

LBJ Chances In South Rest On Choice Of Running Mate

ATLANTA (UPI)—Southern leaders indicated today that President Johnson's chances in Dixie in November hinge on his choice of a running mate. These politicians agree that the presidential race probably will be very close in the South but that the "right" vice presidential candidate could give the edge to the Democrats in some states.

Realizing that the choice was strictly up to the President, they offered some suggestions for "Mr. Right" and a unanimous nomination for "Mr. Wrong."

Without exception, Southern politicians polled by United Press International voiced objection to, or were cool toward, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy because of his stand and views on civil rights.

Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver was the man most frequently mentioned as a vice presidential candidate acceptable in the South, followed, with almost equal sentiment, by Sens. Eugene McCarthy of Wisconsin and Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota and Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr.

Ranger Seems Certain To Get Pictures

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — America's Ranger-7 spacecraft was racing for the moon today with scientists saying "there is no question" its television cameras will take the first close-up pictures of the lunar surface before collision Friday.

A successful collision landing and relay of 4,000 televised pictures back to earth from Ranger 7's six "space eyes" would mark an historic first for American space scientists: The first closeup photographs of the moon's face.

The photographs could spell success or failure to this country's hopes of landing astronauts on the moon by 1970.

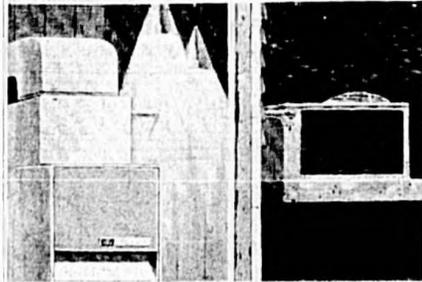

Ranger 7 thundered skyward on its 228,000-mile mission Tuesday from Cape Kennedy.

Ranger 7 was expected to collide with the moon at a speed of 4,668 miles an hour at 8:25 a. m. EST, Friday.

About 13½ minutes before impact, television cameras will be activated and the spacecraft's six cameras should transmit back to earth the historic photos.

All we can say right now is "Wow." Interest in the editorial campaign of The Herald to promote interest in and support for the lakefront marina project has exceeded anything attempted by this newspaper in decades.

The phones ring, people drop into the office telling the staff how they are in hearty accord with the stand taken. A few have questioned what effect the project would have on their city taxes. But when it was explained the project would be financed as a capital outlay from franchise fees they joined the team of those backing the proposal.

Maybe it's the power of suggestion the people at Sanford Atlantic National Bank have in mind. Anyway, it appears to be working. All this week the clock on the bank has recorded the correct time, but the temperature lights are flubbing. The highest degree recorded all week has been a balmy 74. Clock Watchers feel sure the Chamber of Commerce doesn't mind. Hardly anyone else does, for that matter.

Seen on Highway 17-92: A ponderous turtle was making its way across the highway when a string of cars came along. Three missed it but the fourth — WHAP — knocked it about 20 feet off the roadway into a clump of grass. It landed on its back, a position awkward for a turtle, to say the least. A nearby resident took a shovel, flipped the turtle right-side-up and it clumped on its way. This time away from the highway.

Tame chickens? Right. A resident west of Sanford has several and each has its own name. They respond to his commands, perch on his lap or shoulder and eat out of his hand. Quite a sight. We're trying for pictures.

Even as it stands right now, the lakefront has a lure for many boatmen. This week police were asked by two Miami groups to watch their cars and trailers while they took their boats on an extended tour of the St. Johns River. Lake Monroe and the river have that certain something lacking in all other parts of Florida.

Those highly interesting Coffee Club sessions of the Seminole Chamber of Commerce, and usually held the last Thursday of the month have been halted till early this fall.

Speaking of coffee, the other afternoon a popular coffee-break establishment found itself in a fix. The heating element on the coffee maker quit. And it was some time till it could be restored to service. Well, those things happen and customers took it in stride.

Waterfront Development: Our Opportunity

"Who will come here and use these facilities?" asked one City Commissioner concerning the proposed marina project.

Thursday The Herald said it would answer the Commissioner's question. Here it is.

A Broward County (Fort Lauderdale) executive has declared: "Millions of people facing retirement are better off financially than any people of a similar group in history. These people generally are conservative economically as well as in taste."

What about the 2,227 inquiries the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce has received?

What about the thousands upon thousands who now go to the Florida east coast and other salt water marina locations because there are no major fresh water marina facilities in Florida?

What about the 30,000 pleasure craft officials estimate will utilize the Sanford-Titusville canal when it becomes a reality?

What about the other thousands upon thousands of pleasure boats which will use the cross-state canal facility and visit Sanford or at least stop en route?

Everybody with whom The Herald has discussed utilization has said this:

"If the City of Sanford will provide the marina, private enterprise will follow with the rest of the facilities and the boatmen will utilize it."

Is private enterprise really interested? A local realtor the other day wrote the president of National Associates, Inc., a firm which constructs and operates a large chain of hotels and motels.

He was told about the proposed marina complex in Sanford. With nothing more than that, the president — not a flunky, but the president — of this corporation flew to Sanford and met with City Manager Pete Knowles. Following his conference this executive wrote Knowles, and The Herald quotes, in part, as follows:

"We would be interested in participation in ownership, management, financing and/or obtaining leases for food and motel operation. We feel that a complete feasibility report should be run to ascertain the size motel and food operation to start with; also, of course, with plans for the maximum addition. . . Upon receipt of this report we shall then have our architect department make preliminary plans for the approval of all concerned, and at that time will decide as to the ownership and operation of this project."

Please notice: The head of National Associates, Inc., did not say that a report was necessary to determine whether they would build a motel and restaurant here. This executive, we point out, is interested in how big an operation is needed.

The local group that proposed the marina complex, did not do it without a study. They employed a representative who went to the big motel and hotel operators, the big restaurant system owners and the major oil companies. He didn't even have photographs of architectural renderings.

But the response he received was highly favorable. Every single firm indicated an interest. It was upon this basis that the marina proposers decided that this was the answer to Sanford's downtown problems as well as the general economy of the entire area.

Sanford has the greatest opportunity in its long history to utilize its lakefront property. Opportunity. The Herald is confident, is knocking at the door.

An investment of an estimated $500,000 — just a little more than was required to build the Civic Center — will open that door.

Through that door will come a pleasure craft and marine business that may not ever equal that of Fort Lauderdale but Sanford could become known throughout the country for its major fresh water marina facilities. Sanford itself can become a major attraction to boatmen.

There are nearly 500,000 boatmen in Florida alone, and they need facilities! Did you know that hundreds of pleasure craft are parked right now in Orlando dry storage facilities because of the need for marinas?

If the City of Sanford doesn't answer opportunity's knock, what will happen to the downtown area? The Herald will answer this Monday when it explains why the marina complex was proposed in the first place.

Longwood Gets Coin Laundry Drainage Case

L. C. Bolduc, representative of a laundry and commercial waste treatment company, asked the Longwood City Council Thursday evening for permission to dump treated waste waters into state tiled drainage line on SR 434 east of Longwood. Bolduc's company is consulting engineers for a self-service laundry which plans to locate in the city on the corner of SR 427 and SR 434. During extensive discussion, Bolduc assured council and Mayor A. R. Lormann that the effluent from the laundry that would go into area lakes, beginning with Lake Evergreen, would neither contaminate the waters in any way nor prohibit swimming or fishing.

The matter was taken under advisement pending reports on chemical breakdown of wastes in similar coin laundries.

In other business, bids from Heller Motor Sales Company and Sanford City Motors on a 1965 model police car were opened and read. Action was deferred until next Thursday's regular meeting.

Non-Partisan Barry Meeting Fills Hall

A capacity crowd, with a preponderance of registered Democrats, filled the American Legion Hall at Prairie Lake Thursday night at a meeting to organize a non-partisan group of Goldwater supporters in South Seminole County and to unite with the organization recently created in Sanford.

The meeting was called by Ford Cavanaugh of Forest City and George Bolrow of Altamonte Springs.

Called on to speak briefly were State Rep. Jan Fortune, Chairman George Harden of the Goldwater for President Committee in Sanford, and E. Pope Bassett, president of the Seminole County Young Republicans Club.

An chairman of the GOP Executive Committee in Seminole County, Fortune said that he welcomed all supporters in the forthcoming presidential campaign for Senator Goldwater, whether Democrat or Republican.

"We can unite" he said, "on the common ground of principle."

The group elected Edwin C. Cromartie of Casselberry as chairman of the South Seminole unit. Bassett and Bolrow were named to the executive committee to work with those previously elected in Sanford.

Mrs. Lou Helms of Longwood was named secretary. The organization will appoint leaders in each precinct and several were named from those present at the meeting.

Another meeting is being planned for August.

Ranger Gets 'Excellent' Pictures Before Hitting Moon Bull's-Eye

Shot Hailed As 'Complete Success'

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)—Ranger 7 paved the way for America to land a man on the moon today by sending back thousands of "excellent" closeup pictures before a bullseye strike on the lunar surface.

"The whole mission was a complete success, it hit right on target," said a jubilant scientist at the flight's control center here. The mission ended years of frustrating failures in the Ranger program to find out what sort of surface would greet man when he reaches earth's satellite, possibly in 1969 or 1970.

Ranger 7 "struck only 9 or 10 miles from dead center," said project manager H. M. Schurmeier.

The up to 4,000 pictures transmitted across a quarter million miles of space in the dozen minutes before impact were described as "excellent . . . not interrupted" by the Goldstone tracking station on California's Mojave Desert.

At the control center, elated scientists, technicians and newsmen yelled in glee over the success of the mission. It followed nearly 70 hours of flight from Cape Kennedy.

President Johnson personally congratulated laboratory director Dr. William Pickering by telephone.

"We are proud of the tremendous technical achievement which this successful flight represents," Johnson said. "This is a basic step forward in our orderly program to assemble the scientific knowledge necessary for man's trip to the moon."

"I recognize that this great success has come only after a number of failures and partial failures in our efforts to send probes to the moon," the President said. "This success should spur us on to added effort in the future."

The President said "our Soviet competitors have had many unpublicized failures to Soviet failures, he added, confirmed the complexity of the American success today which he called a "magnificent achievement" in the "peaceful exploration of space."

Pickering told a news conference "It's been a long road, but this shot was a textbook operation . . . everything went the way it should."

At the control center, elated scientists, technicians and newsmen yelled in glee over the success of the mission. It followed nearly 70 hours of flight from Cape Kennedy.

Fear's Effect

Fear can do some very drastic things. A minister illustrated this by telling of an experience he had when performing a wedding ceremony. The groom seemed to be exceptionally nervous which is a way of saying that fear had taken over. The minister came to the part of the ceremony where he said, "Say after me: I, John, take thee, Mary, to be my wedded wife; for better, for worse, for richer, for poorer, etc." The groom who was almost paralyzed with fear said instead, "I, John, take thee, Mary, to be my wedded wife; from better to worse, from richer to poorer. . . ."

amination in school and forgetting much that one actually knew an hour before. Others have gotten up before crowds to speak only to find hours of hard work becoming lost because of fear that stopped the tongue. Even more tragic is the fear that possesses one so completely that he becomes unable to meet the general demands of life.

Certainly God does not want His children to live deprived of the benefits that come from a life freed from the shackles of being afraid. The Bible says, "For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love and of a sound mind (1 Timothy 1:7)."

What can be done about this emotion that possesses us and caused so much unhappiness and barren lives? Again the Bible answers. It directs us over and over to have faith in God. The passages are so numerous that I would advise you to use your Bible concordance and read many of them, however, I would like to share one of my favorites with you. Isaiah 28:3-4 tells us, "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee; because he trusteth in thee. Trust ye in the Lord forever: for in the Lord Jehovah is everlasting strength."

Sunday School Plans Made

Plans for Sunday School of the newly organized First Southern Methodist Church of Sanford were discussed and the All-Bible graded literature to be used was explained in detail at a recent committee meeting.

Church Party Honors Substitute Pastor

By Donna Estes
Rev. Fr. David Sharrock, C.S.B.R., who has been substitute pastor of the Church of the Nativity during the month of July, was surprised with a bon voyage party held in his honor last Sunday.

Fr. Sharrock will return to North East, Pa., to resume his duties as a Latin professor and registrar at St. Mary's Seminary. Fr. James S. Honnen, regular pastor of the church, is scheduled to return within the next few days.

A SPIRITUAL BOUQUET was presented to Rev. Fr. David Sharrock, right, at a party in his honor last Sunday at the Church of Nativity by John Stankiewicz, president of the Holy Name Society who was host for the occasion. Fr. Sharrock, who has served as substitute pastor during the month of July, is returning to his duties at St. Mary's Seminary in Pennsylvania. (Herald Photo)

The party, which was attended by more than 75 members of the church, took place in the social hall following the 11 o'clock Mass.

