Berlin Shaken As Mobs Riot Against Reds

Tank-Backed Troops Fire Upon Workers

BERLIN (AP) — Fifty thousand rioters exploded a four-hour revolt against Red rule in East Berlin today. Soviet troops, backed by tanks and armored cars, fired on the workers and the Russian authorities declared martial law.

The East Berliners hauled down and burned the Red flag, mailed letters and arrested Communist officials and shouted "Ivan go home." But the drastic military action dispersed the crowds and ended the violence.

No accurate account of casualties was available. At least one pedestrian had been killed, and several wounded.

At the height of the rioting Otto Nuschke, deputy premier of the East German government, appeared at a West Berlin police station and police reported he had described to the West a Christian Democratic party which he acted as a Communist puppet in the East German regime.

The riot in Berlin, 100 miles inside the Soviet occupation zone of Germany, started yesterday as a stage-managed parade in which 5,000 workers marched to the East German government headquarters demanding lighter working schedules.

Apparently the government intended to show its new-found policy of freedom and democracy by allowing the workers to demonstrate. The movement got out of hand. Everybody with a rifle east can be used to the streets today and workers began calling a general strike.

After East Berlin police vainly battled to stem the tide of rioting, German helicopter Soviet troops arrived to the scene today and workers began calling a general strike.

Dr. Conant, now High Commissioner to West Germany, conferred honorary degrees on 13 men and awarded 2,923 other degrees. He is on a leave of absence from the college and will become its president emeritus on September 1.

Kiwians Hear Minutes Reveal Lemon Answers No Board Action Regarding City On Right-Of-Way

City Manager Tom Lemon presented a question and answer program at today's Kiwanis Club luncheon meeting at the Yacht Club.

Two new members, R. T. Miller and Peter J. Bukur, were welcomed into the club with gifts and a hearty welcome.

Mr. Miller is superintendent of public instruction in the County schools, while Mr. Bukur operates the Bukur's Musical Instrument Shop.

Howard Montle introduced LOR Charles Alkinson, USNR, of the Sanford Naval Auxiliary as guest.

Secretary Ralph Smith wished the Rev. J. C. McKinley, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Sanford, good luck in his new duties in Ft. Pierce.

Mr. Lemon was introduced by Arthur Greer, chairman of the House Committee.

Mr. Greer expressed his appreciation for the meeting and wished the Kiwanis Club success in its efforts to improve the city.

Dr. H. W. Barker started the session by asking "Do you think of the East Berlin riot?"

In his answer, Mr. Lemon discussed the entire matter of the right-of-way for the City Insular as well as the German and Allied suburbs, predicted the Russians would now unwork some new dramatic move, perhaps even an approach to the United Nations.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, he said, the West German Parliament Bonn, said the rioting represented a "real demonstration of the East German people's will for freedom."

He said Communist oppression can be cured only through the reunification of our country in freedom.

The quaking East German Communist regime, assaulted and insulted, barricaded itself in the government headquarters behind a Soviet cordon. It made a new effort to placate the workers if it is supposed to favor the loudspeaker platform began blaring promises of lower prices and better work.

It was the same promise Prime Minister Otto Grotewohl made last night after a demonstration by (Continued on Page Four)

The demonstration line held out by military staff officers in several intensive sessions was described as based upon the present battle line.

Former Official Book Burning Is Denies He Made Given New Twist Deal In Tax Case As Row Expands

WASHINGTON (AP) — Peyton Ford denied today that he ever made an agreement while he was deputy attorney general which enabled a Minneapolis doctor to make a large settlement of his delinquent taxes.

Ford said he does not recall any agreement which would have allowed a doctor to settle his delinquent taxes.

ICC Grants Increase In Parcel Post Rate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission today authorized a 36 per cent increase in parcel post zone rates.

The rate advance is to be applied on a date fixed by the Postoffice Department. The increase is expected to add more than 150 million dollars to charges for handling packages in the postal service.

Parcel post zone rates cover the vast bulk of the package mailing service used by the general public.

In addition to increasing these rates, the department has called for a ban on handling charges for catalogs, similar printed advertising matter, and the "control circulation publications," which are handled as a special category item in parcel post.

