Lin Piao Accused

Chou Reveals Plot Against Mao

TOKYO (AP) - Premier Chou En-lai, in an important policy speech to the 10th Chinese Communist party congress released today, said Defense Minister Lin Piao attempted to assassinate Communist party Chairman

Mao Tse-tung before dying in a plane crash in 1971.

Making his first public official disclosure of the events which led to the death of Mao's heir-designate, Chou told the congress on Aug. 24 that Lin, a military hero, plotted not one but two coups, the first during the second plenary session of the 9th Central Committee in August 1970, and the second in March 1971.

Entitled "Outline of Project '571," the second coup was launched on Sept. 8 that year "in a wild attempt to assassinate our great leader, Chairman Mao, and set up a rival central committee," Chou said.

Five days later, on Sept. 13, "after his conspiracy had collapsed, Lin Piao surreptitiously boarded a plane, fled as a defector to the Soviet revisionists in betrayal of the party and country and died in a crash in Undur Khan in the People's Republic of Mongolia," Chou continued. The text of Chou's speech, approved by the congress on Aug. 28, was distributed by the official Hsinhua news

The five-day party congress, which wound up Aug. 28, condemned Lin and Mao's longtime friend and former private secretary, Chen Po-ta, described as linked to the coup, and posthumously read the shy former marshal out of the party and all his posts.

Chou said that Lin, though named in the party con-agency and monitored in Tokyo.

stitution as Mao's successor, attempted with Chen to put through a draft in the 1969 9th party congress which would have negated Mao's line that the major struggle in China was between the proleteriat and the

He said that Lin and Chen portrayed the situation as a fight between the Socialist system and the backward productive system, a view Chen had held since the 8th party congress in 1956.

Only after his efforts were frustrated did Lin grudgingly accept Mao's line, Chou said. Apparently the setback rankled, for "in spite of the admonishments rebuffs and efforts to save him by Mao and the Central Committee," he began plotting against Mao's life, Chou

Pastor's Corner

Listen

For God

I read recently in an issue of the Reader's Digest that the sounds of our age were having a definite effect on our lives. The increased level of noise has had, according to doctors, a definite detrimental effect of man's emotional and physical health. Though this is a new approach to diagnosing the ills of our particular day, it is a modern day parable illustrating an "What a man listens to has a direct bearing on what he is." Therefore, the effort today should not only be to control the noise level to protect man's well-being, but to awaken him to the sound of the Spirit which can bring about the serenity of the soul and strength for each day's needs. Man should be concerned about the sounds of his age. He should never allow them to drown ou the voice of God. In the midst of a noisy 20th century the advice to him is the same as that given to Samuel by Eli long ago, "Go lie down, and when he calls say, "Speak, for they servant is listening." And this listening will affect what we are. But what does it mean to listen to the voice of God in our day? The prophets like Samuel had visions, dreams, do they come today? I feel they do. But only to those who are listening. I think listening involves three things. Listening begins with the will to hear. God speaks constantly if we will only listen. Remember the Psalmist words "whiter shall I go from Thy presence?" Or the words of Jesus "Lo, I am with you always." How does God speak? He speaks through conscience. Into everyone of us God has placed a sense of "oughtness." To some degree, every man has the voice of God in the form of his conscience. God speaks through needs-our own needs and those of others. I heard a father say not long ago that he saw a need for God in his life when he saw a need for Hira in his child. No man can look need in the face for long and not hear God saying "go, do, be." God speaks through challenges. In the United States we live in a society which is the out-growth of

If a man listens closely he can hear God's voice saying "go, possess the land." He made his creations, by his own dmission, to have dominion over all the earth. He speaks, calling his children to defeat proverty, injustice, hardship God is speaking, if we only Haren.

But, if we would hear, we must hear carefully. Many terrible things have been done "in the name of the Lord." Far too often we listen to self and call it God. To keep our conscience, our needs, and our challenge in perspective God has given us His word. In listening to His voice we must open our hearts to the Bible, fervent prayer, Christian admonition and a discipline which gives attention to the Spirit side of life. We can not be "nit-pickers," choosing to believe parts of the truth and deleting others. We must ask in all humility what is God's Will and way as revealed in all sources for any given problem or situation. Yes, we must listen carefully to discern fully what it is God is saying.

act. The scriptures say "If we sin willfully after we have received the knowledge of the truth there remaineth no sacrifice for our sips." A modern theologian puts it this way. You can't have just an opinion of Christ after you have met him." Once you have listened to His voice, you must "do or die." Often men want to discuss religion only intellectually. Was it not Pilot who crucified Jesus, who asked the question "What is truth?"

