SANFORD, FLORIDA, TUESDAY, MAY 15, 1923

WILL ABOLISH THE LASH BILL PASSED SENATE TODAY GOES TO GOVERNOR NOW

BANS CORPORAL PUNISHMENT OF CONVICTS IN STATE OF FLORIDA ACTION MEANS

That State of Florida Has Abolished the Iniquitous Convict Lease System

(By The Associated Press)
TALLAHASSEE, May 15.—Walter Higginbotham and William Fisher arrived here early today and surfered to United States marshal, who held federal warrants charging them with conspiracy in connection with alleged working of a negro at Putnam Lumber Company at Clara. They were released on bail of $2,000 each. Higginbotham is scheduled to go on trial at Cross City Friday on first degree murder in connection with the death of Martin Tabert, convict. Higginbotham was whipping boss at the Putnam Lumber company of which Fisher is superintendent.

TALLAHASSEE, May 15.—Final passage of the bill to ban corporal punishment of convicts in this state was effected when the senate by vote of 13 to 13 refused to reconsider its action of yesterday in banning the whip. Action of the senate meant the bill requiring elimination of whipping as prescribed punishment, now goes to the governor.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., May 15.—Florida, through its legislature yesterday stepped out from the first of its reputed soiled prison garments, and held them by a string that could bring them back tomorrow.

The senate, upon which has depended for the past several weeks, the success of a measure to ban the whipping of prisoners in this state, voted 13 to 13 for a bill that has already been acted upon favorably by the lower house.

At the end of the vote, however, Senator H. H. Rowe changed from the negative to the affirmative for the purpose of asking a reconsideration. Here was a thought full of possibilities, in view of the close lines of the upper house.

Those members, however, who started the fight to ban the whip by rescuing from an unfavorable committee report, bill by Senator Hodges for that purpose, and gradually gained strength until yesterday's victory were confident that it would not be snatched from them by subsequent action. Two senators, Singletary and Putnam were unaccounted for in yesterday afternoon's vote and both have previously supported the whip. If they held their attitude through today, it would evenly divide the senate forces, but this in itself would prevent yesterday's action being reconsidered for such would require a majority vote.

The senate vote came on the question of concurring in a house amendment to a bill introduced by Senator Turnbull last week. This bill would expressly direct the state officials to be the whip for a two year trial measure. The house struck out the experimental clause and made it an outright abandonment of the whip. Analyzed to the bitter end, therefore, Mr. Rowe's action had the effect of little more than tempering the sweetness of the victor's cup. The issue for that matter, had already resolved itself into a question of just how much the whip would be banned, rather than whether it would be banned.

The victory of the abolitionists might be short lived, though that was never apparent but the assurance is manifest that the test that will come from the senate will be an inhibition against the whip for two years at the end of which more action can be taken.

The victory was distinct for those forces, led by Senator Stokes, MacWilliams, and Hodges, and constituted originally a minority 14. It was a defeat for what was once the majority led by Senators Johnson and Lindsey. It consummated the evolution of Mr. Hodges' bill, killed outright once, but whose spirit bobbed up in another form in the way of a gratuitous compromise.

Its first reincarnation was manifested in a resolution by Senator

UNCLE SAMUEL WILL TAKE CASE WHIPPING BOSS

IN CUSTODY OF MARSHAL ON THE WAY TO TALLAHASSEE.

(By The Associated Press)
TALLAHASSEE, May 15.—Walter Higginbotham, convict whipping boss, and William Fisher, superintendent of the Putnam Lumber company, are expected to arrive here late today in the custody of a United States deputy marshal, following federal indictments being returned against them. Higginbotham and Fisher will be seized with warrants at Cross City this morning. District Attorney Fred Cumberly late yesterday countermanded his order not to arrest Higginbotham until after his trial in the state court for murder and ordered the whipping-boss taken into custody along with Fisher.

Fisher and Higginbotham are scheduled to go on trial here in June, they having been indicted for conspiracy and kidnaping. The indictment followed the death of Ned Thompson, 64 year old negro, who was alleged to have been whipped by Higginbotham after he had been unlawfully taken to the convict camp of the Putnam Lumber company. Thompson died shortly after the whipping.

The senate two weeks ago approved Governor Hardee's recommendation to dismiss Sheriff Jones of Leon county on a malfeasance charge, and yesterday the governor appointed Frank A. Stoutamire of Tallahassee to succeed him; Jones is also included in the indictment against Fisher and Higginbotham.

Large Men's Chorus at Presbyterian Church

The singing is led each night at the Presbyterian Church by a large chorus of men who feature the old songs. Their singing made a fine impression last night. The chorus includes in its membership much of the best musical talent among the men in Sanford. They will also render special music from time to time from a male quartet chosen from their number.

Dr. Carr preached two wonderful sermons yesterday. At 4 in the afternoon he preached on "Witnesses for Christ," and at night on "Hope." His clear style, forceful logic, beautiful language, and the little touches of humor injected, are delighting the crowds. Dr. Carr displays an expository power, a clear insight into the message of the Scripture for everyday life which will make his sermons here a great help to the increasing crowds who hear him.

Turnbull who left his stand as president of the senate to offer a resolution that would request a state official to ban the whip as an experiment. As pointed out yesterday by Lindsey and Wicker, both of whom took their defeat hard, the compromise was not offered of necessity. As a matter of strength, they pointed out, they had discarded Mr. Hodges' bill, and could have put it on final passage and formally killed it. Mr. Turnbull's resolution was turned down by the house, the leaders of that body declaring that it was an "effort to hide behind a smoke screen."

Then Mr. Turnbull put the experimental proposition in a bill that would have been mandatory upon the state officials. The house eliminated the experimental clause and sent it back to the senate yesterday, and in the meantime the ranks had broken as under. Thus as it passed it was the same effect as Mr. Hodges' bill.

TALLAHASSEE, May 15.—The senate passed a bill which as amended would provide three cents gas tax, one cent for counties, two for state road department.

FRENCH TROOPS HAVE OCCUPIED BADEN ANILINE DYE WORKS. PLANTS ARE CLOSED DOWN

And Entire French Regiment is Quartered at the Station

(By The Associated Press)
BERLIN, May 15.—The French have occupied Baden Aniline and Soda Works at Ludwigshafen, according to a message received here. Employees have not attempted to enter works which are shut down with the entire French regiment quartered here. Street railways at Ludwigshafen ceased operation as a result of French occupation of the depot. Hoechst Dye Works at Ludwigshafen and towns of Limburg and West Pfalz have also been occupied by the French.

PLAN MASS MEETING TODAY PROTEST AGAINST ATTACKS ON SUGAR TRADE BY U. S.

