in official records — just as they require key figures on the administrative side to do. He taunts Holland's refusal to make full dis-

The dragon is a fabulous monster conceived as a huge, long-necked, fire-breathing, body-less creature with a barbed tail. The belief in dragons seems to have arisen without the scientific knowledge of the dragon's and dragon-like reptiles of past ages.

Dodgers Get String Going By Beating Colts, 6 To 0

Senators Defeat Angels, 6-3, In Only AL Contest

By Fred Down
UPI Sports Writer
The Los Angeles Dodgers' National League rivals can be pardoned for wondering if Frank Howard is swinging a telegraph pole instead of a bat.

At 6 feet, 7 inches and 250 pounds, Howard looks big enough to carry a team on his back. And, as a matter of fact, that's just about what he's been doing for the hillside-wonder Dodgers this season as far as their offense is concerned.

Howard is batting only .263 but he's hit six home runs and the 11 runs he's driven in represent 29 per cent of all the runs the Dodgers have scored in 13 games this year.

The towering slugger, who recanted after announcing this spring that he intended to retire from baseball, and first baseman Ron Fairly each had three hits and drove in two runs Monday night as the Dodgers beat the Houston Colts, 6-0.

Don Drysdale went the route with a six-hitter to make it two shutouts in a row for Los Angeles pitching and mark the first time this season the Dodgers have won two consecutive games.

The Dodgers tagged Hal Brown for a run in the second inning on two singles and the first of two doubles by Johnny Roseboro. They added two more in the fourth on Fairly's two-run homer, another in the fifth on Willie Davis' homer and two more in the eighth when Howard rocketed the ball over the left field fence.

Drysdale, who hadn't won in three previous starts, walked two, struck out five and didn't allow a Colt runner past second base. He yielded three of the Colts' six hits to Bob Aspromonte and his five strikeouts raised his career total to 1,504.

Los Angeles' 23-year-old rookie obtained from the Baltimore Orioles, scored his first major league victory as the Washington Senators defeated the Los Angeles Angels, 6-3, in Monday's only other big league game.

Narum yielded five hits and two runs in 6 1/2 innings before giving way to Marshall Birdge who stopped the Senators on a run and two hits for the final 2 2/3 innings.

Two-run singles by Mike Brumley and Don Zimmer in the fourth inning and a homer by Fred Valentine in the fifth inning paced the Senators' six-hit attack. The loss was McBride's third of the season against one victory.

Oviedo And Evans Split Bowl Events

The Oviedo High school keggers dropped one and tied one Monday afternoon in matches with Evans High's Trojans of Orlando. The Oviedo boys lost their match by a 4 to 0 score. Meanwhile, the Lionettes tied the Trojan girls, 2-2.

Wentworth Gives Letter To Hoeller

LEXINGTON, Mo. — Cadet Warren Hoeller, son of Cdr. and Mrs. Warren J. Hoeller, 1104 Cornell Dr., Sanford, has been awarded an Inter-military basketball letter at Wentworth Military Academy here, according to Major John C. Readecker, athletic director.

Approval of the emblem award was made by the Wentworth Athletic Council following recommendations from the coaching staff.

Strikes . . . Spares

By John A. Spolski
A reporter's report (Gee, but that Winchell flair has us bugged today!) A good time was had by one and all at the Capri Restaurant Friday for the Holler Motors-Navy Wives League Banquet.

It was a distinct pleasure to have Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gleason, editor and publisher of The Herald, dining at the Capri at that time in order that we could introduce these fine folks to all of the chattering gals. Their spontaneous round of applause was a clear indication that these girls are aware of the tremendous cooperation they receive from The Herald for their sport, bowling. On behalf of these kieglerettes, many thanks.

Charles Smith, sales manager at Holler Motors made the trophy presentations. The officers elected for the first season are Vicki McGough—president, Barbara Rohrer—veep, Pat Siple is the secretary, Thelma Unger was elected treasurer, and Suzy Reno will be the sergeant-at-arms.

The summer league has its familiarization day Friday, at 9:30 a. m. The league officially begins May 8.

