

NEW FEDERAL TAXATION WILL BEGIN TUESDAY

Over Billion Dollars In Additional Revenue Will Assist In Balancing Budget

WASHINGTON, June 20.—(A.P.)—A nation of 120,000,000 persons, from children to their grandparents Tuesday will start digging into their pockets for an additional $1,118,506,000 in new taxes to aid the government balance its budget.

The 1932 revenue act, signed on June 6 by President Hoover and designed to raise a total of $3,261,600,000 to meet the government's expenses in the 1932 fiscal year, puts most of the new levies in force at that time.

Nearly every citizen from five and ten-cent store girl clerks to the multi-millionaire, will start contributing to the increased levies.

They apply to a long list of articles and products, ranging from candy, chewing gum and electric light bills to automobiles and conveyances of property. The heaviest will be the hardest hit because they purchase more of the articles than the average citizen because of increased levies on income in the higher brackets.

The highest part of the new duties will be upon articles not taxed since war days. The manufacturer will pay the tax but in a number of cases will pass the cost along to the ultimate purchaser. These levies are designed to raise $487,000,000 in revenue.

The new income tax rate, as levied in 1921 with the normal rate of 23 percent, is to be reduced to 20 percent, but the surtax rates start at 1 percent in excess of $4,000 and increased to 25 percent on incomes of more than $1,000,000.

The higher rates are expected to raise an additional $178,000,000 while increased corporation taxes (Continued on Page Three)

Senate Is Urged To Pass Jobless Bill

WASHINGTON, June 20.—(A.P.)—Dr. Sidney Goldstein, New York, today urged the Senate Manufacturers' Committee to pass unemployment relief legislation, warning that Congress dare not adjourn without meeting the situation. "Despair leads quickly to a state of desperation and outbreak and explosion are nearer than our leaders realize," said Goldstein, who is chairman of the executive committee of a joint committee for unemployment relief. "Those of us who are nearer to the working classes know that their temper is changing and they will not suffer much longer without redress."

8 GUNMEN SLAY RACKETEER WITH HAIL OF BULLETS

Daughter Of Notorious Figure Grazed By One Of Bullets

NEW YORK, June 20.—(A.P.)—A storm of bullets overtook Charles (Vannie) Higgins notorious Brooklyn racketeer, when he was shot and killed by eight gunmen in two automobiles.

Higgins was wounded fatally and his 7-year-old daughter, Jean, whose request had led him to drop his customary vigilance for an evening, was grazed by a bullet.

Eight gunmen in two automobiles blasted away at him as he emerged from the Knights of Columbus clubhouse in Brooklyn, where he had watched his daughter take part in a school entertainment.

Higgins' wife and mother-in-law also were with him but they were untouched by the spray of bullets.

"The rats," said Higgins on a hospital cot. "They tried to wipe out my whole family."

Before lapsing into silence, the often arrested but rarely convicted racketeer promised, detectives said, to "attend to them" when he recovered.

Higgins did not want to go out last night, friends said. He yielded reluctantly to the request of his wife and daughter. He had been especially careful to have his hoodlums nearby since being severely knifed in a night cub brawl last year.

Sholtz To Speak In Jacksonville Tonight

Confident that West Florida will rally to his banner in a vote of record proportions, Dave Sholtz, Daytona Beach candidate for governor will tonight begin his tour of the East Coast and South Florida by delivering an address in Hemming Park, Jacksonville, at 8:00 o'clock. Sholtz' enthusiasts from every section of Florida are expected to be present. The address will be broadcast over Orlando, Miami, and Tampa radio stations at 8:00 o'clock.

J. W. Fuller, chairman of the Duval county Sholtz-for-Governor Club, has stated that Mr. Sholtz will "vigorously and fearlessly discuss the issues of the campaign," and also will embrace the opportunity to give "an illuminating exposition of present conditions in Florida and the plight of the people as the result of machine rule in the political life of the State."

SMITH FORCES GATHERING FOR CHICAGO MEET

Contest Between Two Favorite New York Sons Moves Rapidly Forward Today

CHICAGO, June 20.—(A.P.)—The Democratic presidential contest revolving about undecided New York and her two embittered prominent sons, Governor Roosevelt, and Alfred Smith moved rapidly ahead today at convention headquarters.

Joseph Israel, III, opened headquarters for Smith at the Congress Hotel just above the suite presided over by James Farley, director of the Roosevelt forces. Smith is expected here Wednesday when leaders of the 94 vote strong New York delegation arrive to make their fateful decision.

