

Five-Day Week Started In Road Camps

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — State Penal Director Louie Wainwright said the first phase of a program to put employees at the 36 road prison camps on a five day work week started Tuesday.

Wainwright said a training program in the latest penal methods was started this week for 44 new and transferred personnel who will be added to road prisons in northwest Florida.

He said during the coming three months, 150 additional employees were scheduled for assignment to prisons in the employment and training for rest of the state.

The staff increase was authorized by the 1963 legislature to install a uniform five day work week for road prison employees.

Summer Living Can Be Varied

As the calendar moves to the midway mark in the year, Mr. and Mrs. America and their "kids" are living it up outdoors.

In ever increasing numbers, families in search of relaxation and fun for their leisure hours, engage in activities as fast as water-skiing or as sedentary as sun-bathing in the back yard.

Perhaps it's the many labor-saving devices in the home, faster transportation, shorter working hours and a wider field of fun-time activities and accessories that beckon summer's pleasure seekers.

Or, perhaps it is mounting congestion on the highways. Or possibly it is the very natural desire to spend more time actually enjoying outdoor fun and less time getting back and forth to it. At any rate, summer living and outdoor living are fast becoming synonymous.

Girl Stowaway Was Hungry

HALIFAX (UPI) — An 18-year-old girl who stowed away aboard the United States aircraft carrier Intrepid for three days said today the worst part of her voyage was the lack of food and the cramped fan room where she hid.

Irene Maud Bickford, a native of Newfoundland employed for the past year as a packer in a Halifax tea house, was discovered aboard the carrier on the high seas three days after it left Halifax.

Irene, who lives in a Halifax rooming house with her older sister Rita, said she spent most of her time eating chocolate bars — and rarely saw her sailor boyfriend who took her aboard "I had nothing to eat but chocolate bars," Irene said "I didn't see him very often."

The girl said she went aboard the Intrepid with a boyfriend from California, whom she refused to identify.

Couple Guilty In Child Neglect

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — A young Jacksonville couple today faced terms totaling 18 months on charges of child neglect.

Mrs. Joyce Rose Sarman, 22, was sentenced Monday to one year and her husband, Stephen Huntley Sarman, 25, to six months.

Both parents were charged with contributing to the dependency of a minor.

Criminal Court Judge Hans G. Tansler said the couple's 13-month-old son was undernourished and showed signs of having been beaten.

A 2-month-old son of the couple died last April in Duval Medical Center. The 13-month-old child was taken from its parents following an investigation following the death of the younger child.

Blonde Latvian Beauty Named Miss U. S. A.

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Marita Ozers, a foreign-born blonde model who doesn't like to wear skimpy bikinis, was crowned the new "Miss U. S. A." last night at the Miss Universe pageant.

The 19-year-old daughter of a carpenter will join 44 foreign beauties tonight in the semi-finals of the Miss Universe contest.

The current Miss Universe, dark-haired Norma Nolan of Buenos Aires, will crown her successor in the nationally televised finals Saturday night.

Miss Ozers, who represented Illinois in the Miss U.S.A. competition, was born in Riga, Latvia, and immigrated to the United States to escape Communist oppression 13 years ago.

The runners up were Michelle Betinna Metrinko, 21, of Arlington, Va., the Miss District of Columbia; Sandra Lee Marlin, 19, of Springfield, Mo.; Rhea Looney, 19, of Denver, Col.; and Francine Cheryl Herack, of Encino, Calif., 19 and the tallest girl in the contest.

After being crowned by the outgoing Miss U.S.A., Maciel Lellani Wilson of Hawaii, Miss Ozers said the first thing she wanted to do was call her parents and grab a bite to eat.

"I didn't have time for supper because I had to fix my hair," she explained.

Talking about her past, Marita—"In Latvian you pronounce it MAH-REET"—she entered, and lost, her first beauty contest when she was 16 years old. But a year later she was runner-up in a "Miss Oak Street Beach contest."

"I guess I'm getting better now," she said.

Marita admitted being "slightly embarrassed" the first time she modeled a bikini, but said she now wears a green bikini to the beach "if there aren't too many people around."

Miss Ozers said she would give some of her $2,500 prize money to her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Makis K. Ozers of 1800 North Hoyle Ave., Chicago, to "help out with the family bills."

Citizen Groups Try To Ease Tensions

By United Press International

As racial segregation barriers have toppled in school districts of the South, grassroots citizens' organizations spearheaded by parents and teachers often have paved the way for a peaceful transition.

Since the days of the Central High School desegregation crisis in Little Rock six years ago, the local action groups have had their fling at the civil rights issue. Their names have become staccato symbols of the problem.

S.O.S. Able, Oasis, Hops, Those were the trademarks for parents who banded together to insure continuing classes in the face of home-town integration.

A new group in Birmingham has joined the others.

The organization is known as PEP for "Public Education Peacefully." It held its first meeting Tuesday night in Birmingham, which has been ordered to submit a school desegregation plan in August.

J. Vernon Patrick, an attorney who lives "over the mountain" in the residential suburb of Vestavia, presided in a courtroom on the third floor of the Jefferson County Courthouse. With him up front were six or seven PEP leaders who had hoped to attract a crowd sympathetic to keeping schools open, even if desegregated.

A crowd of approximately 350 packed the courtroom, spilling into the balcony. They carried placards with such remarks as "Birmingham — Betrayed But Not Broken."

Patrick and his PEP group tried to talk about schools but it did not go well. Ralph Edwards, a steel mill worker who identified himself to the crowd as a "red-neck," told Patrick to "sit down, you don't even live in Birmingham."

Patrick's group had brought a projector and a documentary film about how Dallas, Tex., had peacefully desegregated its schools. The chairman asked someone in the back room to turn out the lights so the film could get started. He was ignored. The meeting finally broke up without any action. Outside segregationist pickets paraded around the courthouse.

Second Telstar Konks Out

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — One of the nation's communications satellites stepped functioning Wednesday but the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) plans to launch another one Tuesday.

The second Telstar, designed to bring overseas events into American homes, failed after two months and 10 days in orbit.

The failure left one U. S. communications satellite — Relay — still functioning.

The second Syncom satellite, which has an improved motor, is scheduled to be launched from here Tuesday morning. It will be sent aloft by a Delta rocket toward an orbit 22,300 miles above earth.

If all goes well it will become the world's first working synchronous orbit satellite. This means it would appear to hang stationary over one spot on earth because it revolves around the earth at the same speed the earth rotates on its axis.

The first Syncom, launched last Feb. 14, achieved synchronous orbit, but radio contact with the satellite was lost when a small rocket aboard the payload ignited.

The 1960 Census accounted for 40.5 million married couples.

ST. AUGUSTINE (UPI) — The strike-bound Florida East Coast Railway has offered a $5,000 reward for information leading to the arrest of persons who stoned an FEC employe Monday night.

Kent Norris, a 20-year-old railway employe, was hospitalized with injuries to his left eye after being hit by a rock while riding on an FEC train.

FEC vice president W. L. Thornton, in announcing the reward yesterday, said the railway had lifted all embargoes on everything but sand, rock and gravel and Atlantic Coast Line freight.

Rockefeller Out To Stop Goldwater

ALBANY, N. Y. (UPI) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is out to stop Sen. Barry Goldwater, leading conservative contender for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination.

Rockefeller, an aide said, has known Goldwater many years and likes the Arizona senator personally. He calls him "my good friend Barry." But, he feels Goldwater carries a heavy conservative label that could sink GOP congressional candidates next year.

"What do you think would happen to our congressional candidates in the East with Goldwater heading the ticket?" a Rockefeller associate asked. "Right here in New York state he would have a tough job."

The governor, himself a potential White House nominee, said it is likely that if nominated Goldwater would become a "captivity" of the "radical right lunatic branch" trying to gain control of the GOP.

"They are not going to get control in this section of the country," Rockefeller added.

Rockefeller's attack on the "radical right" was made in a statement issued by his Albany office last Sunday while he was vacationing at Seal Harbor, Maine.

Tavern Owner Liable In Youth's Death

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A tavern owner may be held liable in the traffic death of an under-age youth to whom he illegally sold whisky and beer, the Supreme Court ruled Wednesday.

