Russians Claim Planes In Right In Shooting Event

By WARREN ROBERTS JR. WASHINGTON.—Russia has countered an American protest over the latest cold war aerial incident with a declaration of absolute innocence, but U. S. officials indicate the Soviets haven't heard the last of the matter.

Moscow countered with a claim that its planes were in the right. But the original U. S. note had promised that the Kremlin would bear more from Washington after investigation established all the facts.

The United States fired a stiff protest to Moscow, saying it expects the Kremlin "to make all such moral and material reparations as lies within its power."

Lodge was speaking to the U. S. Security Council, before which he laid out Sept. 10 a full report on the shooting down by Soviet aircraft of a U. S. Navy weather reconnaissance plane over the Sea of Japan Sept. 1.

CROP Food Appeal For World Relief

ELKHART, Indiana.—A stepped-up food appeal by CROP to the farmers and churchmen of America will reflect the greater role the churches will play in international relief in 1952.

CROP, the Christian Rural Overseas Program, is now in the midst of the 1952 canvassing season. Reports show increased spontaneous response to the need for voluntary areas of Greece, North Africa, Indo-China, East Pakistan, India and Korea.

All of these countries have suffered loss of life and property in earthquakes, floods and wars in all of them great masses of people are on the verge of starvation and can survive only with outside help.

Southern Governors To Meet Thursday

MOCA RATON.—Southern states, divided as they are on their approach to the explosive school segregation issue, may find a common ground approach to the problem at the annual Southern Governors' Conference opening here Thursday.

The conference meeting date falls less than a month from the time the U. S. Supreme Court opens arguments Dec. 6 on how and when it should order into effect its May 17 edict that segregated public schools must end.

There's no mention of segregation matters as such on the official conference program, but there's little doubt the subject will be one of the most lively to come up.

Moisture Needed To Plant Seedlings

TALLAHASSEE.—State Forester C. H. Coulter cautioned all landowners to be sure of sufficient soil moisture before planting any of this season's pine seedlings.

"Due to the extreme dryness in many parts of the state," Coulter said, "it would be risky to plant at the present time, even though the stock is generally hardened up with the current cool weather and ready to plant."

Coulter added that each landowner should test his land for moisture content before requesting delivery on his seedling order. A simple test for soil wetness is to see if the soil below the surface will ball up and not run through the fingers when picked up.

The United States uses about 50 per cent of the timber harvested in the world.

How Gulf's new super-refined gasoline delivers thousands of extra miles of full engine power

Here's proof: This spark plug is from one of the many sets of original equipment plugs used in Gulf test fleet cars. Though spark plugs normally need cleaning or replacement after 5,000 to 10,000 miles, this plug and its mates did not need cleaning or replacement in over 15,000 miles of city and country driving with Super-Refined NO-NOX Gasoline.

Jaycees Will Handle Bookings For Appearances Of Santa Here

NORTH POLE (Special to The Sanford Herald)—In an exclusive interview with a Herald reporter Santa Claus said this morning that he has turned over all scheduling of his public appearances in Sanford this season to the Seminole Jaycees.

"We are extremely proud of this invitation and will do all we can to help the good St. Nick see all the folks possible," Herbert Rolter, president of the Jaycees, remarked.

The local civic club took immediate steps to make the Jaycee information booth Santa's clearing house. Telephoning has been designated the means by which organizations may arrange a Santa appearance. Mrs. Arla Jane Lundquist, Jaycee secretary, will handle bookings.

Statement Prepared—President Rolter prepared a statement to send out to the clubs, churches, groups and organizations that usually visit Santa to appear before them.

"I know that every year you have been worried for fear good old St. Nick might have a previous engagement just when you want him for your kiddies. Sometimes he has been in such a rush to get from one party to another that he's flown by, and you've been left with the condition of his suit."

Will Look Next—"This year, because we are going to shoulder his schedule work for him, he will be able to have his clothes pressed, his hair combed and just generally make a good appearance everywhere to please parents and children alike."

Hearing the news, W. B. Phillips, president of the Merchants Association, said, "I'm delighted to know that we won't have to worry this year about helping people find Santa."

Mr. Rolter also said that the Jaycees have scheduled the good St. Nick to appear daily on downtown sidewalks from Dec. 15 to Dec. 24.

Santa hinted he might even find time to drop in on some private homes for parties. He should be informed of these parties through the Jaycees by calls between 9 a. m. and 6 p. m. on weekdays and on Saturdays, from 9 a. m. until noon.

Reception Planned For New Minister—Members of the First Christian church will hold a reception to-morrow evening between 7:30 p. m. and 9:30 p. m. at the parsonage, honoring the Rev. H. Eugene Johnson and his wife.

All friends of the church and the public are cordially invited.

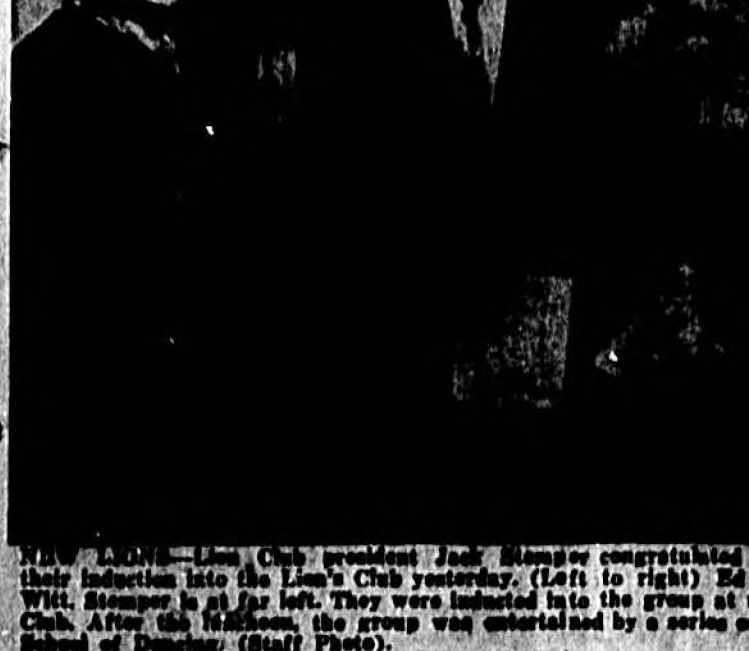

STEVENS SAYS DEMOS WILL BACK PROGRAM—EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—A Democratic Congress will help carry out President Eisenhower's program to build a strong defense, Secretary of the Army Robert Stevens says.

"Democratic control of Congress will not make a bit of difference as far as the Army is concerned," Stevens told newsmen yesterday.

"Under Ike's leadership our military program will be carried out."

Dance Here To Mark First Veterans Day Legion Sponsoring Affair Tomorrow To Gather Funds For New Building

The Campbell-Losine post of the American Legion is promoting a fair building fund on Veterans Day, tomorrow, with a dance at the National Guard Armory from 9:30 p. m. until midnight.

Proceeds from the dance, according to Joel Felles, post spokesman, will go toward the "biggest project this post has ever undertaken—the new fair building to be built on the Legion fair grounds."

The spokesman continued that "every citizen is requested to buy a ticket to this dance, and whether he attends or not, he will have the satisfaction of doing his bit toward a community project."

"This building, when completed," he said, "will be the pride and joy of every man, woman and child in Seminole County, for then we will be in a position to have exhibits and displays from all over the state and nation that will not only thrill but educate all our people, both white and Negro."

"It will be available to any local organization, except during fair week, for all worthwhile purposes, and will not be used exclusively by the Legion for a club house or otherwise," he pointed out.

"The proposed buildings," he continued, "will be of all metal, rigid construction with a solid concrete floor, and will be fireproof, theftproof and weatherproof. It will be 100 feet long, 30 feet wide and will have sidewalks 14 feet high. This will be the first of a series of buildings that will eventually enable the Seminole County fair to be comparable with the fairs held in much larger counties such as Polk, Lake, Volusia and Orange."

Speaks Of Holiday Tomorrow—Speaking of the holiday tomorrow, Felles explained, "By an act of Congress, Armistice Day has been changed to Veterans Day and Thursday, Nov. 11, will be the first celebration of Veterans Day."

"The original Armistice Day, Nov. 11, 1918, celebrated the end of hostilities of World War I, but now as there are millions of World War II veterans who were first released on Veterans Day, Nov. 11, the name, Veterans Day, will be observed by veterans of all past and future wars."

"Twenty-one million war veterans will be honored tomorrow by the citizens of the nation for the service they rendered their country to preserve our heritage of freedom and the American way of life. Each and every one of us should honor them by making their statement on the anniversary of the task of promoting an enduring peace so that their efforts shall not have been in vain."

Five Groveland Members were present at the inter-club meeting, led by their president-elect, Will Carlsson.