Was Discussed at Secret Meeting Held in New York Exchange

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, May 15.—Plans for a mass meeting to protest against continued attacks on sugar trade by government officials is understood to have been discussed at a secret meeting held this morning on the floor of the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange. The reported meeting would be held tomorrow in Wall Street district. Hazing of newspaper men and even messenger boys from the floor caused a flurry of excitement in trade. At the office of the superintendent of the exchange it was said no announcement would be made as to the nature of the secret session.

HEAVY LOSS OF LIFE REPORTED AT HOT SPRINGS, FROM FLOOD AND FIRE

Meagre Reports Coming Out on Account of Wire Troubles

(By The Associated Press)
HOT SPRINGS, May 15.—Hot Springs at noon is endeavoring to extricate itself from the debris and ruin left by flood, fire and wind which last night wrecked the business district, with property damage which is expected to run into the millions. Several persons reported killed but thus far reports of fatalities are not verified. It is expected, however, the death list will not exceed three or four. Marquette Hotel is a pile of charred timbers and stones representing a loss in excess of a quarter million dollars. All public utilities were put out of action.

LITTLE ROCK, May 15.—Fragmentary reports received by the Little Rock Democrat from Hot Springs, indicated reports of heavy loss of life there in flood had been exaggerated, but one report that six or eight were dead, persisted.

MUSKOGEE, Okla., May 15.—Up to 4 o'clock this morning there had been no confirmation of reports of loss of life at Hot Springs Southwestern Bell Telephone Exchange at Little Rock advised company's exchange here. Marquette Hotel at Hot Springs was destroyed by fire. This was the only fire following last night's storm definitely ascertained. Little Rock reported, water stood six feet deep in the telephone company's office at Hot Springs.

TEVARKANA, Tex., May 15.—Unofficial advice received by Two States Telephone Company from Hot Springs, state that known dead in storm and fire last night would be at least 17. Water running 11 feet on Central avenue, in place, it was said.

LITTLE ROCK, May 15.—Flood and fire descended upon Hot Springs last night with undetermined loss of life and heavy property damage, according to a brief report over commercial wires which was received late last night. Communication was broken after being maintained but a moment and the stricken city again became completely isolated.

The flood followed a cloudburst and the water rushed down from the hills in torrents, according to the meagre report, which added that fire broke out in the business district and wiped out nearly a block.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 15.—All telegraph and telephonic communication with Hot Springs, Ark., was broken early tonight by flood water which resulted from a cloudburst in or near that city, according to information received over wires just before all lines were put out of order. All efforts to re-establish communication had failed after several hours.

TEXAS STORM KILLS MANY— BIG DAMAGE

SEVENTEEN DEAD AND ONE HUNDRED ARE INJURED.

(By The Associated Press)
COLORADO, Tex., May 15.—Seventeen dead and ten injured seriously and hundreds of others hurt and four to five hundred homeless are the complete check today after a tornado which swept through Mitchell county yesterday. Reports still more or less fragmentary declare fifty houses at least were razed and thousands of head of live stock lost.

COLORADO, Tex., May 15.—Seventeen dead and 100 injured were reported late yesterday as a result of the tornado which tore through Mitchell county, south and east of here yesterday. The injured are in the hospital, churches and many private homes here.

Some were hurt so seriously their deaths are expected.

The tornado descended in Mitchell county between four and five o'clock this morning, and caught most of its victims in bed. It levelled buildings and left death and injury in its wake for 30 miles. Starting south of Westbrook, it went in a northerly direction, passing slightly to the east of the town, but not clearing it.

Citizens of towns near the storm swept area rushed first aid, provisions and relief supplies for the victims. The known dead are:

Luther Brindle, 30; Mrs. F. Brindle, mother of Luther, 70; H. J. Standifer and three Standifer boys aged 5 to 12; infant son of Joe Anderson, infant daughter of Jim Walker; C. L. Simpson, 25; I. C. Sheffield, 65; Jesus Brionez; Joe Sheffburg, 12; daughter of Joe Richburg, 14; W. S. Shelton, Westbrook, Tex., 11-year-old daughter of Henry Tidwell, and baby girl.

Organizing relief parties was practically completed late yesterday afternoon and temporary kitchens have been erected to provide them with food. More are coming in. The devastated district is thickly populated for rural territory. At least fifty houses were reported destroyed. Damage to crops could not be estimated. The wind tore and twisted down everything in its path. This city has a population of possibly 20,000. At one time it was known as Colorado City, but is now merely Colorado.

DAYTONA REPEALS CITY LAW BANNING SUNDAY BASEBALL

DAYTONA, May 15.—Following the forbidding of a baseball game here Sunday between Tampa and Daytona by City Manager W. B. Hodges under an old city ordinance making it unlawful, the Daytona city commission repealed the ordinance last night after a bitter fight by a vote of 4 to 3.

President Craig of the Daytona baseball association, who is also a city commissioner, declared that a determined effort would be made to have the present legislature repeal the state law against Sunday baseball. Like the blue laws forbidding the sale of soft drinks, cigars and gasoline on Sunday, he declared the baseball law should be repealed because where public sentiment is so strongly violated without protest the retention on the statute books creates a disrespect for all law.

club which was adopted. President Knight called attention to the chapter presentation of the Tiquerville Club next Friday night and it is thought that several from Sanford will attend.

Dr. Glenn was called upon to say something and he handed Sanford and the Rotary Club several nice bouquets and also stated that Orlando always enjoyed coming up here but they wanted to see more Sanford people down there at the meetings and also that by coming to Orlando they could keep up their attendance better. It was decided by the club that Monday would be a much better meeting day than Tuesday and hereafter the meetings will be held at noon on each Monday.

FOREIGNERS HELD CAPTIVE BY CHINESE BANDITS WILL ALL BE KILLED

STREET PAVING BRINGS RESULTS IN PROGRESS

NEW CITY STREETS MAKE LARGER BUILDING PROGRAM

The city commissioners are preparing to carry out the fine program of street paving, which has been approved by the people and for which pecuniary requirement is already made.

Sanford's plan of financing its street paving is different from that used in most cities in this state. The city pays a third and the abutting property owners pay two-thirds, those on either side of the street to be paved each paying one-third. The property owners are given ten years in which to meet their paving assessments, thus being given opportunity for them to buy and develop property without being unduly hampered by a paving bill which must be paid in two or three years. In adopting the plan, Sanford realized and recognized the fact that while the property owner is benefitted by a paved street in front of his property, he is in no wise morally or legally obliged to furnish a paved highway for the use of the general public, therefore the city as a whole benefitting by the traffic and passage over its public streets rightly assumes that it is the duty of the city as such to pay for the public's roads through the middle of the streets.