Projected increases in these categories would involve an additional 20 million dollars a year increase in revenue.

The ICC deferred a decision on these proposals for the time being.

Federal law authorizes the ICC to change in parcel post rates. Congress also may change the rates with legislation.

Afternoon Session Of Commissioners Finishes Up Agenda

Most of the controversial subjects brought before the County Commission yesterday were disposed of during the morning portion of the session.

During the afternoon, the Commission handled the following business:

The rating of chief petty officer is the highest enlisted rating in the United States Navy. And by receiving the traditional hats from their commanding officer, the four new chief petty officers have joined the ranks of those few through hard work, knowledge and fleet-wide competitive exercises have successfully reached the top naval rating.

The four new chiefs are: Childs, Tiffany, ATC, whose family at present is living in Caswellbury, Florida; Childs, PFC, who resides with his family at 3015 Sanford Avenue; Henry R. Heidemann, AMC; John A. Russell, ADC, who lives with his family at Park Avenue Trailer Court; and Eric C. contemplated.

County Commission Visits Big Tree Park

County Commissioners, along with County Attorney Lloyd Boyd and County Clerk O. P. Herndon, were luncheon guests of Howard Hughes, caretaker, at the Big Tree Park yesterday noon.

The Commissioners looked over the grounds to see what improvements should be made prior to the start of the tourist season.

Tentative plans were made to erect a barbed wire fence around a sister tree 100 feet west of the major attraction of the park. At the present time there is a concrete foot path leading to the cypress.

Commissioners spoke highly of the condition of the park and noted especially new brightly colored picnic tables recently erected by Mr. Hughes. There is also a new public address system over which music is piped.

Checks have been arranged for the entrance. Also required are new bumper guards in the parking lot. A new ladies rest room is contemplated.

Checks For USO Keep Coming From Far Off

Checks from distant places continue to reach the desk of Mrs. Camilla Bruce, treasurer for the USO, drive, but the goal is still far from being attained.

Mrs. Bruce said the total is now $280.82 which is $810.18 short of the mark.

Checks have arrived from Nicaragua, Oriente, Cuba, and Durham, N. H., East Greenwich, R. I., P.O. San Francisco, and Chattanooga, Tenn.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 17, 1953
TODAY'S HIGHLIGHTS

We should plan as diligently to gain possession of our spiritual inheritance. We must extend our service and use every strategy, and all courage and faith to possess our spiritual heritage. Indifference will not attain it. Then you shall rise up from the ambush and seize upon the city.—Joshua 8:7.

Genius is the ability to eliminate the unimportant, and we can't help but think of this when we are trying to decide which bills to pay at the first of the month.

Jack Webb, producer and star of "Dragnet," has effected a reconciliation with his wife after a separation of three months. We don't know what brought them together again but maybe the famous police investigator agreed not to talk like he does on the radio when he has some suspect on the bad end of an interrogation.

The Senate has passed a bill giving one million tons of wheat in Pakistan to avert near-famine caused by two years of drought, which is a kind and charitable act on the part of our government.
We hope that its recipients, at some future time, won't condemn us for our imperialism as some other beneficiaries of our largesse have done in the past.

A House committee has begun an exhaustive study of the nation's tax system with respect to the problem of working mothers, many of whom have to hire baby sitters and can't deduct the expense from their income taxes. This is one of the many inequities of the income tax, which, for all the efforts to make it fair, still has many features which discriminate, penalize, and are manifestly unjust.

A woodpecker sharpening its bill on a TV antenna duplicates the sound of a telephone bell perfectly and has caused its owner to pick up the receiver only to hear the operator say: "Number, please?"
We are glad to get this information for we have often thought something like this was going on in our office during the rush hours of business when the sound of the telephones has been constantly with us.

Northeastern Minnesota is having a plague of caterpillars which cover the roads two inches thick, forming a slimy mass that makes the highways almost impassable. We have a type of caterpillar on our highways, too, but our kind drives a car and creeps along at a speed of 15 or 20 miles an hour with traffic stretched out behind as far as the eye can reach. Our caterpillars make the roads almost impassable, too, and they constitute one of the worst menaces to the smooth and safe flow of automobile travel.