Harvey Hale, formerly of Kiwanis, the new manager of the A&P supermarket on Magnolia Ave., was welcomed into the club.

Miami Beach Bank Robbed Of $25,158

MIAMI BEACH (AP)—A nervous gunman snatched $25,158 in cash from the Miami Beach Federal Savings and Loan Assn. branch here today and escaped with $25,158 in cash after threatening to blow up the place if he met with interference.

The robber, a stocky, middle-aged man wearing green sunglasses, herded the employees into a vault before leaving and ordered them to count to 600 before coming out.

"We had counted out loud to 150 when a woman customer came in the front door," Manager Robert W. Swick said. "That gave us the time that the robber was gone."

The Miami Beach police sent out 20 patrol cars and motorcycles and blocked off all three causeways which exit from this island city in an effort to trap the robber.

Swick said the gunman strode confidently into the association offices at 9:40 a. m., walked to Swick's desk and handed him a note. It contained a threat to blow up the place, but the exact contents were withheld by FBI agents.

"Before I could finish reading the note," Swick said, "the man pulled a gun from a brown briefcase and said he wanted all the money in the place."

Proceeding Swick asked of him with the pistol, the band of three teachers' windows and ordered them to put the money into the briefcase.

As the story went, the psychiatrist said that he believed that because Dr. Sheppard was a tall and husky person and had been overpowered by the killer, the man responsible for the crime also must be tall.

Hoak said he suggested that the brothers might take a look at a man who worked in the general area of the Sheppard home and more or less fitted the original description of the killer as supplied by Dr. Sheppard.

Prosecutor John J. Mahon, who had been questioning Hoak, then went ahead with interrogation on other matters.

Hoak was in the middle of this story about the psychiatrist yesterday afternoon when the trial recessed.

14-ROOM HOUSE GETTING SMALL—ST. LOUIS (AP)—Mrs. Joseph C. Pauley have a 14-room house but are still short four bedrooms. Their 12th child was born Sunday.

"We're anxious to learn if it's true that children are chosen by the dozen," said the 46-year-old Pauley, a suburban Ferguson municipal judge.

Pauley, who said he and his wife just went along having child, said they would keep on going and they may expand the house in the spring.

WEAPON—Constable J. O. Galloway displays a large knife which he lifted from a man identified as James Earl Lane, 28, Jacksonville, in the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad yards here. Lane is being held in jail in lieu of a $100 bond on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon. Galloway said he received a call from a railroad policeman that the latter had seen a trespasser in the yards and that he wanted help. The intruder was found in a railroad car heeded down for the night under some newspapers.

Galloway said he found the knife in the trespasser's belt, where it was hidden under a pea coat, while he was "frisking" him. The blade of the weapon measures seven and a half inches. Galloway said the arrested man is 5'6" tall, two inches tall and weighs 247 pounds. (Staff Photo)

Police On Watch For Missing Man—Police are on the lookout for Kenneth L. Hamley, 23, Lake Morton, who has been reported as missing by his father, V. L. Hamley.

According to a description given police, the young man is five feet, nine inches tall, weighs 130 pounds, has blonde hair, is thin, has scars on his back, hands and face, and is slightly cross-eyed.

He has been missing since Saturday at 3 p. m. according to a police report.

According to information given police, the missing man is a disabled Korean war veteran, and driving a 1946 Packard, faded green in color with a lot of aluminum on it and a kill and two home children on the top.

Inquiries Follow Tom Moore Show—A chamber of commerce manager Forrest Breckenridge announced today that he has received several hundred letters and cards inquiring about Sanford as a result of a play in the Tom Moore show recently in color with a plot line of aluminum on it and a kill and two home children on the top.

Garbage Pickups Earlier Tomorrow—The City Manager's secretary announced today that since tomorrow, Veterans Day, will be a holiday for City employees, garbage trucks will begin their rounds earlier than usual to let the employees off a sum as possible.

Garbage trucks will start out to make their pickups at 4 a. m. on all garbage containers should be placed out the night before to insure collection, she said.

Ike Says Russians Vary Attitude In Shootings

Working Together For Schools Topic Today Of Education Week

Many activities have been scheduled in conjunction with American Education Week in an effort to create more interest in school work among parents and the general public. Today's topic is "Working Together for Good Schools."

"Our country's greatest resources are its children, youth and adults who in a modern advancing world must never stop learning," stated a spokesman of the committee in charge of arrangements.

The representative continued, "It is only natural for us to think of the school as a learning center. Therefore, our schools need the cooperation of all interested people."

Children Have Right
A program is needed which will give every boy and girl that equipment in education and training which is his right under our democratic government, and one which will make of all, whether native or foreign, good American citizens; the kind of citizens that will be successful and useful to society.

"Won't you be that interested citizen and accept the responsibility that is yours? If you will, our schools will be better schools because you have helped them to be. The whole country suffers the loss when it cannot enjoy the talents of every citizen's talents. Remember, good schools are your responsibility. Let's work together for the good of all," the spokesman concluded.

Admitted Thief Is Held Here For Auto Check
Jim Ennis, 19, Tallahassee, wanted in several Central Florida communities for school thefts, was being held today in the County Jail on a charge of operating a vehicle without a proper driver's license, according to Chief Deputy Sheriff O. G. Owens.

The deputy also said that a check was being made to see if the 1947 coupe Ennis was driving is stolen.

Ennis told Owen yesterday, according to the deputy, that he had stolen the car in Alabama. It is the case, the youth may face a federal charge involving the transportation of a stolen vehicle over a state line.

The youth was taken into custody yesterday just south of Sanford on Highway 17 by Deputy M. B. McLelland. He previously had attempted to register at the Apopka high school, according to D. H. Sewell, Lake county deputy sheriff, who came to the County Jail here yesterday.

Alarm Put Out
However, he yelled, causing an alarm to be put in several Central Florida counties to be on the lookout for him.

He was identified at the jail by Joseph Jenkins, principal of the Umattilla high school, and school coach as the youth had been there about a week ago. The school was a theft victim.

Following this episode, Ennis was picked up by a Tallahassee policeman for speeding but was released with a warning before being deputized on the scene, according to Sewell.

Warrants are out for him in De Land and Umattilla. He also is a suspect in a theft at Auburndale.

Pours Out Story
Yesterday in jail he poured out a history of crime to Deputy Owens, admitting a series of law violations. The youth said he had been in trouble since he was 17 years old, according to Owens, and had spent five years in the State correctional school at Marianna and a year at the Marianna State penitentiary for a car theft.

He admitted thefts, according to Owens, in De Land and Auburndale.

TURKEYS BURN
WESTMORLAND, Calif. (AP)—Some 28,000 pounds of frozen turkeys, being transported in a truck and trailer, went up in flames yesterday, a week bearing four, breaking a tur, and set off the blaze.

Firemen said several motorists stopped to grab turkeys and this hampered their firefighting.

Local Pilot Club Contributes To Program For Aiding Hungry

It was decided at the meeting of the Pilot Club last night to send a gift of $10 to the Church World Service, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States to aid in the distribution of foodstuffs to the overseas hungry and undernourished through a "Share Our Surplus" program.

Mrs. Harvey Swanson, international relations chairman for the club, brought to its attention the program which appeared in a recent article in The Sanford Herald.

Mrs. Swanson stated that the program participants announced by Harper Sibbey, chairman of the Department of Church World Service, National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A., after a long series of conferences with denominational leaders and other relief program executives, had sent a request to Washington for clearance and delivery of a shipment of several million pounds of surplus foodstuffs for overseas relief.

Mrs. George A. Stone presided over the meeting at which time plans were made to hold a rummage sale this Saturday on Sanford Ave. between Fourth and Fifth St. for the purpose of raising funds for the club's main project, "The Milk Bank". Mrs. B. E. Chapman requested that all rum-

Favors Power Contract

Comment Made About Diplomat

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today Russia seems to be showing a somewhat more conciliatory attitude in the latest plane shooting incident than has been the case in earlier similar episodes.

The President told a news conference that the American photo-mapping plane shot down by Soviet fliers of the Japanese Coast on Sunday had a right to be where it was in this country's view.

"These things are not always as clear cut as they seem and this one is clouded in some detail," Eisenhower said.

The President said he thinks that on this case the Russians have shown a considerable difference of attitude toward American planes than they have in the past although he doesn't know what may come of it.

Eisenhower also told his conference he still is for the Dixon Yates power contract here at home because no better way has been offered to get the needed electric energy.

He said there is a "chance in the street" that the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission will be able to get the Valley Authority out of the way in a reasonable time.

Support Our Educational System; Help Combat Growing Red Tyranny

We are in the midst of the annual observance of American Education Week.

Each year, this observance becomes more significant. This condition is borne out by the facts that teaching methods are being improved, more and better schools are being built and teachers are finally coming to the forefront and are getting decent salaries.