The court issued the opinion in a suit for $150,000 damages brought by Reginald Owen Davis against J. B. Shippacocose, owner of a Hillsborough County tavern.

Davis said the tavern sold his 16-year-old son alcoholic beverages just six hours before he was killed in a highway accident.

Davis said his son's death was a "direct and proximate" result of the illegal sale made by the tavern. The high court, in an opinion by Justice Elwyn Thomas, agreed.

McNatt, however, ruled the housewife was to be held for "unlawful homicide—the degree of which is to be decided by the grand jury."

Mrs. Luckie has been held in jail here in connection with the shooting death of the Rev. George Holmes, pastor of the Riverside Baptist Church.

Lewis argued there was insufficient evidence to charge Mrs. Luckie with first or second degree murder or manslaughter.

$10,000 Bond Set In Slaying

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Bond was set at $10,000 Wednesday for Mrs. Sara Luckie, who has been held in connection with the April 9 slaying of a prominent Jacksonville minister.

Circuit Judge John M. McNatt set the bond after denying a petition by defense counsel Giles P. Lewis that Mrs. Luckie be released unconditionally.

McNatt, however, ruled the housewife was to be held for "unlawful homicide—the degree of which is to be decided by the grand jury."

Mrs. Luckie has been held in jail here in connection with the shooting death of the Rev. George Holmes, pastor of the Riverside Baptist Church.

Lewis argued there was insufficient evidence to charge Mrs. Luckie with first or second degree murder or manslaughter.

SPOALRCIMEUI

Have you noticed the headlines lately?
GOA is leading with HBFA and URA. The NSC, AMA and USPHS report a rise in the MDR, due largely to more MPE.
MIE is getting the brush from Congress. The UFEA is good and sore at WTC, IUBA and CAR, while the MEMBEFM has literally been sunk.
Furthermore, the FPA is openly challenging the FGA and the AAU isn't happy with NCAA.
If the sort of thing is vaguely disturbing, think how alarming it might be if we had the faintest idea what all those initials stand for!

Let's face it, this is the Age of Initials (AOI). Maybe it's time to organize SPOALRCIMEUI. This could be called SPOALRCIMEUI for short but everybody would know that its full name was the Society for Prevention or At Least the Reduction of Cruelty to Inferior Mentalities through the Extravagant Use of Initials.
OK?

Young Voters Shifting

During the heyday of the New Deal and its early aftermath, it was a commonplace to say that young Americans were voting heavily Democratic. Lately the political interest of the young folk have not seemed so clearly one-sided.
The Young Republicans have just finished another of their fiery and brimstone conventions in San Francisco. You would hardly know the Young Democrats are alive.
In a wide area across the Old South, into the Southwest and well sprinkled in the Mountain states are new Republican leaders in their tender 30s. They are giving the GOP organization a new face and some observers dare to suggest they may have already altered the party's power structure.
By contrast key proportions of the rival Democratic organization look old and tired—and here and there corrupt. Sen. Barry Goldwater reminded the Young Republicans of this in his speech stressing liberal (Democratic) dependence on "corrupt big city machines" for voting power.
Yet, despite all the signs and sounds of youthful upsurge on the Republican side, it is not clear that young voters are turning consistently to Republican choices at the polls.
Dwight Eisenhower won many of them, but President Kennedy scored well among them, too. The 1962 election results, strongly weighted with Democratic victories in Congress and at the governorship level, did not suggest the Democrats are suffering material defections.

But every election is a new ball game, and the Republicans will have a golden chance in 1964 to cut into the ranks of youth—and build overall vote totals to winning levels.
The Census Bureau says, in response to inquiry, that by November, 1964, there will be 10,800,000 persons who will have come to voting age since the 1960 election. Not all these will register, or otherwise be eligible to vote. But perhaps 6 million new voters will be on the rolls, two thirds of them in cities and suburbs.
These youngsters inevitably will represent one of the important battlegrounds of the 1964 campaign. Who will get them?
Is conservatism the theme they want to hear? On the assumption it is, Republicans bang hard on that drum.
Or is there still a quiet, somewhat unassertive but pronounced majority for the Democratic party's philosophy and programs?
The answer should be one of the most fascinating political results of 1964.

Phil Newsom Says . . .

'Organized Bigness'

China always has had "bigness." Now it has "organized bigness."
Prof. Choh-ming Li, chairman of the center for Chinese studies at the University of California, has drawn up a balance sheet of Red Chinese achievements and concludes that "China has attained for the first time in modern history the status of a world power."
"It has," he notes in the current issue of Challenge magazine "extended its political and economic influence to as far away as Cuba in the Western hemisphere, Albania in Eastern Europe, Guinea and Ghana in Africa, not to mention the Chinese military adventures in the Far East and Southeast Asia."

And it is from this position of strength that Red China now challenges the Soviet Union and Nikita Khrushchev for leadership of the Communist world, despite serious and continuing problems at home.
Professor Li's study is primarily economic.

He notes that Red China reached its present status both with the help of its military pact with the Soviet Union and through effective political control of the people.
But the chief contributing factor, he believes, was Red China's industrialization which enabled her to more than quadruple productive capacity in the years from 1954 through 1958, enhancing her military might.
This was the "great leap forward" within 1958 merged with the rural communes. The communes were to do for agriculture what already was being done industrially.
But mismanagement, three years of drought and a miscalculation of the effects of human nature reversed the great leap forward which then became the "great fall backward."
China was forced into the world market to buy grain, to restore private plots to the peasants and permit a limited amount of capitalism.
This year, with the help of the private plots, grain production is reported about back to the 1953 level.
Industrially, other reports say the Chinese still are having trouble.
Steel production last year may have been about half of the peak of 18 million tons reported in 1958.
A shortage of coal is said to have reduced all heavy industry to about 80 per cent of capacity.
But with all her difficulties, Red China has neither ceased up on her dispute with the Soviet Union nor slowed her economic advance abroad.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Notice Mark's dilemma. And then memorize the advice which Thomas Edison offers, for many people could get a larger opening salary if they acted more poised and casual during the initial interview. Scrapbook these cases and index them for quick reference in emergencies.

CASE P-494: Mark T., aged 22, recently applied for a job. "But, Dr. Crane," Mark added, "I lost out because I think I showed too much eagerness."
"For the salary was higher than I had expected. And I guess I didn't act casual enough. So they wrote me off as too young and inexperienced, although I look older than my age."
"But how can a person be calm when he gets such a surprise?"
When Thomas A. Edison was a young man, he headed for New York City.
As he was watching the ticker at the stock market one day, the machine went wrong. Constanteration followed.
But Edison walked in and volunteered to repair it. He soon had it working.
So he was offered a big salary in that day of $150 per month to stay around just to keep the stock ticker in mechanical order.
Later he invented and patented an improvement. The members of the stock exchange asked him to meet with them to consider selling his patent.
Edison figured he would be willing to take a year's salary ($1,800) as his rock bottom price.

But then he wondered if they might go higher, so he toyed with the idea of demanding $5,000.
On the day of his appointment, he met with the officials of the stock exchange.
They praised his work and then added:
"Mr. Edison, we know you have patented an improvement on our stock ticker, so we'd like to buy it. How much do you want for your patent rights?"
Well, young Tom Edison decided to shoot for the top price of $5,000. But that sounded like highway robbery, so he lost his nerve.
After swallowing a couple of times as he tried to phrase a price, he finally replied:
"Well, gentlemen, I hadn't thought the matter over very thoroughly but what offer can you make?"
"Young man," replied the Chairman, "we can't afford to offer you a cent more than $50,000."
Edison said his heart jumped into his throat till he couldn't even speak. Maybe the brokers figured his silence was due to a shrewd inner debate.
Anyway, when he could finally speak, he managed to tell them he'd rather deal with them than with anybody else, so he accepted.
He said he had trouble holding his hand quiet till he could sign the contract.
Then he walked the streets for a couple of days and nights, trying to get down off the clouds.
But he said this experience taught him a vital lesson.

