Magnolia Mall Dedicated

Ten years of hard work, lobbying and planning was recognized today as Magnolia Mall, part of the downtown redevelopment project, was dedicated before an audience of Sanford citizens and local civic leaders.

The dedication kicked off Sanford Appreciation Week which now through Saturday will include prize drawings, shows, performances and special sales, all in the downtown area.

The mall and 24 buildings are part of a scheme to pump economic life into the Sanford business district and then throughout the rest of the city, according to Sara Jacobson, executive director of the Downtown Development Corporation.

At the 9:30 a.m. dedication were members of the corporation, Jack Horner, president of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce; Sanford Mayor Bettye Smith; Sanford commissioners David Farr and Milton Smith; former Sanford mayor Lee P. Moore; former commissioners Ned Yancy and Eddie Keith; Seminole County Commission Chairman Bob Sturm; entrepreneur Jenno Paulucci; Don Knight, president of the Downtown Business Association; Buck Hodges, president of the Sanford Plaza Businessmen's Association and

Supreme Court Edict To Hit Sheriff Budget

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

The Seminole County Sheriff's Department budget must be submitted to the county commission today, but no one yet knows what the financial impact of a recent Supreme Court ruling will be.

The high court, in Garcia vs. San Antonio Transit Authority, recently reversed a 1976 ruling to say local governments are not exempt from the federal Fair Labor Standards Act, calling for payment to employees at the rate of time-and-a-half for overtime.

The U.S. Department of Labor must develop regulations on how the federal law, as interpreted by the Supreme Court, will be enforced.

And in Seminole County, Labor Attorney David Kornreich is developing a "position paper," on the effect the new decision will have on the county fire department and the Sheriff's Department, according to Kornreich's associate Clem Hyland.

Hyland said the county's pay policies are under review now and Kornreich will be meeting with county officials on the court decision. At that time the county officials will be informed of what the dollar impact will be to comply with the law. No definite time has been set for that meeting, but it is expected to be by early summer when county commissioners will be holding budget sessions for fiscal 1985-86.

"Almost all of the county pay policies are in compliance," Hyland said. "But the way firefighters work raises an interesting issue."

He said the issue of whether firemen can work more than 40 hours per week was considered in 1976 as the high court was hearing the lawsuit of National League of Cities vs. Usery.

In that suit the court ruled that the wage and hour law does not apply to public employees performing traditional public services such as firefighters do.

Prior to the decision, however, the U.S. Department of Labor prepared rules just in case the court ruled otherwise. In those rules the federal agency said local governments — cities and

Holocaust Remembered

Survivors Mark Liberation Of Death Camps

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Thousands of Holocaust survivors, joined by their common suffering, gathered to mark the 40th anniversary of the end of World War II and pay homage to the 6 million Jews who died in Hitler's death camps.

Police estimated 10,000 people attended a service Sunday at the Monument to the Six Million Jewish Martyrs. Led by Mayor Wilson Goode and Benjamin Meed, president of the American Gathering of Jewish Holocaust Survivors, the survivors then began their slow march under a hot sun to the Liberty Bell, where each placed a flower in the well of the bell in memory of a victim.

"Liberty is a very important thing, and it is sad to think that one has to lose freedom in order to appreciate it," said Eva Mozes Kor of Terre Haute, Ind.

As a 9-year-old, Kor was one of the twins at Auschwitz who was subjected to medical experiments by Dr. Joseph Mengele.

She later founded Candles Children of Auschwitz, an organization for other surviving twins.

Kor denounced President Reagan's plan to lay a wreath at a cemetery of German war dead, including about 47 Waffen SS troops, during his trip to Germany next month.

"I think it's outrageous that someone would have so little understanding," she said. "How does he begin to be the leader of the free world? And I voted for him."

The ceremonies Sunday were the first of three days of events to mark the end of World War II.

Sen. Arlen Specter, R-Pa., was to chair a meeting today on the role the U.S. government played in the search for Mengele and other war criminals.

As they have done at previous Holocaust gatherings in Jerusalem and Washington, survivors and their children were to use computers in an attempt to locate and be reunited with family members and friends.

Fran Laufer, 59, of New York said just attending the memorial was painful.

"As we get older, we have to talk," said Laufer, who was a prisoner in the Bergen-Belsen camp in Germany. "It brings back a lot of memories but for some reason, all the survivors have an attachment to the suffering."

"It is very important to meet people that lived through the same, because people who did not live through the same can't understand, no matter how many books they read. My children did not know exactly what I suffered because I didn't want to bring them pain."

Jacob Kaliski, 61, Cincinnati, Ohio, displayed the tattooed number — 143191 — that was used to identify him through three concentration camps. His parents, five brothers, three sisters and numerous relatives died

Financier Expected To Plead Guilty

From Staff And Wire Reports

The federal trial today of financier Jake Butcher, who owns a home in Sweetwater Club, near Altamonte Springs, was postponed amid reports the flamboyant money broker will plead guilty to stealing more than $40 million from his own banks.

Reports Sunday indicated Butcher, 48, will admit to 22 counts of bank fraud and income tax evasion in exchange for a sentence of not more than 20 years in federal prison.

Five trials were planned for Butcher in Knoxville and Memphis, Tenn., and London, Ky. on 93 counts of bank fraud and nine counts of tax fraud. If convicted on all counts, he faced a 501-year sentence and $438,000 in fines.

But officials said because of Butcher's spotless record prior to the bank fraud indictments and because of the expected guilty plea to reduced charges he will probably be eligible for parole in four to six years.

His first trial was scheduled to start today, but federal court officials Friday told prospective jurors the trial had been delayed at least a week. A hearing was set for 1 p.m. EST today amid reports of the guilty plea.

Butcher reportedly will admit to using bogus loans and forged signatures — funneling money through fictitious companies in some cases — to bilk his own banks.

But while the money lasted, Butcher had a lavish lifestyle, complete with expensive homes, cars and boats. He helicoptered to work each day from his mansion home to the Knoxville bank.

The two-time Democratic gubernatorial candidate was

NAACP: Black Voters Being Intimidated

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Justice Department is using selective criminal prosecution to intimidate elderly blacks in the South from voting, the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund charges.

Criminal charges have been filed against three blacks, one a former aide to the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., for fraudulently altering absentee ballots in a rural Alabama county. The charges arise out of actions by the three in working with elderly blacks to fill out absentee ballots.

Essentially, the charge is that the three took advantage of elderly black voters and altered ballots to promote their own candidates for public office in the county.

Albert Turner, who was the Alabama state director of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, which King led, his wife, Evelyn, and Spencer Hogue Jr. were indicted by a federal grand jury in Mobile, Ala. Jan. 25 and charged with altering ballots, mail fraud and voting more than once.

Albert Turner and Hogue may face 115 years in prison and a $40,000 fine and Evelyn Turner 35 years in prison and a $30,000 fine if convicted.

Turner is president of the Perry

County Civic League, which the brief said was "almost single-handedly responsible for the dramatic increase in the number of blacks who registered to vote in Perry County since 1965."

The brief said it has evidence that some elderly blacks have stated that they will not vote again because it has caused them too much trouble.

The Legal Defense Fund asserts the prosecution is "selective and vindictive" and was brought against blacks because they tried to help other blacks vote by absentee ballot while investigators ignored whites doing similar work among whites.

The brief asked the federal court in Mobile to dismiss charges against Hogue, who is being represented by the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund. Lawyers for the other defendants also have asked that charges be dropped before the start of the trial June 17.

When Perry County District Attorney Roy Johnson was unable to convince a black-majority Perry County grand jury to indict the three, he wrote William Bradford Reynolds, the assistant attorney general in charge of civil rights, for help, the brief said.

Red Cross To Ask Seminole For Food Distribution Site

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

The American Red Cross's surplus food distribution program for the disadvantaged may have a permanent Sanford home after Tuesday's 9:30 a.m. county commission meeting.

The board is scheduled Tuesday at its 9:30 a.m. meeting at the county services building to consider leasing the former county motor vehicle inspection station on 25th Street near Sanford Avenue to the American Red Cross for the food program.

At a workshop today Gene Keltner and Jenny Penny are to formally ask commissioners for a lease of the building at a nominal sum.

Keltner is executive director of the Central Florida Chapter of the Red Cross while Mrs. Penny is manager of the Red Cross service center in Longwood and director of the health services program which includes the distribution of surplus food commodities.

Mrs. Penny has said the program needs permanent headquarters where surplus foods can be stored and refrigeration can be installed for perishable foods.

She said if the lease is approved, she will appeal for the donation of the needed refrigeration equipment. The food distribution program has no funds.

Mrs. Penny and her volunteers have had a difficult time finding a permanent site in the Sanford area for food distribution. For a time the food was given out at the county agriculture center at Five Points but traffic problems there made continuing at the site impossible.

Earlier this month and again in May food distribution for the disadvantaged in the Sanford area is being distributed at Crooms High School at 220 W. 13th St.

Usually provided are surplus butter and cheese provided by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

At times there has also been powdered milk, honey, corn meal and other items available for distributions.

Mrs. Penny said she doesn't know at this time what foods will be available for distributions at Crooms on Wednesday, May 1, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. to persons living in Sanford (Zip Code 32771), Lake Mary (32746), Lake Monroe (32747) and the Springs (32779).

The Altamonte Springs Community Chapel, 825 State Road 436, Altamonte Springs, will be the site of distribution on May 2 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. for persons living in Altamonte Springs

Martha Brought A Bundle

LEXINGTON, Va. (UPI) — It may have been a love match, but George Washington also got a substantial dowry when he married Martha Dandridge Custis.

That detail was confirmed by newly restored documents retrieved from a vault at Washington and Lee University. They show that Martha Washington and her two children were worth more than $6 million.

The documents reveal Washington got 17,000 acres of plantation land Martha Dandridge Custis Washington and her two children inherited from Daniel Parke Custis, her first husband.

But the size of the Custis fortune is not necessarily a commentary on the Washington's marriage, said historian W.W. Abbott. Washington had his own inheritances, including Mount Vernon, and he was a shrewd and early investor.

"By the time he met Martha, Abbott said, "he was not impoverished at all."

Besides, Abbott said, the first lady had other charms besides her money.

