WOULD TAX ALL DEPOSITS IN BANKS NEW LAW TO RAISE MORE MONEY

BILL PROVIDES LEVY OF ONE QUARTER OF ONE PER CENT ON $1 BILLION DOLLARS INCOME ANNUALLY WOULD RESULT FROM SUCH PROCEDURE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—A tax on deposits of 1 per cent. on all bank deposits is provided for in a bill introduced by Rep. Treadway, of Massachusetts, a member of the House ways and means committee. Mr. Treadway estimated that such a tax would bring in about $1,000,000,000 annually.

Collection of the tax would be made at the time the deposit was made and institutions affected would all national, state and private banks, trust companies, brokers' offices and other institutions, firms or corporations receiving any money on deposit subject to withdrawals by check, cash or otherwise.

Mutual savings banks, co-operative building and loan association, similar institutions, organized and operated exclusively for the benefit of its members, would be exempted.

The bill was referred to the House ways and means committee, which is considering changes in internal revenue schedules. Mr. Treadway, in a statement, characterized the proposed tax as a "turn over tax" on deposits.

"Nothing could be simpler or more easily administered, while at the same time being greatly productive of revenue," he said.

Mr. Treadway said the latest report of the comptroller of currency shows that the amount of exchanges of clearing houses of the United States for the year 1919 was $387,091,941,000.

"Assuming that 25 per cent. of the transactions of the country did not go through clearing houses," Mr. Treadway's statement said, "There should be added amounts $96,772,000,000 and $483,864,826,000.

A tax of one-quarter of 1 per cent. of this amount should have brought revenue of $1,209,662,310."

The Massachusetts member said the proposed tax "may offer a solution of the problem of the means to raise adequate revenue if the excess profits tax and other obnoxious taxes are repealed by congress."

FROST MAY HIT STATE EVERYWHERE

FORECASTER BENNETT, OF TAMPA, SAYS TO COVER VEGETABLES.

TAMPA, Dec. 18.—Warning of frost over the whole mainland of Florida, sufficient to endanger tender vegetables but not dangerous to fruits or citrus industry, is issued by the weather bureau, and of forecaster Bennett says there is no immediate prospect for any marked change in the h'e-w normal temperatures holding forth.

Fair and continued cool weather was prophesied for Friday night and Saturday with the lowest temperature at Tampa probably about 44 degrees, with fresh and strong southwest and west winds for the South Atlantic district and moderate to fresh west and northwest winds for the east Gulf district.

The chilly weather is blamed on a stagnant condition of the weather map, with a low pressure area in the northeast, and a high pressure in the northwest, both being stationary, and sending the west and northwest winds and cold weather to Florida points.

The thermometer was lower in the southern and central parts of the state than in Tampa, Friday morning, the mercury registering 40 at Fort Meyers and 42 at Miami which it showed 48 degrees at the post office building roof here.

Mr. Bennett says that the ground temperature here was slightly lower than that registered by the weather bureau instruments on the roof.

THE INTERNATIONAL BANKING COMPANY WILL FINANCE SOUTH

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 18.—At informal meetings held here, preparatory to stockholders meetings to be held January 7, of the International Banking Company, capitalized at $7,000,000, it was decided to finance the south's foreign trade in staple products.

WOULD CUT REPRESENTATION IN THE SOUTH

ORGANIZATIONS START WAVING BLOODY SHIRT IN CONGRESS AGAIN.

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Charges that negroes in the south are not permitted to vote will be aired by the house census committee now considering reapportionment, Chairman Siegel today announced. He said requests had been made by organizations and individuals that Southern representation in the house be cut down, charging that the negroes had been coerced.

NEW YORK IS AWAKE TO THIEVES

GANGSTERS HAVE TAKEN OVER CITY AND STRONG MEASURES ADOPTED.

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—Fifty experienced detectives were ordered to co-operate with the police in suppressing the crime wave. Detectives are equipped with high speed automobiles to pursue gangsters. Numerous organizations are considering means for protection, merchants are placing weapons in easy reach of all the clerks and customers. Two hold-ups were reported last night.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—The senate finance committee decided today that before acting on the soldier compensation bill, to seek information regarding Federal finances from Secretary of the Treasury Houston.

RETAIL FOOD PRICE CONTINUES TO FALL DECREASES NOTED

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Further decrease of two and one-half per cent in retail food prices in November as compared with October is reported by the Department of Labor today. Decreases are noted in all fifty-one cities from which quotations were received.

CLEARWATER MAY DO GAINESVILLE STUNT

CLEARWATER, Dec. 18.—This city is destined to be one of the leading places for tenters to spend the winter. Clearwater authorities are endeavoring to do the right thing by them and at a meeting of the council, they were given permission to move their tents from the city park to lots that have been offered them by property owners.

The park had become too congested for the campers and a number of complaints had been made by the adjoining property owners.

Mayor Booth has suggested that this city have a rally day, similar to that held in Gainesville, when the city people will have a holiday, a big picnic, and clear up five acres of the new campsite, which has been provided for the campers.

Some of the campers already signified their willingness to co-operate with the city in helping to clean up the site.

