Safety Waiver Remains Stumbling Block

State, County Officials Mull Jail Reopening

A five-man task force of state officials met with local officials today to discuss steps to reopen the Seminole County Jail, closed since a fire on June 9. The fire, which started when an inmate set a stack of mattresses ablaze, left 10 prisoners and one jailer dead.

Officials of the state fire marshal's office and the Department of Offender Rehabilitation reviewed 13 county grand jury findings.

The task force, appearing at the request of County Commission Chairman Sid Vihlen Jr., met with county sheriff's department personnel, City of Sanford representatives, and Vihlen.

Sheriff John Polk said the task force would meet with commissioners at 1:30 p.m. today. The meeting was to be held in Polk's office.

County officials, since the fire, have contracted with a general contracting firm to renovate the damaged jail. County prisoners are being housed in surrounding facilities at an average cost of $1,000 per day.

Vihlen has been seeking authority to waive minimum fire safety codes in order to move prisoners back into the facility.

The waiver — primarily to allow less than the state-required 28-inch corridor doors — is necessary, according to Vihlen, to remove liability from the county for the fire safety of the prisoners. If waivers are not granted, Vihlen says the jail will not be reopened.

The City of Sanford and the state fire marshal's office have claimed no jurisdiction over the facility, but recommend against granting waivers.

Meeting in today's conference with Polk were state officials Tommy Knight and Bobby Johnson and Department of Offender Rehabilitation officials J.J. Clark, C.S. Sabiston and Cecil Sewell.

Also in the meeting was Sanford City Manager Warren 'Pete' Knowles, Sanford, Fire Chief George Harriett, Jail Administrator George Proudfoot and

Douglas 'Tomson, sheriff's department attorney. The grand jury report recommended Seminole County "should take immediate steps" to build a new, modern correctional institution; the jail be considered only as a "holding facility" for prisoners awaiting trial or transportation to the state penal system; and recommended 13 improvements be made prior to the reopening of the jail as a "holding facility."

The recommendations include: a sprinkler system, extra fire extinguishers for back-up use; all

Board To Eye Bids

By ED PRICKETT

The derailed Woodlands Elementary School move will get back on the track today when bids for its completion are opened at 3 p.m.

The move from Altamonte Springs to E.E. Williamson Road in Longwood was to have been completed in time for school's opening in September.

The move would have eliminated double sessions at Sable Point Elementary, where some 1,100 students attend classes.

School Supt. W.P. "Bud" Layer said today Woodlands "should be open" sometime around Christmas or by the end of the first semester.

He said a lot of "site work" such as plumbing and other construction-related items still have to be completed at the new site.

Residents of Woodlands have shown up at board meeting after board meeting in efforts to get the project moving.

Residents complain it's unsound educationally for their children to remain on double sessions. They say they want their own school.

Though Layer has bustled himself with the project, he contends education depends more on the teachers than the facility. And he says there's no more sounder teaching than at Sable Point.

The move derailed when Builders Movers Inc. defaulted on the contract. Then a bonding firm almost accepted a second bid by Builders Movers for completion of the project.

Finally, the board decided to rebid the project itself.

The contract award for Woodlands is the first item on Wednesday's School Board agenda.

The Sanford architectural firm of Eoghan Kelley prepared the contract specifications.

Layer said there's been a "lot of bid activity" on the project.

Downtown Planners Seek City Funding

By RICK PANTRIDGE

City Commissioner John Morris will ask the commission tonight to approve a $3,833 request for a three-month funding of the Downtown Redevelopment Steering Committee.

The money, if approved, would provide initial administrative and clerical costs for establishment of an office in the downtown area, according to Steering Committee member Morris and committee Executive Director Sara Jacobson.

"I hope the City Commission will see the wisdom of providing the committee with these funds," Morris said. "This is a three-month budget request and after that we'll be on our own."

The $3,833 request is for office rental, utilities, telephone service, office equipment, furniture, supplies, printing, membership in the Downtown Development Authority, travel and auto expenses and public relations and entertainment.

"It is not our intention that the city donate to us," Jacobson said. "We plan to explore all possible avenues of funding. What we are asking for now is a minimum amount to get us into operation."

any sources of funding for committee operations. It might not be governmental, it might not be taxation," she added.

Morris said the committee may fund its operations through assessing the members on an individual or on a square footage ownership basis.

The committee's operational outline calls for surveying existing characteristics of the downtown area in terms of shopping activity, drawing cards, space and use and traffic patterns.

The committee also plans to survey attitudes and ideas of shoppers, merchants, property owners and neighboring cities, study the economy of the area and project its growth, recommend areas of funding, devise a program to implement its plans and co-ordinate the plan's implementation.

Pelley Sees Even Chance Of Resuming SEA Talks

School Board spokesman Harry Pelley said today there's a "50-50" chance talks between the board and representatives of the county's teachers will resume without the services of a special master.

Pelley's statement comes after he and Steve Rosenthal, chief negotiator for the Seminole Education Association (SEA), met Friday to discuss getting back to the table.

Talks deadlocked last Tuesday when Rosenthal rejected Pelley's "top" offer of a $300 yearly raise for beginning teachers. Pelley said today that $300 offer is still the limit.

"We're not going to change our stance," he said.

Pelley said SEA made the overture to discuss talks. He said he was polling board members to get their feelings on getting back to the table.

SEA's move to resume talks came after Gene Grooms, the organization's executive director, surveyed 100 teachers.

About half the teachers polled voted to accept Pelley's $300 offer, according to Grooms. The other half wanted to hold out for SEA's $8,600 salary demand.

At present, beginning teachers earn $7,800 in Seminole County.

Meanwhile, Jerome Greene of Miami has confirmed in a letter that he will arrive here on Sept. 18 to begin hearings in an attempt to resolve the impasse.

Green was assigned here by the Public Employees Relations Commission (PERC), the state agency set up to monitor and regulate collective bargaining among state agencies and their employees.

Green's fee is $300 a day, plus expenses. That fee would be split by the board and SEA. As a special master, Greene will have the authority to subpoena records and people. He also can require persons to testify under oath.

A special master, or arbitrator, under the bargaining law does not have the final say, or h' bargaining terms, his decision is not binding. He may make recommendations which can be rejected or accepted by either side.

requested the paintings be used to brighten the walls.

The soft-spoken man, deputy clerk for 15 years, is in his fifth year of art classes at Seminole Community College, currently studying under teacher and artist E.B. Stowe.

"I have a good eye for perspective," Jones says. "I've always thought I would enjoy painting, but didn't get a chance until the junior college came here."

Jones has exhibited his art works in several Sanford shows and plans to enter 10 or 12 of his paintings in a show in Headland, Ala., this month. He also has displayed his art in local bars.

While he has won no ribbons for his work, he says, "I've sold quite a few, enough to pay for my art lessons."

"It is extremely rewarding to have people be pleased, happy with something you've done."

NATION IN BRIEF

Campaign Gift Recipients Deny Knowing Of Illegality

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some leading political figures who received illegal campaign contributions from Ashland Oil Inc. said they did not know they were receiving corporate money.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., who received $50,000, said Ashland Chairman Orrin E. Atkins sent him a telegram congratulating him.