Also, the observance is more significant because of conditions elsewhere.

Since last year's special week, more of the free world has been enveloped by the Red terror. Under this diabolical tyranny, education becomes a farce. A liberal, comprehensive education such as is offered to Americans is unknown.

Here we are taught truths in a God-fearing environment, while behind the Iron Curtain, misconceptions and hate are taught under the iron rule of an atheist government.

Children's minds are warped in Red countries to fit in with a fiendish scheme to crush the world under Communist domination.

Education can play an important factor in combatting this satanic plan.

Communism can be brought out into the open and exposed for the cancerous disease that it is. Like a weed's roots when dragged from the ground into the sun, the Red tyranny does not survive when brought out into the open.

Education can show the danger signs of the Red menace, and can show that communism is not to be taken lightly in any degree. Another "ism" was not treated so seriously at its onset a short time ago and it ended up

HAL BOYLE

Princess Margaret Causes Rukus

By ALVIN STEINKOFF

For Hal Boyle

LONDON (AP)—In fine you are a lively, 24-year-old girl living in London.

It's a dank and dreary Sunday. You have to turn on the light in the middle of the afternoon.

If you were just any 24-year-old girl, earning your living typing in an office, you could give that pony-tail haircut a swipe with a comb, slip on a mackintosh and go to the movies.

Tens of thousands of young girls do just that, and manage to survive a gloomy afternoon. There are thick, moist and noisy masses of them in Oxford St.

But you had better do nothing of the kind if you are Princess Margaret. She ventured last Sunday to join that damp crush in Oxford St. and now there is a public dither about her.

Princess Margaret, it seems, broke a royal tradition. Conspiring with her in this act of rashness were her lady-in-waiting, Miss Irish Peake, and two unidentified young men.

Members of the royal family may engage in a lot of sprightly activities, such as shooting, quail, drinking champagne for lunch, playing polo any old day, and betting on the races. But members of the royal family do not go to the movies on Sunday.

The Princess went to see something rather new in London—a method of projection known as Cinemascope. She and her companions went into the Casino Theater and occupied seats which cost $2.10 apiece. Then they went home through the gloom.

Two newspapers got excited for a couple of columns apiece, and Mayfair quivered with gossip. Margaret had been to church. And because it was Remembrance Sunday, she had been down in Whitehall to stand by reverently while her sister, Queen Elizabeth, honored the men and women who had lost their lives in wars. Then in the afternoon she went to the movies.

Theater managers were interviewed, and they said: "Tradition shattered." "What a surprise." "It must have been unofficial" and "tut-tut and tetch!"

The objection to royalty's going to movies on Sunday is inspired largely by the conservative elements among English churchmen, whose influence is great. The population is being reminded constantly that the sovereign is the defender of the faith, and that the Lord's Day must be respected.

But curiously while Margaret is being talked about for breaking tradition, the Church of England itself is being sniped at by persons whose moral indignation gets hauled up easily. The church, which lately turned its financial affairs over to a committee of experts, made a handsome cleaning in the stock exchange. It's gambling, say critics, and indignation simmers.

Tomorrow First Veterans Day

By RAY HENRY

WASHINGTON (AP)—In tribute to the living and dead of its nine wars, the nation pauses tomorrow to observe its first Veterans Day.

They which in name honor Armistice Day, however, will mean little this year to many of the traditions built around the end of World War I.

The day will find speechmakers rededicating the country to the cause of world peace. A minute of silence will be observed at 11 a. m. to honor the war dead. The day's spotlight will be on the tomb of the unknown dead in Arlington cemetery. Local parades and observances will remain about the same.

Undoubtedly the day will foster new traditions. Its purpose had been widened to honor some 21 million veterans of all the nation's wars—the Revolution, the war of 1812, the Mexican War, the Civil War, the Spanish-American War, World War I, World War II and the Korean War. The minute of silence for those who died in uniform will be for the 1,115,000 men instead of the 123,000 who fell in World War I. Some 21 million living veterans will also be honored.

More than anything else, the change in name and emphasis is a sign of the times. It was prompted originally by the interest of individual veterans groups, Congress and the president in appropriating honor on Nov. 11 to those servicemen who fought or died in the cause of peace during this generation. An inserted clause, the emphasis broadened to include veterans of all of America's wars.

Rep. Nease (R-Kan.) might safely be called the father of the Veterans Day as a legal holiday. Today he was scheduled to receive a medal for his efforts from the Birmingham, Ala., Veterans Day committee.

This year, in almost record time for such things, Nease wrote and pushed a bill through Congress which made the switch. President Eisenhower signed it June 1.

TV Yearbook

By Bob Bennett

Have you ever wondered how the word "television" originated? One school of thought maintains that John Logie Baird, reputed to be the "inventor" of television, fashioned the word from the Greek "tele" (I speak) and the Latin "visio" (I see).

Other learned sources object to the derivation, insisting that the "tele" part comes from the Greek "teleo," but from the Greek "tele," meaning "near" or "distant." This is the same meaning as is written into words such as telescope and telegraph. If we buy this theory, television means, literally, "seeing from afar."

Actually, as we understand it, neither "teleo" nor "visio" is a correct word. The more accurate word is "teleo" but "teleo" doesn't exist at all, and that the latter is a misspelling of "teleo." Of the two aforementioned versions, it is our impression that the latter is correct. However, no matter how you spell it, look at it—television is here to stay!

hurling the world into a holocaust.

Our educational system is something we indeed should hold dear and should give it our interest and support. We should strive to keep it ever advancing, as a boon for ourselves in our living and as a protection against the outside influence of those who seek to destroy us.

Ancient Wall

Dr. Carter V. Good, dean of the University of Cincinnati, recently reminded critics of modern youngsters that their complaint about the younger generation is an ancient one. He cited two quotations, one from an Egyptian priest of 6,000 years and another by Socrates about 2,350 years ago, to show that there is nothing new in the idea that the younger generation is going to the dogs. Both quotations sound remarkably like recent criticisms aired at public meetings.

Of course there is juvenile delinquency and it is a disturbing problem. Yet we sometimes lose our perspective and behave as if juvenile delinquency is a phenomenon peculiar to our times. It helps little to grow indignant and to insist that things were different in the "good old days."

A civilization which sees only its good features and is unaware of its faults is in danger of falling, from its own complacency. On the other hand one that does not recognize its own progress, that does not realize that its problems are ancient, gets tired and discouraged and tends to a negative approach.

Rehabilitation

There was a time when the public attitude toward handicapped people was simple pity or charity—an attitude which did nothing to rehabilitate the handicapped and forced them to be a burden to society. In recent years there has been a change in the manner of regarding the handicapped. Society now attempts to help them to help themselves, to restore them to a position of usefulness.

Nelson D. Rockefeller, Under Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, said recently that within five years 200,000 handicapped people will be rehabilitated annually under a federal program. This is almost five times the number being brought to usefulness at present.

Rehabilitation of the handicapped is not only altruistic; it is practical. A citizen able to hold his own, to maintain a job and support himself, has a higher degree of self respect and is a better citizen. Money spent on rehabilitation is money well spent for it is an investment in citizens.

Escorts Used Much To Protect Planes On Photo Missions

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pentagon officials professed puzzlement today over why a jet fighter escort did not go along with a photo bomber shot down by Soviet MiGs off northern Japan last weekend. Spokesmen for the Far East Command long has had authority to provide "cover" for mapping and weather planes on missions where trouble could arise. Such escorts are used frequently, they added.

But military sources said they were unable to explain why jet fighters did not accompany the RB29 assigned to an aerial mapping job over northern Japan, close to Russian-held Sakhalin Island and the Kuriles. Fighter protection subsequently was provided for a second photo bomber which completed the mission.

Eleven men parachuted from the stricken ship. Ten lived, but one man became entangled in his chute and drowned. The United States has demanded reparations from the Russians, but the Soviet Union has fired back a countercharge that the Red planes were fired upon first. The U.S. fliers have denied they fired at any time.

Secretary of State Dulles told a news conference yesterday he believed the Joint Chiefs of Staff were considering whether to authorize fighter escort for mapping and weather planes.

This comment caused perplexity at the Pentagon, where spokesmen said Gen. John Holl, top U. S. commander in the Far East, already had such authority. One spokesman said the decision whether to use jet fighter escort lies "out there in the local command." The Pentagon, it was indicated, is waiting to hear why a fighter escort did not go along this time.

RISE TO FAME

BLAMED FOR SEPARATION

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actor Edmund Purdon's sudden rise to fame is blamed by his wife for their separation yesterday. "We had four years of poverty and misery and we clung together like babes in the woods," said Mrs. Tina Purdon, former ballet dancer. "When Ed became successful, it all changed. Now he doesn't even want to be in the same room with me."

