Such sweet sounds that Chris has found

RUSS WHITE

Chris is listening to the birds. He can not see them with his eyes but he feels them with his heart. And this is very satisfying.

Betty Moore brings her son to Fort Mellon Park almost every afternoon. She wheels him in a stroller from their home on Bay Avenue, four blocks away. Sometimes, Betty Moore gently lifts Chris from the stroller and places him on a blanket under an oak tree that is just a few yards from a small pond.

On Wednesday, Chris remained in his stroller, unable to play near the pond with his sister, Darrill. She was gathering wildflowers and occasionally getting too close to the pond. She is five years old and very active.

Chris is 14 and has been deprived the activity of others his age. Born with cerebral palsy, he cannot walk or run. He can't even see the others as they walk or run. But he can listen to the world he can not see and the place he enjoys listening the most is at Fort Mellon Park.

If Chris could talk, Betty Moore says her son would tell the world about his visits to the park. "He would not be able to say enough. This is his 'get-away-park,'" she said.

"That's the truth," said Moore's mother, Mary. "This was the place my parents brought me, and where I brought you (Betty) and your brother. You used to hate it when we had to go home. You'd cry."

Betty Moore tried to smile. She knows about redevelopment plans that threaten to reduce the size of - or eliminate - Fort Mellon Park.

"They better not take this away. Not even a half of it," Moore said. "This park belongs to families like ours. Some of us don't have big fancy places for the children to play. That's why there is a park."

Moore's mother said her most precious memories are of occasions at the park. "I caught my first fish in this little pond," Mary said. "I watched my son play baseball on the ball diamonds here. He was the only left-hander on his team."

Darrill came back to the picnic table where her mother and grandmother were sitting, and handed them tiny bouquets of wildflowers.

Chris was swaying softly from the waist up in his stroller. It was 12:30 in the afternoon. It was time for the family to go home. Mary drove away from the park. But Betty Moore pushed Chris home in his stroller. Darrill skipped alongside.

Slowly and quietly, the three faded from view. So did many of the birds.

Coach put on leave

By Dean Smith
HERALD STAFF WRITER

CASSELBERRY - Lake Howell High School girls' cross country and track coach Tom Hammtreee has been put on administrative leave because of inappropriate comments made to a female athlete who was formerly on his team.

Hammtreee, 53, is accused of making unsuitable comments about the girl's attitude on at least two occasions, and while the comments were not of a suggestive nature and no physical contact occurred, they did cause concern for the parents and the school district, according to school officials.

The girl requested a transfer after the incidents and is attending another high school.

An investigation is currently being conducted by the school district into the matter and on the teaching future of Hammtreee, who teaches psychology, at Lake Howell.

Blood needs critical after storm

By Vicki Belluccia

SANFORD - While Hurricane Georges bypassed this part of the state, the storm did cause some damage that could cost lives somewhere down the road.

But all of us can do something to help.

Recent rains and the threat of hurricane force winds have caused people to stay away from local blood donation centers, agency officials said.

"We are 2,000 units short," said Lori Wilson, marketing manager for the Central Florida Blood Banks. "We are very short on all blood types."

Though Wilson attributes the decline in donations to the weather, few people were willing to give blood at the branch of the Central Florida Blood Bank on Second Street in Sanford on Wednesday.

While employees there deferred official comments to their supervisors in Orlando, they did admit that donors had been coming in at a trickle for more than a week. The drop in donations, they said, had started when the weather turned inclement.

Wilson said the blood banks in Seminole, Orange and Osceola counties serve 17 hospitals. Some patients need 60 or 70 units of blood when they have surgery or some emergency need. Such drains on the system are depleting the supply very rapidly, she said.

Some non-emergency surgeries have had to be postponed because of a lack of blood, Wilson said. She noted that 800 donors are needed every day to catch up with the need.

"Surgeries are planned day-by-day based on the blood supply," she said. "And right now, a lot of them are being put off."

She said people who regularly donate are needed critically, but those who have never given blood before should make a first-time effort now as well. It will take the full effort of the community to help ease the need created by the current shortage.

"We need a lot of donors, 800 a day in the tri-county area, just to catch up," Wilson said. "The need is very critical."

Wilson, who described the state of the current blood supply amounts as "just absolutely terrible," said the drop off started more than two weeks ago when people shied away from going out to the branches and to blood mobiles because OVIEDO - Nestled in some straw under the watchful eye of their mother, the trio of newborn kittens don't look much different from a litter you might find in your laundry room.

But, as their mother proves, this is no felis catus. This is panthera tigris.

Snow tigers. These great cats have been extinct in the wild since 1947. Today, only about five dozen exist in the world, mostly in zoos and breeding facilities.

And now there are three more.

Curry encourages young voters to see the light

By Russ White
HERALD STAFF WRITER

SANFORD - Robert E. Curry,

Jr. has a ministry that is just as concerned about getting young people to vote as getting them to heaven.

Minister Curry has begun an aggressive voter registration drive in Seminole County that he intends to go countywide. Curry, 30, has visited each of the high schools in the county and is now working on the churches.

He also wrote to President Clinton and received a reply from the U.S. Department of Education. It's pretty hard to ignore or be against Curry's efforts.

County Commissioner Randy Morris was with Curry at a visit to Seminole Community College.

"No other generation this century has been as indifferent about being part of the democratic process," Morris said. "It's time each community addresses this concern - reaching this age group. Getting young people to vote."

Sanford Mayor Larry Dale has accompanied Curry on several of his stops. Dale said his own 18-year-old daughter

Advanced placement scholars named

Special to the Herald

SEMINOLE COUNTY - The Seminole County Public Schools have received notification from the College Board that 248 students have received special recognition for their exceptional achievement on the college-level Advanced Placement Examinations. Approximately 23 percent of America's graduating seniors have taken one or more AP Examinations. Only about 13 percent of the more than 635,000 students who took the exams in May 1998 performed at sufficiently high levels to merit such recognition.

The College Board recognizes several levels of achievement based on the number of year-long courses and exams (or its equivalent semester-long courses and exams).