Sen. Carl Curtis, R-Neb., said he received a similar telegram from Ashland, but he never knowingly accepted an illegal contribution.

Black Leader Lauds Police

BOSTON (AP) — A black leader says Boston did a good job controlling a civil rights demonstration that turned into a racial clash at a beach in South Boston.

At least eight persons, including two policemen, were injured Sunday in the troubled section of the city scheduled for further school desegregation next month.

At least 1,000 whites were involved at the peak of the rock-and-bottle-throwing fracas.

Washington (AP) — The Agriculture Department is readying its forecasts of the 1975 corn crop and of other farm production, figures that will give some clues as to coming food prices for consumers.

The department's crop monitoring experts and forecasting economists planned to release the data after commodity trading ended today.

The corn crop, keystone of the U.S. food supply, originally projected with a range of 5.7 billion to 6.4 billion bushels for harvest this fall, was estimated last month at 6.0 billion bushels.

Washington (AP) — The Veterans Administration has phased out all but one small experimental program using drug LSD on humans, officials report.

The VA can't select drug experiments at a few veterans hospitals beginning in 1985, but most of the program using the mind-altering drug on humans were ended five years ago, officials said.

Dr. Lawrence B. Hobson, deputy assistant director of research and development for the VA, said the research investigated possibilities of using LSD to treat alcoholism, neuroses and painful terminal illnesses.

School Vandalism Probed

Sanford (AP) — Sheriff's detectives today were investigating an estimated $2,000 in weekend vandalism at Forest Lake Elementary School, Sand Lake Road, Forest City.

Deputies reported vandals entered the school by breaking a window and then broke into offices and a vault. A safe in the vault was opened and its contents scattered.

Sheriff's deputies arrested three juveniles, ages 10, 12, and 13, and an adult in connection with the entering of an auto at the San Jose Apartments parking lot, south Seminole.

Three Defendants Enter Guilty Pleas In Court

Three of the 10 defendants scheduled for jury trials in criminal felony cases this week before Circuit Judge Robert B. McGregor have entered pleas of guilty.

Bobby Ervin Reid, 21, Welch Road, Apopka, pleaded guilty today to misdemeanor possession of a controlled substance and was put on two years probation by the court. Reid was originally charged with felony possession of a controlled substance.

Church Officials Seeking Way Out Of Permit Bock

By JANE CASSELLBERRY Herald Staff Writer

WINTER SPRINGS—Officials of two area churches, desiring to build on Hayes Road, are seeking a peaceful solution to the dilemma they are in over their building requests.

L. Danner Hiers, Winter Park attorney speaking for Seminole Baptist Temple, said "Emotionalism has run rampant in this situation and it seems everyone is either for or against, but I have not heard any factual reasons from the opposition."

By sitting down with the opposition, Hiers said, he hopes to resolve the issue without the necessity of litigation which would be costly to everyone and would further split the community.

The first step, he added, will be to meet with Rick Stanley (attorney retained by church members, who oppose the church building plans), which he hopes to do within the next few days.

More Cuts Sought

Budget Pared To Avoid Tax

By ED PRICKETT Herald Staff Writer

CASSELLBERRY — With a snip here and a snip there City Council is paring away a $2.2 million budget proposal in hopes of eventually eliminating a six-mill land tax proposed by a Sunday meeting.

At a Sunday meeting, Council cut $150,000 of initial budget requests. About $120,000 of that was money budgeted for capital improvements in the public works department.

Council Chairman Edith Duerr said at present, "it's hard to say" whether the six-mill levy proposed by Mayor Bill Grier and Finance Director Harold Boldt will stick.

"Unless we cut a lot more, there's a distinct possibility we'll have a tax," Duerr said. "If we have a tax, it will be the first time in 34 years residents of this city have paid taxes on land. Some 15,000 persons live in Casselberry."

"I'm hoping for further reductions," Duerr said. Council has scheduled two meetings this week at city hall for a review of the budget.

Sessions will begin at 7 p.m. on Wednesday and Thursday. At Sunday's all-day session, Council okayed an assistant police chief.

Acting City Manager Mary Hawthorne said the new position will cost $13,400 annually. Council will begin at 7 p.m. on Wednesday and Thursday.

3-2 vote. The Planning and Zoning Board recommended the requests be denied because of the extra traffic the churches would bring on the unpaved roads and incompatibility to the high residentially zoned area.

On that night (July 21), proponents of the churches spoke in favor of the requests and submitted a petition. A few Ranchlands residents were present to speak in opposition.

On the two following nights, when the churches were not represented, Ranchlands residents were out on mass in an effort to get Council to rescind its action, and at the last Council session, brought along an attorney to argue their case.

Last Monday Council voted to set aside the prior approval and to temporarily suspend the permit hearing at city expense. The churches wished to resubmit their requests.

City Attorney Newman Brock warned Council that, although it is their right to rescind the original action, it would be leaving itself open to litigation.

Conservation Trust Buys Land In Keys

KEY WEST (AP) — A national conservation organization, fearing over development of the Florida Keys, has bought more than 3,000 acres of the island chain.

The land, purchased by the San Francisco-based Trust for Public Land, is to be sold to public agencies at a reduced price and be preserved in their natural state.

"Too much of the land in the Keys passed out of public ownership many years ago," says Joel Kuperberg, the trust's director of southeastern operations.

"We think this represents a significant reacquisition of lands that should never be developed."

The trust owns part or all of eight islands in the 120-mile-long chain and Kuperberg said it is negotiating the purchase of more land. The holdings amount to about four per cent of the Keys.

The properties include a vest-pocket wilderness on Big Pine Key that has a unique habitat of cactus trees, an estimated 20 to 100 miles of mangrove shoreline that includes nearly three miles of frontage on the Atlantic Ocean, and three entire but isolated islands in the Lower Keys — Pys, Buttonwood and Drequer.

The land was assembled from two holdings, a donation of 1,400 acres from the Crane Foundation and the purchase of the rest from Miami lawyer Joel G. MacKay Jr., Kuperberg said.

The trust paid about $1 million for the land appraised at $2.1 million and hopes to sell the land at two-thirds of the appraised value and use the profit to finance more purchases, he said.

Two agencies, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the Florida Department of Natural Resources, have expressed an interest in buying part of the trust's holdings but do not want all the 3,220 acres.

Larry Givens, chief of the wildlife service refuge office in Atlanta, says the agency is reluctant to buy land that could be saved from development by regulation instead of acquisition.

The state recently designated the Keys an "area of critical environmental concern," which makes the islands subject to state property-use restrictions. But Kuperberg fears the regulations will not halt environmental destruction.

"Land-use regulations have a way of changing from year to year," he says. "Over the long term, it's hard to predict what will happen, but I bet my shirt that the upland of the Keys will be developed."

"The lowland we don't yet know about, but there sure won't be any large parcels of land left in the Keys unless we do something now to preserve them."

Coed Athletes No NCAA Threat

To women who believe that they are the victims of discrimination in public schools and colleges, the three-year period which began recently cannot end too soon.

To many officials among the nation's 2,700 publicly supported colleges and 16,000 public school districts, the three years will be a period of fear and misgivings.

