Sanford police crack down on prostitution

A number of persons were arrested by Sanford police on Jan. 29, during an undercover prostitution decoy operation at West Third Street and French Avenue. Although the crackdown on prostitution started in early January, individual arrest reports were only recently made public. The following were arrested for procuring for prostitution in the latest crackdown:

 Raymond Hale, 41, of Seminole Gardens, Sanford

 Ervin Edward, 46, of West 14th Street, Sanford Abdallah Assaf, 39, of Sanford Robert S. Havaien,

53, of Deltona Also arrested by police during the sting was a man who really wasn't looking for a prostitute. Carroll Huelon Young, 24, of DeBary, was arrested by Sanford police during the decoy operation, but reportedly asked the undercover operator if she wanted to smoke cannabis with him. He was arrested on a charge of possession of under 20 grams of marijuana.

The undercover prostitution decoy operation was a continuation of an earlier drive held on Jan. 14, in the same general area of the city, during which time four other persons were arrested on similar charges: Harold Keith Williams of Orange City, James Earl Terry of Sanford, Robert Lee Ferguson of Geneva, and Porfirio Hernandez-Serrano of Sanford.

Cigarette blamed in Altamonte Mall fire

From Staff Reports

More than 20 stores in the Altamonte Mall were evacuated Thursday at about 7 p.m., when a fire broke out.

Most of the stores on the west side of the mall were evacuated when smoke was carried through the mall's ventilation system and were closed for the night

None of the large department stores were damaged, although Phaze Clothing store on the first floor reported some water damage to merchandise in its back room. The evacuated stores were open once again for business Friday morning, See Mall, Page 10A said a spokesperson for the Altamonte Mall.

According to Seminole County Fire Department spokesman Alan Harris, the fire started at Barbara Nolan Market Research on the second floor. The business is located between Dillard's and Burdines in the northwestern side of the mall, and was reportedly closed at the time the fire started.

"We got called in with a fire alarm and then as we were responding to the scene people were calling in reporting smoke," Harris

Deputies arrest fleeing man from Clay County

By Nick Pflefauf Staff Writer

A Clay County man, who claims he was on a crackcocaine binge, spent time in the Seminole County Jail Tuesday and Wednesday, accused of robbery, aggravated fleeing and eluding, and possession of drug paraphernalia. Following a court appearance, it is expected he will be extradited back to Clay County.

The case began in Clay County Monday evening when 28-year-old Brian E. Middleburg, left with his girlfriend's 14-year old daughter, for a trip to a convenience store. They were in the girlfriend's stepfather's minivan. Fogarty and the daughter however, never returned and the 14-year-old was reported as a runaway.

At approximately 10 a.m.

Tuesday, Fogarty and the girl stopped at a convenience store in the 9700 block of U.S. Highway 17-92 in Fern Park. While Fogarty was filling gas in the minivan, the girl told the clerk that he was allegedly holding her against her will. The clerk locked the door and wouldn't let Fogarty into the store, then called the Seminole Sheriff's County Office. Fogarty immediately left the area in the minivan.

Deputies spotted him but he reportedly refused to stop, and fled from deputies and Winter Springs

He finally stopped and ran from the vehicle at Shangrila Lane and State Road 434 near Oviedo. He then ran into a wooded area where he evaded officers and K-9 units for over four hours.

CrimeLine sees increased activity from Sanford tipsters

SANFORD — Tipsters are helping lead Sanford police to criminals and more than ever before.

CrimeLine assists law enforcement agencies in Seminole, Orange, Brevard, Lake, Osceola and Sumter counties by processing tips on felony crimes and offering financial rewards and guaranteeing anonymity. In the past, the CrimeLine has been afterthought for Sanford police officers and the community, however, that trend is rapidly changing.

"In the past, CrimeLine averaged maybe only a half dozen tips in the Sanford area case what got the ball rolling (a year)," said Barbara Bergin, a detective for the program.

Sanford police Investigator Sean Arthur said he received more than six tips on one murder case that was solved last month. For three years, the murder of Milton Roundtree Jr., 21, was left unsolved.

Arthur along with other investigators from Sanford police and the Florida Department of Enforcement (FDLE) reopened the homicide at West Third Street as part of the cold case squad, and with the help of CrimeLine they were able to receive new information about the shooting.

"I can tell you on the last See CrimeLine, Page 9A was CrimeLine," he said.

In December of last year. Sanford authorities along with the parents of Roundtree passed out fliers about the murder encouraging area residents to report tips to CrimeLine. By the time January had passed, police had received enough new information that they were able to arrest two Sanford residents for the murder.

The increased volume of tipsters can be attributed to a lot of changes in CrimeLine in the past year, Bergin said. About a year and a half ago, the program was receiving

Iraqi Diary: Collecting photos of Saddam Hussein

Editor's note: Staff Sgt. Charlie C. Carlson III, son of Sanford historian Charlie C. Carlson II, is deployed in Baghdad as part of the 549th Military Police Company. He is providing the Herald with a journal of his experiences.

Later a very big boom shook the whole warehouse. They have been blowing up some police stations here again and are still planting IED's on the side of the road. While U.S troops are still in danger, the latest attacks seem to be against Iraqis and the Iraqi police.

I made a deal with an Iraqi named Salam to buy some collectable photographs of Saddam Hussein. It took coordinating with Salam to get these pictures. I would meet with him on a certain day and then he would give me a date to come back and he would have the photos. The photos are from several newspaper offices in Baghdad that documented Saddam's political social life. The photos never made it into the paper and were just left over. These are clear, black, and white glossy pictures about 11x8 and 5x8 in size. So far I have photo-

Oviedo police ask for help in supporting YMCA youth programs

The Oviedo Police Department is seeking community partners to support the Oviedo YMCA Youth Scholarship Fund for youth programs and activities.

According to information from the department, providing all of Oviedo's children with access to positive youth programs is a goal worthy of community support. However, not all families in Oviedo have the money to enroll their children in certain year-round or special summer youth activity

As a result, Oviedo police are seeking community partners — citizens, school groups, businesses, associations and organizations — to help support the current Oviedo YMCA Youth Scholarship Fund campaign. To encourage such partnerships, the Oviedo Police Department offers to match, dollar-for-dollar, up to a maximum total of $1,000 in donations written to the "Oviedo YMCA Youth Scholarship Fund" then submitted through the police depart-

Checks in any amount should be mailed or delivered in person to the Oviedo Police Department, 300 Alexandria Blvd., Oviedo, 32765, (Attention Public Information Office).

For more information about the Oviedo YMCA Youth Scholarship Fund, call the Oviedo YMCA Center for Health and Wellness at 407-359-3606. For questions about donations matched by the police department, call Commander Marc Beaulieu at 407-977-6155.

Consumer alert: Instant IRS refunds can be risky

As W-2 forms hit the mailboxes of millions of Floridians, state Chief Financial Officer Tom Gallagher is warning consumers to be wary of refund anticipation loans — loans that offer cash up front by borrowing against your anticipated tax refund from the Internal Revenue Service

"Money today may sound attractive but signing up for quick refund services can be very costly to consumers," Gallagher said. "Carefully consider the fees and interest rate associated with a refund anticipation loan."

Consumers may fall prey to refund anticipation loans with promises of "instant refunds" or "quick cash." Loan fees range from $30 to $105, with administrative fees between $25 and $60, often tacked onto the loan. The effective Annual Percentage Rates (APR) for these loans may start at 60 percent and be as high as 700 percent.

Refund anticipation loans are offered by tax preparers who are often located within the offices of check cashers, payday lenders, used car dealers and title loan lenders. The tax preparers serve as a conduit for state and national banks or federal thrifts that provide the loans.

The Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC) and the Office of Thrift Supervision (OTS) are regulatory agencies that govern the activities of national banks and federal savings associations. National banks and federal thrifts are able to assign interest rates and fees from any state they are authorized to do business in, including those states that do not have caps on the amount of interest and fees charged.

Refund anticipation loans are especially appealing to consumers who need money quickly and don't want to wait the six weeks it can take to get a mailed refund from the IRS. A pitfall, however, is that if the IRS turns down any of their claimed deductions or credits, the consumer is still obligated to pay back the loss.

According to Gallagher, there are alternatives to high-cost refund anticipation loans. The IRS E-File, found at www.irs.gov is one alternative. Taxpayers can use this free online tax preparation service to file their income tax returns and can anticipate receiving their refunds more quickly than if they filed through the mail.