John Stankiewicz, president of the Holy Name Society who was host of the event, presented Fr. Sharrock with a spiritual bouquet and expressed appreciation on behalf of the parish for spiritual leadership provided during his brief stay.

The substitute pastor thanked the parishioners for their many acts of kindness and thoughtfulness.

Serving as hostess for the occasion was Mrs. Gene Shannon, president of the Catholic Women's Club.

Others attending as representatives of parish organizations were Mrs. John Kennedy, vice president of the Women's Club; Edward Denlea, secretary of the Holy Name Society; Charles Allen, trustee and Richard Forbes, both of St. Richard's Council 5357, Knights of Columbus. Coffee and doughnuts were served.

By Jane Casselberry
Training Union Directors

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lowe are working with Rev. and Mrs. Leonard Jones to plan a Youth Retreat for intermediates and young people of the Prairie Lake Baptist Church to be held Aug. 24-27 at Camp Joy.

Camp Joy is the Association Camp located near Rock Springs and is equipped with cabling, kitchen and other needed facilities.

A full program of spiritual inspiration and fellowship is planned. There will be swimming as well as other competitive sports available along with nature lore and campfire services with a different youth speaker each night.

Adult leaders are being enlisted to assist with the camp program as cabin directors, recreation directors and cooks.

Bake Sale

The Church of Nativity Catholic Women's Club will sponsor the monthly bake sale in the social hall of the church this Sunday following the 7, 9 and 11 a.m. Masses. Mrs. John Kennedy, vice president of the club and chairman of the bake sale, urges all women in the parish to support the sale by contributing baked goods.

Attackers Of Christian Gospel In Minority

Religion in America
By Louis Casella
United Press International

To a mere layman, it seems incredible that anyone should undertake to defend Christianity by abandoning its basic precepts.

But that is what some clergymen and theologians apparently are trying to do. In the avowed hope of making the Christian faith more acceptable to "the modern mind," they are casting overboard doctrines which have been at the core of the church's teaching for 2,000 years.

This attempt to "re-interpret" the Christian Gospel has been under way for a good many years. But until comparatively recently, it was carried on in theological doubletalk which few laymen could follow.

The new modernism first attracted widespread public attention last year when a Church of England bishop, John A. T. Robinson, published a book ironically entitled, "Honest to God."

Bishop Robinson argued that the Christian concept of God as a personal Being is outdated and should be scrapped. He failed to make clear what concept, if any, he would put in its place. This led one reviewer of his book, Prof. Alasdair MacIntyre of Oxford University, to welcome the bishop into the atheist fold.

Rejecting the welcome, Bishop Robinson has insisted that he is not an atheist, and that he simply wants to revise the "imagery" used in speaking about God. But the archbishop of Canterbury says he doesn't see how the Robinson book can be read as anything other than a repudiation of orthodox Christian belief.

Whatever Bishop Robinson may have meant to say in "Honest to God," there is no doubt about the stand taken by a well-known American clergyman, Dr. Deane William Farn, in a recent article published by the Christian Century Magazine.

Dr. Farn, who is dean of the chapel at Mount Holyoke College in Massachusetts, said he regards several major doctrines of the Christian faith as "false, meaningless and irrelevant."

He argued that these beliefs should be abandoned, or at least "radically re-interpreted," so that the church can be intellectually respectable and get on with "weightier matters" such as the struggle for social justice.

Same Personnel, But Now It's RVAH-One

Heavy Attack Wing One, based at Sanford Naval Air Station, has gone out of business after 10 years at the same location.

Replacing it is Reconnaissance Attack Wing One. The officers and men are the same, the location is the same but the name has changed to incorporate the more modern-

Westiders Seek Fire Petition

Representatives of the Westside Volunteer Fire Department will be at the Lake Monroe Schoolhouse Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m. to get signatures to a petition which would place organizational plans on the November ballot.

Drew Warren reported today the petition would seek the right for freeholders of Precinct 2 to vote on a millage program to finance the fire department.

He said 25 per cent of the freeholders are needed to get the proposal on the ballot. This, he added, has been reached but department officials are seeking "about 50 per cent" to strengthen their position.

The petitions are expected to be presented to the registrar's office Monday by George Ball, department president, and Warren, so the signature can be deposited.

The proposed district would incorporate most of the northwest section of the county, an area not now covered by fire protection.

Prairie Lake Baptist Names Two Officers

At the recommendation of the nominating committee of the Prairie Lake Baptist Church, Fred Conway was named Sunday School superintendent and Clyde Spencer Training Union director for the coming year starting Oct. 1 at a business meeting Wednesday night.

Both men are deacons in the church and Conway has had past experience as a Sunday School superintendent and Spencer has many years experience in church work and field administration.

They now automatically become members of the nominating committee which will present its recommendations next Wednesday night for Brotherhood president, WMU president, and music director. Other members of the committee are Malford Morgan, Elsie Parkerson and Ernest Hooker.

Casselberry MYF Has Outing At Beach

The Senior M.Y.F. of the Casselberry Community Methodist Church and its guests went on a beach trip last Saturday afternoon to Daytona Beach in the Sunday School Bus. The group enjoyed swimming in the ocean and games on the beach followed by a wiener roast.

Evening vespers were led by M.Y.F. President Dan Casselberry and a short inspirational talk was given by Ken Miller, president of the older youth group. Fellowship chairman Karen Lyons was in charge of planning the outing.

The group was chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. George Holder and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Casselberry. Others who went on the trip included Cheryl Graffius, Oren Cloas, Barbara White, Mike Lucas, Alice Harris, Marcia Pope, Marilyn Mesick, Cheryl and Debbie Strong, Darwin Shea, Jackie and Marvin McClain, Woody Price, Steve Shook, Rick Mendez, Becky Young, Becky Wagner, Judy English, Bernice Casber, Charles Benson, Francis, George, and Phillip Holder, and Melinda and Cathy Casselberry.

Texas Woman Gives Sermons For Deaf

WACO, Tex. (UPI) — Sara Sheffield, a 21-year-old Dallas woman, commutes to Waco, Tex. every other weekend to group of deaf mutes.

She translates into sign language the sermons of the Rev. Joe Weldon Bailey, pastor of Columbus Avenue Baptist Church in Waco.

After becoming interested in the world of silent people during a visit to Missouri in 1962, Miss Sheffield learned sign language in the Silent Friends' Church in Dallas.

"It took me about six weeks to learn," she said.

She began her work with deaf mutes in January when she came to Waco to attend Baylor for post-graduate study in music and religion. She has a Bachelor of Education from North Texas State University.

College enrollment will increase in Florida by 215 per cent from 1960 to 1970.

Men's Club To Sponsor Visitation

A church visitation to be sponsored by the Casselberry Community Methodist Church Men's Club will be held Monday night with other church members participating. The visitation will meet at the church at 7 p.m. for prayer and instruction before going out to call on members of the church in their homes.

The visitations will be held on the first Monday of each month.

Brotherhood Has Supper Meeting

By Jane Casselberry
Prairie Lake Baptist Church Brotherhood met Monday night for a covered dish supper and program at the church. Everett Stevens, president, was in charge and the deacons presented a program on the many jobs to be filled in a Baptist church, urging the men to be willing to serve if approached by the nominating committee.

The group was entertained by the Brotherhood Quartet accompanied by Mrs. Milton Lacy.

The men adjourned to the Casselberry Little League field where they played softball against Altamonte Springs. Prairie Lake plans to field two teams to play in the men's softball league, the Brotherhood Team managed by T. D. Bagley and the Sunday School Team managed by Floyd Bailey.

The RA's are sponsoring an Ambassador Team under the coaching of Lamar Cockrell and Bailey.

The men's teams will play each Monday and Friday under the lights at Casselberry Park. A practice session is scheduled for Saturday at 4 p.m. at the Little League field in Altamonte Springs.

New System To Detect Cancer

DALLAS (UPI) — Radiation biologist James W. Finney in work at the Baylor University Medical Center has discovered a new way to make radioactive substances seek out cancer cells in the body.

The process involves giving patients super doses of oxygen, so radiolabels rush to the site of any tumor. In the past, radiolabels have shown no preference for malignant cells over normal cells. Finney described it as a breakthrough in cancer diagnosis, and possibly in treatment of tumors.

RFK Out, Calls On Followers To Back LBJ

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson has eliminated Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy from his list of eligibles for the Democratic vice presidential nomination.

Kennedy immediately issued a statement calling on his followers and those of the late President John F. Kennedy to support Johnson. "As I have always said, it is the President's responsibility to make known his choice for vice president," Kennedy said. "It is in the interest of all of us who were associated with President Kennedy to continue the efforts to advance the programs and ideals to which he devoted his life and which President Johnson is carrying forward."

Minnesota's Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey and Eugene McCarthy appeared to be front-runners for selection as Johnson's running mate at the Democratic National Convention that begins in Atlantic City Aug. 24.

Associates of the Chief Executive insisted that the door is still open to many others besides Humphrey and McCarthy. Among others who have been mentioned are Sen. John O. Pastors, R. I.; Edmund S. Muskie, Maine; Abraham A. Ribicoff, Conn.; and Thomas J. Dodd, Conn.; Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown of California, Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City and Undersecretary of Commerce Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr.

Johnson's associates denied that he had engaged in a "stop Kennedy" move. They noted that the President's decision to exclude cabinet members and cabinet confidants from consideration also knocked out Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver.

But there was outside speculation, nevertheless, that Johnson made his sudden announcement late Thursday because of the possibility of a convention drive to build up support for the attorney general for No. 2 spot on the ticket.

There have been reports that Mrs. John F. Kennedy would attend the convention — which could help arouse sympathy for the idea of nominating her brother-in-law. A memorial service for the late Chief Executive is scheduled for Thursday — a day after the presidential and vice presidential nominations.

But Johnson ended any chance for Kennedy by calling newsmen in suddenly at 6:10 p.m. EDT Thursday and smilingly announcing:

"With reference to the selection of the candidate for vice president on the Democratic ticket, I have reached the conclusion that it would be inadvisable for me to recommend to the convention any member of my cabinet or any of those who meet regularly with the cabinet."

Luncheon will be served from noon until 1 p.m. and a short business meeting will follow.

2 Books Throw Light On Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two Washington newspaper men have opened new doors of understanding to that least popularized arm of government, the U. S. Supreme Court.

Each has taken a new approach in a book about the court with fascinating results for the reader.

Anthony Lewis of the New York Times focuses on a single decision of the 1962-63 term — Gideon vs. Wainwright. There the court held that a state must provide a lawyer for penniless persons charged with serious crimes. The title "Gideon's Trumpet" (Random House $4.95), a stroke of genius, is lifted from a Biblical quotation in the Book of Judges.

James E. Clayton of the Washington Post chose the entire doings of that same term as the subject for his book, "The Making of Justice" (E. P. Dutton $4.95). Since the court did a great deal that term which reaches the lives of everyday Americans, Clayton has a lot of explaining to do. He does it well.

One eminent jurist recently referred to newspaper coverage of the Supreme Court as a "venture into a tricky morass." He meant to emphasize the difficulty of reducing crusty legalisms to plain language without at the same time sacrificing accuracy and scholarship.

Both Clayton and Lewis have been venturing into the morass on behalf of their papers for several terms of court and their efforts in book form show a practiced hand.

We learn how the court goes about its work, and about the process of decision making, and get a taste of the drama of oral argument before the nine justices. A considerable amount of legal history and

Highlights

TV Time critics preview coming television shows by attending rehearsals, watching screenings, studying scripts in New York and Hollywood. Here are their previews for today:

7:30-8:30 p.m. CBS. The Great Adventure. "The Education of Captain Pratt." (rerun) Exciting tale of U. S. Army problems. Circa 1873, in rounding up renegade Indians who refused to live on reservations.

7:30-8:30 p.m. NBC. International Showtime. "International Ice Extravaganza." (rerun) If you like ice show, this is a good one.

7:30-8:30 p.m. ABC. Destry. "The Infernal Triangle." (rerun) Destry's (John Gavin) problem is how to keep a friend (who's paid him for just this service) from being tricked into marriage by a determined young lady.

8:30-9:30 p.m. ABC. Burke's Law. "Who Killed Who?" (rerun) Captain Burke (Gene Barry) rarely does without love interest. Lola Albright is the ex-fiancee and she heads a list of people suspected of murdering a horseman.

