Alamonte Man In County Jail On Charge Of Robbery

Walker Butler, young white inmate of Alamonte Springs, sentenced by two grand Alamonte Springs women who said that he is the man who robbed them of $200 in their homes at about 2:00 o'clock this morning, confessed his guilt and was brought to the County Jail to await grand jury action next month.

According to Sheriff Mack Hickman, who with Deputy Jack Hickman and Marvin Tyler of Alamonte Springs, Butler was arrested in his bedroom in that town at about 1:00 o'clock this morning. He entered Mrs. Harkness' home in the heart of the town by cutting through a screened porch door, and breaking a plate glass door.

He crept up the stairway in the darkness, and entered Mrs. Harkness' bedroom. Testified with fear and barely able to raise her voice, Mrs. Harkness offered no resistance, but Butler, whose face was covered by a hood, a handkerchief and a band, demanded each of the women to kill if the alarm should be given according to Sheriff Mack Hickman.

Mrs. Theresa, who was sleeping in an adjoining room, was awakened by the sound of the door being opened. She saw Butler and then left the room.

Butler, who was wearing a dark suit and a hat, was seen by Sheriff Mack Hickman as well as by Mrs. Harkness, who held them in her room until they were taken to the County Jail.

RELIGION ENTERS DEBATE LEADING TO RECOGNITION

Roosevelt Seeks Freedom Of Worship For Americans In Russia

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(A.P.)—Religious freedom for American citizens in Russia yesterday was discussed as one of the subjects on which an understanding is being sought by President Roosevelt before an announcement of Russian recognition.

The Chief Executive is insisting on the national of this country in the Soviet state must have virtually the same liberty of worship they have in the United States.

The response of Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet commissar for foreign affairs, was not made known but the White House still felt an accord between the nations was possible before the President leaves for Warm Springs, Georgia.

Understandably, the Soviet government said yesterday that citizens of other countries were accorded freedom of religious worship in Russia and the question should not be one to stand in the way of restoring diplomatic relations.

In view, however, of the anxiety of religious groups in the United States because of the Soviet attitude toward religion, it was felt Mr. Roosevelt wanted the issue fully settled so it might not be a source of future irritation.

A two-day recess in the parleys between the President, his assistants, and Litvinoff led also to the belief in authoritative circles that the Soviet commissar might be awaiting word from his government on the religious question and other matters.

WALLACE ASKS U. S. TO DECIDE ON POLICIES

MUNCIE, Ind., Nov. 15.—(A.P.)—Secretary Wallace tonight asked that America take a position either on reducing tariffs or curbing production as a compromise between the two and to be prepared to stick to his decision for from 10 to 15 years.

In an address which had White House approval, Wallace told farmers and business men at a breakfast, opening the cotton-wool production control program in Indiana, that the Nation should make an early but deliberate decision as to its foreign policy.

Adjustments and a planned program will be essential whether the policy adopted is internationalism, nationalism or a combination of the two, he said, visualizing a standard of living "two or three times that which we had in 1929," as within the Nation's reach should it pursue a definite plan.

Sholtz Hits At Bankers Whom He Says Are Behind Plan To Bring About State Sales Tax

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Nov. 15.—(A.P.)—Governor Sholtz, describing his address as the "Answer" to critics of the present school situation, told the Tallahassee Citizen tonight that the school should be used as a lever to force upon the banking interests of our people the burden of a sales tax.

"The larger portion of the money from a sales tax, he said in the prepared text of his address, 'would go toward the payment of the value of the millions of dollars of bonds held by banks who purchased them from these less fortunate at a few cents on the dollar.'

Continuing he said: "Of course, the popular way would be to join the crowd and appropriate more state money for our schools, but it is my duty as your chief executive to do my best for the people of our state. It is not an easy thing to oppose what, for the moment, may be the public opinion. The politician who the clamor or remains silent, regardless of what the most political thing to do may be, and as a true friend to the people in the performance of his executive duty, protect our money by carrying out my oath as your chief executive, endeavor to put it on a sound basis and in the face of animosity of selfish interests, fight to keep the educational system from being a political football."