Another way to save money at tax time is to go to a Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) site, sponsored by the IRS. VITA sites provide free tax preparations to low and moderate income taxpayers. They can be found in libraries, community centers and other convenient locations. AARP also spon-communities. For more information, consumers can call the Florida Department of Financial Services helpline at 1-800-342-2762.

Drug arrest

Joie Douglas Reed, Jr., 19, of Willow Avenue, Sanford, listed as a student at Seminole High School, was arrested by Sanford police Monday on the school grounds. After his vehicle was stopped, a K-9 drug-sniffing dog was called to the scene and reportedly discovered items in the vehicle, which proved to be marijuana. He was arrested on a charge of possession of marijuana with intent to sell, within 1,000 feet of a school.

Thefts

 Shirley Denise Barriner, 18, of Broadway Avenue, Sanford, was arrested by Sanford police Friday, Feb. 13, at a store in the 3600 block of Orlando Drive. She reportedly took $12 in merchandise from the store without paying. She was charged with petty shoplifting from a merchant.

Dominique Sharde Goodloe, 18, of Dominion Court, Sanford, was arrested by Sanford police Friday, Feb. 13, at a store in the 3600 block of Orlando Drive. Police said she took $5 in merchandise from the store without paying. She was charged with petty shoplifting from a merchant.

Battery

· James Edward Carter, Jr., 22, of Tinley Terrace, Sanford, was arrested by Sanford police Wednesday at his residence following a dispute with a female. He was charged with battery touch or strike (domestic).

 George Bunn, 43, of West Seminole Boulevard., Sanford, was arrested by Sanford police Wednesday at his residence where he reportedly attacked a female with a knife. He was arrested on charges of aggravated assault with a deadly weapon, and battery — touch or strike.

 Zenobia Hodges, 38, of West 14th Street, was arrested by Sanford police Wednesday at his residence following a dispute with a female. He was charged with battery touch or strike.

Police Blotter

 Robert Lynch, 57, and Brenda Lynch, 53, both of Plantation Lakes Circle. Sanford, were arrested by Sanford police Sunday, Feb. 15, near their residence, following a dispute with other persons in the parking lot. Both were charged with battery — causing bodily harm.

 Barbara Jacobs, 37, of Wynn Street, Sanford, was arrested by Sanford police Sunday, Feb. 15, following a dispute with another woman outside a bar in the 3800 block of Orlando Drive. She was charged with aggravated battery.

Traffic stops

· Maribeth Fritsch Doyle, 52, of Hansom Parkway, Sanford, was stopped by Sanford police Thursday on Coronado Concourse. She was charged with driving under the influence (DUI) of alcohol or drugs, and reckless driving.

 Anthony Wesley, 44, of West 23rd Street, Sanford, was stopped by Sanford police Friday, Feb. 13, at Third Street and Oleander in Sanford. He was charged with driving with a suspended license.

 John Doe was arrested by Sanford police Friday, Feb. 13, following a traffic stop on Hartwell Avenue, after he was seen running a stop sign. The driver reportedly held three drivers licenses each with different identities. His positive identification could not immediately be learned.

He was arrested as John Doe on charges of resisting an officer/obstructing without violence, giving false ID to a law enforcement officer, operating a motor vehicle without a valid drivers license and failure to heed a traffic control device.

Other arrests

 Michael William Hooker, 45, listed as homeless in Sanford, was arrested by Sanford police Wednesday. Officers found him in the street at Lake Mary Boulevard and U.S. Highway 17-92, soliciting for money. He was charged with public order crime obstructing a public street without a permit.

 Reymond Lamar Williams, 33 of Windsor Court, Sanford, was arrested by Sanford police Saturday, Feb. 14. Officers said he was standing near a residence possibly dealing in drugs. He reportedly ran when the officer approached him, but was stopped at West 12th Street and Jessamine Avenue. He was charged with resisting an officer without violence.

· Darryel Edward Hall, 37, of Geneva, and Mack Harry Lee, 56, of West 13th Street, Sanford, were arrested by Sanford police Friday Feb. 13, in the block of West 27th Street where officers found them in possession of alcoholic beverages outside a building. Each was arrested on a charge of violating a Sanford city ordinance on open containers.

 William Adam Boyd, 25, of Island Bay Circle, Sanford, was arrested by Sanford police Sunday when an officer found him apparently passed out behind the wheel of his vehicle in Towne Center Circle. He was charged with operating a motor vehicle without a drivers license.

 Sara Suzanne Bukowski, 22, of Brush Creek Drive, Sanford, was arrested by Sanford police Saturday, Feb. 14, following a vehicular crash at West 25th Street and Georgia Avenue. She was charged with driving with a suspended license, and violation of the right of way.

• Willie Lee Hays, 44, with no local address was arrested by Sanford police Monday at a store in the 500 block of West First Street. He had been previously removed from the premises for trespassing. He was arrested on a charge of trespassing in a structure.

The Buzz: Carey announces bid for District 5 seat

Businesswoman and longtime community leader, Brenda Carey, officially kicked off her campaign for Seminole County Commission District 5 on Monday with an announcement in Magnolia Square in downtown Sanford.

Carey is president and CEO of The Carey Company, a business development training and owner's representative firm. Her former career positions have included manager of business development for Turner Construction and partner/vice president of business development for Blount Sikes & Associates, a civil engineering and surveying firm. In addition, she is a licensed real estate broker.

In 2002, she filed to run for the District 5 Seminole County Commission seat when the incumbent Daryl McLain filed to run for the U.S. House of Representatives against then Speaker Tom-Feeney. The McLain later abandoned his desire to run for Congress.

"After twelve years, I believe it's time for a change," Carey said.

Carey is a board member and past Chairman of MetroPlan Orlando Citizens Advisory Committee, Central Florida's regional transportation planning organization. She also serves on the Seminole County Port Authority Board and the Central Florida Regional Hospital Board of Trustees.

Remembering Walt

Despite talk of selling, creator's dream was missing long ago

In the past few weeks, there has been much talk about the possibility that the Disney World facilities, including related business operations, may be sold. People have expressed concern that, if it is sold, it will lose some of its flavor, possibly be divided into separate entities, and even bring about the downfall of what Walt Disney created years ago. Some decision might be made during a March 3 shareholders' meeting, but right now, it's still in the discussion stage.

Should the facility be sold and subsequently divided, it may seem as though Walt's dreams will be shattered. As for me, I believe his dreams have already been crushed

I was on hand in that Winter Park theater the day in 1969 when Walt Disney held a news conference to announce he was going to build an entertainment complex on the boarders of Orange and Osceola counties. It was a great day, and I remember it well.

I was in the front row of the audience, representing WESH-TV. Next to me was a The Sanford Herald reporter. It turns out she was a cousin of Walt and hadn't seen him in years. After the press conference, he came down off the stage and sat with the two of us, discussing even further the plans he had.

He planned, first of all, to create EPCOT. The acronym stood for Experimental Prototype City of Tomorrow. He envisioned a plan similar to a daisy. It would circle about and be the street on which he would build many houses for employees. The houses would be fronted on a moving sidewalk which would provide transportation. Behind each group of houses in the cloverleaf pattern would be a neighborhood swimming pool, and a tennis court.

In the middle, he planned a high, large round building, in which business offices would be built in the upper floors. Below it, underground, he would have transportation roadways so that no large delivery trucks would have to drive near the residential areas. Even resident's vehicles would see parked underground, below the individual houses.

Following that, he said he wanted to build a theme park. His goal was to have it include the typical Disney entertainment features, but "would be affordable to the average citizen and visitor." (If you've recently paid to get in Disney World, you can draw your own conclusion about this.)

After Walt died, before construction got underway, his brother and others took over the operation and the theme park became the first to be built. (It opened Oct. 1, 1971.) Only later did EPCOT appear, and as most folks know, it was far from the residential and business facility Walt had wanted. The "C" in EPCOT became "community."

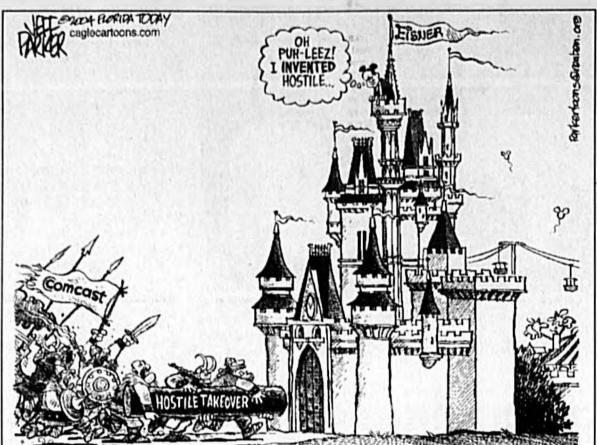

At that press conference, Walt handed out artists' conceptions of what he planned. Unfortunately, I no longer have them. But nowhere in them did he envision a wildlife sanctuary, cruise liner off the coast, the major sports complex, or the other parks that have sprung up. Certainly, the powers-that-be saw these concepts as profitable, being in conjunction with the Disney name, so I can't comment on these, other to wonder what Walt would say if he knew what went on after his death.

