Impotence Caused By Many Factors

DEAR DR. LAMB - My problem may be psychological but I would like to say that I had an injury to my left side and back about eight years ago when I fell from a ladder...

I'm 62 and my wife is 60. There's quite a bit of patience and understanding by both parties. I seem to be incapable of producing semen since the accident and I want to know if there's anything that can be done to start the process again.

DEAR READER - You should not conclude that your problem is psychological. Even men who are impotent on a psychological basis can still have organs and do form semen.

DEAR DR. LAMB - Is it true that if a woman gets pregnant by a drug addict, the junkie that her baby will suffer a withdrawal or will the baby have this problem even if the mother is not a junkie?

DEAR READER - No, the baby will not have the problem of drug addiction if the father is a junkie. There may be some drugs that affect the chromosomes in the sperm cells but I don't believe enough studies really have been done on this.

As I've said many times before in this column, it's really not something to be grossly ashamed about, any more than you'd be ashamed of having a broken arm.

It's true that impotence can be caused by psychological factors. It can also be caused by anything which interferes with the nerve mechanism that controls the mechanics of an orgasm.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sonsteg

North elected to suspend one diamond and East got into the business of silly bidding with one heart.

South bid one notrump with his rock-bottom minimum. This ended the auction.

You can't blame West for opening his fourth-best spade. South won with the jack and played his queen of hearts.

East took his ace and led the seven of diamonds. Dummy's nine took that trick. South cashed dummy's king of hearts, continued by finessing the nine in his hand and cashing the jack. Meanwhile, West had thrown the three of spades so South knew that East did not have a spade to lead. Thus, South led a diamond to East who ran his four diamond tricks.

South discarded his king-10 of spades and jettisoned the nine and six of spades frog dummy while West, who was not paying much attention, proceeded to throw the rest of his spades in order to keep his queen of clubs guarded.

South was able to make the last three tricks with the ace-high of clubs and that little five of spades.

Here is a really silly bridge problem. The question is: How did South make two notrumps? The answer did not revoke and actually made just one real mistake.

South might well have passed as dealer, but he was in a bidding mood and opened his 12-balanced points with

Netherlands Crowns Beatrix To Replace Queen Juliana

AMSTERDAM, Netherlands (UPI) — Crown Princess Beatrix, 42, became Netherlands' 14th monarch in 299 years today on the official abdication of her mother, Queen Juliana.

Juliana, who turned 71 today, officially ended her 32-year reign in an emotional ceremony in which both the new and old queens signed the abdication documents in the Moes Hall of the Royal Palace, an ornate room decorated with biblical scenes.

The two, surrounded by other members of the royal family and members of the Cabinet, clasped each other by both hands, and Juliana said emotionally that at her daughter's birth, "We chose the name Beatrix as one who brings happiness."

Spokesman Praises Muskie

WASHINGTON (UPI) — State Department spokesman Hodding Carter III has praised the appointment of Edmund Muskie as secretary of state and said he would remain on an advisory role as Muskie's pleasure.

Carter, in New York to attend the Overseas Press Club's awards dinner, called Muskie "extraordinarily capable and an excellent choice."

Asked about his future as spokesman, Carter said, "I will continue to do that job as long as it seems useful to Senator Muskie."

Prof Admits Role In CIA

PRINCETON, N.J. (UPI) — The CIA used Princeton University professors to draw up intelligence reports on foreign countries in the past few decades, but students and professors disagree on the ultimate purpose of the reports.

Former professor Klaus Knorr admitted Tuesday he was one of five Princeton professors who were members of the "Princeton Consultants," a group that met secretly several times a year until 1969 to prepare reports for the CIA.

Marver Bernstein, former dean of the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs, acknowledged he "was aware" of two faculty members at the school who "were consulting with the CIA" during the 1960s. He declined to name them.

Hong Kong Paper Banned

TAIPEI, Taiwan (UPI) — The South China Morning Post of Hong Kong has been banned in Taiwan for using the communist spelling of Taipei, the capital of the Republic of China.

The English-language newspaper spelled the city "Taipei," following the mainland's Pinyin transliteration system, instead of "Taipei," the spelling approved by the Nationalist government.

The Government Information Office said the Hong Kong newspaper's circulation was suspended Saturday.

Trial Witnesses Link Oliver, Dead Woman

By DAVID M. RAZLER
Herald Staff Writer

The prosecution opened its case against Richard Allen Oliver, with a series of witnesses who saw the accused rapist-trader with his alleged victim the day before her body was found near Geneva.

The eight men and six women empaneled on the 12-member jury heard Kathy Ann Sapp tell how she spent part of May 19, 1978 with Oliver and Clara Laine Clayton at her home in Orlando, and how Oliver returned alone after driving off with Clayton two hours earlier.

Mrs. Sapp's husband also testified, followed by the testimony of a series of law enforcement officers who were called to the Geneva pasture where Clayton's body was found on May 20, 1978.

Oliver, currently serving a life sentence for the 1977 murder of an Atlanta woman, faces a possible death sentence if convicted.

The state attorney's office has stated prosecutors will ask for the death sentence if Oliver is convicted as charged.

woman Tuesday may have made the mistake of running past the wrong witness stand.

A man walked up to Martha Wheat in the parking lot of the Bram Tower Apartments at noon Tuesday, asking for the location of "the Eight Day Inn," the police say.

As she turned around, the man pushed her down and made an attempt to grab her purse, say police, but when the first attempt failed he ran off, apparently past Circuit Judge Robert McGregor and his wife Mona, a trial clerk.

Mrs. McGregor told police she believes she knows who the man is because she recently saw him in court. Police are continuing their investigation.

Longwood Attorney Clears Way For New Housing

By JANE CASSELBERRY
Herald Staff Writer

An interpretation by City Attorney Marvin Rooks has cleared the way for construction of homes on non-conforming recorded lots in Longwood which do not meet the present size requirement. The City Commission has voted to draw up a new ordinance that would eliminate any confusion caused by various amendments and substitute amendments passed previously on the issue.

Rooks' interpretation of the ordinance, that varied from one given by former City Attorney Ned Julian Jr., was given on the request of the commission following a complaint last week by Thomas Lunstford of Dowling and Lunstford, Inc., general contractors.

Lunstford claimed that he had been illegally denied a permit to build on nine lots with residential zoning. They did not meet the 100 foot front building line requirements even though the area of the lots was 30 to 45 percent more than the 100,000-square-foot requirement.

Lunstford said the homes he plans to construct would increase the property value and tax revenue to the city and his firm would build a road into the property.

City Administrator David Chaoxy told the city commission that low and moderate cost housing is badly needed in the city and builders should be allowed to construct homes on the 50 foot lots platted in the city before the present restrictions went into effect.

In 1958 an ordinance was passed requiring 5,000-square-foot minimum lot size with 60-foot frontage for a residential zoning, with lots of record that were not contiguous and had "single and separate" ownership excepted.

"The difficulty came in 1970," Rooks said, "when ordinance No. 229 was passed increasing the area to 10,000 square feet and the frontage to 100 feet. A subsequent substitute amendment—ordinance No. 241 adjusting the zoning failed to mention single ownership or noncontiguous frontage as being necessary for an exception."

In other business the commission approved a resolution requesting the county to waive the two-year requirement for changing the density on 10 acres owned by Florida Residential Communities, Inc., that the city is amending. The property zoned agricultural in the county is joined on two sides by 20 acres owned by FRC that is zoned multi-family in the city. FRC hopes to combine the two tracts under planned unit development for the construction of single family owned townhouses.

Residents of the area objecting to the project were told they would have plenty of opportunity to be heard on the subject at future public hearings.

Action on a site plan for a proposed Handy Way convenience store that Miller Enterprises Inc. hopes to build on E.E. Williamson Road across from Lake Seary Stores was tabled until the June 9 meeting. The property is zoned commercial, but on the proposed city comprehensive zoning map this will be a non-conforming use so there is some question as to whether the commercial zoning will still apply should the property change hands.

The sale is contingent on Miller Enterprises being able to obtain a building permit and acceptance by the city. Shoemaker Construction Co. would be the contractor.

Miller hopes to build the 2,500-square-foot store on a half-acre piece of property. They propose to have three self-service gas pumps.

The Longwood Board of Equalization will meet at 7 p.m. May 19 on assessments for the Wayman Street paving project and water line improvement project on State Road 434.

Jury Acquits Lance On 9 Counts; 3 Left

ATLANTA (UPI) — Former federal Budget Director Bert Lance was acquitted today on nine counts of violating federal banking laws, but the jury could not reach verdicts on three other charges.

Defense attorney immediately asked for directed verdicts of acquittal on the three remaining counts and U.S. District Judge Charles A. Moye Jr. retired to his chambers to consider the request.

One of Lance's three co-defendants, Thomas Mitchell, was exonerated of the four counts with which he was charged in the 19-count indictment. Of the other two defendants, Richard T. Carr was acquitted on three counts, with no verdicts returned on three others, and H. Jackson Mullins was acquitted on three, with no verdicts on another.

Savings Accounts Eyed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In an attempt to increase revenues and balance the budget, the president has proposed a portion of taxable dividends and interest be withheld from an individual's savings account and investments.

The House Ways and Means Committee was to hear testimony today on the pros and cons of that part of the president's anti-inflation program, announced March 14.

It requires banks, savings and loans, investment firms and corporations to withhold 15 percent of an individual's savings and dividends quarterly.

'Gold Plumbing Caper' May Reach Jury Today

MIAMI (UPI) — Attorney William Frates says he didn't put defendant Johnny L. Jones on the witness stand in the "gold plumbing caper" trial because he didn't think the state has made a case "against the suspended Dade County school superintendent, Frates explained.