Because of the fact that only one-third of the paving before a lot on any unpaved as yet street will be taxed against the owner, and because, further, that he will have ten years in which to pay his assessment, many young men are buying property on unpaved streets in line of development and building nice homes on them, in the assurance that but a short time can elapse before they will be paved, and at a cost to them which will not embarrass them in the payments on the lot and home contracts. The result is that Sanford is growing faster in more directions than, perhaps, any other city in the state, and soon will cover an area which will ensure it a handsome position in the next census.

DEMONSTRATION AGAINST BRITISH BY THE SOVIET

DEATH TO BRITISH IMPERIALISTS IN THE CITY

VLADIVOSTOK, May 15.—A huge anti-British demonstration was held here yesterday, the crowds holding that British "Imperialists" were responsible for the assassination at Lusanne of Vorovsky, the soviet delegate to the Near East peace conference.

The demonstrators demanded the death of the British "Imperialists." Local Englishmen were not molested.

LONDON, May 15.—What purports to be a summary of the Russian note to Great Britain was printed under a Moscow date line yesterday by the Daily Herald, the labor newspaper. The article says the Soviet government's reply proposes a conference of plenipotentiaries to discuss, not only Lord Curzon's present communication but the whole problem of Anglo-Russian relations with a view to establishing a general understanding.

The note is said to admit the reply to the Hodgson protest against the Butchkevitch execution was unusual in tone by the British representative in Moscow annoyed the Bolshevik foreign office by sending a note when he was told the Russian foreign office was unable to discuss a question of purely domestic concern. If the reply of Great Britain will accept this explanation the present cause for disagreement will disappear. The newspaper emphasized the danger which would follow a break and says concerning a break, the matters in dispute are trivial.

UNLESS FOREIGN DIPLOMATS GUARANTEE GOVERNMENT WILL ACCEDE

Aged Priest Brings Back News That Captives Are in Danger

(By The Associated Press)
SHANGHAI, May 15.—Unless foreign diplomatic representatives in China guarantee by tonight that the Chinese government will carry out all the terms fixed by the Chinese bandits in Shantung Hills, foreigners held captive will all be killed, Father Lenfers, aged priest, who conferred with bandit chief Linchong Sunday, reported to American consul at Linchong today.

HANKOW, China, May 15.—About one thousand soldiers and ex-bandits from Honan, incorporated into army, are camped seven miles from Hankow demanding tribute of a hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and a quantity of ammunition as the price of their departure. The authorities thus far have refused to comply. The trains between Peking and Hankow are carrying guard detachments of forty soldiers each as well as machine guns.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—The military governor of Shantung, the state department was advised yesterday by Consul John K. Davis, has agreed to call off the military attacks on the bandits who wrecked the Shanghai-Peking express, and to take them into the Chinese army. He expressed willingness to release foreigners still held captive if this was done. He said the governor had informed him the siege was raised Sunday night.

Although there was said to be a lack of agreement among the chiefs as regards details, it was said negotiations were proceeding and that there were good prospects for an early settlement.

A statement issued by the state department late yesterday, said: "The department has received information from Consul John K. Davis and Major Philson at Linchong under date of May 13, to the effect that the bandits said they would release their prisoners on condition that the Pactaeko siege be raised and all bandits be taken into the Chinese army. The bandits claim that they number 4,000 between Linchong and the sea. "The military government has left the details of the settlement to be arranged later, but has agreed verbally to meet the above mentioned conditions.

"The military governor stated that the siege was raised on the night of May 12. The Chinese officials together with Mr. Roy Anderson, have again gone to the bandits to endeavor to further the negotiations. Although the bandits are getting short of ammunition and food, there are good prospects of an early settlement.

"Under the date of May 14 Consul John K. Davis and Major Philson report that Mr. Anderson and the Chinese officials returned last night with the report that there is a lack of definite agreement among the chiefs as regards details. The chiefs are holding a meeting on May 14 and promise to send in a report the following day. The general terms which have been already reported are still acceptable to both parties.

"Minister Schurman reports that the foreign office in Peking has stated that it expects the early completion of negotiations for the release of the prisoners. At a meeting of the diplomatic corps on May 14, a decision was reached to the effect that the dean should remind the foreign office that the requested indemnity has been running since May 12. No definite decision has yet been reached as to whether the progressive indemnity shall be in the form of cash or in the nature of annuities, that is to say, undertakings for the proper control and policing of railways in the future.

SCHOONER IS SEIZED AT MIAMI WITH 800 CASES OF LIQUOR

MIAMI, May 14.—The Esther Gray, a British schooner of about 18 tons registry, from Nassau, Bahamas, was seized yesterday afternoon by the revenue cutter Vidette, in command of Capt. R. S. Miller, off Triumph Reef. The Esther Gray, according to Captain Miller was apparently riding at anchor twenty-five miles south of Miami Saturday night. Two shots were fired from the Vidette across the bows of the Esther Gray before she hove to, to be held for a violation of the United States customs regulations, entering territorial waters with home liquor aboard. Cargo aboard the ship is about 200 cases of liquor according to figures given last night.

There were evidences of a wind storm just the other side of Altamonte Springs yesterday afternoon, a party from Sanford noticed several trees had been blown down, one across the wires and the brick road just inside of Seminole county. Also noticed a large tree blown over in the front yard of a home at Longwood. There was evidences of a heavy rain in the vicinity of Orlando and Winter Park also but very little rain fell at Sanford.

her of beaus coming around to see them for a while and then they want them to marry the best catch of the crowd. They send their awkward sons to the dancing school, then to the country club balls, then try to get them interested in the prospective heiress living on quality hill. It is all right for mothers to have ambition for their children if it is of the right kind and rightly controlled. And what mother does not have ambition for her children? Only some times it is not of the right kind and not rightly controlled. Salome's ambition for her boys is a curious mixture of spiritual and worldly motives. She wanted them by all means to be in the kingdom of God, but she wanted them to be conspicuous in the kingdom. She wanted them to have first and second places respectively there — the lower of her sons to be above the highest of every other mother's sons. It was far better than the ambition for them to be elegant dancers or fine ambition that goes no further than their marriage to right girls. But even so it was selfish. It was an wholly clamoring to get the advantage of other mothers and their sons. And with all it was a gross misconception of what greatness and the kingdom means. Salome's thoughts were in the gentile world, where those that are great lord it over their fellows, not in that kingdom where he that is great shall be among you as he that serves. I have heard mothers say that they wanted their sons to be ministers, that they wanted them to have big churches and get big salaries. I have a friend who is an Episcopal minister whose mother-in-law is rich and influential in that church. She says that she is going to make a bishop of her son-in-law, yet before she is through with him. Worldliness may vitiate even the christian mother's ambition before her children even when she brings them to Christ and gives them to His service. I hope there are mothers in this congregation who are praying that Christ will honor them and their sons by calling them into the ministry. It is from this source that the supply of pulpits is obtained. When I was a student in the seminary the question was raised as to how many of the candidates for the ministry had been dedicated to that work by their mothers in infancy. It was found that almost every one in the institution was there as a result of his mother's prayers that he be called into Christ's service.