Six Seminole County students qualified for the highest AP National Scholarship Award by earning an average grade of four or higher on eight or more AP Exams on full-year courses. These students are Victor Hung, Lake Mary High School; Jeanette Soares, Lake Mary High School; Jordan Wiens, Oviedo High School; Daniel Chafar, Lake Brantley; Phillip Graham, Lake Brantley; and David Rumsey, Lake Brantley.

AP Examinations, which students take in May after completing challenging college-level courses at their high school, are graded on a five-point scale (five being the highest). Most of the nation's

The way we were: Clippings from a 1942 paper

I recently came across a Sept. 9, 1942 edition of the Sanford Herald which gives a glimpse of activities in Sanford during World War II. Regular activities went on, but some had added twists because of the war.

Kiwanians hold postcard interclub

Sanford Kiwanians had a postcard interclub meeting with the Eustis club at their recent meeting. Instead of using gas, which was rationed, several Eustis club members sent post cards which were read. This type of meeting was originated by Ed Lane, chairman of the Inter Club Committee.

A large three and a half foot picture was presented to the club by Joe Marentette. This was an enlargement of a photograph made when the local club was providing celery for Boston Braves players to munch during training sessions the previous spring. Shown in the picture were Dorothy Sanford Gatchel sitting on top of a huge pile of celery near the scoreboard at Municipal Field. Kiwanians in the picture were president E.C. Harper, Lester Tharpe, Frank Shames and Dr. L.T. Doss.

R.W. Ware, using reverse psychology, told the group that they should wait until Sept. 29 or 30 to buy their driver's licenses so they could meet all their friends at the courthouse. Deadline was Oct. 1.

Pilot Club sells war bonds

At the recent Pilot Club meeting, Mrs. J.C. Mitchell, chairman of the Bond Drive, reported a total of $2,008 in the sale of bonds and stamps after only the fifth day.

Booths were located near the entrances to the Ritz Theater and Yowells Department Store for the convenience of those wishing to buy bonds and stamps.

Assisting Mrs. Mitchell on the committee were Mrs. Z.B. Ratliff, Mrs. W.L. Morgan, Mrs. Arthur Partin and Mrs. W.C. Erickson.

Also during the business meeting, presided over by Mrs. M.B. Smith, a committee was appointed to select a young woman interested in taking a course in engineering science and management at the University of Florida. This was to help provide young men and women for war industries.

GRACE M. STINE-CIPHER

$3.5 billion to the treasury in addition to the sharply increased taxes already approved by the House.

Vocational School Opens

The Sanford Vocational School, which was a regular part of the county school system, would open Thursday and Friday for registration of students. Mrs. May B. Maxwell, principal, announced.

Located on Commercial Street over the Kent Garage, the school trained persons for all types of clerical positions. Due to war conditions, there had been a very large enrollment and the same was expected for the coming year.

Class periods were being made longer so students could finish sooner. A "Victory Class" in shorthand was planned designed to turn out students in record time.

Miss Maxwell was assisted by Miss Clara Mettsch.

Oviedo school begins new year

Principal R.F. Cooper announced that 155 pupils were present at the Oviedo School started its 1942-43 term. (Remember that this was grades one through 12.) He also mentioned that the school's program had been adjusted to meet the demands of the students who wanted to help the war effort.

Addresses were made by Supt. T.W. Lawton and Rev. Hager. Only two changes were made in the faculty-Mr. Teague and Mrs. Stine replaced Miss Williams and Mrs. Aulin who had resigned.

According to James Henry Cooper, reporter, the Oviedo chapter of FFA had offered their cooperation with the Oviedo scrap iron drive.

Arthur Metcalf, newly elected president of the FFA, presided at the meeting which was also attended by Jack Malcolm, Tommy Staley, Leon Olliff, Marlowe Link, Daniel Lukas, Teddy Kimble, Lex Able, James H. Cooper and R.F. Cooper, advisor. R.F. Cooper celebrated his 100th birthday on Sept. 14.

Personals

Lois Hagan had left the previous Sunday for Bunnell where she had accepted a position as a teacher in a primary school.

Mrs. E.A. Monforton and daughters, Sandra and Sonja, had returned from a 10 day vacation in Hendersonville, N.C.

Mrs. George A. Wells had returned from Boston and Sanford, Maine where she had spent a short vacation. She was accompanied home by two of her daughters, Florence

Wells and Mildred Stemper who had spent the summer there.

The following reports were compiled from the Seminole County Sheriff's Office for incidents recorded Sept. 30:

Disorderly intoxication:

SANFORD, Orlando Drive, 3100 block, Sept. 29, 11:56 p.m. A 40-year-old man was found lying on the pavement outside a grocery store. Seminole County sheriff's deputies and emergency medical personnel responded to the scene. Deputies reported he responded in a "vulgar tone of voice" when asked why he was on the ground and was combative when medical personnel tried to examine him. When they tried to calm him, he challenged them to take him to jail. They complied with his request. Determining that the man was drunk, they arrested him for disorderly intoxication.

Domestic violence:

SANFORD, Cedar Creek Circle, 1400 block, Sept. 29, 12:01 a.m. A 27-year-old man and a woman who did not give her age were arrested by Seminole County sheriff's deputies. Deputies said they arrived to a complaint of a domestic dispute to find a man giving a bear hug to his sister while she screamed and struggled against him. Witnesses said they were arguing about his drug use when the woman asked her brother to leave. When he refused, she allegedly threatened him with a knife. Based on what they saw, deputies arrested him for domestic violence. During a routine check it was found she was wanted on an outstanding warrant so they brought the woman in with her brother.

Drugs:

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS, State Road 434, 900 block, Sept. 28, 7:00 p.m. A 32-year-old woman was arrested for obtaining a prescription by fraud by Altamonte Springs Police after she called in a prescription to a pharmacy and the pharmacy tried to verify the information. Police said the pharmacist talked to the doctor's office and was told that they had received similar calls from five pharmacies over the course of the day regarding the same woman trying to fill a prescription. When she returned to the store to get her medicine, she was arrested.