Did not the rich young ruler want to philosophize on the eternal life? Did not Nicodemus wonder at the truth of being a born-again Christian when he heard it? No, we must act on

Yes, we live in a "noisy age," but God has always spoken 'softly enough or leudly enough" for us to pay attention if we want to hear. Let there be a time each day in your life when you listen to the voice of God.

President Makes Some Weak Points

President Nixon's vigorous statement of position on the 1969 bombing of Cambodia before the Veterans of Foreign Wars convention in New Orleans and again at a press conference in San Clemente reminds us all that there are two sides to all questions, and that we have been hearing mostly one on this subject.

As commander in chief of the armed forces. President Nixon took full responsibility for ordering the tactical bombing. His reasons cannot be faulted. The bombing saved the lives of Americans threatened by some 40,000 North Vietnamese aggressors using Cambodia as a sanctuary. The President, speaking from unassailable experience, also says that the bombing brought the Communists to the truce table in Paris sooner than they would otherwise

Perhaps the most telling assertion by the President is the statement that if he had it to do all over again, he would conduct that particular episode in exactly the same manner. Retrospect always gives broader views and sober judgments. Critics now have to argue that the saving of American lives is not preferable to bombing of the enemy.

Apart from that, the other principal issue is secrecy that surrounded the entire Cambodian operation. Yet the bombing was no secret to the chief of state, Prince Shanouk, who asked for it and even invited President Nixon to visit him while it was in progress. It was no secret to the Communist aggressors from North Vietnam who were on the receiving end of the bombing. It was

Other Thoughts

The results of the recent election in Greece are significant, even if voters were given only the opportunity to say yes or no to a plan which assures seven years in office for the country's self-proclaimed president, George

Papadopoulos. The revealing fact is not that 78 per cent voted to support the plan, but that 22 per cent felt secure enough as dissenters to vote

While the Papadopoulos government has been criticized for its authoritarian policies, the election does not reflect a population being herded to the polls to vote like automatons, the way Communist dictatorships perpetuate themselves with "99 per cent" votes of support. It is apparent that at least one out of four Greeks do not approve of the way Mr. Papadopoulos is creating a republic, and feel free to say so with no secret to the Soviet Union, or to Communist

Because it was not, the President has a good case when he says that the bombing brought the Communists to the Paris truce table more quickly. They knew he meant business.

He could have added that it also did not interfere with the larger detente in progress between the United States of America and each of the large Communist powers. Indeed, had the President announced publicly his decision to bomb Cambodia, Prince Sihancuk would have been forced to oppose it publicly. By the same token, Russia and Communist China would have been forced to take public positions against the United States and perhaps offer more aid to the Communists of Indochina. The President's subsequent trips to Peking and Moscow might

Probe Of IRS Is Long Overdue

WASHINGTON-The Internal Revenue Service today is under a thorough congressional investigation to determine if it allowed itself to be used for political or ideological warfare The probe was sparked by secret White House memos, suggesting such activity by the IRS, which were unveiled by the Senate Watergate Committee. But none of the memos or testimony so far has provided evidence to support such suggestions. They tended, rather, to indicate that White House political operators were having little luck in getting the IRS to play along with a desire to harass, intimidate or punish "enemies" with tax audits

'The House-Senate Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation is in the process of reviewing IRS files on 300 persons and a soure or more political and social activist groups on various White House "enemies" lists. Lincoln Arnold, deputy chief of the committee staff, said a review of the files, expected to be completed in six weeks, should determine which were audited routinely as a result of criteria applied to all citizens, and which ones may have been audited for political purposes.