"When somebody else wants what you have," he added, "always let him make the first offer."
"For he may habitually be used to much bigger sums of money than you are. And you can thus get a larger price."
So you young folks can always recall Edison's situation and thus widen your perspective as you seek a job or receive an offer.
Wrinkle your brow in a frown as if you are debating the offer, and then casually accept. Do your dancing afterwards!

Peter Edson Political Notebook

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The standard Republican line now is that the Democratic party is so hopelessly split that it is completely ineffective.
This raises the question of just how united the Republican party may be a year before its national convention.
As a certain raider, speaking at the San Francisco convention of Young Republicans, GOP Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania urged that elements of the party "not beat each other to bits." It seems to have been a futile appeal.
Full reports on this convention, brought back to Washington by participants, indicate it was a pretty rough affair. There was wide-open feuding between progressive and conservative factions. And it was only by the narrowest of margins that the organization escaped a takeover by the far right-wingers.
What this fight indicates is that the GOP may be just as badly split as the Democrats. There is abundant evidence that the ultraconservatives make up a much larger percentage of the Republican party than in the Democratic party.
On civil rights legislation in particular, the Republican party — even if it were so completely victorious in 1964 as to sweep the White House and Congress — would have to depend far more on Democrat support to put through an effective rights program than the other way around.
The Fourth of July Goldwater-for-President rally in Washington was notable in that there were no Negro Republicans inside the Armory. The only Negroes around were in a delegation of Black Muslims demonstrating outside the hall — not in support of Goldwater, it might be added.
Actually, the Republican party today seems to be split three ways — not just two. There are GOP conservatives and progressives who correspond to the reactionaries and liberals in the Democratic party. In addition, there is the new Republican National Citizens Committee.
This modern and moderate element of the GOP is centered around ex-President Dwight D. Eisenhower and his principles. But at the present time it has neither a candidate, a platform nor much of a following.
The 50 to 100 well-heeled Republicans who head up and, in fact, are the GOP Citizens Committee today, have as one of their principal objectives definite inroads on Democratic strongholds in the North and West. The Republicans simply have to woo Democratic voters in the metropolitan areas to get a majority.
Perhaps the only way the Republicans can get a meaningful program for 1964 is to reverse the traditional American political procedure which is to adopt a platform, then nominate a candidate to stand on it and like it.
When the Republicans convene for their national convention in San Francisco next July they might try picking their candidate first, then let him dictate the platform.
If that candidate should be Sen. Barry Goldwater, the platform would read one way. If the candidate were Gov. Nelson Rockefeller or almost anyone else, it probably would be completely different.
That's how the Republican party stands as of today.

Q's and A's

Q—What is the status of women in Iroquois society?
A—Iroquois society came close to being a matriarchy; the clan was based on descent through the women who owned crops and houses. Although they did not actually rule, the women had the power of recall if a chief did not live up to expectations.

Q—Who was Fra Elbertus?
A—Elbert Hubbard, author of the well-known "A Message to Garcia."

Q—What continent was first given the name New Holland?
A—Australia.

Q—Prior to the adoption of the Constitution how was the nation governed when Congress was not in session?
A—By a committee of 13 persons, one from every state.

Q—How did an illusion of plenty come to be known as a Barmecide feast?
A—It stems from the story told in the Arabian Nights of one member of the Barmecides, a wealthy Persian family, who invited a hungry beggar to a feast and made a pretense of serving and eating imaginary viands, hence an illusion of plenty.

Q—Do American Indian tribes have hereditary chiefs?
A—A few tribes still have hereditary chiefs, but they are not always considered the heads of these tribes.

Q—Why do clouds constantly change in shape?
A—This is because parts of clouds will evaporate when they come in contact with warmer air not saturated with moisture.

Q—Our Cuban fever is bound to rise and fall with each succeeding event. We are at the mercy of every political opportunist both at home and abroad who exploits our lack of a dynamic, positive policy.
—Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D.

A woman shouldn't trade on the fact that she is a woman. However, I found that at important meetings, a woman was not as likely — or as quickly — to be thrown out as a man.
—Photographer Margaret Bourke-White.

Our guys are going home with 200 a week in their pockets, and it might be better to put most of any increase we negotiate into fringes instead of wages.

JFK Asks Tax To Halt Flight Of U. S. Gold

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy asked Congress today to enact a temporary tax on foreign borrowing of U. S. capital in a stepped-up effort to close the growing balance of payments gap.

The President said the new clampdown was needed to help make further "inroads into the hard core of our continuing payments deficit."

The President's recommendation, made in a special message to Congress, was intended to add more authority to an intensified attack on the dollar deficit which began this week with the raising of short-term interest rates.

A payments deficit develops when U. S. citizens and the federal government spend more dollars abroad than foreigners spend in this country. The result is a drain on U. S. gold stocks.

The President proposed a program mixed with both old and new ideas for resolving the balance of payments dilemma—one of the most nagging economic problems facing the nation.

He urged renewed emphasis on previous drives to increase exports, promote U. S. tourism, and reduce overseas dollar expenditures by military and foreign aid programs.

Kennedy said the long-range payments outlook was hopeful, but that action must be taken quickly to replenish "our stockpile of arrangements . . . during our return to equilibrium."

Mediator Sets Two Meetings

TAMPA (UPI) — Federal Mediator John Kenney has scheduled separate meetings with union and management officials again today in an effort to end the violence and vandalism marked strike against General Telephone Co.

This will be the second series of meetings since the strike began last Thursday when 2,800 members of Local 824 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers struck the company in a contract dispute.

Wednesday Kenney met with both parties several times, but declined to say what was discussed at the get-togethers.

"About all I can say is there was no progress at all," said local Union President Robert Mount.

Horse Show Sunday At Rodeo Site

Sunday is Horse Show time in Sanford again as officials of Dusty Boots Riding Assn. announce a full program of equestrian events slated for the rodeo grounds starting at 1 p.m.

Highlights of the afternoon's activities will be a junior pony race and a senior horse race for cash prizes.

Other events, open for entry, include key hole, clover leaf, pick-up race, flag race, hollow log, musical three, sack race, pole bending, ribbon races, junior western pleasure, senior western pleasure and open English pleasure.

Horsemen, women, boys and girls from all over Central Florida are expected to gather at the rodeo grounds just behind the Farmer's Auction on Hwy. 17-92 and across Onora Rd. from Jet Lanes, for the first full-events horse show to be held at Dusty Boots since last summer.

At that time, the senior horse race was won by popular Johnny Butler, in a grade race against a girl rider who nosed him into second place in a previous race at Lake Helen Cracker Days.

Dusty Boots officials announced that they hope to give the local riding enthusiasts something to look forward to with a regular horse show once a month.

Love Letter Little Late

CHELTENHAM, England (UPI)—Mrs. Agatha Thompson, 65, admits she is a little old for the love letter which arrived at her home Wednesday.

But she wasn't too old when a former boyfriend mailed the letter 42 years ago in Banbury, less than 100 miles away.

"It must have slipped down somewhere," a baffled spokesman for the Post Office explained.

Doubt Voiced On Squabble In Red Bloc

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy says he is not at all certain the dispute between Russia and Red China has passed the point of no return.

"Quite obviously there are strong indications of pressure," he said at a news conference Wednesday, but premature opinions would be foolish "because history has shown that they are frequently reversed."

The President was cautiously optimistic on the possibility of reaching at least a limited nuclear test ban agreement with Russia and said this should be possible—at all—without a summit meeting.

He added, however, that he would be ready to consider a session with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev if the "situation" became such that it was "essential to the making of an effective agreement."

Kennedy sought to reassure U. S. congressmen and NATO allies that the American mission negotiating with Russians and British in Moscow would not make any secret deals or fatal concessions.

He noted that any test ban agreement which might emerge from the Moscow negotiations being carried on by Under Secretary of State W. Averell Harriman would have to be approved by the Senate.

The NATO Allies, Kennedy added, could be certain no deal affecting their "rights and interests" would be made in Moscow and they would be fully filled in on any discussion of European subjects which might be going on there.

RIDING ALONG on Sanford Avenue the other day, we noted a home that is literally surrounded with shrubs and trees, and thought to ourselves, "a green-fingered gardener must surely live there."