SANFORD, Mulberry and 10th Street, Sept. 29, 12:40 a.m. A 19-year-old man was arrested by Seminole County sheriff's deputies for possession of crack cocaine. Deputies said he was stopped for a traffic violation and they saw a beer spilled on the floorboard of his car. Finding he was underage, they said they asked to search his car and found that he had two open containers of beer in the car and they found a small tan rock which tested positive as cocaine.

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS, Ballard/Longwood Avenue, Sept. 29, 4:32 p.m. A 48-year-old man was arrested for possession of cocaine, driving with a suspended license and for an open container violation. Altamonte Springs Police stopped him for a traffic violation and said they knew his license had been recently suspended so they arrested him for that. During the arrest procedure, they searched him and found a rock of cocaine in his pocket and an open container of alcohol in his car.

CASSELBERRY, Cedar Bay Point, 2600 block, Sept. 29, 10:40 p.m. A 20-year-old man was arrested for possession of less than 20 grams of marijuana and possession of alcohol by a person under 21 years of age. Casselberry Police said the man was involved in a fight they were breaking up. He admitted to having had several drinks and had alcohol in his possession so he was arrested for that. ing program at Tigers Eye Productions in Oviedo, the three healthy cubs were born early on the morning of Sept. 19. Like a proud father showing off his healthy children, owner David McMillan introduces the tiny beauties to those who work and learn at his school and training facility.

"Aren't they beautiful?" he asks, knowing that a positive is the only appropriate response. The cubs, soft and motley, look almost grey with black stripes melded with the white allowing them to blend more easily with the ground on which they rest.

Only four or five ounces at birth, they tripled in size during their first week. By their first birthday, they will weigh close to 200 pounds. By the time they are three, they will weigh about 600 pounds each.

Their mother, Aasha, is 4-years-old, the equivalent of about 24 human years. Like their father, 4 1/2 year-old Samson, she is young and healthy. The pair might breed again one day, McMillan said. For now, they have given the world some beautiful treasures.

McMillan said the students at Tigers Eye have a unique opportunity to study a group of rare wild cats.

"This is a great opportunity for our students," he said. "Once they are weaned (in about three months) from their mother, they will have the had not yet registered despite his prompting. She is not alone apparently. Teen voter registration is embarrassingly low in most areas.

Among the letters of support to Curry is one from Sanye G. Jones, advisor of the Florida State Conference NAACP.

"We pledge our support and, of course, our services for this needed project," Jones wrote to Curry. "As NAACPers, we often refer to the vote that has not been cast as a 'Sleeping Giant.'"

Curry said that all the youngsters - not just African Americans - need to realize the power of their vote and the ease it takes to register.

"There are many who don't know that they can pre-register when they are 17," Curry said.

Curry said that the county is in the midst of a "great turmoil - race against race, brothers and sisters against each other, communities against communities and country against country. It is time for a change. A positive change."

He says that it is not enough to pray and wait for something to happen. He says the only way to make positive change is by the power of the vote.

"This means going into the schools, the churches, the public housing developments," Curry said. "The earlier people begin the vote, the more attuned they will be to the needs of their communities, their state and their county."

Born in Montgomery, Ala., Curry came to Florida to attend Lake Mary High School, serve in the military and then form in 1994 the Sanford-based Curry Ministries Inc. His unique calling card reads: "To God Be the Glory. Aspiring, Inquiring, Inspiring. Published-author, writer-poet, speaker, activist, teacher."

His ministry advocates maximizing sentences and fines and cleaning up public housing projects and other areas of troubled communities.

colleges and universities award credit, advanced placement, or both for grades of three or higher. More than 1,400 institutions award a year of credit (sophomore standing) to students representing a sufficient number of qualifying grades. There are 32 AP Examinations offered in 18 subject areas.

Don Smith, principal at Lake Howell, said Thursday morning that he did not feel it was appropriate for the school to make a comment on the situation at this time.

Hammontree, a veteran of 21 years of coaching at the school, is well respected in coaching circles and has been the state co-chairman for cross country for the Florida Athletic Coaches Association.

born, has been working with exotic animals for 38 years. He said that at 14, he ran away and joined the circus so that he could work with the animals. It wasn't easy, he said, but pursuing the thing you love is never easy.

Tigers Eye Productions is home to tigers, lions, leopards, snakes and other exotic creatures. Many of the residents are under contract to theme parks such as Splendid China where they perform. Some are featured in movies and television commercials.

The famous Exxon tiger, known for being in our tanks, leapt from the small screen into a role with Tigers Eye. He now lives in an enclosure adjoining the snow tigers' area.

McMillan said the school for humans who want to work with the exotic animals is a work-intensive eight-month course. There is, he said, no way to rush such an experience. The animals, their actions and habits, are the best teachers.

"Anyone who takes the course out here has to be ready to W-O-R-K," he said. "They have to have a commitment and a dedication to the animals."

In a world where the environment is constantly being threatened by man, McMillan said, the birth of these creatures is big news.

"This is bigger than whatever Bill Clinton and Monica Lewinsky do," he said. "This is much more important to our children, to their future, to society and to the environment. This is what is important."

The tiger cubs, their eyes still closed against a harsh world, nestle near their mother, whose sharp teeth and constant stare are enough to stave off any potential harm to her babies. They know nothing of a threatened environment or their endangered status. They know only that life, so far, is good.

And, if McMillan has anything to say about it, it will always be so for them.

Consider all factors in new business

PEOPLE'S LAW

MANNY ACEVEDO

Back in May we discussed some of the factors an individual starting a business should take into consideration when determining what business form is most beneficial to his or her particular situation. These factors include the nature of the business, the type of assets that the business will use, how those assets will be acquired and whether securities regulations will apply, by whom and how the business will be controlled, the tax consequences to the owner(s) and the business form, and the type of liability to which the business will be exposed.

In selecting the optimal business form for a business, the general partnership form should not be overlooked if two or more persons are contemplating going into business. The partnership form offers entrepreneurs many of the advantages of the sole proprietorship as well as some additional advantages. However, the partnership form also brings with it the main disadvantage of the sole proprietorship magnified.