The 36 months in question is the time that the Department of Health, Education and Welfare has given public schools, that receive federal funds, to be in full compliance with Title 9 of the amendments to the Education Act.

Women's liberation groups are angry that Congress did not order an immediate end to the discrimination, but provided instead for the three-year transition period.

The concern of the college officials is not primarily that they must provide petite coeds an opportunity to participate in contact sports. Their concern is financial.

Football and basketball generally are the only two sports on which colleges realize a profit. These two sports are the mainstay of other athletic programs.

Pay for a women's athletic program in lieu of football, basketball and other contact sports, as well as for extra gymnasiums and equipment, the entire structure may well collapse, NCAA fears.

We doubt it. Some persons still alive may remember the fears that swept the United States of America when the first women's liberation program in this century granted women the right to vote.

The fear that three years hence Betty Coed will not be playing right guard on Integrated U, HEW notwithstanding. She'll still be in the stands urging the all-male team to make that extra yard.

End Food Stamps

Sen. James L. Buckley, R-N.Y., and Rep. Robert Michel, R-Ill., are sponsoring a bill that would establish more realistic eligibility standards for federal food stamps.

While the Buckley-Michel proposal attacks most of the obvious areas of abuse in the food stamp program, Congress also should consider an alternative.

A family or individual too poor to afford the groceries for a week, it is obviously poor enough to qualify for a welfare check.

One other benefit could not be measured in dollars and cents. We might finally prove that a federal program that has all the earmarks of being a costly mistake can be terminated.

BERRY'S WORLD

WASHINGTON—Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., whose escapades with stripper Fanne Fox became the talk of the nation 10 months ago, will be hauled before his Masonic lodge on August 22 to answer for his misconduct.

The recuperating Mills, once a power in the House, now a forlorn figure, will be tried by a five-man commission at his home lodge in Kennett, Ark.

Widspread Reform At HEW

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Buried in the files at the Department of Health, Education and Welfare is a typed document called the Mega Proposal, written in 1972—and still in draft form.

This reporter recently read through the draft of several hundred pages, with some amazement. For this in-house document, written by men high in the department, is both sensational and vague in its charges of inefficiency and waste in the multimillion dollar programs spawned and managed by the agency.

It proposes wide-spread reforms. One group of 22 activities would be consolidated into 6. Another group of 47 would be slashed to 5. And so down the line.

The HEW Secretary, Elliot Richardson, called this "the most soundly conceived, well thought out, and far reaching policy initiative for which I have ever been responsible."

President Ford has correctly pinpointed the costs you and I pay in inefficiency and higher prices for harrassing industry with payneque regulations.

What's seldom mentioned by Mr. Ford is that our multi-billion health, education, welfare and revenue programs have become more and more ineffective due to overgrowth.

Yet the Mega Proposal, so strongly endorsed by Richardson, and which attacks these problems in detail, died before it was born.

Neither federal nor state and local resources can be shifted from one narrow authority to another when the need arises.

Prohibitions against best funding or fund transfers make broad attacks on broad problems extremely difficult.

Medicare is upside down insurance, providing for the everyday expenses, but with wide loopholes in catastrophic illness coverage.

Manpower programs are not well-targeted. Their purposes are not always clear. The needs are not always justifiable.

Parents' Turn Again

After 17 years of operation, a juvenile checkpoint on the U.S.-Mexican border at San Ysidro, Calif., has been closed down.

Established in 1958 as a barrier against what officials called "the dissolute, lewd and immoral elements" across the border and the marijuanna, heroin and venereal disease brought back by youngsters, the control station had stopped some 130,000 underage youths, many of them runaways as young as 12 years old.

The San Diego city council has voted to withdraw its share of the $470,000 yearly cost of the checkpoint, reports the New York Times, and state officials say that because of this state support money is being discontinued.

It was, in fact, a journey away from central death by starvation, claims William Goodell, an associate with the Institute for International Policy. Widespread famine was only a matter of sizeable surplus of food.

It may be objected that it would have made more sense to bring this food into the cities rather than to herd hundreds of thousands of men, women and children on foot into the countryside.

There is also tension between the ivory tower staff members who take the gee-whizz approach and the former criminal investigators who are more pragmatic.

Some staff members complain that Church will never be able to complete the investigation by his end-of-February deadline. It is impossible to undo 20 years of congressional neglect of the CIA, FBI and other intelligence agencies.

Parents' Turn Again

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. intelligence analysts believe Thailand and Malaysia have about 15 months to prepare for major Communist offensives.

Reports indicate that infiltration into Thailand already has increased since the Communists won in neighboring Indochina this spring.

Malaysia is less vulnerable than Thailand to large-scale overseas infiltration because it does not border on Communist countries.

But intelligence sources say Malaysian insurgents have become more aggressive in recent months and have sent emissaries to try to get U.S. small arms captured by Communist forces in Indochina.

Information collected by U.S. intelligence in Southeast Asia indicates that massive infiltration is likely to begin in early 1977 with the objective of "liberating" 16 provinces, sources say.

At that time, intelligence specialists believe, the Communists will have cemented their control throughout Vietnam and Laos and will be ready for a major effort to promote insurgency in neighboring Southeast Asian countries.

Worried Thai leaders already are embarked on diplomacy aimed at achieving a live-and-let-live arrangement with the village guard forces.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Israelis Renew Request For $2.5 Billion U.S. Aid

By The Associated Press Two high-ranking Israeli officials flew to Washington today to resume talks on their government's request for $2.5 billion in U.S. aid.

Mordchehai Gazit, director-general of Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin's office, told newsmen as he left Tel Aviv that the trip was "not a dramatic development, but another item in the chain of events aimed at achieving a permanent agreement with Egypt."

The United States broke off aid discussions with Israel last spring following the breakdown of Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's peace shuttle. Diplomatic sources in Tel Aviv said the resumption of the aid talks was a sign the United States was satisfied that Israel was making concessions to Egypt.

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Supreme Court dealt Prime Minister Indira Gandhi a setback today, refusing to hear her appeal of an election law conviction until it determines the validity of a one-day constitutional amendment which would acquit the Indian leader.

Mrs. Gandhi's lawyers asked the court to overturn her June 12 conviction immediately, arguing that the constitutional amendment had erased the guilty verdict.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States was expected to veto applications for U.N. membership today by North and South Vietnam in relation for the Security Council's refusal to consider a similar bid by South Korea.

The general assembly cannot admit any country to the United Nations without a recommendation from the council.

Diplomats predicted that both votes would be 13 in favor, 1 abstention and 1 against, with Costa Rica abstaining and the United States voting.

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—Indonesia today proposed a merger with Portuguese Timor following reports of a coup in one of the Lisbon government's last colonies.

However, it was not certain whether a coup had taken place on the island about 350 miles north of Australia.

James Romesha, leader of the Timor independence movement Fretilin, told newsmen in Australia he was "amazed" at the report and had received no news of a coup.

BRAGA, Portugal (AP)—More than 30 persons were injured early today as several hundred crack Portuguese marines armed with automatic weapons, clubs and tear gas drove back an angry mob of Roman Catholics attacking the Communist party headquarters here.

The show of force was the strongest yet by the armed forces in the conservative north where four persons have died in violent protests against the leftward trend of the military-dominated government.