An IRS spokesman said all audits must be accompanie by paper work explaining the justification for the audit and bearing the authorizing signatures of IRS officials. Arnold said the joint committee is also looking into allegations that the IRS was instructed by the White House to grant special favors to friends of the President, such as quashing audits of actor John Wayne and evangelist Billy

But Arnold said the committee investigation does not include claims that some of the President's friends have been subjected to IRS action authorized by anti-Nixon IR3 officials. The most recent and notable action against a Nixon friend was a $22.8 million income tax lien filed Aug. 3 against the personal assets of San Dingo, Calif., financier C. Arnholt Smith. (On May 31, the Security and Exchange Commission, headed by Nixon appointees, charged Smith in a separate action with violations of securities laws, including fraud.)

Fanning the suggestion that there are some anti-Nixon or anti-Republican officials in the IRS who would institute the largest single-year tax lien against a single individual solely on personal, political or ideological grounds, Smith conimented in a recent interview "The people who have supported the President the last eight years are targeted and singled out by these damned bureaucratic agencies." The IRS discounts Smith's claim of bureaucratic persecution, noting that the efforts to collect back taxes may have to stand up in court, and it is especially defensive about suggestions that it can become a political tool. Interviews with top-ranking IRS officials reveal a pride in the agency's internal operating mechanisms which are intended to protect it from political abuse.

"This is not to say one of our 70,000 people could not be corrupted, bribed, coerces into circumventing regulations," said one official who did not want to be identified.

"It would be damned tough," responded a former assistant to a Nixon-appointed IRS commissioner. The implication is that he IRS today is tougher to use improperly than most other government agencies.

Granddaughter looks like a little old lady

By Abigail Van Buren # 1973 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I have a 22-year-old college-educated granddaughter who looks like a little old lady from the hills of Tennessee. She doesn't wear a drop of makeup! And her hair, which is straight as a poker, she brushes straight down, or pins up on top of her head like a charwoman. She wears funny little wire-framed glasses. I never see her in anything but blue jeans, or a gingham apron, suitable for a barn dance.

When I tell you she could have qualified for Miss Teanage America when she was 17, it's not just Grandma talk-

This change came about during her sophomore year at college. She's an honor student and never got mixed up with drugs. What is the matter with this child? Is she punishing her mother who is a beautiful woman and loves beauty? Or is she punishing her father who is rich and would buy her anything she wants?

BEWILDERED GRANDMA

DEAR BEWILDERED: Nothing is the matter with her. She's making a statement: "Accept me, unadorned. Please take the time and effort to discover the real me!" Look closely, Grandma, you raight find a very beautiful person behind those little wire-framed glasses.

DEAR ABBY: Help! Maybe if our neighbors see this in print they might take the HINT. Our neighbor's divorced daughter, with her two small andisciplined children [ages 2 and 4] lives right next door to us. The problem: This mother gets these children up at 7 a. m. and sends them outside to play. They play with very noisy toys, also acream and yell at the top of their lungs.

This continues all day long. Believe me, it is enough to "wake the dead." My bushand and I have a business that keeps us up late at night, and we would like to sleep until at least 9

I know people write to you complaining about barking dogs, but what about barking children? Sign this, WISH THEY WOULD MOVE

DEAR WISH: A hint won't help. TELL your neighbors that you would approciate it if they supervised the children at indoor play urtil at least 9 a. m. because you need your rest. And don't be bashful. They probably send the kids outside so THEY can go back to bed. DEAR ABBY: You had a letter in your column from a oman who visited her sister in Omaha, and couldn't sleep because this sister had a grandfather clock in the hall which went "ding, dong, and bong" every half hour. Well, that reminded me of my own story: After I married, I moved to a distant state. My own dear mother came to visit me every summer. She'd stay the whole month of June. We had a Westminster clock which had been in my husband's family for four generations, and my husband had been hearing those chimes ever since be was a baby. Mother complained that the chimes kept her awake, so persuaded my husband to turn off the chimes during Mother's visits. My husband had become so accustomed to hearing those chimes that he couldn't fall asleep without them

Well, after six years of Mother's June visits, we had five children-all with birthdays in March! So, tell that lady to get some ear plugs so her sister's chimes won't bother her. Or better yet, to get a chiming