Similar to the sole proprietorship form, a general partnership involves limited start-up costs. Florida law does not require partners to pay any registration fees or draft an agreement (although it is recommended) in order to establish the business. Therefore, a partnership's organizational start-up costs may be limited to the fee for the name registration, if applicable, and the city and county occupational licensing fees required for those partners who perform regulated work.

Another advantage of the partnership form is that the net gains of the partnership flow through to the partners individually and as such, the partners are not subject to double taxation. Similarly, the partners are able to set off on their personal taxes any income they receive from other sources with the losses and expenses of the partnership.

Another advantage is that, a sole proprietorship, a partnership does not have to lack continuity. The partners can agree to avoid dissolution of the partnership on the death of a partner. Also, a partnership may be less limited in terms of resources than a sole proprietorship and may have access to more funds and knowledge by virtue of having more owners.

Unfortunately, however, a general partnership, like a sole proprietorship, does not offer the owners any protection from personal liability for the liabilities of the partnership. A partner is liable for the debts and actions of the partnership to the full extent of his or her personal assets. This exposure to liability is greater than with a sole proprietorship because each partner is liable for the actions and negligence of any of the partners, not just for each individual partner's own actions or negligence.

The general partnership form offers entrepreneurs the advantage of relatively low start-up costs and tax advantages not available with other business forms. Additionally, a general partnership may provide for continuity of the business as well as for additional resources. However, the general partners of a partnership have the potential exposure to much more liability than the shareholders in a corporation or a sole proprietor would. Therefore, in deciding which business form is best for a particular business, the would-be owners should carefully weigh the pros and cons. In the coming weeks we will be discussing other forms of business as well as other aspects of business law.

Author, historian delights Beta Sigma Phi with ghostly tales

By Grace Blazepher
HERALD CORRESPONDENT

Charlie Carlson, 10th generation Floridian and author of "Strange Florida, the Unexplained and Unusual", enthralled those attending the recent annual All-Chapter Beta Sigma Phi Luncheon with his many tales of a ghostly nature.

Carlson began with the Mystery of Flight 19 which has baffled researchers, scientists and the navy for over 50 years. On Dec. 5, 1945, five aircraft took off from Fort Lauderdale on a routine training mission. A message was received that afternoon that the planes and all 14 crew members had vanished. The military launched a massive search which continued for a week, but nothing was found, and even with today's technology there has never been a trace of these aircraft and crew.

The Coral Castle Mystery is really about its builder, Edward Leedskalnin, a small 100-pound man, who accomplished an unbelievable engineering feat. He built a massive stone monument for his lost love in Florida City. When the area became too crowded, he dismantled and moved his structure to Homestead. No one knows how he managed to move 1100 tons of rock without mechanical assistance; in 1980 it took six men and a 60 ton crane to move it for repairs.

A wholesale souvenir warehouse in Miami was the site of the world's best documented poltergeist case. From December 1966 through February 1967 several workmen, a policeman, numerous journalists and others observed boxes jumping off shelves, mugs flying through the air, and other such weird activity. The phenomenon was never explained.

Other tales were told of various ghost sightings such as that of the Skunk Ape, a triangular shaped craft, an ape man, and headless phantoms.

The luncheon was held at Otters Riverside Restaurant and the menu included baked chicken, tossed salad, green beans almondine and roasted potatoes. There was also a special cake decorated with the founding dates of each chapter.

Laurel Tromblay, Sanford City Council president, recognized each chapter and introduced several guests including a few members' husbands. Special recognition was given to Kathy Carlson, a 48-year member, and Kathleen and Ed Golden who were celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary. Several door prizes were also given out.

Laureate Alpha Tau Chapter members were hostesses for the delightful affair.

Neighbor is a loser as a friend

DEAR ABBY: I have never written for advice before, but this really bugs me: A friend and neighbor of ours borrowed a very expensive gardening tool and broke a part on it.

My husband, "Walter," and I have always believed that when you break something you have borrowed, you repair it, get it repaired or replace it. Our neighbor brought the tool back and told Walter what had happened, but made no offer to pay for the repairs. So far, Walter has spent more than an hour on the phone trying to get information on repairs and parts. He'll have to travel at least an hour (there and back) to purchase the parts, and has been told they will cost at least $40.

ADVICE

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

When Walter approached our neighbor about the problem, the guy responded, "I don't have a problem!" Then he reluctantly offered to pay half the cost.

Walter is afraid that if he presses the issue, he'll lose this friend.

Abby, I'm married to a nice guy, but I think he's being played for a sucker. I told Walter that if it were my tool, I'd have it repaired, forget about getting reimbursed, and never loan anything to this neighbor again.

We've been married almost 50 years and never had a problem like this before. All our friends have been real friends. I contend this neighbor is no friend, only a user. However, he is a neighbor, so that complicates the matter.

Is there a solution I'm overlooking here?

MRS. NICE GUY

DEAR MRS. NICE GUY: No.

Your gut reaction is right on target.

The Quiz's death stole a piece of my youth

SANFORD - Suddenly, I feel a lot older. I'm not a kid anymore.

This column was supposed to be about some of the wackier things I've seen this fall on the local sports scene.

Then, across the bottom of my television, some horrible news was flashed.

"Former Royal Dan Quisenberry, 45, died of a brain tumor."

A lot of you don't even know who Quisenberry, or Quiz as everyone called him, was. He was a great relief pitcher for the Kansas City Royals who changed the sport in the early 1980s.

Quiz never got the attention he deserved. He threw the ball underhanded and relied on his sinker when the game's bullpen heroes like Rich Gossage and Lee Smith got people out with 100-mile-per-hour fastballs.

But Quiz led the Royals to the playoffs in 1980, 1981, 1984 and 1985. He won a World Series.

That's not all there was about Quiz. Let me explain.

Although I grew up in Baltimore, Quiz was my boyhood hero. I worshipped those Royals teams. George Brett, Frank White, Dennis Leonard, Paul Splittorff. They were gods playing half a country away.

Now this was the day before cable was big. That meant every morning I had to race to the newspaper box to get the box scores of the previous night. Around 1979, I noticed the Royals won a game and a guy named Ganbry pitched. They abbreviated names in the boxes back then.