Jones' trial on a second-degree grand larceny charge was expected to go to the four-woman, two-man, all-white jury today after closing arguments are made by the opposing attorneys.

Senate Mulls Drinking Age

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Bills raising the legal drinking age in 18 and expanding the rights of tenants whose apartment buildings are being converted into condominiums came before the Senate today as it meets for the first time this week.

An alcoholic beverage bill (SB 114) sponsored by Sen. Don Childers, D-West Palm Beach, calls for hiking the minimum drinking age to 19.

The House Tuesday gave preliminary approval to a measure raising the drinking age to 20, but Speaker Hyatt Brown threw the bill into the finance and tax committee to study its impact on tax revenues.

Policeman Can Give No Reason For Actions

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — A key state witness granted immunity in the trial of five former Dade County police officers says he has no explanation for some of his actions the night black insurance man Arthur McDuffie was fatally beaten.

William Hanlon testified Tuesday at the trial of Alex Marrero, Ira Diego, Michael Watts, Herbert Evans Jr. and Ed Del Toro. He said he participated in the high-speed chase and apprehension of McDuffie after the motorcyclist gave officers an obscene gesture and led them on a 100-mph chase that included running 20-stop signs and stop lights. He described in detail how when he arrived on the scene a number of officers were struggling with the 33-year-old ex-marine but they were unable to subdue him even though they were using nightsticks and heavy flashlights. He said he jabbed his nightstick into McDuffie's back, in the area of the kidneys, but they had no effect on McDuffie. He said he then used his nightstick in a choke hold from behind, flipped McDuffie off balance and onto the ground face first, where he then handcuffed him.

Missing Orlando Girl Found In Nashville

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — A 15-year-old girl who disappeared April 6 after attending her first rock concert in Florida was found by FBI agents Tuesday "living quite well" in a South Nashville rooming house.

The FBI's chief agent in Nashville, Dave Lattin, said that Jane Finkbeiner of Orlando, Fla. appeared to be living voluntarily with a 17-year-old male companion in a Music Row rooming house.

He is believed to be the same man who abducted her from the concert, Lattin said. "We don't know what happened initially," he said. "They were living together and apparently living quite well. It did not appear she was being held against her will—at least there was no indication to us that she was."

The girl attended an all-day rock concert at Orlando's Tangerine Bowl April 6, but left with her brother-in-law, Leonard Strickland, 18, after complaining that she was sick.

A man who Strickland thought was a

Cronkite Staying Out Of Politics

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Independent presidential candidate John Anderson will have to face the voters without CBS anchorman Walter Cronkite by his side.

The New Republic magazine published an interview Monday in which Cronkite was quoted as telling executive editor Morton Kronack he might accept an offer to be Anderson's running mate.

But the article apparently took both Cronkite and Anderson by surprise. Cronkite, 62, released a statement Tuesday saying: "The New Republic reporter has misinterpreted our conversation. I have no interest in entering politics in any capacity. I have never endorsed a political candidate. And I have no intention of endorsing a political candidate in the upcoming campaign, including Mr. Anderson. It is not the first time a political career has been suggested for me and my answer is the same as it has always been: not interested."

Anderson, during a campaign appearance in Atlanta, said he is engaged in a "very extensive search for a running mate," but has asked no one on his staff to approach Cronkite about it.

Keeping The Peace

It is not surprising that President Carter abdicated another dramatic meeting in Washington with Egypt's President Anwar Sadat and Israel's Prime Minister Menachem Begin in favor of piecemeal negotiation to meet the May 25 target date for agreement on autonomy for West Bank Palestinians.

As badly as he needs a boost these days, Mr. Carter saw too many difficulties to risk an all-or-nothing throw of the dice at another Camp David summit. His one notable international success could end up more tarnished than burnished.

And now that President Sadat and Prime Minister Begin have come to Washington separately and gone, the question is what was accomplished? How hangs the fragile fabric of Israeli-Egyptian peace amid the Middle Eastern gales?

The answer must be that not much progress was made, which was consistent with the low expectations. But, at the same time, nothing was lost in the three-nation struggle to define Palestinian autonomy in a way that is acceptable to Jew and Arab alike.

It is Mr. Carter himself who has magnified this problem by his insistence on the mirage of a comprehensive peace plan — one that is acceptable, not to just the Palestinians, but the whole Arab world.

The first task, therefore, is for Begin and Sadat to narrow autonomy down in the forthcoming talks to the parameters of Israelis and Palestinians. They must simply agree on the amount of self-government promised the Palestinians for five years of ill-defined self-rule set forth in the Camp David accords.

On a nationally televised interview during his recent visit, Begin boiled down Israel's position to the fact that... autonomy... cannot be widened to a Palestinian state (which would be) a mortal danger to Israel and a Soviet base in the heart of the Middle East.

As usual, Palestinian terrorists acted on schedule to sabotage the latest negotiations by seizing a children's dormitory at Misgav Am, a frontier kibbutz. The death of a child united Israel's quarrelling elements anew against compromise on the West Bank.

Such provocations unite Israelis of every political persuasion in concern about their national survival and in support of Begin's uncompromising stance on the limits to Palestinian autonomy and even his controversial policy of Israeli settlements in the West Bank.

Unfortunately, a loose West Bank confederation with Jordan, which some of the most influential Israelis including hard-liners would support, does not seem feasible now because Jordan and the West Bank Palestinians continue to reject Sadat's invitation to join the negotiations.

Israel and Egypt thus far have carefully adhered to the Camp David peace schedule, and the presence of an Israeli ambassador in Cairo and an Egyptian ambassador in Tel Aviv now holds out additional promise the May target date for an autonomy agreement can likewise be met.

JACK ANDERSON Lethal Baby Cribs?

WASHINGTON — The fiery deaths of three young people in a rear-ended Pinto recently led to criminal prosecution of the Ford Motor Company. Although the auto maker was acquitted, the trial set an important precedent.

The court recognized that a business firm and its executives should be held responsible for the safety of products they design, manufacture and market. In that sense, the Pinto prosecution was not a failure.

It is more than three years ago that I first reported Ford knew from its own tests how to position fuel tanks to give greater protection in rear-end collisions. I cited suppressed documents from the company's own files as evidence that Ford could have made safer automobiles by spending a few dollars more on each car.

Secret tests by Ford have shown that minor adjustments in the location of the fuel tank could greatly reduce the fiery danger," I reported on Dec. 30, 1976.

Now I am investigating another case involving the Bassett Furniture Industries, Inc., a leading maker of baby cribs. Six infants have died in Bassett cribs since 1977. The tots got their heads wedged between the decorative finial on the corner post, headboard or foot panel. According to Consumer Product Safety Commission experts, the infants strangled when they tried to pull their heads out of the trap.

The company knew as early as September 1977, CPSC investigators have charged, that its cribs could kill or injure infants, but it failed to notify the commission as required by law. Earlier this year, Bassett signed a consent decree with the CPSC which requires it to take extensive remedial action and pay a $175,000 civil fine.

But I have obtained documents, not included in the consent decree, that illustrate the true insensitivity of the corporate brass. In March 1978, a Bassett customer named Richard Ball wrote the company about the crib he purchased in July 1976. "At that time, we were assured by the store salesman that the crib had been designed so that it was impossible for a child to get his head caught in the headboard," he wrote.

"Our daughter did get her head stuck... on two separate occasions. To say the least, this was a very traumatic experience for her and a most frightening one for us. We did discover her before any serious injury occurred. Such a situation could have proved fatal."

Bassett's general counsel, Frank Snyder, replied with a chilling corporate putdown, "I suggest," he wrote, "that you have overreacted to the experience of your child. Certainly, the suggestion that the situation could have proved fatal" magnifies the incident out of reasonable proportion."

Footnote: Snyder stressed the corrective action being taken by Bassett — as required by the consent decree. Consumers who also care about the dying man. One was a preacher. At the end of the sermon, the preacher asked that we all bow our heads, and he prayed.

He asked the Lord to take the soul about to depart the ravaged body on the bed. I said a prayer of my own. I asked the Lord to ignore the preacher and leave the soul where it was. That was the only miracle I have ever prayed for. I wasn't ready to give the man up yet, and, frankly, I thought the preacher was making things a bit.

Mrs. Margaret Cammack got something other than she expected at a county commission hearing to consider updating the county's building codes when she asked Dr. W. Judson King to stay to make a comment. For those not following the saga of the county's comprehensive plan, Mrs. Cammack can be credited with bringing the document under attack, claiming it is too restrictive on land use. Toward destroying such restrictions, she created the group Overseas of Seminole County Inc.

JEFFREY HART New York Transit Strike

The most recent New York transit strike has now been settled, but the issues involved in it really haven't been. It was a sad affair from every point of view: judicial, political and human.

The transit workers, hating from inflation like everyone else, wanted more than a near-bankrupt city could even approach. Mayor Ed Koch, a tough-minded budget cutter and a classic New York type, the most popular mayor since Fiorello La Guardia, dug in his heels. He had public opinion behind him in this once liberal city.

The "right to strike" has long been an important principle in a free society. On the other hand, it is reasonable that a relatively small number of employees should be able to wage war against an entire city? The movement of modern society is in the direction of complexity and interdependence — and therefore always in the direction of greater vulnerability to such strikes.

Not only had severe inconvenience and even sickness and death been inflicted upon the New York citizenry. Businesses lost millions, and the already strapped city lost $2 million per day in tax revenues. Marginal but worthy shows closed on Broadway, like Tennessee Williams' interesting "Clothes for a Summer Hotel."

