CITY ACCEPTS DIVIDEND OF CLOSED BANK

Will Use Fund To Pay Up 2 Accounts And One Note, Due, Saving City Large Sum

Advised that they might wipe out two long outstanding accounts as well as effect a saving to the city, members of the City Commission, meeting in final session of the year at the City Hall last night, decided to take advantage of a one percent dividend payment made them by W. N. Tomalillo Equities of the Seminoles County Bank by closing out the account of the United Gas Improvement Co., Gallop and Emilio, and paying a note due to the Central Trust Company.

This action, which will save the city nearly $2400, was a highlight of a meeting which saw C. W. Whitner, representing a new bank that plans to operate between Sanford and Jacksonville, ask the city for a permit to build a dock and warehouse in the boat basin, the presentation of a letter written by Judge E. W. Ware in connection with the conviction and release of Robert Denton, and decision to order an investigation into the charge by J. A. Cunningham, local organizer, that both Sergeant Arthur Marshall have lax in duties upon a recent occasion, as other highlights of the meeting.

N. F. Lezotte, 53, prominent Oviedo every grower and civic leader there for the past 20 years, dropped dead at his home yesterday afternoon at about 4:30 o'clock. He had been ill for some time and physicians had called at his home yesterday afternoon to treat him.

Fred Bolly Exhibits Fine Catch Of Bass

Something of a local record was set yesterday morning by Fred Bolly, local grower, who caught three bass from the Wokiva River in less than an hour. The total weight of the beautiful fish he displayed being 11 pounds. The heaviest fish weighed 11 pounds and the other two weighed 11 pounds each. The Bolly's catch was made about a mile above the mill on the Wokiva River.

WINTER PARK—Little County Cows Spread In Public

Investigation of the farm board, sponsored by Norris, may be pursued later by the Senate agricultural committee, but for the present there are no plans to go ahead with it.

Action Delayed On Beer Bill In Senate

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Lack of a quorum delayed action by the Senate judicial committee today on the House 2.5 percent beer bill but Chairman Norris has called another meeting for next Monday. It was the second unsuccessful effort this week to obtain a quorum of the committee to begin work on the bill. Chairman Norris appointed a sub-committee of five members on the bill five-day work week bill and announced hearings will begin Jan. 8. Testimony to support their plan that increased freight rates be continued after next Mar. 31 was placed before the Interstate Commerce Commission by railroad representatives.

PROBE OF HOME LOAN SYSTEM IS URGED IN HOUSE

Bonus Army Eviction And R.F.C. Investigation Also Asked

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—(AP)—"A cleaning out" of the Home Loan Bank administration was urged yesterday in the House, which also heard suggestions for investigations of the bonus army eviction and the Reconstruction Corporation.

Accompanying a proposal for lower interest rates on farm and home indebtedness, Representative LaGuardia, Republican, New York, charged officials of the Home Loan Bank system had "purposely sabotaged" the law.

Representative Black, Democrat, New York, called the eviction of former service men from the capital by troops "one of the most disgraceful incidents in the history of the United States."

LaGuardia introduced a resolution "to place capital on a five-day work week." It would reduce interest on United States bonded indebtedness 2 percent, fix the legal rate of interest throughout the country at three percent and apply that maximum charge to reconstruction and home loan advances.

Half a dozen investigations either are under way in the Senate or have been proposed. A resolution for an inquiry into the bonus army eviction has been introduced by Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee. Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, has said that if present practices continue a thorough inquiry into the Reconstruction Corporation would be necessary.

The Senate Interstate Commerce Committee is ready to begin an investigation of all loans made by the Reconstruction Corporation and at its last meeting it was said the members virtually agreed on giving the corporation a "clean bill." The Senate banking committee is still investigating stock market practices.

INSULL FREED BY ACTION OF GREEK COURT

High Judiciary Body Rules That Chicago Utilities Magnate Is Unextraditable

ATHENS, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Further proceedings cannot be taken in Greece against Samuel Insull on the same charges on which the court ruled yesterday that he was unextraditable.

The decision is binding on Greece and is a binding step should they be so inclined, it is declared.

CHICAGO, Dec. 23.—(AP)—The fight to bring Samuel Insull back to the United States to face his accusers is on but there is a big question mark today as to the method of procedure. This was indicated by the prosecution which accused the former utilities czar of larceny and embezzlement.