AMONG OUR ENTERPRISING FIRMS THE B. & O. MOTOR COMPANY

Among the most progressive firms in the city of any line and especially in the automobile line is the B. & O. Garage, located on Park Avenue and for many years established at this stand. During the past year or more the B. & O. has been in the careful charge of Perry Jernigan and Braxton Baggett, two of the youngest business men of the city and certainly two of the liveliest and best. They have been turning things over with their up to date ideas of not only selling cars but operating a machine shop and garage and have made "service" mean more than old man Webster did when he made the dictionary.

china shop and what proves to be a "Jonah" to many garages is a pleasure to Jernigan and Baggett for they believe in first class mechanics, first class equipment and first class service to their patrons. They have the reputation of being in a class by themselves when it comes to doing business along business lines and by their square dealing and hustling proclivities have earned an enviable reputation among the business men of the city and in the general trade. Satisfied customers are their greatest asset and the next best thing about them is that they believe in printer's ink.

CO-OPERATION FOR SELLING FARM PRODUCTS

WILL BE WORKED OUT BY THE GOVERNMENT.

(By The Associated Press.)
ST. LOUIS, Dec. 18.—Plans for conducting the various co-operative agencies for the distribution of the farm produce of the nation were discussed today at the final session of the agricultural conference. The plan includes elimination of the middleman and the co-operative purchasing of agricultural supplies.

HIRED MAN TO POISON SHEPPARD

BUT TURNER TURNED DOWN OFFER OF MRS. SHEPPARD TESTIFIES.

MACON, Ga., Dec. 18.—J. A. Turner, the son of a tenant on the Cutt's farm, today testified at the Sheppard case hearing that Mrs. Annie Cutts asked him to poison Fred D. Sheppard, millionaire, alleged victim of a poison plot for his money. Turner declares he refused the offer.

FIRST CELERY OF THE SEASON FROM SANFORD

FLORIDA PRODUCE COMPANY SHIPPED FROM FARM OF H. H. CHAPPELL

The first celery of the season will be shipped from Sanford today by the Sanford Produce Company and came from the Celery avenue farm of H. H. Chappell. Celery is very early this season, some of the growers planting extra early in the effort to have some Christmas celery and while there has been a few small patches here at Christmas time every year this is probably the first time that any of it has been shipped by December 18th.

The Florida Produce Company, composed of C. R. Kirtley, W. H. Wight, and R. B. Wight are live wires in the produce business and recently purchased the business and office equipment of the Florida Produce Co., that was being operated by Sam Younts and this business was started in Sanford in 1905 by J. D. Hood and has a fine reputation among the buyers of fruits and vegetables.

Mr. H. H. Chappell, who is one of the pioneers in celery growing in this section says that his early celery is of very good quality considering that it is extremely early and that it should bring a good price on the market. The Florida Produce Co., sold this celery for $6.50 per crate and expect to ship a large quantity as the season grows older.

While there is considerable celery in the northern markets just now all that the southern markets use must come from New York state, Michigan or California and the fresh celery from Florida takes first place in the southern markets and while there will be no movement in car lots of Sanford celery before the last of January the real early celery has a good chance in the express shipments and the Florida Produce Company are to be congratulated upon their being the first of the shippers of the season on Sanford celery.

EMERGENCY TARIFF ON WHEAT, CORN, COAL, BEANS, POTATOES, MEAT

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—In its first step toward enactment of the emergency tariff, the house ways and means committee today tentatively agreed to place a high import tax on wheat, corn, wool, beans, potatoes, peanuts, onions and meat.

NEW EARLY CELERY WAS GROWN BY H. H. CHAPPELL

PLANTED IN SEPT.

AND MARKETED IN DECEMBER AND WILL PROVE MOST PROFITABLE

Sanford is about to launch a new kind of celery on the market and H. H. Chappell, the pioneer celery grower of this section, will have the credit for being the originator of the new strain of seed. The new celery is much earlier than any other kind that has been tried out here and on account of being almost free from blight and other diseases that attack early celery is bound to be a winner. It is no theory with Mr. Chappell for he has already sold his first patch to the Florida Produce Co., of this city mention of which is made in this issue of the Herald.

The celery is a hardy stock of vivid green and with a large center and heart stalk and in comparison with golden self-bleaching planted alongside of it is twice as large all of it being planted at the same time. This new celery was set September 23rd and is being shipped today, December 18th which demonstrates that this celery is bound to beat any other kind on the market. It can be grown with one-third less fertilizer and is almost free from any disease that ordinarily attacks celery and especially the earliest celery.

Mr. Chappell has been experimenting with this new strain of celery seed for some time and now has what is considered the best of the kind on the market and his first crop is proof enough of what it will make in the way of early celery. This crisp and succulent celery right from the field will compete with any New York state, Michigan or California stock that is in the market at this time of the year and will make our celery season longer and will work wonders in the growing of Florida celery in many ways.

The editor of the Herald was out to the Chappell farm yesterday and saw the new celery which we have named the Chappell Special and we have tasted it and found it to be the real article and here is hoping that Mr. Henry Chappell, the celery king, will keep his throne for many years to come. He deserves all the good fortune that can come to him and his new celery ought to make him rich as well as famous.

SEN. HARDING CONFERS WITH ALL KINDS

SENATOR REED AGAINST AND NICHOLAS MURRAY BUTLER FOR LEAGUE.

(By The Associated Press.)
MARION, O., Dec. 18.—President-elect Harding today conferred with Senator James A. Reed, Missouri democrat, a bitter opponent to the Versailles league, and Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler of New York, an advocate of the treaty with reservations of the plan for world's peace.