The City League had their nominations for the "bowler of the year award" with the request that three names be circled out of all members of the league. Following this voting, those top three would again be voted upon this Wednesday night with the winner as our "bowler of the year."

There was a tie for the third position, so the four names on tomorrow's ballot will be George Swann, Harry Penicost, Fete Petersen and Gordon Honeycutt.

By the way, all of the kids in the City League appreciate the City League's offer to them of a similar trophy. It will be called the Paul Perold Memorial Trophy for the AJBC League.

There was also a tie in this preliminary voting with these names being submitted for the final honor: John Jernigan, Don Nicholas, Jim Woods and Kevin Spolski.

Did you remember me telling you about that kid from the Inter-Scholastic Bowling League carrying a 196 average in last week's column? I further told you that he shot a 450 series last week!

Well, he just got thru rolling a 688 scratch series! He's only 17 years of age and is named Jay Turner.

Since we're talking 'bout those kids again, this coming Saturday afternoon at 1 we'll be holding our local eliminations for their chance of ultimately winning a College Scholarship and a trip

VAH-9 Officer's Wives Cop Navy League Crown

The members of the Holler Motors/Navy Wives League held their end of season banquet at the Capri Restaurant for the purpose of presenting trophies and prize money awards.

The first place team of VAH-9 Officer's Wives with Betty Quillin (team captain), Dee Cooke, Elizabeth Klein and Suzy Reno, captured the top spot in this league.

A few points behind was the VAH-3 Enlisted Wives. The team is composed of Joan Adams, Sherry Kew, Jo Ann Cleveland and Verna Bolton. Third place went to the Mixed Mates with Jennie Runnels, Margie Field, Ann Purdy and Gladys Edwards.

Other individual trophies were awarded as follows: high average — Verna Bolton, 157; high series — Pat Siple, 532; high game — Eleanor Clemens, 211; high series handicap — Vickie McDough, 616; high game handicap — M. A. Williams, 234; most improved bowler — Ann Fall by nine pins.

The league will hold its familiarization day Friday at 9:30 a.m. The league is scheduled to begin May 8.

Trophy presentations were handled by Mr. Charles Smith of Holler Motors.

5th Place Teams To Share World Series Money

NEW YORK (UPI)—Major league baseball players have decided to help the not-so-fortunate of their own kind by including the fifth-place team in each league in the World Series pool.

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick revealed Monday that during this year's spring training period a vote was taken on whether or not to increase the first division to five clubs, and have the No. 5 teams share in the World Series cut.

The players approved by the overwhelming majority of 478-58.

The players were told that their vote would have to be approved by the owners but they were given a verbal guarantee it would be done. The voting will be held at the mid-summer meetings.

"This should be a mere formality," Frick said. "We told the players that whatever they decided we would do."

The new payoff system will be accomplished by taking two per cent from the top of the players pool and dividing it between the fifth place team in the American League and the fifth place team in the National League.

The commissioner's office gets 15 per cent of the total World Series receipts. The players, who share only in the first four games, get 60 per cent of the balance.

The two series participants share 70 per cent of the players money while the second place club gets 15 per cent. The third place teams share 10 per cent and the fourth place five per cent.

Boone And Colonial Vie For Metro Title

The contest scheduled in DeLand last night between the Sanford Seminoles and the New Smyrna Beach Barracudas was postponed because of rain. The game, first in the Class A sub group tournament, will be played tonight if weather permits.

When the curtain came down last weekend on the official Metro Conference baseball season the standings were like a rope all tied in knots.

First of all, the Boone Braves and the Colonial Grenadiers were knotted for first place. Each of the clubs completed the season with a record of nine victories against five setbacks.

The next knot also represented a two-way tie for third between the Trojans of Evans and the Wildcats of Winter Park. Both teams were one game behind the leaders of the pack with eight wins and a half dozen losses.

First Meeting
SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UPI)—Syracuse University and the University of Arizona have scheduled the first football meeting between the schools at Syracuse on Nov. 8, 1965.

The third knot—the largest of all—was the three-way tie for fifth place among the Seminoles of Sanford, the Oak Ridge Pioneers and the Eagles of Edgewater. All three of these sides enjoyed—or suffered, whichever the case may be—seven defeats. Bishop Moore was able to post only one victory in the 14 loop games the club played and the Hornets brought up the rear.