There is a possibility that the state attorney may ask the state department to request the Greek government to deport Insull to some country from which he might be extradited.

The court, after having promulgated its short presentation of the defense case, found that depositions brought to Athens from Chicago did not support the charges against the former utilities operator, and let him go free.

There were extraordinary scenes among the large crowd which had gathered for the verdict and shouts of "long live Greek justice" echoed through the building which Insull emerged something of a hero.

"I owe thanks to Greek justice for the sympathy expressed," the Chicagoan said.

Rockefeller's Christmas Party Celebrated 2 Days

Tardy At Ormond Beach

ORMOND BEACH, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Santa Claus arrived two days late but it was "jolly Christmas" just the same last night at the Casements home of John D. Rockefeller, Sr.

Surrounded by a group of friends and neighbors, the aged philanthropist led in singing old-fashioned hymns and carols and gave to his guests jovial compliments of the season.

It is a time-honored custom of Rockefeller to delay his party until after Christmas night, and last night twinkling lights met the guests as they arrived.

The Christmas tree reached to the ceiling. Every guest was given a hearty handshake and a word of greeting as they walked through the crowd gathered to the door opening into the huge domed drawing room. There stood the brightly lighted tree whose limbed boughs overtopped a stack of presents for young and old alike.

The guests were seated around the edge of the drawing room which is octagonal in shape. They (Continued On Page Two)

SOLOMON URGES SEARCH FOR BETTER TIMES

Senator Pat Harrison Calls For Study Of Economic Situation With View To Cure

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—(AP)—A sympathetic search by a Senate committee for the road to prosperity was proposed yesterday by Senator Harrison, of Mississippi.

The senator, ranking Democrat on the finance committee, announced he would offer a resolution immediately after the holidays calling for a study "of the whole economic situation with a view primarily of obtaining constructive suggestions from leading economists, financiers, and statisticians as to methods and policies to restore economic stability."

Senator Harrison would include all economic subjects, particularly currency stabilization, inflation and silver, on the agenda for committee consideration. He has discussed the proposal informally with committee members and believes the Senate is inclined to favor prompt action.

It was the first proposal in the Senate this session for a general study of the nation's economic condition.

"We have now groped in economic despair for more than three years," he said in a formal statement. "The situation neither at home nor abroad shows any marked improvement."

"The methods which have been adopted are merely palliative. The situation has become cancerous. Certainly, in the circumstances, the best constructive thought of the Congress and the new administration may be aided in adopting the wisest policies which will hasten economic recovery."

"Personally, I believe that radical curtailments in government activities and every economy in government administration must be adopted, if the government is to preserve the credit of the government must be obtained and maintained."

Roosevelt Shocked At Report That He Desires Sales Tax

President-Elect Is Silent But Advisors Say He Is "Horried" At Suggestion

ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 23.—(AP)—President-Elect Roosevelt's advisers said yesterday he was horrified at the suggestion he had endorsed a proposal that a general manufacturers' sales tax be put through at the present short session of Congress as a means of balancing the nation's budget.

The suggestion was contained in new reports from Washington, not carried by the Associated Press, that the President-Elect had issued direct instructions to Speaker Garner, the vice president-elect, to revive the sales tax plan.

Roosevelt himself was silent on the Washington reports and declined to indicate whether he would use his influence with the Democratic majority in the House in any way with relation to the sales tax proposal during the present session.

In explaining that the New York governor was "horrified" at the report he had given his endorsement to the general manufacturers' sales tax proposal, Roosevelt's advisers drew a sharp distinction between the general manufacturers' sales tax plan and sales taxes on particular commodities such as the federal gasoline tax now in effect, and the tobacco tax.

They indicated however that Roosevelt was opposed to the general principle of sales tax.

Roosevelt did not discuss the sales tax question in any of his presidential campaign speeches, and until yesterday his attitude toward the proposed general manufacturers' sales tax had not been known.