Without a doubt, Disney World is a moneymaker. It has provided thousands of jobs for Floridians as well as those who moved to Central Florida to find employment. It has aided in our economy to a great extent, and made this area known throughout the world. If the various entities, such as the cruise liner, MGM Studios, and other Disney holdings are divided among a number of owners, we may see problems looming in

If there is a sale or a take-over, we can only hope that more of Walt's dreams aren't shattered, and the Central Florida economy isn't ruined because of any financial problems with the companies who may take over. Regardless of the traffic it brings, I'm proud to live in the vicinity of the Mouse House, and I hope it doesn't change.

Reader identifies problems with farmers' market

To the editor:

Commissioner Carlton Henley comments, "I have seen relatively no use of it." It's quite possible that this may be because the Sanford Farmers' Market should have been named Flea World North. Other than the already existing produce store south of the new building the vendors would serve a need better down the road at Five Points than in this lovely new facility.

My wife and I went to opening day at the Sanford Farmers' Market for several reasons: 1. We routinely buy vegetables at the store next door; 2. We were excited about the prospect of more "fresh fruits and vegetables" (as your Weekend article reads) and; 3. We believe we should support new endeavors in Sanford. We found bagels and sweet roles. We found coffee from Apopka. We found decorative plants. We found worm urine. What we didn't find at the Farmers' Market was any evidence a farmer had been within a mile of the place or anything remotely resembling any type of market other than flea.

Secondly, many of us actually have jobs and, though I'm lucky enough to have one where I get every other Friday off, most can't go shopping on Friday. It would seem logical for the market to be open on Saturday.

We will continue to buy our vegetables at the market just south of the spiffy new building and, we may walk back over there occasionally, just to see if what is offered has improved. That is of course, when I happen to be off on a Friday.

Why President Bush must bash Kerry now

The 2004 presidential election may be decided in the next two months.

For three years, George W. Bush has sought to define himself by his accomplishments as president. Legion though they are, he has only achieved a stalemate: His job approval is only a breakeven 48 positive and 48 negative in the most recent Fox News poll.

Stalled in his effort to win re-election on his own merits, the president now must turn his attention to his opponent. The Battle of Bush is deadlocked. But the Battle of Kerry has only just begun.

John Kerry is now entering any candidate's period of maximum vulnerability: the time after he becomes well known among the voters, but before they have enough positive information on him to be resistant to negatives.

Before a candidate achieves wide name recognition, attacks against him don't matter much. Until the voters know who he is, they have no mental file in which to store negative news. The charges or accusations just wash away.

But once he becomes won't miss the chance.

Morris dans absorb and process anything about him that is floating around in the information ether. And the negatives (or positives) stick for the rest of his political career.

Kerry's gallantry during the Vietnam War has been permanently emblazoned on the public mind with the dramatic appearance of the soldier he rescued, under heavy fire. But so has his subsequent strong anti-war position. (Rumors of marital infidelity will leave their faint trace, but, without corroboration - and in the face of his denial - shouldn't amount to much.)

Bush can't let this definitional period pass without putting up black marks against the Massachusetts senator's record. And he won't miss the chance.

The battle to define Kerry comes when the Democrat known, voters develop must focus all his resources an intense on the remaining primaries. and under-His opponents lie wounded standable on the ground, but he has still won only a small procuriosity portion of the delegates he about needs to win the nominamight be tion. While his is busy with this task, Bush should - and their presilikely will - advertise nationally to sully the Kerry image.

In 1988, Bush's father could afford to wait until the summer nominating conventions to tell voters about Mike Dukakis. But, back then, the nominating battle was drawn out over half a year and it was premature for the opposing party to inject its own attacks on the frontrunner that early.

If Bush delays his ad blitz, the Democrat will wrap up the delegates he needs by early March and replenish his coffers. Presumably learning from Dukakis' failure and Clinton's success, Kerry will see the need to answer all negatives within hours of their launch.

Right now, Kerry can't answer in paid advertising, no matter how much he wants to. His resources are fully engaged with the primaries. But he'll soon be free for the combat.

Bush must strike now, while Kerry's planes are still on the ground or otherwise occupied.

Bush had two opportunities to avert a nail-biting finish in 2004, one in which he might not be as fortunate as he was in 2000. The first was to build up a level of job approval which would have made him unbeatable, Inaccurate predictions about weapons of mass destruction in Iraq and the ongoing drip-drip of American casualties have ruined that chance. But he can still win with a commanding margin if he turns Kerry into a Dukakis (instead of letting him become a Clinton). We'll know by spring if he has succeeded.

If Bush fails in this effort, we'll be in for a see-saw battle and another photo finish.

By Michael Reagan and Rep. Tom Tancredo

(Also signed by Bay Buchanan, Victor Davis Hanson, David Keene, Michelle Malkin, Rep. Dana Rohrabacher, Phyllis Schlafly, and Paul Weyrich)

The "Conservative Statement of Principles on Immigration" published on Feb. 6, 2004 contains many statements that are sensible and universally supported by conservatives. Regrettably, it also offers an equal number of arguments

Yes, America is a nation of immigrants, but blurring the distinction between those who came here legally and those who scoff at our laws is a serious error. Millions of newcomers who have played by the rules have earned our support and our respect; those who ignore or violate that are either misleading or

the rules deserve neither.

We agree wholeheartedly with the authors' support for policies designed to speed the assimilation of new arrivals. Ours is not a nation built on ethnic or religious homogeneity, but on shared

Reagan hill." It is a ••••••• magnificent vision which reaffirms deep American values. Yet it is unfortunate that the authors of the "Statement" did not read Reagan's words more carefully. Reagan said that "the doors" of this city must remain open. He did not say that people are welcome to bypass the doors and climb

the walls.

The authors argue correctly that conservatives support legal immigration and oppose illegal immigration. But they then appear to justify illegal immigration by saying that current immigration laws do not meet their own three-part test of a good law. By their reasoning, the problem lies not with those who violate our laws but with the laws themselves.

The indisputable truth is that our current immigration laws have never been ideals and a enforced.

9500 Border Patrol agents to effectively patrol over 5,000 miles of America's land borders, as only 3000 are on duty at any given moment.. In addition, we defy any of the authors to claim in good conscience that our laws against employment of illegal aliens have ever been seriously enforced.

No one expects a mere

The 1986 amnesty for over two million illegal aliens was predicated on the promise that afterwards, the laws would be enforced and the borders made more secure. That was never done.

Let's apply the authors' three-part test of "good law" to the president's new proposals. Does a new amnesty for eight to twelve million illegal aliens meet the test of common sense? No. Everyone with any common sense knows that it will only encourage a new wave of illegal aliens. In fact, it is already happening.

Does the President's proposal meet the test of fiscal responsibility? No. Validating and encouraging illegal entry into our country will only magnify our country's fiscal problems because all independent studies show that illegal aliens over the entire period of their stay in the United States are a net drain on our economy.

Does the president's proposal meet the test of "avoiding the loss of innocent human lives"? No. Numerous activist groups have already denounced the president's proposals as inadequate because they do not offer a guaranteed path to a Green Card and eventual citizenship. The president's plan will not halt this onslaught because border-crossers have figured out that we will not enforce our laws.

The problem with the catchy slogan "matching willing workers with willing employers" is multifold: There are at least one billion inhabitants of our planet that would like to come to America and take jobs now held by citizens and legal residents at lower wages. No matter what the immigration level allowed by law, additional millions will always wish to come as long as our laws are not being enforced.

The Way We Were: Chase wasn't the only thing going in 1934

After writing about Chase and Company's 50th anniversary in 1934, I turned to "Sanford As I Knew It," 1912-1935 by Peter Schaal to see what else was happening here in 1934. The following are some of the items I found.