He also discussed cabinet appointments with Harry N. Daugherty, Harding's pre-convention manager, and Senator Harry S. New, of Indiana.

GREEKS IN TURKEY RIOT OVER KING TAKING HIS THRONE

(By The Associated Press.)
CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 18.—When news reached here of the embarkation at Venice of Constantine on his way to Athens to resume the throne, Greeks manifested strong feeling against Constantine, engaging in street fighting in which many persons friendly to Constantine were roughly handled. They also threatened to lynch Colonel Couzis, chief of the military commission and wrecked a royalist newspaper office.

America Means Salvation to These Little Ones

The European Relief Council, which seeks to raise $3,000,000 at the Christmas season, has been formed for the purpose of throwing the entire charitable energy of the United States into the vital task of providing food and medical assistance to 3,500,000 children in eastern and central Europe this winter. Representatives of eight great relief organizations, working independently, gathered overwhelming evidence that the plight of these unfortunate children should take precedence in world charity until they are saved. The co-operating agencies which form the Council are the American Relief Administration, the American Red Cross, the American Friends Service Committee (Quakers), the Jewish Joint Distribution Committee, the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, the Knights of Columbus, the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A.

JACKSONVILLE WANTS BERTH IN FLORIDA STATE LEAGUE

ORLANDO, Dec. 16.—A meeting of the Florida State League was held at the San Juan hotel Tuesday night, representatives from Orlando, Daytona and Lakeland being present, when President Walter W. Rose, of the league called the meeting to order. Don Mullaney, ex-manager of the Jacksonville South Atlantic League Club, and a well-known baseball man of the Gateway City, was present to procure one of the forfeited franchises of Bartow and Sanford. Palatka, the other city seeking to secure one of these franchises, was unable to send a delegate, but telephoned to President Rose and asked to have their bid favorably considered. Representatives of Tampa and St. Petersburg, two of the other clubs composing the league, were unable to be present on account of failing to make train connections.

No definite action was taken by the clubs represented with regard to the awarding of the forfeited franchises, but it is asserted on good authority that Jacksonville is assured of being represented in the Florida State League the coming season. President Rose will call a meeting some time within the next ten days to take definite action in regard to the awarding of the forfeited franchises. The date of this meeting will be announced by President Rose shortly.

SOUTHERN COLLEGE NOTES

With the passage of the football season, Southern hopes are centered on the plans of Coach Beckelheimer and Captain Powell to turn out the fastest aggregation of basket ball tossers that has ever represented the Blue and White. A good schedule has been arranged for the present season and the candidates for berths on the varsity quintet are working hard and showing rare promise.

In addition to the interest in the boys' athletics, Miss Betts reports splendid progress with the girls in the various forms of physical development which she is promoting. The number of candidates for the basket ball team is large and the girls are taking a keen interest in the practice games held. The first game of the season will be a practice game with the faculty team and will be held soon after the holidays.

It was an enthusiastic crowd of students that gathered on the campus and lustily cheered the four boys who went to Emory University to represent the Blue and White in the Intercollegiate track race taking place there on December 11th. This was the first athletic contest of this kind in which Southern had participated, so the faculty and student body feel justly proud that Southern won fourth place. Already plans are being made to put up a team next year that will bring back first honors for the Blue and White. Those representing the college were Roy Crowley, Alfred Fisher, Ronk Buhrman and Frank Chappell.

With the opening of the new year, the pastor and the members of the Sanford church will join with the pastors and congregations of the various churches in Florida of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, in endeavoring to raise the half-million dollar fund that has been allotted to the Methodist of Florida as their share in the Centenary Movement of the denomination.

When this work is once begun, it is expected that it will be rapidly carried to a successful conclusion. As there is only one college in Florida supported by the Methodist Conference of the state, Southern College, this entire sum will be given to the betterment of that school. All alumni and former students of Southern in Sanford will be interested in the effort to secure this fund for Southern College in the year 1921.

Another busy Saturday.

And another busy week just ahead of us.

But tomorrow we can rest after we have attended Sunday school and church in the morning and evening.

Have you thought about sending your friends the Weekly or Daily Herald for a Christmas gift? There could be nothing finer or better.

The croakers and hammer throwers can get in their best work now that there are so many rumors of financial crises and poor business and all that rot.

Some people can see no good in the Rod and Gun Club. The Herald can see good in every move that means building, that means progress, that means any place for the tourists, that means an auditorium, that means new people coming here, that means a place for boats of the tourists, that means anything and everything.

Next Friday the Daily will contain a complete write-up of the new Baptist church and Dr. Hyman with his accustomed energy has arranged for a special Baptist edition of the Herald and it will also appear in the Weekly Herald of the same date.

Our big Weekly Herald went forth yesterday late in the evening to every part of the state and almost every part of the world and contained 16 pages of good reading matter and plenty of advertisements and was a real weekly in every respect.

BEAUTIFYING OUR CEMETERY

The Herald wishes to congratulate the Woman's Club and the Welfare Department of the Club upon their decision to appoint a committee that will take care of the cemetery. Too long have we waited for such a committee but now that we have it let everyone get right behind them and help them to make our cemetery more beautiful and keep it as the most sacred spot in the city.

"FLORIDA WELCOMES AND PROVIDES FOR ALL"

The following from the Literary Digest is good publicity for Florida: Each winter the migration from the north and middle west Florida-ward increases.