Another interesting person who is scheduled to be present in Albany is Charles H. Smith, 80 years old, the youngest Civil War veteran remaining in the United States. Mr. Smith is a year around resident of Lake Mary. He enlisted with the Union forces when he was barely past 10 years of age and served 18 months before he was finally discharged for being under the age limit of 14 years. Despite this infirming of service regulation, the late Henry Cabot Lodge, then senator from Massachusetts, who was a friend of Mr. Smith, put through a special bill to give Mr. Smith a pension. The bill was signed by the late President Harding in 1922.

The Lake Mary orchestra, under the direction of Chester Saunders, and composed mainly of the sons, daughters, and grandchildren of Lake Mary pioneers, will play during the evening. Mr. Saunders is the son of A. M. Saunders, 71 years of age, who settled in Lake Mary in 1865 and expects to be present next Saturday night. Mr. Evans said today that he believes that by the late President's signature in every section and which annually honors its aged residents. He personally invited every resident of Sanford and Seminole County to attend the affair.

The committee in charge of arrangements is composed of the following: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Evans, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. DuFresne, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Triff, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert True.

Former Tennis Champ Takes His Own Life
NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Malcolm Whitman, 55, member of the textile firm of Lather and Whitman, and former national tennis champion, committed suicide today by leaping from his penthouse atop a five-story apartment house here. Associates told police Whitman has been suffering from a nervous breakdown.

Whitman was official of several milling companies and held the national singles tennis championship from 1898 to 1900. He wrote a history of tennis, one of the most complete books on the game ever written.

BARTOW—Peter Kuba, local contractor, received contract for re-roofing county hospital.

JACKSONVILLE—Algeron Blair received contract for building city's $2,000,000 post office.

Pioneers Of Seminole Will Be Honored At Unique Celebration

The eighth annual reception to the pioneer residents of Seminole County will be a event of next Saturday evening when a special committee from the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce will entertain in their honor at the Lake Mary trade body building starting at 7:30 o'clock.

Invitations today were mailed to all residents of this county who are known to be over 60 years of age, but all other persons who have reached or passed that age are cordially invited to attend.

An interesting program of readings and musical numbers has been arranged and will be presented for the entertainment, while at an early hour refreshments will be served. All persons attending the affair are invited to spend the entire evening at the trade body building to "see the old year out and the new year in."

Probably the guest person planning to attend is George A. Jones, who is now 88 years of age and has attended each of the parties. Mr. Jones' sight and hearing are perfect, it is reported. According to Frank Evans, member of the committee on arrangements, Mr. Jones' community spirit is without parallel in that town, for he personally raised the money for the church bell which is now installed in the Lake Mary Community Church. Mr. Evans said that Mr. Jones' personality is joyful, and that Mr. Jones' prescription for longevity includes the recommendation to "be jovial."

From The Frying Pan Into The Fire

With the prospect looming that the prohibition amendment will be repealed, members of the bootleg racket are making preparations to meet the competition which legalized liquor will offer and to change their activities to other fields in anticipation of harder sledding in the illicit rum business.

That bootlegging will continue as a profitable enterprise, if on a somewhat reduced scale, is apparent when one realizes that high federal taxes on all spirituous liquors are being planned thereby making it possible for the bootlegger to undersell his legitimate competitor.

But despite the continuance of a lucrative field for the beer barons, it is obvious that the breadth of their scope will necessarily be reduced and that many of them will have to seek "work" elsewhere.

It is in view of this that already there are being developed other rackets to handle the "unemployment situation" when legal liquor goes on the market. Chief among these rackets in the Windy City is one which aims to get control of labor unions and through them to exact tribute from employers.

The Milk Wagon Drivers' Union has been the especial desire of certain racketeers who, so far, have been unsuccessful despite much intimidation, to get a monopoly on the milk delivery business. The liquor runners probably figure that their experience in delivering whiskey will probably be of much assistance in delivering milk.

The racketeers are forking their own unions and are extending certain advantages to employers such as reduced wages so as to form a connection. After the employer has signed on the dotted line he finds out he must "put" every time the labor boss cracks the whip. This sort of racketeering is being carried to all manner of businesses.

Only recently racketeer bullets sprayed several restaurants in New York as part of an intimidation campaign being staged to make certain eating places pay tribute in order to operate. Beatings, sluggings, and an occasional "ride" are found sufficient in most instances to bring the prey into line.