Probably the big surprise of the season was the Seminoles of Sanford. The club dropped its first five conference games but bounced right back to win seven of its final nine tilts to fight its way into the three-way jam for fifth place with the Eagles and the Pioneers. The comeback was due mainly to the hurling of Eddie Fitzgerald and Rick Sires, the two mainstays of the Tribe's pitching staff.

Undoubtedly, the best performance came from the Grenadiers. On April 10 the Colonials could boast no better record than four victories and five losses. However, in the final games the Grenadiers blasted their way into the tie with the Braves for a share of the league's title.

The players approved by the overwhelming majority of 478-58.

Other individual trophies were awarded as follows: high average — Verna Bolton, 157; high series — Pat Siple, 532; high game — Eleanor Clemens, 211; high series handicap — Vickie McDough, 616; high game handicap — M. A. Williams, 234; most improved bowler — Ann Fall by nine pins.

The league will hold its familiarization day Friday at 9:30 a.m. The league is scheduled to begin May 8.

Trophy presentations were handled by Mr. Charles Smith of Holler Motors.

Politically Speaking - - Candidates In Home Stretch

Come next week most of the shouting will be over . . . the first party primary will be history. There will be some happy winners . . . and more "surprised" and disappointed losers.

For on Tuesday (May 5) Seminole County voters along with the balance of the state, will choose party candidates. Inevitably there will be some run-off campaigns, and this second primary will be held May 26.

Seminole County's 23 polling places will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. next Tuesday. Although the electors have shown apathy in the campaigning, the record registration list of 18,000-plus reported by Registrar Cami

McCanna Says Tax Penalties Unwarranted

"Tax penalties for failing to file a householder's tangible personal property returns is a definite slap in the face to our taxpayers," Richard E. McCanna, Candidate for Assessor, Seminole County stated recently. "The Tax Assessor of Volusia and Orange counties stopped this nuisance years ago."

Pd. Pol. Adv.

Bruce indicates a record turnout of voters.

County Democrats will vote on candidates for governor, attorney general; public utilities commissioner, U. S. senator, state representative, tax collector, tax assessor, county judge, prosecuting attorney, county commissioners for District 1, 3 and 5, superintendent of public instruction, constable and justice of the peace, District 6, and constable for District 4.

It will be county-wide voting except for constable and justice of the peace in which cases the balloting will be confined to the respective districts.

The Republicans have only to nominate one of three candidates for governor.

One question beginning to stir up considerable interest among county electors is the water conservation and control referendum, also to be voted on May 5. There are divergent opinions as to the content of this 45-page measure approved by the 1963 Legislature for Seminole County to act on its water problems, subject to approval in Tuesday's election. This is for all registered voters . . . not just freeholders.

In answer to Ray Milwee's commendation that Jim Pigott has "done a good job as superintendent but will visit the schools."

The second of the two "hot" contests in the local Democratic primary seems to have "cooled off." Neither Ken McIntosh nor Tommy Speer, opponents for the prosecuting attorney post, aimed barbs at each other at Oviedo last Thursday, as they did the week previous at the Jal Alai Fronton.

One of the news handouts from state headquarters of the Scott Kelly-for-Governor committee carries this paragraph: "Brent Armstrong, eighth grade student at Sanford Junior High School, has chosen Senator Kelly as the gubernatorial candidate he feels will best fill the office of governor of Florida. He is representing the Senator as his campaign chairman in a classroom project."

Fred Dickinson and Fred Karl, two gubernatorial candidates, apparently took a lead from Bralley Odham, erstwhile Sanfordite. Some time ago Bralley, in his campaign to unseat Senator Holland, mailed some legal appearing papers which actually were requests for campaign contributions. Now, in the same mail comes two blank checks, payable to "Fred Karl Campaign Fund" and "Dickinson for Governor Campaign Fund." The receiver is supposed to fill in the date, the name of his bank, the amount of the contribution, sign and return.