8:30-9:30 p.m. NBC. Bob Hope Theatre. "The Fifth Passenger." (rerun) A rather conventional spy chase story enhanced by the romance between stars Dana Wynter and Mel Ferrer. Leo Genn plays a British naval intelligence agent on the trail of a Russian spy, with Ferrer the spy's unwitting accomplice.

9:30-10 p.m. CBS. Twilight Zone. "The 7th is Made up of Phantoms." (rerun) Near the site of Custer's Last Stand, three modern national guardsmen encounter four men who are unquestionably "ghost" members of the long-departed Custer contingent.

9:30-10 p.m. NBC. On Parade. Maybe it's uncharitable of us, but we'd have much preferred this half hour of Henry Mancini to have been devoted entirely to his own compositions.

10-11 p.m. CBS. The Alfred Hitchcock Hour. "Three Wives Too Many." (rerun) As the Star, Dan Duryea plays a smooth-talking suave husband who has four wives in as many separate cities. One wife (Teresa Wright) gets wise and makes visits to each of the other dupes. Object: To dispose of their mutual husband in a sharing manner that's not calculated to make any of them look guilty.

10-11 p.m. NBC. The Jack Paar Show. (color) (rerun) A pleasant hour with some good bits. Art Carney does an impersonation of Jack (he even does Paar's opening monologue), then joins Paar on a "Meet the Press" panel interviewing Jonathan Winters as King Quasi, leader of a new nation.

Here are their previews for Saturday:

7:30-8:30 p.m. NBC. The Lieutenant. "A Troubled Image." (rerun) This episode concerns the trainings of Vietnamese officers by our Marines. One just happens to be a beautiful girl. Guest Pilar Seurat plays the girl, Gary Lockwood and Robert Vaughn are the regulars.

7:30-8:30 p.m. ABC. Hootenanny. (rerun) There's some superior folk talent. The Tarriers offer Jesse Fuller's "San Francisco Bay Blues," the Brothers Four take a crack at "Rolf Harris' "The Me Kangaroo Down, Sport," and Will Holt does the same composer's "Down in the Valley."

8:30-9:30 p.m. CBS. The Defenders. "The Avenger." (rerun) Another example of this series' efforts to question the depths of justice in the letter of the law. A doctor interrupts a banquet to shoot down the guest speaker, believing him responsible for the concentration camp deaths of his wife and son.

9-11:20 p.m. NBC. Saturday Night at the Movies. "A Man Called Peter." (color) (rerun) Richard Todd, Jean Peters, Marjorie Rambeau and Richard Burton star in this true story of Peter Marshall, adapted from the book written by his wife Catherine.

9:30-10:30 p.m. ABC. The Hollywood Palace. (rerun) Tonight's host is Groucho Marx, so don't expect too much in the way of sanity. In addition to his expected flood of witticisms, Groucho revives his old Dr. Hackenbush characterization and, as always, surrounds himself with pretty girls.

10-11:30 p.m. CBS. Miss Universe Beauty Pageant. John Daly and Arlene Francis are the host-anchor team reporting the selection of Miss Universe 1964 from Miami Beach. The show is the culmination of four days of competition among beauties from 66 countries. Jack Linkletter is the on-stage master of ceremonies.

Here are their previews for Sunday:

6-6:30 p.m. CBS. The Twentieth Century. "We Fed Our Enemies." (rerun) This documentary deals with the aid our country has given to both enemies and friends during and after World War II, as well as the Russian famine. Films showing ex-President Herbert Hoover touring Europe after World War I are included.

6:30-7 p.m. CBS. Mister Ed. (rerun) Neighbor Gordon Kirkwood (Leon Ames) presents a funny picture trying to convince his wife and Carol Post (Florence MacMichael and Connie Ilines) that he's seen Wilbur and Mr. Ed playing chess. The gals humor him, but when he reports other human actions by Mister Ed, the gals figure Gordon needs psychiatric help.

7-7:30 p.m. NBC. The Bill Dana Show. "Jose Resigns." (rerun) Mr. Phillips (Jonathan Harris) wins an award for outstanding hotel management, which makes him fair game for Jose's (Bill Dana's) good wishes in as wild a slapstick opening as this series has had to date. A very funny show.

7:30-8 p.m. CBS. My Favorite Martian. (rerun) Starts slowly but the laughs pick up when our Martian (Ray Walston) starts to get the worst of his bargain. Damaged though his spaceship is, Mr. Martian figures he can at last return to Mars because the planet will be very close to earth for a few hours. He doesn't reckon with unexpected interference from Mrs. Brown (Pamela Britton) that results in an ambulance call.

7:30-8:30 p.m. NBC. Walt Disney. "The Walloo Bobcat." (color) (rerun) Another of Disney's fascinating adventure shorts, ingeniously enhanced with a storyline that almost makes you believe the wild animal principals were made to respond to trainer cue, which of course they were not.

8-9 p.m. CBS. The Ed Sullivan Show. (rerun) Al Hirt's fans will enjoy this since he is the headliner. For opera buffs, there's Roberta Peters, for those who just like music, the Kim Sisters.

10-11 p.m. NBC. Du Pont Show of the Week. "The Silver Burro." (color) (rerun) A moderately entertaining nonviolent western which exploits the confusion of the story for comedy purposes. The setting is a courtroom and the case is to determine just who is entitled to share in the proceeds of the largest silver strike in the Idaho Territory.

24 Delinquent Accounts Given City Attorney

Twenty-four accounts of individuals or firms which owe the City of Sanford money, some for as long as two years, were presented to the City Commission Monday for action.

Commissioners studied the list and then ordered them turned over to City Attorney William Hutchinson for action.

Charges included in the accounts include delinquency of condemned structures; moving, damages to a street light pole, utilities bills and other services.

The debtors will be given 30 days official notice after which time legal procedures will be taken.

In other action commissioners approved the payment of a $500 fee on the port terminal application; authorized the City manager to transfer funds from one account to another to pay for painting of fire hydrants; turned down an advertisement in the municipal league magazine; discussed who would go to the Florida Municipal League Convention in Jacksonville on Oct. 25 to 27.

Commissioners turned down a request from John Appleby for permission to sell flowers from a truck at the north end of the mall, on the basis that such permission would violate city ordinances.

They granted a continuance of the lease of the City Zoo concession stand to Mrs. Eula McClelland for five years.

A public hearing was set for Aug. 10 at 8 p.m. on the condemnation of two buildings at 701 and 703 West Ninth St.

Commissioners refused a request from R. T. Johnson for permission to run a bus to the Naval Air Station and Sunland Estates, on the grounds that the last bus service here was cancelled at the request of the Navy.

Fun Day Set Sunday At Camp Challenge

Unusual Camp Challenge, specially designed for handicapped children unable to attend regular camps, will be the scene of a fun day for visitors on Sunday when campers and counselors stage their own carnival and water show, according to Gen. Arnold J. Funk, camp chairman of the Florida Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

Nearly 400 visitors attended the open house program last year. Guided tours are being added this year to show the unique camper cottages, new clinic and banyard zoo.

More than 60 campers between the ages 10 and 12 will be featured at this camp period. Nearly 300 different children and young adults from throughout Florida will attend Camp Challenge this summer before the final session ends August 21. About half of them are wheelchair campers. The annual visitors day aquacade and carnival provide the campers an opportunity to demonstrate their skills and independence.

Camp Challenge is a Florida Easter Seal project located 8 miles east of Mt. Dora on State Road 40, I. Paul Murray is the camp director.

Lyman Boys Chosen All-Star Band Members

By Jane Casseberry

Two Lyman High School band students, Dennis House and Paul McElroy, are in Gainesville this week at the University of Florida where they have been chosen for the All Star Marching Band.

Both these outstanding band members have done solo work in state competition. Dennis is first chair clarinetist and Paul plays the trumpet.

The boys were driven up Tuesday morning by John H. Blair, new Lyman bandmaster.

The All Star Marching Band will play for the High School All-Star North-South Football game Saturday night.

Dr. Denis Baly To Be Guest At Holy Cross

Holy Cross Episcopal Church of Sanford will host Sunday to Dr. Denis Baly, professor of Religion at Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio.

Dr. Baly, nationally known author and lecturer, will speak at both the 9 a.m. and the 11 a.m. service. His recent book, "The Geography of the Bible," has been acclaimed by scholars as one of the best ever issued on the subject.

During the summer he has been guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Randall Chase in Belair while he works on a new book, Dr. Baly is Mrs. Chase's brother-in-law and is no stranger to Sanford.

Sanford Man On Enterprise

Midshipman First Class Peter D. Tanny, son of Cdr. (ret.) and Mrs. Lewis D. Tanny, 1516 E. Second St., is aboard the nuclear-powered Navy attack carrier, USS Enterprise, for the annual midshipman training cruise.

While on the cruise, he will receive training in seamanship, gunnery, ordnance and other military subjects necessary to becoming a naval officer. The Enterprise is operating in the Mediterranean with the Sixth Fleet.

Fort Pierce Eliminates Sanford From Area Tourney, 4 To 3

East Coast Team Scores 4 Times In 1st Frame

FORT PIERCE — Manager Frank Thomas and his Post 53 American Legion junior baseball team went back to Sanford today after dropping a 4 to 3 decision to Fort Pierce in a contest which handed the east coast city's team the Area title.

Fort Pierce put four runs on the scoreboard in the very first frame and Sanford tallied three times in their half of the sixth stanza. That was the scoring for the encounter.

For Sanford, it was a case of a sore arm.

Jim Courier, nursing an ailing wing for the most part of the week, took the hill for Post 53.

In the initial inning, an infield single and a sacrifice put two runners on the base paths. Another scratch hit filled the sacks and a long single brought in three runs. A fly to the outfield later in the frame brought in another.

At the end of the third inning Courier retired in favor of Rick Sires who hurled the fourth, fifth and sixth innings. After Courier had yielded four runs and five hits—falling to strike out a single batter—Sires hurled one-hit ball over his three-inning stint.

Marvin Sheffield took over for Sanford in the seventh and during the two frames he hurled he allowed no runs and one hit. Neither Sires nor Sheffield ran into any difficulty.

Meanwhile Sanford was having difficulty in solving the deliveries of Bill Noone—a "junk ball" hurler. But Noone held Sanford to five hits—three of them coming in the sixth inning.

Rick Golloher led off the frame with a single to center and went to third on Billy Kuykendall's two bagger. Steve Harris fanned but Billy Higgins worked a pass from Noone to jam the sacks.

Larry Pivec grounded to the infield and was safe at first on a fielder's choice when Golloher was forced at the plate on a close call.

Red Jansen was safe at first on another fielder's choice when a play was made at the plate for Kuykendall. However, Billy beat the throw to the plate. Donnie Smith was safe at first on an error and Higgins singled Pivec home with the third marker and on the play at the plate for Pivec an overthrow occurred and Jansen raced home with the tying marker.

However, Jansen was called out and the decision was hotly protested by the Sanford club and its manager.

Thomas said this morning that he doesn't mind losing ball games but, "Decisions like that one are hard to take in a situation like this."

This did the trick and Fort Pierce will move into the state tourney at West Palm Beach.

Score by innings:
Sanford 000 003 000—3 1
Fort Pierce 400 000 004—4 7
Courier, Sires (4), Sheffield (7) and Higgins; Noone and Miller.

11-Water Pictures

By Bill McCormick
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
The fun you get from boating can be recorded on film, but taking pictures on the water is not exactly like shooting them on land. Exposures, for one thing, are different. Glare from the water and reflected light can throw normal shutter exposures way off.

A safe rule of thumb is to take meter readings, compute a proper exposure for ordinary shooting, then bring your lens down another stop. The decrease in light admitted to the film will compensate, at least in part, for the amount of extra light on and around the water.

To help minimize glare, use a light yellow filter for shooting black and white. A skylight filter is recommended for most color film. It helps eliminate the bluish cast caused by the reflection of blue sky off the water surface.

For pictures of fast moving boats, shoot at a shutter speed of at least 1/1200th as the boat approaches or leaves you. Unless you want a blur, never try to stop action on a boat moving rapidly at right angles to the camera lens.

Medium speed pan films

NORMAL exposures don't necessarily work over water.

are recommended for use on water rather than high speed film because light values are so extreme. All currently available color films, with the exception of a few of high speed, should work well on or around the water.

Next: Camera care.

Thinking Out Loud

'That's Baseball,' Says Altamonte Fan

By Julian Stenstrom
Herald Sports Editor
Ted Dudek of Altamonte Springs takes us to talk about last Monday's "Thinking Out Loud" concerning opinions of major league baseball today.

"I saw some good pitching," he writes, "and some hard hit balls to the infield. Sunday's game had some good double plays and a ball pulled down from the left field wall, a couple of errors plus a few homers. What else does a baseball fan ask. That's baseball!"