Carrying through a program to use their dominant strength to command the convention organization, Roosevelt leaders announced, Bruce Kremer, Montana, as their choice for chairman of the powerful rules committee.

From New York came word that John E. Mack, of Poughkeepsie, the man who persuaded Governor Roosevelt to enter politics 22 years ago, would be invited to place the leading contender in nomination.

Assurances that a lively scrap would be staged at the convention over the selection of the permanent chairman came yesterday with the announcement by Farley that the Roosevelt forces are going down the line for Senator Walsh of Montana for the permanent chairmanship of the convention.

Joseph Shouse, executive director of the Democratic national committee, who was "commended" on the post by the arrangements committee, said vigorously in answer to questions by reporters:

"I intend to make my fight for the post on the convention floor, not in the newspapers."

Shouse has charged Roosevelt with bad faith in the matter and spokesmen for the New York governor have denied that and in turn charged the committee official with attempting to "stop Roosevelt."

There have been vague rumors that supporters of Nelson A. Rockefeller, of Chicago, might join the move to line up delegates against Roosevelt but Frank Schofield, the Texas cattle man, who is his campaign manager, yesterday said:

"Any report that Taylor or his friends are trying to stop Roosevelt or any other candidate is entirely untrue."

Schofield said Taylor headquarters would be opened today in the Congress, where those of the other candidates are being established.

From Ennis, Farley and Shouse came the prediction yesterday that the prohibition issue would be squarely faced by the Democratic convention.

Memorial Service Is Staged By Lodgemen

While a throng of friends and relatives paid respectful attention, members of Sanford Lodge, No. 768, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers held their annual solemn memorial service for their deceased members at the First Methodist Church yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

The program was opened by an invocation by Rev. F. M. Marler. F. L. Crosby made a few introductory remarks, followed by a song by the Kiwanis quartet. Then followed eulogies of Brother H. P. Torrance, J. M. Moye, J. F. Henson, and Ira Bass, by R. A. Howell, J. C. Aycock, J. R. Lyles, and T. J. E. Wells.

E. Krupp called the roll of members; the Misses Martha Duane Telford and Betty Colbert made a presentation of flowers; the Kiwanis quartet was heard in another sacred number and Rev. Carrol Varner, of the church, delivered the address of the day. The program concluded with benediction by Rev. F. M. Marler.

SURETY HAS NEW CHIEF

Capital Awaits Next Move Of Bonus Army Which Has Permanent Appearance

WASHINGTON, June 20.—(A.P.)—The capital awaited today the next move, if there is any, by the visiting army of bonus seekers.

While some of the war veterans started home, the indications were that for the present the majority were immovable. Just as police indulged in a pleasant round of back-slapping after evacuating 50 by truck, the Southern railway telephone it had delivered 75 more in its yards.

Officials estimated that some 200 had gone out of town on foot, but judging from the arrivals at the Anacostia receiving camp, they must have passed twice their number coming in.

Those leaving did so quietly, rather than make the wrath of their more determined comrades. The veterans' national headquarters insisted that only a handful had left to go home and stay and that most of those seen departing were going home to recruit more men to bring back to Washington.

As if by some mysterious grapevine instruction, the new arrivals went directly to Anacostia and their announced they would not be put in any other camp. Despite the more attractive and healthier quarters at Camp Bartlett, the newcomers chose sites at the muddy overcrowded Anacostia encampment.

In expediting the departure of all those desiring to leave, the police arranged to have railway police look the other way when groups of veterans sought freight rides out of town.

The veterans' leaders were actively pushing forward their move to get more forces in the city. They announced the receipt of several hundred telegrams and letters of regret over the Senate's defeat of the Patman bill for bonus payment.

Many of the letters, they said, announced the intention of the readers to join the forces in Washington.

Because of the quiet departures from the camps, the number of veterans now in the city was only a matter of conjecture. Both by police and the veterans themselves, the latter claimed more than 25,000, but police placed a much lower estimate.

Four Cases Disposed Of In County Court

County Judge James G. Sharon disposed of four cases of alleged law violation which were brought to his attention during the past week.

Charles Mungin, colored, charged with disposing of a suit of clothes that had a retail value of $25, was given a 30 day suspended sentence.

David Jackson, charged with petit larceny received a 30 day suspended sentence when he paid the costs of the case.

Elijah Seaneor, charged with operating an automobile without a license, was given a 60 day suspended sentence when he paid costs of the case.