The documents — 38 leaves from one of Washington's account books graced with his script — "may be the most important addition to George Washington's material in more than a generation," Abbott said.

IN BRIEF

84-Year-Old Patient Dies From Massive Dose Of Morphine

AUBURN, N.Y. (UPI) — An 84-year-old man who lapsed into a coma after a nurse mistakenly injected him with 10 times the dose of morphine prescribed by doctors has died.

The Cayuga County coroner has scheduled an autopsy, and the state Health Department and county district attorney's office have begun an investigation of the death of Carl F. Smith.

Smith, of Port Byron, Cayuga County, died Saturday at 4:46 p.m., Auburn Memorial Hospital spokesman Gar Smith said Sunday.

Doctors say Smith lapsed into a coma April 11 after a nurse mistakenly gave him 30 milligrams of morphine instead of the three milligrams prescribed by his physician, Dr. Walter Prokopiow.

Smith, a retired auto mechanic, had been under treatment for congestive heart failure.

Clerics Charged With Malpractice

GLENDALE, Calif. (UPI) — A $1 million suit filed against a church and its pastors for alleged negligence in counseling a young man who later committed suicide becomes today what is believed to be the nation's first clergy malpractice suit to reach trial.

After years of legal wrangling, the landmark case goes before Superior Court Judge Joseph Kallin.

The suit against Grace Community Church, one of the largest churches in Los Angeles County, was filed by Walter Nally. His 24-year-old son, Ken, killed himself with a shotgun blast April 1, 1979.

The case is being closely watched by attorneys and clergymen across the country because it raises wide-ranging issues about First Amendment protections of freedom of religion and separation of church and state.

The suit accuses the church's four pastors of "outrageous conduct" for allegedly discouraging Nally from seeking professional psychological help because of their own bias against secular counseling.

Neo-Nazi Standoff Continues

THREE BROTHERS, Ark. (UPI) — FBI agents negotiated into the night trying to talk the leader of a neo-Nazi group into giving himself up today — the fourth day of a stakeout in the isolated camp.

More than 10 law enforcement officers by Sunday had occupied about one-third of the compound at The Covenant, the Sword and the Arm of the Lord, which they surrounded Friday in preparation for the arrest of leader Jim Ellison.

At least four women and 12 children have left the camp since Friday and more are expected to leave. The women and children were being relocated in the area at government expense.

Ellison, the founder and spiritual leader of the white supremacist, paramilitary group, is charged with directing group members to produce illegal automatic weapons and silencers from 1981 to 1984, McElhane said.

On the weapons charges he faces a maximum sentence of five years in prison and a $50,000 fine.

Abortion Clinic Bombing Case Heads To The Jury This Week

PENSACOLA (UPI) — Government prosecutors will try to establish today that four young men and women charged with bombing abortion clinics knew they committed illegal acts and should be punished for them.

The government plans first to cross-examine defense psychiatrist Nancy Mullan who testified Saturday that three defendants suffered from "severe mental defects" and the fourth from "neurotic depression." Government psychiatrists who also examined the four will then be called as rebuttal witnesses after the defense rests its case.

The trial of Matthew Goldsby, 21, his fiancée, Kaye Wiggins, 18, James Simmons, 21, and his wife, Kathy Simmons, who turned 19 today, is expected to go to the jury by midweek. They are accused of bombing three abortion clinics under the cover of darkness and fog on Christmas morning.

Only Wiggins has taken the stand. The defense has indicated the other three will not be called to testify on their own behalf.

In a surprise move Saturday, U.S. District Judge Roger Vinson rejected government objections and allowed defense lawyers to show a 45-minute film called "Assignment: Life" to support the testimony of defense psychiatrist Nancy Mullan.

"Abortion is not on trial," Vinson said. "But it's clear to me that the two male defendants, if they did not have an obsession with abortion, it weighed heavily on their minds."

The film — used as a propaganda tool by anti-abortionists — vividly depicts the remains of aborted fetuses and shows two abortions being performed.

Vinson's decision allowing the film to be shown marked what was believed to be the first time direct testimony on abortion was permitted in cases involving attacks on clinics.

Mullan testified that James Simmons saw the movie in June 1983 and became obsessed with abortion. She said the film was "crucial" in his development.

Winter Springs Teen Held In Store Holdup

A 19-year-old Winter Springs man was being held without bond in the Seminole County jail today, charged with two counts of armed robbery, kidnapping and carrying a concealed weapon after allegedly robbing a convenience store/gas station and abducting the clerk.

The man was nabbed at about 7:30 a.m. Sunday at Gooding's Plaza, Red Bug Lake Road, Casselberry, by a Casselberry policeman who stopped the suspect's car for a traffic violation, a Seminole County sheriff's report said.

Casselberry policeman Paul James noted the man matched the description of a suspect who had robbed the Gulf service station/food store at Red Bug Lake and Dike roads in southeast Seminole County at 5 a.m. Sunday, the report said.

In that robbery, a bandit entered the store and asked 19-year-old clerk Wallace D.

Lackey if he was alone. When Lackey said yes, the robber pulled a small handgun from his jacket and demanded cash from the register and safe.

Lackey handed over about $300 and the bandit ordered him to call a taxi. When the cab hadn't arrived after about 10 minutes, the robber ordered Lackey to drive him from the scene in his truck, a sheriff's report said.

Lackey drove to the intersection of Lamesa Avenue and Galleon Court in the Sunrise subdivision southeast of Winter Springs where the bandit took $113 from Lackey's wallet before fleeing, the report said.

When James stopped the suspect's car at Gooding's he saw a large quantity of cash on the floor of the car and the handle of a handgun sticking out from under the front seat, the report said.

Lackey was brought to the scene by deputies and reportedly identified the suspect who was charged with carrying a concealed weapon.

The suspect was taken to the Casselberry police station where charges of armed robbery and kidnapping were added.

Charles Edward Votta, a landscape laborer, of 1350 Palo Alto Court, has been charged in the case.

Habitual DUI Offender Fined $2,000

A south Seminole County car salesman with 17 traffic convictions including three DUIs was fined $2,000 in county court for two more DUI convictions.

Dennis Buxton, 30, of 3063 Autumn Court, was fined for driving under the influence Sept. 29 in Altamonte Springs, and Jan. 26 in Casselberry. Buxton is serving 6 months in the Orange County jail for assault and battery on a police officer and is scheduled to go trial in Orange County May 20 on a charge of DUI.

In addition to the fine, Seminole County Judge Harold Johnson sentenced Buxton to 4 months but gave him credit for 4 months already served. Buxton is scheduled to get out of the Orange County jail in September.

Johnson also suspended Buxton's driver's license permanently even though it had already been suspended indefinitely for failure to pay court fines.

Buxton was arrested Jan. 26 and charged with DUI behind Butler Plaza, state Road 436, after he was found sleeping in a parked car with its engine running and his foot on the gas pedal. Buxton had been charged with obstruction by false information after he reportedly gave sheriff's deputies three false names. That charge was dropped.

Buxton was also arrested on a DUI charge Sept. 29 after his car failed to maintain a single lane on SR 436, Altamonte Springs.

According to court records, Buxton has a total of 19 convictions in five counties for speeding, reckless driving, and DUI.

The robber, who got away with about $40, was armed with a small handgun, according to the clerk who told deputies the man fled to a small blue car where a driver was waiting.

A LITTLE SALE

Two Sanford men who reportedly sold two small envelopes of marijuana to an informant as Sanford deputies watched have been jailed on possession and sale of pot charges.

Police reported the deal was made on West 13th Street, Sanford, at about 4:15 p.m. Friday. The informant reportedly paid $10 for the pot, a police report said.

Being held in lieu of $5,000 bond each were Tim Bell, 20, of 136 Scott Drive, and Rodney Hillsman, 19, of 26 Castle Brewer Court.

IN BRIEF

Neves Dead; Vice President Will Be First Civilian Leader

SAO PAULO, Brazil (UPI) — President-elect Tancredo Neves, prevented by illness from taking the oath as Brazil's first civilian president in 21 years, died after struggling against infection and intestinal problems. He was 75.

Vice President Jose Sarney was expected to assume the presidency. Leaders of all political parties said they supported him, as did military authorities.

Neves, who underwent seven operations in the last 38 days, died Sunday night, presidential spokesman Antonio Brito said. Neves had suffered a heart crisis earlier in the day and doctors said his condition had deteriorated rapidly.

Aides said Neves' body would be borne through Sao Paulo's streets today on a fire truck, the Brazilian tradition for a dead dignitary. He will be buried in his small hometown of Sao Joao del Rei after lying in state in the presidential palace in Brasilia.

Contra Aid Battle Enters Home Stretch

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan today hoped to stave off a stinging foreign policy defeat on aid to Nicaraguan rebels but his task is complicated by what the White House branded as a slick "propaganda initiative" by Managua.

Having abandoned the core component of his policy toward Nicaragua — renewed military assistance for the Contra rebels — Reagan sought agreement with the Senate on a resolution that would grant him at least a partial victory.

At best, the White House clung to the hope Congress would opt for the same amount of aid Reagan requested — $14 million — but with assurances the money would be used only for non-military purposes.

In the House, however, Democrats claimed they had the votes to defeat any resumption of aid of any sort to the Contras and deal Reagan a major political setback three months into his second term.

As the White House began a home-stretch drive to prevent that, a new gesture from Nicaraguan President Daniel Ortega — brought to Washington by two freshman Democratic senators — further clouded the outlook on Capitol Hill just a day away from two showdown votes.

Sens. John Kerry, D-Mass., and Tom Harkin, D-Iowa, who met with Ortega over the weekend, touted the proposal as "a framework though which a peaceful resolution could be found to the conflict in the region."

The administration disagreed. Emerging after almost two hours of high-level discussions at the White House, Secretary of State George Shultz flashed an emphatic thumbs-down sign to reporters when asked about the Ortega offer.

9 Alleged Mobsters Caught In Sweep

MIAMI (UPI) — Nine people allegedly tied to the Gambino organized crime family were behind bars today after investigators looking into counterfeiting ran across a Quaalude ring and two attempted mob hits.