What a coincidence to find that the Garden Club concurred with our observations and have awarded this home of Mrs. L. P. Duffy at 2464 Sanford Ave. the title of Garden of the Month!

Unfortunately, there is no sign available to put up in the front yard to tell the world about it, because it was snatched from in front of the home of the last Garden of the Month winner, Mrs. Gertrude Dingfelder, by thieves.

Mrs. Duffy has two fine holly trees which escaped last winter's freeze and also many fruit trees, including peaches as well as citrus and a grape arbor.

Like jewels along the edge of the lush green lawn are the beautiful caladiums that give such rich color.

Mrs. A. C. McReynolds and Mrs. C. M. Flowers of the Jefferies Circle, who chose the Duffy garden have issued a plea for the sign wiper to return the sign, leaving it where it can be found, preferably in Mrs. Duffy's yard.

YOUTH IS NOT A TIME OF LIFE... it is a state of mind.

It is not a matter of ripe cheeks, red lips and supple knees... it is a temper of the will, a quality of the imagination, a vigor of the emotions. It is a freshness of the deep springs of life.

Nobody grows old by merely living a number of years... People grow old by deserting their ideals.

Years wrinkle the skin... But to give up enthusiasm wrinkles the soul.

Worry, doubt, self-distrust, fear and despair... these are the long, long years that bow the heart and turn the growing spirit back to dust.

You are as young as your faith, as old as your doubt; as young as your self-confidence, as old as your fear; as young as your hope, as old as your despair.

In the central place of your heart there is a wireless station. So long as it receives messages of beauty, hope, cheer, grandeur, courage and power from the earth, from men and from the infinite, so long are you young.

When the wires are down, and all the central place of your heart is covered with the snows of cynicism and the ice of pessimism, then you are grown old, even at 20, and may God have mercy upon your soul.

We are indebted to Mrs. Bill Gielow for this anonymous little essay, which has so much of truth and wisdom in it, and certainly must have been written by an unusually keen and clear-sighted individual.

SOME OF YOU will remember Doc and Doris Faulkner, a popular Navy couple who formerly lived here.

They were active in the First Methodist Church and in the Castle Class, among other things.

Doris and the children, Skip and Bopple will be in town this weekend, visiting friends, while staying with the Milton Sorokowskys, their former neighbors.

The Faulknors now live in Annapolis, Md., where Cdr. Faulkner, (a new promotion) is an instructor at the Naval Academy.

Since Doc is working on his PHD part time at the Catholic University in Washington, D. C., he won't be down this time, but friends are planning some get-togethers for Doris.

DID YOU KNOW that there are eight and a half MILLION persons in the United States, over 25 years old who have LESS than five years schooling?

A recent report from the National Education Ass'n. points out that more than half of the persons on the relief rolls are "functionally illiterate" and the total amount it costs the state, federal and local government to support these people is $4,300,000,000 a year!

"The link between these heavy burdens on the taxpayer and low educational attainment seems beyond dispute," says Francis Keppel, U. S. Commissioner of Education.

Legislation to develop and expand basic education opportunities for adult citizens was approved by the House General Subcommittee on Education.

The measure seeks to authorize $25 million over a three year period in grants to the state for combating illiteracy among adults.

Twenty-five million dollars seems like a lot of money, but compare that to $4.5 BILLION in hand-out welfare payments.

Of course, not all those 8.5 million people are on relief, for many can do many kinds of work that does not call for even being able to write your name, but there is a limit to that kind of job.

Such a deep and far-reaching problem, and one deserving the concern of everyone, as well as educators.

WIGHT KIRTLLEY, a former Sanford man, who left to study in the ministry is one of 27 ministers from across the country who is having the opportunity to both see and hear themselves preach during a seminar at Emory University on television preaching.

DORIS FAULKNER

Each minister attending has a chance to preach three television sermons and then have them analyzed after watching and hearing himself.

Sounds like a mighty good idea, and it's too bad that all speakers cannot be afforded such a revealing and interesting opportunity.

In fact, if we were all merely afforded the opportunity of hearing a taped play-back of ourselves talking, what a revealing (and often shocking and egocentric) experience!

Remember the sage wish expressed by Robert Burns, concerning the gift of being able to "see ourselves as others see us?"

Well, the Scottish poet would see his wish come true today through the medium of television and electronic tape.

When you stop to think about it... there are many many taken-for-granted things in our lives today that would seem like astounding miracles to people of even 50 years or less ago.

And who's to say that all miracles are not the result of a superior and more developed intelligence, now incomprehensible to us?

Board Members To Meet Friday

Tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock board members of the Lake Mary Woman's Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Olan Boutwell in Little Venice.

The next meeting of the entire club will be held on Thursday, the 25th, at the Capri Restaurant. At that time, following the luncheon, Mrs. A. P. Forsyah, Sr., will give a book report on "Conscience of A Conservative" by Senator Barry Goldwater.

There will be other books on display to carry out the theme of "a thinking person is a person who hears all sides of a story".

There also will be a program of dancing presented by Bobby Ray and partner.

Mrs. Mildred Tillis is in charge of the July meeting.

Couple Returns From Motor Trip

Rev. and Mrs. James M. Thompson, of Lake Mary, have returned from a month's vacation trip of visiting and driving through many states.

Their first big stop was in Minneapolis, Minn., where they visited Mrs. Thompson's brother, Cameron Booth, and his wife.

From there they traveled further north to spend a week at Gull Lake, Minn., which is quite a family resort. Their son, Jimmy Thompson, and his family, from Wichita, Kan., were also there at the same time.

The Thompsons had a nice apartment while there and got their meals in the main lodge. Their son and his family had one of the cottages that accommodate six people. They report that it is an ideal location for a family vacation.

On their return trip, they drove back through Wichita, Kan., to visit their son in his home. That state had very hot weather while they were there.

They were glad to get back home to Florida and their cool lakefront house in Lake Mary.

Homemakers

By Mrs. E. L. Johnson

Hi! Homemakers. It's a thrilling experience nearly every cook—homemaker or future homemaker—has every time she bakes a perfect, flakey-tender pastry. To make a successful pastry depends upon the minimum of mixing and handling. Cut the shortening into the flour until the mixture is crumbly. Some of the particles will be the size of small peas while others will be the consistency of coarse cornmeal. Vegetable shortening with its bland flavor and easy blending qualities produce flakey pastry. Lard produces very flakey pastry with a definite lard flavor. Butter or margarine produces richly flavored and well-browned pastry that's less flakey than that prepared from other solid fats. Melted shortening or oil produce a crumbly rather than flakey crust, and the mixing method is different from the standard one discussed here. Sprinkle just enough very cold water, preferably ice-water, into the flour shortening particles to bind them together.

Here is a basic Flour Pastry for a 2-crust pie made with self-rising flour:
2 cups sifted enriched self-rising flour
2/3 cup shortening
Measure flour into bowl. Cut or rub in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Sprinkle with water, mixing lightly until dough begins to stick together. Turn out on lightly floured board and press dough together.

Basic Corn Meal Pastry for One Crust Pie:
1/2 cup enriched self-rising corn meal
1/2 cup sifted enriched self-rising flour
1/3 cup shortening
3 to 5 tbsps. cold water
Combine cornmeal and flour. Cut or rub in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Add water mixing lightly until dough begins to stick together. Turn out on lightly floured board and press dough together.

Now try this recipe using the above pie crust:
Currant Cheese Tarts
Basic Corn Meal Pastry
1/2 cup butter or margarine, softened
1 1/2 cups light brown sugar
1 tbsps. enriched self-rising flour
2 eggs
2 tbsps. water
1 tsp. vanilla extract
1/2 cup currants or raisins
Prepare basic pastry. Roll out 1/4 inch thick. Cut out circles to fit tart pans. Place pastry in pans and press to fit sides. Trim and flute edge. Place tart pans on baking sheet. Cream together butter or margarine, sugar and flour until light and fluffy. Blend in eggs, one at a time. Stir in water, vanilla extract and currants or raisins. Fill pastry lined pans 3/4 full with butter-sugar-egg filling. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 20 to 25 minutes or until browned. Cool 5 minutes before loosening edges and removing from pans. Serve warm or cool. Makes 8 3-inch tarts.