A second respect in which Salome is a typical mother is in her readiness to make up for her husband's failures. Zebedee went fishing with his sons but he left his wife to take them to Christ. It is a great thing for a husband to have a wife like that, one whom he can trust so completely and with such responsibility. Zebedee could sit comfortably at home reading the Sunday newspaper and feel sure that Salome would get the boys off to Sunday school. In the afternoon he could go to the office or to the lake or to take his nap and feel sure that Salome would keep the boys out of mischief. And all the week while people flocked to hear Jesus he could go about his business, for he was a good provider, and feel sure that Salome would not let the boys miss any blessing that Jesus had to bestow. I repeat, it is a great thing for a man to have a wife like Salome. And there are many Zebedees who have them. How they get them is a mystery which will only be revealed in the last great day. But they get them. And they do the best day's work of all their lives when they get them. — And it is a great thing for their children to have a mother like the mother of Zebedee's children. Of course it is fine when father does not fail. It is ideal when father stands with mother, in the Christian training of her children. But if one parent must fail, then by all means let it be father, than mother. For the father's influence to be negative or bad is incalculable to the children of the home. But for the mother's to be so is fatal. How glorious when the father leads an earnest christian life and leads his children to the Savior. But how absolutely indispensable it is that the mother should train them for God. Having said this, let me ask what have you fathers to leave a good woman to bear the added burden of your failure in religious duties? What right have you to lag one step behind her in Christian loyalty and service? What right have you selfishly to stay at home or go to your business or pleasure while she bears the responsibility of the religious training of your children.

In the third place Salome is a typical Christian mother in her loyalty to Jesus. She was of those women who followed him in Galilee and ministered to him of their substance. She was pleasant at Crucifixion. His own apostles had forsaken Him and fled, but Salome did not forsake him. They lost faith in Him but she did not. Whatever clouds of wonder and mystery enveloped her, she remained faithful. And even when He had been laid away in the tomb her ministering love followed Him still. Again she was one of those who brought sweet spices and came at the rising of the sun to anoint Him. Her love could not be conquered by death. Her faith rose triumphant over what seemed to be His final defeat. Such is the true Christian mother. She goes with Jesus to Calvary. She believes unflinchingly, even tho' He be crucified. She ministers to Him while He lives and brings sweet spices to His tomb in death. Then the shadows are cleared away in the rising of the sun and she rejoices as those who have come out of great tribulation. The dying of Christ on the cross in vicarious sacrifice for the world instead of being a hindrance to her faith, becomes a revelation to it. She has suffered vicariously in bringing her own children into the world. Her life is one of vicarious sacrifice, all her motherhood days and years. Her faith is confirmed when she learns that the son of God has suffered vicariously for the sins of man. We need the saving influence of these loyal-Christian mothers to keep us at the foot of the cross, true to the Christ who suffered there. Oh how we need them in these days when strangers come among us with new gospels to preach. The stranger comes in the name of spiritualism, of Theosophy, of Mormonism, of Christian Science, or some other new religion. The stranger tells us that the Apostles and Martyrs and missionaries have all been mistaken, that they did not understand the teaching of Jesus. He tells us that our masters and elders are not our friends. He tells us that our own mothers have led us astray. (And you say to him "Stranger, speak the truth." I have thought that the Apostles, Martyrs and missionaries and great men of the church could be relied upon to lead me in right paths. I have thought that my own mother could be trusted and that what she taught me was true. But you teach me otherwise and I will forsake all of them and follow you. There are thousands and thousands of people in these United States who have said practically just this to the new religious schemes that are proposed to them and I know of no sadder commentary on human intelligence than the fact that people are thus ready to forsake the truth as it is in Jesus Christ.

It is mother who in childhood days, puts us to bed and tucks the warm cover about us as we lie down to sleep. It is mother's hand that soothes our aching brow in sickness. It is mother's eye that watches over us by day and by night. It is mother's smile that cheers us and makes our burden light. It is mother's counsel that guides us as we go on life's untried paths. It is mother's heart of sympathy and love to which we may ever turn in our failure and despair. It is mother's joy that is deepest when success attends our way. It is mother's prayers that never fail us, though in all the world besides there be none who cares for our souls. How have mothers suffered in the wars that men have waged. And how have mother's instructions and prayers come home to their sons on the field of battle. A young man of my congregation who was a captain in the expeditionary force said that as he was called to the front in France he knew that his mother was praying for him. He knew that her prayers were heard of God. This assurance made him feel that all was well whatever happened.

The bravest battles ever fought. Shall I tell you where or when On the maps of the world you find them not, They were fought by the mothers of men.

Gypsy Smith tells of a soldier in France who handed him a letter to read which he had written to his mother. The letter was as follows: "Dear Mother: It is seven years since I wrote you last. I have done my best to break your heart and to turn your hair gray. I have lived a bad life but it has come to an end. I have given my heart to God. I won't ask you to believe me or to forgive me. I deserve neither. But I ask for a bit of time, that I may prove my sincerity, "Your boy still, "JACK"

That day when the mother received this letter from the boy who had done his best to break her heart was the happiest day she ever knew on earth. Have you been loyal to the teachings of your mother, are you not ready today to help God answer her prayers to you?
If I were hanged on the highest hilt,
Mother of mine, oh Mother of mine,
I know whose love would follow me still,
Mother of mine, oh Mother of mine.
If I were drowned in the deepest sea,
Mother of mine, oh Mother of mine,
I know whose tears would come to me,
Mother of mine, oh Mother of mine.
If I were damned of body and soul,
Mother of mine, oh Mother of mine,
I know whose prayers would make me whole,
Mother of mine, oh Mother of mine.

WITH THE LEGISLATURE

It is an experience to visit with the legislature. While it is "home" to us the situation presents enough new visions to make it interesting every two years.

Forest Lake, Seminole county's representative is popular at the state capital and is doing good work. He is found at his desk all times and voting for the progressive measures.

And the same is true of our senator—Hon. M. O. Overstreet—who is one of the big men in the senate.