- The President's Charity Birthday Ball was held on lan. 29 in the Mayfair Hotel's ballroom. More than 600 attended and it netted over $400 for polio relief. Several different talent acts were presented during the evening. Bettye Ball Brown and Ed Lane were co-producers of the show.
- Dr. Harry Woodruff became the city's newest dentist when he opened his office on Feb. 10. He had previously practiced in Leesburg.
- In February of 1934, First Raptist Church colebra ed its 50th anniversary, being only a few months older than Chase and Company.
- Dick Holtzclaw appeared on the Major Bowes Radio Hour in New York City, under Chase and Sanborn sponsorship. It was the most prominence any Sanford entertainer had ever attended. The local Western Union office was flooded with messages intended as votes for his performance.
- The dedication of the new bridge over Lake Monroe, west of the city, occurred on April 6. The city celebrated with a ball at the Mayfair Hotel, Mrs. W.A. Leffler, wife of the mayor, and Gov. Dave Sholtz led the grand march.
- In late May, the city decided to close down the lakefront zoo because it couldn't afford to pay for the animals' food. A fund was started to help remedy the situation with collection baskets all over town. Schaal watched as little Mack Cleveland Jr., Jack Woodruff and Muriel Knox dropped quarters in the box. The zoo was saved through the efforts of the citizens and children.
- The city took a major step on June 30 when it donated 20 acres of the old A.V. French property to the state for a proposed Farmers' Market. On Dec. 18, Nathan-Mayo, Florida Commissioner of Agriculture dedicated the new $80,000 complex. J.C. Michael was the market manager. Sherman Lloyd was the secretary.
- The Sanford Junior Chamber of Commerce was organized on Aug. 7 with Gordon Barnett as president, George Thurston as vice president, Max Steward, secretary, and Roy Mann, treasurer. Directors were Dubby Spencer, Roy Frank Symes and Andrew Carraway. Charter members included Wally Philips, W.A. Adams, Steve Shinholser, F.D. Scott, Volie Williams, Sr., Jimmy Wright, O.K. Goff, Clyde Ramsey, David McNab, L.P. Hagan, Jr., D.L. Harper, Joel Field, Babe McCall, Joe Meisch, Jr., and Peter Schaal.

ANGELA WILKES

Angela, "Angel" Wilkes, 21, attends the University of Florida. She is pursuing a degree in recreation, parks and tourism, specializing in event planning and hospitality management. She is also minoring in business administration. Her accomplishments include sailing around the world, writing articles for the DeLand Beacon and working at the Michael Jordan Flight School. She is a former Salutatorian for Deltona High School and a former Volusia County Junior Miss 2000. Her platform promotes the importance of mentoring today's youth, and she will perform a lyrical dance to the song "Via-Dolorosa."

Mobley celebrates 75 years

The family and friends of Freddie Mobley, Sr. gave him the surprise of a lifetime when they planned the celebration bash for his 75th birthday.

This blessed and joyous occasion was given for the man who is

Mobley, who gave the occasion, as a father whose family always comes first, a great role model, an amazing man, big hearted, and always available when you need

A man who has made a tremendous impact on not only his family but on the world.

Pastor Reverend Michael Price, the honoree's pastor, gave the prayer of celebrating the life of Freddie Mobley, Sr., an ardent member of the New Bethel A.M.E. Church of Sanford.

Tony Smith, Jr., grandson of the honoree dedicated two musical selections to Mobley, entitled, "Jesus Keep Me-Near the Cross" and "Make This Moment Sweet Again." Freddie Jr. spoke of his love for his father. Lisa with her lovely voice, sang the rendition "Amazing Grace." Lacy spoke of the life of his father, as he was growing up. A trumpet solo was dedicated to the honoree.

Mobley's children sang happy birthday to father and grandfather. Gifts were presented Mr. Mobley by family, friends and well-wishers. As the guest of honor enjoyed the afternoon, he was given a tribute from his RAFMAN members by George Jordan, president of the group of retired servicemen.

Sharing the evening of joy was Mobley's lovely wife, Lenora, seven of their nine children, Romona Ann Howard, Freddie Jr., Carol M. Gaines, Anita Smith of Orlando, Michael Mobley of Sanford, Lace Baker Mobley of Tampa and Lisa M. Walker of Deltona.

UPCOMING EVENTS

4-H members blaze a clover green trail of service

When it came time for the Geneva area 4-H "Country Club" to choose their service project for the year, it just so happened that a club mem-ber received a letter in the mail from Seminole County Natural Lands asking for people who were willing to volunteer time and effort to assist in maintaining the various proper-

The rest, as they say, is history. It's also an everyone-wins-feel-good kind of story.

The fairly new 4-H group, comprised of youth ages 8 to 15 from Geneva, Chuluota, Mims and Oviedo has formed a special working relationship with the staff at the county's natural lands department that has enhanced the service given with knowledge gained.

The Natural Lands Volunteer

Program Manager Amy Raub kicked off the year's project by inviting the club members to visit the Yarborough Nature Center at the Geneva Wilderness Area and attend a presentation about the organiza-See Stinecipner, Page 7A I tion and its many ongoing pro- loppers, buckets, shovels and trail segments at each of the three See Scoles, Page 7A grams. There, surrounded by the live native animals housed at the center, the young peolistened, learned, explored, inquired and even got to handle a snake before the evening was over.

have

Since then the members served Seminole County Natural Lands as a group acting as Land Stewards and individually working as Wilderness Watchers. Becoming Land Stewards involved making a commitment to Seminole County Natural Lands to provide a major work effort at three of the organization's wilderness areas during the year.

The "Country Club" chose to work at the Lake Proctor Wilderness Area in Geneva first.

Halloween, and armed with rakes, help continuously maintain several gloves, (and a "came-in-handy" first-aid kit) the energetic bunch spent several hours clearing the property's trails of encroaching growth and removing debris left by human visitors.

"We started out meticulously clearing every sprout," commented one group leader, "but when we saw the time and how much trail we had yet to cover, we focused more on larger growth and moved along a little faster."

The club managed to clean up a major portion of the area — a big help to the small staff at the natural lands department.

Each month at their regular meetings, the 4-H families sign up to hike a Seminole County Natural Lands trail individually and report to the program supervisor as to the condition of that trail, taking care of what improvements they can as they walk the designated path.

In this capacity, as Wilderness Rising early the day after Watchers, the members are able to wilderness areas they have "adopted" for the year.

"It's fun," Lindsey said, a new member of the group, "because you get to help the environment and ou get to see wildlife while you are hiking."

Other members agree that the service is more "fun" than work.

"Cleaning the trails fun,"Rebekah said, "and I am helping my community."

And as is often the case with outside projects, Donald adds, "This is more fun than cleaning the yard at

Some keep a sense of humor throughout the work, like Rachel who added, "Are we there yet? It's great except for the predators ... Oh! And the falling trees! How long is this trail anyway?"

Her brother Joshua chimed in, "There isn't anything too big that we can't clear — wait, I take that back!" Perhaps Joshua was referring to the size of some of the "air potatoes" near the Claude Herndon home at 605 Magnolia Avenue. Claude Jr. had been critically ill with a blood ailment that claimed his life on June 28.

Sanford doctors had, for years, suggested the closing of streets to traffic as a means of speeding the recovery of patients in nearby homes. Those erected in the Herndon illness were the last to be placed.

 A hot topic throughout the year was the proposed Homestead Exemption Amendment. The Sanford City Commission even joined many others in the state when it voted on Sept. 11 not to endorse it. The major reason given by those opposed was that it would cost millions in lost taxes. On Nov. 6, Seminole County voters voted 1,508 to 308 for the act. and it carried handily statewide.

· A large number of Sanfordites listened the night of Oct. 4, as Walter "Red" Barber, former Seminole High School football star, announced over WLW radio in Cincinnati for the first time. He had been called there after four years at WRUF, Gainesville. It was at WLW that his expressions, "pull your left ear" and "sitting in the cat-bird seat" spread over the nation.

· According to Schaal, one of the most despicable acts of all time in Sanford took place during the night of Oct. 16. when vandals destroyed $6,000 worth of celery

• Sanford's George Move made local history on Nov. 29 when he earned nomination to the 1934 All American Football Team. He achieved this distinction for his tremendous display during his senior year at the University of Florida. He chose an Army career and retired as a colonel on March 31, 1969.

• The Mayfair Hotel got a new lease on life on Dec. 8, when the City Commission leased it to W.E. Kirchhoff Jr. The property was leased to him for three years with an option to purchase for $15,000 at the end of the Recently, as the 4-H'ers began preparing for the upcoming Central Florida Fair (Feb. 26 to March 7), they decided that their club booth should represent their work with Seminole County Natural Lands.

Complete with a life-sized plywood hiker, natural scrub, photos and comments from club members, and an explanation of the undertaking - the booth, like the

Sanford church celebrates 60 years

Christ celebrated 60 years of ministering Feb. 1 to the community of Sanford.