The established mediation procedures do not seem to avoid these catastrophes. Even New York State's Taylor Law, which imposes heavy fines, jail sentences, and other penalties has been only partially successful as a deterrent.

Second point, about New York City itself. New York does not today enjoy much popularity in the rest of the country or in Congress, especially among conservatives. It has managed its economic affairs badly, even dishonestly. But Mayor Koch has been making an honest effort to face the budgetary realities.

By way of an answer, I leave you with three quotations that I once clipped and still have pasted over my desk: "To be is to be!" — John Stuart Mill. "To be is to do!" — Jean-Paul Sartre. "Do be do be do!" — Frank Sinatra.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Obituary writers of the world encountered perhaps their greatest challenge last week with the death in France of Jean-Paul Sartre. As these poor souls fell the unenviable task of trying to explain whatever it was Sartre was getting at in his plays and books.

Whatever it was, it was pretty pitiful, of that you may be sure. Sartre's forte was none other than existence itself, a subject almost as profound as the top spin job. Any old worth its weight in newspaper had to include at least a paragraph or two summing up existentialism, the philosophical doctrine to which Sartre was addicted.

That unquestionably was the sternest test of expository powers since the death of Albert Einstein made obligatory a paragraph or two summing up the Theory of Relativity. Did Sartre believe he existed? Or was he convinced that life was illusory, like the claims in a cheap bowl of clam chowder? I confess that after reading maybe a half dozen Sartre obits I still am not clear on that point.

He presumably spelled it all out in such books as "Being and Nothingness." But I could not deduce from the synopses whether Sartre was coming down on the side of "being," or whether he was leaning toward "nothingness."

CLAXTON, Ga. — There are scenes that will never leave you. One such, for me, took place here 10 years ago in little Claxton, west of coastal Savannah, where they make fruitcakes. Ten years. I can't believe it has been that long.

"I'd call and ask 'how the devil do you do and so?' and they'd tell me. They'd take the time. They go beyond what's required to help people, especially the individual home owner. King, whose home is in the Black Hammock area near Oviedo, told the audience he had been helped many times during the years between 1974 and 1979 when he built his house, by county experts in the mechanical to electrical aspects of building.

William Stemper (left) sees dollar signs as he recalls his trip to Costa Rica.

Sanford Realtor 'Bullish' On Costa Rica

Unlike many of the so-called banana republics in the area, Costa Rica has no army to threaten military coups and an apolitical civil guard is responsible for its security. The country has a president and a unicameral legislative assembly of 57 members elected by popular vote every four years. Governors of the seven provinces are appointed by the president.

An independent republic since 1838, Costa Rica set up the present stable and progressive political institutions following a bloody civil war in 1948. Stemper said there is higher living standard in Costa Rica than elsewhere in Central America and distribution of wealth is more equitable. There are many modern homes and housing developments as well as condominiums in San Jose with prices comparable to housing here, Stemper noted.

Group Predicted Nuclear War

Non-Holocaust Embarrasses

MISSOULA, Mont. (UPI) — A nuclear holocaust predicted by a religious group hidden in underground shelters failed to happen, causing embarrassment for some and disappointment for others. "I've lost some friends over this," one young man groused. "They say they think I'm crazy."

One young woman expressed embarrassment over Jensen's prediction. She said the odds were "about two in a million" the holocaust would occur on April 29. Some of the young men in the group said their faith in Jensen had caused marital strains in their households.

But none of Jensen's followers said the failure of the holocaust to materialize would indicate that the group. Many indicated their spiritual strength had been bolstered by increasing tensions in the Middle East. Jensen himself pointed to the Persian Gulf incident in which two American jets became involved with an Iranian jet plane over the Strait of Hormuz.

With Mother's Day, May 11, fast approaching, The Herald is embarking on a search for that outstanding Mom. So, we're turning to our readers for some help. If you know of a woman who, in your opinion, is deserving of mention as an outstanding mother, let us know. We'll accept until noon on May 2 letters submitted by readers, about one to one and one-half pages of standard size sheets, telling briefly why a particular woman in our area is deserving of such recognition. We'll take a look here. Readers should send their letters to OURSELVES Editor Doris Dietrich, The Evening Herald, 300 N. French Ave., Sanford, 32771.

'Night On Broadway'

Funds To Go For Tuxes

The Seminole High School Choral Department will present "A Night On Broadway," May 5 and 6, in the Seminole Community College Auditorium. The show itself will be divided into two segments. The first half will feature The American Music Theatre. An "Act" introduces the first act which will have a plot — "Home for Retired Characters."

An ad lib director plays the host who introduces the "characters" as they perform the numbers they had once done in their respective stories.

It will feature 14 acts, some of which will include Fanny Brice from "Funny Girl," The Romans from "Comedy Tonight," Tony and Maria from "West Side Story," the sailors from "South Pacific," Bea from "Summertime," a choreographer from "Chorus Line" and many others. The host will be played by Tim Wilson.

The second act will feature about 12 talent acts. The talent acts are all comprised of American music since the Vaudeville era through the 70s including Gerahwin, Cole Porter, Irving Berlin, all through the 70s. It will also feature a unique futuristic sound for the finale.

The Seminole High School Band, under the direction of Wayne Earnhardt, will also contribute by furnishing the show band.

The stage managers are Judy Hoffman, Sue Umberger and Michelle Hickson. The prop committee includes Daphne Meets, Rosanne Goodson and Don Clark. Doug Clark is head of lighting. Debbie Newson and Melissa Ragdale manage the finances.

The chorus and ensemble are directed by Robert Maguire. The accountant, writer and director is Zachary Dunbar. The show will begin at 7 p.m. Admission will be $2.00 and refreshments will be sold during the show. Tickets may be purchased from choral students or by calling

SIGN DESIGN CONTEST WINNER

Maybe 'Collector's Item' Should Be Auctioned Off

DEAR ABBY: I've been reading about a California businessman named Graham who has made a hobby of collecting sperm from Nobel Prize winners to be used to impregnate super-high IQ women whose husbands can't father children.

Nowhere has it been proven that kids inherit their intelligence from their parents. (How many Nobel Prize winners are children of Nobel Prize winners?)

However, it's a known fact that kids do inherit their looks from their parents. How about collecting sperm from Burt Reynolds, Paul Newman, Robert Redford and some other good-looking men in order to breed some beautiful offspring?

DEAR JUST: Wonderful idea. But instead of giving it away, they should auction it off and give the proceeds to Planned Parenthood.

DEAR ABBY: Concerning what name the children will carry if the mother retains her maiden name after marriage: In Spanish-speaking countries, the child takes both his mother's surname as well as his father's. Example: Senor Lopez marries Senora Gomez. Their son will be Carlos Gomez Lopez. If they want to use the names of even more forebears, they can go back as far as they choose.

A proud, well-born Spaniard of my acquaintance carried his families' names on both sides for seven generations and ended up with 14 names! Using the surnames of both mother and father was considered a mark of honor. To use only the mother's name suggested that the mother was not married. It was important to be born legitimately because all children born out of wedlock were disenfranchised.

I don't know if the practice still exists, but when I lived in Cartagena, Colombia, the births were announced daily in the newspapers under two headings, "Legitimos" and "Ilegitimos." And incidentally, between 65 and 70 percent of all the births were "legitimos."

FORMER COLOMBIAN DEAR FORMER: Thanks for some interesting (and "legitimate") information. DEAR ABBY: In a recent column, you stated that if a woman had sexual intercourse with a man who had gonorrhea, her chance of contracting the disease was 50 percent, or if she was on the pill, 100 percent. Since you do not customarily dispense irresponsible medical information, perhaps it was a typographical error on the part of the newspaper, but that statement is incorrect. The most recent studies indicate that among sexually active women, oral contraceptives reduce the relative risk of spreading gonorrhea infection to the tubes and ovaries by two-thirds.

Using the surnames of both mother and father was considered a mark of honor. To use only the mother's name suggested that the mother was not married. It was important to be born legitimately because all children born out of wedlock were disenfranchised.

Wanda Hittell prefers meals that are 'Quick and fast.'

Cook Of The Week Homemaker Runs A Job, Tends Hogs

When Wanda Hittell stops and thinks about it, she has three full-time jobs. In addition to being a wife and mother of two, having a house to keep, cooking meals and doing all the other household chores, she runs a produce stand and raises purebred hogs.

For the past three years the Lake Monroe resident has operated a produce stand on state route 46 at Upsala Road that is open seven days a week, "weather permitting."

She and her husband grow some of their own vegetables for the business. He is in the construction business and she said she decided to open the stand because she simply "got tired of working for somebody else."

The Hittells have close to forty Yorkshire hogs they are raising for breeding and for the market. "That's a full time job," she said, "cleaning the pens, feeding them and giving them shots." Two daughters help with the hogs and at the produce stand.

They are also clearing some land in Geneva and planning to move there this summer. Being a lifelong resident of Central Florida, Mrs. Hittell said she loves to fish and swim, what she calls "regular Florida hobbies."

When it comes to cooking, Mrs. Hittell said she prefers meals that are "quick and fast." She likes to prepare meals ahead of time. "Instead of making one portion, I make two and freeze part. I also can a lot of vegetables. It helps keep me out of supermarkets."

MUSHROOM AND RICE: 2 cups uncooked rice, 1 (1 1/2 cups) can beef consomme, 1 stick butter or margarine, 1 (4 ounce) can mushrooms, sliced, 1 (1 1/2 cups) can onion soup. Combine all ingredients in a two-quart casserole. Cover and cook in a 350 degree oven for 45 minutes. Fluff with fork prior to serving. Serves 8.