A homemaker from Iowa said she fixes this recipe for her family. It's called Sour Potatoes.
Boil potatoes and drain. Cut them up in small cubes. Cut raw onion into potatoes.
Cut breakfast bacon up into small cubes and fry until brown. Then pour a cup of vinegar into the bacon and grease and pour over the potatoes and stir.
Five Cup Salad
1 cup chunked pineapple
1 cup mandarin oranges
1 cup small marshmallows
1 cup coconut
1 cup sour cream
Drain juice of pineapple and orange. If coconut is too stringy, use scissors and cut fine. Mix all together, its better if made the day before you use it.

Here is another Tartar Sauce recipe sent to me for Tootsie Lee.
1/2 pint jar mayonnaise
2 tbsps. chopped bread and butter pickles.
1 tsp. finely chopped onion
1 tsp. chopped parsley
1 tsp. chopped capers
This is excellent on fish or fish sticks.

Keep cooked rice in the refrigerator or freezer to use for many of those summer meals. The cold cooked rice can form the base of many an interesting salad or dessert. Or the rice can be reheated quickly in a covered pan with a small amount of water. Cooked rice, when covered and properly refrigerated, will be just as tasty seven days later and if held in a home freezer at zero degrees or less, will be just as palatable at the end of 8 months.

Gold Coast Bacon and Eggs Au Gratin
4 slices Canadian Bacon
1/2 cup cream
salt & pepper
2 English muffins
Butter or margarine
1 cup shredded cheddar cheese
Heat the slices of bacon in an oven-proof skillet. Add the cream and when it begins to simmer, carefully slip one egg onto each slice of bacon. Sprinkle with salt and pepper.

Corner

Poach eggs gently for about 3 minutes. While eggs are poaching toast English muffins in the broiler or toaster. When toasted spread each muffin with butter. Sprinkle these over eggs and put under broiler 3 inches from heat source for 2 minutes or until cheese bubbles. Serve immediately on toasted muffin halves.

Ground Beef Broiled on Toast
6 to 8 slices of bread
Fat
Salt & Pepper
1 lb. ground raw beef
2 to 3 tbsps. hot milk or undiluted evaporated milk.
Toast the bread on one side. Spread the uncooked side lightly with salt and pepper and add the milk. Spread the meat mixture over the uncooked side of the bread slices, covering evenly to the very edge. Broil by direct heat, under a flame or grill for 5 to 10 minutes. Dot with fat if desired. Serve hot.

Kitchen tools need oiling? Apply a little glycerin with an eye dropper. If any glycerin accidentally gets into the food don't worry. It's harmless.

Mexican Cookies
Mix and put in refrigerator until cold:
1 cup oleo or butter
3 tbsps. powdered sugar
2 cups sifted flour
1 tsp. vanilla
1 cup chopped nuts
Shape into size of walnuts
Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes or until edges are slightly brown. Dip in powdered sugar.
Gift picture frames will have a lovely luster if they are rubbed with a little turpentine.

PAR OR BETTER

By JULIUS BOROS
U.S. OPEN CHAMPION
1-Grip Is Basic

Most people don't realize it, but the primary difference between a good golfer and a bad one lies in the grip—probably the most basic element of any player's game.

Without a sound grip, your chances of ever becoming a good golfer are quite remote. Conversely, once you have mastered a sound grip, you are on your way toward graduating from the class of the duffers.

Such outstanding golfers as Cary Middlecott and others insist that if a player attains a good grip and a correct stance, a good swing is almost sure to result automatically.

I'm inclined to agree with this theory. Speaking of theories, I'd like to state right here at the beginning of this series that I am not a great theorist in golf. I have a very simple philosophy.

I'm going to attempt to tell you about instructional golf that has worked out satisfactorily for me.

I'm going to pass along to you the method which I attempt to follow, and relate to you what I think I do when I swung a golf club. If it pans out well for you, I will be as pleased as you.

I want to emphasize, however, the following two points from the start:

All the instruction in the world is useless without practice. Visit your own professional early and often.

Palmer Changes Tactics As PGA Tees Off

Heat's On In Texas; TV Promoters Hit

DALLAS (UPI) — Arnold Palmer, noted for his charging on the fairways, changed his tactics today as he began his bid for the PGA, the only major golf championship he never has won.

Due to tee off at 1:08 p.m. (CST) when the searing Texas heat is usually at its blistering worst, Palmer planned three changes in his game.

Because he has been driving poorly, he is going to try his No. 1 iron and his No. 3 wood off the tee whenever possible; because of the heat he is going to walk slowly between shots, and because of the big greens on the DAC Country Club course he planned on lagging his putts.

"You are going to have to be careful on the greens here or you are going to wind up with a lot of three-putt greens," Palmer predicted.

"So when I leave myself long putts, I'm going to concentrate on lagging the first putt up there in the hope I'll leave myself a short second."

As for giving up on his driver, he hoped that his one iron and three wood would give him more accuracy.

"You are going to get hurt here if you don't keep your drives on the fairway because of the heavy rough," he said.

This is Palmer's sixth try for the PGA title. The closest he has come was in 1961 when he tied for fifth.

Palmer, U.S. Open champion Julius Boros, Masters champion Jack Nicklaus and the PGA defending titleholder, Gary Player, were rated as the players to beat in this 48th annual tournament for the nation's golf professionals.

But at least a dozen others in the 167-man field were rated as good bets—including big George Bayer, Tony Lama, Mike Souchak, Don January, Phil Rodgers, British Open champion Bob Charles and Bo Wininger.

The field started teeing off at 7 a.m. with Ed Whalley of Newton Center, Mass., hitting the first ball. The last threesome were to tee off at 3 p.m. After Friday's second round, the field will be cut to the low 75 and ties for the final two rounds of play on Saturday and Sunday.

"Your average club professional is lucky to average an income of from $4,500 to $6,000 a year," he explained.

"When they get to be in their 30's or 40's, they still have to get out and hustle to make ends meet."

But television, with its ever-increasing jackpots for big sporting events, could be the answer to their woes with a PGA pension plan paid for by televising major PGA events.

"No organization in sports ever has lost the income we should be making and which, in no time, could set up a profitable pension plan for every golf professional in the country," Furgol contended.

"We simply aren't selling our product. But, when somebody knocks at the door, we take whatever they are offering."

By Oscar Fraley
UPI Sports Writer

DALLAS (UPI) — Professional golf is selling itself down the television river, outspoken former U. S. Open champion Ed Furgol said today, and should be picking up vast sums by producing its own spectaculars instead of letting individual promoters lap up the gravy.

"Baseball and football are earning fantastic sums for their pension funds by selling their products to television without useless intermediaries," said Furgol bluntly.

"We should be doing the same thing but are letting outsiders take these choice plums for a pittance because of inadequate leadership."

A case in point, he argued, was the "World Series of Golf."

"The sponsors pay $500,000 to the promoter, who also receives half of the gate receipts," Furgol said. "That's another $15,000 to the promoter received $315,000. Out of this he pays $75,000 to the players and a mere $7,500 to the PGA."

"You don't have to be a genius to figure out what the PGA is throwing away by letting outside promoters take over what should be our show," he added.

"After all, we own the talent and should be able to sell it ourselves if we had the personnel to exploit it properly."

Furgol talks not for himself because, as he admits, "I have been very fortunate in this game." But the man who fought his way to the top despite a withered left arm pleads the case of the aging pro with no tournament laurels to brighten his later years.

Houk's Accent On Youth Pays Big Dividends

By United Press International

When in doubt, decide in favor of youth.

That's been manager Ralph Houk's policy since he became manager of the New York Yankees in 1961 and it has paid off dramatically in the cases of pitcher Jim Bouton and first baseman Joe Pepitone.

The ultimate payoff, barring a spectacular uprising by some American League contender, looks like a romp to Houk's third straight pennant.

In May, 1962, Houk was faced with a choice between veteran Robin Roberts and Bouton. He decided in favor of Bouton. And last winter Houk approved the trade of veteran Bill Skowron on the grounds that he had 22-year-old Pepitone waiting in the wings.