Police said the injuries were caused by stones and paving bricks thrown by the crowd, estimated at up to 500 strong, and by shotgun fire from the besieged Communist party.

After a night of unsuccessful charges by the marines, five armored cars and two truckloads of reinforcements were rushed to Braga early today and finally succeeded in clearing the streets.

The scene outside the Communist offices at dawn resembled a battlefield. Big rocks and heavy sticks littered the ground. An auto set ablaze by the mob was still smoking.

Deaths Mark New Upsurge Of Northern Ireland Strife

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP)—Iresh Republican Army militants warned that they would "reconquer" their six-month cease-fire after three persons died in a weekend of violence marking the fourth anniversary of internment.

Angry mobs backed by sniper fire stoned British troops in a three-hour battle that erupted Sunday night in the Falls Road after the peaceful conclusion of the largest march in the province against the British policy of jailing suspected IRA guerrillas without trial.

The dead included a 4-year-old girl identified by local residents as Siobhan McCabe. She was gunned down when she was caught in the cross-fire when she tried to run across the road to her grandmother's house in the Roman Catholic Falls Road district.

The weekend deaths brought the total of lives lost in the province's six years of sectarian violence to at least 1,367.

More than 500 demonstrators attacked the building three times, smashing windows each time. They were driven back by gunfire from inside. At least one soldier was injured.

Police identified the other two victims as Patrick Crawford, 15, a Catholic who died Sunday night after being shot in the chest by the City of Belfast Police. He was shot in a separate incident on the grounds of the Royal Victoria Hospital near the Falls Road, and Martin McMenamy, a 17-year-old Catholic whose bullet-ridden body was found in Belfast early Saturday.

The violence grew out of a group backed by 12 per cent of the voters in recent election Sunday by more than 50,000 Catholics protesting the Communist course of the 15-month-old Portuguese revolution and the military takeover of a Catholic radio station.

It spiraled quickly as the show of force was the strongest yet by the armed forces in the conservative north where four persons have died in violent protests against the leftward trend of the military-dominated government.

Police said the injuries were caused by stones and paving bricks thrown by the crowd, estimated at up to 500 strong, and by shotgun fire from the besieged Communist party.

Swollen Vocal Chords Couldn't Stop South's Bob Hely

GAINESVILLE (AP) — "We got an opera bottle, sprayed Bob Hely's vocal chords and didn't sing some sweet arias," quipped Coach Vince Zappone of the quarterback who led the South to a 27-0 victory in the Florida high school all-star football game.

Hely, a 175-pounder from Fort Lauderdale, developed swollen vocal chords last Wednesday and could barely croak.

"We simplified the signal calling so all he had to say was 'go', and kept spraying his throat," Zappone said. "He was fine by game time Saturday night."

Hely played down his considerable effort of scoring 21 points against the North, but writers noted the South's outstanding back. There was no serious competition, despite a 115-yard, 13-carry performance by Jim Fowler of Largo.

"We won because there was not a weak spot on our team and our lines were bigger and stronger," Hely said.

But he ran 10 yards for one touchdown and four yards for another; kicked field goals of 43 and 19 yards plus three extra points, and punted 43 yards the only time the South had to boot. He also completed four of seven passes for 75 yards.

"Wake Forest is getting a fine athlete there," said Zappone who put together an impressive all-star squad. "And Fowler should fit in well with Florida State's wing-T offense. He's made it for."

"But I really wish we could keep this entire squad together in college," said Zappone of Hollywood Chamaine. "I think it would be fun to follow the next four years."

South's defense was so devastating that a strong group of North running backs was held to minus four yards, and only three pass completions by John Bradley of Ocala Forest for a total of 78 yards.

Willie Jones, 220-pound defensive end from South Dade was named outstanding lineman for the South in a close vote over David Jones, 225-pound defensive tackle from Glades Central, and 223-pound middle guard Reggie Kinlaw of Miami Springs.

North's outstanding player awards went to defensive back Nap Green of Gainesville and Michael Dupree, linebacker from Tallahassee Godby.

"The South was a little quicker and bigger," said North Coach Brent Hill, whose Ocala Forest squad went unbeaten and won the Class AAA state championship last fall. "Our personnel were not that much different, but the South kept the pressure on us and we finally kind of crumbled." South also won the all-star basketball game Saturday afternoon.

Herb Allen of Tampa Robinson scored 18 points and earned most valuable honors leading the winners to an 80-71 decision.

Tony Vann of Jacksonville White scored 12 points and was voted best for the North for his quickness and rebounding. Kelvin Crayton of Pensacola Washington scored 15.

Jack Breezes In PGA; Crampton's Bid Short

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — For the world's greatest golfer, the "Year That Jack Nicklaus Gave the Grand Slam Away" will not be one for weeping and the gnashing of teeth.

It will be a year for recharging the batteries and setting the sights on newer and loftier goals.

"If I had won the Grand Slam, I probably would have got out of the game," said Nicklaus after winning his fourth PGA and 18th major title Sunday. "Now I am more determined to continue playing. I like golf. I am a better player than I ever was."

"This is my fourth PGA. Walter Hagen won five. I would like to match that. Nobody ever has won more than four U.S. Opens. I would like to get five. The fact I came close this year only adds to my ambition to try to win the Grand Slam."

Nicklaus held off the challenge of Australian Bruce Crampton Sunday over the long Firestone course and won the 57th PGA by two strokes, shooting a final-round 71 for 276. He collected $45,000.

Crampton, trailing three and four strokes most of the day, failed to sink crucial putts on the incoming nine and finished second with a 69 for 278.

Only Crampton threatened — and not very seriously — in the muggy, rain-interrupted showdown over the 180-yard, par-70 Firestone layout which the pros have labeled the "Monster."

Tom Weiskopf, Nicklaus' fellow townsman who beat him in a recent playoff for the Canadian Open, had to sink a 20-foot putt on the final hole to finish third with a 68 for 279.

Some of the game's biggest names tired and fell back. British Open champion Tom Watson had 283. Gary Player and Arnold Palmer tied at 291. U.S. Open king Lou Graham shot 296 and Lee Trevino trailed with 297.

It was Weiskopf who suggested that 1975 will be one which Nicklaus might remember with great regret.

"I think he will not soon forget it is the year he gave the Grand Slam away," Weiskopf said. "He should have won the U.S. Open. He did things he never does. He also should have won the British Open."

After winning the Masters, Nicklaus blew the U.S. Open at Medinah by bogeying the last three holes, finishing two shots back. He missed the British Open at Carnoustie by a single shot.

Thus Nicklaus came within three shots of the professional goal of winning the four top pro events — the Masters, U.S. and British Opens and PGA — in a single year. Ben Hogan was the first in 1953 and didn't play in the PGA.

Clay Title At Stake Ashe To Battle Orantes

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — It'll be the power of Wimbledon champion Arthur Ashe against the finesse of Spain's Manuel Orantes when the two meet tonight for the U.S. Clay Court tennis championship.

The lanky, 23-year-old Ashe likes to pin his opponents in the backcourt with one of the fastest serves and forehands in tennis. But he's as short, but stouter than Ashe and a recognized expert on clay. He's also the man who upset top-seeded Guillermo Vilas of Argentina to get a crack at Ashe and the $16,000 winners' purse.