After some misunderstanding, it has been decided definitely that the heart of the pianist-composer Ignace Paderewski will remain in the United States while his body will be returned to his native Poland, in accordance with the wishes expressed in the immortal artist's will. Whether his body is here or there or whether his heart is in the United States or Poland are matters of little moment. What really is important is that Paderewski has left the world's legacy of great music that will outlast the dust of his mortal remains.

The Southern Railway became completely derailed, especially when the last steam locomotive on the 6,600-mile system pulled a local freight into Chattanooga, Tenn.
This may mean a tremendous advancement in railroading, and it may mean a much better and safer ride for the passengers.
But there's something about a steam locomotive that has a fascination that can't be matched by a diesel.
The wheels of the coal burner drive the shaft and excitement of the steam locomotive is just what the railroads need today.

Encroaching On Courts

If an ordinary man asked a judge why he made a certain decision, he would run the risk of punishment for contempt of court. Congressmen, it seems, are different. A House Judiciary subcommittee recently called Federal Judge Louis E. Goodman of the San Francisco district court before it. He had refused to let the subcommittee study the records of a grand jury empaneled by the judge in 1950. The subcommittee then took the extraordinary step of subpoenaing him, something rarely if ever done before to a federal judge.

Judge Goodman came, but first read a letter signed by all seven federal district judges of California, expressing their unwillingness to have any of their members testify with respect to any judicial proceedings. As the judge pointed out, if there is anything wrong in court operations, it is not for the legislature to include detailed supervision of court procedure.

Had this venture succeeded, the next step would undoubtedly have been to question judges who made certain decisions and rebuke them for doing so. Even to summon a judge to bury him by cross-examination is an unwarranted interference with the independence of the courts. For Congress to try to usurp presidential functions is unwholly an old story. That does not justify like encroachment on the powers of the courts.

A Symbol Of Hope

On June 19th, 1885, the Statue of Liberty arrived in New York harbor. It was 18 months later, in October of 1886, that she took her place on Bedloe's Island to welcome all the immigrants who were to come after her. Today the torch she holds in her hand is still a symbol of hope to the heart-worn wanderers who seek asylum on our shores.

The statue was the work of the famous French sculptor Frederic Bartholdi who was impressed by the eagerness of immigrants to catch their first sight of the shores of America. He returned to France with the idea of creating a statue which would be a gift from the people of France to the people of America. It was paid for by popular subscription by the citizens of France.

It is hard not to be sentimental about the lady who stands in our harbor to welcome those who approach our shores. She is an eloquent figure—the sort that should symbolize the towering ideals to which America is dedicated. The immigrants who see her as they first glimpse America are impressed and are not likely to forget her. The Americans who have never visited her except in imagination are impressed by what she stands for. The sense that this love of liberty is held in common by immigrant and native-born alike makes one of the high points for the newly arrived aspirant for life in America.

Printing In Russia

Printing is different in Russia. Hentrice Wardle, the American representative of an English printing house, calls attention to the fact that publishers in democratic countries are constantly trying to make the printed page attractive. In Russia the books and newspapers are carelessly printed, betraying contempt for the public which is to read them.

Communists would probably say that handsome type is a reactionary device to mislead the people. The slithery ugly appearance of many current Russian publications is perhaps purposely adopted in order not to distract readers from the content of the works they are examining.

In other words, whatever Communists do is right in their eyes, and whatever is practiced in the rest of the world is wrong.

Hal Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Father's Day is on the horizon, and already fathers are feeling sheepish about it. They are not sure whether they like a day in their honor or at least they pretend to feel this way. "It means I will be sanctified by all those odd presents I escaped last Christmas — the strange gifts women think men yearn for," said one father. "And, naturally, I'll then have to take the whole tribe out to dinner, pick up the check—and pay later the bills for the gimmicks Mama and the kids gave me."

Father is not used to being a hero in this civilization, even for a day. It is a bit different with Mother's Day. Motherhood is a symbol of lonely heroism in any age, and a true symbol. But for some reason nobody, so far as I know, has ever built a statue to "The Pioneer Father."

