Carlos Alvarez, attorney for Florida Power & Light Co., talks Geneva residents they must agree on an alternate route or FP&L will push for its originally proposed route for twin 500,000-volt transmission lines.

Power Line Geneva Has A Few Weeks To Pick FP&L Route

By MICHAEL BEHA
Herald Staff Writer

Geneva residents have until Nov. 16 to choose between two proposed routes for location of an electric transmission line, about 150 residents learned Thursday.

If they are unable to reach agreement on the route before the Nov. 16 meeting of the state Cabinet, Florida Power & Light Co. will push for approval of its proposed corridor east of Geneva, FP&L attorney Carlos Alvarez said.

Alvarez represented FP&L in the meeting at the Seminole County Agricultural Center near Sanford with Geneva area residents and county officials to discuss the FP&L proposal and an alternative proposal drawn up by a group opposed to the power company's plan. The FP&L plan, rejected by the Cabinet in October, takes the one-mile corridor for the transmission line east of Geneva. The alternative, drawn by Sid Kraftsow, Let Voorhees and members of People Against Power Intrusion, takes a dogleg west of Geneva and skirts Lake Jessup and several developments.

'There's going to be a decision on Nov. 16 that will affect you all. Some positively, some negatively.'

— FP&L Attorney

The Cabinet placed the responsibility for devising a western route in the hands of PAPI. At its October meeting approval was granted for 140 miles of the twin 500,000-volt lines between Duval County and the Seminole-Volusia county line. The remaining 35 miles of the line in Seminole and Orange counties will be approved later.

January was originally set as the date for approval of the line but because a state hearing examiner has refused to review the case again, Alvarez said the Cabinet itself will consider the case in November.

When completed, the line will provide excess electric capacity from power plants in Georgia to FP&L.

The alternative plan, described to the group by Voorhees, was drawn up with the "intention of coming up with a 330-foot right-of-way that affects the least people."

But the group was unable to compare the alternative plan with the FP&L plan because the alternative had been drawn only as a line, a 330-foot right-of-way, rather than the mile-wide corridor FP&L drew.

Voorhees said the alternative proposal would go between two houses north of State Road 46 before veering south across the highway. The plan avoids Seminole Woods and Cochran Forest, along with Mullet Lake Park, the most heavily populated areas west of Geneva. But Geneva Woods would be affected by the line.

But when the right-of-way was widened to one mile by County Planning Director Woody Price, several people identified houses which would be in the corridor.

Kraftsow asked Alvarez to promise that FP&L would consider reducing the width of the corridor in some sections of the western route.

Alvarez said the company could consider it but would make no promises on the issue.

Kraftsow told the people in attendance, "This is the realistic route. I know we're asking a lot from you," he said. "But we've tried to avoid people."

Kraftsow tried to convince people that

Council To Pick 2 Members

The Lake Mary City Council was scheduled to meet in special session at 5:30 p.m. today to appoint persons to fill the posts left vacant with the resignations of Councilmen Vic Olvera and Gene McDonald.

The two men formally resigned their offices effective midnight Thursday, McDonald to accept a job in Huntsville, Ala., and Olvera to run for election to the mayor's office.

Those appointed to the council will serve until Jan. 3, 1983.

The council Thursday night accepted the resignations and declared the seats open in the Dec. 7 city election. And final approval was given by the board to ordinances adopting city charter revisions subject to ratification of the people in the city election.

Formal approval of all the matters for the Dec. 7 ballot for the election include: mayor's post, the council seats held by Dick Fess and Ken King for two-year terms and the council seats formerly held by Olvera and McDonald for unexpired terms of one year each and three charter revision questions.

The 13th candidate to pick up qualifying papers for an elective office, Charles Lytle of Lake Bingham, a former planning and zoning commission board member, is the third person to have his name placed on the ballot this morning. Lytle is running for Olvera's council seat.

Earlier, four-term Mayor Walter Sorenson qualified for a fifth consecutive two-year term and King qualified to seek election to a second term on the council.

The candidate qualifying period ends at noon Oct. 29.

At today's special meeting, the remaining three council members — Ray Fox, Fess and King — are to submit lists of their candidates for the appointment to the two vacant council seats. The appointees will serve for 10 weeks until those elected in December begin new terms Jan. 3.

Others who have picked up qualifying papers include: former councilmen Rurt Perinchieff and Harry Terry; Bill Durrenberger, Josef, Jim and Susan Stern, Fess, E. Russell Megonegal and Bob Ball Jr.

The charter revisions include: expanding Council terms from two to four years; changing election times from December to September; electing four councilmen from single member districts by the voters residing in those districts only with the fifth member running at large; eliminating run-off elections by permitting candidates to win by plurality rather than majority; allowing dismissal of a charter officer by a majority vote and requiring four votes to override a mayoral veto rather than three council votes.

The council Thursday night adopted a resolution commending McDonald for his three years council service to the city and agreed to adopt a similar ordinance at the Nov. 4 meeting commending Olvera for his three years service.

The council also approved ordinances changing the zoning from office commercial to residential at 141 E. Wilbur as requested by Steve Grier and changing the zoning from residential to office-commercial at the northwest corner of Country Club Road and Lake Mary Avenue as requested by Douglas McBrayer.

An ordinance also was approved amending the zoning regulations to permit child day care nurseries and churches as a conditional use in commercially zoned districts.

Seminole United Way Now Halfway To Goal

By JANE CASSELBERRY
Herald Staff Writer

United Way of Seminole County, heading into the last week of its annual fund raising campaign, has reached 51 percent of its $330,000 goal.

New reports at the report luncheon Thursday at the Holiday Inn in Sanford, brought the total of pledges and gifts so far to approximately $172,300, United Way President Dick Fess said.

Biggest boosts to the campaign came from the major retail and industry reports. The major industry division reported an additional $65,272 for a total of $101,000. Some of the companies in that division included NCR, with $31,483 in employee gifts so far; Southern Bell, Sanford, with a total of $16,316, or 163 percent of its goal; Stromberg-Carlson with $25,000, or 50 percent of its goal; Brown Boveri Electric Co., $4,469; and United Telephone employees, $8,100.

Joe Montini, representing the Altamonte Mall Sears, reported the drive at his store has been completed with a total of $20,081 in gifts and pledges. Sears' goal last year was $9,900.

Sharyn Dickerson, chairman of the major retail division, reported Robinson's in the Altamonte Mall had given a corporate gift of $875 and employees $385. They hope to reach $3,500 by the time the drive ends later this month.

Terry Duffy, chairman of the special events, reported that Altamonte Mall merchants had donated $1,400 in gifts for the United Way auction to be held at the mall at 2 p.m. Oct. 31.

David Chacey, chairman of the municipal employees division, reported that the employees in the various cities have contributed a total of $4,679, or 80 percent of the division's goal.

Bob Daehn reported a total of $8,305 in the special gifts division. Ivan Bowers, heading up the education division, reported a total of $9,107, with only four of the 42 schools reporting. The professional division stands at a total of $9,728; the financial division at $4,061.

Campaign Chairman Larry Strickler said that students in a Seminole High School Junior Achievement business have "voted to donate their entire wages for this semester to United Way."

The next report luncheon will be at the Quality Inn North in Longwood at noon on Monday.

Cranston Plugs For Chiles

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

U.S. Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Cal., set the tone for Seminole County Democrats Thursday night, telling them to get busy and elect Democrats across the board on Nov. 2 and afterwards to think about whether he should run for president in 1984.

Urging the 150 party members, elected officials, candidates and special guests to especially help Florida's U.S. Sen. Lawton Chiles win re-election, the Senate Democratic whip said the party hopes to add to its strength in the upper house and wrest control of that body from the GOP.

Striking out at the failure of Reaganomics to solve the nation's woes, Cranston said the president has fired nothing. "More businesses are going bankrupt. More homes are being foreclosed and there's more misery in the nation than at any time since the other Herbert Hoover was in office," he said.

Noting that the highest deficit budget in a nation's budget in the world at $155 billion is being seen under the Reagan administration this year "after all Reagan's campaign rhetoric," Cranston said the other great deficit was seen while Gerald Ford, another Republican, was in office.

And, Cranston said he has no confidence that interest rates will stay down after the elections. He said interest rates have to rise when the money is borrowed to run the national government. "When it is necessary to borrow the $155 billion, the money supply will dry up and cause the interest rate to go up," he said.

He held Federal Reserve Board policies responsible for driving up the interest rate. "We must find a way to make the

Judge's Request For Restitution Is Questioned

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

Final sentencing of an 18-year-old Sanford man has been postponed to allow the defendant and his lawyer to come up with a plan to repay $100,000 to possibly as many as 70 burglary victims, but lawyers say the judge may not be able to require such restitution.

In a hearing Wednesday, Circuit Judge Dominick J. Salfi told Scott Dunn of 2420 24th Place, Apartment B, that he is facing up to six years in prison following his guilty plea to charges of burglary and grand theft stemming from the January break-in at a Sanford woman's house.

However, Salfi said if Dunn and his lawyer, Ned Julian Jr. could come up with a plan to repay about $100,000 to his victim and about 70 other people whose homes he says he burglarized, (crimes with which he was never charged), a milder sentence of three years in prison and three years probation may be imposed.

Dunn is currently being held in the Seminole County Jail without bond pending final sentencing. He has currently served 267 days in the county jail, officials said. No date for sentencing has been set.

"I can't see how a judge could require him (Dunn) to repay people in a case where he was never convicted of a crime against them," said Assistant Attorney General Wallace E. Albritton. "If what you say is true, he's only been charged with the one burglary and grand theft counts in one case, so I don't see how he could be made to repay the other people."

"I'm not saying he can't do it but in my 17 years with this office, I've never heard of any judge doing such a thing," Albritton added. "Besides, with his background — no job, a high school dropout facing prison time — the people he stole from and was charged will be lucky to get their money back as it is."

"As I understand the law concerning victims of crimes, for the judge to order such restitution I don't believe it would be legal and binding in my opinion," said

Seminole-Brevard Chief Assistant State Attorney Chris Ray from his Titusville office. "If he and his lawyer agree to make restitution to repay those who were not charged, I'm still not certain that would even be binding."

Ray added there have been appellate court decisions handed down concerning restitution for victims of crimes which also provides that a defendant may be required to repay the victims "as his means allow and it doesn't appear that this man has that much money."

Prosecutor Steve Plotnick said after Judge Salfi learned of the possible other burglary victims, he directed the state attorney's office to contact about 68 to 70 possible victims and invite them to attend the sentencing hearing Wednesday, which many did.

Plotnick said about 30 of those who Dunn had named as burglary victims attended the hearing and about a half dozen accepted Salfi's invitation to comment to Dunn on the impact of those burglaries on their lives.

Some warned Dunn he could have been shot if he had been caught burglarizing their home. Others said they are fearful for their lives and have installed bars on their windows and expensive burglar alarm systems.

Many of the victims told Dunn he had stolen items which were irreplaceable because of their sentimental value.

Although there were reports given that Dunn stole the property to support a drug habit, his lawyer argued that Dunn stole as a means to win peer approval and in an effort to "buy acceptance."

Julian, quoting from a psychological analysis of Dunn, said Dunn's problems and need for peer acceptance may have been contributed to by emotions stemming from a divorce between his parents when he was four years old. Julian added

County To Decide Road Safety Steps

Seminole County commissioners will decide Tuesday on action to reduce traffic and improve safety on Lake Howell Road in Tanglewood subdivision.

The subdivision, adjacent to Wintef Park, was the scene of an accident in July in which 7-year-old Dana Dietrick of 5244 Lake Howell Road was killed when she was hit by a car driven by a Winter Park man.

Commissioners met with residents of the subdivision Thursday night to present recommendations made by County Traffic Engineer Gary Lester to reduce the danger in the neighborhood.

Lester was ordered to perform traffic counts in the area and to examine possible alternatives to improve safety following an Aug. 24 meeting with the residents.

Lester's recommendations include the installation of a crosswalk near St. Richard's Church, the construction of flashing yellow lights at each end of Lake Howell Road entering the subdivision, a reduction in the road's weight limit and regular enforcement of the speed limit.

Lester also recommended construction of a third lane on the road to facilitate easier left turns for vehicles but that recommendation was rejected by commissioners earlier.

Likewise, Lester rejected a plan to close Lake Howell Road to through traffic because of the high volume of traffic using the road.

The street handles about 9,000 vehicles per day and is a main connector between Seminole County and Winter Park, Lester said. Other streets less capable of carrying the increased traffic would receive the vehicles if the road is closed, Lester said.

Lester recommended reducing the number of trucks using the street by lowering the weight limit from 15 tons to 5 tons.

The church is the most logical spot for setting up a crosswalk, he said. Other spots were recommended but the church is the only place that has sufficient volume to merit the crossing.