Thus we may see that no single piece of magic such as the repeal of the 18th Amendment is going to put a stop to gangsterism and racketeering. It will take the combined efforts of an awakened public and alert and conscientious officials to take the country out of the clutches of criminals.

The Greatest Women

If the question were asked to name the twelve greatest American men, we have no doubt that most people could draw up a creditable list, but if the same question were asked in regard to the twelve greatest women, the result, we suspect would be very disappointing. The following is the result of a nation-wide poll to ascertain whom American women consider the twelve leaders of their sex who have made the most valuable contribution to American progress in the last 100 years:

Mary Baker Eddy, founder of the Christian Science Church, 102,762.
Jane Addams, founder of Hull House; winner of the Nobel Peace Prize, 99,147.
Clara Barton, founder of the American Red Cross, 96,139.

Frances E. Willard, founder of the World W. C. T. U., 90,303.
Susan B. Anthony, suffrage leader, 84,321.
Helen Keller, author, noted for her outstanding achievements in spite of the handicap of being deaf and blind, 84,239.

Harriet Beecher Stowe, author of Uncle Tom's Cabin, 73,999.
Julia Ward Howe, poet, patriot, author of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," 72,276.

Carrie Chapman Catt, leader of the suffrage movement at the time the woman suffrage amendment was passed; chairman of the National Conference on the Cause and Cure of War, 70,488.
Amelia Earhart Putnam, first woman to make a solo flight across the Atlantic, 43,899.

Mary Lyon, founder of Mount Holyoke College, 40,832.
Dr. Mary E. Woolley, President of Mount Holyoke College; only woman representative on the United States delegation to the Geneva Disarmament Conference in 1922; President of the American Association of University Women, 36,855.

Others who polled large numbers of votes were: Ernestine Schumann-Heink, 32,694; Evangeline Booth, 24,894; Louisa M. Alcott, 24,354; Alice Freeman Palmer, 16,744; Ida M. Tarbell, 16,227; Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, 13,574; Mary Pickford, 11,644; Martha Berry, 10,913; Lucretia Mott, 10,303; Abigail Adams, 10,031; E. C. Stanton, 9,825; Emily Blackwell, 9,369.

SANFORD, TWENTY YEARS AGO

The very pretty and entertaining Christmas exercises at the Methodist Church Tuesday evening were very much enjoyed by the large audience, composed of the parents and friends of the children and visitors. The program was given entirely by the young children of the Sunday School, many of them were tots, who all did very well. Among those taking part were: Virginia and Florence Johnson, Mollie Abernathy, Marian Newton, Marian Phillips, Lucile Jenkins, Shirley Swaps, and Dwight Smith.

Serious Epidemic Of Influenza Hits Atlantic Steamer

GLASGOW, Scotland, Dec. 23.—A serious influenza epidemic at sea, in which 400 of the 500 passengers aboard the liner Cameron were stricken, was reported yesterday when the vessel arrived from New York.

The ship's surgeon, Dr. Daniel Murphy, the only medical man on board, battled heroically to care for the passengers and succeeded in bringing the Cameron into port without a single death.

The shipboard epidemic started soon after the Cameron left New York and spread with amazing rapidity, sending scores to bed in their cabins. Many of them suffered acutely, their trouble being aggravated by heavy seas which were encountered throughout the voyage. Many of the victims were women and children.

One of the ship's officers told how alarm spread over the vessel as more and more passengers became ill.

"On one day when the epidemic was at its height, he had to treat two stewards as assistant physicians. For four days he averaged 500 visits a day to his patient."

"After two days in bed, many of the victims recovered rapidly and were well again by the time we arrived in Glasgow. When we reached port there were only a few cases remaining that required medical attention."

Dr. Murphy, who is 50, is an Irishman who makes his home in Glasgow. Upon reaching home in an exhausted condition, he was promptly sent to bed for a long rest.

Windows Of Chain Restaurant Hit By Racketeer Bullets

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Windows of 14 chain restaurants in Manhattan and Brooklyn were punctured yesterday by rifle bullets fired, said police, by a gang of marauding racketeers in an automobile.

Although several of the places in mid-town Manhattan were occupied by customers at the time, no one was injured. Police said the gun apparently was aimed high to avoid inflicting injury. Many of the other restaurants in business sections were closed for the holiday.