SHRIMP-MARCONI SALAD: 2 pounds shelled, cooked shrimp, 1 1/2 cups marcononi shells, cooked and drained (about 3 cups when cooked), 2 cups American cheese, cubed, 1 cup chopped celery, 1/2 cup chopped green pepper, 1/2 cup chopped onion, 1 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing, 1 cup dairy sour cream, 6 tablespoons vinegar, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt. Cut up shrimp, toss with cooked marcononi, cheese, peppers, and other ingredients, mixing well. Cover and chill thoroughly. Makes 12 servings.

Give Enchiladas An Authentic Flavor

Interest in Mexican foods is growing north of the border. With the proper ingredients, dishes such as these enchiladas taste much like the real thing.

The tortilla, a thin cornmeal or flour patty, is basic to the Mexican diet. It is used just like a slice of bread to hold many meats, beans and vegetable fillings and toppings.

In Mexico, tortillas are often made with "masa," a type of cornmeal. Many stores now carry masa, but you can use regular cornmeal if yours does not.

Especially important to the taste of many Mexican dishes is the use of hot little peppers or pepper sauce to spice up their otherwise mildly flavored ingredients.

MEXICAN ENCHILADAS

Tortillas

1/4 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce
1 cup milk
1/4 cup cornstarch
2 eggs
one-third cup cornmeal
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter, melted
Add pepper sauce to milk. Add to cornstarch. Stir to smooth paste.

Beat eggs. Add cornmeal, salt and cornstarch mixture. Stir in melted butter.

Use 3 tablespoons of mixture for each tortilla. Quickly pour into lightly greased, heated 7-inch skillet. Brown on one side; turn to brown other side.

This kitchen-tested recipe makes 12 tortillas.

Sauce

2 tablespoons olive oil
2 medium onions, chopped
1 garlic clove, minced
2 medium tomatoes, peeled and chopped
1 1/2 cups stock or bouillon
1/4 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce
1/4 teaspoon salt

2 teaspoons chili powder
Heat oil in skillet. Add onion and garlic. Cook until onion is tender but not brown.

Add tomatoes, stock and pepper sauce. Stir in salt and chili powder.

Bring to boil. Reduce heat and simmer 20 to 30 minutes or until thickened, stirring occasionally.

This kitchen-tested recipe makes 2 1/4 cups.

Filling I

9 ounces Monterey Jack cheese
2 1/2-inch corn tortillas
2-3rd cup salad oil
3 cups enchilada sauce

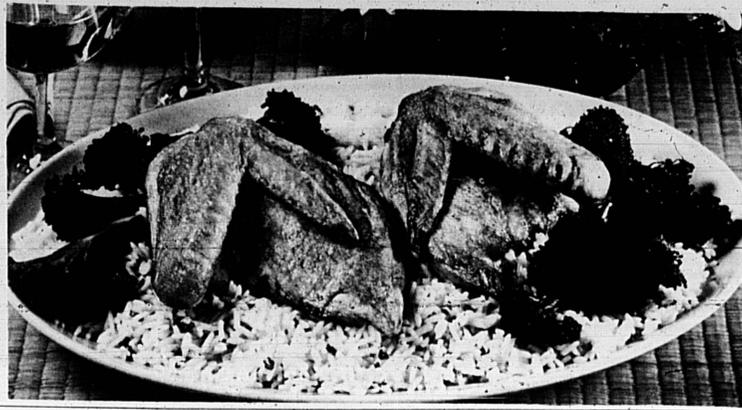

Saute garlic, onion, mushrooms and olives in oil until onions are limp. Thoroughly wash spinach and discard stems. Chop finely. Add to olive mixture with salt. Cook only until spinach turns bright green. Grate cheese and set aside. Lightly fry tortillas in oil until soft. Do not overfry or they will become crisp. Dip each tortilla into enchilada sauce, covering both sides completely. Layer, as follows, into 2 greased 8-inch pie plates: 4 tortillas, 1/4 of olive mixture, 1-6th of cheese, 4 tortillas, 1/4 olive mixture, 1-6th of cheese, 4 tortillas, any remaining enchilada sauce, 1-6th of cheese. Bake in a preheated 350 degree oven for 35-40 minutes. Serves 8.

Suggestion: Garnish with additional olives and serve with tossed green salad.

Enchilada Pie is simple, delicious.

Chicken-Broccoli Dinner is tailored to meet the food needs of small households.

Chicken Ideal For Smaller Households

Millions of Americans live alone today and still more in two-person households. Convenience, versatility and good nutrition are especially important considerations for everyone in making food purchases.

Chicken suits the needs of small households, as well as large on all these counts, with the added advantages of economy and easy portion control. One whole broiler-fryer chicken can be converted into several wholesome and entirely different meals for one or two people. Or, it's simple to buy the exact number of parts needed for a special chicken dish, eliminating leftovers entirely.

According to the National Broiler Council, chicken today is packaged in more than 30 different ways so you can always buy exactly what you want... drumsticks, thighs, breasts (halves or whole), wings, quarters, livers and numerous combinations. Many prefer to take advantage of additional savings by buying whole birds and cutting them up at home. Meal-size portions can then be packaged and frozen for use as needed.

Although the life styles of the smaller households of the 80's differ widely, their food requirements are surprisingly similar. The young and unattached, single seniors, "empty nesters," married couples with no children and single parents with a child can all depend on chicken for high quality protein with a minimum of calories and fat content.

The taste of chicken appeals to all ages and it can be prepared in so many tempting ways there's never any fear of monotony.

The National Broiler Council has developed two recipes (below) just for those who cook for themselves or one other person. Both dishes are highly nutritious and can be prepared in the conventional manner or cooked in a microwave oven — an energy and time-saving convenience used extensively by many in small households.

"Chicken-Broccoli Dinner" is really a meal in one dish, combining quarters of chicken with a green vegetable and rice, subtly seasoned with wine. It can be a special occasion dinner or an any-day meal, economical and easy to prepare.

"Spanish Chicken and Rice" is another nutritious combination of chicken, vegetables and rice. It is similar to paella and is a hearty and complete meal when served with a green salad and hard rolls.

CHICKEN-BROCCOLI DINNER

2 broiler-fryer chicken breast quarters
1 tablespoon margarine
1/2 cup white wine
1 teaspoon bottled brownings sauce
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1 packaged (10 ounce) frozen broccoli
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 cup cooked rice
1 teaspoon parsley

Stove Top Method: In small frypan, melt margarine over medium high heat. Add chicken and brown evenly, about 10 minutes. In small bowl mix together wine, brownings sauce and paprika; pour over chicken, cover and reduce heat to low. Cook about 30 minutes then add broccoli, salt and pepper. Cook, covered, 10 minutes more; stir in rice and parsley and cook about 5 minutes more to heat thoroughly.

Microwave Oven Method: In small dish, mix together margarine, wine, brownings sauce and paprika; place in microwave oven and cook on high for 1 minute. In small baking dish, arrange chicken and baste with above sauce. Cover and cook on high for 6 minutes. Rotate chicken, baste and add broccoli, salt and pepper. Cover and cook 6 minutes more on high. Add rice and parsley, stirring into pan juices. Cover and cook 3 minutes more on high or until fork can be inserted in chicken with ease. Let stand 5 minutes covered before serving.

Makes 2 servings.

SPANISH CHICKEN AND RICE

4 broiler-fryer chicken thighs, cooked, boned and cubed
1 tablespoon cooking oil
2 medium onions, sliced in rings
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1/2 cup long grain rice
1 cup sliced tomatoes
1 tablespoon tomato paste
1 teaspoon celery salt
1 teaspoon chili powder
1 can (8 ounces) tiny green peas, drained

In fry pan, heat oil over medium temperature. Add onion and pepper and saute until onion is transparent, about 10 minutes. Add rice and chicken; stir fry about 5 minutes. Add tomatoes, tomato paste, celery salt and chili powder; stir until well mixed, then add peas and stir gently. Cook in either conventional or microwave oven as directed.

Conventional Oven: Pour mixture into 1 1/2 quart greased baking dish and cover. Bake in 350 degree F oven for about 30 minutes or until rice is done, removing lid during the last 10 minutes of cooking time.

Microwave Oven: Pour mixture into 1 1/2 quart greased round baking dish. Cover and microwave on high for 9 minutes; stir to distribute heat and moisture. Re-cover and microwave on high for 9 minutes more. Let stand for 5 minutes before checking rice for doneness. Return to microwave for 1 or 2 more minutes or until rice is cooked. Makes 2 generous servings.

CITRUS CHICKEN CURRY

1 chicken (3 1/2 to 4 pounds)
2 tablespoons oil
3 medium onions, chopped (2 1/2 cups chopped)
3 oranges, peeled and sectioned (1 1/2 cups)
2 grapefruits, peeled and sectioned (2 cups)
1 can (18 ounces) tomatoes, coarsely chopped
1/2 cup cider vinegar
2 tablespoons chutney
1 1/2 tablespoons curry powder
1 teaspoon salt
Cooked rice

Simmer chicken in water to cover with 1 teaspoon salt about 1 hour or until tender. Remove chicken from bones. Cut chicken meat into large chunks; set aside. In large saucepot, heat oil; saute onion until clear; add orange and grapefruit sections and juice from pulp; bring to boiling. Add chopped tomatoes, vinegar, chutney, curry powder and salt; bring to boiling. Reduce heat, simmer sauce 1 hour. Add chicken; simmer 15 minutes longer. Serve on bed of rice. Garnish with toasted coconut, raisins, and chutney, if desired. Yield: 8 servings.