All the candidates for governor are lengthening their stride as they head into the home stretch. The mail every day brings more and more "news," especially announcements of newspaper endorsements. Strangely, some candidates claim endorsements by the same newspapers. Could be—depends on which items you read.

All the candidates seem to be concentrating a great deal of effort in promising increased higher educational facilities.

Stop Reading Word By Word Next Step: Learn To Judge What You Read

Written for NEA
Time your reading of this column and compare your speed with that indicated at the end. The expected speed assumes a daily five per cent improvement.

Some years ago a Chief Justice of the United States wrote: "All truth is relative." Do you see the contradiction the learned man uttered in just a few short words?

He was expressing an absolute truth to the effect that there are no absolute truths. This is a sample of the kind of writing we'll be dealing with in the remaining columns.

The first 13 columns set out to double the amount of your reading and to help you get a deeper understanding of what you read. This means you are better OBSERVER of the reading scene. Now you become a better judge of the passing scene. This means being a good observer PLUS knowing how to judge what Then criticize the critics. This can be a real test of honesty: don't look only for what will reinforce your own judgment. Have an open mind whether it's a novel, play or poem. Bring the norms of the field with you when you read; then judge.

The biggest paid critic on your newspaper is the editor. He passes judgment on the whole scene: local, national, international, outer - spatial. We'll learn how to criticize him, the columnists and the letters to the editor. And we'll be interested in the news-and-views magazines and books of opinion. Every word spoken at the United Nations is criticism; the actions of our government in Panama, Cuba, South Viet Nam—these all flow from policy, from opinion. Each is subject to human error, bad judgement. We'll ask the right questions; we'll seek the basic norms for these opinions; we'll learn their logic or their fallacies. There are hundreds of tricks in opinion writing when a writer is trying to foist his judgment on you.

Learn critical reading and you won't just be a puppet of one opinion-maker. You'll be judge and jury on your own merits. You'll be a critic worth listening to because you'll have reasons for your opinions, not cliches to support a pet prejudice.

You should have read this column in 34 seconds.

CHEVY II by Chevrolet

How to get away from it all including the high cost of travel!

If you're looking for a way to get the whole family there and back on a small vacation budget, this is the station wagon that can do it.

You see, a Chevy II is one of the most inexpensive wagons you can own. It goes so many miles between gas stops you'll think we built in a spare tank. Garage stops, too, are far, far apart.

And you get 76 cu. ft. of cargo space for less money than you'd expect to pay for most sedans. Big enough to handle fat rowboats and tall fishing poles. Powerful enough to tote fully loaded trailers.

And all Chevy II's come with Chevrolet's money-saving, easy-care features. Like Body by Fisher, rust-resisting flush-and-dry rocker panels, battery-saving Delco-tron generator and self-adjusting brakes. Besides wagons, of course, there are Chevy II sedans and coupes. The Super Sport Coupe comes with a wide range of engines, bucket seats, door-to-door carpeting and either an extra-cost floor-mounted Powerglide or 4-speed transmission. So although Chevy II's are economical to buy and own, they certainly don't look it.

And now that it's Trade 'N' Travel Time at your Chevrolet dealer's, you'll never find a better time to look into Chevy II. Look under its hood. Slam its solid doors. Bounce on its thickly padded foam-cushioned seats. But above all else—try it on the highway. It'll give you a good run for your money.

Garden Circles

The Dirt Gardeners' circle of the Sanford Garden Club held their April meeting at the First Federal Building.

Mr. Ben Wiggins, of Seminole Soil Conservation, showed a picture reel on "Birds and Conservation."

The circle was pleased to have Mrs. Albun Rector, the incoming President of the Sanford Garden Club as a visitor. The home of Dr. and Mrs. Morgan was selected for the Garden of the month by Mrs. R. F. Robison.