Then, his quotes started to turn up in The Sporting News and other national magazines.

I had all of them; that was the only way to find out about the Royals.

Quiz was extremely quotable. He always had the great one-liner and he never made himself out to be more than he was: an underhand pitcher who got by on his control and a terrific Royals' infield.

Quiz called his fastball the Peggy Lee (Is That All There Is).

Once he gave up a homer to Reggie Jackson that never looked like it would land. It was supposed to sink. Quiz called that his Titanic pitch.

He was also a stand-up guy. In the 1980 series, he got rocked twice and took the blame both times.

He never took himself too seriously and that's partly how he became my hero.

First, it was George Brett. Then one day, I

Lions beginning to roar

Oviedo boys claim fourth volleyball win in a row

By Jeff Berlinicke
ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

OVIDEO - A few weeks ago, talk about VolleyFest was taboo around the Oviedo boys' volleyball team.

The Lions won the prestigious tournament last season for the first time in their history and finished with a 28-1 record.

But coming into this fall, coach Tim DeZego and his players were going by the standard "one game at a time" philosophy.

But after last night's 15-2, 18-16 win over Lake Howell, the word VolleyFest was being passed all around the Oviedo post-game meeting.

DeZego said he doesn't mind talking about it by now, with the tournament which crowns the unofficial state champions just a month away.

"At the beginning of the year, our goal was just to get back there," DeZego said. "But now, I'm really happy with their progress. We're getting better with each game."

At times that was true against Lake Howell. Oviedo is a powerful

Anthony Bracco (left) and Turner Elliott (right) keyed a powerful Oviedo attack as the Lions won the first game 15-2, then

Nobles Communication slugs way into lead

By Dean Smith
HERALD SPORTS EDITOR

SANFORD - Nobles Communication pounded out 32 hits, including 18 for extra bases, and outslugged Pebble Junction, 32-20, to take over leadership of the City of Sanford Recreation Department Men's Fall Wednesday Night Slow Pitch Softball League at Pinchurst Park.

In the other games, Bayliner Marine scored in every inning to win its first game of the year, 16-9, over Adapco at Pinchurst Park and Wells Contracting also won its first games of the season, sweeping a doubleheader at Chase Park.

Nobles Communication scored eight runs in the top of the first inning, but it was not until it scored 12 runs in the fourth inning did the undefeated squad start to pull away.

Bayliner Marine took a 15-3 lead in the top of the sixth inning before Adapco mounted a late rally to make the final score respectable.

Wells Contracting scored in all five innings it batted, including book-end eight run first and fifth innings, and defensively held Alamo Rent-A-Car to eight singles in winning its initial game, 24-4.

Wells Contracting then evened its season record at 2-2 when the Lynch Mob did not show for the nightcap.

Last night's games were make-ups from games rained out on September 18th. The games were made up now as Chase Park will be closing in the near future to be turned into a

Jeff Johnson has rushed for over 900 yards and nine touchdowns, while playing about half of the game, to lead the Seminole freshman football team to a 4-1 record.

Johnson becoming a standout on the field and in the classroom

By Kellie Werner
HERALD STAFF WRITER

SANFORD - On every team there seems to be that one player that stands slightly above the rest.

For the Seminole High School freshman team, that player is Jeff Johnson.

And Johnson is a stand out both on the field and in the classroom, which is a definite recipe for success.

"I love playing football," Johnson said. "Especially since I get to hit people back when they hit me."

"And I know that I have to keep my grades up for two reasons...so I can play and so I can go to college."

On the field, Johnson shows signs of being one of the most talented fullbacks in the county. In the first four games of the season, Johnson racked up over 900 yards and nine touchdowns.

In the fourth game against Lake Howell, Johnson only played half of the game because the team had such a huge lead. During that half, he had five carries for 220 yards and four touchdowns.

On Tuesday night against Lake Mary, Johnson again was pulled from the game early due to a sizable lead by Seminole and on six carries scored three times.

Johnson realizes, however, that he is part of a team and while he would like to play as much as possible, he understands when the back-ups are put in.

"I don't get angry when I have to come out of the game," Johnson explained. "I understand. I am part of a team and my teammates are my friends. I'm happy for the guy who plays behind me when he gets to play."

Casko realized from the beginning that Johnson would be a great contributor to his team.

"Jeff has superior athletic ability," Casko said. "And he came with a winning attitude. He gets upset when we don't win, which is understandable."

But the extent to which he is bothered is something that we have been working on. He has improved 100% and has become a role model for the other players. He loves the sport and understands what he needs to do."

Part of Johnson's abilities might have come to him through heredity. His father was a stand-out at Leesburg High School and has given helpful advice, and maybe even a few athletic genes, to Johnson.

Besides the help from his father, Johnson has also learned the game by doing. He played on a city league team for five years, two of them in Sanford after he moved here when his family relocated.

Last summer, when Johnson decided that he wanted to try out for the high school team, he worked hard and began light training in the weight room.

He said he liked lifting weights because he knew that working hard would only help him to improve his playing skills.

Another skill that Johnson is working hard at improving is studying.

There is a very comprehensive tutoring program in place for the football team at Seminole, complete with weekly progress reports and after school help.

Johnson attends every session and follows up with solid studying at home. His grades are improving team that plays the power game.

Turner Elliott, Del Wynegar and Anthony Bracco can each pound holes into the floor and that's how the Lions ran out to a big lead in the first game after the Hawks (2-6) tied it at 1-1.

Behind the serve of Elliott, Oviedo coasted to a 5-1 lead. Lake Howell called time-out and got a side out, but the Hawks would blow six straight service points before making it 9-2.

The Lions ran off the final six points of the game and it looked like an early night.

Lake Howell scored the first two points in the second game, but Oviedo reeled off six straight as DeZego began emptying his bench.

It may have been too early. Oviedo got sloppy, pounding the ball all over the building, letting the Hawks back into the game. Lake Howell tied it at 6 before Oviedo ran off to a 10-6 lead.