It is a democratic throng which flows into the Peninsula state—the multi-millionaire, the moderately well-to-do, and even those of meager means. For Florida welcomes and provides for all.

Lack of living accommodations to meet the influx of visitors has led many to own or rent winter homes in Florida. Many people have proved that with vegetable and fruit gardens of their own they can escape the rigors of the northern winter and live more comfortably and economically in Florida.

Florida's resorts are divided geographically into three main divisions—the east coast chain, those which cluster about the interior lake and river region, and the west coast recreation centers built for the most part upon indentations of the Gulf.

Tourist traffic by motor, train, or steamship pours into and out of the state through two main gateways, Jacksonville on the northeast, and Pensacola on the northwest. Into the former, over the great arteries from the north, run the trains of the Atlantic Coast Line, the Seaboard Air Line, and the Southern Railway.

Bordering the Atlantic is a constellation of world-famous resorts, including historic St. Augustine; Ormond, of golf fame; Daytona, with its matchless beach; Palm Beach, glittering with gold and fashion; Miami, the paradise of yachtsmen; Long Key Camp, rendezvous of veteran fishermen, only to mention the more famous.

On the myriad lakes and rivers of the interior, surrounded by the picturesqueness of tropical scenery or citrus groves, are the St. Johns River resorts, with attractive Palatka and Sanford at the head of navigation; Ocala, with its tropical river; Lake-land, in the district of a thousand lakes; Florence Villa, surrounded by orange groves and lakes, big and little; Orlando in the citrus belt, just to mention of a few of the interior attractions.

Facing the deep bays or sandrimmed peninsula of the Gulf Coast is a veritable Riviera, including Pensacola on its beautiful bay, Tarpon Springs, with its bay and river; St. Petersburg, the "Sunshine city of the Pinellas Peninsula"; Tampa with its attractive hotels and beautiful parks; Sarasota, Bradentown, Fort Myers, whose front door is Caloosahatchee Bay, to enumerate only a few of the links of the west coast chain. These interior and gulf ports are reached by either the Seaboard Air Line or the Atlantic Coast Line.

Nearly all the Florida resorts have in common excellent golf courses, motoring, fishing, boating, tennis, yachting, and in some cases lying, as pastimes.

NOT THE ORDINARY ROMANCE

Happily Married Man Has Something Different to Say About the Darling of His Heart.

She wasn't exactly handsome, and yet you couldn't call her plain. Her features were irregular, but interesting, as I heard one of her friends remark.

For instance, one pearly ear of matchless beauty was an inch or so lower than the other.

And her teeth were so splendidly different from the usual. The absence of two of them in front relieved the monotony of the faultless rows of molars that most girls have.

Then again she had a habit of holding her mouth open so that if there were the slightest breeze stirring it would whistle weirdly in and out of the space between her teeth.

Her eyes were fishy blue, and slightly crossed, so that in walking she could not help tripping over her own feet.

She also toed-in a trifle, and when she sidled down the road, daintily tripping in her own charmingly original way, people stopped to look at her.

It used to gratify my vanity to be stared at so whenever I went out with her.

In fact, I may as well out with it, I found her so fascinating that I married her. And ours has been the happy union.

She never bores me. She is a continual source of interest. I keep finding new things wrong with her every day.—London Answers.

HONORS NOT EASILY EARNED

Japanese Wrestlers Who Rise to Fame Are Deserving of the High Position They Attain.

Training for a Japanese wrestler is not easy. The training of our college boys for an athletic event is child's play in comparison. It is not unusual for a novice to be gashed and bleeding after being knocked about the hard gravel of a private arena. Young students come out at 4 on cold mornings and train until 8. Their fat and muscles are hardened by constant ramming at wooden posts and their heads are hardened by being pushed vigorously against walls.

A champion today has 150 or 160 "hands" or devices at his disposal. The aim, a worthy one certainly, is the maximum of force with the minimum of disturbance.

Wrestlers are classified into nine grades, of which only the first three or four have professional importance. In each camp there are three leading lights. The champion, the O-zeki, or second champion; the Seki-waki, or second assistant champion; the Komusubi, the assistant to the second assistant champion. The supreme champion is called the Tokozuna, but there have only been a score of these since Japanese wrestling started in the prepagoda period.

How Burmese Women Smoke.

Merchants smoke their pipes from dawn until dark. In Korea, writes a correspondent, they squat down when they smoke, and as the stems of the pipes are 3 feet long, the bowl can rest on the ground. In Bethlehem the hookah is very popular among the women and it accompanies the morning and afternoon coffee-drinking hour. Several tubes extend from the water bowl through which the smoke passes in a cooling process, and the women gather about the hookah, each selecting a tube, and all drawing smoke from the common bowl. The Burmese maidens smoke a cigar 10 inches long and as fat as a good-sized candle and with a white paper covering. The longest pipes known are those used by natives of the Belgian Congo. These pipes have stems 10 or 12 feet long, with small bowls. If matches were used to light them a friend would be needed to apply the flame, but the native gets his light by merely thrusting the bowl into his camp fire.

PECULIAR FREAK OF NATURE

Section of Land in California Man Trees Unknown Anywhere Else, Save in One Small Spot.