Opening their doors for the first time in February 1944 in the Woman's Club House on Oak Avenue, the church subsequently grew and moved to their current location on Park Avenue in July 1961.

Since those first opening opportunities, the church has continued to focus on new ways to serve, new hope for the hurting, new aims to live like Jesus, new areas of love, new challenges to overcome with Christ, new blessings to share with our community, and new accomplishments for His Glory.

From 13 members to more than 160 each week, the Crisis Pregnancy Center in church's daily goal is still to "foster an environment in which all members will glorify

The Sanford Church of God by bringing 'the lost' to Jesus and nurturing them into a loving community of believ-

> To achieve this daily goal the Sanford Church of Christ has various ministries, such as an active youth program, involved in monthly Christian Youth Fellowships, camping retreats and the annual youth event SonQuest.

> The church offers special classes for ladies, such as Tuesday evening Bible studies, Wednesday Helping Hands service ministries and occasional special ladies day forums.

The church also supports ie children's home in Mt. Dora, the Central Florida Bible Camp in Eustis, the Accept Orlando and serve as the distribution center for the Food Source Program in Sanford, Additionally, they support a mission work in Jamaica and the Florida School of Preaching in Lakeland, supporting students through the school.

Serving the community of Sanford for the past 60 years, the church has developed an awareness of needs through-Central Consequently, Sanford was instrumental in the planting of the Deltona Church of Christ, the South Seminole Church of Christ in Orlando and currently the East Orange Church of Christ in Christmas.

Every effort has been to further fellowship and encouragement of the body of Christ in Sanford as well as Central Florida. For information concerning ministries of the Sanford Church of Christ, call the office at 407-322-7781 and/or log onto www.sanfordflchurchofchrist.org.

about 260 tips a month. "January alone we took 400 tips and it looks like we be over 400 for February," Bergin

The program has started to reach out more to the community with the addition of billboard and bus advertising about unsolved murders. The program is also working more. with law enforcement agen-

"We're just doing a better job at CrimeLine with educating the community and law enforcement," she said.

Santord officers recently received a training course on how the tip receiving program can help them, and they are now passing the information out to the community. In addition, for more violent crimes enhancing CrimeLine's typical $1,000 reward, and in the case of the Roundtree murder, the family and FDLE both pitched in to make a $4,000 incentive for tipsters.

"It'll generate more calls. I think it catches people's eye," said Bergin about the additional reward. "It does make a difference. It makes it worthwhile for people to make that call — to take that chance."

changes CrimeLine include noticeable differences at the call center. CrimeLine has always answered calls 24 hours a day, seven days a week, but now operators are better trained on asking questions that can be more beneficial to police investigators.

Operators keep tipsters identity anonymous by assigning them a number. Callers are then asked to call back about a status of a tip. If an arrest has been made they might be eligible for a reward or the investigator may have supplied follow-up questions to the operator.

"That's the only thing we ask is for them to call us back," Bergin said. "We're sort of the liaison between the investigator and tipster and that's what keeps them anonymous."

Rewards are paid through the state Crime Stoppers Trust Fund, which is replenished with a percentage of mandatory court fees. A board of directors review solved cases monthly and then determines the amount of the reward. CrimeLine pays out rewards of up to $1,000 for not only felony arrests, but for warrants being issued and guns and drugs that are taken off

"(We reward tipsters) for any felony evidence - a stolen car, stolen property so it doesn't always have to initiate an arrest," Bergin said. In the past, tipsters had to travel to Orlando to pick up their reward money at an undisclosed bank, but as of last week CrimeLine has set up a bank in Seminole County that will pay out rewards.

"What we've tried to do for our tipsters is make it easier," she said.

Sanford police are actively seeking tips that can lead them to an arrest for the Dec. 17, 2002, murder of Michael Edward Walker near the 1700 block of West 13th Street. The potential reward is $3,000. Anyone with information about this murder is encouraged to call CrimeLine at 800-423-TIPS.

Lakewatch seeks volunteers for monitoring program

From Staff Reports

Florida Lakewatch is looking for volunteers in Seminole County who are ready to roll up their sleeves, get their elbows wet, and make a valuable contribution to the future of Florida lakes. If you have a boat (almost any kind) and a couple of hours each month, you may be a candidate for the Florida Lakewatch volunteer lake monitoring program.

Florida

Regional Coordinator for Seminole County, David Watson, describes how the program works. "Florida Lakewatch trains volunteers · across the state to collect water and algae samples and water clarity information that can be used to document a lake's nutrient levels. Over time, baseline data are established, providing citizens and water managers with a useful tool for managing lakes."

"There are over 7,000 lakes Lakewatch in Florida that are used for fishing, water skiing, boating and other types of recreation," he said. "Becoming a Florida Lakewatch volunteer is one more way to enjoy your lake and learn more about it at the same time. This is a great opportunity for residents who are concerned about water quality in their area to become personally involved. All you need is a boat and access to a body of water to sample three openwater stations, once a month."

In return for their participation, volunteers receive training in monitoring procedures, sampling materials, annual reports of their monthly data, quarterly educational newsletters, access to aquatic sciences experts at the University of Florida, and invitations to regularly scheduled Florida Lakewatch activities.

Anyone interested in monitoring a lake in Seminole County should call, toll free, 800-525-3928.

head or some other vital area. This is the 10th round that has come through our roof. Another soldier was hit in the leg by a round that came down out of the sky as he was walking from the warehouse to the showers.

Now, we are suppose train a Field Artillery unit to become military police. They will serve as some of our replacements along with the ones that we escorted to Baghdad. Anyway, this Field Artillery unit is coming up from Kuwait and will get all our gear and MTOE equipment (tents, weapons platforms, and anything we take to the field or into combat). The army is having to train and convert other types of units into military police, which goes to show how shorthanded we are on military police. This is like a city government turning its water-meter readers into policemen. What next? Will one of the army bands be transformed into an artillery unit to replace the artillery that has been turned into military police? I've said it before. we are stretched so thin that we are "robbing Peter to pay Paul." Nothing in this war has made a lick of sense, starting with the exaggerations about nonexistent weapons of mass destruction that got us bogged down this mess.

Many new replacement units have been arriving in Baghdad as old units redeploy to the states, this transition will continue for another month or two. I compare it to a tag-team in a wrestling match, because this fight will go one for years to come. I still don't see any big time progress here, other than improvements in our living conditions. It seems like we go through a lull of nothing happening, then they hit again. In many ways, it is worse than when we first got here and the threat against Iraqis is certainly greater today than it was last summer. There are some token examples of positive changes but I think that will be all that will ever happen in this country.

We are doing evening distro runs to battalion, that means taking paperwork to headquarters and picking up paperwork to bring back of course that also means traveling the same roads we used to patrol.

15 Feb. 2004 All hell broke lose in Baghdad today. Two American convoys were hit by insurgents within a mile of each other. WE were making a distro run at the time to battalion but were not involved in any action. There were several other incidents and reports of snipers shooting at vehicles on the roads and reports of RPGs being fired at U.S. units. It looks like the insurgents are operating in organized units now instead of just one or two people setting up an IED or firing a mortar round. As long as they don't decide to drop a few mortar rounds on this place we will be okay.

Arrest

Meanwhile, back at the convenience store, the girl told officers of alleged crimes that occurred on the way down to Central Florida from Clay County. She said she observed a robbery, was with Fogarty when he stopped to buy drugs, was fondled by Fogarty, and was made to smoke crackcocaine. The girl was taken to the Seminole County Sheriff's Office for further questioning.

Just before 3 p.m. Tuesday, the search in Oviedo yielded results when two SWAT operators, who were doing a grid search of the wooded area, found Fogarty hiding under leaves and brush. He gave up without incident. A search of his person uncovered a smoking device with drug residue falling from it.

Fogarty was then taken to South Seminole Hospital in Longwood for medical clearance, then brought to the sheriff's office for questioning, and subsequently placed in custody at the jail.

At that point, he was accused in Seminole County, of aggravated fleeing and eluding, as well as possession of drug paraphernalia and driving with a suspended license.

Authorities in Bradford County have accused Fogarty of a robbery that happened sometime during the drive to Central Florida. It allegedly occurred at a convenience store in Bradford County. The Bradford County warrant was served and he was held on $25,000 bail for that case.

Previously, Fogarty had been in jail in Smyth County, Va., charged with violating probation and battery. He was released just this past Friday.

Brian Fogarty ditched this minivan at Shangrila Lane and State Road 434 near Oviedo and avoided police for more than four hours as he hid in the nearby woods.