Oviedo's bench ran the score to 14-9 to give the Lions five match points, but Lake Howell, a young team playing under a first-year coach, fought back. A block by Dan Henry made it 14-14.

Elliott scored an ace to put Oviedo back up, but Lake Howell took advantage of a pair of mistakes to go up 16-15.

Wynegar got serve and scored an ace that landed just on the back line and, two spikes later, each by Bracco, gave Oviedo the win.

DeZego said he went with his bench as long as possible.

"We got a little sloppy so I went to the bench," DeZego said. "Then things just got worse."

With the win the Lions improved to 7-3 on the season and are riding a four-game winning streak.

Oviedo has a home game Friday against Dr. Phillips at 6 p.m. and travels to Winter Springs next Monday for a 7 p.m. Seminole Athletic Conference matchup with the Bears.

Also on next week's schedule is a 7 p.m. home match on Wednesday against University before traveling to University for a tournament on Saturday.

Lake Howell only had one

GREYHOUNDS GROWL

ORLANDO — It took a lot of extra work, but it paid off as the Lyman boys volleyball team pulled off a big upset over Bishop Moore in Orlando Wednesday night.

The Greyhounds (3-10) of first-year head coach Gina Bonaventure had to go to extra points before pulling out a 16-14, 16-14 straight games victory over the Hornets, who saw their record fall to 10-4.

Lyman will be busy next week, playing four matches in five days.

On Monday and Wednesday the Greyhounds will play Seminole Athletic Conference matches at home against Lake Brantley and at Bill Fleming Memorial Gymnasium against Seminole, respectively.

On Thursday, Lyman will host Apopka and then go to Winter Park on Friday to battle the Wildcats. All varsity matches are set for a 7 p.m. start.

match next week, hosting Winter Springs on Wednesday at 7 p.m.

Oviedo's Brian Mullen (No. 18) goes high above the net to spike the ball during the Lions' 15-2, 16-16 victory over Lake Howell Wednesday night.

GFC has kicked off new "Dove Hunters Hotline"

SANFORD — The Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission (GFC) has introduced a "Dove Hunters Hotline" to provide hunters with information about public dove fields managed by the agency.

By dialing (850) 875-FGFC (3432) from a touch-tone phone, hunters can get the latest information about special-opportunity dove hunts in Florida. The menu also includes updates about dove hunting on wildlife management areas (WMAs), information on hunting dates and directions to the special-opportunity dove fields and WMA dove fields, rules and regulations, license and permit requirements, and how to purchase a hunting or fishing license by telephone. Information on the hotline is updated every Thursday throughout the dove season.

The GFC operates regular managed dove fields on public WMAs as well as providing eight special-opportunity dove fields throughout the state. The special-opportunity dove fields will be open only on Saturdays, when hunters would pay $35.50 per hunt. These "use r pay" fields usually have more birds and fewer hunters.

For a complete list of statewide dove regulations and requirements, hunters should consult the "Migratory Game Bird Regulations Pamphlet" available from the local tax collector's office, the nearest GFC office or its Web site at www.state.fl.us/gfc.

SHUPE'S SCOOP

Hunting season is upon us once again. It's time to start getting ready, and you owe it to the game you pursue to be competent with your gun or bow.

FISHING FORECAST

OUTDOORS

JIM SHUPE

Snook are cooperating at Sebastian by hitting large live shrimp or small baitfish. Most anglers prefer the outgoing tide, as snook like to wait in ambush around the inlet for bait that is swept out. A few trout, flounder, redfish and tarpon are also hitting.

Count on better bass action with each passing day. The river is still fairly low, and Puzzle Lake remains a good bet for fish to 5 pounds. Lake Poinsett and Lake Winder to the south are also good bets.

Captain Jack at Port Canaveral reports slow off shore action. Dolphin and wahoo are spotty. King mackerel and cobia are more reliable on Pelican Flats and 8 A Reef. Inside the Port, count on flounder and sheepshead. Trout and redfish are rated as fair on the flats of the Banana and Indian Rivers.

Sheepshead, drum, redfish, jack crevalle and bluefish are all biting at Ponce Inlet. Live or dead shrimp is the top bait. A few flounder are hitting finger mullet around the south jetties. Trout and redfish are rated as good in Mosquito Lagoon.

Improvement of fundamentals, not a change of players, is what the Buccaneers need right now

TAMPA - With one quarter of the season already history, many Buccaneer fans are calling for some kind of change.

Starters, the bench or even the depth chart have been cited as being in need of some changes.

One thing that the fans won't be able to change is Tony Dungy's mind.

Dungy was quoted as saying that if he started taking out everyone that didn't play well, he might have to forfeit.

Nine teams in the NFC have better records than the 1-3 Bucs and Monday night's 27-0 loss to the Detroit Lions at the Pontiac Silverdome on prime time television didn't show any signs that things are getting better.

The urge to panic needs to subside, however. Adding things, shaking things up or even deleting things isn't going to change the basic problem...the Bucs are not playing smart football.

What is needed for the Bucs to improve is for the fundamentals to improve. The missed tackles and blocks are what hurt a team the most. There is no consistency to the basics of the game and that's what is keeping the marks out of the win column.

Things may change for the better this week, however, when the Bucs host the

New York Giants.

First, rookie wide receiver Jacques Green is expected to play this Sunday. He was very close to playing on Monday, but a last minute decision was made to give his thumb another week to heal. The stitches have been removed and Green is practicing in a soft cast this week.

Receiver Bert Emanuel, another off-season acquisition who has not played since spraining an ankle in the opener, ran on Tuesday. He will have to wait and see how his ankle responded to the pounding before any decision can be made about his playing time this Sunday.

Even without Green and Emanuel, the Bucs have the elements to pull out of this funk. A return to basics, a boost in confidence and four of the next five games at home should do the trick.

NOTES:

Receiver Brice Hunter was released from Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital early Tuesday wearing a neck brace, but his injury is not considered serious.

Hunter was knocked unconscious in a collision with Lions safety Mark Carrier after a nine-yard reception in the second quarter.

He regained consciousness before being taken off the field on a stretcher. Tests revealed no spinal cord damage.