So it is. But we're talking about the spirit, hustle and "git-up and go" which baseball lacks today. It isn't what it used to be. It takes too much time to play the games today.

Perhaps TV viewers don't mind but most baseball people will tell you that long drawn out games is a major problem in getting people to pay their way into the parks today.

"You talk about Mantle's effort to first base," Dudek continued. "How many football players play with a pulled muscle or other injuries?"

Football coaches tell us that plenty of them do and one of the most difficult jobs for the coaching staff is to detect a player who is not up to par. They don't want any-

Fun Night Will Be Held Monday

The Melodee Dance and Figure Skating Club is sponsoring a "Fun Night" at the Melodee Skating Rink Monday night from 7 until 10 p. m.

There will be games, prizes, homemade ice cream and at 10 p. m. an old fashion "taffy pull."

Proceeds will help send the club's champions to national events.

Games Nightly At Casselberry

Beginning Monday, there will be two games played each evening at Casselberry Recreation Park's Cooper Field.

One game will be played in the Men's Slo-Pitch Softball League and the other in the Seminole Summer League. The former is for men of age nine to 99 and the latter is for boys 15 through 19.

Oddities Mark Birthday Party For Ol' Casey

NEW YORK (UPI)—Talk about baseball quirks.

A year ago Thursday night, Tracy Stallard pitched the New York Mets to a 5-2 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers on Casey Stengel's 73rd birthday. The losing pitcher was Bob Miller.

Thursday night, the Dodgers spoiled Stengel's 74th birthday by beating the Mets, 5-3. The winning pitcher was Miller and the loser, you guessed it, was Stallard.

Six Dodgers—Don Drysdale, Willie Davis, Murry Willis, Wally Moon, Les Wells and Nate Oliver—serenaded Stengel before Thursday night's game, singing a special happy birthday song with lyrics by Sammy Cahn.

Davis and Moon then helped the Dodgers score five runs in the final three innings to wipe out a 3-0 deficit. Davis stroked a run-scoring triple in the seventh inning and Moon knocked in another run in the next frame with a pinch double.

Among the gifts received by Stengel was the box seat section in the old Polo Grounds in which his wife, Edna, was sitting in 1923 when she met her future husband, who was then playing for the New York Giants.

Sooners Make Plans To Storm Grid Scene

NORMAN, Okla. (UPI)—The Oklahoma Sooners, perennial powerhouse of the Plains, hope to storm the grid scene this fall with 28 lettermen, another powerful running attack and possibly a more potent passing barrage.

If all goes well, that's what Oklahoma fans can expect. So says the 1954 Oklahoma brochure, which made its debut today. But there are hazards among the hopes and some king-sized problems must be dealt with.

Big Production Set For August

By George C. Langford
UPI Sports Writer

The Chicago White Sox and the Baltimore Orioles are rehearsing for the dramatic American League production of "September in August" which opens next Friday in Yankee Stadium and runs for 19 straight games.

The drama was written and produced by an unwitting schedule maker who exhausts all games among the three contenders by Aug. 23, with nothing left for the September "stretch drive" except meetings with the also-rans.

The Yankees play 15 consecutive games with the second-place Orioles and third-place White Sox beginning a week from today in New York with home series in each city to follow.

Immediately after Baltimore and Chicago finish with the Yankees they engage each other in a final four-game set at Chicago beginning Aug. 24.

For years the Yankees have deprived the AL of a true September pennant chase. Now, with the promise of a red hot race, the schedule is the villain.

Both the White Sox and the Orioles shaved a half-game off the idle Yankees' lead Thursday.

Erasing Debts Goal Of Oviedo Athletic Group

Ben Ward, an Oviedo realtor and supporter of the Oviedo High School athletic program, announced today that Oviedo Athletic Association will sponsor a presentation of the Rebel Quartet Thursday night.

The program will be held at the John E. Courier Athletic Field and will get under way at 8 p.m. Proceeds from the affair will be used to assist in the retirement of indebtedness against the football park.

"Our big goal right now," said Ward, "is to pay off the high school stadium."

He added, "A large part of the money for this stadium came from many fine people throughout Seminole County and Central Florida. The association is grateful to these 'many friends.'"

The Orioles moved within a half game of first place by out-slugging the Minnesota Twins with five home runs for a 7-4 decision. Jackie Brandt cracked two homers in support of rookie Dave Vineyard's second victory since being called up from the International League two weeks ago.

Earl Robinson hit a two-run blast and Dick Brown and Brooks Robinson had solo homers for the Orioles. Minnesota rookie Tony Oliva extended his hitting streak to 18 games, but could not avert the Twins' 16th loss in their last 19 games.

Gary Peters, who yielded only three hits in his last victory, held the Detroit Tigers to three singles, and Bill Skowron tripled home both runs in the sixth inning for a 2-0 victory.

The victory lifted the White Sox within two games of the Yankees and dealt Dave Wickersham his eighth loss. It was the fifth time Wickersham has failed to win his 13th game.

In the only other American League contest, the Senators rallied to stop the Indians 8-7. St. Louis toppled Chicago 5-2. Pittsburgh swept a double-header from Houston 1-0 and 8-3. Los Angeles overcame New York 5-3, and Philadelphia rallied to defeat San Francisco 4-3 in 10 innings in National League action. Milwaukee and Cincinnati were not scheduled.

'Ensign Pulver' At Ritz

WALTER MATTHAU, cast as a ship's doctor, watches closely and hopefully as Robert Walker, playing the name-role in "Ensign Pulver", prepares to average the crew by sling-shooting the mean-spirited ship's captain, portrayed by Burl Ives. Scene is from the new Warner Bros. comedy-drama set to open Sunday at the Ritz Theatre.

When Warner Bros. decided to make "Ensign Pulver," a new comedy-drama which opens Sunday at the Ritz Theatre as a sequel to its successful "Mr. Roberts," the studio realized it would have to think big.

Joshua Logan, about as big a stage-and-screen director as there is and also a prize-winning co-author of Broadway vehicles (including the "Mr. Roberts" play) was engaged to produce and direct "Ensign Pulver" in Technicolor and Panavision. The task of writing the screenplay was assigned to Logan and a collaborator.

Next the studio lined up an array of top-level stars—Burl Ives, Walter Matthau, Kay Medford and Tommy Sands for the charter lead, and Robert Walker and Millie Perkins for the romantic leads. The casting for lesser parts included Diana Sands and Al Freeman Jr., outstanding Negro performers, and James Forentino, Gerald O'Loughlin, James Coco, Sal Papa, Joseph Marr and Larry Hagman, among the best of the current young theatrical-television-screen thespians.

To get the "Pacific" atmosphere important to the story, Logan moved his actors and staff of Warner technicians in Acapulco. The big modern Churubusco Studio of Mexico City provided such facilities as lights and generators, air-conditioned buses, a Mexican crew of 60, Maritimes work-canoes, a shipping outfit, pulled a former U. S. Navy cargo vessel out of its regular run and turned it over to Logan as a floating location-site. The Mexican Navy furnished smaller auxiliary craft, and the coves, beaches and airport around Acapulco furnished the settings for many story-points.

Hollywood Role 'Open Sesame'

BY DICK KLEINER
Hollywood Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — I've finally discovered the one place where even a failure is a success. All you have to be is a European movie star, and come to Hollywood.

"It is true," says Senta Berger, one of the more recent examples of the import-export business. "The fact of working in Hollywood still means much. If a European star comes here and even flops, it does not matter. She can go back home and be a bigger star, just because she has made a Hollywood movie."

"I've seen it happen time and time again. A producer will say to some actress, 'What have you done recently?' And she will say, 'Well, I've made a picture in Hollywood.' And the producer will say, without asking what picture she made, 'Well, then, I have a part for you.'"

Miss Berger should have no problems. Producers around the world think she is a comer. (It seems to me she's already here). She's made such American films as "The Victors" and "Major Dundee," plus playing the female lead in a Walt Disney two-partner about Johann Strauss. And she is now before Universal's cameras for a two-hour NBC Project 120 telefilm called (tentatively) "The Widow Makers," with John Forsythe and Jane Wyatt.

"Like any European," she says, "I go wild when I discover California. I think I may move here permanently in a year or so."

"When I first came on this set, the director, David Lowell Rich, came to me and said, 'Welcome, you're among friends.' And I was that was such an American thing. Very unlike the European attitude."

Of course, one look at the Viennese beauty and who wouldn't want to be her friend? She's 5 feet 4 of glamorous genuineness.

Richard Crenna is supremely confident. It almost verges on the ridiculous.

He's got a new television series, "Slattery's People," due over CBS this fall. Crenna is a fine actor, as any survivor of "The Real McCoy's" knows. He is also a good and experienced director. He likes to do both.

"I have it in my contract that I can direct some of the 'Slattery's People' episodes," he says. "But I think I'll wait until next year for that. This way, I'll learn my character through and through."

Now you and I know that most television series never see the light of a second year. And he is Dick Crenna banking on it. That's being confident with a capital K.

'Carpetbagger' Still Showing At Cinema

Joseph E. Levine's presentation of "The Carpetbaggers," a technicolor film version of the best-selling novel by Harold Robbins, has been held over for still another week of showing at the Cinema Theatre in Seminole Plaza.

A Paramount Pictures release, the multi-million dollar production, in Panavision, features an all-star cast headed by George Peppard, Alan Ladd, Bob Cummings, Martha Hyer, Elizabeth Ashley, Lew Ayres, Martin Balsam, Ralph Tegner, Archie Moore and Carroll Baker as Bina. Edward Dmytryk directed from a screenplay by John Michael Hayes.

A drama of modern society, "The Carpetbaggers" recreates the unforgettable characters of Robbins' powerful novel, with a cast of more than 20 stellar names and a supporting player roster of hundreds. The story ranges from the roaring twenties through the turbulent thirties and depicts the characters of the explosive novel with rare and uncompromising frankness.

Elvis At Drive-In

ELVIS PRESLEY and Ann-Margret, the hottest star combination in years, swing a wicked waltz in the song-and-dance number, "Common Everybody," one of the lifting high spots in the lavish new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer musical romance, "Viva Las Vegas." Filmed in Panavision and Metrocolor on locations in the world-famous resort, the picture co-stars Cesare Danova, William Demarest and Nicky Blair. It was directed by George Sidney.

Sharing the screen with the color film will be "Rock-A-Bye Baby," starring Jerry Lewis. This, also, is in color.

Wednesday and Thursday the Drive-In will feature "In the Cool of the Day" with Jane Fonda and "The Stripper" with Joanne Woodward.

The week's programming concludes Friday and Saturday with a triple feature. "Seven Days in May" stars Kirk Douglas and Frederic March; "Love with the Proper Stranger" features Natalie Wood and Steve McQueen; and "The Wild and the Innocent" brings Audie Murphy in the top role.

Teamed for the first time in Metro Goldwyn Mayer's merry-go-round of melody, the two "provide the industry with a youthful freshness which observers say will have fans clamoring to see them together again."

"Candid Chatter"

By Doris Williams
A recent chat with one of Sanford's popular brides-elect, Miss Niki Ashby, was delightfully refreshing. Niki and Alex McKibbin will be married Saturday, August 8.

NIKI ASHBY

given in her honor and working at the Cape, Niki confided that she was in somewhat a state of shock, and that she and Alex were all excited over the big event.

Niki is a radiant brunette with a vibrant personality and a keen sense of humor. She is a natural for fashion in a mode with her graceful figure and refined style. She adores sailing and confided she reads everything she can get her hands on.

In high school, she was cheerleader, Key Club sweetheart, vice president of the student body, and voted one of the outstanding of six senior girls. She was also actively engaged in other activities and at Florida State University, she was a member of Phi Beta Phi Sorority.

The bride-elect prefers soft sweet music and semi-classical to the contemporary "Rock 'N Roll." Her choice of architecture is colonial with early American furnishings. She admitted coyly that she will have to learn kitchen techniques, but she is looking forward to having a home and garden, since she has an avid interest in lovely flowers.

Alex will graduate from the University of Florida next April and is majoring in business administration. The young couple will reside in Gainesville until graduation, at which time they will return to Sanford, where Alex anticipates joining his father's agency.

Niki and Alex are both unusually pleasant, and appear to be an ideal couple. Family? They would like to have two boys and a girl in that order.

Another young lady beaming with pride these days, not because she is going to become a bride, is Miss Ann Mahan. Ann has been awarded a full scholarship to Grady Memorial Hospital School of Nursing in Atlanta.