The Purdons' home for many months while he sought work here was a garage apartment. Then he had two brief stints in a Manhattan apartment. "We had four years of poverty and misery and we clung together like babes in the woods," said Mrs. Tina Purdon, former ballet dancer. "When Ed became successful, it all changed. Now he doesn't even want to be in the same room with me."

Mario Lanza pre-recorded all the songs for "The Student Prince" but balked at making the picture. MGM used Purdon's acting and Lanza's voice. Purdon then replaced Lanza in the picture when he walked out on "The Revlon."

Importance of Sports In School Boy's Life

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

WITH college and high school football in full swing, school sports are again playing an important part in the lives of many youths.

Unfortunately, however, there are some boys who have a tendency to slight this side of life or to stay away from it entirely. Some youths feel their studies need all their attention. Still others are listless, or feel it is just too much trouble to spend spare time at sports.

He Loses By Shirking

Sports do have a place in just about everyone's life. The youth who shirks the school athletic program is, as a rule, cheating himself.

You may seem to be awkward when it comes to sports. But that is all the more reason why you should want to polish up your performance in some of them.

You not only develop your muscles by taking part in sports programs, but you also learn the mental peace and relaxation that comes with exercise of your physical powers.

Outlet for Tensions

Many times you will find that sports programs open up pleasant social opportunities you might not otherwise have had. Then, too, a sport is a fine outlet for mental and emotional tensions throughout your adult life.

You don't have to be an excellent athlete to enjoy sports. You do not even have to be particularly strong, although you probably will become so. The main thing is that you enjoy yourself.

It might be well if every teenage boy in our modern times learned at least one of the techniques of self-defense, such as boxing, wrestling or judo. It would also be wise to learn some sport or games that you can carry through the rest of your life, such as golf, archery and the like.

Any boy can find some enjoyable outdoor activity. You will pick up these techniques much more easily in your early teens than if you wait until you are older.

And, remember, the individual who develops his body as well as his brain is a fully developed person.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Q: What foods are beneficial to a person with a low blood count?

A: Answer: By low blood count is meant a lessening of the number of red cells in the blood and the amount of coloring in blood cells known as hemoglobin.

Foods rich in iron, such as meat, particularly liver, green vegetables, egg yolk, and whole grain cereals are helpful. Some iron-containing preparations may be utilized, under the doctor's direction.

McCarthy's Speech Is Unusual

WASHINGTON (AP)—The speech which Sen. McCarthy prepared for the Senate today—in his own defense against censure—goes far beyond anything he has ever said or claimed before.

This speech, which he released late yesterday, is a basic restatement of his attitude and tactics toward the general in both counts the Watkins committee considered his conduct unfit for a senator.

The speech goes on far in its implications it is difficult to believe McCarthy can surpass it; he holds himself and those who go along with him as the country's chief defenders against communism and links the fate of the nation to his own fate.

Without using the word "martyr," he clearly suggests he is a man persecuted.

The speech begins today on recommendations of a special committee created to consider charges of misconduct against McCarthy. This committee of three Democrats and two Republicans was headed by Sen. Watkins (R-Utah).

It investigated, held hearings, let McCarthy reply to the charges and recommended that the full Senate censure him on two counts: (A) that he ignored requests to testify made upon him by a preliminary committee which investigated him and (B) that he treated Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwickler abusively.

It's Up To You

Sometimes we cannot avoid eavesdropping on a conversation, especially when the voices are loud and the subject extremely interesting. In a restaurant, a few days ago, we heard the following dialogue between a lad and a girl.

"Give me a dollar dad," said the boy. "Sorry son," answered the father. "I have spent all the money I own this month, except for the budgeted items."

"Money you own?" asked the boy. "You don't own any money, the government owns all the money. Uncle Sam only lends you the use of his dollars."

"Who told you that?" The father was disturbed. "I own all that I earn."

"Oh! no, you don't," said the boy. "My teacher told me that the government owns everything and the government takes care of everyone."

The upset parent held his temper. "Well son, your teacher was wrong. What she told you was downright communistic teaching and was not American in any sense of the word. You must have one of those few teachers who have been given some wrong ideas about America. The money which I earn is paid to me in exchange for goods that I have helped produce or for services I have rendered or creative thinking which I have done. The only money which the government owns is that which it takes from the people in the form of taxes. I admit that the government prints the bills we use, but if these bills are to be real money that will not depreciate they must be backed by gold, silver or something of intrinsic value. Don't ever forget that basically the government has nothing except what it gets from me and from other citizens."

The doctrine taught to this small child is probably as shocking to the vast majority of teachers as it is to you and me, but the fact that even one teacher is so wrong in her teaching gives us pause for serious thought. Teachers, ministers, movie stars and other heroes of childhood are placed on pedestals by those who admire them. Their words are accepted without question. Children are today building their future America.

We must work to eliminate subversive teaching but it is even more important that parents teach their own children the solid elements of our American way of life. To do this we must think hard and straight ourselves.

uous his treatment of the earlier committee. The second said, in effect, he had acted like a bully toward the general in both counts the Watkins committee considered his conduct unfit for a senator.

This is how McCarthy reasoned in his speech: "He brushed aside as inconsequential the Watkins committee charges, the same attitude he has taken toward all previous charges. 'petty,' he called them.

Censuring him would be a victory for the Communists who want to destroy him, he said. He described himself as "hard" on communism and those opposing him as "soft" on communism. Who are they? In this group, which he called "ruthless," he included radio commentators, educators, writers, a majority of the press.

(Earlier this week he had said the attacks on him had "emanated" from the White House.) Communist influence in shaping American thinking is enormous, he said, and now communism has extended "its tentacles to . . . the United States Senate." He declared the Watkins committee was playing the Communists' game in voting against him.

He didn't say the committee had knowingly played the Communist game, but that it was a "victim" of the Communist campaign.

"And," said McCarthy, "having been victimized, it became the Communist party's involuntary agent."

the course of the Senate debate I shall demonstrate that the Watkins committee has done the work of the Communist party, that it not only cooperated in the achievement of Communist goals, but that in writing its report it distorted, misrepresented and omitted in its efforts to manufacture a plausible rationalization for advising the Senate to accede to the clamor for my scalp."

There he made it plain the best he could say for the Watkins committee was that it was too dumb to realize it was playing the Communists' game; the worst, game; the worst, that it deliberately connived to get him.

Memorial To Ike Will Be Dedicated Tomorrow At Home

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower travels today to his boyhood home at Abilene, Kan., for dedication tomorrow of the Eisenhower memorial museum.

The $325,000 museum, built and financed through voluntary contributions, will be dedicated by the President at morning Veterans Day ceremonies. He will speak briefly.

Arranging to accompany him on the flight to Kansas were Mrs. Eisenhower and the President's youngest brother, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of Pennsylvania State University.

En route the Columbine will land briefly to pick up the President's grandchildren—David, 6, Barbara, Anne, 3, and Susan, 2—and their parents, Maj. and Mrs. John Eisenhower.

John, the chief executive's son, is stationed at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan. Another of the President's brothers, Earl, a newspaper publisher living in La Grange, Ill., will join the museum at Abilene with his wife. The museum at Abilene was built by the Eisenhower Foundation, which was organized by friends of the family in 1945 "to promote citizenship and honor veterans of American wars."

The President has given the foundation a major part of his collection of mementoes, trophies and medals.

The chief executive will leave Abilene Thursday afternoon to fly to Tulsa, then to about 25 miles to a Lake Erie retreat—the Cedar Club—for a round of duck hunting all day Friday and Saturday morning. He will be the guest there of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey.

Mrs. Eisenhower will return to Washington Thursday and the President Saturday.

A-Industry Unrest Ends With Raise After 7 Months

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP)—America's atomic-hydrogen weapons production has been steadied for at least a year—after seven months of chain-reacting labor unrest—with final approval of a package wage boost for 9,000 atomic workers.

Ratification by CIO and AFL unions representing 9,000 workers here and at Paducah, Ky., virtually ends for a year the recurring threat of crippling production strikes, hanging over both plants since wage talks first collapsed last April 15.

The package deal provides (1) a 6-cent hourly increase retroactive to April 15; (2) a 4-cent increase effective Jan. 15, 1955; and (3) an improved holiday schedule. It lumps together two wage reopeners—provided for each nine months in the union contracts—and is a compromise between a 10-cent demand of 15 cents and management offer of 6 cents.

It does away with further production union negotiations until the current contracts expire next Oct. 15, when new pacts will be worked out.

The increase was sought to offset a 23 cent per cent rise in government-owned housing here. The 10-cent increase was effected last spring.

All four plants involved—three here, one at Paducah—are operated for the Atomic Energy Commission by Carbide and Carbon Chemicals Co., which under its cost-plus contract will pass the increases to the government.