Police turned to labor troubles as the most likely theory for the shootings, but officials of the two chains said they had no labor troubles nor had they received any threats.

The restaurants affected extend over an extensive area. The shooting came shortly before and after noon. A short wave radio alarm was immediately sent to all police cars and a search for the racketeers started but no trace of them was found.

Parachute Jump Is Staged By Stimson Into Lake Monroe

With weather conditions that were like those of mid-summer, residents of Sanford and scores of visitors enjoyed a Christmas Day that had as features attendance at church and the gathering of relatives and friends around well-filled dinner tables.

From the number of parked automobiles that could be seen on every street in the city, it would seem that in every home relatives from out-of-town and state who had come to Sanford to help celebrate the day, while from the large number of automobiles that were seen parked near the Zoo and along the waterfront during the afternoon, there was no doubt but that the northern visitor had been attracted to the city because of its Zoo and its easy accessibility to other nearby cities.

As a feature of the day, crowds gathered on the waterfront late in the afternoon to watch Boyd Stimson, nationally known parachute jumper who makes Sanford his winter home, successfully complete his 40th jump from an airplane. Tossing himself into space from an airplane piloted by George Decker at a height of over 1000 feet over Lake Monroe, Stimson descended to the water by means of his parachute and gave the spectators a most thrilling performance.

Christmas Party Of Rockefeller Is Held 2 Days Late

The audience joined in the singing. Then there were sandwiches, cooled punch and fancy ice cream at the conclusion of the musical program. Next Santa Claus entered and distributed gifts. The children and their elders immediately opened packages with cries of delight.

Concluding the program for the evening the orchestra played "God Be With You Until We Meet Again." This is Rockefeller's favorite number and he likes to lead his guests in singing it.

None of the immediate family was present except Mrs. Fannie A. Evans, a cousin. However, several old friends, Stimson J. Peabody, Mr. and Mrs. Harrington Mills, Dr. and Mrs. George D. Owen were there.

The Casements was elaborately decorated. The twin Christmas trees, one on each side of the door, adorned the front veranda, and between the trees hung a white star. Rockefeller started the day by playing two holes of golf with his pastor and friend, Dr. Owen. He enjoyed an automobile ride in the afternoon.

The Chevrolet crashed into his car, however, turning it over on its right side, while the Chevrolet stopped dead, completely demolished, just a few feet further on.

Mr. Sheffield received cuts about the head and hand while an Esther Bennett, of 1647 Walton Street, Tampa, who was brought to the General Langhorne Memorial Hospital together with Mr. Dutton and Mr. Griffith, suffered cuts on the face and leg but escaped serious injury.

Mr. Dutton's injuries are so serious and chest, the police believe that he was thrown against the steering wheel just before the car was turned over on its side.

Flood refugees—about 500 of them—in Rankin county, Mississippi, prepared to return to their homes along the Pearl River. They were forced out by the middle Mississippi stream several days ago.

The river, which had been filling at Jackson, started to rise again at this point, and in South Mississippi the stream was reported up at Columbia.

Six Mississippi highways were waterbound. Several Alabama rivers have banded back to flood stage. The Alabama was 13 feet above flood stage at Miller's Ferry. It had flooded low areas. The same stream was creeping toward flood stage at Montgomery and Selma.

The Coosa River at Gadsden had fallen a bit, but still was above flood stage. It was a foot and three-tenths above the stage at Rome, Ga., and was rising there.

The Stovawh was going up at Canton, Ga. It feeds the Coosa. The Chattahoochee went out of its banks in many sections, getting to the highest stage in 12 years. Several families near Bell town, Ala., left their homes in low areas as the water spread over the banks of the river.

Most had abandoned their farms as they were uninhabitable. Mr. Sheffield received cuts about the head and hand while an Esther Bennett, of 1647 Walton Street, Tampa, who was brought to the General Langhorne Memorial Hospital together with Mr. Dutton and Mr. Griffith, suffered cuts on the face and leg but escaped serious injury.

All three cars—both Buick and Ford—were damaged.

CHANGE OF SALES TAX AT PRESENT ALMOST GIVEN UP

Roosevelt's A-T-H On Matter Given As Reason For Opinion

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—The sales tax, recommended by President Hoover and again thrust forward in Congress in the last few days, was virtually dismissed yesterday as a possibility at the present session.