They were arrested during the weekend in Florida and New Jersey and charged with crimes ranging from drug trafficking to conspiracy to commit murder, the latter involving the planned contract killings of two people in the northeastern United States.

counties — would have a three year period to reduce the weekly hours worked to comply with the law, Hyland said.

"It's unclear now whether those old regulations will be used or if new ones will be prepared. And we don't know whether the county will have three years to come into compliance," Hyland said.

The county's 93 firefighters now work a 56-hour week, he said, and technically according to the decision they should be paid time and a half for time on the job beyond 40 hours per week.

Meanwhile, Betty Simcoe, controller for the sheriff's department, said she has "no idea of the financial impact of the new court decision on sheriff's budget."

The deputies get compensatory time (time off to compensate for overtime worked) rather than overtime pay when they must go to court during their off hours. But officers often stay after their duty shift is over to write reports and they get neither comp time nor overtime pay for that, she said.

But deputies are paid for holidays, she said.

And Mrs. Simcoe said, since she has no idea of the impact of the high court decision, the sheriff's proposed budget for 1985-86 that must by law be submitted to the county commission today includes nothing for overtime pay.

The department has 148 sworn personnel, including Sheriff John Polk and Chief Deputy Duane Harrell. Many of these men and women would be affected by the new ruling.

Public Safety Director Gary Kaiser said he doesn't believe his department budget will be seriously impacted by the new ruling. "The effect will be minimal," he said.

Kaiser said the decision was made in the 1970s to pay some overtime to the firemen. "If we weren't paying any overtime, the impact could be significant," he said.

Kaiser and other county department heads will be submitting their preliminary budgets to the county commission on April 30. He said if there does happen to be a financial impact from the ruling there will be plenty of time to plug the additional money into final department budgets before the county's overall budget is adopted in September.

manager of J.C. Penney's and Kathy Kinney, president of the Downtown Business Association. Also attending was Winter Springs mayor John Torcaso and the mayor of Casselberry, Charles Clascok.

Ms. Jacobson said the dedication and ongoing development is the long-sought big step in changing Sanford's physical appearance so the city will appear to be what residents have known it to be — a good place to live.

"It has taken a lot of patience and good planning to get this far," she told an audience about 100.

She said consultants told the development corporation after it was formed in June of 1975 that people moving to Seminole County settled in the south end because of what they perceived to be better schools and better, higher paying jobs.

The development corporation was told that it was not just Sanford that needed a transfusion of economic blood but the greater Sanford area as well.

Ms. Jacobson said the dedication today and redevelopment is a vital step in that rejuvenation project.

The dedication highlights the end of the first of three phases of redevelopment, Horner said. The other phases will include generation of funds and further expansion of the redevelopment.

"This is just the beginning," said Horner. He said the development corporation has not only brought about a physical change in the historic business district of Sanford but ushered with its activities an air of optimism that future redevelopment is possible and will revitalize the greater Sanford area.

The event was marked by the release of hundreds of red, white and blue balloons and a performance by the Seminole High School Band. The color guard was provided by the Sanford Knights of Columbus.

In captivity. Nathan Weiselman said he and his wife, Lea, came from Las Cruces, N.M., to "be living symbols and to be witness to this great tragedy."

Meanwhile, in Bergen-Belsen, West Germany, Chancellor Helmut Kohl joined 2,000 people marking the 40th anniversary of the liberation of the Bergen-Belsen death camp, saying Germans will feel a "lasting shame" for the "misdeeds of the Nazi regime."

Kohl was the guest speaker at a solemn ceremony Sunday organized by the Central Council of Jews in Germany at the site of the former concentration camp, where an estimated 100,000 people died during World War II.

"Germany bears historical responsibility for the misdeeds of the Nazi regime," he said, calling the Holocaust "the darkest, most painful chapter in German history."

Kohl will visit the Bergen-Belsen site again on May 5 with President Reagan after the pair attend a wreath-laying ceremony at a German military cemetery in Bitburg, southwest of Cologne.

In a message read to the gathering Sunday, Reagan said "absolution is not possible or desirable. No government must ever again be allowed to ignore its duty to humanity."

The 2,000 people attending the ceremony, including former concentration camp inmates and delegations of Jews and gypsies, gathered before a remembrance wall and memorial obelisk for two hours of prayers and speeches.

The camp was liberated April 15, 1945, by advancing British troops who burned down the barracks and tents because of a typhoid epidemic raging among the inmates.

The site is now a meadow studded with heather, birch trees and low mounds in which dead prisoners are buried by the thousands.

One survivor, now, 71, told the gathering how she was deported by the Nazis and shipped first to the Auschwitz death camp in Poland before being sent to Bergen-Belsen.

"There was no lighting, no water, no latrines," she said. "The sadistic torture-sickness, hunger and the dying grew so bad that house-high mountains of corpses were piled before the barracks."

charged in a 32-count bank fraud indictment in Knoxville along with two associates, Jesse Barr, 48, and Jack Patrick, 46.

It remained unclear Sunday whether Barr, Butcher's top aide, and Patrick, a vice president and loan officer of the failed United American Bank, would strike a deal with government prosecutors as well.

"The only thing left to be worked out is the details. Jesse just wants the best deal he can get," said a source close to the negotiations.

Butcher and Barr were named in the tax fraud indictment along with G.W. Ridenour, a former attorney for Butcher's failed bank.

Barr and Ridenour allegedly helped Butcher falsify his federal tax returns for 1978 through 1982.

Butcher, a friend of former President Jimmy Carter who was named promoter of the 1980 World's Fair, was forced into bankruptcy six months after his flagship United American Bank of Knoxville failed on Valentine's Day 1983.

Eleven Tennessee banks owned or linked to Jake Butcher and his brother C.H. Butcher Jr., 47, went bankrupt in 1983, the nation's worst financial collapse since the Depression.

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., will spend up to $700 million covering loan losses at the banks.

Buying American

Buying American can be difficult — even in America. Just ask state and local agencies in Pennsylvania.

The Pennsylvania Legislature, in an effort to help the ailing steel industry, last year passed a law requiring that state and local governments buy only American-built cars.

It stipulated that manufacturers must certify that the autos were assembled in the United States and that three-fourths of the parts were manufactured domestically.

As a result, public agencies are complaining about being stuck with aging vehicles and the maintenance and repair costs needed to keep them in service.

They can't purchase new ones because manufacturers and dealerships apparently can't meet the certification requirements.

Only local police departments have been granted waivers but there is a move afoot to allow government agencies to purchase vehicles made in "North America."

It seems that U.S.-made cars typically include parts from Mexico and Canada.

Lawmakers who sponsored the legislation are opposed.

They say that would defeat the purpose of protecting U.S. workers and U.S. products.

But then so does passing well-intentioned laws that can't be obeyed.

Protect Consumers

Product safety is a growing concern among Americans. Toaster ovens that bite fingers, three-wheeled motorcycles that do flips. ... There is hardly a product that isn't being scrutinized for potential danger.

This is well and good. But we are concerned that the scrutiny isn't going far enough, to the ultimate source of danger — nature.

Consider these shocking facts:
Babies are born without operating instructions, warranties or protections for parents.

Poisonous plants such as castor bean and oleander sprout without labels identifying them.

Toxic elements, like selenium, locked in the earth are dissolved and spread into the water.

Flowering plants release pollen without applying for air pollution permits from the government.

The list goes on. What can be done to halt these outrages?

We propose genetic research to produce plants with labels that grow on their leaves. Children who are born without proper operating instructions and lifetime warranties should be sent back to their Maker. Erosion will be banned, forthwith. And all pollinating plants will be fitted with scrubbers.

As for Mother Nature, she will be hauled into court and ordered to refrain from evolving new dangers until she halts the present ones.

BEN WATTENBERG

Great Society: An Idea That Will Return

There is a major argument raging about "The Great Society" — that massive collection of federal programs set into motion during the 1960s by President Lyndon Johnson. The key question is this: "Did the Great Society work?"

Programs are hard to measure, and the argument gets tangled. But I propose a simple test: In the 20 years since the advent of the Great Society, what has happened to people in the United States in those realms where the Johnson programs tried to engineer change? As luck would have it, the new edition of the best people-measuring tool we have — the Statistical Abstract of the United States — has just been published by the U.S. Census Bureau.

Consider: Have you gone to college recently? There were 2,230 colleges in 1965 — and 3,026 just 10 years later, most of them built in part with Great Society funds. College enrollment went from 6 million to 11 million.

Have you had a heart attack or stroke? Did you die from it? The Abstract tells us the age-adjusted death rate from "major cardiovascular diseases" fell from 340 to 246 per 100,000 from 1970 to 1981. There were many reasons, but the timing is right to show the value of the Heart, Cancer, Stroke Program of 1965.

Perhaps you see where I'm going. Most of the critiques of the Great Society focus on poverty, race, and social welfare. We'll talk about that. But those of us who worked with LBJ know that the Great Society was wide ranging. It involved a broad questioning of American society, asking this: What should we be doing that we're not doing, and that only government can do?

The answer involved not only colleges and medical research — but clean air and water, consumer protection, public television and mass transit, to begin a long list.

And, of course, it involved race and poverty. The centerpiece of the Great Society was civil rights. America was a segregated society when LBJ came to office. It wasn't when he left.

What about poverty? This summer the Census Bureau will issue the 1984 poverty statistics. The rate will be in the 7 percent to 8 percent range, counting income from food stamps, Medicare, Medicaid and public housing (Great Society programs). The 1960 equivalent figure was 22 percent. That's a drop of two-thirds. That does not sound like failure.

If not "failed," what? Try "flawed." Of course, the Great Society was flawed. The acts of governments are always flawed.

It turned out that there were some built-in disincentives in some programs. Pay enough money to a mother with an out-of-wedlock child and you will encourage some mothers to have out-of-wedlock children.

Other flaws only developed later on. As the programs expanded, the politicians were unwilling to fully pay for them. Programs that aren't paid for mean big deficits. We got 'em.

Some of the initiatives of the Great Society were subject to distortion by liberal interest groups. Thus there were no Great Society laws about busing or quotas. There were none that favored educational permissiveness. There were none that were soft on crime or vindictive to business. But those ideas crept into our laws, and have been unfairly blamed on Great Society legislation.