She was effervescent with enthusiasm as she attempted to explain the circumstances. Seems she was a contestant in a beauty contest, and one of the gentlemen judges heard that she wanted to pursue a career in the medical profession. The distinguished gentleman turned out to be Mercer Lee Price of the Price Foundation from Ormond Beach and Paris, France. He recently phoned Ann, a year later, and arranged her scholmodelling. She would love to model in her spare time and is considering entering into part time instruction of a professional nature in Atlanta.

When queried about the institution of marriage, Ann revealed that she wanted to complete her training and get her degree from the University, and of course, she wants to get married and have two boys. That girl doesn't. She believes in being practical as well as being in love.

About entering more contests, she laughed and related she might if she had time, but with all this training and future plans, how can she work it all in?

It looks like our Miss Mahan is definitely on the right track and we predict a gratifying and rewarding future for her.

Another popular young lady about town is Helen Hamner. At the close of the current season, all five chapters of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority elected their "Girls of the Year" based on outstanding services performed in the chapter's behalf.

The Gamma Lambda Chapter selected Helen for their "Girl of the Year."

She is another beautiful brunette with a delightful personality. The Hamners came to Florida 18 years ago and have been in Sanford the past ten years, having lived in Tennessee previously. Don is an engineer with the Atlantic Coastline Railroad and they have four normal lively youngsters, Bebe, Karl David, Donna and Brenda.

Helen is immediate past resident of Gamma Lambda, and devotes most of her spare time to the sorority. She participates in all water sports and is a natural with the needle. Her clothes are self designed and she "sews them up" herself, to resemble original Paris creations. She also sews for her children, and loves to experiment with fabrics.

The answer as to what else she did in her spare time was almost brutally candid. What spare time?

Miss Niki Ashby, Miss Marilyn McDaniel Complimented At Beauteous Bridal Luncheon

MISS NIKI ASHBY, left seated, bride-elect of Alex McKibbin, and Miss Marilyn McDaniel, right seated, bride-elect of David B. King, were recent honor guests of a bridal luncheon at Jim Spencer's Restaurant given by Mrs. Jimmy Crapps, Mrs. Henry Wight and their daughters.

Standing from the left are Mrs. Clifford McKibbin Jr., mother of Miss Ashby's fiance; Mrs. Martha Ashby, Miss Ashby's mother; Mrs. Thomas F. McDaniel, Marilyn's mother; Mrs. Pat Wight and Miss Anne Crapps, co-hostesses.

Brides-elect Miss Marilyn McDaniel and Miss Niki Ashby were honor guests Wednesday of a joint bridal luncheon at Jim Spencer's Restaurant. Co-hostesses were Mrs. James Crapps and daughter, Miss Anne Crapps, and Mrs. Henry Wight and daughter, Miss Pat Wight.

The U shaped luncheon table arrangement featured tropical greenery banked along the inside edges with a handsome floral centerpiece of roses and gladi. Dainty bridal cards marked the guests places.

An attractive and appetizing salad luncheon course with a shrimp salad entree complemented with iced dessert was the luncheon cuisine.

The hostesses presented Miss McDaniel and Miss Ashby each with a silver butter knife and silver relish tray in their chosen patterns.

Marilyn was striking in a soft turquoise two piece crepe ensemble featuring appliques on the shell blouse. Niki was attired in a colorful bordered print in shades of brown and orange.

Others attending the charming luncheon were Mrs. Martha Bishop Ashby, Niki's mother; Mrs. Robin Brown

Army Gives Undershirt A Boost

by Jerry Sheehan
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK — (NEA) — There you are sweltering under a hot summer sun. Off comes the dark, "heat-absorbing" shirt and on goes the light-colored "cool" one. Buddy, it's all in your head, according to the Army. They have made studies of the effect of hot weather on the human body and have come up with some startling data — no doubt, so that sergeants can tell their troops that they only THINK they're uncomfortable and that Ft. Hood dirt is really GOOD FOR YOU.

At the Army Quartermaster Research Center, Natick, Mass., they stood a copper dummy naked in the hot sun (there is a rumor that it was really a private sprayed with metallic paint). His heat gain was 200 calories an hour.

When draped with clothing, however, he gained only 120 calories.

Researchers found that wearing a cotton undershirt added considerably to summer comfort because it increases the body's cooling surface.

Evaporation of perspiration, as any schoolboy knows, is nature's way of preventing you from getting hot as a teapot. When a ventilated T-shirt made of such mercerized cotton is worn, the body's cooling efficiency is increased by as much as 50 per cent. One myth exploded by the Army is that light colors are cooler than dark. Tests showed that the difference in reflective qualities of clothing is so small that colors don't make a difference. Charcoal gray is as cool as white. They also tell us that on hot days a reasonable amount of physical work will actually keep you cooler, because muscle action helps propel blood through the body and relieves the heart's work load.

So you see, private, we're actually doing you a favor by letting you carry that mortar 20 miles back to camp!

"But Pop, the Army says you're actually cooler when you're working!"

Sharp Shopping

Do Coupon Clippers Save?

How much money will you lose this year at the supermarket because of an oversight?

An executive for a food products firm says at least 50 million homemakers are missing out on $900 million dollars in savings. How?

It all revolves around the flood of coupons which increases each year. Their use by food and non-food producers is up 100 percent in the last five years. Unashamedly they woo homemakers into buying new or improved products. It is startling to discover that by the end of 1964 more than 10 billion of these slips will turn up in mailboxes, in newspapers and magazines, or be tucked away in a package in a store.

The great loss referred to by Paul DeDomenico results when these coupons aren't redeemed.

"This year alone," he says, "50 million homemakers will fail to redeem about 80 per cent of the 10 billion cents of coupons."

Realistically, DeDomenico admits that many coupons are never used because of taste and product preferences.

But the major reasons coupons aren't used still remain — they are lost or thrown away.

Since he is with a firm involved in issuing coupons (Golden Grain Macaroni Co.), DeDomenico naturally is all for homemakers making the most of their coupons. He suggests keeping a coupon file or clipping coupons to the weekly shopping list.

However, the question remains whether you save by using coupons. The average supermarket now stocks some 8,000 items, up from 1,500 at the end of World War II. Each year nearly 500 new items are introduced.

Despite allegiance to many products, homemakers try out these new ones. If there is an 8- or 10-cent coupon offering for a new or improved item, there is a definite cents-off savings. And unlike trading stamps, the cost of coupons is not passed on to the consumer through an increase in store prices. It is absorbed by the product producer. In this sense, too, there is a saving.

Record Shop

No Singles For Peter Nero

BY JOAN CROSBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Type casting exists in the recording industry just as much as it does on Broadway and Hollywood, according to Peter Nero.

Nero, whose RCA album, "Reflections," has just been released, and whose as yet untitled tenth is soon to be recorded, has become a top-selling recording star as an exclusive album artist.

The talented pianist has only made two singles, neither a hit.

"One, called 'Space Flight,' was so bad I didn't see how it could miss," he laughed. "It had voices and guitars and rhythm and a monotonous left hand that drove me out of my mind. It had a simple melody and a beat that was not at all subtle. But it didn't cause too much attention."

"To make a hit instrumental single you have to have something that is different enough from what is already around, but not drastically new. I think Al Hirt's 'Java' is the most nearly perfect single I have ever heard."

Peter made his first album for release in April, 1961. Since then he has had a steady climb to the top of his field, helped by television and concert appearances across the country. "I've seen a lot of people. There's nothing like the rapport established with an audience."

Nero finds it hard to record his distinctive sound in the short time allowed on a single. And if he switches from his album image, disc jockeys say away from playing the record.

The title of Nero's 10th album will be picked soon, but he knows it will be more specific than "Reflections."

"That was subtle. It turned out I was reflecting on some of the best songs of 1963. But the new trend is towards titles that tell precisely what's inside. Look at the titles of 'Hits of 1964' or 'Top Ten Tunes of 1963' or 'Here We Are Folks, The Best Tunes Recorded On a Thursday Night' or 'Blowin' In The Wind And The Other Big Hits' and turn out to be songs no one has ever heard."

ALBUM OF THE WEEK: The original Broadway cast recording of "Hamlet" (Columbia) has some thrilling moments as Richard Burton plays with virtuosity the mag-icificent instrument that is his voice. Four discs comprise this deluxe package, along with a booklet that covers the history of the play and its well-known players.

HAVE SOME LAUGH! — Here's Godfrey Cambridge — Ready Or Not? (Epic) is a funny, sharp album with some great lines from the Negro actor-comedian (he says he used to believe everything he heard on television until he tried to buy flesh-colored bandages).

MALE ORDER — Some good albums by males: (Kapp) has some fine singing, especially in the lovely "Far Away"; "When Lights Are Low" (Columbia) will please Tony Bennett devotees; Al Hirt offers "Cotton Candy" (RCA); "The Dave Clark Five Return" (Epic) for Anglophiles; Andre Previn playing "Sound Stage" (Columbia).

HIGH CLASSICAL: Prokofiev's "Hamlet and Juliet" (Angel) with Efrem Kurtz conducting the Philharmonic Orchestra; Saint-Saens "Symphony No. 3" (Angel) with Georges Petre conducting the Paris Conservatoire Orchestra.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 29 and very much in love with a 34-year-old man who was married for eight years. He recently divorced his wife because, after spending a fortune on doctors, he found out that the reason they had never had children was because his wife couldn't have any. This man is crazy about children and says he won't take a chance on marrying another woman who can't give him a family. I know this is going to sound horrible, Abby, but he says that the day I can give him proof that I am pregnant, he will marry me. But not until. He says he will even put it in writing. He has a lot to offer a girl, and I see nothing wrong with his proposition, but I would like to know if it would hold up in court.

WILLING TO GAMBLE
DEAR WILLING: If you see nothing wrong with this proposition at age 29, I doubt that I can educate you in one letter. As for whether his "deal" (written or otherwise) would hold up in court, a lawyer can tell you. A pity they don't require BRAIN tests along with BLOOD tests before marriage.

DEAR WILLING: My wife seldom throws anything out, and consequently our home is cluttered with old newspapers, magazines, rags, empty catsup bottles, pickle jars, outgrown children's clothing, toys, and I could go on and on. I have attacked this mess a few times and admit that the last time I was quite vocal about my displeasure, which did not make for domestic tranquility. We have children 12, 8 and 4. My wife is in good health and does not work outside the home. Can this problem be solved?

SEMI-HAPPY

DEAR SEMI: Your house is not a home. It's a fire trap! If your wife is in good health, she is apparently lazy. "Attack the mess" together. The Salvation Army would appreciate the toys and clothing. Don't permit your wife to accumulate another collection even if you have to sacrifice a little "domestic tranquility" to achieve some semblance of orderliness.

DEAR SEMI: I know you usually stick up for the teenagers, but I think you should mention that there are plenty of parents who have tried their best to raise their children to be honest and decent, but something goes wrong in spite of their efforts. Thank you.
HOUSTON PARENT

DEAR PARENT: Yes, what you say is true. But I am reminded of an incident which occurred in your city not long ago. Judge L. J. King, of Criminal District Court No. 2 found a young man in his court whom he had already placed on probation. He told the lad that now he would have to give him a prison sentence. The boy answered, "Good! I'd rather go there than go home!"

KILROY

DEAR KILROY: The expression originated during World War II. I don't know whether Kilroy was a legendary character or a real one, but I'll bet one of my readers can come up with the answer. Does anyone know?

After four days of part scores we can stand a little excitement in the column. Here is a hand that decided the 1950 Vanderbilt Cup.

At one table South stopped at a nice safe six club contract; at the other table South arrived at seven clubs and received a queen of diamonds opening. He thought for a while, put up dummy's ace of diamonds and discarded his jack of spades.

The heart jack was guarded against him and he was down one trick. Furthermore, it turned out that East had started with queen and one spade so that if South had discarded a heart at trick one he would have made the grand slam.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
A friend canceled an appointment with me the other day. Her explanation: her husband asked her to meet him to help him choose a new hat.

Like a lot of other husbands, hers has evidently been made so aware of his wife's superior taste he has reached the point where he doesn't trust himself to select a hat without her help.

It's dreadful the way we women have managed to set ourselves up as the final authority in the family on all matters of taste.

Dad looks longingly at a comfortable chair in a department store, and we tell him it would look horrible in the living room. He meekly accepts the verdict.

He announces that he is going to buy a new suit and moon either tags along to convince them that we know what's best for the whole family — and it ain't necessarily so!

Even when he goes down and selects a gift for his wife to surprise her on her birthday or wedding anniversary, she may sneak back to the store and exchange it for something she likes better.

No wonder the poor men don't trust their own ability to pick out anything without first consulting mom.

We have managed to convince them that we know what's best for the whole family — and it ain't necessarily so!