Both moves have paid off handsomely. Bouton has developed into a 12-game winner this season while Pepitone is hitting .288 with 15 homers. Roberts is below .500 with the Orioles and Skowron is batting .217 for the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Bouton pitched a seven-hitter and struck out eight and Pepitone had a homer and a single when the Yankees whipped the Minnesota Twins, 4-0, Wednesday night before a crowd of 42,004—the largest ever to see a baseball game in Minnesota. The loss dropped the pennant-hopeful Twins 7½ games behind the front-running world champions.

The Chicago White Sox beat the Washington Senators 8-2, the Detroit Tigers routed the Baltimore Orioles, 8-1, the Kansas City Athletics whipped the Boston Red Sox, 8-1, and the Los Angeles Angels topped the Cleveland Indians, 7-2 and 1-0, in other American League games.

A Hero A Day Dodgers' Way To Pennant

By United Press International

The Los Angeles Dodgers are operating on the theory that a hero a day will keep the contenders away.

Sandy Koufax, Johnny Podres, Maury Wills, Tommy Davis—they've all taken their turns in the spotlight as the Dodgers have increased their National League lead to 6½ games and their won-lost percentage to .620.

And when they're not tearing up the peapatch, it seems that there's always somebody else—somebody like Ron Fairly or Ron Ferranoski.

Fairly, who's been with the Dodgers since 1960 but rarely gets any publicity, and Ferranoski, who's been with them since 1961 and is only beginning to get some, combined Wednesday night to enable the Dodgers to down the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3-2. The Dodgers have now won nine of their last 11 games and 14 of their last 17.

Fairly drove in two runs with a second-inning homer and a fourth inning double and then Ferranoski went to Bob Miller's rescue in a seventh-inning jam and shut out the Pirates with two hits the rest of the way. Miller received credit for his seventh win while Vern Law lost his fourth game.

The big Dodger drive has the other contenders gasping for breath—especially the San Francisco Giants, whose 9-7, 11th-inning loss to the New York Mets Wednesday night was their eighth in 10 games.

The St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Cincinnati Reds, 3-1, the Milwaukee Braves beat the Chicago Cubs, 6-4, in 12 innings and the Philadelphia Phillies scored a 10-9, 10th-inning win over the Houston Colts in other NL games.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a 16-year-old boy and just got my driver's license last week. My parents let me drive only to do errands. Yesterday at 3:30 P.M. my mother gave me the grocery list and the keys to the car. On the way to the store I circled the block to pick up a friend for company. There was another kid at his house who had a big heavy box of records to haul home. He only lived four blocks so I offered to drive him home. Well, after that on my way to the store I hit a dog. Now, Abby, I wasn't going to let that dog lay there in the middle of the street, so I found the owner and took her and the dog to the vets. To make a long story short, I got home at ten after six and now I can't drive until I'm 21. Do you think that's fair?

GROUNDLED

DEAR GROUNDLED: That's a pretty stiff penalty, but I suspect you were "sentenced" during the highest peak of the emotional storm. Behave yourself, and don't mope about it—and I'll bet you'll be driving again by Christmas.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has a relative who has done all our tax work for years. He's a CPA and a very good one. I admit it was handy; besides he never charged us anything. This year I told my husband I didn't want his CPA relative handling our tax forms because if he's like most men, he talks his business over with his wife. And why should she know all about our income and tax deductions? My husband said he was sure this relative didn't tell his wife anything. But I'd still rather take our tax forms to a total

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

It is remarkable how often an expert will find a safety play to make a contract that other players would lose.

North bid too much and the final contract was nothing to brag about, but Eddie Rosen of Chicago, who played the hand, managed to bring it home.

He could not have made it against a heart lead, but West opened the ace of trumps and shifted to the queen of clubs and then on Eddie was in complete control of everything.

He took his ace of clubs, led a heart to dummy's king,

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

A woman writes that her son and his new bride will make their home in her town, and that her fondest hope is that her daughter-in-law will like her.

This mother is off to a good start. She realizes the importance of the mother-in-law relationship, and wants to make it a pleasant one in her family.

I once heard a woman say: "I made up my mind I'd like any girl my son married." That is important. Since a mother can't pick a wife for her son, it's up to her to like the girl he picks out for himself.

And if you like her—and show that you do—she is almost sure to like you.

I believe at the start of their marriages most girls want their husband's mother to like them. It isn't until after she gets the feeling that a mother-in-law is unwilling to let the young folks lead their own lives that the daughter-in-law feels she must prove who is head woman with her man.

So if you are glad that your son is marrying and making a home of his own; if you accept the girl he chose instead of measuring her actions against the yardstick of your own preferences; if you resolve never to offer unsolicited advice or interfere in their plans—you'll get along all right with your daughter-in-law.

But in your desire to make your son's wife like you, don't work too hard at it. A new marriage can stand a lot of letting alone from the parents on both sides. Let your daughter-in-law know that she has a friend in you and that you'll be there whenever she needs your help—but trust her to come.

Fish Fry Scheduled July 20 By Club At Blue Springs Park

By Mrs. Adam Muller
Members of the U. S. Coast Guard attended the July 10th meeting of the DeBary Fishing Club held at the Fire Recreation Hall and presented films on boating safety.

They were Commander Clifford Bohren, Florida No. 7, DeLand; Walter Davis, Publicity Officer, No. 7, DeLand; Bob Gibbs, Vice Commander of No. 411, and Sam Levy, Division Operation Officer of No. 411.

Films shown were "Boating Safety and Courtesy Afloat" and from the American Red Cross, "People Afloat."

The guests were introduced by Howard Middleton and Vice Commander Bob Gibbs spoke on the proper way to ready equipment when returning from a boat trip so as to not hold up other boaters when taking your craft from the water.

The date for the club's Fish Fry to be held at Blue Springs Park has been changed to Saturday, July 20, at 12 o'clock noon. Most of the fish will be supplied by John Coppen, a past president of the club and Roger Kane is in charge of securing the fish fry pots and gas to cook the fish.

There will be signs placed at the ramp at the foot of Highbanks Rd. and benches for resting. Members are asked to bring their own tableware, a covered dish and beverage. Paper plates will be furnished by the club.

James Rucker spoke to the members about doing something for the youth of DeBary who want to go fishing, as between 20 and 40 youngsters have signed up for this activity. The club voted to furnish fishing lines and assist the young people.

Clyde Wright presided at the meeting and the treasurer, Archie Long reported a balance of $136 in the treasury.

Three new members joining the club were H. Lyons, George Weimer, and James Rucker.

Fire Truck Fund Upped By $1,000

By Donna Estes
A thousand dollars has been deposited in the bank out of the proceeds from the Longwood Fire Department's annual Fourth of July Fiesta toward the goal of a new fire truck. Fire Chief Claude Layo announced today.

Layo stressed the fact that a new fire truck would be for the betterment of the whole town and since the firemen raise most of the funds on their own municipal taxes are kept down.

He also reminds residents that insurance rates are low due to the fact that Longwood has an active group of volunteer firemen.

Legislators By - Pass $150 Million Saving Rep. Jan Fortune Says Bill Ignored

By Jane Casselberry
Seminole County's first Republican office holder, Rep. Jan Fortune, reported his experiences in the legislature at a meeting of the Seminole County Young Republican Club at the Howell Park Civic Center. He answered questions from the group concerning bills passed.

Due to his experience as a cost reduction and analysis expert, he was interested in cutting down waste and saving the taxpayer money.

He presented his ideas to Gov. Farris Bryant and consequently wrote and introduced a bill in the House which, he says, could save the state $150 million.

Unfortunately the bill was not put on the calendar until late in the session and did not receive due consideration.

Fortune voted against tax increases and the bond issue because he felt that 10 to 20 per cent waste should be trimmed from the budget making these measures unnecessary.

Much interest was shown by the group in the 875 million bond issue which will be voted on by the people in November along with a proposal to change the election for governor to off-presidential years.

Fortune stated that much of the opposition to the bond issue was not opposition to higher education but to bonded indebtedness, which is unconstitutional, and to the waste included in the proposal.