POLLY'S POINTERS

Inflation Prompts Discourse on Bread

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY - How I do hate to waste anything and icularly now, when things are so expensive. My family has grown up and I find bread is one of the hardest things to reserve. I bake lots of kinds but I follow the same procedure with store-bought bread. I put two to four slices in a wich pag and freeze it. When needed, a bag is taken out and the bread dropped into the toaster or just warmed or Science, art, investigative pursuits all fine here.

laid out to thaw while a meal is being prepared. Also, I use my electric knife to cut my homemade bread because I can then slice it hot. I even save the bread crumbs and store them in a plastic bag. When I need crumbs for a casserole I just mix in a bit of butter with them and sprinkle on top. The result is a lovely brown top. I try to save every little crust. When my husband entertains his poker club, I make a large pan of old-fashioned bread pudding. Some of the younger men did not even know what it was but asked for seconds.

Polly's Problem DEAR POLLY - The pad I use under my tablecloths stuck to my Early American table in two places. The table had been waxed several times and nothing I have tried will budge the spots. Any suggestions will be appreciated. — ERMAL

DEAR POLLY -- My Pet Peeve is with patterns. It is lmost impossible to buy a pattern for a blouse or other top without getting and paying for patterns for pants and-or skirts and maybe a vest, too. I probably have a dozen pants patterns that I will never use and all because I could not buy the blouse patterns I wanted separately. — PATRICIA

DEAR POLLY - Want to outsmart that leary mouse? Put cheese on the trap for about three nights but do not set the trap. About the fourth night, bait and set it and you will catch him for sure. - ROSA

DEAR POLLY - As a protection from late frosts my neighbor houses her early tomato plants in plastic gallon ags with the bottoms cut out. The open tops afford ventilation. I am starting now to save all my piastic jugs for an early garden next year and will only have to send the bottoms of the jugs to the dump. — RUBY

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) - Told by doctors that there was no hope their 20-year-old son would recover from traffic accident injuries, Lester and Madeline Wolcik asked that he be allowed to die and that his kidneys be used to help someone else live. "If Paul could have decided, that's what he would have wanted," Mrs. Wojcik said after doctors removed breathing tubes that were keeping her

Skylab Crew 'Going Strong'

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) - Space Agency doctors say the Skylab 2 astronauts "are still going strong" and credit their good health to rigid exercise sessions aboard the orbiting laboratory. More medical, solar astronomy and other experiments were scheduled by the spacemen today on their 35th day in earth orbit.

Auto Talks Center On Pensions

DETROIT (AP) - Contract talks between the United Auto Workers and Chrysler Corp. centered today on the cost of pension improvements sought by the union. UAW President Leonard Woodcock told newsmen Thursday that the issue of voluntary overtime, one of the union's key goals, must be resolved. The current contract expires

Agnew Support Drops Sharply

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) - The latest Gallup poll shows that support among Republicans for a 1976 presidential bid by Vice President Spiro T. Agnew has slipped sharply since it was disclosed he is the target of a federal investigation. Agnew's backing among Republican respondents slipped from 35 per cent in an April poll to 22 per cent in the latest survey, the Gallup organization said. California Gov. Ronald Reagan went up from 20 to 22 per

Two Nabbed In Glass Case

DETROIT (AP) - The FBI has arrested a Ford Motor Co. research engineer and a Romanian government official on charges they conspired to steal a secret glassmaking process from the auto firm. The FBI identified the two as John C. Akfirat, 39, of Ann Arbor, Mich., and Alexandru Patrasku, 46, an official of the Romanian Ministry of Light Industry. The FEI said the material was stolen for sale to a Portuguese firm, with Akfirat to

Canadian Strike End Sought

OTTAWA (AP) - The House of Commons by a vote of 192 to 24 gave preliminary approval Thursday night to a bill to end the national railway strike, now in its ninth day. Union leaders said the 56,000 strikers would not go back to work unless the pay hike provided by the bill was increased, and David Lewis, leader of the New Democratic party urged that this be done.

Sports Spotlight

By J Richards

Just one weekend is left on the Seminole Turf Club inaugural season which closes out Monday, and it's been some season Al Grillo has managed to put together to reacquaint Central Florida fans with the trotters.

A press pass doesn't say male or female on it, but we're proud to salute the Turf Club for giving us guys a chance for a little 'lib-eration' with the institution of Men's night, as well as the traditional women's evening.