It was reported there were eight blue ribbons, two red and three yellow ribbons won in the circle, at the flower show.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Four of us mothers in the neighborhood have a car pool. We alternate driving our children to school in the morning. One mother made all the children late five times last month. The late mother always has an excuse (small baby at home, she overslept, she forgot to set her alarm clock), but no excuse is acceptable at school and it goes against the children's records. Should we drop this mother from our car pool? I hate to cause hard feelings but I would just as soon drive the kiddies myself to be sure mine get there on time. How should this be handled? ON TIME MOTHER years ago someone asked you why a man who has a lady for a wife will pick up some tramp and treat her like a lady, but then he will turn around and treat his wife like a tramp. You gave a terrific answer, but I can't remember how you worded it. Will you please give it again? ANNAPOLIS

But that was a mistake. He got sore and started to date my best friend. I pretended I didn't care and got HIS best friend interested in me. So now the four of us date all the time (my date is a creep). And it's killing me to see the man I love with his arm around my best friend. What to do? SUFFERING

DEAR ANNAPOLIS: "A man picks up a 'tramp' because he wants a female companion who is no better than he is. In her company he doesn't feel inferior. He rewards her by treating her like a 'lady.' He treats his wife, who is a lady, like a 'tramp' because he feels that by degrading her, he will bring her down to his level. This makes him feel guilty. So, in order to get even with his wife for making him feel guilty, he keeps right on punishing her."

DEAR ANNAPOLIS: To make a long story short, I flipped for a guy and in order to make him like me more, I tried to make him jealous.

The public manners of an ever-increasing number of American women leave a lot to be desired. If you doubt this, just begin to notice how many women— Take up two parking places in a shopping center, rather than bother to put their cars between designated lines. Never bother to say "Thank you" to the person who pauses to hold a door for your convenience. Create real traffic jams in front of public schools by double-parking so their own little darlings won't have to walk to a properly parked car. Go into public restaurants, looking as though they are dressed for waxing floors or washing windows. Fail to keep beauty salon appointments or come in late, thus inconveniencing the shop and other customers. Talk so loud in public places that their private conversations are anything but private. Let their small children grab everything in sight in stores and jump up and down on the chairs and sofas in reception rooms. Disturb neighborhood peace by sitting in their autos and honking for the person they are picking up, instead of getting out of their cars and going to the door. Block sidewalks and drive-

Some optimists might raise their partner's opening no-trump to four. In my own case, 15 high card points and 4-3-3-3 distribution is just a very sound three no-trump bid. At best, there will be only a poor play for a slam. At worst, there might be trouble making ten tricks. Either three or four no-trump was a par contract in the Intercollegiate Tournament. The problem was for South to make that tenth trick. West was directed to open the king of diamonds, to lead a high diamond whenever possible and never to discard a club. In accordance with both his instructions and common sense, West opens the king of diamonds. South looks over

Red Cross To Kick Off Annual Swim Program Monday

The Water Safety Committee of the Seminole County Red Cross Chapter has scheduled Monday as the kickoff date for the 1964 swimming program.

Volunteer Red Cross instructors, under the leadership of Sally Neider and Martha Kilpatrick, will teach life saving, beginner swimming, advanced beginner, intermediate and instructor courses throughout the county.

For the first time in several years Red Cross swimming classes will not be held in Lake Mary. A serious shortage of certified instructors forced the cancellation of these sessions. Lake Mary residents have been urged to attend classes in other areas. An appeal is being made to all adult swimmers to volunteer for water safety instructor training.

Teachers are urgently needed to carry out the Seminole County swimming program this year. In order to certify the additional teachers required, an instructor's training course will be conducted at the Municipal Pool in Sanford, commencing May 4. Completion of Senior Life Saving is a requirement for instructor training.

Any person 18 years of age or over, male or female, is eligible to enroll for instructor training. No pre-registration is required. Applicants should report to the Municipal Pool in Fort Mellon Park at 10 a.m. or 7:30 p.m., May 4th. The complete schedule of classes to date are as follows:

Municipal Pool—Sanford: May 4, 10 a.m. Senior Life Saving, adults only; Martha Kilpatrick, instructor; 1 p.m., Beginner, Advanced Beginner, Intermediate, Adults only; Muriel Scott, instructor; 7:30 p.m. Senior Life Saving, 16 years of age and over, instructors Jack Horner and Jackie Caolo.