About 1,000 CIO workers represented by the United Gas, Coke and Chemical Workers at Paducah were last to ratify the proposal by a 60 per cent margin in meetings here yesterday. Some 3,500 CIO workers here already had done so Monday and earlier yesterday.

The two plants produce the nation's entire supply of fissionable uranium-235 for atomic and hydrogen weapons.

Another 4,500 AFL workers, represented by the Atomic Trades and Labor Council at Paducah, were last to ratify the proposal here, had approved the 6-cent increase last Aug. 18. In parallel negotiations with Carbide, they approved the extra 4 cents Monday.

This gives both unions scrambling for $1.64 to $2.46 an hour with an automatic boost to a $1.68 to $2.50 hourly range on Jan. 15.

John, the chief executive's son, is stationed at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan.

Another of the President's brothers, Earl, a newspaper publisher living in La Grange, Ill., will join the museum at Abilene with his wife. Shy George Gobel Spent Many Years In Apprenticeship HOLLYWOOD — Like many an "overnight sensation," George Gobel put in many years of apprenticeship before hitting the big time in show business. As viewers of his Saturday night TV show can see, Gobel has one important element that distinguishes top stars. That is timing. In delivering his lines and waiting for laughs, he can judge that split second which governs whether an audience will continue being amused or boredom will set in. He learned this the hard way—before the pleasure seekers of the night club circuit. It was a far cry from his start as a performer, in the choir of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Chicago.

George was born in the Windy City on May 20, 1920. He was the only child of Herman and Lillian Gobel, who ran a grocery store. A sterling soprano, George was graduated from the choir to a spot on radio's national barn dance. He acted on the Tom Mix air serial and continued singing on hillbilly shows until 1943, when he joined the Air Force.

A B-29 flew stationed at Frederick, Okla., he played his guitar and sang for service shows. He also began telling stories. The GIs were convulsed by his deadpan delivery. Out of the Air Force in 1946, Gobel tried to find work as a comedian in Chicago. He was tabbed as a corner by David O'Malley, who remains his agent today. O'Malley started booking his young client into conventions and night clubs, gradually building in class. Was he impatient for game in those early days? "No, not really," Gobel reflects. "Each new date was more important and presented new challenges. I was doing very well. The only thing that bothered me was not being able to spend much time with my family. I have three children and my wife Alice is a home-type girl. She had never been near show business, and she couldn't get used to not being at home. When she'd come visit me on the road, she'd be itching to get home after a week. "I had hoped to eventually reach the point where I could stay in Chicago most of the time, traveling only 12 weeks a year. But I didn't expect to be able to do that until I was around 40."

The break came when he appeared for eight straight weeks on the Honey Carmichael TV show a summer ago.

"I had done good guest spots on shows like 'Toast of the Town' and 'This is Show Business,'" he said. "People thought they remembered me, but they couldn't quite place me. It wasn't until I was on for eight straight weeks that I made an impression."

NBC signed him up for a show

Amazing Break Made Into Movies By Sandra Descher

HOLLYWOOD — The MGM schoolhouse, which once rang with shouts of students like Mickey Rooney, Judy Garland, Lana Turner, Elizabeth Taylor and Margaret O'Brien, now shelters but one regular student — a sad-eyed little 8-year-old named Sandra Descher.

Sandra appears to be the only child under contract to the movie studios today and how she broke into the movies will amaze you. I learned the story from the girl and her alert mother, Mrs. Audrey Descher. Sandra, who is small for her age and has large brown eyes and long lashes, nibbled on a cottage cheese and pineapple salad while her mother related.

"You may find it hard to believe. Sometimes I do too. You see, ever since Sandy was very young, people have been telling me how witty and bright she is. They said she should be in the movies."

"Well, I didn't think much about it until a couple of years ago. On an impulse, I called Warner Brothers and asked for the casting department. The secretary to one of the casting heads was out, so I was connected directly. I told the woman that I had a child who was very bright and people said she should be in movies. What should I do about it?"

"If she had brushed me off, I never would have tried again. But she said, 'Can you be here in half an hour?'"

"They were looking for a girl for 'Miracle of Our Lady of Fatima,' but Sandy was obviously too young. When director Michael Curtiz told her so, she started crying. They told her that someday she wouldn't be too young, and she smiled again."

"An agent saw her and figured if she could turn it on and off like that, she ought to make an actress. He landed her a role in Walt Disney's Christmas show, and she has been working ever since."

"A funny thing—one day I was in a casting office at RKO, where Sandy did 'The French Line.' The man hung up the phone and said to me, 'What a crazy woman! She just called out of the blue and said she had a talented child who should be in pictures. How could anybody break in the movies that way?'"

Since the Disney debut, Sandy has worked in 11 movies and most of the top TV film shows. After her role in "The Sandlot and Beautiful," MGM offered a contract.

She signed with MGM and went into the important role as daughter of Elizabeth Taylor and Van Johnson in "The Last Time I Saw Paris." Then she played the under study to love goddess Lana Turner in the Biblical epic "The Prodigal."

MAY BE CAUSE

NEW YORK — The body's inability to utilize fats properly may be a cause of psoriasis, a stubborn and troublesome skin condition, Dr. Frank Combes, University of New York School of Medicine, finds that diet low in fats plus lipotropic drugs which aid consumption of fat appears promising in treatment of psoriasis. The disease, virtually disappeared in Central Europe when they couldn't obtain enough fats and oils for a long time during World War I, Dr. Combes notes.

They are big cats pacing the cages, she is not allowed to enter. "Come and see," she said. She found her husband, a big smiling man who loved lions so much he gave up his job as a jeweler to start at the zoo as an extra hand about 13 years ago, and started on the rounds.

The 600-pound tigers they had once held in their hands rushed to the front of their cages, threw themselves on the cement floor, rolled and purred and begged to be petted.

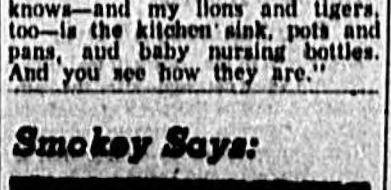

"That's your answer," Mrs. Martini said, scratching a striped flank. "Maybe other tigers become ferocious when they grow up but all I know are my own hand-raised, spoiled, pampered tigers."

In the next cage a black leopard, reputedly the most treacherous and untamable animal in the world, was crouched glaring at the crowd when Mrs. Martini came up and called "Bagheera." His lithe, ebony body stretched to the bars and he frantically clutched her around the neck.

The crowd gasped and fell back. And Bagheera nuzzled her face, patted her cheeks, licked her hands.

"I know what they say about black leopards," she sighed. "And again, all I know anything about is Bagheera whom I raised. But it must be the mother that teaches them to be ferocious—for their know—and my lions and tigers, too—is the kitchen sink, pots and pans, and baby nursing bottles. And you see how they are."

Special Care Should Be Taken To Put Up Apples

The homemaker who wants to freeze or can apple slices for quick use in pie or other desserts, needs to take special precautions lest this delicate fruit turn dark or mushy, says Myrtle Wilson, Home Demonstration Agent. Startling with crisp, firm, well-flavored apples is important for this use, too.

To freeze apple slices for fruit cocktail or uncoked desserts: Prepare a medium-heavy sirup by dissolving sugar in water in the proportions of 1 cup sugar to 4 cups water. To each quart of sirup add 1/2 teaspoon of ascorbic acid (vitamin C). This anti-darkening aid for fruit freezing is sold in powdered form for crystalline form in many drug stores.

Starting with 1/2 cup sirup in each freezer container, slice peeled and cored apples directly into the cold sirup. Press slices down and add enough sirup to cover. Leave space at top to allow for food expanding in freezing: 1/2 inch space in pint containers; 1 inch in quarts. Seal and freeze.

To freeze apple slices, with or without sweetening, for pie or other cooked dishes: Slice peeled and cored apples into water containing 2 tablespoons salt per gallon, to prevent darkening. Drain. Place apple slices in a single layer in a steamer and steam 1 1/2 to 2 minutes, depending on thickness of slices. Cool in cold water and drain. For a sweetened pack, sprinkle 1/2 cup sugar over each quart (1 1/4 pounds) of cut fruit and stir. Sweetened or unsweetened, pack the slices into freezer containers and press down, leaving 1/2 inch space at top. Seal and freeze.

To can apples: Pack raw given better flavor and texture than pre-heating the slices and packing them hot. For a raw pack, slice peeled and cored apples into water containing 2 tablespoons each of salt and vinegar per gallon. Drain. Pack the raw slices in home-canning jars to 1/2 inch of top. Cover with boiling sugar sirup made in proportion of 1 cup of sugar to 3 cups of water. Leave 1/2 inch space at top of jar. Adjust jar lids and process either pints or quarts 15 minutes in a water bath canner.