Taking it all around our legislature this session is all right. There may be a few "hold-backs" or mossbacks in both houses and there will always be but from the standpoint of a spectator of many years we believe the Florida legislature is getting better.

Governor Harde is showing the signs of responsibility and he looks thinner than when he was down here attending barbecues and having a big time campaigning. We believe that our governor is honestly trying to do what he thinks is best but being from north Florida he is obliged to proceed slowly and in proceeding slowly he is apt to bring down censure on his head. Our governor is also improving in his public speaking.

The newspaper men want two important bills passed. They want to make it legal and incumbent upon the county officials and city officials to make public their reports on financial conditions of the office and they want the legal status of newspapers defined. In both bills the public is protected and money will be saved. But it was ever difficult to make the public believe that newspapers were impartial and fair.

The editor of the Herald will never fight for the removal of the capital from Tallahassee. We believe now as we have believed before that the capital of the state is in the right place. There is nothing at Tallahassee except the capital and the Woman's College and Tallahassee is the right place for both institutions. In fact if you take either one away you would leave nothing. Let the capital remain in the place where it was born—a place rich with traditions of the old south and a place that is entwined around the foundations of the capital as no other place could ever hope to be. Tallahassee should always be our capital and all of Florida should always be our state.

And while it may be the place for the capital and the Woman's College it is not the place to hold a meeting of the Florida Press Association. The members of the "press gang" want action and it is impossible to get action at Tallahassee. And the idea of the "fourth estate" going up to Tallahassee and telling the legislature anything is rather ridiculous on the face of it. But we want to thank the president and the faculty and all the officers and all the girls of the Woman's College for a fine banquet and a fine time at the school Friday night. We are justly proud of our fine girl's school. And Dr. Conradi is the man for the head of this wonderful institution. Our Sanford girls are all popular and are making good marks in their studies and in athletics and are a source of satisfaction to all the Sanford visitors. We are proud of our Sanford girls at the Woman's College.

BUILD ONE ROAD "SOMEWHERE"

After touring from Sanford to Tallahassee in a car and striking good and bad roads one is led to the conclusion that the State Road Department will never make any progress as long as they try to please the people of all the counties of the state by giving each one of them a little bit of road. The big thing for the State Road Department and the legislature to do is to get enough money ahead to make a good road from Jacksonville to Pensacola, or from Pensacola to Gainesville or from Jacksonville to Key West or from Jacksonville to Tampa or from "Somewhere" to "Somewhere" but make it stretch the entire distance. It has been the policy of the State Road Department to start a little piece of good road and then drop it and go to another part of the state and start another just to quiet the squeaks and keep down dimensions with the result that you can ride over a few miles of good road and then drop into a slough of despond that makes you cuss the department, the legislature and the state of Florida generally every time you ride anywhere.

We people down here want action and we are not so concerned where this action may take place. We want to see a real system of highways throughout the state—and the only way to see a real system is to make it a state highway from one part of the state to the other and make it a continuous thoroughfare before the work is stopped. Some of the roads in parts of the state are simply awful and they will eventually stop traffic unless some action is taken at once looking toward permanent highways that will start somewhere and will take you somewhere and not drop you off in the piney woods with no hope of getting anywhere.

The Lake County edition of the Tampa Tribune published April 26, is not only interesting, but enlightening. It contains information which is a surprise to persons who have lived in the county for years, but who have not realized the extent nor the variety of the county's resources. Lake county is so large that unless one has more time to spend in visiting than has the average year-round resident, it is impossible to see what is being done in other parts of the county at a distance from one's own section. The Lake County edition tells of the developments and possibilities, giving factual facts without exaggeration. It contains many interesting historical sketches by citizens of various parts of the county, as well as descriptive articles by the Tribune's development editor, John L. McWhorter and, of course, numerous illustrations of buildings and developments. The Mount Dora Chamber of Commerce has secured a supply of the Lake County edition, and copies are to be had at Topic office and at Williams Pharmacy. If you have not seen a copy, it will be worth your while to get one and read it. Then send it to some person who may be interested to let others know what this favored section has to offer.—Mount Dora Topic.

MINIMUM WAGE HELD ESSENTIAL

Labor leaders, social workers, courts and numerous types of experts have had a great deal to say on the pros and cons of the minimum wage law. It is interesting to add to the symposium the opinion of a great business man, and it is especially interesting to find such a man declaring himself wholeheartedly in favor of the minimum wage as one of the best safeguards of society, government and business. Edward A. Filene is the head of one of the largest retail institutions in the world and he has been a director of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and can hardly be accused of a bias in favor of radicalism. He talks as a successful business man whose opinions have come out of his experience. He lays it down as an axiom that American business must be handled so that workers may have a high standard of living, and he says this is impossible without a minimum wage law. He contends also that the minimum wage law is as big a boon to the wise employer as it is to the employee. Mr. Filene advances the following arguments in behalf of a minimum wage law:

Wages that do not give the worker a chance to live properly are not real wages—they are "counterfeit wages." A fair-size minimum wage would force small stores to enhance their efficiency—would compel them to get full value from their employees.

There can be no adequate market, no worth-while consuming public, if fair wages are not paid. This is particularly true since the falling off of foreign demand for American goods.

A minimum wage, enforced by law, is an effective and necessary curb upon the greedy employer.

The industry or the business which cannot afford to pay decent wages has no place in the economic picture. It places the burden of support of these underpaid industries upon others.

Worried workers are not efficient workers. Adequate wages encourage an interest in civic affairs.

When a merchant must pay a higher wage he is more likely to weed out incompetents.

Merchants, in considering wages, must realize that the big drain is oftentimes not in costs of operation, but in waste.

When a man of the business eminence of Mr. Filene openly advocates the minimum wage law as one of the foundation stones of social and business progress, it certainly cannot longer be called a fantastic scheme concocted by dreamers. And apart from the intrinsic worth of his argument is the very important fact that it is another proof that in the world of business there is a constantly growing vision that promises to lead away from industrial war as a necessary evil and toward the ideal of sane and efficient co-operation.—Jacksonville Journal.

FROM OTHER SANCTUMS

THE RAILROADS VERSUS THE WATERWAYS.

The attention of the shippers is turning more and more of late to the value and advantage of water transportation. It is evident that the railroads, even with the immense additions of their equipment which they are constantly making at prodigious expense, cannot take care of the production of the country at its peak. The great lakes on our northern border carry an immense tonnage from our middle states to the seaboard, but during a large part of the year the lakes are closed by ice, and besides there is a great extent of productive country which is not readily accessible to the lakes. The Mississippi river in early days was a great highway of commerce, but it was practically put out of business by the railroads, and for years the great river flowed to the sea unexposed by the ships of commerce. There are signs that it is coming to its own again. It has been found that many bulky and heavy articles, for the transportation of which speed is not essential, can be sent down the river to the farms and factories of the south at much less expense, and, many times, almost as quickly as they can be shipped by rail.