There should be such a statue. If I designed it, it would be a tired, patient old bull, the wrinkles of mused duty showing in his horn-bitten shoulders, as he bent his horns down to protect his mate and brood against the wolves of life and time. I have never been a father. But my old man was, and a good one, too. I appreciated him from his death, more than 15 years ago, but never really told him so, although I think he knew. Men often feel a kinship between each other that neither puts his words. Men are slyer than women.

Even so, I have always regretted I didn't say more to my dad. It cannot hurt to tell your heart. And I write this only for sons whose fathers are still alive, to whom they can still say "Thank you!"—along with sending them that neck tie.

My dad was a coal miner's son and he wore his heart to attention by hard work at 48. Boys are a lot of trouble in a father. But a daughter is a comfort. A boy begins to be a man at 3, and to pull within himself and be stubborn, and make his father feel his years. But a daughter restores her dad forever, protecting with her love the yearning for youth he needs.

He was always a strong wall of understanding. He was one of the parents who knew how hard it is for a human being to grow up. His sympathy was a bright shield when we really needed it, although he coddled none of us.

He was a tall fellow in the desperate hour, the hour that a boy growing up feels to him, at least, is desperate.

My sister made him happy. My four boys gave him problems. In my case he couldn't understand. I insisted on going to college instead of staying in his grocery store and learning business. But as Mother backed me, he backed us both. I earned most of my way, but there were a couple of years when dad didn't get a new suit.

There must be millions of Americans who on this Father's Day will recall warmly the dad that isn't discuss Communist stories of happy people behind the Iron Curtain. I announced a proposed new order on distribution of security information by government agencies—a measure which may eventually replace a controversial information order issued by former President Truman in September, 1951.

The Truman order extended to civilian federal agencies the same authority which military agencies and the State Department already had to withhold information for security reasons.

The Truman order has come under fire from newspaper editors and others on the ground that it could be used to bottle up information the public is rightfully entitled to receive.

There is to praise. This is the flower of remembrance I would plant upon my own old man's grave: "Life may not have given you what you wanted. But you are not forgotten, after these years, by those you created—and stood by. If I were a dad I could only ask I might be as fine a one as some were. One of your sons, speaking for all of your children."

Congressman Herlong Reports

By SID HERLONG

The program for next week in the House is the most extensive and exhaustive of any week we have had in this session. The leadership is apparently putting on a drive for an August 1 adjournment.

On Monday the Reciprocal Trade Agreements will come up for extension. The Ways and Means Committee has finally agreed to go along with the President's request for extension. I believe the bill will have been passed by the time this is printed, with only enough discretionary safeguards to protect the standard of living of our working people. The Wheat Marketing Quota Bill will also be up. When this bill was before our Committee for consideration the indications were that it would not be too controversial. All the signs point to a record wheat crop, and unless we want another famine such as we had with potatoes and butter, the establishment of quotas is essential.

On Tuesday we have the Veterans Administration Appropriation Bill. This was going to be quite controversial, but I believe the Committee and the Veterans Administration have resolved their differences so there will be little objection. The Veterans Administration will get what it says it needs in order to carry on its hospitalization program, as well as furnish other benefits to which veterans are entitled under the law.

On Wednesday we have the very important (to Florida) "Trip Leasing Bill." This bill will permit truckers engaged in hauling our produce to market to lease their trucks for a back haul so they won't have to make the trip south empty.

If we finish all this as well as several minor bills on schedule, we will then take up, for the remainder of the week, the Mutual Security Act and the Excess Profits Tax Bill. Either of these bills could possibly take several days because they are highly controversial.

We have received many letters pro and con on the Excess Profits

Tax Extension Bill. I would like to vote against extending this tax, because it has the effect of stifling business expansion; but in good conscience I can not vote to give corporations tax relief until we have first given some relief to the man or woman who works for a salary and has had so much deducted from their weekly and monthly pay checks. I feel that these people need help before we move in and help corporations, much as they need it.

(For James Marlow)
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force revolt against the Eisenhower administration's defense budget poses this question: Will Congress put its trust in the civilians at the Pentagon or in the military to determine what size combat forces are needed for the security of the nation?

This basic question is at the core of the dispute. And in making the decision, Congress in fact will be choosing between the security estimates made by President Eisenhower and his civilian advisers, and those made under the Truman regime.