Lester also recommended not installing school bus stop signs since the bus stops on both sides of the street already. — MICHAEL BEHA

Reagan, Arab Delegation Discuss Middle East Peace

United Press International
Middle East peace efforts centered on the White House today where President Reagan set a meeting with members of an Arab League delegation to urge them to sit down at the negotiating table with Israel. But Reagan's bid, outlined by State Department officials Thursday, came as Palestine Liberation Organization Chairman Yasser Arafat vowed not to "lay down the gun" until creation of an independent Palestinian state.

The Reagan plan calls for a Palestinian entity in the Israeli-occupied West Bank and Gaza Strip in association with Jordan, plus a freeze on Israeli settlement of the region.

The Arab League plan calls for a Palestinian state with Jerusalem as its capital and Israeli withdrawal from occupied territories. Israel has rejected both initiatives.

Steel Industry Fights Back

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Now that Europe has agreed to limit its steel shipments to the United States, the American steel industry and its union are turning their attention to steel imports from other parts of the world. In particular, they are looking at Japan and a number of advanced countries which in recent years have developed highly competitive steel industries.

The United States and Europe announced an agreement Thursday under which Europe will limit its steel exports to the United States to a 5.12 percent share of the U.S. steel market for the next three years, compared to their recent 6 percent share.

According to Commerce Secretary Malcolm Baldrige, had that agreement been in effect in 1981, it would have meant about a million fewer tons of European steel entering this country and, by "very rough estimate," 25,000 to 30,000 more jobs for U.S. steel workers.

Non-Smoker Wins Case

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Non-smoking government workers who are hypersensitive to smoke are eligible for disability unless they are moved to a job in a clean environment, a federal appeals court says.

The decision by the 9th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals Thursday expanded the rights of non-smoking government employees to a smoke-free area by saying "environmental limitations" must be considered at disability hearings.

Traditionally mental and physical limitations have been the only indicators used to determine whether an employee cannot continue working and must be placed on disability.

Acid Found In Mouthwash

OAK PARK, Ill. (UPI)—Lab results showed "a quantity of sulfuric acid" in Listerine mouthwash used by a woman who suffered burns inside her mouth, police say.

Oak Park Police Chief Leigh Bergstrom said Sadie Daughtrey, 38, of Oak Park, was treated for burns and released from a local hospital after she used the mouthwash Sunday.

The contaminated 18-ounce bottle of Listerine that Ms. Daughtrey purchased was not wrapped in the standard paper packaging at the time she bought it, Bergstrom said. Police who inspected the rest of the store's stock found one other bottle of Listerine missing the outside wrapper, but tests showed it did not contain acid.

Rock Throwers Pelt Cars Along CR 427

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

People who hide in bushes along highways shouldn't throw stones. But they often do and eight people have damaged vehicles to prove it.

About $1,525 worth of damage was caused to vehicles traveling along County Road 427 near Altamonte Springs between 10 and 11 p.m. Thursday after someone, who had apparently been hiding in the bushes along the highway, threw rocks at passing motorists, Seminole County sheriff's deputies said.

Audrey Louis Temple, 22, of 524 Jupiter Way, Casselberry, told deputies that someone, possibly juvenile boys, threw rocks at her 1973 Plymouth as she drove along the county road near Plumosa Avenue Thursday evening.

Donald Coye Hunt, 26, of 40 Second St., Winter Springs, told deputies he nearly lost control of his 1982 Kawasaki motorcycle near Marker Street after a rock broke the vehicle's starter line and stalled the engine.

Leah M. Swinehart, 34, of 178 Lakeview Ave., Lake Mary; Kathy A. Fior, 17, of 201 Ivy Farm Lane, Casselberry; Joanne Griggs, 38, of 835 Sabal Palms Circle, Altamonte Springs; Erwin Arnold Wilcox, 51, of 610 Powell Drive, Altamonte Springs; Michael James Barabas, 24, of Orlando; and Edward George Haven, 23, of 1157 Lady Susan Drive, Casselberry, told deputies their vehicles were also damaged by the rock-throwing culprits.

Deputies said that several of the victims saw two boys hiding in the bushes while other victims could not see their attackers. Deputies added that no one was injured in the incident.

CASH TAKEN FROM LOCKER

About $1,500 in cash was stolen from a Fern Park woman's foot locker in her bedroom between 8 p.m. Wednesday and 4:20 p.m. Thursday.

Rhonda Faye Deese, 19, of the Regency Apartments, reported the theft to deputies.

FOOD TAKEN FROM FREEZER

An undisclosed amount of frozen food was stolen from a woman's home near Sanford between noon Oct. 9 and noon Oct. 13.

Patricia K. Lagen, 53, of 3257 Ohio Ave., reported the theft to deputies, adding that the freezer is located on her carport.

REAL ESTATE INFORMATION TAKEN

Someone broke into a Longwood realty office between noon Oct. 13 and 2:52 p.m. Tuesday and stole a microfiche file containing Orange County real estate information.

Nancy Daniel, 39, of Daniel & Wohlwender Realty, 1416 Montgomery Road, Longwood, told deputies that the thieves apparently used a key to get to the file which was stored in a back room in the office. The file is valued at about $1,000, deputies said.

SHIRTS STOLEN

Three shirts, valued at about $15, were stolen from Longwood man's laundry room between 6:30 a.m. and 7:25 p.m. Tuesday.

Paul Mooney, 30, of 243 Howard Blvd., reported the theft.

that Scott also was unable to continue high school sports after a problem developed in school and he eventually dropped out of school and is currently unemployed.

According to Jeanne Pabon of Sanford, Dunn's mother, Dunn has received "nothing but love and support from me through this whole ordeal."

"I've visited Scott every weekend that he's been in jail, faithfully," she said. "I love him and there is no hard feelings between us because of the divorce between his father and me.

Ms. Pabon said she will attend the final sentencing hearing of her son and she will continue visiting him in jail.

"Once we get another sentencing date, we will be notifying every single victim again and if they want to attend that hearing they will be given that opportunity," Plotnick said. "Also, as I understand it, the main point of that hearing will be to determine the question of restitution to the victims."

Julian said the law provides that the victims of crimes have a right to be present at the sentencing of the defendant who pleads guilty or no contest and that those people are permitted to speak if they desire. However, while Julian did not object to the possible 30 or so victims of unchanged crimes attending Wednesday's hearing, he said such a procedure is unusual and would not be a practice among most judges.

Fed allow growth in the money supply," he said. The third-term senator complained about the Reagan administration cutback in funds for education at a time when the U.S. is competing with other countries of the world in high technology.

The California Democrat said Japan, a major competitor with a population of one-half of the U.S., graduated 23,000 more engineers than the United States last year and the Soviet Union graduated a couple hundred thousand more engineers.

He said the United States must learn from the Japanese how to get more co-operation and less confrontation among business, labor and the government.

But the United States really cannot straighten out its economy until the arms race with the USSR is ended, the 67-year-old senator said. "We are scheduled to spend 1.6 trillion dollars for defense over the next five years. How can we spend that much and be able to educate our citizens at the same time?" he asked.

Cranston added the world is in "grave danger" of a nuclear war, probably by accident. Quoting the late Albert Einstein, he said a nuclear war could annihilate the human family by destroying the environment. He added there is a dangerous deterioration in U.S. relations with the USSR.

Speaking of the horrors of war, Cranston said while the United States has lost less than one-half million people in all the wars in its history, the USSR lost 22 million people in World War II alone.

"I believe Russia would respond to an effort to end the arms race," Cranston said, "similar to the Camp David accords" that settled the conflicts between Israel and Egypt. "I would like to undertake that mission," he said.

Cranston said he has visited 35 states in the past seven months and believes the race for the president among Democrats is wide open.

"California has produced three presidents—Herbert Hoover, Richard Nixon and Ronald Reagan," he said. "I think we (California) can do better."

But, first things first, he said. "In November, re-elect Lawton Chiles and Bob Graham and the other fine Democratic candidates you have. Help them to victory."

Radio commentator Gene Burns, master of ceremonies, said many are deeply concerned about the trend toward non-participation by the voters. He pointed in particular to the "dismal turnout" in Seminole County in the October primary when a "distinct minority" — 11 percent of the voters — bonded the majority of the residents for a $7 million library expansion.

He said the Democratic Party has a broad diversity of philosophies and people, calling that "not a minus, but a plus."

State Democratic Committeeman Bill Wack told the group all the races involving Democratic candidates locally can be won and many can be lost unless the Democratic voters turn out at the polls and vote Democratic in November.

Party chairman Marvin Meltzer said November election victories will be the beginning of a big year for 1984.

Casselberry Builder Working To Comply With City Demands

A Casselberry developer hopes to resolve a dispute with the city soon.

Developer Leonard Casselberry said Thursday that new limestone has been installed on the disputed 10-by-20-foot section of Bayou Drive and that an asphalt layer will be poured as soon as it is approved.

Casselberry had completed the construction of the street early this year, but the city said the small section was not satisfactory and ordered it ripped up and rebuilt.

The developer said he has spent about $7,000 on the street and owes about $5,000 in fines imposed by the city since Sept. 1 for not having the section of street completed to the city's satisfaction.

The code enforcement board in May had given Casselberry 120 days to complete the construction of the 210-foot section of Bayou connecting the street with Crestview Drive.

The street section in the Sherwood Forest mobile-home park was completed, but city Engineer Kenneth Ehlers determined the section was not satisfactory.

Tax Relief Coming For Some

New provisions in the federal tax law will bring some tax relief to many of Florida's two-earner families according to Merlin W. Heye, IRS district director for Florida.

Working couples generally pay higher taxes on their joint income than they would pay if they were single. This is often called the "marriage tax penalty."

Under the new law, according to Heye, working couples filing jointly may be able to deduct up to $1,500 in 1982 and $3,000 in 1983. They will not have to itemize deductions on Schedule A of Form 1040 to claim this deduction.

"The new tax law will allow working couples filing a joint return to deduct from gross income either 5 percent of the earned income of the spouse with the lower qualified earned income, or $1,500, whichever is less, in 1982," Heye explained. In 1983 and thereafter the deduction increases to 10 percent, but cannot exceed $3,000.

Also increased in 1982 is the Child and Dependent Care Credit. A taxpayer with an income of $10,000 or less and one qualifying child or dependent will get a maximum credit of $720, while those who make more than $28,000 get a $480 maximum credit. For two or more qualifying individuals, the maximum credit will range from $1,440 to $960. Under prior law the maximum credit was $400 for one qualifying dependent and $800 for two or more.

Prime Falls To 11 1/2 %

NEW YORK (UPI)—Chemical Bank of New York, the nation's sixth largest commercial bank, today cut its prime lending rate to 11 1/2 percent from the prevailing 12 percent.

The new rate puts the prime at its lowest level in more than two years.

The small Mitsui Bank of Los Angeles also lowered its rate to 11 1/2 percent from the 12 percent charge adopted by the banking industry about a week ago.

There was speculation in money markets the Federal Reserve would cut the discount rate it charges member banks for loans from 9 1/2 percent to 9 percent in order to stimulate the weak economy.

The government earlier this week reported the third-quarter gross national product, stripped of inflation, increased an anemic 0.8 percent, down from the 2.1 percent in the second period.

Postal Workers Awarded Huge Back Pay Settlement

WASHINGTON (UPI)—About 800,000 former and current postal workers are due $400 million in back pay — an average of $500 per worker — under Postal Service settlement of a government suit for alleged wage law violation.

The Labor Department, in announcing Thursday the settlement had been approved by U.S. District Court Judge Aubrey Robinson, called it the largest in the history of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

It ended a four-year legal fight began in 1978 when the Carter administration charged the Postal Service with violating federal minimum wage and overtime requirements. Labor Secretary Raymond Donovan called the agreement "a victory in the best interests of both USPS employees and the public."

Letter Carriers union President Vincent Sombrotto said the settlement was delayed recognition that all employers, including the Postal Service, must obey federal law.

A department spokesman said payments to the postal employees will be made from a contingency fund set up by the Postal Service in 1978. He said affected employees can expect to receive money due them within the next six months.

Former Postal Service workers who think they might be affected by the settlement were asked to contact their last place of postal employment.

Lingering Recession Forces Major Cuts In State Budget

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A longer than expected recession will force Gov. Bob Graham and the Cabinet to cut another $300 million from the $10 billion state budget.

That means serious problems for government managers with almost half of the fiscal year already gone and could require such drastic cutback steps as layoffs.

The August cuts and the now pending November reductions are the result of a so-called "revenue shortfall."

Government economists last met in an estimating conference in February and estimated the amount of money to be available from taxes for the 1982-83 fiscal year that began July 1.

This figure was based on the assumption that the national and state recessions would end late this summer with business activities, and tax revenues, growing substantially.

The recovery from the recession hasn't happened, however, and tax revenues haven't produced as much as estimated and authorized for spending in the budget.

'Cancer Doctor' Charged

MARIANNA (UPI) — Despite opposition from the lead investigator in the case, the state attorney has charged Dr. Frederick Boedy with four crimes.

Boedy was charged with two felonies and two misdemeanors Thursday — arson and falsifying an insurance report, both felonies.