The fruit growers of California have tried shipping their produce via the Panama canal, and the experiment has proved satisfactory and it will doubtless be largely done in the near future. It should be feasible to ship much of Florida's products by water, and make us independent of the railroads, which have sometimes taken more toll than we thought either just or right.

A. I. Crocker, president of the Minnesota Reclamation league, has written a very interesting letter to the Manufacturers' Record, of Baltimore, from which we extract a part dealing with the transportation question, especially as regards waterways. He says:

"Least I be accused of hostility to the railroads, which I have disclaimed above, but for the purpose of letting some light on the minds of opponents of waterway development, I beg to offer some figures.

The average freight rate on all the railroads of the country was for many years 7.5 mills per ton mile, and for a special group of coal roads 5 mills. During the past few years these prices have practically doubled, and they are still high and not likely to drop in the near future.

The bulk commodities on the railroads in competition with the Mississippi waterways pay about 10 mills a ton mile. On our great lakes the rate steadily decreased to six-tenths of one mill a ton-mile, then went up during the war, but for 20 years the average has been eighty-two hundredths of a mill a ton mile.

For one dollar a horse and wagon will haul four tons a mile, a motor truck 20 miles, a railroad 100 miles, the New York barge canal 300 miles, the great lakes freighter 1,000 miles, and the Ohio and Mississippi barges 3,000 miles down stream.

All transportation costs are a tax on every man, woman and child in our land, and increase the cost of living. In 1916 a committee of experts reported that if business continued to grow as it had been growing for another 10 years it would require 15,000,000 dollars to keep up with the growth, and the present increased cost of labor and materials, the cost would be more.

The waterways can be largely used at once, and the development can go on rapidly, if a public sentiment demands it. In 1917 George H. Davis of Messrs. Ford, Bacon & Davis, visited the Twin Cities of Minneapolis center and section. He said: "I am astonished at the magnitude of the traffic facts and conditions here. Use your river as it is today. It is capable of doing an immense transportation business as it is now and you will easily get all the government development needed as soon as you can show a gain ghousness."

The railroads have received from the government 158,293,706 acres of land, one acre in every 12 in our country, and in addition they have received vast sums in local bonds from the communities they pass through. Between March, 1918, and May, 1920, definite appropriations were made to the railroads to the amount of $2,050,000,000, and for indefinite appropriations, some of which will be repaid, $625,000,000 federal aid to the railroads in 1918 and 1919 amounted to $2,000,000,000.

The aid to the waterways in the same time amounted to $85,000,000. For their own financial benefit nothing can so help the citizens of this country, at large and as a whole, as the wise development of our neglected waterways.—Tampa Tribune.

...MAGIC NAMES...

The influence of advertising is apparent in every turn of my daily life. I find I cannot disregard it. It is always with me, guiding me in my pleasures and in my duties, telling me what I should eat, wear, and use and what I should buy for my family.

I find that there is on the tip of my tongue a multitude of names the mention of which will bring from some shelf nearly everything that I can use in my daily life and in the daily life of my family.

In every instance that name means a very definite promise and assurance of something substantial and which will make me feel completely satisfied about having exchanged my money for it.

Let me say a few things which these old names—these old friends of the newspaper and magazine pages—mean to me.

They mean good taste. For certainly I desire to do the thing that I believe discriminating people have judged best.

They mean convenience. It is not necessary to describe the thing I want. Even the most intimate articles may be purchased without embarrassment since the advertisers have given us handy names.

They mean assurance in shopping. There is no indecision. Even before I enter the shop I know what I want to buy.

And certainly they mean satisfaction. For the advertiser whose product is not good cannot continue to advertise. The fact that I have seen a name repeated over and over again assures me that it stands for a product of quality. In speaking that name to the clerk I know I am asking for the best.

I am a more judicious shopper because I buy advertised goods. I patronize the shop that sells them.

Body of Murdered Policeman is Found in Shallow Grave

CLEVELAND, May 15.—A makeshift grave, a shallow, two foot hollow at the roots of a fallen tree, between the ashes of three bonfires in which the charred remnants of Patrolman Dennis Griffin's clothing were found near Chagrin Falls yesterday, gave up the body of the murdered policeman, who had been missing since Friday morning.

"Get him—dead or alive" was the grim order that went forth through the police department for the capture of John Leonard Whitfield, Griffin's abductor, and alleged slayer, almost immediately after the body was found.

A warrant was issued this yesterday afternoon formally charging Whitfield with murder, and the state attorney's office was last night preparing evidence for presentation to the grand jury.

Three ghastly bullet wounds in the remnant showed how the officer had met his death.

It is thought the murderer believed the body would more quickly decompose if not covered by the clothing, and this is given as the surmised reason they were removed.

The "woman in the case," whose name is Marie Price, known to many as Whitfield's wife, who accompanied him from Korman's home, and the roadster are the only tangible clues police have to work on.

Griffin arrested Whitfield as the alleged leader of a band of automobile accessory thieves, at Whitfield's home Friday, in the forenoon. Whitfield went into the house to change his clothes, and while there, according to his wife slipped a revolver into his pocket. Griffin searched him before permitting him to go into the house, but not after. The last seen of Griffin alive, was when he and Whitfield left the latter's home in Whitfield's automobile for the police station.

THEY ALL LIKE SOUTHERN.

Visitors who drop in to look at Southern College are surprised at what they see. It is difficult for them to realize that a year ago the hillside overlooking Lake Hollingsworth was a solid orange grove, with not a building in sight.

Today there are the two brick buildings so handsomely furnished, which have provided a place for carrying on the work of the school for the most successful term in its history.

Not many days ago Mrs. Grace Ford, and her son Harry Ford, of North Branch, Michigan, came to visit the college, in company with Mr. and Mrs. John Uglow, of Starke. They were delighted with what they saw, and Mrs. Ford said, "I left a check with President Alderman, as my contribution to the college."

Last week a party of citizens from DeLand, headed by Rev. O. E. Rice, our pastor there, motored down to Lakeland to spend the day and inspect the college. They were charmed and went away singing the praises of the school.

This work of Bro. Rice is to be commended. If our pastors would do as he has done, especially at points where few of their people have seen the college, it would bear good fruit.

Organize a motorcade and bring your people to see for themselves what is being done at Southern. When our people can be made to realize the great work being done at our college, it will be easy for the educational collectors to secure the checks for the pledges to build the school.

What other pastor will follow the lead of Brother Rice?—Florida Christian Advocate.