Down in San Diego county is a grove of Torrey pines less than two miles broad and eight miles long, thinly scattered, that occur nowhere else in the world except about 100 trees on the eastern end of Santa Rosa island, many miles to the north and out in the ocean. All who have read of coaching or motoring in southern California know of the famous cypress drive near Monterey. Strange indeed is this great head of land jutting out into the ocean between Carmel bay and Monterey harbor, for it forms an isolated arboreal island, the Monterey cypress being but one of its peculiarities. The Monterey pine grows there, and is not found again except sixty miles to the north and seventy miles to the south. The Bishop's pine occurs (or recurs) only eighty-five miles to the north and eighty miles to the south. The Gowen cypress recurs on the coast 216 miles northward.

Curious place for trees, this Monterey headland! We have so many tales to tell of curious native trees, however, that one more must suffice. Down at Garden Grove and Santa Ana, both in Orange county, stand five trees that are natural hybrids between the native live oak and the native black walnut, and man had nothing to do with this jugglery.—Los Angeles Times.

GREAT SOLDIER'S KINDLY ACT

Duke of Wellington Not Above Taking Care of Toad Which Was Small Boy's Pet.

The duke of Wellington, while strolling about his estate one day, came upon a small boy, the son of a gardener, down on his knees before a hole, and with tears running down his face. The boy explained that his pet toad lived in the hole, and that he fed him every day, the toad knowing him and following him about the garden. School was to open the next day in a distant town, and the lad was afraid his toad would starve to death.

"Not at all, not at all," assured the great leader. "I'll look after your toad myself." The boy got up at once, and the two gravely shook hands. The duke was as good as his word, and went several times a week to the hole with a handful of crumbs, and the toad soon transferred his affection to his grave. This so tickled the soldier that he wrote the boy a letter telling him of the pet's actions, but expressing the belief that when the boy returned the toad would go back to his first affection.

Ripening Fruit.

High temperatures seem, very curiously, to retard the ripening of pears, while hastening that of apples. In experiments described by Overholser and Taylor in the Botanical Gazette, the ripening of green first-crop Bartlett pears raised from 70 degrees F. or room temperature, to 85 degrees was not affected, but at 87.7 degrees it was delayed five days, and at 94 degrees and 104 degrees the delay was 13 days. Second-crop Bartlett pears, in a temperature of 101 degrees, and surrounded by a relative humidity of below 50 per cent, remained unripe four weeks after similar pears at room temperature and humidity had become fully ripened. The flavor of pears kept above 85 degrees was affected, sweetness and juiciness being diminished. The ripening of Yellow Newton apples on the other hand, was hastened at every appreciable rise in temperature from 50 degrees up to the point of destruction by burning. It is concluded that the picking of pears may be delayed in very hot weather, but that the picking of apples and storage in a cool place must be hastened.

Barnstable's Old Bell.

In the courthouse at Barnstable, Mass., is an old bell, cracked and silent, which may be, and probably is, the oldest bell in the United States. So thinks Mr. Alfred Crocker, clerk of courts of Barnstable county. The date 1675 is still plainly visible in the photograph recently printed in the Boston Evening Transcript. By this date, however, the old bell had seen nearly a quarter of a century of life in England before it came to America and began calling worshippers together in the church at Sandwich town. Gratitude bought the bell in England, for it came as a gift from Mrs. Peter Adolph, whose husband, Captain Adolph, was lost in the wreck of his vessel on the Massachusetts coast in 1697 despite the efforts of the people of Sandwich.

A Fair Week.

A man lately kept a meteorological diary of his wife's temper. It ran somewhat as follows: "Monday—Rather cloudy; in the afternoon, rainy." "Tuesday—Vaporish; brightened up a little towards evening." "Wednesday—Changeable, gloomy, inclined to rain." "Thursday—High wind, and some deals of thunder." "Friday—Fair in the morning; variable till the afternoon; cloudy at night." "Saturday—A gentle breeze, hazy; afternoon, a thick fog, and a few flashes of lightning." "Sunday—Tempestuous and rainy; toward evening rather calmer."—London Answers.

An Appeal to the American People

THREE and one-half million children in Eastern and Central Europe have no alternative to disaster between now and next harvest except American aid. For months these most helpless sufferers in the track of war have been admitted to American feeding-stations only if tragically undernourished, and have received American medical aid only if desperately threatened by death from disease.

One 5 cent hot American meal today has saved a thousand lives.

Winter is closing down. The money of many nations is valueless outside their own boundaries. Economic and crop conditions make famine, with its terrible train of diseases, a certain visitor until next harvest. Inevitably the helpless children will suffer most. No child can grow to health and sanity on the pitiful makeshifts for food with which millions of European adults must content themselves this winter. It is obvious that the remedy can come only from outside.

America saved 6,000,000 European children winter before last. Normal recuperation cut the need nearly in half last year, but unusual conditions have resulted in scant shrinkage of child destitution during the twelvemonth just past. The response of America must now decide whether 5,500,000 of these charges, in acute distress, shall begin to be turned away in January from more than 17,000 asylums, hospitals, clinics and feeding-stations dependent on American support. There would be no tragedy in history as sweeping or so destructive of those who can deserve no evil.

The underigned organizations, working among every race and creed, many engaged also in other forms of relief, agree unanimously that the plight of these helpless children should have complete priority in overseas charity until the situation is met. This is an issue without politics and without religious lines. There can be no danger of pauperization, for the $23,000,000 for child food, and the $10,000,000 for medical service that we seek, will relieve only the critical cases. The medical supplies, of course, must be an unqualified gift, but for every American dollar used in child-feeding the governments and communities aided furnish two dollars in the form of transportation, rent, labor, clerical help, cash contributions and such food supplies as are locally obtainable.