Orantes perhaps has a psychological advantage over Ashe in that he won the past three meetings — the last being at Montreal on the 1973 World Championship Tennis circuit. He is also second behind Vilas in tennis Grand Prix points while Ashe is fifth.

Nevertheless, Ashe is the reigning Wimbledon champion, has captured the 1975 WCT singles crown and is seeded second in this $160,000 tournament just ahead of Orantes.

Both men have claimed all week that they're in good condition, however, the added strain of four doubles matches may have taken a toll on the handsome Spaniard.

And Ashe has had several difficult singles matches. He needed three sets to beat Frank Tompa and was taken to extras by both Jaime Fillol of Chile and Onny Parun of New Zealand.

Orantes has whizzed through his end of the singles bracket in straight-set matches, giving up no more than four games to an opponent before upsetting Vilas 6-4, 6-2 in the semifinals Sunday.

Until losing to Orantes, Vilas had won 21 consecutive matches and three straight titles. While Vilas' streak was ending Sunday, top-seeded Chris Evert was resting after winning her 75th match in a row on clay and her fourth consecutive U.S. Clay Court single's title.

Misa Evert pocketed $10,000 and added to her growing list of titles by defeating Australian Dianne Fromholtz 6-3, 6-4. Miss Fromholtz, who turned 19 Sunday, received a check for $2,000 as runnerup.

Uruguay's Fiorella Bonicelli and Colombia's Isabel Fernandez won the women's doubles by defeating the top-seeded team of Gail Chanfreau, France, and Julie Heldman, Houston, 3-4, 7-5, 6-3.

Fading Tigers Lose 15th Straight Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"If you were 12 years old you could cry," said Detroit Manager Ralph Houk.

The Tigers continued their tailspin Sunday, dropping a 4-0 decision to Bert Blyleven and the Minnesota Twins. It was their 16th straight loss, extending the club record, and left them within five games of the all-time record of 20 straight defeats set by Boston in 1902 and tied by the Philadelphia Athletics in 1916 and 1943.

Despite extra batting practice, the Tigers bats managed just 16 base hits and one run in dropping three straight to the Twins.

"We haven't had a day off since the All-Star break, maybe that's the trouble," said Houk.

"The bats may be heavy. When you face a pitcher like that, you don't know whether you're hitting or not."

Jerry Terrell broke up a scoreless game with a run-scoring double off Ray Bare, 6-7, in the seventh and Rod Carew followed with a sacrifice fly. Phil Rhee added a two-run homer for Minnesota in the ninth.

John Mayberry's three-run homer helped Kansas City win their fifth game of the all-time record of 20 straight defeats set by Boston in 1902 and tied by the Philadelphia Athletics in 1916 and 1943.

Pirates Drop Fifth Straight Sutton Nips Mets For No. 16

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Don Sutton is pushing to become a 20-game winner for the first time in his career. The Pittsburgh Pirates aren't pushing anybody at the moment — but the panic button might not be too far off.

Sutton, whose 19-9 record in 1972 and again last year, was his winningest seasons, became the National League's first 16-game winner this year with a three-hitter that gave the Los Angeles Dodgers a 5-1 victory over the New York Mets Sunday.

The Pirates, meanwhile, got pushed around by lowly Houston for the fourth straight time and dropped their fifth straight game, losing 5-3 to the Astros.

In the rest of the NL, Cincinnati blitzed Montreal 11-3, San Francisco walloped Philadelphia 8-1, Chicago beat Atlanta 9-1 and St. Louis defeated

Bill Bohannon's five-hitter and Rick Monday's three-run double Monday helped Chicago rout the Braves. Bohannon, who was shelved for seven hits and seven runs by Philadelphia without retiring a batter in his last appearance, had a perfect game until Earl Williams led off the fifth with a single to right. He lost his shutout when Mike Lum homered in the eighth.

Reds 11, Expos 3

The Reds raked Montreal for 16 hits — three apiece by Tony Perez and Johnny Bench — and sent the Expos away with four-run burns in the fifth and eighth innings. George Foster's 19th homer, a three-run shot, capped the latter surge.

Astros 5, Pirates 3

Skip Lutz and Tommy Helms knocked in two runs apiece in the victory over Pittsburgh. The Astros put the Pirates away early, punning off the runs in the first inning off Jim Rooker.

"I expect at an moment for the club to break out of the hitting slump," Pirates Manager Danny Mortough said. "We haven't pushed the panic button. We're still in first place. We're just having a bad streak now."

Card 3, Padres 2

San Diego took a 2-1 in the top of the 10th on a homer by Tito Fuentes, but Ken Reitz homered in the bottom of the inning to tie it. Mike Tyson then singled, took second on Mike McGee's pinch single and scored on Lou Brock's single that gave the Cards a decisive 3-2 victory.

Miss Pierce, 20 and the oldest member of the team when it competes in Mexico City in October, just beat out Trish Reed of Denver, Colo., for the final spot on the squad.

Miss Reed had 14.8 points and is the alternate to the squad.

Anthony Davis Learns -- The Hard Way

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Anthony Davis is learning that life in pro football isn't always a bed of roses.

His most glamorous performers and a Rose Bowl star at Southern California the past few years, had a rollicking time in his pro debut one week ago. He rushed for 102 yards, caught two passes and completed one in leading the Southern California Sun to victory in its World Football League season opener.

Then came the fall.

At San Antonio Saturday night, the Wings banged up Davis and clipped the fleet running back, holding him to just 45 yards on 13 carries. Meanwhile, San Antonio's offense exploded for a 54-21 win.

"San Antonio had a play everywhere I went," Davis lamented afterwards.

And the Wings had lots of players left over for offense, too. Like Billy Sadler and Steve Conley, who each ran for two touchdowns, and Jim Strong, who ran for one. The five TDs on the ground set a WFL record, as did the Wings' five successful action points.

Sun rookie quarterback Pat Haden, a college teammate of Davis, completed 24 of 40 passes for 313 yards, and his team actually outgained the Wings 419-317 in total offense.

The Wings led by 17-7 at the half, but then Southern California's luck ran out. San Antonio erupted for 31 points in the third period and the rout was on.

Elsewhere in the WFL Saturday night, the Memphis South Stars and the Philadelphia Stars; the Charlotte Hornets 23-11; the Hawaiians tipped the Portland Thunder 25-9; the Birmingham Vulcans trounced the Philadelphia Bluffs 23-17, and the Shreveport Steamers set a club record for points in defeating the Chicago Winds 38-18.

Memphis, down 11-0 at halftime, got one touchdown from each of its three former Miami Dolphins stars and pulled out the victory.

Larry Conka, who rushed for 114 yards, and Paul Warfield each snared 10-yard scoring passes in the third period from John Huarte, then Jim Kiick capped the comeback with a two-yard TD run.

The Hawaiians scooped up three Portland fumbles and returned them all for touchdowns in their one-point squeaker. "It feels like we were snatched or something," said Portland's Larry Conka, who rushed for 114 yards, and Paul Warfield each snared 10-yard scoring passes in the third period from John Huarte, then Jim Kiick capped the comeback with a two-yard TD run.

carry Birmingham to victory. Rookie wide receiver Ricky Scates caught touchdown passes of 47 and nine yards to highlight a 21-point fourth quarter for Shreveport.