Make Your Ice Cream For Best-Liked Sundaes

Any day can be a "sundae" day, for Americans like this dessert so much, it's good they discovered it. It happened sometime during the turn of the century, 1886 or 1900, with historians unable to agree as to which date.

Ice cream sodas came first but in some locales selling soda water on Sundays was prohibited. Thus it came about that someone devised the serving of ice cream, minus soda but with syrup or sauce, and the sundae, named for the day, was born.

The best sundaes are those made with ultra-creamy, homemade ice cream. This favorite, French Vanilla Ice Cream, cooks for 12 minutes and is easy to make. It calls for three eggs beaten separately with four cups of light cream or half-and-half, sweetening and vanilla flavoring.

Orange-Almond Sauce, Brandy Nut Sauce and Mocha Whipped Cream will add a new dimension to your sundaes, but do try crushed and slightly sweetened fresh fruits and berries as toppers as they become available.

- BRANDY NUT SAUCE
(Yield: approx. 1 cup)
- 1/4 cup (1/2 stick) butter
 - 1/4 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
 - Dash salt
 - 1/4 cup evaporated milk
 - 1/4 cup chopped dry roasted peanuts
 - 1 tablespoon brandy
- Melt butter in a small saucepan; add sugar and salt. Heat over medium heat until sugar is dissolved. Remove from heat and gradually add milk. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Boil and stir 1 minute. Add nuts and brandy. Serve cold.

- MOCHA WHIPPED CREAM
(Yield: 2 cups)
- 1 cup whipping cream
 - 2 tablespoons sugar
 - 1 tablespoon cocoa
 - 1 teaspoon instant coffee powder
- Beat together cream, sugar, cocoa and coffee powder in a small, chilled mixing bowl, until stiff.

FRENCH VANILLA ICE CREAM

- (Yield: approx. 5 cups)
- 3 egg whites
 - 1 cup sugar
 - 3 egg yolks
 - 4 cups light cream OR half and half
 - 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
- Beat egg whites in large mixing bowl until foamy; gradually add 1/2 cup sugar and continue beating until stiff peaks form. Beat egg yolks in small mixing bowl until thick and lemon colored. Add remaining 1/2 cup sugar and beat until sugar is dissolved. Fold egg yolks into egg whites; gradually stir in cream. Place mixture in a large saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thickened, about 12 minutes. Do not boil. Stir in vanilla. Chill thoroughly. Freeze in ice cream freezer according to manufacturer's directions.

ORANGE-ALMOND SAUCE

- (Yield: 1 1/2 cups)
- 1/4 cup sugar
 - 2 teaspoons cornstarch
 - 1 cup orange juice
 - 1/4 cup orange marmalade
 - 2 tablespoons butter
 - 1/4 cup toasted slivered almonds
- Combine sugar and cornstarch in a 1-quart saucepan; gradually mix in orange juice; then marmalade. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Cook 2 additional minutes. Remove from heat; add butter and stir until melted. Chill. Just before serving add almonds.

Bavarian Is Especially Sophisticated

If you're searching for an elegant dessert that says springtime, serve a delicate pink-and-white Coco Strawberry Bavarian. It's a finale that's especially sophisticated. Not only is it simple to make, but the coconut rum liqueur adds another dimension to its taste.

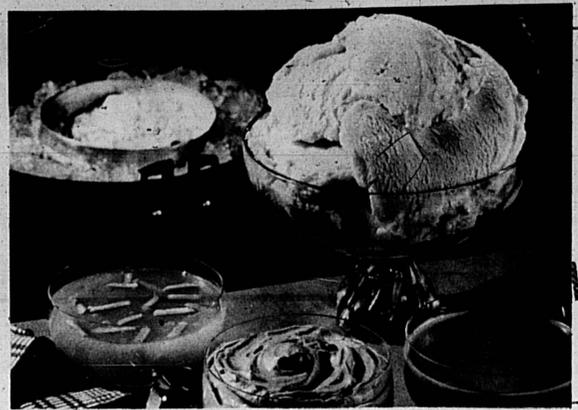

For any seasonal occasion, from that special dinner party to a memorable annual celebration, individual Strawberry Bavarian molds are certain to win prizes from all.

COCO-STRAWBERRY BAVARIAN CREAM

- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
 - 1/4 cup sugar
 - 1/4 teaspoon salt
 - 2 eggs
 - 1 1/2 cups milk
 - 1/4 cup coconut rum liqueur
 - 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 - 2 cups fresh strawberries, divided
 - 1 cup heavy cream, whipped
 - Strawberries (optional)
- In small saucepan combine gelatin, sugar and salt. Beat together eggs and milk; gradually stir into gelatin mixture. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly about 5 minutes, until mixture thickens and gelatin is completely dissolved. Cool; add liqueur and lemon juice. Call until mixture thickens and mounds slightly. Meanwhile, puree 1 cup strawberries. Slice remaining 1 cup strawberries. Fold strawberry puree, sliced berries and whipped cream into gelatin mixture. Spoon into individual 8-ounce molds. Chill several hours or overnight until firm. Unmold and garnish with whole strawberries if desired. Yield: Eight 6-ounce servings.

CHOCOLATE PEAR MOLDED DESSERT

- 1 can (16 oz.) pear halves
 - 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
 - 2 cups milk, divided
 - one-third cup unsweetened cocoa
 - 2 teaspoons dry instant coffee
 - two-thirds cup sugar
 - 1 tablespoon light corn syrup
 - 1 1/4 cups vanilla ice cream
 - 1/4 teaspoon vanilla extract
- Drain pears, reserving 1/4 cup syrup. Set aside 2 pear halves for garnish; dice remaining pears. Soften gelatin in reserved pear syrup. Combine 1 cup milk, cocoa, coffee, sugar and corn syrup. Cook and stir over medium heat just until mixture boils. Add softened gelatin, stirring to dissolve. Combine ice cream and remaining milk. Blend in chocolate-gelatin mixture and vanilla extract. Chill until partially set. Stir in diced pears. Pour into oiled shallow 8-cup mold; chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with reserved pears, sliced. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Sandwiches 'A Natural' For Summer

Sandwiches are natural fare for the summer months. They can be hearty and homespun or simple and elegant, perfect for entertaining. In either case, they should be wholesome and nutritious and have enough eye appeal to stimulate the appetite.

Using an unexpected combination of ingredients can often give a new dimension to a favored, familiar sandwich.

Cape Granny Smith Apples are here for their annual visit, from May to September; and their not-to-be-duplicated, piquant flavor can add zest to many tried and true sandwich combinations. This excellent fruit is a good source of pectin, fiber and essential vitamins and minerals.

Since the growing season for Cape Granny Smith Apples is opposite to ours, these fresh apples will appear in the supermarkets in North America just three weeks after being picked.

Try Mrs. B's Apple Sandwich on a particularly hot day. The combination of tart-sweet, crunchy apple bits with the pungent flavor of blue cheese is a delightful interplay of tastes. These wonderful sandwiches are excellent made with sliced turkey or ham and are equally delicious with salami.

Because you may have the ingredients on hand, and it is so easy to prepare, Salmon-Apple Spread makes a marvelous sour-of-the-moment meal for unexpected company. But it is so good, you may find it turning into the family's favorite sandwich.

MRS. B'S APPLE SANDWICH

- 2 Granny Smith Apples, cored; chopped
- 6 tablespoons blue cheese pasteurized cheese spread
- 8 slices pumpernickel bread
- 1/4 pound sliced salami, ham, bologna or turkey

Combine apples and cheese spread; mix well; spread on 4 slices bread. Arrange meat slices over filling. Top with remaining bread slices.

SALMON-APPLE SPREAD

- 1 can (7 1/2 ounces) salmon, drained, bones removed
- 2 Granny Smith Apples, cored and chopped (2 cups chopped)
- 1/4 cup sunflower seeds
- 1/4 cup mayonnaise
- 1 tablespoon cider vinegar
- 1 tablespoon chopped fresh dill or 1/2 teaspoon dried dill
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 8 slices pumpernickel bread

Lettuce

In small bowl combine salmon, chopped apple, sunflower seeds, mayonnaise, vinegar, dill and salt; mix well. Cover. Chill. Spread mixture on 4 slices of bread. Top with lettuce and remaining 4 slices of bread. Yield: 4 sandwiches.

Foreign Foods Now Back In Shanghai

SHANGHAI, China (UPI) — Hamburgers, french fries, soufles and other once denounced imperialist foreign dishes have been rehabilitated in Shanghai.

The changes that are rolling over post-Mao China include more freedom of expression in the culinary arts.

During the last dozen years of Mao Tse-tung's anti-foreign regime, restaurants had to serve only Chinese food. Foreign colonial occupiers either closed or reverted to national cooking.

Now everybody in the "in" set of Shanghai piles into the one and only French restaurant open to the public in the world's largest city and an equally popular German-American-Japanese restaurant.

In addition, the old colonial French Club has been reopened, but for foreigners only.

To foreign visitors the sight of the French restaurant, Hung Fange (the Red House), can only be astonishing. It looks like a little Paris restaurant with red cafe curtains on brass rods, Western-style chairs, knives and forks and even bottles of steak sauce on the tables.

The menu, however, according to French cuisine ideology, is somewhat revisionist. Cheese sauce on baked fish is unknown in France and would have the famed chef Escoffier twirling in his grave. The sauce on veal scallops contained no wine or herbs because virtually no Western herbs are found in China. The "souffle Grand Marnier" dessert came without Grand Marnier. The liqueur cannot be purchased here.