America has not failed in the past in great heartedness. She has never had a more poignant call than this. Contributions should be turned over to the local committees which are now being formed for this national collection, or sent to Franklin K. Lane, Treasurer, Guaranty Trust Co., New York City.

WEATHER REPORT.

For Florida—Generally fair and slightly warmer tonight. Probably a light frost in north-east portion Sunday. Increasing cloudiness.

Light frosts are making riper oranges and grapefruit and Florida is the paradise of the world.

Remember that next week is harvest week in business circles and an advertisement in The Daily Herald will get you the trade.

Celery has started to move in small quantities, but will soon be on move in car lots and then business will pick up in the farming line.

The auction at the Miller building of second-hand and stored furniture today brought out a large crowd. Charlie Hand acted as auctioneer and was in fine form.

B. G. Smith was in the city today en route to his home in Oviedo from Jacksonville, where he went to attend a meeting of the republican leaders of the state.

The Herald is now equipped to do your job printing in record time with the new machinery that has been installed during the week. Bring us your rush jobs of stationery, and all kinds of printing.

All the trains coming into Sanford from the north are crowded with winter visitors and it's time to get your rooms ready and your houses ready to receive the largest crowd of winter visitors that have ever come to Florida.

The many friends of Mrs. Lucy Harber and daughter, Miss Thelma, were glad to see them here this week, the guests of Miss Annie Hawkins of Celery avenue. The Harbers have been spending the winters in Sanford for many years, but this season are in Lakeland. They are from Commerce, Ga.

"ENERGIZER"

Does It Cheaper and Better AND DOES IT.

It would seem that any process that is able to "bring back" a paralyzed limb and relieve the pains of Neuritis and Sciatica Rheumatism as The "ENERGIZER" has REPEATEDLY done in Sanford cases, would likewise be able to keep a person FREE from most of the Human Ills that must come as a logical result of the yearly loss in Arterial Area and Elasticity, due to lack of the keen activity which we all KNOW is necessary to Better Strength and Circulation. And it appears reasonable that there IS internal Human Combustion or Evolution (change of matter from one form to another) which must leave residue or ash matter of such Specific Gravity that will cause it to 'sink', just as an Orange or Apple will fall under the common law of gravity.

It is this ASH that gradually finds its way to the end of Arteries and is what causes and controls Human age, rather than 'calendar' years. How fast this deposit comes to how long it is allowed to lie quietly getting harder until you get Hardening of the Arteries, High Blood Pressure—which is a sure sign of warning—and all kinds of Ills, are matters of the life you lead and the opportunities you have had of knowing what the whole thing is about.

And the remedy—cheaper NOW than ever again in your life—is to get SOMEHOW sufficient to stir up and eliminate this 'Carbon' of Human Combustion. You get it out of your Auto; WHY NOT YOUR BODY? ..

Everything for the office at the Herald Printing Co. We can fit you out with all that you need in fine printed stationery and office supplies of all kinds.

Facts About Violins.

Some people are possessed of the idea that the more scars, cracks and disfigurements they are in an old violin the more valuable it is. The contrary is true. In the case of genuine old Cremona violins, preservation enters largely into their value. The more perfectly preserved they are, the greater prices they command. Violins with the beautiful Cremona varnish in a fine state of preservation are especially sought by connoisseurs. Violinists who wish to preserve the value of their violins should take pains to keep them in perfect repair, and to wipe all dust and resin off the violin after using.—Exchange.

Judging a Poet.

There are two ways of measuring a poet, either by an absolute aesthetic standard, or relatively to his position in the literary history of his country and the conditions of his generation. Both should be borne in mind as co-efficient in a perfectly fair judgment. If his positive merit is to be settled irrevocably by the former, yet an intelligent criticism will find its advantage not only in considering what he was, but what, under the given circumstances, it was possible for him to be.—James Russell Lowell.

RICKETS DID THIS.

Before this five-year-old Vienna girl was operated upon in the American Convalescent Home her leg was even more horribly deformed from rickets and she was in constant instead of intermittent pain. Now at least her leg is straight again, and by degrees she is relearning to walk. Rickets is the aftermath of under-nutrition, and it is to cut down the harrowing prevalence of such disease as this among the children of Europe that eight American relief organizations are making a joint appeal under the name of the European Relief Council for funds to succor the millions that face a winter of horror. They are the American Relief Administration, the American Red Cross, the American Friends' Service Committee (Quakers), the Jewish Joint Distribution Committee, the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, the Knights of Columbus, the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A.

SAILORS HOLD ODD BELIEFS

Salt-Water Mariners Cling With Tenacity to Many Superstitions at Which Landman Laughs.