ROCKEFELLERS MENTIONED IN SINCLAIR CASE

Fitzpatrick Admits He Got Huge Sum After Deal With Heads Of Rival Oil Companies

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—(A.P.)—William Fitzpatrick, former president of the Prairie Oil Co., testified to Senate investigators today that he had received $300,000 of the $12,000,000 profits in the Sinclair consolidated pool through an arrangement with the Rockefellers.

His admission created a sensation in that the charges had been denied during lengthy hearings although Ferdinand Pecora, committee counsel, stated that he had evidence which implicated the Rockefellers, and that he would secure an admission from Fitzpatrick today.

This "Santa Claus" deal, through which the president of a rival oil company received $300,000 from a syndicate trading in Sinclair Consolidated stock, was admitted yesterday by Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate, who he appeared before the probe.

Sinclair, however, refused to concede that there was any connection between the gift, and what he said was negotiations that were under way in 1929 to merge Fitzpatrick's company with the Sinclair Consolidation. The consolidation was completed in 1932.

Under persistent questioning from Pecora, Sinclair said that a possible loss of the oil syndicate which made a profit of more than $12,000,000 through the sale of 1,150,000 shares of Sinclair stock to the public from Oct. 24, 1928 to May 17, 1929.

"Was this $300,000 transfer a Santa Claus gift?" Pecora asked Sinclair yesterday.

"Apparently it was," Sinclair smiled. "All right, it was that, doesn't it?"

"Did you know they were planning Santa Claus gifts on your part?" asked Senator Cussen (R. Mich.).

"You were willing to wear them?" Cussen persisted.

"I was," Sinclair said in a conversation recently with Fitzpatrick, now vice chairman of the Sinclair Oil Company, he suggested to his colleague that the "gift" payment "will say it was soft," interrupted Fitzpatrick told me.

Fitzpatrick went on, "that Blair & Company, of New York (also a participant in the pool) said the Rockefellers wanted to make him a money."

"Did they get the money from the oil pool profits, not from the Rockefellers, didn't they?" Pecora asked.

"I've told you at least a dozen times," Sinclair blurted.

"Well," again interrupted Senator Cussen, "you never get even a row dime from the Rockefellers, did you?"

"Not yet," Sinclair replied. He repeatedly denied that he had made any money in connection with his directorship of the oil syndicate.

Science and Progress

During the past twenty-five or fifty years people have become so accustomed to marvelous inventions and almost inexplicable labor-saving devices that they accept these things now entirely as a matter of course.

Time was, and not so very long ago either, as geologists figure time that the cave man and his family rubbed two sticks together in order to get the fire which produced their only light at night.

We seldom think when we press an electric light button that if it were not for science, invention and industrial progress, we would still be rubbing two sticks together.

Such incidences make one wonder what would happen to this country if suddenly all modern improvements were unexpectedly discontinued.

It is not an easy pleasant thought, is it? Very few of us could get along at all if time were turned back no longer than a hundred years ago.

The repeal of prohibition has presented quite a problem for state and national governments in the control and regulation of liquor sales.

The Liquor Control Problem

The repeal of prohibition has presented quite a problem for state and national governments in the control and regulation of liquor sales.

Saloons and speakeasies are prohibited. The table will be served only at tables in legitimate restaurants, hotels, clubs, railroad cars and ships.

Speakeasies must reform into "restaurants" or "clubs" or perish. Bars are not outlawed, but drinking at bars is, however, they may still work behind bars, but they will be lonely.

Christian Science Church

"MORTALS AND IMMORTALS" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of the Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, Nov. 12.

The Golden Text was from Romans 8:10. "The earnest expectation of the creature waiteth for the manifestation of the sons of God."