Clay County is considering a false imprisonment charge, but the sheriff's office there says it wants to consult with the state attorney's office in that jurisdiction first. At this point, kidnapping cannot be proven, since the 14-year old girl was not taken by force, and had permission to be with Fogarty, to a point. The girl has since returned to her home.

Fire sprinklers went off in the business, but didn't put the entire fire out as firefighters came into extinguish smoldering embers.

"The sprinkler system definitely knocked it down and kept it down until we got there," Harris said.

Investigators reported Friday that the fire was thought to have started underneath a desk in the lobby area of Barbara Nolan Market Research by a lit cigarette. The fire was fueled by a stack of papers underneath the desk and then spread to desk furniture and cabinetry.

"Clearly we could say it was suspicious, but obviously it doesn't look like that just an accidentally placed cigarette," Harris said.

ideal for Sanford, he added, because they are able to "maintain a presence in some of the areas" officers in police cars couldn't reach.

Sanford police's pilot volunteer bike patrol will help augment the duties of the full-time officers, but the department has only one citizen committed to the program so far. Volunteers would be required to complete the department's five-week Citizens on Patrol (CoP) program, and then additional training with the Sanford bike patrol.

"Basically we're trying to get the word out to people that we're filling out a bike program," said Officer Mike Bernosky, community policing coordinator of the Sanford Police Department, "What we want to do is have CoPs needed," said Cleo Cohen, patrolling neighborhoods and Riverwalk."

The chief wants more than 100 volunteers," he added. "That's why we opened it up to a variety —(patrolling) in a car, bicycle, horse or clerical work." The next CoP program is scheduled to start in March, and the first volunteer to sign up for the bike program is eager to get started.

Barbara Foley of Sanford graduated from the police department CoP program in July 2002. She said she's looking forward to the start of the volunteer bike patrol because it will be good exercise. She currently does a variety of jobs for Sanford police including clerical work and patrolling.

"Barbara's great about coming and filling where she's Sanford police spokesperson. Foley recently returned from a cruise earlier this month where she visited Jamaica and did some mountain bike riding. "I'll try anything," she said. "I think that's what keeps you young." "You'd be surprised at how many adults ride," she added.

Foley said she might use her own bike on the volunteer bike squad. Bernosky said he anticipates most volunteer riders will want to use their own bikes, as they may be more comfortable with them.

The department is also looking at getting some bikes donated for the volunteer program. Interested volunteers and businesses wanting to donate bikes should call the Sanford Police Department at 407-323-

To show our support for the many quality charitable foundations in the area we have established an exceptional program to honor and provide support for their cause.

Our program is simple yet very effective. The Liberty Tax Office of Sanford will provide "Send A Friend" certificates to participating charities who may then distribute those certificates to there supporters. Every time a customer presents one of these certificates when they have their taxes done in our Sanford office we will contribute $20 to the charitable organization listed on their certificate and give the customer $20 off on the cost of their return.

The customer saves $20, the charitable organization receives $20, and Liberty Tax Service of Sanford is given the opportunity to demonstrate our sincere commitment to the community. This offer expires April 15th, 2004 and certificates cannot be used with any other coupon, advertisement, or certificate. Only one certificate per customer may be applied Liberty Tax Marketing Staff; Susan Persaud - Don Hoffman - Greg Fuller

SPEEDWORLD SETS OPEN PRACTICE

Drivers in need of a 'tuning session" or just wanting to brush up on their driving skills will be able to do just that over the next two weekends at Orlando Speedworld.

Open practice sessions are scheduled today (Saturday, February 21st) and next Saturday, February 28th. Times are from noon-to-5 p.m. each day and all types of race cars are welcome to prac-

Admission is $20 per car with three people per car getting into the pits for that $20 fee.

"We're coming out of the gates with a vengeance and not looking back starting in March, so we want everyone to have a good chance to be prepared for the opening of the season," says Track GM Dick Westfall.

Orlando Speedworld is located on State Road 50 in Bithlo, 17 miles east of Orlando at the 520 Cocoa Cutoff.

Orlando Speedworld opens the 2004 season on Saturday night, March 6th with the Re/MAX Realty Legends cars, Bandeleros, Hurricane Four Cylinders, Modified Lites and Thunder Roadsters on the card.

Friday night FASCAR stock car racing goes to post on March 12th.

College baseball returns to Sanford

By Dean Smith Sports Editor

SANFORD — In this day of retro coaches in pro sports, retro clothes and retro car designs it seems only fitting that Sanford return to the 1970's

Historic Sanford Memorial Stadium will be a lot like it was back in the heyday of Wes Rinker as several college baseball teams will play weeklong tournaments over the early part of March.

When Rinker and his Florida Baseball School took over the Stadium in 1975 and converted it from a football facility back into a baseball park, Rinker used to bring in eight to 10 teams a week for practice, instruction and games and to visit the theme parks.

Stadium to host two tournies, Youth Opening Day in March

But when the NCAA changed its rules about the number of games a team could play and about Division I schools playing D.II squads, the teams quit coming.

But now the colleges, mostly NAIA schools, are returning to Florida to get out of the cold and get in some muchneeded practice and the remodeled Stadium is a perfect place to play.

And it won't only be local fans and tourists that will be getting a boost from the college games as the City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department has arranged with two of the teams to be involved in the Opening Day Ceremonies for the 2004 youth Babe Ruth and Cal Ripken baseball and softball league on Saturday, March 6th.

From Monday, March 1st through Saturday, March 6th, and on Tuesday, March 9th, the Florida College Jamboree will be held with 10 teams taking part.

Of special interest to local fans will be Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University from Daytona Beach, featuring several local products including Seminole High and SCC graduate Uriah Kimmig, and the University of Maine, which has been to the College World Series on several occasions, playing one game each on Tuesday, March 2nd, and Tuesday, March 9th, respectively.

Most days will feature three nineinning games and the cost will be $5 for adults and $2 for children.

Sanford's Opening Day Ceremonies for Baseball and Girls Softball will begin at 9 a.m. Team sponsors and city officials will attend along with over 400 participants.

Following the ceremonies the young players will meet college baseball players from the University of Pennsylvania and West Virginia Wesleyan, who will be signing autographs, speaking with the youngsters and giving some instruction.

The two college teams will then See Baseball, Page 14A

Local girls teams win openers in playoffs

By Dean Smith Sports Editor

With the exception of one game, the opening round of the FHSAA Girls Basketball Playoffs Thursday night was barely more than a scrimmage for the winning teams.

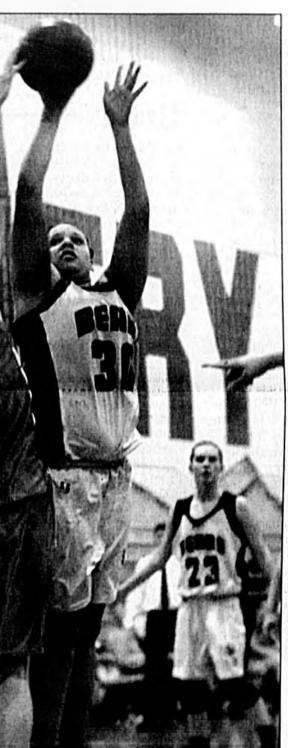

Two of those teams Oviedo and Trinity Prep, along with Father Lopez which has a pair of starters from Sanford, were blowout winners from Seminole County, while The Master's Academy and Orangewood Christian were on the other side of the beatings.

The only close game was in Gainesville, where Class 6A-District 2 runner-up Winter Springs had to go to overtime before knocking off host Buchholz (18-11), 62-61.

The game was a rollercoaster ride for the two teams as the Bears (19-9) led by as many as 10 and trailed by as many as eight.

The host Bearcats (18-11) had a chance to win the game in overtime, but Winter Springs forced a turnover with seven seconds remaining. Senior point guard Sara SANFORD — The Seminole Community College men's and women's basketball teams will play their final home games of the regular season tonight (Saturday) against Mid-Florida Conference rival Daytona Beach Community College.

The women of coach Lisa Nuxol have already qualified for the upcoming State Tournament and but need a win over the Falcons to win the season series and get a better draw at state.

The men of coach Stan Cromartie will be looking for a victory over the powerful Falcons to give them momentum heading into the Mid-Florida Conference Tournament, which begins on Monday.

Playing their final home games for the women will be Winter Springs' Missy Guadagnino and Lake Mary's Bryn Mosler, who is a redshirt freshman and could return next year, Nichole Bennett, Natalie Emmanuelli, Rosanna Davis and Marlana Spencer.