Grover C. Carroll, charged with being drunk, was given a 60 day suspended sentence when he paid costs.

Grand Jury Ordered To Re-Convene For Investigation Of New Charges

For the first time in many years, a Seminole County grand jury has been ordered to re-convene for the purpose of investigating a series of charges against seven colored and one white alleged law violators.

The jury will meet at the Court House Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock and will have presented before it, cases of breaking and entering, assault with intent to commit murder, and robbery while armed. State Attorney Lloyd F. Boyle will lead the group in its deliberations.

Prime offender of those now in jail is Joe Riffin, negro bandit who was captured by local police last week after he had engaged in a shotgun duel after robbing the Stensford Grocery. Riffin's home contained more than two large trunks full of groceries, clothing, jewelry, automobile accessories, and similar articles that he is believed to have stolen over a period of two years.

In calling the jury together again State Attorney Boyle has estimated that the county will be saved some $700 that would be spent in feeding and housing the eight prisoners from now until the winter term of Circuit Court grand jurors are paid by the state.

ADDRESS GIVEN SATURDAY FOR DAVID SHOLTZ

Nearly 600 Persons Hear Speaking Punctuated By Frequent Applauding

P. D. Gold, former mayor of Seabreeze, neighbor and close friend of Dave Sholtz, concluded a brief address in behalf of the Daytona candidate for governor here Saturday night by asserting that "Our Dave is the modern David who will play the Goliath 'John' under, an avalanche of votes next Tuesday."

Nearly 600 persons crowded themselves along the sidewalks and pathways in the vicinity of Sholtz for Governor headquarters in the Bell Cafe to hear the address, termed "a message from the home folks." Applause frequently punctuated the speaker's words, while cheers and loud applause was heard when Mr. Gold had concluded.

"We Daytonians are privileged and proud to appear before our neighbors and declare our faith and confidence in 'Our Dave,'" Mr. Gold began after he had declared the governorship to be the most important honor that can be awarded an individual in these strenuous days. "Our Dave has lived with us and for us during the past 21 years. We have seen him grow into a man of character and courage. We've fought with him and he with us. We've worked with him and he with us; we know his value to our city and state."

Mr. Gold declared that as mayor of Seabreeze and in many other public offices he had found Mr. Sholtz to be a man of unusual ability and vision. "I've never known a man who so fully exemplifies the golden rule," he asserted after declaring that Mr. Sholtz is a Congressman, "the same thing as a Presbyterian. He believes in predestination, and he believes that he is predestined to be the next governor of Florida, as we all do."

"Dave Sholtz is a man," the speaker said, "who is not fighting for himself, a monument or honor. He is fighting that you and I may have a better home, better living conditions. It is to serve the people that he is making this fight. We in Daytona feel that he will win his fight by one of the largest majorities ever given in the race for governor."

As proof that Mr. Sholtz is fighting to serve the people," Mr. Gold asked his hearers to "study his platform and see how he intends to fight for the people."

The speaker pointed to Mr. Sholtz' declaration that Florida should be operated on a business like efficient basis; that the future of Florida lies in its soils and that farm aid is a prime requisite; that a real economy might be effected in the school system, as indications that the Daytona candidate has a program that will aid in the reconstruction of this state.

"Contrary to all you've heard about Mr. Sholtz' stand on trucks and his being removed from Florida roads," the speaker said, "Mr. Sholtz is not opposed to their wide use in Florida for he realizes that they are an important link (Continued on Page Three)

State Delegation To Insist On Wet Plank

JACKSONVILLE, June 20.—(A.P.)—Florida's delegation to the Democratic national convention will insist that a prohibition repeal plank be written into the party's platform. George Anderson, Jacksonville, declared today.

Anderson, a member of the state's delegation of 18, was named on a platform and resolutions committee of the national convention yesterday.

He pledged support to Governor Roosevelt for president. "I will not support a re submission plank or any other plank on prohibition which is not clear," Anderson said. "I will insist on an out and out repeal plank."

Church School Is Begun Today With Auspicious Start

Sanford's first daily vacation church school made an auspicious beginning this morning when nearly 200 children of junior age gathered at the First Baptist, First Methodist and Holy Cross Episcopal churches to begin a two-week course of study in church and Bible work.

When the registration list was closed on Saturday, 181 children had been enrolled in the school. Of this number, 35 are in the Beginners' Class, 60 in the Primary class, and 86 in the Junior class.

The church school is not a part of each church's Bible School, but a separate part of church work. Grades will be issued based on International Sunday School standards.