"I use Chinese rum instead," explained the chef after he was urged out of his kitchen.

Chef Sun Ye said the restaurant was opened in 1949 by an Italian with a French wife. They left in the 1966 turmoil of Mao's "Cultural Revolution" and the restaurant reverted to Chinese fare.

"I had learned Western food when I was an apprentice at a hotel so when restaurants could serve foreign food again I became the chef here," said Sun in his grubby white jacket.

In addition to the fish-chese concoction, other dishes with cheese appear on the menu — unusual because most Chinese regard cheese's odor as disgusting.

The other day the diners were tackling steaming bowls of French onion soup sprinkled with grated cheese (but not with the traditional hunks of bread.)

The Chinese diners were drinking beer, the usual beverage consumed with food in China, while foreigners tried the Chinese dry red wine. The Chinese prefer sweet wine and call dry wine "sour." It is sold mainly to foreigners.

The Hung Fange is not cheap by local standards. Lunch for two foreigners came to $17 including good French-style coffee. For Chinese, the meal in this two-price country cost exactly half, but the cost still was high.

In a picturesque quarter with a Buddhist temple and bowed bridges over little canals, another foreign restaurant, De Da (named after the original owner), does a booming trade in hamburger steaks of pork.

A round American-style bun, slightly sweet, is meant to be eaten separately.

Two Americans teaching in Shanghai during a burst of homesickness brought their own sliced tomatoes, onions and pickles to the restaurant. They sliced the buns and made a real American hamburger to the curiosity of dozens of watching customers.

Another foreigner tried a pork chop which looked like a piece of old leather and French fries that appeared to have been left over from the Ming dynasty.

More successful was German potato salad and sliced cold meats, Western-style soup in big bowls and — a shocker — lemon or chocolate meringue pie tasting just like in Kansas City.

One middle-aged Chinese couple was enjoying Japanese sukiyaki cooked at their table in a little iron pot. The woman said, "We like to eat foreign food now and then."

The crowd was mostly young, with a more sophisticated air than their comrades in Peking. Some youths puffed cigars and the sukiyaki eater had rouge on her cheeks and a bright blue scarf at the neck of her quilted jacket.

The De Da opened in 1893 but was closed by the Cultural Revolution. The manager said it reopened in 1972 because President Richard Nixon came to Shanghai.

"Some of the Americans with Nixon asked in advance if the De Da was open, so the city reopened it," he said. "The staff had been sent to other restaurants but they were rounded up."

After 30 years of serving as a recreation center, the elegant French Club, built by French colonizers of Shanghai 70 years ago, also has been reopened.

The club, however, cannot be said to be a French restaurant "in China." As a large handwritten sign in the lobby says, it is open only to foreigners except those who "are drunk or have mental disorders."

The 1 billion Chinese of China are barred.

The club demands $1.30 of each customer just to enter. The luxurious wood-paneled club in 1910 art deco style serves passable French-style food although many items on the menu, such as pheasant, were not available one recent night.

The club also has a heated indoor swimming pool, an upstairs ballroom, several banquet rooms, probably the world's fanciest oak bowling alley and a game room where Japanese tourists were playing mahjong, an old Chinese game virtually forbidden to the Chinese as a form of gambling on the mainland.

Peking has only one restaurant that serves foreign food to the public, a Russian place in the city's exhibition center that was built by the Soviets in the 1950s.

Western and Japanese dishes are served in the big hotels, but only to foreigners.

Plan Informal Brunch Or Spiffy Buffet

Warm weather creates that urge to dress-up and plan a party. Whether your get-together is an informal Sunday brunch or a spiffy evening buffet, you'll want novel ideas for easy, elegant appetizers.

Look to fresh vegetables for colorful, economical hors d'oeuvres. Vegetables add texture and plenty of healthful goodness to dips and spreads. And crudités (raw vegetable dippers) are marvelously low in calories.

Spring Vegetable Spread is a mixture of finely chopped broccoli stalks, crunchy carrots, tangy green onions, fresh lemon juice, and cottage cheese—all whipped in a blender or food processor. It's picture-book pretty and nutritious, as well. Save calories by serving the spread rounded on an assortment of fresh vegetables—cucumber and zucchini slices, green and red bell pepper pieces, celery stalks, and mushroom caps, for example.

Chop the broccoli stalks into the canape spread, and use the delicate flowerettes, along with a colorful combination of other crudités around an easy blender-made dip. Creamy cottage cheese makes Cool-As-A-Cucumber Dip a snappy, light blend of radishes, scallions, fresh dill, lemon juice, and cucumber—deceptively low in calories. Fresh Tomato Dip is a zippy mixture, colorfully appealing with the addition of a whole fresh tomato.

 - 1 large tomato, cut in quarters
 - 1 small onion, quartered
 - 2 cloves garlic
 - 1 large rib celery

Warm Weather Is Time To Spruce Up, Entertain

Warm weather means that entertaining is back in season. It's time to spruce up the house and bring out your prettiest dishes...time to get ready for the many festive occasions when "company's coming."

Special food is, of course, part of the fun. And the sweet treat recipes given here will enhance your reputation as a first-rate hostess. Yet thanks to the convenience of canned pear halves, canned cherries and versatile unweilded cocoa—you mix it in light from the can, with no pre-melting—each of these desserts is also surprisingly easy to prepare.

A crown of golden pear halves complements the richness of a cocoa base in elegant Sunburst Pear Torte. Popular for their delicate flavor and texture, canned Bartlett pears add a luscious bonus to a variety of dishes, year-round. Since cocoa is chocolate in highly concentrated form, cake layers made with cocoa will provide a luscious contrast to the lightness of the pears. Vanilla pudding and pie filling mix makes short work of the custard step.

It takes just minutes to put together this refreshing Cherry Pear Compote. A touch of brandy adds sparkle to the canned pears and light Royal Anne cherries, another favorite fruit in handy all-season form.

With the complete recipe for irresistible Super Fudgy Brownies, also made with cocoa. (Six ounces of cocoa is as good as eight of baking chocolate, so cocoa is economical, too—an important consideration if you do a lot of baking.)

To make succulent Cherry Chocolate Cheesecake, simply combine ingredients in the blender, pour into a crumb crust and bake. Top the chocolate base with a ruby glaze of dark, sweet cherries. Packed at the peak of juicy ripeness, cherries give a delectable accent to so many dishes.

cheesecake. Combine 1 tablespoon cornstarch and 1 tablespoon lemon juice in saucepan. Gradually stir in reserved syrup. Cook and stir over medium heat until thickened and clear. Cool slightly. Spoon over cherries.

- ### CHERRY SAUCE
- 1 can or jar (17 oz.) dark sweet cherries
 - 1/4 cup sugar
 - 1-1/2 tablespoons cornstarch
 - 1/2 teaspoon lemon juice
 - 1 tablespoon kirsch or brandy
- Drain cherries, reserving 1/4 cup syrup. Pit cherries if necessary; set aside. Combine sugar and cornstarch in heavy 1-quart saucepan; gradually stir in syrup. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture thickens and begins to boil. Boil and stir 1 minute. Remove from heat; stir in cherries, lemon juice and kirsch or brandy. Serve sauce warm over chocolate-filled crepes. Makes approximately 1-1/2 cups sauce.

Yen For Yam? New Recipes Change Pace

Southerners might have had a true belly laugh at the expense of the young man in the New York supermarket who didn't know how to cook a yam. However, the fellow got some tips from women standing in his checkout line and went off to try this nutritious and versatile tuber.

A few weeks later, the young man was spotted by some of his "cooking teachers." He reported that he had enjoyed his yams very much.

Yams go well in casseroles with meats such as pork. They are also tasty when merely baked and served with a dollop of butter or with a special filling.

PORK AND YAM CASSEROLE

- 2 tablespoons vegetable oil
- 1 1/2 pounds pork shoulder, cut into 1-inch cubes
- 1 large onion, sliced (1 cup)
- 1 clove garlic, crushed
- two-thirds cup water
- one-third cup freshly squeezed orange juice
- one-third cup soy sauce
- 1 tablespoon dark brown sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon ground mustard
- 1/4 teaspoon crushed red pepper
- 3 medium-size North Carolina yams, pared and cut in chunks

ORANGE-STUFFED YAMS

- 6 medium North Carolina yams
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/4 cup diced fresh orange sections
- 1/4 cup shredded fresh coconut
- 1/4 teaspoon grated fresh lemon rind

BACON-STUFFED YAMS

- 6 medium North Carolina yams
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 6 slices bacon, cooked and crumbled
- 1 tablespoon chopped parsley

Artichoke Parmesan has flair.

Specialties Adapt To Microwave

Probably no other country has had its national dishes so wholeheartedly adopted by Americans as Italy. Here are some recipes from a Whirlpool microwave oven cookbook that capture the true, robust Italian flavors that make for a memorable meal.

The Artichoke Parmesan adds that extra flair to an Italian dinner.

CHICKEN CACCIATORE

Total cooking time: 30 minutes

- 1 large onion, sliced and separated into rings
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 1 tablespoon cooking oil
- 1 8-ounce can tomatoes, cut up
- 1 8-ounce can tomato sauce
- 1/4 cup dry white wine
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 teaspoon dried oregano, crushed
- 1/2 teaspoon celery seed
- 1 or 2 bay leaves
- 3 pound broiler-fryer, cut up

In 12x7 1/2-inch baking dish, cook onion and garlic in oil, covered, at HIGH for 5 to 6 minutes or till tender, stirring twice. Stir in tomatoes, tomato sauce, wine, salt, pepper, oregano, celery seed, and bay leaves. Add chicken; spoon sauce over.