The 30-year-old doctor, who had said battery acids and other sludge in the Chipola River seemed to contribute to cancer among his patients in Altha, was also charged with two misdemeanor counts of falsifying crime reports.

The charges stem from Boedy's claim that he was twice stabbed, once by two men who lured him to the banks of the river on a pretense and warned him not to call attention to the pollution.

Boedy, now in a Dothan, Ala. psychiatric hospital for observation, won't be arrested but will be taken for his first court appearance when he leaves the institution.

'Make It In Florida'

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The state has launched an advertising campaign to encourage Florida business and industry to expand its operations.

Themes for the campaign are "Make It Where You've Made It — In Florida" and "You Can Buy It For Less In Florida."

The campaign is designed to prod Florida companies into expanding their operations within the state and, whenever possible, utilizing Florida suppliers.

would be in the western corridor that FP&L would only use a 330-foot right-of-way and they would not necessarily be affected by being in the corridor.

But at previous meetings Kraftsow had argued that anyone living in the eastern corridor would be affected.

Voorhees asked that Alvarez try to draw in a right-of-way through the eastern corridor and show how many people the line would affect.

"It's unfair to compare a corridor without a 330-foot strip to a 330-foot strip without a corridor," he said.

Alvarez responded that the only right-of-way FP&L has considered in the Eastern corridor would only directly affect one mobile home which would have to be removed. Twelve other houses would have a visual impact, being about 300 yards away from the right-of-way, he said.

But Alvarez said FP&L had done everything it was legally obligated to do. "We have placed the corridor. You all have changed the rules."

Alvarez pledged FP&L participation in evaluating both routes.

"We're willing to provide our resources to provide all the data," he said. "We'll have our plane do a fly-over and we'll put structures on the map for you."

Kraftsow suggested counting houses in the eastern and western corridors to see which one affects the fewest number of people.

Alvarez agreed but questioned whether Kraftsow really wants to put the line where it will affect the fewest people.

"What if we show that neither route takes out any houses? Which one would you choose?" he said.

He also refused to participate in the drawing of a western route.

"We're not going to draw any lines. We'll gather the data," he said. "We've already got enough people mad at us by drawing a line on the eastern side. We're not about to draw any lines to the west."

Alvarez said FP&L is willing to compromise with the people in the Geneva area if they can get an agreement among themselves.

But a new hearing will be required before the new plan can be adopted, he said. The western corridor was not part of the firm's application, has not been properly advertised and has not had an official forum for public comment, he said.

Alvarez encouraged the residents to work hard in the next few weeks to get agreement prior to the Cabinet's scheduled Nov. 16 meeting.

"There's going to be a decision on Nov. 16 that will affect you all. Some positively, some negatively, but it will affect you all," he said.

A second meeting will be scheduled within two weeks, County Attorney Nikki Clayton told the group. She said information for presentation to the residents should be available for that meeting and a decision could be made.

Alvarez promised to continue working with the group to find a compromise to the stalemate. But he warned that they must take a united stance for one alternative.

"If there's no agreement, FP&L will push for the eastern corridor," he said.

How do you get a piece of coal into a wire?

By turning it into electricity.
Coal-generated electricity.
Electricity that will help us conserve expensive oil.
And help our customers save money.

That's why FPL is building a transmission line, right now, that will bring more of this economical coal-generated power to Florida from hundreds of miles away. The cost is more than a million dollars a mile! But, it will save $2.6 billion over the next ten years.

FPL is also nearing completion of a new nuclear power plant that will save more than $200 million in oil a year. And the installation of new highly efficient equipment in other power plants is saving another $60 million each year. In fact, FPL's oil and gas burning plants rank fourth among the 100 most efficient in the country.

It's this kind of efficiency that helps us continue to bring our customers high quality service at reasonable rates. A 60-city survey of residential electric rates conducted by the Jacksonville Electric Authority this September shows FPL rates are lower than electric rates in New York, Detroit, Chicago, Cleveland, Boston, Houston and 33 other cities. And, of the 19 Florida utilities listed in the survey FPL rates are lower than 13!

Israel Condemned By ITU, But Survives Expulsion Try

NAIROBI, Kenya (UPI)—An Arab move to expel Israel from the International Telecommunications Union fizzled today but the agency approved a compromise resolution that condemned the Jewish state for its actions in Lebanon.

The Common Market resolution, condemning Israel's "continuing violation of international law and the massacres of Palestinian and Lebanese civilians," was adopted in a secret ballot, 86 to 31, with 13 abstentions. The United States voted against the resolution that came at the end of a long conference session early today.

At the United Nations, Arab sources said Thursday, Arab nations, fearing they would jeopardize Middle East peace efforts, have dropped a proposal to expel Israel from the U.N. General Assembly.

Former Patrol Chief Cleared; 4 Arrested

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Four Florida Highway Patrol members have been arrested on theft charges, but the head of the patrol's parent agency, who was fired in August, has been cleared of any criminal wrongdoing.

"In the overall scheme of the criminal justice system, the amount of wrong-doing that has been uncovered is insignificant except that they were Florida Highway Patrol members," State Attorney Don Modestti said Thursday at a press conference at the Florida Press Center.

Modestti said he had found no widespread corruption within the troubled agency and attributed the charges to cronyism, saying that the arrested patrolmen had been with the patrol so long that they "just started treating state materials as their own."

He said the charges generally involved "private functions" on state time or property that was listed as surplus.

The investigation is only about 40 percent complete, he said. Still under investigation are flights Agriculture Commissioner Doyle Conner allegedly made on state aircraft and bank accounts he has maintained outside his department.

The investigation began in July when former director Col. Eldridge Beach, who is still under investigation, resigned amid allegations that he had made unauthorized flights aboard patrol aircraft.

Before the summer was over, five top officials — including Chester Blakemore, who was head of the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles — lost their jobs as the investigation unraveled.

Modestti said Thursday that no charges would be filed against Blakemore, who was fired by Gov. Bob Graham and the Cabinet in August — because "we did not find any criminality at all."

He said there may have been civil violation of regulations but said that because of Blakemore's firing and his repayment of more than $1,000 to the state, the "appropriate" civil remedies had been taken.

Judge May Be Going Too Far

Let's hope Judge Dominick Salfi isn't going from the sublime to the ridiculous and turning our usually decorum-conscious courts into a three-ring circus.

He may be bordering on that with his latest attempts at bringing awareness to defendants of the wrongs they've committed and how innocent people's lives are affected by crime.

Judge Salfi, from what lawyers and prosecutors say, is about the only criminal court judge who requires defendants prior to sentencing to face not only the victim of the crime he's pleaded guilty to, but those the defendant has admitted committing crimes against for which he was never charged. This, the judge reasons, allows the defendant to hear firsthand how the victim was personally affected by the criminal's act, even though the victim may not have been present during, say, a burglary.

It's commendable that Judge Salfi is attempting to be innovative and improve the system. Maybe he's onto something good. Maybe not. Some lawyers are saying permitting crime victims to confront the defendant after he's been convicted and before he's sentenced, may open the door to grandstanding and not really serve any useful purpose. That may have been the case the other day when Judge Salfi required the state attorney's office to hunt down and interview between 68 to 70 crime victims whose homes had been burglarized, but for which the defendant was never charged. He wasn't charged, authorities say, because he cooperated with them after his arrest on the one burglary and agreed to pinpoint the other homes he burglarized so they could close the books on those cases and the homeowners could collect their insurance.

But, because Salfi apparently felt it necessary to permit those victims as well as the victim of the burglary for which the defendant was convicted, to be present before the sentencing, he ordered the state attorney's office to locate them.

The state attorney's office says it has no idea how much it cost to assign no less than three persons who worked several days on the project, then mailed out more than 200 letters to bring in the victims. We don't either, but those are tax dollars we're talking about and wonder if they couldn't have been better spent on more important activity for the state attorney's office. We're told that out of the 30 victims who showed up at the hearing only about six spoke out in public court against the defendant and rebuffed him by telling him how their lives had been affected by his crimes.

The days of putting criminals in the public square to hold them up to ridicule are long gone. Judge Salfi should permit a crime victim to be present at a pre-sentence hearing, but only if that victim is involved with the crime for which the defendant was convicted or pleaded guilty to. The rest of it is, it seems, a waste of time and precious manpower in an already overcrowded court system.

Solidarity's Jailers

Polish workers are braving water cannon, tear gas, truncheons, and the threat of prison or worse to protest the outlawing of Solidarity by Poland's martial law government.

The least that Western governments should do in these circumstances is to ensure that this latest repression in Poland provokes appropriate sanctions against Solidarity's jailers.

Doubling tariffs on Polish goods, which is what the loss of most-favored-nation trade status would entail, will cost Gen. Wojciech Jaruzelski's government one of its few remaining sources of hard foreign currency.

That loss, in turn, would drive yet another nail into the coffin of the Polish economy.

Wedding bells are ringing Saturday for Coleen Lyn Finch, of DeBary (formerly of Sanford) and Roger Lee Chamberlain, of Sanford. There will be some rather unusual witnesses watching as they exchange their nuptial vows, including otters, Geraldine the hippopotamus, peacocks and other animals, who have promised to be on their best behavior.

The ceremony will take place at noon at the Central Florida Zoo on a bridge over a scenic stream. More than 200 human guests of the bride and groom are also expected to attend.

Why the zoo? "The zoo means a lot to us and we've spent a lot of time there," explained the bride to be. "It's a beautiful place and we've worked hard to support it donating whenever we can afford it. We really love this zoo."

The Florida Audubon Society released a young eagle Sunday morning on Lake Jessup. The bird fell out of its nest and broke a leg before its feathers were developed enough to fly. It was rescued and raised in the shelter for injured birds of prey at the society's Maitland headquarters.

Having no mother to teach it to fly and survival skills, the bird had to be taught how to fly and how to catch live prey. It was put in a 40 foot flight cage with a mature eagle to set an example and after many awkward attempts learned to catch fish and rats and how to use its wings.

Safety Tips From A Fourth Grade Class
The following remedies were suggested by fourth graders. Although not necessarily recommended by the Red Cross, they do show considerable imagination.

Nosebleed: Put the nose lower than the body.

Fractures: To see if the limb is broken, wiggle it gently back and forth.

Fainting: Rub the person's chest, or, if it's a lady, rub her arm above the chest.

Asphyxiation: Apply artificial respiration until the victim is dead.

Economic Blind Spots

President Reagan has made a strong case for his economic policies, saying they have resulted in lower inflation and a decline in interest rates. However, his analysis of America's economic condition and prospects omits important elements.

First of all, the President and his administration refuse to acknowledge that the United States is in trouble because of economic warfare being waged by other countries. Excessive federal spending is one cause of our industrial decline, but not the only cause. A more immediate cause is the flood of foreign imports. U.S. manufacturers can compete against foreign companies. They can't compete against foreign countries.

Mr. Reagan and his advisers would do well to listen to some of the nation's business leaders who at long last are speaking out on the effects of foreign imports. Dennis Carney, chairman of Wheeling-Pittsburgh Steel Co., recently referred to the "economic warfare" being conducted against the U.S. by Japan and other countries. Six heads of major corporations joined him in a call for a moratorium on imports. They agreed that there was no way the American economy could recover without strengthening the basic industries which are under attack.

Lee Iacocca, chairman of Chrysler, said: "Something must be done about the Japanese invasion of our market."

Many small companies are equally concerned. MCL, Inc., a small Illinois manufacturer of communications equipment, has filed suit against Nippon Electric Co., the Japanese giant, charging that NEC sold equipment in the U.S. at prices far less than their fair market price in Japan—a practice known as dumping.

A British parliamentarian, Sir Patrick Wall, who is a staunch Conservative, recently noted: "Japan has already stolen the U.S. market in ships, cameras and television and is now causing unemployment in Detroit. This is the Japan that pays only some one percent of its GNP to defend herself and relies wholly on her American ally! Every effort to persuade Japan to contribute more to their own and allied defense and to modify their own trade business has so far failed."

There are other matters that the Reagan administration fails to acknowledge. One is the continuing and indeed growing burden of foreign aid. Billions of dollars are sent each year to Israel, Egypt and other countries. These are billions that should be kept at home. The latest move is the prospective renewal of foreign aid to Bolivia, a classic foreign aid rathole. Foreign aid should be halted in this time of economic crisis. The administration, however, has no intention of doing this.

Given this inactivity on vital fronts, there is little likelihood that there will be a dramatic improvement in the economy of the United States.

Chemical Warfare: Costly Boondoggle

WASHINGTON—The Pentagon's multimillion-dollar chemical warfare program is turning into a gigantic stink bomb.

Poison gas was used with such horrible effect in World War I that no nation dared to unleash it in World War II for fear of devastating retaliation in kind. Yet research in the deadly field went on, and scientists developed ever more lethal chemical warfare weapons.

Alarmed by reports that the Soviets had made great strides in perfecting nerve gas and other chemical-biological killers, Congress and the Reagan administration listened sympathetically to the generals' pleas to close the "gas gap." Over the past two years, hundreds of millions of dollars were appropriated to build up our chemical arsenal.