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Thus saith the Lord (the Holy One of Israel, and his Maker). Ask me of things to come concerning my sons, and concerning the work of my hands, and I will direct you. I have made the earth, and created man upon it: I even my hands, have stretched out him up in righteousness, and I will direct all his ways." (Isa. 48:11-13.)

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "God, the divine Principle of man, and man in God's likeness are inseparable, harmonious, and eternal. The Science of being furnishes the rule of perfection, and brings immortality to light. God and man are not the same, but in the order of divine Science, God

"Beauty For Sale" Is Milane Film Today

Every once in a while there comes to the screen a picture that meets every appetite in entertainment.

"Beauty for Sale," the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature which plays tonight at the Milane Theater, is just such a picture. It has everything in the way of popular appeal. It packs a human, dramatic punch as well as racy, swift comedy. It has simplicity and sophistication. And, most of all, it has a popular background in the beauty salon locale.

The cast is particularly meritorious with many important names sharing outstanding prominence. There are, for example, the lovely Madge Evans and the capable Otto Kruger, in the leading romantic roles. Then there is Alice Brady (and who could forget her "When Ladies Meet"?) as Kruger's flutery wife who bounces in at the climactic moment with divorce that paves the way to a happy ending.

Sam Fleischer has returned from Macon and Atlanta where he spent a few days on business.

World's Largest Ferry

At this time only three or four ships have been ordered and for the other portion the building is expected to be slow.

The task of changing a field will be an difficult this year as in any previous season. Almost every club has at least one back worthy of the first quarter.

Among the halfbacks sure to obtain many votes are Grant of Georgia, Russell of Alabama, Nations of Tennessee, Key of Georgia, K. Marshall of Auburn, Brown of Tulane, Brown of Georgia, H. H. H. of Mississippi State, M. H. of Louisiana State, C. W. of Swanton, and Bryan of Tulane. Henderson of Florida is a line halfback but has been out of his team's three major games with injuries. Davis of Georgia Tech is another fine athlete.

Ralph Kercheval, a fine punter, punter and runner, is one of the leading contenders for the fullback position. Chapman of Georgia, Phillips of Georgia Tech, E. L. and Hughes of Florida, H. H. of Mississippi, and Loftis of Tulane are others. Phillips is a good punter and Georgia Tech's chief punter in addition to his duties as a punter and defensive back-up of the line.

Numbered among the better quarterbacks are Williams of Auburn, McDonald of Tulane, Moseley of Alabama, Brockett of Tennessee, and Dixon of Vanderbilt.

Members of Tennessee and Robinson of Tulane are crack centers. Hupke of Alabama, Murchison of Georgia, Davidson of Kentucky, Chambers of Auburn and E. H. of Tennessee are among the best guards. Lee of Alabama, Starbuck of Florida, Williams of Georgia Tech, Diddy of Alabama, Flowers of Mississippi, Terrance of Louisiana State, Oppen of Georgia, McCullum of Auburn, and Tharpe of Georgia Tech are tackle contenders.

WCTU Head Predicts Return Of Prohibition

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 11.—(AP)—Mrs. M. E. W. Smith, secretary of the W. C. T. U., has declared that prohibition will return—possibly within ten years.

In her first interview since the 18th amendment was repealed by 27 states approving the 21st amendment, Mrs. Smith forecast that the 21st amendment was doomed to be supplanted.

MIAMI, Fla., and Miami, Bahamas, two of the continent's most important water routes, are to be linked by a regular double service this winter. Under arrangement with the Bahamas Government, the Canadian National Steamship Co. will operate a ferry service between the two ports starting on January 1 and making three sailings a week from each port. The boats consist of a 100-foot motor launch, 200 feet long, with accommodations for 200 passengers and a large number of automobiles. The ship was constructed in 1928 and was originally used in service on the Pacific Coast between Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle.