Nearly all ships carry a horseshoe. Usually it is nailed somewhere in the stern. The horseshoe has been a fetish with sailors ever since Nelson nailed one to the mast of the Victory. Sailors have many superstitions. A sailor who wears a baby's caul feels himself immune from death by drowning. And after a long trip the sailor who first sights land will have a good voyage home. Jack becomes decidedly uneasy if he hears "land-lubber lingo" on the ocean. Therefore, if ever you are a passenger don't let him hear you refer to the deck of a cabin as the "floor," the companion as the "stairs" or the alleyway as the "lobby" or "passage." It is bad form, and unlucky. Whistling at sea stirs up evil winds. A cuttlefish swimming on top of the waves also betokens a storm. A squall may be expected when an albatross alights on the deck or when a seagull flies between the foremast and the mainmast. But if the seagull flies between the mainmast, and the mizzenmast fair winds will prevail. Cats are considered unlucky to have on board ship. Up to the last twenty years most sailors wore earrings for luck. No sailor will shoot at birds for fear of destruction of his ship. It is unlucky to kill a petrel. These birds, called by sailors "Mother Carey's chickens"—a corruption of "Mater Cara" (mother dearest)—are the sailor's friends. They give warning of an approaching storm. Legend has it that each of these birds bears the soul of a dead seaman.—London Times.

Increase in World's Crops.

A bulletin issued by the International Institute of Agriculture announces that the aggregate wheat and rye crops of the northern hemisphere total 62,400,000 metric tons, as against 61,700,000 metric tons in 1919. The production of barley, according to the bulletin was 8 per cent larger than last year, while oats increased 21 per cent. The maize crop of southern Europe was good, and that in America 10 per cent more than last year. The probable yield of beet sugar is considered favorable by the Institute. The export of 400,000 tons of wheat from British India is advocated by the Institute.

 Will be paid to any Adult who gets the
'FLU'

After 12 Treatments at the "Energizer"
 Office

This bona-fide statement is made—and it will be carried out to the letter—because we desire to do MORE good rather than LESS while "ENERGIZER" service is here. There is a mathematical ratio between Human Illness and Human CIRCULATION and all the money and brains in the world cannot afford the protection that BETTER STRENGTH and CIRCULATION will give you.

Everything is a matter of "per cent" and "degree" in this world, and each "ENERGIZER" treatment gets ANY adult a "per-cent" better in physical strength and CIRCULATION.

It is NOT a matter of money to YOU—it is a straight matter of GETTING IT—while the getting is good. The INCONSISTENCY of getting the "carbon" out of your auto and NOT giving your BODY similar care is truly CRIMINAL after due thought.

And "if thinking hurts—then 'DO IT NOW' because it FEELS GOOD." You cannot lose ANYWAY YOU LOOK AT IT.

And if you get the "FLU" before, say MAY 1st, 1921, you get $25. If you don't get it, you should worry. But you WILL get the FINEST HUMAN house-cleaning available—a sound investment, a sensible, LOGICAL move.

MOLLE

THREE - UNIT - MACHINE

Possesses every essential feature of larger, heavier and more costly typewriters. Three unit machine: base, carriage and action. Many troublesome parts eliminated. The machine for both office and home. Does the work of any typewriter regardless of cost.

For foreign languages, especially equipped with from one to five dead keys—does not interfere with standard keyboard.

MOLLE

WHERE PRICE AND QUALITY MEET

And that must determine your choice of a typewriter. You have no place for the cheaply constructed machine nor will economy permit the outlay of an extravagant sum. Good business sense finds the solution in the MOLLE. The MOLLE incorporates every essential feature you find in any machine at any price. Yet it is unusually simple, both in construction and operation. Built in three units—base, carriage and action—many extra parts are eliminated. This means a saving in repairs and a bigger saving by keeping it on the job. The MOLLE lightest of touch, speediest of action, will do anything that a writing machine is called upon to do with the least amount of noise and effort.

Today's Geography

EGYPT: A DIAMOND MINE OF HISTORY

Egypt annually supplies the world with a precious product, an increasing knowledge of the early life story of the human race. In the wonderful record of exploration which has restored to us the civilization of the great pre-classical nations, there is no more remarkable chapter than that which tells of the resurrection of ancient Egypt. A communication to the National Geographic society by James Baikie, says:

"The science of Egyptology, which is slowly and patiently reconstructing for us the ordered history of the 3,000 years before Christ, enabling us to see the types of men, the manner of life, the forms of government, the religious customs and beliefs of period after period, from the very dawn of Egyptian nationality, is specifically a growth of our own time.

"We owe the framework into which we try to fit the facts of Egyptian history to the ancient historian, Manetho, scattered fragments of whose history of Egypt, dating from the reign of Ptolemy Philadelphus, in the third century B. C., have come down to us in the works of various ancient authors. He recognized 30 dynasties of Egyptian monarchs, and he left lists of the names of the kings in each of these dynasties, together with occasional notes upon matters of historical interest in particular reigns.

"The kings of the earliest dynasties reared no pyramids. Their tombs were great structures mainly underground. These huge homes of the dead were filled with all sorts of objects thought necessary or useful for the deceased king in the underworld.

"Around a monarch were buried his slaves, who were doubtless slain at his grave that they might accompany and serve him in the afterlife. The chambers of his tomb were stored with stacks of great vases of wine and corn.

Gateway of Ptolemy Evergetes at Karnak.

with pottery dishes, splendid copper bowls, carved ivory boxes, golden buttons, palettes for grinding face paint, chairs and couches of elaborate design and decoration, ivory and pottery figurines, and plaques bearing records of the king's valor in war or his piety in the founding of temples.

"Here and there in this wreckage of immemorial splendors, a little touch helps us to realize that these dim historic figures were real men, who loved and sorrowed as men do still. Close to Men's second tomb at Abydos lies that of his daughter Bener-ab—'Sweet-heart,' as he called her—to suggest how love and death went side by side then as now.