Attendance at the five WFL games was 80,899. Birmingham and San Antonio attracted an estimated 21,000 each, Memphis had 19,729, Shreveport 10,661 and Portland 7,709.

Cincinnati Loss Not Surprising

MIAMI (AP) — Cincinnati Coach Paul Brown wasn't surprised when the Miami Dolphins ran successfully against his Bengals despite the loss of Larry Conka at fullback.

"It's a real good line to run behind," Brown said after the Dolphins handed the Bengals their second defeat, 7-3 Saturday night, of the National Football League exhibition season.

Don Nottingham, taking over as first-team fullback with Conka gone, led the World Football League, picked up 78 yards in 12 carries, an average of 6.5 yards a carry, and running mate Benny Malone added 71 yards in 13 tries, an average of 5.5 yards a try.

The Bengals picked up the first 30 yards in the Dolphins' 58-yard touchdown drive in the fourth quarter.

Seemingly apassive quarterback Earl Morrall, now 41, then threw a 17-yard pass to Tom Moore and went back to Moore for a 10-yard scoring pass.

"What can you say about a guy who's been in the league 20 years?" asked Malone of Morrall. "He can probably design another offense."

"Earl's the kind of guy that'll surprise you. Their defense seems to be a lot better than I called — basic plays."

Miami Coach Don Shula, who has said his main pre-season goal is to determine what kind of offense will work without Conka, said with a grin, "It looks like we'll run."

"I was pleased by the way the offensive line came off the ball and the running of Nottingham

Bengal quarterback Ken Anderson, who gave way to John Reaves in the second half, completed eight of 15 passes for 72 yards. Reaves had only one completion in four tries.

"I'm not really concerned about it," said Brown of Anderson. "He hasn't got untracked so far. We're not making it an issue."

"Defensively, we're experimenting around quite a bit," he added. "Defensively, we've been having some problems. We expected this really."

Rain Postpones Talladega 500 For Week

TALLADEGA, Ala. (AP) — Talladega 500 stock car race officials postponed the seventh annual running of the NASCAR Grand National event Sunday after waiting for nearly three hours for rain to stop.

The race, originally scheduled for 1 p.m., CDT, was rescheduled for this coming Sunday. The rain, which hampered all racing events during the weekend, started about noon, one hour before the green flag was to go up.

Two International Motor Sports Association road races were canceled Saturday because of a wet track at the Alabama International Motor Speedway.

But despite rain on the first run earlier Saturday, Mark Donohue sped around the 2.6-mule tri-oval in a Porsche at 221.100 miles per hour — setting a world's closed course speed record.

He broke A. J. Foyt's record set nearly a year ago at this high-banked east Alabama track.

Sunday's race was to be Foyt's first stock car race here. He was fourth spot in qualifying. But Foyt has to decide if he is going to compete in the makeup event or if he will be in the U.S. Auto Club Indianapolis-style race at Midlandville, Ohio.

Unser set a course record of 165 miles per hour on the final lap but couldn't catch

She is scheduled to go to Vail, Colo., for a brief vacation with the President and Mrs. Ford before beginning her freshman year at Mount Vernon College in Washington.

Brezhnev, Husak Talk

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev has met with the president of Czechoslovakia, Gustav Husak, Tass reports.

The Soviet news agency said Brezhnev, who is vacationing at the Crimean resort of Yalta, met with Husak on Sunday. The announcement by Tass was the first indication that Brezhnev had left Moscow.

There was no indication on how long he would remain at his summer home in Yalta. However, there were reports that Brezhnev looked tired at the recent summit meeting in Helsinki and there have been reports in recent months that he has been ill.

Frost To Interview Nixon

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former President Richard M. Nixon has signed a contract to do a "no holds barred" series of television interviews, David Frost says.

Frost would not disclose the price tag agreed to by Nixon. In a press conference Sunday, the British interviewer said Nixon agreed to discuss the events, collectively dubbed Watergate, which led to his becoming the first U.S. president to resign his office.

Ford Promises To Seek Homes For Refugees

VAIL, Colo. (AP) — Dressed in blue pajamas, the middle-aged Vietnamese man approached President Ford and said in hesitant English: "All of people of Ft. Chaffee thank you very much for your help, and we pray for you, your family and your people."

The incident took place Sunday in a hospital ward at the President ended an hour-long visit to the Vietnamese refugee relocation center at Ft. Chaffee, Ark.

The President said he would do everything possible to see that new homes are found by late this fall for this man and 5,000 other Indochina refugees still in four U.S. camps.

Later, Ford and Mrs. Ford flew to Vail, Colo., to begin a two-week working vacation in the mountain resort.

Meeting with aides, social events, golf, swimming and tennis are on his agenda for the next several days before he takes off next Monday for a mid-vacation tour in Iowa, Minnesota and Illinois.

Last May, Ford pressed for funds to resettle Indochina refugees in this country, and Congress responded by appropriating $405 million.

Thousands of refugees still at Chaffee showed their appreciation by giving the President a rousing welcome. They lined the three-mile route from the base gate and waved and cheered as the presidential motorcade went by.

Donald McDonald, a senior civil coordinator at the base, told the President that Ft. Chaffee prides itself on being a "refugee village" with 20,941 refugees relocated elsewhere in homes across the country.

McDonald reported a total of 120,796 refugees have come to the four relocation centers but 65,151 have been resettled.

Jones' Paintings In Courthouse

(Continued From Page-1A) A Sanford resident since high school and married to long-time Sanford resident Clyda (the former Clayda Ferguson), Jones' name is not new to the city.

"I like to see somebody buy a painting because they like it, instead of somebody saying, 'that's what Ashby Jones did and then buy it.'"

In his three hour lessons each Saturday morning with Stowe, Jones is developing a style change, "leaning more towards a smoother style and texture," he says.

Jones says the main subjects for his paintings are "traditional landscapes and some are architecture, like older type buildings." His weakest point, he says, of painting is the portrait. "This is an entirely different art," he said.

Nixon: A Year Out Of Office

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — One year ago Richard M. Nixon, besieged by the Watergate scandal, surrendered his presidency, the first American president in history to resign.

Living in self-imposed isolation, Nixon is not expected to mark the painful anniversary with any public comment.

A year ago Nixon went or nationwide television to announce his resignation. But officially he was still President until the following day when Gerald R. Ford was sworn in as his successor.

Publicly silent since he stepped down, Nixon has chosen to become one of America's most private citizens.

"Sometimes we forget that he even lives here," says one resident of this small seaside city. "Weeks go by and we don't even think of him."

But some Americans remember. Tourists on vacation along the California coast make pilgrimages here daily, driving down "Avenida del Presidente" to the point where it dead-ends at the stone walls guarding Nixon's rambling estate from public view.

"We just wanted to see what it looked like" said a family from Indiana who approached the gates. "We didn't really think we'd see him."

The beach below Nixon's blufftop villa is open to the public now, and youngsters who say it's the best surfing beach in town hike miles to get there. They rarely look up the hill toward the Nixon compound where uniformed guards march among the cypress trees bordering the estate.