That's not the only "sign of the times" move the Casselberry track has made this season. The "beef night" at the turf club was bound to be a popular event from the moment it started, and we wonder just how many new fans the trotters picked up from housewives and husbands who decided to take a little "$2 shopping" on a drable charcowinning a beef steer dressed and wrapped and maybe a little extra cash on number seven in the fifth?

'NOT EVEN A BUMP'

Had a short session with a fishing fanatic friend who's been overusing his crying towel of late, but we don't blame Seems Bubba Smith, a bass angler since we've known him (It really hasn't been that long now, Bubba) spent two and one-half hours from the Osteen Bridge to Lemon Bluff trying his luck with just about anything he could think of, and didn't get a thing but two bream to show for it.

"I used black worms, purple worms, red worms, black worms with red heads, red worms with black heads...you name it, and nothing. I stopped every sc often and fished one spot after another for 10-15 minutes, and not even a rise," said Bubba, spilling his tragic tale.

"Well, finally, I broke out the fly rod-I figured if nothing else worked, maybe that would-and all I got was two lousy

A TRUE FISHING FRIEND

About that time, Otto Garrett, a constant Saturday Oshing companion of Bubba's broke out into one of his less friendly grins, laughed and tried to console his disheartened buddy with a not-too-consoling laugh.

The water level has risen considerably, and the current on the river is "rushing like 90 miles an hour," the duo reported, which confirms fishing columnist Bob Orrell's report about local fishing right now, but once that and the heat leaves us, fishing should be pretty good again. At least for Bubba's soggy crying towel, we hope it is.

JAMBOREE TIME COMING

CAN HENRY DO IT?

With 28 games remaining, can "The Hammer" put the nishing touches on his heroic efforts to move from a mere hall of famer into a baseball myth? Auron, who has pounded 33 round trippers so far this year is only eight shy of tying Babe Ruth's awatting mark, and that works out to just a little over one circuit blast every four games for the Brave's

We're reminded that about mid-season some computer somewhere predicted all of this. Seems the report said ole' Hank would come up to bat in his last game of the season with 713 homers, and the way things are going, it just might be right on the money. Jimmy The Greek, move over.

How much money do you think Aaron's going to ask for next year ... especially if he's still waiting for number 715?

Pro Charts NFC East:

PROSPECTUS -Alex Webster's almost ecstatically optimistic after 8-6 season. But I can't see it, consid ering they're still in same division with Skins and Cowboys and they've made relatively little change over last year. Best thing that's happening to them is an improving defense that still lacks one big stud up front.

OFFENSE

PASSING - Has Norm Snead, in his 12th seation, finally evolved into a class QB7 it sure tooks like it. He had his best year in '72. Still no gazelle setting up. Randy Johnson still competing Good RECEIVING - The one element lacking is speed. But they've got a and going to Dan Herrman out wide. Rich Houston, the other wide man, has held off Bob Grim for regular job. For depth, they've added old-time. Gary Ballman from Eagles. Good RUNNING - No man means more to Giants, or maybe more to any feam, than Ron Johnson. He runs for better than 1,000 yards, catches among the leaders and blocks with any. He a a force all in himself.

They've got to settle on a running mate, and it looks like either Vin Clements or injury-prone Charley Evans. Very good

LINE - Fairly well stabilized with an experienced, cohesive group The daddy of them all is Greg Larson, starting his 13th campaign.
And fittingly he's got the best support, in seven-year man Bob Hyland. No all-pros on this front wall but they do particularly good job on pass protection. Good LINE - Jim Garrett, the defensive coordinator, had extraordinary success spotting Jack Gregory, the ex-Brown, as his rover. Made the tall end an all-pro. They'll probably continue the system because it gets maximum usage of his best rusher. Ron Glover could be a surprise playing nose man in an odd front. Good LINEBACKING - Finally realized Jim Files is a lot more at home as the mike man and have moved him back to middle. Pat Hughes and John Douglas hold lead roles for the outside spots, with Ron Hornsby useful anywhere, And in the cookie crop is big Brad Van cit, one of the most versable athletes around. Fair

SECONDARY — Pretty good mixture of young and old. Spider Lock-hart at safety and Willie Williams of right corner are the wise heads who hold them together. Maybe Eldridge Small top draftee a year ago, can challenge Pete Athas at other corner. Richmond Flowers still feeling his way along as a pro safety Good XICKING — Got improved performance as punter last year from Toin Blanchard and Pete Gogolak, the original soccer-styler, had a big cometack in held goal department. Rocky Thompson, who helps as running back, is also a streak on returns. Good.