And, finally, things change. The poverty problem in the '60s concerned the elderly. That was mostly whipped by Great Society initiatives. Today, the poverty problem is different: children in female-headed families.

The Great Society was not perfect. It didn't solve everything forever. At root, it was only an idea: that free men and women can work with their government to try to make things better. That idea has shown some measurable positive results. You can check it out in the Abstract. It's not the most popular idea right now. There's a great deal of cleanup work to be done on those distortions. But it's an idea that will be back.

WASHINGTON WORLD

Super Simple 1040

By Arnold Sawlak
UPI Senior Editor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan says he will offer a simplified tax system to the nation next month. No need to wait, herein is the super-simple Form 1040 everyone has been waiting for:

Line 1. Enter your name, address and Social Security number.

Line 2. Enter your total income from all sources.

Multiply Line 2 by .10 (for some other decimal).

Line 3. The result is your tax.

Looks great, doesn't it? A 10 percent flat tax means the person who makes $20,000 a year pays $2,000 tax, the millionaire pays $200,000. Quick Easy. Fair.

Also impossible.

The first howl would come from parents.

"Where's the exemption for the kids? You've got to give some credit for the kids, or people will stop having them. Then who will pay taxes 20 years from now?"

So you add a line to subtract $1,000 for each child. Then people who are supporting their parents let out a yell.

"What about us? Do you want us to put the old folks on welfare? That would cost the government a lot more than a measly $1,000 exemption."

Fine, another exemption line goes in for dependents. Next heard from are the elderly who are not living off their children.

"We can take care of ourselves with a little help. How about putting back our exemption for being older than 65? And the blind exemption while you're at it."

Another line goes in.

Now the folks whose income comes from stocks and bonds and savings speak up.

"Are you going to tax all income from interest and dividends? You'll be discouraging investment if you do. Probably cause a recession. Maybe a stock market crash."

And so on.

So now what have you got? Practically the same long and complicated tax form you just finished filling out.

The point of all this is that the president may very well come up with a simplified tax system in May, but the simpler it is, the more people there will be to find something wrong with it. Maybe including you.

Crop Insurance Corp. Is Running Dry

By Jack Anderson and Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — About three weeks ago, a federal agency actually experienced the nightmare that Social Security beneficiaries often worry about: It ran out of money to pay the people it owed.

There was practically no money left in the till to pay insurance claims filed by farmers for crop losses — though the farmers had paid premiums for the protection.

According to our sources, the Federal Crop Insurance Corp. simply stopped processing demands for payment. To cover its financial embarrassment, the FCIC secretly resorted to a bit of Peter-Paul robbery, transferring $50 million of administrative and operating funds to the bankrupt claims section. It has since asked Congress for permission to take yet another stopgap measure to cover the first one.

But it's becoming obvious that FCIC needs an overhaul, which will

ROBERT WAGMAN

More Of A Bright Idea?

WASHINGTON (NEA) — In 1784, Ben Franklin, then ambassador to France, had one of his bright ideas. If the clock were rearranged to give Paris shopkeepers an extra hour of daylight during business hours, they could save more than a million francs a year on candles.

Thus was born the idea of daylight-saving time, which was eventually to become widespread in America. Each U.S. state and county determined how and when to set its clocks until 1967, when Congress passed the Uniform Time Act.

It mandated that all clocks in the continental United States be set one hour ahead at 2 a.m. on the last Sunday in April, and remain there until 2 a.m. on the last Sunday in October.

What's the purpose of daylight-saving time? By mid-spring, the sun rises early enough so that even if the clock is pushed one hour ahead, people can still begin the day in daylight. By extending daylight by one hour in the evening, there's still light available for business, recreation or leisure at day's end.

In 1973, Congress decided to experiment by extending daylight-saving. As an energy-conservation measure, it decreed that from Jan. 6, 1974, until Oct. 28, 1975, the nation would set its clocks an hour ahead and leave them there.

It just didn't work. The extra hour of daylight was fine in late spring, summer and early fall. In the winter, though, the day began in the dark and it got dark again by the end of the workday. Less than halfway through the experiment, Congress ordered a return to the old DST schedule.

Many businesses still love daylight-saving time.

These groups have formed the Daylight Saving Time Coalition and have proposed that DST be extended. It should start, they say, on the third Sunday in March, rather than the last Sunday in April, and should end on the first Sunday in November, not the last Sunday in October.

Under the DST coalition's plan, some areas would experience "sunrise" as late as 8:10 a.m. for several weeks in late March. Parents groups, such as the National PTA, complain that this will force children to leave for school in the dark.

Dairy farmers say that cows would still follow the old schedule; they'd have to be milked in the dark, and probably would give less milk.

Backers say it might pass this time. Opponents warn that daylight-saving partisans shouldn't count their chickens before they hatch — especially if they'll have to hatch in the dark.

ROBERT WALTERS

Build Peace Not Arms

WASHINGTON (NEA) — "The one thing I don't like is to be called a dove," insists retired Adm. Noel Gayler. "I'm no pacifist — but what I'm talking about is our survival, and for that we need to have a deal with the Soviet Union."

Gayler is a member of a small but growing group of retired generals and admirals from all of the military services who have become outspoken critics of President Reagan's mindless and extravagant military expansion, especially its excessive reliance upon nuclear weapons.

"I believe in a strong America — politically, economically, psychologically and militarily," says Gayler, a former four-star admiral who spent 46 years — his entire adult life — in the Navy before retiring in 1976.

Gayler's credentials as a patriot are impeccable. From 1969 to 1972, he was the director of the National Security Agency, one of the federal government's two most important intelligence organizations.

From 1972 to 1976, he was commander in chief of all U.S. armed forces in the Pacific.

Today, he is affiliated with the American Committee on East-West Accord, a prestigious Washington-based organization whose approximately 400 invited members include former secretaries of state and defense as well as other widely respected foreign policy and military specialists.

Gayler is bluntly critical of many components of Reagan's military buildup. The B-1 bomber, he notes, has become obsolete before becoming operational. "Our MX missile and the Soviet Union's SS-18 and SS-19 missiles are destabilizing for both sides," he adds. "Battlehips are an anachronism — and putting cruise missiles on them doesn't change that."

Like many other politico-military experts, Gayler is most outspoken on the subject of nuclear weapons, which he argues "have no sensible military use since their consequences always recoil terribly on the user."

But while Gayler and others are pressing for bilateral "deep and continuing cuts in nuclear warheads and weapons-grade nuclear material," the Reagan administration persists in promoting an arms buildup of unprecedented proportions.

were very high and probably unrealistic" when it passed a sweeping law in 1980 that required the FCIC to insure many more crops for a higher portion of the value (75 percent), and to make its premiums "actuarially sound."

The FCIC dutifully expanded its coverage, but it never raised its premiums to make them actuarially sound. The result was predictable.

Sprague claims the FCIC "never technically stopped processing claims." But another agency official acknowledged that "we were very selective on our payments" until the $50 million transfusion, which he said keeps the agency alive today.

Sprague retains the farmer's in-born optimism, insisting that "the obligations will be covered" and expressing confidence that "Congress will recognize its responsibility."

Seminole's Derr Is Going Somewhere Fast

By Rob Laria
Special to the Herald

If a list of standout freshmen were to have been compiled last year, nowhere on it would be the name Gary Derr. He wasn't even a varsity player a year ago or even a highly noticeable junior varsity performer.

But that has all changed now. He has come out of baseball obscurity to gain a starting spot with the Seminoles and some well-earned attention.

It hasn't been awesome talent that has propelled Derr into the limelight; there's no eye-catching speed or overpowering strength. Derr has simply parlayed a winning attitude and relentless work into a superb and surprising season.

"Gary, without a doubt, is the most improved player that I've seen from one year to the next," says Seminole Coach Mike Ferrell. "He's a hard worker, that's why. The improvement was just unbelievable. I just never would have thought by this time this year he would not only be a starter but hitting over .300 and doing some of the things he does. He's been a surprising player."

There was no reason to expect such exploits because as a freshman Derr's arm was about as weak as his hitting, and his fielding was often erratic. However, summer ball in the Seminole Pony Colt League and fall play at the Wea Rinker baseball school have turned those shortcomings into strengths. "I really don't know why it happened," said the soft-spoken 6-foot, 170-pounder. "I've improved a lot on my overall game, everything. My play in the summer and in the fall gave me confidence."

Ferrell, who was Derr's coach in the Colt League, says a big improvement was evident, especially in Derr's stronging arm. "I would say his arm has really, really improved," Ferrell asserts. "I'm not saying he has a great arm, but it has improved tremendously. Just the difference from this year to last in his arm is one of the big things."

But his hitting and fielding have come a long way, too. Derr played second base and shortstop on the junior varsity and second base during the summer. Now, Ferrell has him at third, where he has flashed some hot leather, says Ferrell.

And in the Colt League, Ferrell batted Derr in the ninth slot. Now, Ferrell has inserted Derr into the lead-off slot, where he has consistently got on base while hitting .324. Derr, surprisingly, also leads the Seminoles in doubles with five, a distinction senior James Hersey has had for the past two years.

According to Ferrell, who has used the sophomore throughout the batting order, Derr has the makings of an excellent No. 1 batter. "He's not overly fast, probably average speed, but he has one of the best on-base percentages on the team," Ferrell says. "He's got a good eye, and he's hitting well, so we wanted him in the leadoff spot. Most of the time he'll make good contact, and he's smart on the bases."

Derr continues to produce, apparently taking the success he's enjoy in stride. However, he admits he is a bit taken aback by it all. "I just thought I wouldn't start as much," he says. "In the beginning of the season, he (Ferrell) told me I would be playing JV, but he moved me up and kept me there. I was glad he did that, I thought I would be able

Gary Derr came from a mediocre freshman year to become one of the county's super sophomores this spring. Derr finished with a .324 batting average in his first varsity season.

Tournament Time

Baseball Draws Strongest Field

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

DELAND — The finest collection of Five Star Conference baseball teams in the league's 11-year history will get together this week for the District 4A-9 Tournament at Conrad Park. The tournament begins tonight at 7:30 with No. 8 Spruce Creek taking on No. 9 Mainland.