"We have respected his desire for privacy," said Emil Ramirez, president of the San Clemente Chamber of Commerce. "If he decides that he wants to participate in community affairs, I'm confident he'll be welcomed wholeheartedly."

Reflecting on his first year in office, Ford said he felt the openness of his administration had restored the confidence of the American people in their government, that he had established a "super place to live."

Ford said he and his family enjoyed the White House, which he called a "magnificent home."

"It also gives you an opportunity to focus in on the problems, and it is the problems that come with the house that make it somewhat difficult at times to really relax and enjoy yourselves."

The President, reminded by an interviewer that many had regarded him as an interim president when he took office, was asked if he had established a Ford Presidency.

"I think we have gradually put together a domestic program and a foreign policy that can be identified as a Ford administration," he replied. "As we move in the next 12 to 14 months I think it will become more and more evident, which, of course, gives us an opportunity in the next election to lay that record out to the public and judge it against any alternative programs submitted by the opposition."

Asked about criticism that he had not provided a broad road map for the country's future, Ford said he had not instituted any major new programs because he wanted first to get the nation's fiscal situation under control.

"Once we have achieved that result — and I think we have made substantial headway — then we can take a look at it and make recommendations for the long range," he said.

He said his next State of the Union message will include some areas that will point in that direction.

Ford: Informed Public Would Prevent Repeat

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford, who came to office a year ago because of the Watergate scandal, says "there would never be an opportunity for another Watergate to take place" because of an alert news media, public and Congress.

He said the strong American system of government enabled the nation to survive that "very traumatic period."

"If you look at what happened before August 9 and what happened since, I think you will come to the conclusion that the system did work," Ford said in a Public Broadcasting Service television interview.

Avoid High-Rise Romance

DEAR ABBY: I certainly don't agree with the advice you gave THE GIRL ACROSS THE WAY. Her apartment faces a 10-story high rise. She could see into the apartment of a gentleman who was always alone. Since she is alone, too, she asked you how she could meet him. You told her to pull down her shade and forget it.

Abby, that's the trouble with this world. If more people met strangers half way, there would be a lot less loneliness.

I would have told that girl to put a big sign in her window as follows: "WHAT'S YOUR PHONE NUMBER?"

FRIENDLY IN PHILLY DEAR FRIENDLY: That kind of "friendliness" is asking for big trouble. Exhibiting such a sign in a large city might be too "successful" to succeed.

DEAR ABBY: Shame, it doesn't! This is 1975, and I am disgusted with your old-fashioned advice to the 28-year-old woman who inquired about the best way to meet an apparently lonely gentleman across the way.

A little casserole, a bottle of wine and a knock on his door will tell her all she wants to know.

Wake up, Abby. Honesty is still the best policy. What's wrong with saying, "Hey, I'm lonely?"

DEAR ABBY: I have a solution for GIRL ACROSS THE WAY. I'm advertising and believe in it.

If I were that girl, I'd put a big sign in my window, reading, "GOOD MOVIE ON CHANNEL 6 at 8 p.m."

And even if the gentleman responds with a sign that reads, "IT'S A RERUN," at least she's gotten his attention and might get something going.

GOSPEL SHOW BASED ON GOSPEL OF ST. MATTHEW

Zany costumes, crazy makeup and a freaky set might seem appropriate to a hippie gathering, but in the musical "Godspell," the message of these unusual trappings is one of deep and joyful religious inspiration.

"Godspell" will be performed for Sanford area audiences Wednesday through Sunday at 8 p.m. nightly in the First United Methodist Church's fellowship hall on the corner of Magnolia and Fifth Street. Fellowship Players featured in the family-style show include (seated, from left) Anna Lea Heard, Marsha Hardwick, Allyson Dupree, Buddy Echols, Anthony Sutton and (standing, from left) Chip Johnson, Martha McDonald, Walt Morgan and Foreman Heard.

Rummage Sales Popular

The young people of the Community Church have been holding a series of rummage sales which have proven very successful. The profits are helping support the daily summer recreation program at the church. To reach their set goal, one more sale will be held on Aug. 16.

Mrs. Shirley Kelly is advisor for the group. The youth officers are: president, Jay Cummings; vice president, Mary Scott; secretary, Vicki Kelly; and treasurer, Sue Carpenter.

Red Cross Teaches Red Cross life saving classes are being given in the pool at the 3H Ranch on Snow Hill Road by water safety instructor Mary Killen. Ms. Killen states there are 16 students trying for their badges. Swimmers of the ages 11 to 14 are trying for their Junior Badge. The others are taking Senior Life Saving and hope to return next season as life guards for the pool.

Ms. Killen also teaches a class of beginners and advanced beginners at the ranch. Needless to say that the Baker along with Emory and swimming classes are among the most popular in these hot sultry days.

All day Saturday they will assist the Post in a bake sale at the Deltona Plaza.

On Aug. 15 at 2 p.m. the Auxiliary will stage a card party and fashion show in the Legion Hall. Door prizes and table prizes will be presented. Those attending are asked to bring their own cards and tables and a card table if possible.

The fashion show will be given by Bee-Line Fashions and clothing for men, women and children will be featured. Members of the Auxiliary will serve as models.

Genevieve Allen is in charge of the fashion show; Henry, the card party and Auxiliary president Joan Loutsenizer, the bingo tables.

Every Thursday evening, from 7:15 to about 10 p.m., bingo and card games are played in the Legion Hall with the public is invited.

Regular meeting of the Post and Auxiliary will be held Aug. 27 at 7:30 p.m. in the Legion Hall. All members are urged to attend and to try to bring a prospective member.

The Deltona Star Club has been disbanded as members are unable to keep pace with increasing costs of renting space for meetings. At a recent meeting, members voted unanimously to disband the club which was comprised of women in good standing with Eastern Star Chapters in other states, but who are now living in Deltona.

For the past 11 years, the Deltona Star Club has met in the rent-free Deltona Community Center. As of this year, however, a rental fee has been levied to all groups using the Community Center, and Star Club members, many of whom are retirees, agree that cannot afford to pay the cost of renting the facility for meetings.

In addition, the club has been faced for some time with a request from the Grand Chapter of the Eastern Star of Florida to change its name, excluding the word "star."

"Now that the club has disbanded, financial reasons, perhaps we can form an Eastern Star Chapter in Deltona," said a club spokeswoman. "We loved our Star Club because it gave all members a chance to meet one another."

"Now the only way we might be able to meet again each month is by forming a chapter of the Eastern Star here. That would be something to look forward to," she said.

Oswald: "He then asks if you can be sure of your contract once you find there is no trump loser."

Jim: "The answer to that one is an unqualified affirmative. You simply drop the enemy's last trump, cash the high hearts and lead a diamond. The opponents take two diamonds and then must either lead a spade or give you a ruff and discard. If they lead a spade they finesse themselves."

Minimum Safety Repairs To Cost $120,000 County Given Two Years To Build New Jail

By MICK LOCHRIDGE Herald Staff Writer

State officials Monday agreed on minimum fire safety requirements for reopening the Seminole County Jail — provided the county build a new jail within two years.

Seminole County Commission Chairman Sid Vihlen Jr. said he would recommend to the commission today to request bids for $120,000 for installation of the required safety equipment.