The Care Of Your Garden Hose

By Mr. Fix
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

If it has been necessary for you to buy a new garden hose every few years, you are throwing away good money.

A good hose, properly cared for, will last indefinitely.

If it does spring a leak, repairs are a fairly simple. Throwing away 50 or 75 feet of hose is wasteful.

To begin with, buy a good hose. Extremely small hoses made of thin, unreinforced material will not wear well.

Beware the Sun
Leaving the hose out in the sun instead of storing it will shorten its life. Heat will cause the material to break down. Water that remains inside the hose under these conditions will become hot and affect the material.

Oil is another enemy of hoses, particularly those made of rubber. Keep your hose clean. Use plain water. When you store a hose, store it dry. Drain it and wipe off the outside. Coil it. Never hang it over a nail.

nalled at right angles to a garage wall stud, or coil it around the inside of a bushel basket.

Repair How-To
Minor leaks can be patched or repaired.

With a rubber hose, dry the hose, roughen the surface and work plastic rubber into the hole. The patches applied but can be used for larger breaks, but cutting out the bad part and using a mender might be wiser.

Pinholes in a plastic hose can be repaired by touching with a soldering iron. The hot tip will push the melted plastic into the hole.

Again, for large breaks, use a mender.

Menders are metal tubes the same size as the inside diameter of the hose. Cut out the bad portion of the hose and install the mender.

The mender has cleats that are pounded down into the outside of the hose to hold it in place.

New couplings are installed the same way. In the case of plastic hose, the coupling has an inner sleeve that screws into the softened hose to expand it against the coupling.

Couplings don't wear out—they become damaged when you drag the coupling over the driveway or sidewalk, when you let it bang against the concrete, or when you permit the threads to fill with dirt.

The hose itself is weakened at the coupling when you pull on it or twist it. Install a swivel connector at the sill cock. This will turn rather than permitting the hose to twist and bend.

Take IT EASY
Couplings, nozzles and sprinklers are all equipped with washers. Unlike faucet washers, these are easy to install. They're inexpensive, too. Install new ones every spring and at the first sign of a dripping connection.

Don't strain the hose by turning off the water at the nozzle end only, for any length of time, nor should you stop the flow of water by kinking the hose.

Late Movies Come To Life

by Helen Hennessy
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Women's Editor

Don't take that third martini this fall or you may trip over your feather boa. Don't laugh. It could happen.

Accessories for the coming season will take some getting used to. At first glance we may seem like refugees from late television who somehow got on the wrong side of the screen.

The trumpery offered up this season is not just reminiscent of the Garbo and Harlow era. It's taken right from it without one whit of redesigning.

For evening, coque feathers will encircle the neck and fall to any desired length and gloves will be shirred and decorated with fake gems.

The evening bag, as we know it, may disappear into some future period when it will be revised as "cute and quaint." For us this fall there are flapper bags fringed in jet beads to swing and twinkle on the arm or over the shoulder. Another relic from "way back when" is the jeweled satin bracelet pouch, deep enough to house the toe pouffe if you want to take him along.

Gold tassels and fringed pendants will swing on long chains just above jet-fringed shimmy belts, resting low on the hips. And the old-fashioned bow-knot pin will replace all the butterflies and birds that perched on collars this summer.

Even hosiery will be decorated or textured. For evening some stockings are delicately painted to look like lace, another throwback to the 30s.

Next time you watch the late show, don't ridicule the fashions. Come fall, you may see the same lovely visions in your own full-length mirror. Chic Chat

O: I understand that skirts will be shorter this fall. I have quite enough trouble right now with short skirts because I wear anything that comes only to mid-knee and still look attractive? — Mrs. John Y.

Dear Mrs. John Y: You can't. But you don't have to either. The fall skirts will be pleated, flared or paneled. You can sneak in an additional inch with no one being the wiser because the skirts will swing when you walk. Wear stockings with seams and in shades that aren't too light. You'll look trim and as up-to-date as the next gal.

The Mature Parent

Wrapped Up In Neuroses

A combination of injurious influences prevents a child's healthy growth.

Summarized, they all boil down to the fact that the people in the environment are too wrapped up in their own neuroses to be able to love the child or even to see him as the particular individual he is. They may be dominating, overprotective, intimidating, hypocritical, overreacting, overindulgent, partial to brothers or sisters, etc.

Whatever their neuroses may be, they render it difficult for the child to arrive at a proper self-evaluation. A blind adoration may inflate his feeling of significance. He may feel wanted, liked, appreciated for what he is but for satisfying his parents' needs for adoration, praise or power.

A rigid regime of perfectionist attitudes may evoke a feeling of inferiority for not measuring up to such demands. Misdeeds or bad marks at school may be severely reprimanded while good behavior and good marks are taken for granted. Moves toward independence may be ridiculed. All these factors give him a feeling of unworthiness—of being worth nothing unless he is something he is not.

Briefly, he may try to cling to the most powerful person around him; he may try to rebel and fight; he may try to shut others out of his inner life and withdraw emotionally from them.

In a healthy human relationship the moves toward, against or away from others are not mutually exclusive. The ability to want and give affection or to give in: the ability to fight and the ability to keep to oneself—these are complementary capacities necessary for good human relations. But in the child who feels himself isolated and helpless in a world conceived as a potentially hostile, these moves become extreme and rigid.

Affection, for instance, becomes clinging; compliance becomes appeasement. Similarly he is driven to rebel or to keep aloof without reference to his real feelings and regardless of the inappropriateness of his attitude in a particular situation.

The three moves toward, against and away from others therefore constitute a conflict—his basic conflict with others. In time he tries to solve it by making one of these moves consistently predominant—by making his prevailing attitude one of compliance or aggressiveness or aloofness.

This inner strength is sapped by his having to be on the defensive, by his inner division, by the way his early "solution" initiated a one-sided development, thereby making large areas of his personality unavailable to him.

School and You

Public Vs. Private

by Susan Light
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR MISS LIGHT: My husband has recently been promoted. For the first time in our lives we can afford to do some of the things we've dreamed about.

We've often wished that our daughter could attend a private girl's school. Now that we're in a position to send her, however, we're not certain that this is the wise thing to do. She has been happy in her present school. She will be in the eighth grade in the fall and is looking forward to school's opening.

Applications for the private school are due, so we must make a decision soon.

Can you help us?—WON-DEERING

ANSWER: Not very much! There are so many unknown factors in this problem that only a fortune teller would offer a definite solution.

How does your daughter feel about transferring? An eighth grader should have some voice in deciding her future.

Secondly, are you dissatisfied with the public school your daughter now attends? Do you believe the private school will give her a better education?

These questions, must be answered honestly if you are to make an intelligent decision. I assume you are interested in more than the "status" of having a child in private school.

Generally, private schools offer smaller classes, more personal attention, more emphasis on tradition, etiquette and character building. They have freedom to pioneer in educational experiments and innovations.

With their greater resources and depth of faculty, however, top public schools have a more diversified curriculum and equally high academic standards.

As a compromise measure, perhaps your daughter could attend private school in the eighth grade, then decide whether she wishes to continue through high school. This would give you an opportunity to see how reality measures up to your dreams.

by Polly Cramer
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR POLLY — People who camp know that rain gets matches so wet that it is almost impossible to strike them to start a fire. New we dip the match heads in melted paraffin or wax from an old candle to prevent their getting wet. The treated matches light just as easily as before and we can build fires in spite of the rains.—SYLVIA

DEAR POLLY — Use HOT vinegar on glass to remove dabs of paint. This is much quicker than the old scraping with a razor. I might add that it's safer, too.

When serving cheese squares or similar appetizers, use little pretzel sticks rather than toothpicks and the sticks can be eaten, too.—MRS. M. S.

DEAR POLLY — Built in kneepads are wonderful when you weed the garden or scrub the floor. Sew large pockets on the knees of old slacks and then slip pieces of foam rubber into these pockets for easier work on the knees. Foam comes out when the garment is washed.

When mailing breakable things, fill plastic bags with shredded paper to make little pillows to cushion them. Several could be made at one time and kept on hand with other wrapping materials.—MRS. J. C. K.

GIRLS — Any little gaps around the bags could be filled in with loose shredded paper as double insurance.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY — To help keep shears rustproof, rub the unpolished inner surface of each blade with a crushed piece of waxed paper.—MRS. R. K.

DEAR POLLY — I keep my sewing machine in my bedroom and leave it open most of the time. I took a pillowcase that was worn but had the embroidery and crocheted edge in good shape, cut it in half and sewed across the cut end. This gives me an attractive cover for the machine head when it is open so much of the time.—RUTH

GIRLS — There is little doubt that we'll not procrastinate on small mending and sewing jobs if the machine is readily available. I have recently started to keep mine in a large guest coat closet which has a light. My portable is heavy to lift, so now it stays permanently on a typewriter table that rolls on casters. I find it ideal for the purpose. A small chair is taken into the closet where everything is all ready for even a tiny job. If company comes, the closet door is closed and no one sees the sewing clutter.—POLLY

Law Should Be Changed

By Dottie Austin
If you come upon an accident on the highway and see an accident victim lying beside the road, bleeding profusely, should you stop and try to render aid?

Human compassion says "yes," but the law says you can be sued, and in most cases successfully.

It has gotten to the point, that unless you want to run the risk of winding up in court, you had better just keep on going and leave the victim "in the hands of God." Even a physician is liable to a civil suit under these circumstances.

The Florida Jaycees, disturbed by this penalty on an act of mercy and pity, done in good faith, are attempting to have the law changed, in the state of Florida.

Chapters of the state Jaycees are circulating copies of an act, aimed at providing exemption from civil liability for individuals rendering emergency care in accident cases.

The act will be voted on at the Jaycees Summer Conference in Lakeland Aug. 21 to 23 and if endorsed will be presented at the next session of the Florida Legislature for consideration.

Below is the text of the proposed action:

"An Act relating to Civil Liability of Individuals rendering emergency care; providing for exemption from civil liability; providing an effective date.
"Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Florida.
"Section 1:
"No individual, who in good faith renders emergency care to the victims at the scene of an accident or emergency, shall be held liable by such person for any civil damages as a result of any act or omission in rendering emergency care at the scene of the accident, or as a result of any act or failure to act in providing or arranging treatment or care for the injured person or persons unless such act or omission to act shall amount to gross negligence or wilful and wanton misconduct and unless such gross negligence or wilful and wanton misconduct was the proximate cause of the injury, death or loss for which the action is brought; provided that the question or issue of negligence, gross negligence and wilful and wanton misconduct, and the question of proximate cause, and the issue or question of assumed risk shall be in all cases solely for the Jury.

"Section 2:
"This act shall take effect on July 1, 1965."

The Herald commends the Sanford-Seminole Jaycees and the Florida Jaycees for their active interest in better government and better laws, in drawing up and presenting this proposed law.

These young men are in active training to assume leadership roles in their communities and state, and their efforts in behalf of civic and individual improvements have often had far-reaching effects.

Many of the nation's top leaders, in government and in business, are, or have been, members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Herald supports their endeavors, encourages their interest and wishes them success in getting this action before the State Legislature, hoping for favorable reaction from the lawmakers.

A Compass Would Help.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Anne was in danger of being demoted, which often damages a child's morale seriously. So I suggested the "flash card" method, which make a game out of reading, spelling and the multiplication tables. Anne caught up with her class in 6 weeks! And later became a leader in both reading and spelling, so send for the booklet below.

By George W. Crane, Ph. D., M. D.
CASE T-433: Anne B., aged 9, has been a school problem.

"Dr. Crane," her worried mother began, "last term Anne failed in reading and spelling."

"Her teacher thinks it would be better to demote her to a lower grade."

"But I fear this would ruin her morale. For she and two of the girls in her present grade at school are such close friends, I dread to see her torn away from them."

"Isn't there some other way to handle such a problem, for the school psychologists say Anne's I. Q. is O. K. and her vision has been checked, too?"

HOME TUTORING
You parents (or grandparents) can often change a child's entire school career in a matter of six weeks, by using flash cards!

And by making a game out of reading or spelling.
For a child usually hates a subject in which he is getting low marks!

His dislike then causes him to stun further study of that distasteful subject, so his grades keep dropping even lower and lower.

So you must change his attitude if you wish to motivate him favorably.

Anne had been looking on reading and spelling as "work." So change her outlook till those subjects indicate "play" or "fun."

Since children welcome competition or games where they can play with their parents, let daddy, mother and children cooperate.

Take Anne's current school reader. Let her pick out the words therein which she doesn't know.

Then print each such word on a separate strip of cardboard. You can buy a printing outfit at most department stores.

These cardboard strips then are called "flash cards."