The hot pack has this advantage, if storage space is limited: About 50 percent more apple slices may be canned in each jar. To pack hot: After the slices are drained from the salt and vinegar solution, boil the fruit in this sirup or water for 5 minutes. Then pack and process in the canner like raw slices.

Morin Keeps Diary For Boyle

NEW YORK — Diary of a New Yorker.

MONDAY — Architect Frank Lloyd Wright, silver mane, opera cape and all, is back in town. He was 85 this year, but nobody could be more youthful in outlook. Says his formula for this is to "keep young people around all the time." Actually, it's more because of his tremendous enthusiasm. He personifies the observation, "Zest is the last gift of the gods." He has great zest.

Tuesday — Went to a little shop for Hildegarde, who was looking radiant. A very attractive girl, "Hildy," mainly because she has the same zestful quality as F.L.W. Did you ever know she possesses a fine collection of paintings, and is practically an expert in the field?

Wednesday — Sat late and fascinated tonight listening to a discussion of Israel.

It came about when Alfred Libenthal blew in suddenly from the Middle East. He wrote "What Price Israel," a book that sets forth the reasons why anti-Zionists oppose a Jewish political state. An old Washington pal, Leo Mar-golin, has had considerable experience with these matters from the legislative angle. His views are about 180 degrees apart from Libenthal's.

Anyways, we got together and it was a grand thing to hear the pros and cons from two brilliant guys with opposite feelings on the same subject.

Thursday — Speaking of books, it was hard to turn out the light tonight on "The Reason Why." This is a wonderful job on that famous incident, the charge of the Light Brigade — by a lady author, no less. In spots, it borders on being hilarious, but I couldn't help but suffer for the poor British Tommy quietly following such officers. The British soldier is a great guy.

Friday — Spent all day working on a piece about Unesco, the electronic brain. You may have seen it on television election night. To me, the interesting fact is that a whole new group of technicians has come into existence because of "the brain." They are trained to translate problems into the "language" of the machine. It's another example of the principle that each invention opens up new areas of specialization.

Saturday — Mme. Daria Shalik, who is famous in Egypt, came in for a quick visit. She is the leading feminist in that fascinating country, and is trying to raise the status of women in the Arab world. She's here for a lecture tour and is then going on to Japan and India.

At a news conference in Cairo last summer, we asked the Egyptian government heads if the new regime will give women more rights. The reply: "We have to do something for the men, first."

Sunday — Went to Central Park for the weekly horsetoe-pitching. I am a high-spinner, myself, and while some landed at ringers, very few stayed there. About two, as I recall. Funny, you think of "barnyard golf" as being a province of people in the Middle West, but these New York characters who work out in the park on Sunday are the best I ever saw.

Movie Film Causes Hubbub In Reno

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Nevada's two big cities, Reno and Las Vegas, are rivals in displaying their charms to tourists.
So when William McIntyre, theater manager, saw the title on a new short film feature he'd received yesterday, he hastily summoned Chamber of Commerce big brass for a preview.
The chamber executives gave the film close attention, then told McIntyre to go ahead and run it. They even went so far as to say, privately, the film wasn't bad.
The title?
"Fabulous Las Vegas."

JANE WYMAN
SUES FOR DIVORCE
SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Alleging mental cruelty, Jane Wyman has sued bandleader-composer Frederick J. Karger for divorce.

The actress yesterday asked the court for permission to resume her former legal name, Jane Wyman.
The couple married in 1952 and separated last Saturday. She previously was married to actor Ronald Reagan, and before that to manufacturer Myron Fultman.

CONS TAKE COURSE
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Forty-five convicts at Holmsburg Prison are taking courses on how to win friends, Deputy Welfare Commissioner Edward J. Hendrick, in charge of city prisons, told a City Council budget meeting yesterday.

Almanac Predicts Seasons For 130th Consecutive Year

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP)—Storms will feature the start of 1953 over most of the country but March will come and go like a lamb. And it'll be a pleasant summer with temperatures near normal and precipitation below.
So says the new edition of "Agricultural Almanac," or "Lancaster Almanac," a little book many persons have sworn by since John Quincy Adams was President.
In its 130 year history, the almanac has covered practically every subject from farming to higher esthetics. This year's book runs from a day by day look at the weather to a recipe for hot tamales pie by Vice President Richard Nixon's wife, Patricia.
On page 33, there's a formula for predicting the number of snow storms per winter, if you can find a duck.
"The date of the first snow tells how many snows will fall during the winter—thus if the first snow falls on the 15th of a month, then 15 snows can be expected. But to qualify as the first, the snow must produce enough cover so you can track a duck through it."
Then, "if there's enough blue sky to patch a Dutchman's breeches, you can safely hang out your wash." That's as Pennsylvania Dutch as shoofly pie and the lament, "papa is all," meaning the old boy has passed away to his reward.
The book contains plenty of advice on how to run your affairs in line with the moon and the signs of the zodiac. The sign of the crab, for example, is good to prune grape vines while the fish is best for making "surströmming."
The almanac says cows that la-ten to radio music produce more milk. But Holsteins prefer soft, semi-classical numbers; Guernseys like western songs, and Jerseys prefer swing.

"The book also lists five rules "to make shaving a happier experience" and says most men shave 25,000 times during their lives.
Returning to the weather, if the almanac forecasts a "windy spell," better watch out. That's how it called the shot on Hurricane Hazel.

SOLOM SAYS GOOD CHANCE FOR ANNEXING NEW STATES
WASHINGTON, D.C.—Sen. Murray (D-Mont), incoming chairman of the Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Committee said today he believes prospects are "good" for Alaska and Hawaiian statehood legislation in the coming session of Congress.
He said he plans to introduce a bill to admit Alaska, probably patterned after that approved by the Senate last spring, and added:
"They Hawaii backers know I support Hawaii too."

Small town doctor named outstanding
CHICAGO (AP)—An 81-year-old small town doctor who still makes night calls after more than 50 years of active practice has been named Illinois' outstanding general practitioner for 1952.
The honor was given Dr. Henry Crown Munson, of Rushville, by the Illinois State Medical Society Wednesday night.

Business Leaders Plan To Purchase Pelican's Franchise

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A syndicate of civic and business leaders today announced plans to purchase the New Orleans Southern Association baseball franchise from the Pittsburgh Pirates.
L. A. Merrigan, spokesman for the group, said they would underwrite the purchase. The group has formed a corporation, known as New Orleans Pelicans Inc. Merrigan said, and Pittsburgh President Branch Rickey has agreed to the sale for $250,000. The deal includes the franchise, exclusive of player contracts.
Merrigan said the group planned to sell the Class AA club to the citizens of New Orleans in the form of a $400,000 debenture bond issue for public subscription. The bonds would be in $100 units.

Lt. (jg) Mills has been assigned very similar duties in Photolon 62 as he is the Squadron Power Plants Officer who has the duties of supervising the maintenance

Tourists Aid Libraries

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Florida's little libraries are benefiting from the literary castoffs of wealthy winter tourists.
The state library here found out about 18 months ago that libraries in the so-called Gold Coast counties of south Florida regularly receive bonanzas of books from winter residents to buy the latest fiction but don't read. The libraries huddled taking it north with them.
So they hand their books over to the nearest public library which often gets five or six brand new copies of one title. One library can't use that many copies of one book—so lately librarians have been passing the overflow on to the state library.
The state library in turn publishes a list of books on hand in its semi-monthly news letter. Librarians who need them can order them at a nickel a book.
"Some of the pages haven't even been cut," said State Librarian Dorothy Dodd. "A lot of them have never been read."

The chamber executives gave the film close attention, then told McIntyre to go ahead and run it. They even went so far as to say, privately, the film wasn't bad.
The title?
"Fabulous Las Vegas."

THE BODY of Geraldine Anness, 15, was found in a garage behind her home in Roswood, Mass., with a string of beads twisted tightly about her throat, apparently the victim of a sex attack.
They are holding a 17-year-old youth, who dated the girl on the night of the slaying, as a material witness. The police are also seeking a 44-year-old neighbor for questioning. (International)

Lt. (jg) Mills hails from Florida's neighboring state of Georgia, where he attended Georgia Tech. He entered the Naval Service in April 1952 and received his officers training at Newport, Rhode Island, and received his first commission as Ensign in March 1953 and was promoted to his present rank in May 1954.
Lt. (jg) is an Aviation Ground Officer and will find it a welcome addition to Photolon 62.

by BART SPICER

CHAPTER TWENTY-THREE

I STOOD on the narrow bridge with Russell, smelling the freshness of morning on the river.

Russell said, "Boltnick looked pretty cool and confident at the lab, didn't he?"

"Yes. He's not worried about a thing."

"Did Ellen stayed in her room for breakfast?" Russell said.