This was clearly indicated after President Hoover's speech, which was "horrified" by published reports that he had endorsed the general manufacturers sales tax.

This attitude on the part of the next president, said Speaker Garner, "kills the sales tax this session, anyhow."

Even before this, Senator Harrison, of Mississippi, ranking Democrat on the Senate Finance committee, had expressed the opinion that the sales tax could not pass through his branch in both houses, however, the Democrats pushed forward their attempt to balance 1934's budget, so as to avoid, if at all possible, a special session before next fall.

The Ways and Means Committee of the House, will begin on Jan. 3 and exhaustive study of federal financing.

This is the tax-raising committee and its chairman, Collier, of Mississippi, only Monday said he knew of no means of balancing the budget except the sales tax.

However, the views of President-Elect Roosevelt communicated to Congress have been based largely on reduction of expenditures, and intensive work along that line is in progress. A study of fixed expenditures which do not vary from year to year, and amount in all to more than a billion, was undertaken by a subcommittee of the appropriations committee at the request of Chairman Byrns. They are to see if any reduction is feasible.

As Democratic congressional leaders understand it, the President-Elect would like the present session to adopt a resolution, for repeal of the 18th Amendment, pass a beer bill cut expenditures to the bone and enact a Democratic farm relief measure.

If all this could be done, Senator Harrison said yesterday "we could get along without an extra session until late summer."

He saw no escape from an extra session if President Hoover should veto the beer and farm relief bills.

The senator also favored continuing the existing one-cent gasoline tax, which he estimated meant a yearly revenue of $130,000,000.

Church Group Gives Play Sunday Evening

The Young People's Division of the First Methodist Church presented a play in seven scenes, "The Inn at Bethlehem," on Sunday evening in the auditorium at the church with Miss Virginia Jinkins, counselor for the young people's group, as sponsor, and Miss Helen Gordy, Miss Clifford Shinkholer, and Dr. H. W. Rucker, assisting with the music.

A quartette, composed of the Misses Marjorie Tills, Pauline Crawford, Eloise Winn, and Catherine Jewers, carried out the theme of the play in song, while Miss Dorothy Haines and Clarence Barrett had charge of the lighting effects.

The production depicted the attitude of an innkeeper who catered to the moneyed class and refused Joseph room for his wife in his inn. Later the innkeeper received the Christ child into his heart and proclaimed a new world of love and kindness rather than one of force and coin.

Characters in the play were as follows: Edward Mitchell and Woodrow Riser, wise men; Pauline Crawford, Catherine Jewers, Marjorie Tills, and Eloise Winn, shepherds; Melton Ware, innkeeper; Helen Haines, innkeeper's wife; Helen Jinkins, servant of the inn; H. B. Odham, Jr., noble soldiers from Jerusalem; Edwin Shinkholer, Joseph; Martha Taylor, angel; and Genevieve Wells, Mary, the mother of the Christ child.

Racketeering In Business Seen As Big Ohio Menace

CLEVELAND, Dec. 23.—(AP)—Barricaded shop fronts, guards peeping from firing slots, and a long record of gunplay, bombings and other violence provide the evidence, police admitted today, that "business racketeering" in Ohio like Chicago and New York has acquired a big league calibre.

Business racketeers, authorities said, often collect upwards of thousands of dollars a month by forcing men in legitimate business to join and pay "dues" to "protective associations."

Most of the racket killings in Ohio have been connected with liquor, gambling or vice but police said they are fearful that the capital crimes soon may spread to the dry cleaning, barbering, and other lines of regular trade.

action in the closed bank would not exceed $763.87. This sum money was divided as follows: $200 for the U. D. C. account, in full settlement of its outstanding debt of $760; $243 for Gallardo and Emilio, holders of the Municipal Pier and other City property, in full settlement of a balance due that firm of over $100, and the remainder by the dividend check, plus a small amount, in payment of a Capital Foundry Co. note of $1017, plus three years interest at six percent, coming due within a few days. Payments were all subject to approval by the boardholders' Protective Committee.