It's debatable whether the United States needs to achieve the capability of retaliating on an exact, tit-for-tat basis against whatever weapon the Soviets may decide to develop. Critics see no reason why the threat of nuclear weapons, for example, couldn't deter the first use of poison gas.

But on one point there is no argument: defending our front-line troops against a sneak chemical attack. Unfortunately, the Pentagon's chemical warfare defense program has turned into an expensive boondoggle that has wasted millions without developing the needed protective measures. Quite simply, the protective gear intended to nullify the effects of an enemy gas attack are almost as dangerous as the enemy's chemicals. If it weren't so potentially tragic, it would almost be laughable.

The uniform designed to protect soldiers from poison gas—mask, boots, gloves and coveralls—can incapacitate or even kill the wearer.

An internal Army manual states that the outfit is so bulky and airtight that it "could cause significant numbers of heat casualties" if worn in hot weather. Soldiers encased in the protective garment "may experience heat exhaustion (dizziness and fainting) at any time," the report warns.

Being rendered even temporarily helpless on the battlefield is bad enough. But the protective gear can even cause heat stroke, which the Army report notes "has a 50 percent mortality rate."

Still, the Army concluded, after weighing "heat casualties versus chemical casualties," that the protective outfit should be worn after all. "Reduced chemical protection of troops should not be permitted unnecessarily," the Army warned, "because the risk of heat stress or even exhaustion normally involves only a brief illness, whereas chemical casualties can be much more serious..."

The gas mask is also a problem. The Defense Department recognizes the possibility of "breathing difficulty caused by the mask," as well as an understandable impairment of the ability to hear and make oneself heard.

There has even been trouble with the antidote developed to counteract nerve gas. The original antidote was atropine, but that is so

Calcium For The Elderly

By PATRICIA McCORMACK
UPI Health Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—When a woman 70 or so falls and breaks her hip, questions go like this:
Did the hip break and then she tumbled?
Or did the force of landing on impact break it?

It seems like a chicken and egg question: which came first — the break or the fall?
A good bet is that the hipbone, eroded by osteoporosis, gave way.

This was part of the picture as Dr. Louis Avioli, a professor of medicine at Washington University in St. Louis, provided an update on osteoporosis — a condition put down as the underlying cause of the broken hips suffered by 190,000 older Americans.

Osteoporosis is a thinning of the bony material composing the skeleton. Brittle bones cannot maintain mechanical support.

The diet of American females is somewhat deficient in calcium — contributing in a major way to failure of certain parts of the skeleton as the years mount, authorities say.

Most susceptible are ribs, pelvis, hips, spine. Fractured vertebrae — or crush fractures resulting in height loss and the back known as dowager's hump — are a hallmark of osteoporosis.

"It was known for years as women age, fractures primarily are of the axial skeleton — hips, pelvis, spine, ribs," he said. "We didn't know until two or three years ago that the thinning of the bones starts for 10 to 15 percent of the women at age 25 — if she is not getting the calcium she needs."

The Recommended Daily Allowance — the so-called RDA — is 1300mg to 1400 mg a day.

But from the age of 15 on, the diet of American women contains no more than 500mg to 600mg per day, on average.

"By the time a girl is 15 she is already 900mg deficient in calcium," the internist said.

Avioli said calcium supplementation is one way of helping to retard the rate of bone loss. If every woman, from the age of 25 on, daily ingested calcium supplements, Avioli said in about 10 years breaks due to osteoporosis would be reduced dramatically.

Not only would this spare women pain, but it would also reduce the nation's medical bill by $1.9 billion a year.

Avioli said his daughters, 19 and 23, take one 500mg tablet of over-the-counter calcium supplements a day. His wife takes one a day and two during her period. When she reaches menopause, he expects to increase her calcium supplementation.

Avioli said large amounts of calcium are difficult to get from food — even from a balanced diet — especially for people suffering from milk allergy and for the weight-conscious.

Besides milk, yogurt and other dairy products, leafy green vegetables, sardines and canned salmon (with bones) are calcium-rich foods.

Recently medical reports have been published about young women who have premature osteoporosis — which may be linked to excessive exercise.

Authorities say prevention of osteoporosis should start at age 25 and should include regular exercise — but not to extreme levels, ample intake of calcium, and avoidance of metabolic poisons such as nicotine, alcohol, and excessive amounts of protein.

dangerous itself that the Army spent $1.4 million on a drug known as TAB (no relation to the soft drink).

But sources told my associate Lucette Lagnado that the new antidote contained a hallucinogen. Soldiers taking it would be "high" for hours. They might be protected against nerve gas, but they'd be helpless against other weapons—just as, in World War I, laughing gas was sometimes used to render enemy soldiers incapable of defending themselves against cold steel or lethal gas.

After this expensive false start, the armed services developed another, non-hallucinogenic antidote, and largely scrapped TAB.

Footnote: A team of investigators for the House Defense Appropriations subcommittee, chaired by Rep. Joseph Addabbo, D-N.Y., is now scrutinizing the Pentagon's chemical warfare expenditures more closely. A Pentagon spokesman said the Defense Department will use the increased funds to improve outdated protective gear.

Gala Carnival Sets Pace For Halloween

It's that time of year again. Time for the annual Geneva Halloween Carnival.

The carnival will officially open at 5 p.m. on Oct. 30 with the costume parade beginning at 8 p.m. The regular gamut of games, contests and prizes will be offered this year including that old favorite—the Cake Walk.

According to Freda Clark the menu is really expanded for this year's carnival and will include Sausage Subs, Pizza, Hot Dogs, Hamburgers, Cheeseburgers, Donuts, Pop Corn, Candied Apples, Deli Pickles, Soft Drinks and Coffee. The most expensive item available will be the sausage subs which will go for $1.25.

With all the beautiful fall weather, we have been experiencing lately, next Saturday should be a great time for the Carnival.

Pampas Grass Functional In Landscape

Pampas grass (Cortaderia selloana) is a large perennial grass native to Brazil, Argentina and Chile. It grows in large clumps 8 to 10 feet high, bearing in late summer silvery-white or pinkish silken plumes which rise to a height up to 12 feet.

There are many ornamental forms of pampas grass. Some have rose or purple flowers and others are smaller plants that grow 4 to 5 feet tall. The variety Cortaderia selloana pumila is a dwarf form with very narrow grass-like leaves. Unfortunately, this variety is seldom available at nurseries.

The plume-like inflorescence differs between male and female plants. The female plants produce plumes that are broad and full due to silky hairs covering the tiny flowers. The male plumes appear narrow and thin because of the absence of hair on the flowers.

However, the difference in appearance is not so obvious that many people observe any difference between male and female plants. There is also considerable variation among seedlings in growth habit, period of flowering, and size and shape of plumes. Therefore, if uniformity is desired, pampas grass should be propagated by dividing the clump rather than by seed.

Pampas grass can be a very attractive and functional plant when used correctly in the landscape. It can be used as a specimen plant in isolated locations on large lawns. Because it grows very rapidly into a massive plant, pampas grass is an excellent screening plant for sunny locations.

Unfortunately, pampas grass is often used as a foundation plant. It is usually purchased from a nursery as a small plant and planted very near the home. The plant will look great the first year, but after several years it usually grows so large that it will be difficult to find the house.

In selecting sites for pampas grass, regard should be paid to the danger of damage to passers-by from contact with the very sharp saw-like edges of the leaves. Pampas grass should be planted where it will receive full sun most of the day. It will not produce plumes when grown in shady areas. Pampas grass tolerance to salt accounts for its frequent use in landscapes along the coastline.

The plumes of pampas grass are highly prized for indoor decorations. Plumes used for this purpose should be cut as soon as they have fully emerged. They can be used in dried arrangements immediately after harvesting or dried by hanging upside down and used later. If mature plumes are brought indoors, they will fill the home with delicate fluffy flowers which can be a bigger problem than a shedding dog or cat. This shedding can be prevented by spraying mature plumes with hair spray.

Once established, pampas grass is practically trouble-free. There is no need to spray for insects or any other bothersome garden pest. It will grow in most soils and responds favorably to frequent fertilization. To obtain good growth and plume production pampas grass should be fertilized with a complete fertilizer (6-6-6, 8-8-8, or 10-10-10) at the rate of 2 pounds per 100 square feet four times each year.

In northern Florida the leaves are often killed by freezing temperatures in the winter, but this does not impair the screening value of pampas grass and new leaves will arise from the rhizomes in the spring. Before growth begins in the spring, prune away brown leaves and dead materials that accumulates at the base of plants. It is advisable to move slowly and wear jeans, a long sleeve shirt and gloves when pruning pampas grass. The sharp leaf blades will cut through the skin of hands, arms, legs and other unprotected parts of the body. Striking feathery plumes combined with large, graceful clumps of foliage make pampas grass a very interesting addition to most landscapes.

Railroad Widow Gains Benefits Through Abby

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I read you faithfully in the Williamson (W. Va.) Daily News. In September 1981, your column was headed, "Full Steam Ahead for Railroad Widows." It caught my eye because in 1930, when I was 16, I married a railroad man. We were divorced in '62.

The article went on to give me such good news! It read:

"Effective Oct. 1, 1981, remarried widows and divorced wives, mothers and widows of railroad workers will become eligible for railroad annuities in the same dollar amount and under the same rules as Social Security."

I could hardly believe my eyes! Had I not read it in your column I would never have known about it. I had not been informed in any other way.

You advised all women who qualified to write to the Railroad Retirement Board, 844 Rush St., Chicago, Ill. 60611.

I wrote immediately. After several letters back and forth, I was informed that I was eligible for benefits, and I have been receiving a monthly check ever since. It is such a help! How can I thank you, Abby?

MRS. MILDRED H. BEVINS,
PIKEVILLE, KY.

DEAR MILDRED: Don't thank me. Thank Rep. James L. Oberstar, 8th District, Minnesota, who wrote to inform me that the law had just been passed. He added, "And I can't think of a better way of reaching the approximately 74,000 eligible women than through the Dear Abby column."

DEAR ABBY: I was glad to see that letter in your column about the couple who had separate bedrooms after 10 years of marriage and didn't care what people thought.

I hung on to the edge of the bed for 10 years before I had the courage to get twin beds, but it was either that or my sanity. My husband was a restless sleeper who thrashed around in his sleep like a wrestler. (He also snored like a bull.)

We will be celebrating our 35th wedding anniversary soon. Now that the kids have left home we have separate bedrooms! Glory hallelujah! Now I can read until the wee hours, or watch late-night TV while he snores his head off across the hall. He likes a cool room and I like it warm, but believe it or not we are very compatible. And I still get a thrill when he whispers in my ear, "Your place or mine tonight?"

Rivalry Begins As Rams Host Stingy Oviedo

By CHRIS FISTER
Herald Sports Writer

The beginning of an intra-county high school football rivalry starts tonight as the Oviedo Lions invade Lake Mary to lock horns with the Rams.

Unfortunately for the Rams, it will be a mismatch from the word go.

The Rams are still without quarterback Keith Wallace and backup Jim Boghos is probable but not at 100 percent. That puts inexperienced Scott Sperrazza at the starting quarterback role for the second straight week.

"He's getting more comfortable at the quarterback position," Lake Mary coach Roger Beathard said. "We will be able to pass more this week and will try to mix it up on offense." The Rams top pass catcher is Jeff Reynolds with four receptions for 68 yards.

But starting in just his second varsity game ever is the least of Sperrazza's troubles. He must find a way to crack perhaps the toughest defense in Seminole County if the Rams want to put up a fight against the Lions.

The Oviedo defense has held such 3A football powers as Osceola (Kissimmee) and Rockledge to just 13 points and had a chance to win both games but offensive mistakes cost them both times.

"There is no question they have a very good defense," Beathard said.

The Lion's defense has proved itself time and again in the '82 season but last week, for the first time this year, the offense was productive. Going into last week's game with Leesburg, the highest point production of the year for Oviedo was nine points.

Oviedo rolled up 35 points behind the 204 yard, three-touchdown performance of Barry Williams.

"We thought J.W. Yarborough would be the main man to step but now they have Williams too. Oviedo has a good all-around offensive attack," Beathard said.

Not only does Oviedo have two fine running backs, they also have two good receivers. Ken Ahse is second in the county with 15 receptions and Dan Lott is a big play receiver who has five catches for a 28.2 yards per catch average.

The Lake Mary defense has been inconsistent at times but has played superbly at times too. The defense is led by Bill Coughell who is third in the county in the defense category with 37 solo tackles and 11 assists. Last week against Melbourne, defensive back Reggie Anderson had eight solo tackles and two assists and was the Sanford Optimist Club's defensive player of the week for Lake Mary.

"We didn't strap it on in the beginning against Melbourne," Anderson said. "They scored two touchdowns the first five minutes, then we held them until the fourth quarter. If we had done that at the beginning, the score

Gaines Plans Burial

Seminole See Kathleen As First Victim

By SAM COOK
Herald Sports Editor

Seminole High linebacker Harold Gaines plans on a career in Mortuary Science after his playing days are over.