MCLUCAS MAKES TEAM READY FOR FRIDAY'S GAME

Landon Lions To Offer Stubborn Opposition Although Crippled

Still looking for that elusive something which will make his team score when it reaches the 50-yard line, Coach Lucas and McLucas have yesterday completed a second week of practice at the University of Jacksonville, Wadswold, and Leaning.

His team came through the hard struggle without a serious injury. Key players, while braving the fact that a victory was almost in the bag, felt that the team played Orlando all the way, even in the matter of that surprising attack which Orlando turned loose. The players feel that they could have won, and that they could win if the two teams were thrown together again.

Banderson Seeks Data On Dysentery Spread

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Dr. Herman N. Banderson, president of the Chicago board of health, has announced a questionnaire to all parts of the United States and indicated what he described as a startling number of cases of amoebic dysentery.

Dr. Banderson first disclosed the spread of the disease last week with the announcement that dysentery traced to Chicago hotels and restaurants, was responsible for the deaths of 15 persons among them, Tom Gibson, and the illness of some hundred others.

"Thousands of individuals apparently have the disease without any recognition of it," he said in a statement. "This only one of the ways in which the disease is spread, but there is danger of them spreading the disease to others."

Supreme Court Will Okay NRA, Says

OCALA, Nov. 11.—(AP)—Former Gov. William S. Wood of Cuba, speaking at an Armistice Day celebration here, predicted the Supreme Court of the United States would uphold the National Recovery Act.

"The Supreme Court has declared that where the letter of the law comes into conflict with the well-being of the people, the well-being of the people takes precedence," Wood declared. "It is now law as a personal representative of Recovery Administrator, Mr. S. Johnson."

Some of Alabama, Brown of Georgia Tech, and Smith of Alabama are good ones. This is only a partial list. There are many others who must be taken into consideration when the final sitting program is listed.

INTEREST IN LONG HEARING AT HIGH PITCH

Texas Senator Forced To Enter Building By Fire Escape When Mob Jams Doorway

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 16.—(A.P.)—Senator Tom Connally, Texas Democrat and chairman of the Senate committee investigating the election of Senator John Overton was forced to climb a fire escape and through an upstairs window in order to reach the committee room in the Scottish Rite Cathedral today as hundreds of persons were massed in front of the building seeking an entrance to the hearing.

As Senator Connally climbed through the window he found himself in the ladies' wash room, but committee attaches quickly steered him through the building into the hearing chamber.

Other officials and newspapermen had to follow the Senator's climb up the fire escape because of the dense throng. Among those who went through the window was Mrs. Hilda Phelps Hammond, chairman of the Women's Committee of Louisiana, which is seeking the removal of both Senators Overton and Huey Long.

Senator Overton also had to use the fire escape and as the crowds in the street became aware of these tactics they began shouting "Remember Sands Point" and "Don't get socked in that wash-room" referring to Long's wash-room boat at the Sands Point Club.

City Loses Large Plant Which Goes To Orlando

With the arrival of Dec. 1, this city will lose one of its largest and most active economic enterprises, and a considerable amount of money has been released in the many months when the General Electric Co. office was in transferred to Orlando.

Cold Wave From North Holds North American Continent In Grip, With No Relief In Sight

(By The Associated Press)
A cold wave from the far north country today continued to hold much of the North American continent in its grip, bringing with it a slowly mounting death list while the storm-tossed North-Atlantic imperiled shipping.

Reports from Valencia in the Irish Free State told law ships found no trace of the British freighter "Sixby" at the spot where she last reported that she was struggling against a terrific storm 300 miles out. Her crew of 27, reported to have abandoned the ship were given up as lost. The same storm also ripped the steaming coal from another British ship but she reported little danger.

The weather man held little hope for relief today from the frigid blast which affected the entire country East of the Rockies. Pennsylvania counted six dead, Ohio two, Minnesota one, and two coast guardmen in a pique boat on Lake Superior are believed lost.