Classes will be held each morning for the next two weeks, with the exception of Saturday and Sunday mornings. The school is sponsored by all of Sanford's Protestant churches, and nearly 60 persons are volunteering to act as teachers, teachers, and speakers.

Wentworth Defeats Pryor For Chairman

JACKSONVILLE, June 20.—(A.P.)—George Wentworth, Pensacola, who two years ago nominated and supported R. E. L. Pryor, Tampa, for chairman of the Florida Republican executive committee, today defeated Pryor for temporary chairman of the biennial committee. The vote was 30 to 28.

In previous committee meetings the man chosen as temporary chairman has been made permanent chairman. Prior to the election, the committee settled two contests over election to places on the state committee. It recommended the seating of C. E. Matteson, of Clay county, and Paul Harsy, Volusia. The latter was opposed by Miss Ethel Brow, who contested Harsy's election in the June 7 primary.

HOME OF CICERO MAYOR IS OBJECT OF BOMB ATTACK

Explosive is Hurlled From Passing Auto But Misses Target

CHICAGO, June 20.—(A.P.)—A heavy bomb was hurled at the home of Joseph G. Cery, recently installed mayor of Cicero, early yesterday.

The explosive, projected from a speeding automobile, missed its mark but tore a gaping hole in the sidewalk in front of the residence and shook the entire suburban village, which until several years ago was widely known as the bellwether of the Altonse Capone mob.

Police Chief Sullivan immediately dispatched 11 suspects—among them Albert Capone, who identified himself as the brother of the scar-faced gang leader now behind Atlanta Federal penitentiary.

Strong guards of officers were thrown around the Cery home and the dwelling of State Senator Hubey V. Graham, Democratic leader of Cicero and son-in-law of Mayor Anton J. Cermak, of Chicago.

Mayor Cery was in South Haven, Mich., for the week-end but his sister-in-law, Miss Rosa Nivak, and a girl friend were in the house when it was rocked by the explosion.

Sullivan laid the attack in May on Cery's firm policy of suppressing gambling and conducting organized vice in the village.

Chief Sullivan declined to divulge the names or records of the other men hustled into headquarters.

Came was seized in the lobby of the Hawthorne Hotel, headquarters of the gang during the present city administration. He gave his age as 28 and his occupation as soft drink parlor operator.

Tilden Will Speak At Joint Meeting Of Rotary Clubs

Judge W. L. Tilden, of Orlando, will be principal speaker on an elaborate program that will be presented at a joint meeting of Sanford and Winter Garden Rotary clubs at the Calery Club at 7:30 o'clock. The regular Tuesday luncheon of the local club will be omitted for the night meeting.

Several local artists will be heard on a musical program as part of the program which concludes with a radio description of the Schmeling-Sharkey World's Heavyweight Championship fight at Madison Square Garden, New York, at 9:00 o'clock.

It will be the first banquet of combined Rotary clubs held here in many months. It was brought about as a result of the local club losing a May attendance record contest. The winning club was to have been entertained by the losers. Approximately 60 persons will be present.

CLUB TO MEET

All members of the Sanford Progressive Club of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad are urged to attend a business meeting of the club to be held at the City Hall at 8:00 o'clock tonight. C. E. Adams, president of the Club, declared that the meeting is for members only and that matters of vital importance will be discussed.

OVATION PAID MRS. PUTNAM UPON ARRIVAL

Harbor Craft Salute Her And Parade Is Started Up Broadway To City Hall

NEW YORK, June 20.—(A.P.)—Amelia Earhart Putnam, first woman to pilot an airplane across the Atlantic, returned home today to receive the plaudits of her fellow countrymen.

A crowd estimated at 5,000 gathered in Battery Park as the flier stepped back on American soil from the boat that transferred her and her husband, George Putnam, from the liner Le De France at quarantine.

Harbor craft saluted the aviatrice as the boat moved up the bay under escort of fireboats shooting streams of water into the air.

After leaving the boat she and her husband and the official welcoming party entered automobiles and a parade was begun in City Hall where thousands of petanous gathered to welcome her home.

Dawes Declares Depression Has Reached Its Low

CHICAGO, June 20.—(A.P.)—Charles G. Dawes, returning from Washington and the presidency of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, expressed the belief yesterday that "we have reached the turning point in the depression."

"The fery Chicagoan said he came back to attend in personal business, that he would not discuss rumors he was to head the Civic Opera, that he did not know whether he would take part in the Fall campaign, and that he would not discuss politics at this time.