In brief, Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force chief, is fighting for expansion of the Air Force to the 143-wing goal established two years ago. He argues this is the rock-bottom force which the present Joint Chiefs of Staff decided was needed to assure security in war with Russia. A wing contains 30 to 75 planes depending on their type and mission.

The Truman administration itself flagged down the Air Force buildup with a decision to stretch out the program. And now the new administration's policies are forcing the military to revise its planning all over again.

The Truman administration itself flagged down the Air Force buildup with a decision to stretch out the program. And now the new administration's policies are forcing the military to revise its planning all over again.

The truth is both Wilson and Vandenberg are aiming for the same goal—the security of the United States. The dispute is over just where the buildup can stop without taking too great a risk. And in the final analysis, Congress must make the decision.

Tomorrow, the Eisenhower budget peels the security of the U. S.?

HOLLYWOOD

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — Bobbie Lovell "Bobby" Granger has left his thriving Hollywood career behind to learn how to be a better actor.

It may sound like sheer folly, but the handsome young actor has wiggled out of his contract with Sam Goldwyn, closed his home here and departed for more stimulating climes. That doesn't mean he won't be back. He has planned his plan before he left.

"A couple of years ago, I was making a picture," recalled Granger, the typical Hollywood hero in slacks and tennis sweater. "I stopped myself in the middle of it and realized I was slubbing by on my previous reputation and the risks I had learned in pictures. I wasn't good."

"I decided I should do something about it. After all, I want to be an actor as long as I can. I know that I can't always get by because of a bobby sox following. Some day a new guy like Tab Hunter will come along and they'll flock to him. If I haven't grown as an actor, I'll have nothing left to go on but personality. Personality is a good quality for an actor, but he has to have ability, too."

Granger decided he would have a doubtful following, which is no

Budget Balancing Is Not Even Close, Says Senator Byrd

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) said today the Eisenhower administration is going to come close to balancing the budget unless Congress cuts foreign aid drastically.

The Virginia senator added he doubts the lawmakers will get around to extending the excess profits tax as requested by President Eisenhower, a view shared by a finance committee colleague, Sen. George D. Acheson.

"I don't think we are going to have any tax bill this session," George observed.

Mr. Byrd's estimate that failure to extend the excess profits tax for six months would cost the Treasury 800 million dollars, Byrd said he believes foreign aid spending should be reduced more than a billion dollars below the approximately six billion dollar level now contemplated by the administration.

"Unless foreign aid is cut, we are not going to come very close to balancing the budget in the next fiscal year," Byrd said.

George said he thinks that, regardless of what the Senate does about a $2,316,000,000 annual security administration authorization bill scheduled for Senate action next week, appropriations will be shaved at least a billion below that level.

The authorization measure, before the House Foreign Services Committee today for review, merely sets the ceiling on the amount Congress may make available later.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee has voted for a $4,900,732,500 foreign aid authorization—a cut of 476 million dollars from Eisenhower's request.

The committee revealed yesterday the administration put West Germany down for $338,527,000—only slightly less military aid than France and Great Britain.

The top sum of $344,288,000 was earmarked for France, with Great Britain down for $251,115,000 and Italy $351,214,000. These figures represent administrative requests for next year, but the funds probably would not be fully spent for perhaps two years.

Shipping Tieup Grips Atlantic And Pacific

NEW YORK (AP) — A shipping tie-up gripped American vessels in Atlantic and East Coast ports today in a wage dispute.

"Nothing but nothing is moving and nothing will move until a contract is signed," said Joseph Curran, president of the CIO National Maritime Union.

Foreign vessels are not affected. American ships in foreign ports on the high seas will be affected only after they reach ports in this country. In all, about 750 vessels are subject to the tie-up.

The union, claiming about 40,000 members, traditionally follows a "no contract, no work" policy. Curran estimated that the stoppage immediately affected 20,000 to 30,000 union members.

The union chief said cargo certified as being entirely military would be moved, but declared "it must not be mixed with commercial cargo."