Friday night in Lakeland, however, the 16-year-old senior would like to do a little pre-career work. He would like to give Kathleen a football burial for the "Notes first victory of the 1982 season."

"It's been a frustrating year," said Gaines between bites of fish at the Sanford Optimist Player of the Week Luncheon Wednesday. "We have talent but when we get the lead we can't hold on to it."

"We're not going this whole season without winning a football game though. I'll guarantee you that," he emphasized.

Sanford has five games remaining. After tonight's clash with Kathleen, all the rest are conference games. Gaines pointed out that Seminole usually plays better against the better teams, holding tough against Titusville Astronaut, Lake Howell and Apopka (for a half).

"People expect us to get blown out against the better teams, but it doesn't happen," said Gaines, who made six solo stops and five assists against DeLand. "I think we get overconfident against the poorer teams. We know that we can play though."

Gaines plans to attend South Carolina State for four years and then Gumpston-Jones Mortuary School in Atlanta to earn his Mortuary Science degree. He was influenced by his uncle, Bernard Mitchell, who works for the Wilson-Eichelberger Funeral Home.

Tonight, he hopes to get a little pre-school training.

It should be pointed out that Lakeland Kathleen is not quite ready for entombment. Although it lost to Winter Haven last week, it came in overtime, 13-7.

Kathleen has allowed just 32 points in winning four of six games for coach Gary Spruce. That computes to just 5.3 points an outing.

The biggest reason is hyperactive nose guard Daryl Blow. Although he's only 5-10 and 170 pounds, Blow reminds one of DeLand's Amp Graham. He is strong and very quick.

He also has other things going for him. According to a Tampa Tribune sports writer, Blow likes to yell "hike" prior to the snap by an opposing center.

"He really had the other teams jumping the games I saw," said Tampa scribe Bob McClure. "The Lake Gibson coach (Tom Atwell) was so made that he and Spruce almost punched each other out after the game."

McClure went on to say that sometimes Blow is called for unsportsmanlike conduct for his antics, but sometimes he isn't. He wasn't against Lake Gibson which prompted Atwell's post-game tirade.

Other Kathleen standouts are linebacker Greg Toy, a 180-pound junior, linebacker Brian Martin, a 170-pound junior, and David Deputy, a 185-pound senior defensive tackle.

Offensively, Florida, Florida State and Miami are looking at quarterback Pat Pinner. At least they were until Pinner fizzled. Touted as one of the top QBs around, the 6-4 senior is just 32 of 86 for 384 yards and five touchdowns. He has thrown six interceptions.

Since Pinner's demise, running back Vic Riddle has carried the offensive load. "They have actually cut down on their throwing," said Seminole chief Jerry Posey about the usually pass-happy Red Devils. "Riddle looks real good on the films we've seen."

Posey needs another solid effort from

Scoreboard Will Glow As Lyman Tackles Apopka

Early Friday morning, Lyman athletic director Ed Buckner was perched on a ladder with a carton of light bulbs next to the Greyhounds' football scoreboard.

"What are you doing?" an inquiring student asked. "I'm putting up another number on each side," Buckner replied. "With Apopka and Lyman getting together tonight, you don't know how high the score might go."

It's doubtful whether tonight's 8 o'clock Homecoming game for the 'Hounds will go to triple figures, but Buckner's assessment was pretty accurate since this explosive Five Star Conference battle is the biggest game of the year thus far.

Apopka is 3-0 in conference and 3-2 overall. A victory would put coach Chip Gierke's squad in a super position to take all of the Five Star and district marbles.

"Of course we haven't seen Spruce Creek and they're sitting over there at 2-0, but we're 100 percent healthy and a win tonight would be very big," Gierke said Friday morning.

Lyman is 1-1 and 2-3 overall. A win is a must for coach Bill Scott. Two losses would severely jeopardize his conference chances, although the Blue Darters still play DeLand, Spruce Creek and Lake Howell. The 'Hounds finish with Lake Howell, Seminole, Spruce Creek and Lake Brantley.

"It's gonna be a good one," said Scott while watching the Lyman junior varsity run its record to 5-0 Thursday night. "This place is going to be packed. It's the biggest game of the year."

It may come down to whether Lyman can throw the ball against the Apopka defense. Jim Davis, a 6-6, 234-pound defensive end, and Mark Spicer, a 6-4, 253-pound defensive tackle, make yardage on the ground almost impossible, although Seminole did move the ball against Apopka in the first half two weeks ago.

"We're going to throw the ball," said Scott who has a pretty good quarterback in Jerry Axley and receivers in Todd Marriott (19.9 a catch) and Willis Perry. "They've got too much size up front."

While Scott figures some big numbers will be put on the board, Gierke doesn't think the game "will get out of hand."

"It might be 21-14 or 21-17, but I think our defense is that good that they won't score anymore," said Gierke. "We've got to stop Lyman's big-play potential. We can't let them throw the ball down the field."

Gierke figures his Darters will put it up too. "They play that eight-man line and almost dare you to throw it," he pointed out. "You can't do that with a guy like Rodney Brewer (Apopka quarterback). He'll burn you."

In addition to Brewer, a left-handed dart thrower, Apopka will have fullback Will Sflatron for the first time since Lake Brantley. "He can flat run the football," said Gierke. "Combining him with Darin Jackson should make our

Wounded Hawks Host Spruce Creek

How does a wounded Silver Hawk fly?

Lake Howell coach Mike Bisceglia doesn't know, but he'll find out tonight at 8 when Spruce Creek invades the Hawk nest for an important Five Star Conference football game.

"I'm no crybaby but it seems like half of our team's injured," said the second-year coach. Add to that the defection of field-goat kicker Tito Martorell to soccer and an injury to backup Robert Kerr, and you can see why tonight's flight might be wobbly. Kerr hurt some ligaments in his kicking (right) knee. Bisceglia lost Fred McNeil at tight end. Eugene Boyle, "a revolving lineman," will take his spot. Tom Weber, a backup guard, replaces Mike Jones at center. Jeron Evans takes over for John McKay at wide out. McKay suffered a concussion, loosened teeth and seven stitches when he was hit by a forearm against Mainland. Nose guard Kendall Wherry returns to claim his spot which enables Bisceglia to move Rick Pugh back to defensive end, compensating for the loss of Marshall Parsons.

"(Troy) Quackenbush is throwing the ball a lot better this week, so at least teams won't know exactly what we're going to do," said Bisceglia. Quackenbush's ability to throw was hampered before by an arm injury.

Bisceglia feels the Hawks have a shot at the Five Star and district titles

Bucs' Coach Thanks Seminole County

"If it wasn't for Seminole County, we'd be in real trouble," said Daytona Beach Mainland coach Bob Wallace.

The Mainland Buccaneers were on the verge of mutiny after losing to New Smyrna Beach in the season opener. Then they traveled to Lyman and defeated the Greyhounds.

After that, the Bucs were outside of Seminole County and dropped three straight games.

Last Thursday, Mainland continued its supremacy against Seminole County by shutting down Lake Howell, 15-0. Against Seminole County teams, 2-0, against all other teams, 0-3.

This week, Mainland will try to maintain its reign over Seminole County when it hosts Lake Brantley Saturday afternoon at Daytona Beach.

It's hard for even Wallace to figure out his '82 team. The Bucs were one of the favorites to win the Five Star Conference with a host of returnees from last year's 7-4 team. Mainland's three straight defeats were to DeLand, Apopka and Cocoa.

"We've made too many mental mistakes this season," Wallace said. "The win over Lake Howell will boost our confidence and we'll be ready for Lake Brantley."

Offensively, Mainland has been led by running back Isaac Bell and quarterback Eric Childs. Bell had trouble in the early going but has performed impressively the past few weeks.

Childs has completed 49 of 99 passes

'If it wasn't for Seminole County, we'd be in real trouble.' —Mainland Coach Bob Wallace for 565 yards and three touchdowns. He has thrown eight interceptions. The top receivers for the Bucs are Bell and tight end Eric Sommerlied.

Sommerlied has hauled in 19 passes for 221 yards and an 11.2 yards per catch average. Bell has nabbed 14 passes for 200 yards, an average of 14.3 yards per reception.

"Lake Brantley has a pretty tough defense," Wallace said. "We think we can contain their offense, so all we have to do is crack their defense a few times."

Mainland's defense is led by tackles Brad Davis and Pat Rees and are allowing opponents an average of 13.3 points per game.

Lake Brantley (0-3), has not generated much offense at all this season. The Patriots scored for the first time in five games last week against Spruce Creek. Brantley has no ballcarrier with over 200 yards in five games and has only 182 yards passing.

After being routed its first three games, the Patriots allowed Lake Howell just six points two weeks ago and gave up 19 in a 19-7 loss to Spruce Creek last week.

The Lake Brantley defense is led by Donnie O'Brian, who is second in defense amongst Seminole County players with 38 tackles and 14 assists. Mike Clayborne leads Lake Brantley with three fumble recoveries while Ray Zink has two, both in the top eight amongst county turnover leaders.

If the Lake Brantley offense is stopped deep in its own territory punter Chuck Stallings can get the Patriots out of trouble. Stallings has punted 31 times, 12 times more than any other punter in the county, and has averaged 38 yards a boot. His longest punt went for 53 yards.

The key for Brantley is simple, put some points on the board. If the offense can come up with a few sustained drives and use the clock then the Patriots have a chance at victory number one.

CHUCK STALLINGS

Trinity Battles Havoc-Stricken St. Johns Lutheran

Early in the 1982 season, St. John Lutheran's Saints were considered one of the top 1A football teams around.

Coach Dennis Meunier guided the Saints to a 9-1 record in '81 and had many starters returning this season.

Then, havoc struck. Against Frostproof, in the season opener, St. John's lost its entire starting backfield to injuries. The extent of those injuries has haunted the Saints ever since. All of the injured members of the backfield are lost for the season.

"We were running the wishbone offensively and it was looking good until we were hit with the injuries," Meunier said. "Now we have a lot of inexperienced people in the backfield and it's hurting us."

St. John Lutheran (2-4), faces a tough Trinity Prep squad Saturday at Trinity Prep at 2 p.m. St. John's was the victim of a 33-0 rout at the hands of Mayo High last week. Its two victories are over Bell High and St. Edwards.

The new offensive backfield for Meunier's Saints is not as powerful but has quickness and will pass more than Meunier had originally planned. "We are going to open it up against Trinity and try a lot of different things on offense," Meunier said.

The starting quarterback for St. Johns will be Bruce Reynolds and the leading ballcarrier is fullback Darren Hilgeman.

Defensively, Meunier said his team's size is comparable to Trinity's size on offense. "Trinity Prep is a very aggressive football team and I look for them to primarily run the ball on offense," Meunier said. "Trinity likes to run the power sweep a lot and have been successful at it. So we will key on the power sweep and hope we can contain them."

The leaders on defense for St. John's in '82 have been defensive end Greg Martsoff and linebacker Andy Keck.

Trinity Prep's defense has had success against the pass, giving up just 40 yards per game while giving up 145 yards rushing per game.

Offensively Trinity Prep has been led by Brian Butler, who leads Trinity with five touchdowns, but last week Max McClellan came in when Butler was injured and was a major factor in Trinity's 14-0 victory over Lake Highland.

Trinity has a 3-3 record but could have one of its losses turned into a win. Trinity Prep dropped a 14-12 decision to Orlando Heritage Prep but Heritage may have to forfeit due to an alleged ineligible player. —CHRIS FISTER

Cross Country Pioneer Gibson Promotes Ram Invitational

For the past 10 years, Lake Mary coach Mike Gibson has been one of the pioneers of cross country in the state. Not only is Gibson adept at getting his girls to perform, but he also touches all bases with the media concerning this growing sport.

Any sports writer in this area can tell you about the telephone growing into his ear when locking into a conversation with the ex-Seminole High cross country performer.

Because of this fine attention to coverage, Gibson has done as much for the sport — especially girls cross country — as anyone in the state since he took his first job in 1973 at Lake Brantley.

"My first girls were the number four and five runners on the boys JV," Gibson relates about his humble beginning.

In 1973, Lake Brantley hosted the first Girls State Meet. The Patriots, then a 3A school, finished second as both 3As and 4As ran together.

Gibson followed those years with runnerup finishes in 1975 and 1978. The Patriots were third in 1976. As a testimonial to his sound program at Lake Brantley, the Patriots are still going strong, under the astute handling of coach Jim Marshall.

"Mike's done a good promotional job for the sport and he's brought some very good meets to this area," said Lyman's David Huggins, the dean of cross country coaches in this area.

Now in his second year at Lake Mary, Gibson feels any strong program needs a strong invitational. His Ram Invitational enters its second year Saturday.

The girls junior varsity begins at 10 Saturday morning, followed by the varsity at 10:30. The boys JV is next at 11 a.m. and the boys varsity caps the morning of races at 11:30.