When asked about the depression and business conditions, however General Dawes was ready with a typewritten statement. Lower taxes, resulting primarily from reduced governmental expenditures, were essential to the full recovery of business, he said. He suggested, however, that municipalities presented the greatest tax problem, since they had greatly increased their indebtedness, whereas the federal government had materially decreased its indebtedness.

Small business enterprises with low overhead expenses were the ones Dawes said seemed to be showing improvement, but he added that "in time, the larger ones must necessarily follow."

"The recovery in the depression will start from the bottom up, not from the top down," he said. "For the real evidence of reaction we must look to the mass attitudes of our people and not to the shifting opinions of certain sections of it.

"For instance, I would attribute much more importance to the increase of electric power consumption in the country during the last two weeks than to stock or bond quotations. It is the average man and the average man's business which is the main factor in the situation. His business in the aggregate is enormous."

In order for business to become profitable in many lines, Dawes said, only a moderate increase in prices was needed, since the forced economic and reduced inventories of the last year made the high prices of a few years ago no longer necessary.

LOS ANGELES, June 20.—(A.P.)—David Hutton, choir singer or husband of Almee Semple McPherson Hutton, evangelist, was called into court today to defend himself in 200,000-dollar breach of promise action brought by Myrtle Joan St. Pierre, nurse, the evangelist who "intends to stick by David through thick and thin," was unable to attend the court session because of illness. Stafford Caldwell's Change Of Front

Stafford Caldwell is not an issue in the present gubernatorial campaign. Whatever part he might have had in it was effectively settled by the people on June 7. Remarks made by him in Sanford Saturday morning regarding the press of Florida do, however, demand some consideration. He insists that certain Florida newspapers have unjustly criticized him, have refused to publish his propaganda, and have lied about him.

Florida libel laws should give Mr. Caldwell complete satisfaction if this last charge is true. Any information willfully published concerning any citizen of this country subjects a newspaper to prosecution and, if what Mr. Caldwell says of the newspapers is true, he has excellent grounds for damage suits. And if the newspapers entail the capital investment he charges, they would be good for whatever judgment might be awarded against them.

It is, however, an inalienable right of newspapers to accept or reject for publication whatever articles may be submitted to them and to criticize frankly and fully the public acts and conduct of persons in public life. Considering Mr. Caldwell's recent change of front in the gubernatorial campaign, it seems to us he has received more publicity than he deserved, and the criticism, however severe it may have been, was brought upon himself by himself.

The newspapers of Florida have not criticized Mr. Caldwell because he had convictions and dared to express them. They would rather praise him for this if they were honest convictions. Their censure of him is founded upon the two conflicting stories, one before the primary, the other after, which he has been telling the people of Florida, asking them to accept in the first his sincerity in charging that Martin was the chief offender in governmental extravagance and burdensome taxation, asking them to believe in the last that he is honest in supporting Martin now.

Before the primary Caldwell charged that a vote for Martin would be as good as a vote for Howey. After the primary Caldwell asks his followers to vote for Martin. Before the primary Caldwell accused Martin of dissipating the public's money and spending more than the three previous governors combined. After the primary he says that Martin's record is replete with progressive and constructive action. Before the primary Caldwell wrote Peter O. Knight appealing for support in his campaign for governor. After the primary he condemns Col. Knight as a selfish and unscrupulous despoiler of the common people and accuses Dave Sholtz of being the tool of the corporate interests because Col. Knight is supporting him.

Just what happened in Mr. Caldwell's life during those few days immediately following the first primary, we do not know, but we believe we share with a majority of Florida newspapers, as well as the thousands of former Caldwell supporters who have been turned against him, that something happened. Mr. Caldwell insists he was promised no political office for his support of John Martin. He does not say whether any other consideration was involved.

The Herald has no desire to add to Mr. Caldwell's humiliation. We believe his reputation is already complete. We simply want it understood that we join wholeheartedly with other Florida newspapers in condemning such political manipulations.

Bunker Hill

Last Friday was the 157th anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill, when an overwhelming force of well-trained European troops was stood off by a handful of American patriots, finally to be beaten back after their ammunition had given out. It was the first battle of the revolution, the locale for the coming of the expression "Don't shoot until you can see the whites of their eyes," and for the ignition of the spark which enflamed the colonists to press their efforts to break the ties with England.