A score of deaths and storms on the Great Lakes and Atlantic were reported last night as falling temperatures brought new cold.

FISH IS CHARGED WITH SPREADING NAZI DATA IN U. S.

New York Editor Says Solon Recently Met With Spanknoebel

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—(A.P.)—Clarence Hathaway of New York, editor of the Daily Worker, today told the house immigration committee that Representative Fish of New York was spreading Nazi propaganda in the United States.

Fish headed a committee that investigated communism and the Daily Worker in the Hoover administration.

Hathaway said that "Mr. Z," a man in New York, had informed him that Fish met Heinz Spanknoebel, leader of the movement in the George Washington Hotel in New York last Saturday night.

The purpose of the meeting, Hathaway testified, was to determine whether to challenge the authenticity of a letter bearing the signature of Walter Hagg, leader of the Spanknoebel, spreading Nazi propaganda activities in the United States.

Hathaway presented what he said was the original letter, turned over to him by "Mr. Z," who had become disillusioned over the movement because it had been discovered in Germany that there was Jewish blood in his ancestry and that his parents had been driven out.

Chairman Dickstein, Democrat, New York, asked Hathaway if he could prove Fish attended the meeting in view of the fact that Spanknoebel is subject to arrest under a federal warrant for impersonating a German diplomatic agent. Dickstein suggested that "Mr. Z," whom Hathaway testified attended the meeting, come before the committee in executive session.

Representative Focht objected to this procedure. Dickstein announced conclusion of open hearings until Dec. 4.

NRA To Benefit City Shortly, Sears Asserts

Reminiscences of a crowded 15-cent spent in the Central Florida area, related before Sanford Republicans, who had gathered in the Orange Room of the Valder Hotel Tuesday noon, by Congressman Joe Sears of Jacksonville, were concluded with the admonition that "No one should become discouraged over the effects of the NRA program for it will be felt in Florida when the tourist season and the shipping season open again."

In his talk he made reference to the difficulties encountered in the erection of the lakefront building and the many trials which led up to final completion of this project. He told many stories of the Sanjford of old and the friendships which had begun here with many of its present residents, and he added that his recollection of early days in Florida could not be complete without a reference to those he spent in Sanford.

Other speakers on the brief program were Harry Brown, secretary of the Gainesville Chamber of Commerce and a former resident of this city, and Niles Schaffer, Gainesville restaurant operator.

CUTLER DENIES ROCKEFELLERS GIFT OF MONEY

Refuting Fitzpatrick, Financial Advisor Disclaims Interest In $300,000 Award

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—(A.P.)—A firm denial by Betram Cutler that the Rockefeller interests arranged a $300,000 gift to W. S. Fitzpatrick, oil operator, yesterday drew a sharp challenge before the Senate banking committee from Fitzpatrick himself.

Cutler, financial advisor to the Rockefellers for upward of 30 years, in a calm and unburied voice, smiling at times, was questioned by the committee in efforts to learn why Fitzpatrick received the money from a pool in Consolidated Oil stock which netted participants $12,000,000.

At the time of the operation of the pool in 1928-29, Fitzpatrick was president of the Prairie Oil and Gas Company, in which the Rockefellers had an interest and which was a rival to the (Continued on Page Four)

Fitzpatrick, examined at the morning session, told committee members that in connection with the sale of Prairie stock owned by Rockefeller charities, the Rockefeller interests had told him he would take care of it.

He explained he understood he was to receive about 10 percent of the profits of the New York banking firm of Hays and Company, which had the stock sale and that he was given $120,000, a two percent interest in the $6,000,000 of the profits.

Later, he added he was given the $300,000 from the Consolidated Oil pool profits in which Hays and Company had a fourth interest. In place of the balance of profits from the sale of the Rockefeller stock.

The investment, Fitzpatrick asserted, was made by the New York firm of Hays and Company, which had been with the Rockefeller company and that it was discussed with Cutler, representing the Rockefeller interests.