The winner will go against No. 1 Lake Mary (27-6) Tuesday at 11:30 a.m. No. 5 Lake Brantley (15-12) meets No. 4 Apopka (21-8) at 2 p.m. No. 3 Lyman (23-5) battles No. 6 Lake Howell (11-14) at 4:30 p.m. and No. 2 DeLand (17-9) encounters Seminole (10-15) at 7:30 p.m.

Lending credence to the strength of the field is the fact that three of the teams — Lake Mary (sixth), Apopka (seventh) and Lyman (ninth) — were ranked in last week's state poll. DeLand, which went on a tear during the last half of the season, would also be ranked except for all the early season losses.

"It is a very strong field," said DeLand athletic director Bill Anderson last week. "I'd say anyone of the top four or five teams has a chance to win it."

Most of the coaches agree. "Anything can happen," said Seminole coach Mike Ferrell. "That's what we're counting on. It's always interesting when it's district time with the Five Star Conference."

It has been the last 11 years anyway — especially the first nine. During that period, no team which won the conference ever won the district tournament. During the past two years, Apopka has turned the trick twice. But neither was easy.

"We needed a miracle home run (by Rodney Brewer) to beat Mainland in the first round last year," said Apopka coach Sonny Wise. "And the year before, somebody had us beat and we came back and beat them in the last inning."

Wise's Blue Darters, more than any team, confirm the power of the Five Star. The Darters finished fourth in the conference yet won the prestigious Colonial Classic by taking the title game from Lake Mary.

"If there is a tougher district than this one, I'd like to see it," said Lake Mary coach Allen Tuttle. "Apopka beat us for Colonial Classic and they finished fourth. What else do you have to say?"

Lake Mary's strength is its awesome hitting attack. Rod "C.J." Metz, the Rams' catcher, put together an incredible year with nine homers, 40 runs batted in and a .436 average. The first two totals led the county while the third was second.

Every player in the Lake Mary starting lineup hit better than .300 except slugging first baseman Donald Grayson (.278) and some reserves did, too. The team batting average was .335. Lake Mary averaged 8.5 runs and 9.5 hits per game.

Ten players — Metz (.436), Brett Molle (.380), Mike Schmit (.344), Ryan Lisle (.340), Kevin Hill (.340), Shane Letterio (.321), Scott Underwood (.317), Ron Natherson (.309), Keith Wallace (.308) and Anthony Laszale (.302) — surpassed the .300 mark.

Apopka's Wise said he felt the "Chinese home run" contributed to Lake Mary's first victory over his Blue Darters this year. "They (Lake Mary) beat us twice and we beat them twice," he said. "But we should have won that first game. Neither one of those homers (Schmit and Underwood) would have been out of a legitimate park."

All this Chinese dialogue, nevertheless, doesn't have Tuttle overly concerned. He said he knows his team made use of the short fence on occasion but he isn't worried about playing on a big field. "I still feel we have three people who can hit it out of DeLand," he said. "We can hit.

Seminole's Tony Cox has his head, helmet and bat on the ball. Tribe plays DeLand Tuesday night in district baseball opener.

The park doesn't matter. We'll just hit doubles instead of homers."

Along with Lake Mary's stellar hitting, the Rams have a mound staff to match. Sophomore Anthony Laszale, who will open against the Spruce Creek-Mainland winner, was 9-1. Senior Eric "The Whip" Hagen was 8-1 and Schmit was 6-2. Schmit missed several starts because of a bout with mononucleosis.

Although Lake Mary is superior with the bat and probably on the mound, some of the coaches feel that the park and DeLand's superb defense will be a great equalizer and are leaning toward DeLand as the favorite.

DeLand's defensive whizzes are Ed Corbett at shortstop, Chuck Graham at second and Troy Blevins at third. First baseman Kevin Weickel gave the team a big shot in the arm after basketball finished. Paris Hayden roams center as well anyone and swings a good stick, too.

The "Dogs, though, can't match up with Lake Mary on the mound. They have relied on their great defense and potent offense to carry the club. Scott Anderson and Dave Barnard are DeLand's two best pitchers.

Often overlooked while Lake Mary and Apopka were going head-to-head and DeLand was finishing strongly were Lyman's Greyhounds — the league's most consistent team. Lyman opened the season with nine wins. The Hounds won 23 of 28 and were seldom out of a game except for one disaster against Lake Mary (17-5).

The Greyhounds have a tournament-tested pitcher in Derek Livernois and a pure hitter in Paul Alegre. Both had superb years and were the core of a well-put-together team. Livernois posted a 9-2 mark with 111 strikeouts in 67 innings. He also batted .369 with 11 doubles and 28 runs batted in. Center fielder Alegre, who jacked a 445-foot homer against Lake Mary, batted .415 with five homers and 29 ribbies.

Alegre bats fourth in the Lyman order and Livernois hits third. Both are well protected.

Softball Crown Is Up For Grabs

By Chris Flater
Herald Sports Writer

Forget what happened in the regular season — which will be easy for a few teams — the 4A-9 District Tournament is a whole new deal.

Lake Brantley and Apopka proved last year that no one can be counted out at district time. And, although the top four seeds are pretty solid, this year's district tourney could be just as unpredictable as last year's.

On the other hand, if the top four teams are at their best, it could be very predictable. Probably, though, the crown will be up for grabs, as usual.

The 4A-9 tourney gets underway Tuesday with Seminole battling Spruce Creek for the eighth seed and the right to play number one Apopka in Wednesday's first round. Tuesday's game will be played at Spruce Creek High.

The top four seeds will host their first round games and the highest surviving seeds will host the semifinals. The finals will be at Lake Mary High. All tournament games start at 4 p.m.

Here is a look at the district pairings with seeds in parentheses:

Seminole at Spruce Creek — Just last week the Lady Seminoles dropped a 5-3 decision to Spruce Creek's Hawks after the Tribe had taken an early 3-0 lead. Seminole, when it plays defense, can stay with any team in the district. But, if they have one or two bad innings in the field, you can usually count the Lady Seminoles out.

"We have to play our game the whole game," Seminole coach Beth Corso said. "Instead of playing two innings and then slacking off. That's what we did last time we played Spruce Creek."

Seminole has the offensive weapons to score a lot of runs. Sophomore Sheri Peterson has recently been moved to the lead off spot where she is very effective. Almost every player on the team can hit for power. Jackie Farr has hit three homers this season while Janet Hauck, Barbara "Taco" Silva, Peterson and Laura Burke have hit one each.

Defensively, third base had been the problem spot for the Seminoles until Cindy Hogan took over. Hogan played well at third in two games last week. Farr, Hauck and Silva are good outfielders but right field is also a question mark. Peterson patrols first base with Alycia "Fat" Dixon at short and Showanda Walker at second. Both Walker and Dixon have come on strong defensively the last few weeks.

Spruce Creek has improved since the beginning of the season. The Lady Hawks defeated Seminole and pulled an upset of fourth-seeded Mainland. "I expected a sloppy team but they weren't sloppy," Corso said of the Creek. "They have improved a lot."

Seminole-Creek winner (8) at Apopka (1) — Apopka's Lady Blue Darters won the Five Star Conference title after taking consecutive victories over Lake Howell and DeLand. The Lady Darters were at their best in the big conference games.

Seminole could have beaten Apopka in their conference meeting if it weren't for one bad defensive inning. The Lady Darters have a good hitting team so you have to play good defense to beat them.

"Apopka was a good game for us," Corso said. "We would have beat them if it wasn't for one bad inning. We're looking forward to playing the again. But first we have to play our game against Spruce Creek and then go after Apopka."

If the Lady Darters have a weakness it is the right side of their defense. The left side, especially shortstop Julie Fish, is outstanding. Second base and right field have often been trouble spots for the Darters. Offensively, Fish is an excellent lead off hitter while Michelle McKinney, the star of last year's district final, provides the power. McKinney lifted Apopka to the district title last year by hitting a pair of home runs against Lake Brantley.

Lyman's Denise Stevens hopes the district tournament will be a series of high fives each time she crosses the plate.

Lake Brantley (7) at DeLand (2) — Lake Brantley's Lady Patriots made their move in the district tournament last year, surprising Lake Mary in the first round and then DeLand in the second to advance to the finals. Most of the players on last year's team are back and that makes Brantley's chances better since they are tournament experienced.

The problem for the Lady Patriots recently has been producing runs. They have been able to get plenty of baserunners but have been unable to get them home. Sherry "Ice" Asplen and Kim Wain have been the hottest hitters for Lake Brantley lately while Laura Davis, Mandy Mathieson and Michelle Brown are consistent at the plate. Denise Burke has also been coming on strong.

Lake Brantley is solid defensively with Wain anchoring the infield at shortstop and Asplen a rock at first base. Both Wain and Asplen were instrumental in the field in last year's tournament.

DeLand is one of the most solid fundamental teams around. The Lady Bulldogs rarely make a mistake in the field. In their only conference loss this season, DeLand made nine errors in losing to Mainland. That was the first week of the season, the Lady Bulldogs may not have made nine errors in all their other games combined.

Shortstop Robyn Swartz is the defensive leader and second baseman Kim Reeves makes DeLand strong up the middle. Debbie Underwood is also a fine fielding pitcher. Sisters Sonja and Gina Villent are outstanding outfielders.

Offensively, Shawn Lane is one of the best power hitters in the area. Lane, who plays third base, is hitting well over .500 for the season. Swartz is an outstanding leadoff hitter.

Langer Strikes Again, Predicts Return Trips To Winner's Circle

HILTON HEAD ISLAND, S.C. (UPI) — Bernhard Langer's previous accomplishment was tinged — it left him with something to prove.

The West German's playoff win over Bobby Wadkins in the Sea Pines Heritage Golf Classic Sunday established his credibility as a winner on the PGA tour. "I hope to be in the winner's circle many times," he said after his $72,000 victory in the Heritage.

He thought many on the PGA tour might have seen his victory last week in the Masters was a fluke despite his impressive European credentials.

"I'm very excited," he said of the PGA's second back-to-back wins this year, duplicating Mark O'Meara's victories in the Bing Crosby Pro-Am and the Hawaiian Open.

Before he teed off in Sunday's round, Langer said, he had agreed to enter the Houston Open this week.

The loss was a bitter disappointment to Wadkins, who has come close but never has won in his 11 years on the tour.