"We just mowed the grass Thursday, so the course will be in great shape if it doesn't rain," said Gibson. "It should prepare the runners for the district (at Titusville Astronaut) because we have a good hill."

Gibson rates his course a "little tougher than Trinity Prep and not as tough as SCC."

Seminole, Lake Brantley, St. Cloud, Bishop Moore, New Smyrna, Titusville, Lake Highland, Trinity Prep, Luther and Moniverde will join the Rams Saturday.

Bishop Moore rates as a team favorite in the boys and girls since Lake Brantley will rest its top three — Kathryn and Joanne Hayward and Ellen Stern — a week prior to the Five Star Conference championships.

In the boys varsity, Bishop Moore's Matt Paaha should be the man to beat. The Hornet senior has a 15:45 to his credit for three miles this year. Mike Olvey of Lake Highland, who holds the course record in 18:04, returns to defend his title. Also a senior, Olvey has been in the high 15:00s this year.

A junior certain to put his foot in the ring is Derek Tangeman of the Rams. Tangeman has a 18:04 earlier this year and Gibson feels he is peaking at the right time. Trinity Prep's fine sophomore Tommy Matthews should give the older boys a run for their money as will Seminole senior Mike Wooten and teammate Kent Troutman.

In the girls varsity, Bishop Moore's Liz Lewis, Trinity's Adrienne Polittowicz and Lake Mary's Kim Averill will fight for the top spot.

Averill was the runnerup last year as a freshman and finished seventh in the 2A State Meet. Polittowicz, just a ninth grader, is second on the Seminole County Honor Roll with a 12:15 clocking for two miles.

Joining Averill for the Rams are Liz Stone (13:17), Shannon Weger (13:30), Andrea Beardale (13:45) and Maureen Friel (14:05). All except junior Friel are sophomores.

First-year boys coach Mark McGee has Mark Blythe (16:58), Jim Schnell (17:29), Tim Kornicky (17:20), Klt Johnson (17:55) and Brian Lavigne (17:58) complementing Tangeman.

Elsewhere in the county, Lyman and Oviedo cross country harriers will compete in the Boone Invitational.

WEEKEND FOOTBALL — While the state's big three colleges are taking a break this Saturday, there are several interesting prep matchups. Here's a look: Kathleen vs 7 over Seminole.

Oviedo by 35 over Lake Mary. Apopka by 10 over Lyman. Spruce Creek by 8 over Lake Howell. Mainland by 16 over Lake Brantley. Trinity Prep by 14 over St. John's Lutheran. Nicholls State by 31 over UCF.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

DeLand Dunks Seminole;

Tribe Leaves For Gator

DeLand avenged an early-season setback to Seminole Thursday by knocking off the Tribe boys, 80-35, and the girls, 68-52, in prep swimming at DeLand.

Seminole received just one first place in the boys' competition as sophomore Chuck Burgess raced to a victory in the 100 free in 53.1 seconds.

The Tribe girls, meanwhile, were hampered by the absence of senior Lisa Polgar, who sat out the meet with a virus, and Theresa Smith.

Dana Ray picked up a first place in the 100 back in 1:19.5 and Gigi Hunt did the same in the 100 free with a time of 1:13.1.

The 400 free relay team of Ray, Hunt, Jill Janak and Susie Porter took that event in 4:48.1.

The 'Noles left today for the prestigious Gator Invitational in Gainesville which draws the top swimmers from the state.

Polgar is expected to be sufficiently healed to partake in the 100 free and anchor the 200 medley relay and 400 medley relay. Ray, just a sophomore, is slated for the 50 free and two relays. Senior Bridget Deere will compete in the 100 breast and 200 relay. Susan Mann, Susie Porter and Gigi Hunt will compete in relays.

Burgess will enter the 100 fly and 500 free along with the 200 medley relay. Bruce Nelson is in the 50 free and the relay. Greg Carter and Phil Fausnight are in the relay.

The boys are 3-7 and the girls are 5-5 for the year.

Lake Howell JV Coasts

Lake Howell's junior varsity volleyball team concluded its season on a winning note Thursday by dropping Lake Brantley 15-12, 15-9.

Coach Cindy Frank's Hawks, 3-5 received some solid serving from Patty Rae in set one and blew the Patriots away in set two on 12 straight points by Sandy Read.

Owners Violated Good Faith

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The labor relations general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board has decided to bring a complaint against the National Football League for unfair labor practices in its bargaining with the players' union.

General Counsel William Lubbers, who acts similar to a prosecutor in a court case, said in a statement Thursday, before he formally issues the complaint, the NFL "will be given an opportunity to settle the case."

Lubbers agreed with the allegations by the National Football League Players Association the NFL Management Council violated the National Labor Relations Act by refusing to bargain in good faith with the union.

He also agreed with allegations the council failed to give the union information relevant to collective bargaining, instituted changes in terms and conditions of employment without prior bargaining with the union, bypassed the union and attempted to deal directly with individual players, and informed players proposed bonus monies would not be paid in the event of a work stoppage.

But Lubbers rejected a separate charge filed by the NFL against the union concluding there was "insufficient evidence to support the allegations."

Oviedo Netters Rip Eustis

Oviedo's volleyball team ran its record to 15-4 Thursday with a three-set 15-7, 16-18, 15-8 victory over Eustis at Eustis.

The Lions took the first set on the strong net play of Fay Robinson and the serving of Stephanie Nelson. "Fay played her best game," said coach Anita Carlson. "She was really driving the ball."

In the third set, the Lions moved ahead 13-1 behind the serving of Teresa Willis and coasted home.

Oviedo lost a district game Wednesday to Jones, 15-11, 15-13. "We were without Willis and everybody just played terrible," said Carlson.

running game tough." Jackson riddled Seminole for 186 yards.

Lyman has an equal to Jackson in senior Vince Presley. The 190-pounder has a 9.9 100-yard dash to his credit, but was hampered by injuries earlier this season. He should, however, be rounding into top form.

Lyman's defense has been anchored by potential all-stater Mike Hill, who averages around 10 tackles and five assists every Friday. The senior linebacker has great range and is also an adept pass defender. He gets a lot of help from Greg and James Pilot and defensive back Mike Battle. Punter John Poor leads the county in average distance.

While Apopka is 100 percent healthy, Lyman will miss defensive tackle Paul Arcey, who is sidelined with a knee injury.

Storer Cable will televise the game for a tape-delayed showing next week. — SAM COOK

Tribe, Rams Lose; Greyhounds Cruise

By GEOFFREY GIORDANO
Herald Sports Writer

JV Football

Seminole's junior varsity football team continued to have problems with a sluggish offense Thursday night, dropping a 13-2 decision to DeLand at DeLand.

The Tribe couldn't keep its offensive drives going as it continually marched into enemy territory only to break down with huge losses, interceptions or penalties.

"We had a couple of chances to score," said coach Mike Ferrell. "But when we drove to their 15-yard line we'd start to have problems."

Sanford's only score came when the ball was snapped over the punter's head on an attempted kick and the 'Noles recovered in the end zone at the beginning of the fourth quarter.

Seminole hosts Lake Brantley next Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

When Oviedo junior varsity coach John Thomas saw the open date on the Lions' freshman schedule, his eyes lit up like a scoreboard.

And after pulling freshman standouts Andrew Smith and Dave Wood up to the JV for Thursday's game at Lake Mary, the scoreboard lit up a 37-0 victory for Oviedo.

Smith, who was tearing up the frosh competition, returned the second-half kickoff 85 yards for a TD and Wood returned an interception 35 yards for a score, kicked a 30-yard field goal and booted four extra points.

Quarterback Brian Smith scored Oviedo's first TD with a one-yard sneak. Clarence Stover, who led all runners with 117 yards, did most of the ground work on the drive. Wood's kick made it 7-0.

Smith found Lester Cabrera for a 10-yard scoring loss for Oviedo's second score and a 13-0 lead.

Andrew Smith's burst on the kickoff made it, 20-0 and Wood's interception run boosted it to 27-0 minutes later. Wood's field goal and a 15-yard dash by Willie Wiggs concluded the scoring.

Tony Preusse led the Lake Mary defense with eight tackles. QB Mike Huff hit 10 of 19 passes for 100 yards. Willie Jackson caught five tosses for 53 yards.

The Rams, 3-3, host Bishop Moore Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Avery Merweather raced for two touchdowns, Mike Henley added another one, and Tony Johnson hit Steve Wilson with a 40-yard bomb as the Lyman junior varsity rolled to its fifth straight win, a 28-0 demolition of Lake Howell at Longwood Thursday.

Avery Merweather opened the scoring with a two-yard run at the 11:00 mark of the second quarter. Steve Abernathy booted the first of four extra points for a 7-0 lead.

With six minutes to go in the half, Johnson tossed his 40-yarder to Wilson and the 'Hounds took a 14-0 lead into intermission.

In the second half, fullback Henley rumbled four yards for the third touchdown and Abernathy added the point. Avery Merweather closed the scoring with a 35-yard scamper with 4:50 to go in the fourth quarter. Abernathy's boot closed the scoring.

Johnson was 6 of 8 for 106 yards. Avery Merweather had 70 yards in 10 carries while Henley and identical twin Anthony Merweather had 60 yards apiece.

Lyman, 5-0, takes on undefeated Osceola next Thursday at Longwood at 7:30 p.m.

Avery Merweather, Lyman's powerful running back, bowls over a Seminole defender earlier this year. Merweather and his identical twin brother, Anthony, along with fullback Mike Henley bowled over Lake Howell Thursday night to run coach Jim Markham's junior varsity record to 5-0 for the year. Lyman hosts undefeated Osceola next Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

Cards, Brewers Plan Improvements For '83

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Even teams that reach the World Series and extend it to seven games can improve and decision-makers for both the St. Louis Cardinals and the Milwaukee Brewers know it.

Whether they plan on making one move or 20, Cardinal Manager Whitey Herzog and Brewer Executive Vice President and General Manager Harry Dalton figure to put plenty of thought into preparing for 1983.

"I came over here and I was pretty lucky because they already had a lot of good ballplayers and I could deal from a position of strength," said Herzog, recalling the sequence that helped him build the Cardinals into champions within two years of his joining the organization.

Herzog moved Ted Simmons, Terry Kennedy and Leon Durham among others in a series of deals that produced the right blend of players for "Whitey-Ball," a speed game tailored for vast Busch Stadium.

"We had Simmons and Kennedy — the two catchers," said Herzog. "And (Keith) Hernandez and Durham. Having them enabled us to make the trades to get the players we needed."

"The one guy we needed was a relief pitcher and I've got to tell you, Bruce Sutter is the guy, more than anyone else, who turned things around."

Baseball

Fittingly, Sutter nailed down the Cards' ninth championship in Wednesday night's 6-3 victory and now Herzog commands a team that needs much less than it did when he arrived in 1980.

"They're gonna have a good ballclub," said Nelson Burbrink, who scouted the Cardinals for Milwaukee. "They have some young kids who are going to play a little bit."

"They're probably going to make some deals in the winter for a pitcher. They don't need much else."

Neither does Milwaukee. Despite falling one game short of winning it all, the Brewers enjoyed a remarkable year with likely MVP Robin Yount anchoring the club at shortstop. The Brewers are a little older than St. Louis, however.

The Brewers anticipate signing righthander Don Sutton (37). Mike Caldwell will also be 34 by Opening Day while Pete Vuckovich soon turns 30.

Ace reliever Rolfe Fingers (36) went home for the winter without testing his injured right arm in a game and until he proves to himself and the team he can recover from a muscle tear, 26-year-old righthander Pete Ladd becomes a valuable commodity.

would have been 0-0.

Oviedo has three of the top 10 individuals in the defense category. Linebacker Tom Johnson leads the team with 28 solos and 14 assists and is followed by David Butterfield (23 solos, 12 assists) and Eric Putman (22 solos, 10 assists). Johnson leads the team in turnovers with one interception and two fumble recoveries.

On offense, injuries have plagued the Rams. Out for the game against Oviedo are running back Charlie Lucarelli (could play but doubtful), center Bill Vickers and offensive guard Scott Kutz.

"This is our first big rivalry, tradition type of game," Beathard said. "Our kids are ready both mentally and physically. With our youth, we haven't been able to maintain our intensity for a whole game. If we can do that, we can win."

Oviedo does not have as many injuries as the Rams, in fact they have only one. But it is a major injury. Offensive and defensive lineman Craig Wheeler has been lost for the season with a concussion. Wheeler is the Lions' biggest lineman at 6-2, 205 pounds.

"They (Lake Mary) look bigger than we are," Oviedo coach Jack Blanton said. "We're young offensively so the key for us will be defense. If we can hold a team early we usually do pretty well."

"On offense we want to have ball control and stay away from mistakes," Blanton said. Jodie Huggins will be the starting quarterback for the second week in a row for Oviedo.

fullback Ron Burke to crack Kathleen's defense. The hard-running senior has rambled for 205 yards in the past two weeks after a three-game slump. Tim Lawrence is averaging nine yards per carry but has averaged just a little over five totes a game.