Naval Air Station, Sanford: May 12, 10 a.m., Beginner, Advanced Beginner and Intermediate, Adult Navy dependents only; Instructors Edith Aveni, Colleen Stuart and Marge Garvey. Registration for summer swimming classes for Navy children who have completed the first grade or above will be held June 6, 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Officer's pool. Instructor Peg Horner will be in charge and registration will include Beginner, Advanced Beginner, Intermediate and Junior Life Saving.

Casselberry: May 4 Senior Life Saving classes for adults only will be conducted during the morning hours. Students should phone Mrs. Evelyn Birkenmeyer for complete information regarding registration for these classes. June 6, at the Casselberry Fire Station, Registration for Beginner, Advanced Beginner and Intermediate classes. Seminole County residents are urged to phone the Red Cross Chapter office at any time for information regarding these free swimming classes.

The aim is to "drownproof" Seminole County. People can help by learning to swim, sending your children to swimming classes or by becoming a water safety instructor and lending a hand in the life saving program.

Gubernatorial Campaign Funds Near $2 Million

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Contributions to Florida's pepped-up campaign for governor inched toward the $2 million (M) mark today with the crucial first primary election just one week away.

In the next to last pre-election report, filed today, the six Democratic candidates and three Republicans vying to succeed Gov. Farris Bryant said they have collected a total of $1,971,955 from supporters and spent $1,700,000. The Democrats accounted for all but $18,075 of the contributions and all but $14,000 of the spending.

Fred O. Dickinson, West Palm Beach, was the number one collector and spender — outstripping his nearest opponent, Sen. Scott Kelly of Lakeland, by more than $150,000.

Dickinson reported new collections of $376,859 to run his total to $562,989 against expenditures of $498,789.

SOUTHERNERS WANT RIGHTS DEBATE TO END

WASHINGTON (UPI) — White southerners now want to see the Senate end its lengthy debate over the civil rights bill, pollster Louis Harris reported today.

In a copyrighted dispatch in the Washington Post, Harris said Americans in a nationwide survey favored by more than 2 to 1 senate approval of a motion for cloture, or a gag on debate.

Although opposed to the bill, white southerners also favored cloture by a slim margin, Harris reported.

Public support for the measure has increased steadily, Harris said. Last November, 63 per cent of Americans questioned said they favored the bill, while 70 per cent supported it this month.

Chicago Pushes Hunt For Kidnaped Infant

CHICAGO (UPI) — The heartbroken parents of tiny Paul Joseph Fronczak waited helplessly today while police and federal agents conducted a desperate search for the woman who kidnaped the three-day-old infant from his mother's arms.

Red Arms Plant Captured By Vietnamese

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI) — Vietnamese government rangers today overran a Communist arms factory in the famous Viet Cong mountain stronghold of Do Xa, capturing massive quantities of modern arms and explosives, an American military spokesman said.

The spokesman said 107 weapons were seized from the guerrillas, who fled without fighting.

The rangers are taking part in a large-scale government operation launched Monday against the Communist stronghold some 325 miles northeast of the capital in the rugged central highlands.

Two Americans were wounded in the initial assaults on Do Xa and Mang Xin Monday, but government casualties were light despite heavy Communist fire.

Eighteen of the 20 U. S. helicopters used to transport the Vietnamese troops were struck by guerrilla ground fire. Four of them and one propeller-driven fighter-bomber plane were downed.

A U. S. Air Force captain was killed in neighboring Thailand Tuesday in a helicopter crash during South East Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) maneuvers. Seven Thai officers also were killed.

Names of the U. S. casualties were withheld pending notification of relatives.

Dr. Herb Moreland, Sanfordite assigned to SNAS raised a German shepherd dog but it was run over and killed on Celery Avenue. He got another for the family. The second one, too, was killed the same way. So, he got a third one five months ago. "Commander," the name of the third dog, broke his leg a couple weeks ago and a cast was put on it. The cast was removed Monday and that night he, too, was hit by a car and killed. In all three instances, says Moreland, the drivers running over and killing the three dogs didn't even stop.

Seminole - DeBary Heart Association reports its fund drive so far has raised $8,152 this year . . . a 44 per cent increase over last year's total of $5,639. Dr. Luis Perez, new president, vows that next year the $8,152 figure will be surpassed.