Cook, covered, at MEDIUM HIGH for 20 minutes or till tender, giving dish half turn over. Remove bay leaves. Skim off excess fat from pan juices. Pass pan juices with chicken. Makes 3 or 4 servings.

ARTICHOKE PARMESAN

Total cooking time: 15 minutes

- 4 fresh medium artichokes
- Lemon juice
- 1 tablespoon sliced green onion
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 1/2 cups soft bread crumbs
- 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese
- 2 tablespoons snipped parsley

Wash artichokes. Cut off 1 inch of the top, the stem, and tips of leaves. Remove any loose outer leaves. Brush cut edges with lemon juice. Wrap each artichoke in waxed paper. Cook at HIGH for 11 to 12 minutes or till done. Scoop out choke; discard. Set artichokes aside.

In bowl, cook onion and garlic in butter at HIGH for 2 minutes. Toss crumbs, cheese, and parsley with onion mixture. Spoon into artichokes. Place in 12x6 1/2-inch baking dish.

Cook at HIGH for 10 to 12 minutes or till heated through. Makes 4 servings.

MICRO TIP: Warm bread goes great with any meal. Take a loaf of unliced Italian bread, place on a paper towel and heat at HIGH for 30 seconds. Slice part way through loaf and spread slices with softened butter.

Home Baked Bread Appearing On Table

Something interesting is happening in American kitchens. Bread is coming out of the oven instead of a grocery bag. And once again it's appearing on the dining table. The market professional who keeps an eye on consumer trends predict that baking is the next hot trend on the culinary scene. Recent sales of yeast, flour, bread pans and baking accessories appear to confirm it.

Unlike some predictions that vanish into thin air, this one appears quite logical. Consumers are concerned about high food costs. It's a recognized fact that home prepared foods cost less than convenience foods. And, in the case of bread, you can save at least 50 percent on a sliced loaf and much more on whole grain specialty breads and rolls. Another reason, there's growing interest in nutrition. Grains used in flour, are among the most economical and palatable ways to add important nutrients to the diet.

Not only has our appetite for good food and ingredients been stimulated, so has the interest in the appliances used for preparing these foods. The desire for a better finished product, together with consumer concern for saving energy, awakened interest in the portable convection oven for home use. The convection oven works on the principle of circulating hot air around all food surfaces simultaneously.

The concept has been used in professional kitchens for many years. Because of the even cooking temperatures throughout the oven, breads bake and brown evenly. Roasts are juicy, delicious and cook faster than in an ordinary oven, and the need for basting and turning is eliminated.

A convection oven can be used as the sole oven, perfect for complete meals. It can also function as an auxiliary oven when lots of baking and roasting is done.

SESAME WHEAT CRESCENTS

- 2 1/4 cups unbleached whole wheat flour
- 2 1/4 cups unbleached white flour
- 1 cup milk
- 3 tablespoons dark molasses
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 2 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1/4 cup (1 stick) margarine
- 1/2 cup warm water (105 degrees F.-115 degrees F.)
- 2 packages active dry yeast
- Sesame Seed

Combine whole wheat flour and 1 cup white flour. Sift milk; stir in molasses, sugar, salt, and 1/4 cup margarine. Cool to lukewarm.

Measure warm water into a large warm bowl. Sprinkle in yeast; stir until dissolved. Add lukewarm milk mixture and 2 cups flour mixture; beat until smooth. Stir in remaining flour and enough additional white flour to make a stiff dough. Turn out on a lightly floured board; knead until smooth and elastic, about 8 to 10 minutes. Place dough in a greased bowl; turning to grease top. Cover bowl lightly with aluminum foil. Set bowl in Convection Turbo-Oven with temperature control knob set to left edge of 150 degrees F. (air should be warm, not hot, about 90 degrees F.), until dough doubles in bulk, about 1 hour.

Remove dough from convection oven. Punch down; turn out on lightly floured board. Divide into 3 equal pieces. Roll each into a 12-inch circle. Melt remaining 1/4 cup margarine; brush on circles. Cut each circle into 12 pie-shaped pieces. Roll up lightly beginning at wide end. Seal joints firmly. Place on greased baking sheets with points underneath. Curve to form crescents. Brush lightly with remaining melted margarine and sprinkle generously with sesame seed. Using two oven racks, let rise in convection oven until doubled in bulk, about 40 minutes.

Bake in convection oven at 225 degrees F. for 15 to 20 minutes. Bake sheet on bottom rack an additional 5 minutes. Remove rolls from sheets and cool on wire racks.

In regular oven, bake at 400 degrees F. for 10 to 15 minutes or until done. Remove from sheets and cool on wire racks.

Stuff A Frozen Flounder

If stuffing a frozen fish seems a complete impossibility to you... then check again! This very special recipe, Mushroom Stuffed Flounder from ASA Master Chef Gosta Pettersson, gives you easy, step-by-step instructions.

All Scandinavians (Canadians and Islanders, too) according to Chef Pettersson, prepare frozen fish without thawing it first. To serve it stuffed, simply allow the 1 pound package of frozen flounder or Sole to stand unwrapped at room temperature for approximately 20 minutes. Then Pettersson recommends cutting the block, lengthwise and crosswise, into 6 thin squares. Sandwich the mushroom-cream stuffing between 2 squares and spread each "sandwich" with a buttery crumb topping.

Bake with chopped onions and wine and serve with a savory sauce created from the pan juices and cream. Scandalously sensational for entertaining, this entree also appears regularly on SAS North Atlantic flights.

STUFFED BAKED FLOUNDER FILLET SAS STYLE

2 pounds frozen flounder fillets
 6 oz. mushrooms, finely chopped
 9 tablespoons butter, melted
 2 cups whipping cream (1 1/2 cups for sauce)
 1 small onion, chopped
 1 cup fresh bread crumbs
 1/2 cup dry vermouth or white wine

1 tablespoon melted butter mixed with 1 tablespoon flour
 1 cube beef bouillon
 Salt and pepper

Allow fish to stand at room temperature unwrapped 20 minutes. Cut each semi-frozen fish block into 6 equal portions. Slice each portion in half horizontally to make two thin portions each. Meanwhile, saute mushrooms in 1 tablespoon of butter for 4 to 5 minutes. Remove mushroom juice and reserve for sauce. Add 1/2 cup whipping cream to mushrooms and simmer until thick, stirring constantly. Sprinkle chopped onion in buttered baking dish. Place three thin portions of fish on top of onions. Spoon mushrooms filling on fish.
 Dip remaining fish portions into 8 tablespoons melted butter, place on top of filling. Sprinkle fish with bread crumbs. Drizzle remaining butter on top. Pour vermouth or white wine around (not over) fish. Bake in preheated 400 degree F. oven 25 to 30 minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with fork. Remove fish from pan to serving platter. Reserve cooking liquid.

To prepare sauce: combine reserved mushroom juice, and cooking liquid. Reduce stock by boiling for about 3 minutes. Add bouillon cube, reduce heat and mix in 1/2 cup cream and butter-flour mixture. Simmer for about 10 minutes, stirring constantly. Season with salt and pepper; pour around sides of fish, not over. 6 servings.

Meals Outdoors Becoming Summer Lifestyle Of Many

Warm breezes and sunshine call for outdoor meals. Barbecue grills from the simplest to the most elaborate are kept busy because meals in the open have become the summer lifestyle for many Americans.

All of the food is not grilled, of course, but when part of the food can be cooked out-of-doors, it eliminates kitchen chores. In the menu given here, prepare the barbecue sauce in the kitchen, then later in on the split chickens cooking on the grill. Broiler-fryer chickens are young and lean so they need butter in the sauce to brown attractively and to bring out the taste. Tomatoes, puree and other seasonings with just a bit of brown sugar add a saucy note to this economical, popular entree.

Potatoes may be baked on the grill as the chicken cooks or both may be done in the oven. Cheddar cheese topping with bits of appetizing bacon and green onions will taste best if it melts easily on the potato.

Add a bit of Americana to the menu with typical Corn and Parsley Fritters. Fresh corn, cut from the cob, is delectable in the batter, which is fried in shallow butter and fat.

Salad inspiration comes from many lands but the size and variety of American salads have made them an institution! In this one, there's an abundance of greens planned, with one cup per person. They're accented with sliced orange, sweet red onion and avocado. Everything is chilled to sparkling crispness.

Cottage cheese and dairy sour cream form the base for the dressing, which is thick and fluffy. Two ounces of Blue cheese in this base seem like more, appealing to one's sense of economy. HORSERADISH and hot sauce furnish piquancy.

You can go all-American with a Red, White and Blue Shortcake, using strawberries, blueberries and whipped cream! These are layered on individual biscuit-type shortcakes, made in two sizes so they're high and handsome.

BARBECUED CHICKEN

- (8 to 8 servings)
- 1/2 cup (1 stick) butter
 - 1 1/2 cups chopped onion
 - 1 clove garlic, crushed
 - 1 can (16 oz.) tomatoes, finely chopped with liquid
 - 1 cup canned tomato puree
 - 2 tablespoons brown sugar
 - 2 tablespoons cider vinegar
 - 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
 - 1 tablespoon dry mustard
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 2 broiler-fryer chickens (2 1/2 to 3 pounds each), cut up
- Melt butter in a heavy 3-quart saucepan; saute onion and garlic until tender, about 5 minutes. Stir in tomatoes, puree, brown sugar, vinegar, Worcestershire, mustard and salt. Simmer, uncovered, until thick, about 15 minutes. Cook chicken over hot charcoal 45 to 60 minutes, or until chicken can be pierced easily with a fork. Turn chicken every 10 minutes; baste generously with sauce during last half of cooking time. (Chicken may be baked in a preheated 350 degree F. oven for 50 to 60 minutes, turning and basting every 15 minutes.)
 NOTE: Remaining sauce will keep well, covered, in refrigerator up to two weeks.