Mr. Whitner asked for a permit to build a wharf and warehouse, about 90 by 100 feet in size, at the southeastern corner of the present boat basin. He said that his plan includes the removal of all wooden pilings now enclosing the basin, and he asked for terms of lease or sale of the City-owned riparian rights. Mayor Dumas appointed Commissioners V. A. Speer and H. J. Lehman as a committee to investigate this matter and report at the next meeting.

Decision to investigate the police department's night desk sergeant came as the result of a complaint submitted on behalf of James A. Cunningham, bailiff at the Court House, by Commissioner Speer. Mr. Cunningham charges that although his automobile was stolen at about 9:30 o'clock at night some weeks ago and he immediately went to the police station to report its loss, that it was not until 1:00 o'clock before Sergeant Marshall would telephone to Orlando, in which direction Mr. Cunningham thought the car had been driven.

During a discussion of the subject, Mayor Dumas said that Mr. Cunningham had complained to him in the same connection and that there was apparently room for argument. Acting Chief of Police C. H. Sweater said when questioned as to what he knew of the matter, "I am not very well acquainted with the details but I am frank to say that Mr. Marshall was slow in handling the matter."

Commissioner Leffer said "I've had several other complaints handed to me in regard to the discourteous handling of calls at the police station at night, but I don't want to do the man an injustice. I think the matter should be investigated by Mayor Dumas and Chief Sweater and a public hearing held if necessary." His suggestion will be acted upon at once.

Upon being told by Clerk Lamson that Sheriff J. F. McClelland had told him that the County Commissioners are requesting that the City pay more of the burden of supplying the County Jail with soap, brooms, mops, and other supplies used jointly by prisoners of both the City and County, the Commissioners engaged in lengthy discussion, the subject of which was the "deplorable" lack of co-operation between the City and County Commissioners.

Clerk Lamson reported that Sheriff McClelland said that the City's $35 monthly payment for the jail's upkeep must be increased "or else."

Commissioner Lehman said that "It's inconceivable to me that the Commissioners should expect further co-operation from us when they have consistently refused to aid us in the operation of the library and hospital. Our people pay over 60 percent of the county taxes and yet the Commissioners refuse to help us operate our necessary institutions."

Commissioner Speer said that "In my opinion we've never had anyone on the County Commission who was at all friendly to the City. It's a shame there isn't more evidence of co-operation between the groups but I think we in Sanford are at least at the switch in letting persons outside the City dictate the policies of the Commission."

Mayor Dumas interposed with "There should be every co-operation," and Commissioner Leffer said, "They don't even want to help pay for the hospital or library upkeep."

and the courtesy of a reply from the city" in connection with two emergency operations he had performed a year ago and for which he had repeatedly billed the City. Mayor Dumas appointed Commissioner Speer to look into the case.

Dr. Stevens said in his letter that "I see no reason why my bills should not be paid," and that while it was "true enough that these may have been charity cases in the estimation of some, but I cannot see why the doctors are called upon from all sides to administer to those who are not able to pay. At least they should be given the privilege to select their own charity cases."

Mayor Dumas who had been appointed by welfare authorities in connection with one of the cases, with "I only authorized a hospital bill and have never authorized a doctor's bill. Dr. Stevens says he ignored his bill. We did not ignore the bill but turned it over to Dr. Tolson, our regular physician. I feel this way, that if we have a man and he goes off and leaves his family, he ought to live a relief man. I am thoroughly honest in my views on this subject. I don't see that he is entitled to anything as a matter of fact. I was asleep when the Captain at the Salvation Army called me early in the morning and you know how it is when a man's talked to right after waking up, he might have misunderstood but I don't think I did."

A lively argument ensued between the Commissioners when Commissioner Lehman asked, on behalf of a group of women members of the First Presbyterian Church, that the assessment on the Raulerson property be canceled on the grounds that the income from the property is turned over for charitable purposes at a Presbyterian orphanage. He contended that "It is just as fair to cancel this assessment as it is to cancel that on the Holy Cross Episcopal Church Parish House and any other property." The matter was ordered investigated further when City Attorney F. H. Wilson reported that the property in question is not the property of the church and that it was designated in a will as property to be used as an orphanage.