Let Mother be the umpire. She can hold up one of the cards and explain the word thereon. Then she can hold up a second and do likewise, and she can contrast the two cards at the same moment.

Then Mother can shuffle the two and hold up one card at a time.

Anne tries to identify the word. If she is right, Mother gives the card to Anne.

If Anne misses, Mother puts the card in her own pile. And the one with the most cards, wins that round.

Soon Anne will recognize 25 or more of these formerly unfamiliar words.

And within a few weeks, she will know hundreds of printed words!

For variation, Daddy can compete with Anne. The first one to identify the word when Mother holds up a flash card, then wins that card.

Let Daddy "pull his punches," however, for children must win about 3 times out of 4 in order to keep their morale high.

Use the back of these same flash cards for the multiplication tables, printing 3 x 1, on the first card, then 3 x 2, on the second, etc.

And for spelling drill, use cards whereon you spell some words correctly, as "receive," and others incorrectly, as "believe." Hold them up, one at a time, so Anne and Daddy can guess "Right" or "Wrong," and let them add the cards they win to their pile.

Send for my booklet "How to Tutor Your Child at Home," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20c.

Anne's mother brought her up to the average of her class inside of 6 weeks!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Phil Newsom Says . . .

'Progress' Misses Mark

UPI Foreign News Analyst
By Phil Newsom

Ever since President John F. Kennedy announced in March, 1960, the noble concept of the Alliance for Progress for Latin America, impatient Latin Americans have been waiting for instant progress.

But even though by the time the alliance's third anniversary rolled around the United States actually had disbursed around $1.5 billion, results were far short of the Kennedy goal "to transform the 1960's into an historic decade of democratic progress."

This week in Mexico City the United States and 18 other American republics met to see what could be done about it.

It was the first working session of the new inter-American committee to oversee alliance affairs, under the chairmanship of Carlos Sanz de Santamaría, a Colombia reformer with an impressive record in his own country both as foreign and as finance minister.

It could not be said that the alliance had made no progress.

Outside Bogota in Colombia and Lima in Peru were vast housing projects to show for its efforts. In Brazil were new mobile health units. The food for peace program had fed more than 17 million people.

In its original concept, the Alliance for Progress would help those who helped themselves. To qualify for some of the $10 billion which the United States expected to supply in aid, Latin nations were to institute reforms, land, tax and educational. They also were to encourage private investment.

And, importantly, they were to be governments which held office through democratic processes.

Colombia, enjoying political peace, already qualified for the latter.

And, under the prodding of Sanz de Santamaría, she also met the conditions of tax and land reform.

It made him an ideal man to head the new committee which at last was to bring the Alliance for Progress to fruition.

On both sides there had been disappointments. Only a few of the Latin American nations, Colombia and Chile notable among them, had submitted detailed development plans.

Rampant nationalism combined with opposition from both extreme right and left nullified some alliance efforts, especially in Brazil.

From the left came the pressure for violent revolution. From the right, a determination to maintain the status quo.

Private investment failed to live up to expectations.

On the Latin side there was impatience at the U. S. bureaucracy which held up loans.

Latin America faces a population explosion greater even than that of India or Red China. And sooner or later that population will make its choice between the violent revolution of the Communists or the peaceful evolution of the Alliance for Progress.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Whispered jokes in Eastern Europe jab unmercifully at the Communist root of local troubles.

Especially hard-hitting are the East German stories:

President Johnson, Lord Home and Khrushchev are driving to a summit conference when they see the devil hot on their trail. To placate him, Johnson throws out five $100 notes. The devil picks them up, counts them, throws them away contemptuously and continues after the car.

"Not enough," Home says and throws the devil 10,000 pounds in notes. The devil stops, counts the notes, throws them away and hurries after the car.

At last Khrushchev takes an old envelope from his pocket, scribbles something on it and throws it from the car. The devil picks it up, reads it, blanches, swings around and tears on in the opposite direction.

"However did you do it, Nikita?" the Westerners ask. "Simple," Khrushchev replies. "I just wrote 'In two minutes we shall be entering the territory of the German Democratic Republic (Communist East Germany).'"

When Ulbricht (East German Red boss) died he knelt at heaven's gate.

"What are you doing here?" St. Peter asked. "You belong down below."

A few days later three devils knelt and told St. Peter: "We are the first refugees."

Party membership isn't popular in Poland. In Warsaw it's whispered that a Communist Party member who recruits a candidate for the party will have the right to tell political jokes. If he can rope in two candidates, he may resign from the party.

Anyone who recruits three candidates will receive a certificate saying he has never been a party member.

The collectives are hated perhaps more than anything else the Reds have tried. In Hungary they say that in a certain Red bloc country the Council of Ministers met to discuss current business. The minister of agriculture was very depressed. Harvest prospects were poor. Tractors had broken down. Manpower was scarce on the collective farms. In short, there was no end to the difficulties.

A colleague tried to encourage him. "Cheer up. All these difficulties are temporary. There is no doubt communism will triumph in the end and spread worldwide."

The minister flung up his hands and whispered: "For heaven's sake, man, don't say things like that. Where would we import our grain from?"

Many people in Eastern Europe are especially bitter about the emphasis of Soviet and Red bloc production in space and war, while consumer needs go begging.

A friend called to see Soviet astronaut Col. Popovitch. His daughter Natasha opened the door.

"Is your father in?"

"No, comrade. He's flying around the earth and won't be back until noon."

"Can I see your mother then?"

"No, comrade. She went out early this morning to buy some meat and won't be back until night."

Strategists in the Kremlin were plotting war. "We could send 10 men to the United States with atom bombs in suitcases," suggested the leader. "One could go to New York, another to Detroit . . ."

"No," interrupted a comrade, "we couldn't do that."

"Why not? We have plenty of atom bombs."

"Yes, but where are we going to get the 10 suitcases?"

By DICK WEST

United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Perhaps you've heard of a group called Nicotine Anonymous which offers help to people who are trying to quit smoking.

If you reach the point where you feel you must have a cigarette, you can call them and they will send someone over to get drunk with you.

I'm thinking of forming a similar organization called Summer Bachelors Anonymous. Membership will be open to men whose wives are out of town. We will help each other get through the ordeal.

The need for such a group became apparent to me a few days ago when my wife left town for a visit with relatives, taking the children with her.

Being footloose for the first time in years, I felt that I should kick up my heels a bit. Nothing spectacular, you understand. Just enough to keep the franchise.

Having a little fling is all very well in theory, but I soon found that I had forgotten how to go about it. I was out of practice. Also out of breath. Also out of money.

It is difficult for a summer bachelor to break with tradition, however. A certain amount of hanky-panky is expected of him. Virtually demanded.

"Oh, boy, you lucky dog, you," the boys at the office chortle when they hear you are temporarily unattached.

You dare not reveal to them the true situation — that you have been spending your evenings taking long solitary walks.

My most embarrassing moment came the other morning when my wife telephoned to report a bit of news about her trip.

"I tried to reach you last night but you didn't answer," she said. "Where were you?"

"I went to a movie," I said.

The embarrassing thing was that I really did go to a movie.

Now here is where summer bachelors anonymous would enter the picture. A summer bachelor who had lost his flair for living it up could call in and report that he was at home watching the television alone.

Another summer bachelor would rush over and the two of them would go to a ball game, preferably to a double-header that would keep them out past midnight. Or they could go to the YMCA and play chess.

That would give the neighbors the impression that he was out painting the town and the summer bachelor image would be preserved.

since this could lead to arguments right now. Strictly mind your own business. Show that you have real wisdom.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, he or she will be the delightful kind of rather nervous child who will require regulated sleep and diet early in life so that the nervous system can become acclimated to the influences of the world about him or her. Many changes occur in this life and courtesy towards others should be taught as early as possible. The artist here:

The stars imply, they do not command. What you make of your life is largely up to YOU! Carroll Righter's Individual Forecast for your sign for September is now ready. For your copy send your birthdate and sign to Carroll Righter, Forecast, The Sanford Herald, Box 1921, Hollywood 28, Calif.

MONDAY, AUGUST 3, 1964
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Although there are no serious nagging little surface irritations at this time, the broad sweep of the year has to do with the most comprehensive ideas you wish to put into motion. These ideas are logical and logical in seeing how such a set of circumstances can be more easily built up.

WEDNESDAY (March 21 to April 19): You can get important data if you just put aside all that small trivia. Handle routine affairs cleverly. Make good impression on associates.

THURSDAY (April 20 to May 20): If you tend strictly to important business ahead instead of frittering away on fun, your success soars. Put those fine ideas to work. See that they are practical.

FRIDAY (May 21 to June 21): To get early and getting into important activities brings both success and popularity now. Group meetings, illuminating big-wigs are helpful. Show you have native intelligence.

MONDAY CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): To get relaxation and start new upward trend by conferring with experts, real friends are very helpful. They think very logically. Follow their ideas.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22): Doing whatever is of civic importance is wise and you get success from own worries. You find that this will be a stepping stone to greater things. Be alert, patriotic.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22): A new approach to regular duties brings the advancement you want at this time. Find new and valuable contacts. Be alert to ideas that are more modern and progressive.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21): Certain obligations may seem irritating, but happiness can be found in personal matters. Be courteous with everyone. Work out pleasantly.

NOVEMBER (November 22 to December 21): Backing associates loyally who are cooperative is wise now. Clear your arguments and account a great deal. A cool head wins the game.

DECEMBER (December 22 to January 20): Any show of temperment with fellow workers would only make you do more work. Increase ill will. Perform duties enthusiastically. Then all falls into rightful place.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19): If you show real interest in other's aims, you will then get the know-how and data you need. Impress others with your fine talents. Use them wisely.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20): If you are more serious about your job or business, a better financial picture can easily be yours. Talk plans over with close ties. They give right ideas.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, there is every opportunity to be very successful, even though obstacles seem to be always cropping up, owing to the tenacity and purpose here, as well as fine talents and lack of criticism for others. A college education must be completed early to complete one task before going on to another.

Neck And Neck

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bob Harrington and Stanley Dancer are running neck and neck for the top harness racing driver crown, the Harness Racing Institute announced Tuesday.

Harrington leads with 150 victories in 705 starts this year while Dancer is second with 103 wins in 277 starts.

Double Winner

OSLO, Norway (UPI)—Bill Hardin of New Orleans, the NCAA 400 meters hurdles champ, captured that event and the 110 meters hurdles at an international track and field meet at Bislet Stadium Wednesday night. He was clocked at 50.7 and 14.7, respectively.

Named Director

SALISBURY, N. C. (UPI)—Earl C. Kelley, formerly director of publicity for the Charlotte Motor Speedway, Wednesday was named executive director of the National Association of Sportscasters and Sports Writers.

That Summer Afternoon

I'll never forget the day we took this picture. The sun was shining brightly and we'd gone for a ride in the country, my husband Tom, Thelma and I. We came to this field full of daisies and we stopped, and I braided a crown of flowers for Thelma's head. She was wearing a brand new dress and she had a new little parasol too. I thought she looked like just about the happiest and prettiest little girl alive.

How thankful I was! For our Thelma had just weathered her first serious illness, and for several weeks there had been days and nights of incredible anxiety and heart-rending prayer.

Now, watching Thelma in her new-found health, I thought of our church. Not only our minister, but members of the congregation, people whom I scarcely knew, had rallied to our side during Thelma's illness.

Just having them — just knowing that they were adding their prayers to ours, had meant so much. And now, I knew, they were sharing our jubilation.

How sorry I feel for people who don't go to church. For they miss one of life's great truths — the knowledge that if you have the Church, you can never again be alone.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL - ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are few sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Let us go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

WEATHER: Fair through Tuesday except for local thundershowers; high today 88-93; low tonight in 70s.

VOL. 56 United Press Lensed Wire Established 1908 MONDAY, AUGUST 8, 1964 SANFORD, FLORIDA NO. 247

Jaycee membership chairman Tommy Speer has come up with a first rate prize for the winner of the Jaycee membership drive. It's a three day all expense paid trip to the West Inn in the Bahamas, for two. A prize to be coveted, and we predict there is going to be a lot of new faces in Jaycees soon. Deadline is Aug. 31.

About 25 guests joined the Jaycees Thursday to see the space film on John Glenn's flight and our space race. It is a very thrilling film and was secured for the Jaycees by Dr. Kenneth Wing, who was formerly John Glenn's personal physician. Dr. Wing also showed the film for the Civitan Club Thursday night.

Day students at the Sanford Naval Academy were guests at a pool party at the school last week, enjoying a refreshing swim and a supper of hot dogs and all the trimmings. There is no vacation for Col. Furman and the school staff, who are hard at work preparing for next year. In true Navy tradition, everything that doesn't move is being painted.