JUDGE WILLIS WILL KNOW HIS FATE AT SENATE HANDS TODAY

TALLAHASSEE, May 15.—Judge Benjamin Franklin Willis will know today whether he will be retained as presiding officer of Leon county court or be dismissed upon recommendation of Governor Hardee, it became known here today. A senate committee investigating the malfeasance charge against Judge Willis submitted its reports to the senate late today and action is expected to be taken early tomorrow.

Judge Willis figured prominently in the legislative investigation into the death of Martin Tabert. Many witnesses testified he conducted his duties as county judge while intoxicated while others charged he entered into a collusion with J. R. Jones former sheriff, in sentencing prisoners so that they could be leased out to the Putnam Lumber Company.

Because of the multiplicity of places in Florida named Starr Lake, two of them in Polk county, the citizens of "Starr Lake" near Lake Wales have decided to change the name to "Lake of the Hills." Definite action was taken toward this end at a mass meeting held Monday night.

TWO RURAL SCHOOL INSPECTORS SAFE

TALLAHASSEE, May 15.—Florida's two rural school inspectors rested easy last night for the legislature had again failed to relegate their offices to the status of useless things.

The senate, if it had its way, would abolish the two offices, for it voted to that end several weeks ago, on a bill by Senator Russell. The house killed it yesterday, however, by a vote of 24 to 41 and this in spite of the onslaught delivered by Representative Hinekner of Marion. Representative McKenzie, of Lake led in the support of the office. The 1921 session made it uncomfortable for the inspectors but failed in the effort to eliminate them.

NOTED ASTRONOMERS LABOR 36 YEARS ON FIRST HEAVENLY MAP

PARIS, May 15.—What is regarded here as one of the most interesting and valuable results of modern studies in astronomy is nearing completion in the Paris Observatory after 36 years of pains-taking labor. It is a new map of the heavens and catalogue of the stars. The compilation shows that there are approximately 300,000,000 heavenly bodies visible through the powerful telescopes.

Photographing the heavens was a plan first developed by the Paris Observatory, and its then director, Adolphe Mouchez, was called here in 1887 to an international congress of astronomers which decided to map the heavens. There were 18 nations, including Mexico, Chile, and the republic of Argentine and Brazil, which agreed to contribute to this work. The heavens were subdivided, with four French observatories taking the central zones of the heavens.

Ten thousand leaves of the photographic map contains stars to the fourteenth magnitude, whereof there are above twenty millions. Stars to the sixth magnitude may be seen with the naked eye, and above that, telescopes and other aids are needed.

In reality, it is explained, the number of stars appear to be infinite. As huge lenses are constructed, each increase in the size of the lens reveals a larger number of stars.

A few years ago the number of stars was set at approximately one hundred millions. Now that number has been trebled, and as the explorers of new worlds in the universe progress in their studies, they find space filled with stars, the light of which reaches the eye of the explorer after years of travel, so distant are these bodies. Mapping the heavens was a task not undertaken by astronomers previous to 1887, and before the work could be started, it was necessary to agree on plans concerning the size of the photographs and means of measurements. The majority of the astronomers of the world used their ingenuity and learning in the task. By means of this new map, fresh measurements of the location, size, and nature of the stars may be made by astronomers, and philosophic speculation stimulated as to the inhabitants, if any, of the stars, and the general system and scheme of the universe.

Lakeland, Daytona and Orlando Win

BRADENTOWN, May 15.—The locals were able to gather only four hits off Luther yesterday and could not score. Lakeland hit freely at times and won, 4 to 0. Score by innings: Lakeland 000 103 000—4 Bradentown 000 000 000—0

DAYTONA, May 15.—Hitting Reil to all parts of the diamond, Daytona won the first of the series yesterday from Tampa, 13 to 9. Keenan, for Tampa and Messner for Daytona, each got two home runs during the game. The score by innings: Tampa 041 010 003—9 Daytona 402 303 10x—13

Orlando won an eight inning affair from St. Petersburg yesterday. The game was called on account of darkness. Score by innings: St. Pete 100 100 00—2 Orlando 300 000 0x—3

Another big picture tonight.
Bebe Daniels and Conrad Nagel in "Singed Wings."

Love to her meant revenge swift and sure, probably death. Why? How?

The answers are in the flaming climax of this fascinating romance. The drama of a beautiful Spanish dancer, beset with temptations, fighting false love and true alike. Lavish settings and gowns.

And as an added attraction will be International News which is educational and should be seen by all.

And the honor guests tonight will be Charlie Anderson and his lady friends and they will see "Singed Wings" without cost to them as the treat is on Osborne, so be there Charlie and bring your girl.

Tomorrow—Eva Novak and Wallace Beery in "The Man from Hell's River" with added attractions.

Daytona Still Wants to Play on Sunday

DAYTONA, May 15.—Following the forbidding of a baseball game here Sunday between Tampa and Daytona by City Manager W. R. Hodges under an old city ordinance making it unlawful, the Daytona city commission repealed the ordinance last night after a bitter fight by a vote of four to three.

President R. D. Craig, of the Daytona Baseball Association, who is also a city commissioner, declared that a determined effort would be made to have the present legislature repeal the state law against Sunday baseball. Like the blue laws forbidding the sale of soft drinks, cigars and gasoline on Sunday, he declared the base ball law should be repealed because where public sentiment is so strongly against a law that it can be openly violated without protest, the retention on the statute books creates a disrespect for all laws.

Mutt Mays will do some more stellar pitching with McLuens holding the big mitt behind the plate.

In yesterday's Florida Times-Union was a picture of the beautiful silver cup, the Rose High School Baseball Trophy, which is to be given to the winner of the State High School baseball tournament.

Orlando High School's nine will represent this district at the tournament which is to be held in Winter Park May 17th, 18th and 19th.

Orlando High has won five games out of seven played which is pretty good considering her tough opponents.

Orlando is leading in the Florida State League nearly as much as "Cy" Williams is leading the circuit clouters in the major league. If they could only keep it up!

We all have heard puzzling questions but the one that tops our list is: When is Sanford going to have a baseball park of her own, with a fence around it, grandstands, ticket boxes, everything?