"Somehow I suspected you were going to brace him this morning."

"I was just trying to figure out what would be the best way to handle him. How long till New Orleans?"

"Little more than an hour."

"Plenty of time," I said.

"There's going to be a convention of cops at the dock. You ready for them?"

"I can't get ready for them," Russell objected mildly. "I don't know what they'll want to do. I won't help them if they try to hold our passengers on board. But I guess we better wait and see what..."

"Russell broke off abruptly and turned for a moment to the left of the bridge. "That fool!" he cried. "He'll kill himself!"

A small power cruiser swerved in close under our left bow. It was using back-packing for position, sliding back a bit to hang alongside where the freeboard of the Dixie Dandy was closest to the water. A big heavy man leered on the deck of the cruiser, reaching for the railing of our boat.

"Good heavens!" I shouted.

"That's Capt. Grodnik. Whip down there and help him aboard. Bring him to your office and tell nobody."

Russell ran inside and rocketed toward the main staircase. But he was too late to help Grodnik on board. The beefy captain picked his moment carefully, clutched one leg hand around a shoulder and the other hand around a shoulder and he dangled briefly, hanging by just one hand. The operator of the cruiser screamed something at him, then brought the small craft closer to let Grodnik retreat if he wanted to. The captain ignored him. His left hand gripped the banister firmly and the forward motion of the Dixie Dandy swung him around so that his right hand found a secure purchase on the iron railing. Then Grodnik nudged himself up, swung over the barrier and stood there on deck, shaking his wet shoes irritably and frowning at the giggling deckhands. He asked one of them a question but before anyone could answer, Russell had him. Whatever he said was immediately effective. Grodnik turned with him toward the main staircase. I ran down the stairs to the purser's office.

They were standing outside the door when I got there, Russell fumbling with a key and Grodnik shifting from one foot to the other and making an angry face at the squishy sound his shoes made.

"Inside," I said.

We got out of sight with no delay. Russell locked the door behind us and I let Grodnik try to crack my knuckles.

"Good to see you, boy," he said.

Department Says Auto Work Up

WASHINGTON — The Labor Department says auto industry employment increased by nearly 80,000 in October to more than offset a customary October decline in factory jobs.

The department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said yesterday the auto industry pickup, sparked by production of new models, was chiefly responsible for an October jump of 17,000 in factory employment.

Nonfarm employment was boosted by 110,000 from September levels to about 48,600,000.

Slow Down At Sundown FHP Motto

TALLAHASSEE — When the glow goes, whether you're strictly by hoof or on wheels, dig yourself the most man, and cut that chassis juice or you'll be real gone!

"If the average driver was a teenager he would immediately recognize that live talk," declares Comdr. H. N. Kirkman of the Florida Highway Patrol, for it simply means:

"When you walk or drive after sundown be cautious, take it easy, if you want to stay alive."

"We here at the Patrol don't speak the live stuff too fluently," declared Kirkman, "but the warning to slow down at sundown, is real gone talk in any language at any age."

"Yes, as the winter months roll on us, day time driving is cut to the bone, giving us only a few hours of a time when our visibility is real good. Then, add to that any inclement weather during the day, and you can see you're limited to only a few hours of really good road weather."

One of the safety themes of the National Safety Council and the Florida Highway Patrol is: Slow Down at Sundown. And they warn that the life you save might well be your own.

Drawing on figures from the Council, it is shown that nighttime accidents hold a three-to-one edge over daylight, which means that Autumn is getting the driver into the really dangerous—long nights and short days—time of the year.

Past Is Popular To Viennese

By RICHARD O'NEGAN
VIENNA, the Viennese have a saying that the situation may be hopeless—but it isn't serious. Despite its apparent contradiction, this approach to life is essential to today's citizens of Vienna. He needs it for his city is half alive, half dead, it's half hopeful, half despairing, half occupied, half free; half behind the Iron Curtain, half out of it.

Even more important, it is half existing in the present, half dreaming of its glorious past, glittering, dream of wine, women and song. Some say the music from the Vienna woods whispers that this is a dying city.

But it doesn't bother the Viennese. The reality of the present is harsh, but what of the past? The past is where Vienna prefers to live, and by that romantic yardstick nothing is serious. That helps explain why newspapers and magazines sell every copy when they feature stories of the old Hapsburgs while the Viennese continue to vote Socialist; why old women selling sausage at street corners save for months to buy an opera ticket; why the foreign consuls of homegrown singing stars are dismissed for days.

Here is what the world of reality is like in Vienna.

The Communists (who've only 3 per cent of the vote) have not touched the money of Johann Strauss. They have an office at Praterstrasse 31, where Strauss wrote the Blue Danube Waltz.

Soldiers of Russia, the United States, France and Britain, occupying Vienna since 1945, are in the great palaces and homes of the Hapsburg emperors.

Overcrowded apartments (50 per cent with no running water). Few wages for most, riches for a few. Sixty per cent of families childless and the death rate soaring over births. "In 140 years at this rate of decline," predicts a gloomy observer, "Vienna (present population 1,700,000) will be a ghost city."

No stirring parades of the emperor to splinter the heart. No great feasts, either splendidly lavish or receptions. In fact, espionage and intrigue between east and west, danger of kidnapping for those in Soviet territory. Occupation and little hope for freedom.

But then there's the warm comfort of the past and maybe of a future which looks the same. There are so many cheerful ghosts in it. And always, the nod to labor leaders.

There are the long, ghastly, hygienic buildings—reminders of 691 years in which the Hapsburgs ruled most of Central Europe. There are the tobacco carts rattling still rattling through city traffic, reins held by cabbies with whiskers like Emperor Franz Josef.

There are overplayed, nostalgic songs "O du Lieber Augustin" is 300 years old, but still a favorite. There are the recurring visions of the emperor and his courtiers on the stage of the opera, in the movies. Who less not rise and cheer and weep silently for the good old days when the apparitions appear? Who is the Viennese who does not make a Sunday pilgrimage to glittering Schönbrunn Palace and show his sons? That's where they lived, those heroes of the past, in the summer.

With such a cold reality and such a dream, the Freudians (whom Vienna never acknowledged) might say that Vienna is more schizophrenic. It wants to be a modern city, but more, it wants to live in the past.

The trouble started in 1918 when Emperor Franz Josef died and the Austro-Hungarian empire came tumbling down after World War I.

The capital became "Red Vienna." The Socialists were in power and the Hapsburgs banned from the city. The revolutionaries dreamed of a brave new world it never materialized.

Through the rocky '20's, Hitler's hated occupation, World War II and devaluation, the middle class declined, the remaining aristocracy was impoverished and those left were the poor and the new industrial rich.

That's the way it is today. Fifty five per cent of the economy is under state control. Government and city monopolies run much from railroads to cigarette production—and have created a vast army of poorly paid state employees.

Much of the remaining economy is under the control of some 20 men in a network of interlocking industrial and banking directorships.

Typical is millionaire Manfred Maunzner-Markhof, here magnate who runs the biggest brewery in Europe. He is a portrait of the past. Family tradition says that, as eldest son, he must wear long, side-whiskers like Emperor Franz Josef, and he does.

He lives quietly and modestly—like all Vienna's rich men. Each year before Lent, he sets the pace of Vienna's social whirl. In this spectacular season of gaiety, rich and poor recapture some of the flavor of the imperial era. One recent year, there were 2,000 dances in three weeks held by everybody from the elite society club to the chimney sweeps' union.

Because there are too many trade groups engaged in restrictive practices. If you want to open a haberdashery or a grocery, you have to get permission from your future competitors.

Every small trade-man this is protected. He makes big profit on small sales, says "let's your hand" with exquisite charm and feigns the reputation of his medieval like trade could if he stays open a minute after 6.

By all means, visitors not go to Madrid and China or North Korea without a license.

There are many others of the same nature. Mr. Newman said and he agreed that all shippers of Christmas packages to other countries get in touch with the U. S. Department of Commerce, 225 Federal Building, Jacksonville, Florida, for further information. He sure to name the country you are mailing to. These regulations do not apply to packages mailed to those in the Armed Services. See your postmaster about that.

LOOKING AS PROUD as any father, Great Dane "Dusty" appears unable to believe his eyes as he stands near his mate and their twenty blue-blond puppies. A check of the record books showed that the litter broke a previous record for pedigreed dogs by two. The big family is owned by Eugene Powers of Chicago. (International)

Florida Parents, Teachers Congress Holds Convention In Tampa This Week

A study of Florida's educational problems, as well as the public responsibility to it, schools, is being given high priority at the thirty-first annual convention of the Florida Congress of Parents and Teachers, November 9 to 11 in Tampa.

Mrs. C. Durward Johnson, Quincy, president of the Florida Congress, made public the program of the convention which is being attended by more than 1000 delegates from over the state and is held in Tampa Municipal Auditorium.