Rushawn Johnson will take center stage for the men as he is the only sophomore.

The women are set to begin at 5:30 p.m. with the men scheduled to tipoff at 7:30 p.m. of 20 minutes following the women's game. Admission is free.

Hudson starring for UCF

Special to the Herald

ORLANDO — Sophomore guard Celeste Hudson from Lyman High School tied the school record for most three-pointers in a game, poured in a 27 points and grabbed 10 rebounds as the UCF women's basketball team dropped Campbell, 68-63, in Atlantic Sun action at UCF Arena on Thursday night. It was the third double-double of Hudson's career and second in a as many games.

Despite Hudson's nine-point effort in the first half, the Golden Knights (10-12, 9-6 A-Sun) trailed 33-29 at the intermission. She tried to jump-start the team when she hit a three-pointer to start the second stantza and proceeded to score 10 points in the first eight minutes of the period. It was her successful foul shots at 14:45 that gave UCF its first lead since the 10:48 mark of the first.

Hudson's individual performance inspired the team's offense as the Golden Knights put together a 14-4 run. They took a 49-41 lead at 10:48 on a jumper by junior center Takira Allen, who also posted the third double-double of the season (fourth of her career) with 13 points and 10 boards.

Campbell (9-14, 7-9 A-Sun) stayed alive, though, gradually cutting away at the deficit until junior guard Kristin Vuckovich hit a career-high sixth three-pointer of the night with 2:39 remaining to knot the score at 59. She recorded a team-high 18 points. Nineteen seconds later, Hudson sank her seventh trey of the game putting UCF back on top and tying the school record, which was set by Kelli Ely in 1999 and matched by Lanetra Cooks in 2001.

The Lady Camels grabbed the lead (63-62) a final time at 1:16 on a basket by senior forward Kristal Troy, but UCF finished the game on a 6-0 run that included 4-for-8 shooting from the charity stripe. Last weekend, Allen had poured in 19 points and Hudson scored 10 points and added a game-high 10 rebounds to post her second collegiate double-double to lift the UCF women's basketball team to a 70-66 win over Troy State in Atlantic Sun action at Trojan Arena.

After being chosen to the 2003 Atlantic Sun All-Tournament Team, Hudson has shown that she is the real deal in her sophomore season. She headlines the UCF stat sheet with a team-high 12.4 points per game (heading into Thursday's game), an effort that also ranks ninth in the conference.

Hudson has led the team in scoring in 11 of 20 games and posted double figures on 14 different occasions.

She posted a career-high 28 points against Mercer on Jan. 10 and followed that with her first collegiate double-double, when she posted 18 points and grabbed 10 rebounds against Florida Atlantic on Jan. 13.

The Golden Knights host Gardner-Webb today (Saturday) at 2 p.m. before returning to the road with a Feb. 25 matchup with Mercer. UCF MEN ROLL TO 20TH WIN

UCF (20-4, 15-2), behind 17 points from Dexter Lyons, won its fourth consecutive game and reached the 20-win plateau for the second consecutive season defeating Mercer (19-16, 7-10), 83-58, at University Center Thursday evening. The win enables to the Golden Knights to keep pace with Troy State atop the Atlantic Sun standings.

Last Saturday at home, Lyons and Morentin combined for 40 points as UCF ended Stetson's (11-12, 9-8) four-game winning streak defeating the Hatters, 74-54, at UCF Arena.

Lyons led a trio of players in double figures hitting 8-of-10 shots from the floor and finishing with 23 points. Morentin, who hit 7-of-8 shots from the field, finished with 17 points, while Josh Bodden rounded out the group with 10.

"I give UCF a lot of credit," Stetson head coach Derek Waugh said. "They did a nice job of taking us out of what we wanted to do offensively, and they made some nice adjustments offensively as well."

E.J. Gordon led the Hatters with 12 points on just 4-of-16 shooting from the floor.

The Golden Knights will head to Atlanta to play their final regular season road game when they take on Georgia State today (Saturday) at 2 p.m. UCF will close out the regular season at home hosting Gardner-Webb on Thursday, Feb. 26 and Campbell on Saturday, Feb. 28. Both games will tip off at 7:30 p.m. All the action can be heard on the UCF ISP Sports Network AM-740 The Team with Marc Daniels calling the action. MORENTIN RECEIVES ACADEMIC HONOR

UCF men's basketball player Roberto Morentin has been named to the CoSIDA Academic All-America Men's Basketball District III Team.

Morentin, a Business Management major, garners the award for the first time and joins Marvin Lewis (Georgia Tech), Adam Hess (William & Mary), John Chappell (South Carolina) and Will Emerson (Mercer) on the five-player team.

Morentin is currently second in scoring for the Golden Knights averaging 14 points and leads the team grabbing 6.8 rebounds a game. The 6-9, senior has started 54 of 55 games so far in his UCF career and has also notched three career double-doubles. The native of Valladolid, Spain has also captured Atlantic Sun All-Academic Team honors during his time at UCE.

In order to be nominated for Academic All-District and All-America honors, a player must be a starter or important reserve, must have a 3.20 cumulative grade-point average and must have completed at least one full academic year at his institution.

BIG WEEK FOR LAKE MARY COLLEGIANS

This past week has proved to be a very good one for several present and past Lake Mary residents.

Stetson University senior catcher Chris Westervelt, who played at Lake Mary High as a freshman before moving to Arkansas, was been named the Atlantic Sun Conference Player of the Week, the league office announced Monday.

Westervelt batted .636 (7for-11) and slugged 1.273 last week as Stetson won two of three games against VMI. On Friday, Westervelt went 3-for-3 with a pair of runs as Stetson won 4-1. In game one of Sunday's doubleheader, the Hatter senior went 3-for-6 with a double and a home run. In game two, Westervelt hit his second home run of the day and later scored the game-winning run in the bottom of the ninth in Stetson's 8-7 come-from-behind win. It was his sixth run scored in the three-game series. He also reached base safely in 11 of his 15 plate appearances (.733 on-base percentage) for the week.

With his two home runs Sunday, Westervelt moved into a tie for 10th-place alltime in school history with 26 career home runs.

An E-Business Technology major, Westervelt earned his second conference player of the week honor. His first came during the 2002 season.

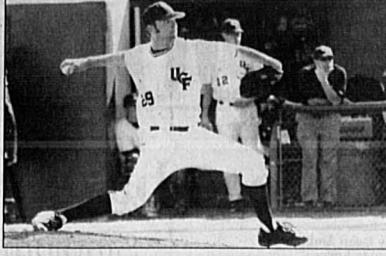

Stetson (2-1) was to have hosted St. Joseph's in a three-game series beginning Friday.

But there was even more of a buzz at UCF as No. 2 ranked LSU and former Lake Mary star Matt Horwath paid a visit. Playing shortstop in all three games, Horwath was 2-for-3 with his first home run, scored two runs and drove in two while batting leadoff in a 17-4 victory on Saturday. Twins Kyle (above, left) and Ryan (above, right) Bono, former Rams teammates with Horwath, had big weekends for the Golden Knights as Ryan went 2-for-4 in a 4-3, 10-inning loss to the Tigers on Friday, and came back with another 2-for-4 effort, including his first double, and scored a run in UCF's 6-5, 10-inning win on Sunday. Kyle, meanwhile, threw a perfect inning with two strike outs in relief on Friday, and then struck out a career-high seven in his first career start on Sunday, but did not figure in the decision. Another Lake Mary resident, Drew Butera, went 2-for-5 with a double and a run scored on Sunday for the Golden Knights.

Butera then went 3-for-5 with a pair of RBI to lead the Golden Knights to a 9-4 victory at Bethune-Cookman (0-7) Tuesday evening in Daytona Beach. UCF set season-highs in runs (9), stolen bases (5) and tied a season-high in hits (11) in the win.

Ryan Bono drilled a twoout, RBI-single down the left field line in the top of the sixth inning to extend the lead to 9-4.

The Golden Knights will send Matt Fox, Kyle Bono and Jaime Douglas to the hill this weekend when they host Utah at Bergman Field.

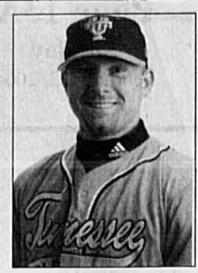

Bono made a smooth transition from closer to starter last weekend vs. #2 LSU. The sophomore right-hander tossed 5.0 innings and fanned seven in Sunday's start. The Lake Mary native allowed just two earned runs in the no-decision. For the season, Bono is 0-0 with a 2.00 ERA in 9.0 innings. He is second on the team with 12 strike-outs and opponents are batting just .129 against him.