OVIDO NEWS

By MARIAN R. JONES

hearsable are underway for "Flying High", a three-act hilarious comedy, which will be given at the Ovido High School auditorium Wednesday and Thursday, June 17 and 18. Leon C. Cluff, commander, plays the part of Job T. Purdy, owner of Purdy's Last Resort and also Town "Constable", whose great weakness is that he faints every time he hears the word "blood". Mrs. Dorothy Pearson takes the part of Mrs. Augusta Van Sherington, in search of a rich husband; Bob Cameron as Professor Booker K. Barnaneller, in search of a rich wife; and Bernice Kelsey in the role of Gladys Hopkins, money old maid who's just looking for a husband, provide some fast-moving and riotous situations. Virginia Stanley, as Mary Lou, Job's granddaughter, and Pete Aulin in the role of Ted Sterling, young inventor, are the romantic leads, while Don Urey has the part of the villainous Tulus Pinchem, who "Throws nickels around as though they were manhole covers". Comedian of the show is Novella Aulin as Heulah Potts, Tulus' sister. Betty Greer takes the part of Betty Green, wise-cracking friend of Betty Lou. The play opens with a salute to the Ovido Post Office.

With its clever gags and fast-moving action, "Flying High" represents the finest in entertainment. We guarantee it's the funniest comedy show you've ever seen.

Postmaster J. B. Jones is announcing that the quarterly rentals on all boxes at the Ovido Post Office will go up, starting July 1.

He said that a Postal Bulletin issued in Washington on May 20 called the attention of all postmasters to the amendment to the Postal Laws and Regulations of the new schedule of box rents effective on the first day of the new fiscal year.

A total of 333 post office box holders in the Ovido office will be affected by the change in the rates. This does not include the many patrons served on the rural route.

Boxes in the Ovido Post Office are broken down into three categories. The smaller type box, now renting for 45 cents, will be raised to 50 cents; the medium size, now renting for 60 cents, will be raised to $1.10; and the larger ones, now renting for 75 cents, will go to $1.50.

Mr. Jones said that the basic schedule in effect at the present time has not been changed since 1947. The Postal Service is being made to conform with the increased cost of providing equipment and maintaining the services.

The Postmaster calls attention to the fact that the smallest type box rents for $4.50 in Miami and the largest for $10.50. In New York it varies from $6.00 for the smallest to $20.00 for the largest.

The good news, along with the bad, is that the smaller size boxes of packages will be allowed to use any of the various types of tape to seal opening packages after July 1, provided that "any use of tape for postal inspection is clearly written under the sender's return address."

The notation may be handstamped, typewritten or handwritten. Properly a printed form had to be used in order to obtain the cheaper rate for third and fourth class matter.

County Commission

proposals were made and considered and various persons addressed the group relative to the matter.

Motion by Commissioner W. G. Hunter, seconded by Commissioner O. E. Fouraker, that the County spend up to $50,000 for rights of way on French Avenue, and that the City of Sanford obtain the said rights-of-way.

The above motion was discussed at some length and was not put in a vote by the chairman.

The general agreement reached by the Board of County Commissioners and City officials was as follows:

That the City of Sanford continue as principal and secure the necessary commitments for rights-of-way.

That the appropriation of additional amounts above $50,000 would be discussed and the County would cooperate on a fair and equitable basis.

The motion were signed by H. C. Dodd, then chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, and O. P. Herndon, clerk of the Board.

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNERS

The 1952 delinquent real estate tax list of the City of Sanford is posted at the front door of the City Hall and at the front door of the Court House in the City of Sanford, Florida, and will remain so posted for a period of four consecutive weeks.

All real estate upon which the 1952 taxes have not been paid, and against which tax certificates have not already been issued will be sold at public auction on the 25th day of June A. D. 1953, commencing at 10 o'clock A. M. at the front door of the City Hall in the City of Sanford, Florida.

H. N. Sayer, City Clerk.

Kiwanis Club

to buy the landfill equipment.

He told the Kiwanians that operations will be carried on west of the City on the lakefront. "By filling in the low land, we are increasing the value of the property," he said.

Mr. Lemon also said that a nine-mile, round-trip to the City dump took a considerable amount of time. The new facilities will permit garbage and trash trucks to give better service to the community, according to the spokesman.

In answer to a question by Mr. Monteth in which he inquired if garbage collection wouldn't be cheaper on a contract basis, the City manager said in his experience it was difficult to retain control over such a system.