The first general assembly will be held on the day opening with the Johnson reading the message from the Florida Congress of Parents and Teachers. The School Opportunity Unlimited, and Dr. Frank Campbell, president of the Florida State University at Tallahassee, are presenting the keynote address, "Today's Teacher: Social Tomorrow."

Hold time, this convention of the Florida Congress of Parents and Teachers will be held in the afternoon of the first day, November 9, at 7:30 p. m. in the auditorium of the Florida State University at Tallahassee.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERR

JUNE ALLYBON, ninety-nine pounds of charm and talent, is billed by her studio as "the typical American girl." One of her greatest assets is a low, husky voice. When she first came to Hollywood, however (she had achieved fame in New York in the musical, "Beat Foot Forward" and the Copacabana) an MGM big-wig decreed, "She'll never do with that croaking kind of speech." This same genius now takes chief credit for June's dizzy climb to stardom. "I knew it," he proclaims, "the moment I heard the magic in her voice!"

The day Broderick collapsed and was rushed off to the hospital, the boys at the office lost no time in showing their consideration. An emissary was sent up to assure him, "All you've got to do, old man, is get well. Everybody is going to pitch in and do your work for you while you're gone—that is, as soon as anybody can find out what work you've been doing."

1954 CHRISTMAS GREETINGS 1954

SEALS—Shown above are this year's Christmas Seals which will be distributed in Seminole County Nov. 22.

Christmas Seal Sale Will Start Nov. 22

Jaycees, Woman's Club, Firemen Assist In Preparations For Drive

Monday, Nov. 22, will mark the opening of the annual Christmas Seal Sale by the Seminole County Tuberculosis and Health Association, according to J. Marion Harman Sr., seal sale chairman, and Mrs. Lorraine Graham, association executive secretary.

On that day, hundreds of letters will go into the mail with Christmas seals enclosed for purchase by people of this county. At its beginning, this letter asks, "What does Christmas mean to you? It tells of family life at Christmas time but also tells how we can help our neighbors and our fellow workers... perhaps even our families' through the purchase of the seals."

"These small seals do a big job," the letter says, and urges, "Buy Christmas Seals, use them to fight tuberculosis!"

Today, members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce were helping in the effort by inserting the letters and seals into envelopes for mailing.

Previously, aid was given the association by the Sanford Woman's Club and the Sanford fire department, whose members fold of seals for mailing.

Sale of Christmas Seals had a small beginning.

In 1917, a few doctors in Wilkeson, Del., ran out of money while trying to cure eight babies who were sick with tuberculosis.

Emily Bissell, a cousin of one of the doctors, had read of Einar Holboell, a Danish postal clerk who three years earlier had originated the idea of selling a Christmas stamp to help some sick children.

If Denmark could open its heart to help, she thought, would not America with its proved record of faith and generosity help these eight children?

Money raised in America could and did. Instead of the $300 needed, the woman raised $3,000.

And so it has gone ever since. From the people who gave to this crusade in 1917 has emerged the organized, united fight against tuberculosis today, joined by millions of people who buy Christmas Seals to help the standard of the double-barred cross.

Before her death in 1914, the founder looked back upon her years of service in many fields and said about the result of the Christmas Seal crusade, "I see thousands who had no hope and who have it now."

MARY KNOW WRAPPING PHILADELPHIA (AP)— Evelyn Fisher, executive director of the National Secretaries Assn., says today's secretary must know among other things, how to wrap the boss' Christmas gifts.

She told a meeting of the Philadelphia chapter of the association yesterday that it's a simple thing to do, once you've had a little practice. Just remember to have a supply of wrapping material on hand when the boss comes around.

PLEAS INNOCENT LOS ANGELES (AP)—George Hornel II, meat-packing heir, pleaded innocent yesterday in a charge of possessing marijuana. Superior Judge Harold W. Schweitzer scheduled his trial for Jan. 4.

LT. J. R. GROVER KILLED IN EUROPE Lt. J. R. Grover was killed in an aircraft crash in the Mediterranean sea Tuesday, according to a telegram to Lt. Grover's widow, Dora.

He was attached to Composite Squadron VC-5 at the Naval Auxiliary Air Station here.

No official notification of the crash has been received at the air station, it was said there today.

Lt. Grover is also survived by three children: Lonnie, 8, Linda, 7, and Jane Ellen, 14 months.

Angry Words Voiced In Censure Debate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate censure debate roared along in a "rush of angry words" today with Sen. Charles McNary shouting that Sen. McCarthy "thinks he's the only one who is honest... who would die for his country."

"I don't like it and I don't intend to have it," Chavez cried. Chavez said he had in mind particularly McCarthy's accusation that the senator had stolen an automobile in Alabama.

What brought Chavez bounding to his feet was an objection by McCarthy when Sen. Lehman (D-Ill.) sought to put into the Congressional Record a recent broadcast by CBS commentator Eric Sevareid praising the career of John Edgar Hoover.

McCarthy was fired by Secretary of State Dulles last week after 23 years as a foreign service officer. He was specifically cleared of any disloyalty or Communist association, but Dulles said he agreed with a security board's decision that Chavez had shown a lack of judgment and discretion required of a career diplomat.

McCarthy, in objecting to the censure, said he was going into the Senate to defend his record as one of the original "crazies" of Communist infiltration of the State Department.

He said he was "responsible to some extent" for the "loss of China."

He praised the Eisenhower administration for firing Chavez but said the expulsion came "thundering down" on him and years ago.

Leaps Up Chavez leaped up and said "millions of Americans are just as patriotic as the senator from Wisconsin." He said that wasn't saying much.

Chavez said McCarthy tries to "take it on himself" to decide who is a Communist and who is not. He said he got away with it by running an "F" campaign.

Lehman and that in years of McCarthy's "contribution to his country," the Senate should not do it.

Lehman, in voice shaking from emotion, said the Chavez matter "and similar instances have done more to sap the spirit and vigor of the foreign service than anything else."

Sen. Case (R-Ind.), a member of the committee which recommended censure of McCarthy, expressed the hope McCarthy will give "a reflective consideration" before he makes "further statements of adjectives which might further circulate his position."

Case did not imply for himself that he would vote against censure.

This second day of debate continued in an atmosphere of tension heightened by the descent of hundreds of McCarthy airplanes on the capital.

Partisans Come By train, buses and private cars, partisans of the Wisconsin senator flocked into the city for a "National Rally for McCarthy."

Many of them came to the capital to introduce a resolution of support against censure of McCarthy.

Saltonstall (R-Mass.) called reporters to witness from McCarthy's plane as he landed at the airport. He said he would be in the city for the remainder of the session.

In advance for the session, Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.) said he would propose that the Senate put off a vote on the censure issue until January.

Little Favored This idea seemed to find little favor. Republican Leader Knowland (Calif.) told newsmen the present session was called for a specific purpose of acting on the censure issue and "I think it should be disposed of during the present 83rd Congress."

Knowland said it would "not be in the interest of other parties, the Senate or the country" to put off a vote until next January. He said he doubted whether either side to the dispute would want to do so.

Saltonstall, the assistant Republican leader, expressed a similar view. So did Sen. Dicksen (R-Ind.), a leading supporter of McCarthy.

Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.) predicted Capehart would fail if he tried to get the Senate to postpone the issue until January.

Driver Hits Car To Avoid Cyclist Deputy Sheriff M. H. McCallahan today told of how a motorist ran into a second vehicle yesterday in a avoid hitting a boy riding a bicycle.

According to the deputy, Oswald E. Adams, 413 W. First St., swerved while car riding driven by Mrs. Sally P. Newsum, Cameron Ave. on S. Bearhill Ave. about a half mile south of Geneva Ave., a avoid hitting Herbert Stuedoff who lives nearby.

"Apparently no one was injured," No arrest was made.

VOTES CAST FOR NOBODY RODMAN, N. C.—Some boys were cast for nobody, counting for nothing, a rebuff of the Nov. 2 vote here shows.

Harry LeCross, custodian of the machine for the poll, told New York community explained that the machine did not have enough blank bars to block off all the blank spaces election day.

Elderly Man Struck By Car; Condition Said To Be 'Fair'

Good Citizenship Is Subject Today At Education Meet

The main purpose of the public schools is to help develop to the maximum the human capabilities within our democracy and to give leadership to the liberty-loving people of the world, stated a member of the committee in charge of arrangements for the meeting.

Make Contributions Sanford and Seminole County schools are daily contributing toward the development of these democratic ideals, continued the speaker.

They urged their day of reflection for citizens to be up with a "call to action" of the day.

The day followed by the speaker, "The day of reflection for citizens," was a call to action of the day.

Teachers' Encouraged The day of reflection for citizens was a call to action of the day.