Since the loss of halfback Rendell

Manley (broken bone in his ankle), the opposition has keyed on Lawrence, Posey said, making it tough to spring the elusive junior on the Tribe's pitch play.

Mike Futrell will be at quarterback with backup help from Rob Cohen. Jo Jo McCloud and Clifton Campbell split time as the other halfback.

Several changes on defense have pressed linemen Doug Sanders and Ed Rinkavage into double duty. Lawrence will also start at defensive back. Marvin Pringle moves to the defensive line and Anthony Wilson switches to linebacker. Pringle turned in a fine effort against DeLand with four tackles and six assists.

...Wounded Hawks Host Spruce Creek Tonight

despite last week's loss at Mainland. Howell, 2-1, trails Apopka, 3-0, and Spruce Creek, a sprouting 2-0.

"This is definitely a pivotal game for us," he continued. "Defensively, we did all right last week. If we can play that well again and get some offense going we'll be all right."

Howell's fullback Rick Robey had an unproductive night against Mainland with just 30 yards in 10 carries and a couple of fumbles. Blisceglia will need a return to form of the hard-charging junior who ranks third among the county's rushers.

"Spruce Creek has a huge defensive line," Blisceglia pointed out. "And their

I-back (Billy Elmore) is a talented runner. We'll have to stop him to beat them."

Elmore leads Volusia County with four touchdowns and 472 yards in 97 attempts for a 4.8 yard average. Quarterback John Lavin is averaging 6.9 yards per trip. Spruce Creek whipped Lake Brantley, 19-7, last week.

OPTIMISTS HONOR RAMS

Sanford Optimist Club Member John Blair (middle) congratulates Lake Mary defensive back Reggie Anderson (right) and Patt Murray for their accomplishments against Melbourne. Anderson collected eight solo tackles and two assists while Murray, a quick tailback, ran for 26 yards on six carries. The Rams play Oviedo tonight at 8 at home.

Port Authority Still Trying To Land San-Del Manufacturing

By MICHEAL BEHA
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County Port Authority Director Dennis Dolgner is meeting today with representatives of a Jacksonville firm to negotiate a lease for warehouse space at the Port of Sanford.

Dolgner told port authority board members he hopes to sign a lease with the firm for a 4,000-square-foot warehouse.

Dolgner would not reveal the identity of the firm but said the company would store salt at the warehouse and employ two people.

Board members also approved a six-month lease with Future Health Concepts, Inc., a company which buys used medical equipment and resells it.

Dolgner said the firm is moving from facilities at the Sanford Airport because its space there was too small.

A $4,800 lease for 4,000 square feet was approved. Dolgner said he anticipates renewing the lease at the end of the six-month period.

A deal to bring San-Del Manufacturing Co. into the Port complex still has not been completed, Dolgner said.

He told board members the financial package has received little interest from investors.

Dolgner said the Port Authority is out of options in trying to arrange a tax-free financing package for construction of facilities to house the manufacturing firm.

'There's money there. Tax-free money is there if you have a project worth $3 million. But we've got a $250,000 project and nobody's interested.'

— Dennis Dolgner

Only one area bank is still considering any type of financing for the project. Barnett Bank is examining the project through a conventional mortgage with the company.

"There's money there. Tax-free money is there if you have a project worth $3 million," Dolgner said. "But we've got a $250,000 project and nobody's interested."

Dolgner said he hopes the financial problems will not deter San-Del from its plans to locate in the Port. The firm had planned to begin operations in January and hire 100 workers.

San-Del is a new corporation which is headed by Abe Muse, currently president of Katrina Manufacturing in Williamsport, Pa.

The firm will manufacture sportswear, Muse said. He added that the firm had hoped to begin operations in Sanford by early 1983.

Dolgner painted a rosy financial picture for the Port Authority. If the contract with the Jacksonville firm is signed, the Port will have all its available space occupied.

The 18 current tenants in the complex employ 165 people and have a combined $2.2 million payroll.

"All our tenants are gold star tenants," he said. Despite some cash flow problems with several firms, the authority has not had companies go bankrupt as some other industrial parks in the area have had, Dolgner said.

Dolgner said the authority is now being audited and initial reports reveal that about $38,000 will be carried over from the fiscal 1981-82 budget. The authority had budgeted $28,000 in carryover funds.

Tylenol Recall Prevents At Least 1 Death

CHICAGO (UPI) — A seventh bottle of cyanide-laced Extra-Strength Tylenol, discovered in laboratory tests, was among the thousands returned unopened by customers after seven poisoning deaths. Police hoped to find the saboteur's fingerprints inside.

The bottle found Thursday — as two prime suspects in the case eluded a search in East Coast and Midwestern cities — had been purchased at a Dominick's Finer Food Store, located half a block from a drug store where airline flight attendant Paula Prince purchased the capsules that killed her.

Authorities were trying to locate the customer to determine when the bottle, which contained more than 13 poisoned capsules, was purchased.

"This is the first bottle we've discovered that we know no one has touched the interior of the bottle or its contents except the person who put them there," said Illinois Attorney General Tyrone Fahner.

Police Superintendent Richard Brzezcek said there was a "faint possibility" fingerprints might be found on the latest bottle.

Fahner said the contents were already decomposing because of the cyanide.

The laboratory that found the tainted pills has examined more than 100,000 samples of Chicago-area Tylenol. About 70 percent of the Tylenol capsules returned in the area have undergone cyanide testing, authorities said.

Brzezcek said an order issued by Mayor Jane M. Byrne Oct. 8 demanding the immediate removal of all Tylenol products from city stores "undoubtedly prevented some other person from meeting his or her demise."

A ban on sales of all Tylenol products in Chicago remained in effect.

The medication recovered from the poisoning victims apparently had between 7 and 13 tainted capsules per bottle.

"This bottle had a substantially larger number of contaminated capsules," he said. He did not give the exact number.

The seven deaths occurred between Sept. 29 and Oct. 1.

Three of the victims took capsules from the same bottle, four victims swallowed capsules from different bottles and one other contaminated bottle was found on the shelf of a suburban drugstore.

Citizens along the East Coast and through the Midwest reported numerous sightings of suspects James Lewis and his wife, Leann, being sought by investigators nationwide for questioning in the deaths. Most tips filtering in turned into dead ends.

Lewis, 36, and his wife, 35, have eluded a 10-day hunt touched off by a federal warrant that charges Lewis with writing an extortion note to Johnson & Johnson, parent company of Tylenol's manufacturer, demanding $1 million "if you want to stop the killings."

Authorities did not discount the possibility the couple may have split up to hinder identification.

The couple could be driving a 1969 AMC Ambassador wagon, with a Missouri license plate number EPX-2042.

The search fanned out along the Eastern Seaboard after it was learned the Lewises had been registered in a New York City hotel from Sept. 6 to Oct. 16.

The Chicago Tribune reported Lewis was linked to a 1971 bomb threat apparently staged to "get even" with a man who fired him from his job as a tax consultant.

Dear Chris
We've been together only a year
Today is the celebrated date
But twelve times we've shown that we're sincere
It's a lot more fun at this rate

No greater love could ever exist
I think it's safe to say than what I hold for my love, Chris
And still it grows each day

I'd build you an Epcot or the Taj Mahal
That only begins my listing
But those acts aren't important all in all
Cause only the money is missing

We have something special and real
"Young love is so beautiful to see"
Since I've gotten the very best deal
I'll prove how endless young love can be

I will always believe in you Chris
And I'll always expect the best in standing my ground for my miss

I can face up to any test

So for the woman who has captured my heart
The girl who's beautiful loving & true
I pray that nothing will ever keep us apart
Because I hold an endless love for you.

Love Robert

hold down electric costs with a new Watt-Wise™ home.

If you're building or buying a new house, the wisest move you can make is into a Watt-Wise home. Because it's constructed with a combination of energy-saving features that meet FPL's standards, so you can save on the cost of electricity every month, every year. Just how much you save will depend on your lifestyle and conservation efforts.

Among the many cost-saving options of a Watt-Wise home are: extra ceiling and wall insulation, solar or heat-recovery units for water heating, and a high-efficiency air conditioner or heat pump.

Other easily included power savers are fluorescent lighting, a microwave oven, and thermally efficient windows and doors to minimize heat build-up.

Your new Watt-Wise home will not only help you hold down the cost of electricity, but it will help reduce FPL's dependence on costly oil, which will benefit everyone.

Below is a list of builders who can tell you more comforting facts about Watt-Wise homes.

Encouraging the construction of energy-efficient homes to save you money is another way we're working hard at being the kind of power company you want.

Swashbuckling drum majors and pretty majorettes from Lake Brantley, Lake Mary, Oviedo, Bishop Moore, Lake Howell, Seminole and Lyman high school bands will add sparkle and pizzazz to the 8th Annual Seminole County Band Festival to be held at 8 p.m. Oct. 30 at the Lyman stadium in Longwood.

High Schools To Strike Up The Bands

By JANE CASSELBERRY
Herald Staff Writer

If you're one of those who enjoy the half-time show better than the football game, you're going to love this musical extravaganza complete with exciting fireworks display and patriotic finale.

The Seminole County High School Band Festival has become a tradition that has excited and inspired spectators and financially benefited the seven participating bands for eight years. Approximately 3,000 persons attended last year's festival.

This year's event is to be held Saturday, Oct. 30 at 8 p.m. in the Lyman High School stadium in Longwood. It will be hosted by Lake Mary High School Band with Miss Terry Pattilhall, director of the Lake Mary band, as musical director.

Other participating bandmasters include Bob Maguire, Seminole High School, Sanford; Joe Derrico, Bishop Moore High School, Orlando; Dick Feinberg, Oviedo High School; Greg Martin, Lake Howell High School; Jack Herron, Lake Brantley High School, Forest City; and Don Schmaus, Lyman High School.

The band festival is co-sponsored each year by the Optimist Club of Sanford and the Evening Herald. All ticket proceeds will go to the bands for uniforms, music and instruments. Tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for children and can be bought from band members or at the Evening Herald, 300 N. French Ave., Sanford. The event is open to the public.

Jack Horner, president of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce, will be master of ceremonies again this year.

Between 800 and 1,000 young musicians, drum majors, majorettes, and members of the various flag, rifle, and dance corps, will take part. They will form one massive

Shy spooks

If you look real fast at the credits at the end of Hollywood's latest horror shocker — "Amityville II: The Possession" — you'll see Ed and Lorraine Warren listed as demonology advisers. Apparently, a few ghosts and ghouls saw the movie and don't like the publicity they're getting. Page 6.

'Seven' flops

TV critic David Handler isn't one to mince words and when referring to CBS' "Seven Brides For Seven Brothers," he calls it "one of the fall's earliest and most obvious losers." It is, Handler says, "sappy" and its cast "devoid of talent and charisma." He says other nasty things on Page 7.

Rockette yule

Radio City Music Hall's Rockettes, those luscious, leggy hoofers of the dance line, are heading west to L.A. for their annual Christmas spectacular. But they're not deserting the Big Apple, just kind of taking up a temporary winter residence in the land of palm trees and sand. Page 8.

'Annie' Not In Danger On Bridge

DEAR DICK: While watching the movie "Annie," I wondered how the scene where the kidnapper and Annie climb the bridge was done. Were they really just walking horizontally and then the film turned around? How was it done? G.D., Dleppe, N.B. Canada

Like most tough movie scenes, it was actually done in two parts. There was a real bridge — an old railroad drawbridge in East Newark, N.J., over the Passaic River — and some Hollywood stunt people actually climbed it. Vertically. And cameramen climbed it right behind them, too, filming as they climbed, and a camera plane was also used to film that sequence. But then they shot the closeups of the stars in the studio, on a mock-up of a piece of the bridge.

DEAR DICK: Please settle this for us. We have relatives in Florida who say the Lisa Todd on "Hee-Haw" is Elizabeth Taylor's daughter. We say she isn't. How old is Elizabeth's daughter? Isn't the other Lisa Todd older? R and M, South Williamsport, Pa.

They are two different Todds. Liza Todd, Elizabeth's daughter, was born in 1957, making her 25 this year. Lisa Todd (note the difference in spelling) of "Hee Haw" has been on that show since 1970. Obviously, a different Todd. The "Hee-Haw" people think their Lisa is around 40.

DEAR DICK: I'd like to know why the late and great Henry Fonda wasn't given credit for the film "Trail of the Lonesome Pine," which was the first full-length film in

Ask Dick Kleiner

Technicolor. Also, how come "Hell's Angels" and "Wings," both Academy Award winners, are not put on TV? F.C., Palm City, Fla.

I don't know where you got the idea that Fonda isn't credited for "Trail of the Lonesome Pine." His name is always there, with Sylvia Sydney and Fred MacMurray. As for those other pictures, they have been on TV, but they are old — "Hell's Angels" was made in 1930, "Wings" in 1927 — and just don't hold up well now.