Golf

But he was gracious in defeat. "I take my hat off to him," he said of the 27-year-old victor. "He had to play extremely well after last week, coming in here after his Masters win. He's a great champion."

Wadkins, the 33-year-old younger brother of Lanny Wadkins, said his putting made the difference in the battle with Langer.

"I hit a lot of god shots, but I just didn't make any putts," he said, adding that he had several near-misses for birdies.

Wadkins, who pocketed $43,200 in runnerup cash, birdied three of the first six holes in the final round, then settled down to a string of 12 straight pars over the par-71, 6,788-yard Harbour Town Golf Links.

Langer, meanwhile, was having his ups and downs, birdying the first hole, bogeying the third and birdying the fifth before coming in with two birdies and two bogeys.

Wadkins sank a pressure putt on the 18th and then sat back and watched Langer play the last two holes.

Langer also finished in par to end the regulation round tied with Wadkins at 11-under-par 273.

Langer's second shot was a pitching wedge to the edge of the green, from where he putted to within inches of the cup and sank it for a par.

Wadkins hit his second shot into a bunker and then chipped out to set up a long par putt, which he missed.

"My putter was my main enemy the past two days," he said.

McNamee Earns Encore — Chris Gets The Hook

Houston (UPI) — Paul McNamee's success was surprising enough without an encore.

McNamee took two and a half hours to beat No. 2 seed Anders Jarryd and take the River Oaks International tennis tournament crown, after upsetting top-seeded Mats Wilander.

McNamee, who's won just one match this year, beat Jarryd 7-6 (7-2), 4-6, 6-2, to win the $200,000 tourney in a match that took 2 hours, 27 minutes.

Earlier in the day, McNamee, 30, had upset top-seeded Mats Wilander in a rain-delayed semifinal match, 2-6, 7-6 (7-5), 6-4.

"He really played well," said Jarryd. "I was surprised he could maintain his consistency against Mats in the morning and then continue it in the afternoon against me. He really served well in both matches."

McNamee, of Sydney, Australia, had not reached the finals of a tournament since 1983, and he entered the tournament having won just one match this year.

But he topped four seeded players en route to the tournament finals — including fifth-seeded Joakim Nystrom of Sweden in the second round and third-seeded Kevin Curren of Austin, 6-3, 7-6 (7-4) in the quarterfinals.

McNamee then dropped Wilander and Jarryd, who had qualified for the finals by defeating Tim Mayotte of Springfield, Mass., 7-6 (7-5), 6-1, in a Sunday morning match.

"This tournament was a tribute to my coach (Bobby Brett) who has really worked hard to help me regain my confidence," said McNamee.

McNamee, who pocketed $40,000 for the victory, won the opening set tiebreaker when Jarryd's backhand collapsed. With the score 3-2 in the tiebreaker, Jarryd committed four unforced errors, three on backhands.

In the second set, McNamee broke Jarryd in the seventh game when the Swede double-faulted, but Jarryd broke right back after running down a lob and hitting a spectacular return.

At deuce, McNamee hit a topspin lob past Jarryd, who scrambled back in time to flick a backhand crosscourt winner that won the next point with another backhand winner to even the set at 4-4.

Jarryd closed out the set with a break.

But McNamee commanded the final set, taking two service breaks and winning the final game without giving up a point.

GARRISON UPSETS LLOYD
AMELIA ISLAND (UPI) — After never winning a set from Chris Evert Lloyd, Zina Garrison captured two Sunday to defeat the weary No. 2 world-ranked player 6-4, 6-3 in the $250,000

Women's Tennis Association Championships.

Ninth-ranked Garrison trailed 4-1 early but won the next five games to take the first set from Evert Lloyd, who was tired from three-set singles and doubles matches last week.

"I was trying to end the points early," Evert Lloyd said. "I didn't want to stay out there for four hours. There was a point in the second set when I tried to reach down, but there was nothing there."

"That was the difference," she said. "But I have no excuses. Zina played better than she's ever played against me."

In the second set, Evert Lloyd narrowed Garrison's 4-2 lead by bouncing back from 15-40 and winning the seventh game.

But she missed two chances to tie the set, and fourth seed Garrison took advantage of a long lob by Evert Lloyd to grab a 5-3 lead. In the next game, the tournament's top seed committed double faults to end the match.

"Chris has played a lot better matches than that," Garrison said. "I actually thought I had a good chance going into the match. My coach (John Wilkerson) did a good job of pumping me up. And my niece and nephew back in Houston called me too before the match and I felt I had a lot of support."

Evert Lloyd, who has won the tournament three times in the last five years, said the first few games of the match were strenuous.

"I definitely let it slip away," she said. "You have to expect something like that to happen if you enter singles and doubles."

"I don't know what would have happened if I hadn't played doubles. Zina deserves a lot of credit."

Garrison pocketed $32,000 for her first tournament victory of the year.

"I didn't really believe it when it was over," she said.

Hershiser Holds Breath, Settles For 2-Hit Shutout

United Press International
N.L. Baseball

Orel Hershiser realizes that before he can be mentioned in the same breath as a Rick Sutcliffe or Fernando Valenzuela he must cross the fine line between being thrower and a thinker.

"The key for me in this game is mental," said Hershiser, who tossed a two-hitter Sunday to spark the Los Angeles Dodgers to a 2-0 victory over the San Diego Padres. "People have told me I have the ability if I can just conquer the mental aspect."

The 26-year-old right-hander flirted with a no-hitter for six innings, but instead Hershiser, only in his second major-league season, settled for his fourth career two-hitter.

Tony Gwynn, last year's National League batting king, broke up the no-hit bid with a leadoff double in the seventh.

"I think that intimidated him," said Los Angeles pitching coach Ron Perrano. "He tried to make the perfect pitch and he started getting behind. When he puts it together, he can be nasty."

The only other hit off Hershiser was Carmelo Martinez's one-out single in the eighth. Hershiser, who tossed three two-hitters in his rookie season, struck out eight and walked two.

"I was really geared up to pitch against these guys," said Hershiser, who improved to 2-0. "I was concentrating so hard, I couldn't stop even when I got to the bench."

 At St. Louis, Terry Pendleton slugged his first career grand slam and rookie Vince Coleman stole three bases to lift the Cardinals to their third straight victory. Bob Forsch, 2-0, picked up the victory as he continues his comeback from back surgery. Pittsburgh starter Jose DeLeon, 0-2, was the loser.

Reds 1, Giants 0
 At Cincinnati, Eric Davis tripled and scored on a balk and Tom Browning pitched eight scoreless innings to lead the Reds to their seventh straight victory Sunday, over San Francisco. Browning, 2-0, gave up five hits and struck out six. Reds player-manager Pete Rose did not play and remains 83 hits shy of breaking Ty Cobb's hit record of 4,191.

Astros 4, Braves 2
 At Atlanta, Bob Knepper, Bill Dawley, and Dave Smith combined on a seven-hitter to lift Houston. Knepper, 1-0, surrendered four hits over six innings to get the victory. ## Twins Finally Win, Stop 9-Game Skid

United Press International
A.L. Baseball

Things weren't going the way of the Minnesota Twins, picked to challenge for the American League West title.

The Twins had dropped nine straight games and their 2-9 record matched their worst since moving from Washington D.C. 25 years ago. They were looking for someone to lift them out of the doldrums.

History has proved John Butcher perfect for the part.

Behind Butcher's three hitter and Kirby Puckett's two-run single, the Twins defeated the Oakland A's 2-0 Sunday to end their slide.

"The way Butcher pitched, it picked everyone up," Minnesota manager Billy Gardner said. "We also got a key two-out single by Puckett to bring in two runs. We just haven't been getting these kind of hits."

Butcher has been a stopper for Gardner since coming to the Twins after the 1983 season. The 28-year-old right-hander has stopped five losing streaks in his time with Minnesota.

"I went out with the idea of pitching the best I could," Butcher said. "They (the A's) were swinging at a lot of early pitches, so I relied on my fastball 80-85 percent of the time."

Kansas City. The victory went to Dan Quisenberry, who pitched 2 2/3 innings in his fourth straight day of action to raise his record to 1-2.

Indians 3, Yankees 0
 At New York, light-hitting Tony Bernazard rapped his second homer in two days and three Cleveland pitchers combined on a seven-hitter to lift Cleveland. Former Yankees Pat Tabler and Otis Nixon added RBI singles as the Indians captured their fourth victory in their last six games.

White Sox 7, Red Sox 2
 At Chicago, a throwing error by Boston pitcher Mark Clear in the seventh inning allowed two runs to score and ignited a seven-run inning that downed Boston.

Orioles 3, Blue Jays 2
 At Toronto, Gary Roenicke belted a two-run homer and Dennis Martinez and Tippy Martinez combined on a six-hitter to lead Baltimore.

Angels 9, Mariners 2
 At Anaheim, Calif., Rod Carew, drawing within 57 hits of the 3,000 mark, stroked two doubles to drive in one run and scored three times to pace California past Seattle.

Rangers 5, Brewers 2
 At Milwaukee, Don Slaught hit a solo home run and added two singles and Cliff Johnson belted another solo shot to power Texas.

Bucks' Big Frontline Corrals Bulls, 122-115

United Press International
NBA Playoffs

Milwaukee has two skylines — one downtown and one under the boards at Mecca Arena.

The Bucks' frontline of 7-foot Alton Lister, 7-1 Paul Mokesky and 7-4 Randy Breuer towered over their Chicago Bulls counterparts again Sunday. The result was a 122-115 triumph for the Bucks and a 2-0 lead in the best-of-five opening playoff series.

"I couldn't be more pleased with all three of my centers' play," Bucks coach Don Nelson said after the three combined for 24 points. "They've really established our inside game."

In the two playoff games the Milwaukee trio has outscored Chicago's big men Dave Jersey's Albert King in the last period to spark Detroit. Isiah Thomas had 29 points and 14 assists for the Pistons. Detroit is ahead 2-0 in the series with Game 3 at New Jersey Wednesday night.

Rockets 122, Jazz 96
 At Houston, Lewis Lloyd scored 27 points and Ralph Sampson 19 to power the Rockets, evening the series at one game each. Game 3 is Wednesday night in Salt Lake City.