PREDICTION

Feeling that the Giants are a little over-sold on themselves. They don't stack up against the real good teams — third in division.

Paterno Counts His Pluses good football team in 1973, and is close to being a great team, according to Joe Paterno who is preparing his Nittany Lions for their season opener Sept. 15 against Stanford at Palo Alto. Paterno, starting his eight season as Penn State coach, says of his team, "I have a good feeling about this squad. The morale was good during spring practice, there was a lot of enthusiasm and they (the players) seemed to like each other, which is a big plus." An optimistic Paterno should strike fear in the hearts of Penn State opponents. In the past seven seasons under a gloomy Paterno, Penn State won 63, lost 13, tied one, went to five postseason bowi games. The Lions have been perennial eastern champions.

Paterno is concerned about the ability of junior Tom Shuman to make up for the loss of All-American John Hufnagel at quarterback, and the physical condition of senior Randy Crowder, a rugged defensive tackle who underwent knee surgery in the spring. Shuman has a stronger arm than Hufnagel, but the questions are whether he can handle State's option-type attackthe deception and the quickness on the handoffs and pitchouts, and can be run as well as Hufnagel. The 235-pound Crowder made 95 tackles, 29 unassisted, for last season's Sugar Bowl team. He is considered the key to

'King' Roman Disputes Early KO Prediction

TOKYO (AP) - Challenger Joe "King" Roman played baseball and champion George Foreman planned a final light gym workout on the eve of a world beavyweight boxing title fight Foreman is expected to win with an early round

"I don't agree," said Roman's manager, Bill Daly. "If that were the case they should just mail the check to the hotel. "They are going to be surprised," he said of the local boxing writers who have been enthusiastic about Foreman's battering ram punches and showing sympathy for Roman, the No. 9 contender in both the World Boxing Council and World Boxing Association ratings,

Just 24 hours before the start of the 15-round fight at 12:30 p.m. Saturday here and 11 p.m. EDT Friday in the United States, Laly expressed concern about the size of the ring, which his aides went to inspect and found still not erected in Tokyo's 15,000-sept Budokan- Martial Arts Hall. The rules call for a ring 16-to-20 feet square, and officials said Thursday the Tokyo ring would be about 17 feet. "They've got trouble on their hands if they don't have the right ring," Daly added. "They can't put a 16-foot ring in there with two big giants. I have to protect my fighter. "In Madison Square Garden and all over the country they have 18-to-20-foot rings," Roman's manager said.

Meanwhile, Roman was playing catch in the yard of his hotel, after some running in the morning. When the size of the ring came up at a rules meeting

Thursday, Foreman's manager, Dick Sadler, suggested an 11-foot ring so "we'll have some fighting instead of running." He and Foreman hope the predictions of an early round knockout will come true. Foreman-who has scored 35 knockouts in winning 38 fights against no defeats-won the title from Joe Frazier with a second round knockout in Roman, 25, of Puerto Rico, comes in with a record of 44 victories-22 by knockout-seven losses and one draw. He is to receive $100,000 for the fight, which is to be televised nationwide in Japan and by closed circuit in the United Foreman, who is to receive $1 million, says he has no special thoughts about who he would like to meet next. "I'm taking it one fight at a time," said the 24-year-old champion from Hayward, Calif. The managers have waived Japan's rule that three knockdowns in one round amount to a knockout. It will be up to American referee Jay Edson of Phoenix to stop the action if he thinks one of the fighters is too badly hurt to go on. An eight-count will be mandatory, the count for a knock-down will continue after the bell except in the final round and scoring will be on the basis of five points for the winner of each round, with the loser getting four or less. About 80 per cent of the 15,-000 seats have been reported sold, at prices ranging from $189 down to $7.55. Schoolboys