If you plan to attend the Jaycee luncheon panel discussion on the waterfront development plan Thursday, don't forget to call Mrs. Chapman at Jaycee office and make a luncheon reservation.

"Man's best friend" has found an active friend in the Sanford area. A DeLand woman, Mrs. Ruth G. Beaudette, has been reading of the plight of area dogs discarded by their owners and has offered to help in formation of a local Humane Society should the interest be found here. She's president of the Animal Rescue League, 218 S. High St., DeLand, and asks those willing to get the ball rolling to contact her.

A popular Sanford Naval Air Station captain of yesterday, Capt. James D. Ramage, has been relieved of command of the USS Independence, a Forrestal-class carrier, and assigned as staff commander of the Naval Air Force, Atlantic Fleet, in Norfolk, Va. Capt. Ramage last visited here in March for the 10th annual Bombing Derby.

Successing him as C. O. of the Independence is Capt. R. W. Windsor. Ceremonies were held Friday morning aboard the carrier which is tied up at Norfolk. Capt. Ramage was commanding officer of Heavy Attack Wing One at the local station from June, 1958 to 1960. Incidentally, the Forrestal is home away from home for members of VAIL of Sanford.

New students in the Sanford area who plan to attend Seminole High School in the 10th, 11th or 12th grades this fall should report to the school Thursday at 8:30 a.m. This is only for students who have not been previously scheduled in classes.

Meeting Delayed
North Orlando Village Council announced today that because of vacation and previous business commitments there will be no council member quorum available on Tuesday, Aug. 4, for the monthly council meeting. The meeting will be called at a later date.

Apopka Shot
An Apopka man identified as David Smith was shot in the left shoulder over the weekend in a South Seminole skirmish with another Apopkan, Corrado Travino, and was treated at an Orlando hospital.

7th Fleet Patrol Of Red China, North Viet Nam Coasts Pushed

PETITIONS WERE PRESENTED at the Registrar's Office in the courthouse for an election of freeholders in the Lake Monroe area to set up a fire district. The campaign is being staged by the newly-formed Westside Volunteer Fire Department. More than 200 signatures are to be checked prior to placing the issue on the November ballot. Accepting the petitions is Mrs. Camilla Bruce, county registrar. Presenting it are, from left, Drew Warren, Nathan Stripling and George Bell, department president. (Herald Photo)

Waterfront Development :

It's City's Move

How did the marina complex plan come about and why was it proposed?

This honest question deserves an honest answer.

The executives of Sanford's three major financial institutions began to realize that the economic situation in the downtown area was in a serious state of affairs and easily could become critical.

So these financial leaders did something that highly competitive firms normally do not do.

They banded together and made a joint study of the general economic situation in this area, decided that the development of the city's lakefront properties was the answer and then went about looking into the aspects of financing such a venture.

This latter study revealed that for approximately $500,000 in a capital outlay program, a marina complex which would accommodate 200 pleasure craft could be made a reality. The expenditure — as far as the City is concerned — could be financed out of franchise fees received from the Florida Power & Light Company.

These funds are already earmarked for capital outlay purposes. The studies made by these financial institutions revealed that if the City would develop the piers, the land fill, the bulkheads and supports, other facilities would follow.

This was not a guess. They employed a representative who called on major hotel and motel executives and heads of major oil companies — the same corporations who have placed facilities at salt water marinas in other areas of the state and nation.

All of them expressed a definite interest. One major motel developer has already flown to Sanford to discuss not only if they would build a motel but HOW BIG an operation would be needed.

Local financial leaders are more confident than ever that if the City will build the marina the rest of the facilities will be leased immediately by major corporate interests, perhaps before construction is completed.

And they are convinced that this project will make Sanford a major fresh water attraction for its share of the nearly 500,000 boatmen in Florida alone, not to mention the hundreds of thousands of boaters from other states.

finance redecoration of exteriors and interiors.

But unless such a program can be supported by the City's willingness to make a capital outlay expenditure to motivate downtown business the financing of remodeling programs is not feasible.

Therefore, future renovation of the downtown area depends upon a capital outlay expansion program.

The Herald is convinced that the time has come for the City Commission to display spirit and aggressiveness in approving the expenditure of whatever funds are necessary to make Sanford a marine attraction which we have already shown will revitalize business in the downtown section and make this area the inland marine capital of Florida.

Will this affect the city tax structure? Since the City's $500,000 expenditure will be repaid from Florida Power and Light Company franchise fees, the marina project will have nothing at all to do with ad valorem taxes.

Further, the fees from the private power facility are already pledged by the City for capital improvements.

Due to the decrease in business volume the County recently authorized reassessment of downtown business properties. Downtown values, the reassessment revealed, were depreciating rapidly and adjustments were needed.

The marina facility, financial and business leaders agree, will stop this downward trend.

This is no attempt to downgrade downtown Sanford business property values. But it's a matter of record that business men asked for relief due to diminishing sales. As a result, the City has been studying reassessment of downtown properties for about a year.

One Commissioner recently said that he thought the City should use the County's assessment rolls to determine municipal assessment values.

We imagine it is true that — in one sense of the word — the marina project could affect city taxes.

One last point in this series. The Herald talked to these financial leaders, the bankers especially. We wanted to know whether they thought enough of their own plan to provide the financing.

Port Feasibility Study Under Way

Engineers are at work on a feasibility study of the port facilities in Sanford, the Port Authority Committee of the Seminole Chamber of Commerce learned Friday afternoon.

Engineering representatives of the Lockwood Green Co. of Spartanburg, S. C., Tom Bourke and Jack McCarthy, reported that studies have been under way for several days. The eight-point proposal was presented by the committee when it learned that financing of the study is assured.

Considerable potential was reported by the engineers at conclusion of this preliminary study.

The feasibility analysis will be conducted over a period of from 60 to 90 days. It will include location, warehousing, equipment, slips and barge lines and cost of construction.

The committee also studied proposed legislation for the Seminole County Port Authority and the Sanford port.

Copies of the legislative proposal will be circulated among committee members and the County Commission for further study.

Maddox Scores Hits On All 3 Attackers

SAIGON, Viet Nam (UPI) — U. S. Seventh Fleet warships patrolled as usual off the coasts of Communist China and North Viet Nam today, ready to retaliate with the appropriate "sting" to any further Communist gunfire. Three North Vietnamese high speed patrol - torpedo boats made an "unprovoked attack" on the destroyer USS Maddox Sunday 35 miles off

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson said today he has ordered the Navy to double its destroyer force off North Viet Nam and to provide the vessels with sufficient air cover to destroy any attacking force.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson said today he has ordered the Navy to double its destroyer force off North Viet Nam and to provide the vessels with sufficient air cover to destroy any attacking force.

the North Vietnamese coast and were repulsed by the destroyer's five-inch guns and four F8 jet fighters from the carrier Ticonderoga.

It was believed the first clash on record between warships of the United States and a Communist power, though several aerial incidents have occurred.

Two of the PT boats limped away and the third was stopped dead in the water. It appeared unable to move under its own power.

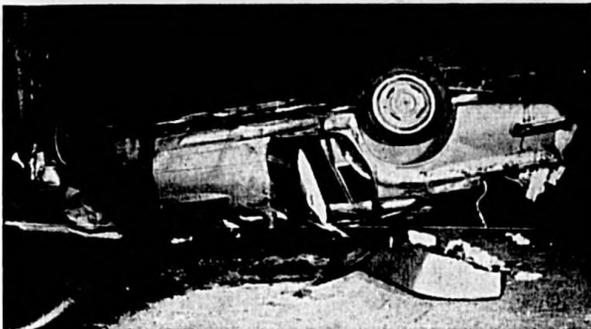

Adm. Ulysses Grant Sharp Jr., commander-in-chief of U. S. Pacific forces, announced the action from his Honolulu headquarters. He said the Americans suffered no casualties or damage. Communist casualties, if any, were not known.

In New York, Secretary of State Dean Rusk said, "the other side got a sting out of this. If they do it again, they'll get another sting."

In Tokyo, where he is on a Far East inspection tour, Navy Secretary Paul Nitze told a press conference that American naval vessels operating off Communist coasts have orders to fire back if attacked but have "no orders to pursue attackers."

Nitze said that American vessels in the Gulf of Tonkin, where Sunday's incident occurred, are there to gather information on shipping in the area "and to keep ourselves abreast of developments in that area."

It was presumed that the Communist PT boats were patrolling against possible incursions by South Vietnamese warships or seaborne guerrillas. It was not clear why they attacked an American ship in international waters that obviously had them outgunned.

FIVE PERSONS were hurt when this compact car flipped on its back at 1 a.m. today on Highway 415 about a mile and a half east of the Sanford city limits. Taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital were Marvin E. Wallace, 22, the driver; Dennis Dunne, 20; and John Marshall, 29, all of Sanford Naval Air Station; Carl D. Gunter, 19, and Gary Cook, 18, both of Illinois. Dunne suffered a severe head laceration while the others received minor injuries. Dunne's condition was listed as serious, according to Highway Patrol Trooper Tommy Tomlinson who with Trooper J. L. Sikes investigated. (Herald Photo)

Sanford's Proposed Budget Balanced Without Burden

By Dottie Austin
City Editor

A balanced proposed budget, requiring nearly $5,000 less than last year, yet providing for progress, improvements and capital expenditures on a cash basis, was completed and sent to the City Commissioners today by City Manager W. E. Knowles.

Total of the proposed budget is $1,291,863. Included is a debt payment of $317,063, which is double the provisions made ten years ago.

In presenting the 1964-65 budget Knowles commented, "This is one of the strangest ever received, in that it is balanced; requires less money than last year; requires no millage change or overall revaluations; yet provides for progress, improvements and capital expenditures on a cash basis."

"The remarkable improvement in the City of Sanford's financial position has been given notice and brought favorable comment from bankers, fiscal agents and others in the field of finance," Knowles noted in his report, which accompanied the budget proposal.

Over $177,000 of requested improvement projects are included in the proposed budget, indicating a year of major development for Sanford, with a street construction program in Goldboro area totalling more than the combined city-wide programs for the last five years.

Among the improvement

items listed for next year are the following provisions:

Air-conditioning of the library and the living quarters of the Central Fire Station;

Funds for engineering fees for preliminary work on the lake front development plan;

Extending city-owned street lights on Hwy. 17-92 to Onora Rd., pending annexation;

The position of tax assessor added to the finance office;

Construction and lighting of a baseball field at Pinehurst Park on W. 24th St.;

Two more firemen;

Supplemental instructors in the year-round recreation program;

Renovation of finance office and commissioners conference room;

Electrical circuits for Merchants Division Christmas lighting decorations;

Construction of W. 13th St. and city-county project to rebuild S. Southwest Rd.;

Resurfacing of seven and a half miles of existing pavements;

Purchase of a truck-tractor unit in the street division;

Replacement of large refuse pumper;

Providing private payments on three leased owned downtown parking lots;

Perpetual care funds on cemetery lots;

Canopy over sidewalk from First St. to Commercial Ave. on parking lot walkway;

City to assume expense of preparing grounds at stadium for football season with partial repayment from schools.

Kennedy 'Glad' To Campaign For LBJ

BOSTON (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy on record today as being "glad" to campaign actively for President Johnson still his own political future but remained a question mark.

The attorney general, who was eliminated last week by President Johnson as a Democratic vice presidential candidate, said Sunday he would be "glad to work" in the national presidential campaign, but added that "no determination" had been made on his specific role.

Kennedy talked with newsmen outside New England Baptist Hospital here following a 2 1/2 hour visit with his younger brother, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., who is recuperating from a broken back suffered in a June 10 plane crash at Southampton.

Asked to comment on President Johnson's decision to eliminate him as a running mate, Kennedy said: "I think the people understand the convention would want to have the President's choice. No one runs for vice president."

The attorney general also brushed aside the possibility that he might consider running for the U.S. Senate in New York state.

"I have nothing to add to my statement of six weeks ago," Kennedy said in reference to a statement last June 23 that he would not be a senatorial candidate from any state.

A cigaret is believed the cause of a blaze in the bed of a home occupied by Charles Collins, 2808 Central Ave., early Sunday morning. Damage to the bed and furnishings in the room was reported heavy.

Protests Heard On Assessments

Persons seeking relief from taxes assessed on their properties were heard this morning by the County Commission sitting as a Board of Equalization.

About 10 persons filed requests for a re-study of their taxes and the board members took each under advisement. The board was checking the tax assessor's chart this afternoon and will reconvene Tuesday morning for formal action on the requests.

Commission Chairman James P. Avery said proprietors needing an on-sight inspection of the board would receive it today so that the information will be available at tomorrow's meeting.