Contrary to the mistaken ideas given by the press that the bond issue will guarantee construction of a four-year university in East Central Florida, Fortune stated that no provision for construction funds is made, only $200 thousand for study and analysis, survey of sites, etc.

One million dollars is set aside for an extension of the University of Florida engineering school and the remainder goes to established universities and junior colleges throughout the state.

Fortune served on the claims, pensions, and atomic committees and sat in with the appropriations and finance and tax committees.

Fortune closes his report with this heartfelt statement, "In my opinion Boys' State is one of the finest youth programs in the nation today. It not only encourages an impenetrable spirit of Americanism, but teaches the government of our state. The duty of Boys' State is not just to return home and forget Boys' State, but to spread that spirit of Americanism, which is necessary for combating the most dreaded threat to our freedom today, Communism."

Better Insight In Democracy Gained By 2 Lyman Students

PAVELCHAK

By Jane Casselberry
Two Lyman High School students returned home Saturday with a greater insight into what makes Democracy tick following a rigorous and inspiring week at American Legion Boys' State held at Florida State University in Tallahassee.

They are Joey Pavelchak, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pavelchak, Fern Park, who was sponsored by American Legion Old Glory Post 183, Fern Park, and Johnny Haynes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Finney Haynes of Longwood, sponsored by Memorial Post 256 of Casselberry.

Their week started Sunday, July 7, when the boys arrived and were assigned a city and a roommate in Smith Hall. Boy's State is divided into 8 counties and 17 cities with a population this year of 544 representatives.

They were addressed by the dean of F. S. U. and the president of the student body. The District Commander of the American Legion acquainted the boys with the intensive schedule they were to follow throughout the week.

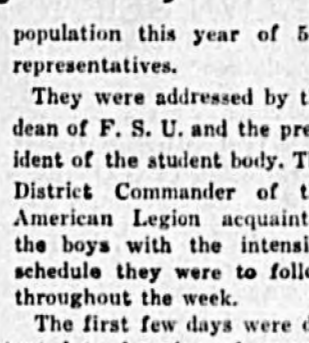

The first few days were devoted to learning of government and the election of city and county officials. Johnny was elected Chief of Police and County Commissioner, but Joey was saving his steam for the House and Senate elections held Wednesday.

He was privileged to be elected to the House of Representatives and spent Thursday and Friday helping pass legislation. (In the past some laws passed by the youthful legislators have been eventually introduced and passed by the state legislature.) Joey says "I was lucky enough to acquire Jan Fortune's seat in the House and this was an unforgettable experience for me, as I know it was for the other members."

There were 4 schools which the boys could enter—Law Enforcement, Civil Service and Government Careers, Legislative Procedure and Law. Johnny chose Law School, passed his Bar exam and was licensed to practice law, but just at Boys' State.

Still another phase of Boys' State was the separation into political parties... the Nationalists and Federalists... who wrote platforms and tried to get their candidates elected to state offices. A governor, cabinet members and Supreme Court Judges were elected giving the young voters their first experience with a voting machine.

Cadets from the Air Force Academy in Colorado and

HAYNES

West Point addressed the group and showed training films. 17 foreign military representatives from Laos, Vietnam, Italy, Iran and Iraq attended the Boys' State as observers.

Many qualified speakers on Americanism and government were heard throughout the week, but the highlight was an inspiring talk by Gov. Farris Bryant at the inauguration of newly elected officials on Friday morning.

Boys' Nation representatives were introduced on Friday night.

Joey closes his report with this heartfelt statement, "In my opinion Boys' State is one of the finest youth programs in the nation today. It not only encourages an impenetrable spirit of Americanism, but teaches the government of our state. The duty of Boys' State is not just to return home and forget Boys' State, but to spread that spirit of Americanism, which is necessary for combating the most dreaded threat to our freedom today, Communism."

Fortune stated that much of the opposition to the bond issue was not opposition to higher education but to bonded indebtedness, which is unconstitutional, and to the waste included in the proposal.

Contrary to the mistaken ideas given by the press that the bond issue will guarantee construction of a four-year university in East Central Florida, Fortune stated that no provision for construction funds is made, only $200 thousand for study and analysis, survey of sites, etc.

One million dollars is set aside for an extension of the University of Florida engineering school and the remainder goes to established universities and junior colleges throughout the state.

Fortune served on the claims, pensions, and atomic committees and sat in with the appropriations and finance and tax committees.

Fortune closes his report with this heartfelt statement, "In my opinion Boys' State is one of the finest youth programs in the nation today. It not only encourages an impenetrable spirit of Americanism, but teaches the government of our state. The duty of Boys' State is not just to return home and forget Boys' State, but to spread that spirit of Americanism, which is necessary for combating the most dreaded threat to our freedom today, Communism."

Court of Honor Slated Monday

By Jane Casselberry
Boy Scout Troop 341 of Casselberry will hold a covered dish Family Supper and Court of Honor next Monday at 7 p.m.

Each family attending is asked to bring a covered dish, salad or dessert and their own table service.

The Scouts who have earned advancement will receive their awards at this time.

A special incentive for the boys to advance has been the advancement requirement made for the Scout trip to the Smokies next month aboard the troop bus. In preparation for the trip the boys were given their physical examinations Monday by Dr. Stanley Rapaport.

The Scouts who plan to make the 2 week trip have been busy earning funds to pay their way, as well as working on their advancement.

The Scouts will leave Casselberry on Sunday, August 4.

Cub Scout Troop Visits Herald

By Jane Casselberry
Cub Scout Den 2, Pack 549 of Casselberry toured the Sanford Herald Tuesday afternoon and learned how the newspaper is printed.

Cubs who went on the field trip were John Lockyer, John Harwood, David Miller, and Douglas and David Beek. They were accompanied by Den Mothers Mrs. Frances Setje and Mrs. Lois Lockyer and Carl Setje and Cliff and Clint Lockyer.

Previous field trips the Den has made this summer were to Silver Springs and Moss Park. They are planning to go to Gatortland and the Orlando Forge in the near future.

DOTTIE Austin of the Herald staff tells Cub Scout Den 2 of Casselberry how news is received on the teletype machines as the boys toured the newspaper plant on Tuesday, with Den Mother Frances Setje.

Telephone Building Is Dynamited

THIS HOT WEATHER doesn't bother pretty 17-years-two-days old Ann Mahan. Herald photographer Bill Vincent this morning found her cooling off at the lawn sprinkler in the rear yard of her home on Elliott Avenue

Bombing First Such Violence During Strike
TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — A General Telephone Company office building north of here was dynamited early today as talks continued in an effort to halt the bitter and sometimes violent strike.

Today's blast was caused by a bomb planted near the corner of the building. A guard, Harold Widner, 46, was in the building at the time but was not injured.

It was the first reported bombing attempt in the nine-day-old strike which has resulted in continued cable cuttings, damage to other company property and beating of two company employees repairing cables.

A company spokesman said the blast this morning left a four or five foot hole in the ground, and cracked the wall of the building. But he said the blast did not leave a hole in the wall although the bricks were loosened and a person could see through the spaces.

The company said the bomb was identified by air force demolition men as being dynamite and said it apparently had been planted with the intent of blowing up a cable and at the same time damaging equipment in the building.

There was no apparent cable or equipment damage and service was not interrupted.

Meanwhile federal mediator John I. Kenney met this morning with union leaders and planned to meet later with company officials.

Striking electrical workers continued to push for arbitration of the eight-day-old strike. But the company has rejected any suggestion at arbitration.

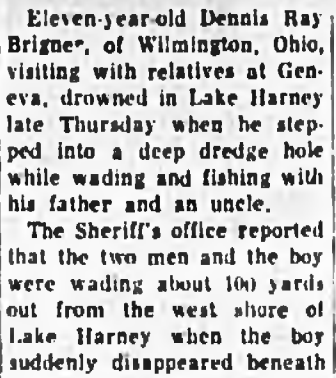

A Miami eye doctor said that if you look directly at the sun while it is partly obscured by the silhouette of the moon as the moon passes it and earth, infrared rays will burn the retina of your eyes "but you won't feel a thing."