In the same game, two other injuries occurred.

Defensive end Chidi Ahanotu dislocated his left shoulder and will miss at least one game. Also, quarterback Trent Dilfer received several stitches to the thumb of his throwing hand and while he did not throw in practice until Wednesday, he is expected to start against the Giants on Sunday.

On a happier note, Dilfer is the only NFC starting quarterback who has not thrown an interception. He needs 254 yards to surpass Steve DeBerg for third on 'he team's all-time passing list.

The Bucs are placing a limited number of tickets on sale for Sunday's game. Tickets can be purchased through Ticketmaster only, by phone (813) 287-8844 or (407) 839-3900 or at Ticketmaster locations.

Phone purchases must be made by credit card. Cash or credit cards will be accepted at Ticketmaster locations. The tickets are $64, $41, $30 and $22.

The tickets became available as a result of unsold disabled seats, returns from sponsors and returns from the Giants.

Jags still not at top of game

JACKSONVILLE - With a 4-0 record and a bye this week, it might be a good time to check out the Jacksonville Jaguars a quarter of the way into the season.

Best team in the AFC? Super Bowl bound?

Back up. First of all, Denver has been dominating in its defense of the AFC title. For now, any chance at a Super Bowl will have to go through Broncomania.

Second, the Jaguars just haven't looked that powerful. But what they have been able to do is win without their best game while overcoming a rash of injuries.

Injuries are what have made this season. Especially on the defensive line.

Promising Tony Brackens, Seth Payne, Dan Davey, Fernando Smith and leader Jeff Lageman are either coming back from injury or are out for the season.

Somehow, someone continues to step up. Free agent castoff Eric Curry had a big game at Tennessee in Week 4 and Kevin Pritchett is playing his best ball in his three years in Jacksonville.

One reason the defense has survived is the play of rookie safety Donovin Darius and, more importantly, the improved play of former number-two overall draft pick Kevin Hardy.

Hardy hasn't dominated like he was expected when the Jaguars took him in 1996, but lately, he's stepped up his play.

On offense, Mark Brunell has had, except for the Baltimore game two weeks ago, a sub-par season.

His numbers were expected to decline with the improvement of the running game, but Brunell has been sloppy and threw two horrible interceptions last week.

He also almost cost the Jaguars the Chicago game in Week 1.

Brunell lost key possession receiver Willie Jackson when the Jaguars cut him at the end of camp and third-receiver Reggie Barlow hasn't filled the bill.

Clearly, Jacksonville is living by its running game.

James Stewart had two breakout games to open the season, and after he went down for the season with a knee injury, first-round pick Fred Taylor has carried an equal load.

Brunell's numbers may be down, but the balanced attack make Jacksonville a much better team.

It's too early to talk Super Bowl (don't mention that in Jacksonville), but each win, sloppy or otherwise, brings the Jags closer to home berths in the playoffs.

JAGUAR NOTES:

Rookie Fred Taylor may cost the Jaguars $1 million this season. He signed an incentive-laden contract that looked to be a bad idea when Stewart became the workhorse back.

But with 100-yard efforts in each of his last two games, the incentives are looking easier to attain...

Nothing motivates a team like a day off, so coach Tom Coughlin promised the Jaguars this Friday off if they beat Tennessee. They did and they got it...

The bye couldn't have come at a better time. By the time Jacksonville hosts its second-over Monday Night Football game Oct. 12 against Miami, Seth Payne, Tony Brackens and Fernando Smith are all expected to be healthy enough to bolster the defensive line.

Jeff

got a chance to meet Brett.

He came out of the locker room in Clearwater after a spring training game and he told a trembling kid - me - that he hurt his finger picking his nose.

I know he was kidding, but it nearly ruined a 13-year-old boy.

Quiz also came out of the locker room. I barely knew who he was, but I remember his red hair and red mustache. He came over and talked to me while he signed about five baseball cards. I still have them.

I became his fan and, once, behind the dugout in Baltimore, Quiz was signing and said he remembered me from Clearwater. I'll never forget it.

So I became his biggest fan. If the Royals won 90 games, Quiz would save 40.

And he never lost his sense of humor or took himself too seriously.

In 1982, I read the first long story on Quiz. It was beautifully written by one of the legends, Roger Angell. Quiz was sitting in his yard in Kansas City talking about how lucky he was to have a wonderful family and a great job.

Can you imagine more than 10 percent of today's ballplayers saying that?

A few years later, I came across a book that listed the home addresses of a lot of major leaguers. I spent an entire weekend getting baseball cards together to send to their houses.

I sent all of them a stamped envelope and waited.

Quiz was the only one who responded. Fiebers, 1983.

He became a bigger hero than ever.

I remember jumping for joy when the Royals finally won a World Series in 1985. Quiz ran from the bullpen and hugged his manager Dick Howser, another gentleman who left this world far too young. The joy on Quiz's face was everything to me.

A few years later, Quiz was out of baseball after trying to hang on with St. Louis and San Francisco.

And that's about the last I had heard about him until, about a year ago, it was reported that Quiz was sick.

I have been able to watch the heroes of my youth grow up and become older men. I've seen Bruce Springsteen grow into a mature, older singer and Muhammad Ali is a very sick man on the outside, upsetting me every time I see him. I got to see Jimmy Carter (seriously) become a potential Nobel Peace Prize winner who is finally being treated with some respect by history. Bobby Kennedy died before I knew him, but he'll always live on in Camelot.

But Quiz left my world in 1986 when his career ended.

That is, until the Royals honored him with a night in his honor in May. The red hair was gone. He trembled as he spoke. The oneliners never came.

To me, Quiz represented my boyhood. I could always remember him as that smiling red-head on the baseball card who always took the time to be a good guy.

I've seen my other heroes grow up, but never got the chance with Quiz.

Now he's gone.

That smiling face on the baseball card was taken 15 years ago.

That's why I feel old. He was the one throwback to my childhood that never grew up.

It's a sad day for me and I don't feel like writing a Last Second Shot.

It's time to go home and take a look at that baseball card to remind me of a part of my youth that was lost yesterday.