Other NBA series resume Tuesday night. The Celtics attempt to eliminate the Cavaliers in three straight games at Cleveland, the Suns try to bounce back from 0-2 against the Lakers in Phoenix and the Spurs, tied 1-1, go at the Nuggets at San Antonio.

Lyman To Reverse Flow, Win District

DELAND — Picking the winner of the District 4A-9 Baseball Tournament the past two years hasn't been so hard...

Until Brewer and Johnson worked their magic the past two years, the previous nine had been unpredictable...

So what do you do? Stay with recent history and forecast into the future? The prospect becomes even more cumbersome...

Although Lake Mary has the best team, the Ramblers probably won't win. Nine of 11 times, the best team hasn't...

Lyman will probably win the tournament. Why? Several reasons. Lyman has the best pitcher in Derek Livernois...

But maybe one of the biggest reasons is that Lake Mary's Mike Schmit, the one player who could dominate the tournament...

Also, Lyman is also fundamentally sound. The Greyhounds know how to hunt and coach Bob McCullough knows when to use it...

If Lyman wins Tuesday, Byron Overstreet will pitch Thursday against DeLand. I've known this young man a long time...

...Softball

Lake Mary (6) at Lake Howell (3) — The third-seeded Lady Hawks and sixth-seeded Lady Rams square off for round four...

This game brings together two of the best defensive teams in the area, and it would be hard to find two better in the state...

Two of the finest outfielders will also be on display Wednesday afternoon. Lake Howell's Eileen Thibault...

Offensively, Lake Howell has the edge with Thibault, the county's leading hitter...

Lyman (5) at Mainland (4) — Both of these teams have been on roller coaster rides all season long...

Mainland started on an upward path by beating both DeLand and Apopka in the same week...

Lyman was fortunate to have played its best games when they counted the most...

Lyman has the top power hitter in Seminole County in junior Denise Stevens...

Chris Fister

Fearless Forecast Sees Lake Howell

I'm reaching for it. Oh no! Somebody stop me. Ha, ha, ha, ha. It's too late. I've turned on the computer.

That can only mean one thing. The sometimes accurate, sometimes dreaded, outlawed in 13 states...

Don't bet your income tax return on my picks, but they aren't ready for the bottom of the bird cage yet...

Here's the four-day outlook for those of you scoring at home:

Tuesday's opening round game has Seminole traveling to Spruce Creek for a playoff for the eighth seed...

Winner at Apopka — If it wins, Seminole will then tangle with the No. 1 Lady Blue Darters who are tough at home...

Brantley at DeLand — DeLand has seen most teams in the district just once this season and Brantley didn't look to good the first time...

Lake Mary at Lake Howell — The Lady Hawks weren't tested in the first round of last year's tournament...

Lyman at Mainland — There is no fence at Mainland High. Unless the host Lady Bucs play very deep...

If it happens this way, and I stress the if, in the first round, look for Howell to outlast Brantley and Apopka to trim Lyman...

...Baseball

Leadoff hitter Kyle Brubaker was one of the county's top run scorers while No. 2 man Mike Henley swung the hottest bat...

McCullough said he will send Livernois against Lake Howell Tuesday and providing Lyman wins, come back with Byron Overstreet...

Lake Howell, which doesn't have its usual solid pitching, is a darkhorse. "I've been real impressed with the way we're played lately..."

A year ago, Lyman went into the Lake Howell game looking ahead and the Silver Hawks tore them up. "We don't want that to happen again..."

Livernois said a different attitude prevails this year at Lyman. "I don't think we wanted it as bad last year..."

The pitching will be there. It all depends on the hitting. Our chances are really good. All we have to do is win that first game," he added. Wise said would pitch lefty Keith Usarey against Lake Brantley...

Usarey, a junior, said one of the Darters' problems has been replacing the leadership of all-stater Rodney Brewer...

Lake Brantley, meanwhile, received a needed defensive transfusion from third baseman Mike Pinckes and another shot in the arm...

Patriot coach Gary Smith said he would start senior lefty Brad Gunn against the Blue Darters. "You have to throw a lefty against Apopka..."

Along with Pinckes, juniors Mark Coffey, Mike Davis and Mike Beams are hitting over .300. Senior Kevin Bass has been the hottest Patriot at the plate...

Metz, Livernois Finish On Top

Lake Mary's Rod "C.J." Metz and Lyman's Derek Livernois were the top hitter and pitcher, respectively...

Metz, the Rams' slugger senior catcher, completed a very consistent showing with nine homers and 40 runs batted in...

Livernois, Lyman's senior right-hander, led Lake Mary's Anthony Laszale and Lake Brantley's Brad Dunn with nine wins...

Paul Alegre, Lyman's senior center fielder, led the county in triples with three and tied for the doubles lead with Lake Howell's John Canfield...

Mark Merchant, Oviedo's swift sophomore, swiped 33 bases in 37 attempts to lead the county in that category...

Shogren, a senior center fielder, finished with 32 hits in 64 at-bats for .500 even. Metz (.436), Alegre (.415), Merchant (.409) and Lake Howell senior Dave Marlette (.400) were next.

Lake Mary senior center fielder Scott Underwood close with a rush to lead in runs with 38. Metz (36), Lyman senior Kyle Brubaker (33) and Lake Mary sophomore Shane Lettiero (32) were next in line.

Lake Brantley junior Tim Smith, a smooth left-hander, closed strongly to take the earned run average crown. Smith finished with a fine 1.78 ERA...

Seminole's workhorse duo of Brian Sheffield and James Hersey logged the most innings. Sheffield, a junior right-hander, hurled 76 innings and Hersey, a senior right-hander, finished with 71. Livernois was next with 67 and Laszale totaled 66.

Lake Mary's Rod 'C.J.' Metz, left, led the county in homers and runs batted in while Lyman's Derek Livernois was the top pitcher.

DeLand, Lake Mary Dominate All-5 Star

DeLand, with four selections, and Lake Mary, with three, dominated the Five Star Conference's All-Conference team picked Sunday by the conference coaches.

DeLand grabbed three of the infield positions as second baseman Chuck Graham, shortstop Ed Corbett and third baseman Troy Bevins earned positions. All are solid fielders and good hitters.

Lake Mary, which won the conference to earn coach Allen Tuttle Coach of the Year laurels, landed senior catcher Rod "C.J." Metz, junior first baseman Mike Schmit and sophomore pitcher Anthony Laszale.

DeLand's outfield was led by senior outfielder Paris Hayden. All are seniors.

Lake Mary's senior right-hander, led the county in triples with three and tied for the doubles lead with Lake Howell's John Canfield and Livernois. Each had 11.

Mark Merchant, Oviedo's swift sophomore, swiped 33 bases in 37 attempts to lead the county in that category. Shogren finished second with 28 thefts in 33 tries.

Shogren, a senior center fielder, finished with 32 hits in 64 at-bats for .500 even. Metz (.436), Alegre (.415), Merchant (.409) and Lake Howell senior Dave Marlette (.400) were next.

Those Who Don't Pay For Fire Protection Could Get Burned

DEAR ABBY: There is absolutely no justification for the actions of the Salem, Ark., volunteer firefighters who stood around and watched a $150,000 home burn down because the owner hadn't paid the $20 annual dues.

I am a volunteer firefighter in Boles, N.M., and I sincerely hope that what happened in Arkansas doesn't reflect on all volunteer firefighters.

The majority of us are hardworking, dedicated people whose only pay on the satisfaction of helping others.

Our priorities are:

1. Rescuing people from burning buildings.
2. Protecting adjoining property from catching fire.
3. Putting the fire out.

Nowhere is there any mention of money. I hope the citizens of Salem, Ark., will do something to correct this problem.

TAMI HARRIS, CAPTAIN, BOLES ACRES VOLUNTEER FIRE DEPT.

DEAR ABBY: Please point out the fact that there are three Salems in Arkansas. They are: Salem, Ark., in Fulton County; Salem, Ark., in Pike County; and Salem, Ark., in Saline County.

Abby, please make it clear that the volunteer firemen who refused to fight a fire because the homeowner had not paid his $20 dues were not from Fulton County — they were from Saline County.

I feel that people who would stand by and let a home burn when they could have saved it should not be allowed to be firemen.

Dear Abby

DONNA JUSTUS, NEWPORT, ARK.

DEAR ABBY: I am amazed that you would criticize the volunteer firefighters for refusing to risk their lives to save the home of someone who was too cheap to pay $20 a year to protect it.

If you don't carry automobile insurance and are involved in a collision, do you really think you could call an insurance agent and say, "Quick, write me up a policy to cover the wreck I just had!"?

W.W. McCULLOCH, WENATCHEE, WASH.

DEAR ABBY: So you think the volunteer firefighters should have saved that $150,000 house even though its owner had not paid his $20 annual dues? Oh sure, just like Blue Cross should pick up your $50,000 hospital bill even though you failed to pay your premiums, and the Los Angeles Police Dept. will respond to a burglary in Santa Monica.

I have no sympathy for a nut who owns a $150,000 home and refuses to pay a measly $20-a-year fee in case he has a fire, he took a gamble and lost!

If the volunteer firefighters had fought that fire, nobody in the community would ever pay his dues again. Why should he, if he can get the same service free? FOR THE VOLUNTEERS

DEAR ABBY: I would like to defend the action of the firefighters. We have a similar situation in Rantoul, Ill. The taxpayers support our volunteer fire department within the city limits. Protection is offered to residents and businesses outside the city limits for a fee of $25 annually.

Most residents pay the fee willingly, but some ignore the bills repeatedly.

I have instructed our chief to respond only to save lives (not property) should we receive a call from anyone who consistently fails to pay.

If people were allowed to pay at the scene of the fire, there would be no incentive to support the department through fees.

The homeowner whose home was burned made his choice long before the fire started.

KATY B. PODAGROSI, MAYOR, VILLAGE OF RANTOUL, ILL.

DEAR ABBY: The jerk who refused to pay $20 membership to a rural fire department, then cried because the volunteer firefighters refused to fight the fire, makes me boil. It costs me a lot of money to purchase and maintain fire equipment.

I was a chairman of a rural fire department that went out of business because there were too many freeloaders. Our nation can't afford freeloaders. If you don't believe it, look at our national debt.