Many doctors and other experts warned that the sun should not be viewed during an eclipse in any way, not even through heavily smoked glasses or other such devices.

The moon is due to begin crossing the face of the sun at about 3:53 p.m. Saturday in North Florida, and about 4:15 p.m. in the Keys. The height of the show should come at between 4:55 and 5:08 p.m. depending on location in the state, and it will all be over by about 6 p.m.

In Florida, the moon will cover about half the face of the sun at the height of the eclipse.

Father, Uncle Have Close Call As Boy Drowns Here

Eleven-year-old Dennis Ray Brigner, of Wilmington, Ohio, visiting with relatives at Geneva, drowned in Lake Harney late Thursday when he stepped into a deep dredge hole while wading and fishing with his father and an uncle.

The Sheriff's office reported that the two men and the boy were wading about 100 yards out from the west shore of Lake Harney when the boy suddenly disappeared beneath the water.

His father, Carl Brigner went after the boy, but he also began to flounder and the uncle Tom Kinard went out to help the father. Kinard too began to flounder in the deep water of the dredge hole which Sheriff J. L. Hobby said was at least 30 feet deep.

An elderly Negro man, Evans Bacon, who was fishing nearby then ran out to the aid of the two men, extending his fishing pole to them. They were able to grasp the pole, while Bacon pulled them back to safety.

The Sheriff's office reported that they received the emergency call at 7:45 p. m. and Hobby and Deputies

Charles Fagan and Wesley Place raced to the scene. With the aid of a boat and a grappling hook, supplied by Bert Baxter of Geneva, the body of young Dennis was recovered in about 30 feet of water at 9:30 p. m.

Dennis was born August 29, 1952 in Portsmouth, Ohio and made his home at 411 Dana Ave. in Wilmington, Ohio.

He was a member of the Church of the Nazarene and the Boy Scouts.

Survivors are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brigner, two brothers, David and Donald and a sister, Patricia all of Wilmington; also his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Trilby Brigner of Portsmouth, Ohio.

The body is being sent today to Wilmington for services and burial. Gramkow Funeral Home is in charge of local arrangements.

Florida To See Partial Eclipse

MIAMI (UPI) — The moon will partially eclipse the sun over Florida Saturday between about 4 and 6 p.m., and scientists and doctors intensified warnings today against direct viewing of the rare phenomenon.

A Miami eye doctor said that if you look directly at the sun while it is partly obscured by the silhouette of the moon as the moon passes it and earth, infrared rays will burn the retina of your eyes "but you won't feel a thing."

They will not catch up to it, but they will be able to see the total eclipse for longer than the 39 seconds it will be visible to teams on the ground.

More important, they will be able to see much of the earth's atmosphere, and thus able to take clear photographs of the rare event and study it with precision.

Driscoll Boy's Condition 'Good'

Bobby Driscoll, 14 year old son of Navy Chief and Mrs. Lewis Driscoll of 203 Laurel Drive in Pinecrest is reported today to be in "good condition and out of danger."

Bobby was the victim of a shark bite which lacerated his hand and arm while he was swimming at New Smyrna Beach, Monday.

He now can move his fingers and Mrs. Driscoll said that doctors told her Bobby is out of danger and will regain the use of his fingers.

Chief Driscoll is attached to VAH 9 at the Sanford Naval Air Station.

They will not catch up to it, but they will be able to see the total eclipse for longer than the 39 seconds it will be visible to teams on the ground.

More important, they will be able to see much of the earth's atmosphere, and thus able to take clear photographs of the rare event and study it with precision.

West Taking Calculated Risk With Test Ban

LONDON (UPI) — The United States and Britain will be taking a calculated risk in agreeing to a nuclear weapons test ban with the Soviet Union which leaves Red China free to test as she pleases.

Any test ban agreement now under negotiation with the Soviets in Moscow will not be binding on either power. There is no reason to assume that either Red China, or for that matter, France, will accede to any treaty.

But the United States and Britain want at least to make sure the Soviet Union will not pass on nuclear weapons know-how to Red China or use Red China as a veiled testing ground while the West lives up to its commitment.

The Allies, in turn will refrain from assisting France in nuclear testing.

The Anglo-American test ban draft treaty on banning explosions in the atmosphere, under water and on the ground, now under consideration in the Moscow talks specifically suggests such a safety clause.

The Western draft treaty proposes an undertaking by the three big nuclear powers to "refrain from causing, encouraging, or in any way participating in the carrying out of any nuclear weapons test explosion anywhere."

The rejection was contained in a letter drawn up by the Buddhist Inter-Sect Committee in response to Diem's personal broadcast Thursday night announcing orders aimed at "eliminating any suspicion" and asking for unity against the Communists.

The government followed up the broadcast today by inviting Buddhist leaders to meet with an inter-ministerial committee. But the Buddhist leaders said they did not want to enter the talks until they have received further assurances of the government's intentions.

They looked like they were ready to operate," she said. "I got scared and called the American Embassy after the doctors advised me to go to the hospital. The embassy was no help. They said I should go."

But Miss Winters said she stood her ground and the doctors "pumped my stomach out in the hotel room."

Noticed today that one of the Seminole County trucks has pained on its side "arthropod control." Arthropod means "jointed feet or limbs" and includes such things as insects, spiders and crustaceans. That's our learn-something-new every day item.

Congressman Syd Herlong wrote The Herald today about receiving anonymous letters protesting the Democrats following the usual patronage system, just as the Republicans do when they are in power. "Enclosed is an example of a courageous type of correspondence I occasionally receive," writes the Congressman. "This correspondent is afraid to sign his name but he is not adverse to displaying his ignorance of the political facts of life."

Another plaudit for the police: They do not confine their activities to harassing criminals. For example, Sanford police today received a call from the DeLand police, stopped a woman motorist driving through and informed her — much to her surprise — she had left her purse at a service garage in DeLand.

The party will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at Skate City roller rink, Fern Park.

Uh-oh. We left the name of Dr. Ken Peirce off when naming those who will occupy the new clinic building at the corner of San Carlos and Second Street. Dr. Peirce is associated with Drs. Parker and Stanley.

Queried as to what Seminole County representatives offered the State Board of Control as a site for the new university, one was quipped: "They offered them the whole darned county, if they will please give us the university!"

With a full-fledged university here and the barge canal almost a sure thing, in five years you won't recognize the county. We'll be a metropolitan area. Go, Seminole!

Sanford's young sportsmen can't be praised too highly. In every field, baseball, football, basketball, swimming and golf, Sanford's youngsters have been good enough to bring their teams into district and state championship play, all during this past year and right on through this summer. A tribute, too, to sports-minded adults who spend many long hours of volunteer "spare" time coaching and shaping the spirited local youngsters into championship material.

Academically, young Sanford scores well, too, with graduates of SIS and Ovidio and Lyman as well, pulling in some fine scholarships and academic and intellectual honors. You'll find our Navy youngsters well-represented among the winners, scholastically and athletically, too.

Shelley Sociable, But Not Her Stomach
NEW YORK (UPI) — Actress Shelley Winters just isn't used to so "much caviar, smoked salmon, sturgeon, chicken Kiev, vodka and wine."

That, she explained Thursday, was why she had to have her stomach pumped out in Moscow.

"The Russians drank toasts endlessly. They even drink a toast when you leave a room,"

AF Launches Two Secret Satellites

POINT ARGUELLO, Calif. (UPI) — Two secret satellites were launched by the Air Force Thursday, one of which provided a spectacular display shortly after dark that was visible in much of Southern California.

Police and sheriff's telephone switchboards were deluged with calls in cities and communities as far as 250 miles away.

The huge luminous tear-drop-shaped glow was caused by an Atlas rocket carrying an Agena space vehicle, but in keeping with its policy of secrecy, the Air Force refused to say even if the launch was a success.

A few hours earlier, the Air Force announced it had launched a satellite employing a Thor-Agena booster combination from adjacent Vandenberg Air Force Base.

This combination was used in the past to launch the Discoverer series — workhorses the Air Force used to gather vital information on radiation and recovery techniques.