Johnson

steadily, and that makes him, his family and his coaches very happy.

"I am a teacher first and a coach second," Casko said. "Just like the student comes first in student athlete. I am here to teach these kids about grades and football and I take the grades most seriously."

"Jeff has really been working hard and taking advantage of the opportunities that we have in place here to help with school work. He is starting to realize how many people care about him and why school is so important."

"We want Jeff to be part of the program and he wants to be a part of it as well. He is doing everything he needs to in order to keep that happening."

How does Johnson balance school, football and then homework?

"At first it was tough, but now I just do it," Johnson said. "I don't get tired so I'm able to keep working until I get everything done."

Johnson also spends a lot of his free time watching the junior varsity and varsity games and pays close attention to Clarence Lattimer, the fullback on the varsity team that Johnson hopes to replace one day.

Vitamin E can ease breast cysts

DR. GOTT

PETER GOTT, M.D.

DEAR READER: Although the final word is far from being in, saw palmetto, a harmless herb, does seem to reduce the urinary frequency and urgency caused by prostate enlargement, at least in some men. There are no side effects from its use; nonetheless, you should check with your doctor before taking it.

© 1998 NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN

DEAR DR. GOTT: What is saw palmetto? Is it safe for relieving the symptoms of an enlarged prostate gland?

You can write to Dr. Gott at P.O. Box 2017, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have heard several conflicting reports on the effectiveness of vitamin E supplements. For example, the vitamin has been touted as a cure for breast cysts. Are there any other advantages? Should I avoid it because of diabetes?

DEAR READER: Vitamin E, in daily doses of 600 international units, has been shown to reduce the pain and size of breast cysts in women with benign fibrocystic disease. It also appears to help men with Peyronie's disease (crooked erections), some patients with intermittent claudication (muscular pain from leg cramps caused by poor circulation), and both men and women who suffer from arterial blockages. The vitamin has not proved effective for heart disease, prevention of blood clots, reduction of serum cholesterol, amelioration of old age, improvement of sexual performance or enhancement of athletic ability.

In moderate doses (600 to 800 IU), vitamin E is harmless even for diabetics. Nonetheless, I suggest that you check with your doctor before taking supplemental doses; the vitamin may not be appropriate for you because of your other health issues.

To give you related information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Fats I: Vitamins & Minerals." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2017, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Whenever I touch metal or a light switch, I get an electric shock. Why?

DEAR READER: The tiny shock or spark that we all may experience when touching metal is due to static electricity. Small electrical charges build up on our bodies as we move about a room, especially one that is carpeted. When we touch a grounded object, we may experience a shock. This condition is normal, and it is not harmful. It is more noticeable on cold days, when humidity is low, because static charges tend to build up more rapidly in dry air. This is the same principle that allows children to rub balloons on a carpet and then stick them to ceilings or walls; the balloons pick up static charges that will bind them to non-metallic surfaces.

If you consistently receive a shock from a particular wall plate or lighting fixture, you should have the object checked by an electrician to make sure it is properly grounded. However, plain static electricity is a common component of our environment.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Obtaining the target

By Phillip Alder

Phyllis McGinley wrote this stanza: Ah! some love Paris, and some Purdue. / But (something) is an archer with a low I.Q. / A bold, bad bowman, and innocent of pity. / So I'm in love with New York City.

What is the "something"? We have been looking at The Target: the number of tricks the defenders need to defeat the contract. Yet not only must they have the target in sight, but they must also know how to hit the bull's eye.

Today, you are East. Against three no-trump, your partner leads the club queen. How would you defend? North is a trick strong for his three-diamond rebid, but what else is better?

This deal bears some similarity to Monday's. If East wins with the club ace and returns a club, he knows South can cash 10 tricks: two hearts, seven diamonds (even if South is void!) and one club.

If they are to defeat the contract, the defenders must cash four spade tricks now. The lead most likely to succeed (McGinley's not the only poet around here!) is the spade 10 or queen. With this layout, you net four spade tricks and kill the contract. Switching to a low spade at trick two is no good because declarer just plays low from hand. It is better to lead the spade two only when West has specifically the ace-king-jack of spades alone and thinks of winning the first spade with the king, not the jack.

Phyllis McGinley's "something" was love. Did she have an unhappy love life?

Many opportunities in your career field may open up for you through the many network of friends in the year ahead. These contacts could be of special benefit to you. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Guard against the inclination to take chances on things you know little about today. If you're wrong, you could be very wrong. Get jump on life by understanding the influences that'll govern you in the year ahead. Send the required refund form and the required refund form for your Astro-Graph predictions by mailing $2 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1758, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. Be sure to state your Zodiac sign. SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) That casual invitation you handed out last week might attract a larger crowd than you anticipated. You'll have to live up to your word. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) That blunt demeanor of yours won't fare too well with close friends today, so give it a rest. Stop and think before you say or do anything. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 18) Limit your spending to essentials today. Don't buy exotic items you can't afford. Even if extravagant comrades encourage you, don't burn a hole in your wallet. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Treat partnership arrangements with tact and diplomacy today. This could be an area of potential problems. This includes even close relationships, such as your spouse. PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) If you aren't discerning today, you could reward the undeserving and ignore those worthy of acknowledgement. Don't give away the store on an impulse. ARIES (March 21-April 19) You might come to the conclusion that large groups have no appeal for you today, but it could be too late to wiggle out. Don't make hasty commitments. TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Don't allow yourself to be manipulated into a position today where you have to rely on others. Dependency could be a weakness. GEMINI (May 21-June 20) If you're patching together a complicated deal today, keep the whole picture in mind. Concentrating on bits and pieces could weaken your efforts, not enhance them. CANCER (June 21-July 22) A recent endeavor riddled with both problems and promise may overlap in some form or another today. To be on the safe side, first discuss all details with associates. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) If your belief in what you're doing today isn't strong enough, a partnership arrangement could be jeopardized. Have faith in your commitment or back out. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) The race does not go to the careless today, it goes to the methodical and well organized. If you do things right, assignments will get done in a timely manner. ©1998 by NEA, Inc.