The battle in itself was not so important. There were only 140 killed, 271 wounded, and 30 prisoners captured among the revolutionists, but it was significant in testing the mettle of the patriots, of revealing the fact that they were excellent marksmen and stubborn fighters and that they believed in their cause sufficiently to scrap to the last ditch. It was, indeed, the pointing finger which indicated the future history of this country, of its success for independence, of its development from a few states to a vast country extending between two oceans, of its weathering of internal strife and finally of its rise to the position of leading world power.

Such incidences as the Battle of Bunker Hill in the history of the United States, the forerunner of many illustrious battles and episodes in our growth should help dispel any feeling that an economic upheaval will destroy the government. Too many obstacles have been met and overcome in the past to allow the foundations to crumble. Like the leading countries of Europe, England, France, and Germany, there is tradition and intelligence enough in the United States to resist the knocking hand of discord, and like those countries which have been more sorely taxed than we, this country will sail through the troubled waters back into the calm before the radicals know what it's all about.

ELECT AMOS
Orlando Sentinel

This seems to be a bad year for the ins and a good year for the outs. However, we should take care not to clean house too thoroughly. Just because there have been some weak officials, this is no excuse for turning all of them out.

Under the Amos administration, as a Miami newspaper points out, with a boom, collapsing, and the state bank deposits decreasing from $501,000,000 to $54,000,000, with economic conditions in an up-ramp, with borrowers refusing to pay what they owed, and with banking laws that were obsolete, Amos has managed to collect for depositors a total of $31,000,000 in closed state banks.

Some people foolishly say: Why did Mr. Amos let the banks close? Why did he not warn the people? Suppose he had warned the people of weak banks, what would have happened? The answer is simple. The few banks that remained open and finally worked out of the murky quicksands into solid grounds would not be doing business today. Millions more would have been lost if Mr. Amos or any other state official had uttered one official word of warning which would have indicated weakness of any banking institution.

On the other hand Mr. Amos has devoted his time to the strengthening of banking laws so that depositors will be secured. His record of honesty and integrity, compared with an understanding of the banking situation is a consideration which the people should weigh.

Mr. Amos has handled over 100 millions of dollars and has not lost one cent for those who owned it. Does this not justify a continuance in office? If Amos was wrong, could this statement stand without challenge?

J. M. Lee, contesting for Mr. Amos' job, and getting the people excited by blaming Amos for the closing of banks, achieved much fame during his legislative career, a Miami paper recalls. It was he, charges the paper, who by filibustering for small counties, retarded the administration forces to seek the seven-cent gasoline tax on the motorists of Florida—a tax, by the way, used as a political slush fund, in that it gives those who pay in the most, the least.

That in itself should spell the election of Ernest Amos.

Big Throng Hears Dave Sholtz Speak In West Coast City

PENSACOLA, June 20.—Pensacola was duly informed that something was happening Saturday night when a parade through the business district of the city heralded the visit of Daytona Beach's Dave Sholtz. The procession was led by a military band, followed by the local reserve guard of honor.

More than 5,000 people had gathered at the plaza when the cavalcade reached that point, and as the gubernatorial candidate stepped to the platform he was greeted with an ovation that surpassed any demonstration of enthusiasm yet witnessed during the present campaign in Pensacola.

Sam Pasco, long a prominent resident of Escambia county, introduced the speaker. He stated that even as he spoke a copy of the birth certificate of Mr. Sholtz was being passed through the crowd. He declared that "if they had to go back to a man's birth to find something wrong with him then that is the man I am going to support."

Mr. Sholtz rose to speak, but it was several minutes before the din of applause, cheers, and the blare of automobile horns died down sufficiently for him to begin. Once they permitted him to speak he surged deep into the issues of the campaign declaring that his fight was for the common people of Florida, and that as governor he was going to Tallahassee to "fight the professional politicians until the last one is whipped."

He stated that he advocated the abolition of the state hotel, railroad, and shell fish commissions, workmen's compensation, econ-

Landis Rules Against Claims For Payment

TALLAHASSEE, June 20.—Attorney General Landis, by request, Ernest Amos that those newspapers of the state which published the general laws as passed by the legislature, are not entitled to more than $100 and that in his opinion all claims of those newspapers for additional sums up to $200 cannot legally be paid out of the state treasury. In view of this ruling, the comptroller will not pay the newspapers the additional $200 sought by each one of them.

The attorney general has again ruled that legally there were no extra sessions of the legislature last year, one session having merely followed the other by executive order, to complete unfinished business, the two special sessions being only continuations of the first.