Upon hearing that a letter written to the Florida Power and Light Co. in regard to future City payments, the current used had been unacknowledged, the Commissioners ordered Mr. Lamson to write the company and tell it that for the remainder of the year the City will pay a lesser amount for current so that a budgeted figure may be lived up to, and therefore the firm should revise its schedule with the City at once.

No action was taken on a letter request by Dr. W. T. Langley that he be appointed as City Physician.

The Commissioners learned from Mr. Wilson that the Court had granted the City an injunction restraining Augustus T. Ashton, bondholder who has levied on much City property, from selling it at public sale next week.

J. T. Pope, local contractor, was the low bidder of seven men seeking to paint and repair the rooms at the City Hall. He will do the work for $24.40, and will begin on Monday, Jan. 9.

No action was taken on J. B. Ray's request that he be allowed to purchase the orange grove near the Country Club.

The Commissioners learned that the War Department had granted the City a permit to rebuild its P. D. S. boat dock and dredge a certain area near the rebuilt dock. The permit will expire Dec. 31, 1933, and the letter was filed as information, although Commissioner Leffer said that the City should take some steps to provide adequate docking facilities for increased transportation along the St. Johns River.

The scheduled reading of a new City milk ordinance was postponed until a later meeting, while just before adjournment the

Hoover's Party To Atlantic Coast Seek Fish In Ocean Is Sagging, Says Off Lower Florida Scientific Body

WITH PRESIDENT HOOVER,

Dec. 23.—(AP)—Abandoning plans for fishing before Friday or Saturday, President Hoover today decided upon continuing his slow cruise down the Florida East Coast waterways and starting angling off Palm Beach.

The presidential flotilla passed Daytona Beach this morning and slowed down after receiving reports of shallow waters ahead. It had been planned to take on water at Daytona Beach but the schedule was changed and a stop arranged for New Smyrna.

The party hoped to reach Melbourne tonight but experienced yachtsmen said it was more probable that Cocoa might be the night's stopping place. Stuart or Fort Pierce may be reached by tomorrow night with Palm Beach the destination for the next day. During the cruise the President is continuing work on various governmental affairs.

Mrs. John Whittaker entertained a small number of her friends with a Christmas tree party last night at her home on Avocado Avenue. The guests arrived early in the evening and exchanged gifts from the large lighted and decorated tree. Dancing was then enjoyed until a late hour.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Dec. 23.—(AP)—The Atlantic coast is sagging in the middle and rising at both ends, and New York will be a mile under water in 1,000,000 years, if this keeps up, the American Association for the Advancement of Science was told yesterday.

Measurements, reported by Dr. William Fitch Cheney, Jr., of Connecticut Agricultural college, show Portland, Maine, and Charleston, S. C., are rising from seven to 15 inches each century, but Boston, New York, Atlantic City, Philadelphia, and Baltimore are subsiding from three and one-half to 11 and one-half inches each 100 years.

The only place where the land is neither rising nor falling, at least among the places measured, is Key West, Fla.

There may be cycles of rising and falling, Dr. Cheney said, for Boston's subsidence, 1847, and 1876 but now is dropping again. He suggested Boston's rise might have been related to the Naples, Italy, earthquake of 1857, as most of the rise was in 1857 and 1858.

The drop at Baltimore and the rise at Charleston may be due to readjustment after the Charleston earthquake of 1886, he said.

The following: Mrs. Earl Donner, Mrs. Archie Franklin, Mrs. James Sams, Jr., and the Misses Minnie Bess Echols, Lola Peake, and Katherine Waters.

Commissioners passed a resolution authorizing City crews to demolish the old Marshall laundry building at Sanford Avenue and First Street, and authorized the payment of $50 to the Florida League of Municipalities as one year's dues.

You 'cross' different kinds to make a BETTER KIND

HERE are entirely different kinds of tobacco. Blend them and you get a different taste. Cross-Blend them and you get a better taste. While blending mixes the tobaccos together, Cross-Blending "welds" and "joins" their flavors into one. Imagine doing this with the world's finest cigarette tobaccos—many kinds of Bright tobacco, a great many types of Burley tobacco and numerous grades of Turkish tobacco! What you have when you've finished is Chesterfield tobacco—better than any one kind, better than a blend of all kinds—really a new kind of tobacco flavor that's milder, more fragrant and a whole lot more pleasing to the taste.