Mr. Goff asked why the property owners have to pay for repair of pavement which has been pushed up by trunk roads?

The reply was that throughout the County the practice is followed because it would be an extremely expensive proposition if the City were to maintain sidewalks.

"But," he added, "the City of Sanford has repaired some sidewalks at government expense."

Lester Tharpe asked for Mr. Lemon's opinion on the sewerage situation, which explained there were two schools of thought on the matter.

"Mr. Abel Wolman in his report said that the lake itself constituted a God-given treatment plant and that the lake should be used just as much as an actual health measure existed," Mr. Lemon pointed out. "However, other people feel that pollution of the lake is a matter that must be corrected."

The Sanford official said it wasn't his duty to decide but that he would carry out the dictates of the City Commission when a decision concerning a sewage disposal plant was made.

"I have always been in favor of such treatment if it is economical if feasible," the speaker stated.

Mary Dier asked if Mr. Lemon had any "pet" programs. The government leader answered that he was sincerely interested in everything that was of benefit to the community and especially in new construction.

He added that one of the most important current items is to get behind the water program and blamed lack of pressure rather than a lack of volume for the current troubles some residents are experiencing.

The importance of a well-rounded, year-round recreation program was also brought out by the speaker.

Mr. Field inquired as to the best way to get out to the new depot, bringing an answer that the main entrance would probably be out Third Street into railroad property.

An inquiry from Mr. Greer concerning experimental paving through the answer from Mr. Lemon that the program would not be continued.

"However, the paving program will continue," he said.

That five-year program starting with the next budget will be continued," Mr. Lemon asserted.

"Within that period we can get every street in the City in good shape."

"If we want good streets, we must appropriate money for that purpose," he said.

The final question was from Don Harper who wanted to hear Mr. Lemon's views on annexation.

The official said he didn't think it was feasible to take new areas into the City until there was some return. "I believe," he declared, "that the necessary services given by the City should be at a higher rate than similar services within the City limits."

Berlin Riots

5,000 workers against Communist speed-up tactics and low living standards.

But this time the crowds did not appear inclined to believe the promises.

All East Berlin was paralyzed by a general strike. The subway and tram systems were halted completely.

At a Potsdamer Platz rally speakers declared workers of the entire Eastern zone railway network had joined with the East Berliners.

By mid-morning 15,000 workers from Oranienburg in the Soviet zone had marched in and joined the East Berlin strikers. Three thousand more showed up from the Hennigsdorf steel works.

Gunfire was heard at Alexanderplatz, Leipzig. Potsdamer Platz and the front of government headquarters.

At least a score of Communist faithful, caught on the streets by straggle mobs, needed hospital treatment after being mauled.

The Russians had to watch while the East Germans burned down a 30-foot high wooden sign proclaiming German-Soviet friendship.

A Russian general riding a T-34 tank and heading a convoy of mobile field guns was given a shower of bullets as he strode into the government headquarters, east of the headquarters of Hermann Goerring's Luftwaffe.

Final Call Is Made For Payment Upon Delinquent Taxes

The last call is being made for payment of County taxes assessed on the 1952 Tax Roll and remaining unpaid. Persons who purchased real estate during 1952 or 1953 should ascertain if the taxes are paid on their purchases, John L. Galloway, County tax collector, stated today. In some cases it has been found that since the 1953 Tax Roll property has changed hands several times and no one has paid the taxes.

The sale of tax certificates for delinquent 1952 County taxes will be held at the Court House in Sanford, June 22, 1953, at 10 a. m. Lands on which the 1952 taxes have not been paid have been duly advertised as required by law.

These delinquent taxes may be paid to the county tax collector at any time before the tax sale and all paid items will be eliminated from the sale list.

Mr. Galloway called attention to the fact that the 1952 taxes are held to know that taxes are due and payable thereon annually, and are charged with the duty of ascertaining the amount of such tax and paying the same before the first of April of each year.

Mr. Galloway also called attention to the fact that personal property taxes not paid have been advertised and any and all such items not paid on or before June 30, tax warrants will be issued directing the levy and sale of sufficient personal property to satisfy the tax. It is decidedly to the taxpayers' advantage to pay these taxes before warrants are issued, Mr. Galloway stated.