Sanford Chamber of Commerce had to postpone its fight to Tallahassee because of inclement weather. Its secretary, Jim Talmadge, has shown an interest in the Big Tree . . . says all published reports of its measurements are in error. At his request, the County Commission has requested the Florida Forest Rangers to run off exact measurements.

Area churches were alerted to the possibility that the kidnaper might try to abandon little Paul Joseph. A similar alert went out to 31 baby clinics in the city. Police strengthened their guard at the hospital on the chance the woman would try to bring the baby back.

The only solid clue to the kidnaper centered on a 96-square block area of the city's South Side, where a cab driver said he took a woman with a baby in her arms shortly after the abduction was discovered.

W. E. (Pete) Knowles, Sanford city manager, was elected vice president of the Florida City Managers Association Tuesday afternoon at a meeting in St. Petersburg.

New Withdrawal By France From NATO Seen

PARIS (UPI) — Allied officials appeared concerned Tuesday that France might follow up its withdrawal of naval officers from North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) commands by moves affecting French forces in Germany.

The French government announced Tuesday that it has withdrawn all 10 senior French naval officers from NATO commands, on the ground that there were no longer any sizable French units under them.

President Charles de Gaulle had pulled French naval units out of the NATO Mediterranean fleet in 1959. Three months ago, he removed the bulk of France's Atlantic fleet and English Channel units from NATO control.

Only five French submarines in the North Sea still operate under NATO. The rest of the French navy is under purely French command.

NATO officials appeared concerned about the future of the two and one-half French army divisions and three air force nuclear fighter wings under NATO command in West Germany.

Delegation Host To OAS Envoys WASHINGTON (UPI) — About 500 persons attended a dinner Tuesday night to honor Florida's congressional delegation.

A dozen ambassadors from countries in the Organization of American States (OAS) were special guests at the annual dinner, which is sponsored by the Florida Chamber of Commerce.

Area churches were alerted to the possibility that the kidnaper might try to abandon little Paul Joseph. A similar alert went out to 31 baby clinics in the city. Police strengthened their guard at the hospital on the chance the woman would try to bring the baby back.

'Bulletins' To Tell Seminole's Way Of Life

"Bulletins" promoting the way of life for Sanford and Seminole County were discussed this morning by members of the Promotions Committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

Meeting at the Chamber conference room with the committee were advertising representatives of the Barbour Outdoor Advertising Company.

A "package proposal" will be prepared by Don Barbour of the company and will be submitted for further discussion next Wednesday morning.

The committee agreed that the "way of life" in the area must be stressed if they are to be effective.

Also to be considered will be sold emphasis on the St. Johns River, labeled several times as the "Nile of America."

Other consideration will be given "Sanford on the St. Johns" and "Land of Gracious Living."

Involvement will be adequate location of large "bulletins" placed at strategic points on major highways leading into this area. The signs could be located near Mims on Highway 1, north and south of Interstate 4 cloverleaf with Highway 46 and several others.

Barbour will consider the State Road Department's traffic count as a determining factor in arranging his proposals.

Cost of the undertaking would be borne by the Seminole Chamber and the committee would recommend its inclusion in the next fiscal budget.

The bulletins are leased from Barbour's firm which assumes full responsibility for all maintenance and upkeep, he said.

Discussed also were "tie-in" bulletins with utility firms, which could reduce the cost of the Chamber's project, or expand it should the various factors decide to join in the venture.

SANFORD KIWANIAN DEWITT MATTHEWS sells tickets to Walter Gielow, editor and publisher of The Sanford Herald, for Saturday's Kiwanis Pancake Supper and Auction to be held at Sanford's Civic Center. Suppers will be served from 4:30 until 8 p.m. and the auction will take place between 6 and 9 p.m. Proceeds to benefit the club's fund for underprivileged children.

High Raps Du Ponts; Attacks Low Wages

United Press International Miami Mayor Robert King High picked up his campaign for governor again today with a blast at the Florida Du Pont interests headed by Edward Ball.

High said the Du Pont holdings oppose him because he advocates a minimum $1.25 an hour wage for Florida.

"The pulpwood and timber industries have been paying near slave wages for years," High charged.