Dog-Faced Baboon Presented To Zoo As Gift Of Woman

"Jerry," a dog-faced baboon, has been added to the Sanford Municipal Zoo, the gift of Mrs. H. E. Stephenson, of Maitland, who has had the interesting creature for nearly eight years.

The baboon belongs to that branch of the monkey family which lives among the rocks and not in trees. He was captured in the Himalayan Mountains of India, and is on display in a cage directly north of the cage in which the Komodo dragon is on exhibition.

Other new arrivals are six Tennessee chipmunks that have recently been donated to the zoo, and four baby coons born three weeks ago.

Since the Seminole Indians left their Everglades home, the palmetto huts they occupied have been removed to the zoo, where they make ideal shelters from a warm sun. One of the huts has been erected in the large bird run.

The South American python has this week shed its skin and shed it whole. The skin is being mounted and will be on display at the zoo.

Visitors at the zoo during the week were J. L. Ruble, and another member of the Orlando Junior Chamber of Commerce. They were here examining the local zoo and securing suggestions to be used by their organization in working out a zoo for that city.

Throng Listens To Martin In Downpour

PAHOKEE, Fla., June 20.—Standing in a downpour of rain a crowd of about 600 citizens heard John W. Martin speak in behalf of his gubernatorial candidacy.

The former governor stated that in such a critical time as this the people of Florida should select a man to lead the state government who is experienced and who can be depended upon to fulfill his promises. Martin stated that if elected governor he would cut down the high salaries paid to public officials and further, said that he feels positive he can cut the cost of state government by one-third.

He also picked to piece the platform of his opponent, Dave Sholtz, of Daytona Beach, and showed the people of Pahokee that it was impossible for Mr. Sholtz to carry out all the promises he has made to the people of Florida. Martin was frequently applauded throughout his speech.

"New Morals For Old" Is Coming To Milane

"Climbing microphones," panoramic color slides, and photographs of the unusual details which went into the filming of "New Morals For Old," story of the modern age of high speed and sex-freedom, which opens Tuesday at the Milane Theater for one day. This picture, which is a film version of the John Van Druten stage hit, "After All," brought a variety of novel problems to the technical department of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios. In one episode the microphone had to go up and down stairs while scenes were being played in transit by Robert Young, Margaret Perry, Lewis Stone, and Laura Hope Crews. It was done by having a sound technician, wearing padded shoes, go up and down the stairs just out of range of the mechanical camera-holder, with the microphone in his hands.

Preliminary Work Is Begun On Lake Road

From the offices of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce it was learned late this afternoon that workmen had this morning begun preliminary clearing of land along the proposed Lakeland boulevard, and that from now on the construction will be pushed to the limit.

A field office has been established at a point near the eastern boundary of the road in the vicinity of Lake Monroe. Only a small crew took the field this morning, but before the week is over approximately 50 men are scheduled to find employment grubbing weeds and cutting trees, digging ditches, and excavating muck that was pumped in several seasons ago.

Miscellaneous and stamp taxes will add $197,500,000 to the Nation's tax bill while increased postal revenue will bring in $100,000,000. Administrative changes and limitation on security losses account for the remainder of the $1,118,500,000.

Part of the levies do not become effective on Tuesday, including the increase in first class postage from two to three cents, which begins July 6; the second class postal rates on July 1; the tax on boats July 1; the increased income and corporation taxes, which are effective from last January 1; and the estate and gift taxes which were effective June 8 after 6 P. M.

Luxuries and articles and products not directly necessary to living bear the brunt of the new taxes beginning Tuesday. Those levied on the manufacturers of the articles are listed under the heading of manufacturers excise taxes.

In addition there are levies on telephone messages costing more than 50 cents. Admissions to places of entertainment also will be taxed, along with new rates on issues of bonds or capital stock, transfers of stock, transfers of bonds and conveyances of property.

Persons leasing safety deposit boxes will have to pay 10 percent more, the additional cost going to the government and every check calling for payment of money will bear a tax of two cents.

The increased rates were made necessary by a sharp decline in the government's income due to a falling off in all forms of present taxes.

Income levies which had been the base of the tax system declined 24 percent in 1931 and this year have fallen off nearly 50 percent more.

From a total of $3,400,000,000 in 1930 the taxes have decreased until for 11 months and 15 days of the present fiscal year they amount to only $330,170,323. In the same period of last year they totalled $1,611,167,000.