CHEESE-TOPPED BAKED POTATOES

- (Yield: approx. 1 1/2 cups of topping)
- 1/2 cup (1 stick) butter
 - 1 cup (4 oz.) shredded Cheddar cheese
 - 4 slices bacon, cooked and crumbled
 - 2 tablespoons sliced green onion
 - 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
 - 6 medium-sized Idaho potatoes, baked
- Combine butter, cheese, bacon, onion and Worcestershire. Heat until fluffy. Split top of each potato and squeeze to open. Top generously with cheese-batter spread.
 NOTE: Remaining spread will keep well, covered, in refrigerator up to two weeks.

CORN-PARSLEY FRITTERS

- (Yield: 15 to 16)
- 1 and one-third cups all-purpose flour
 - 1 teaspoon baking powder
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - Dash pepper
 - Two-thirds cup milk
 - 2 egg yolks, slightly beaten
 - 2 tablespoons butter, melted
 - 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
 - 2 cups fresh corn
 - 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
 - 2 teaspoons grated onion
 - 2 egg whites, stiffly beaten
 - 3 tablespoons butter
 - 3 tablespoons oil
- Combine flour, baking powder, salt and pepper in a large mixing bowl; set aside. Combine milk, egg yolks, 1 tablespoon butter and Worcestershire. Add liquid ingredients to dry ingredients; mix just until smooth. Stir in corn, parsley and onion. Gently fold in egg whites. Heat a small amount of equal proportions of butter and oil in a large heavy skillet over medium to high heat. Drop batter by tablespoons into hot mixture. Saute 2 to 3 minutes per side or until golden. Serve warm with butter.

WEST COAST SALAD

- (Yield: approx. 2 1/2 cups)
- 1 cup cottage cheese
 - 1 cup dairy sour cream
 - 2 ounces Blue cheese, crumbled
 - 1 to 2 tablespoons prepared horseradish
 - 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
 - 1 teaspoon seasoned salt
 - Few drops hot pepper sauce
- Freshly grated pepper
- For dressing, beat cottage cheese on high speed of mixer until almost smooth, about 5 minutes. Stir in remaining ingredients until well combined. Refrigerate, covered, 1 to 2 hours to allow flavors to blend. Meanwhile, for salad combine all ingredients. Sprinkle with salt to taste. To serve, spoon salad into individual bowls; pass dressing.
 NOTE: Remaining dressing will keep well, covered, in refrigerator up to two weeks.

RED, WHITE AND BLUE SHORTCAKE

- (6 servings)
- Shortcake:
- 4 cups all-purpose flour
 - 1/2 cup sugar
 - 5 teaspoons baking powder
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 cup (1 1/2 sticks) butter
 - 1 1/2 cups milk
 - 2 tablespoons butter, melted and cooled
- Filling:
- 1 pint fresh strawberries
 - 2 teaspoons sugar
 - 1 cup fresh blueberries
 - 1 cup whipping cream
 - 2 tablespoons confectioners' sugar
- Preheat oven to 450 degrees F. Combine flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. Cut in butter until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Add milk, mix until a soft dough is formed. Turn out on lightly floured surface and knead gently several times. Roll to 1-inch thickness. Cut out six 3-inch circles and six 2 1/2-inch circles with a floured cutter. (If necessary, reroll dough to make specified number of circles.) Arrange large circles on buttered cookie sheet. Brush with a small amount of melted butter. Top each with a smaller circle; press gently. Bake until golden and firm to the touch, 15 to 18 minutes. Cool on wire rack. Meanwhile, reserve 18 perfect strawberries; slice remaining berries and sprinkle with 2 teaspoons sugar. Wash and drain blueberries. Combine whipping cream and confectioners' sugar. Whip until soft peaks form. To serve, separate shortcakes. Spread a small amount of whipped cream on bottom circle; spread some of sliced berries on each; sprinkle with blueberries. Place smaller circle on top. Spread with whipped cream. Arrange 3 whole strawberries on each; sprinkle with blueberries. Serve immediately.

 Recipe from the kitchens of Hollywood Foods. 4 servings.

CALORIE COUNTERS' BEEF AND VEGETABLES

2 pounds beef round steak, cut 1/2 to 1 inch thick
 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
 1 teaspoon dry mustard
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 1 beef bouillon cube
 1/2 cup hot water
 1/2 cup buttermilk
 2 teaspoons cornstarch
 1 package (10 ounces) Italian green beans, defrosted
 8 ounces mushrooms, sliced
 1 jar (2 ounces) pimiento, cut in strips

Trim excess fat from edge of round steak and heat in large frying pan to obtain 1 tablespoon drippings. Remove remaining fat. Slice steak into very thin strips and cut into pieces 3 to 4 inches long; lightly brown, one-third at a time, in drippings. Pour off drippings. Combine salt, mustard and pepper and sprinkle over meat. Crush bouillon cube and dissolve in hot water; add to meat, stirring lightly and cook slowly 45 minutes. Add buttermilk to cornstarch, stirring to blend; gradually add to meat mixture and cook slowly 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. Stir in green beans, mushrooms and pimiento strips; continue cooking, covered, 10 minutes. 6 servings.
 Note: When round steak is partially frozen, thin strips can be cut more easily.

MINI LIVER-SAUUSAGE LOAVES

1 pound beef liver, sliced
 1 pound pork sausage
 2 tablespoons lard or drippings
 1/2 cup milk
 1/4 cup instant minced onion
 1/4 cup fine dry bread crumbs
 2 eggs, beaten
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
 1 can (8 ounces) pizza sauce

Cook liver in lard or drippings to lightly brown both sides, about 5 minutes. Combine milk and minced onion. Grind liver and combine with pork sausage. Add bread crumbs, eggs, salt, nutmeg and milk to meat, stirring lightly and combine thoroughly. Pack mixture into 12 medium muffin pans, filling each approximately 3/4 full. Bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for 30 to 40 minutes. Serve with pizza sauce. 8 servings.

CALORIE-CONSCIOUS PORK PLATTER

6 pork rib or loin chops, cut 1/2 inch thick
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1 tablespoon sugar
 1 teaspoon ground ginger
 3 tablespoons soy sauce
 1 clove garlic, minced

1 can (15 1/2 ounces) or 2 cans (8 ounces each) pineapple chunks in unsweetened juice
 1 tablespoon cornstarch
 2 cups thinly sliced celery
 1 medium green pepper, cut in thin strips
 1 can (6 ounces) water chestnuts, halved
 1 package (8 ounces) frozen Chinese pea pods, defrosted
 1/4 teaspoon salt

Trim any excess fat from chops and melt trimming in large frying pan to obtain 1 tablespoon drippings. Brown chops in drippings. Pour off drippings; Sprinkle 1/4 teaspoon salt on both sides of chops. Cover lightly and cook slowly 30 minutes. Combine sugar and ginger; stir in soy sauce and garlic and add to chops. Cook slowly, covered, 15 to 20 minutes or until done, turning chops once during cooking. Drain pineapple; reserve juice. Add juice to liquid in frying pan to make 1 cup. Add water to remaining juice to make 1/2 cup, blend with cornstarch, stir into liquid in pan and cook, stirring until thickened. Add pineapple chunks, celery, green pepper, water chestnuts and pea pods, separating the pods. Cook slowly, covered, until vegetables are heated through, 3 to 4 minutes. Sprinkle 1/4 teaspoon salt over vegetables. 6 servings.
 1 package (8 ounces) frozen French-style green beans, blanched, may be substituted.

Lawmakers Give Variety Of Reasons For Slow Session

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Lawmakers started the 1980 session like a runaway freight train — churning out bills deregulating trucking, reprimanding Rep. Gene Flinn and modifying financial disclosure in the opening days.

But the fast pace has taken its toll.

Entering this week, the Senate had only met twice in the last two weeks and the major floor debate in the House has centered on whether children under 18 could accompany their parents to racetracks.

Lawmakers generally peg the lull to the fact this isn't a major budget year, widespread concern about the pending recession and hassles over energy legislation. They promise things will heat up in May as the supplemental appropriations process begins and they confront Gov. Bob Graham's proposal to gradually raise the gasoline tax.

"This has been the slowest session that I've ever had up here," said Rules Chairman Ralph Haben who was first elected in 1972. "I think the only thing we've done is the financial disclosure thing and the only reason I say that is because of the controversy not the content."

House Speaker Hyatt Brown concurs with his chief lieutenant, conceding the House could have run through this year's agenda in as little as four weeks.

"We are moving along rather ploddingly solving the problems we have to solve," he says, pausing a moment before answering, "yes, he still thinks the people — spending some $25,000 a day — are getting their money's worth having the Legislature in session."

On the Republican side House Minority Leader Curt Kiser says the main reason things are moving slowly is because Gov. Bob Graham's proposed programs are "disastrous."

"The Legislature has been gun shy of the governor's programs — especially in the areas of energy and transportation," says Kiser, R-Palm Harbor.

Senate President Phil Lewis adds this year's Sunset review to the list and says intensive committee work prior to the session on trucking deregulation has slowed the movement of substantive bills.

He said senators found themselves with a lot of time on their hands when they voted early.