High said an increased minimum wage would create a boom for Florida's economy because of increased purchasing power.

"And I believe that in 1964 the heart and mind and body of any Floridian is worth at least $1.25 an hour," he added.

Tuesday High was in Washington urging a House Banking Committee to force the Du Pont estate to shed its non-banking interests in Florida.

Rep. Fred Karl said the Democratic gubernatorial campaign has become a "drum beating exercise" to stir up prejudice in the civil rights issues.

Karl, campaigning in Tampa, said he would not try to win votes on fear and prejudice, but on reason. "I have come to be known in this campaign as the voice of reason," he said.

Sen. John E. Matthews, pushing his campaign in St. Petersburg, said he would make honesty in the campaign the big issue of the closing days. "I will keep hammering home the fact that an honest administration while a campaign of false and ridiculous promises can mean nothing but an administration filled with intellectual dishonesty and a complete lack of integrity," he said.

Indexes Show Steady Rise During Year

Business trends for Sanford and Seminole County continued a steady rise during the past year, according to information filed by the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce's official publication, Sem-O-Gram.

Bank deposits and resources climbed steadily with the former rising 10.32 per cent and the latter up 9.74 per cent. The figures include those from the First Federal Saving & Loans Association.

Total deposits in the county as of the end of 1963 stood at $49,158,087 compared with $44,558,655 at the close of 1962.

Sanford postal receipts for the year just ended stood at $295,131 compared with $241,807 the previous 12-month period, for an increase of 22.02 per cent.

The county's building permits for the year were $8,731,598 compared with $7,791,260, up 12.07 per cent. Permits for all municipalities and the county during the year totaled $11,607,817, down 1.87 per cent from the previous total of $12,833,925.

Electric meter installations during 1963 for Sanford totaled 11,008 compared with 10,757 the previous year, up 2.30 per cent.

Telephone use in Sanford continued to rise from the 1962 year-end total of 14,717 to 15,613, a rise of 5.41 per cent.

The Florida Power & Light Company reported a healthy gain in power sales. At the end of 1962, the total kilowatt hours sold was 86,600,000 and at the end of last year it amounted to 91,590,000, a rise of 5.65 per cent. This was for the Sanford area serviced by FP&L.

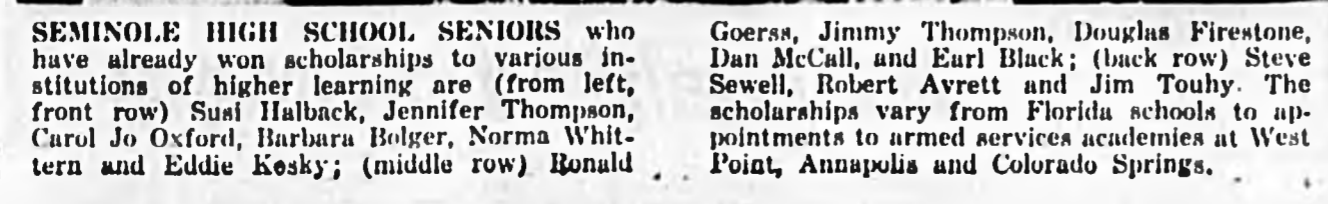

Seeking votes in Mount Dora, Sen. Scott Kelly promised citrusmen he would protect their industry from tariff concessions which would create unfair competition from foreign citrus imports.

In Tuesday's campaigning, the only thing that got as much attention as the Florida development commission was candidate Fred O. Dickinson.

Both caught it on the chin as the campaign pace quickened in the final week. The other candidates knocking heads were Dickinson, Matthews, Karl, Mayor Haydon Burns of Jacksonville, and Kelly.

Dickinson caught it from Karl for failing to plug for completion of Interstate Highway 95 along the east coast, and for being with Gov. Farris Bryant "Toll Twins" in perpetrating "haphazard highway hijinks."

Captain Robert M. Ware, Commanding Officer of NAS, Sanford, and Captain James O. Mayo, Commander of Heavy Attack Wing One, will introduce several new officers who have recently come aboard. Other guests expected to attend will include new business and professional men in the community.