YANKEES WIN 16 TO 11 IN 12 INNING GAME

DETROIT, Mich., May 15.—After having a seven-run lead erased, forcing the game into extra innings, New York fell on Sylvester Johnson's offerings in the twelfth, scored eight runs and defeated Detroit, 16 to 11 yesterday. The score: New York 010 020 110 008—16 21 0 Detroit 000 000 305 003—11 16 4

State High School Baseball Tournament Opens on Thursday

WINTER PARK, May 15.—At the executive session of the committee in charge of the Florida State Interscholastic Baseball Championship Tournament held at Rollins College late yesterday afternoon it was decided that Orlando, DeLand, Gainesville, Williston, Fort Pierce, Bartow, Duval and Lake City will be the high school teams playing at the annual tournament to be held at Rollins Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. Inasmuch as the Orlando Bulldogs will be on the road during these three days, Orlando and Orange county base ball enthusiasts should be able to glean a bit of fun from watching the antics of the high school youths, for the pick and pile of base ball material in this state from a high school standpoint, are entered in the meet.

The schedule for the tournament was also arranged at the Monday session. At 2 p. m. Thursday DeLand and Bartow will go round and round for nine innings or maybe more, and then at 4 p. m. the City Beautiful girls will tackle the Fort Pierce team for a round. At 9 a. m. Friday Williston and Duval will play, and at 11, Gainesville and Lake City will stagger knock down and drag out affair. Friday afternoon the winner of the DeLand-Bartow game will play the winner of the Orlando-Fort Pierce contest, and the winner of the Gainesville-Lake City fight will battle with the winner of the Williston-Duval game. The finals of the series will be played at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, the winners of the Friday afternoon contests fighting it out for state honors.

The three days of high school ball is anticipated as a good session of amateur ball, for the high school teams of the state selected to play in the coming tourney have an excellent record behind them this season. Summerlin Institute, 1922 champions, are looking to repeat this year, but the other teams of the state which are to enter the contest have blood in their eyes for at least a look-in on the championship matter.

WILLARD-FIRPO WILL MEET IN N. YORK JUNE 30

NEW YORK, May 15.—Negotiations for a match between Jess Willard and Luis Firpo on June 30 to take place probably at the Yankee Stadium, as a final step in the elimination process to select a challenger for Jack Dempsey's throne, reached a stage of semi-completion yesterday. Willard and his manager, Ray Archer, accepted the suggested date for the match at a conference with promoter Tex Rickard, while Jimmy BeForest, the South American's ring mentor, also put his stamp of approval on the preliminary plans. Discussion of financial terms was deferred until today at another conference between the principals and Rickard. Both Willard and Firpo, however, as a result of their victories Saturday, are eager to settle the question of supremacy and the right to a title bout with Dempsey, so that little difficulty was expected in reaching a final agreement for the match.

"It Pays to Swim With the Current"

This is about two spark plugs. At the moment they are lying on the sales manager's desk in the establishment of a large middle-western hardware jobber.

One spark plug bears a name known wherever automobiles are used, the other a name seldom heard.

Both, says the sales manager, are good plugs. On the score of quality they run neck and neck.

"But," he adds, "we are discontinuing this line"—and he holds up the plug of unfamiliar name. "Yes, and our discount on it is larger, too."

"What's wrong with it? Not a thing. It's a good plug—mighty good plug, but—no one knows about it. It isn't advertised—the other one is. The demand is for the advertised make. And we've learned it pays to swim with the current, not against it."

More and more jobbers in every line of business are learning every day that it pays to swim with the current of popular demand.

"Our job," said one jobber, "is to supply markets, not create them. Let the manufacturer make a market for his goods, and we will handle it."

Said another—"Our salesmen carry a catalog with thousands of items in it. They haven't the time to push unadvertised goods. Their work is principally taking orders."

If you go among these wholesalers today to introduce a new product in competition with merchandise nationally advertised, unless the article is exceptional, you will be met everywhere by the injunction: "First go out and get a reputation for your goods through advertising."

The wholesaler knows by actual contact with dealers how they value speed of turnover, goods which move with a minimum of effort, goods people know about and ask for.

Preventable Fire Waste in America Now Half Billion Dollars Annually

Education On Fire Prevention Urgently Needed to Cut Down Appalling Waste, says Protective Association.

STATISTICS for 1921 show a national fire loss of $195,400,012. Incomplete statistics for last year indicate that this sum is mounting. In 1918 American fire losses amounted to $333,378,876. Fire insurance experts say that the greater part of this staggering loss is due to lack of fire prevention knowledge, carelessness, criminality and faulty construction of buildings. They say there is urgent need of educating the public to be less careless; urgent need for the passage of laws and ordinances compelling the construction of buildings that cannot burn, and urgent need for swift and certain punishment for arson.

The National Fire Protective Association recently drafted a building code which requires steel, stone or concrete construction and fire resistant roof coverings. Inflammable roofs loose in the fire loss column for such a roof offers no resistance to the flames, but does offer the possibility, when the sparks fly, of changing a small fire into a wide conflagration.

A recent compilation of statistics by a Kansas City newspaper based on this connection: "If all the homes of Kansas City were roofed with asphalt shingles it would save the fire department over 750 runs a year."

CITRUS FRUITS BY-PRODUCTS

Experts Have Shown How Profits to Growers From Materials Once Waste Can Be Made.

To offset the serious losses in the citrus fruit industry occurring through bruised, undersized or oversized oranges, grapefruit and lemons usually allowed to go to waste, the bureau of chemistry of the United States Department of Agriculture has investigated methods for getting by-products that will return a profit to the grower. Some of these products require a preliminary expense for equipment, but it has been demonstrated that the investment can soon be made profitable.

Grapefruit juice, which is increasing in popularity, can be easily made if directions for pressing, straining, pasteurizing, clarifying, sweetening and bottling the juice are carefully followed. These directions may be obtained from the department.

A blend of grapefruit juice with loganberry vinegar has been found popular. Orange vinegar is a satisfactory substitute for apple vinegar and should be made in districts where many small oranges would otherwise be a total loss. Citric acid is a valuable commercial article which can be made from citrus lemons or limes if proper apparatus is installed.

FRENCHMAN HAD RIGHT IDEA

Principles of Flying Set Out by Louis Pierre Mouillard Have Been Proved Correct.

Who was the first glider? In supplying an answer there is room for the patriotism of many nations to delve in medieval annals. Italy and France have a good case. Jean Baptiste Laine is said to have made a successful glide at Perugia in the fifteenth century, while the marquis of Bacqueville, in the middle of the eighteenth century, skimmed across the Seine at Paris.

Details of a convincing kind are, however, lacking. But there is no doubt of the theoretical claims of the Frenchman Louis Pierre Mouillard, who died a quarter of a century ago in poverty at Cairo. In two volumes he set out the principles that should guide man in seeking conquest of the air. To seek to fly by imitating the beating of a bird's wing was not feasible. "Men should imitate such birds as fly with steady wings and avail themselves of the currents of the air."

Ten years after Mouillard was dead (with his dreams of an actual machine unfulfilled) the Wright brothers began the development of his ideas.