Customs receipts and miscellaneous taxes also declined and,

ADDRESS GIVEN SATURDAY FOR DAVID SHOLTZ

(Continued from Page One) in the marketing chain upon which growers of this state depend. What he does oppose in this connection are those truck operators who come into Florida from other states with huge trucks and trailers, bringing their own gasoline and sometimes their own meals. These are the truck men—Mr. Sholtz believes need regulating. Is it fair that you and I should pay a license on our small car and on gasoline while another person drives over our roads with huge machines tearing up the roads, and without paying a license."

The speaker said that Mr. Sholtz believes that "a lot of money is being wasted in the Game Commission's operation. He favors most of the duties of the state game wardens being turned over to local officers and to members of the large Inak Walton League in this state."

"Mr. Sholtz has very definite ideas about our school system," the speaker declared. "He favors a nine month term in every school, prompt payment of salaries to all teachers, and free school books. He believes he has a plan that will result in all three."

The development of the foreign market for Florida's citrus, the revision of banking laws so that every depositor will be protected; the creation of a workman's compensation act in Florida so that both employer and employee will be amply protected, and the creation of a state-wide board of men and women who will volunteer to act as advisors in child welfare work were among other matters the speaker declared Mr. Sholtz favored.

The speaker, asked the audience to note the difference between the two campaigns. "Our Dave has not said one unkind word since this campaign began," he said, "yet whisperings come to us from every side, whisperings that can have their inception in no other mind than that of a defeated candidate. Friends, one of the candidates is conducting a clean, high minded campaign, while the other has ascended to depths that are an insult to the intelligence of the voters of this state and the dignity of the high office."

Mr. Gold told how John Martin had come among Daytonans with the request that "you vote for Dave Sholtz on June 7 and then for me on June 20." He asked the audience to consider, how it is possible that on June 6 Dave Sholtz is a fine man and a credit to the state; on June 7 he is a good man who had a chance to gain a few votes; on June 8 he is making a splendid race, while on June 9 he is an unmitigated scoundrel and a fool of the interests."

Referring to Stafford Caldwell's recent remarks that Mr. Sholtz is a corporation lawyer, Mr. Gold asked if that were a crime, "especially so when Mr. Caldwell got his first legal training in the Florida East Coast Railroad law office. Any lawyer would take a fee from a corporation, good or bad, if he was employed as the corporation's attorney in any town."

"Before the first primary, old Staff went around this state telling the people that John spent more money in his administration than four previous governors did." Mr. Gold said, "but now we find him painting John as an angel, condoning his sins, and declaring that 'Our Dave' is a fool. Which of these arguments are you going to believe? I'm going to believe the first argument when I knew what Staff was after rather than the second argument when we don't know what he wants, or will get."

"Purification of politics is the greatest question of the day," he said "and that is what Dave stands for. We are not electing Dave on the faults of John Martin but on the virtues of Dave Sholtz. I'm too proud of my state to want to drag it through the slime the way John and his henchmen are doing. John Martin is a beaten man; he wouldn't try these tactics. I won't say anything about John because first he is my friend, second I don't believe in hitting a man when he's down, and third I know Dave and his character and what he stands for. I'm proud to rally to his cause along with thousands of other Floridians—Join with us."

As he neared the conclusion of his address, Mr. Gold declared that he did not wish his word alone to be considered as a reason for electing Mr. Sholtz. "Take the word of Daytonians who gave him nine out of every 10 votes cast in that city. In Duval, John's own

Rally For Sholtz Is Planned For Oviedo

The local campaign for Dave Sholtz will be brought to the attention of the voters of eastern Seminole county when at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night Sanford speakers will conduct a rally at Oviedo. A loud-speaker will carry the message of the campaign, up and down Oviedo's main street, and workers will pass through the crowd, advocating the election of the Daytonian.

From local Sholtz-for-governor headquarters came the news today that Mr. Sholtz will deliver a brief address in Sanford next Saturday forenoon at 1:30 o'clock. Plans are not completed for the reception of Mr. Sholtz. He will probably deliver his address from a platform erected near the Seminole county bank building.

county, he met John in the county and almost in John's own words. The answer is Sholtz's personality, honesty, and square dealing. If he thinks he can't do a thing he'll tell you and you'll understand why it can't be done. He can say 'no' to you and you'll love him for it. If he says he can do a thing, there's no stopping until that thing is done, little or big."

Mr. Gold was introduced to the audience by H. J. Lehman, president of the Seminole County Sholtz-for-governor club. Scores of persons crowded into the headquarters to congratulate Mr. Gold and to discuss with him various phases of the campaign and the reasons for their support.