Vihlen said approval of the funding may come next week, pending a favorable reply on the safety plan from Louie Wainwright, director of the Department of Offender Rehabilitation (DOR) — formerly the Division of Corrections.

Once funding is approved and repairs made Vihlen said Sheriff John Polk will be authorized to reopen the jail. The minimum safety package is the same 14-point plan written by local fire and building official's a month ago when the county sought to install safety equipment in the damaged jail. "We're right back where we were," Polk said. Polk wrote a letter to Wainwright Monday outlining the 14 points and indicating the county plans to build a new jail within 18 to 24 months. He said he expected a reply next week. The requirements exclude the widening of the corridor doors on which Vihlen sought a waiver because the project would have been major construction.

Vihlen also failed Monday to find an agency with jurisdiction over the jail.

The state-approved list includes emergency lighting equipment as recommended by the grand jury, but excludes the jury recommendation for air conditioning.

The grand jury Friday released its report on the investigation of the fatal fire, finding fault with the County Commission, the City of Sanford, the Sanford Fire Department and the state Division of Corrections.

A five-man task force of state officials met with local officials Monday to discuss the grand jury's recommendations for reopening the jail and agreed upon the 14 points.

The officials included representatives from the State Fire Marshal's office and DOR. The task force met with Sheriff's Department personnel, and City of Sanford officials and Vihlen Monday morning. The same group met at 1:30 p.m. in the commission board room where Polk presented to Vihlen the proposal for reopening the jail.

During the meeting Vihlen was persistent in securing a letter from the state agreeing to the repairs providing what Vihlen called "reasonable assurances" the board was acting within the guidelines of the state.

Vihlen has been seeking an agency with jurisdiction over the jail which could consider waiving state fire codes — primarily the 38 inch door provision — to allow prisoners to return to the jail without the county being held liable for lodging prisoners in an unsafe facility.

However, the state fire marshal's office, the City of Sanford, the county and DOR have told Vihlen they do not have such jurisdiction. An opinion from Atty. Gen. Robert Shovin says legislative action may be needed to decide the question of jurisdiction.

"The responsibility for the jail is on Seminole County," said Douglas Stenstrom, the sheriff's attorney. But, Vihlen said the County Commission must be "extremely cautious" in dealing with reopening the jail, to prevent a state agency from changing its mind about the state.

Jacobson Cites 'Moral Support' Of Commission Downtown Committee Funding Request Gains Approval

By RICK PATRIDGE Herald Staff Writer

Downtown Redevelopment Steering Committee Executive Director Sara Jacobson today lauded last night's unanimous City Commission approval of a $3,833 committee funding request.

"I am very pleased," Jacobson said, "with the moral support of the commissioners. Since our major problem downtown has been apathy, someone needs to be the pace-setter." "The $3,833 is not an operating budget," Jacobson said. "It is the bare minimum we need to get started. It only means that we can now get our office open."

The Steering Committee is a product of property owners and merchants. It is the commission task so much interest in the question of how we plan to use the money we requested. It shows they are interested in what happens in the downtown area." Before approving the three-month budget request, the commission engaged in a thorough discussion of downtown goals and indicated to the Steering Committee that the time has come to act.

Mayor Lee Moore today said the discussion of the budget request was "a message to the Steering Committee that this time it has got to work."

alluding to previous unsuccessful efforts to improve the downtown area. City Manager Warren E. "Pete" Knowles said the unanimous vote showed that "The commission is willing to spend the money needed for the project, but commissioners wanted to know just what they were spending the money for."

Downtown redevelopment, Knowles said, "will benefit the merchants and the property owner and in turn the city because redevelopment will make the base larger, and that means everyone in Sanford will benefit in the long run."

School Bus Drivers Lose In Bid For Certification To Bargain Collectively

By ED PRICKETT Herald Staff Writer

A school bus drivers' organization in Seminole County has been denied permission from the state to bargain collectively with the school board, an official said today.

Harry Pelley, the board's chief negotiator, said he received a letter from the Public Employees Relations Commission (PERC) last Friday denying the county's 131 bus drivers their certification.

"The board cannot bargain as long as they're not certified," Pelley said. The association already had board recognition as a bargaining agent.

All that was lacking was PERC certification. Pelley said the reason given by PERC was that the bus drivers were "not a large enough unit."

Pelley also said he received notification today that Local 1010, AFL-CIO, is intervening in certification sought by the county's secretarial association.

Last month, the school board recognized bus drivers, secretaries and a third group of non-instructional personnel as bargaining agents.

At that meeting, a Local 1010 attorney vowed to fight it out for the right to bargain with the board in Seminole.

Local 1010 organizing chairman Frank Joyce said then the "war" had just begun and pledged his union would battle all three agencies recognized by the board. In a third development, Pelley said he has received permission to resume talks with the county's teacher organization, the Seminole Education Association (SEA).

However, Pelley said no formal decision to resume negotiations has been made. He reiterated his former stance that all board proposals — including a $300 increase in salary for beginning teachers — remain the same.

Longwood Mayor May Veto Second Ordinance

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

LONGWOOD — Insisting the requirements of an ordinance passed on first reading by City Council Monday night might prove "confiscatory," Mayor James R. Lormann indicated the second veto of his seven months in office may be in the offing.

The ordinance, scheduled by City Council for public hearing at 8 p.m. Sept. 8, was suggested by the city's land planning agency (planning and zoning commission) to set minimum requirements in industrial development.

lot coverage for structures to not more than 50 per cent with no less than 25 per cent for parking and no less than 25 per cent for landscaped area.

Lormann warned the city would have to be careful, adding while green belt is needed, some industrial lots are small and the city could, in effect, be in the position of confiscating private property for green belt.

City Attorney Ned Julian Jr., said the purpose of the ordinance was to set minimum requirements in developments with small lots.

Lormann said he was merely complying with council development.

The proposed law would limit

Cultural Center Proposed

By JEAN PATTISON Herald Women's Editor

Nationally renowned theatre consultant George Eisenhower of Yale University today met in Sanford with members of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce Bankers' Committee to discuss initiating a study to determine the feasibility of building a prestigious performing arts hall in Sanford.

"We've made the decision on hiring the man. He's obviously the expert in the field. All we need now is to finalize the financing of the study," commented Howard Hodges, chairman of the Bankers' Committee, at the conclusion of the meeting.

On May 19, Bankers' Committee Chairman Howard Hodges, member John Kridler, architect Carl Gutmann and engineer Cal Conklin visited the Van Wazer Performing Arts-Hall in Sarasota.

While there they learned from Managing Director Dr. Curtis Haug, that Eisenhower had conducted the feasibility study for the Van Wazer before any decisions were made to build the theatre.

Upon returning to Sanford, Bankers' Committee representative decided their next step would be to meet with a professional consultant to be advised on the size, nature, cost and feasibility of constructing a theatre here.

According to Eisenhower, a feasibility study in the Sanford area would cost about $10,000 and would take three to four months to complete. He said he could not start a study much before November.

"This is just the development of a program," stressed Eisenhower. "It does not plan the building. I devise the parameters which is the instrument used by architects, fund raisers, and so forth."

Eisenhower said remodeling of the Sanford Civic Center and