Representative Focht, Democrat, New York, asked Hathaway if he could prove Fish attended the meeting in view of the fact that Spanknoebel is subject to arrest under a federal warrant for impersonating a German diplomatic agent. Dickstein suggested that "Mr. Z," whom Hathaway testified attended the meeting, come before the committee in executive session.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—(A.P.)—A demand that politics be laid aside and speed be applied to administering relief under the civil works division was voiced before 500 state majority officials yesterday by President Roosevelt.

Speaking to the crowd which had assembled in the Assembly, the President said reports had come to him that politics had crept into the administration of relief.

"I am going to tell you that your national government is not trying to gain political advantage one way or the other out of the needs of human beings for relief," he said.

Trading Reported Brisk As Result Of NRA Festival Day Staged By County Trade Body

BENEFITS OF NRA NOT SATISFYING TO U.S. GRANGE

Taber Urges Control Of Inflation And Managed Currency

Trading was brisk and steady in Sanford today, according to many merchants as a direct result of the sales promotion work done by the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce in adequately advertising and staging NRA Festival Day.

A hasty survey revealed today that there are few merchants who failed to benefit by the gathering here of a larger than usual number of out-of-town persons in this city in a week-day. No one merchant said that his sales had doubled, but at the same time none denied that his sales were not more than normal.

Principal benefit of the Festival will come later, according to a trade body official, who said that there appeared to be many satisfied customers returning to their homes this afternoon with bargains which they had secured. These satisfied customers will return again, was the prediction, and whenever they were greeted with courtesy and were offered their needs at prices which suited them, they will visit again to continue their trading.

Many merchants reported that new faces were seen throughout the day. Ernest Gatchel, Sanford Acoustic group, for instance, reporting that he had gained several new customers from the Ovidis Chuluota section.

E. I. Hoy of the J. C. Penney Store declared that he is pleased with the Festival. It brought quite a few new customers to the Penney Store, he said, to make his Thursday business much better than usual.

Probably the most enthusiastic merchant was Louis North, shoe repair man on North Park Avenue. "I know that advertising and the NRA Festival pay," he said, "for today I had work brought into my shop from Ovidis, Geneva, Eustis, Deland, and Orlando, besides work from many in Sanford. Most of these new customers said they were in Sanford for the Festival."

The entertainment program which had been planned by Mrs. Gladys Morris Williams, was considered a success. Through it, the portable platform from one location to another up and down the business district, and the local talent received considerable applause at every stop.

The automobile race at 10:00 o'clock drew a large crowd to First Street and Park Avenue where the race started and finished, with Jake Tanner, driving a Model T Ford, securing victory by Reed and Sons, as the winner.

Six cars were started, but only five finished. The winner, Tom Smith, at the wheel of a Ford entered by the Proctor Chevrolet Co., quit the race at Sanford Avenue.

Tanner led the four cars all the way, finishing first by a block length. The Proctor at the wheel of a Ford touring car came in second with Meade Fox driving a Nash sedan entered by W. H. Ross. The finishing third and Vernon Westfall and another Ford owned Model T Ford finished last.

The day's program is to end with a football game at the City Hall although there will be considerable activity in the business district until a late hour. The game will be played at the City Hall and will start at 7:30 o'clock.

A discussion of what disposition is to be made of a $25,000 damage suit which has been brought against the town by former Mayor B. F. Haines will be a highlight of the meeting, although much time is expected to be devoted to the matter of the regulation of the town's lighting system.

The names of any residents of the town may be offered in nomination for any of the offices during the meeting, provided the nominee and his sponsor is a registered voter. The list of nominees is to be printed on the official ballot.

This year the voters are to elect seven councilmen, a mayor, and an assessor-treasurer. Upon taking office, the councilmen will appoint the assessor-treasurer to the office of tax collector and town clerk. His salary is to be $300 a year.