CHARLES L. SHUNK, JOPLIN, MO.

36th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Junior Blake celebrated their 36th wedding anniversary on March 19. They were married in Sanford on that day in 1949. They are the parents of six children and have 10 grandchildren. She is an active member of Reddick Memorial Church and he is a deacon at Morning Glory Missionary Baptist Church and is employed by the Seminole County School Board.

In And Around Longwood

Old Timers' Reception Honors Good Old Days

Come and listen to Longwood's older and longtime citizens reminisce about our town and area at the annual "Old Timers' Reception" hosted by the Longwood Civic League Woman's Club this Sunday afternoon, April 28, at the club's headquarters on Church Avenue.

This reception, a renewal of an old custom, was organized in 1912 under the title "Silver Tea Anniversary" by the Civic League in honor of the city's older citizens, according to Marion White, the club's publicity chairman.

All residents, old timers and those interested in Longwood's "good old days" are cordially invited for a pleasant afternoon from 3 to 5.

Club footnote: Friends, neighbors and fellow Woman's Club members are pleased that Elda Nichols, Longwood Civic League Woman's Club president, is at home and doing well following surgery.

The George C. Wallace Academic Scholarship to Trou State University in Alabama has been presented to Longwood student, Virginia Hakman.

The Wallace scholarship is awarded to outstanding high school and junior college students who excel in leadership as well as academically.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hakman, Virginia will graduate from Lake Brantley High in June.

"Special Children — Special Day" is the theme of the field day activities scheduled for Rosenwald's special children and their families.

Sponsored by the school's PTO and the P.E. Department, the day will feature a Magic Show by the Optimist Club as well as pony rides, games and fun.

Be there April 25 and enjoy the school day event at the Rosenwald School campus.

On Tuesday and Wednesday, April 23 and 24, the Office of Community Instructional Services at Seminole Community College will hold classes entitled "Beginning Sign Language" and "Intermediate Sign Language."

The classes will meet at the Adult Campus area in Bldg. #43 from 7-10 each evening. The course fee is $15.

Longwood is pleased with scholarship honors recently bestowed on two of its students at Lake Mary High School.

Sebio Kuspar Wang, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Wang, is one of four students in the U.S. to be awarded the Reynolds Scholarship to Wake Forest University in North Carolina.

The other area honoree, Robert Greenstein, is also a student at Lake Mary. Greenstein is one of 500 finalists (out of 2500 applicants) contending for a Josten's Foundation Scholarship. Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Greenstein of Longwood.

An Officers Installation Luncheon will be held for members of the Casselberry Woman's Club at Le Club of Casselberry on Tuesday, April 23 at 12 noon.

The new officers for the 1985-86 reign are: president, Debbie Chappelow; vice-president, Ann Hult; recording secretary, Rusty Long; corresponding secretary, Irene Gustafson; and treasurer, Linda Levin.

Members are asked to place reservations for the luncheon at 788-8283 or 657-2381.

Seminole County students and those from other Central Florida Schools competed in the Central Florida Chess Championship recently. The one day, live round tournament was open to all students in grades 1 through 9.

Championship trophies were presented to the players with the top results in each grade level. Those South Seminole players with winning scores are: Roger Allin, Tuskuwilla, 1st in grades 7-8; John Nita, Rock Lake, 1st in grades 10B; Brett Wiley, Longwood Elementary, 2nd in grades 1-3.

Elizabeth Graham, soprano, and Rick Row, pianist, will be featured at South Seminole Community College's Winter/Spring concert Sunday, April 28.

The annual concert is to be at 3 p.m. in the Fine Arts Concert Hall at the college.

Longwood Elementary's PTA and School Advisory Committee are sponsoring a super "Spaghetti Dinner Evening" complete with an art show and a staged musical for entertainment.

The evening will begin with the student Art Show at 6 p.m. Dinner is at 6:30 and the musical, "Alice in Wonderland," begins at 7:30.

It will prove to be an exciting and memorable evening, so choose either April 30 or May 1 as your night to enjoy. Reservations must be made in advance by calling the school at 831-6700.

The very reasonable cost for a delicious dinner and such entertainment is $2.50 for adults, and $1.50 for children; so don't miss it!

Quilters To Meet; Workshop Set

The Central Florida Quilters Guild will hold its monthly meeting at the First Baptist Church, 519 Park Ave., Sanford, on Thursday, April 25, at 7:30 p.m. Aloyse Yorke, editor of Quilt Magazine and nationally known quilter will be the guest speaker. She will lecture on "Getting Yourself Into Print." Visitors are welcome.

Mrs. Yorke will conduct a workshop titled "Shadow Stained Glass" on Friday, April 26 from 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. in fellowship hall of the First United Methodist Church, 419 Park Ave. Sanford. The workshop is $12.50 for guild members and $20 for nonmembers.

For more information, call Mary Arseneau, (305) 322-5407.

Search Is On For Outstanding Mom

May 12 is Mother's Day. We, at The Herald, are searching for the annual "Outstanding Mom" in the community, but we need the help of readers to find this special woman.

The "Outstanding Mom" will be selected from letters of nomination. To make sure your favorite mom gets the proper recognition, follow the simple instructions: First, write your full name, full address including city and state, and your telephone number at the top of the page. Underneath, add the name, full address and telephone number of the mom you are nominating. Next, write us a letter telling us in your own words why this mom is so outstanding. Please type or clearly print your letter.

Submit letters to PEOPLE Editor Doris Dietrich, P.O. Box 1657 (300 N. French Ave.), Sanford, FL 32771 no later than Friday, April 26, the deadline for judging. Winners will be announced in The Herald on Mother's Day.

Something In Your Eye? Don't Risk Your Cornea

an M.D. who is a specialist in metabolic diseases. Such helpful experts are available in most university hospitals.

DEAR DR. GOTT — A month ago I was watching TV and it felt like I had an eyelash in my eye. So I started to rub my eye, and it immediately started to hurt. One side of my eyeball looked like a balloon and my vision got fuzzy. The doctor said that I had a cut (like paper cut) in my cornea. I had to put medicine on it and keep it bandaged for about three days. My eye really did hurt. I had never heard of that happening to anyone. Will it happen again? I panic when I get something in my eye now.

DEAR READER — Any foreign body in the eye can cause a laceration of the cornea. The condition is surprisingly common. Treatment consists of putting a patch over the eye to rest the cornea and allow it to heal. You — and everyone else — can experience corneal abrasions or lacerations any time foreign matter lands on the front of the eyeball. Obviously, prevention is the best approach. If something enters your eye, don't vigorously rub the eye. Wash it out with warm water or, with the help of a mirror, try gently to remove the object.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I am a 54-year-old woman I have not had a period in 12 years. I was told to not take estrogen because of my blood pressure and my breast. I've also been told to not use milk products because I have had kidneystones. My concern is osteoporosis, since I can't use estrogen or calcium. Would calcium pills cause me to form kidneystones, as using dairy products would?

DEAR READER — Osteoporosis affects all women after menopause. A metabolic imbalance results in a rate of calcium loss that exceeds the body's ability to incorporate new calcium into bones.

Mild osteoporosis is difficult to diagnose. However, as more and more calcium is lost from bones, they become less dense. Therefore, routine bone X-ray examinations will usually show the "washed-out" appearance characteristic of calcium loss.

As you point out, you are (excuse the pun) caught between a rock and a hard place. Depending on the kind of kidneystones you have, you may not be able to take supplementary calcium in your diet. Given the difficulties of your case, I am certain your doctor will want to refer you to

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
Reader Mack Meigs of Baytown, Texas, submitted today's deal. He was apologetic about the bidding. Because North and South were playing negative doubles, North passed the one-heart overall.

He expected his partner to reopen the bidding with a double, and he was going to punish his vulnerable opponent for a rash overall by exacting a penalty. When South bid one spade, who of us would not now risk trying two clubs with the West cards? But I suppose West felt he had gone far enough when he bid one heart.

After asking for aces, North made an assumption that South must hold a heart void to have removed to four spades over three no-trump, and so he bid six diamonds.

The defense was as lacking in elegance as the bidding had been. The opening club lead allowed declarer Meigs to quickly shuck his two hearts on the ace and king of clubs. A heart was now ruffed, and a spade led to dummy's queen and the ace from East. A spade was returned, South won the king and West discarded a club.

That marked East with all four diamonds to the jack, but he was helpless to take a trick as declarer ruffed spades and hearts back and forth. In fact, on the last spade trumped in dummy, hapless East was undertruffing.

The contract might have been beaten had East returned a diamond after winning the spade ace. Declarer would now have to finesse against the spade jack, playing West to have started with a singleton spade as well as a diamond void.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY APRIL 23, 1985
In the year ahead you will make several important and advantageous changes in your basic lifestyle. Each will be triggered by an event you won't control.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Financial conditions could be a trifle tricky for you today. If you make gains, be extra careful not to do something foolish and have them slip through your fingers. Looking for romance? The Matchmaker wheel can help you select the right person for you. To get yours, mail $2 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Strive to be as self-reliant as possible today. People you're counting on may let you down through no fault of their own.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)

Try to keep your priorities in order today. If you devote too much time to frivolous activities, you might never get around to your duties.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) When socializing with friends today, keep one eye on the clock. Although they'll enjoy your companionship, you must still be careful not to wear out your welcome.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) In important career matters today, don't take anything for granted. If you get careless, something you think you've tied down could suddenly dissolve.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Luck will attend you today in most of your involvements but this does not mean you should push it to the limits. Use your common sense as well.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You'll get a lot of mileage today out of funds spent on things beneficial to your family. This won't be true for money spent in fulfilling self-desires.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec.

21) Your initial judgment will be surprisingly accurate today. When you get over-analytical, you'll be indecisive and impede your own progress.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Things that you take a personal hand in managing should work out profitably for you today. Operations you delegate to others might end up in the red.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Don't let yourself be jockeyed into supporting a new acquaintance instead of standing by an old friend today.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Focus your attention now on situations that have the promise of an immediate return. Don't dilute your efforts by trying to live in both today and tomorrow.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Your judgment regarding proposals presented to you by others may not be up to par today. Don't make any instant commitments; instead, request time for additional study.