"The furniture of the tombs reveals an amazing proficiency in the arts and crafts. Ebony chests inlaid with ivory; stools with ivory feet carved in the shape of bull's legs; vessels cut and ground to translucent thinness, not only out of soft alabaster, but out of an iron-hard stone like diorite; finely wrought copper ewers, all tell us that the Egyptian of the earliest dynastic period was no rude barbarian, but a highly civilized craftsman. Perhaps the faintest and most convincing evidence of his skill is given by the bracelets which were found encircling the skeleton arm of the queen of King Zer, of the first dynasty."

THE EVOLUTION OF FIRE FIGHTING

The passing of the fire horses from Manhattan island and the installation of a high-pressure water system in Boston to eliminate even the fire engine are further steps in the stage of progress from the romantic days of the picturesque old hand tubs. Older folk may remember when citizens tricked themselves out in red shirts and glazed caps and carried torches in the front of a procession, or formed part of the bodyguard of the gallant old tub as it paraded the streets on a gala occasion. Then passion for fire fighting ran to a high pitch and arguments were waged about the merits of particular engines. Today the throbs of a motor-driven engine are taking the place of those heart throbs. The horses that might have clattered from their stalls, glided beneath their harnesses, and reared gloriously through the drizzly, night-darkened streets before

CZECHO-SLOVAKIA: BORN ABOARD FREIGHT TRAINS

Amid the disorders of Central Europe one new nation affords a conspicuous exception to the chaos, strife and revolutions prevalent on all sides of her. That nation is Czecho-Slovakia.

The inception of this new nationality from a racial unit of ancient and distinguished lineage is a modern romance comparable to the crusades of the middle ages.

Early in 1918 the intrepid Czech warriors started out from the Kiev district of western Russia in railway cars, some of which were decorated with the slogan, "From War to War Around the World."

At that time it looked as though the summer of 1918 would find them in Champagne or the Argonne, joined with the thousands of their compatriots who were already fighting in the allied armies to down the Hun. But a strange combination of circumstances delayed them in Siberia through the short summer of long days and the long winter of little sunshine. A communication follows from Maynard Owen Williams, first American correspondent with the spectacular anabasis of the Czecho-Slovaks across Siberia:

"Xenophon had a fine trip, if one is to judge from the accounts of his favorite press agent, and Napoleon and Sherman have made famous excursions, but when it comes to the world encircling vision of the tourist bureau writer, and the doggedness of death, the wonderful Czechs take the palm.

"The war found them about as enthusiastic in their friendship for William Hohenzollern and his Potsdam confederates as they were for the Hapsburg house that betrayed them centuries ago, after they magnanimously joined the Austrians in the repulse of the hordes from Asia that then threatened Europe.

"Their going over to the enemy was one of the reasons why Germany's southern neighbor failed to pick up rapidly amid the heavy traffic that resulted from the mobilization of Europe.

"Whole regiments of them went over to the foe. Other thousands were shot down by their Austrian companions in arms, and all their organizations were heavily officered by the Germans or Magyars, whose methods and aims they hated. Thousands of them escaped to Russia, where they were sent to the cold of Siberia or the malaria of the Tashkent region as prisoners of war.

"Many of them entered the Russian army under Kereny, but with the signing of the Brest-Litovsk treaty, they lost faith in their Russian companions in arms and with a spirit of loyalty to the cause of freedom that no other group surpassed, they set out from Russia to cross Siberia, the Pacific, America, the Atlantic and France, to hurl themselves once more against their oppressors and traditional foes.

"When I met them their 78 trains were strung out from the Ukraine to Lake Balkal, all moving toward the port of Vladivostok.

"The Bolsheviks walked into the trap which they had themselves prepared, for had they lived up to their promises, the Czechs would have all been in Vladivostok by July. When the Reds attempted to disarm the Czecho-Slovak expedition, the Bohemians refused to be as meek as the anti-Bolsheviks usually were then, and the result was a continent saved for democracy while the world was hunting through its atlas to find out who these fighting men with the strange name really were, and what they were doing so far from home."

"The fire-fighting demon, are drawing farm wagons or plowing the field. In by-gone days communities were dependent upon volunteers, and men from all social ranks gave valuable time to qualify for the service.

Fire fighting in some sort of organized form is ancient. Machines for throwing water from a distance were known, according to our first clear evidence, in the second century before Christ. Heron of Alexandria, 200 years before the Christian era, in an old manuscript which has escaped destruction, described a hydraulic machine used in Egypt during the time of the Ptolemies. It was composed of two brass cylinders resting on a wooden base with pistons fitted into them—in its principles practically like our present engine. Like most other knowledge, this was lost in the dark ages which followed.

The Romans had squads of men to carry water in "hamae," or light vases, to the scene of an outbreak where it was projected onto the fire by those in charge of the "siphones" or hand pumps. The precise nature of this instrument has not been determined, but from specimens found in excavations it must have been much like the old-fashioned syringe used by gardeners. These large organizations of men gave the Roman authorities trouble by their turbulence. Trajan, the Roman emperor, and Pliny, at that time one of his governors, had long and serious correspondence over the advisability of organizing fire departments in the cities under Pliny's jurisdiction, leading to the conclusion that such groups would attain sufficient strength to be a menace to the government.

Mention is made of the medieval use of forcing pumps on fire engines at Augsburg in 1518. England and the countries of the continent were using hand squirts and syringes at this time. America took her ideas from the English.