Four Golden Knights currently are batting above the .300 mark six games into the

Ryan Bono leads the team with a .368 batting average.
The Lake Mary product also leads the team with a .500 on-base percentage. Bono is hitting .462 (6-for-13) vs. right-handed pitchers in 2004.

Butera, the co-starter behind the plate along with Bono, is second on the club

Photos courteey of Stetson University, University of Tennessee and Bill Richardson, UCF Athletics Association, Inc.

The start of the college baseball season has proven to be quite fruitful for several former and present Lake Mary residents. Stetson's Chris Westervelt (far left) was named the Atlantic Sun Conference Player of the Week, twins Kyle and Ryan Bono (top and bottom left, respectively) had major hands in helping UCF get off to a 4-2 start and Chad Legate (above) is starting and playing well for the University of Tennessee.

with a .320 average and is tied for the team lead with a .444 (4-for-9) average with runners in scoring position.

And also this past weekend, Lake Mary junior outfielder Chad LeGate had a hit and three RBI for the University of Tennessee against Morehead State University. The Volunteers are in Miami to play a three-game series with the University of Miami Hurricanes this weekend.

SAILING IN SANFORD

"With your rail in the water and everyone hiked out on the high side in neck to neck competition, it's easy to see how we get hooked - it's a huge adrenaline rush," says Willie Blevins regarding his favorite sport - sailboat racing.

Willie and his wife, Denise, own the FUN Maritime Academy on Lake Monroe, and are dedicated to educating the public about this great family sport. And to prove it, they are hosting the Catalina 22 Mid-Winter Regatta February 19th through the 22nd.

"We really want to see this lake bursting with activity. So we're doing everything we can to get more sailors on the lake. We've created the Boating Club for those people who want to sail, but don't have their own boat, and we also give Sailing Instruction," says Denise.

The Regatta will draw 20-30 sailboats, many from out of state, and begins at 3 p.m. Thursday, February 19th with a rigging party on the ramp. Races are held Friday through Sunday with an awards presentation Sunday at 2 p.m.

This is the first time the Catalina Mid-Winters have been held in Sanford. And the new Sanford Riverwalk is scheduled to be complete in February, giving spectators a great vantage point to view the races.

Spectator boats are cautioned to stay clear of the race course and maintain a safe distance from participating boats. And spectators are welcome to watch from the beach at the mari-

The FUN Maritime Academy is the first business to open its doors as part of the Riverwalk. Their services include beginning and advanced sailing lessons, sailboat, pontoon boat and skiff rentals, and a boating club where members pay a flat monthly fee and have access to the fleet of sailboats.

ST. JOHNS RIVER WATER MANAGEMENT DISTRICT

GIVES WRITTEN NOTICE OF INTENDED DISTRICT DECISION

The District gives notice of its intent to issue a permit to the follow ing applicant(s) on March 9, 2004: Centex Homes, 385 Douglas Ave., Suite 1000, Altamonte Springs FL 32714, application #4-117-89445-2. The project is located in Seminole County, Section 06, Township 21 South, Range 30 East. The ERP application is for construction of a surface water management system for a 159.46-acre, mixed-use development known as Legacy Park. The receiving waterbodies are Gee Creek and Little days, 8.00 a.m. to 5.00 p.m. at the St. Johns River Water Management District Headquarters or the appropriate Service Center. The District will take action on each permit application listed above unless a petition for an administrative proceeding (hearing) is filed pursuant to the provisions of Sections 120,569 and 120,57 Florida Statutes Chapter 28-106 and 40C-1,1007, Florida Administrative Code (F.A.C.) A person whose substantial interests are affected by any of the District's proposed permitting decisions identified above may petition for administrative hearing in accordance with Sections 120,569 and 120.57, F.S., or all parties may reach a written agreement on mediation as an alternative remedy under Section 120.573, F.S. Choosing mediation will not adversely affect the right to a hearing if mediation does not result in a settlement. The procedures for pursuing mediation are set forth in Section 120.573, F.S., and Rules 28-106.111 and 26-106-401-405, F.A.C. Petitions must comply with the requirements

The files(s) containing each of the above-listed application(s) are available for inspection Monday through Friday except for legal holi-of Florida Administrative Code, Chapter 28-106 and be filed with (received by) the District Clerk, located at District Headquarters, 4049 Reid Street, Palatka, Florida 32177. Petitions for administrative hearing on the above application(s) must be filed within twenty-one (21) days of publication of this notice of within twenty-six (26) days of the District depositing this notice of intent in the mail for those persons to whom the District mails actual notice. Failure to file a petition within this time period shall constitute a waiver of any right such person may have to request an adminis trative determination (hearing) under Sections 120,569 and 120,57.

Because the administrative hearing process is designed to formu late final agency action, the filing of a petition means that the District's final action may be different from the position taken by it in this notice of intent. Parsons whose substantial interests will be affected by any such final decision of the District on the application have the right to become a party to the proceeding, in accordance with the require-

F.S., concerning the subject permit application. Petitions which are not filed in accordance with the above provisions are subject to dis-

Sanford airport inks several new flights

Orlando Sanford International Airport has announced several additional flights. One is the start of non-stop service to Oklahoma City on TransMeridian Airlines, with continuing same plane service to Las Vegas. Flights will operate every Wednesday and Saturday, using a Boeing 727-200 aircraft with ten first class seats and 154 coach seats.

Service from Oklahoma City to Sanford departs at 6:55 a.m. and arrives at 10:35 a.m. Flights depart Sanford at 12:05 p.m. and arrived in Oklahoma city at 1:55 p.m. Reservations may be made online at www.IFlyTMA.com or toll-free by calling 1-866-IFlyTMA.

Tuesday, travel agents held a celebration for the return of Vacation Express' Caribbean Hub Program to the airport in Sanford. The flights have been arranged under a seven year agreement. The operation will return on April 23, and offer flight service to Atlanta, Cincinnati, Baltimore, Charlotte, Louisville, Nashville, Aruba, Cancun, Liberia-Costa Rica and Punta Cana and Puerto Plata in the Dominican Republic.

Aircraft used will be 148 seat 737 aircraft, with flights operating every Friday, Saturday and Monday.

Reservations may be made online at www.VacationExpress.co m, or toll-free at 1-866-FUN-2-SUN.

"Adding another penny to the gas tax with gas being $1.67 (a gallon) and people being laid off and out of work I don't think is something this board will buy into right away," said County Commissioner Carlton Henley. "It's got to be picked up locally or the services will be diminished."

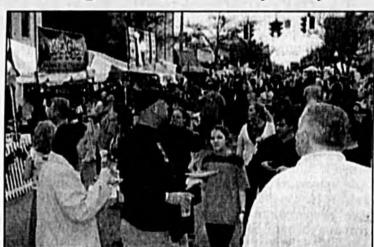

With rising transportation costs and funding cuts made at the state, Seminole County has asked the cities to help fund the Lynx service. Some cities such as Sanford and Oviedo pay for a portion of the bus routes that run through their municipalities, but that has not been enough in past years as mass transportation costs have increased while gas tax revenues have been

Iraqi Diary: Soldiers disciplined for sexual escapades

Editor's note: Staff Sgt. Charlie C. Carlson III, son of Sanford historian Charlie C. Carlson II, is deployed in Baghdad as part of the 549th Military Police Company. He is providing the Herald with a journal of his experiences.

17 Feb. 2004 I sent two teams out today to escort some finance personnel to Camp Marlboro. I did not to go because a mission like that is a team leader level mission. I had one team that remained behind to take the 1st Sergeant to battalion.

I then sent Garza over to picked up some cases of water with the Humvee. I told everyone else to help her, but when I went over to the warehouse where they have the water, I found Garza there by herself. I told her to wait and I would find out where the rest were at. I found them in a room playing video games. I opened the door and caught them red-handed. Instead of just having a couple of soldiers helping with the water, I had 10. We got the day, and I found out that our unit will not return to Iraq until January 2004. At that time the tour will be for 15 months, but please keep in mind, this is the last war for me. I'm tired of being suckered into these wars. One NCO in the meeting mentioned that we need to pull the U.S. out of Iraq and SSG McDavid said "Not until the U.S. Government gets the oil." Now if this was being screened by the PIO, (Public Information Office) you wouldn't hear such comments.

Here's some juicy stuff that you probably won't see in the news. Article-15s have been flying around here like crazy. (An article 15 is a nonjudicial form of punishment usually resulting in a fine). Most have been for sexual escapades and fraternization between ranks. I was the