DEAR DICK: On "Three's Company," is Richard Klein any relation to comedian Robert Klein? G.W., Freeport, Texas.

No. The easy answer would be to tell you that the man's name on "Three's Company" is Kline, not Klein, but that wouldn't be enough. It is Kline but his real name is Klein. He was forced to change it because there was already another Richard Klein on the Screen Actors Guild roster. He's no relation, either.

...Local Bands Will Strut Their Stuff

band for the opening and closing numbers and in between the individual bands will each have an opportunity to strut their stuff.

Pyrotechnics expert "Vic" Vickers of Orlando will light up the sky with a spectacular fireworks show.

This is only the second appearance at the festival for Lake Mary's Marching Rams and its first in uniform. In only its second year, the band has grown from 105 to 157 members, and the school is still without a senior class, so the group should be even larger next year. The band has fared pretty well with what it has, earning superior ratings at both marching and concert contests, participation in the state band contest, and invitations to the Citrus and Strawberry Festivals.

Philip Haile is drum major and Suzanne Watson is band president. Paige Jones and Lisa Boltzuzer are co-captains of the Lake Marionettes, and Ann McClure and Cathy Russell are Flag Corps co-captains.

The Seminole High Marching Seminoles, 80 members strong, have a new bandmaster this year — Bob Maguire, who has been actively involved in music education in the county for 7 years. The Seminoles' field director for the festival will be Tom Stiffey, SHS junior. Marty Bacon is band president.

The Lake Brantley High School Royal Blue Brigade includes 81 band members. This year, four majorettes, eight rifles and 16 flags will twirl to the five tunes to be performed by the group. Drum major is Heidi Smith, a senior and band president is Tim Nicholson, a senior.

The Lake Howell Silver Regiment is directed on the field by Drum Major Rick Baker and Field Commander John Ledford. The band, which is in its ninth year, has received numerous superior ratings and in 1977 made an 18-day European tour. Last year, the band either won or was named grand champions at three out of five competitions entered, boasted an undefeated drum line and amassed a grand total of 22 trophies and awards. Carolyn Stansberry is band president. Co-captains of the Flag Corps are Kristi Chambliss and Tamara Salas, and Roxanne Brewer is rifle captain. The band will participate in eight competitions this year in addition to the Seminole County festival.

The band has received numerous superior ratings and has performed at many band festivals, contests, and parades, both in Florida and out of state. The instrumental music department at Lyman totals 148 members and from its ranks come two concert bands, a stage band and an orchestra. Their festival performance will include "Malaguena" and music from "West Side Story."

The Oviedo Marching Lions band is composed of a 56-piece wind section, 18 percussionists and 32 dancers. This year's field commanders are Becky DeNicola, Lisa Vick and Lisa Mendoza. The band received a superior rating at the World's Fair Festival of Tomorrow.

Bishop Moore High School Marching Hornets' head drum major on the field will be Tom Delomere. Vic Desantis is assistant drum major and Helen Lomas is drill team captain. Of Demons, Spirits, Ghosts And Hollywood

By DICK KLEINER

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — I don't like to kid around about this kind of thing because you never know who might be reading over your shoulder. Besides, the temptation is too strong to take it all seriously, so I have to tell you this:

The demons don't like all the notoriety they are getting from Hollywood lately.

That is the report from Ed and Lorraine Warren, who are the world's top-seeded experts in demons. In fact, if you look carefully at the credits when you see "Amityville II: The Possession," you will see this: "Demonology Advisers, Ed and Lorraine Warren."

They know their demons, spirits and ghosts. They are the subjects of a book — "The Demonologist" — and they have been attacked by demons. Ed has been clawed by something (although nothing was visible) and hurled across a room by something (although no hurler was apparent.)

"They don't like all this publicity," says Ed Warren.

"It disturbs them," says Lorraine.

What is it they don't like?

They don't like the message that the Warrens are trying to get across in their books and lectures and in the movies they are associated with. That message is that there is nothing funny about demons, they are very real and very dangerous and we should all be on our guard against them.

One thing you might like to know is that demons cannot get a foothold (if demons have feet, of course) in a happy home. That's as good a defense against demons as is exorcism, and a lot less messy.

The Warrens, a pleasant, average-looking couple from Connecticut, say they are constantly in danger. The demons know all about them and their work and are out to get them.

"It's a war," says Ed Warren. "But we will win, because the forces of good (he means the righteous angels and God's other allies) are on our side."

But we all have to be careful. Don't kid around about demons. Don't accidentally invite them in. They make rotten guests.

A big hit on stage here in Los Angeles this season is "A Soldier's Play," the Pulitzer Prize-winning drama by Charles Fuller. This is a production of the Negro Ensemble Company of New York, and it has been bought for films by Warner Brothers, for director Norman Jewison.

Adolph Caesar is one of the stars of the production and, naturally, he would love to do the movie version. But he recognizes the demand of the movie box office, and so he says he wouldn't be surprised if it is made with Richard Pryor and Bill Cosby in the leading roles.

By DAVID HANDLER
 "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers" would be one of the new TV season's biggest winners if only success were measured by good intentions. Sadly, the prime-time world is a cruel one, and "Seven Brides" one of the fall's earliest and most obvious losers.

It doesn't help that along with the show's sincerity flows enough sap to make "The Waltons" look like "Naked City." It doesn't help that its immense cast is devoid of talent and charisma.

Loosely based on the 1954 Hollywood musical, "Seven Brides" emerges as a modern-day Big Sky family saga. Meet the seven alphabetically named McFadden brothers, starting with Adam (Richard Dean Anderson), who's in his late 20s; then Brian, 25 (Drake Hogestyn); Crane, 21 (Peter Norton); Daniel, 18 (Robert Wilson); Evan, 16 (Tim Topper); Ford, 15 (Bryan Utman); and Guthrie, 12 (River Phoenix).

Their parents are dead. They're trying to hold onto their beautiful Northern California ranch and to make it on their own. Hasn't been a dame around the place for 10 years. When these guys make a commitment, they make a commitment.

They're not doing very well. They're going broke and the house is a total mess.

Lana's Lore

By CINDY ADAMS
 NEW YORK — Lana Turner is in NYC hustling her autobiography, "Lana, the Lady, the Legend, the Truth." I asked her if she'd marry again. "No way, baby," she replied. "I did that paperwork seven times already. Not a chance. Never.... The other night in L.A. Elizabeth Taylor did a barbecue all by her own self. She grilled, she fried, she charcoaled, and she had only one diner — a fella named Richard Burton.

After 17 years of lawsuits, a German court decreed that a 19-year-old singer in Berlin may call herself Bettina McCartney because she is legitimately the illegitimate daughter of ex-Beatle Paul. Mama Erika Hubers, with whom McCartney lived, took a valiantful of deutsche marks in settlement...

Dirty laundry and beer cans everywhere. But they do have their love for each other and their pride. That old story. Oh, and there's their music. They all like to play guitars and sing and square dance.

Because of this, "Seven Brides" has been called a musical. It does have musical inserts, but it isn't a musical in the strictest sense. The song and dance numbers — most of which look like Western-wear commercials — do not further character or plot development. Rather, they hamper both elements by wasting so much valuable time. The producers' first mistake.

In our opener, Adam decides to marry Hannah Moss (Terri Treas), a perky, sharp-tongued waitress. After the wedding he brings her home to the ranch. He did not have the nerve to tell her he lives there with his six ill-mannered brothers. She is put off. So are the brothers.

So are we. The fact that Adam is a gutless wimp makes it hard to like him. We don't like anyone. Most of the other brothers blend together, except for Brian, who is hot-tempered and hates women, and Crane, who wears glasses.

It is incredible that out of seven young male performers not one of them pulls us in. There isn't even any teen-idol material here, in spite of all the tight jeans. A terrible job of casting. The producers' second mistake.

The remainder of the pilot plot was contrived and unbelievable. Mistake number three. A rich rancher named Wheeler (Michael Alldredge) steals the McFadden's prize bull in an attempt to wipe them out. Poverty beckons, until Hannah convinces cheap-skate Wheeler to put up a $5,000 bull as grand prize in the county fair contests — a whole mess o' greased pole climbin', wild cow milkin', hog catchin' and such.

They win the bull, natch. The days is saved. And Hannah then wins over the brothers by turning over the dinner table and hollering "Y'll better figger how to git along with me or we'll tangle bad."

And so she takes on the roles of chief cook, seamstress and mother confessor. She is not, fortunately, asked to teach them grammar.

The second episode was equally hard to swallow. Crane convinces area ranchers to join in a grain co-op. When it goes bankrupt and the grain is confiscated by the law, Crane steals it back and ends up in jail. The judge lets him off when he hears Adam's account for Crane's actions: "The problem with Crane, your honor, is he cares so damned much about things."

Even on "The Waltons" he'd have ended up on the chain gang.

Rockettes Head West For Christmas

HOLYWOOD (UPI)—The Rockettes, a 50-year tradition at New York's famed Radio City Music Hall, are highstepping west to present "The Magnificent Christmas Spectacular," their annual Yuletide extravaganza, in Los Angeles.

The world's best-known precision dance line — 36 strong — will play the Shrine Auditorium during December with plans to establish the show as an annual feature in California.

The Rockettes aren't deserting the Big Apple.

Indeed, there might be rioting in the streets if the long-stemmed beauties decamped Manhattan.

It was bad enough when the Giants and Dodgers fled, but the Rockettes, never.

Instead, Violet Holmes, Radio City Music Hall choreography director, has brought key personnel to the land of the palm and the flake to hold cattle call auditions for a West Coast dance line.

Beginning Oct. 18, Violet looked at virtually hundreds of dancers.

A former Rockette and line captain herself, Violet is a veteran of some 20 years on the line, longer than any of the snappy tappers over the years.

She is looking for attractive professional dancers between 5 feet 5½ and 5 feet 8½ inches tall, slender, experienced in advanced tap and limber kicks.

"Visual body proportions" (long legs) will be a prime consideration.

Violet insists the Rockette cattle call is definitely more discriminating than auditions for Las Vegas chorus line cuties or the busty beauties who populate the Dallas Cowboy Cheerleaders.

She never refers to the Rockettes as chorus girls or chorines. They're dancers.

On the eve of the auditions, Violet, a no-nonsense New Yorker who joined the Rockettes in 1945, said, "We intend to make our Los Angeles line as good as the one in New York."

"Once the dancers are selected, I'll work with them six hours a day, six days a week for a month. There will be another six weeks of training and rehearsing before we open the Christmas show."

In recent years the Rockettes have branched out with appearances in San Francisco, Dallas, Miami and London.

The Rockettes survived a crisis three years ago when it was announced that Radio City Music Hall would be converted into acres of dental offices or worse.

Rockettes, past and present, formed a task force and virtually saved the theater and their jobs. They circulated petitions, harranged the media and wrote letters of protest to city fathers.

This year they're celebrating the 50th anniversary of the famed line. They began as the Missouri Rockets in St. Louis, adopting the ladylike and sophisticated "ettes" two years after arriving in New York.

'Hockey Night' Back For 30th Year

"Hockey Night in Canada," a weekly production of The Canadian Sports Network, will return to the CBC airwaves for its 30th season of action-packed NHL coverage. This year's coverage will provide 25 Saturday evening games during the regular season, and between 22 and 25 playoff games.

While "Hockey Night in Canada" can be seen only on CBC, it is not produced by CBC itself. The show's executive producer for the last 17 years, Ralph Mellanby, explained the arrangement in a recent interview.

"Hockey Night" is a production of The Canadian Sports Network," he said. "We are owned 50 percent by the CBC, and Molson's Breweries is the other owner of the production house. It's a basic production set up just to handle 'Hockey Night.' It's a little bit unusual, but that's the way it's done.

"It's a big enough show that we do a lot of hours of network and local broadcasting," he continued, "and it can carry its own production house operation, rather than be part of the CBC Sports Department. We have an office in Calgary, in Montreal, and here in Toronto. Basically those are our three offices of operation."

As for the ratings the show receives, Mellanby was happy to discuss the success that "Hockey Night" has enjoyed over the years:

"We've always had good ratings, but last year we really improved by about 10 percent, which was the largest jump we've taken in 10 years."

Televised Custody Battle

Few of the younger generation of TV viewers watching "Little Gloria.. Happy at Last," will be aware of the actual social history the story is based on. Yet, history it is.

"I'm not certain most people are aware—or remember—the impact of this trial on American society," says producer Edgar J. Scherick. "This was a media event of its time in 1934. The trial was big news."

The trial over custody of little Gloria Vanderbilt, now a 57-year-old woman known to the masses primarily for her designer jeans empire, is reenacted in a two-part mini-series airing Sunday, Oct. 24 and Monday, Oct. 25 on NBC.

It tells the story of what happened when little Gloria's aunt, Gertrude Vanderbilt Whitney, fought the girl's mother, Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt, for custody of the child after the death of her father, Reginald Vanderbilt.

The star-studded cast is headed by Bette Davis as the matriarch of the wealthy Vanderbilt family.
